WE beg to inform you that since our last report we have afforded out-door relief to the impotent classes generally throughout this Union; we have discharged a great number of that class from the workhouse. We shall without delay have your directions carried into effect as to further making the house available for the able-bodied men. The collectors continue to state that they cannot enforce the payment of the rate, without the assistance of the police. The resident magistrate, Mr. O'Connell, went out yesterday with the military to Ballyhaunis, to protect the collectors. John Duffy, collector of Artagh electoral division, brought in four head of stock to this town on Saturday last, and sold them for poor-rate without any opposition.

The manager of the National Bank here says that the directors of that establishment will not lend us money before we have struck a new rate. We hope in a short time to be able to ascertain what rate may be necessary to strike for each electoral division, as the clerk has engaged an assistant who, from his testimonials, we trust will be competent to enable him to wind up his accounts. We feel much pleasure in stating that there is a decided improvement observable in the discipline and classification of the paupers in the workhouse, and we hope that in a short time that it will be in a satisfactory state. We shall have your order for out-door relief to the second class carried into effect, with as little delay as possible. We have already accepted tenders for Indian-meal to be distributed in rations for six electoral divisions, on what we consider advantageous terms. We conceived the tenders for the remaining electoral divisions too high, and have advertised for fresh tenders; in the meantime, we propose to supply the relieving officers with rations either from the workhouse or from the grant of the British Association.

One of the fever sheds is nearly completed; the contractor for the other, Mr. M'Greevey, is delayed for want of funds, in consequence of not being paid for the boundary wall. Mr. Dillon has served the securities of the late clerk with a writ, and is proceeding to recover the amount due. There is a great improvement in the sanitary state of the house.

Mr. AUCHMUTY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 29, 1848.

I BEG to have the opinion of the Commissioners on the following subject. There are numbers of women who are in the workhouse, and are making application daily to us for admission, they have been deserted by their husbands, who in most cases are gone to America and to England; if we could put them on the out-door relief it would be the means of making room for the able-bodied.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 1, 1848.

As no order under the 2nd section of the Relief Extension Act, is in force in Castlerea Union, authorizing out-door relief to women whose husbands have gone to America or Great Britain, it is necessary that you should recommend the Vice-Guardians to apply for such an order if positively necessary, and state whether it should also include women whose husbands are in prison or have been transported. If such an order be issued the relieving officers should be required to watch the cases of alleged separation or desertion, otherwise serious evils may arise, and each officer should be made fully aware of the provisions in the 2nd section of the Act 10 and 11 Vict., cap. 84, under which husbands deserting their families or wilfully neglecting to maintain them, may be punished by imprisonment with hard labour.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—April 1, 1848.

Castlereagh Union.

THE Commissioners have had before them the resolution passed at your meeting on the 30th ultimo, requesting the Commissioners' consent to your taking proceedings in pursuance of the 2nd section of the 6th and 7th Vict., c. 92, in the Superior Courts of Record in Dublin, against the following persons, who are immediate lessors and defaulters in the payment of the poor rate in the Castlereagh Union, namely:—

William Roe, esq.,
Rev. Lewis Hawkes,
Rev. James Taaffe,
Goughs, minors in Chancery,
James Dillon, esq.,
Balfes, minors in Chancery,
James Kenny, esq.,
Lord de Freyne,
Daniel Farrell, esq.,
George Knox, esq.,
Nicholson Jordan, esq.,
Minor Higgins,

Robert Hewston, esq.,
William Lloyd, esq.,
William Davis, esq.,
William Murphy,
D. H. Farrell, esq.,
Lord Dillon,
Patrick Balfe, esq.,
D. H. Kirkaldy, esq.,
Thomas Palmer, esq.,
Michael B. Birmingham,
Christopher Taaffe, esq.,
William Graydon;

And the Commissioners hereby signify their consent to your bringing an action in any one of the Superior Courts of Record in Dublin against the said

William Roe, esq.,
Rev. Lewis Hawkes,
Rev. James Taaffe,
Goughs, minors in Chancery,
James Dillon, esq.,
Balfes, minors in Chancery,
James Kenny, esq.,
Lord de Freyne,
Robert Hewston, esq.,
William Lloyd, esq.,
William Davis, esq.,
William Murphy,

D. H. Farrell, esq.,
Lord Dillon,
Patrick Balfe, esq.,
D. H. Kirkaldy, esq.,
Daniel Farrell, esq.,
George Knox, esq.,
Nicholson Jordan, esq.,
Minor Higgins,
Thomas Palmer, esq.,
Michael B. Birmingham,
Christopher Taaffe, esq.,
William Graydon,

For the recovery of the arrears of poor rate made on them respectively, as immediate lessors, in respect of certain property situated within the Castlereagh Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—April 4, 1848.

WITH reference to the list transmitted to the Commissioners on the 31st ultimo, of immediate lessors who are defaulters in the payment of poor rate in the Castlereagh Union, from which it appears that H. Maypowder, esq., and Dean French are deceased, I am directed by the Commissioners to state that in these cases the Vice-Guardians should ascertain who are the parties now legally responsible.

Mr. AUCHMUTY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 2, 1848.

I BEG to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that I reported, in connexion with Mr. Flanagan, that there were 8000 persons in this Union requiring relief, but in consequence of the great destitution that prevails here, it is as much as we could do to give relief to between 3000 and 4000 persons, under the 1st section of the Irish Poor Law Extension Act. The order for granting out-door relief under the 2nd section is in force this week on a limited scale, but will be next week on a more extensive one.

I have further to report that, if we had funds, we would have nearly 10,000 persons now receiving relief.

Castlereagh Union.

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 4, 1848.

THE Commissioners have learned with surprise, from your report of the 2nd instant, that in consequence of the great destitution prevailing in Castlereagh Union, it was as much as could be done to give relief to between 3000 and 4000 persons, and that if funds could be provided, there would have been nearly 10,000 persons relieved.

As, however, you do not state in what way the latter number subsist, when they have not obtained relief, and the Vice-Guardians have not applied for an order to give relief under the 2nd section of the Extension Act, to any but classes which cannot be numerous in the Union, the Commissioners trust that you do not wish to be understood as reporting that there are so many thousand persons who are destitute, and to whom relief ought to be given, but have not yet received it.

The Commissioners request you to recommend for the immediate consideration of the Vice-Guardians, the classes for whom relief is indispensable, that they may apply for a further order, if requisite, and then direct their relieving officers to receive applications from such classes. At the same time, the probable expenses should be estimated, and application be made for an advance of such portion of the amount as may exceed the rates to be collected in the time.

It is the duty of the Vice-Guardians to make such arrangements as will prevent any destitute person in the Union from dying of starvation, and the Commissioners rely on your co-operating with them effectually for this purpose.

THE VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 4, 1848.

WE beg to state that your order for affording relief to the second class of the destitute poor has been to a considerable degree carried into effect, and will be in general operation by the middle of this week. We have contracted on advantageous terms for a supply of Indian-meal, to be distributed by the contractors in each relief district according to our orders to the relieving officers. Giving the rations in this manner we consider will be of advantage to the Union, as the cost and risk of storage, and the salaries of assistants to the relieving officers will be saved ; but we fear that the want of funds will compel us to avail ourselves of the grant of the British Association to this Union ; we must do so for this week in one district, for which we did not accept a contract.

We consider that the distribution of rations by contractors in the commencement will enable us to make better arrangements for its future supply to the poor than if we did so in a hurry, for it as such, could not be avoided, from our being almost constantly engaged with the books of the relieving officers. The affording relief to the second class will give us an opportunity of making the house still more available for able-bodied men, who in general evince a great disinclination to come into the house. Six families went out yesterday when they found that they should work.

We regret that we cannot report favourably respecting the state of our finances. The collectors in general state that without police assistance they cannot collect, and that the rate-payers have evinced a determination not to pay until compelled, particularly since a meeting held at Roscommon respecting poor-rates. We have constantly urged the collectors to increased exertions. We fear that we must suspend two of them, for reasons which will appear fully in the minutes.

We have forwarded the lists of defaulting immediate lessors to our solicitor. The collectors have by our directions summoned some of those of that class residing within the county, and have in every case as yet reported, succeeded in obtaining decrees. Mr. Auchmuty, the inspector, attended the hearing of one case in Roscommon. We consider that it would be of advantage to the Union that we should inspect the arrangement and the giving out of rations together with the inspector, and would wish to know whether you will approve of our doing so.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 8, 1848.

Castlerea Union.

WITH reference to the disinclination evinced by the rate-payers to pay their rates until compelled, I am to state that the Commissioners rely upon your continuing to cause active steps to be taken to meet and effectually overcome resistance to the law.

I am at the same time to state that the Commissioners have no objection to your inspecting the arrangements for the issue of rations in company with the inspector. They think it essential that you should visit the relief depôts periodically, either with or without the inspector.

Mr. AUCHMUTY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 9, 1848.

I BEG to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that the Vice-Guardians and I had all the relieving officers before us yesterday, and from the statements they made to us of the great destitution that exists amongst the able-bodied class from want of employment, we are compelled to come to the conclusion that out-door relief ought to be extended to them unless further house accommodation could be taken, which we could procure if we had the necessary funds.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 10, 1848.

I AM to state that in accordance with your recommendation the Commissioners have issued an order authorizing the Vice-Guardians of the Castlerea Union to afford out-door relief to able-bodied poor persons not comprised within the terms of the 1st section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act.

Tralee Union.

TRALEE UNION.

Sir THOMAS ROSS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 1, 1848.

5th Series, page 316.

WITH reference to my letter of the 30th ultimo, I beg to acquaint you that I brought together this day some of the influential Guardians and others interested, to discuss several matters connected with the division of the Union; the fitting up, for the reception of paupers in Dingle, a temporary workhouse; the most eligible site for the proposed new workhouse; the plan of operation for the revision of the relief lists, &c.; and after considerable discussion, it appeared to be the unanimous wish and desire of the meeting, and in which I most fully coincide, that the Union ought not to be divided until the permanent workhouse is finished and fit for the reception of paupers, but that in the meantime a temporary one should be taken, affording, when fitted up, accommodation for about 300 paupers, the expense for rent, alterations, &c., to be borne by the Union at large, observing that the temporary workhouse, when so fitted up, should be for the reception exclusively of paupers belonging to the electoral divisions which it is proposed shall form the Dingle Union, and who may hereafter apply and be eligible for admission. I have applied to the clerk of the Union to furnish me with a return of the paupers in the Tralee workhouse, with a view to show that from several causes the admission from the ten Western electoral divisions do not bear anything like an equal proportion to those admitted from the Tralee districts, and therefore that this portion of the Union is in justice and equity entitled to a temporary workhouse, at the expense of the Union.

It was also proposed that the Dingle Committee, assisted by an Inspector, should continue their functions, scrutinizing and revising the lists of applicants, as well as those receiving relief; but as much of the time of the relieving officers is occupied in going to and returning from Tralee, where they attend the Board, that it would be most desirable that such attendance should be dispensed with, and that in lieu of which, they be directed to attend at Dingle, to give their assistance there, and to go once in each month to Tralee to pass their accounts. This I think could be done in future, inasmuch as the whole of the ten electoral divisions are supplied with meal in Dingle, and therefore need not have considerable sums of money at their disposal as heretofore. Another subject brought under consideration, and to which I beg respectfully to draw the attention of the Commissioners, was the importance of attaching the Castle-gregory electoral division, in the event of the division of the Union, to Dingle, being the only one in the Western direction which is comparatively wealthy, because, as I stated in my report of the 30th ultimo, if the wealth of the district is reserved for Tralee, where there is comparatively little destitution, the pauperism of the proposed Union of Dingle would paralyze and swamp the entire property, there being no fewer than 10,000 persons receiving out and in-door relief (including the children who are fed by the British Association), which are nearly half the population of the district.

I have examined every large building in and near the town, and have, with the consent of the Guardians, subject, of course, to the approval of the Commissioners, hired a large house, with large store, offices, &c., attached, which, by an expenditure of about 150*l.*, would be capable of accommodating about 300 paupers, on a lease of seven years, with a clause to surrender at the expiration of two years, and every year afterwards, by giving six months' notice, at a rent of 100*l.* per annum.

I have also (accompanied by three of the Guardians) examined several sites for the proposed workhouse, and they approved highly of the one I drew your attention to in my letter of the 30th ultimo, as being in every respect most eligible, the land being of the best description, which could be had for about two guineas the plantation acre, the situation healthful, with a good road from the town, which is about half a mile distant. It is either Lord Cork's, or what is termed the Ventry trust property. Of the particulars as to title, &c., I can make myself acquainted when the Commissioners have decided as to dividing the Union, and of which I shall be glad to be informed as soon as possible.

I am not aware that there is any other subject of importance to which I should now draw your attention, further than to request that I may be favoured soon with the determination of the Commissioners as to the several matters which I have felt it my duty respectfully to press upon their consideration.

With reference to the 7th section of the Poor Law Extension Act, if the Commissioners do not feel authorized to accede to the suggestions I have made respecting the non-enforcement of the relieving officers' duties, as contained in said section, then I take it to be impossible to continue things as they are, as the absence from the scene of their labours (sometimes nearly the whole of three days in each week), is attended with serious loss and inconvenience to the Guardians, rate-payers, and the unfortunate poor, and therefore the sooner the division of the Union takes place the better; at the same time that I would respectfully urge the just claim of the expense of fitting up, furnishing, &c., of temporary houses in Dingle, being made a charge on the Union at large; and as by law the paupers of Dingle Union now at Tralee would be turned out upon places being prepared here for their reception, the house and store alluded to in the former part of my letter would not afford room for half the number having a demand upon us, which would oblige us to hire another store of similar extent, and requiring a like sum to fit it up, and for this purpose, I presume, we must look to the Treasury or British Association to supply funds; and supposing the accommodation required was available to-morrow, "our gain would be a loss," inasmuch as we should have no room for the admission of one additional pauper, of the hundreds who are objects for a workhouse rather than out-door relief.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 7, 1848.

I AM to inform you that the question has already been very fully considered and decided on before you arrived in Dingle, and directions have been given for dividing the Union and constituting a new Union by the name of the Dingle Union. It is intended that the Dingle Union shall include Castlegregory division.

In regard to the proposed temporary workhouse at Dingle, the Commissioners are desirous that the proposition should be brought before the Tralee Board of Guardians for their consideration.

The Commissioners deem it right that the Tralee Guardians should advance the funds for fitting up the temporary workhouse, and the accounts will be adjusted on equitable principles when the Union is divided.

Although funds will be advanced by the Treasury for the new workhouse, which is to be erected at Dingle, no funds are to be expected from the Treasury for the temporary workhouse, or for the relief of the destitution in Dingle; and the Commissioners rely upon your being particularly explicit on this point, in order to prevent expectations which would, undoubtedly, be unfavourable to the prompt payment of poor-rates.

The two main points to which your attention should be directed at the present time are:—1st. To press forward the vigorous exaction of the poor-rates in the Dingle district; and 2ndly. To take care that relief is duly administered in that district in accordance with the Commissioners' regulations, to the really destitute, while at the same time imposition and favouritism are prevented or exposed.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 2, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I attended the weekly meeting of the Board of Guardians yesterday.

As the out-of-door relief has been in operation for some weeks, and as it is not very probable that any serious increase to our numbers will take place, I may make a few remarks upon it.

The total number receiving relief out of the house in the Union is 15,400, or one-sixth of the population.

Tralee district, with a population of 23,583	gives relief to	2,225	or one-tenth
Castleisland	9,340	1,593	or one-sixth
Ballincuslane	8,572	955	or one-ninth
Ballymacelligott	5,994	778	or one-eighth
Castlemaine	5,664	690	or one-ninth
		5 G

Tralee Union.	Kilgobbin,	with a population of 10,609	gives relief to 1,185	or one-ninth
	Ballinacourty	" 7,724	" 1,238	or one-sixth
	Dingle	" 12,983	" 5,166	or one-half
	Ventry	" 7,194	" 1,474	or one-fifth.

I believe I may say that I am pretty well acquainted with the general circumstances of each electoral division; and I am also aware of the amount of assistance which the British Association are giving through the schools, and, comparing one electoral division with another, I think the general average which runs throughout, shows that the relief has been fairly administered as a whole, although individual cases of abuse must, and are occurring.

I have so often reported the state of affairs at Dingle to the Commissioners, that I need hardly point out to the Commissioners that that electoral division feeds nearly one-half of its population, or 5166 persons; and as the Association feeds 1200 also, I may say every other person living there receives relief; while in the adjoining district of Ventry, only one-fourth are thus sustained; and in Ballinacourty only one-fifth.

This at once indicates abuse, which we know of, but cannot control at Tralee. I am, however, in hopes that the division of the Union, and the presence of Sir Thomas Ross in that neighbourhood, may succeed more effectually in checking it than we have been able.

On the same grounds I am inclined to think that the relief in Castleisland is greater than there is occasion for; at least its adjoining electoral divisions are satisfied with a smaller proportion.

With a population of 92,000 persons thrown suddenly on one Board of Guardians, with an inefficient staff to assist them, in a season of severe distress, and in a straggling Union, 64 miles in length, it can hardly be a matter of surprise that a few persons may have died of starvation; but I am happy to state that all the reports and rumours which I have heard of, do not in the aggregate amount to 10.

It must, however, be acknowledged that the whole of the peasantry are suffering from the severest distress; and if the efforts of the Guardians have been successful in preventing actual starvation (at least with a few exceptions), the period of human life must be considerably shortened by the debilitating effects of a long-continued insufficient diet.

The return of the out-of-door relief which I have before given, seems to indicate that the pressure which has heretofore existed in towns, more particularly where the workhouses were built, causing a higher amount of rate than in the country electoral divisions, will now pass off, and the more general distribution of relief will produce more equalization of taxation.

Referring more particularly to the proceedings of the Board, I may state that a conversation arose as to the signing of the consent for borrowing money for the Dingle workhouse, which ended in a resolution which appears on the minutes; in answer to which the Commissioneers need only refer them to their own resolution on the subject, of 30th November, 1847, which is a complete answer.

Thirteen Guardians have signed the consent. I think a great deal of the feeling which exists against it arises from it not being generally understood how such loan will be repaid. The Tralee Guardians will not involve themselves for 7000*l.* for a workhouse which is to belong to a separate Union. The Dingle Guardians want to have a pledge as to the boundaries of their Union before signing it; and some gentlemen wish to save their money, whatever may be the result.

It is impossible for me to say whether I should succeed in getting this signed by a majority; and if the Commissioners have resolved to divide the Union, I recommend them not to wait for the signing of this consent, but to divide at once; and then the Dingle Guardians must see that they cannot do without a workhouse, and I think would be sure to sign it; and if they do not they could be dissolved.

REPLY to the foregoing :—February 5, 1848.

IN regard to the consent of the Tralee Board of Guardians to the expenditure for providing the new workhouse, I am to state that the Commissioners do not wish you to relax in your efforts to get the consent to the expenditure in building an additional workhouse signed; but at the same time the Commissioners intend to proceed in the division of the Union, without reference to the question of whether the consent is signed or not; and you will observe that, according to the 35th section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, the Commissioners have full power to provide a workhouse for Dingle Union, when formed, without any consent from the Guardians.

If the workhouse had been commenced before the division of the Union, the expenditure would come under the 36th section, and in that case could not have been made without the consent of the Guardians; but the case is different in regard to expenditure prior to declaring the workhouse fit for the reception of the destitute poor.

Sir THOMAS ROSS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 5, 1848.

THAT the Committee of Guardians at Dingle has discharged its duties in a very careless and slovenly manner, can be attested by the manner in which the business has been allowed to fall into arrear; for, although I brought them together and kept them at work almost continuously since Monday, there is still, I regret to say, a great deal to be done, chiefly in revising the lists, scrutinizing the claims of fresh applicants, and getting the books of the relieving officers into something like order. The cause of this state of things was, in the first instance, the non-attendance of the Committee on the proper days, by which, instead of testing the applicants in person, the very objectionable practice of the names being sent in on slips of paper, where many of them remained from week to week (some dated as far back as December), until my arrival here.

In the revision of the lists, which is not yet finished, several hundred were struck off, while others, whose names were before the Committee for whole weeks, were added, so that no real lessening of the expense has been effected. I have intimated to the Committee that, immediately upon the arrears of business being brought up, they are to adopt the practice of the Board, which is to examine each case separately in the committee-room, referring them in the first instance to the relieving officers, who will submit the names with such information as he may be able to collect in each case. In conclusion, I must do some of the Guardians and rate-payers the justice to say, now that they have the assistance and encouragement of an Inspector, that they seem inclined to put their shoulders to the wheel, and to do their work. I had an interview with the agent to the Ventry trust property this day, who gave me to understand that he will give every facility towards putting us in possession of the site referred to in my letter of the 3rd instant; and I shall be glad to be informed if you wish me to mark it off on the map received from Captain Hotham, and transmit to Dublin.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 9, 1848.

IN regard to the site of the proposed workhouse, I am to state that the Commissioners will be glad to receive any information or suggestions from you on the subject, which they will refer to their architect for his report. The Commissioners presume that the map you allude to, when requesting to be informed if you shall mark off the site recommended by you, and then transmit to the Commissioners, is the sheet of the Ordnance Survey, which was forwarded to Captain Hotham with a view to certain inquiries in regard to the commons at Dingle. If such is the case, you will probably require the map for that purpose.

Sir THOMAS ROSS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 11, 1848.

IN reference to your letter of the 13th ultimo, addressed to Captain Hotham, at Tralee, and accompanied by an ordnance sheet (herewith returned), and directing that the same be compared with the unenclosed portions of "Ballenaboulha" and "Dingle Commons," I beg to inform you, that having made minute inquiries of some of the oldest and most intelligent of the inhabitants of Dingle, who having heard that the property in question was in a short time to be vested in the Dingle Guardians, and by which they hope the burden of taxation will be lightened, are nothing loth to do all in their power to enhance and add thereto, even although it should affect their relatives and friends; but which they were unwilling to do at the inquiry held in 1833, referred to in your communication above alluded to. It appears from those sources that "Ballenaboulha" never was a distinct commonage, but the tenantry of the townland so designated, and lying about west of Dingle Commons, having enclosed part of the Dingle Commons, it acquired the name which it bears upon the map, and now yields a certain rent to Lord Ventry; so that not only that part which lies to the west and north-west, and upon which I have placed asterisks, was part and parcel of Dingle Commons, but also farms called Cul-lenagh and Ballenahassig lying to the east, and part of Farrenflaherty at the base of the mountain to the south, all of which have now their several landlords and tenants.

Tralee Union.

I understand that, with the exception of Killehelane, the greater part of these lands were enclosed upwards of 30 years ago, and part of the latter within the last five years. It is not perhaps necessary farther to pursue these details, as there is so soon a likelihood of its becoming more immediately the duty of the Dingle Board of Guardians to make itself thoroughly acquainted with them, and therefore I will only observe that the unenclosed parts of Dingle and Milltown Commons correspond in every particular with those laid down in the ordnance sheet, with the exception of five or six acres enclosed about five years back, and added to Killehelan.

I now beg respectfully to draw your attention to the three sites I have marked off on the sheet for the proposed new workhouse, and although it should properly form the subject of another letter, I feel that I cannot have a more fitting opportunity of offering a few remarks on each separately; and first, with respect to the site on the Commons, I will be brief in dismissing that, by stating that it is altogether unsuited as a site for any house; as, independently of its exposed situation, want of water, &c., part of the road leading to it is so steep (one foot in four), the carriage of material would be altogether impracticable. The second site marked, and situate on the east skirt of Farrenflaherty, presents many advantages; and but for the distance from the Commons, which of course will hereafter be made available, and the want of water for generally two, and sometimes three months in the year, would render it equally eligible with the third site marked in the centre of a plot of ground on the west skirt of Farrenflaherty, and containing about 12 statute acres, having an abundant supply of good water nearly all the year round, and which I propose should be conveyed into the workhouse yard by means of a covered or open sewer. I have drawn a line through the sketch, to show the direction of the present water-course, which discharges itself into the road, and supplies a great portion of the upper part of the main street of the town. The ground possesses also the advantage of being contiguous to some of the best part of the Commons, which, by picking off the surface stones, and spade labour, might be made available to a considerable extent. It is part of the Ventry trust property, and the agent told me we could have it at a very moderate rate, something under 2*l.* the plantation acre; the present tenants pay 5*l.*, one of whom, who holds the centre field, being willing to give immediate possession. Slates of a very good description can be had from Valencia. Stones and sand within one and a half miles, but no lime nearer than Tralee, a distance of nearly 30 English miles. I need hardly say, therefore, that on the foregoing grounds, it is the most eligible within a reasonable distance of the town.

And now, with respect to fitting up a temporary workhouse in Dingle, I have, as I have already reported, hired an excellent house and large store attached, at 100*l.* per annum; but as it will not contain more than 300 paupers, it follows that a second, and even a third must be hired. The others that are suited in other respects require extensive repairs, and as the Tralee Board are to provide the funds, I purpose bringing it under their consideration whether it would not be advisable (if the law would permit such a course), to fit up only one house at Dingle, and to retain part of the paupers at Tralee; the expense for rent, proportion of staff, &c., to be paid by the Dingle Board until the new work was fit for their reception. If such an arrangement can be entered into between both Boards it would be the means of saving a considerable sum of money in fitting up houses which may not be occupied two years. I have to apologise for having trespassed so much upon your valuable time.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 19, 1848.

Tralee Union.

As regards the corporate property at Dingle, I am to state that this property now vested on trust in the Guardians of Tralee Union, under 3 and 4 Vict., c. 108, will devolve to the Guardians of the new Union when appointed, and have to be considered perhaps in any adjustment under the 16th section of 1 and 2 Vict., c. 56, although hitherto allowed to be unproductive of income. As, however, there is no portion of it available for a workhouse site owing to the formation of the surface, the question of the occupation and profitable use of the land may be deferred until the new Union shall have been declared. It will then be for consideration how far the Board of Guardians should interfere with the enclosures made of portions of the Commons, more especially the encroachment made within the last five years referred to by you, the property having devolved by law to the Board of Guardians on the 25th October, 1841.

With reference to the site for the new workhouse, I am to state that the architect has been directed to inspect the sites and report thereon, until after which the Commissioners will not decide on the site to be taken.

As regards your suggestion that part of the Dingle paupers be received for a time into Tralee workhouse, a proportion of the establishment expenses being paid by the Dingle Board, I am to state that when the Union is divided the paupers of Dingle should be maintained in Dingle Union. It is contrary to the Irish Poor Relief Acts for the Guardians of one Union workhouse to maintain their paupers in the workhouse of another Union; at the same time the Tralee Guardians might maintain the paupers adverted to, and in fact they would be bound to relieve them if found destitute in Tralee Union.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 11, 1848.

So many changes are going on in the occupancy of the lands of this Union, that I must request information connected therewith.

1. Whose duty is it to report a change of occupancy to the Board of Guardians, in order that the right occupier may be entered in the next rate-book?

2. In cases where several small farms are now held by one holder, and virtually become one farm, whose duty is it to report the same?

3. If these several farms which are thus practically consolidated in one, are held under separate leases, can the occupier insist that they are entered still as separate farms; and can the Board, on the other hand, insist that they are entered as one farm?

4. When several small farms are thus consolidated, and arrears are due from one or more, how should those arrears be entered; and can the collector distrain from any part of the consolidated farm for such arrears, or must he confine himself toward such part of the farm on which such arrears may have been due?

5. It has been said that collectors should report in the column of observations changes of occupancy; I cannot find it so in their instructions.

6. But if it is the collector, should he report to the Board of Guardians as to the revisor? and should not the revisor certify that it is the case before the next rate-book is altered?

7. In the compendium I do not find instructions for the revisor.

I should be extremely obliged to the Commissioners for any instructions which they may give me on this subject. The whole of our rate-books are in the most unsatisfactory state, and very often the person named as occupier has gone to America, and perpetually, appeals of this kind are coming before me. I feel it, too, most important that the Union should have the advantage of my being here in putting this most complicated business on a proper footing.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 26, 1848.

With reference to your two first inquiries as to whose duty it is to report to the Board of Guardians a change in the occupancy of farms, or the consolidation of several farms into one, in order that the change may be entered in the next rate-book; the Commissioners desire to state that the collectors should record such facts in the column for observations in their collecting books.

Tralee Union.

In reply to your third inquiry, as to the collection of arrears on farms which have thus been consolidated, I am to state, that being held under leases, they ought to be separately rated, and the distress should be made on the premises for which the rate is due.

The revisor's duty may be stated in general terms, as that of correcting all errors in the existing valuation and particulars connected therewith, which may be brought under his notice.

Sir THOMAS ROSS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 13, 1848.

IN reference to the 10th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, I beg respectfully to state that several cases of persons seeking to be admitted on the relief lists appeared before the Committee of Guardians, who are still in the possession of small portions of land, but who to qualify themselves for relief made a voluntary surrender of their holdings, which however would not be accepted by the landlords, on the plea that the entire farm (parts of which were the portions so offered to be surrendered) must be given up. I mention this as the cases of most frequent occurrence, but there are others. Our practice has been where clear proof of the offer of surrender has been adduced, and admitted by the landlord or agent, and that the applicant has no means of support, to consider him entitled to relief.

In the absence of employment, private or public, thousands of acres lying waste, and the truly wretched and miserable state of the entire district, the alternatives are relief or starvation; the former in similar cases will be administered until I receive instructions to the contrary, although perhaps not in strict conformity with the law.

Having reported my proceedings in my letter of the 11th instant, I have nothing to add thereto, except that I sat from noon to midnight on Friday revising lists, &c., and that I was engaged corresponding with landlords and agents on Saturday, requesting their co-operation in purging our relief lists.

Without a map of the Union I am like a ship without a chart, and shall feel obliged by one being sent, as also weekly returns.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 19, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 13th instant, relative to the administration of relief in the Dingle district of Tralee Union, and to thank you for the information contained therein.

With reference to the cases of persons who to qualify themselves for relief, made a voluntary surrender of their holdings which would not be accepted from them by their landlords, I am to enclose for your information a copy of a letter which has been written in reply to an inquiry on the subject in another Union.

With reference to your remarks respecting the map of the Union, I am to state that a map of the Union, with the boundaries of the electoral divisions marked on it, will be forwarded to you with as little delay as possible as requested.

ENCLOSURE.

SIR,

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
February 5, 1848.*

WITH reference to your letter of the 24th ult., relative to the refusal of relief to a widow who had offered to surrender all her land to the landlord but who refused to accept it, unless she also surrendered her house on the same land, I am directed by the Commissioners to state that the mere refusal of a landlord to accept a surrender of land does not disqualify a person who has ceased to occupy more than a quarter of an acre of land from receiving relief.

By the 10th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, it is merely the occupation or non-occupation of a quarter of an acre of land which is made a criterion of destitution, provided that an applicant for relief may otherwise be deemed entitled to it.

Hence the Guardians, as far as that clause is concerned, are warranted in relieving anybody who is not in such occupation; and they are not bound to investigate title at all, or to ascertain whether the tenant's interest has been legally determined by surrender or otherwise.

By order of the Commissioners,

*William Foley, Esq., M.D.,
Kilrush.*

A. MOORE, for Secretary.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 24, 1848.

Tralee and Dingle
Unions.

I WAS prevented from the pressure of business from making my report as to the proceedings of the Board of Guardians on the 22nd instant, on the usual day; and, indeed, the subjects which were discussed have in a great measure been laid in anticipation, before you.

The Board struck rates on the several electoral divisions in proportion to their probable necessities, calculated to October 1st, 1848.

A good deal of discussion arose as to the advisability of striking such heavy rates as the electoral divisions of Dunquin, Ventry, Kilquane, and Dingle required; but it appeared to me that the law left us no alternative: and although in a former communication you informed me that it was probable that you would be able to advance money for those divisions, yet as all advances must be repaid, it still was necessary to strike rates for the full amount.

I, however, informed the Board that I was in communication with you on the subject, and reminded them that the striking of a rate was not legally concluded until the rate-books were signed by the chairman; and that, should Her Majesty's Government be enabled to assist such divisions, it would be still in their power to reverse their decision, and actually strike the rates for the then required amount.

Meantime, allow me to impress upon you, that it is most expedient that we should receive an early answer as to what you may be enabled to do. Uncertainty paralyses all commercial transactions, and I am quite aware that considerable portions of the lands of these electoral divisions remain without occupiers, on account of the uncertainty of the amount of rate which may be required from them.

From the amount of the rates thus resolved upon, you will be enabled to form a very good idea as to the real amount of poverty in each electoral division. I am of opinion that the rates on the Dingle and Kilquane electoral divisions have been aggravated by mismanagement of the relief; but allowing for that, and making allowances for the balances in favour or against each electoral division on the last audit of accounts, I believe that the amounts struck fairly represent the actual destitution.

In reply to a resolution of the Board of Guardians some weeks back, requesting you to reduce the size of the electoral divisions, you stated, amongst other reasons which determined you not to yield to their request, that the amount of taxation was already very uneven, and that decreasing the area of taxation might possibly have a tendency to increase that unevenness. The rates struck seem, however, to indicate that such will not probably be the case. The western divisions are heavily rated, arising, as I have before mentioned, from the population having formerly depended upon potatoes. The eastern divisions are lightly rated, in consequence of their country being unfitted for potato culture, but a rich grazing district. The town of Tralee does not now appear to have more paupers in proportion to its wealth than the country divisions; and, weighing all these circumstances one with the other, I am of opinion that it is most desirable that the memorial of the Board should be assented to, and that the largest electoral divisions in this Union should be divided into two or three districts of taxation.

Your circular has arrived. Under the peculiar circumstances of this Union, I do not think it expedient to recommend that cooked food should be issued in the eastern districts. I am in hopes that every person who can possibly work will be turned off our relief lists early next month; but I was mentioning to Sir Thomas Ross, who came to Tralee to attend the meeting of the Board, that I earnestly wished that it should be carried out to the fullest extent in the western divisions.

At the same time, all these divisions are in debt to the Board of Guardians. The Board know that the Union will be divided, and they will not grant one farthing more money to those divisions than they are compelled by law. The law does not compel cooked food, and I shall not be able to persuade the Board to grant money to fit up the proposed soup kitchens.

The Dingle Union must eventually come to the British Association for assistance, and I earnestly hope that 100% may now be placed at the disposal of Sir Thomas Ross to commence fitting up the necessary apparatus, and then

Tralee and Dingle
Unions.

I am satisfied that there would be no difficulty in issuing cooked food, which I look upon as the only safeguard for those electoral divisions.

February 24, 1848, P.M.

P.S.—The post has just arrived and brought the order for dividing the Union. The order is so worded that it may be carried into effect immediately.

The Tralee Board of Guardians are not therefore bound to find any funds to relieve destitution outside of their present Union.

The Dingle Union is heavily in debt to the Tralee Union, and I do not think that the Tralee Board will find any more funds for their out-of-door relief.

In the mean time, the Dingle Board is not formed; and the poor, between being discarded by the Tralee Union and receiving no relief in their own Union, must starve.

Allow me to suggest, that the imperative necessity has arisen for the intervention of the British Association. The whole out-of-door relief for the Dingle Union must, for a while, be carried on by Sir Thomas Ross; and I would suggest that 500*l.* be immediately placed in his hands to enable him to meet the exigency, and that the out-of-door relief should be taken up in that Union by him.

Allow me to urge the necessity of an immediate reply.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 1, 1848.

THE Commissioners have applied to Count Strzelecki to advance out of the fund at his disposal the sum of 1000*l.* for the support of the poor of Dingle Union.

With reference to your recommendation, that the memorial of the Board of Guardians to reduce the size of the electoral divisions should be assented to, I am to state that the question involved in the memorial is one of general policy in reference to all the Unions in Ireland, and is not one on which the Commissioners can act solely with reference to the Tralee Union. It appears to the Commissioners certain that any material reduction in the extent of the areas of taxation must generally increase the inequalities of rating in such areas; and, accordingly, the Commissioners do not intend at present to alter the boundaries of electoral divisions in the Irish Unions.

In the report of Sir Thomas Ross, above adverted to, he mentions, as one of the greatest difficulties likely to be experienced before the arrangements of the new Union are matured, the circumstance that the Visiting Committee of Tralee workhouse have been directed to give every encouragement to the paupers to quit it, and this after the able-bodied shall be turned out; and he requests the Commissioners to direct the Tralee Board of Guardians to retain the infirm paupers until a place is prepared for their reception. In reference to this statement, the Commissioners desire to inform you that the Dingle inmates should, in the opinion of the Commissioners, remain in the Tralee workhouse until premises have been provided at Dingle to receive them; and if the Guardians take any premature step to discharge destitute persons from their workhouse, they will be answerable for any evil consequences that may ensue.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 4, 1848.

I HAVE had the honour of receiving your circular, bearing date 2nd March, 1848, in which you have stated that you deem it desirable to determine or to suspend, on the 18th of March instant, all orders under the 2nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men; and in which you require to know whether in my opinion there would be any decided objection to this course in the Union of which I am Inspector.

In reply to which I beg to inform you that I consider such a course extremely desirable, as I trust that the separation of Dingle Union from this Union will give us sufficient workhouse accommodation for all able-bodied who may really require it.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 8, 1848.

Tralee and Dingle
Unions.

THE separation of the Dingle Union from the Tralee Union, and the ability of the Guardians in both Unions to grant out-of-door relief to all classes for a limited period, enabled the Board of Guardians of the Tralee Union to offer all the inmates of their house, who came from the electoral divisions of the Dingle Union, out-of-door relief for a limited period, to assist them in returning to their homes. The Dingle Board of Guardians being bound to support them on their return to that Union, 300 paupers have taken advantage of this offer, and about 200 are yet desirous of doing so.

The Tralee Board of Guardians carried out this measure in the most considerate manner. No one was compelled to leave the workhouse; some parties who seemed very infirm were dissuaded from going; orphans were not allowed to go, unless under charge of some competent person; and paupers destitute of clothing were clothed—the British Association having given the Board the means.

At the present moment, 200 vacancies remain unfilled; but until out-of-door relief to the able-bodied has ceased some time, it will be out of my power to ascertain whether our workhouse accommodation is even yet sufficient.

In the mean time, so far as this Union is concerned, I must report most favourably on the effects of the recent division.

Instead of the Board of Guardians feeling that, with their utmost exertion, it was impossible for them to carry out an efficient system of relief, they must now feel that it is perfectly practicable. The increase of workhouse accommodation which they have obtained will, I trust, except in seasons of severe distress, be sufficient, with the assistance of the hired buildings, for the wants of the able-bodied. And to give the Commissioners a more practical idea of the advantages they have derived, I may mention that our Board-room is now not only capable of holding the Guardians (which it never was before), but also the relieving officers; so that on Mondays, when applications for relief are received, the Board can have the advantage of their assistance in each individual case.

It will remain a subject of future consideration, whether this Union should not even yet be remodelled. Immediately north and south from the workhouse it extends but $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles; east, 18 miles; and the width of the furthest extremity is double that of the centre.

I have often reported that Committees sitting under the sixth section do not work well; and the hardship, if not cruelty, of compelling paupers to go 18 miles to the workhouse is too apparent; but this is a subject of future consideration.

Having thus by the division of the Union got over our most serious difficulty, my attention will be turned more to the internal affairs of the workhouse than before.

Nothing can be more lax than the whole interior discipline of the workhouse. This has arisen from the master being incompetent, and the Poor Law Commissioners have lately dismissed him. As soon as his successor is appointed the subject will come under my most anxious consideration.

The financial state of the Union with respect to the rates and the collection thereof, is in a very bad and confused state: a special report on this subject will be forwarded by me in a few days; but I trust before summer has advanced to place this Union in a sound state in both the clerk's and the master's departments.

I am the more anxious to do this in order to show the Guardians that this Poor Law is not so formidable after all, but that with energy and honesty it may be carried out at a moderate expense to the rate-payer and a vast advantage to the poor.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 15, 1848.

Tralee Union.

THE separation of the Dingle Union from the Tralee Union, and the number of paupers which left the Tralee workhouse in consequence, placed 300 vacancies at my disposal in the workhouse; and I therefore determined to see how far the immediate application of that test to the parties at present receiving out-of-door relief would in any degree check the demand which kept increasing constantly upon us.

Tralee Union.

During therefore the preceding week, all applicants for relief, except those mentioned in section 1 of the Act, were offered the workhouse; and as it so happened, that the period for which 2000 persons were granted out-of-door relief had expired, the test was offered to them as well.

I am sorry to say, however, that the workhouse filled immediately, showing how great the destitution is; and returning therefore late from the Board last night, I wrote to you, requesting a continuance of the partial order, under section 2.

With the number of persons whom we can discharge from the workhouse under that order, I hope still to find vacancies for the able-bodied; but in the event of our failing to do so, I beg to request to know from you whether there would be any objection to grant a further renewal or enlargement of the order under section 2, namely, to deserted wives and their families, widows without families, and unmarried women, by which means I should be enabled to clear the house generally of single women, and offer it entirely and exclusively to able-bodied men and their families?

The reports which daily reach me of the disinclination of the labourers to work, show the necessity for making the discipline attending the relief as strict as possible; and although I feel that nothing will justify me in allowing any labourer to starve, still I am equally sure that the safety of the country rests mainly now in making the workhouse available by every means for able-bodied men.

The resolutions of the Board of Guardians will show generally what occurred on this Board-day; and with respect to the demand that a 3s. rate should be struck for electoral divisions whose wants did not require so large a sum, in order to provide for the repayment of the advances under the Temporary Relief Act, it appeared to me that there was a considerable disinclination to comply with it.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 18, 1848.

With reference to that part of your report of the 15th instant, in which you inquire whether there would be any objection to grant a further renewal or enlargement of the order authorizing out-door relief in Tralee Union to certain classes of paupers, not comprised within the first section of the Irish Relief Extension Act, I am directed by the Commissioners to state, that they would not object to issue such an order as you mention, if you were of opinion that it would otherwise be necessary to issue an order authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men.

Further Letter from the COMMISSIONERS to Captain HOTHAM:—March 24, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration your report of the 15th instant, in which you state with respect to the demand, that a 3s. rate would be struck for electoral divisions of the Tralee Union whose wants did not require so large a sum, in order to provide for the repayment of the advances under the Temporary Relief Act, it appeared to you that there was a considerable disinclination to comply with it.

With reference to this observation the Commissioners desire to acquaint you, that the Guardians would not be required to strike a rate of 3s. in the pound in any electoral division wherein both the ordinary expenditure and the repayment of advances under the Temporary Relief Act could be provided for by a less rate.

By the enclosed circular it will be seen, that such a rate would only be required where the sum requisite for both the ordinary expenditure and the repayment of advances would equal or exceed that amount.

As regards the balances due by the electoral divisions of the Dingle Union, the Tralee Guardians will hold the Guardians of Dingle Union indebted to them to the amount thereof; but as funds will be required for the prospective wants of Tralee Union, irrespective of the balances which are due by the Dingle divisions, the Guardians of the Tralee Union should provide rates accordingly; and in the making of such rates, the principle observed as regards the payment of advances in other Unions, will hold good in the Tralee Union.

ENCLOSURE.

Tralee Union.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
March 9, 1848.*

SIR,

THE Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, desire to obtain an estimate of the probable expenditure of each electoral division of the Union, down to the close of September next, and they request that you will prepare with all possible despatch the required estimate in the accompanying form.

In making the estimate of the number of paupers who will require to be relieved up to the close of September, you will have regard to the average number of persons who will probably be in the workhouse and on the relief lists up to that time, taking into consideration the circumstances and prospects of each division, and availing yourself of the local knowledge of the Guardians more immediately acquainted with the several divisions.

Wherever the present rates may be found inadequate to cover the probable expenditure down to the close of September next, it will be necessary for the Guardians to take timely steps to have new rates prepared, in order to prevent the embarrassments which would result from the want of sufficient rates being in collection.

With reference to the amount of new rate which may be required for ordinary expenditure in electoral divisions, from which a debt is due to Government on account of advances under the Temporary Relief Act, the Commissioners take occasion to observe, that if the amount required for ordinary expenditure equals, or exceeds 2s. 11d. in the pound, no addition will at present be required for repayment of the advances; but, if the amount required for ordinary expenditure is less than 2s. 11d. in the pound, then repayment of the advances should be provided for, to the extent which a rate not exceeding 2s. 11d. in the pound would admit of, it not being required that the rate for both purposes should exceed this amount.

By order of the Commissioners,

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To

The Clerk of each Union.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 18, 1848.

IN my report of the 15th instant, I mentioned how immediately on the partial cessation of out-door relief to all classes not included in section 1, the workhouses became filled, and that it would be necessary that an order be issued under section 2, enabling the Guardians to grant out-of-door relief to widows with one child, orphans, and able-bodied men having severe sickness in their families.

I have since given my daily attention to the subject, and I am of opinion, in order to prevent the necessity of giving out-of-door relief to the able-bodied men, further steps must be adopted; and I would suggest that an order be issued enabling the Guardians to grant out-of-door relief to all distressed persons except able-bodied men and their families.

Such an order would include many classes not included in the order before applied for, viz.:—

1. Deserted wives and their families.
2. Widows with no children, or single women.
3. Deserted children or foundlings.
4. Children whose parents are in gaol.

Serious objections to every one of these classes may be urged, more especially to the first; but allowing that, it appears to me preferable to granting out-of-door relief to able-bodied men.

There is another point to which I would call your attention. The population of this Union may be estimated at 56,000, and that of the Tralee electoral division at 23,000, and we find one-half of our paupers come from Tralee.

If an order were issued allowing the Board to grant out-of-door allowances to the families of such able-bodied persons who chose to enter the workhouse, we could immediately make 800 vacancies in the house; and if such order were restricted to applicants whose residence was within three miles of the workhouse, it would enable husband and wife and the families to meet as often as they do now.

To the well-behaved pauper reduced to distress by the circumstances of the times, such an order would be a real blessing, as it would save his wife and family from the degradation of associating in the workhouse with females of the worst character; and by the great number of vacancies it would place at our disposal, would effectually prevent any further necessity for out-of-door relief to the able-bodied themselves.

I cannot too strongly impress upon the Commissioners that reports prevail and increase in prevalence, that able-bodied men are reluctant to work at fair wages; whether they be true or not, they show that it is full time a check should be put to their receiving out-of-door relief; and on every ground of political economy and humanity, it is desirable that no more labourers should offer themselves for hire than can be absorbed at reasonable and fair wages.

Tralee Union.

Receiving the surplus into the workhouse appears to me to be the only mode to bring this about, and by no method can we obtain so many vacancies as by adopting the plans which I have now recommended.

The granting out-of-door relief to "able-bodied persons having severe sickness in their families," has led to such abuses, that perhaps it would be as well to exclude them from the order. But the remainder of my letter remains good. We want to have the fullest power to grant out-of-door relief to all destitute classes, except able-bodied and their families, for one month, in order to be enabled to apply the workhouse test to the able-bodied; and in the event of that proving insufficient, it will be my duty to urge that power may be granted us to give relief, out of the house, to the families of such able-bodied persons as reside within three miles of the workhouse, for such time as the head of the family may remain within.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 21, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th instant, reporting on the necessity of renewing the order for out-door relief to certain classes of paupers in the Tralee Union; and I am to inform you that the Commissioners have given directions for the preparation of an order authorizing out-door relief, under the 2nd section of the Irish Relief Extension Act, to all classes of destitute persons, except able-bodied men and their families.

The Commissioners will give their consideration to your further suggestion, as to the relief of families of able-bodied men out of the workhouse, the head of the family being an inmate of it.

Captain HOTHAM to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 23, 1848.

I HAD not sufficient time after the meeting of the Board of Guardians on the 20th instant, to give you an account of our proceedings during the past week, in the letter which I forwarded to you on that date.

I have already mentioned in my letter of the 15th, that the Board had determined to reduce the list of persons receiving out-of-door relief, in consequence of some vacancies being at their disposal in the workhouse, by reason of the Dingle paupers returning to their proper Union; this reduction has still been continued, and we have now only 8804 persons receiving out-of-door, in place of 10,426. I regret to state, however, that the increased pressure on the workhouse was shown immediately; on the 13th instant about 350 were admitted, on the 20th about 250; the crowd on that day was so great that, fearful of a disturbance, the chairman requested the presence of the military, and vast numbers went away without receiving relief, or without their cases being even heard.

These numbers must not in any degree be taken as a criterion of the destitution prevailing. I think the general health and appearance of the population a far better test; and I am happy to state, that disease does not prevail either in or out of the workhouse to any serious extent; and that even amongst parties anxious to receive admission into the workhouse, although we may meet some very distressing cases occasionally, yet the majority do not appear, as far as their health is concerned, in a worse condition than distressed persons of any other country.

The order authorizing relief under the 2nd section having expired to-day, I was compelled to explain to the relieving officers the necessity of confining themselves to parties specified under the 1st section; at the same time, I am anxiously expecting the order before requested.

It is quite out of my power to state whether it will be necessary to renew the order for out-of-door relief to the able-bodied; our workhouse accommodation is now for 2000, our population 56,000; but as you imagine, the inmates of the house consist generally of women and children, and I am sorry to state that the crime of refusing to maintain, or deserting wives and families is on the increase; and the prison being full, we have no efficient redress.

Passing on from the subject of out-of-door relief, I come to the general administration of the law, and in all respects I may report a marked improvement.

The great reduction of Guardians, in consequence of the division of the Union, has made the Board much more capable and efficient than it was before.

That the rules of a workhouse in our condition, receiving 350 paupers in one day, and 250 in another, can be kept up as well as under ordinary circumstances, would be unreasonable in me to expect; but the Guardians have appointed a new master, who, although young, seems very desirous of doing his duty, and the general improvement of the workhouse is progressing under him.

The relieving officers are generally much improved in the knowledge of their duties, and the Guardians are enabled to place increased confidence in their reports.

The proceedings of yesterday, as recorded in the minutes, will show you that an alteration was made in the amount of rates struck on each division.

The Board at the meeting of the 14th, remonstrated against the imposition of so large a tax; and they yesterday inquired of me whether I considered it legal for them to strike the 3s. rate, giving orders to collect only half at a time. Although I had heard that this had been done in some Unions, I did not think it warranted by your instructions, and the Board therefore determined on meeting your views so far as raising every rate which was under 1s. 6d. in the pound to 1s. 6d., and striking what may be required to make it a 3s. rate again in May or June.

The rates thus arranged will thus stand,—

Name of Electoral Division.	Amount resolved upon before.	Amount now resolved upon.	Amount resolved for June.
	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
Ballincuslane . .	..	1 6	1 6
Brosna. . . .	..	1 6	1 6
Castleisland . .	0 10	1 6	1 6
Ballymacelligot .	1 8	1 8	1 4
Tralee	1 6	1 6	1 6
Castlemain. . .	1 10	1 10	1 2
Kilgarrylander .	1 0	1 6	1 6
Kilgobbin . . .	3 0	3 0	..

In order to make arrangements for a more rapid collection of rates, six collectors were appointed, and two more advertised for, making in all eight collectors to do the duty which one collector did before; and by thus throwing the collection open to competition, the Board has been enabled to reduce the collection from 2s. in the pound to about an average of 7½d.

It will remain for you to decide how far you will sanction this division of the 3s. rate required; at the same time if you do sanction it, I think it would be advisable to warn the Board that you will require the repayment of the advances to the same amount and at the same time as you would have required if they had imposed the 3s. rate; and if these repayments cause embarrassment to themselves, it will arise from their own deed and act.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 23rd instant, reporting on the administration of relief in the Tralee Union, and with regard to your remark that the inmates of the workhouse consist mostly of women and children, I am to inquire what classes these women and children are?

The Commissioners deem it advisable that the workhouse should be reserved almost exclusively for the relief of able-bodied men and their wives. The children should, if possible, be in a separate and distinct ward.

With reference to the arrangement proposed by the Guardians in regard to the rate required to be made, I am to forward for your information the enclosed copy of a letter which the Commissioners have this day addressed to the Board of Guardians on the subject.

Tralee Union.
—

ENCLOSURE.

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS :—March 25, 1848.

THE Commissioners observe, by minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Tralee Union of the 21st instant, that the Board have resolved to raise certain proposed rates to 1s. 6d. in the pound, and to limit them to this amount.

In reference thereto, the Commissioners desire to state, that they are not authorized to sanction a less rate than 3s. in the pound in any division in which the sum required for ordinary expenditure, in addition to repaying the sum due on account of advances under the Temporary Relief Act, would equal or exceed that amount. The Commissioners request, therefore, that the Guardians will be so good as to reconsider their resolution of the 21st instant.

The Commissioners desire to add, that if the entire produce of 3s. in the pound should be required for ordinary expenditure, no repayment of the advances will be required from the next rate.

KILRUSH UNION.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY :—January 29, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you the enclosed letter of Colonel Vandeleur, which they have received from the Chief Secretary relative to the financial affairs of Kilrush Union; and I am to request that you will be so good as to report specially to the Commissioners on the subject, and return the letter with your report.

ENCLOSURE.

Colonel VANDELEUR to Sir R. ROUTH :—January 22, 1848.

I WISH to lay before you the financial state of this Union, and ask your advice as to what course we ought to adopt to save us from bankruptcy.

A rate of 3s. in the pound is now in progress of collection, amounting to 8884*l.*, of which 4948*l.* has been paid into the bank, out of which our debts, expenses, and out-door relief have been paid up to the 15th instant, leaving a balance of about 100*l.* to our credit, and 3936*l.* to be collected to meet all our liabilities to the 1st July, as I conceive it most impolitic to attempt a new rate before next June without risking great opposition to what has been hitherto well paid in this Union, by not harassing the people by frequent rates. I am most anxious to have funds in hand to meet the expenses of our workhouse and hospital, which will amount to 80*l.* per week.

The average expense of 1300 paupers, 1600*l.* to 1st July.

Establishment expenses	£300
----------------------------------	------

Salaries due 25th March, including relieving officers,	351
--	-----

	£2,251
--	--------

Deduct value of 40 tons Indian corn, at 9 l.	360
---	-----

	1,891 required to 1st July.
--	-----------------------------

Out-door relief, at 250 l. per week to 12th February,	1,000
--	-------

	£2,891
--	--------

leaving a balance of 1045*l.* for bad debts, contingencies, and to provide out-door relief for 20 weeks, which will cost at least 5000*l.* It is perfectly clear to me the Union will not be able to meet the demands upon it without the assistance of Government; and, as I have fairly stated our position, you will be the best judge when that aid, if afforded, ought to be given. The destitution is fast increasing, with a great unwillingness to enter the workhouse; and the relieving officers give a frightful account of the mortality in their districts, which it is impossible to meet. Numbers are buried without coffins, no provision having been made to provide decent burials for them on the out-door list, and no vestry rates having been, or could be collected for many years: this, I trust, the Poor Law Commissioners will have remedied shortly for the sake of society.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS, in reply :—January 31, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th instant, enclosing copy of a letter from Colonel Vandeleur on the financial state of this Union, and requesting my report thereon.

I have had frequent conversations with Colonel Vandeleur, as chairman of the Guardians, on this pressing and important subject.

Deputy Assistant Commissary-General Dobree also called upon me about two months ago, and required my opinion on this matter. I then stated to him my belief that the funds accruing from the present collection would not carry the Union beyond the 1st March: I am still of this opinion.

Colonel Vandeleur's statement is in all essentials nearly correct.

He states the workhouse and hospital expenses at 80*l.* per week. With the great increase of sickness, I calculate a corresponding increase of expenditure under this head.

He calculates out-door relief at 250*l.* per week. It at present exceeds 300*l.*, and must be expected to increase, as none of the able-bodied class are yet relieved out of doors.

I think Colonel Vandeleur's is a very fair and moderate statement of our present state and prospects, and goes to confirm the opinions and statements embodied in my weekly reports.

Kilrush Union.

The rates have been hitherto well paid; the Roman Catholic clergymen, who are rate-payers, generally setting a laudable example, which has influenced the poorer class.

I doubt the possibility of collecting any considerable portion of another rate (or instalment) at present; but I think a larger instalment ought to have been put in process of collection at first: 3s. per pound was manifestly insufficient where there was a population of 85,000, against a valuation of only 59,000*l.*; this error is, however, beyond present remedy.

Colonel Vandeleur does not over-rate the destitution and mortality. The real state of the Union, and the extent of destitution, must be seen to be believed. I endeavour to keep all from desponding—no easy matter.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—February 26, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration the statements contained in the accompanying letter of Colonel Vandeleur, relative to the prospects of Kilrush Union, referred to the Commissioners by his Excellency for consideration; and they have the honour to acquaint his Excellency that the rate now in course of collection in Kilrush Union is an instalment of 3s. in the pound, of a rate made in August last, averaging 4s. 11*d.* in the pound.

The amount uncollected of this instalment, 3002*l.*, is not expected to defray the expenditure of the Union beyond the close of the present month; and to meet the demands of the four following months down to the close of June, a further sum of about 4500*l.* or 5000*l.* will be required.

Colonel Vandeleur appears to think it impolitic to levy a further rate before the close of June, and has submitted the financial condition of the Union to Her Majesty's Government, with a view to their forming an opinion as to when Government aid, if afforded, ought to be given.

In reference to the anticipated deficiency of the present rate in course of collection in the Kilrush Union, the Commissioners beg to state, for the information of his Excellency, that they have deemed it right to call upon the Board of Guardians to take immediate steps for putting into collection a further sum of 3s. in the pound, with a view to providing for the support of the destitute poor of the Union.

At the same time, the Commissioners beg to observe that Captain Kennedy, Temporary Inspecting Officer of the Union, has expressed his doubt of the possibility of collecting any considerable portion of another rate at present, although he considers that larger instalments ought to have been put in collection at first.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY:—February 10, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a report which the Commissioners have received relative to the death of a poor man named Timothy O'Keefe, at Bresla, on the 2nd instant, and on whom a verdict of died from want of food has been returned; and I am to request that you will be so good as to report specially to the Commissioners on this case.

ENCLOSURE.

COUNTY OF CLARE.

Kilrush, February 5, 1848.

ON Wednesday, the 2nd, a poor man named Timothy O'Keefe, 60 years old, died suddenly at Bresla from starvation.

He had no land or means of support than begging since he became unable to work; he had two children, seryants in the neighbourhood: and it appears that he applied to Mr. Lillis, relieving officer of the parish, which he then obtained; but when making the application, he stated he had three in family, including his two children who were at service, and he received an allowance for three persons several times before the fraud was detected. His name was then struck off the books, and since then he received no assistance. An inquest was held.

Copy of Verdict.

"That T. O'Keefe died at Bresla, on 2nd of February, from want of food."

The Inspector-General.

WILLIAM CHANNER, Sub-Inspector.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 11, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, relative to the death of Timothy O'Keefe at Bresla, in this Union, together with a copy of the police inspector's report thereon, transmitting a copy of the verdict returned by the coroner's jury.

The facts are as follow: Timothy O'Keefe had two children at service, whom he returned to the relieving officer as dependant upon him, and drew out-door relief for them for a considerable time. When discovered he was struck off the list for fraud. He then claimed admission to the workhouse, where he remained for some time. He subsequently demanded his discharge; left the house at his own request, and adopted his former calling as a strolling beggar and vagabond.

Whether the verdict of the coroner's jury be right or wrong, the administrators of the Poor Law are in no way culpable.

I myself believe the man died from natural causes. There was no post-mortem examination, and how the jury arrived at their verdict there is no sufficient evidence to show.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 11, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I attended the weekly meeting of the Guardians of this Union on the 9th instant, and beg to refer you to the minutes of the proceedings forwarded by the clerk.

The chairman was, I regret to say, absent; and there was, as usual, a waste of time in the discussion of many matters which might well have been spared.

The Board, after some opposition, adopted my suggestion (vide last weekly report) of substituting rye for Indian-meal for in-door as well as out-door relief. This measure will effect a saving of about 7000*l.* per annum on the present expenditure, and correct many evils and abuses which were fast growing out of the exclusive issue and use of Indian-meal.

I have arranged with Captain Mann, R.N., for a supply of rye-meal from the Commissariat stores. I have for some time been issuing rations of rye-bread to the school children, under the direction of the British Relief Association, with the best results.

I brought a relieving officer, Mr. Lillis, under the notice of the Board, and stated my opinion of his incapacity; he should be at once dismissed, and replaced by an efficient man. I also stated my opinion that the district of Mr. Gibson, relieving officer, was too large, and beyond the grasp of any relieving officer. His district consists of Moyarta and Kilballyowen, extending about 20 miles, and with a population of 13,000; but containing a mass of disease and destitution sufficient for a population of five times that amount. There is a concentration of misery and suffering in Moyarta almost beyond the possibility of grappling with, and daily on the increase. Some idea of this may be formed from the fact that upwards of 120 houses have been "tumbled" on one property within a few weeks, containing families to a greater number; many of whom are burrowing behind the ditches, without the means of procuring a shelter. The relieving officer is intelligent and active; but his duties cannot possibly be performed by any one individual. The Board ordered him to avail himself of the assistance of any persons on the out-door list; but I cannot believe that any irresponsible could, or ought to be entrusted with the performance of such duties. Mr. Gibson's salary might be a little reduced were his district divided, and again consolidated when circumstances would admit of it. I consider this arrangement indispensably necessary; and would suggest its being pressed upon the Board.

The number in the house on the 8th instant was 996; of these 142 were in the fever hospital, and about 300 under treatment for other diseases. The mortality in the fever hospital has decreased, being 36 during last week; that in the workhouse 5, making a total of 41 deaths.

The out-door relief list numbers 13,176, at the weekly cost of 347*l.*

I am (at the desire of the Board) making a general scrutiny of the out-door lists in every division, assisted by the local Guardians and rate-payers. The latter are beginning to see the necessity of exertion, and evince a lively interest in that which so vitally concerns them.

Kilrush Union.

I attended at Kilmurry and Carrigaholt on Monday and Tuesday for this purpose, and saw the individuals of every family receiving out-door relief, whose state would admit of their attending; a more fearful array I never witnessed, and could not conceive. I feel confident that one-third of this number will be swept away by disease before the summer, in spite of every effort. Their constitutions are irretrievably broken by protracted privation, and the most trifling ailment will bring them to the grave. Many particulars indicative of the general suffering, poverty, and recklessness came under my observation. While scrutinizing the list, assisted by 10 or 12 rate-payers, three persons were being buried without coffins, within 50 yards of where we sat; they were not upon the relief list, or, if so, had not applied to the relieving officer for coffins. A wretched woman (Margaret Cleary), whose husband and child had died of fever, had found it impossible to get any one to assist in their burial (such is the popular dread of this disease), and had dragged them into the haggard, and there buried them herself! Sixteen deaths on the out-door relief list of this division occurred within the week previous to my visit; but of one family on the out-door relief list (that of Simon Griffon), five out of six have died since the 14th December.

There are no resident gentry, and the general condition of the people is lamentable. On one gentleman's estate (an M.P.), adjoining the village there are 51 families upon 48 acres.

The farmers complain loudly of the universal pilfering and theft by widows and their children, of which class there is an immense proportion along the coast. A haggard or garden cannot be left without a night-guard.

There has been a grant long since given for the erection of a National school-house here; but such is the poverty or neglect, that the remaining small portion cannot be obtained, and the building is not even commenced, at a time, too, when hundreds would exchange their labour for food alone.

At Carrigaholt and the division of Moyarta, misery and suffering are no less rife, and death quite as busy.

I scrutinized a list of 575 families here, and saw each individual; their lamentable state of filth, ignorance, destitution, and disease, must be seen to be comprehended. It is hopeless for the very few respectable residents to struggle against such an overwhelming mass. On one estate alone little short of 200 houses have been "tumbled" within three months, and 120 of this number, I believe, within three weeks! The wretched, houseless, helpless inmates, for the most part an amphibious race of fishermen and farmers, scattering disease, destitution, and dismay, in every direction.

From Kilkee to Loop Head, a distance of 20 miles, there is not a medical man of any kind resident; there is a dispensary at Carrigaholt, at which a medical gentleman from Kilkee attends weekly. I understand the establishment is little more than nominal. In the same district, including a population of 13,000, there is not a single public or national school. These facts are not very creditable to proprietors. Two portions of Moyarta are miserable and pauperized beyond description—Querrin and Moveen. This division would swamp a Union. On the relief list of one townland 12 have died within the week.

The boatmen and fishermen (a numerous class) are essentially destitute, and to be commiserated; they say the fish are gone, and they cannot labour. Their repugnance to enter the workhouse is remarkable. Their nets, value for 1*l.*, are sold at the pawn-office for 5*s.*; nets, lines, and spades may be purchased at these emporiums in any number at a nominal price; and a load of turf will be carted nine miles and sold for as many pence. These facts speak volumes for the wretched condition of this district.

I fear there will be serious default upon the amount of rate uncollected. I am however using every effort, and called upon the Guardians (vide minutes) at their last meeting to order a return of the ten highest defaulters in each district, with a view to publication; and also that immediate proceedings be taken against them. I would, however, be misleading the Commissioners if I did not state my belief that no energetic steps will be taken by the Guardians unless under some more powerful stimulus than mine. I would suggest the Commissioners' noticing and commenting upon the return of defaulters I have already forwarded.

I visit the fever hospital on every opportunity ; the management under a new matron is very much improved, and the mortality decreased. There is enough of fever in the Union to fill three hospitals of the same size.

The general management of the workhouse is but little improved, I forbear reporting till the Guardians come to some decision about a master.

I shall be employed every day during the week in completing the scrutiny of the out-door relief list.

I am giving daily rations to about 3000 school children under the direction of the British Association. I anticipate the best results from this humane and politic measure. As may be supposed, without any staff, and but little assistance, it occupies much of my time. I don't however grudge it in such a cause.

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS :—February 21, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state, for the information of the Board of Guardians of Kilrush Union, that they have received a report from their inspector, Captain Kennedy, in which he states that the district of Mr. Gibson, one of the relieving officers, is too large, and beyond the grasp of any relieving officer, and that the duties cannot possibly be performed by any one individual ; and that the Guardians propose that he should avail himself of the services of persons on the out-door relief list.

Captain Kennedy suggests that the district should be divided ; and the Commissioners desire to state that they will give their favourable consideration to any proposition of the Guardians for the division of the district, and the appointment of an additional relieving officer, as they concur with Captain Kennedy that the assistance of irresponsible persons cannot be relied on, and that the persons receiving out-door relief ought not to be entrusted with the duty of assisting to administer it.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY :—February 21, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant reporting on the proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Kilrush Union at their meeting on the 9th instant ; and the Commissioners have read with the utmost concern your statement of the great distress and suffering in the Union, and they request you to direct your earnest attention to the making such arrangements as will prevent the deaths of the destitute from starvation.

However great the destitution is, it must be grappled with and relieved as far as is permitted by the law.

As regards the case of the relieving officer, Mr. Lillis, the Commissioners request you will report fully on his case, and they will then take into consideration the propriety of removing him.

The Commissioners will address the Guardians as to Mr. Gibson's district.

With regard to your apprehension as to a deficiency in the amount of rate to be collected, I am to state that the Commissioners will address the Guardians on this point.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 18, 1848.

I CANNOT longer conscientiously refrain from stating my opinion of the inefficiency of the Kilrush Board of Guardians as a body, their last meeting has gone far to confirm it. After four months' experience I have reluctantly come to this conclusion, and I consider it my duty to state it frankly before the affairs of the Union are brought into inextricable difficulty.

I have a high respect for the character and talents of several members of the Board ; and the firmness, foresight, and business habits of the chairman are beyond my praise. In his absence, however, I consider the Board as an administrative body altogether unequal to the successful management of the Union. The private feeling and short-sightedness of some, obstruct and neutralize the public spirit and sagacity of others. That the business of such a Union can be properly or efficiently transacted at a noisy and ill-regulated meeting of a few hours once a week, is impossible to believe, especially when the limited time thus set apart for public business is generally consumed in irrelevant and unprofitable discussion. The practical business of the meeting is invariably left to be hurried over by two or three Guardians, and often by the chairman alone at a late hour. The excitement of deciding contracts, or electing officers, can alone ensure an attendance.

Kilrush Union.

In not providing sufficient funds the Board has been blameable, and not enforcing the collection of the rates they have been still more culpable. They have no credit with their treasurer, while a large amount of rates is still due by immediate lessors and members of their own body. It is unreasonable to suppose that a body who permit defaulters among themselves can conscientiously or energetically coerce others. I have on several occasions brought this subject under notice of the Guardians, and they have omitted to take any fitting or energetic steps. A resolution never acted upon, and an order never enforced is the only result.

The relieving officers are never sufficiently attended to, and their books frequently slurred over and neglected.

The workhouse is ill-managed and ill-regulated; there is little or no industrial employment or training, and none whatever among the males. The male school has been grievously neglected, and an insufficient supply of clothing and necessaries for all classes; and the last act to remedy these evils is the unanimous election of a master in every way inferior to the one the Commissioners have lately dismissed for incompetency.

A reference to the minutes will show that few ex-officio Guardians ever attend, and several of them are rate defaulters. The general management is extravagant as well as inefficient, and many members of the Board are, I believe, impressed with this opinion.

Nothing short of a strong sense of public duty and necessity induces me to make this communication; and having the good fortune to be on the most friendly terms with every individual Guardian, causes me the more pain in doing so.

I believe the true interests of the rate-payers and the rights of the poor to be equally neglected.

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS:—February 21, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state to the Board of Guardians of Kilrush Union, that the Commissioners have received a report from their Inspector, Captain Kennedy, in which he states that the practical business of each day's meeting is invariably left to be hurried over by two or three Guardians, and often by the Chairman alone at a late hour; that the excitement of deciding contracts or electing officers can alone ensure an attendance; that sufficient funds have not been procured by enforcing the collection of the rates; that the Guardians have no credit with their treasurer; that a large amount of rates is due by immediate lessors and by Guardians, ex-officio as well as elective; that the relieving officers are not sufficiently attended to; that their books are frequently slurred over and neglected; that the workhouse is ill-managed, there being little or no industrial employment for its inmates; the male school grievously neglected, and an insufficient supply of clothing and necessaries for all classes; and that the general management is extravagant as well as inefficient.

Captain Kennedy expresses his regret at being under the necessity of making this report, and states that nothing but a strong sense of public duty induces him to do so.

The Commissioners request the serious attention of the Board of Guardians to the above statement, and desire to point out the moral as well as the legal responsibility which devolves upon the Guardians; above all things of making due provision for the wants of the poor entrusted to their care, and of taking such steps for the proper administration of the law, by the energetic collection of the rates at the present crisis, which will prevent the affairs of the Union from degenerating into a state of confusion, which will be alike detrimental to the interests of the rate-payers as to those of the destitute poor.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 18, 1848.

Kilrush Union.

I ATTENDED the weekly meeting of the Kilrush Board of Guardians on the 16th instant, and have the honour to refer you to the minutes of their proceedings.

The principal and most attractive part of the business was the election of a master, which being accomplished without a dissentient voice, the body of members dispersed, leaving the wretched paupers unadmitted to a late hour, and the principal business undone.

The person elected to this important office is Mr. Patt Kelly (son of the late master), a mere lad, and, in my opinion (and that of the Chairman of the Board), utterly incompetent for such a charge. His youth alone would, in my opinion, disqualify him. His whole career has been characterized by a succession of squabbles and bickerings with the other officers; and I do not hesitate to state my opinion that the duties of the house cannot possibly be carried on under such a head. The Chairman of the Board and some of the most intelligent members coincide with me in this opinion.

The assistant-master, who is immeasurably his superior, offered himself and did not receive a single vote! I have a high opinion of this officer, and believe his unpopularity arises from his independent character and honesty.

A resolution was proposed highly laudatory of Mr. Patt Kelly's efficiency and regularity, which was withdrawn on my showing that on the week ending 29th January, Mr. Patt Kelly showed by the Admission and Discharge Book that 1105 paupers remained in the house, while a reference to the Pantry Book (kept by the assistant-master) showed the issue of 992 rations only. The latter number was correct; and Mr. Patt Kelly failed to satisfy me or the Chairman how the discrepancy could be accounted for satisfactorily. I also produced the weekly Relief List and Abstract, which was blank from the 13th January, 1848, to the 16th February, 1848. It was deemed prudent not to press a resolution in the face of such facts, which I desired the clerk to record along with the resolution if it were passed. This election has long since been settled out of doors, and, in consequence, no competent candidate offered.

Dr. Phelan's report on the condition of the workhouse and hospital was read by the clerk. Among other remarks and suggestions was one he made personally to the Board, viz., that two senior medical men should be temporarily associated with the present workhouse medical officers. An unanimous vote of confidence in the present officers was immediately passed, being the only notice taken of Dr. Phelan's report. I need not remark on the presumption and absurdity of a body of farmers and shopkeepers (for there was no ex-officio Guardian present) thus coming to issue with Dr. Phelan on a question of hospital management and professional capacity.

It will be observed that on the 9th instant (vide minutes), the Board, on my strong representation, ordered a return of the defaulting rate-payers, in which class several of their own body are included. All save three Guardians absented themselves before these returns were produced, or the question considered. Some of the rate-collectors neglected to obey the order, and no notice was taken of this dereliction of duty. I read out such returns as had come before me—including the names of many Guardians ex-officio and elected—and commented in strong terms on the injustice and disgrace of distraining the poor man's cow or last horse, while members of their own body and immediate lessors had refused to pay their rates with impunity. I desired the clerk to enter the amount of each division list of defaulters on the minutes; but it will be observed that the Board made no order on the subject. My belief is, that they will not and dare not do so. Persons who are defaulters themselves can hardly be expected to coerce others. The rate-collectors see and know this, and act accordingly. I would suggest the strongest measures being adopted; and only wait the Commissioners' instructions to commence them. I ordered one ex-officio Guardian to be summoned yesterday before a bench of magistrates, some of whom are defaulters themselves!

An aggravated case of resistance and rescue occurred in Kilrush division on the 16th instant, which is not surprising when Guardians and ex-officio Guardians are in default themselves, and that for a 3s. rate only! I have taken steps to make the offenders amenable to law.

An attempt was made to damage the character of the rye-meal issued from the Commissariat store; it however failed.

Kilrush Union.

I was prepared for this opposition; as buying Indian meal at 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. and selling it to the Union for 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ l. per ton was too profitable a trade to be abandoned without an effort.

The Commissioners' letter refusing to sanction the appointment of Mr. Thomas Daly (schoolmaster), was read to the Board. It was lost sight of amid a mass of irrelevant matter and discussion, and no order relative thereto made or adopted.

I have during the week, at the desire of the Guardians, scrutinized the out-door relief lists of Kilkee, Killard, Kilrush, Knock, Kilmacdoon, and Kilmihil. I received valuable assistance from the rate-payers, who I invited to attend. It was a most laborious business; I was occupied from ten o'clock, A.M., till seven or eight o'clock, P.M., each day.

I, as may be expected, discovered many persons who should never have been admitted to relief, many with means, some with land, and a large number of old people thrown on public relief by children who had ample means to support them. I saw the individuals of every family, and found that many were wrongly described as to age, &c. If the applicants themselves are to be believed, all the adults, male and female, are over 60, and all the children under 14! The lying and deception is marvellous! I anticipate the best results from this scrutiny, in preventing abuse and imposture, which must have existed to a fearful extent under the Relief Act. The number at present receiving out-door relief is, in round numbers, 14,000; under the Relief Act, 45,000! All the relieving officers whose districts I have thus inspected are active and intelligent, with the exception of one, whom I before reported, Mr. Lillis.

The destitution in the inland divisions is by no means of so aggravated or fearful a character as that of the districts by the coast. The description of Moyarta and Kilmurry, in my last report, is applicable to Killard and Kilkee, which are similarly circumstanced. The mortality has been excessive; but is now, I hope, on the decrease. I found several cases where four out of five and five out of six in a family had died in a very short period among those getting out-door relief.

I have no doubt that the excessive mortality is mainly attributable to the use of bad adulterated, and half-cooked Indian meal—dysentery being the prevalent malady. I have seen much of this article quite unfit for human food. Captain Mann, in charge of the Commissariat store, I think, will give a like opinion.

A most lamentable and distressing feature in the present state of this Union is the advantage taken of the necessities of the labouring class. The great majority of those who are employed receive nothing but their food for their labour; and the highest current rate where wages is given is 4d. per day.

This shameless and short-sighted policy must perpetuate pauperism and bring increased burthens upon the Union. The very persons adopting this culpable practice don't hesitate to clamour for still more relief from the British Association and the Government.

There were in the workhouse on the 16th instant	772
In fever hospital	118
In hired house	70
	960

Of this number there were sick in the workhouse infirmary 251. The number receiving out-door relief was 14,298.

The deaths in the fever hospital in week ending 12th instant were 15—a very great decrease; and, I am happy to say, likely to decrease weekly. There is a marked improvement in the general management, ventilation, and cleanliness of the hospital.

I regret to say that the funds in the treasurer's hands were insufficient to meet the liabilities; and I understand the treasurer (National Bank) will not advance one farthing. If Captain Mann were authorized to give us the necessary quantity of rye-meal on credit from Commissariat store, we might struggle on; if not, the supply for out-door relief must stop. I do not believe that the Guardians, in the absence of their Chairman (Mr. Vandeleur), will get credit for 100%. Contractors and dealers whose bills are unpaid know the exact state of the funds. Norwithstanding these facts and prospects, the Guardians met and separated without even taking the matter into consideration. I cannot think that the funds, character, and lives of the paupers of the Union should be entrusted to such keeping.

It will be observed that the numbers in the workhouse are not increasing; the repugnance to enter it is as strong as ever. I endeavour to remove it by every means and every opportunity, as I am persuaded many are in an advanced stage of starvation before they will apply for admission. All are living in hopes of Public Works or out-door relief—their first and last thought.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 26, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration your report, dated the 18th instant, relative to the proceedings of the Kilrush Board of Guardians, at their weekly meeting on the 16th instant.

The Commissioners have written to the Board of Guardians, declining to give their sanction to the appointment of Mr. Patt Kelly as master of the workhouse, and requesting the Guardians to proceed to a new appointment.

The Commissioners have the Guardians' resolution on Mr. Phelan's report on the state of the workhouse and fever hospital under consideration, and they have addressed the Guardians on the subject of the collection of the rate, the appointment of a schoolmaster in place of Mr. Daly, and other matters adverted to in your report.

With regard to the supply of rye-meal, I am to state that the Commissioners believe that Captain Mann could not, consistently with the Commissariat arrangements, be authorized to supply the Guardians with rye-meal on credit.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 24, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to refer you to the minutes of the proceedings of the Kilrush Board of Guardians, the weekly meeting of which body I attended yesterday.

Your communication of the 21st instant was read to the Board, and will, I am satisfied, be productive of good results. There was no attempt made by any member to impugn anything I had stated, and many of their body admitted the propriety of the line I had adopted.

The Commissioners' communication, pointing out the necessity of collecting the second instalment of the current rate, and striking a new rate to make it up to 3s. per pound on all divisions where the second instalment did not amount to that sum, was also read, and will, I have no doubt, be complied with. Its consideration was postponed till next Board-day.

I again brought the list of rate defaulters before the Board, and pointed out the loss of character and influence which must result from such supineness; that they could hardly justify themselves from the charge of corruption and favouritism, while they distrained the poor man's horse or cow, and allowed immediate lessors and members of their own body to disobey the law with impunity.

I will insist upon these gentlemen being handed over to a solicitor forthwith. I cannot consider it other than disgraceful that immediate lessors should be in default for a 3s. rate. A very few of the Guardians, I am sorry to say, know or understand anything about the financial condition or prospects of the Union, and nothing but the striking or levying a rate brings the matter home to them.

There was but 50% in the treasurer's hands yesterday, and unpaid bills amounting to nearly 1000%. Captain Mann's bill for rye meal, for out-door relief, amounted to 120%, and he refused any further supply till paid. The Board adjourned till Friday (to-morrow) to see the Treasurer (who was absent), and solicit an advance. This, I have reason to believe, he will not make. The poor on the out-door relief list in most divisions are rationed only till Monday next, and we shall then be without food or money: 10,000 starving creatures will be without a meal, and the consequences cannot fail to be most disastrous. If Captain Mann were authorized to give the necessary credit, I would make the Guardians pledge themselves to pay him first from the in-coming rates. I am satisfied the Guardians (in the absence of their chairman) will not be able to obtain any credit. They do not possess the confidence of the public or bankers. This is the cheapest and only mode of assisting the Union I can suggest. I have no confidence in the energy or foresight of the Board of Guardians as a body, should serious difficulties arise.

Kilrush Union.

A reference to the minutes will show that I have obtained the necessary order to complete the clothing, &c., &c., necessary for the establishment; but I can expect little assistance from the newly-elected master, a very boyish lad of 21 years of age.

The Board requested me to apply to the Education Board for a schoolmaster to replace Mr. Thomas Daly, whose appointment the Commissioners have very properly refused to sanction. I endeavoured to procure an increase of salary for this officer, but failed. The state of the workhouse, hospital, &c., was as follows on Saturday:—

Number on in-door relief	1020
(viz.) in workhouse	839
in hired house	78
in temporary hospital (fever)	113
	1020

The numbers on out-door relief vary but little from last week.

I have completed the scrutiny of the out-door relief list in all save two divisions,—Kilfiddaan and Killimer; and I have thus acquired an intimate personal knowledge of the people and localities of the Union. I cannot overrate the importance of the information thus acquired, as enabling me to estimate and provide for the real amount of destitution. I have invited and obtained the assistance of the rate-payers in each division, and thus acquired most valuable and accurate local information. This body seem generally actuated by a very proper spirit, and were highly satisfied on seeing every individual case they were called upon to relieve closely and searchingly scrutinized. I have from the commencement taken the relieving officers under my own especial protection and guidance, and I rejoice to say that I could discover no single case of abuse or relief administered to other than the absolutely and undoubtedly destitute. Had I left the relieving officers without this continuous support and guidance, the Union would have been swamped ere now,—as all who received relief last year (45,000) naturally expected its continuance, and still continue to importune and besiege the relieving officers. In the course of this scrutiny I found many aged parents abandoned by their children who could well support them. All such cases were ordered to the workhouse, that proper measures might be taken. I found widows with but one child, and women deserted by their husbands,—the majority gone to America last year, and intending to send for their families this year; together with a very few single women, with illegitimate children. I ordered all of the latter class, who were under 50 years of age, into the workhouse. The other classes I ordered separate lists to be made of, but considered it inexpedient to meddle with them till we have sufficient workhouse room; doing so would greatly embarrass the Union at present.

The repugnance to enter the workhouse is beyond credence, and I am satisfied that the out-door relief list might be reduced one-third by testing them. It would, however, be neither politic nor humane to adopt this course at present, as those on the list are beyond suspicion destitute, and there is an utter absence of any employment or mode of earning. A very few are employed at all, and the majority of that number for their food only; the current wages (where such are given) being 4d. per day! I have not failed on every occasion to impress upon the rate-payers that they are only increasing their burthens by this short-sighted policy, thereby pauperizing a greater number, and insufficiency of food bringing them under the infirm class (and, consequently, a permanent charge) in their earlier years.

The divisions I have scrutinized during the last week are Kilmihil, Kildysart, Killofin. The destitution and suffering in these divisions (though very great) is by no means of the aggravated and fearful description which characterizes the coast line. There are more substantial farmers, and an improvement in the tillage, though wretchedly bad at best.

I cannot look forward to any amount of employment calculated to afford any sensible relief. The farmers are generally scratching their land in a miserable penny-wise manner. No green-cropping, draining, or subsoiling, which would afford employment.

When remonstrated with, they complain of want of capital and want of tenure. I am certainly become a convert to the necessity of some more equitable mode in this Union. I have seen too many instances here of the industrious man being made to pay exorbitantly for his own improvements. I could adduce many cruel instances of this.

The destitution and suffering are on the increase, but not so rapidly as I anticipated. The law is, however, administered liberally; all who can legally claim (and some who cannot) out-door relief, receive it, and admission to the workhouse is never refused. My great object is to obviate the necessity for out-door relief to able-bodied, I am so deeply impressed with its ruinous tendency upon such a population as this. The great difficulty and danger here is in relieving a people who are not disposed to help themselves, and the landlord and tenant class set them this culpable example of doing nothing. They all alike seem ignorant of the use of land-labour or capital. Those farmers who have money job in meal, instead of growing it.

There is a marked improvement in the fever hospital,—a decrease on deaths and admissions to a great extent,—12 deaths during the week. I acquired some practical information from Mr. Phelan's visit, which enables me to correct any mismanagement which I may observe on my frequent visits. The mortality out of doors is still of an alarming character. I have no doubt, however, that the substitution of rye for Indian meal in some divisions has tended to check dysentery, one of its principal causes. Fever patients out of doors, owing to the popular terror, are fearfully neglected, which accounts for the excessive mortality. As an instance of this neglect, I may mention the following case, as illustrating that of hundreds:—A young able-bodied man applied to me to desire the relieving officer to afford him relief out of doors, all his family being stricken down in fever. I doubted his story, and went to his cabin. He opened the door, but refused to enter with me. I went in and found his wife and four children lying on a wretched pallet of straw, worn and attenuated skeletons, almost beyond hope of recovery, a few turf, a small quantity of musty (uncooked) Indian meal, and a broken vessel of water, was all this house contained. I asked who attended them?—Her husband. I called the husband, who refused to enter. I went out and questioned him how he attended them? He replied, "Sure I brings thim the turf, the male, and the water to the door every mornin'!" He, nor any one else, had seen them for 12 days! Thus these creatures die, or are brought to hospital when all but dead. I dragged this unnatural vagabond into the house in spite of his entreaties and resistance, and sent for the relieving officer to convey them to the hospital.

The relief afforded to the schools by the British Association, now amounting to 3000 daily, is beginning to be sensibly felt. This mode of relief certainly effects the greatest amount of good with the least amount of evil or abuse that has come under my experience.

REPLY to the foregoing :—February 26, 1848.

WITH reference to that part of your report in which you advert to the financial affairs of the Union, and state that money and credit are exhausted, I am to state that the proper mode of meeting the emergency of the present crisis is, to press forward vigorously the collection of the rates, and to make the rate-payers fully understand that the preservation of the destitute poor of the Union from starvation depends on their paying the money due from them to the collectors.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 29, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 26th instant. In reference thereto, I beg to state that I have been directed to apply to the Board of Education for a new schoolmaster, which I thought it expedient to defer till after next Board-day (to-morrow), as I have reason to suppose some opposition will be offered or informality be alleged; should neither occur, I will immediately make the necessary application through you.

5 K

Kilrush Union.

I have been able to make a temporary arrangement with Captain Mann for supply of rye meal, or rather have made the Guardians do so.

It requires the utmost caution in dealing with such a body; more than one attempt has been made to remove the responsibility to my shoulders since funds have been wanting.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS.—Dissolution of the Board of Guardians.

A verbatim Copy of Resolutions adopted unanimously by the Kilrush Board of Guardians, on the 1st March, 1848.—A. E. K.

Resolved,—That we look upon the letter of the Commissioners of the 21st instant as a general censure upon our acts as a body, and that we most emphatically deny the charges therein contained.

First. We beg to dissent from the charge, "that the business of the meeting is invariably left to be hurried over by two or three Guardians, and oftener by the Chairman alone." This allegation we deny; and we aver that the attendance on meeting days has not been thin save when the business was over, and nothing to be done save the signing of the usual documents, when the attendance of more than two Guardians were unnecessary.

Second charge, namely, "that excitement of electing can alone insure an attendance." Resolved,—That this charge we unequivocally deny, as several Guardians, with the Chairman, have invariably attended during the most inclement weather in the winter, until after six o'clock at night, admitting paupers and endeavouring to mitigate the destitution so universal in this Union.

Third charge, "that the Guardians have no credit with the treasurer." This charge we deem premature, as we have not required officially any credit from that officer.

Fourth charge we also repudiate, viz., "the books of the relieving officers being slurred over," as our respected Chairman, Colonel Vandeleur, has taken on himself this duty; and in justice to him, who has devoted so much of his valuable time and industry to that department, having given almost his entire time and attention to the scrutiny so essentially necessary to the checking of abuse and correcting the officers' books, that we deem it our duty in his absence to exonerate him from this charge, and pronounce our conviction that this business could not be better performed.

The next charge, "that there is no industrial employment for the inmates;" for the contradiction of this, we only beg to say that 14 acres of land is attached to the house; and from the debility of the paupers entering, we deem that sufficient employment at present.

The next charge is "the want of sufficient clothing." We meet this charge by adverting to the promise of Captain Kennedy, of getting a supply of clothing from the British Association when we were about supplying the house; in this he subsequently failed, and to this step may be imputed our present scanty supply.

The last charge, namely, "extravagance in the general management." To meet this charge, we only think it necessary to say, the cost of maintenance per head being 11½d. per week, being considerably under any similar establishment, that charge is fully refuted.

REMARKS of Captain KENNEDY on the accompanying RESOLUTIONS:—
March 4, 1848.

A.—This is the fact and the truth. It is notorious, and can be proved on oath by clerk and members of their own body. I have been frequently present when there were not a sufficient number of Guardians left to sign cheques and house orders; this is frequently done out of doors, and the clerk been obliged to seek out individual members to perform this duty. I have frequently seen relieving officers' books signed by the Chairman after every Guardian has left.

B.—This unequivocal denial is no proof; the truth of my allegation is a matter of notoriety. On the very day to which my report referred, the Guardians (after electing an inefficient master unanimously) decamped, leaving three to discuss and decide important business arising out of the minutes of the former meeting; and left 100 applicants for admission and relief undecided upon, and unadmitted at half-past six o'clock P.M.; many of them having come a distance of 14 miles, and had been in attendance from 11 o'clock A.M.!

C.—The Commissioners will scarcely require proof of this. It is still the fact, and a most embarrassing one.

D.—The Commissioners are aware of how highly I appreciate Colonel Vandeleur's zealous and efficient services. He has been absent, however, for more than a month, and the resolutionists do not state who has performed those important duties in his absence.

The fact is as I have stated—the relieving officers' books have been slurred over. I have seen the Chairman of the day, a respected denizen of Kilrush, commence the initialing of the whole books of the Union at six o'clock, P.M., without the advice or assistance of a single Guardian. The relieving officers will prove this on oath.

E.—There is no industrial employment whatever in the male department, not even mending clothes, till I set the assistant-master about it a few days since. No trade, no training of any kind; that a few acres of land lately attached, and still almost untouched, can be called such, is ridiculous.

F.—The fact I have alleged is so; Mr. Phelan can confirm it. The explanation is unworthy of a public body, and involves a positive misstatement. I never did, nor could, have made the promise herein stated. I certainly applied through the Commissioners for a grant of clothing, and immediately communicated the reply to the Board, three months ago.

G.—That paupers were insufficiently fed at 11½*d.* per week is no refutation of the charge of extravagance in the general management. As a proof of my assertion, I only yesterday brought under notice of the Board that they were paying the baker in the house for his labour and service alone 80*l.*, and some weeks as high as at the rate of 100*l.* per annum. They are now paying 6*d.* per pound for soft sugar, which I purchase for 4*d.*, and might be had in bulk for less.

The tinman's bill for utensils is immense. I could adduce a hundred instances of want of thrift and extravagant management.

It will be observed that no notice whatever is taken of defaulting immediate lessors and Guardians, ex-officio and elective; nor yet the bad management of the house, or neglect of the male school.

I very much regret being forced into this explanation, which the accompanying resolutions render necessary.

I cannot believe that any body of men could conscientiously concur in a string of assertions so easily disproved, and so palpably evasive. Not one, however, had the moral courage to dissent from them.

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS:—March 6, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state that they intend by to-morrow's post to issue an order dissolving the Kilrush Board of Guardians, and the order will be accompanied by a letter setting forth the reasons which have induced the Commissioners to take this step.

The Commissioners, however, request that the Guardians will transact business as usual to-morrow, and will give orders for the due relief of the destitute for the ensuing week. It has appeared to the Commissioners that the Kilrush Guardians would probably wish to receive early intimation of the intention of the Commissioners concerning the Board of which the Guardians are members, and the Commissioners take this opportunity of announcing their intentions accordingly.

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS:—March 7, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration the resolutions passed by the Kilrush Board of Guardians on the 1st instant, together with the observations of their Inspector, Captain Kennedy, on those resolutions, and on the manner in which the Guardians have transacted the business of the Union.

Kilrush Union.

Captain Kennedy states that he has been frequently present at the Board when there was not a sufficient number of Guardians left to sign cheques and house orders; that this is frequently done out of doors, the clerk being obliged to seek out individual members to perform the duty; and that he has frequently seen relieving officers' books signed by the Chairman after every Guardian had left the room.

He further states that on the 16th ultimo, after the Board had elected unanimously a new master (whose appointment the Commissioners subsequently declined to sanction on account of his incompetency), the Guardians, with the exception of three, left the Board-room, leaving the cases of 100 applicants for admission and relief undecided upon, at half-past six o'clock in the evening, although many of the applicants had come a distance of 14 miles, and had been in attendance from eleven o'clock in the morning.

In connexion with these facts the Commissioners have had the state of the Union finances under their serious consideration. It appears that the Guardians have applied for permission to borrow 1000*l*. on the security of the rates, at the same time their debts cannot amount to less than 1500*l*., and while their weekly expenditure is about 400*l*. a-week, the Guardians during the last two months have not collected on an average more than 276*l*. a-week.

Under these circumstances, looking to the great destitution which exists in Kilrush Union, and to the steady continuous exertions which must be made in order to relieve that destitution adequately, the Commissioners are of opinion (notwithstanding the known efficiency and valuable services of individual Guardians, and especially of the Chairman, when resident in the Union, that the Board of Guardians as a corporate body have failed to discharge their duties duly and effectually according to the intentions of the Irish Poor Relief Act; the Commissioners have therefore decided to dissolve the Kilrush Board of Guardians; they transmit herewith an order for its dissolution accordingly, and they will proceed with as little delay as possible to appoint paid officers to manage the affairs of the Union.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 1, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I attended the weekly meeting of the Kilrush Board of Guardians yesterday; there was not an ex-officio Guardian present.

The Guardians did not meet till one o'clock. The day was wasted in profitless discussions, and finally the Board adjourned their meeting till eleven o'clock on Friday, 3rd March (to-morrow).

Mr. Joly, a gentleman owning property in the divisions of Moyarta and Kilballyoan, came before the Board and expressed his desire to provide two-thirds of the expense attendant upon the emigration of 150 pauper tenants on his estate. Mr. Joly's practical and reasonable proposition did not procure him a single supporter. There was no attempt to refute his reasoning. He showed the Guardians that these persons could not pay rent, were largely in arrear and must become paupers when evicted, that their keep (at the workhouse average) for one year would amount to 700*l*., leaving them still chargeable to the Union, whereas he asked but 250*l*. to send them out of the country.

The rate-collectors were in attendance, and produced lists of defaulters, detailed cases of rescue, and want of buyers where seizures were made, &c. &c., and I fear left the Board-room with very moderate expectations of receiving either support or information from the Guardians.

I explained the necessity of, and pressed that immediate and energetic measures should be adopted. I suggested the steps that should be taken, and those recommended by the Commissioners.

The minutes will show the measures adopted. An attempt was made and a resolution proposed which had for its object, to prevent proceedings being taken in any superior court, for the recovery of sums not exceeding 20*l*. This I resisted as being a cloak for almost all the immediate lessors in the Union, who are at present in default. This was proposed by Mr. Thomas Gibson, and subsequently withdrawn on my drawing his attention, and that of the Board, to the Commissioners' letter of the 21st February. I feel bound to state that I have no confidence in the energy or foresight of the Board. They state that the second instalment of the current rate, together with that suggested in the Commissioners' communication, to make up 3s. per pound, cannot be collected, and I have no doubt that their own inefficiency will go far toward verifying their predictions. I am, however, on more intimate acquaintance with the resources of the Union, of a far different opinion. I cannot help considering this imprudent, and I believe groundless declaration in the light of being "one word for the ratepayers, and two for themselves." I believe that there is ample means to meet a 3s. rate, and that it can be readily collected if the ratepayers believe and know that the Guardians will go about it energetically and in earnest, but they have no such belief, nor have I.

The Guardians have applied for permission to borrow 1000*l.* on security of the rates; this is a wretched and puerile expedient when they already owe beyond that sum; are getting in about 150*l.* per week with an expenditure of 400*l.*!

I have during the week scrutinized the out-door relief list of Killimer division; I found a good many cases here properly relievable in the workhouse. The relieving officer immediately acted upon my suggestions. The state of the workhouse is as follows:—

In the workhouse	.	.	.	825
In fever hospital	.	.	.	127
In hired house	.	.	.	81
Total				1,038

It will be observed that the workhouse has been steadily filling for some time, and is now full, a sure indication (in this Union) of undoubted and increasing destitution. I propose a scrutiny of the inmates to-morrow, to ascertain what number can be legally relieved out of doors, and will bring the matter under the notice of the Guardians.

The mortality has very much decreased, and the hospital is now very creditably managed. The mortality out of doors, however, is very serious. I attribute it principally to bad and insufficient food among a class above paupers. I know that a description of Indian meal, hardly fit for human food, is retailed at an immense profit through the Union, and that the retailers have realized very large sums. I have made a suggestion to the Guardians that they should establish retail depôts in their respective neighbourhoods under their own superintendence, and give the people sound and wholesome food, which they can obtain from the Commissariat store. The poor could thus have sound rye meal for 9½*d.* per stone, where they are now paying 14*d.* and 15*d.* for damaged Indian meal. I despair of this suggestion being adopted, as too many of the Guardians are interested in the present state of things.

Though we have had a liberal grant lately from the British Association, I would earnestly ask for a grant of rye meal for out-door relief purposes. This food cannot be had elsewhere than at the Government store, and Captain Mann cannot issue without cash payment. We will thus, in the present state of our finances, be forced back upon the old Indian meal contractors, who will take advantage of the Union's necessities, charge a ruinous price, and poison the people with unsound food.

I have no doubt of the very beneficial effect of the rye meal in checking dysentery in those divisions where it has been adopted. The beneficial effects of the rye bread rations upon the school children, I cannot overrate. This charity will save the lives of thousands.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 9, 1848.

MOST of the points adverted to in your report, are either disposed of by the subsequent dissolution of the Board, or should be brought by you under the consideration of the Vice-Guardians when appointed, which will be at the earliest possible period.

As regards your suggestion for the establishing of retail depôts for the sale of rye meal, the Commissioners deem it right to state that however desirable such depôts may be, the Commissioners do not think that the Guardians in their public capacity, could properly act upon your suggestion, and they mention this subject now, lest you should repeat the suggestion to the Vice-Guardians.

Kilrush Union.

In reference to your request for a grant of rye meal for out-door relief purposes, the Commissioners feel it necessary to decline making application for such a grant; and they can only refer you to their letter of the 26th ultimo, in which they state that the proper mode of meeting the emergency of the present crisis, is to press forward vigorously the collection of the rates, and to make the ratepayers fully understand that the preservation of the destitute poor of the Union from starvation, depends on their paying the money due from them to the collectors.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 9, 1848.

I ATTENDED the weekly meeting of the Kilrush Board of Guardians yesterday, and have the honour to refer you to the minutes of their proceedings.

There was a very full attendance, as the elections for the offices of solicitor and relieving officers were expected to take place.

The sealed order for the dissolution of the Board, together with the Commissioners' letter stating their reasons for adopting this course, were read, and elicited but few remarks; there was indeed little to be said; the reasons assigned by the Commissioners were sufficient, and could not be controverted.

I have no doubt that some resolutions or remonstrance may be adopted out of doors, when they have received the necessary assistance. Should circumstances require it, I can readily adduce many more instances of failure and neglect, to justify the course which the Commissioners have adopted.

I have secured a supply of food for the ensuing week; and I am free from any serious or pressing embarrassment till the Commissioners have time to appoint Vice-Guardians. An immediate loan (of say 2000*l.*) on security of the rates will be necessary to establish credit, and work the Union efficiently. There are numerous and serious difficulties to be overcome and obviated, but with prudent and energetic management, I have no fears for the result. The difficulty of my own position, heretofore, has been very great, and I hope now to see matters take a very different complexion. I know that there is a strong feeling among the more intelligent and respectable ratepayers in favour of Vice-Guardians. They are generally aware that I have effected large savings in the Union expenditure, and they anticipate economical and efficient management under Vice-Guardians.

It will be observed that the resolution in favour of a new rate was rescinded. I thought it needless to oppose this course, which I saw the Board determined to carry. The second instalment of the current rate, however, was ordered to be put in collection forthwith, and can be proceeded with while the Vice-Guardians are preparing the new books.

The collectors are doing their duty more energetically, and only want to be stimulated and supported to perform it efficiently.

The house, under Mr. Pat Kelly's mismanagement and his father's (the late master) continued interference, is in a very unsatisfactory state as regards discipline, regularity, and economy. I will, however, have this speedily rectified. The assistant master is quite competent to take charge till the arrival of the Vice-Guardians.

The mortality has decreased nearly one-half, and the infirmary is much better managed. The fever hospital too is very much better regulated, though I regret to say the very efficient matron, Mrs. Smith, is stricken down in fever. I saw her yesterday, and much fear that she is in a precarious way. There have been some very malignant cases admitted this week. Dr. O'Donnel continues to perform the medical duties unassisted, and I think creditably, certainly most zealously.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 13, 1848.

IN reference to the financial state of the Union, the Commissioners will await the arrival at Kilrush of the new Vice-Guardians.

The Commissioners certainly trust that Kilrush Union will be able to obtain a loan from their treasurer, in order to enable the Guardians to administer relief effectually during the interval before the new rates are collected.

Kilrush Union.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 10, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to enclose a letter from the officer in charge of the Commissariat store at Kilrush.

Rye meal has been adopted for out-door relief as well as workhouse consumption, and a supply of this food cannot be had from any other quarter.

If Captain Mann were permitted to give us one fortnight's credit, till the Vice-Guardians raise funds, it would obviate a very serious embarrassment.

ENCLOSURE.

Captain MANN to Captain KENNEDY:—March 10, 1848.

I AM fully alive to your position in consequence of the intended dissolution of the Board of Guardians, and also that to refuse for this week the issue of sufficient provisions from the Government dépôt to cover the demands for out-door relief might produce very embarrassing if not serious results; but my instructions are so stringent as to cash payments for all issues, that in order to place the matter on a proper understanding I feel it is quite necessary that you should refer to the Poor Law Commissioners in time to make the necessary arrangements for the issue of provisions that will be required next Wednesday, the 15th instant. At this moment I hold a cheque for 197*l.* from the Guardians, which is promised to be paid on that day; and beside that there will be then a further debt of about, if not over, 200*l.*; and with every wish to assist to the utmost of my power, it is not possible for me to issue further unless arrangements are made between the Poor Law Commissioners and Commissary-General Sir R. Routh, and instructions sent to me to what effect they are; and fully impressed how important and absolutely necessary it is that such should be made, I do request you will apply at once, and in time to have, a reply by next Wednesday's post.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 14, 1848.

ADVERTING to your letter relative to the supply of rye-meal for the use of the paupers of Kilrush Union, I am to inform you that the Commissioners have applied to Count Strzelecki for an advance of 200*l.* for the purpose.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 10, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant.

In reference to that paragraph relating to the establishment of retail dépôts for the sale of rye meal, I beg to explain that I wished the late Guardians to undertake that measure in their individual and private capacity in their respective localities, as it entailed neither re-issue or outlay.

The poor in several districts, either owing to combination or want of competition, are plundered by the meal jobbers and poisoned with damaged food. To remedy these evils I wished the Guardians to make individual exertions to save many from the workhouse or relief list. There are no resident gentry to protect the poor in a great part of the Union.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 16, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that the first meeting of the Vice-Guardians for this Union was held yesterday. I had the advantage of Mr. Meagher's assistance, and was occupied in the Board-room from 11 o'clock A.M., till 8 o'clock P.M.

We admitted a considerable number of paupers, among whom were some of the most appalling cases of destitution and suffering it has ever been my lot to witness. The state of most of these wretched creatures is traceable to the numerous evictions which have lately taken place in the Union. When driven from their cabins they betake themselves to the ditches or the shelter of some bank, and there exist like animals till starvation or the inclemency of the weather drives them to the workhouse. There were three cart-loads of these creatures, who could not walk, brought for admission yesterday, some in fever, some suffering from dysentery, and all from want of food. They were immediately handed over to the medical officer, and provided with nourishment. I leave no effort untried to mitigate their miseries. I encourage and invite visits and inspection of the workhouse, to demonstrate the utter groundlessness of the prejudice against it.

Kilrush Union.

The late Guardians have left us a very formidable task ; our only serious or pressing embarrassment, however, is want of funds.

The description of food issued for out-door relief (rye meal) can only be procured from the Government store, and Captain Mann is positively ordered not to issue without cash, and has stopped our supplies. The old contractors, even if we had recourse to them, would not give us supplies till their outstanding claims against us are paid. All those receiving out-door relief are only rationed to Monday next. The treasurer is absent, and till his return on Saturday I cannot ascertain whether he will make any temporary advance to enable us to procure the week's supply. Should he decline doing so our position will be most embarrassing.

We had the rate collectors before us yesterday, and have taken and are about to take energetic steps to enforce the immediate payment of the outstanding rate. We cannot for some weeks hope to have sufficient funds to meet our liabilities and current expenditure. I can see no escape from our immediate difficulties except by means of a loan (of say 2000*l.*), and I would beg the Commissioners' sanction to this course to enable us to start fairly.

I propose forwarding a list of immediate lessors who are in default, with the view to obtaining the Commissioners' sanction to proceed against them in the Superior Courts. Some of these gentlemen (being also late ex officio Guardians) are setting a most pernicious example.

Though our relief lists are not seriously increased since last week, destitution is certainly on the increase, and I anticipate a very considerable addition after the 25th March, when there will be more wholesale evictions. Whole tracts of country are about being cleared, and the tenants under notice to quit on that day.

I completed the scrutiny of the Union with Kilfiddaan division this week, and regret to say that I found numerous cases of abuse—some having land, some able-bodied, and many long since dead, still on the relief list and relief issued for them—the whole list betraying carelessness and inefficiency. The relieving officer, Mr. M'Namara, is very young, and above his business. I would recommend his immediate removal. The expenditure in his division has been very extravagant, and I have reason to believe he is a mere tool in the hands of irresponsible persons.

The appointment of a medical officer and a second relieving officer for Moyarta district was postponed till next week, having made temporary arrangement for performance of the duties.

The workhouse is within the last week very much improved in cleanliness and discipline. The assistant master, when unobstructed, has shown himself to be quite competent to the management of the house in every department. He is intelligent, systematic, and a good disciplinarian.

The fever hospital is very creditably managed, and the mortality much decreased. The matron, I am happy to say, is recovering. I give my constant attention to this part of the establishment, and make a minute inspection of it two or three times a-week.

There is little or no agricultural progress, and no employment for the labouring class. I have no doubt that a large portion of the Union will remain uncultivated, the land wasted by a succession of corn crops, and the occupiers without means or manure to put in any other.

The Commissioners' instruction relative to the striking of a new rate will be considered by Mr. Meagher and myself to-morrow, and acted upon.

Mr. Meagher thinks it unnecessary to make any report this week.

The number of destitute children (about 4000), rationed by the British Association, is a very great relief to the Union. I regret to say that the masters of schools have in many cases turned this bounty to their own personal profit, exacting weekly payments from the children. I have reported this to the secretary.

The members of the late Board of Guardians have signally failed in getting up any demonstration. There is a strong popular belief in their inefficiency and mismanagement; and many of their own body see the necessity and propriety of the Commissioners' decision. I have no doubt whatever that many of them were concerned and interested in the various contracts. Notwithstanding the reports I have made upon them as a body, I confidently reckon upon the personal support of the great majority of them.

Kilrush Union.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 20, 1848.

WITH reference to that part of your report which relates to the financial position of the Union, the Commissioners trust that the Vice-Guardians may be enabled with the sum of 200*l.*, which has been remitted from the funds of the British Association, to provide for the immediate wants of the destitute poor.

The Commissioners observe by the last Minutes that the balance in favour of the Guardians was 167*l.*, and that a sum of 8164*l.* remained to be collected; and the Commissioners trust that by energetic measures on the part of the Vice-Guardians a sufficient amount may be collected weekly to meet the current expenditure. The Commissioners, however, will readily sanction a loan from the treasurer, as proposed; and they will endeavour to obtain authority to guarantee the payment of interest on such loan for a limited period.

With regard to your remarks respecting Mr. M'Namara, one of the relieving officers, I am to state that the Commissioners will be obliged to you if you will report the specific instances of misconduct which have led to the conclusion that the relieving officer is ignorant, and above his business, and otherwise unfit for his office. The Commissioners are unwilling to remove an officer on general grounds only.

With reference to your statement that the masters of the national schools turn the bounty of the British Association to their own profit, I am to state that the Commissioners presume that you have communicated on this subject with Count Strzelecki.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 19, 1848.

I PROCURED the adoption of rye meal for out-door relief purposes in this Union, a considerable time ago. It has effected a saving of about 8000*l.* per annum on the present expenditure. It is popular with all save meal dealers, and has had the effect of checking dysentery to a great extent. I would approve of and recommend its being issued in bread, had we any able-bodied receiving out-door relief.

I issued 22,000 lbs. of this bread to school-children last week. When well made, it is a very palatable, strong, and wholesome food. The weekly ration of 7 lbs. costs 4½*d.* I bake and issue 22,000 rations weekly, with only one paid assistant at 20*s.* per week.

I give 1 lb. of bread to all children between five and fourteen years. I found that attempting to classify them induced lying, imposture, and abuse.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 23, 1848.

THE receipt of the grant of 200*l.* did assist in relieving us from a very serious embarrassment: our weekly expenditure was, however, double that sum. The 167*l.* appearing to our credit was merely nominal, as Captain Mann held a cheque for 280*l.* We shall have a sufficient supply of Indian corn (a grant received by the Union some time ago) to meet the next week's expenditure for out-door relief.

The treasurer will not entertain the question of a loan till the Commissioners' sanction is first had. As he must transmit it to his directors in London, I would beg for this sanction as soon as possible.

With reference to that part of your letter relating to my report of Mr. M'Namara, relieving officer, I beg to state the following instances of neglect, if nothing more:—Norry Carney, No. 17 in his Application and Report Book, I found described as a widow with children dependent upon her. I subsequently found that she was a loose woman with illegitimate children. She was entered twice in his books, and received relief in both cases amounting to 4s. a-week for eleven weeks, though never sanctioned by or initialed by chairman or anybody else. A reference to the minutes of yesterday's sitting will show that I ordered the amount to be charged against him.

Kilrush Union.

There are four or five cases of relief being continued to deceased persons which I discovered on a scrutiny, and all attended like the first mentioned, with more or less suspicion. These cases I have noted as the following numbers in his book, though two of the numbers have been explained.

No. 83, Margaret M'Mahon, got relief to 14th March, though dead a month before.

No. 85, similar.

No. 159, Jane Pinder, ditto,

No. 168, No. 176, No. 181, ditto.

His general ignorance of the state of his district, and want of personal knowledge of the people getting relief, led me to believe him to be either incapable or careless. I think he is both.

He was giving relief to a number of able-bodied, who were certainly authorized by the chairman's initials, but who should never have been proposed for out-door relief, and whose cases the chairman must have initialed on the relieving officer's representation. I cannot refer to the numbers of these cases without reference to his Application and Report Book.

I think there was fully 15 per cent. of Mr. M'Namara's cases improperly placed on out-door relief: able-bodied, widows with but one child deserted women with able-bodied husbands, aged persons whose children could well support them, &c.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 28, 1848.

I AM to inform you that the Commissioners approve of the proposed loan of 2000*l.* from the treasurer; and on being informed of the period for which it is required, and the rate of interest proposed (which the Commissioners think should not exceed 5 per cent.), the Commissioners will make application for authority to guarantee the payment of interest.

As regards the instances of neglect detailed by you against Mr. M'Namara, one of the relieving officers, I am to state that the Commissioners will call upon him to resign his situation as relieving officer in Kilrush Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY:—March 23, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you the enclosed copy of an extract from a constabulary report which has been referred to the Commissioners, reporting the verdict of an inquest held on the body of Mary O'Brien, who died in the Kilrush workhouse, and I am to request that you will be so good as to report on the circumstances of this case.

ENCLOSURE.

EXTRACT from Constabulary Report referred to.

County Clare.

Kilrush, March 16, 1848.

Copy of verdict of an inquest held on the body of Mary O'Brien.

That deceased died in the workhouse of Kilrush on the 13th instant, from the effects of cold and starvation.

Inspector General,
&c. &c.

WM. CHANNER, S. I.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS, in reply:—March 26, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 23rd instant, enclosing copy of an extract from constabulary report, and verdict of coroner's jury, touching the death of Mary O'Brien, who died in the Kilrush workhouse on the 13th instant.

I have no doubt that the verdict is in accordance with the circumstances of the case, which are as follows:—Mary O'Brien was a single woman of about 35 years of age, having one illegitimate child; she lived with her sister (also a single woman) in Kilmurry division; they were destitute, and applied for relief about Christmas last; the relieving officer offered them admission to the workhouse, which one sister availed herself of; the deceased, however, refused.

On the 12th instant she was taken ill (and as is customary here) was immediately turned out of her wretched lodging; she remained the whole of that night under shelter (?) of an old graveyard wall. When found by the relieving officer, she was supplied with food, and conveyed to the workhouse—but too late, as she expired in fifteen minutes after being taken in. There is no blame attributable to any officer of the Union.

The inhuman conduct of the poor towards each other, when stricken by fever or dysentery, is incredible; I found a wretched woman lying in the street of Kilmurry village two days since, under circumstances similar to those of Mary O'Brien; no one would admit or even touch her, such is the popular dread of fever; I was obliged to assist the poor woman myself, and had her conveyed to the workhouse, where I fear she will die.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 23, 1848.

WITH reference to your letter of 21st February, addressed to the late Board of Guardians of this Union, I have the honour to make the following observations:—

The number of changes in this Union, on and after the 25th March, will be so great, that the preparation of books for a new rate till after that period would lead to endless confusion: 6000 notices to quit were served in the Union, and a large portion of these will be enforced; whole tracts are being newly divided and re-let in larger holdings, so that a revision after the 1st of April will be much facilitated.

The appeals are so numerous that very considerable delay must occur before the books for a new rate can be prepared, and delaying the collection of the second instalment of the rate in process of collection till they were prepared, would leave the Union without funds. I would, therefore, propose urging the collection of the second instalment, while the books for the new rate are being prepared.

The present rate-books are very inaccurate, and have given rise to endless disputes and delays. If the making out fresh ones be delayed till after the 1st of April, it can be properly done.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 27, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners do not object to the preparation of the books until after the 1st April. The Commissioners do not doubt that every effort will be made, pending the preparation of the new books, to collect the outstanding rate as closely as possible, and to have the arrear carried forward into the new books, and the new rate put into collection at the earliest possible period.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 23, 1848.

THE Vice-Guardians held their weekly meeting for the transaction of business and admission of paupers yesterday. I was occupied, assisted by Mr. Meagher, from 11 o'clock A.M. till 8 o'clock P.M. The irregularity and want of system which have hitherto prevailed in every branch of the Union and workhouse management, oblige us to proceed with the greatest caution and circumspection.

A considerable portion of our time was taken up in the examination and admission of paupers; many who had been before decided upon came forward in the hope of passing or imposing upon the new Guardians.

Among those who were admitted (to the number of about 90), were some of the worst cases I have seen, especially among the children; the utter carelessness and indifference of the parents are fearful. When worn down by disease and starvation, they are brought to the workhouse to die. I would beg to direct the

Kilrush Union.

Commissioners' attention to a communication from the medical officer, attached to the minutes, relative to some of these cases.

The state of the house is as follows :—

In workhouse	1067
In auxiliary house	66
In fever hospital	85
Total	1218

To this may be added about 90 admitted yesterday. There are, however, about the latter number in the house, of classes who may be legally relieved out of doors, and who will be discharged on out-door relief during the week. There have been 11 admissions to the fever hospital since the above return, making the present total 96. The general state of the house is much improved in order and cleanliness, though I regret to say that disease is upon the increase, especially dysentery. It is my opinion that a separate tenement or hospital should be established for this class of patients apart from the workhouse premises. Many are brought to the workhouse in the last stage of this malady, and when recovery is altogether hopeless. This disease is making fearful ravages throughout the Union. However incredible it may appear, it is very generally believed by these benighted creatures, that salt herrings are among the best remedies, and one very generally adopted !

I would beg to direct the Commissioners' attention to the medical destitution of some parts of this Union where disease is most rife. From Kilkee to Loophead, there is not a single resident medical man, a distance of 20 miles, and a population of 14,000. There is a nominal dispensary at Carigaholt, where a medical gentleman from Kilkee satisfies his conscience by attending once a week for an hour or two.

In the opposite direction from Kilkee to Miltown Malbay, a distance of 20 miles, with a wretched population of 15,000 or 16,000, there is not a medical man, and only one nominal dispensary at Doonbeg. The medical gentleman in charge of this has given up attending, as he receives no remuneration. The wretched and ignorant creatures in these localities when stricken with fever or dysentery, adopt the popular remedies of glauher salts or salt herrings, and when these have produced their natural results, the victims are brought to swell the mortality of the workhouse.

The number on the out-door relief list is 12,603. I exert myself to the utmost, and avail myself of every source of information to detect fraud or imposition, and keep this list within moderate bounds; any case admitting of a doubt is tested with the workhouse. I fear, however, that we must be prepared for a considerable increase after the 25th March, consequent upon extensive evictions.

Whole districts are being cleared and re-let in larger holdings. These measures, though productive of immediate suffering, will eventually aid the working of the law, and facilitate the collection of rates.

Many of those evicted are deserting their families, some going to America, and some in search of employment. I have every reason to anticipate a very great increase of this class within a short period. If they are all brought into the workhouse, it will soon be converted into one vast nursery; and if relieved out, it would encourage and increase the evil to an unmanageable extent. Relief, I find, was extended to this class last year under the Relief Act; and I find, from personal inquiry, that many expect it this spring.

It will be observed that the collectors are bringing in more money. I ordered them to call for both first and second instalments of the rate in process of collection from all defaulters, before they collected the second instalment from those who have paid the first.

Lists of defaulters are being made out for the purpose of being handed to a solicitor. I have made the striking of a new rate the subject of a separate communication.

I would beg the Commissioners' earnest consideration to the subject of a loan to pay off the liabilities. I cannot see any other escape from our present embarrassment; the Union creditors are most importunate, and many of them are small traders, upon whom it is a great hardship. Want of credit also prevents any contract being entered into on favourable terms. A vast reformation is necessary in all matters of detail, and workhouse management; and the financial affairs of the Union have been managed in such a loose manner, that I am apprehensive of worse than irregularities coming to light. I have deferred entering much into this matter till Mr. Kelly's arrival. I am desirous that the Vice-Guardians should begin from the beginning. Everything requires strict scrutiny and reorganization. I can give them such assistance and information as will enable them to put the management of the Union on a creditable footing. Industry, honesty, and perseverance, will bring them through all their difficulties, as popular feeling is strong in their favour.

I have given much personal attention to the fever hospital, and I trust the general management has not suffered much from the loss of the matron's services; she is progressing towards recovery.

The general state of the Union is little changed from what I have latterly described it; disease, suffering, and mortality, are not abated. The apathy of all for the sufferings of the poor is indescribable; disease, death, and coffinless burials, are unheeded. I endeavour to mitigate the suffering to the utmost extent the law will permit. The workhouse now creditably managed, is open to all, and urgent cases admitted at any time. I see that the relieving officers do their duty fairly and creditably, but while these masses of ignorant improvident creatures are left to the care of the law alone, they must suffer and die.

Many of the proprietors, both resident and absentee, are deeply responsible and culpable.

Some little activity is observable in agricultural matters, but their efforts are painful to contemplate.

Employment or wages there is none; the heavy rains that have fallen retard everything.

I gave out 24,000 rations to school children last week, with but one assistant at 20s. per week.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 27, 1848.

WITH reference to your remarks regarding the medical destitution existing in certain parts of the Union, I am to state, that under the peculiar circumstances mentioned by you, the Commissioners will sanction the appointment of a medical officer or medical officers for the Union, under the 5th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act. The Commissioners request that you will be so good as to report as to the precise districts for which such appointment should be made and the salary which should be offered.

As regards your observations on the general state of the Union, I am to state, that it is the wish of the Commissioners that such complete and systematic arrangements for relief should be made over the whole Union, that no person legally entitled to relief should be permitted to perish from starvation.

The machinery of the Poor Law is elastic, and the Vice-Guardians will have it in their power to appoint as many relieving officers, and establish as many relief stations as the exigencies of the Union require. The Commissioners rely on your co-operating with the Guardians to carry out arrangements in conformity with the Commissioners' views on this subject.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 27, 1848.

WITH reference to your letter of the 25th instant, I have the honour to inform you that Doctor Thomas O'Donnell will be formally appointed as medical officer to the workhouse on the next regular meeting of the Vice-Guardians, subject to the Commissioners' approval. His untiring attention and attendance (being seldom out of the workhouse) upon the poor and suffering, has certainly won my sympathy.

With regard to the appointment of a resident apothecary, I expect to secure the services of such an officer at a salary of 30*l.* per annum and officer's rations. The office of assistant master will be abolished, and his apartments are good enough for anybody, much better than those of a subaltern in the army, and could be thus appropriated without expense or inconvenience. I do not think such an appointment would be objectionable where there are Vice-Guardians, under whose constant supervision and control such an officer will be. I will bring the matter formally under the Commissioners' notice at the next weekly meeting.

Kilrush Union.

The changes in the dietary and out-door relief will be ordered on next day of meeting.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 28, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that the Kilrush workhouse contained two above the authorized number on yesterday. This rapid filling is attributable to the numerous evictions on the 25th instant, and demolition of cabins.

To meet the emergency I immediately proceeded with Mr. Meagher, Vice-Guardian, and selected 50 cases for discharge, principally widows with one child dependent, and some elderly widows without any. I anticipate a considerable pressure during the next fortnight. Cabins are being thrown down in all directions, and it is really extraordinary and to me unaccountable, where or how the evicted find shelter.

I would recommend the Vice-Guardians being authorized to relieve the following classes out of doors without delay, as even one day's closing of the workhouse would be most disastrous, viz.:—

1. Widows with one child dependent upon them.
2. Elderly widows without any.
3. Women whose husbands have left the country and deserted them prior to the passing of the Poor Relief Extension Act.
4. Orphans whose friends are willing to shelter them.

I would propose to extend out-door relief to those of class 3 who were at present in the workhouse only.

This application will be formally made by the Vice-Guardians to-morrow, and I would recommend its being complied with without delay, to enable the Vice-Guardians to test the able-bodied.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 31, 1848.

THE Commissioners have given directions for the preparation of an order authorizing out-door relief to the following classes, not comprised within the 1st section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act:—

1. Widows with one child dependent on them.
2. Widows above 60 years of age who have no children.
3. Women whose husbands deserted them prior to the passing of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act.
4. Children whose parents are both dead.

The Commissioners have not limited class 4 to those orphans whose friends are willing to shelter them; but it will be quite competent to the Guardians to determine that all such whose friends are not willing to shelter them shall be received into the workhouse.

With regard to your recommendation to extend out-door relief to those of class 3 only who are at present in the workhouse, I am to state that the Commissioners have given the subject their fullest consideration; and without referring to the legal difficulties in framing such an order as would enable the Vice-Guardians to act on your suggestion, the Commissioners think that on the whole it would be undesirable to adopt it, inasmuch as it would weaken materially the efficiency of the workhouse test for the future. If a precedent were once made of permitting any class of paupers to receive out-door relief because they had been a certain time in the workhouse, other paupers would feel their reluctance to enter the workhouse diminished, as they would be buoyed up by the hope that after submitting to the restraints of the workhouse for a certain time, out-relief would be extended to them as well as to those whom they succeeded as workhouse inmates.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 30, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I was present at the weekly meeting of the Vice-Guardians yesterday. We were occupied from 11 o'clock A.M. till 7 o'clock P.M. The minutes forwarded by the clerk will show the character and amount of business transacted. A great portion of the time was consumed in the admission of paupers, which, owing to the clamour, number, and attempted imposture of the applicants, was necessarily tedious. The house being full on last Saturday, it was found necessary to make a selection of some infirm men and women, and widows (elderly) with one child to be discharged on out-door relief, with a view to making room for the average number of admissions on the following Wednesday. This measure was attributed to a change of system consequent upon the administration of Vice-Guardians; and for every pauper so discharged there were 20 applicants yesterday. This fact sufficiently demonstrates the policy and necessity for having sufficient workhouse accommodation, which certainly does not exist in proportion to the population of this Union. Out of 1317 paupers in the workhouse and premises yesterday, 509 were in the infirmary, fever hospital, and auxiliary house, which latter is appropriated for sickly children; thus leaving accommodation for only 821 sound paupers. When children are deducted from the latter number, it is obvious how little workhouse room is really available for testing the able-bodied class. I think the present state and future prospects of this Union require a permanent addition being made to the house, and a permanent female hospital being established. It will require long years to change the habits of the poor, and establish cleanliness and ventilation in their dwellings; and while these are wanting, fever and disease must prevail. The county hospital affords accommodation to forty or fifty patients only, being the only one in the Union, containing a miserable and pauperized population of 82,000.

I have in former reports stated my anticipation of a pressure upon the workhouse about this period, though the season and increased occupation would lead to an opposite opinion. The pressure, however, is coming, and will continue; and this will not surprise the Commissioners when I state my conviction that 1000 cabins have been levelled in this Union within a very few months. The occupants of many of these were induced to give them up on receipt of a small sum of money, and that once spent they must seek the workhouse or perish.

The sealed order which I have applied for authorizing out-door relief to widows with only one child, and children whose parents are dead, will relieve the present pressure on the workhouse, and enable the Vice-Guardians to see their way more clearly. I am desirous that these gentlemen should judge for themselves, and form their opinion, unbiassed by mine.

The state of the workhouse on yesterday previous to the admissions was as follows:—

Number on morning 29th March	1278
Of which were in fever hospital	152
In auxiliary house	73
Infirmary	284
	509
Total in healthy state	769
Total	1278

It will thus appear that the fever hospital is full, and the admissions filled the house. I recommend some further discharges of widows and children pending the Commissioners' authority for relieving them out of doors. A formal closing of the house under any circumstances, would swamp the Union and the Vice-Guardians together. The great danger of giving out-door relief in this Union to any but the impotent classes arises from the wretched wages given. Any number of men can be procured for 5*d.* per day without their food; so that ration on the lowest scale would be in nine cases out of ten worth more than their wages. Six days' wages at 5*d.* would be but 2*s.* 6*d.*, not an equivalent to two and a-half stones of meal, which a small family on out-door relief would be entitled to.

The workhouse is more improved in cleanliness, classification, and general regularity than I could possibly have expected in so short a time. The laxity and indiscipline which have hitherto prevailed render the change the more creditable to the masters. Much however remains to be done; and I fear the house must be registered, owing to the confused state of the books as left by the late master and acting master.

Kilrush Union.

The fever hospital is very creditably managed, clean, regular, and well ventilated, and the mortality much decreased. The matron is, I am happy to say, convalescent.

The mortality for the week ending Saturday last was 52, viz. :—

In the infirmary	32
Infirm wards	3
Nursery	6
In fever wards	11
	—
	52

While on this subject I beg to draw the Commissioners' attention to a letter from the medical officer, which I enclose. Most of the very bad cases noticed by him are persons who have been on the out door relief lists. Their friends are unwilling to forfeit the rations, and defer bringing them in till they are beyond the assistance of any save the chaplain and undertaker. The chaplain and medical officer are seldom absent from the house. In the absence of any medical charity or hospital accommodation, the workhouse must to a certain extent do the work of an infirmary, and consequently show a high mortality.

You will observe by a reference to the minutes, that Dr. O'Donnell and Mr. Macmerny were appointed respectively as medical officer and master of the workhouse. I have a high opinion of the well-directed zeal, industry, and capacity of both. I was of opinion that no advertisement or notice was necessary, as these officers were only retained in their existing capacity at a higher salary, with increased labour and responsibility. A resident apothecary has been advertised for should the Commissioners sanction the proposed arrangement, which I would strongly recommend. Doing away with a second medical man and second master will effect a serious saving ; and I think the work will be better done than under the late system of divided responsibility.

The rate collectors were instructed to demand both first and second instalment together from all defaulters before they collected the second instalment from those who have already paid the first. I will give the Vice-Guardians every assistance on this head. One collector complained that he could not find purchasers for some stock, &c., which he had under seizure for rates. I suggested a Union officer being instructed to do so.

I recommended inquests being held upon a male and female pauper who were brought to the workhouse in a dying state, and expired immediately after admission on Sunday last. I will not anticipate the decision further than to say that I can attribute no blame to any Union officer in connexion therewith.

Biddy Ellis was admitted with a child aged three years on the 27th instant ; the child was the most fearful spectacle I ever beheld alive, naked, the dirt and filth ground into its skin, a living skeleton, all but starved to death. When the medical officer ordered it some warm milk, the unnatural mother was detected in the act of drinking it, though the wretched child was most eager to get it. On being searched 15s. was found on her person !!

I trust that a very short time will suffice to put the arrangements and administration of the Union on a systematic and satisfactory footing. Hitherto my time has been so completely occupied with urgent necessities as they arose, that I have been unable to perform my duties satisfactorily. My whole energies were required to prevent matters getting worse, without having a spare hour to make any radical reform. With Vice-Guardians, who I am sure will carry out their instructions with zeal and discretion, I shall have time to observe the wants of the Union and assist in supplying them. I find the individuals of the late Board of Guardians ready at all times to afford me information and assistance.

I cannot too strongly express my obligations to the Catholic clergy of this Union. They have given me their cheerful support and assistance when I required them ; and they discriminate between the imperfections of the law and the misdeeds of those who attempt too successfully to pervert it.

The number receiving out-door relief on the 15th instant, was 4456 cases, comprising 13,427 souls, at an expenditure of 255*l.* 5*s.* weekly.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. O'DONNELL to Captain KENNEDY :—March 29, 1848.

HAVING in a former report stated the cause of the great mortality which appears from week to week on the record of deaths, I would deem it unnecessary to revert to it again were it not that the deaths for the week ending the 23th inst. (as I anticipated) amounted to 52. This far exceeds the mortality of any week since I got charge.

Kilrush Union.

As I mentioned before, our number under medical treatment nearly doubles that of this time twelvemonth, whereas our deaths scarcely exceed the number at that time.

Our house then only contained about 800; it now contains over 1300; 45,000 were then getting out-door relief, and with this the Public Works were going on, when only 13,000 or 14,000 are now getting it. Thus at that time many able-bodied persons were on the relief list and Public Works, whereas now they have no resource but the workhouse; and to avoid this they drag on an existence until they and their families are so reduced by hunger and cold that many of them die on admission or immediately after. Some, through care, exist for a time, but finally sink for want of stamina, &c. To show this, I give an extract from the record of sickness and mortality, relative to last week's deaths, confining myself to a few cases:—

Name.	Age.	Observations.
James Heffernon . . .	45	Died immediately after admission.
Nance Hogan . . .	50	Admitted in a very weak state; lived a little time through care, &c.
Thomas Meade . . .	50	Ditto ditto.
Richard Griffin . . .	50	This man had been in affluent circumstances, and kept from the house until he and his family were so broken down that four of them died within a short time after admission.
John M'Grath . . .	40	Was on out-door relief, but came back, as he said, for a coffin.
Martin M'Mahon . . .	40	Brought to the house in the last stage of dysentery and general anasarca.
Darby M'Carthy . . .	20	Brought in in the last stage of consumption.
John Madden . . .	4	This child's family had a severe dysenteric fever; he only lived a day or two after admission into the infirmary.
Mary Kelly . . .	50	Was only four days in the infirmary
Mary Carrig . . .	40	Ditto.
John Cartney . . .	40	Was five days in the house.
Thady Amos . . .	2	Was four days in the house.
Ellen Morgan . . .	3½	Was only four days in the house.
Mary M'Mahon . . .	55	Was two days in the house.
James Coughlin . . .	70	Died rather suddenly; had been in the house for some time.
Michael Killeen . . .	9	Ditto.
Michael Linnane . . .	60	Died soon after admission.
Michael Keane . . .	60	Died the evening of his admission.
Norry Kanny . . .	—	Died the evening of her admission.

I am happy to say that things look a little better this week (though we had two brought in on Sunday that died immediately after), and though our number in fever, &c., have considerably increased, still if the mortality goes on in a ratio with the last three days, it won't amount to more than half of last week's deaths; still I cannot say that I see any improvement in the class of patients coming in.

As my fever wards are now full (reserving a few beds for the use of the house), I must decline admitting any from the country.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 4, 1848.

WITH reference to your observations that the great danger of giving out-door relief in Kilrush Union to any but the impotent classes arises from the wretched wages given, the Commissioners desire to observe that should it become necessary to authorize out-door relief to the able-bodied in Kilrush Union, there will be three conditions of such relief, which if strictly observed, will diminish the abuses which in some degree perhaps are inherent in the system—first, observance of the provisions of the 10th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act (commonly called the quarter-acre clause); secondly, the requiring work for 10 hours each day; and thirdly, the giving relief in cooked food only. On the other hand, it is to be borne in mind that one of the main objects of a poor law is the preservation of human life, and the Commissioners rely on your making such arrangements as will prevent the possibility of death from starvation in Kilrush Union.

The Commissioners will be glad to receive from you more full information in regard to the two cases in which you state that you recommended inquests to be held, the parties having been brought to the workhouse in a dying state.

The Commissioners have read with much satisfaction your statement that the Roman Catholic clergy have given you their cheerful support and assistance, and that they discriminate between the imperfections of the law and the misdeeds of those who attempt to pervert it.

Kilrush Union.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 30, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of circular of 28th March, with a letter from Sir R. Routh relative to the manufacture of bread from rye and barley meal, with an admixture of wheaten meal.

I have been baking 24,000 rations weekly for the school children in this Union, and have availed myself of the opportunity, with the assistance of a very clever practical baker, in experimentalising upon the different kinds of meal in various proportions.

After numerous trials, I have come to the conclusion that rye meal or barley meal, without any admixture, make the cheapest, most palatable, and wholesome bread. It is made without any yeast, water being the only addition; flat cakes baked in a common oven. Many persons, particularly children, prefer it to white bread. I can bake 3500 lbs. daily in the common ovens, for which I pay 30s. per month rent.

Several Unions have had sample loaves from my bakery; the only secret is that it requires (rye) double as much kneading as any other flour, and for want of this it frequently fails.

1 lb. of rye meal produces 20 oz. of bread.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 2, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st ultimo, communicating the Commissioners' intention to issue an order authorizing out-door relief to certain classes. This will partially relieve the present pressure upon the workhouse, but will not be sufficient to meet the daily increasing exigencies of the Union. I think the Vice-Guardians should be directed to provide further workhouse accommodation without delay; anything is preferable to relieving able-bodied out of doors, and this must soon be arrived at if additional accommodation is not procured. The numbers of evicted and houseless far exceeds the numbers who will obtain employment at this season. However discouraging it may be, I look for a steady and serious increase of destitution daily. 16 houses were levelled upon one small property in Kilmurry division on Monday last; the inmates of these cabins have crowded the workhouse within two days.

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 5, 1848.

I AM directed to state that the Commissioners, in accordance with your request, will write to the Vice-Guardians respecting the providing additional accommodation. But the Commissioners are desirous that you should yourself bring the subject under their consideration, and should point out to them any buildings which may advantageously be hired by the Vice-Guardians for that purpose.

With regard to the 16 houses which are adverted to in your letter as having been levelled in the Kilmurry electoral division, I am to inform you that the Commissioners are desirous of receiving more detailed information, and in order to ensure greater accuracy in the statements, the Commissioners would suggest that you should ground such information entirely on evidence upon oath.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 2, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to enclose two papers, marked A and B, from Mr. Joly, a landed proprietor in this Union, containing a proposal to avail himself of the provisions of the 13th section of the Relief Extension Act. The property from which he proposes to send these people is rated at 400*l.* per annum, and the population amounts to 950 souls.

The Vice-Guardians are inclined to comply with Mr. Joly's proposal, if approved of by the Commissioners, and would beg instructions as to the detail.

Mr. Joly, in consideration of the financial difficulties of the Union, is prepared to advance the whole sum requisite, on receiving security for the repayment of the portion to be defrayed by the Union within reasonable time.

A rate of 7*d.* would defray the cost to the Union.

ENCLOSURES.

Kilrush Union.

A.

To the BOARD of GUARDIANS of the KILRUSH UNION.

GENTLEMEN,

I PROPOSE sending 24 pauper families to Quebec, the head of each family being an occupier of land in Kilrush Union, electoral division of Moyarta or Kilballyowen, rated at a net annual value not exceeding 5*l.*; the whole number of males amount to 149, which, including two children under 14 years of age, or one adult, will make in all 124 passengers, viz., Kilballyowen, 37 passengers; Moyarta, 87 passengers. The passage of each adult, according to the terms of Harvey and Co., Limerick, 3*l.* 10*s.*; total, 434*l.*

Extra provisions, clothing, bedding, &c., about 196

 630

Of this sum of 630*l.*, I will pay two-thirds, 420*l.*; the remaining one-third to be borne by the above electoral division, namely, Moyarta and Kilballyowen, according to the 10th Vic., c. 31, sec. 13.

J. K. JOLY.

P.S. Mr. Harvey's vessel is to sail on the 18th of April; the terms offered by the other Limerick ship, "Demas," are not near so advantageous as those offered by Mr. Harvey.

B.

ESTIMATED EXPENSE of sending 24 pauper families to Quebec, the head of each family being an occupier of land in Kilrush Union, electoral division of Moyarta or Kilballyowen, rated at a net annual value not exceeding 5*l.*; number of males above 14 years of age, 47; ditto, under 12 years of age, 22; females above 14 years of age, 50; under 14 years of age, 28; total, 147 souls, reckoned as 122 adults:—

Passage of each adult, according to the terms of Harvey and Co., Limerick, 5*l.* 10*s.*, total, 671*l.*

Bedding, viz.—

37 quilts, at 1 s. 10 d. each . . .	£3 7 10
37 pair of blankets, at 7 s. a-pair . . .	12 19 0
37 bed-ticks, at 1 s. 6 d. each . . .	2 15 6

 Total . . . 19 2 4

Clothing, about 60*l.*

Total, passage	£671 0 0
Bedding	19 2 4
Clothing	60 0 0

 750 2 4

Two-thirds to be borne by the landlord, and one-third by the Poor Law Guardians, according to 10 Vic., c. 31, sec. 13.

 REPLY to the foregoing:—April 5, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd inst., forwarding communications from Mr. Joly, a landed proprietor in Kilrush Union, in which he proposes to avail himself of the 13th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, by sending to Quebec a number of occupiers on his property, and I am to state that the Commissioners fully approve of the proposal, provided the Vice-Guardians and you are satisfied that all the requirements of the 13th section are observed.

It will be necessary for the emigrants to be approved by Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, or such person as he may appoint for that purpose, and with this view a list and description of the proposed emigrants should be sent to this office without delay.

The Commissioners have been in communication with the Colonial Secretary on the subject of emigration, and have been informed that it is desirable that a list should be furnished in every such case to the Commissioners of Colonial Lands and Emigration, showing the sex and age of each intended emigrant, and further, that the Poor Law Inspector should see all such emigrants, and if they are approved of by him, grant a certificate, to be transmitted with the list, to the effect that they appear to be fit and proper persons to emigrate, and that he perceives no reason to doubt that the able-bodied persons comprised in each family ought to be able to provide by their labour for the maintenance of the whole.

The lists referred to, you will be so good as to furnish to this office for transmission to the Commissioners of Colonial Lands and Emigration, to whom will be entrusted by Earl Grey the power of approving, on behalf of the Secretary of State, the selection of Emigrants under the Act 10th Vic., c. 31.

5 M 2

Kilrush Union.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 2, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to lay the accompanying statement of the financial state of this Union before you, with a view to the Vice-Guardians being instructed what steps to take.

	£.
The weekly expenditure is about . . .	340
That for 16 weeks to 1st August . . .	5440
Add present liabilities of Union, say . . .	1600
Total . . .	£7040

To meet this, the probable collection of the outstanding rate, amounting to 7477*l.*, will be about 5500*l.*, leaving a probable deficit at the present expenditure of, say 1540*l.*

The present expenditure cannot, I fear, be considered the maximum; June, July, and August, must bring a serious increase of destitution, and I do not think much short of 500*l.* per week will bring the Union over that period.

It is a most difficult matter to calculate the amount of pauperism which may become chargeable to this Union, where the great mass of the population are on the very verge of it. I have not had any experience to enable me to calculate to what extent the summer occupations of "turf cutting" and "fishing" may relieve the Union. There is an immense quantity of turf on land from last year, which will take so much from the usual employment.

The annual exportation of turf from this Union by water amounts to about 30,000*l.*

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 5, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 2nd instant, containing a statement of the financial state of the Kilrush Union, which you forward with a view to the Vice-Guardians being instructed what steps to take.

In reference thereto I am directed to state that the Commissioners do not understand precisely what instructions you require on behalf of the Vice-Guardians.

The statement in your letter does not contain any reference to a new rate, but is confined to the outstanding arrear of the present rate; and the Commissioners can, therefore, only advise that the best estimate that can be formed of the probable wants of the Union be at once made out, and a new rate, founded on such estimate, put in course of preparation.

The Commissioners were led to suppose, by your previous reports, that this was being done. In your report of the 23rd ult. you stated that you proposed to urge the collection of the outstanding rate while the new books were in preparation, and suggested that the preparation of the books should be delayed until after the 1st of April. The Commissioners approved of that course; but they certainly understood that the preparation of the new books was not to be deferred longer than the 1st of April.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 6, 1848.

I YESTERDAY assisted the Vice-Guardians at their weekly meeting from 11 o'clock A. M. till 7 o'clock P. M., at which hour they refused to admit more paupers, having decided upon and admitted about 200 cases from the most distant parts of the Union. My anticipation of the pressure and increase of destitution about this period are, I regret to say, being sadly realized.

The newly appointed Vice-Guardians were yesterday both astounded and horrified at the mass of helpless, hopeless, and revolting misery which presented itself; about 300 applicants presented themselves, and though the majority were destitute beyond doubt, there were many imposters who came dressed for the occasion, and clamouring for out-door relief; ■ knowledge that the workhouse was full, and certain classes having been discharged on out-door relief during the week induced this pressure to a great extent. The object of this movement was so transparent, that I recommended the Guardians admitting a number of healthy able-bodied paupers beyond their authorized number, well knowing from former experience that one day's stone-breaking would thin the house; the increase of destitution is, however, so steady, and the number so difficult to calculate upon, that I would recommend the following measures being adopted without delay:—

1st. Separate accommodation being taken, if possible, for the school, which would relieve the house.

2nd. All boys and able-bodied on first admission being put to stone-breaking, and a fair day's work being stringently enforced.

3rd. A sealed order authorizing out-door relief to able bodied.

I recommend this for the following reasons: there will be a greater number of this class destitute ere long, than can possibly be accommodated in-doors, and I think the timely adoption of a strict labour test in each district would check abuse, and confine application to cases of undoubted destitution; the Guardians have been already obliged to afford temporary relief to many out of doors, who do not properly come under the first section of the Act, and every case so relieved, no matter how urgent or undoubtedly destitute, brings 20 applicants.

A timely well organized and well superintended labour test, in and out of doors, is the only hope of stemming the torrent. The destitution in degree and character are, I trust, unknown elsewhere; improvident, ignorant, thriftless parents, scarcely human in habits and intelligence, only present themselves with 9 or 10 skeleton children, when they themselves can no longer support the pangs of hunger, and their wretched offspring are beyond recovery; the state of this Union must be seen to be believed or comprehended. I sometimes feel despair when I see the trifling impression my unceasing efforts can effect in its amelioration, aided as I am by the Commissioners' support and a liberal administration of the law; the fact is, everything is left to the law alone.

There are none to assist, however many there may be to pervert or obstruct it when possible.

Hundreds of instances occur where an acre of land, worth 15s., is let for 3l., and the occupiers, in default of full payment, bound to give 140 days' labour to his lessor during spring and harvest, when the occupier himself requires them most; this would (valuing his labour at 8d. per day) amount to 4l. 13s.

The same system obtains, as to the letting of cabins, 100 or 120 days' labour, during the only period the wretched labourer would earn, is exacted for a cabin, worth perhaps 7s. 6d. a year.

The occupiers, having thus pauperized the labouring class, get their work done for nothing, and complain of rates; I think I could shew that the sum required to keep the paupers in this Union would, if expended in labour, keep the people and pay 20 per cent. Employment or wages there is none.

While hundreds are being turned out houseless and helpless daily on one small property in Killard division, no less than 23 houses, containing probably 100 souls, were tumbled in one day, 27th March. I believe the extent of land occupied with these 23 houses did not exceed 50 acres. The suffering and misery attendant upon these wholesale evictions is indescribable. The farmers and occupiers in the neighbourhood take advantage of these occurrences, get their labour done in exchange for food alone, to the member of the family he employs, till absolute starvation brings the mother and helpless children to the workhouse; this is the history of hundreds.

The number of houseless paupers in this Union is beyond my calculation; those evicted crowd neighbouring cabins' villages, and disease is necessarily generated; on its first appearance the wretched sufferer, and probably the whole family to which he or she belongs, is ruthlessly turned out by the road-side. The popular dread of fever or dysentery seems to excuse any degree of inhumanity, the workhouse and temporary hospital are crowded to the utmost extent they can possibly contain; the crowding of the fever hospital causes me serious anxiety. The relieving officer has directions to send no more in, yet notwithstanding this caution, panic-stricken and unnatural parents frequently send in a donkey load of children in fever a distance of 14 or 15 miles for admission; how to dispose of them I know not. I have requested the medical officer to furnish me with a weekly report, which I enclose, it will in some degree account for the mortality. I saw several admitted yesterday, who I am sure cannot survive many hours.

I have lately communicated with the Commissioners on the financial state and prospect of the Union. I have explained and directed the attention of the Vice-

Kilrush Union.

Guardians to these matters. I hope the next fortnight's collection will be more cheering.

Proceedings have been ordered against many defaulters, and the Vice-Guardians are taking active steps. I give this matter my best attention, though our present position and prospects are sufficiently embarrassing and discouraging. Our numbers and expenditure, it will be observed, are increasing weekly at a season when the case should be reversed.

The whole of the officers of the Union are very much overworked at present, and with a view to relieve the relieving officers who at present attend two days a week (Wednesday and Saturday), I have suggested the weekly Board day being changed to Saturday, and that they be required to attend on that day only, which arrangement will, I think, enable them to perform their duties more efficiently, and save them considerable expense and hardship.

I have assisted the Vice-Guardians almost daily during the week, and will continue to do so while they require any local information which I can give them. They have effected a very great improvement in the general state of the house, but such was the irregularity and indiscipline that much remains to be done.

The fever hospital, under Dr. O'Donnell, is very creditably managed, and the mortality not higher than I should expect from the description of cases.

The relief of the British Association to children is a very great assistance to the Union. The changed and improved appearance of the children receiving their bounty is very remarkable.

There is an increase of 435 on the numbers receiving out-door relief this week, and a still further increase may be anticipated.

The strictest scrutiny is constantly necessary, the shamelessness of all seeking relief would be amusing, if it were not melancholy. My next door neighbour, with a good house, let at a high rent in summer, having a respectable stock of sheep, lambs, pigs, poultry, and other stock, called upon me not many days since, and informed me "the times were bad," that she was a "widow woman, and hoped I would order her relief!"

I need not enter into any detail of the mortality, which the accompanying report of the medical officer satisfactorily shows.

ENCLOSURE.

REPORT OF MEDICAL OFFICER referred to.

SIR,

Workhouse, April 5, 1848.

ANNEXED is the medical report for the week ending the 1st instant, and though there appears a decrease of 41 between the number under medical treatment on that day and the week ending the 25th of March, still this is owing to the great number discharged cured from the infirmary and fever wards, as the admission for the last and up to this, of the present week, have been greater than for any previous week for the last month.

Dysentery has not abated, and I regret to say that fever has considerably increased in and out of the house. Its spread in the house is principally owing to the predisposition the inmates have for disease, and the numbers sleeping in each bed (as there is a bad supply of beds at present).

I have endeavoured to guard against the latter as well as I possibly could, by thinning each dormitory, and thus, by expanding the virus (if contagion exists), rendering it as uncontagious as possible; indeed I find some improvement to-day, which is very fortunate, as I have 148 in the fever wards, inclusive of helpers, all making 160—10 over the prescribed number—and to this we must add this day's admissions.

I hope the Guardians will make arrangements for a better supply of beds and straw.

I give an extract from last week's record of sickness and mortality. It is somewhat similar to those already given:—

— Kelly, aged 10—Brought from Carrigaholt in a state of collapse from cold, &c.; he lived some days.

John Liddam, aged 17—Died immediately after admission.

Norry Smith, aged 1½—Died next morning.

M. McGrath, aged 60—Lived three days in hospital.

Michael Sanders, aged 70—This man's son died in two or three minutes after admission, but the father struggled for some weeks, though completely broken down when admitted.

Margaret O'Dea, aged 18—Died soon after admission.

William Jenkins, aged 60—Left the house some time ago, and returned six days before his death quite helpless.

Hannah Cotter, aged 40—Admitted at two o'clock at night; she said that she was without food for some days; she lived two days.

Michael Rowen—Brought in on his father's back; he lived three days, though quite unconscious.

Biddy Brown, aged 30, and Margaret Gormen, aged 1½—Were taken in at two o'clock at night; they died next morning; the former told me that she had not tasted food for some days.

Kilrush Union.

Medical Report for the Week ending April 1, 1848.

Number in infirmary by last report	.	.	.	.	305
Admitted during the week	.	.	.	.	84
					389
Discharged	.	.	.	.	78
Sent to fever wards	.	.	.	.	10
Cured	.	.	.	.	32
					120
Number in infirmary, Saturday, April 1	.	.	.	.	269
Number in fever wards by last report	.	.	.	.	101
Admitted during the week	.	.	.	.	69
					170
Discharged	.	.	.	.	67
Died	.	.	.	.	8
					75
Number in fever wards, Saturday, April 1	.	.	.	.	95
In girls' dysentery wards	.	.	.	.	32
In girls' skin disease ward	.	.	.	.	33
In boys' skin disease ward	.	.	.	.	43
In male old and infirm ward	.	.	.	.	8
In female, ditto ditto	.	.	.	.	6
Total under medical treatment, April 1	.	.	.	.	486
Deaths during the week, 43.

Captain Kennedy.

I have, &c.,
B. O'DONNELL.

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 10, 1848.

THE Commissioners have read with much concern your statement of the great and increasing destitution in the Union; they rely, however upon your affording every assistance in your power to the Vice-Guardians, who, the Commissioners feel assured, will use every means which the law has placed at their disposal to provide for the due and efficient relief of the destitute poor in the Union, and on this head the Commissioners desire to refer you to their letter of the 27th ultimo, in which they expressed their wish that complete systematic arrangements should be made, and pointed out that the machinery of the Poor Law, being elastic, the Vice-Guardians had ample powers to make such arrangements as the exigencies of the Union might require.

The Commissioners approve of the measures which you recommend to be adopted; they appear to be entirely in accordance with the general views of the Commissioners, and the Commissioners rely upon your co-operating with the Vice-Guardians in having them carried out. The Commissioners had, previously to the receipt of your report, given directions for the preparation of an order authorizing out-door relief, under the 2nd section, and they need scarcely state that they attach much importance to the establishment of an effective system of checking and controlling the relief administered under the authority of this order, especially in a Union where the attempts at imposition and fraud are so general as you describe them to be in Kilrush.

The Commissioners request therefore that you will, in conjunction with the Vice-Guardians, give your special attention to this point. A task of work for 10 hours each day should be rigidly enforced from each able-bodied recipient of relief; the relief should be given exclusively in cooked food; lists of persons receiving relief should be regularly posted; and the most searching examination into the case of each applicant should be made by the relieving officers and Vice-Guardians.

It is possible that some addition to the present staff of relieving officers will be required, in order to enable the Vice-Guardians fully to carry out their views, and that superintendents of labour, and a general overseer of works, will be also required; the Commissioners will readily give their sanction to any such additional appointments as the circumstances of the case may render absolutely necessary.

Kilrush Union.

The Commissioners observe, in the medical officer's report as to the sickness and mortality in the workhouse, that he attributes the spread of fever in some degree to the insufficient supply of bedding. The Commissioners trust that you have not failed to bring this matter under the notice of the Vice-Guardians, with a view to immediate steps being taken to supply the deficiency.

The Commissioners deem it right, in conclusion, to advert to your recommendation to the Vice-Guardians to admit a number of healthy able-bodied paupers beyond their authorized number. The Commissioners do not doubt that, in making this recommendation, you were actuated by the best possible motives, and they are satisfied that you were of opinion that no evil results would follow from such additional admissions.

Still, as the number is limited by a sealed order of the Commissioners, and as persons wilfully neglecting or disobeying the orders of the Commissioners are liable to penalties under the 102nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, the Commissioners deem it proper to suggest that you should refrain from recommending any such departure from their order in future.

If you are of opinion that the number fixed by the order may properly be extended, the Commissioners will readily attend to any representation you may make to them on the subject.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY:—April 8, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a constabulary report which the Commissioners have received from the Chief Secretary's office relating to the case of a poor man, named Michael Molony, who was found dead in a ditch in the parish of Kilfiddane, on the 26th instant, and I am to request that you will make such inquiry into the circumstances as may enable you to report to the Commissioners as to the facts of the case, and especially whether the deceased made any application for relief to the Board of Guardians, to the workhouse master, or to any of the relieving officers.

ENCLOSURE.

Kildysart, March 28, 1848.

ON the 26th instant Michael Molony was found dead in a ditch in the parish of Kilfiddane.

Copy of Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

That deceased came to his death from destitution and exposure to the cold.

I fear many of his family will die from want, if they will not go into the workhouse.

J. BLENNERHASSET, S. I.

*Inspector-General,
&c. &c.*

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 13, 1848.

I HAVE had the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th April, accompanied by a copy of police report relative to the death of Michael Molony, who was found dead in a ditch in the parish of Kilfiddane.

I have made every inquiry, and am satisfied the circumstances of the case are as follows:—

Deceased was a native of Kilfiddane, about 22 years old. Was what is termed here "a delicate man." He was incapacitated for labour, and as such was upon the relief list. Had been so for a considerable time, and was a recipient of outdoor relief up to the time of his death. He was unmarried. Was long known to be subject to "colic," or fits. He was in the habit of gathering sea-weed, a quantity of which was found beside him. He was returning from the strand, across the fields, when it is supposed he was taken ill, lay down and died. No blame is attributable to any Union officer, nor do I believe that his death is attributable to aught but natural causes.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 8, 1848.

Kilrush Union.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th April.

I have brought the subject of additional workhouse accommodation under the Vice-Guardians' notice; they quite coincide in my views, and I trust we shall succeed in procuring it. The requirements of the Union are more pressing.

Adverting to the 16 houses mentioned in my report of the 2nd instant, as having been levelled in the Kilmurry division, I have the honour to request that the Commissioners would be kind enough to furnish me with the heads upon which they would desire sworn information, as I fear embodying matter which might embarrass them. This evil is one of such magnitude in this Union, that any examination of it should be maturely considered, and searchingly conducted. As to the legality or the contrary of many of these evictions, I cannot speak. I am only conversant with the numbers at present; I found this information necessary to the efficient performance of my duties, not only to know, but anticipate them. The eviction of 500 or 400 souls in one day would be embarrassing to any Union.

I may mention the following facts, which I can have verified upon oath:—

Kilmurry Division.

Sir John Reid's property: 17 or 19 houses "tumbled" on or about 8th March, 1848, all on one day.

Mr. M'Donnell's property: 22 houses since 1st January. Mr. Roughan's property: 8 houses since 1st January, 1848.

14 on Mr. James O'Dwyer's property.

11 on Minor Casey's property.

Killarrel Division.

14 houses tumbled on Minor Stackpoole's property since March, on 69 acres.

24 houses on Mr. Crowe's property, on 28 acres.

I can procure names and numbers, &c. of families, &c., and all particulars which may be required.

I have a list, &c. from Moyarter division; I think exceeding 220 houses.

These evicted are all absolute and hopeless paupers; on the average six to each house! enough to swamp any Union or poor-law machinery, when simultaneously thrown upon it.

I will immediately commence the inquiry when directed. I calculate that 1000 houses have been levelled since November, and expect 500 more before July.

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, in which you advert to the evictions which have taken place in the Kilmurry electoral division of Kilrush Union, and request to be furnished with the heads on which the Commissioners desire to be furnished with sworn informations.

In reference thereto, I am directed by the Commissioners to state, that they are desirous that all the material facts connected with the evictions should be placed on record, in order that they may be in a position to ascertain whether any burden has been cast on the poor-rates illegally.

The Commissioners do not consider it to be within their province to interfere with the legal exercise of the rights of property; but when, owing to the demolition of houses, the poor-rates of an Union become liable for the support of destitute poor persons, who have no houses to go to, it becomes competent for the Commissioners to satisfy themselves that such additions to the liabilities of the Union are not occasioned by a violation of the law.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 9, 1848.

In reference to your letter of the 5th instant, I have the honour to inform you that I this day proceeded to inspect the emigrants named in the accompanying list, and have appended a certificate.

The Vice-Guardians and myself are quite of accord as to the expediency and policy of this measure; the whole of these persons would be chargeable to the Union before July. Some are tradesmen—carpenters, shoemakers, &c.

5 N

OCCUPIERS of LAND within the UNION of KILRUSH, rated at a Net Annual Value, not exceeding 5*l.*, who are willing to give up to their Landlord their right and title, and the actual possession of their Land, and to emigrate with their families to Canada.

Mayarta.

John Downes	44	John Crofty	40
Margaret, wife	40	Kate, wife	38
Mary, child	14	Patrick, child	17
Patrick „	13	Mary „	15
John „	12	Bridget „	13
Martin Hourigan	44	Honor „	10
Bridget, wife	40	Joe Keating	60
Michael, child	17	Margaret, wife	56
Ellen „	15	Thomas Child	26
Judy „	12	Patrick „	24
Bridget „	11	Martin „	19
Thomas „	9	Edward „	17
James Collins	53	Bridget „	14
Ellen, wife	35	Daniel Magner	30
Margaret, child	21	Michael Cahill	40
Mary „	20	Margaret, wife	38
Thomas „	17	Daniel Collins	40
Nora „	12	Mary, wife	36
Joan „	10	Joan, child	6
Patrick „	8	James „	3
James „	6	John M'Donnell	30
Simon Gorman	60	Bridget, wife	28
Ellen, wife	54	Mary, child	13
Matthew, child	26	Anne „	40
Bridget „	20	Joan „	3
Hannah „	13	Edward, child	4

Kilballyowen.

Ellen M'Mahon, widow	50	Michael Lynch	30
Michael, child	25	Margaret, wife	25
Timothy „	23	Martin, child	3
Mary „	20	Daniel „	2
Thomas „	18	Mary Lister	18
John „	14	Michael Mahony	40
Mary M'Meiny	23	Bridget, wife	30
Catherine Maher	16	Timothy Brother	20
William Connell	30	Michael, child	8
Ellen, wife	30	Mary „	6
Patrick Coady	60	Timothy Naughten	40
Nora, wife	58	Kate, wife	35
John, child	27	Nora, child	17
Thomas „	20	Mary „	14
Felix „	18	Michael „	10
Margaret „	16	Margaret	6
Ellen „	13	Timothy Carty	34
Bridget „	11	Mary, wife	50
John Keating	40	Owen Carty	30
Mary, wife	34	Ellen, Wife	32
Michael, child	6	Michael, child	12
Catherine „	2	Michael M'Mahon	40
Darby Gorman	40	Kate, wife	38
Mary, wife	38	Mary, child	13
Kate, child	15	John „	10
Bridget „	7	Joan „	7
Mary „	2	Michael „	4
Ellen, niece	17	Patrick Kean	26
Edward Magner	50	Patrick Hukey	45
Mary, wife	35	Nora, wife	34
Bridget, child	12	Bridget, child	11
Daniel „	10	Mary „	7
James „	7	Joan „	6
Patrick „	4	124 souls reckoned as 102 adults.
Nora „	2

I have this day examined the whole of the within-named persons; they are all of a class, coming under the 13th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act; and the Vice-

Guardians, together with myself, are of opinion that the whole of the requirements of that section of the Act have been complied with, and recommend that sanction should be given for their emigration.

The whole of the adults, without an exception, are unusually healthy and hardy, and the children very promising.

I have spent several years in North America, and I think these emigrants admirably suited for that colony.

A. E. KENNEDY, Poor Law Inspector.

Kilrush, April 9, 1848.

There are three carpenters and two shoemakers contained in this list.

A. E. K.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 13, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I attended the weekly meeting of the Vice-Guardians yesterday: a considerable amount of routine business was transacted, and details gone into. The time of the Vice-Guardians is much occupied with the latter, as the irregularity and want of system which has hitherto prevailed in the general management develops itself daily. Nothing else could be expected from the carelessness and inefficiency of some of the late officers, and the want of unity of action of all.

The Vice-Guardians will, no doubt, report these matters in detail. The names of many persons have been found on the register who were not in the house, and many in the house whose names were not on the register. One of the rate-collectors (fortunately an honest and conscientious man) has been acting without any legal security whatever. The Vice-Guardians are industriously rectifying these matters.

I remained at the Board till six o'clock P.M., at which hour above 250 applicants remained to be disposed of, among whom were many of the able-bodied class, far removed from want, trampling down the really destitute and helpless most ruthlessly. The general and utter disregard for the necessities and suffering of each other on these occasions is remarkable, and the opposite of the generally received opinion. The pressure and number of applications for relief are excessive, and will so continue till a well superintended labour test is organized. The Vice-Guardians are fully alive to the pressing necessity of this measure, however the trouble and inconvenience attendant upon it may be. They are taking active steps to organize and complete the machinery, in which they shall have my willing assistance.

Pending this arrangement they have ordered rations to be issued to the destitute able-bodied class daily, every able-bodied member of the family being obliged to attend and answer his name at the food depôt at two o'clock P.M.

There were but 80 vacancies in the house yesterday morning. Many urgent cases were admitted during the week, and a great many of the able-bodied class admitted yesterday week demanded their discharges on being put to break stones. Destitution, I am concerned to say, steadily increases, together with a corresponding increase of disease. The numerous evictions tend to this when (as is frequently the case) 30 or 40 cabins are levelled in a single day. The inmates crowd into neighbouring ones, till disease is generated, and they are then thrown out, without consideration or mercy. The relieving officers thus find them, and send them to the hospital when beyond medical aid. These wholesale evictions are most embarrassing to the Guardians. The wretched and half-witted occupiers are too often deluded by the specious promises of under-agents and bailiffs, and induced to throw down their own cabins for a paltry consideration of a few shillings, and an assurance of out-door relief.

I am compiling a return of the number of evictions in each electoral division since last November, with the extent of holding and amount of yearly rent. I have no doubt that a charge of extravagant expenditure will be preferred against the Vice-Guardians before autumn. Such is the increase of destitution which I anticipate; and thus information will be useful in exculpating them. I have acquired sufficient local knowledge to enable me to make up this return with general accuracy, and I will forward copies of the sheets, if required, as I complete them.

While on this subject I may state my belief that many lessors in this Union do not allow their tenants to deduct the local amount of their rates from the rent, and some will not allow any deduction, making the occupier pay all. This, of course, makes the poor-rate more unpopular and difficult of collection. It may be asked why the occupier submits to what is illegal? The answer is simply that the great mass are tenants at will, and dare not resist, and on many properties notice to quit is served every six months, to enable the lessor to turn out the occupiers when he pleases. This is a ruinous system and one much complained of.

Kilrush Union.

I have placed my time as much as possible at the disposal of the Vice-Guardians, till they acquire the necessary local knowledge. I have assisted them almost daily during the week, and the progress they have made is sufficient evidence of their industry and judgment. They are busily occupied eight or nine hours a-day, and still much undone. This alone shows the impossibility of even an efficient Board of Guardians managing the affairs of this Union at a weekly sitting. An extensive system of relief and a large expenditure will be required in this Union till an extensive change in the management and ownership of property is effected; and I press upon the Vice-Guardians the necessity of comprehensive measures to remedy the miserable state of things which at present exists. There is little or no employment of any kind, and where it exists it is an exchange of labour for food alone: even tradesmen are starving.

I know a good carpenter employed at house work for 8*d.* per day. On the other hand, the almost incredible cases of want of foresight and thrift are hardly safe to narrate. A gentleman owning property in Moyarta and Kilballyowen is, with the assistance of the Union, sending out a number of pauper tenants from his over-crowded property to North America. I was ordered to inspect them, and found one family of tenants who were on his list, refused to go; two or three of the sons were, according to the father's account, "big and strong enough to pluck a bullock out of a bog." They were all paupers, had given up their land, and were, up to the present time, most anxious to emigrate. I inquired the cause of change, and was gravely told by the father "that he could not go this year, as he had vainly tried to sell an old cow to advantage, and for this reason forfeited a free passage for himself and family worth 50*l.*" I implicitly believe that the alleged reason was the only one, as many members of the family were anxious to go. In the western part of this Union there will be as great a breadth of potatoes planted as at any period during the last seven years, and a failure of the crop will entail most disastrous consequences. Any quantity of potatoes can be purchased in Kilrush market from 7*d.* to 8½*d.* per stone. Sea-weed is to be had in large quantities for the gathering, and is almost universally used for manure. I have had all the rate-collectors before the Vice-Guardians during the week, and made a minute examination of the list of defaulters, giving directions as to the mode of proceeding in every case. The collectors have, no doubt, in very many instances, shown great laxity. The Vice-Guardians have taken the matter in hand, and will, I am sure, enforce the collection energetically. I need not state that the house is full.

On Saturday, 8th April, there were 507 under medical treatment, 143 of which number were in the temporary fever hospital. The mortality for the week was 36. For the week ending Saturday next it will be much higher. I do not, however, attach blame to any but the wretched sufferers themselves, who linger on in their ill-ventilated cabins till they are beyond hope, and they come to the hospital to die. The medical officer uncovered about 20 children in the fever hospital a few days ago to show me the hopeless subjects he had to practice upon. They were merely animated bones; I have seldom seen anything more fearful. The indifference of the parents is beyond describing; no law or administration of it can meet the fearful indifference to human life. The evil is a social one. I visit the hospital almost daily and question the patients. I can answer for food, ventilation, cleanliness, and every comfort. The medical officer is most attentive and untiring. The great mortality is only to be accounted for in the social degradation, puerile fear, and indifference to life among the mass of people. There is a most remarkable preponderance of females over males in the number of fever patients. Our work-house baker, a good and useful man, died yesterday of fever. The Vice-Guardians have continued their sitting to-day to hear and decide upon applicants.

ENCLOSURE.

Kilrush Union

Medical Report for the Week ending Saturday April 8, 1848.

Number in infirmary by last report	269
Admitted during the week	47
	316
Discharged	34
Sent to Fever wards.	8
Died	25
	67
Number in the infirmary April 8	249
Number in fever wards by last report	95
Admitted during the week	102
	197
Discharged	47
Died	7
	54
Men	42
Women	80
Boys	7
Girls	14
Total in fever ward April 8	143
In girls' dysentery wards (Daly's house)	28
In girls' skin disease ward ditto	32
In boys' skin disease ward (infirmary)	39
In male old and infirm ward	10
In female ditto ditto	6
Total under medical treatment	507
Total number of deaths during the week	36

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 19, 1848.

WITH reference to your observations as to the increase of destitution and disease occasioned by the numerous evictions which are taking place, the Commissioners desire to refer you to their letter of the 15th instant, and to state that they await the receipt of your special report on this subject. The Commissioners do not think it necessary to trouble you at present, to forward copies of the sheets of the return of evictions which you are preparing, but they think that the whole return, when completed, may be advantageously annexed to your report on the evictions, and forwarded as an Appendix to it.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 16, 1848.

WITH reference to your letter of the 14th April, I have the honour to state that the collection of the second instalment of the current rate was not intended to be delayed beyond the time the rate-collectors would be necessarily occupied in taking the measures ordered against defaulters. I assisted the Vice-Guardians, and gave suitable orders in every individual case; and I have no doubt the collectors will carry them out energetically.

With reference to the new rate, the Vice-Guardians request me to say they have deferred communicating with the Commissioners till they can form the most correct estimate. In the mean time, every measure has been taken to expedite the revision, without which nothing can be done. I will have all possible details completed concurrently with the revision.

I will arrange with the Guardians and name a day for the completion of the collection of the second instalment of current rate.

The number of evictions and remodelling of farms and holdings in this Union, since November last, probably exceed that of any Union in Ireland.

Kilrush Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the COLONIAL LANDS and EMIGRATION COMMISSIONERS:—
April 21, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit for your consideration the enclosed correspondence relating to a proposal made by Mr. Joly, a landed proprietor in Kilrush Union, to avail himself of the provision of the 13th section of the Act 10 Vic. cap. 31, by aiding a certain number of orphans on his property to emigrate; and I am to request your early attention to the subject, as you will perceive by the accompanying papers that the vessel in which it is proposed to send the emigrants, will sail from Limerick on the 18th instant.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain KENNEDY:—April 17, 1848.

ADVERTING to your communication of the 2nd instant, relative to the proposed emigration of certain occupiers on the estate of Mr. Joly, a landed proprietor in Kilrush Union, I am directed by the Commissioners to inform you that they have communicated on the subject with the Colonial Land and Emigration Commissioners, and I am to forward to you a copy of their approval of the emigration of the parties in question.

ENCLOSURE referred to.

Messrs. MURDOCK and WOOD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 14, 1848.

WE have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, enclosing a list of persons whom it is proposed to assist to emigrate to North America, under the provisions of the Act 10 Vic. cap. 31; attached to this list is a correspondence on the subject of these people, and a certificate from the Poor Law Inspector of the district of Kilrush; that he has examined the proposed emigrants; that the whole of the adults, without an exception, are unusually healthy and hardy and the children very promising.

Under these circumstances, and in exercise of the authority conveyed to us for that purpose by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, we have to express to you our approval of the emigration of the persons to whom your letter refers.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 16, 1848.

THE Vice-Guardians having changed their day of meeting from Wednesday to Saturday in each week, I attended yesterday for the first time. The relieving officers have hitherto been obliged to attend two days a-week, and by a recent arrangement I hope they may be able to finish their business with the clerk and Vice-Guardians on the Board-day, and thus give them more time in their districts. Many of them reside 16 miles from the workhouse, and the hardship and loss of time attendant upon two journeys each week was very great.

I have but little to communicate in addition to my report of the 13th instant; I will for the future report weekly after the Saturday's meeting.

The pressure and number of applicants for relief is still very great. There were fully 200 applicants, the greater portion of whom were very miserable and destitute. There were but 30 vacancies in the house, and the Vice-Guardians were of course obliged to give out-door relief.

In the week ending 8th April, the number of "cases" receiving out-door relief numbered 4594, making a total of 14,292 souls, at a cost of 296*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* for the week.

There has been considerable increase in the week ending the 15th instant; I do not anticipate the numbers will stop short of 18,000 before August. This will be understood from what I have hitherto stated of the utter absence of employment, and the large number evicted and houseless.

Disease, I regret to say, keeps pace with destitution; overcrowded cabins, the result of the numerous evictions, generates disease rapidly. I am unceasingly occupied in relieving and endeavouring to remedy this evil.

The thriftless improvidence, imprudence, and low social condition of the people are my greatest obstacles; numbers come to the workhouse of a Board-day suffering from the pangs of hunger, and their miserable children starved beyond recovery, who have never before applied for relief and seem astonished when they get it.

There are no residents who can give the most trifling assistance either in food, money, advice, or example. A reverend gentleman, who has in the most praiseworthy and persevering manner established seven schools in his parish, could obtain but 10% private subscription in a district containing 36,000 acres.

I enclose a report from the medical officer of the workhouse and coincide in his views generally, and can bear witness to the truth of his statements. I may observe that he does not intend to convey the idea that the workhouse is unduly or overcrowded. I myself visit the sick with and without him, both in the infirmary and fever hospital. I go at all times and at all hours, and I believe more cannot be done for the wretched sufferers. That they have ample food, every necessary, comfort, cleanliness, and ventilation, I myself see, and the medical officer is seldom an hour absent from the house and hospital.

Many are brought in merely with the view of procuring coffins.

I think the appointment of medical officer for Moyarta, Killard, and Kilmurry division, which the Commissioners have under consideration, will remedy the evil to some extent, as from those localities we receive the greatest number and worst cases; the mortality, I am concerned to say, amounted to 65 for the week ending the 15th instant.

Two of the relieving officers are in fever, and the workhouse chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Kenny, is, I grieve, stricken down in fever, contracted in the execution of his arduous duties.

Though he is in a most precarious state, I hope for the best, as his death at this period would be a public calamity.

His untiring and successful efforts in the cause of suffering humanity cannot be overrated and are beyond all praise.

One of our best rate-collectors is about to resign his office; alleged ill-health is the reason. Two more of them have been seriously ill and able to do but little.

The Vice-Guardians are taking active measures against defaulters and preparing for a new rate. Having made his letter the subject of a separate communication, renders further detail unnecessary.

The Vice-Guardians are losing no time in organizing an efficient labour test throughout the Union. As a general rule, I have recommended bread (barley or rye) rations to the able-bodied class. It can be baked at Kilrush and delivered at little cost in the various localities. I think the Vice-Guardians entirely coincide with me in details which will be laid before the Commissioners. The system pursued at Ballina will be our principal guide with some alterations; the duties of the Vice-Guardians are very arduous. Good potatoes were sold yesterday from 6d. to 7d. a stone.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. O'DONNELL to Captain KENNEDY:—April 15, 1848.

IN a former report I expressed my fears for the effects of this and the last month on the feeble and debilitated inmates of the house, as well as on those labouring under rectoral affections.

Many of the very young and very old in the dysentery wards died within the last week. This is very easily accounted for, as they come in so broken down and emaciated, that all I can do in many instances is to prolong their existence by such nourishment as the nature of their cases require.

The extensive destitution in this district and its concomitants of filth and despondency of mind, predisposes its victim to disease, and renders them an easier prey to its effect, and as this cannot be altogether remedied we must still expect to have our wards crowded with bad cases of dysentery and fever. The spread of the latter through the house for the last fortnight has, as I have already explained, been attributable to a predisposition of the inmates for disease and the crowded state of the house.

Almost all of those coming in are suffering from dysentery; many in its chronic stage, which usually, even under better circumstances, in the end is fatal.

It is a common belief that continued fever, &c., may be generated by the effluvia constantly proceeding from the human body, even when healthy, if this effluvia be accumulated and condensed. It will be more likely to do so when some of them are labouring under diarrhoea, &c.; at all events a contaminated atmosphere is prejudicial to health, though it does not, I think, generate fever, still fever and dysentery spread rapidly under such circumstances.

I offer the latter remarks with the following views:—If possible to separate disease of all kinds from the house, and when that would be accomplished, not to allow one with the semblance of disease into it.

Kilrush Union.

To effect this the infirmary department should be removed elsewhere, and a house taken with such accommodation as would enable you to meet this arrangement.

Since the relieving officer discontinued to give coffins, many on out-door relief came back to the house: when ill, even portions of families had to be admitted lest they might die on the road; on yesterday many had to be refused under such circumstances.

The extent and destitution of this Union, without a single useful medical institution, except the Kilrush Fever Hospital, (and that, from its limited accommodation, state of its funds, and the class of patients generally applying there, can be of very little use,) will convert the work-house into an hospital, until some means are taken for the better establishment of medical charities.

I need not add that the epidemic diseases of this country are a frightful source of pauperism.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 20, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had before them your report dated the 16th instant relative to Kilrush Union.

The Commissioners have read with much concern your statement of the increase of destitution and disease in the Union, and they rely upon the continuance of your co-operation with the Vice-Guardians in providing for the relief of destitution in the fullest extent that the necessity of the case requires, for which purpose the Vice-Guardians are by law invested with ample powers.

The suggestions of the medical officer for removal of all the sick from the work-house to a separate building appear to be deserving the serious attention of the Vice-Guardians, and the Commissioners request you will bring the subject specially under their notice. The very large and increasing rate of mortality, although fully accounted for by the medical officer's report, demands that no means should be left untried for checking the spread of disease.

Captain KENNEDY to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 7, 1848.

I ATTENDED the weekly meeting of the Vice-Guardians yesterday, and though the amount of routine and miscellaneous business to be got through, was very considerable, the pressure from without was by no means as great as it has been on admission days lately. I attribute this decrease in the demand for out-door relief, to the test which all coming under the 2nd section of the Act have been subjected to. One example will suffice:—On the 24th of April 171 men were put to stone-breaking in Kilrush division, on the 3rd May, there remained but 97, on the same day (24th April) 36 were put to break stones in Killima Division, on the 3rd May but 21 remained. I may remark that the amount of labour required of them was very reasonable, and in some cases, for want of a sufficient supply of implements, merely nominal.

There is now ample employment on the workhouse land, cropping it, affording regular daily labour, and the certainty of its continuing for some time; with this prospect in view, 50 persons discharged themselves from the workhouse on the 2nd May, principally single persons of the able-bodied class. With these facts in view, I will not fail to press upon the Vice-Guardians, the expediency of adopting this test to able-bodied, in every practicable instance. I expect the sale of the broken stone will more than cover the cost of superintendence, as offers for their purchase have been made by road contractors, and in some instances for drainage purposes. The staff to superintend this out-door labour is of course only temporary, and there is very great difficulty in finding trustworthy persons to carry it out, and disburse the relief. The low standard of morals among this class, is very lamentable, those who are considered strictly honest in their private dealings, are too frequently unscrupulous, and untrustworthy, where public labour or funds; are placed under their control. Even the higher class of ratepayers are indisposed or afraid to expose abuse and fraud, which the most unremitting attention of public officers can hardly detect without their assistance. The simple fact is, that the great mass do not consider it any crime or shame to obtain relief by fraudulent means, and their betters are afraid to expose them. Though the relief list (in and out-of doors) now comprises nearly a fourth of the population, still the destitution is great in amount, and fearful in character. The latter cannot be remedied by law, the evils and causes are social; some of these sufferers have no idea or instinct, beyond planting potatoes and digging them up when they are hungry. The following cases which occurred this week, may give some idea of their lamentable want of providence:—John M'Donnell, aged 35, able-bodied; Nance M'Donnell (wife), 36; Pat (born in the workhouse), three weeks, left the workhouse of their own accord, they remained out about 14 days; they were sent in again by the relieving officer, on Saturday 29th April, and all three were dead by the following Monday, 1st May, and I have no doubt died of starvation.

Michael O'Neill, aged 13, was sent in by the relieving officer, his parents had died while in receipt of out-door relief; he came in on the 4th May, and died the following day. Such a mass of filth I never beheld; he was so thickly studded with vermin, that he had the appearance of having been peppered.

As a contrast to the improvidence of these I have mentioned, I may notice the case of an old woman 80 years of age, Ellen Flaherty, who came in a day or two since (conveyed in a donkey cart), evidently in the very last stage of mortality, and dying. In reply to my questions she stated that she was in receipt of out-door relief, but "feeling she was near her last," and knowing that her friends had no means to bury her, she had come into the workhouse for a coffin.

I am in daily expectation of the appointment of two medical officers by the Board of Health.

These gentlemen will have the charge of the two worst districts in the Union, and will, I hope be the means of decreasing the number of hopeless cases which we receive into the infirmary and fever hospital at present. I enclose an abstract from the medical officer's report, by which it will appear that there are 542 under medical treatment. This embarrassing and objectionable state of things must continue till there are more efficient medical charities, and adequate hospital accommodation provided in the district. In the whole of the district bounded by Ennismore to the north, Killofin to the south, Ennis to the east, and Loop Head to the west, there is but one hospital for 40 patients, viz., the county hospital at Kilrush.

This establishment should be put on a better footing, and accommodation provided for 200 patients at least. The whole habits and the dwellings of the poor in this district, must be radically changed, before the eradication of fever can be looked for. Motives of self preservation would rectify this, were there any resident gentry, but there is a sad scarcity of them. It will be observed that the number of deaths this week have decreased to 34. I never miss an opportunity of visiting the hospital and inquiring of the patients. They are supplied with every requisite. The hospital is kept scrupulously clean and well ventilated; and the medical officer is unremitting in attention.

I hope for a decrease in the numbers receiving out-relief, when turf-cutting (an important branch of trade and export) commences. I watch every opportunity of revising and curtailing the lists of those receiving out-door relief, as I think it a matter of the last importance to prevent them acquiring any idea of its permanency. The Vice-Guardians are very industrious, and have effected a marked improvement in every branch of the Union management, when they have leisure from more pressing business.

I am desirous they should turn their serious attention to some industrial training for the children, without which they will be a permanent charge to the country in some shape; and the number of orphans in this district is daily increasing. I have been considering the feasibility of a joint school, between Ennistymon and Kilrush Unions, being established at Miltown Malbay, where I think suitable premises could be had.

The collection last week amounted to 164*l.*, a number of decrees were obtained at the quarter sessions this week against defaulters, which I have no doubt will have a good effect, as it is the first time that mode of enforcing payment has been resorted to in this Union, except in an individual case. The Vice-Guardians are stimulating the collectors, and have decided upon proceeding against the most dilatory.

I have handed over 500*l.*, a grant from the British Relief Association, which, added to an advance I expect ere many days from the treasurer, will relieve the Guardians from various embarrassments.

The number of the out-door relief, for week ending 29th April, was 6021

Kilrush Union.

cases, having 1593 dependent upon them, making a total of 17,614 souls, at a weekly cost of 418*l*.

The number in the house on yesterday was 1288, of this number 139 were in the fever wards.

I need only add, that my inclination as well as my duty lead me to adopt means to carry out the Commissioners' instructions to relieve suffering and save life.

ENCLOSURE.

Medical Report for the week ending Saturday May 6, 1848.

Number in infirmary by last report	254
Admitted during the week	68
	322
Discharged	22
Sent to fever wards	12
Died	22
	56
	266
Number in infirmary this day	167
Number in fever hospital by last report	63
Admitted during the week	63
	230
Discharged cured	79
Died	12
	91
Men	44
Women	76
Boys	13
Girls	6
Total in fever wards this day	139
In girls' dysentery ward (Daly's house)	38
In girls' skin disease ward ditto	31
In boys' skin disease ward (infirmary)	54
In male old and infirm ward	6
In female ditto ditto	8
Total under medical treatment this day	542
Total number of deaths during the week	34

Infirmary, May 6, 1848.

THOS. B. O'DONNELL.

REPLY to the foregoing :—May 12, 1848.

In reference to your observations as to the difficulty of obtaining trustworthy persons to superintend the out-door labour, in consequence of the low standard of morals among the class from which the superintendents are obtained, and the indisposition among the ratepayers to expose abuse and fraud, the Commissioners desire to state, that however much this state of things is to be regretted, they can only recommend you and the Vice-Guardians to endeavour to counteract it by the establishment of efficient checks, and by exercising as close and rigorous a control, as the circumstances of the case, and your time will admit. It appears to be of the utmost importance that you should lose no opportunity of exposing, and if possible punishing any cases of abuse and fraud that may come to your knowledge. The Commissioners would be glad to receive from you the particulars of any specific cases of the kind which may come before you. The destitution of the Union in a medical point of view, has, as you are aware, been already brought under the notice of the Commissioners, and they have communicated with the Central Board of Health on the subject, and the result is that two medical officers are about to be sent down by that Board for the purpose of affording dispensary relief in two of the most distressed districts of the Union.

Your suggestion that the county fever hospital should be put on a better footing, and accommodation provided for at least 200 patients, is not one that falls within the province of the Commissioners, but the Vice-Guardians have ample powers for providing medical relief, independently of the county fever hospital.

A fever hospital might be procured under a requisition from the Board of Health, or the Board of Guardians, ought under the authority of the 16th section of the Irish Poor Law Amendment Act, to hire a house or houses, in any part of the Union for the reception and medical treatment of poor persons affected with fever or other contagious disease.

If further out-door medical aid is required, a further representation should be made to the Commissioners and a specific recommendation made to them. They would then be prepared to direct the appointment of a medical officer, or medical officers, under the 5th section of the Irish Relief Extension Act, or to take such other steps as might appear to be required. Meantime, however, the Commissioners cannot but regard the large number of sick (542) under the charge of one medical officer, unaided by an apothecary, as highly unsatisfactory. The Commissioners do not doubt that Dr. O'Donnell uses every exertion to discharge the heavy duties which devolves upon him in a satisfactory manner, but with so large a number of sick in the workhouse, it appears to be of the very highest importance that the appointment of a competent resident apothecary, which has already been agreed to should be made at the earliest practicable period.

The Commissioners highly approve of your suggestion, that some industrial training should be established for the children in the workhouse, but in regard to the proposed joint school for the Unions of Kilrush and Ennistymon, the Commissioners believe that in the present state of the law, the establishment of such a school would not be practicable, but it is possible that a proposition for the alteration of the law on this point may be submitted to Parliament during the present session.

THURLES UNION.

Mr. LABARTE, Temporary Poor Law Inspector, to the COMMISSIONERS :—
February 5, 1848.

I BEG to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that, pursuant to directions, I arrived here on the 3rd instant, and having learned that a meeting of the Board of Guardians would be held upon the following day, I thought it my duty (although I have not yet received the official instrument of my appointment as Temporary Inspector) to attend at the poorhouse. The business transacted was confined to the election of a temporary relieving officer for the Thurles district, to act until a fit person should be elected, as directed by the general order of the Commissioners. The Board also examined the relieving officers' weekly receipt and expenditure books, for which purpose the Guardians now meet upon Friday in each week, the ordinary meeting of the Board being on Tuesdays. From the inquiries I have been enabled to make, I regret to say, that the number of able-bodied poor receiving out-door relief under the sealed order of the Commissioners, is increasing every week; and that in no instance has any test of destitution (in the shape of labour in return for relief) been as yet applied. I mean to bring the subject before the Board at the next meeting on Tuesday, and will communicate the result in my next report to the Commissioners.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 9, 1848.

I BEG to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that on Monday the 7th instant I carefully inspected every portion of the Union workhouse; and considering the number of the inmates, and the unfavourable state of the day upon which I examined it, I found it as well managed in respect to internal order and cleanliness as I could possibly expect. Originally intended to contain 700 paupers, the number at present on the books receiving in-door relief amounts to about 960; still I am inclined to think that by proper arrangements on the part of the Board of Guardians, the workhouse in its present state could be made to contain a still larger number without inconvenient or dangerous consequences to its present inmates. I am aware, however, that in this opinion the medical officer does not coincide. At present the house is very healthy and free from contagious fever; and although so many as 80 cases are now under medical superintendence, most of them are caused by the prevailing influenza, and none of them can be considered as dangerous to life. The Board of Guardians having recently contracted to rent as an auxiliary workhouse, a building (the property of one of the Board) at some little distance from the present house, it is now being put into a state of repair, and added to, and when finished will accommodate about 300 paupers. In the present unfavourable weather, the workmen are unable to carry on their labours; and I fear it will be some time before the entire building can be made applicable to the purposes for which it is intended. This arrangement having been concluded before I entered on my duties here, it is perhaps out of my province to advert to it, particularly as I presume it has received the sanction of the Commissioners; still I cannot help stating, that in my opinion the arrangement was a very improvident one on the part of the Board, acting on behalf of the ratepayers as trustees of the public money.

At present the original portion of this auxiliary workhouse is occupied at night by about 100 of the boys under 15 years of age, who are removed there every evening and return again in the morning. It appears to me that when this building shall be in a fit state to receive the entire number for which it is intended, it would be very advisable to remove the schools from the present house altogether; and arrange that the pauper children of both sexes should, under proper control, occupy the auxiliary house for all purposes (excepting meals, as it is sufficiently near the present house to do so without much inconvenience to the workhouse officers. This arrangement would afford a considerable increase of room for able-bodied paupers, as the dormitories now occupied by the children (as also the schoolrooms) could be then applied to that purpose; but it will of course depend upon the time at which the new building shall be in a fit state to receive all the children, who are now obliged to attend the schools. With respect to the three classes of paupers contemplated by the 1st section of 10th Vic., cap. 31, the Board of Guardians in this Union has abandoned the system (at first adopted) of giving out-door relief in money; and there are very many paupers now in the house belonging to one or other of those classes. The removal of these parties, or at least such of them as are not utterly disabled by old age or sickness, would also considerably increase the space which would be then applicable for the use of the able-bodied poor.

Having thus stated my opinion as to the present state of the house, and the means of providing increased accommodation for able-bodied paupers, I now proceed to detail the result of my attendance at the ordinary meeting of the Guardians held yesterday, at which I took an early opportunity of bringing under the notice of the Board the great amount (now weekly increasing) of out-door relief, given without check or control to more than 16,000 destitute poor (being equal to two-thirds of the numbers relieved under the Temporary Relief Act, at the worst period of the last year), and the absolute necessity that existed of endeavouring to stay the evil, by the immediate adoption of the test directed by the Commissioners; as being in fact the condition upon which the sealed order was issued, enabling the Guardians to grant relief under the 2nd section of the Act of Parliament. Various objections were urged by different members of the Board; and most of the Guardians then present, while they admitted the extent of the evil, and the absolute necessity of having some test by which to distinguish real from assumed or apparent destitution, were still very much opposed to the adoption of the test of stone-breaking, as directed by the Commissioners; and all of them advocated the application of pauper labour, in some shape or other, to the cultivation of the land. Amongst other views put forward at the Board, Mr. Lanigan, the chairman, read a statement and calculations prepared by himself, pointing out the disadvantages which, in his opinion, must follow from the adoption of the test of stone-breaking; but as the Guardians had been previously in correspondence with the Commissioners on this subject, and had not succeeded in inducing the latter to sanction any other plan or test as the condition upon which such relief should be given, I felt it my duty to impress upon the Guardians the obvious impolicy of further delay; and that it would only be a waste of time to argue the matter at greater length without the least prospect of success upon their parts; and with that view I read such portions of the circular addressed to their clerk, as detail the objections entertained by the Commissioners to any other than the proposed test; and also the suggestions offered by the Commissioners for carrying their own views into effect with the least possible delay. I also urged upon the Board, that as the sealed order would expire in a month, it might possibly be a question, if the Commissioners would consent to renew the order, unless the Board evinced a corresponding inclination to meet their views, and carry out their directions to the fullest extent. After a considerable discussion, I am happy to inform you, that a resolution (although containing a protest against the test) passed the Board without any amendment being moved; and the Guardians are now pledged to adopt the test without further delay; and with that view they have appointed next Tuesday for the selection of a sufficient number of superintendents in all the electoral divisions, and for adopting other measures towards carrying out the views of the Commissioners to the fullest extent required by them.

I am happy to say the finances of the Union are improving, and the majority of the collectors appear to be using every practicable exertion in order to collect the rates; still there is a very large sum due for arrears, and many of the Guardians are themselves in arrear. But I mean to urge on the collectors, by every means, to a performance of their duties; and trust that the next few weeks will exhibit a still further improvement in this department. I am sorry to observe that there is at present no employment for labour, though this may in some measure be ascribed to the unfavourable state of the weather for field cultivation.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LABARTE:—February 17, 1848.

I AM to express the satisfaction of the Commissioners with the result of your exertions to induce the Guardians to adopt the labour test.

Thurles Union.

The Commissioners feel confident that if fairly carried out, it will be attended with success, and will economize the expenditure.

I am at the same time to request that you will be so good as to send an estimate of the implements required by the Guardians, and which can be furnished from the depôts of the Board of Works.

The Commissioners concur entirely in your views, regarding the means of making further room in the workhouse for the able-bodied; and for this purpose they think that allowances, partly at least in money, might be made with advantage to parties relievable out of the workhouse under section 1.

MR. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 16, 1848.

SINCE the date of my report of the 9th instant, I have again partially inspected the interior of the workhouse; and my visit being unexpected, I am sorry to say I did not find the house managed in quite so satisfactory a manner, or so much in conformity with the general orders of the Commissioners, as upon my previous inspection I conceived it to be. The great defects in the management of the house appear to be, a general want of system on the part of the master, and a want of efficient control on the part of the Guardians. It is true there is a Visiting Committee, but it is a Committee only in name; for I cannot find (upon inquiry) that the members ever inspect the house, or exercise any real restraint upon the conduct of the officers. The natural consequences have followed; and the workhouse officers feeling themselves in some measure released from the fear of being held responsible for any deviations from the general orders, conceived themselves justified in acting upon their own judgments, or in accordance with their own inclinations, and thus a want of systematical arrangement in the management of the house has been permitted to take place. This must not be allowed to continue; and my constant care and attention will be devoted to the introduction of a better system in strict conformity with the general orders of the Commissioners. I yesterday brought this matter very fully before the Board. The Guardians appear to be quite aware of the necessity of exercising a strict control over all their officers; and if they will only give me an effectual support, and the assistance of an active House Committee, I hope in a very short time to be able to report more favourably as to the management of the interior of the house.

The number of paupers in the house continues to increase, and now amounts to upwards of 1000 souls; nevertheless the house continues in a very healthy state, and the report of the medical officer is exceedingly favourable; only one case of death occurred during last week. The number of patients in the infirmary is less than during the preceding week, and the house is quite free from fever or epidemical disease of any sort.

With respect to out-door relief to the able-bodied, I regret to find that the relieving officers' weekly returns continue to exhibit an increasing number of applications; and this I fear will continue to be the case until the labour test, as adopted by the Board of Guardians, shall be equally and stringently applied throughout the Union. The number now receiving out-door relief amounts (in round numbers) to about 17,500. This subject was again fully discussed by the Guardians at the meeting of the Board held upon yesterday; but from the evident disinclination of some of the members, and from the number of difficulties that really surround the subject, I fear it will be some time before the labour test can be brought into complete operation in every part of the Union; still some progress has been made, superintendents were selected upon the recommendation of the local Guardians, in some of the electoral divisions, in proportion to the number of able-bodied male paupers now receiving relief; and the parties so selected, were directed to be in attendance at the Board-room upon Friday next to receive their instructions. I expect that in those electoral divisions the system will be in operation in the course of the next week; and I have no doubt that its advantages as a test of real destitution will be then fully admitted, even by those who are now opposed to its adoption.

The finances of the Union continue to receive my particular attention, and although the amount of rates which remains uncollected is still very great (about 12,000*l.*), the receipts during the past week, are on the whole satisfactory; the amount lodged with the treasurer is about 660*l.*; and the balance in his hands is now about 1100*l*. One-third of the entire rate and arrears has been paid in to the credit of the Union; and I have impressed upon the collectors the necessity of increased exertions upon their parts. The Union (as I am informed) is quite free from debts of any sort.

Thurles Union.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 21, 1848.

I AM to express to you the satisfaction of the Commissioners with your report of the healthy state of the workhouse, and a hope that your exertions to improve the interior management of the house will be attended with success. I am at the same time to forward to you the accompanying return, furnished to the Commissioners by the clerk of the Thurles Union, of the names of the four highest ratepayers in each electoral division, and the amount of poor-rate due by each, from which it appears that the total sum of 1354*l*., is due by persons coming within that denomination, amongst whom are to be found no fewer than 13 members of the Board of Guardians. The last rate was made on the 19th and 26th of October last, and amounting in the whole, to 19,014*l*.; of this sum 1035*l*. was collected in the month of November, 1672*l*. in December, and 2510*l*. in January, making a total of 5217*l*. collected to the end of the last-mentioned month, and leaving the sum of 13,797*l*., or nearly three-fourths of the entire amount, then outstanding. This backward state of the collection in the Thurles Union, after the lapse of three months, and those months comprising as they did, the season of the year best suited for the purpose of collecting rate, must be in a great measure attributed to the example of default set to the ratepayers by so large a number of the members of the Board of Guardians, who were strongly but ineffectually urged by the Commissioners, in their letter of the 10th ultimo, to discharge their liabilities to the Union.

The Commissioners request that you will bestow your particular attention upon the state of the collection in this Union, and that you will endeavour by all means in your power to secure the payment of rate by every party who is really able to pay, without permitting any unnecessary delay to take place.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 23, 1848.

IN that part of my report of the 16th instant, which had reference to the discipline and management of the workhouse, I stated that many of the evils of which I complained, were mainly owing to the want of an efficient Visiting Committee; and the more frequently I have since visited the house, the more I am convinced, that without the assistance and active superintendence of such a Committee, it will be useless to attempt, and impossible to effect, such changes as appear to be both desirable and necessary, in order to render its discipline in some degree conformable to the regulations of the Commissioners.

In its present state the house is in my opinion, both in respect to its outward appearance, and its interior arrangements, in a very defective condition. The former may possibly have arisen from the want of the necessary funds to put the house into a more complete state, for at present it has a very unfinished appearance; the boundary walls have never been completed, and consequently access to this town is much too easily attainable: and even in some parts, where the walls of the yards have been raised to their full height, they are in my opinion still too low; and in fact (as I am informed), the paupers frequently scale them. In the interior the classification appears to be very defective; but whether this arises from the want of sufficient accommodation to provide for the great increase in the number of the inmates over the amount for which the house was originally intended (viz., 700), or from neglect on the part of the officers, I cannot determine. Some of the wards appear to me insufficiently provided with bedding for the number of persons they contain, while in others it is exactly the reverse. The hours of breakfast and dinner have been uncertain, and too often made to depend upon the regularity of the contractors, or the convenience of the master; but this latter subject of complaint I have already in some manner, though not altogether, rectified; and the blameable parties appear now to be fully alive to the necessity of a more strict and regular performance of their several duties. Still very much remains to be effected both as to the minor details and general management of the house. I therefore felt it my duty to bring the subject again before the Guardians at their ordinary meeting yesterday, and a Committee (of seven members) was then appointed to inspect the house at least once in each week, and to assist me in carrying out such improvements as, upon consideration, shall appear to be necessary; how far I may be enabled, through the instrumentality of the Committee, to effect any permanent changes for the better, or how far the members now nominated will really devote their time to the duties they have undertaken, remains to be seen; but it shall not be my fault if this Committee does not effect some reformatations in the management of the house. The house continues in a very healthy state; although now containing 1048 paupers on the roll, it is still free from fever or other contagious disease.

Thames Union.

With respect to out-door relief, I regret to observe that the relieving officers' books continue to exhibit an increase, though not a very large one, in the number of applications. There are now about 17,700 names upon their lists; and the cost of relief for the past week appears to have been about 390*l*. The test has not yet been brought into operation for want of the necessary implements for the men, and also because some of the minor arrangement required to be completed, such as printing labour lists, forms, &c. With respect to the tools, I hope to forward by this day's post a schedule of such implements as appear to the Board of Guardians, sufficient for the number of labourers likely to be employed; and when these shall have been supplied, the test will be put into operation without further delay. For the purpose of checking the labour lists, and preventing imposition on the part of either relieving officers, overseers, or labourers, the Guardians have adopted (with some trifling alterations) such of the forms used by the Ballina Board of Vice-Guardians, as appeared to be applicable to the object in view.

In regard to the collection of rates, I took occasion yesterday to impress upon the Guardians the necessity of compelling the collectors to perform their duties more impartially and effectively; and I called their attention to the fact, that so many of the Guardians were themselves defaulters to a large amount. I cannot say that my observations were particularly well received; and the reading of the list of the four highest defaulters in each electoral division, was not permitted to take place without a division finally, however, a resolution was passed confirming a previous one, that the collectors should be required to furnish such a list to the Board every week; and should also collect within the same period not less than 10 per cent. of the amount contained in their several warrants. I have again urged upon the collectors the necessity of making increased and strenuous exertions to collect as much as possible of the outstanding rates; and I shall continue to give my particular attention to this part of my duty. The amount already collected and lodged with the treasurer, is something over 7300*l*., or nearly two-fifths of the entire rate; and the balance now in his hands amounts to over 1700*l*. The weekly expenditure for relief (in-door and out-door) amounted to considerably less than 500*l*.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 1, 1848.

SINCE the date of my last report of the 23rd ultimo, I have been prevented by severe indisposition (which I felt it my duty to apprise you of by letter of the 27th ultimo) from making my usual inspection of the workhouse; neither was I able to attend at the meeting of the Guardians yesterday, as I fully intended to do. The Visiting Committee recently appointed to assist me in carrying out the general orders of the Commissioners met by appointment upon Friday last; but as I was not then in attendance, the members (for what reason I am unable to conjecture) did not conceive it necessary to examine the house in my absence. However, as the Committee will meet again on Friday next, and as I am sufficiently recovered to resume my duties, I hope to be in attendance at the workhouse on that day.

I have now to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that the general health of the inmates of the house continues to be very satisfactory, although the number of admissions during the past week exhibits a small increase over the previous one.

According to the master's report there are now 1053 paupers in the house, being fully one-third more than it was originally intended to contain. The expenses of the house amounted to 88*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.*, or 1*s.* 7½*d.* per head. The number now in hospital amounts to 68, and the deaths during the week have been seven. There is no fever in the house.

In respect to the numbers receiving out-door relief, I find, from the Application and Report Books of the several relieving officers, they still continue to exhibit a gradual increase, and there are now 17,800 souls relieved at a cost of 391*l.* 4*s.*, or 5*d.* per head.

That there has been no decrease in the number of paupers receiving out-door relief is to be ascribed to the fact that no test of actual destitution has been yet applied, as I fully expected would have been the case. This omission has arisen solely from the want of the necessary implements for labour, a schedule of which (specifying the quantity and descriptions required) I transmitted to Dublin on the 23rd ultimo, as directed by your letter of the 19th ultimo; but no order, as far as I am informed, has yet been sent to the party having the charge of the implements, to hand them over to the Board of Guardians for the use of the Union. This delay is of serious moment, for until the labour test be fairly applied, it will be impossible for the relieving officers, however willing they may be, from the extent of their districts and from the number of the applicants for relief, properly to investigate each separate case as it happens to come before them; and I have no doubt but that hundreds (I might almost say thousands), particularly in and about this town, are now in the receipt of out-door relief who have some available means of support, and ought not to be fed at the expense of the Union.

The amount of the poor-rates lodged by the collectors to the credit of the Union during the past week exhibits a trifling decrease as compared with the previous week, and is not as satisfactory as I anticipated in my last report that it would be.

The collectors have many obstacles to contend with, apart from the general unwillingness of the small farmers to pay their rates. Many of the Guardians are themselves in arrear for small sums; and although exceedingly sensitive when their names are read out at the Board as defaulters, yet they seldom hesitate, even when complaining of the severity of the tax, to increase the burdens of the Union, and vote away its funds for any purpose whatever, and will sometimes excuse a collector for remissness of duty when it happens to occur in their own immediate neighbourhoods. The amount lodged during the week was 627*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.*, leaving 11,064*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.* of the rate still uncollected. The balance in the treasurer's hands is 1063*l.*

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 10, 1848.

WITH reference to your observations with respect to the obstacles which you state that the collectors of poor-rate in the Union have to contend with in the discharge of their duty, I am to state that they should be urged to distrain under their own warrants, or to take proceedings by way of six days' notice, or summons. The former course the Commissioners have reason to think the most effectual.

I am at the same time to state that the Commissioners have written to the Board of Works, calling their attention to the Commissioners' letters of the 29th ultimo and 3rd instant, and requesting the transmission of an order to you, with as little delay as possible, for the implements required for the employment out of doors of the able-bodied poor in the Thurles Union.

MR. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 6, 1848.

ADVERTING to circular of the 2nd of March, and the proposed determination or suspension on the 18th of this month of all orders under the 2nd section of the Poor Law Extension Act authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men, I beg to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that in the present condition of the labouring poor in this Union I do not think it would be safe or advisable to bring the existing system of relief to so abrupt a termination.

Thurles Union.

My objections resolve themselves into three heads:—

- 1st. The amount of destitution that really exists :
- 2ndly. The general want of employment throughout the entire Union : and,
- 3rdly. The non-application as yet of any labour-test by which to discriminate between real and assumed destitution.

That there are many and obvious evils attending the present system of out-door relief is true, and that considerable exaggeration now prevails as to the amount of destitution is also true ; nevertheless, making every allowance for abuses and exaggerated statements, the poverty really existing in almost every part of this Union, and more especially in and about the different towns and villages, is unquestionably great, and but too apparent ; and in my opinion neither increased admissions to the workhouse, nor the relief authorized under the 1st section of the Act of Parliament, are in themselves sufficient to afford efficient remedies for such a state of things. I, therefore, think the cessation of relief under the 2nd section should be very cautiously and gradually effected.

At present there is scarcely any employment for agricultural purposes in this part of the country. The very unfavourable state of the weather during the months of January and February, and the disinclination or inability of the farmers, partly caused by the pressure of the landlords and the unusual amount of the poor-rate now in course of collection, and partly from the uncertainty that exists as to their future prospects, have all contributed to produce these effects ; for certain it is, the farmers scarcely employ a single labourer that can possibly be spared, but depend almost entirely upon the members of their own families for the preparation of the ground ; consequently that preparation is still in many places in a very backward state, and in all probability the next harvest must necessarily be a late one. Employment to a small extent certainly exists, and I have even heard that it has become a practice among the farmers to remunerate their labourers in food alone ; but it is quite inadequate to provide for the destitution that prevails among the labouring poor. Some employment is also afforded on the works of the Great Southern and Western Railway, which passes through the Union ; and (when given) the wages are very remunerative, and the work is consequently eagerly sought after by the labourers ; but the employment is altogether casual and dependent upon the state of the weather, even in a far greater degree than the cultivation of the land usually is. The works are often suspended for a week at a time, and the men discharged ; and it is, therefore, hardly to be relied upon as a source of employment for the poor.

The labour-test has not been as yet fairly applied in this Union ; and as the out-door relief, sanctioned by the Board of Guardians, has been hitherto given with very little discrimination, it appears to me that it would be very advisable to apply the test before the out-door relief be entirely withdrawn from the able-bodied poor. Nominally the relief lists are revised by the Board of Guardians, but practically the power of giving relief rests with the relieving officers. The cases are not, as they should be, separately considered ; and the proper precautions against imposition, such as visiting the dwellings of the applicants, are, I fear, very seldom taken by the officers : this is more particularly the case in the populous districts of the Union. The relieving officers allege that the districts are too large, and that it is impossible for them to perform the duties required of them by their instructions in a regular and effective manner. Some allowance must also be made for want of experience in carrying out the details of a novel system of relief ; but the real difficulty is the non-application of some efficient test of destitution to enable the relieving officers to discriminate properly between cases of actual and assumed poverty.

On the whole I think it would be advisable to extend for a short time longer the order authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men until the labour-test shall have been fairly tried, which I confidently expect will have the effect of removing from the relief lists every person who is in employment, or who can procure it : and also such persons as have any other means of supporting themselves and their families, such as petty tradesmen and artizans, in the towns ; and that then, as the spring advances and the market for labour gradually expands, the able-bodied males (and most of the able-bodied females also) may be expected to drop off from the lists, and the system of out-door relief be brought to a safe and satisfactory termination.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 11, 1848.

Thurles Union.

THE Commissioners will adopt your views as to the continuance of the order now in force under the 2nd section.

The Commissioners have your subsequent report under serious consideration, in reference to the propriety of dissolving the Board of Guardians, and they think it probable that steps will be taken before the next meeting.

The Commissioners have awaited the return of papers from Mr. Lloyd before they sanctioned the appointment of relieving officers for Thurles district.

They now sanction the appointment so as to avoid further delay.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 8, 1848.

SINCE I last reported on the state of this Union, I attended at the workhouse on the morning of the 4th instant, for the purpose of meeting the members of the Visiting Committee, and making an accurate inspection of the entire establishment. None of the members, however, were then in attendance, nor until a later period of the day, when the ordinary business of the Board, in connexion with out-door relief was brought forward. I hope to have a better attendance on Friday next, and have given notice of my intention to attend on that day for a similar purpose.

On Monday the 6th instant I inspected the house, and devoted some hours to a careful examination of every part of it, and I think I can perceive a gradual change for the better since my first inspection. There is an obvious improvement in the neatness and general appearance of the interior of the house, much less hurry and confusion in the arrangements for the different meals, and far more attention to order and discipline on the part of both the master and matron. The latter in particular seems sensibly alive to the necessity of performing her duties carefully and regularly. Of the master, I am as yet rather unwilling to pronounce a decided opinion; nor have I had any serious grounds of complaint to make against him; but I have seen quite enough to satisfy me that he is deficient in energy, and by no means intelligent, and will require to be taught system and regularity in the discharge of his duties.

With a view to the cessation of out-door relief to the able-bodied poor at no remote period, it appears to me that the interior of the workhouse can be made to accommodate a considerably greater number of paupers than it now contains; and I would therefore propose, with the concurrence of the medical officer, and subject to the sanction of the Commissioners, making the wards originally intended for idiots and lunatics, applicable for the reception of able-bodied male paupers. This would afford additional room for a very considerable number; and as there is not at present a single lunatic, and but one harmless idiot in the house, I do not anticipate any valid objection to the plan proposed. It will be necessary, however, to make some trifling alterations in the building, such as widening the present narrow windows, and otherwise increasing the ventilation, which is now very defective. I also propose altogether to remove the boys' school, and their dormitories, to the auxiliary workhouse in the neighbourhood, which is now in a forward state of preparation. About one-half of the boys now in the house sleep there at present. When all shall have been removed there, they can be brought twice, or if necessary, three times a day to receive their meals at the house, returning again in charge of the schoolmaster. By this plan additional room would be gained; and then by transferring the girls' school to what is now the boys' school-room, the large apartment now used by the former, could be applied to the use of the able-bodied females as a day-room, which is very much required; the room now used for that purpose being altogether too confined, and quite inadequate for the numbers of that class now in the house. By following out these arrangements still further, additional dormitories can be obtained, and the workhouse test be made more extensively available, and this I am satisfied may be done without over-crowding the house or endangering the health of the inmates. At present the house is in a healthy state; and there are no cases of contagious disease upon the medical officer's lists. The cases in hospital are 67, and the deaths during the last week were eight; the number of in-door paupers of all ages being 1062.

Before I close my remarks upon the state of the house, I wish to call the attention of the Commissioners to some facts in connexion with the auxiliary workhouse, which were the subject of discussion at the Board of Guardians yesterday, as will appear upon reference to the minutes of proceedings transmitted by the clerk. From an examination of the minute book, it would appear that in November last the Guardians entered into an agreement with Mr. P. B. Ryan, the vice-chairman of the Board, to rent from him for one year certain, a stand-house on the race course, near the workhouse, for the sum of 100*l.*, as an auxiliary workhouse.

Thurles Union.

As it then stood, the building was in an unfinished state; and with the exception of proximity to the poorhouse, affording, in my opinion, no accommodation at all commensurate with the price to be paid for it. Of the rent of 100*l.*, 50*l.* was actually paid in advance; and at a subsequent period, by a resolution of the Board of Guardians, 40*l.* was voted to Mr. Ryan to complete the buildings, and make the accommodation more extensive. This agreement (at best) was in my judgment injudicious and improvident. This gentlemen has thus received from the representatives of the ratepayers, the sum of 90*l.*, for the permanent improvement of a building, hired by the Guardians for one year only, and which is not yet entirely applicable to the purposes for which it was taken. One-half of the term agreed upon has nearly expired, and some time must elapse before the Union can get the benefit of the arrangement, such as it is. This being the state of facts, a majority of the elected Guardians, at the meeting of the Board held yesterday, did not hesitate at Mr. Ryan's request, to pass another resolution by which the remaining balance of the rent (50*l.*), which will not be due until the expiration of the term in November next, was directed to be paid to him, on the avowed ground of enabling him to pay his poor rate, which has been hitherto in arrear; and also to enable him to qualify, if possible, as a candidate at the ensuing election of Guardians for this Union. By a rule of the Board, a particular day is set apart for the consideration of all matters of finance, on which there is usually a full attendance of members. The rule was broken through on this occasion, no notice of the intended resolution having been given; and the matter was never submitted to the Committee of Finance. When the resolution was brought forward, I felt it my duty to protest against the adoption of a principle, which, if carried out, would enable any ratepayer having an unsettled account with the Board of Guardians, to make his claim a set-off as against the payment of his rates; and although the ex-officio Guardians then present, as also a few of the elected Guardians protested strongly and afterwards voted against this payment of rent in advance, a majority of the Board passed the resolution. Considering the entire transaction, the taking of the house from one of their own body at an exorbitant rent, the advance of one-half of that rent at the time, and the subsequent advance of a sum of money for permanent additions to a building hired for a year only, and now the payment of the remainder of the rent before the expiration of the term, I cannot designate it as being otherwise than a disgraceful and profligate job. Feeling thus strongly, I deem it my duty to call the attention of the Commissioners to the matter; and as by the regulations, the check upon the treasurer cannot be signed by the chairman until the meeting of the Board on the 14th instant, it is still possible for the Commissioners to interfere; and if they think I have taken the proper view of the transaction, they can communicate with the Board of Guardians in reference thereto.

In reference to the out-door relief, I have little to add to my previous reports. There has been a small increase during the week to the very large number of paupers receiving relief, now about 17,940 souls. And I must again repeat, that until some test of real destitution shall have been stringently applied, any diminution in the numbers is scarcely to be hoped for. That the test has not been put into operation, is solely from the want of the necessary implements, for which I have frequently asked, and which I fully expected to get an order for long since. The Guardians, however, passed a resolution yesterday to apply the test without further delay, in whatever way it can best be done under the circumstances. The very great numbers appearing on the out-door relief list for the electoral division of Thurles, must be in part ascribed to the want of a regularly appointed relieving officer for that district, the Commissioners not having as yet sanctioned the recent election by the Guardians. Upon this subject, and the inconvenience attending the want of a responsible relieving officer, I very lately addressed a communication to the Commissioners. To that letter, and also to my answer of the 6th instant to circular No. 219 (of the 2nd March), I beg to refer as to the present state of out-door relief in this Union.

Thurles Union.

The collection of the poor rate during the last week, exhibits a small increase over the amount lodged during the previous week; still it is not by any means as satisfactory as I could wish it to be, and I felt it my duty to express my dissatisfaction, not only to the collectors themselves, but also at the meeting of the Board of Guardians; and a resolution was passed in reference to three of the collectors, which I hope will have a salutary effect in urging them on to a better discharge of their duties.

The amount lodged in the treasurer's hands since the date of my last report is 650*l.* 10*s.* 10*d.*; the entire amount of rate and arrears collected, is 8600*l.*; the amount still to be collected is 10,414*l.*; and the balance in the hands of the treasurer is 1266*l.* This statement is not a very flattering one, and the difficulties in the way of collecting, are more likely to increase than diminish at this period of the year; still as compared with some other Unions in the south of Ireland, the contrast is not unfavourable to Thurles.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LABARTE;—March 20, 1848.

I AM to forward herewith for your information, a copy of a letter which the Commissioners have addressed to the Board of Guardians of the Thurles Union, on the subject of the resolutions passed by the Board on the 7th instant and 14th instant, respectively, relative to the sum of 50*l.* proposed to be given by the Board to Mr. P. B. Ryan, for the rent up to the 1st November, 1848, of the additional building which they have taken from him.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK to the BOARD of GUARDIANS:—
March 20, 1848.

THE Commissioners have observed on the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Thurles Union, on the 7th instant, the resolution directing that a check be given to Mr. P. B. Ryan, for 50*l.* for the rent up to the 1st November, 1848, of the additional building which the Guardians have taken from him, for the purpose of affording increased workhouse accommodation, and in reference thereto, I am directed to state that the Commissioners are informed by Mr. Labarte, Temporary Poor Law Inspector, that the second payment of 50*l.* was asked for by Mr. Ryan, and granted by the Board in advance, for the avowed purpose of enabling Mr. Ryan to pay his poor-rates.

The Commissioners have also received from Mr. George Ryan a copy of a protest, signed by himself and ten other ex officio Guardians, against the proposed payment at this time, of the sum referred to, in the terms of which protest the Commissioners have to express their entire concurrence.

Passing over the improvident and injudicious arrangement made by the Board with Mr. Ryan, in taking from him at the large rent of 100*l.* for a period of twelve months only, a building on which it has become necessary for the Board to expend 40*l.* in permanent improvements, and which, at the expiration of nearly half the time, is not yet available for the use of the Union, it is quite manifest that the second 50*l.* of the rent will not be due to Mr. Ryan until the expiration of the term; and the Commissioners regard the transaction as one of gross and disgraceful partiality on the part of the Board towards its deputy vice-chairman.

Had this payment actually been made, and the check been given to Mr. Ryan in pursuance of the resolution, the Commissioners would have deemed it right to dissolve the Board of Guardians, which would have wholly forfeited all claims to the confidence of the rate-payers; but as the payment is not yet actually made, and there is time for the Board of Guardians to retrieve their error, the Commissioners now request the Guardians, in pursuance of the provisions of the 13th article of the General Regulations, to re-consider the resolutions referred to, and hereby call on them to rescind those resolutions.

Thurles Union.

Mr. GEORGE RYAN to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 16, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to forward to the Poor Law Commissioners copy of a protest which the ex officio Guardians of the Thurles Union have signed expressive of their opinion on a vote of 50*l.* to Mr. P. B. Ryan, on the 7th instant, and which protest was refused to be entered on the minutes by the casting vote of the chairman on the 14th instant.

ENCLOSURE.

WE the undersigned ex officio Guardians of the Thurles Union, hereby protest against the payment of a sum of fifty pounds voted by a majority of the Guardians assembled on the 7th instant, to Mr. P. B. Ryan, for rent which will not fall due till next November, and we request of the Poor Law Commissioners to direct the especial attention of the accountant to this (as we conceive) gross misapplication and illegal disbursement of the funds of the Union.

We trust it is only necessary to lay before the Commissioners the danger of such a precedent; the obvious hardship of compelling the rate-payers to pre-pay (and to one of the Guardians) a rent that will not fall due for eight months; the utter impossibility of carrying on the affairs of the Union if such a wilful waste of its funds be permitted or sanctioned; the fact that Mr. P. B. Ryan, who has obtained this vote is a defaulter of over 60*l.* for poor-rates; the tendency of such an act to force many who are most interested in the welfare of the Union, to retire in disgust; to draw from the Poor Law Commissioners such disapprobation as will for the future effectually put a stop to a similar proceeding.

March 8, 1848.

George Ryan, J.P., D.L.

John Lloyd, J.P.

William Butler, J.P.

James Lenigan, J.P.

John Trant J.P.

Francis O'Brien, J.P.

We the undersigned elected Guardians, concur in the above.

Martin Quinlan.

Joseph Hanly.

R. M. Carden, J.P.

John Craven Carden, Bart., J.P.

D. J. Webb, J.P.

A. Hartford, J.P.

Solomon L. Cambie, J.P.

W. Armstrong, J.P.

Patrick Fogarty.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th instant, forwarding a copy of a protest signed by the ex officio Guardians of the Thurles Union, expressive of their opinion with regard to the granting by the Board of Guardians of a check for 50*l.* to Mr. P. B. Ryan, being the balance of rent which will not become due to him until November next; and I am to convey to you the thanks of the Commissioners for your communication.

I am at the same time to forward to you the accompanying copy of a letter which the Commissioners addressed to the Board of Guardians on the 20th instant, upon this subject.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 15, 1848.

SINCE the date of my last report, the Board of Guardians met on Friday, the 10th, and again upon the 14th instant. On the former occasion I accompanied the members of the Visiting Committee in making an inspection of the workhouse; and I am happy to be able to report a still further improvement in the appearance and management of the establishment. There is still, however, the same want of methodical arrangement and discipline on the part of the master, of which I complained in my former reports. The only matter that came under the cognizance of the Committee, and appeared to the members necessary to be submitted to the consideration of the full Board, was the obvious inferiority of the bread, when furnished to the house, as compared with the samples sent to the Board, previous to the contract being accepted. I frequently examined the bread, but I never found it so inferior in quality as it appeared upon that day. A similar complaint has been frequently made of the contractors for out-door relief; but by a recent order of the Guardians, the relieving officers have been directed, whenever the case occurs, to stop the distribution of inferior or damaged food, and procure a better description upon their own responsibility. The Visiting Committee approved of my suggestions for making the workhouse more extensively available for able-bodied paupers; and as soon as the auxiliary house shall be entirely applicable to the purpose for which it was taken, I will carry the proposed alterations into immediate effect.

The report of the medical officer is very satisfactory as to the health of the house. The deaths during the week were only eight, and the cases in hospital were 70 when his return was made. There are 1084 paupers of all ages now in the house, at a cost of 1s. 6d. per head, or 84l. 19s. 3d. for the week. The number of able-bodied paupers receiving out-door relief under the 2nd section of the Act of Parliament exhibits a small increase during the past week over the preceding one. There are now 17,996 names returned on the relieving officers' lists. The cost of out-door relief for the week was 398l. 11s., or something over 5d. per head. This is doubtless a bad state of things, and indicative of very great abuses in the distribution of relief, or of great destitution in the Union. Both circumstances must be taken into account as having produced this result; but henceforward I expect that the weekly returns will exhibit a considerable diminution in the numbers receiving relief, as the test will be in full operation throughout the Union before the end of this week.

The order of the Board of Works, directing the storekeeper at Templemore to furnish the implements required by the Guardians, was this day transmitted by the clerk, and they will be distributed to-morrow to the electoral divisions.

The collection of the poor-rate during the last week (I regret to observe) has decreased in amount as compared with the previous week, although no exertions have been spared upon my part in urging the collectors to perform their duties with zeal and assiduity. I have made it my business to examine the lists of the ratepayers in the several electoral divisions; and wherever I find the name of a party considered to be solvent, and appearing as a defaulter, I impress upon the collector the necessity of making an immediate application for the rate, and, if unsuccessful, of proceeding without further delay, either by distress or summons. By a recent order of the Guardians, the collectors have been allowed another week to enable them to make fresh efforts, and obviate the necessity of having their names submitted to the Commissioners for dismissal.

The sums lodged to the credit of the Union during the week, amounted to 586l. 15s. 2d.; the balance in the treasurer's hands is 1272l. 2s. 1d.

Adverting to the resolution of the Board of Guardians of the 7th instant for payment of the sum of 50l. to Mr. P. B. Ryan, for rent to be due in November next for the auxiliary workhouse; and to my report of the 8th instant, detailing the proceedings connected with that most improper application of the funds of the Union, and which report, from your letter of the 11th instant, I find has been under the serious consideration of the Commissioners, I have now to state that, at the meeting of the Board yesterday, Mr. Ryan, of Inch (one of the ex-officio Guardians), whose regular attendance at the Board, and whose familiarity with, and attention to, the business of the Union entitle his opinions to deference and respect, submitted a protest, signed by 11 of the ex-officio Guardians (and also by some few of the elected Guardians), drawn up in strong terms, but which, in my opinion, the circumstances of the case fully justified, and moved its insertion on the minutes. This was opposed, and, after a discussion of a very angry character, the protest was rejected upon a division by the casting vote of the Chairman. I have been since informed by Mr. Ryan that it is his intention to forward a copy of the protest to the Commissioners for their consideration, who, I have little doubt, will be of opinion that my last report in reference to this unfortunate transaction rather understated than exaggerated the case. It is right, however, to observe that no attempt was made to give effect to the resolution by signing the check for the money voted to Mr. B. P. Ryan.

In consequence of the contemplated meetings to be held on the 17th instant, there will not be a meeting of the Guardians on that day, and the Board stands adjourned until the 21st instant.

Thurles Union.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 23, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 16th instant relating to the affairs of the Thurles Union; and I am to express to you their satisfaction at the improved condition of the work-house.

The Commissioners regard with much anxiety the continuance of the large amount of out-door relief, and the great number of recipients, especially of the classes relieved under the 2nd section of the Act, and they rely on your exertions to have the labour-test carried out as efficiently as possible; they also request your continued exertions in urging the collectors to perform their duty, in duly enforcing payment of the rates.

It appears that the Vice-Chairman, Mr. P. B. Ryan, is a considerable defaulter, and the Commissioners think no delay should occur in requiring him to pay his rates, as the example must be injurious to the general progress of the collection.

You will perceive, by the letter addressed to the Guardians at their last meeting, that the Commissioners have entirely adopted your views, and those of the 11 Guardians who signed the protest, as to the great impropriety of the transaction regarding the building let to the Board by Mr. P. B. Ryan.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 22, 1848.

THE 17th instant being kept as a holiday, neither the Board of Guardians nor the Visiting Committee attended at the poorhouse. I have however frequently visited the house during the last week, and although the details of management are not as fully and regularly attended to, and the discipline as perfect as I could wish, still the improvement is obvious, and I can perceive a much greater inclination on the part of both master and matron to attend to my suggestions, and to regulate their conduct by the orders of the Commissioners.

The house, considering its crowded state, is in a very healthy condition. The in-door paupers of all ages at the close of the past week amounted to 1091. The number of the patients appearing on the medical officer's return at the same period was 67. The deaths were only 5. The cost of in-door relief amounted to 86*l* 14*s*. 4*d*., being at the average rate of 1*s*. 6*d*. per head for the healthy, and 2*s*. 9*d*. for the sick paupers. The latter charge appears to be too much, and was remarked upon by Mr. Lloyd.

The returns for out-door relief are always a week behind, as compared with those for in-door relief. The Guardians meet every Friday to transact business appertaining to the former only, and consequently the accounts are only made up to the previous Saturday. The numbers relieved during the week ending the 11th instant, were 17,886 souls, being a trifling decrease as compared with the previous week; but I expect that the next returns of the relieving officers, which will be made up to Saturday the 18th instant, will exhibit a very considerable diminution in the numbers relieved. The test is now more or less in operation throughout the Union, though I cannot say it has proved as efficacious as I expected it to be. The Board of Guardians refused to appoint superintendents (as I requested them to do) for the purpose of overseeing the stewards and measuring the quantity of work performed. I pointed out to the Board the consequences of refusing to make these necessary appointments, but the Guardians undertook to perform these duties themselves in their several districts, which promises, I need scarcely observe, they have very generally failed to perform. The stewards consequently have been left in a great measure free from control, and their returns can hardly be depended on by the relieving officers; while my visits to the different working parties have been necessarily few and partial, such as I have been enabled to make in the intervals of more important avocations. The sealed order of the Commissioners authorizing the continuance of out-door relief to the able-bodied poor to the 1st of April only, was submitted to the Board of Guardians yesterday. As all my objections to the discontinuance of relief on the 18th of March appear to my mind to apply equally to the proposed cessation on the 1st of April; and as the Circular of the 2nd of March, addressed to Temporary Inspectors, only contemplated the discontinuance of relief to able-bodied men, while the sealed order would seem to include all persons coming under the second section of the Poor Law Extension Act, I would respectfully solicit definite instructions on this point; and I would at the same time suggest to the Commissioners, that if they would sanction a gradual cessation of out-door relief, by striking off in the first instance only such male paupers as have no dependents, and afterwards those who have small families, and so on, it would tend to lessen the danger and discontent but too likely to follow from suddenly depriving of food so large a number of persons as are now receiving relief in this Union.

The cost of out-door relief during the week ending the 11th instant, amounted to 389*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.*, or about 5½*d.* per head.

The collection of the rates during the last week has fallen far below what I think it ought to have produced had due diligence been exercised by the collectors in the performance of their duties. I had fully intended to have brought one of them before the Board of Guardians yesterday, but the excuse of having been sick, which I have some reason to believe was really the case, induced me to pass him over for another week. The amount of rate and arrears which has been collected under the present warrants is 9739*l.* 3*s.* 3*d.*, leaving 9275*l.* 1*s.* 3½*d.*, or nearly one-half of the entire to be still collected. Of this sum I fear a considerable part will never be recovered, but no effort on my part shall be wanting in urging the collectors to realize as large a proportion of the outstanding rate as can possibly be collected. The amount lodged to the credit of the Union during the past week was 552*l.* 3*s.* 1*d.* only.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LABARTE:—March 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to inform you that the Commissioners' order, authorizing the Board of Guardians of the Thurles Union to afford out-door relief to certain classes under the 2nd section of the Extension Act specified therein, will expire on the 1st proximo, and I am to request that you will be so good as to report to the Commissioners your opinion as to the expediency of its renewal.

Mr. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS in reply:—March 27, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th instant, informing me that the Commissioners' order, authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied paupers, under 10th Vic. chap. 31, sec. 2, will expire on the 1st proximo, and requesting me to report to the Commissioners my opinion as to the expediency of its renewal. In reply, I beg leave to refer to my former report of the 6th instant, wherein I stated in detail the objections I then felt to any immediate suspension of out-door relief to able-bodied males, and for the following reasons:—1st. The absence of any demand for agricultural labour; 2nd. The amount of real destitution existing in all parts of the Union, consequent upon such want of employment; and lastly, the then imperfect application of the labour test, as a means of distinguishing real from pretended destitution.

The circumstances under which that report was written, and the general condition of the Union, have not perceptibly changed since the date of it; and my objections to any abrupt or extensive alteration in the present system of out-door relief continue to exist to a very great, though not perhaps to an equal extent, as they then did.

The Commissioners will observe, that at the last meeting of the Board of Guardians, on the 24th instant, a resolution, soliciting a renewal of the order was then passed, and to that request I would now respectfully ask the Commissioners to accede, granting the order for a short period, and requiring the Guardians in the meantime to take effectual steps to withdraw the relief by degrees, and if possible, by classes.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 31, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 27th instant, relative to the expediency of renewing the order authorizing the Board of Guardians of the Thurles Union to afford relief to destitute persons in Thurles Union, under the 2nd section of the Act 10 Vict. chap. 31, and in reference thereto I am to state that the Commissioners have issued an order authorizing such relief for one month, a copy whereof is transmitted herewith.

Thurles Union.

I am at the same time to request that you will be so good as to furnish the Commissioners with a detailed account of the arrangements provided for stone-breaking, and in particular, whether a supervising overseer is appointed to superintend the overseers in charge of working parties, according to the plan adopted in Ballina Union, and transmitted by the Commissioners to Inspectors for their guidance.

MR. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 29, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that the Board of Guardians met yesterday for the first time since the recent elections, and having chosen the Chairman and the Vice and Deputy Vice-Chairman for the ensuing year, and selected members to serve on the Finance and Visiting Committees, then proceeded to transact the ordinary business of the Union. As occasion offered, I brought several matters of importance under the consideration of the Board. The first, and probably the most important, was the present unsatisfactory state of the collection of the poor-rates, and the inutility of every effort upon my part to induce the collectors to perform their duties with greater zeal and efficiency. I stated that if the collectors were now permitted to relax in their efforts the greater proportion of the uncollected rate would, in all probability, be entirely lost. The Guardians appeared to think that it was at length necessary to adopt decisive measures with their collectors, and passed a resolution requiring them to appear before the Board on Tuesday next, and account for the very backward state of the collection, with a view to taking further proceedings should the required explanations prove unsatisfactory.

The present state of the collection is as follows:—

	£.	s.	d.
The amount of rates struck for the entire Union,
October and November, 1847	16,660	10	7
Arrears of former rates	2,353	11	11½
Total in collectors' warrants	19,014	2	6½
Collected to March 27, 1848	10,169	19	3
Uncollected	£8,844	3	3½

This does not exhibit the finances of the Union after a lapse of nearly five months as being in a very satisfactory state; and if to this be added, that the expenditure for out-door relief for the last week exceeded the amount lodged by the collectors during the same period, it is obvious that if this state of things be suffered to continue the balance of 1556*l.* 5*s.* 7*d.* now in the hands of the Treasurer to the credit of the Union, will be shortly dissipated, and the Guardians will be compelled by the increasing difficulties of their position to strike another and perhaps a more oppressive rate than the present.

The next matter submitted to the Board was the present state of the out-door relief to the able-bodied, under the 2nd section of the Poor Law Extension Act, and the still increasing expenditure incurred during the last week, notwithstanding the application of the labour test throughout the Union, which must be altogether ascribed to the mistaken policy of increasing the rations to men who had performed the labour required. In reference to this matter, and with a view to lighten the expenditure and lessen the numbers receiving relief under the 2nd section of the Act, a resolution was yesterday passed directing the relieving officers to withdraw relief from all male adults without dependents throughout the Union, and to confine the relief until further orders to the heads of families only, who should regularly attend at the stone-breaking and perform the amount of labour required. This is a step in the right direction, and as the weather has become favourable and some employment is now likely to be had, the persons affected by the resolution are those least likely to suffer by it.

From the neglect of one or two of the officers I am unable to state the exact numbers who received out-door relief during the week ending Saturday the 25th instant, but I have reason to believe, that as compared with the previous week, there has been a diminution of from 300 to 400. The numbers who received relief in the week ending the 18th instant, amounted to 17,886. This was under both the 1st and 2nd sections of the Act. The cost of relief for that week was 387*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*

In my last report I stated that the Guardians had refused to appoint superintendents of labour who should have authority over the stewards and measure the work done. They are now quite alive to the necessity of nominating some such officers, and should the Commissioners think proper to give a renewal of the order for out-door relief, which will expire on the 1st proximo, they are prepared to appoint them. One for each relief district will, I think, be sufficient, if active and intelligent men be selected for the duty.

The next matter that engaged the attention of the Board was the letter of the Commissioners of the 20th instant, expressing their perfect concurrence in the terms of the protest of the ex-officio Guardians, in reference to the vote of 50*l.* to Mr. P. B. Ryan for rent in advance, and their disapprobation of the conduct of the late Board respecting that unfortunate and disreputable business. That letter having been addressed to the former Board was read (as mentioned in my letter of the 25th instant) at the last meeting of that body on the 24th instant, but Mr. George Ryan, who framed the protest, not having been then present, and several other Guardians having expressed a wish that the original resolution, the protest and the counter-protest, and the letter of the Poor Law Commissioners should be again brought under the notice of the Board, they were read by the clerk, and I then called upon the Guardians to take the necessary steps to rescind the resolution as required by the Commissioners in accordance with the 13th Article of the General Rules.

At first it was proposed to let the matter drop, as the money had not been paid to Mr. P. B. Ryan; but I insisted on having the resolution formally rescinded; and the general feeling of the Board being in accordance therewith, a resolution to that effect (and without waiting for the 14 days' notice) was then proposed and carried without any opposition whatever. Since I last reported on the 22nd instant I have frequently visited and inspected every part of the workhouse. Many alterations in the management and economy of the house suggest themselves forcibly to my mind, but unless the members of the newly appointed Visiting Committee give me more assistance, and take greater interest in attending to the duties they have imposed upon themselves than the late Committee ever did, it will be useless for me to point out changes which however desirable in themselves or even absolutely necessary for the purpose of affording increased accommodation, I cannot undertake upon my own responsibility, or without the previous concurrence of the Guardians. In one of my former reports I stated that as we had neither lunatics nor idiots, it might be advisable to make the wards built for their accommodation available for able-bodied paupers; but a recent suggestion of Mr. Lloyd, the district inspector, appears far preferable—namely, to raise those wards another story, and by that means obtain two large dormitories for paupers of that class. This could be effected at a comparatively small expense, and would enable the Guardians to make a better classification of the paupers than exists at present, and would obviate the necessity of again renting as an auxiliary workhouse at a heavy expense and at an inconvenient distance, a building which as yet has been of little advantage to the Union.

This matter, important as I conceive it to be, is even less so than the subject of surrounding the workhouse with a wall sufficiently high to keep the paupers from getting over it, as I have seen them do at all hours of the day with the existing wall, which is merely the boundary wall of the ward to which they belong. The ground belonging to the house has never been enclosed, and until that is done, it will be impossible for the master or any other officer, let him be ever so vigilant, to preserve the discipline of the house and exercise a proper control over the adult male paupers. To be a sufficient boundary fence, it ought to be at least 12 feet high, and with the present amount of available pauper labour in the house it might be completed in a very short time. I believe this is the only workhouse without a boundary wall.

I am happy to say the house continues in a healthy state, and free from fever of a contagious character. The number of deaths, however, during the past week, exceeded those in any previous week since my appointment. Of 16 I find four were persons far advanced in life, and seven were children under 10 years of age. The number remaining in hospital on the 25th instant, was 72, chiefly cases of pulmonary disease.

Thurles Union.

The paupers of all ages in the house on the 25th instant were 1084. The cost of their support during the week was 86*l.* 5*s.* 2½*d.*, or 1*s.* 6¾*d.*, per head. The average cost of a patient in hospital was 2*s.* 9*d.* per head.

When upon the subject of the poor-rates, I omitted to state that the amount lodged to the credit of the Union for the week ending the 27th was 430*l.* 16*s.* only, being a falling off, as compared with the previous week, of 122*l.*

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 5, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners are prepared to approve the raising of the idiot wards if the Guardians are disposed to adopt that course, it having been done in many workhouses with much advantage.

The Commissioners concur in your views regarding the necessity for a boundary wall, and they request that you will be good enough to urge the matter on the attention of the Guardians.

As regards the stone-breaking, I am to state that all experience has shown that a superintendent of the stewards is necessary, but the Commissioners think that two such officers would probably suffice for the entire Union, the salary being such as to secure the services of trustworthy persons, and enable them each to keep a horse. A stipend of from 30*s.* to 2*l.* per week has been sanctioned in other Unions.

MR. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 5, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that the Board of Guardians met on Friday, the 31st ultimo, for the transaction of business connected with out-door relief; and I regret to say that the application of the labour test has not as yet produced the beneficial results I anticipated from it. It appears from the returns of the relieving officers, that although the numbers receiving relief had decreased during the week ending the 25th ultimo, as compared with the previous week, from 17,886 to 17,014 souls, the ill-judged resolution of the Guardians, granting a double ration to each adult who had actually performed the required quantity of work, had the effect of keeping up the expenditure to the same amount as was incurred during the previous week, thereby neutralizing any benefit that would otherwise have accrued from the decrease in the number of recipients. The cost of out-door relief for the week ending March 18th, was 390*l.*, and for the week ending 25th, 399*l.*, showing an increase in expenditure, notwithstanding the decrease in the number relieved. I am unable to state the number of recipients, and the cost of relief for the week ending the 1st instant, as the relieving officers furnish their returns to the clerk every Wednesday, at too late an hour to be of use to me in preparing my weekly report. The resolution of the Board mentioned in my last report, whereby relief under the 2nd section of the Poor Law Extension Act is confined to one male adult in each family, will effect, I trust, a considerable reduction, not only in the numbers relieved, but in the expenditure also; but the benefit cannot be apparent until the returns for the present week shall be furnished by the relieving officers. A still further reduction will be made during the next week, in consequence of a still more recent resolution of the Board of Guardians, directing that one able-bodied female in each family be struck off, except where such female is the actual head of the family. Thus, by little and little, I expect to diminish the numbers so as to obviate the necessity of again making an application to the Commissioners for a renewal of the order authorizing relief.

In your letter of the 31st ultimo, I am requested to furnish the Commissioners “with a detailed account of the arrangements provided for stone-breaking, and “in particular, whether a supervising overseer has been appointed to superintend “the overseers in charge of working parties;” I have to state in reply, that I have at length induced the Guardians to appoint such officers, as will appear by referring to the minutes of the proceedings of the Board held yesterday. Eight supervising overseers have been appointed, one for each relief district in the Union, at a weekly salary of 10*s.* each; five of them have received their instructions, and entered upon their duties, and the others have been directed to call upon me this day for the same purpose. The other arrangements (previously made), were the appointment of overseers of working parties, the hiring of the quarries, the printing of labour lists, and relieving officers' and overseers' check-books, and the procuring the necessary implements for labour. The overseers of working parties were generally nominated by the local Guardians, and although the parties selected were not always those best adapted for the business, yet I have had fewer complaints to make than I anticipated at first. The pay, in every case, is 6s. per week, paid by the relieving officers, and charged in their accounts. The punishment I inflict for every connivance at deception, or other neglect of duty, is deprivation of pay for one or more days, according to the magnitude of the offence. The number of overseers varies in each electoral division according to the size of the district, the number of the quarries, and the strength of the working parties; the entire number is about 50, but as the numbers on the labour lists decrease, the staff will be diminished in proportion, and I have directed the supervising overseers to report to me when such reductions are necessary or advisable to be made.

The quarries have been in most instances hired for six months, at from 15s. to 1*l.* per month. In some places quarries have been given for nothing, but in others it has been difficult to obtain them at all. The labour lists, check-books, and other documents necessary for carrying out the system effectually, are nearly the same as those used in the Ballina Union, and recommended by the Commissioners. The expense likely to be incurred in printing them was a subject of complaint at the Board, but was felt to be absolutely necessary. There was a very great delay in obtaining the implements from Templemore; the keys of the store at that place were in the possession of the county surveyor at Nenagh, and when the order from the Board of Works was transmitted, the assizes had commenced, and a considerable time elapsed before my application was complied with; the quantity was then found to be very short of what would be required, and many of the working parties are very imperfectly supplied. I am again in communication with the county surveyor on the subject. I have now submitted the details of the arrangements adopted in reference to stone-breaking, and trust they will meet the approbation of the Commissioners.

In respect to the workhouse, I have to state that several members of the Visiting Committee accompanied me on Friday last in making an inspection of the buildings, and the hospital and infirmary wards. There can be but one opinion as to the originally defective site of the hospital—the unfinished state in which some of the walls dividing the yards have been permitted to continue, and the still more obvious want of a proper boundary-wall round the workhouse grounds. I pointed out the advantages to be derived by purchasing or renting the field lying immediately behind the house, and between it and the railway; the Committee agreed with me, and a resolution was passed at the Board of Guardians yesterday, to negotiate with Mr. O'Brien, the proprietor, for the purchase of the field alluded to. He however is an ex-officio Guardian, and has some scruples, as such, of dealing with the Board. It would be satisfactory to me to obtain the instructions of the Commissioners in reference to this subject.

The house is very full, but in a healthy state, and free from contagious disease. There are 1108 paupers of all ages now within the walls. The maintenance of the house during the week cost 84*l.* 16s., or about 1s. 6*d.* per head. The number of patients in hospital is 72, at an expense of 1s. 7½*d.* per head. The deaths in the same period were only 6, of which number 4 were persons of 60 years of age and upwards. The lodgments made by the several collectors during the week, show a small increase in the total amount as compared with the week before, being to March 27th, 430*l.* 16s., and to April 3rd, 501*l.* 15s. 11*d.* The collection of the rate engages a great deal of my attention, for it is sufficiently obvious that unless strenuous exertions be now made by the collectors to get in as much as possible of the present rate, and that quickly too, the Union will become insolvent in debt, and a new rate must not only be struck, but levied before harvest. The portion of rate still uncollected amounts to 8342*l.* 9s. 4½*d.*, of which I am informed that about one-half cannot be recovered. The portion collected since the early part of November to April 3rd, amounted to 10,671*l.* 15s. 2*d.* The balance in the hands of the treasurer is 884*l.* 14s. 4*d.*

Thurles Union.

MR. LABARTE to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 12, 1848.

SINCE the date of my last report I attended at two meetings of the Board of Guardians; one upon the 7th instant, and the other upon the 11th. On the former occasion I inspected the workhouse; one member of the Visiting Committee accompanied me. I fear it will be almost impossible to procure a regular attendance of the members of that Committee. We found the workhouse clean; and the ventilation of the dormitories appears to be properly attended to. The house is still very full, but is remarkably healthy and free from contagious disease. There were some complaints made respecting the quality of the milk given to the women in the infirm ward. I brought this matter under the notice of the matron, and have been informed that the supply is often insufficient in quantity, but that no adulteration takes place within the workhouse.

Several able-bodied male paupers having refused to work when ordered to do so by the master, I directed them to be brought before the Board of Guardians on Friday last. The boys over 15 years of age were the most refractory. Five of them were pointed out by the master as the worst, and he was directed by the Board to lodge informations against them for insubordination. On leaving the Board-room they commenced breaking the windows, and were otherwise very unruly. I attended the petty sessions on the following day, when the five above mentioned, and also several others, concerned in the breaking of the windows were convicted and sentenced by the magistrates to imprisonment and hard labour for one month each, pursuant to the statute.

The number of paupers remaining in the house at the close of the last week was 1098, of all ages. The cost of support for the week was 84*l.* 17*s.* 7*d.* at 1*s.* 6*d.* per head. The patients in hospital were 60 in number; average cost of each, 2*s.* 5*d.* for the week. The deaths were only eight, of which four were persons over 60 years of age.

The relieving officers' books and accounts for the week ending April the 1st were then examined. I regret to observe that the diminution in the number of persons relieved under the 2nd section of the Act of Parliament has not been what I expected, while the cost of relief still continues as great, if not greater, than it was before the application of the labour test. The total number of persons relieved in that week under both sections of the Act, amounted to 16,846 souls, at a cost of 418*l.* 6*s.* 9*d.*, or about 6*d.* per head. I am unable to give the return of the numbers relieved during the last week, one of the relieving officers having omitted to furnish his return yesterday though directed to do so by me.

At the meeting of the Board of Guardians yesterday I brought several matters of importance under their consideration, as will appear from the minutes of their proceedings transmitted by the clerk. The necessity of a still further reduction in the numbers receiving out-door relief was strongly pressed upon the Board; and I stated the improbability of a further renewal of the sealed order authorizing relief after the expiration of the present month. In fact, I have reason to think that a larger amount of relief is afforded in this Union than in any of the neighbouring Unions, and is given in a more indiscriminate manner. After some discussion, and impelled rather by the state of their finances than by any observations of mine, the Guardians rescinded a former resolution, by which a double ration (14 pounds of meal) was directed to be given to each adult male pauper employed at stone-breaking. That resolution was a very injudicious one; but having been acted upon for some weeks, the rescinding of it will probably now cause considerable discontent in the Union.

The state of the collection of the rates was also considered. It is still in a very backward state, and gives me considerable uneasiness. The weekly expenditure of the Union is increasing, while the amount of income collected, and the balance to the credit of the Board, both exhibit a considerable decrease. The collectors were summoned before the magistrates at petty sessions upon Saturday last, and were each fined in the mitigated penalty of 1*l.* for neglect of duty. Nevertheless, the returns laid before the Guardians yesterday are considerably under those of the former week; and I fear it will be necessary to summon the collectors again, and press for the infliction of the full penalty in each case. I have no doubt that great partiality is practised by the collectors in favour of particular individuals; but as yet I have been unable to procure satisfactory evidence of the fact. The present districts are too extensive; and in the event of another rate being struck while I am on duty here, I would strongly advise the Guardians to add to the number of their collectors.

The rate lodged during the week ending Monday, the 10th instant, amounted to 447*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.* The balance in the treasurer's hands was then only 664*l.* 1*s.* 10*d.* The entire amount of the rate and arrears collected is 11,118*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.*, leaving 7895*l.* 5*s.* 10½*d.* still to be collected; of the latter sum not more than half can be safely calculated upon.

After the ordinary business of the day was over I brought forward the subject of the boundary wall, pursuant to the directions of the Commissioners. The Guardians are very reluctant to embark in a proceeding involving a considerable outlay in the existing state of their finances; but they passed a resolution directing the clerk to advertise for tenders for the building of the wall. The necessity for it is obvious to every one. With respect to raising the idiot wards, as suggested by Mr. Lloyd, acting upon the advice of some of the ex-officio Guardians, I have postponed the further consideration of that plan until something shall have been effected in regard to the wall. In the meantime a committee of three members was appointed to inspect and report upon the state of the building hired from Mr. P. B. Ryan as an auxiliary house, and as to the period at which it can be made available for the use of the Union. I have been privately informed that it has been so badly constructed that even if now ready for occupation it would be unsafe to remove the paupers to it at all. I therefore suggested the appointment of a committee of inspection to ascertain the fact.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 18, 1848.

I AM to express the Commissioners' regret that at this season the number receiving relief in the Thurles Union under the 2nd section is still so considerable.

It is manifest that increased exertion must be made by the Guardians and their collectors to secure the outstanding rate.

The Commissioners are desirous of being informed of the course which the collectors usually adopt to compel payment of the rates; and whether their general practice is to distrain by virtue of their own warrant, or to summon defaulters before justices.

The collectors have ample powers, and if they do not use those powers they will be liable for rates lost through their default, and their poundage should not be paid to them until the extent of any such loss be ascertained.

If partiality be shown by any collector, the Commissioners will be prepared to remove him from office.

ATHLONE UNION.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 12, 1848.

WE beg to lay before you a statement of our proceedings for the past week.

The collection of the rate being the most important step, and now quite in abeyance, we advertised for the third time for the vacant districts, and secured the services of two more collectors highly recommended; one district only now remains vacant, and we will advertise this.

On this day week the magistrates at petty sessions decreed Edward H. Naughten, Esq., for 59*l.* rates, and John Sullivan for 9*l.*—both those gentlemen were members of the late Board. There were some minor cases also decreed. We find the greatest reluctance on part of the old collectors to take any proceedings at law for the recovery of the rate; but we have directed our solicitor to proceed against numbers next Court day, which, by the way, occurs but once a fortnight.

The three old collectors re-appointed have perfected their bonds, &c., and we have sent them out to collect this day; for the rest the query sheets have not yet been returned from your office.

The relieving officers have all attended, and so far we have no reason to find fault with their conduct. The majority of cases on their books were of the most destitute character: when admissible under the 1st section, we granted out-door relief in food, but generally offered the test of the house, which very few accepted, considering the number of applicants.

We have elected a relieving officer to oversee the stone-breakers; he was in the army in the rank of sergeant, and held high testimonials. We have not yet got any implements from the Board of Works to employ them.

The house continues healthy, and is vastly improved in cleanliness and ventilation. We have curtailed the consumption of fuel.

In concluding we have to add that our treasurer, the National Bank, has refused to honour our cheques beyond the amount of lodgments weekly; and we have to repeat our request of last week for an advance of 500*l.* on the faith of the rates; and we have little doubt of being able to repay the same within two months.

We have just had an interview with Mr. Bruce, agent to Captain Meecham, owner of the auxiliary workhouse, to ascertain if we could get a further tenure (if necessary), before the outlay of 30*l.* on repairs, &c. He promised to write to Captain M. to Jersey for instructions, and we defer the contracts in consequence.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 15, 1848.

THE Commissioners have sanctioned the appointment of all the collectors of poor-rate in the Union, with respect to whom the necessary preliminary inquiries have been made and answered.

A sum of 500*l.* was remitted to Mr. Flanagan, the Inspector of the Union, for your use on the 10th instant. This money should be repaid out of the rates to be collected, at as early a period as possible.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 18, 1848.

IN the collection of the rate we have to report the 10 appointments all made, and amongst them some very respectable parties, and they all seem competent. We await your approval of the two last elected this week; of the validity of their sureties in every instance we have fully satisfied ourselves. We hope to have all the books sent out before our next report.

The relieving officers are all appointed; eight out of ten working, and, with one exception, doing their duty zealously. We are arranging their offices, stations, and days of attendance; and this done, we will regulate the supply and distribution of meal and hours of attendance with more system than the hasty arrangements we were constrained to make admitted of heretofore.

James Kilduff, the exception referred to, was not doing his duty, having other employments. He has resigned, and we recommend the Commissioners to accept the resignation which has been forwarded to them.

The inspection of the relief officers' books has occupied our time the chief part of the last three days, and the numbers rejected very small. We confine our outdoor relief strictly to the first section of the Act; and many who have been admitted to the house remain but a few days.

We are still without any order for implements from the Board of Public Works, asked for the week before last. We only wait the receipt of these implements to put the able-bodied in-door paupers to work under the steward appointed for the purpose.

We have this week elected a master shoemaker and tailor, both of respectability; and will forthwith arrange to have the shoes and clothing of the house made and repaired in it, and the apprenticing of boys to each of those trades in the house.

The state of the house is gradually improving. We got 90 new beds in, and a large quantity of clothing, which is in course of being made. The boys' auxiliary workhouse shows a marked improvement in order and cleanliness.

We have advertised for a clerk, and a paid nurse-tender for the hospital, this latter duty being heretofore performed by an irresponsible pauper.

The clothing books have been quite a blank for the past 12 months. We have issued orders for taking stock, and keeping those books in proper form henceforward.

We have received the order for 500*l.* worth of food on the Commissariat Department here, from the British Association, at the instance of the Commissioners, for which we beg to return our best thanks. We have put ourselves in communication with the head of that department here, and purpose drawing on his stock next week.

An unhappy circumstance has occurred since our last, which, while we cannot but deplore, we nevertheless feel that we have acted only in accordance with the provision of the law we were appointed to administer; and that the deaths which we record were purely the result of accident, occasioned by the thoughtlessness of youth and the severity of the season.

The case is simply this: last week we investigated the circumstances of the inmates of the house who were receiving relief at variance with the spirit of the law, and with the intention of keeping room in the house as a test for the able-bodied seeking relief. We obtained from the master a list of those parties. Amongst the list (of about 130) we found two boys in the school, whose mother lived eight miles distant, in the electoral division of Cam, and who had two other children more, grown up, living with her on four and three-quarter acres of land. We made a general order for their discharge on the following Monday, and at the same time directed the master to give them a week's supply of meal, and get them placed on the relieving officer's books provisionally. This was done, and the two boys in question left the house at 10 o'clock on Monday, in company with the 130 before mentioned, many of whom were going to the same district; and the parting admonition of the master was, that all should travel together to their respective districts. This it appears those boys, whose ages were 11 and 12 years, did not do, but spent the day in the town, and returned at night to the workhouse, and the master took them in, they saying they would go home next morning. They were not dejected, but, as he says, "as merry as rabbits;" and he adds, the impression on his mind was that they were elated at getting free to go home. Next day (Tuesday), after breakfast of stirabout and milk, they got their dinner allowance of bread, and set out for home highly pleased. This was at 10 o'clock, and at about 12 o'clock the medical officer, Dr. O'Connell, saw them in the suburbs of the town, not half a mile from the workhouse, eating bread. At three o'clock they were met six miles from the workhouse, and about two miles from their home, by some boys coming from school. They are lost sight of from that hour till 12 o'clock at night, when one of them knocked at a farmer's door, evidently benumbed with cold. He is refused admittance to his house, but placed in his barn on some straw, and found dead in the morning, and his brother was found dead in a field a mile distant. Both were healthy, strong boys, and far from being devoid of intelligence.

Athlone Union.

We received notice of the melancholy occurrence from the police, and sent a physician, the master of the workhouse, and two public reporters, to take notes of the inquest.

Mr. Flanagan's
Report, 14th
March.

In conclusion, we beg to add that we have made a rigid inquiry into all the circumstances of the above melancholy occurrence, and from all we can gather, believe the foregoing to be a correct statement of the facts.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 24, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 18th instant relating to the Athlone Union, and with reference to the resignation of Mr. James Kilduff, of the office of relieving officer, I am to state that you (as the Commissioners have stated in another communication) are fully empowered to accept the resignation; and the Commissioners request that you will at once proceed to the appointment of a relieving officer in room of Mr. Kilduff.

I am at the same time to state that the Board of Works have been requested to have the implements furnished which you require for the employment of the able-bodied persons receiving out-door relief in the Union.

The Commissioners have read with regret, the accounts which you have transmitted, of the death of two boys named Kelehan, whom you had discharged from the workhouse; you appear, however, to have been under the necessity of discharging them, as you had ascertained that their mother, with two more of her children, occupy four and three-quarter acres of land in Caw electoral division; and it further appears, that you took the precaution of having them provided with a week's supply of food, and had them discharged at 10 in the forenoon with several other persons, several of whom were going to the same part of the Union; notwithstanding which they again presented themselves at the workhouse in the afternoon, were received by the master, supplied with breakfast the next morning, and after their receiving the dinner allowance of bread they departed for their home. The subsequent fatality therefore is not ascribable to any want of precaution in discharging these boys, who appear to have been healthy, and of ages (12 and 11 years) which rendered them fit for being discharged in the manner adopted.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 24, 1848.

IN consequence of the workhouse being now filled to the limit prescribed by you, and the pressure for admission being unabated, we are obliged to request you will be so kind as to issue an order under the 2nd section of the Act, for the distribution of out-door relief, and which you may rest assured we will use the utmost discretion in administering.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state that in compliance with the request contained in your letter of the 24th instant, the Commissioners have given directions for the issue of an order authorizing you to afford out-door relief to destitute poor persons not being persons permanently disabled from labour by reason of old age, infirmity, or bodily or mental defect; and not being persons disabled from labour by reason of severe sickness or serious accident, and thereby deprived of the means of earning a subsistence for themselves and their families, whom they are liable by law to maintain; and not being poor widows having two or more legitimate children dependent on them, for one month after the date of the order.

Mr. WALL, Vice-Guardian, to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 4, 1848.

IN consequence of the illness of my colleague, Captain Drought (who I regret to say is confined to his bed by severe cold and influenza since Sunday last), I have been chiefly occupied during the week in revising the relieving officers' books. The applicants were very numerous and extremely destitute.

We requested the relieving officer of Cam to visit the house of the widow Kelehan, on whose two children the inquest was held referred to in our report the week before last. We annex his note.

The relieving officers generally are doing their duty well.

The rate collectors have lodged near 200*l.* this week. We hope for a considerable amount the next.

The master, M'Nulty, was confined to bed four days this week. We fear his health will not permit him to retain his office.

We got the tools, &c., from the Board of Works, and 45 men have been engaged breaking stones in the workhouse-yards during the week.

An inquest was held in the house by Mr. Keogh, the coroner, on the body of Bridget Downey, a girl of about 15 years of age, who was brought to the house on her mother's back on Tuesday, and died in a few hours afterwards. It appeared that her mother was married a second time to a man named Spellman, who refused to support the step-children, four in number. Spellman holds nine acres of land.

We have ordered 36 spinning-wheels and a quantity of wool to employ the females. The shoemaker and tailor are at work with six apprentices each weekly. We have arranged that they shall attend school the alternate weeks, and their place be supplied by another set of apprentices. A curious incident occurred in connexion with this. On Thursday last a boy, named Carty, was marked off as an apprentice to the tailor; his mother objected to his leaving the school. He had some altercation with her, and expressed himself determined to learn the trade, and his mother was equally positive he should not. He walked out deliberately to the Shannon, before the door, and threw himself in, and was very near being drowned. He was rescued; and it was some hours before the physician could resuscitate him. He was about 15 years of age.

The election of clerk and relieving officer for St. Mary's is deferred till next week. There is a relief officer acting pro. tem., and quite satisfactorily, for St. Mary's.

ENCLOSURE.

MR. KING, Relieving Officer, to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—February 23, 1848.

IN consequence of an occurrence which took place in my relief district, relative to the death of the two boys, Kelehans, I thought it prudent to visit the house of their mother on 22nd instant.

Her house, although small, was somewhat more comfortable than in general I see them. She had about three barrels of wheat threshed in the corner, and as I came to the door covered it with some of the straw. I also heard from a respectable man that she disposed of a load of wheat the Saturday week previous.

Her son, a strong boy about 19 years of age, showed me the extent of her land, which contained, as he pointed out and told me, about four and a half acres Irish.

She has some wheat sown, and was very well able to support her family.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 9, 1848.

WITH reference to the case of Spellman, who has refused to support his step-children (one of whom died in a few hours after her admission to the workhouse), I am to request your attention to the 2nd section of the Vagrant Act, and to the 53rd section of the Irish Poor Relief Act as regards the liabilities of relations.

THE COMMISSIONERS to MR. FLANAGAN:—March 8, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a communication which they have received from the Under Secretary's office, relating to the decease of a man named Michael M'Loughlin, who is stated by the jury on the inquest held on his body to have died from hunger and want; and I am to request that you will make such inquiry into the circumstances as will enable you to report to the Commissioners as to the facts of the case, and especially whether the deceased made application for relief either to the Vice-Guardians of the Athlone Union, to the workhouse master, or to any of the relieving officers.

Athlone Union.

Mr. FLANAGAN to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 20, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following as my report of the facts connected with the death of a man named Michael M'Loughlin, and into which I was directed to inquire by your letter of the 8th instant.

The deceased appears to have been a strolling beggar, formerly a pedlar, of about 60 years of age. That he was very poor and in great destitution is evident from the testimony of the witnesses examined, but the immediate cause of his death appears to me to have been the disease of his knee, the pain of which was so acute as to have caused him to roar from it, as described by the witness Catherine Galvin. That his death was hastened by want I think highly probable, but I do not, under the circumstances detailed in the evidence, think that hunger was, as found by the jury on the inquest, the immediate cause of his death.

I do not find that any application was ever made by him for relief to the relieving officer of the district in which he died.

ENCLOSURE.

Athlone, March 13, 1848.

Michael Galvin, sworn and examined.—Knew Michael M'Loughlin; he came to my house last Monday week, at night, and died on the Wednesday following in the morning; lives at Esker, about six miles from this; M'Loughlin told me he lived one side of Mount Talbot; * he appeared to be about 60 years of age; he complained of having a pain in his knee; he was a travelling man, and used formerly to carry a hand basket, but this last turn he had none; on Tuesday morning he was too weak to get up; he did not complain of being ill, except of the pain in his knee; his knee was very much swollen; on Tuesday he did not eat anything, but he drank a little gruel; he did not complain to me of being starved; cannot say how far he came on Monday; did not tell me that he had applied to the relieving officer of the district; he was very bad with the pain in his knee; the swelling extended down the leg and foot, which were all blistered; I think he died from need and the pain in his limbs. There was no doctor examined on the inquest.

Catherine Galvin (aged 65 years), examined, not sworn.—Recollects M'Loughlin coming to her house on the Monday night; he was crawling against the walls along the road, and tried to get into several houses, but would not be let in; he was hardly able to walk; he had a naggin full of oaten-meal with him; it was duskish; about nightfall; he did not complain of being hungry when he came in; he sat down by the fire, and his leg and knee were so much swollen and blistered, he was not able to lay his foot to the ground; the little girl (a daughter of mine) then made his bed for him, some straw in the corner of the fire, and took off his smallclothes for him, which he never afterwards put on; he appeared to suffer very much; he eat some gruel that evening after he came in; the next morning he was not able to get up; the pain in the knee was so great he was roaring from the pain; on Tuesday night he was very bad, getting worse and worse, and on Wednesday morning he died; on Tuesday he did not eat anything but two or three spoonsful of stirabout which I gave him; I had no more to give him.

Patrick Keogh, relieving officer for Taghmaconnell and Dysart, states, that he was a strolling beggar, and never applied to him for relief.†

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 11, 1848.

WE beg to lay before you our report for the past week.

The election of officers, deferred in consequence of the illness of Captain Drought last week, has been completed; we have chosen John F. Moriarty as clerk, and M. O'Brien as relieving officer for St. Mary's electoral division. We have also made a contract for the delivery of limestone at the workhouse for use of stone-breakers at 6d. per ton, a very moderate price, delivered.

We are not quite satisfied with the state of the house; we find it very difficult to get our orders carried into effect immediately or satisfactorily. We fear our master is defective in energy, the want of organization is too evident on the male side of the house, and a change will be necessary to reduce matters to that system and order so indispensable in an establishment of this kind at all times, but particularly at present.

* This is in Ballinasloe Union.

† See also subsequently.

The cleanliness of the house is vastly improved ; in the idiot wards, which are full of infirm and decrepid cases, we removed the stoves, and opened the fireplaces (the only access to ventilation in those apartments), placed the inmates on bedsteads instead of the floor, had the entire whitewashed twice, and altogether much reformed.

A robbery of the house has taken place of a quantity of Indian meal (five sacks), under very suspicious circumstances, and which we cannot divest our minds of having occurred in consequence of the laxity of discipline, as well as with the knowledge of more than one inmate of the house.

The store from which it was taken is situate at the back of the kitchen and under the shed, the partition wall is but single brick (four inches thick) ; against this partition, to the height of six to seven feet, are large meal bins, and just over one of those the bricks were removed, and the meal said to be extracted, through so small an aperture as to create some doubt on our parts. The loss is about 5*l.* 15*s.*, and we have deemed it prudent to offer a reward of 3*l.*, to which we pray your sanction. We are of opinion many were concerned, in and out of the house, and a cart or boat used to convey it away.

We cannot avoid expressing our anxious wish that some provision should be legally made to defray the expense of coffins for out-door recipients of relief ; our relieving officers have reported several cases of burial without coffins, after long exposure of the body. The decency of burial in a coffin is almost inseparable from Christian rites, and we are sorry to see it so frequently violated.

The vestry levies were originally for many purposes, of which that for coffins was probably the least. Subsequently the chief powers of that act have been abolished, and the minor remnant, that for coffins, alone remains ; this has been in most places, to the present year, too insignificant to demand a levy, and the act has therefore become inoperative, and none other we believe now exists ; we therefore respectfully suggest to the Commissioners the necessity of some short enactment on the subject ; public health, public decency, and the rites of Christian burial require it.

The relieving officers' books continue to be very heavy, and they are performing their duty to our satisfaction. Now that we are extending relief to the able-bodied we find it necessary to give them some assistance, we did so yesterday for the St. Peter's and Drum electoral divisions, the largest and poorest of the Union. In making those appointments we contemplate their acting as store-keepers and distributors of food, and so create some saving. We will make the appointment with the consent and approval of the relieving officer, and hold him responsible for the acts of his deputy. We contemplate a salary equal to one-half of the relieving officers in each district.

We are making arrangements by advertisement, and with the aid of our relief officers, for stone-breaking depôts, and overseers of able-bodied while so engaged ; we expect to have this perfect against our next report. We have the implements necessary for this work.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 14, 1848.

I AM to state that if you shall be satisfied, after due consideration, that the present master of the workhouse is not competent to discharge the duties of that office satisfactorily, he should be at once called upon to resign.

The Commissioners will draw the attention of the Inspector of the district to your report. With regard to the robbery which has been committed in the workhouse, they have no objection to the proposed reward for discovery of the offenders.

FURTHER LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS :—
March 24, 1848.

THE Commissioners have again had before them your communication of the 11th instant, and with reference to that portion of it which relates to the supply of coffins for the interment of the bodies of poor persons who die out of the workhouse, I am directed to state that the Commissioners are not prepared to make any recommendation with a view to the alteration of the present law on the subject.

Athlone Union.

The Commissioners trust that the resources for the burial of the dead, which have heretofore been found sufficient, will still be made available; and I am at the same time to draw your attention to the 15th section of the Act 10 Vict., chap. 22, under which the estimates to be furnished by the Relief Committees continued by that Act may include the expense of providing coffins for persons who die of fever, or other epidemic disease, in such Relief Committee's electoral division.

The Commissioners are inclined to think that the master of the workhouse should be held responsible for the value of the meal stolen from the workhouse, under the circumstances mentioned in your report, as such an occurrence could not have taken place had he used ordinary diligence and care.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. FLANAGAN :—March 6, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith the papers relating to the death of two boys named Kelehan in the Athlone Union; and I am to request that you will have the goodness to proceed to Athlone and institute an inquiry on oath into the cause of death of the children with as little delay as possible.

Mr. FLANAGAN to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 14, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to state that, in compliance with your letter of the 6th instant, directing me "to institute an inquiry upon oath into the cause of the death of the two boys, John and James Kelehan, in that letter referred to," I have made the inquiry as directed, and have now the honour to transmit notes of the evidence taken by me, and my report thereon as follows:—

The Vice-Guardians of this Union having, shortly after their arrival, given directions that amongst others all persons not entitled to relief should be discharged from the workhouse, lists were directed to be made out of all such persons. The assistant master (then in charge of the house) procured a list from the school-master of all boys whose parents hold land, or were not inmates of the workhouse. Amongst others on that list were the two boys, John and James Kelehan, who had been inmates of the house since the 17th of April, 1847, and, as it appears from the register, were admitted as twins, 11 years of age, orphans, and described as healthy. It appeared from their own statement that they had a mother living at Grange, in the electoral division of Cam, who held about four and a-half Irish acres of land.

In the discharge of their duties it appears to me that the Vice-Guardians were bound under the circumstances to discharge these boys. Accordingly on Monday, the 14th of February, these boys were, with a number of others, brought from the auxiliary house, of which they were inmates, to the workhouse for the purpose of being discharged. But in consequence of some difficulty, as it would appear from the assistant master's evidence, in finding their clothes, they were sent again that evening to the auxiliary house, and on the following morning, after having had their breakfast, and been provided with as much bread as would suffice for one day, they were finally discharged.

To understand the evidence clearly, it will be necessary to bear in mind the relative distances of the following places:—

Grange, the townland on which the mother lives, is distant about eight or nine miles from Athlone; about two or three miles on the Athlone side of Grange is a village of some size, called Carraghboy; within less than a quarter of a mile on the Athlone side of Carraghboy is the rabbit warren referred to in the evidence, and near which one of the boys was found dead; and about a quarter of a mile on the Grange side of Carraghboy is the house of Martin Doyle, where the other boy died. Between Carraghboy and Martin Doyle's there are three or four cabins; again, about four miles from Athlone is a place called the Quaker's Gate; and midway between it and Carraghboy the cabin of John Gaffy, one of the witnesses.

It would appear that after they had been discharged, about 10 or 11 o'clock, as sworn to by the master, in perfect health and excellent spirits, as deposed to by him and Dr. O'Connell, the boys were shortly after 12 o'clock met by Dr. O'Connell in a street called Connaught-street, which is on the way to Grange; they were then eating some bread. No further trace is had of them until about three o'clock, when some boys coming from school met them near the Quaker's Gate, and, seeing the workhouse clothes upon them, entered into conversation with them, as detailed in their evidence. At that time it would appear that one of the boys, the taller of the two, appeared weak and tired, though hardly so much so as to call for any particular observation from the boys, who very quickly parted company with them. They are next seen by the witness Gaffy in about half an hour afterwards, half way between the Quaker's Gate and Carraghboy; after some conversation with the boys, it appears that he left them and went to his house, which they entered in about a quarter of an hour after; and having sat down by the fire for about a quarter of an hour and warmed themselves, they went away.

Gaffy describes one of the poor boys at that time as extremely weak and badly able to walk; he desired them to make haste, as they would so reach their mother's house before nightfall, and moreover keep themselves warm.

From this time no further trace is had of either of the boys until about 12 or 1 o'clock at night, when the taller and weaker of the two (as the evidence would show) was heard at Martin Doyle's door, moaning in the manner described in his servant girl's evidence.

Doyle's and his servant girl's evidence will best describe what occurred at that time, when the poor boy appears to have been half dead from cold and exhaustion. After considerable demur on the part of Doyle the boy was finally carried from the road, where he had fallen from exhaustion after being turned out of Doyle's house, to the barn, and laid upon some straw. In the morning he was found dead.

His brother was also the next morning found dead in a stubble field near a rabbit warren, adjoining the village of Carraghboy, and about a quarter of a mile from the road.

I do not see that the Vice-Guardians or other officers of the Union are in any degree blameable in the matter.

It was certainly the duty of the Vice-Guardians to discharge all such persons; and the evidence of the relieving officer shows that the mother was in comparatively good circumstances; and they appear to me to have taken every reasonable precaution against the possible occurrence of any such casualty.

In all cases, when the parties discharged were within the classes entitled to outdoor relief, they were supplied with a week's provisions; and in the case of those boys they were given as much bread as would suffice them for the day.

The boys appear to have been warmly clad and healthy, more particularly the smaller of the two, and delighted at being discharged. According to the evidence of the medical officer, boys of their age and appearance ought to have been easily able to reach their home in one day.

It is difficult to surmise where the boys could have loitered from the time of their discharge until they were met at the Quaker's Gate as described. In a period of from four to five hours they do not appear to have travelled more than four miles. And again, what became of the unfortunate boys after they quitted John Gaffy's house; and how the smaller of the two happened to leave the high road (the night being clear and bright), and wander into the stubble field, where he was found dead; and where the taller had been from that time until 12 at night, when he was found at Doyle's door; and how he could have passed through the village at Carraghboy, and not have been seen or heard of there,* it is impossible to divine. It is possible that, overcome with fatigue, they may have turned into the rabbit warren and fallen asleep, and that on awaking after some hours the taller boy may have crawled as well as he could in the direction of his mother's home, and ultimately sunk from exhaustion at Doyle's door.

However this may be, I think the evidence establishes that those boys died from cold and exhaustion, and not from starvation, and that the Vice-Guardians acted humanely and considerately when discharging them.

ENCLOSURE.

Athlone, March 13, 1848.

Thomas O'Brien sworn and examined.—I am assistant master of the workhouse; I recollect John and James Kelehan; they were inmates of the workhouse; they were admitted on the 17th of April, 1847. On the Thursday before they were discharged, I got directions from

* This I have ascertained from the police constable who summoned all the witnesses, and made diligent inquiries in the village.

Athlone Union.

the Vice-Guardians to make out a list of all persons in the house where the heads of the families were out and some members dependent upon them in the house, and also of all persons who had land, and of all persons who had a place to go to in case out-door relief were given to them. In order to find this out I gave directions to Scally, the schoolmaster, to interrogate the boys. Scally then returned, amongst a list of other boys, the boys James and John; their mother held four acres of land; this he ascertained from the boys themselves. I then laid this list before the Vice-Guardians; there were about 135 altogether on the list; I got directions from them to discharge all those persons, and to give a week's supply to all those who would be entitled to out-door relief; such as widows with two or more children. I did not get directions to give a week's supply to those boys, because they would not have been entitled to out-door relief. On Monday morning, the 14th February, I commenced to discharge all those persons; one hundred and fourteen were discharged (on the 14th) at different hours, from ten o'clock until three in the afternoon; they all got their breakfasts before they were discharged; the boys were ordered to be discharged on Monday, but in consequence of not being able to find their clothes they were not finally discharged that day: they were discharged on the morning of Tuesday the 15th, about the hour of ten or eleven; they had had their breakfast, and I gave them some bread each before they went out; the quantity I do not exactly remember, but I know they got the regular allowance for the day; they were going to Cam, a distance (I believe) to their home of seven or eight miles; there were other persons from the same direction discharged on the same day—amongst others two boys, William and James Green; I gave general directions that all travelling to the same district should keep together; the day was a dry day; I do not recollect whether the day was cold or not; the boys did not object to being discharged, on the contrary I think they were glad to go; they were running about in great spirits; the boys were about eleven or twelve years of age, and healthy;* they had the Union clothes on them when discharged; the clothes were tolerably good; I think the boys were well able to walk seven or eight miles.

William Scally sworn and examined.—Is schoolmaster of workhouse; knew the boys John and James Kelehan; recollects taking a list of boys whose parents had land; I took down the names of those boys; I did so because they told me their mother who was not in the workhouse, held four acres and three roods of land; one of the boys appeared to me delicate; he had had some pain in his bowels, and had been removed to hospital; he was more than a week back in the schoolroom before his discharge, but not a fortnight; I cannot say which of the two boys this was. On Monday, the 13th, they were brought down from the auxiliary house after breakfast, under charge of a man named Cronin; there were about 30 boys brought down; all who were not discharged upon that day, returned together under Cronin's charge; they slept that night in the auxiliary house, and were brought back again on Tuesday morning after breakfast; I never saw them since; one of the boys could have travelled seven or eight miles with ease; as to the other I cannot say; the boys appeared highly pleased at getting out.

Thomas Shee sworn and examined, about 14 years of age.—Recollects overtaking on his way from school the two boys, who were afterwards found dead; cannot say what day it was; we leave school usually about three o'clock; the clock was not going that day; it was about the same time as usual; the school is at Famore, about four miles from this; I overtook them about 40 yards from the school; they were walking very slowly; I saw the workhouse clothes on them, and in consequence I asked them why they were leaving the house; I asked them whether they stole away, or had been sent on a message; one of them said not, but that they had been turned out because their mother held land: I walked with them about 100 yards, and then stopped at a place called Quaker's Gate, and they walked on; they did not appear starved; one of them was leaning on his brother's shoulder, and appeared weak enough; this I judge from his leaning upon his shoulder; they did not appear to be in good spirits, and would hardly speak; I did not see them after that until the inquest.

Patrick Mullen sworn and examined, about 15 years of age.—Was with last witness coming from school when we overtook the Kelehans; I asked them how far had they to go, and one of them told me not to be bothering him so; this is about a mile from Carraghboy, the place where one of the boys was found dead; it was snowing at the time we parted from them; it had not been snowing in the morning when we went to school; the day was cold; the boys did not appear very tired; one of them was leaning upon the other, and walked as if he was lame; he did not appear "beat up," and I think he could have walked a mile; the taller boy was the one leaning on his brother's shoulder; he appeared to be weak; his colour was bad; he did not talk at all; it was not (in my opinion) a long walk for a boy of the smaller of the two from this place to the place where they were found dead.

Thomas Gaffy sworn and examined.—Lives midway between the Quaker's Gate and Carraghboy; recollects coming out on the road about half-past three o'clock in the evening; I observed the two little fellows coming along; the evening was cold; I observed the poorhouse dress on them, and I asked them if they had stolen out themselves out of the poorhouse; the youngest one spoke to me and said not, but that they had been turned out of the house that morning, because his mother held some land. They told me they lived in Grange; it is about three miles from this.† The taller boy did not speak much, he appeared to be very weak in his walk and in his talk, but his complexion was good, and he denoted no hardship in his appearance; they were both badly able to walk; the younger better than the other; they appeared very cold; it was daylight at this time, and they could have reached home before nightfall; they were walking very slowly when I saw them; if they did not walk faster, they could not have reached home before night; they would have got about half way; after I met them first, I walked with them along the road about five or six perches; they then met an acquaintance with whom they entered into conversation; I then walked on and went into my own house about 30 perches further on; and in or about 15 minutes after this they came into the same house, and they sat down by the fire to warm themselves; they remained in the house about 15 minutes; some people came in, and they stood up to go; I then told them to hurry on, as if they did they would keep themselves warm, and reach home before nightfall; the boys appeared very cold and weak; they did not ask for liberty to remain there that night. The rabbit warren, where I am told one of the boys was found dead, is only about half a mile from my house; there are four houses on the road side between it and the rabbit warren; it was a very cold evening; the clothes they had were good, only the small-clothes torn on the knees.

* This is from the Register, described ■—twins of eleven years, and orphans, healthy.

† Where he met the boys.

Catherine Glennon examined, not sworn.†—Was servant girl to Thomas Doyle; I recollect one night just as we were going to bed, (the rest of the family were all in bed,) hearing a weak cry at the door; I was just going to lock the door at the time; I told Mary Doyle of it, and she told her husband, who got up and let a boy in; this was the taller boy of the two; the boy was staggering when the door was opened, and John Doyle took hold of him by the hand; he was falling; John Doyle asked him where did he live, and he said he lived in Cahir; he did not say what particular place; it was almost impossible to understand what he was saying; he asked him was he hungry, and whether he would eat a bit of bread, and he said he would; he then gave him a bit of bread; the boy did not eat it; he asked him what was his father and mother's name; what he answered about his father's I could not understand; his mother's he said was Mary Fallon; this was the only plain word he spoke; John Doyle then told me to take him by the hand and lead him out in the road, the way that he should go home; John Doyle was afraid that he had the fever; the night was very bright, but freezing; I brought him by the hand as far as the road, and when I let his hand go he fell; his mouth was then cut; I then went in and told John Doyle; he said nothing, and he then went to bed; we got sorry then immediately after, and he told me to get up and get the lock of the barn, and I then went up and asked the boy whether he would get up and I would let him in, and he did not speak to me, but he only looked at me; I then took him up in my arms and carried him into the barn; the barn was well roofed in; I laid him on some straw that was in it; in the morning when I got up, John Doyle told me to go and see how the boy was; I then went in and found him dead.

Thomas Doyle sworn and examined.—Recollects a Tuesday night about twelve or one o'clock at night, after he and his wife had just gone to bed, the last witness, their servant girl, coming, to his wife and telling her that there was some one crying at the door. I then desired the girl to open the door and let the person in; she said she was afraid; I then got up and opened the door. When I did the boy staggered in, and would have fallen but I caught him in my arms, I then asked him where he was from, and he said from Cam; and that his mother's name was Molly Fallon. I had him very nearly a quarter of an hour in my arms, he was not able to speak; he was trying to speak, but was so weak he could not speak distinctly; I then asked him if he was hungry, and I gave him a bit of bread; he did not eat it; my wife then who is near her lying-in, told me to put him out and send him home; she was afraid he would die in the house; I then desired the little girl to take him out, and she did; when she let his hand go he fell. I then told my wife that he had fallen, and that we ought to take him in, she said not, she was afraid he would die in the house; and I then told the little girl to take the key of the barn, and let him in, which she did; the next morning he was found dead; we were afraid that he might have the fever.

Michael Dolan sworn and examined (labourer).—Recollects finding one of the boys dead on the lands of Carrick; this was near a rabbit warren; it is a good bit off the road; very nearly a quarter of a mile from the road; I found him in a stubble field about two yards from the wall; I found him early in the morning dead; the gate leading into the warren is about half a mile from John Gaffy's; I saw a bit of turnip falling out of his pocket.

Dr. O'Connell sworn and examined.—Made a post-mortem examination of the two boys; the first I saw was James (the taller of the two), who died in Doyle's house; there was no appearance of violence on the body, the countenance was perfectly natural. The stomach contained very little food; that appeared to be composed of either gruel or oaten bread softened by the action of the stomach. The general appearance of the body was healthy, and I do not think that he died from want of food, but solely from exposure to the intense cold of the night. The general appearance of the other boy (John) was similar to that of his brother, the stomach was nearly full of Indian meal and rice, similar to what is given to the inmates of the workhouse; the intestines were empty. I am therefore of opinion that he died in the early part of the night of Tuesday; recollects the boys when in the house, and also to have seen them going out that morning in the end of Connaught-street; they were then eating something, and appeared perfectly healthy. This was just twelve o'clock or very little after; boys of their age and appearance could have walked with perfect ease from the workhouse to Grange without danger and before nightfall.

John King sworn and examined.—Is relieving officer for Cam and Raharra; in consequence of the death of the two boys went and visited the house of their mother; their mother lives in Grange, about eight miles from the workhouse; when I went to the house, which was on the 22nd I believe, but after the inquest, I saw her son, a strong young man of about 18 or 20 years of age; there was then immediately opposite the door, inside the house, a heap of † This child, about 10 or 11 years of age, I did not think it advisable to swear.

Athlone Union.

wheat covered up with straw, the heap appeared to me to contain about three barrels; I then called out the son and asked him to come and show me his mother's land; he then came out and pointed out the land to me; he told me it contained about four acres and a half Irish. The land is arable land, not cut-away bog, all upland; the land in my opinion, as pointed out to me, appeared fully to contain four acres and a half; some of the land is actually cropped, now growing wheat, and some part of it near the cabin is planted with cabbage; the cabin is small but more comfortable than cabins usually are; from the appearance of the cabin and place I do not think they were in any poverty; I did not see any haggard, but a good deal of loose straw made into a small stack, there was much more straw than would have been produced by the three barrels of wheat; and I was told by a confidential man in that neighbourhood that some short time before, she had disposed of a load of wheat; the cabin was also newly thatched; I said to the mother, that it was a shame for her to have allowed her children to go to the workhouse, and she well able to support them; she then began to cry, and said it was now too late to speak of that.

The COMMISSIONERS to Sir DENIS LE MARCHANT:—March 22, 1848.

THE Commissioners beg to state that on the receipt of your letter of the 3rd instant, they directed Mr. S. Woulfe Flanagan, Poor Law Inspector, to make inquiry on oath, as desired by Secretary Sir George Grey, into the circumstances attendant on the discharge of two boys named Kelehan, from the workhouse of Athlone Union, on the 15th of February, and who on the following morning were found dead.

The Commissioners beg now to forward a copy of Mr. S. Woulfe Flanagan's report, with copies of the depositions of the several witnesses examined, by which it will be observed that the boys were discharged from the workhouse, as their mother was ascertained to be living in the Union, in occupation of a cabin and four and a half Irish acres of land (7A. 1R. 5P. English), and that they were when discharged in good health—had taken their morning meal—were provided with a day's allowance of bread, and were considered (as sworn by the medical officer) to be able, with ease, to have reached their mother's residence during the day, after the hour (about 11 o'clock, A. M.) at which they left the workhouse.

The Commissioners further beg to direct attention to the evidence as to the age of these boys, which appears to have exceeded 11 years, also to the statement of the first witness, the assistant master, which shows that they left the workhouse in company with other persons who had to go in the same direction, particularly two boys named William and James Green; and that they were enjoined to keep in company with these other boys and persons, which, however, they must have immediately neglected, as the medical officer met them at 12 o'clock in one of the streets of the town, no part of which is far from the workhouse.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 18, 1848.

OUR rate collectors are doing their duty, the last appointed, Mr. Kelly, has not yet been confirmed by you, and the previous appointment, Mr. Jameson, only got his books on last Thursday. 631*l.* 14*s.* 1*d.* has been lodged this week by five of them.

The relieving officers are actively engaged, and so far as we can judge, with great propriety. We have granted most of them assistants, subject to their approval and control, at half salary in each case. The relief lists continue to be very heavy.

With regard to the many inquests that have been, and are being holden in the Union, we beg to remark that we have not been able to trace a case in which relief has been sought for or refused, or where our relieving officers have neglected to perform their duties, and so far as we can judge from the evidences taken, the majority of cases appear to have been wandering mendicants from other Unions.

We cannot avoid calling the attention of the Commissioners to the verdicts almost universally returned; viz., "hunger and want," when frequently the evidence adduced would lead to suppose that death had ensued from disease, or other causes at variance with such a verdict. The coroner of the Roscommon portion of our Union appears to have this verdict stereotyped for the use of county juries, and sends the same to the press, before he holds his inquests.

We forwarded you by last post, the report of our relieving officers on the cases of inquests on Michael M'Loughlin and Bridget Downey; two other cases of inquests referred to us by your letter of 16th instant, are found to have occurred in the Ballinasloe Union.

The master has sworn informations against Spelman, the step-father of Bridget Downey; he has absconded.

On inquiry with reference to yours of 8th instant, the number of aged and infirm appearing in the house, we have closely examined that class, and after discharging 52 of their number we find the majority remaining are not cases we could safely turn out for out-door relief.

Regarding your letter of 14th instant, finding the master still deficient in carrying out our instructions, we spoke to him on the subject and he expressed his willingness to resign, and said he would do so on the 25th instant, and conduct the affairs of the house until we could obtain another master, for which we will immediately advertise, and give due time in hope of finding an efficient one.

We beg to enclose the code of instructions we have drawn up for the guidance of our relieving officers, overseers, &c., &c. We have had several parties stone-breaking this week, and appointed overseers, &c., in all the divisions except three.

ENCLOSURE.

ATHLONE UNION.—INSTRUCTIONS TO RELIEVING OFFICERS, GENERAL OVERSEERS, and OVERSEERS, &c.

1st. RELIEVING officers should be most careful in using their discretion as to the persons they return as able-bodied, as they must remember, that if a person is so returned a task of work suitable for an able-bodied person will be required. If the relieving officer has any doubt of a person being able to work or not, he can send him to procure a certificate from the medical officer; but this must be a rare occurrence, as in most cases a man's appearance will tell if he is able-bodied or otherwise.

2nd. In case any able-bodied person absents himself from work for two days in succession, it is the duty of the overseer to report his absence forthwith to the relieving officer, who will at once proceed to his house and ascertain if his absence is caused by illness, if so his name shall be removed from the able-bodied list to the impotent, and such change reported. When such person has recovered, he can again be returned for work.

3rd. If any man absents himself from work, and returns any other day, he may be set to work by the overseer, and receive his allowance for the day he worked; provided he accomplished the stated task.

4th. It is supposed that stone-breaking by task-work will be the best mode of employing the able-bodied. Portion to be employed in quarrying—portion in breaking—and portion in removing. It is calculated that each labourer should quarry three boxes of nine cubic feet daily—each breaker should break one. In inclement weather, when work cannot be done, roll should be called at 9, 12, 1, and 4. The hours of working should be from 8 A.M. to 4 P.M.

5th. The general overseer is to point out to the overseer in charge of the station at which the working party is to be employed, he is also to point out the nature of the work to be done—the manner in which it is to be performed—and the hours at which the roll is to be called. He is to visit each station once a week, for the purpose of ascertaining the total amount of work done and its value, and to certify same to the Vice-Guardians on their day of meeting. He is to pay particular attention to the conduct of the persons employed, and to report any irregularity.

6th. The quantity of food ordered in each ticket should be fully stated in writing and numbers, and no ticket which is obliterated or altered, or forwarded without signature, will be attended to; and if it occurs often the officer will be dismissed as incapable of performing his duties.

7th. Each overseer should attend and leave his signature with relieving officer.

8th. It is most important that each relieving officer's out-door register should not be suffered to fall into arrear; for this purpose he should at once ascertain the expense of each able-bodied and impotent applicant on his books. This can be done by attending on one day in each week at the clerk's office.

9th. The Weekly Books should be lodged in the office each Tuesday for inspection by the clerk, and can be taken back again at any time.

J. A. DROUGHT, }
EDWARD WALL, } Vice-Guardians.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 24, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners propose to draw the attention of Government to your statement regarding the verdicts returned by the coroner of the Roscommon portion of the Union on the inquests held by him, and I am therefore to request that the Commissioners may be informed specifically of any case in which the coroner is known to have sent a verdict for publication before the inquest was held.

Athlone Union.
—

With reference to the instructions which you have drawn out for the guidance of the relieving officers and overseers, I am to state that as the instructions for out-door relief to able-bodied paupers do not refer to the issue of food so as to show whether the issue is made daily, the Commissioners are desirous of being informed whether a daily issue is made, and whether cooked food can be provided throughout the Union.

Mr. FLANAGAN to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 22, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report, that in my opinion it will be advisable to renew, in the form in which it is at present in force, the order for out-door relief in this Union, which will expire on the 25th instant.

In the electoral divisions of St. Peter, and Drum, Taghmaconnell, and the other divisions in the Roscommon part of this Union, I am of opinion that the distress, so far from abating, is daily becoming greater; and I do not see any prospect of relieving it but through the medium of the order for out-door relief.

The inclemency of the weather hitherto has prevented the commencement of the ordinary spring labour of the county, which will, no doubt, in some degree alleviate the very great existing distress, but in my opinion will not give employment to one-half of those to whom relief must be afforded in some form or other.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 22, 1848.

WE beg herewith to forward our relieving officer's explanation regarding the death of a man named Michael Gallagher, upon whose body an inquest was held by the coroner of the county Roscommon, who returned the usual verdict—"Died of hunger and want."

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. LANDER, Relieving Officer, to the VICE-GUARDIANS :—March 23, 1848.

IN compliance with your orders, I lay before you a statement relating to the decease of a man named Michael Gallagher, who is stated by the jury on the inquest held on his body to have died from hunger and want in the electoral division of St. Peter's and Drum. Now, gentlemen, I beg leave to state that the deceased Michael Gallagher was on my books for out-door relief since the 7th of February, and that every week from that period he regularly received the complement of rations allowed by Vice-Guardians for support of himself and family, the quantity allowed being 19 lbs. of Indian meal per week; and that up to the day previous to his death he received rations four times, and that the Saturday before he died, the day for distributing the rations, having called the name of deceased, and his wife appearing for him, I asked where her husband was. She said he was lying in fever since that day week. Thinking she was not telling the truth, I referred her to a Mr. Kelly, who lives very near her house, for a note to that effect, telling her at the same time that it would not take her long to do so, as Mr. Kelly was in town, and that I would not leave the meal depôt for some hours after. She not returning that evening, I called her name again on Monday. No one appeared that day. On Tuesday I again called the name, when I was informed that deceased, his wife and family, were lying in fever. I asked was there any one there that would bring him the meal. A brother of deceased said he would bring it to him if I gave it. I then gave the meal. This was early on Tuesday, and the man did not die till next day. Thus far I had to do with the deceased Michael Gallagher. Having visited the house of deceased, which is a most wretched hovel, full of smoke, without any way of escape for it, or for the admission of light, or, what is more necessary than all, pure air, save by a small aperture in the shape of a door, surrounded by a filthy dung-heap, which was sufficient of itself to have created fever, I learned by inquiry from a woman named Gately (the wife and family of deceased being at this time lying very ill in fever), who lives next door to deceased, that he was labouring under a very severe attack of dysentery for a month previous to his death; that a week or so before he died it turned to fever; that he was regularly receiving rations every week; that the day previous to his death his brother received them for him early in the day; that he left them in town until evening, when he sent them to the house of deceased by a boy. The reason he states for so doing is this, that he did not wish to let his wife's apron, in which the meal was tied, into the house of his brother, on account of his having fever; that deceased did not receive the meal till late in the evening, and that even if he had, he could make no use of it, as the neighbours would not go near his house. In the meantime deceased, in a raving state, and not conscious of what he was doing (as were he so he would not have acted thus), rambled out on the road to see if a messenger that he sent a short time previous to town for his rations was coming, although not half an hour gone. This was about 10 o'clock in the morning; that he did not go more than 200 yards from his own door when he fell in a pool of water, having become exhausted, as might be expected from any one in his state of health; that he lay there for some hours. There were two men working in a field near where he fell; they spoke to him, but would render him no assistance on account of his having fever; that the old woman, from whom I learned all this, coming up at the time, assisted him to rise. He stood upright, but, endeavouring to walk, he fell forward on his head, which, as she says, was sufficient to kill a stronger man. She threw him his hat, not wishing to stop too long near him, as she knew him to have fever. Her husband coming up at the time, assisted him to his house. They saw no more of him until next morning, when they found him dead. I was told by a respectable person who lives near deceased's house that he died more through neglect of his neighbours than the effects of the disease, as they would not bring him even a drink of water. The jury on his inquest being composed of poor labouring men, and no medical man being in attendance, I think under such circumstances, it would be impossible for even a more learned jury to find such a verdict.

I forgot to mention that the time that elapsed from his leaving his own house until he was brought back was about six hours, as he was on the road from 10 o'clock till near 4 in the afternoon. Now, gentlemen, I could ascertain with respect to Michael Gallagher nothing farther.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—March 25, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration your report of the 22nd instant, and a letter from Mr. Lander, one of the relieving officers of the Athlone Union, in which he accounts for the death of Michael Gallagher, who is declared by a coroner's jury to have died of hunger and want.

The Commissioners consider this a very painful case, showing that the relief applicable in it was not afforded.

The officer states, that this man and family had an allowance of 19 lbs. of meal in the week, and that when the man sent his wife for the food, being himself seized with fever, she was required to obtain a note from a Mr. Kelly, to authenticate, as presumed, her statement with respect to her husband's illness. This was on Saturday; and as the poor woman did not return, the allowance of food was not issued. She was called again on Monday, and then on Tuesday, when it appeared that she and all the family were in fever. On Tuesday the food was given to the brother of the deceased man; but uncooked food to a family in fever could have been of little use. On Wednesday the deceased man, under the influence of the fever, appears to have left his house, and was on the road about six hours, during part of which time he lay in a pool of water into which he had fallen.

This appears to be a case of grievous neglect, in not applying the powers given by the Relief Extension Act; and the Commissioners request you to reconsider its very painful circumstances, and explain the course usually taken when families on the out-door relief lists are seized with fever. You are also requested to have arrangements made for issuing cooked food where practicable.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 25, 1848.

WE have little to report this week, the most important work, the collection of the rate, goes on favourably, about 1100*l.* being lodged this week by eight collectors, two only made no returns; this places us (at last) on the right side of our treasurer's book, but there is still a large amount of old cheques outstanding against us, which must be paid off by degrees.

The relieving officers' books not so heavy as heretofore, there are about 7500 now on the out-door relief lists. Stone-breaking is in operation, and acts as a salutary test in many instances. Our lists are regularly published, and the abuses undergoing correction.

The workhouse site is being prepared for oats, as no green crop will be permitted to grow in it, from its unprotected state; a good roadway is making round the yard walls outside and to the fever hospital; the women are engaged in spinning, and the children and infirm are knitting stockings.

The master has sent in his resignation, which we have accepted, and advertised for another, with an increased salary, in the hopes of procuring a really active and good man.

Athlone Union.

The Commissary meal is all gone, and we, this week, had to lay in 20 tons. We bought oatmeal at 10*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per ton, which we considered preferable to Indian meal at about the same price.

The state of the house is decidedly improved, and more order and regularity exists.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 28, 1848.

WE are in receipt of yours of the 25th instant, on the subject of the death of Michael Gallagher, and the relieving officer's report thereon.

The dietary usually adopted by us in case of fever is bread and milk, or oatmeal for gruel, in place of Indian meal. This our physician decided was the most suitable food in such cases.

The case of Gallagher was a painful one, and the relieving officer is censurable; but on explanation we think you will see extenuating circumstances, from the difficulty of his position, the extent of his district, and our inability to place funds at his disposal for urgent cases.

St. Peter's and Drum is the largest division of the Union (in the county Roscommon), and by far the poorest. For some weeks after the relief books were issued to Mr. Lander, the pressure was so great that he could not possibly visit, except in the vicinity of the town. His district extends nine miles in one direction and eight in another. It is now under two relieving officers. We rendered him every assistance by getting the meal distributed at the workhouse; and he brought to his aid several respectable residents of the division, from whom he learned the circumstances of the applicants. The liability to imposition in a town district is so great, that we were more particular in our instructions to Mr. L. to require the attendance of the head of the family to receive the rations. He acted on this in Gallagher's case perhaps more rigidly, in consequence of three reports of fever the previous week, which on visiting he ascertained to be false.

Mr. Lander states, that after refusing the rations to the wife on Saturday, and sending her to Mr. Kelly, the miller, who had employed her husband, and who was then in the town, as she did not return, he visited the house on Sunday (see his report of the state of it). He then called on Dr. Kelly, and asked him to visit the family. He refused without a guinea fee. Mr. L. had no money, nor were we in a position to give our relieving officers any even to the present day.

On Monday, he attended two hours distributing meal at the workhouse to those who did not attend on Saturday. He appealed to those present to take this family food; but none would go near the house for fear of contagion. He then went to Clonown, nine miles, to distribute meal there, and was engaged all day. On Tuesday he again attended the workhouse to distribute further to parties who urgently required it, and again appealed to those present to convey food to Gallagher, when his brother appeared and got it for him. He would not enter the house, but left it outside the door. He got the food before 11 o'clock, A.M., on Tuesday, and it appears he did not deliver it before evening.

That Mr. Lander is censurable in not administering to his wants more promptly and suitably we must admit, and we reprimanded him severely when we heard of the case first, and gave him an assistant, which we trust will be the means of preventing such occurrences in future in our Union, and the more so as we will be this week in a position to place money in the hands of our relieving officers to meet cases of urgent necessity.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 31, 1848.

WE are in receipt of yours of 25th instant, on the subject of the number of impotent poor remaining in the house, and the necessity for making the house exclusively available for able-bodied.

We are fully impressed with the importance of this rule, and acted upon it as far as our means and circumstances permitted to this date.

Each week we personally visited every ward and offered the only inducements we had in our power to give—ample rations of meal, (we had not the command of any money till now) and the meal was far from being good.

This week we have removed such of impotent as could be safely put out on either money or food rations; and we will not leave one of that class in the house that it is possible to remove. At no time have we been without some room to test able-bodied or doubtful cases, and exercised it, and we find that the stone-breaking now in general operation, is a salutary test and has reduced the out-door lists.

We do not apprehend the extent of out-door relief will exceed our present numbers, or that we will require a further order under the 2nd section.

With regard to cooked food, we have ordered a set of hot plates (as in Limerick) to bake Indian meal bread in the workhouse, and which we purpose to distribute as rations. We have considered the erection of boilers in each electoral division, and on calculating the expense of doing so and the cost of staff necessary to cook and distribute stirabout, we have come to the conclusion that it is not economic, for the short space of time it is likely to be required, to incur that expense.

We are now just out of debt and have made most reasonable contracts for the ensuing six months, and we do not, as far as we can judge at present, apprehend that a further rate will be required before next September.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 6, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners are desirous that you should consider the issue of cooked rations not in reference merely to the expense of cooking and distributing, but to the effect which it may have in preventing applications for relief from persons not really destitute.

I am at the same time to state that the Commissioners consider that, at least in Athlone, the rations should be issued in a cooked form.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 31, 1848.

WE are in receipt of yours of the 24th instant, on the subject of the inquests reported by the Coroner of the County Roscommon, Mr. Keogh.

The only case we can specifically prove, in which he sent in a report of the inquest before it was held, was that of John and James Kelehan, the two boys who perished of cold.

In that instance, both of the newspapers of this town received written statements, in the Coroner's hand-writing, setting forth the result of an inquest which was not held for at least four hours afterwards, and which statement did not correspond with the ultimate verdict returned of the facts elicited at the inquest.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Daly both stated that fact to us, and placed the documents in our hands; one of which is now in the possession of Mr. Flanagan, the Inspector. Mr. Martin is proprietor of the "Athlone Independent," and Mr. Daly of the "Athlone Sentinel."

Mr. Martin published the document and commented on it, and since that he has not received any more reports from the Coroner.

The verdicts returned so frequently by this Coroner of hunger and want, have been found in many instances not to correspond with the evidence adduced on the inquests; and the juries in many cases being composed of illiterate country people, this verdict was easily imposed on them, at the desire of the Coroner, who is doubtless animated by a wish to damage the Vice-Guardians in public estimation, in consequence of their refusal to appoint his son a relieving officer, or a collector of rates, as both offices he proved himself on examination unfit for, being incompetent to write a tender when asked to do so, or calculate the price of a pound of meal at 10s. 6d. per cwt.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 4, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners do not discredit the statements contained in your report, but under the peculiar circumstances of the case they deem it desirable that the facts referred to by you should be verified upon oath, and they have instructed Mr. Lloyd to make inquiry accordingly.

Athlone Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LLOYD:—April 4, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a report which they have received from the Vice-Guardians of the Athlone Union, stating that the verdicts in the cases of John and James Kelehan were sent to the newspapers before the inquest had been held; and I am to request that you will be good enough to inquire and verify this report upon oath, by the evidence of Mr. Martin and Mr. Daly, the editors of the "Athlone Independent" and the "Athlone Sentinel," respectively.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 6, 1848.

I BEG leave to transmit herewith the affidavits of Mr. Daly and his son, together with the paper the Coroner's son gave Mr. Daly some hours before the inquest was held. I could not procure these in time for last night's post, when I despatched the affidavits of Mr. Martin and his reporter; and indeed I apprehended Mr. Daly would decline doing as he has, as he is, I understand, nearly related to the Coroner.

ENCLOSURES.

JOHN DALY, of Athlone, proprietor of the "Athlone Sentinel," being duly sworn, deposeth that on the morning of Thursday, the 17th February last, Denis Keogh, son to Richard Keogh, Coroner for the Athlone district of County Roscommon, handed him a paper purporting to be the report of an inquest held upon two boys in the parish of Cam, supposed to be turned out or to have eloped from the workhouse. Deponent further saith that he gave the paper so received to his son Daniel upon his return from the inquest held on the same day at Cam.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, this 6th April, 1848, at Athlone,

JOHN DALY.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

DANIEL DALY, son of John Daly, of Athlone, proprietor of "Athlone Sentinel," being duly sworn, deposeth that he is editor and reporter for the "Athlone Sentinel," that he proceeded to Cam on Thursday the 17th February, to report an inquest about to be held, as alleged, upon two boys turned out of the workhouse on Tuesday morning the 15th. While waiting for the doctor and jurymen, was told by the Coroner that he had sent him (meaning deponent) a return of the inquest. Deponent remarked the strangeness of the proceeding, when the Coroner replied, he knew such would be the verdict; that on the return of deponent he informed his father he had taken the report of the inquest, when his father replied that he had received the report long before he (meaning deponent) could be there. Deponent asked to see the report, when his father handed him the document now produced and given to Inspector.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Athlone, this 6th day of April, 1848.

DANIEL DALY.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

RICHARD KEOGH, Esq., Coroner for Athlone district, held an inquest on the body of Daniel Fallon on the 14th, and also on a person unknown on the 15th, both found dead on the road in the parish of Faughmaconnell.

Also held an inquest on the body of a boy named Gough, who was found dead in the barn of Thomas Doyle, of Coolnageere, on the morning of the 17th; and also a boy unknown, in a field near Corboy, in the parish of Cam. Both had the dress of the workhouse, being either turned out or must have eloped. The verdict of the jury in the four cases, that they died by hunger and want. The Coroner had to provide coffins for the four.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 17, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that on the 5th instant I took the sworn depositions of Mr. James Martin, editor of the "Athlone Sentinel," wherein he states that on the morning of the 17th February last, in or about the hour of 11 o'clock, a son of Mr. Richard Keogh, Coroner for the county of Roscommon, handed him a paper, stating at the time his father desired him to give it to him. Mr. Martin observing it was a report of an inquest, laid it by for publication. In two hours afterwards Mr. Martin was informed an inquest was about to be held at Cam (about five miles distant from Athlone), upon the bodies of two boys reported to have died of hunger, after being turned out of the Athlone workhouse, when he directed his reporter to repair thither and report proceedings, which he accordingly did; and on his return in the evening, about 8 o'clock, he handed Mr. Martin the account of the proceedings, which Mr. Martin having read, observed the similarity between them and the report handed him for publication, which report purported to be that of an inquest held at Cam, upon the bodies of two boys that had been turned out of the workhouse.

It is very probable the boys may have died of exposure to cold from their own imprudence; but it is utterly impossible that they could have died of hunger, as they did not leave the workhouse until after breakfast, and had with them bread to eat on the road home, given them by the master.

Mr. Martin published both the report sent by the Coroner and that taken by his reporter at the inquest, in the "Athlone Sentinel," on the 19th February.

Mr. Daly, the editor of the "Athlone Independent," received a similar report from Mr. Richard Keogh. I took his sworn deposition on the 6th, and forwarded it same evening to the Commissioners, with the report which he gave me, stating it was in the Coroner's hand-writing.

ENCLOSURES.

JAMES MARTIN, of Athlone, county of Westmeath, editor of the "Westmeath Independent," came before me this day, and being duly sworn upon the Holy Evangelists, depose that on the morning of Thursday, the 17th February last, in or about the hour of 11 o'clock, a young man named Keogh, son to Richard Keogh, Coroner for the county of Roscommon, came into his office and handed him a paper, stating at the time "that his father desired him to give him that." Deponent looked over the paper, and observing it was in the hand-writing of the Coroner, and a report of an inquest, laid it aside for publication. Deponent further saith, that in or about two hours afterwards, he was informed that an inquest was about to be held at Cam—over five miles from Athlone—upon the bodies of two boys reported to have died of hunger after being turned out of the workhouse; that having ascertained the information was correct, he, deponent, directed his reporter to proceed to Cam, and report thereon; that in or about the hour of 8 o'clock in the evening his reporter returned, and shortly after handed deponent the account of the proceedings at the inquest, which deponent having read, observed a similarity between them and the report of the inquest furnished him by the Coroner that morning, and which deponent published in the "Westmeath Independent" of the 19th February, together with the proceedings of the inquest as taken by his reporter.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, this 5th day of April, 1848, at Athlone,

JAMES MARTIN.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

GEORGE DE WINTON HYATT, of Athlone, county of Westmeath, reporter for the "Westmeath Independent," came before me this day, and being duly sworn, depose that in or about the hour of 1 o'clock P.M., of Thursday the 17th February last, Mr. James Martin, editor of the "Westmeath Independent," directed him to proceed to Cam to report the proceedings of an inquest about to be held there upon the bodies of two boys that had been turned out of the workhouse; that he went accordingly, and reported the proceedings of the inquest, as published in the "Westmeath Independent" of Saturday the 19th February last. Deponent further saith, that the verdict was recorded in or about 5 o'clock P.M., after which deponent returned to Athlone.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, this 5th day of April, 1848, at Athlone,

GEORGE DE WINTON HYATT.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 8, 1848.

We are happy to be able to report our finances in a fair condition; the collection of the rate is excellent, 929/. being lodged this week. The collector's accounts are strictly kept in conformity with your orders.

The relieving officers are working very well, and keeping their books properly posted; the adoption of decimals in keeping their accounts render them comparatively simple and easy to check.

The females are engaged in spinning wool, and the children are knitting stockings—upwards of 50 pairs of all sizes were knit this week; 12 boys are engaged in shoemaking and tailoring and replaced by 12 others each alternate week.

We continue this week to remove on out-door relief, the aged and infirm, and have discharged 129; generally speaking, they evince much reluctance to leave the house, but seeing us determined to grant money rations to such only as were devoid of friends and obliged to pay for lodgings, they gradually yielded and went out on food rations.

Athlone Union.

The applications for out-door relief are sensibly diminished ; on revising the books this week we struck off numbers—all the single adults, under the 2nd section, and many families where we found part employed, or that refused to break stones.

The rate collector for the Athlone division made a distress for rates, and was deforced, at Clonown, a spot remarkable for its lawless resistance, at all times, to the payment of rates. It is bounded by the Shannon on the one side, and a bog at the other. The previous collector was obliged to take a military force there. Mr. O'Sullivan having gone through the usual forms, a military and police force were obtained, who marched there on Monday morning, but were quite unsuccessful, the stock being either removed off the premises or locked up in houses. The collector says if he had the power to break locks, or force into the houses where the cattle were locked up, he would succeed. He is very zealous and determined, knows all the parties, and says they are well able to pay.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 15, 1848.

WE beg to report that during the past week we have been chiefly occupied revising the relieving officers' books ; the applications for relief were comparatively few, and the numbers struck off for non-attendance at stone-breaking many, thereby indicating increased employment. Potato sowing is very general, and this opens a considerable field for labour.

We have arranged for the daily distribution of cooked food, in the town districts, to the able-bodied receiving out-door relief, to commence on Monday next ; from what we see we consider this class will be very limited in numbers.

You will perceive by the minutes that we have very considerably reduced the numbers of infirm in the house, having placed all that we could induce to leave (of this class) on out-door relief under the 1st section.

The women and girls are now kept daily busily employed spinning, sewing, and knitting—102 pairs of stockings have already been finished.

The cleanliness and interior economy of the house are considerably improved ; but we would beg to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the fact of the interments on the workhouse site having been spread over the ground very injudiciously, and we would therefore recommend your Board to empower us to obtain a piece of land for a burial-ground, removed from the workhouse.

The master has not been in attendance for the past week ; he is reported to be ill. The assistant master is in charge for the present.

Having made the necessary inquiries about procuring and renting a good and convenient bog, for placing some of the able-bodied out-door recipients to cut turf on, for the use of the workhouse, we find that the hiring of boats, carts, &c., would make it much more expensive than we could procure our supplies by contract, and we will therefore, with your permission, give over all idea of doing so.

On Thursday, after dinner, the able-bodied class refused to proceed to work (sowing potatoes on workhouse site), as usual we sent the assistant master to remonstrate with them, but without effect ; we then went to the yard, where they were all drawn up in a line, on a heap of broken stones, to the number of 100 and upwards, in a very menacing attitude. We read the Poor Law Commissioners' orders, and reasoned with them for some time, but they positively refused to go to work after dinner, observing that they worked enough for the food they got. We then contrasted the usual hours of labour if engaged in farm work outside, and the inferiority of food both in quantity and quality, and if not satisfied to comply with the rules of the house they were at liberty to go out. We then turned to leave the yard, when they unanimously cried out, " let us out, let us out," and followed us in a body across the yard, and into the passage, and showed every disposition to be violent, then we turned and faced them, and ordered them back, saying they should be let out at our convenience, when their clothing was procured. We then seized on the two most prominent characters, observing, " they should go out at all events," and pushed them down the hall passage behind us, calling on the assistant master to keep them in custody, and sent for the police ; we then seized two more of the ringleaders whom we treated similarly, still facing the crowd, and ordering them back into the yard, in which we succeeded, and locked the door. The assistant master, with the aid of the porter and one or two paupers who were in the front building, locked up the four men in the probationary ward, until the arrival of the police, when they were given in charge. We then went to the stipendiary magistrate (Mr. Rathborne) and had them committed for the night. He read them a very severe lecture, next day they showed every sign of contrition, and he, in consequence of this and their large families (three out of four being married men), urged us not to prosecute them; but being determined not to admit them again without making an example, we permitted the option of quitting the house or prosecution, which former was chosen by them. Our determination, we think, has had a most salutary effect. We attended next morning at half-past seven o'clock at the workhouse, and we found the orders carried out most cheerfully, and matters going on quite satisfactorily since.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 20, 1848.

THE Commissioners fully approve of your taking the necessary steps for obtaining a piece of ground for a cemetery with as little delay as possible.

As regards the proposed employment of poor persons receiving out-door relief in cutting turf, the Commissioners concur with you in thinking it would be much better to obtain the turf you may require by contract in the usual manner.

The Commissioners have directed me to express their approval of the prompt steps which you took to restore order in the workhouse. The Commissioners fear, however, that the families of the four men who were discharged may suffer in consequence of their discharge, and the Commissioners recommend that the particular attention of the relieving officers should be directed to these cases.

The Commissioners are of opinion that persons in a destitute condition, who may be disorderly or refractory in a workhouse should be punished either by the means authorized in the General Regulations or under the 58th section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, rather than that they should be discharged from the workhouse, whereby their families who have not misconducted themselves may be subjected to severe hardships, and if any fatal result should occur from their discharge, the Guardians would be to a certain extent responsible for them.

The Commissioners are desirous of being informed how the collection of the poor-rate proceeds in the electoral division, which was specially referred to in your report of the 8th instant.

THE VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 21, 1848.

WE are happy to report that the interior economy of the workhouse improves, cleanliness is more apparent, and order is better maintained; industrial labour is general. The able-bodied are amenable, and show no inclination to resist authority and labour as heretofore. We will draw the attention of the relieving officers to the families of the men who chose to leave the house rather than be prosecuted for their insubordination last week.

The leases of the auxiliary workhouse have been completed.

We have received a supply of books from the National Board of Education for both schools, 10*l.* 5*s.* worth.

The collection of the rate has been rather slow for the past fortnight on the Roscommon side, doubtless inflamed by the organized opposition at Clonown, and on the Westmeath side by the illness of one of our collectors, Mr. Jameson, of Moate. Two extensive fairs are held on the 25th of this month, from which much is anticipated. We have issued a circular to our rate collectors urging increased exertion.

The collector for Athlone electoral division made another foray at Clonown, aided by the police only, and with signal success: he was on the spot at four o'clock on Tuesday morning, and had 39 head of cattle and 6 sheep safely lodged in pound before eight o'clock. The rate on those seized amounting to about 34*l.*, was paid at once with costs.

Athlone Union.

The result is of serious importance, as pending it, the collector, a very active and intelligent man, declared he could not get any rate in the division.

On the Roscommon side we find fever becoming general, and in many cases we fear it is feigned with a view to get increased relief. The want of a fever hospital or a physician to visit renders imposition of this kind difficult to check.

We have advertised for a building suitable for a fever hospital, also for a burial-ground.

On Tuesday last, six candidates appeared for the office of master, three only seemed at all eligible, and even to these some objections existed. Mr. Hancock, Inspector, recommended a person but he did not appear, so we deferred our decision till next Wednesday, and have written to him on the subject.

LOUGHREA UNION.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 28, 1848.

IN obedience to the instructions conveyed to us in your letter of the 18th instant, we have now the honour of submitting our second report of the state and condition of the Loughrea Union; and although we are not as yet in a position (from the short period we have had the administration of its affairs, and various conflicting circumstances) to make as favourable a statement as we could desire, still we trust that you will approve generally of our proceedings, and that our next report will show a much improved state of things.

The collection of the rate claims, in importance, our first consideration, and we have been unremitting in our attention to the subject, and have had almost daily interviews with the collectors (who we find a very intelligent and efficient staff). We have urged them to increased exertions, and in several instances have pointed out to them the parties to be first applied to, and which they have acted on in most cases with considerable success.

We stated, in our last communication adverting to the rates, that we found the valuation and rate books of the Union in a very defective state, and much requiring revision. We found an extreme difficulty in some cases in ascertaining with accuracy the names of the immediate lessor, and where we have failed in that inquiry we have directed frequent and peremptory demands to be made on the occupier, and are happy in being able to state that we were successful in getting a large sum from that class this week from the poor district of Athenry, which if not urgently applied for would never have been recovered.

The total receipts for the week ending Saturday, the 26th instant, amounted to 1273*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.*; and after paying off all our accounts furnished up to the same date (except a bill of 53*l.* which was lodged too late for payment), we have a balance to our favour amounting to the sum of 2586*l.* 3*s.* 7*d.*; and the collectors inform us that they are to receive a very large amount of rate from immediate lessors, to whom we instructed them to apply during the course of the current week. We believe our directions on this head have caused no small degree of annoyance and excitement amongst the particular class to which they refer; but as our duty is to carry out our instructions, you may rely on our discharging that duty with unremitting assiduity, as well as with becoming firmness and impartiality.

We now have to draw your attention to a subject of perhaps equal importance, namely, the state of the hospital and sanitary condition of the house generally; and we confess we approach this part of our subject with feelings of more than ordinary anxiety, for although we are free to admit that the medical officer is constant in his attendance, and devotes perhaps more of his time to his department than the same officer of any workhouse in Ireland is required to do, at the same time we must observe that we are impressed with the conviction that there is something in this branch of the workhouse establishment which requires amendment, and that the fearful mortality which has occurred within the last month has not been satisfactorily accounted for. We fear that the hospital nurse is not a properly qualified person for such an important situation. She is in our opinion much too young for such a trust, and not in other respects sufficiently steady to have the lives of unfortunate human beings in a measure consigned to her hands.

We are also confirmed in the opinion that it would be desirable to have an apothecary appointed to compound, and, in certain cases administer, the medicines, in which case we would suggest the reduction of the medical officer's salary to 50*l.* per annum, and we feel persuaded that a vast reduction in the expense of medicine, and a still greater saving of human life, would very shortly manifest itself.

The fever sheds, originally calculated for 100 persons, were erected in a most unsuitable position at the rear of the idiot wards and within the workhouse walls. The roofing had been covered with felt a short time previous to our arrival, but the humid air of the interior too plainly betokened the state of wet and misery in which it must previously have been, whilst outside there was a mound of mud piled up to the height of two or three feet against the slender boarded partition which alone separated the wet clay from the head of the sick or dying pauper.

Loughrea Union.

We are so impressed with the evils likely to accrue by continuing the practice of treating active fever cases within the walls of the workhouse, but more particularly in the present fever sheds, that we have made a proposition to the Committee of the town, through their efficient medical superintendent, Dr. Lynch, to endeavour to have the fever cases from the workhouse treated at the town hospital, by our paying for each case sent there a stipulated sum. The proposition was very favourably received by Dr. Lynch, who promised to communicate with the Committee on the subject, and if their answer is of a favourable nature, I trust you will not disapprove of our carrying the project into effect.

We presume your attention has been called by your Inspectors to the place appropriated by the late Board to be used as a cemetery. It is a place in every respect unsuited for the purpose; situated on an eminence in a line with, and immediately adjoining the workhouse; a substratum of hard rock, so that the graves cannot be sunk to a sufficient depth, and when we came here we found the deceased paupers deposited in shallow pits in the part of the ground most contiguous to the fever sheds, in truth the dead were lying in their graves within a few feet of the heads of the living, and with such a deficient quantity of clay to cover their miserable coffins, that unless some means are devised to act as an antidote we apprehend that when the heat of summer shall arrive disease in its most deadly and concentrated form will develop itself in the locality from the (by that time) decomposed bodies of such numbers of human beings so improperly deposited there; and we are so impressed with the awful importance of the subject, that we have advertized for a piece of ground detached from the workhouse for a cemetery, and we are in hopes in the course of a week to have the heads of an agreement ready to submit to you for your approval.

The sewers of the house are every one out of order. The original plan of forming two cesspools at either side of the house was never properly carried out, and we found two large heaps of manure and a quantity of other putrid substance were accumulated in these cesspools, of course obstructing the passage of the sewers, causing an overflow sometimes so considerable as to run over the day-rooms, laundry, and passages, and diffusing the most noxious vapours and the deadliest stench through the entire house. We have sold this manure by auction, with a view to form and complete the cesspools in accordance with the original design of your architect, and place the several sewers in a state to perform their functions.

Two of the dormitories in the main body of the house were appropriated by the late Board to the reception of "non-contagious cases," were filled with patients and under the care of the hospital nurse; but the state of filth in which these wards were kept, and the total absence of any system which prevailed amongst those to whom the management of the rooms and the patients was entrusted, was amply sufficient, in our opinion, to breed contagion amongst the other inmates of the house who had to occupy the adjoining dormitories. We have accordingly removed all these chronic cases from the workhouse altogether, and have appropriated the house in Bride-street (taken by the late Board and appropriated to the school boys, but which we did not consider at all suited for that class) for the reception of the several patients under non-contagious disease, and as a house for convalescents, provided you do not disapprove of our views.

We are anxious to have the accounts of the Union for the past year audited, and have directed the clerk to prepare the abstracts immediately. He did not appear at first to comprehend the matter, and we think it possible that some difficulty on the head of "petty cash" may arise. The late Board were in the habit of paying large sums to the clerk under the head of petty cash for the purchase of provisions and necessaries. Thus, 294*l.* appears to have been paid since December into his hands, and though the book was balanced by him it does not appear ever to have been signed by the chairman, and on our inquiring for vouchers for the last 40*l.*, paid on the 29th of January into his hands, he was not prepared with them, and we shall require this account to be balanced and closed every week. We have also to observe that the late Board at their last meeting voted a round sum of 60*l.* to be divided amongst the relieving officers for out-door relief, without considering the persons to whom it was to be dispensed. These officers were engaged in distributing this relief when we arrived; but we have not interfered with its management, or done anything to confirm what was in our opinion an illegal resolution.

Adverting to the subject of out-door relief, you were pleased to state in a former letter that you had received a report from Mr. R. Burke, your Inspector, to the effect that he conceived it necessary to recommend the issue of an order for the administration of out-door relief to able-bodied persons, and requiring our opinion on the subject. We have now the honour to state that having had the experience of 10 days' observation, and having by unremitting attention procured accommodation for 300 persons in the auxiliary workhouse, we do not consider that we shall be forced to resort to the measure of out-door relief to the able-bodied unless a much more serious pressure is made on us than we have yet experienced. There is one class, however, that we would respectfully suggest we should be authorized to relieve out of the house, viz., the families of able-bodied labourers, one or more of whom are in fever or recovering from disease. We know many of these persons to be in a state of extreme destitution, and unfit to be removed to the workhouse, even if it would be deemed prudent to do so; but where the head of the family is himself healthy and an able-bodied man, we do not consider ourselves at liberty to afford relief otherwise than in the house. We do not anticipate that much fraud or imposture could be practised upon us by having the permission to dispense relief to the class to which we refer; for we are bound to say the relieving officers of this Union are, with one exception, a very intelligent and efficient class of men, and they would not, we feel persuaded, falsify their reports: at the same time we cannot avoid stating our conviction that two, at least, more relieving officers are required for the effectual discharge of the duty in such a large Union as Loughrea.

We are unwilling prematurely to recommend the dismissal of officers that we found in the establishment when we took charge of the Union; but we should not be faithfully performing our trust if we did not state that the schoolmistress, Miss Moran, is quite too young and inexperienced, and we fear otherwise unsuited for her situation; and we have also to suggest that a competent person could not be had for the salary paid Miss Moran, namely, 8*l.* per annum.

Having taken active steps to introduce industrial pursuits into the house, and determined as we are to keep the paupers usefully employed, we would suggest the necessity of appointing an assistant matron or wardswoman, as one person never could manage such an extensive concern.

We have to apologize for the length of this report.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 4, 1848.

THE Commissioners fully rely on your discretion and firmness in giving effect to the provisions of the law for recovery of rates; and they will only observe, in reference to the course adopted, where the actual immediate lessors could not be ascertained with accuracy, that in resorting to the occupiers under the 3rd section of the Act 6 and 7 Vict., cap. 92, it would be desirable to require that the collectors in serving the notices therein directed to be given, should ascertain from such occupiers the names, &c., of the parties to whom they pay rent, and note them not only with a view to immediate proceedings, if available, but for the future rate.

The Commissioners will be prepared to give effect to such changes as you may consider necessary for improving the sanitary state of the workhouse. They recommend you to provide a proper hospital nurse; and they approve of your proposal to appoint an apothecary at a reasonable salary, making a deduction from that of the medical officer, in consideration of the diminution of his duties. They also approve of your contracting with the Committee of the town hospital for the proper care and treatment of such inmates of the workhouse as you may send to that establishment.

The Commissioners fully concur in your opinion of the importance of having another cemetery for the workhouse. They will be prepared to enter into such contract as may be necessary for securing to the Union the possession of any additional quantity of ground, not exceeding three statute acres, which you may be able to obtain in a convenient locality on reasonable terms; and they recommend to your consideration, the expediency of employing able-bodied paupers in carrying a sufficient quantity of heavy bottom clay, to be procured by you, to cover the graves in the present cemetery, which from the nature of the soil could not be made of proper depth.

Loughrea Union.

The Commissioners observe that you consider the auxiliary house in Bride-street, Loughrea, unsuited for the workhouse school-boys, to which purpose it was appropriated by the late Board of Guardians; and there does not appear any reason for objecting to its being used for the accommodation of paupers in chronic and other non-contagious diseases, also for convalescent patients, provided due care be taken in the removal of the latter class, so as not to give any cause for alarm to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood.

The Commissioners have directed the attention of the auditor to be drawn to that part of your report which relates to the accounts. They presume that you have terminated the very irregular practice of issuing money to the clerk, to purchase provisions for the workhouse: and that you have required him forthwith to close the accounts, paying in at the same time any balance of expenditure beyond the amount for which he can produce vouchers. The relieving officers should also be required to account for the sum received from the late Board of Guardians.

Relying on your opinion the Commissioners will withhold their order for relief out of doors to able-bodied destitute persons generally, and have directed an order to be issued for affording such relief only to the class of able-bodied persons one or more members of whose families are in fever, as you recommend.

They approve of your requiring the schoolmistress to resign, and of your proceeding to appoint another at a suitable salary, also of your appointing an assistant-matron or wardswoman, on the grounds stated in your report.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 9, 1848.

IN obedience with your instructions we have now the honour to submit our third weekly report of our proceedings as Vice-Guardians of the Union of Loughrea, and we are happy in being able to state, that although much requires still to be accomplished to reduce the affairs of the workhouse and the general business of the Union to a proper state of system and permanent improvement, still since the date of our last report we have made very considerable advancement in this most important matter. And we trust that when next one of your inspectors shall visit the establishment, he may have it in his power to make a favourable representation of our proceedings.

The collection of the rate proceeds as favourably as could be expected under the circumstances in which we found the Union placed. The receipts for last week amounted to 838*l.* odd, and would have exceeded 1000*l.*, but for the inclemency of the weather, and that Mr. Lynch, one of our principal collectors, was during the early part of the week indisposed, which accounts for his lodgment being only 76*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* Another collector, Mr. Lyskey, we did not consider had made an adequate lodgment, and we represented to him that unless he exerted himself to a greater extent during the remainder of the collection it would be our duty to recommend a reduction in his poundage.

The auxiliary workhouse at the brewery is rapidly approaching to completion, either of us have personally attended there for a portion of each day urging on the work, and we have now sleeping accommodation ready for over 500 persons, and on Saturday next we are to have an apartment ready for the male school, in every respect suited for the purpose; we have the furniture and fittings ready to put in, and have sleeping dormitories and two work-rooms for the trades-boys, all connected with each other, and detached from the yard and portion of the concern appropriated for the adult male paupers. We have also secured the services of an assistant master, and we expect to have this branch of the establishment conducted in an efficient manner.

We have to complain that our efforts to improve on the previous state of affairs have not been met in a cordial spirit by the leaders of the late Board. Our proposal to effect a contract with the Committee of the Town's fever hospital, although favourably received by their medical officer has been rejected by them. And although we had selected a most advantageous piece of ground, detached from the workhouse, for a cemetery, and the tenant in occupation being willing to convey his interest in it to the Commissioners at a reasonable rate, still the agent to the property has, we are informed, refused his sanction to the agreement. We shall not, however, relax in our exertions to accomplish this most desirable object, and communicate in our next report what success attends us in reference thereto.

We regret to state that fever is making fearful ravages in the town and country districts, and the applications which have been made to us by poor persons for coffins have been very numerous. Several cases have been reported to us of bodies lying for four and even six days without interment, for want of coffins; but we have been unable to entertain such applications, not being authorized to supply coffins to persons not inmates of the workhouse. We are also sorry to observe that three out of the six relieving officers of our Union are ill of fever, and their duties have to be discharged by deputies who are not the most efficient; and to try and remedy the evils likely to result from their neglect, we have visited four districts of our Union, with the double object in view of making ourselves acquainted with the distress of the poor, and at the same time to ascertain the abilities of the ratepayers to discharge their rates.

We took the liberty in a former report to observe that we considered the districts assigned to some of the relieving officers much too large, and to suggest that two more at least ought to be appointed. Since that report we have had frequent complaints against some of these officers for inattention to their duties. Some few of these complaints we fear are well-founded; but in most cases the districts are too large and the destitution too extensive to enable them to give satisfaction in all cases.

The suggestions contained in your communication, dated 4th instant, relative to the present graveyard and other matters, shall be promptly put into execution, and in our next we shall give a detailed account of our proceedings in relation to these matters.

In reference to the clerk's accounts, we beg to observe that we at once terminated the practice of paying that officer money for the purchase of provisions; but as to the vouchers for the sums expended, he has none to produce for upwards of 200*l*. He relies on the orders given for bread and necessaries on the minutes being sufficient.

We beg to apologize for this report being a few days late, but after our duties in the workhouse have been discharged, we have been engaged in the rural districts until a late hour making the inquiries to which we have before alluded.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 11, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 9th instant, relating to the Loughrea Union, and I am to state that the Commissioners have drawn the attention of the Board of Health to that part of your report which relates to the increase of fever in the Union. As regards the interment of the bodies of poor persons in the Union, I am to state that under the 16th section of the Act 10 Vict., c. 22, the expense of providing coffins for persons who die of fever or other epidemic disease, may be defrayed out of the poor-rates.

The Commissioners are prepared to consider favourably any alteration of the relief districts of the Union which you may deem to be necessary; and it is the decided wish of the Commissioners that as many relieving officers should be appointed as are required for the due relief of the destitute in the Union.

Sir THOMAS BURKE, Bart., to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 13, 1848.

As chairman of the late Board of Guardians of the Loughrea Union, I beg to forward you the enclosed statement, at the request of many of the late Board, and hope you will not fail to publish it.

STATEMENT above referred to:—April 13, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,

As chairman of the late Board of Guardians of the Loughrea Union, I am requested to call upon you to publish the following statement, in reply to those one-sided reports which you have published in the Blue Book furnished to the House of Commons. The grounds that you assigned for our uncalled-for dismissal were—1stly. That we had in the workhouse, on the Loughrea Union. 29th of January last, 236 persons more than the house was built to contain, and that some of them had been allowed to sleep on straw.

2ndly. That the roof of the house, which had been injured in November last, had not been repaired.

3rdly. That the clothing of the women and children was insufficient, and that the schools were unprovided with the requisites of instruction.

4thly. That dung and ashes were found in the yard, and that the privies were in a dirty state.

5thly. That out-door relief had not been afforded under the 1st section of the late Act.

6thly. That relieving officers had not been appointed until the 27th of December.

With regard to the first charge, the Guardians, anticipating the pressure likely to arise, had been for some time in treaty for houses, and had with great difficulty at length obtained additional accommodation for 1200 persons, and had contracted for a large supply of bedding, clothing, and other necessities for those houses. These supplies were, previously to the dismissal of the Board, on their way from Dublin, and were detained by the freezing of the canal. The pressure for admission to the workhouse suddenly began, and the Guardians, unwilling to refuse admission to a number of wretched applicants at so severe a season, did permit a greater number than the house was calculated for, to receive a temporary refuge within its walls, and directed them to be provided with beds of clean straw, and with sheets and blankets, for the short interval the additional houses were getting ready. As to the second charge, the repairs of the roof were contracted for when the injury occurred; the contractor failed to perform his contract, and the Board were obliged to advertise for another. The damage complained of had, however, been for some time repaired.

The reply to the third charge is, that the clothing is the same as has been used in the house since its opening, and has always been sanctioned and approved of by the Commissioners and their assistants, and the blame of any delay which may have occurred in the supply of the necessities does not attach to the Guardians, who had long previously ordered a supply of those articles.

As to the fourth charge, the Guardians, perceiving from the preparations which must necessarily arise, and the vast increase of his more urgent duties, that the master could not afford sufficient time and attention to the cleanliness of the house, and other less pressing though necessary details of its management, made an application to the Commissioners to sanction the appointment of a superintendent or assistant master, whose duty it would have been to superintend the general order and cleanliness of the houses, but to this very reasonable request it was not the pleasure of the Commissioners to accede.

Fifth charge, the necessity for out-door relief did not arise until the workhouse could no longer afford accommodation for the number of applicants, when the late Board at once extended out-door relief, and were prepared to continue that course until the additional houses should be ready for the reception of paupers.

To the sixth and last charge, the answer is, that the Guardians deferred the appointment of relieving officers with a view to economise the funds of the Union until it appeared to them that the necessity arose for their services, when they were at once appointed, and that no ill effects resulted from such delay. The two paid Guardians whom you have appointed to this Union have thought it not unbecoming to inculcate in their report to you of the 20th of February last, and which you have published in the Blue Book, the conduct of the late Board, by insinuating that they, the late Board, had taken, because they belonged to a member of their Board, buildings to be used as an additional workhouse, and which were unsuited, and ought never, under any circumstances, to have been taken. The fact being, that Mr. Smyth, the member mentioned, refused to let the houses in question to the Board, and preferred to let them at a less rent to another person. Advertisements were issued for houses to be used as additional workhouses, several persons proposed, amongst others Mr. Cowen, to whom Mr. Smyth had let his houses, and it being found from the report of the architect, that more accommodation could be had from these houses than from the others, Mr. Bourke, the assistant Commissioner, inspected them, reported to you their fitness, as stated to the late Board in your letter of the 14th of January last, and they were accordingly taken with your approbation for the use of the male children. They are comfortable, well-ventilated houses, three stories high, with two large privies, and had been occupied by several most respectable families, amongst others, by the late Catholic bishop of the diocese. The rest of the report of these gentlemen consists of a description of the state they found the house in more than a week after the late Board had been deprived of all control over it, of course the late Board cannot be held accountable for this, and we shall only remark that we have from the first, constantly complained of the badness of the building and the general dampness of the whole house. These paid Guardians are totally ignorant of the parties to whom they are giving out-door relief, and the most fragrant abuses are the consequence, yet they studiously avoid seeking information from any of the respectable rate-payers, nor do they publish the names of the recipients of such relief. The workhouses are in a state of the greatest disorder, and under the paid Board there have been frequently, and I believe are at present, more paupers in the original workhouse than there were at any time under the late Board, although the large number they had admitted was the principal reason given for their dismissal. Numbers of paupers in the workhouse clothing are continually wandering about Loughrea, and some have had to be committed for drunkenness, and the general disorder and confusion could not possibly have been greater under any elected Board; while the enormous abuses which are taking place in all parts of the Union in the administration of out-door relief, would not have existed. The Brewery concerns taken by the late Board, and so much approved of in your officer's report, capable of accommodating 900 persons, is comparatively empty, yet with all this available room, out-door relief is largely given. In requiring the publication of this statement the late Board would despair of that act of justice at your hands, had not Sir George Grey, the Home Secretary, engaged in his place in Parliament that in all such cases such publication should be accorded by you.

THOMAS J. BURKE, late Chairman.

Loughrea Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LLOYD:—April 18, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit herewith a copy of complaints against the administration of relief by the Loughrea Vice-Guardians, which the Commissioners have received in a letter, dated the 13th instant, from Sir Thomas Burke, the chairman of the Loughrea Board of Guardians, at the period of its dissolution.

The Commissioners request you to take evidence upon oath, and to report to this office, in reference to all and each of those complaints, especially as to whether the statement in Sir Thomas Burke's letter is correct; that on the 13th instant, and frequently before, under the Vice-Guardians, there were more paupers in the original workhouse than there were at any time under the late Board of Guardians.

It is desirable that you should give Sir Thomas Burke an opportunity of being present at the investigation, of being examined on oath himself if he desires it, and of suggesting witnesses for examination. You will adopt the same line of conduct towards the Vice-Guardians.

In connexion with this inquiry, the Commissioners request that you will take evidence upon oath, respecting the amount of destitution which exists, and is likely to exist in Loughrea Union during the present season, both absolutely, and in comparison with the destitution which existed during the period when the Temporary Relief Act was in operation.

The Commissioners are desirous that the investigation should be thoroughly searching and minute, in order that there may be no room for doubt concerning the precise amount of destitution in the Union, and concerning the manner in which the Vice-Guardians administer relief to the destitute poor, both in and out of the workhouse.

The COMMISSIONERS to Sir THOMAS BURKE:—April 18, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, transmitting a statement, which you express a desire to have published concerning the dissolution of the late Loughrea Board of Guardians.

The Commissioners have no objection to the publication of the letter which you have addressed to them. The explanatory resolutions passed by the late Loughrea Board of Guardians, on the eve of their dissolution, have been already published, and as a matter of course, the letter now received from you, if it had been then forwarded to the Commissioners, would have been printed and published at the same time, and the Commissioners would have been sincerely gratified in regard to facilities of reference and comparison, if your letter had been published in the same volume with the reports of Mr. Phelan, and of Mr. Bourke, and with the letter of the 12th February, in which the Commissioners made a consecutive statement of the reasons which had led them to the conclusion that the Loughrea Board of Guardians had failed to discharge their duties duly and effectually, according to the intention of the Legislature.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 19, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that I inspected the Loughrea Union workhouse this day, accompanied by the Vice-Guardians, and that I spent a considerable time in the Board-room, examining accounts.

I have addressed a letter to the chairman of the late Board of Guardians, requesting he would be kind enough to name an hour, either to-morrow or next day, to assist in inquiring whether abuses exist at present in any way connected with the administration of relief as conducted by the Vice-Guardians, and I have apprised the Vice-Guardians of the instructions I have received from the Commissioners.

The Vice-Guardians appear to me to be intelligent and very attentive to their duties.

Loughrea Union.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 28, 1848.

I BEG leave to forward herewith a letter I have received from Sir Thomas Burke, with a view to be informed whether, under the circumstances, it is necessary to proceed with the investigation as regards the administration of out-door relief. I have had two relieving officers' books under examination, and in no instance has any proof been given of neglect on the part of the Vice-Guardians. The relieving officers have, in some cases, been very negligent, and their books are imperfect. Cases have occurred where persons not entitled to relief received such. It will take three or four days to go through the other books, perhaps longer. The books examined were those in which the fewest abuses are known to have existed.

I write from the Board-room, and in a great hurry to save post.

ENCLOSURE.

Sir THOMAS BURKE to Mr. LLOYD.

MY DEAR SIR,

Workhouse, April 28, 1848.

As there seems to be some doubt in your mind as to the meaning of the paragraph in my letter to the Commissioners relating to the abuses in the out-door relief I beg to say, that I did not intend to convey that the Vice-Guardians knowingly allowed the abuses I complained of, but that I was of opinion that flagrant abuses did exist, chiefly through the Vice-Guardians being imposed upon from their want of local knowledge, but I did not mean to apply the word flagrant to the acts of the Vice-Guardians.

Yours truly,
T. BURKE.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 29, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th instant, transmitting a copy of a communication from Sir Thomas Burke, with reference to the inquiry being held by you with respect to the administration of relief in the Loughrea Union, and in reference thereto I am directed to state, that Sir Thomas Burke explains his charge of abuse of out-door relief by stating that the abuse arose from want of local knowledge in the Vice-Guardians. It will be useful to them and to the Union that the inquiry should be prosecuted, and in the course of it, the statements of irregularities on the part of relieving officers should be accompanied by evidence to show whether they were appointed by the present Vice-Guardians, and if so, on what recommendations and testimonials; and where they distributed relief to persons not entitled to it, whether they were cognizant of the true condition of the recipients; stating in every such case all particulars relative to the recipients which can be ascertained.

The good working of the Irish Poor Law in a distressed Union depends in such a great degree on the efficiency of the staff of relieving officers, that your inquiry will have been very useful to Loughrea Union, if it enables the Vice-Guardians and the Commissioners to ascertain whether any of the present relieving officers are unfit for their situation, and whether it is desirable to supersede them by the appointment of others in their stead.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 1, 1848.

I BEG leave to transmit herewith a letter which Sir Thomas Burke has handed me, for the information of the Commissioners, with a view to obtain instructions thereon. I hope for an early reply.

ENCLOSURE.

Sir THOMAS BURKE to Mr. LLOYD:—May 1, 1848.

I HAVE read the reply of the Commissioners to your communication upon the subject of the issue of out-door relief in the Loughrea Union. The printed lists of the recipients of out-door relief have not been yet all printed, and therefore the rate-payers have not had the opportunity of examining them in the several electoral divisions, and if this inquiry is to be continued under this head, an adjournment is necessary, and I beg to call for one until Friday next. Both the Vice-Guardians and myself agree that there are numerous cases of abuses in the administration of out-door relief from misrepresentations made to the Vice-Guardians, and this evil is likely to be corrected and avoided in future without the expense and delay of a protracted investigation, as the resident gentry and rate-payers will co-operate with the Vice-Guardians to attain this end. You also, from what has appeared, can have no doubt of these abuses on the part of relieving officers. Loughrea Union.

Under all these circumstances I would again suggest the necessity of closing this part of your inquiry, and enabling the Vice-Guardians and the relieving officers to attend to the relief of the destitute poor, which it is impossible they can do if this protracted inquiry is to be continued.

If, however, you insist upon it, I shall be prepared on Friday to go on with this detailed inquiry, which will occupy some weeks, without any possible advantage to this Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LLOYD:—May 3, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 1st instant, with one addressed to you by Sir Thomas Burke, proposing that the inquiry which you are now making in respect to the administration of out-door relief by the Vice-Guardians of Loughrea Union should not be carried on further as the abuses on the part of the relieving officers are likely to be avoided in future, and your closing this part of the inquiry will enable the Vice-Guardians and relieving officers to attend to the relief of the destitute poor, which in his opinion would be impossible, if this protracted inquiry were to be continued, as he appears to consider that it would occupy some weeks.

The Commissioners desire to observe that when they directed you to inquire into the abuses which members of the late Board of Guardians considered to have been committed, they did not suppose that such an inquiry could have required so much time as had been occupied by it. But looking to the nature of the complaint made of the management of the Vice-Guardians they are not prepared to authorize you to discontinue the inquiry until you are enabled to make a report in pursuance of your instructions.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 9, 1848.

I BEG leave to send herewith a letter I received from Sir Thomas Burke on Saturday morning. The reasons assigned for desiring an adjournment was, that all the gentlemen concerned in the investigation would of necessity be at Ballinasloe Fair on Monday, and, consequently, could not meet me: this reason is not stated in the letter, it was given to me verbally by Sir Thomas Burke and Mr. Smith. The want of the printed lists was supplied in the course of Saturday, and would not have been an obstacle to proceeding with the inquiry. I, however, consented that the ex-Guardians might have every facility to establish their charge if possible.

I attended at the Board-room for three hours to-day; some of the gentlemen were present: I, therefore consider my inquiry at an end, and shall draw up my report to-morrow. I hope to transmit all papers on Thursday that I have had for some time previous to and since my arrival here: you will receive all I hope by Friday morning. I shall have time to hear from you again.

ENCLOSURE.

Sir T. BURKE to Mr. LLOYD:—May 6, 1848.

I HAVE repeatedly called for the printed lists of the recipients of out-door relief in the electoral divisions of the Loughrea Union. I have not yet been able to obtain more than those for Loughrea, Athenry, and Ballinakill: I am, therefore, obliged to call upon you to postpone this inquiry till I am furnished with those lists. Numerous abuses have been already proved; and if you continue to desire a continuance of the inquiry this required postponement becomes unavoidably necessary, the more so as those lists have been unavoidably delayed.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 15, 1848.

THE protracted inquiry which has been conducted by Mr. Owen Lloyd, Poor Law Inspector, into the administration of the law in this Union by the Vice-Guardians, having been brought to a close, and as we presume that gentleman has ere this submitted his report, we trust it may not be deemed presumptuous or out of place in our offering a few remarks to the consideration of the Commissioners in reference to that investigation, and in any observations which we shall take the liberty to make, we shall confine ourselves to simple facts, and offer no comment on the manner in which these charges were preferred, or as to the decorum which was observed in the prosecution of them.

Doughrea Union.

In reference to the numbers which have been sworn to by Patrick O'Brien, the dismissed master, as having on many occasions since we took charge, been more than those suffered to be accommodated in the workhouse by the late Board of Guardians, we beg distinctly to state that O'Brien has throughout his entire examination sworn what is not the fact, for there was not an officer in the entire establishment who could tell the numbers occupying any one particular house on each or any night. The diary which O'Brien at first admitted he kept since the Vice-Guardians took charge, but subsequently, at the dictation of one of the Ex-Guardians, swore he kept it from the period the houses were divided, could not point out the accurate numbers or afford any information at all about them; he swore he kept this diary in order to enable him to know what quantity of provisions to send to each house, whereas, during a considerable portion of the time to which he referred, there was no food cooked at the Brewery auxiliary workhouse at all, and the entire body of paupers sleeping there were regularly brought back to the workhouse every day for breakfast, and ever since the cooking has commenced at the Brewery, from 80 to 100 of the able-bodied paupers who sleep there are sent every day to the workhouse to be fed. Therefore, this provision check, on which the promoters of the inquiry placed so much reliance, could not by possibility furnish any evidence of the numbers sleeping in the workhouse or any of the auxiliary houses.

The Commissioners will observe that O'Brien also swore that he kept this diary for no particular purpose, except to know the quantity of food to send to each house. That he never expected to be asked any questions about it, and that he had never supplied a statement of the numbers to any person, yet Mr. Patrick Skerrett swore, that for some time after our arrival here he was in the constant habit of frequenting the master's office. That he obtained a statement of the numbers from O'Brien on a slip of paper, which he said he gave to Mr. Smith, who gave it to Lord Dunsandle.

We also beg respectfully to state in reference to this diary, which O'Brien swore he kept regularly, that there is no account of the days from the 5th of February to the 12th of February, nor from the 12th to the 19th of February, nor again from the 19th to the 26th of February, from which date he has sworn to certain numbers on each consecutive day. Though he previously swore it was a correct diary, and that he knew the meaning of the word. He subsequently swore the diary he produced was a correct copy of some other paper, and he ultimately refused to give his diary up to the inspector, stating that he had lost or destroyed it.

Mr. Patrick Skerrett, in his evidence, stated on his oath, that he took the numbers from the books of the house, and that the way he ascertained the amount which slept in the workhouse, was by deducting the numbers sleeping in the auxiliary houses from the gross number on the books; but he could not tell, when asked the question, what books he deducted the numbers in the auxiliary houses from, or whether there was any one book or document in the entire establishment from which he could derive the information he had just sworn he had obtained. And, in fact, there was no book or other account, nor is there yet (except our own private memorandums) which could have supplied the return to him.

The Commissioners will, we trust, have learned from Mr. Lloyd, that a difference of 158 between the numbers appearing on the workhouse books (and for which provisions were daily charged by O'Brien), and the numbers actually in the house has been discovered and satisfactorily proved by us, and that a corresponding reduction in the daily issue of food has been made, and we respectfully submit that these 158 persons should be deducted from the numbers sworn to by O'Brien, as being on any occasion since we took charge, accommodated by us in the workhouse.

We also beg to state, for the Commissioners' information, and we trust they have previously been apprised of the fact from their inspector, Mr. Lloyd, that never since the first ten days of our administration of the affairs of this Union have we suffered ourselves to be borne down by the pressure from without, nor had we ever occasion to contravene the orders of the Commissioners by allowing an excess of numbers to be lodged in the workhouse, for we have always taken special care to have two spare dormitories at the Brewery ready for any sudden emergency that might arise, and there are moreover two small dormitories in the original workhouse which have not been occupied since the first week of our coming here.

In reference to the charge of the most flagrant abuses existing in the administration of the out-door relief we shall be very brief, and we trust our proceedings in respect to this important part of our duty have not been viewed in an unfavourable light by the Commissioners, when they consider that out of a Union of this extent, and where such an outcry was raised against us, only about 17 cases of fraud and imposition were brought forward, many of these cases unsupported by credible evidence, and that no more than perhaps five of them, which deduct, constitutionally came within the law. We shall make a reference to but three cases out of the entire number investigated, by which the Commissioners will form an opinion as to the class of persons objected to, and the description of evidence produced in support of the objections.

The first is the case of a person named Fahy, objected to by Sir Thomas Burke, Baronet, as being an able-bodied man. John Hevend, bailiff to Lord Clanricarde, swore he was able-bodied and had not been in fever during the time he received relief. But it was most satisfactorily proved by two others, one most respectable gentleman, and by Doctor Claron, that the wretched man had been in fever for several months and was unable to work; and we produced the man before Mr. Lloyd, who, no doubt, has made an impartial report on the case.

Another case, that of Martin Cohillon, sworn to by John Neven, as being in possession of half an acre of ground; but on our having the man's garden surveyed, we found he is only in possession of seven perches, and even if he still held his original plots, the entire only amounted to 29 perches.

The third is a case of a widow Cunningham, objected to by Lord Dunsandle, as having an acre of land; but his Lordship's bailiff, when produced to sustain the case, admitted he did not know the woman.

The several printed lists of out-door relief for the entire Union, with the exception of one electoral division, are out and posted, and the rate-payers have thereby means of ascertaining the persons to whom relief has been afforded.

It is impossible but that (in a Union of the extent of Loughrea) some cases of imposition must at first exist; but we respectfully submit that there is not a Union in Ireland of the same extent, and where such a mass of disease and destitution exists, where so little fraud or imposition is to be found, even under the best regulated elected Board as the Loughrea Union now presents; and many of the cases objected to were cases in which provisional relief was afforded by the relieving officer which was disallowed by us.

We shall say nothing of the charge of disorder in the workhouses, as we feel those charges have recoiled with something of discredit on the promoters of the inquiry, and trust to be excused for the length of this communication.

REPLY to the foregoing:—May 16, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant, on the evidence adduced in the late inquiry into the charges made against you by the late Board of Guardians of Loughrea Union; and the Commissioners beg to observe that they defer the consideration of your statement until they shall have the whole evidence before them, on arrival of the report of Mr. Lloyd, who, they regret to state, appears to have been detained at Athlone by illness.

Mr. LLOYD to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 20, 1848.

IN reference to your letter of the 18th ultimo, transmitting a copy of complaints against the administration of relief by the Loughrea Vice-Guardians, which the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have received from Sir Thomas Burke, Chairman of the Loughrea Board of Guardians at the period of its dissolution; and requesting me to take evidence upon oath, and to report in reference to all and each of those complaints, and especially as to whether the statement in Sir Thomas Burke's letter is correct, that on the 13th instant, and frequently before, under the Vice-Guardians, there were more paupers in the original workhouse than there were at any time under the late Board of Guardians; and that it would be desirable that I should give Sir Thomas Burke an opportunity of being present at the investigation, of being examined on oath himself, if he desire it, and of suggesting witnesses for examination, and that I should adopt the same line of conduct towards the Vice-

Loughrea Union.

Guardians; and in connexion with this inquiry that I should take evidence upon oath respecting the amount of destitution which exists and is likely to exist in Loughrea Union, during the present season, both absolutely and in comparison with the destitution which existed during the period when the Temporary Relief Act was in operation; and also informing me the Commissioners are desirous that the investigation should be thoroughly searching and minute, in order that there be no room for doubt concerning the precise amount of destitution and concerning the manner in which the Vice-Guardians administered relief to the destitute poor both in and out of the workhouse.

In reply I have to state that with a view to carry out my instructions I proceeded at once to Loughrea, where I arrived on the morning of the 19th. I soon after visited the workhouse, where I found the Vice-Guardians engaged in the ordinary business of the Union. To these gentlemen I communicated the object of my visit, and received in return the assurance of a ready co-operation on their part to aid me, as far as in their power lay, to carry out the instructions I had received. I informed them I should address a letter to Sir Thomas Burke, communicating the same information I had given them, and request an early interview. I wrote to this effect to Sir Thomas Burke, who responded to my letter in person, and soon after being joined by Lord Dunsandle, Mr. Burke, Mr. Perse, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Skerret, all members of the late Board of Guardians; I communicated my instructions to these gentlemen, all of whom evinced the like desire of the Vice-Guardians to aid me in carrying out the investigation required by the Commissioners.

I was informed by the gentlemen present that as Sir Thomas Burke and Lord Dunsandle had engagements in Dublin, it would be desirable that no time should be lost in proceeding with the duty I had to discharge, and having been requested to name 4 o'clock as the hour, I consented, provided the Vice-Guardians made no objection. I then proceeded to the Board-room, where I met the Vice-Guardians, who at once expressed their concurrence, and the investigation commenced soon after the appointed hour.

Sir Thomas Burke produced Mr. Patrick O'Brien, late master of the workhouse, as a witness; his sworn evidence (A) is appended. The examination of this witness continued to a late hour, when it was proposed to postpone his further examination to Saturday (Good-Friday intervening). On Saturday morning the examination of Mr. O'Brien was resumed, and having terminated, was followed by that of Mr. Richards, Vice-Guardian; his sworn evidence (B) is also appended. The examination of Mr. Richards continuing to a late hour, it was proposed to adjourn his further examination to Wednesday, to enable Sir Thomas Burke and Lord Dunsandle to be present: to this adjournment I consented, believing it to be the wish of the Commissioners that the ex-Guardians should have every facility afforded them that might tend to place matters in their true light. On Wednesday, the 26th, the examination of Mr. Richards was resumed, and when concluded, was followed by that of Mr. John M'Carthy, the master that succeeded Mr. O'Brien. Mr. M'Carthy's sworn evidence (C) is appended; also that of the medical officer, Dr. Cloran (D), that of Mr. P. Skerrett (E), and that of John Murphy (F).

I have now the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that from the evidence referred to it does not appear to me that on the 13th April, and frequently before, under the Vice-Guardians, there were more paupers in the original workhouse than there were at any time under the late Board of Guardians, and I beg leave to state how I arrive at this conclusion.

The complaint embraces a definite period, the 13th April, and an indefinite period or periods back to the day the Vice-Guardians took charge of the Union.

On the 13th April the number of inmates in workhouse, apart from hospital and sheds, was 576. In hospital and sheds 367, making together 943; this is but 43 over the number the house, hospital, and sheds, are calculated to contain; but it is 193 less than the number in the house on the 5th February.

From the time the Vice-Guardians took charge, the greatest number in the house at any time it was counted was 1062, that is 696 in the house apart from hospital and sheds, and 366 in hospital and sheds, making together 1062, or 74 less than the number in the house on the 5th February.

It is to be observed that the overnumbers are in the hospital and sheds, over which the Vice-Guardians have no control; the excess in this department varies and has varied from the 21st February to 21st April from 211 to 220; while the Vice-Guardians have accommodation in the auxiliary houses, I see no object they could have in overcrowding the workhouse; nor can I learn that in any instance a greater number of inmates occupied the main building of the workhouse than 696, which is by 54 less than that portion of the building is calculated to accommodate.

Upon the complaint "the workhouses are in a state of the greatest disorder" being read, Mr. Patrick O'Brien was again brought forward as a witness; his sworn evidence (G) is appended, as is also that of Dr. Phelan, Poor Law Inspector (H); that of Ferdinand Coffee, clerk of Union (I); that of Dr. Cloram, medical officer of the workhouse (J); that of Rev. Joseph O'Loughlin, acting chaplain to workhouse (K); that of Mrs. Anne Murphy, matron (L); that of Mr. Thomas Macklin, merchant (M); and that of Dr. Brodie, Vice-Guardian (N).

I cannot learn upon what grounds this complaint had been made. It is not sanctioned by evidence, while the converse of the complaint is proved by all the witnesses examined.

As regards the complaint, "Numbers of paupers in the workhouse clothing are continually wandering about Loughrea, and some had to be committed for drunkenness."

There are two auxiliary houses (the Bishop's House and the Brewery) in connexion with the workhouse, and necessarily there must be a constant intercourse between the three establishments. The able-bodied are daily marched to the workhouse to labour upon the ground attached to the house, and boys, when admitted and clothed, are sent to the Brewery. The Bishop's House is set apart for the sick, and the convalescent are passed from thence either to the Brewery or workhouse, as the doctor directs.

The boys found drunk appear to have been sent of errands to the town. One, named Thomas Hopkins, stated he was sent to a shop for some articles contracted for, and that he there got a glass of whiskey. None of the other boys would acknowledge where they had got what made them drunk. The Vice-Guardians, upon hearing the boys Michael Kelly and John Fury were drunk, sent to the police-barrack for two constables to take the boys before the magistrates. The police did so, and the boys were committed to bridewell for 48 hours.

The deposition of Kelly and Morley, who saw the boys drunk, and the affidavit of the head constable as to his being sent to take the boys in charge, with the affidavit of the magistrate that committed the boys to bridewell, are appended (O).

This complaint is sustained; but I do not see that blame can be attached to any officer of the workhouse. Report of the offence was at once made to the Vice-Guardians, who took all the steps in their power to prevent its recurrence, independent of the punishment before the magistrate. One boy was taken from the trade he had been set to, and the others prohibited going of errands.

Upon reading the complaints "The paid Guardians are totally ignorant of the parties to whom they are giving out-door relief, and the most flagrant abuses are the consequence, yet they studiously avoid seeking information from any of the respectable rate-payers, nor do they publish the names of the recipients of such relief."

William Proctor, relieving officer for the Athenry district, comprising the electoral divisions of Athenry, Cranghnell, and Kilconaron, was duly sworn: his evidence (P) is appended. Eight objections were made to this relieving officer's list for Athenry.

No.	Name.			Remarks.
		Age.	lbs.
1	Winny Boyns . .	40, able-bodied . . .	7
2	Margaret Cahillon.	— and 4 children . .	28	Deserted by husband, information sworn.
3	Michael Cannon .	36, wife and 4 children, In.	28
4	Robin Newman .	50, and wife, In. . .	14
5	Margaret Lawless.	60, In.	7	Has a son able to maintain her.
6	Brid. Gleeson . .	35, and 3 children . .	11	Deserted, information sworn.
7	Winny Cunningham	80	7	Has more than $\frac{1}{4}$ acre of land.
8	Mary Mulkeeran .	50, and 2 children . .	21	Has $\frac{1}{2}$ acre of land.

Of the above list, two objections, namely 7 and 8, can be sustained, and it was not until lately the relieving officer learned that either of the women had land. The relieving officer, William Proctor, has submitted his books for examination

Loughrea Union. to the rate-payers. Out of a list of 430 recipients of relief, four only have been found disentitled to such.

Thomas Connor, relieving officer for Kiltulla district, comprising the electoral divisions of Kiltulla and Killymer Daly, was duly sworn: his evidence (Q) is appended. Fifteen objections were made to this relieving officer's list.

No.	Name.	Age.	lbs.	Remarks.
1	Nelly Cummins .	60, and 2 children over 15.	14	Children not represented in book as illegitimate.
2	Mary Denane .	40, and 3 children and husband.	24	Husband disabled, has been in workhouse and put on out-door relief.
3	Bridget Connolly .	45, and 3 illegitimate children.	28
4	Patrick Connolly .	45, wife and 3 children.	30	Provisionally for 2 weeks.
5	Will Walsh .	38 . . .	..	Provisionally disallowed; married, not returned as single or married in Application and Report Book.
6	Mary Hurley .	30, and 5 children . .	30	Husband alive.
7	Mary Cunnane .	70, widow	12	Has from $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 acre of land.
8	Darby McGrath .	60, wife and 4 children.	42
9	Honor Dunn .	26, and 2 children . .	16	Husband in America.
10	Pat Healy .	40, single	7	Sickly.
11	Mary Kelly .	44, single	..	Relieved, provisionally discontinued.
12	Will Cunnane .	50, able-bodied	..	Has from 32 to 40 perches of land.
13	James Meyreck .	60, and 2 children . .	14	Has land.
14	John Haunefee .	57, wife and 6 children .	28	Has 5 acres land, tendered it to his landlord, refused.
15	Paul Flannery .	70	7	Has 5 acres of land.

Of the foregoing, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 6, 8, 9, 10, and 14, are entitled to relief either in or out of the workhouse. Nos. 4, 5, and 11, had provisional relief discontinued or disallowed. Nos. 7, 12, 13, and 15, having land, are not entitled to relief either in or out of the house. No. 3 had been in workhouse, with three illegitimate children, and was put on out-door relief list by Guardians.

It appears, therefore, that four only were on the list disentitled to relief, and of the four it is doubtful whether three are actual occupiers. Should they not, it will appear that No. 12 is the only one not entitled to receive relief.

James Kelly, relieving officer for the Loughrea district, was duly sworn. His evidence (R) is appended.

No.	Name.	Age.	lbs.	Remarks.
1	Pat Bermingham .	— wife and 1 child . .	21	For 3 weeks, had fever.
2	Thomas Tahy .	—	..	For 8 weeks, had fever.
3	Pat Madden .	— wife and 5 children .	36	For 1 week, found to have land.
4	Bart Boyle .	—	..	For 4 weeks, 2s. 6d. per ferce.
5	Mart Cohalan .	60, wife and 2 children .	19	For 9 weeks, 2s. to 25th March.
6	Pat Dogherty .	— wife and child . . .	..	For 4 weeks, 1s., had Guardian.
7	Owen Dogherty .	—	..	For 4 weeks, 2s., wife ill, then himself struck off.
8	Pat Monaghan .	65, wife blind, 2 children .	..	For 2 weeks, 2s., found to have land, struck off, restored.
9	Tim Moran .	40, wife and 2 children .	24	For 4 weeks, had land, struck off.
10	Mary Porter .	45, widow with 2 children .	16	For weeks to 25th March, 2s.

Of the foregoing list, Nos. 3, 8, 9, having land, were not entitled to relief. No. 3 had received relief but for one week. No. 8, a hump-backed man, with a wife blind, and two children, had been struck off and restored, having given up his land.

Out of 33 objections taken to the three lists, two on that of William Proctors, were sanctioned, No. 7 and 8; one on that of Thomas Connor, No. 12; and three doubtful, Nos. 7, 13, 15. Two on that of James Kelly.

There is some difficulty in meeting the complaint, which led to the examination of the three relieving officers. It is of a gross character, involving the integrity of the Vice-Guardians and relieving officers in the administration of relief, and should not have been made without the clearest evidence to sustain it.

The ex-Guardians should have come prepared with the names of the individuals in receipt of out-door relief, whom they considered not entitled to receive such, and not have required such postponements from day to day, until the lists were printed, to enable them, after the complaint was preferred, to prove that the paid Guardians were totally ignorant of the parties to whom they were giving relief, and that most flagrant abuses were the consequences.

In making this remark, I cannot be considered to write in an unkind spirit, when my conviction is that the ex-Guardians desire that the distress that exists and is likely to exist may be met to the full extent the law authorizes.

I do not think that matters have been misrepresented to them, and that they have acted upon the judgment of others and not upon their own. It appears from the minutes of the 17th March, that the Vice-Guardians passed a resolution that the clerk should be allowed 20s. per week to procure an assistant to enable him to make lists of the in and out-door relief recipients, and that to a want of active co-operation on the part of the clerk is to be attributed the delay in having the required lists printed.

The Vice-Guardians attend from time to time at the offices of the relieving officers to revise the lists. They seek for information on all occasions, and therefore cannot be considered as studiously avoiding it.

Except when visiting the districts, the Vice-Guardians are to be found at the workhouse from morning until night endeavouring to carry forward the arduous duties they have undertaken.

On Friday, the 5th instant, the investigation into the administration of out-door relief was resumed, the Commissioners not authorizing its discontinuance, as recommended by Sir Thomas Burke, in his letter of the 1st; and 10 cases only had been adjudicated upon. On Saturday morning Sir Thomas Burke requested an adjournment to Tuesday, the 9th, to which I consented. On Tuesday I remained in the Board-room for several hours, when none of the ex-Guardians, or any person for them, appeared. I therefore closed the proceedings.

As regards the destitution that exists and is likely to exist in Loughrea Union during the present season, both absolutely and in comparison with the destitution which existed during the period when the Temporary Relief Act was in operation, I beg leave to state that I have taken evidence upon oath from persons likely to take a correct view of the important subject. From Mr. Garret Bucke, rate-collector for the electoral divisions of Ballinakill, Dooncry, Portumna, and Teena, and under-agent to Sir Thomas Burke. His evidence (S) is appended, together with that of Robert Darcy, Esq., agent to the Marquis of Clanricarde (T); that of Mr. Thomas Macklin, contractor and general merchant (U); that of the Rev. Thomas Burke, P. P. of Portumna and Kilgname (V); that of Mr. James Martin Lynch, rate-collector for the electoral divisions of Loughrea, Kilchreest, and Killnadeema (W); that of William Proctor, relieving officer for Athenry, Cranghwell, and Kilconaron, and that of the Rev. Pennefather Graham, rector of Kilconaron, together with a letter from the Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert, another from the Hon. and Rev. William O'Grady, and a third from Mr. J. Stanley, all of which I transmit for the information of the Commissioners.

I apprehend distress this year will be more intense than it was last, but less extensive, the population being so much reduced. Destitution last year was defined by each Relief Committee, some admitting to relief, occupiers of five acres of land, as was the case in Loughrea Union, while others limited the quantity of land to two acres.

Destitution this year is defined by law, and is of necessity so stringent that people are obliged to make every exertion to relieve themselves.

Last year many added to their capital to enable them to leave the country; this year, from the highest to the lowest, rate-payers' capital is daily diminishing. Last year, though provisions were considerably dearer than they are this year, they were more easily procured; labour was carried on extensively, money was in circulation. This year there is neither labour nor money. The poor are by degrees parting with all they have, to procure food, rather than part with their land; they are eking out a miserable existence in the expectation that some mode of employing them may be devised; but I fear that many will find they have delayed too long to avail themselves of that relief which the law has provided for the destitute.

Before I conclude this report, I must not omit to state that the morning I reached Loughrea I inspected the workhouse minutely. I found the walls of the dormitories well whitewashed, the boards thoroughly clean, the bedding perfect, and ventilation well attended to. I found the women employed in spinning, knitting, working at different articles of clothing for the use of the house. The men's day-room was rather damp under foot, owing to its being below the level of the yard ; but this is soon to be corrected.

[Loughrea Union.]

I have frequently visited the workhouses during the time I remained at Loughrea, and from the attention the Vice-Guardians pay to these duties, and the lively interest they take in the welfare of the Union, I shall indeed be greatly disappointed if Loughrea workhouse be not, ere long, both for economy, order, education, and industry, one of the best regulated in the country.

ENCLOSURES.

(A.)

PROCEEDINGS of an INVESTIGATION conducted by OWEN LLOYD, Esq., Poor Law Inspector, pursuant to Instructions from the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, at the Union workhouse, Loughrea, on Thursday the 20th April, and following days.

Extract from Sir Thomas Burke's Letter to the Commissioners, dated 13th April.

"The workhouses are in a state of the greatest disorder, and under the paid Board there have been frequently, and we believe are at present, more paupers in the original workhouse than there were at any time under the late Board."

Mr. Patrick O'Brien, being duly sworn, saith—I was master of the workhouse from the 2nd May, 1846, to the 29th March, 1848. I was in the habit of keeping the registry of the inmates. On the morning of the 5th February there were in the house 1136 persons; on the 12th February, 1034; on the 19th February, 950; on the 26th February, 1294; on the 27th February, 1279; on the 28th February, 1273; on the 29th February, 1191; on the 1st March, 1278; on the 2nd March, 1300; on the 3rd March, 1291; on the 4th March, 1338; on the 5th March, 1329; on the 6th March, 1308; on the 7th March, 1093; on the 8th March, 1211; on the 9th March, 1150; on the 10th March, 1155; on the 11th March, 1170; on the 12th March, 1132; on the 13th March, 1114; on the 14th March, 1065; on the 15th March, 1152, on the 16th March, 1190; on the 17th March, 1145; on the 18th March, 1148; on the 19th March, 1129; on the 20th March, 1116; on the 21st March, 1144; on the 22nd March, 1154; on the 23rd March, 1208; on the 24th March, 1121; and on the 25th March, 1135. The workhouse is calculated to contain 800 paupers, and the sheds adjoining 100. On the night of the 25th March, the Vice-Guardians went through the dormitories, and on the following Monday informed me that there were upon the books 150 persons more than were in the house. I did not accompany the Guardians through the house.

On the Monday after, Mr. Richards informed me that 150 persons more than were in the house were on the books. I counted the house, and found that there were 37 less than were registered; that from the 5th February to the 25th March, rations were ordered for the full number of persons appearing on the books. The paupers in the house go to bed each night at 8 o'clock. To the best of my belief, it was between 8 and 9 o'clock when the Vice-Guardians counted the house, and several of the paupers were not in bed at the time. The Vice-Guardians did not ask me the cause of the discrepancy until Monday the 27th. I sent in my registration to the Vice-Guardians on or about the 1st March. I continued as master, after I tendered my resignation, until the 29th March, when a new master was appointed. I have since been employed in the house instructing the new master to keep the books, for which I am to be paid 2l. per week. The master told me that Dr. Brodie recommended him to give me 1l. per week in addition to the 1l. the Vice-Guardians were to give. The late Board of Guardians was dissolved on the 13th February, when the number in the workhouse amounted to 1024.

Cross-examination by Mr. Richards.—I do not recollect having given at any time, under my hand, a different number to that stated to have been in the house on the 19th February. I might have given a return to satisfy Mr. Richards, if he asked me; if I gave a return from the books, it would be the same as I have given.

I gave the return of the people in the house from a diary which I kept from the time the houses were divided; previous to that period, the provision-book was the diary.

When the houses were divided, a separate provision check was not kept for each establishment, nor is yet.

The provision check for the house answered for the three establishments. I kept a diary, because if I had not, I would not have known what provisions to have sent to the auxiliary houses. I kept the return now produced as a diary; it is a copy from a book I kept in the office. I took the copy about three weeks since; it is a correct transcript from the book. I did not expect to be asked any questions about the copy; had no motive for taking the copy, but just to have it. I swear the return for the 26th February was correct; the number 1135, on the 25th March, is correct, as taken from the books. I instructed the present master of the workhouse. I could not do so in one week; I do not think I could teach him in two weeks, or in three. I gave up instructing him in consequence of seeing a letter the master received from Mr. Richards, threatening to suspend him if he saw me again in the office, in consequence of the disclosures of the last week.

PAT. O'BRIEN.

Saturday, 22nd April.

Cross-examination continued.—Mr. Patrick O'Brien sworn—I gave provisions for the exact number each day as returned, and according to the quantity that each person was entitled to. I made no change in the quantity of food issued daily, after Mr. Richards had informed me there were 150 persons less in the house than were returned as in the workhouse books. I made no alteration in the quantity of food issued after I found, upon counting the house, that there were 37 persons less than were on the registry, as I supposed the persons were out; they were constantly in the habit of going to the auxiliary houses; they were allowed to go there. I did not, for I could not prevent them; nor did I take much trouble about it. I left the house in consequence of a new master being appointed. On the 12th February 122 boys went to Bride-street to sleep, and remained there until the 26th February, when they, making allowance for sick, with others, were brought back by order of the Vice-Guardians. On the 28th February, to the best of my recollection, 87 chronic cases were removed out of the workhouse to Bride-street by direction of either the clerk or Vice-Guardians; that on the same day Rev. Mr. O'Loughlin stated that several of these persons had fever, and recommended their return. Several were brought back, but I cannot state how many. In or about three weeks before I left the house, on one occasion a great number of persons were admitted by order of the Vice-Guardians, and by tickets from relieving officers; that I proposed to Mr. Richards the people could sleep in the schoolroom, if he had no objection, and that I would get straw and blankets for them, to which Mr. Richards consented. I provided the straw and blankets for the people in the schoolrooms, where they remained until morning, and slept there again the following night.

Loughrea Union.

PAT. O'BRIEN.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at the Loughrea Union workhouse, being first duly read, 22nd April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(B.)

THE evidence of Mr. George Rawson Richards, one of the Vice-Guardians of the Loughrea Union, who being duly sworn, saith—I never gave the late master, Mr. O'Brien, an order to bring a number of persons from Bride-street into this workhouse, without an order to take corresponding number out. I also directed Mr. O'Brien to take a portion of bedding to the Brewery, so as to send a draft of the able-bodied paupers there, with a view to reduce the number in the workhouse. The master stated he would do so, and I concluded he had, until the following morning, when I learned that no men had been sent to the Brewery. I gave the order the same day the entry was made upon the minutes. I asked Mr. O'Brien why the change was not made, when he replied, the house was not prepared, and it was late when he got a portion of the bedding down. I was aware the Brewery was in order, as the contractor, who had his tools and timber about the place, gave me permission to send beds down. I recollect one night that Mr. O'Brien stated to me that a great number of persons had been sent into the house on tickets from relieving officers, in addition to those admitted, and more than he had accommodation for in the probationary wards, and that if I had no objection, he would accommodate them in the two schoolrooms for the night, as he had bedding sufficient. I stated I had an objection, as I feared the paupers would commit nuisance in the rooms, and render them unfit for the reception of the children in the morning. Mr. O'Brien said he did not think they would do so for the time they would be there; that he would have plenty of buckets for them, and caution them, and have it cleaned out at an early hour in the morning. I stated that under the circumstances I did not know how to act with them at that hour of the night, but that they could not continue to remain there. I visited the schoolrooms the following morning, and found they had been cleaned out, and no unpleasant effects from their having been slept in. I saw some beds in the upper corner of the schoolroom, not straw. I remember the night of the 25th March, when Dr. Brodie and I counted the house. I found a number of persons in the probationary wards that had been admitted and not reported to the Vice-Guardians, although they had sat in the Board-room until a quarter to 7 o'clock. Of this number some were sleeping on beds, some on straw. Dr. Brodie and I expressed our surprise at the numbers in the rooms, and on mentioning the matter to Mr. O'Brien on the following day, he stated that the relieving officers had sent in a great number of them upon provisional tickets. Observing the position in which we stood, we directed the relieving officers to discontinue the issues of provisional tickets, as we could not place confidence in the principal officers of the house, and as the only means left us to prevent the over-crowding of the house was directing all cases to come before us for adjudication. I did not, upon any occasion after the first week of office, know of a greater number sleeping in the house than was authorized, except in the hospital, where the Vice-Guardians, upon their arrival, found them sick and incapable of being removed, until the morning of the 25th, when I asked Mr. O'Brien for the return of persons sleeping upon the last and preceding nights, when Mr. O'Brien handed me a return, stating that 1111 persons slept in the house. I did not credit the statement, and determined to count the house that night. I did so, and found the numbers to amount to 652 persons in the house, apart from the infirmary. I did not, until the 29th, when the new master was elected, make any change in the issue of rations. I took the master on that day through the house to give him instruction what to do, and told him there were upwards of 100 more on the books than were actually in the house, and to make a reduction in the issue of food accordingly. I counted the house on the night of the 25th or morning of the 26th, and on the following Monday, the 27th, called the attention of the master to the discrepancy, by letter; he replied by letter, as appears upon the minutes. —(A copy of letter and reply is appended. See No. 1.)

Loughrea Union.

No. 1.

Mr. O'BRIEN,

Workhouse, March 28, 1848.

You will please to bring up the Provision Check Account, balanced up to Saturday, the 25th March instant, showing the numbers for which rations are charged on that day, and you will please to account (in writing) for the difference in the numbers returned in the Commissioners' Copy of Minutes, and the number actually in the house on that night.

Mr. Patrick O'Brien.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) GEO. R. RICHARDS.

MASTER'S REPLY.

SIR,

Workhouse, March 29, 1848.

I BEG to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, directing me to bring up the "Provision Check Account," balanced to the 25th March instant, showing the number for which rations were charged on that day, and also to account in writing for the difference in the numbers for which rations were charged on that night, and the numbers returned in the Commissioners' Copy of the Minutes; and in reply have to state, that I was not aware of any discrepancy between the numbers relieved in the workhouse and those on the books, until I was informed by you.

I further state, that some of the inmates might have gone out without my knowledge, the front building having been densely crowded by day, and a great number of them having their own clothes on. The porter may not know them from the applicants, and having no porter at all for some time.

Also, the paupers are sent daily to and from the town-houses without any officer of the house to accompany them.

F. Coffey, Clerk of Loughrea Union.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) PATRICK O'BRIEN.

COPY of a LETTER to Mr. WILLIAM BANER,
Assistant Master from the Vice-Guardians.

*Loughrea Union,
March 29, 1848.*

Mr. WILLIAM BANER,

Mr. O'BRIEN, late master, in reply to a letter of mine, states that some of the paupers may have left the concern without his knowledge, and that amongst other things, that the paupers are sent daily from the town-houses without any officer of the house to accompany them.

In reference to this you will state on the opposite side, whether you have been guilty of such neglect as to suffer the paupers under your care to proceed between the several work-houses in the Union, without you or a responsible wardman to accompany them.

GEO. R. RICHARDS.

COPY of Mr. BANER'S LETTER in reply to the opposite.

GENTLEMEN,

I BEG leave to state that I have been hitherto unacquainted with the duties of my situation unless to obey any orders given me by the gentlemen Guardians, and Mr. O'Brien, the master.

Respecting the paupers of the town-houses, it is impossible that I can account for them whilst I am employed in the workhouse. A number of them comes here every morning to breakfast, and any directions I get in future I shall feel a pleasure in attending to them.

I remain, &c.
WILLIAM BANER,
Assistant Master.

COPY of a LETTER to Mr. WHITE, Porter, in reference to Mr. O'Brien's statement.

Workhouse, March 29, 1848.

Mr. WHITE,

In a letter received from Mr. O'Brien, the late master, in reply to one of mine, dated the 29th instant, calling on him to account for the discrepancy between the numbers actually in the house, and the numbers returned on the minutes, as being there on Saturday, the 25th instant; he states, that some of the inmates might have gone out without his knowledge, the front building being densely crowded every day, and numbers of them having their own clothes on. The porter may not know them from the applicants.

In reference to this statement of Mr. O'Brien, you will please explain in writing whether you permit the inmates of the house to mingle in the hall with the applicants for relief, and whether any paupers have been permitted by you to leave the house through your entrance without being regularly discharged.

I am, &c.,
GEO. R. RICHARDS.

Mr. WHITE'S (the Porter) LETTER in reply.

SIR, Workhouse, March 29, 1848.

IN reply to yours of this date, I have not permitted the inmates of the house to mix with the applicants looking for relief, I am at present in the greatest need of a pass key, the smith having mine, and no matter what lock was to be repaired, my key the smith would be told to get.

The locks are off the doors at present, and I am doing the best I can to prevent the inmates from mixing with the applicants. The master to-day sent me persons without discharges, which I have, and the matron, discharged with their own dress (young girls) but persons can readily and easily pass through the side gates, both in and out, which might have caused confusion.

I am, &c.
PETER WHITE,
Porter.

Mr. Richards, Vice-Guardian.

No. 2.

February 24, 1848.

Loughrea Union.

THE medical officer was sent for and consulted as to the propriety of removing the several non-contagious and chronic cases at present treated in the body of the house, to the house taken in town, when the school-boys were sent by the late Board, but which the Vice-Guardians considered unsuited for them.

Dr. Cloran approved of the suggestions, and the Board gave directions to have the several patients removed there without delay. The bedding which was in the premises to be removed to the Brewery for the reception of the able-bodied male paupers to-night.

Ordered, That all the men and boys now in the workhouse be sent to the Brewery with the exception of all those confined to beds. The entry, the removal of bedding and boys upon the minutes was the 24th February; repeatedly during the month of March, the early part, I gave directions to have the entire of the male school removed out of the house, which directions the master disobeyed, the directions do not appear upon the minutes. I was informed by Dr. Brodie, his directions upon the same subject were also disobeyed, and that we could not calculate upon any order that we gave being carried out; that Dr. Brodie had to superintend the removal of the boys to the Brewery, his directions to that effect not being carried out. I had a conversation with Mr. O'Brien some time previous to the 25th March, respecting the arrangements of the house, and I asked him whether any of the male paupers were lodged in this establishment since the school-boys were sent away. He stated not, except what might be in the probationaries; and he also stated, that all the boys had been removed to the Brewery upon the night of the 25th. After Mr. O'Brien had told me all the boys had been removed out of the house, I found either 15 or 18 boys in it, contrary to my directions and Mr. O'Brien's assertions. I was the same night obliged to send about the hour of 10 o'clock those boys to the Brewery.

I do not remember whether the letter I addressed to Mr. O'Brien was dated the 27th, to the best of my recollection it was, though it appeared upon the minutes to be the 28th. I frequently correspond with the Commissioners, and report upon the conduct of the officers generally. I cannot say that I reported Mr. O'Brien's disobedience specially to the Commissioners. The Provision Check Account has not been kept since the 8th April, up to which time it was kept by Mr. O'Brien.

GEORGE R. RICHARDS, Vice-Guardian.

Sworn and acknowledged before me this 26th day of April, at Loughrea Union workhouse.

OWEN L. LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(C.)

THE evidence of John McCarthy, who being duly sworn saith—I was appointed master of the Loughrea Union workhouse on the 29th March, on which day Mr. Richards informed me that there were upon the registry about 100 more than were actually in the house, that for the three days of the week food was cooked for the full number appearing upon the book, that on Friday there were 24 rations cooked more than was required, and on Saturday 30. Cannot say the exact number in each house; cannot tell the number of paupers chargeable upon each electoral division, has not kept the relief list; cannot tell average cost of each pauper, as he has not had the daily returns regularly from hospital, would know how to make the average cost if he had the return. The paupers have occasionally complained there were not sufficient number of rations issued.

JOHN M'CARTHY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at the Loughrea Union workhouse, being first duly read, 26th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(D.)

THE evidence of Henry Cloran, medical officer to the Loughrea Union workhouse, being duly sworn, saith—I am the person who admits patients into the hospitals; the hospital is calculated to contain 50 patients, and the sheds 100.

The number in the hospital and sheds on Saturday, the 22nd April, amounted to 401; I was desired by the Inspector to put every fever and dysenteric cases into the hospital and sheds out of the house; I receive into hospital from Bride-street when they can be removed all fever and dysenteric cases. When the late Guardians ceased to conduct the affairs of the Union, there were in hospital 267 patients including sheds. The medical return is the book to guide the master in the issue of rations, the return given by the apothecary is not correct, though it is upon that return the provision for the hospital has been estimated: the return for Saturday, the 22nd, as made out by me is correct, the number being 517. I do not believe the return sent in by the apothecary as 571 is accurate.

HENRY CLORAN, M.D.

Sworn and acknowledged before me this 26th day of April, 1848, at Loughrea Union workhouse.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Loughrea Union.

(E.)

Patrick Skerrett, Esq., member of the late Board of Guardians of Loughrea Union, being duly sworn, saith—That I have visited the workhouse frequently since the dissolution of the late Board, one week daily; on one occasion I met Dr. Brodie, and mentioned to him that I was informed there was a greater number in the house then, than upon the occasion of the dissolution of the Board. Dr. Brodie replied, "I am sure you are misinformed." I came into the house immediately after, and asked the master to show me the books, I looked over them, and found the number correspond with that I had told Dr. Brodie, and which number was greater than what we were dismissed for, I do not recollect the number now, but I gave it on a slip of paper to Mr. Smith. I recollect having gone from the front house through the passage and garden by the master's office to the dining-hall, and observed a great number of paupers at dinner, both male and female, in their own clothes; I think from 100 to 150. On two or three occasions, during that week I visited the probationary wards, they appeared to be more crowded than ever I had seen them before; during that week also, I very often saw men in the women's yard; the house did not appear to me to be more orderly than before we were dismissed. I was in the Board-room upon one occasion, and did not consider there was any appearance of improvement there. Books and papers about the table and floor. I have seen the paupers repeatedly about the streets seemingly not on business, I heard the Vice-Guardians had provided passes for the paupers going out; I have frequently met paupers since; I demanded their passes, and never got but one. I recollect the late Board did all in its power to provide additional accommodation and clothing for the paupers, and threatened to sue one of the contractors for failing to make good his contract regarding clothes. I know there is a great abuse in the out-door relief; I knew one man, a tenant of my own, who is able-bodied, has two acres of land, and up to Monday last received 40lbs. of meal weekly. I also know several able-bodied men in employment who are in receipt of out-door relief.

Examined by Mr. Richards.—It was the latter end of February or beginning of March that I was in the habit of daily visiting during a week; does not recollect the day the Vice-Guardians commenced their duties; was in the habit of visiting the workhouse while acting as Guardian very frequently until fever broke out; never visited the house since the Vice-Guardians were appointed but that week, and on one occasion more when I came about letting land for a cemetery, and I think that was about the 10th March; is not in a position to say what the state of the house is in now, not having visited it, but hears there was a great deal of trouble taken with it the last week; I saw some men in the female yards the week I was in the habit of coming here; I cannot swear the men were sent upon business to the female yard, I saw them doing nothing but talking; I did not represent these irregularities to the Vice-Guardians. I was examining the books and taking extracts, but did not scatter them about the room as I was not in it; cannot say whether the books that were about the floor were the books of the Union or those of the Relief Committees. I will not take upon myself to say that the entire number I saw upon the books slept in the house, but I believe they did, because the numbers that slept in the two houses in town were deducted; I could not tell the numbers that were deducted now; I took the numbers from the books; I cannot say from my own knowledge the numbers that slept in the houses in town having got them from the master (O'Brien.)

PATRICK SKERRETT.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at the Loughrea Union workhouse, 29th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(F.)

John Murphy, writing clerk, being duly sworn saith—I had been in the habit of assisting in making up the master's books; I am partially acquainted with the books kept in the office; I do not know of any such book being kept as would show the numbers that slept in any particular house; I saw no memorandum that would show the amount of provision expended in any house; many of the persons that slept in the Brewery were brought back to breakfast; cannot say whether all the paupers that slept in the brewery were brought back to breakfast.

Cross-examined by Sir Thomas Burke, Bart.—Does not know how the master could tell what quantity of provisions to send to the Brewery, perhaps he had the numbers, but I did not see them.

J. MURPHY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea Union workhouse this 1st May, 1848, being first duly read.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(G.)

Upon the complaint that "The workhouses are in a state of the greatest disorder," being read by Inspector, Patrick O'Brien, master of the workhouse, up to 29th March was produced as a witness.

Patrick O'Brien being duly sworn, saith—I have read that part of the letter that conveyed the dissolution of the late Board of Guardians, namely, the paupers wearing their own clothes; probationary yards in a filthy state, also the privies. Saw an improvement in the house from the time the Vice-Guardians came, also the probationary yards, the probationary yards were in a better way by being dug up and having cabbage plants planted in one of them; the yard that Dr. Phelan complained of was cleaned also, the floor of the privies in the probationary yards. Such of the paupers as had not room in the probationary wards were removed into the body of the house to sleep, they wore their own clothes, the practice continued as long as I remained. Since the appointment of the Vice-Guardians, classification was not better observed than during the time the late Guardians were in office. The Vice-Guardians complained to me seeing men and women in the kitchen together. The paupers slept on straw in the probationary wards frequently since the Vice-Guardians were appointed. School requisites were supplied by the Vice-Guardians in about three weeks after their arrival. The female probationary ward has been often overcrowded. The paupers have sometimes remained in their own clothes for three weeks after their admission.

Cross-examined by Mr. Richards.—On more than one or two occasions paupers have remained in their own clothes for three weeks; I do not recollect receiving instructions from the Vice-Guardians about the clothes for the paupers; they may have given directions, but I don't recollect them, there were no clothes for them. The matron told me that Mr. Richards told her if she did not get the women to make the linen that he should get it done himself. It was to the female wards the women were removed from the probationary wards to sleep. Dr. Brodie brought me from the dining hall to the privy in the adult female yard, which was in a very dirty state, not very long after the Vice-Guardians came, it might be about a week; cannot recollect what directions Dr. Brodie gave me about the privy; he called my attention to it, and I told the matron to have it cleaned out; cannot swear that Dr. Brodie told me that the state of the privies was one of the reasons why the late Board was dissolved, and that if the Inspector came down, I would lose my situation; cannot swear that my attention was drawn to the state of the privies upon a previous occasion; I cannot swear that I followed out all the instructions I received from the Vice-Guardians; I recollect bringing the punishment-book before the Vice-Guardians with the names of some persons punished for misconduct; the Vice-Guardians said they could not approve of the punishment, because the place was not clean, or words to that effect. I do not recollect my attention to have been drawn by the Vice-Guardians to a nuisance in the refractory cell or on passage leading from the porter's hall to the body of the house; if I saw a nuisance either in the refractory cell or on the passage leading from the porter's hall to the body of the house, I would have it removed without an order. Is not aware that Dr. Brodie was in the habit of visiting the privies almost every day, on coming to the house; is not aware that Dr. Brodie stood by one day to have the privy cleaned; does not recollect any improvement, except the chimney in the nursery being prevented smoking, and the pumps repaired, and a great quantity of clothing provided, and shoes, and desks, and forms, and a ventilator over the doors of the schoolrooms, and a tailor, and a shoemaker employed to instruct the boys, wheels, flax, wool, and cards provided for the women; the clothing for the paupers was at all times since I came made in the house, with the exception of the frieze jackets.

PAT. O'BRIEN.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at the Loughrea Union workhouse the 28th April, 1848, being first duly read.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(H.)

Denis Phelan, Esq., Poor Law Inspector, being duly sworn, saith—The house is vastly improved, and all the workhouse premises, since the period I made my last report, bearing date the 9th February. The dormitories are now very clean, and ventilation, though not fully carried out, considerably improved. The bedding is also improved; I cannot make use of a stronger expression than that the whole is vastly improved. The hospitals are improved though not in as satisfactory a state as could be wished. The reason they are not in such a satisfactory state as could be wished, is, that there are more patients necessarily put into them than there is hospital accommodation for; for instance, in the fever sheds there are two patients in each bed, always an unsatisfactory arrangement if it can be avoided, and 145 patients in two sheds intended only for 100. I am not aware that the Vice-Guardians have the means of sending the excess of these fever patients to any other place. In the same manner, the infirmary, although kept in excellent order, is partly overcrowded with chronic and dysenteric patients, although not so much overcrowded as when I made my report. I do consider Dr. Cloran perfectly fit for his situation, being, as I understand, a medical graduate of one of the first colleges in Europe. I do consider Dr. Cloran a fit medical officer for the Union, and beg to add, that upon several occasions, I have accompanied him through the sick wards, and have heard him describe the cases of several patients in such a manner as to satisfy me that he fully understood them. I have reason to believe that he has devoted six, eight, and ten hours a day to the treatment of his patients, whom he has frequently visited twice a day.

To a question put by Sir Thomas Burke, namely:—"With all the wonderful improvements you speak of, as to the cleanliness of the house, and its general improvement, how do you account for the great mortality that occurs weekly?" Answer.—"That at a period when a large proportion of the population is in a state of destitution, and when a considerable number of those destitute are admitted into the workhouse, many of those so admitted are found to be in broken health, or affected with serious contagious diseases, and that amongst them, under such circumstances, a large mortality may be always expected." I beg to add, that I have not said wonderful improvement; vastly improved were the words I used. I visited the house once since the 5th February, and this day it was on the 12th April. I visited it, I found the house improved from what it had been, but by no means as much as it is now I cannot say whether the house was improved between the 5th when I made my report, and the dissolution of the Board, not having visited it. I do know the Board was exerting itself to provide additional accommodation. I saw Mr. Smith's house in progress of fitting up and approved of it for a dormitory. The possession of additional houses enabled the Vice-Guardians to make the described improvements, being a portion of the means which enable them to do so.

Loughrea Union.

DENIS PHELAN.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at the Loughrea Union workhouse, 28th April, 1840.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(I.)

Ferdinand Coffey, clerk to the late Board of Guardians and now clerk to the Vice-Guardians, being duly sworn, saith—That the balance to the credit of the Guardians at the time of his appointment on the 11th December in the hands of the treasurer was 4*l.* 3*s.* 1*d.*, that a rate of 3*s.* in the pound was put in collection early in January, that up to the period the late Board was dissolved 391*l.* was collected, and 211*l.* paid for outstanding debts, and a balance remaining to credit of Guardians 179*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.*, that there were fewer persons in the house at the period the Board was dissolved than when Dr. Phelan made his report, that in wet weather the Board-room was damp and the floor covered with water, particularly when the wind was from the west, when the rain beats through the soffit of the windows, and the joints of the walls, that I have seen men and women in the town in the workhouse clothes late at night, going, I think, for water.

Cross-examined by Mr. Richards.—There is no other place to procure water for Bride-street than where I saw the people; I know the Vice-Guardians to have endeavoured to prevent the paupers going into the town by having pass cards provided for the messengers. I have seen the paupers more than once in the streets, but cannot say whether they were on business.

FERDINAND COFFEY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea Union workhouse, 29th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(J.)

Henry Cloran, M.D., being duly sworn, saith—I was medical officer to the Loughrea Union workhouse previous to the dissolution of the late Board; the yards of the workhouse are clear; the privies of the house were kept clean; the house is not as orderly as it ought to be; classification is not strictly observed; I cannot say the number in the probationary wards at night; I recollect reckoning the men one night as they were going from the probationary day ward to the probationary sleeping ward. I have seen paupers frequently in their own clothes. The sleeping rooms are very clean since the Vice-Guardians came. I remarked at times on passing the male day ward that it was filthy; the women's day-room very clean. I saw the paupers sleeping on straw in the boys' school-room; I sent a message to Mr. O'Brien to have blankets provided, and they were that night. I found a sick woman in the probationary ward lying on straw; there were a great number in the probationary ward at the time; I consider they were too many; I have never seen any of the paupers drunk; I have seen them in the streets and reprimanded them for it. During the last week the house has been very much cleaned. During the time I have been here I have always observed great cleaning was carried forward when any person was expected to visit the house; and if the matron made the same exertion at all times as is essentially necessary, and as she did lately, it would tend more to the benefit and health of the people, and to the credit of both sets of Guardians.

The hospital requisites are very much improved. I know of one individual getting relief that ought not to get it, and many that I recommended, had not their names put upon the list.

Examined by Mr. Richards.—I have visited the privies of the men and women's yard and the probationary yard privies; they are in a much more satisfactory state than in the time of the ex-Guardians. It was the hospital privies I swore were not in a satisfactory state, they have not been in a satisfactory state for the last four or five weeks, although I requested of both masters to have them cleaned; I told both the Vice-Guardians the state the privies were in, and they made every exertion to have them cleaned. I am aware that Dr. Phelan visited the workhouse since the dissolution of the late Board, it was about the 12th April that Dr. Phelan visited the workhouse; the day that Dr. Phelan, accompanied by Mr. Richards and myself, visited the house the men were in the act of taking up human excrement by mixing it with turf mould from the floor of the privy, it was necessary to add turf mould to enable the men to move the excrement. I cannot say if the men took anything out of the pit of the privy, but I saw half a foot of human excrement on the seat; the men took something away in barrows, which I believe was human excrement, the privies are now in a most creditable state.

Considering there were too many in the probationary ward, I walked up to the Board-room to Dr. Brodie, and told him the numbers that were there, and that I thought it would be advisable to have some of them removed to the day-room underneath. Is not in the habit of daily visiting the probationary ward, but finding so many there and so many sick, I considered it necessary to visit them and have the sick immediately removed; I cannot say the number of sick I selected from the healthy; I am not in the habit of examining each pauper upon his admission, as my time can be more beneficially employed amongst the sick paupers, and my attention is directed to every person apparently sick in the probationary wards. I cannot recollect the time I saw the woman lying in the probationary wards; I recollect the time I saw the people in their own clothes in the house, was the time the men slept in the boys' schoolroom. I have seen the women in the Bishop's House in their own clothes frequently. It was I sent the paupers from the workhouse to the Bishop's House. I have never made a representation to the Vice-Guardians that did not receive immediate consideration and attention, except one. I have never known the Vice-Guardians make more than ordinary exertion upon hearing an inspection was to take place, but such was made; I allude to the hospital department, when I observe the matron's vigilance increased, when she became afraid. I have not upon all occasions received the requisites applied for. I was told the matron was the person who refused; I was never refused by any parties but the matron; I frequently applied to the late Guardians and was refused; I applied to the present Guardians, and though they ordered them, they were not supplied. I have drawn a comparison between the anxiety evinced by the present and the late Guardians to provide necessaries for the hospital; the result was in favour of the Vice-Guardians. I am of opinion that the Vice-Guardians generally evinced the greatest anxiety to remedy any abuse they found existing.

HENRY CLORAN, M.D.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea Union workhouse, this 29th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(K.)

Rev. Joseph O'Loughlin being duly sworn, saith—I am and have been acting chaplain to the Loughrea Union workhouse since August last; I am in the habit of frequently attending at the workhouse, always when sent for to see a sick person. I consider the workhouse apart from the infirmary in its present state as contrasted with what it was last winter, much improved, the paupers are more comfortably clothed; the dormitories were filthy last winter, and the people dying in numbers; they were unattended by nurses, and had not room in the hospital; I consider the constant visits of the Vice-Guardians has tended to this improvement, in addition to the increased house accommodation afforded by the auxiliary houses. The people are more generally employed. The females are engaged in spinning, sewing, carding; the female school is much improved, desks and books are supplied, and the few children I have examined have answered fairly; owing to the illness of the master, I cannot speak so favourably of the boys' school. As regards the infirmary, I state that as contrasted with last winter it is much improved; it is, however, under the same superintendence. I know nothing of the yards and privies. In the house, generally, classification is better observed, and the moral training better attended to, arising from increased house accommodation and the vigilance of the Vice-Guardians.

JOSEPH O'LOUGHLIN, C. C.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, being first read at the Loughrea Union workhouse, 22nd April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(L.)

Ann Murphy, matron of the Loughrea Union workhouse, being duly sworn, saith—That I am matron of the workhouse for two years; I have never refused to supply necessaries that were in my charge to the hospital, and when I had not what was required, I procured such as soon as possible, and gave them upon receiving a proper order. I have refused shrouding for the dead, because I did not receive the proper order. Dr. Cloran, told me yesterday, that he would shortly see why the shrouding was not put into the hands of the proper person, meaning, as I believe, the hospital nurse. I remember receiving an order for shrouding upon one occasion lately, for a person who was not dead. I gave the shrouding, as I supposed the person was dead. I reported the matter to the Vice-Guardians, and was directed not to give any more without a written order from the hospital, which would answer for my receipt. I would not afterwards give the shrouding on any account without an order. Dr. Cloran said to me that the shrouding should be given, and that he would not allow the nurse to give an order, other than the ticket, which should be returned to him again. The ticket mentions the name of the pauper, the age, and time of admission into hospital, not the death. I would, if I heard the Commissioner was in town, go round and have the place in order. Lately we had no occasion to be so particular about the visits of the Commissioners as we were better prepared for them now than we used to be; we have better means now to be prepared for them. I receive more assistance now than formerly, by the constant visits of the Vice-Guardians, who pointed out to me the way by having wards-women in each dormitory, who are particular in carrying out their instructions. I often heard there was a Visiting Committee appointed, but they seldom went through the house. There is a material improvement in the industrial employment of the females; the improvement consists in knitting, spinning, and sewing. I have now under charge a considerable quantity of linen and woollen yarn manufactured by the females, so as to enable us to employ a weaver soon. All school requisites are provided.

Loughrea Union.

Loughrea Union.

Cross-examined by Mr. Smith.—I found the late Guardians ready to co-operate with me, but they had not the means, the present Guardians have. I recollect that since the Vice-Guardians came, the paupers slept on straw, both in the school-rooms and probationary dormitories, and in their own clothes; I do not recollect they slept so in the body of the house. It was I provided the straw out of the ticken for the paupers to sleep on, as by so doing they would be more comfortable and have more room. I do not think the Guardians knew the paupers slept on straw. I brought paupers out of the probationary wards, by direction of the master, into the school rooms, as they were too crowded; they slept in their own clothes for one night, but they were provided with blankets and rugs. The men when drawing turf and water to the kitchen mixed with the women; it was impossible to prevent their meeting upon other occasions, as the lock of the door was out of order. The paupers have been for a fortnight in their own clothes, while the house clothes were being made. The privies have been in an orderly state since the arrival of the Vice-Guardians, with the exception of one week, that the person in charge was ill. I do not mean to say the instruction of the children is better now than when I was mistress, during the time of the Ex-Guardians; it is two years since I was school-mistress, I think the instruction was better then. The present school-mistress was appointed by the Ex-Guardians.

ANNE MURPHY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me this 1st May, 1848, being first duly read, at Loughrea Union workhouse.

OWEN LLOYD.

(M.)

Mr. Thomas Macklin, contractor and general merchant, being duly sworn, saith—I was formerly an elected Guardian of the Loughrea Union, during which time I had frequent opportunities of visiting the workhouse, I had opportunities of seeing the house after I ceased to be a Guardian; I recollect the state of the house from its opening. I ceased to be a Guardian in 1844; when I visited the house about the 9th of February, I found the rain had come in through the windows upon the floors; I observed the floor of one of the dormitories discoloured from wet, not proceeding from rain. I have been upon two occasions through the house; lately there is a vast difference in the entire improvement of the house, it has been progressive. I observe the windows do not let in the rain, as they are now properly cased. I see through the house the ventilation is improved. I find the dormitories cleanly, and great regularity in making up the beds. I have put questions to the paupers, who have replied they are more comfortable, as to clothing and fuel, and that they got their food better dressed. I have been in the schoolroom, and find the children classified, and they are now provided with slates and copy-books, which I never saw before with them, as well as other requisites necessary for children of their age. I think there is an improvement in the industrial training of the paupers. I have gone through the boys' apartment, and found they had been put to shoe-making and tailoring. I examined the shoemakers' work, and found very good shoes finished after them. I also examined the work done by the tailors, and would not desire to see better. I have gone through the women's department, and found they were employed in spinning linen and woollen yarn, several carding and opening wool, others knitting, and more sewing; if industry progresses as it has since the arrival of the Vice-Guardians, the clothes for the house will all be manufactured by the paupers; from observations I have heard made by the officers of the house, I do not consider they are disposed to co-operate with the Vice-Guardians.

Cross-examined by Mr. Smith.—The casing of the windows has been going on for a fortnight. I have been just appointed valuator of the Union by the Vice-Guardians, at 100*l.*, and prior to any knowledge of this investigation being made; my appointment took place the day Mr. Lloyd arrived.

THOMAS MACKLIN.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Loughrea Union workhouse, being first duly read, the 1st May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(N.)

Ference Brodie, M.D., one of the Vice-Guardians of the Loughrea Union, being duly sworn, saith—That on the day after my arrival in Loughrea, being the 18th February, I visited the workhouse, and was particularly struck with the filthy state of the yards, privies, and some of the dormitories, the two former being covered in many places with human excrement, and the boards of the floors saturated with urine; I determined to turn my attention to have those abuses remedied; and several occasions during the first week after we entered on office, my colleague and myself gave particular directions to the master, and the other officers of the house, to have the nuisances removed; our orders were not obeyed; about the 2nd or 3rd of March, I examined the state of the privies, and found that on the female side of the house covered with human excrement; I mentioned the matter to my colleague and told him that it was quite useless for us to give any directions to the master, as he appeared determined to disobey our orders, and that his object evidently was to get us into a scrape with the Commissioners. Mr. Richards agreed, and said, that as he had so frequently reprimanded O'Brien, he would now recommend me to try what I could do with him. I called him (O'Brien) into the yard, and brought him to the door of the privy, and said to him, was it not a shame to have it in such a disgraceful state, that he must be very well aware that the state of the privies was one of the reasons assigned by the Commissioners for dissolving the late Board, and that if Dr. Phelan, or any other inspector, visited the house, and found the privy in the state it then was, that he and every officer of the house would be dismissed; and not alone the officers of the house, but the Vice-Guardians that were sent down to correct the abuses that existed, would also be dismissed. The master very coolly replied, "And justly, Sir." I then cautioned him to have the place cleaned, or we should report him to the Commissioners. On the next or second morning, I again examined the privy and found it in a similar state; I also examined the refractory cell, and found it partially covered with excrement; a similar nuisance presented itself outside the door. I brought O'Brien into the cell and directed his attention to its filthy state; I also pointed out to him the nuisance in the passage, and desired him to have it removed. At 5 o'clock on the same day, I again examined the refractory cell and the passage, and found the nuisance had not been removed. I found two persons confined in the cell, and sent directions to the master to have them immediately liberated. I then made an entry, bearing date 4th March,* in the Visiting Committee Book; on several occasions between the 4th and 11th, we gave similar directions to the master, and our orders were disobeyed, and on more than one day during that week, I had myself to get the paupers to clean the privies, and stand by while they were doing so. On Saturday 11th March, I made the entry bearing date 11th March;† my colleague and myself deemed it advisable to forward a copy of the entry to the Commissioners, to show the difficulties we had to contend with, from the officers of the house not obeying our orders, and received from them the reply hereto appended.‡ I visited the hospital department, and found the patients did not get their breakfast until a very late hour in the day, frequently until 12 o'clock; I enquired the cause, and was informed the hospital patients could not be served until the paupers in the hall were served; I sent to the master, desiring him to send tin vessels immediately to the hospital, the messenger returned, and said the master desired him to tell me the tinker was making them, that he had not any. On my way to the hospital, on that morning, I saw a large supply of tins in the store rooms. On another occasion we gave directions to the master to remove all the men and boys to the Brewery, and on visiting the dining hall at dinner, a few days after, I found several men and boys. I enquired of the assistant master if they had slept at the Brewery, he said not, I told him I would not leave the place until I saw them all marched off to the Brewery, as our orders would not be obeyed, and did wait until all were sent off. On another occasion, after serving an order on the master to have all the men and boys in the house, with the exception of those in the hospital, sent to the Brewery, our orders were not obeyed. On another occasion we selected a number of women, being widows, and gave them tickets of discharge to the relieving officer for out-door relief, and ordered them to be sent out on that very day, and our order was not obeyed. We frequently gave directions to have the female paupers employed in making the house clothing, our orders were not obeyed to the required extent, until the 18th March, when we served the notice now appearing on the minutes§ and appended hereunto.

Cross-examined by Sir Thomas Burke, Bart.—There was but one master of the workhouse from the 4th until the 29th March. The persons discharged, were directed to present their tickets to the master, I cannot tell whether they did so, I gave directions to the matron to set the women to work, I reported her on the minutes for neglect. The appointment of the new master took place the 29th March. The provision check book has not been kept since the 8th April; this has arisen from two causes, one the irregularity of the hospital books, the other the incompetency of the successor of O'Brien, whom we appointed.

FERENCE BRODIE.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Loughrea Union workhouse, being first read, 1st May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

No. 3.

Saturday, March 4, 1848.

On visiting the workhouse at 11 o'clock, A.M., I found the privies at the female side of the house in the same disgracefully filthy state so often complained of. The floor of the refractory cell was in a similar state, being covered with human excrement, the same was observable on the passage leading from the porter's lodge to the body of the house, and although the master's attention was directed to it the nuisance remains at 5 o'clock. I now found two boys confined in the refractory cell, and being of opinion that their lives are endangered from the filthy state, I have sent to the master to liberate them.

J. BRODIE, V. G.

J. COFFEY, Clerk of the Loughrea Union.

No. 4.

Saturday, March 11, 1848.

On visiting the workhouse at 11 o'clock, A.M., we found the privies at the male and female side in the same abominable state of filth complained of by the Inspector, Doctor Phelan,

* See No. 3.

† See No. 4.

‡ See No. 5.

§ See No. 6.

Loughrea Union.

and to which we had such frequent occasions to call the attention of the master, and other officers of the house, since we entered on our duties as Vice-Guardians. The yard at the female side of the house, quite close to the infirmary, was covered with human excrement; a similar nuisance presented itself on the passage leading from the infirmary to the fever sheds, evidently showing gross neglect on the part of every officer of the house.

J. COFFEY, Clerk of the Loughrea Union.

G. R. RICHARDS, V. G.
J. BRODIE, V. G.

No. 5.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
March 13, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,

THE Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had under their consideration your report of the 11th instant, enclosing a copy of the report which you entered in the Visiting Committee Book on that day, relating to the state of the workhouse of the Loughrea Union, and under the circumstances which you represent, the Commissioners deem it expedient to issue an order for the dismissal of the master of the workhouse, both to mark their sense of the impropriety of his conduct, and to disqualify him for office under any Board of Guardians in any Union in Ireland.

To the Vice-Guardians of the Loughrea Union, Loughrea.I have, &c.,
(Signed) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

No. 6.

Saturday, March 18, 1848.

Ordered that the matron be requested to furnish the names of such of the female inmates as she considers are able to work, and if any should refuse to report their names, &c., the Vice-Guardians would take immediate steps to punish them for disobedience of orders, as they were determined that the making of the house clothing should be expedited as much as possible, which they regret to find had been neglected during the past week.

The matron furnished the names of about 40 women, and instructions were given to set them to work immediately.

J. COFFEY, Clerk of the Loughrea Union.

(O.)

Robert D'Arcy, Esq., J. P., being duly sworn, saith—That on or about the 7th April two boys, pauper inmates of the Loughrea Union workhouse, were brought before me charged with being drunk; they were in custody of the police, and were reported to have been brought before me for punishment by order of the Vice-Guardians. Upon proof of the charge of drunkenness, I committed the two boys (whose names were John Fury and Michael Kelly) to Bridewell for 48 hours.

ROBERT D'ARCY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Loughrea Union workhouse, this 28th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Henry Trimble, 1st head constable of constabulary stationed at Loughrea, being sworn, saith—I was on the morning of the 7th April at the police barrack, when a messenger arrived with a request from Mr. Richards, the Vice-Guardian, that a couple of the men might be sent up to the workhouse to take charge of two boys who were drunk, and to bring them before the magistrates. I immediately sent up two men, who, accompanied by Mr. Richards, returned with two boys, John Fury and Michael Kelly, both dressed in the Union clothes and quite drunk. I detained them in barrack until Mr. D'Arcy, the magistrate, came into town, when I brought the boys before him upon a charge of drunkenness; Mr. D'Arcy received the complaint and committed them to Bridewell for 48 hours, at the expiration of which, I sent them in charge of two men to deliver the boys to the master of the workhouse.

H. TRIMBLE, 1st H. C.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Loughrea, this 11th May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

John Morley, a pauper inmate of the Loughrea Union workhouse, being duly sworn, saith—I saw John Fury, aged about 16, and Michael Kelly, aged about 15, and both pauper inmates of the house, drunk about three weeks since. I also saw Bartley Lally and Thomas Coy drunk about the same time, they are paupers in the house. I also saw Thomas Hopkins and Michael Fahy both drunk, and both are paupers in the workhouse. I do not know where they got the whiskey. I never told any person about the house that any of the boys were drunk, and no person ever spoke to me on the subject. I never saw a person belonging to the house drunk before or since.

JOHN MORLEY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, being first duly read, at the Loughrea Union workhouse, 28th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Michael Kelly, a pauper inmate of the Loughrea workhouse, aged about 13 years, being duly sworn, saith—That about three weeks since, I saw Michael Walsh and Thomas Hopkins, both pauper inmates, drunk in the men's yard about 2 o'clock in the day. I cannot say that any of the officers knew they were drunk, if they did, they would punish them. I saw Bartley Lally and Thomas Coy, both pauper inmates, drunk, in or about three weeks since, Coy was in the probationary ward, and Lally in the men's yard. I saw John Fury,* another pauper inmate, drunk, in the men's yard, about a fortnight ago. I also saw Michael Fahy, a pauper inmate, drunk, at the master's office, about a fortnight since; about the same time I also saw Michael Kelly* drunk in the old men's ward, he was taken out by the police. I have heard that John Fury was punished by confinement to the Brewery. I heard also he was dismissed from the shoemaking trade for the offence. I did not tell any of the officers that I saw the boys drunk. I did tell Dr. Cloran, and also Mr. James Smith.

Loughrea Union.

MICHAEL KELLY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, this 28th day of April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(P.)

Complaint.—The paid Guardians are totally ignorant of the parties to whom they are giving out-door relief, and the most flagrant abuses are the consequence; yet they studiously avoid seeking information from any of the respectable rate-payers, nor do they publish the names of the recipients of such relief.

William Proctor, relieving officer for the Athenry district, comprising the electoral divisions of Athenry, Cranghwell and Kilconaron, being duly sworn, saith—that 1. Winny Rogers, aged 40 years, able-bodied, receives 7 lbs. Indian meal weekly. 2. Margaret Cahillon, deserted by her husband, 28 lbs. for self and four children, has sworn informations against her husband. 3. Michael Cannon, aged 36, wife and four children, receives 28 lbs.: I brought this man and family to the workhouse, because the family were sick and the man infirm. 4. Robin Newman, aged 50, and wife, receive 14 lbs. weekly, refused to come into the workhouse and was rejected, when he was allowed out-door relief; Vice-Guardians considered him infirm, and from his appearance I think him infirm; I would not feed him for his work. 5. Margaret Lawless, aged 60, receives 7 lbs. meal weekly; refused a ticket for the workhouse until she came before the Guardians, when she was placed upon out-door relief; has a son enabled to maintain her. 6. Bridget Gleeson, aged 35, deserted by her husband, an able-bodied man, engaged by a man, named Healy, at 1s. per week and his diet; receives 18 lbs. of meal weekly for self and three children; Vice-Guardians directed me to give her provisional relief, and get her to lodge informations against her husband, which she did. 7. Winny Cunningham, aged 80 years, receives 7 lbs. meal weekly, has more than a quarter acre of land; I did not know she had land until Good-Friday. 8. Mary Mulkeeran, aged 50, infirm, receives for self and two children 21 lbs. meal weekly; was lately lessened; she holds half an acre of land.

The Vice-Guardians have gone to Athenry to adjudicate upon the cases I submitted to them. The Vice-Guardians have taken means to ascertain the proper cases to be relieved; not being satisfied with my representations they have inquired from rate-payers and others in Athenry, but not in the other electoral divisions in my district to my knowledge; they could have made inquiries without my knowledge. I do not know of women with illegitimate children receiving out-door relief, with the exception of one instance, the person being sick. I have submitted my books to rate-payers in my district, in order to ascertain whether there were any persons receiving out-door relief not entitled to it; after I submitted my books to the rate-payers of Athenry for examination, one of them, in the presence of the others, I think Mr. Loughnane, expressed his approval of them, and added that there was not a sufficient number of persons upon his list. Has received recommendations from several rate-payers to give out-door relief to persons who, upon inquiry, I found not entitled to it.

WM. PROCTOR.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at the Loughrea Union workhouse, being first duly read, 28th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(Q.)

Thomas Connor, relieving officer for Kiltulla district, comprising the electoral divisions of Kiltulla and Killimer Daly, being duly sworn, saith,—that 1. Nelly Commins returned as a widow, aged 60 years, in the Application and Report Book of Edward Rochford, former relieving officer of the district, receives weekly for herself and two reputed illegitimate children 14 lbs. of meal. The children are not returned as illegitimate in the Application and Report Book; both children over 15 years of age. 2. Mary Dunne, aged 40 years, receives for self and three children 24 lbs. of meal; her husband alive but disabled. 3. Bridget Connelly, aged 45, receives for self and three illegitimate children 28 lbs. of meal weekly; had been in the workhouse and was put on out-door relief. 4. Pat. Connelly, aged 45 years, received 30 lbs. of meal for a fortnight weekly, some of his children being represented to me as sick, and which I reported to the Vice-Guardians. I went to the house, saw two or three children in bed; it was about mid-day; the mother said the children were ill; that they had eaten nothing but nettles and water-cresses for some time. I did not ask the disease, but the mother said they were sick from hunger and starvation. 5. William Walsh, aged 38, received provisional relief from me, disallowed by Vice-Guardians. I gave provisional relief in consequence of the illness of the children and their destitute state. 6. Mary Henley, aged 30 years, receives for herself and five children 30 lbs. of meal weekly. She is returned upon the Application and Report Book neither single nor married, her husband is alive; did not report to the Vice-Guardians that Mary Henley was married. 7. Mary Cunnane, aged 70 years, receives 12 lbs. of meal weekly; she and her sons live together. Has heard she has land; did not report to the Vice-Guardians when he heard she had land. I have made no entry in Report Book as to land. 8. Darby M'Grath, aged 60 years, receives 42 lbs. of meal for himself, wife, and four children, two of whom are over 15; is an able-bodied man; is ill-looking; is not able to do a day's work with a spade. 9. Honor Dunn, aged 26 years, receives 16 lbs. of meal weekly for herself and two children; refused the workhouse; her husband is in America. 10. Patrick Keeley, aged 40 years, receives 7 lbs. of meal weekly; is sickly. 11. Mary Kelly, aged 44 years, received out-door relief for two weeks; was discontinued when the Vice-Guardians visited Kiltulla to revise the lists. 12. William Cuncue, aged, as stated in Report Book, 60 years; I believe him to be about 50; I think him well able to work; has from 32 to 40 perches of land; is partly sown with potatoes; relieved him provisionally, was discontinued by Vice-Guardians. 13. James Meyrick, aged 60 years, received 14 lbs. of meal weekly for self and two children; entered in the Application and Report Book as had land which he gave up to his son. I was present when the father gave up the land to his son. 14. John Haniffée, aged 57 years, receives 28 lbs. of meal for self, wife, and six children; holds about four or five acres of land; told me he offered to give up his land; it would not be taken without the house.* The family were sick at the time in fever. 15. Paul Flannery, aged 70 years, receives 7 lbs. of meal weekly. I knew he had land and inquired what he did with it; he stated he sold it to Martin Cahillow. I did not enter this in the Application and Report Book, or mention it to the Vice-Guardians.

* Fury and Kelly were brought before the magistrates, and confined in Bridewell for 48 hours.

Loughrea Union.

THOMAS CONNOR, Relieving Officer.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at the Loughrea Union workhouse, being first duly read, 28th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

John Birmingham, bailiff to Lord Dunsandle, being duly sworn, saith—that I do not know Mary Cannane. I do not know that she has any land, but I have heard she has.

William Connaghton,† rate-payer, being duly sworn, saith—that he knows Mary Cunnane; that she has from three roods to an acre of land; does not know whether the land belongs to Mary Cunnane or to her son.

Thomas Lally, bailiff to James Barrett of Athenry, being duly sworn, saith—that James Meyrick‡ did not give up his land, nor offered to give it up to him.

John Birmingham, bailiff to Lord Dunsandle, being sworn, saith—that John Haniffée§ offered to give up his land; that he refused to take up the land without the house. Haniffée holds his land by lease.

John Birmingham, bailiff to Lord Dunsandle, being sworn, saith—that Paul Flannery|| of Greyford has about five acres of land in his possession which he holds by lease; that he never tendered the possession to him.

(R.)

James Kelly, being duly sworn, saith—That I reside in the town of Loughrea, and have been acting relieving officer since the 21st February. That William Shaduck was appointed my assistant, and that he entered the name of Pat. Birmingham upon the Application and Report Book. That I did not visit the house of Pat. Birmingham, and I represented him to the Vice-Guardians as a destitute person after fever, upon the statement of Birmingham's wife. I was appointed relieving officer by the Vice-Guardians, having acted as such for Mr. Coughlin previous to and during his illness. Pat. Birmingham, his wife, and one child, received for three weeks 21 lbs. of meal weekly. I saw Pat. Birmingham some time after the application was entered, and he appeared to be after fever. He was struck off the list by order of Mr. Richards, who directed me to strike off all who were relieved in consequence of sickness after two, three, or four weeks.

John Nefin, being duly sworn, saith—I know Pat. Birmingham of Athenry-road, he is an able-bodied man, and I have seen him at work for wages during part of the time he was in receipt of out-door relief. Cannot say whether any of his family were in fever during the month of April.

Thomas Horan, being duly sworn, saith—I know that Pat. Birmingham's son died of fever, but cannot state the time; I saw him about three weeks since, and I heard him say he was not strong enough to work, and if he was he had not the price of a spade.

James Tierney, being duly sworn, saith—That Pat. Birmingham was employed sowing potatoes within the last month for his master, and for more than two days he had seen him before the sowing of potatoes, and he was looking ill.

2. Thomas Fahy—I visited the house of Thomas Fahy, I did not go in; I saw no sign of

* John Birmingham, bailiff, sworn, refused to take up Haniffée's land without house, as he holds by lease.

† See Thomas Connor's list, No. 7.

§ Ibid., No. 14.

‡ Ibid., No. 13.

|| Ibid., No. 15.

illness. I have seen him often since he has received out-door relief, and he appeared to me unable to work. He was in fever, as appears on the Application and Report Book. He received relief from 21st February to 10th April, and continued subsequently for a fortnight.

John Nefin swears—I have seen Thomas Fahy about a month since, and I consider him able to work, and saw him at work at his trade; he is a nailor; does not know he or any of his family had fever.

Thomas Macklin sworn, saith—I know Thomas Fahy; he is a nailor; had fever during the month of March or beginning of April, as I have heard from his wife. I saw Thomas Fahy subsequently; he had the appearance of fever.

Henry Cloran sworn—Is medical officer to the workhouse. Considers Thomas Fahy an infirm man, having attended him in fever and dysentery. Considers he can make a nail, though not able to put in a day's work.

3. Patrick Madden.—I recollect that Mr. Coffey the clerk entered Pat. Madden's name upon the Application and Report Book; he is represented as after fever, and received 36 lbs. of meal for self and wife with five children for one week, was struck off the list on its being ascertained he possessed more than a quarter acre of land.

John Nefin sworn, saith—That Pat. Madden has a cow, and two roods of land. The man might have been at work the 13th March.

Ferdinand Coffee, being duly sworn, saith—I heard and believe that Pat. Madden and his family were ill in fever, and sent them relief myself. I heard from Madden's wife and Rev. Mr. O'Loughlin that Madden was ill of a fever, but I don't know it myself.

Edmond White being sworn, saith—That Pat. Madden lay sick for three weeks previous to last fortnight; knows he has a cow and half an acre of land.

4. Bartley Boyle.—I swear I transferred the name of Bartley Boyle from a list prepared by the Rev. Mr. Macklin and Rev. Mr. Brunskill, from the applicants in Mr. Coughlin's office, and during the time Mr. Coughlin, the relieving officer, was first taken ill, and he is represented upon the Application and Report Book as having children ill of fever. I did not visit the house, but I believed they were ill, as stated by others; he received 2s. 6d. per week for one month, and was then struck off the list.

David Whyte, being sworn, saith—That he saw Bartley Boyle frequently working between the 5th March and 5th April. Does not know his children were ill; they might have been without his knowledge.*

5. Martin Cahalan.—I entered Martin Cahalan upon the Application and Report Book by desire of Mr. Coughlin, late relieving officer; he is represented aged 60 years, and infirm, was allowed 2s. per week for himself and two children, from the 28th February to the 25th March, and from thence to the present 19 lbs. of Indian meal weekly. I do not consider him able to labour.

John Nefin sworn—Knew Martin Cahalan to be a tenant to the Marquis Clanricarde, from whom he has two leases; one direct from his Lordship, the other purchased from a man named Lenahan; also another tenement at will; altogether containing about half an acre, upon which there are five houses. There are four or five years' rent due the landlord.

6. Pat. Dogherty.—I entered Pat. Dogherty on the 3rd March, and produced him to Vice-Guardians on the 6th; did not visit him. I saw him, and he had jaundice; he produced a certificate from Dr. Cloran to that effect; he was ordered 1s. per week from 6th March for one month; struck him off by desire of Vice-Guardians.

David Whyte sworn—Saith that he frequently saw Pat. Dogherty, between the 6th March and 6th April, an odd day working; that he will not swear he was fit to work during all that time; considers him an able-bodied man; heard he had jaundice.

7. Owen Dogherty.—I entered his name upon the Application and Report Book. I visited his house, and found his wife in bed; she appeared sick. He received 2s. weekly from 6th March to 1st April, when the wife being able to come for the meal, I struck him off. I entered him on the 1st April, having heard he was ill; I visited him, and found him in bed, spitting blood, and much oppressed; he was ordered relief for two weeks, when he was struck off.

David Whyte sworn, saith—That he has seen Owen Dogherty almost daily the last month, does not appear sick, and is able-bodied.

8. Pat. Monaghan.—I entered his name upon the Application and Report Book, by order of Mr. Coughlin, late relieving officer, aged 65, hump-backed, is a fiddler; was not reported as having land; received for himself, his wife, who is represented blind, and two children, 2s. weekly, which he received for two weeks; was struck off the list when it was ascertained he had land; was restored, having, as I believed, tendered his land to the landlord.

John Nefin sworn—I demanded the land, and told Monaghan he might keep the house; he would not surrender it, but would sow it.

Mathew Rush sworn—Is clerk to Robert Davy, Esq., agent to Marquis Clanricarde; Pat. Monaghan came to him, and said he had received the relief for two weeks, and that if I would give him a certificate, the relieving officer would continue to give it to him. I told him I would, provided he would give up the acre of land; he replied that he would keep it as long as he could. I told him also he might keep the house.

9. Timothy Moran.—I entered his name upon the Application and Report Book as aged 40 years, after fever; received for four weeks 24 lbs. of meal for self, wife, and two children weekly. It is not stated he had land; I did not know he had any. Was struck off the list at the end of the month, having been relieved during sickness.

David Whyte—I am receiver upon the land that Timothy Moran lives on; and he is in possession of upwards of three acres of land.

* See survey of land, page 902.

Loughrea Union.

10. Mary Porter.—I entered Mary Porter upon the Application and Report Book from a list prepared in Mr. Coughlin's office by Rev. Messrs. Macklin and Brunskill; she is reported widow, aged 45, with two children, no land; received weekly 2s. up to the 25th March, and from that up to the last week 16 lbs. of meal weekly.

John Nefin sworn, saith—That Mary Porter has near half an acre of a town plot, and that he received rent from her last harvest, for the Marquis of Clanricarde, and that the plot is now sown with potatoes and oats.

Sworn before me at Loughrea the 5th May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Expecting the examination of James Kelly would be resumed on Saturday, and until his list was gone through, I did not require him to sign his evidence. When I was leaving Loughrea he was absent.

May 20, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD.

I have surveyed, by order of G. Richards, Esq., the following divisions of land in the town of Loughrea (as shown me), viz. :—

No. 5, on James Kelly's List.

	Irish.			Statute.
	A.	R.	P.	A.	R.	P.
No. 1, Plot—Being to the rere of the dwelling-house and offices of Martin Cahalan in Bride-street.	0	0	7	0	0	11½
No. 2, Plot—Being attached to three houses on the rock	0	0	11½	0	0	19*
No. 3, Plot—Being attached to two houses at the Brewery	0	0	10½	0	0	16½
Total	0	0	29	0	0	46½

Surveyed, May 8, 1848.

MARTIN HAIRE.

(S.)

Garrett Burke, late collector, and under agent to Sir Thomas Burke, Bart., being duly sworn, saith—I am well acquainted with the electoral divisions of Ballinakill, Dooniry, Portumna, and Teena, that I have been in almost every house in these divisions, and that destitution, to a very great extent, prevails in the four divisions upon which I collect the rates; there are, at least, 300 families holding from 4 to 12 acres, on whose land there is neither stock or corn, nor provision within their houses; that they are unable to pay their rates, and I do not expect to get any from them before harvest, unless I find grazing cattle during the summer. Holders of land from 12 to 20 acres to the number of 50, are nearly as destitute, and of the two classes very few attend chapel for want of decent clothes. The corn sown last year was greater in proportion than that sown this year, but potatoes are being planted extensively. I think the deaths during the last year amounted to one-eighth of the population. I kept an account of the persons that went to America as well as I could learn, and out of the four divisions, 300 able-bodied persons went thither. I was for five years manager of a loan fund, which amounted to 2000*l.*; when the potato crop failed, I called in the money and collected about 1400*l.*, the remaining 600*l.* is still unpaid, yet, for three years, before the potato crop failed there were not 10 defaulters, nor was a summons ever served to enforce payment.

There are about 20 gentlemen residing in the divisions, six of whom give employment to the poor.

The destitution of the district will amount to 5000 at the lowest calculation, at the present the number relieved amounts to 2144, upon the out-door relief lists, as appeared upon the book of relieving officers.

GARRETT BURKE.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, being first read, at Loughrea Union Work-house, 27th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(T.)

Robert Darcy, of Woodville, near Loughrea, Esq., J.P., being duly sworn, saith—I am and have been agent to the Marquis of Clanricarde for upwards of 20 years, that I am well acquainted with the Loughrea Union, that I am of opinion that destitution is on the increase, that though provisions are little more than one-third of what they were last year, the suffering of the poor is greater as they have not the means to procure it; he knows men holding 10 acres of land in as great destitution as the persons receiving out-door relief, yet they retain their land and disentitle themselves to relief rather than part with it. The farmers are generally speaking, making very great exertion to get their crops down, and potatoes are extensively planted. Loughrea Union.

* The two latter plots are partly bounded by narrow roads, no part of which is included in the above measurement—M. H.

Rents are not paid as well this year as they were last, though the rate at which the land is let is under the ordnance survey. There is not amongst the holders of land of from 10 to 20 acres, the quantity of stock they possessed in former years. The greatest possible exertions are being made by the able-bodied labourers and mechanics to emigrate, and very many would accompany those going could they procure the means.

ROBERT DARCY.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at Loughrea Union workhouse, this 28th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(U.)

Mr. Thomas Macklin, contractor and general merchant, being duly sworn, saith—I live in the town of Loughrea and have a general knowledge of the Union, and am well acquainted with the people of every grade. I was a member of the Loughrea Relief Committee under the Temporary Relief Act last year, when about 4000 persons were daily supplied with food, and I think all who required relief had it; already in the same district, recipients of out-door relief number 1441, and I state that before the 1st June, the recipients will be double the number, unless labour be extensively supplied. There are two extensive lines of drainage in the Union which have passed the Board of Works, these, if opened, absorb a portion of the labour. There is not as much oats sown this year as last by one quarter; there is a good deal more wheat; and potatoes are planted to a considerable extent. I am agent to an emigration company, and the numbers applying for information, as to expense of passage, is very great, but most are deterred from proceeding there for want of means. I have known many persons, who, a few years since, were in comfortable circumstances are now without decent clothing, having parted with all they had to procure food. I find a great number of occupiers of small holdings have not seed to plant the ground, and if some means are not taken to supply them the destitution will not terminate this year, let the potato crop turn out ever so well.

THOMAS MACKLIN.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, at the Loughrea Union workhouse, this 29th April, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

(V.)

Rev. Thomas Burke, Parish Priest, of Licmolassy and Kilmanalogue, in the electoral divisions of Portumna and Kilguare, the former of which is in the Union of Loughrea, being duly sworn, saith—That I have been parish priest of Portumna for the last year and a half, and have, during that time, resided in Portumna. I am intimately acquainted with the circumstances of my parishioners, and can truly state, that destitution in my parish is more intense this year than it was last, but less extensive; that this time last year, and up to the middle of the month, employment was extensive, and though provisions were three times dearer than at present, they were easier procured, as there was a good deal of money in circulation; the people endured less privation, and that in the event of the people being unemployed during the summer, the destitution will be such as that no Poor Law can meet. In the town of Portumna, Mr. Ryan, the resident magistrate, and I, have succeeded in getting up a woollen factory, where 110 females, having 475 individuals in their families, were employed up to the 28th ultimo; that in consequence of the want of demand for the articles manufactured, namely, flannel, tweed, and woollen stockings, the numbers have been considerably reduced, and the persons hitherto employed by us are thrown upon the rates; that had we an outlet for our manufactured goods, we could employ a much larger number, and thus encourage a spirit of industry and self-reliance in the people. I observe a very great desire, upon the part of the occupiers of land generally to return to the cultivation of the potato, to the exclusion of other green crops, and the potato is just now being extensively planted. There is not one quarter the usual quantity of pigs in the Union. Sheep and black cattle are not much diminished in number, there never having been many of either in this part of the Union, which is chiefly agricultural. Indian and rye meal are coming very much into use, until lately, there was a great prejudice against both. Since the failure of the potato crop, wheaten meal was the general diet of the people; the food of the poor was chiefly turnip with a little meal shaken thereon, as long as the supply lasted. It is now principally rye meal. I was Chairman of the Portumna Relief Committee for some months last year, during which time several occupiers of as much as two acres of land, were in the daily receipt of rations; as long as rations were confined to cooked food, the numbers on the relief lists were considerably less than when meal came to be distributed. I consider, as regards the clothing of the people, that they are in a very destitute condition, generally speaking, and to such an extent as to confine them to their homes.

THOMAS BURKE, P.P.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea this 3rd day of May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

James Martin Lynch, of Loughrea, late rate-collector, for No. 1 District, comprising the electoral divisions of Loughrea, Kilchreest and Killinedeerna, being duly sworn, saith—I was elected master of the Loughrea Union workhouse, on the 3rd June, 1843, and continued as such until the 2nd May, 1846, when I resigned, in consequence of the matron having died of fever. I was engaged with my brother in the leather trade, until the months of August last, when I found I could not serve his trade and collect the rates which I had undertaken to do from the 31st of May preceding. The reason I had to believe I could not serve my brother, and be a rate-collector, was, that owing rates, and wanting leather, persons would not come to the shop. I am well acquainted with the three electoral divisions I have named, and I truly swear that the destitution this year is three-fourths greater than it was last year; something more in Loughrea than in the other two divisions. I consider the destitution arises from want of employment for the people; from several heads of families having died last year, and the beginning of this, leaving their widows and orphans without any support, from the failure of the potato crop, and from the inability of numbers last year to sow a crop of any kind, though in possession of land, seed oats rating as high in the markets as 28s. per barrel of 14 stone, and at one market in Loughrea as high as 32s. and potatoes at 1s. 6d. per stone, or 10s. 6d. per cwt. In the three divisions there is more corn sown than was last year; by corn I mean wheat, oats, and barley; and potatoes are planted by every person that can procure seed upon any terms; and so great was the demand for seed, that on last market-day potatoes rose in price from 8½d. per stone in the morning, to 11½d. per stone in the evening. On Thursday, the 20th April, there were 134 carts of potatoes in the Loughrea market, averaging at the least 10 cwt. per cart. With the exception of a tan-yard in Loughrea, there is not another manufactory in the three divisions, and this employs but four or five hands. Up to Christmas there had been a brewery, which is now converted into an auxiliary workhouse. The arable land varies in value throughout the district from 25s. to 30s. per acre, and when properly cultivated produces on an average one ton wheat to the acre—15 barrels oats, 16 barrels barley, and 10 tons potatoes. The clothing of the people, who possess land from five acres downwards, is as bad as can be, with few exceptions; and on this account very many are prevented attending worship on Sabbath days. I have seen but one weaver at work; wheels, reels, cards, are all idle for want of means to purchase materials to manufacture linen, frieze, and blankets for the use of the people themselves, and they are literally naked for want of such.

JAMES MARTIN LYNCH.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea, the 31st May, 1848, being first duly read.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector,

(X.)

William Proctor being duly sworn, saith—I am relieving officer for No. 2 District, comprising the electoral divisions of Athenry, Cranghwell, and Kilconiron, in the Union of Loughrea. I live in the centre of the district as nearly as possible. I have visited the house of every person who had a permanent residence, and the lodging of others who are in receipt of outdoor relief, and I swear that to the best of my knowledge and belief, there is not one in receipt of such relief that is not entitled thereto, and there are very many in a destitute state, so far as not having provisions, who must very soon part with their land to be entitled to relief. In the Athenry electoral division, 430 are at present receiving out-door relief, and this number must increase to 1000 before long, unless some employment be provided for them. In the Cranghwell electoral division 70 persons are relieved, and this number, unless as stated before, will increase to 200 at the least; and in Kilconiron electoral division there are 68 on the list, that must increase to 200, unless the people are employed: there is a probability of work being carried on in this division. There is an average crop of wheat, but not much oats. Potatoes are very extensively planted. In none of the three divisions have the small holders of land the quantity of cattle they used to have, nor are they in the same condition, as they could not purchase hay to feed them last winter. I was clerk and storekeeper to the Kilconiron Relief Committee last year, and over 400 persons were daily fed, many of whom were in possession of both cattle and land. Occupiers of not more than five acres of land were permitted by the Committee to receive relief, and those who had a cow or sheep had a reduction made from their rations. I have discovered persons receiving relief last year, who had more than five acres of land, more than one cow, a horse and cart, and in employment. There will be less imposition this year if relieving officers are honest, though many of the small landholders will give up their land to get relief, if they do not get employment. There are also many who will struggle at the risk of their lives to hold what they have, rather than part with it to go into the workhouse.

WM. PROCTOR, Relieving Officer.

Sworn and acknowledged before me at Loughrea, this 9th of May, 1848.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Robert Pennefather Graham, being duly sworn, saith—I am Protestant rector of Kilconiron parish, in the electoral division of Kilconiron, and Union of Loughrea. I am acquainted with the district, in which I reside. I consider that destitution prevails to a great extent, though I conceive not so great as in some of the neighbouring districts; yet in the course of a few weeks I apprehend it will increase considerably, unless employment in a more extended manner be given. Up to about a month since I was enabled, from funds placed at my disposals, to give considerable relief to the poor in the neighbourhood; these resources are now nearly exhausted, and I consider many who have been relieved by me and by others in this district, must now avail themselves of the relief afforded by law to the destitute. I consider, if the food was cooked, it would conduce more to the health of the people, than by giving meal, as the means of cooking it properly is not within their reach, generally speaking; and the portion of the people who are by law entitled to relief being more circumscribed, the administration of relief will be less subject to imposition.

ROBERT P. GRAHAM.

Sworn and acknowledged before me, this 10th May, 1848, at Loughrea.

OWEN LLOYD, Poor Law Inspector.

Loughrea Union.

SIR,

Stonelage Cranghwell, April 27, 1848.

I BEG to acknowledge receipt of your note dated 22nd instant, relating to the distress, absolute and comparative, within Loughrea Union, and expressing your wish that I should give to you such information as I am acquainted with.

I do not reside in Loughrea Union; I live in Gort Union; and except as to townlands skirting my neighbourhood, I regret that I cannot forward your views.

I believe that you will find destitution is progressing; that the blanks left by death are filled up from the farming class gradually sinking to pauperism. In illustration of this, I refer to townland of Polnabanny, parish of Killora (Loughrea Union): there are there two farmers, James Burke and Patrick Kennedy, holding from six to ten acres (Irish) each. They were comfortable, but now destitute, and with grounds unsown, wholly, I believe. They were working lately with me as day-labourers; they often got meal from me, as I was aware they and their families had no food. I could name another case, but the man is somewhat above the class of small farmers, and I frequently have given his family food at evening, when I knew they were fasting the entire day: the person to whom I refer, was last year quite beyond anything of want of food, &c.

You are aware, no doubt, that there is a deep margin of misery beyond the circle of poor-law aid, and that among the small landholders the most intense penury exists. I have encouraged all I could act on by advice, &c., to sow as much corn and other crops as possible—"Come what may, sow the ground; you will not be let perish." Even this morning's experience presents a case: a man named Tierney had sown all he could; he has "down" two acres of wheat and two of oats, and some potatoes; he had nothing for his family's breakfast, except a stone of potatoes he wanted for seed. I know he eat them, and went to sell or pawn some little matter to buy food and make good his potato seed.

Believe me, that from this up to harvest, there will be terrible suffering in this parish of Kilconiron, particularly among the small farmers. The man who has sown his ground has performed a public as well as a private duty, and I am pretty sure it will be conceded that he should get help.

I have suggested that, now the turnip season is at hand, that premiums in the shape of rations should be given to those in want of food, who satisfy that they prepare and duly plant turnip seed.

Turnips may float us over three or four months; every precaution seems required to guard against a potato failure; if that occurs this year, woe to all institutions.

I am, Sir, your very humble Servant,

J. STANLEY.

To Owen Lloyd, Esq.,
Poor Law Inspector.

Memorandum for Owen Lloyd, Esq.

There is difficulty in comparing 1847 and 1848. Last year we had famine and plenty of money, this year a comparative abundance, and no means to procure food. The taxes press so heavily upon land, that both proprietors and farmers are economised in labour. Sickness, particularly fever, which generally goes through a whole family, has added considerably to destitution. The operation of the Poor Law, and clearing off of small holders, has reduced many active labourers of 1847 to the greatest distress, and in consequence of the great mortality in the poor-house, many prefer perishing outside to getting relief in-doors. There are persons who obtain precarious work, and would sooner look to such uncertain means of support than go upon the Union. It would be a boon indeed, if Government extended the offer of free passage to Australia to single young women of good character, who now refuse to go into the poor-house, and get a very uncertain livelihood. I know some who would be most valuable emigrants, and who would be most anxious and willing to go, but are too poor, and have no relatives to help them. I send you a list of interments in this immediate district (parishes of Kilchreest and Killinane) taken by me since the 7th February. Last year we had no means of ascertaining the number of deaths; they were more than this present list, and contained a vast number of the aged, whose years were unable to withstand privation. A more regular system in distributing out-door rations would be of advantage; I have seen people here waiting from day to day at times, and for hours and hours after the appointed distribution hour.

Loughrea Union.

No.	Date.	Name.	Age.	Disease.
1848.
1	February 7	Michael Bohan	16	Fever.
2	" 8	Richard Connington	80	Age.
3	" 8	Fardy Hynes	50	Destitution.
4	" 12	Patrick Oughagan	40	Destitution.
5	" 12	Julia Marmion	2	Fever.
6	" 14	James Haverly	19	Destitution.
7	" 15	Lawrence Smith	80	Age.
8	" 17	Martin Ford	60	Decline.
9	" 18	Kate Fallon	23	Fever.
10	" 18	Mary Shaughnessy	18	Dysentery.
11	" 21	Mary Baskerville	27	Fever after Confinement.
12	" 24	Mary Deely	20	Fever.
13	" 26	William Marmion	48	Fever.
14	" 26	Anne Tully	85	Age.
15	March 7	Mary Madden	50	Dysentery.
16	" 8	Unknown boy	15	Destitution. Found dead in Cloughan.
17	" 12	John Deeley	50	Dysentery.
18	" 18	John Kerwick	45	Fever.
19	" 28	Catherine Broderick	60	Age.
20	" 28	John Ford	26	Fever, out of the same house.
21	" 28	Peggy Ford	16	Fever, out of the same house.
22	April 4	James Ruane	23	Fever.
23	" 12	Anne Sheehan	70	Age.
24	" 12	Martin Shaughnessy	40	Destitution.
25	" 15	Winney Daley	45	Fever.
26	" 15	Widow Higgirton	60	Age.
27	" 18	John Gloster	21	Rupture of blood vessel.
28	" 19	James Corrican	10	Gravel.
29	" 20	Mary Leary	13	Decline.
30	" 21	Margaret Kilboy	65	Age.
31	" 24	Anne Bohan	22	Fever, same house as No. 1.
32	" 24	John Fahy	21	Destitution.
33	" 26	John Smith	40	Fever.
34	" 27	John Persse	35	Decline.
35	" 28	Mary Dooley	50	Decline.
36	" 28	Ellen Bohan	52	Fever, same house as No. 1 and 31.
37	" 29	Mary Ford	30	Destitution.
38	" 30	John Misgill	60	Fever.
39	" 30	Mary Sheehan	70	Age.
40	" 30	Patrick Ruane	14	Destitution.

The Union is so extensive, comprising four other parishes, I could not obtain any accurate return of interments except in those two which I may vouch for.

Yours, &c.,

WILLIAM O'GRADY.

Rector of Killinane Union, County of Galway.

Ballymacward, Castleblakeney,
April 28, 1848.

SIR,

I HAVE by this morning's post received your letter of yesterday's date, and have in reply to express my regret that it will not be in my power to attend at the Board-room, Loughrea, as you request, either on this day or to-morrow. I would gladly assist you in the important inquiry which you have been directed to make into the amount of destitution existing, and likely to exist, during the present season in the Loughrea Union, but the late notice I have had of your desire to obtain information personally from me, and previous important engagements, will account for my non-attendance on the days you mention, it may perhaps answer equally well that I communicate my opinions in this letter.

I am bound in the outset to inform you, that until last September I had very little personal knowledge of the general state of Loughrea Union. I was well acquainted with the condition of one electoral division in the Union, Clonkeen, of a very considerable portion of which up to that time I was parish priest. Residing still in the immediate neighbourhood of that electoral division, I am cognizant of the destitution that prevails there, and I have no hesitation in testifying to its great extent and progressive increase. A most extraordinary effort has been made there, indeed, to plant potatoes and otherwise, by timely sowings to provide food at the earliest part of the approaching harvest. But to accomplish this, the landholders have been obliged to part with what food they had in their possession, and in several instances to sell at the present ruinously low prices their remnant of cattle, and even to pawn their scanty clothing in order to buy seed. Heretofore in the summer season, when the food raised by a family the preceding year was exhausted, a supply was procured on credit, perhaps at a usuriously high price, from some local meal dealer. This year there is no chance whatever of such an accommodation. Hence the privations of the poor landholders during the next summer must be much greater than they have ever been before; much more than they were even last summer, as they then participated to some extent in the relief afforded under the Temporary Relief Act; the quarter acre clause in the present Poor Relief Act entirely deprives this class of destitute landholders of any benefit from the taxes to which many and most of them have contributed. There is nothing indeed in that Act to prevent the relief of their adult children, but such relief can ordinarily be obtained only in the workhouse; and I need not remind you, sir, with what jealous severity the extension of even workhouse-relief to the adult children of landholders would be watched by the more influential rate-payers, and with what conclusive evidence such applicants for workhouse imprisonment should establish that they were guilty of destitution. There are besides other influential causes which under the Poor Relief Act are almost, if not entirely, unavailable in favour of the destitute adult members of landholding families. A deep anxiety on the part of parents to preserve their children—their female children especially—from the probable contamination of bad companionship in a workhouse, has caused many a child to be kept at home in nakedness and hunger until its health and strength have been utterly destroyed. I have myself often hesitated as to the choice which a starving female should make between the consequences of starvation at home, and the proximate danger of moral corruption in a workhouse. In a proportional degree the same objection applies to the separation of adult boys from their parents, and their entrance into a workhouse. It need scarcely be observed that, in regard to both male and female children, such an early severance of the family ties, and the substitution of workhouse discipline, such as it may be, for domestic and parental control, cannot conduce to the interests of morality. But besides this important consideration, the alarming mortality in the workhouses, by which the inefficiency or the mal-administration of the Poor Law has been so disastrously proved, must deter any parent from tendering his child for admission to their infected and fatal precincts.

Thus the small landholder, holding above the legal maximum, who has deserved so well of society by his effort to sow a crop, who has for that purpose deprived himself and his family of present food, who, it may be, has pawned his own, his wife's or his children's clothes, in order to raise the price of seed, this poor landholder is, with all his children, excluded from that legal relief which is relied on as sufficient. This large and meritorious class is therefore this summer in a worse condition than it was during the operation of the Temporary Relief Act; and until the new food shall become available, it is my opinion that its suffering members will be daily increasing, unless the increase be counterbalanced by the deaths of others belonging to it, and that its privations will be each day more painfully severe.

As to the other classes of destitute persons, for whose benefit it is alleged that the present Poor Law is more immediately intended—the helpless, the old, the able-bodied destitute (all it is supposed landless), there can be no question, that unless to the extent that death has effected a diminution, their numbers are at least as great as they were last year. My own impression is that they are greater. There is no employment to furnish a livelihood to the able-bodied, and to enable them to support their old or helpless relatives; I have no doubt, indeed, that the scanty food which alone these classes could procure during the last winter, their bad clothing, and the unjust delay on the part of the Poor Law executive to make suitable arrangements for their relief, I have no doubt that these causes have resulted in the deaths of many, who if duly and in proper time relieved would be now alive to claim a continuance of relief; but the diminution that may have occurred in that way, is more than balanced by the accession to the classes of which I now treat, of those who in past years held land, and who have this year been either evicted by their landlords, or forced by the operation of the quarter acre clause to surrender their holdings. The electoral division of Loughrea is, I apprehend, an illustration of this remark. In few places has there been a greater mortality, yet the deaths of its destitute inhabitants (in and out of the workhouse) do not appear to have reduced the gross number of persons justly claiming relief; nay, I am under the impression that more are now deemed entitled thereto than, with the tests and conditions now enforced, could have been allowed under the Temporary Relief Act. If my impression be correct, it follows that more are now destitute than then were, and that their destitution too is more painfully severe.

That such is the case also throughout the Union at large I fully believe. In travelling through some of the electoral divisions I have seen unmistakeable evidence of increased destitution, in the roofless houses from which the inmates have been cast forth to beg and to die; I decline referring to particular localities, but the notoriety of the facts supersedes the necessity of a more specific reference. I have on other and solemn occasions, recorded my opinion of the present system of Poor Laws, of its inaptitude, its inefficiency, and its mischief; I regard it as at variance with sound policy, with justice, and with morality.

I think it unjust and impolitic in its mode of providing for the assessment and disbursement of the relief funds. Ordinarily, both these vital parts of the system are committed to a Board of Guardians, so constituted, that its members have, or are presumed by themselves and others to have, a direct and immediate pecuniary interest in keeping the poor-rate at the lowest possible figure; not by affording ample employment, and thus rendering recourse to legal relief as little necessary as may be, but by withholding due and timely relief from the unemployed and the helpless, delaying to provide for the relief of distress until destitution accumulates to such an extent, that the crude and imperfect measures hastily taken to meet it are utterly inadequate. I do not make these remarks in order to apply them to the late Loughrea Board of Guardians. On that Board there were some gentlemen whom I have the honour of knowing, and on whose humanity, efficiency, and zeal in the service of the poor I would freely rely; but I feel also bound to add, that whatever may have been the cause, or on whatever members of that Board the blame must rest, timely arrangements were not made for the relief of the poor of the Union; however, my remarks are intended to apply generally to the constitution of Boards of Guardians. There can be no confidence reposed in bodies, of which some of the most leading and influential members ex officio, are the most notorious and heartless depopulators of the country. Again, I think that the Poor Law is unjust in its exemption of various kinds of property from poor-rate taxation, and particularly unjust in its equally taxing property that gives, and property that does not give employment. I would respectfully and earnestly through you, Sir, call the attention of those to whose department in the Government this question belongs, to the fact that the same poundage rate is paid for the cultivated farms (on which great employment necessarily has been afforded), and for the vast grass farms and large demesnes on which only a few herdsmen, gate-keepers, or woodrangers, are employed. This I think very unjust, and I submit whether lands of the latter class should not be justly subjected to a much higher poundage rate than those of the former. I abstain from suggesting the ratio in which the increase should take place, but it appears to me that such an adjustment of the rate would be much preferable to the project of altering the area of taxation into either a townland or Union area; that it would be not only equitable to the rate-payers, but stimulate employment and cause a vastly increased production of food, of its practicability there can be no doubt. At a certain fixed time in each year a revisor of the valuation could easily visit all the rated lands of a district, and could as easily apportion in the prescribed ratio, whatever that might be, the taxes between the lands in course of tillage, and those devoted to pasture or meadow, as he now discriminates between 4*l*. holdings, and those of higher value.

Loughrea Union.

But there is one part of the present system of Poor Laws, of which I confess my entire abhorrence—the workhouse principle. A labour test for the able-bodied applicants for relief is most just—just to the rate-payers and just to the relieved. Hospitals are necessary for the destitute sick, and perhaps in some localities houses of refuge for the helpless young or old, whom Providence has bereft of relatives; but a house wherein to immure the able-bodied and the young of both sexes generally, in which the moral relations of husband and wife are disturbed, and in which it is idle to talk of sustained industrial occupation, appears to me an establishment eminently destructive of the spirit of self respect in its inmates, and most injurious to morality. If to these inherent dangers be superadded those that accidentally but yet frequently surround such an establishment, there arise still graver causes of alarm. It may happen, and it has happened, that the Guardians are not the best conservators of workhouse morality. Some prominent members of Boards of Guardians are notorious profligates, whose lives are an unintermitted outrage upon the decencies of life. It has happened too that the arts of seduction have been opportunely employed in workhouses, and that the very officers of these establishments have corrupted the inmates. I know also that the moral dangers of these establishments may be diminished by a well regulated and strictly enforced classification, as well as by the close superintendence of honourable Guardians; but I cannot conceal from myself that even some of these disciplinary measures cannot be carried out in the present state of these establishments; and that, even conjointly with the ministrations of religion, they will not be an adequate antidote to the temptations incident to a workhouse.

I have profited by the occasion of answering your letter, to place these views before you as a Government officer. I have now, in conclusion, to request that you humanely consider the claims of the children in this Union to share in the bounty of the British Association. By some fatality the Loughrea Union has been regarded as too well circumstanced to require aid from that benevolent Association. You are ere this, I presume, in a condition to know that its circumstances are quite the reverse. As the children of the landholders in distress have no other chance of relief than what the British Association may extend to them, as the children of the unrelieved able-bodied are also in the most deplorable and helpless destitution, and as the want of food has caused the schools throughout the Union to be generally deserted, or only frequented where relief is given as in the town of Loughrea, at the Nunnery Schools; and as you, Sir, have a humane regard for the lives, the health, the education of these poor children, may I commend them to your advocacy. I was in communication with the late Captain Hellard, of Galway, on this subject, there being no Inspector in the Loughrea Union, and immediately before his death that kind gentleman forwarded my application, but I have never been favoured with an answer from the officers of the Association.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your very obedient servant,

† JOHN DERRY,

Bishop of Clonfert.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—June 1, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration the evidence taken by their Inspector, Mr. Lloyd, at the late investigation into certain charges against the Vice-Guardians of Loughrea Union, contained in a memorial dated the 13th ultimo, which is signed by Sir Thomas Burke, the chairman of the late Board of Guardians of Loughrea Union, at the time of its dissolution. The Commissioners have likewise had under consideration the report of Mr. Lloyd, and a letter of the Vice-Guardians on the same subject.

The Commissioners will proceed to state, in order, the charges against the Vice-Guardians, and the opinion which they have formed on each of them.

That on the 13th April, and frequently before under the Vice-Guardians, there were more inmates in the original workhouse than at any time under the late Board of Guardians, although, as it is alleged, the large number admitted by the late Board was the principal reason given for the dissolution.

This charge is, in the opinion of the Commissioners, disproved; and the only colour for it appears traceable, in the first instance, to the statements of Mr. O'Brien, the dismissed master of the workhouse, who seems to have kept the returns of the numbers in the workhouse improperly, and to be otherwise unworthy of credit; moreover the Commissioners see no reason to believe that the Vice-Guardians have ever admitted into the original workhouse a greater number than it was built to accommodate.

Still it seems to the Commissioners that an excessive number of patients have been admitted into the hospital and fever sheds, under the management of the late Board of Guardians and of the present Vice-Guardians; and although Mr. Lloyd is under the impression that the Vice-Guardians have no control over this department, the Commissioners do not take the same view of the authority of the Guardians in this respect. The Commissioners think that the Vice-Guardians should not permit a greater number of patients to be admitted into the hospital and fever sheds than is consistent with the health of the inmates; and if the accommodation is insufficient, they should exercise their power for providing additional accommodation under the 16th section of the Irish Poor Law Amendment Act.

2nd. That the workhouses under the management of the Vice-Guardians are in a state of the greatest disorder.

The direct contrary of this charge appears to the Commissioners to be distinctly proved by the majority of the witnesses examined, and by statements of Mr. Lloyd the Inspector.

3rd. That numbers of paupers in the workhouse clothing are continually wandering about Loughrea, and some have had to be committed for drunkenness.

The facts alleged in this charge are correct in reference to the committals for drunkenness, as it is proved that two workhouse boys who had been sent on errands were found drunk in Loughrea, were taken before the police magistrates, and were committed to Bridewell for 48 hours. No blame, however, on this account attaches to the Vice-Guardians, who were in fact instrumental in causing the boys to be punished by the magistrates, and who have taken steps to prevent the recurrence of similar misconduct in future.

In reference to the rest of the statements, it is explained that there are two auxiliary workhouses in Loughrea Union, called "The Bishop's House," and "The Brewery;" that able-bodied men are daily brought from the Brewery through the town to the main building, on the site of which they are employed, and that boys when admitted and clothed are sent from the workhouse to the Brewery; it is explained further, that the Bishop's House is set apart for the sick, and that the convalescents are passed from thence either to the Brewery or to the workhouse, as the medical officer directs. Thus there is constant communication between the three workhouses, and consequently, paupers in their workhouse clothing must of necessity be frequently seen in the town of Loughrea.

Although it is not proved that any paupers have been seen wandering in the town of Loughrea, except in passing to and fro between the workhouses, the Commissioners deem it by no means improbable that instances of the kind may have occurred, and they deem it desirable that the Vice-Guardians should be very particular in sending some respectable and trustworthy person to accompany paupers when they go through the town; in order not only to prevent their straggling and otherwise misconducting themselves, but likewise to hinder the introduction into the workhouses of spirituous liquors and other improper articles. The Commissioners are afraid that it will be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to avoid all abuses of this kind as long as the paupers are not restricted to the workhouse premises, but still, much may be done by vigilant superintendence on the part of the workhouse officers; and at any rate no efforts should be spared by them to prevent the possibility of drunkenness amongst the adult paupers.

4th Charge. That the paid Guardians are totally ignorant of the parties to whom they are giving out-door relief, and the most flagrant abuses are the consequence. Yet they studiously avoid seeking information of the respectable rate-payers, nor do they publish the names of the recipients of relief.

Loughrea Union.

On this head it appears that the lists of three relieving officers were closely scrutinized at the inquiry, that 33 objections were made, that only 5 of these objections were sustained, and that 3 remain doubtful.

It further appears that on the 17th of March the Vice-Guardians passed a resolution that the clerk should be allowed 20s. a-week to procure an assistant to enable him to make lists of the parties receiving relief in and out of the workhouse; but that owing to want of active co-operation on the part of the clerk (whom the Commissioners have called upon to resign his office) the lists were not made out and printed in accordance with the directions of the Vice-Guardians.

It further appears that the Vice-Guardians attend from time to time at the office of the relieving officers, to revise the lists and to obtain information; and that when not so employed, they are in the workhouse from morning to night, ready to attend to any communication made to them.

In conclusion, the Commissioners desire to state that the result of the investigation into the charges contained in the memorial of the 13th ultimo, has been to impress them with a high opinion of the zeal, industry, and efficiency of the Vice-Guardians of Loughrea Union. It is evident that the Vice-Guardians, on their arrival in Loughrea, had to contend with no common difficulties, and they were thwarted by some of their own officers, one of whom appears to have communicated untrue information to members of the dissolved Board of Guardians. Still it is certain that the condition of the workhouse has been improved under their management; and in administering out-door relief through the agency of relieving officers selected by their predecessors, they appear to have guarded against abuses as effectually as could be expected in the introduction of a new system.

From the great destitution which exists in some parts of Loughrea Union, the Commissioners have reason to apprehend that the claims on the Vice-Guardians for relief will materially increase during the next two months. The Commissioners feel confident that the Vice-Guardians, in dealing with those claims, will act fairly and impartially towards the rate-payers of Loughrea Union on the one hand, and the applicants for relief on the other. The rate-payers may fairly expect that the relieving officers will be required to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the circumstances of those who seek to derive subsistence from the poor-rates, and that the Vice-Guardians acting on the information thus obtained, or which may be communicated to them by other parties, will be careful to prevent imposition and waste. But the claims of applicants for relief are equally deserving of consideration; and if any individual in the Union is proved to be "destitute" within the meaning of the Irish Poor Relief Acts, the Vice-Guardians will not hesitate to give him that assistance to which he is entitled by law.

LOWTHERSTOWN UNION.

Mr. ARCHDALL to the COMMISSIONERS:—January 14, 1848.

I WISH to call the attention of the Poor Law Commissioners to the following circumstances connected with the Lowtherstown Union:—

I object to the scale of out-door relief adopted by the Vice-Guardians; as, for instance, John Muldoon, a mason (who broke his leg some time ago, but is now able to work), in the Kesh division, receives 4s. 4d. a-week out-door relief for himself and his family, the highest rate of wages at this season of the year for a labourer being 8d. or 9d. a-day.

I object to the internal management of the house, as the porter informed me on Saturday last that it was very often nine or ten o'clock before all the paupers had had their suppers, thereby, in addition to the irregularity, causing a great waste of both fuel and candles.

The clerk could neither tell me the average weekly expense of each pauper nor the number on each electoral division for the last six weeks, the master not having made up the books.

I object to the Vice-Guardians having raised the pay of the rate collectors without advertising for others, when on account of the increased rate their pay should have been reduced. The collector this year has received 17s. 6d. for collecting my rates, for which last year he received but 2s. 11d. There is a general feeling throughout the Union that the Vice-Guardians do not sufficiently study economy, which is very likely to cause opposition to the payment of the rate. Last week Mr. Edward Atthill, J.P. (who accompanied me to your office yesterday), was obliged to go out with a body of police to assist the collector.

It is unjust that the Union should be burdened with the additional expense of 500*l.* a-year for Vice-Guardians, when the late Guardians were willing and anxious to do their duty, as the record of their attendance proves, and Mr. Otway, late Assistant-Commissioner for that district, can testify, he having assured me that he always considered the Lowtherstown poorhouse to be extremely well managed, and when the Commissioners now allow that the Board was dismissed for attending to the verbal statement of Mr. Barron, which statement was made under the following circumstances:—On the 8th of September, 1847, Mr. Barton proposed that the rate should be immediately struck; but on Mr. D'Arcy's moving that the rate should be raised by instalments, and Mr. Barron saying that the Commissioners would be happy to receive any suggestions from the Board, Mr. Barton withdrew his proposal, and Mr. H. D'Arcy's motion was carried. I had lately an interview with Mr. Morton, who appeared a most zealous and active officer, but from all I can observe, not only has no improvement resulted from the appointment of paid officers, but the expense to the rate-payers for the maintenance of the paupers has also been much increased.

See return of correspondence on this point, printed by order of the House of Commons of 27th March, 1847, No. 207.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—January 18, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit herewith, for your information, an extract from a communication which the Commissioners have received from Mr. William Archdall, relating to the present management of the Lowtherstown Union, and the Commissioners request your observations on the statements therein contained.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS, in reply:—January 26, 1848.

YOUR letter of the 18th instant, in which you desire our observations on the statements in an extract with which you favour us from a communication of Mr. William Archdall's, reached us in due course of post. A very unusual pressure of matters here requiring our unremitting vigilance and directions from moment to moment, has occasioned the delay of our reply, so as to have incurred even the appearance of forgetfulness or neglect. We now beg to transmit them as you desire.

Lowtherstown
Union.

And first, as respects our scale of out-door relief. In our minutes of the 12th of January is the following resolution:—

“Resolved,—That it is desirable the allowance by way of out-door relief to any single family should in no instance exceed the wages of an able-bodied labourer in constant employ, and that the present rule be therefore modified by allowing at half rate only for every additional member of a family above five in number.”

The allowance to John Muldoon is thus reduced from 4s. 4d., the sum objected to by Mr. Archdall, to 3s. 8d., the particulars of this man's family, and of the allowance as computed previous to the resolution of the 12th instant, and again according to the modified rule adopted by that resolution being as below:—

Previous to the resolution of the 12th—		s.	d.
Allowed for the two parents (adults)	.	1	6
„ for four children above five years	.	2	0
„ for two ditto, under five years	.	0	10
		4	4

Again, according to the modified rule—		s.	d.
Allowed for the two parents, as before.	.	1	6
„ for three children above five years	.	1	6
„ for another above five years (half)	.	0	3
„ for two under five years (half)	.	0	5
		3	8

It is suggested further by Mr. Archdall, that Muldoon, though lame from a fracture of the leg some time ago, is able to work. The attention of the district relieving officer has been called to this, and if reported by the latter as able to earn full or any wages, the allowance will be either struck off or reduced accordingly.

Secondly, as respects the supper hour, and the clerk's inability to state the average expense of each pauper, or number on each electoral division; this inability is a fact we have unhappily had to record upon the minutes of every Board meeting since Mr. Somerville's appointment as master. He has now ceased to act, and the occasion for this very serious complaint will forthwith be at an end. The irregularity of the supper hour, partly arising from the like cause (Mr. Somerville's proving unequal to the duties he had taken upon him), has, we regret to say, frequently been even greater than Mr. Archdall mentions, and independently of the master's share in it, what with the necessity of sending for water to a distance from the workhouse (our single pump not only failing of the required supply, but proving at times of no service, and giving no water whatever), and the serving apart of the vast number of newly-admitted inmates in the probationary wards, where the want we are still labouring under of a sufficient stock of clothing keeps them for many days together, it was hardly possible that the several meals should under such circumstances be served at the fixed hours. Every effort will we are convinced be made by Mr. Irvine, now acting as master ad interim, to correct this irregularity; but until another pump is fixed on the workhouse premises (a matter we purpose bringing under the notice of your architect at his visit, now daily expected), and until the stock of clothing can be brought up to the wants of the workhouse, now at all times full or nearly so, we cannot hope for that punctuality in the meal hours which we are at the same time most anxious to insist upon.

Lastly, as respects the poundage of the rate collectors, Mr. Archdall's statement is no more than we find to be the case. We can only presume that our predecessors in office, whose experience and opportunities of forming a correct judgment were unquestionable, had regard in such increase of the poundage (from 4½d. to 8d. in the district of the one collector, and from 5d. to 7d. in that of the other), to the difficulty which was to be apprehended, and which the collectors have in fact had everywhere to contend with far beyond any former experience at the present crisis.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—February 4, 1848.

ADVERTING to minutes of the Vice-Guardians of Lowtherstown Union, of 12th to 15th ultimo, and their communication of 25th, relating to the sewers and drainage of the workhouse premises, I am directed by the Commissioners to state that they have communicated with their architect on the subject, and I am to transmit herewith, for the information of the Vice-Guardians, a copy of his observations thereon.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. WILKINSON'S OBSERVATIONS.

I BEG to recommend that the Guardians' attention be called to the explanation given on the plans adopted for the drains and cesspools, which is contained in the Appendix to the last annual Report of the Poor Law Commissioners. It is assumed also that the Guardians have a plan of the drains framed and hung up in the poorhouse, such plan having been originally furnished for this purpose, and attention has frequently been requested to its preservation; the Guardians will therefore by this plan be able to understand the arrangement laid down.

The last annual Report moreover, enters so fully into the explanation of the plan adopted for the cesspools and the drains, that the Guardians will at once be in possession of the reasons given for their construction; and I would therefore advise that they be requested to furnish the Commissioners with a statement of any other plan that offers to them to be practicable and preferable on the whole, and that careful consideration will be given to it.

I think it more than probable that the sole cause of the complaint may be the neglect to properly clean the cesspools, from the expectation that they are to become clean by a self-acting system.

February 2, 1848.

G. W.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—February 4, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit herewith, for the information and guidance of the Vice-Guardians of Lowtherstown Union, a copy of a communication which they have received from Mr. Wilkinson, relating to the fever hospital of Lowtherstown Union; and I am to request that the Vice-Guardians will take all necessary steps for occupying the fever hospital with as little delay as possible.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. WILKINSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 2, 1848.

A SURVEY has been made of the new fever hospital erected at Lowtherstown poorhouse. The following are matters reported as unfinished:—Lines and pulleys for all the windows and ventilators; eaves gutters and down pipes to convey away dropping water from eaves of roofs; hand-rail not securely fixed; bolts and nuts to locks of outer doors instead of common nails now used; plug and washer to trough; damper to boiler; excavation of ground to yards now left higher than floors. There are also some matters before reported on which are executed different to the contract requirement which cannot now be remedied, but for which value should be allowed. The locks and latches are stated to be very carelessly put on, and several matters essential to the ventilation and efficiency of the building are omitted from the plans and specifications sent, which appear to have been erased from the plans and specifications by the Board of Guardians; but these latter cannot now be required of the contractor like those above enumerated.

I recommend a copy of this being sent to the Board of Guardians.

P.S.—On the Guardians being satisfied with the completion of the above unfinished portions of the contract, I assume that there is nothing to prevent the occupation of the building; should they be neglected by the contractor, the occupation of the building will not I conceive the least prejudice the contractor's liability, and some one else should be employed to do the work if he refuses, after being requested to do so by the Guardians; but I am of opinion that Mr. Moore will forthwith do what is required by his contract.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Mr. ARCHDALL to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 15, 1848.

I WROTE some time since concerning the manner in which the Lowtherstown poorhouse is conducted, and the total disregard of economy shown in every department. The answer I received was, that my letter would be referred to the Vice-Guardians. I most humbly request that a disinterested person may be sent to Lowtherstown to inquire into the management of the house. Several farmers complained to me that they cannot get labourers, and of wishing to get people out of the poorhouse. I wrote on Wednesday last for seven able-bodied men with their families, and offered constant employment. Only two had worked one day each. Since that time there is the greatest imposition practised, and the greatest waste of our money. The out-door relief administered is in every case more than sufficient to support the recipients; and men are put on with more than a quarter of an acre, and also families whom the relieving officer rejects. All I require is a fair investigation. All the farmers and ratepayers in the country are enraged, and, perceiving the total disregard of economy practised at the poorhouse, are prevented from trying to give employment, or otherwise keep down the rates. I beg you will lay this letter before the Commissioners.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 17, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant, relating to the management of Lowtherstown Union, and in reply I am to inform you that the Commissioners had resolved, before the receipt of your letter, upon reviving a Board of Guardians in Lowtherstown Union, and had given directions for the issue of an order for the election of Guardians accordingly, in the ordinary manner, by the 25th March next.

In regard to your statements respecting the administration of relief by the Vice-Guardians of Lowtherstown Union, the Commissioners will not fail to cause inquiry to be made on the subject.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. OTWAY:—February 17, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit to you herewith a copy of a letter which the Commissioners have received from Mr. William Archdall, chairman of the late Board of Guardians of Lowtherstown Union, relating to the present management of that Union, in reference to which the Commissioners request that you will proceed to Lowtherstown to make inquiry respecting the subject of the statements contained in the letter, and that you will report to the Commissioners thereon.

The Commissioners are aware that the Lowtherstown Union is not in your district, but they request that you will be good enough to proceed thither for this purpose at your earliest convenience.

Mr. OTWAY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 11, 1848.

IN accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 17th ultimo, I attended at the Board-room of the Lowtherstown workhouse on Monday, the 28th ultimo (having previously inspected the workhouse on the 26th ultimo), to make inquiries respecting the subject of the statements contained in the letter of Mr. William Archdall, chairman of the late Board of Guardians, of the 15th ultimo, a copy of which was forwarded to me, and I have the honour to report as follows. The charges of Mr. Archdall, as well as I can judge from his letter, are—

1. That the out-door relief administered is in every case more than sufficient to support the recipients.

2. That men are put on with more than a quarter of an acre; also families whom the relieving officer rejects.

3. That owing to the relief afforded the farmers complain that they cannot get labourers. That, wishing to get people out of the poor-house, he sent for seven able-bodied men with their families, and offered constant employment; and that only two had worked one day each since that time.

4. That there is the greatest imposition practised, and the greatest waste of the funds of the Union.

In reference to the charge No. 1, that the out-door relief administered is in every case more than sufficient to support the recipients.

On the first granting of out-door relief by the Vice-Guardians, such relief was given in money as follows:—

To persons aged above fifteen years, 9*d.* a-week.

To persons aged from five years to fifteen years, 6*d.* a-week.

To those under five years of age, 5*d.* a-week.

The Vice-Guardians finding that in some instances the amount of money given to persons with large families amounted to somewhat more than 4*s.* a-week, and their attention having been directed to this circumstance by Mr. Archdall, they adopted the following resolution on the 12th of January (see Minutes):—

Resolved,—That it is desirable that the allowance, by way of out-door relief, to any single family should in no instance exceed the wages of an able-bodied labourer in constant employ; that the present scale be, therefore, modified by allowing at half-rate only for every member of a family above five in number.

The Vice-Guardians, on the 16th of February, changed the out-door relief from money to meal, and adopted the following scale:—

To adults, one pound of meal per day—half Indian and half oaten meal.

To persons aged from fifteen years to nine years, three-quarters of a pound of meal per day—half Indian and half oaten meal.

Children under nine years of age, half a pound of meal per day—half Indian and half oaten meal.

The highest amount of money given by the Guardians on the first scale adopted I find was given to John Muldoon, and amounted to 4*s.* 4*d.* a-week; number in Registry, 469; in Application and Report Book, 177. His family consisted of eight in number, viz., himself and his wife and six children, aged thirteen, eleven, nine, six, and four years, and an infant aged six months. He was ordered out-door relief on the 29th of December, which, according to the scale first adopted by the Board of Guardians, amounted to 4*s.* 4*d.* a-week.

In the column for bodily defect in the Application and Report Book he is marked "lamed." The man and family were, I am informed, brought before the Board; and that he stated he had broke his leg, and was otherwise hurt by an accident, and that he was wholly unable to work. He was by trade a mason, and, as I am informed, a respectable man and a good tradesman. Muldoon still gets relief; but he only got relief on the first scale for a short time, and until after the resolution of the Guardians of the 12th of January was passed: he then got 3*s.* 8*d.* a-week for himself and family. Mr. Archdall told me that he was not aware that Muldoon got any work since he got out-door relief; that he could not work, from the accident, as a mason at full wages; and that he had been lately ill and confined to bed.

Now it does not appear to me that 3*s.* 8*d.* or even 4*s.* 4*d.* a-week can be considered as more than sufficient for the support of a destitute and disabled tradesman, with a wife and six children to support; and I have no hesitation in stating, not only that the relief administered by the Vice-Guardians is not in every case more than sufficient to support the recipients, but that even in the case of the highest amount given (Muldoon's) that it is not, or was not, more than sufficient.

In reference to the charge No. 2, that men are put on with more than a quarter of an acre, also families whom the relieving officer rejects, Mr. Archdall informed me that it was upon the information of Campbell, one of the relieving officers, that he was led to believe that persons with more than one quarter of an acre of land were getting relief; that Campbell had mentioned a case to him, but that he did not recollect it. Campbell was unable to attend from illness, but sent two letters—one to the clerk of the Union, and the other to Mr. Morton, one of the Vice-Guardians, marked A and B, which I enclose.

In the Application and Report Book of the Kesh electoral division, No. 481, Arthur Kirk, aged 82, in the column for, "If in occupation of land, how much?" it is stated, "A rood Irish, part sowed in bere;" and in the column for "Observations" it is stated, "Part of the ground waste;" and the Vice-Guardians mentioned to me that the evidence at the time went to show that part of the rood was waste from its being incapable of cultivation, and that they considered under the circumstances that the applicant was a fit object for, and entitled to, relief. A man named Leonard was turned out of the workhouse, when on subsequent information he was found to have more than a quarter of an acre of land. This occurred in the relieving officer's (Campbell's) district; and Campbell gave the Guardians the information.

Lowtherstown
Union.

In other cases it appears from the Application and Report Book that the Vice-Guardians made the holding of a quarter of an acre, or the reverse, a point for careful inquiry. In the Application and Report Book of the Kesh electoral division it appears, in the case of John Meighan, No. 503, that he was 60 years of age, married, and infirm, and his wife Mary 55 years of age. In the observation column the relieving officer states, "Samuel Keys states that applicant has 'two little gardens more than a rood.'" The Vice-Guardians mark on the book, "Irwine Armstrong certifies not so;" and the Vice-Guardians informed me that having inquired into the case, and Armstrong, a respectable person, who lived in the neighbourhood, having informed them that Meighan had not more than a quarter of an acre, they considered themselves justified in giving him relief.

In a Weekly Report Book kept by the Vice-Guardians for personal observations and information, there are notes in reference to the re-consideration of cases getting relief, viz.,—

"James M'Court to be discontinued; able to work; can get employment.

"February 23."

"Sarah Gallagher to be discontinued, the mother being well able to support her, and is bound to do so.

"February 23."

"Nicholas M'Mahon—relieving officer informs Guardians that he had discovered that he holds four acres of land. To be discontinued; holds four acres.

"February 23."

From these circumstances, and from the evidence of the relieving officers, Anderson, Aiken, and Carson (see evidence marked C, D, E), and the letters of Campbell, it appears to me that there are not grounds to justify the charge against the Vice-Guardians, "that men are put on with more than a quarter of an acre, 'also families whom the relieving officer rejects,'" although the Vice-Guardians distinctly stated that they considered not only that they had the power, but that it would have been their duty, if they had reason to doubt the correctness of the relieving officer's advice, to act on their own judgment.

With reference to the third charge, that owing to the relief afforded the farmers complain that they cannot get labourers; that wishing to get people out of the workhouse he sent for seven able-bodied men with their families, and offered constant employment, and that only two had worked one day each since that time; I have to state that, after the receipt of Mr. Archdall's application, the Board of Guardians, on the 9th of February, passed the resolution herewith sent, marked F. That one of the persons mentioned to be discharged on Mr. Archdall's list returned to the workhouse in a few days after, viz., John Wilson, stating that Mr. Archdall, on seeing him with his large family, had expressed regret that he had sent for him out of the workhouse, inasmuch as that, owing to the severe weather, he would not be able to put in sufficient days' work in the week to enable him to support himself and family. Wilson was then told by the Guardians that on bringing a writing to the effect of what he stated from Mr. Archdall, that he and his would be re-admitted to the workhouse. Wilson was subsequently admitted, Mr. Archdall having given a line to Campbell, the relieving officer, stating that he had no objection to his (Wilson's) being re-admitted to the workhouse, and Campbell having given an order for provisional admission, the Guardians confirmed it.

As to the complaints of the farmers that they could not get labourers, the Guardians were, I believe, most willing to have attended to the application of any farmer in the same manner as they did to Mr. Archdall's; but no application but Mr. Archdall's was ever made to them, and they never heard of the complaints alluded to; and I have only to add, that the demand for labour in the Union of Lowtherstown must be much greater than it has been for the last eight years if the comparatively small number of able-bodied men in the workhouse could have so affected the demand for labour as to afford just cause for such complaints; and the able-bodied men of the Union must have a much greater inclination for workhouse relief than is the case in other Unions if they preferred it, when they could get work from farmers at reasonable wages.

With reference to the general charge, that there is the greatest imposition practised, and the greatest waste of the funds of the Union, I have only to state that I was unable to discover any grounds for such a charge. The average weekly cost of a pauper has been greater than it was before the dissolution of the late Board, as the Commissioners will have perceived from the minutes; but this can be accounted for by the change in the dietary which was made by the Guardians. See copies of dietary herewith sent, marked G. H. and I.

There is always more or less imposition and consequent waste attendant on the administration of out-door relief, and it is almost impossible to prevent occasional imposition by improper parties receiving relief; but no waste or imposition can, I believe, be attributed to the conduct or mode of management of the Vice-Guardians; and I have no doubt on my mind but that they endeavoured by every means to prevent it. And I feel it my duty to express the high sense I entertain of the manner in which Messrs. Morton and M'Manus performed their duties under very adverse circumstances.

I enclose a paper showing the state of the finances of the Union on the 31st of January last, marked K, by which it will be seen that there was a balance in the hands of the treasurer of 532*l.* 1*s.* 5*d.*, while the liabilities of the Union, as shown, amounted to 506*l.* 4*s.* 1½*d.*, leaving a net balance, after paying the debts, to the credit of the Union of 25*l.* 17*s.* 3½*d.*; whereas on the 29th of last September there was 550*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.* due to the treasurer, and 413*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.* due other parties (exclusive of 100*l.* due the Poor Law Commissioners), leaving a balance against the Union of 964*l.* 0*s.* 2*d.*

PAPERS annexed to Mr. OTWAY'S REPORT.

(A.)

DEAR SIR,

Drumard, February 28, 1848.

I AM sorry I am not able to go to the Board to-day. I took suddenly ill on Saturday evening, after giving out meal to the Lack people. I have not been able to leave the bed since. I hope I will be able to rise to-morrow. I think it is cold I have got. I cannot almost move my head with a pain across my temples. I trust the Guardians will not be angry with me for not attending. I send you the destitution list for Mr. Morton, also the out-relief list. As to the out-door cases on my district, I am confident that none have above a quarter acre, statute measure.

Excuse this scrawl.

I remain, &c.

THOS. CAMPBELL.

To Mr. John Irvine,
Clerk of the Union.

(B.)

HONOURED SIR,

February 28, 1848.

I AM very sorry I am not able to attend the Board to-day. I wrote to Mr. Irvine to that effect this morning. After giving out the meal to the Lack people on Saturday I took suddenly ill; however, I hope by to-morrow to be able to resume my duties. If I were in any degree able to go to the Board I would let no consideration prevent me. I hope, under such circumstances, your honour will pardon me. As to the out-door cases on my district, I am confident that none are on my list who are not legally entitled; and I believe none of them have any land, except a few, not exceeding a quarter of an acre, statute measure, in any case. Knowing the vast importance of not attending the Board to-day, I endeavoured to rise; but really, I assure your honour, I could scarce stand on my feet. I have got into a great perspiration, which I hope will be a means of restoring me. I have been ever ready to attend all orders of the Board, but at the present, were I to receive my year's salary for attending, I could not go, from my weak state.

I remain, &c.

THOS. CAMPBELL.

P. Morton, Esq.,
Vice-Guardian, Lowtherstown.

(C.)

John Aiken, sworn.—I am relieving officer for the Trillick district; I am not aware of the Vice-Guardians ever having given relief in any cases that I advised against; last week I made inquiry after the lists were posted, and sent for some of the rate-payers of the townlands to afford me information on the cases which I considered doubtful, or not entitled to get relief, and when I laid the objections before the Vice-Guardians, they acted on the information and advice I afforded them in every case; I know of no case where persons holding more than a quarter of an acre got relief.

Lowtherstown
Union.

(D.)

William Anderson, sworn.—I am relieving officer for the Lowtherstown district; no case has occurred in my district in which the Vice-Guardians ordered relief where I had advised rejection, or without my consent; I said to Mr. H. D'Arcy that there might be parties receiving relief, owing to the pressure of business that I had, that might not be entitled to it, but the Vice-Guardians never put on persons I objected to, and I never said so; it would be my duty to advise the Guardians if I knew of any improper cases receiving relief, but I am certainly not aware of the Guardians acting against my advice either as to the placing persons on out-door relief, or not reducing or discontinuing relief in cases that I advised should be reduced or discontinued.

(E.)

Edicard Carson, sworn.—I am relieving officer for Clonelly district; I am not aware of any case in which the Vice-Guardians have given relief that I advised against; the Guardians have always paid attention to the information or advice I gave them as to placing persons on out-door relief, or altering or discontinuing it after; I am not aware of any persons getting relief holding more than a quarter of an acre of land.

(F.)

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the PROCEEDINGS of the VICE-GUARDIANS of the LOWTHERSTOWN UNION, on 9th February, 1848.

The clerk laid before the Board a list from Mr. William Archdall of able-bodied paupers now inmates of the workhouse, namely, James M'Manus, John Wilson, Miles M'Manus, Edward Wilson, James Maguire, and John Cassidy, which he, Mr. Archdall, was ready to employ at 8*d.* per day wages; and further, that John M'Caffrey, whose wife, Anne, and three children, inmates of the workhouse, would also have employment from him.

Order made for the discharge of the above-named paupers accordingly, Anne M'Caffrey and her children excepted, two of her children being in small-pox, and the third in fever, herself attending them, and that the clerk do inform Mr. Archdall of the same.

(Signed) B. M'MANUS.

(G.)

EXTRACT from MINUTES of 29th September, 1847.

Dietary.

Resolved—That the following change be made in the workhouse dietary:—

That 1 oz. additional of mixed meal (Indian and oat) be given for adults' breakfast, and half a pint of sweet milk in the day, in addition to the present allowance of a pint of buttermilk.

(Signed) W. H. HOPPER.
W. H. LUCAS.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of 24th November, 1847.

Dietary.

Resolved—That the following scale of dietary for the inmates of the workhouse be approved, viz., adults, men and women:—

Breakfast—7 ozs. mixed meal and 3 naggins of buttermilk.
Dinner—7 ozs. mixed meal and 3 naggins of buttermilk.
Supper—4 ozs. mixed meal and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of buttermilk.

Children from Nine to Fifteen Years.

Breakfast—4 ozs. mixed meal and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of buttermilk.
Dinner—4 ozs. mixed meal and $1\frac{1}{2}$ naggins of buttermilk.
Supper—2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ozs. mixed meal and 1 pint of buttermilk.

Aged and Infirm.

Breakfast—5 ozs. mixed meal and 3 naggins of buttermilk.
Dinner—6 ozs. mixed meal and 3 naggins of buttermilk.
Supper—3 ozs. mixed meal and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of buttermilk.

Infants above One and under Two Years.

Breakfast—2 ozs. of meal and 1 naggin of new milk.
Dinner—4 ozs. of bread and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of new milk.

Infants under One Year and Unweaned.

4 ozs. of bread and half pint of new milk per day.

(Signed)

B. M'MANUS.
P. MORTON.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of 15th December, 1847.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Resolved—That soup be substituted for porridge for dinner to the paupers in the establishment three days in the week, viz., Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday, and according to the following scale of proportions to each class, viz.:—

Classes.	Soup.	Bread.
1. Adults . . .	1 quart . . .	6 ozs.
2. From 15 to 9 . .	1½ pints . . .	4 ozs.
3. From 9 to 5 . .	1 pint . . .	4 ozs.
4. From 5 to 2 . .	3 naggins . . .	3 ozs.

To commence on Sunday, the 19th instant. Such soup to be made after the receipt approved by us this date, and a copy of which under our hands is in the possession of the clerk.

Resolved—That the porridge hitherto consisting of oatmeal and Indian meal, in the proportion of one part of Indian and three parts of oat, be made henceforth of oatmeal and Indian meal, in equal proportions; such change having the recommendation of the medical officer.

(Signed) B. M'MANUS.

(H.)

Workhouse Dietary.—September 30, 1846, p. 83.

		Breakfast.			Dinner.			Remarks.
		Meal in stirabout.	Sweet milk.	Butter-milk.	Meal in stirabout.	Sweet milk.	Butter-milk.
1	Adults, both sexes .	7 ozs.	..	½ pint	8 ozs.	..	½ pint.	No supper. The meal is part Indian and part oat.
2	Aged and infirm, do.	5 „	..	½ „	6 „	..	½ „	Do. do.
3	Children from 9 to 15	4 „	..	½ „	5 „	..	½ „	Do. do.
4	Children from 2 to 9	3½ „	½ nag.	1 nag.	3½ „	½ nag.	1 nag.	Do. do.
5	Children under 2 weaned, ½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of new milk daily; not weaned, ½ lb. of bread and ½ pint of new milk.

Sick Dietary.

Tea diet, above 15 years	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of tea.	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of new milk.	The sick diets are changed daily by the medical officer, according to circumstances.
Do. from 9 to 15 .	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of tea.	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of new milk.
Do. from 5 to 9 .	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of tea.	½ lb. of bread and 1 pint of new milk.
Do. under 5 . .	½ lb. of bread and ½ pint of tea.	½ lb. of bread and ½ pint of new milk.

Bread diets, to all classes same as tea diet, except new milk to breakfast instead of tea. “The bread the same.”

Fever diets, to all classes, milk whey (the doctor directs the quantity according to circumstances) or gruel.

Rice diets, to dysentery patients (the doctor directs the quantity according to circumstances).

Officers' Rations.

The master's, matron's, and schoolmistress's not fixed.

The schoolmaster, 2 lbs. of oatmeal, 1 pint new milk, 1 pint buttermilk, and ½ lb. of bread per day; and 2 lbs. of meat per week.

The porter, 2 lbs. of oatmeal, 1 pint new milk, 1 pint buttermilk, and ½ lb. of bread per day; and 1 lb. of meat per week.

(I.)

Workhouse Dietary.

	Breakfast.			Dinner.			Supper
	Mixed meal.	Sweet milk.	Butter-milk.	Mixed meal.	Sweet milk.	Butter-milk.	Bread.	Sweet milk.
	Ozs.	Qts.	Qts.	Ozs.	Qts.	Qts.	Ozs.	Qts.
Men and women . . .	8	½	¼	8	½	¼	..	..
Children from 9 to 15.	4	½	..	5	½	..	6	½
Children from 2 to 9 .	3	½	..	4	½	..	4	½
Aged and infirm . .	6	½	¼	6	½	¼	..	..
Infants under 2 . .	½ lb. of bread, and 1 pint of new milk per day.

Lowtherstown
Union.Sick Dietary.

	Bread.	Tea.	Sweet milk.	Bread.	Tea.	Sweet milk.	Remarks.
	Lb.	Pint.		Lb.		Pint.
Tea diet, adults . . .	$\frac{1}{2}$	1	..	$\frac{1}{2}$	..	1	No supper.
„ from 9 to 15 . . .	$\frac{1}{2}$	1	..	$\frac{1}{2}$	..	1	„
„ from 2 to 9 . . .	$\frac{1}{2}$	$\frac{1}{2}$	..	$\frac{1}{2}$	..	$\frac{1}{2}$	„
Bread diet	Same as tea diet, except that new milk is given to breakfast, and no tea.
Fever diets	Milk whey, gruel, &c., as ordered daily by medical officer.
Half diet	Do.		do.			do.
Low diet	Do.		do.			do.

Officers' Rations in the week each.

Officers.	Bread.	Meat.	Outmeal.	Sweet milk.	Butter-milk.	Tea.	Sugar.
	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.	Qts.	Qts.	Ozs.	Lb.
Master	7	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	8 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	..	2	1
Matron	7	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	..	2	1
Schoolmaster	7	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	..	2	1
Schoolmistress	7	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	..	2	1
Porter	5 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	7	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	..	..

October 1, 1847.

J. IRVINE, Clerk of Union.

(K.)

Liabilities of Guardians on 31st January, 1848.

	£.	s.	d.
Amount due to treasurer on 31st January
Amount due to contractors, &c.	374	18	0 $\frac{1}{2}$
Amount of salaries unpaid	109	3	2
Amount due to all other parties	22	2	11
Total liabilities	506	4	1 $\frac{1}{2}$
Deduct in hands of treasurer	532	1	5
Net amount of liabilities (if any) on 31st January, 1848, after deducting the amount in the treasurer's hands			..
Net amount which would remain in the hands of the treasurer on 31st January, 1848, supposing all debts to be paid	25	17	3 $\frac{1}{2}$

	£.	s.	d.		£.	s.	d.
9. Liabilities on 31st December	664	9	4	13.
10. Current expenses	601	13	5	14. Rate lodged.	1292	0	0
11. Net balance in favour of Union on 31st January, as in No. 8	25	17	3	15.
	£1292	0	0	16.
					£1292	0	0

JOHN IRVINE, Clerk of Union.

Number of Paupers on Out-relief on Saturday, 26th February, 1848.

District No.	No. of Cases.	Total relieved.	Cost per week.	£.	s.	d.
1,	766	1124		35	16	2
„ No. 2,	250	565		17	0	11
„ No. 3,	268	530		16	13	5
In Union, Total	1284	2219		69	10	6

J. IRVINE.

State of the Workhouse, 19th February, 1848.

Castle Archdall electoral division	113	Moorfield electoral division	116
Clonelly do.	59	Trillick do.	29
Dromore do.	48	Tubbrid do.	114
Kesh do.	55	Union at large	106
Lack do.	19
Lowtherstown do.	137	Total	796

Weekly average cost, 1s. 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ d.

In on 19th February, 1848, total 796

Admitted since 78

Born 1

— 79

Total 875

Discharged	95
Died	4
	 	99

Lowtherstown
Union.

Remaining on 26th February	776
In workhouse		637
Number in auxiliary workhouse in town, 41 women and 13 children		54
Number in detachment, boys, Montgomery's		45
Number in detachment, girls, Graham's		60
Total	796

To the Board of Vice-Guardians, Louthertown Union.

JOHN IRVINE, Clerk of Union.

Paupers classified.

Aged and infirm males	.	.	.	.	.	4
females	.	.	.	.	.	9
Able-bodied males	.	.	.	.	.	99
females	.	.	.	.	.	270
Boys	.	.	.	.	.	187
Girls	.	.	.	.	.	181
Infants under 2	.	.	.	.	.	26
Total	.	.	.	.	.	776

In workhouse on 26th February, 1848. i

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. ARCHDALL:—March 24, 1848.

THE Commissioners have received Mr. Otway's report of the inquiry which the Commissioners directed him to make into the administration of relief by the Vice-Guardians of Lowtherstown Union, in pursuance of the request for such an inquiry contained in your letter of the 15th February last.

The following are the complaints made by you, and inquired into and reported on by Mr. Otway :—

1. That the out-door relief administered is in every case more than sufficient to support the recipients.
2. That men are put on with more than a quarter of an acre, also families whom the relieving officer rejects.
3. That owing to the relief afforded, the farmers complain that they cannot get labourers; that wishing to get people out of the poor-house, you sent for seven able-bodied men with their families, and offered constant employment, and that only two had worked one day each since that time.
4. That there is the greatest imposition practised, and the greatest waste of the funds of the Union.

The Commissioners have perused Mr. Otway's report, and the accompanying evidence, and they have the satisfaction of being enabled to state, that in their opinion no grounds exist for censuring the conduct of the Vice-Guardians in reference to any one of those complaints.

Mr. H. D'ARCY to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 29, 1848.

HAVING attended yesterday an investigation held by Mr. Otway, Union Inspector, in the Board-room of Lowtherstown workhouse, my name was casually mentioned with reference to a conversation which I had held on a former occasion with Mr. Morton and Mr. M'Manus, in which I had stated that having remarked to Mr. Anderson, a relieving officer, that a number of persons were receiving relief in his district not entitled to it; that Mr. Anderson had stated to me that it was not his fault, as he was controlled by the Vice-Guardians, that he received all applications, and that Mr. Morton decided on them; and that he (Mr. Anderson,) was aware of persons not entitled to relief receiving it, some of whom he mentioned to me: Mr. Otway swore Mr. Anderson to this statement, the entire of which he denied, swearing he never knew of a person receiving relief not entitled to it. After the investigation, and after I had left the workhouse, I met a person who was present at the conversation referred to, held between me and Mr. Anderson, and returned with him to the workhouse, and requested of Mr. Otway to examine him; Mr. Otway proceeded to do so, and when the witness was stating that Anderson had mentioned cases to me of persons receiving relief who he (Mr. Anderson) knew were not entitled to it, Mr. Morton interrupted the witness with some remark, when I immediately said, "I beg your pardon Mr. Morton, do not interrupt the witness, you will allow me to have some fair play, which Mr. Archdall had not." Mr. Otway got up and left the room, saying he would hear nothing further. Mr. Otway may say that I intended to express an opinion that he had not acted fairly during the investigation; such was not my intention, nor can I hardly suppose, from previous remarks made, that Mr. Otway could reasonably imagine such was my intention. The circumstances that my remarks referred to were, that an investigation being ordered by the Poor Law Commissioners into charges made by Mr. Archdall against the Vice-Guardians; that Mr. Otway, proceeding to hold their investigation arrived in Lowtherstown on Saturday the 26th, went over the house in company with the Vice-Guardians, returned on Monday, and entered into the investigation without having given any notice to Mr. Archdall that he was about to do so, Mr. Archdall, by mere accident, hearing that it was going on. I take leave to state that I make the above communication, not desiring the opinion of the Poor Law Commissioners on the subject, nor seeking for any redress, but merely for the purpose of preventing a one-sided statement appearing perhaps hereafter in a blue book or report.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Further Letter from Mr. H. D'ARCY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 1, 1848.

ON reading over a communication of mine to you yesterday, I find the following passage—"Mr. Morton interrupted the witness with some remark." It would be more correct if I had written, "Mr. Morton interrupted the examination of the witness by asking Mr. Otway a question relative to the witness's statement, while Mr. Otway was taking it down."

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 2, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of 29th February and 1st instant, respectively, relating to the inquiry which Mr. Otway has been instructed to make in Lowtherstown Union, and I am to state that the Commissioners have not yet received Mr. Otway's report thereon.

OBSERVATIONS of Mr. OTWAY.

I COULD not possibly have mistaken what Mr. H. D'Arcy said. After the inquiry was over, and my papers removed, he came back and asked me to examine a witness to disprove what Anderson the relieving officer had sworn, and to support what he said Anderson had told him; and at great inconvenience I agreed and went back to the Board-room to do so; but on asking the person he produced as a witness, who appeared to me to have no real evidence to give on the matter, from the answers he gave, Mr. D'Arcy began in a very dictatorial manner to question him and interrupt me, and on Mr. Morton making some remark, which I do not recollect, he (Mr. D'Arcy) said in a very warm and unpleasant tone, "Mr. Archdall may have submitted to an unfair inquiry, but I will not," or words to this effect, (he had previously said that he would take care and watch the Commissioners when the new Guardians were elected, that they required it, but that he would be up to them). I then got up and told him I would not allow him or any man to state that an inquiry I held was unfair, that he knew it was not, and that I had treated him with great courtesy and forbearance; and endeavoured as far as possible to inquire into every point he brought before me, and that no gentleman ought to have made such a statement as he had done; I then left the room with Messrs. Morton and M'Manus. I am glad Mr. D'Arcy now states that he had no intention of stating that I had acted unfairly during the inquiry, but I could not possibly have mistaken the plain meaning of his words.

March 19, 1848.

C. G. O.

Mr. H. D'ARCY to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 2, 1848.

Lowtherstown
Union.

I HAVE been informed that Mr. Otway made some reply to me when leaving the Board-room of Lowtherstown workhouse on the 28th of February. Being a little deaf and not having heard what Mr. Otway said, I hope I will not be considered unreasonable in requesting that, as Mr. Otway may have the advantage of seeing my statement, that a copy of Mr. Otway's report may be furnished me.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 2, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, requesting that a copy of Mr. Otway's report of his inquiry in Lowtherstown Union may be furnished to you, and in reply I am to state that the Commissioners are in communication with Mr. Otway, but it is not their general official practice to communicate to third parties the reports which they receive from their inspectors.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 1, 1848.

IN our report of the 19th ultimo, on the state and management of the workhouse and of the Union generally, we took occasion toward the end to mention the lodgments made by our two collectors for the week ending the 12th ultimo. These lodgments were, on the part of Thomas Robinson, 296*l.*, and on the part of Alexander Robinson, 200*l.*; being short of our order to each by the respective defects of 4*l.* and 300*l.*

Fifth Series, p. 122.

We mentioned also the plea of illness put forward by Alexander Robinson, and that we had, in consequence, deferred any intimation of the course we should take with reference to the above very serious default on his part until the next lodgment, which, in due course, was to have been made on the 21st or 22nd ultimo, should be ascertained.

We have now to state that, to our extreme disappointment, no lodgment was made by either collector for the week ending the 19th ultimo, and the lodgment for the week ending the 26th, made yesterday, amounts to 473*l.* only—the fruits of the fortnight's collection. Of this, 300*l.* was lodged by Alexander Robinson, and 173*l.* by Thomas Robinson. We had already at our late Board meeting directed the clerk to proceed against each collector for the fine incurred by his default for the week ending the 19th ultimo, and he will have our further order to the like effect for the week ending the 26th ultimo.

We have directed both collectors to appear before us at to-morrow's Board meeting, and shall then announce to them our distinct and unalterable determination to proceed against each for the future with the utmost rigour, and particularly to enforce the full penalty of their bonds after the 13th instant, when the term of the five months stipulated for the collection will expire.

We cannot disguise from ourselves that the remissness indicated by the past fortnight's collection is, in a large measure, to be ascribed to the announcement, that on the 25th instant the powers and duties of the Vice-Guardians will expire, to be superseded by an elected Board.

There is a difference, we may observe, very marked and otherwise unaccountable in the deportment of the collector, Alexander Robinson—the only one of the two we have seen for the past week. In contrast with what he had uniformly shown on former occasions, his air, upon our demanding, Was that the collection for the fortnight? was one of indifference; but the fact of the collection, after manifesting a very considerable improvement, falling away at the present so critical period of it, and in defiance of an express order of the Board, places the disposition of the men beyond surmise.

And we are bound to state our apprehensions that whatever be the issue of our proceedings against them from week to week under the 100th section of the Act, this indifference and remissness, arising from the cause we have mentioned, will very seriously affect the getting in of the large balance of 2647*l.* 0*s.* 0*d.* still remaining to be collected. Under such circumstances, with undiminished anxiety on our parts to render our appointment as paid officers of the fullest avail, while it continues for the benefit of the Union, we have to request your further instructions with reference to this most vital particular. It is needless, we hope, to report the assurance that no effort of ours shall be wanting to carry them into the fullest effect.

Lowtherstown
Union.

We have at length secured the services of, we trust, an efficient master and matron. They arrived here and entered on their respective duties on the 23rd ultimo, and so far are giving us every satisfaction. Already a marked improvement is visible, contrasting with the hitherto disorganized and uncleanly appearance of the house.

We have been seriously inconvenienced of late by a very insufficient supply of water on the workhouse premises, as well as by the deplorable state of the sewers, cess-pools, and drains—the latter contributing materially to the increase of fever in the house. We have more than once in our reports and minutes adverted to both defects, and took occasion also to draw the special attention of your architect to the subject.

Your letter of the 4th ultimo, transmitting for our information a copy of Mr. Wilkinson's observations, has had our anxious attention, and we have duly considered the papers and plans referred to by Mr. Wilkinson, which, however, from the circumstance of the workhouse being situated on the rapid slope of a small hill, we find to be in great part inapplicable, or requiring very considerable modification. In accordance with his desire "to be furnished by us with a plan that might appear practicable and preferable to the present system," we now forward a plan which we have every reason to think will effectually remove both nuisances. This plan has been prepared according to our instructions, after repeated anxious consultation with Mr. Moore, who superintended the building of the house, sewers, cess-pools, &c., and Mr. Tickell, a plumber, of Enniskillen, who has been employed with the like object in other workhouses. It is considered by both as the most readily practicable and effectual, and that it can be fully executed within three weeks. Not excepting even the collection of the rates, we regard it as the most important work and the most necessary to be immediately taken in hand.

Mr. Moore engages that his system of sewerage, as shown in the plan, dispensing with the collection of the soil in cess-pools to be cleaned out by hand (a work of extreme hazard and often fatal to those employed), aided by the flow of water which will be thrown into them as often as necessary, will carry away all the underground nuisances at present detained in the sewers and occasioning a general malaria, to which the malignant fever heretofore so prevalent among the inmates is largely attributable.

Mr. Tickell engages that the forcing pump and cisterns now proposed to be erected shall keep the entire establishment, including the fever hospital, infirmaries, workhouse, and probationary wards, constantly supplied with pure water, at all seasons, for the necessary uses of the house, and sufficient also to clean out the entire of the proposed sewers and cess-pools whenever it may be found necessary. After having bestowed upon this subject our most anxious attention, we have come to the opinion that the plans proposed will effectually meet both evils, and the expense of Mr. Tickell's portion of them does not appear to us to be excessive; but we desire to submit both to the experienced judgment of your architect before taking further steps in the matter, at the same time, observing, that it is important upon all accounts, and not the least, perhaps, as our own tenure of office will determine on the 25th instant, to have the necessary arrangements completed as quickly as possible.

Accompanying are the plan and specification we have mentioned, to which we would beg that the immediate attention of your architect should be directed.

The earth-works connected with the new sewers, drains, &c., will, of course, be executed by the able-bodied inmates under the superintendence of the contractors.

We take the opportunity to notice the arrival, in due course, of your sealed orders of the 21st ultimo, severally addressed to us, and by which we are continued in office to the 25th instant.

We have to acknowledge also your letter of the 23rd ultimo, in reference to our report of the 19th ultimo. The requisite steps for ensuring a sufficient supply of clothing shall be at once taken as you desire.

The amount of the two loans will be remitted as you direct.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 2, 1848.

THE Commissioners request that you will report the result of the proceedings taken by you against the collectors. I am at the same time to state, that the Commissioners have called on them for an explanation.

With regard to the appointment of a master and matron of the workhouse, the Commissioners request to be furnished with replies to the queries transmitted relating to them.

The Commissioners have referred to their architect respecting that part of your report which relates to the supply of water and sewerage of the workhouse, together with the plan received from you.

ARCHITECT'S OBSERVATIONS ON VICE-GUARDIANS' REPORT of March 1:—March 6, 1848.

I HAVE remarked on these matters. The report resolves itself as regards cesspools chiefly into the question of covered cesspools, or drains, instead thereof. The latter will, I fear, be found difficult to put into operation, and the former, when properly managed, will yet be found the best I think; but I have offered opinions on the matter, and would advise it being left to the Guardians.

EXTRACT FROM GUARDIANS' MINUTES of February 23, 1848.

"Mr. TICKELL submitted a plan of supplying the establishment with a proper supply of water, and of effectually draining the premises and cesspools, prepared agreeably to the instructions given to him at the previous consultation of the Board, and also an estimate of the expense of carrying out so much of said plan as fell within his trade as a plumber, being the erection of a double action forcing pump, and of two cisterns connected with same by pipes, as in said plan and specification described; the amount of said estimate, 155*l.* 15*s.*, which was approved by Board subject to the opinion of the architect, Mr. Wilkinson, and the approval of the Poor Law Commissioners, and that the clerk be directed to forward same accordingly."

ARCHITECT'S OBSERVATIONS ON VICE-GUARDIANS' MINUTES of February 23, 1848.

I THINK the place selected for the pump is a good one. Instead of forcing the water from the pump house, I would recommend a turret of rubble masonry being carried up to contain a cistern directly over the pump. This will save the great friction of forcing the water from the pump, and save much future cost from repairs that will be more frequently required under the proposed plan. A small pipe will then be sufficient to lead from the cistern in turret, and if supplied with a ball-cock at the cistern which it discharges into, it will be found effectual.

I send herewith a sketch for a turret which it would be good economy to erect. The same kind of building has been run up elsewhere for such purpose.

I fear that the plan of doing away with the cesspools will not be found satisfactory. I am of opinion it will not be possible to keep the drains free from obstruction. I should advise the trial being partially made for a month or two, if the cesspools are abandoned. I think that with proper attention to them they will be found the least evil. The large manure pit, if open in such a position, will be found objectionable, I fear, if all the privies discharge into it.

March 6, 1848.

G. W.

THE COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—March 16, 1848.

ADVERTING to recent communications relating to the supply of water and state of the sewers and cesspools of the workhouse of the Lowtherstown Union, I am directed to state that the Commissioners have communicated with their architect on the subject, and to enclose for your information and guidance, copies of observations received from him in reference to the plan and estimate adverted to in your minutes of 23rd February, together with the plan of a water turret proposed by him, and referred to in his observations, which has been received from him this day.

The plan and specification received from you are also returned herewith.

THE VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 17, 1848.

THE several subjects of the collection of the rates, of the backwardness in the returns for two of our relief districts, and of the proposed plan for a better supply of water and a new system of sewerage, have had our earnest attention; and we proceed shortly to mention the course we propose adopting relative to each.

Lowtherstown
Union.

With respect to the first we have decided upon the expediency as well as the fairness (on the grounds mentioned in our report of the 10th instant), of a further month being allowed to each collector. On the part of Alexander Robinson, there is besides the serious plea of illness, which Dr. Betty, his medical attendant, assures us is not overstated in the collector's letter to you of the 15th instant, with a copy of which you have forwarded us. On the part again of the other collector, Thomas Robinson, there is the more difficult character of the district to be taken into account, having required for the second time the protection of an escort (when Mr. Atthill was again the attending magistrate), about a fortnight since; nor have we the same reason to impute remissness to this collector, whose lodgments have been uniformly near the required amount.

At the same time we have considered it only prudent to postpone any declaration of our purpose till next meeting, by which time the magistrates will have pronounced their decision on the defaults which we have referred to them.

The lodgment for the week ended the 11th instant made only yesterday, was 404*l.*, Alexander Robinson contributing to it 304*l.*, and Thomas Robinson 100*l.* This leaves the balances uncollected in the two districts at 1,257*l.* 19*s.* 4½*d.*, and 678*l.* 6*s.* 5*d.* respectively—total uncollected 1,936*l.* 5*s.* 9½*d.*

The return of the particulars of these arrears, distinguishing where in consequence of house locked, or premises deserted, or no seizable property found, was to have been this day before us, but we understand cannot be furnished until to-morrow.

The penalties of the bonds will be at once declared forfeited, and the securities have notice to that effect, and of the suspension of proceedings upon them until the expiration of another calendar month.

We should hope that the effect will be to arouse the vigilance of those parties, and that they will urge as their own safety will demand, the completion of the task within the further period.

With respect to the backwardness of Mr. Anderson's returns for the Lowtherstown Relief District, of which our clerk makes mention in the extract from his letter of the 7th instant, we regret to state that after repeated remonstrances having up to the present time failed in procuring a satisfactory reply from this officer (otherwise without fault as respects the administration of relief in his district), we fear there will be but one course open to us, and he has notice from us accordingly, that should his books be in arrear for three days longer, his resignation will be insisted upon.

Mr. Campbell, the relieving officer for Kesh district, is we are most happy to state so far recovered as to have this day reported himself able to attend to the making up of his books, and that he hopes to be present at the next meeting of the Board.

With respect lastly to the proposed plan of sewerage and for a better supply of water, we have not as yet since the arrival of your letter of yesterday's date, conveying to us Mr. Wilkinson's observations upon that subject, been able to consult with Mr. Tickell. We may observe only that the slope of the site of the work-house, is we fear too rapid to admit of the water tower suggested by Mr. Wilkinson, being raised so as to command the parts to be supplied, unless at an immoderate height. But of this and other necessary particulars we shall be better able to form a judgment after conferring with Mr. Tickell, whose attendance we have requested.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 23, 1848.

THE Commissioners considering that your functions as Vice-Guardians of Lowtherstown Union will cease on the 25th instant, desire to receive from you a report on the financial state of the Union, comprising the following particulars:—

1. Amount of money in the treasurer's hands.
2. Amount of debts.
3. Estimated period during which the current rate would suffice to defray the ordinary expenditure of the Union, deducting the amount included in the rate for the purpose of repaying the advances made under the Temporary Relief Act.
4. Estimated amount of additional rate which would be required to cover the prospective expenditure down to the 29th September next.

The Commissioners are desirous of receiving this information by return of post, and they request that you will have the goodness to furnish the same accordingly; and in case any difficulty should be felt which would be likely to cause delay, you will nevertheless have the goodness to send up as close an estimate as possible by return of post.

Lowtherstown
Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 25, 1848.

WE are just in receipt of your letter of the 23rd instant, but bearing the Dublin post-mark of the 24th, in which you desire from us a report of the financial state of this Union previous to our duties determining. The very limited time at our disposal upon this the last day of our concluding Board meeting, will compel us to confine ourselves to the bare statement of the particulars desired.

The amount of money in the treasurer's hands on the 18th instant was 622*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* The amount of uncollected rate (making due allowance for the irrecoverable part of it, according to the collectors' returns this day placed in our hands) may be stated at 1500*l.* On the other side of the account the amount of debts, including all liabilities at this date (the temporary relief loan and instalments of building loan excepted), is 750*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.*, leaving available towards the expenditure of the half year ending 29th September next, the sum of 1371*l.* 17*s.*

With a view to the desired estimate of that expenditure we think, as respects maintenance, that the return made to you by our clerk, a copy of which is before us, for the four weeks ending 5th February last, may in this Union be taken as a sufficiently safe guide. This will give for the half year's maintenance £2443 17 10

For ordinary establishment expenses	300	0	0
For new sewers in progress, and general repairs	100	0	0
Amount Mr. Tickell's contract to supply water	155	15	0
Amount Mr. Moore's contract for pump-house	28	0	0

Total £3027 12 10

Amount of instalments on building loan, due 14th proximo	1066	0	0
Amount temporary relief loan	3138	4	9

We have made no mention of the proposed extension of the workhouse building.

As it will be apparent from the above account that the remaining available amount of the rate struck in October last, viz., 1371*l.* 17*s.*, is short of the amount included in that rate for repayment of advances under the Temporary Relief Act, there is no occasion to advert to the third particular mentioned in your letter.

As a part of the business remaining to us this day to execute, we purpose furnishing you with our usual general report, which being our final report, we should be anxious to make as full and complete as possible.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 25, 1848.

WE have the honour of presenting you with a final report ere vacating our office of Vice-Guardians. Considering the very ample detail which will be found in the minutes upon almost every subject, all (including the financial statement already briefly made to you in reply to your letter received by this morning's post) having in one shape or another come before us since Wednesday last, there is perhaps the less need for troubling you at any great length. Should it fail of being as complete as might be desired on such an occasion, we feel persuaded that you will make every allowance for the mass of business unavoidably pressing upon our attention at the close of this our last Board meeting.

As regards the arrears of the rate and the liabilities of our two collectors, suspended for consideration at the present meeting, we have gladly availed ourselves of whatever circumstances could be considered as fairly entitling them to indulgence. In addition to such of these as you are already apprized of (on the part of the one collector—his serious indisposition, with the waylaying and warnings of personal danger, which prevented his continuing his appointments with the rate-payers; on the part of the other—the more impracticable character of the district he had to deal with, at the same time that, of the two, his lodgments were uniformly the more satisfactory; the weight of the duty which should, in our opinion, have been committed to more than two collectors, on the part of both), there was a statement made at the present meeting, and confirmed to us by our clerk, which we felt to be decisive, and such as to leave us scarcely the option of acting towards them otherwise than leniently. It appeared that on the occasion of their bonds being executed, when urging the necessity of six months rather than five being allowed them, they were given to understand that an arrangement would be made for leaving their lodgments in Lowtherstown, instead of which, in default of such arrangement, a day of each week has been lost by their having to make them, as on former occasions, with the treasurer in Enniskillen.

Lowtherstown
Union.

The copy forwarded in your letter of the 23rd instant, of Dr. Betty's certificate, was in time for its due weight with us. The returns made by each collector of the arrears outstanding on the 18th instant, were also before us; it resulted from them that the entire of these arrears (1266*l.* 8*s.* 10*d.*, and 405*l.* 16*s.* 6½*d.*, in the two districts respectively), with the exception of 178*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* in the one district, and 147*l.* 1*s.* 3½*d.* in the other, the greater part however of which sums will also be made good, leaving eventually little more than 100*l.* for the uncollectable part of the two rates last struck, await only the time and opportunity of the collectors to get them in. This uncollectable part will belong, as we have said, to the two rates; an arrear of 272*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.*, due 6th October last, upon the rate of 1443*l.* still at that time in course of collection, having been thrown into the new rate then struck of 6189*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.*, and making the total amount to be collected, 6461*l.* 14*s.* 11*d.*

After Dr. Betty's certificate there remained no ground for following up our proceedings as against Alexander Robinson; and looking at the later efforts of Thomas Robinson, with the comparatively small amount of arrears remaining over in his district, there was room to question whether or not the disobedience upon his part had been of a wilful character. We directed accordingly that the proceedings against either on this account, which were to have gone forward yesterday before the Lowtherstown bench, should be withdrawn. The hearty acknowledgments expressed by both for this immediate grace, led us to consult freely with them as to the shortest time within which the arrears could be reasonably collected. We were not, on the whole, dissatisfied to learn that till the 1st May would, in their opinion, be sufficient: and upon reflection, we thought it best to allow them up to that date.

With men such as we still take them for, the course we have been in a manner thus compelled to adopt, will, we are persuaded, under existing circumstances, best secure the satisfactory completion of this important work; and we are happy, in closing our reports upon a subject which has so anxiously occupied us, to express our confidence, based upon a four months' intercourse, and confirmed by their becoming deportment and assurances when their better feelings were thus appealed to, that the entire rate, subject to the above small deficit, will be collected before the expiration of the further time now limited—longer indeed by a fortnight and upwards than we had contemplated before being apprised of the circumstances last brought forward on their behalf; but should this confidence be still disappointed, it will be of importance that they are left without plea or excuse.

An important subject in the present condition of the finances of the Union, and otherwise suggested to our consideration by your circular to the clerk, of the 9th instant, was that of the probable expenditure of the Union for the coming half-year, our estimate of which, in reply to your letter received by this morning's post, we have just conveyed to you in a separate dispatch. In the opinion of our relieving officers, the numbers requiring relief will no otherwise decrease than by the recovery, from severe sickness, of the heads of families now receiving it upon that ground. Your sealed order authorizing relief for two months to destitute poor persons, being widows with one child, and orphans whose parents are both dead, will expire on the 28th instant. We have instructed the relieving officers to report the number of such cases at present relieved under this order at the next meeting of the Board. Whatever this may prove to be, it is we fear too certain that by far the greater portion will have no other resource but admission into the workhouse; already, at the moment of our writing, containing within 20 of its full complement, we should not feel warranted to speak upon mere surmise of the measures in possible contemplation with the newly-elected Board. We may mention, however, that it is confidently and very generally expected, that the present out-accommodation for an additional number of in-door paupers at the three buildings of Graham's, Montgomery's and Anderson's will be immediately dispensed with; and there is reason to apprehend that a majority will be found in favour of that measure. In such an event, the limits of in-door relief being restricted to 500 inmates, there can be no hope of its being extended to parties not at present within the walls. We cannot suppress our anxiety at the prospect of those now obtaining relief under the order we have referred to being thrown upon the slender resource of such employment as they may be able to procure, even at the present favourable season. It is sufficient to have brought this under your notice. In any estimate of the probable numbers that may continue to require relief, they will assuredly have to be taken into account.

Upon the whole, it is our decided opinion that the average for the next six months will not be found very far short of that shown by the return for the four weeks ended 5th February last. Having already, in our letter of this morning, taking that return as the basis of an estimate for the half-year's expenditure, we need only refer you upon this point to the result therein given. It is perhaps unimportant to observe that the amount of debt should have been stated at 750*l.* 18*s.* 7*d.*, instead of 750*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.*—an error since discovered in the baker's account occasioning the difference.

In connexion with the same subject, and affording additional ground for the apprehension that such estimate will not be much in excess, is the absence, so far as we can learn, of any proposed employment of the able-bodied labourer, by farmer or proprietor, to meet the immensely increased destitution, beyond the ordinary unimproved routine of the spring husbandry. No exertion appears to be making by any party to stem the increasing evil, while, with few exceptions, all exclaim at the ruinous certainty before them of a continually increasing poor-rate; let the party be well inclined to relief, or the reverse, the cry is heard upon all sides that the poor-rate will ruin the country, and yet nothing can be more notorious than the indifferent state of their agriculture—the large farms showing no attempt to drain; nothing more undeniable than that there is ample room for every labourer that can be had, to be constantly and profitably employed on the improved culture of the soil.

The prospect is indeed a gloomy one for all classes. We advert to it, however, to show merely the necessity of an ample provision being made as well upon this account.

We shall place on the minutes our unhesitating opinion that an adequate rate ought to be struck with the least possible delay; and as the first step towards it, our instructions to the clerk to prepare and lay before the Board, at the earliest opportunity, a statement of the proportions out of the unexpended amount now standing to the credit of the Union, inclusive of the uncollected rate, which, after payment of the present amount of 750*l.* 18*s.* 7*d.* debt, may be found to the credit of the several electoral divisions and the Union at large, together with an estimate grounded on the return already mentioned of the half-year's probable expenditure on the part of each electoral division, and of the Union at large, for maintenance establishment and incidental expenses.

We shall now rapidly advert to a number of particulars, which would find a place here commensurate with their importance, were it not for the very full detail which, as we have observed, we shall consider it expedient at the present juncture to give to each upon the minutes.

The house has at length been brought to a state of discipline, which gives room to hope that it may ere long bear a comparison with the best regulated. It will be seen by the minutes of the present meeting, that we have, notwithstanding, deemed it our duty to leave on record our strict injunctions in this respect to the new master. It certainly exhibits, in every particular, a very gratifying contrast to the condition in which it was found by the Vice-Guardians.

The inmates present the appearance of health and animation, and of cleanliness in person as well as clothing. In place of the sickly listlessness of barely 300 wretched objects, whom it was so long our painful part to witness gathered in tattered house-clothing, or (as was the case with many) in their own still more unwholesome rags, on the floors of the wards, none are now to be so found; and out of 720 inmates, filling the house and detached buildings at this date, few at all without their useful employment in the several parts of the establishment.

At the moment of our writing, and for several weeks past, this institution, so fatally devastated by fever in the spring of last year, might challenge comparison in point of health with any in Ireland.

Lowtherstown
Union.

The clothing and bedding, almost exclusively made up by the inmates, is at length brought to the desired sufficiency; and the same is to be said of all necessary furniture, the defect of which was no less glaring. The schools, too, offer a happy contrast to their aspect a few months since—the children clean, healthy, and fully clad, and supplied with every requisite for instruction. The hitherto imperfect sewerage, which, combined with the proximity of an over-crowded grave-yard (the corruption to be seen oozing on the surface up to the very walls of the house) was a chief source of the prevailing infectious disorders; we have happily, after anxious consultation with parties of authority in such matters, on the eve of our tenure of office, taken steps at once and effectually to remedy. All connexion with the grave-yard is now cut off by a deep flagged sewer, carrying away the corrupted matter altogether from the house. We avail ourselves of this latest opportunity to bring again under your notice the urgent necessity for a new grave-yard at some remoter distance. The greater part of the hitherto open and very offensive drains have been replaced by covered flagged sewers, with gratings. There is still, however, much important work remaining to be done of this description, which should on no account be longer postponed. The thorough drainage of the yards, heretofore delayed by the unfavourable weather, is in active progress; this, too, should be diligently prosecuted to completion.

In deference to Mr. Wilkinson's views as respects the proposed supply of water, it becomes us to state shortly at this part of our report why we have concluded it best, after carefully considering his suggestions and plan of a water tower, to adhere in preference to that we submitted to you. The tower, if adopted, would require to be of a much more considerable height, to meet the rapid rise in the ground than is assumed in the drawing sent by Mr. Wilkinson, 60 feet at the least; while the same pipes would in every respect have to be laid down, and the same cisterns erected, independently of the tower and its cistern. We may add that the trial of our plan for a while, and partially as suggested by Mr. Wilkinson, would we fear be within a trifle as costly as its perfect execution. We have every reason to be satisfied with the prospect of Mr. Tickell's work (which has been tried with success elsewhere) being found effectual for its object. It is already, we are happy to say, far advanced, and the well so far as completed promises an ample supply of water.

There is yet a subject upon which we are anxious, ere we conclude, from its serious importance as respects the able-bodied pauper (nor is it of light import as respects the work upon which he is being employed), to offer an observation. It is the increased allowance, by a $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. bread daily, which we have recently found ourselves under the necessity of introducing into the dietary. As soon as the advance of more favourable weather admitted of continued work out of doors for some days together, the necessity for this increase became manifest. The strength of the men was unequal to it, and visiting the work frequently ourselves, that we might be satisfied of its due progress, there was no room for mistaking it. The average weekly cost of the in-door pauper in this Union, recently 1s. 2d., is still, we believe, among the lowest in Ireland. We have reason to believe, notwithstanding, that a change, with a view to greater economy, will be proposed in this particular of the dietary, at the same time that the work expected will be obviously the same, or at least (as we think in such an institution it ought to be) to the extent of whatever can be expected.

We consequently feel bound to state to you our conviction, proceeding upon the grounds we have mentioned, that should the present dietary of the working pauper be reduced, the result will be (not to speak in the same sentence of the work sacrificed) to fill the hospitals and add to the victims of the grave-yard.

It would be ungrateful in us, at the close of our labours, did we neglect to bear testimony to the ability and worth of a most valuable public servant, Mr. John Irvine, the clerk of this Union. To dwell upon the arduous and important character of the duties of the office is needless, but in no Union could the temper, zeal, and acquirements of the officer be more severely tested than in Lowtherstown. To ourselves Mr. Irvine has at all times, and to the frequent sacrifice of the hours of relaxation and of rest with his family, afforded, during our trying period of office, the most ready co-operation, and the value of which we have ever most highly appreciated. It would have been our duty to make it as a particular request of you to sanction the increase we lately recommended of his salary. As we are concluding our report, we find, by the arrival of your letter upon that subject, that we have the still more gratifying duty of thanking you for having already done so.

Lowtherstown
Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. M'MANUS and Mr. MORTON, Vice-Guardians respectively :—April 4, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your final report of the 25th ult., and I am to express the Commissioners' thanks for the zeal and assiduity with which they are satisfied you have attended to the interests of the Union.

Further Correspondence respecting the management of the Union by the Vice-Guardians will be printed in another Series. It is not yet completed, or it would have been printed in this Series.]

TULLAMORE UNION.

Dr. LAMPREY, Temporary Medical Officer of the Union, to the COMMISSIONERS:—
January 31, 1848.

I BEG leave to present you with the following report in reference to the sanitary condition of the Tullamore workhouse, which I have carefully inspected by the advice of Mr. Flanagan.

On first entering the house I was struck with the dirty appearance of the walls and floors, the former not having been whitewashed for some time.

The master's and matron's rooms were in a very disorderly and dirty condition.

The dormitories were next inspected, the walls of which have been for some time in an unwashed state; the floors exhaled a very urinous odour; numerous bundles of clothes, cooking utensils, crocks, &c., used by the paupers in their own homes previous to their admission into the workhouse, were allowed to be stored up behind their beds in the dormitories, which no doubt assisted in creating disease.

Several paupers were also found lying in their beds who pretended illness.

I was informed by the matron that the adult women were obliged to sleep in the children's beds on account of the insufficient accommodation for the classes. The stairs leading from the dormitories were extremely dirty as also the walls and railings.

I next entered the day-room; the scene presented there would baffle all description: the rooms were filled with a dense smoke, and crowded with various groups of women and children, making the greatest disorder and confusion by scolding and abusing each other; small turf fires were seen in every direction on the floor surrounded with groups of people warming themselves, some were comfortably seated near a small fire preparing tea in tea-pots, however they procured it; most of them were dressed in their own private clothes, which were of the dirtiest description. What added the greatest disgust to this scene was, the "waking" of a child which had died in the day-room the day previous, and was permitted to remain exposed to the gaze of all the by-standers. Two children were pointed out to me as being ill, who on examination proved to be cases of small-pox: six cases of that disease have occurred in the establishment within a short period of each other.

On examining the men's day-room the scene in it was nearly as bad as that last described; but my attention was drawn to one bed in which I was much surprised to see the occupant (a cripple) warming himself with a lighted fire he constructed on his bed over his feet.

The hospital partook of the general disorder and confusion; it was overcrowded with patients, mostly ill with dysentery; there was a great want of care and cleanliness, and the nurse had just been attacked with fever.

I next visited the fever hospital attached to the workhouse, which was also overcrowded, and exhibited great neglect in regard to cleanliness, beds and bedding very dirty, and too close to each other; I had observed four persons lying in a bed, many beds contained two.

I had observed the paupers in the store-rooms and other parts of the building where they had no right to be; and on making inquiry from the master and matron why this was permitted, I was informed that "each pauper did as he pleased." All order and system in regard to the internal management of the establishment appear to be entirely neglected.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the GUARDIANS—Dissolution of the Board of Guardians:—February 3, 1848.

THE Commissioners have received from Dr. Lamprey, the gentleman named to the Guardians of Tullamore Union by their medical officer, Dr. Moorhead, as his substitute to take the medical charge of the workhouse in the necessary absence of Dr. Moorhead from Tullamore, a report of the sanitary condition of the workhouse on its first inspection by Dr. Lamprey.

The Commissioners have read this report with much concern, detailing as it does a state of neglect and disorganization which is deeply discreditable to the administration of the laws for the relief of the poor in Tullamore Union. A copy of the report is transmitted herewith, and the Commissioners draw the especial attention of the Guardians to the description given by Dr. Lamprey of disorder, overcrowding, want of classification, and uncleanness, which he found in almost every department of the workhouse, &c., as well as in the fever hospital attached to it.

The Commissioners are aware that individual members of the Board of Guardians have devoted much attention to the business of the Union; but they cannot, on the representation now made to them, consider that the duties of the Board of Guardians, as a collective body, have been effectually discharged according to the intention of the Acts in force for the relief of destitution in Ireland; and they hold the Board of Guardians especially responsible for the present state of the workhouse, from their appointment, on the 17th ult., of a person to be master of the workhouse who had previously been dismissed from the same office in the same Union for incompetency, in consequence of which the house remains to this day without a competent and duly authorized person to take charge of it.

The Commissioners regret also to observe that the financial prospects of the Tullamore Union are by no means in such a state as to inspire confidence in the effectual administration of relief to the destitute poor during the present season of difficulty, the debts of the Guardians amounting by the last returns to the large sum of 1539*l*.

Considering this state of facts, and looking to the increased difficulty which must arise in executing the duties of the Board of Guardians under the order recently issued by the Commissioners under the 2nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, authorizing relief to the able-bodied and other classes of poor, the Commissioners have arrived at the conclusion that it is their duty to dissolve the Board of Guardians, and to appoint paid officers in their stead, to carry into execution the Acts for the relief of the destitute poor in Tullamore Union.

Sealed orders carrying this decision into effect are in preparation, and will be issued by to-morrow's post.

The CLERK to the GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 5, 1848.

I HEREWITH forward minutes of proceedings which took place at a meeting of the Board of Guardians of this Union on Friday the 4th instant. I also forward a copy of a report I made to the Guardians on same day.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF BOARD OF GUARDIANS:—February 4, 1848.

The Clerk's Report on the execution of orders previously made by the Board was read to the following effect:—

GENTLEMEN,

February 4, 1848.

MY attention having been latterly directed to the management of the workhouse I observed many abuses requiring reform. In order to call your attention to some of the most glaring of these abuses which have crept into the government of the establishment I annex them in detail.

In consequence of the overcrowding of the house and the almost total want of clothing, the persons admitted remain for a length of time in their filthy disgusting rags. Probably many of them have so exhibited themselves in this filthy condition on seeking relief, under the impression that their doing so would move the commiseration of the Board in giving them admission; or that, by bringing with them such rags as described, the Guardians would not, or could not, discharge them from the house in a state of nudity. In order to prevent the recurrence of the foregoing evil, and to guard against fraud, I suggest that the Board would refuse admission to all applicants appearing in such clothing as they would refuse to dress themselves in on their discharge; the remedy is to accustom applicants to appear with their clothing cleanly, no matter how poor.

On inquiring of the master, and on examination of the workhouse books, I found the numbers to be 1569, to which special attention of the Guardians was called on Friday, the 21st January; in consequence of which, at an adjourned meeting of the Board on Saturday, directions were given to me that I should assist in carrying out the views of the Guardians in order to lessen the number supposed to be in the workhouse, and the stopping of relief in food to persons not remaining in the house. In order to carry out these views I remained in the hall on Monday, the 24th January; and from the prompt measures pursued, by insisting on whole families remaining in the house, and by putting a complete stop to the giving of food to any person but such as would then remain in the house, I consider the number was reduced by 400; but from the sudden admission of such great numbers, and the despatch of discharges, Mr. Farrel has not been since able to set the books to rights. In order to form an idea of the number remaining I caused the number in each of the dormitories to be taken on Wednesday, the 26th January, when all the inmates were in bed, and the number so counted amounted to 1180.

Tullamore Union

Tullamore Union.

As I anticipated there would be an outcry by disorderly individuals who had been much disappointed in not being permitted to go away after their meals or taking home food with them, such of that class of persons as had remained on Monday night showed symptoms of great disorder; in fact, many of them would not have accepted the offer of in-door relief but with the expectation of the house not being sufficient to contain the numbers that presented themselves. To disappoint this view I immediately caused all the healthy men (exclusive of those on Tullamore division) to be removed to the distillery concerns, that no excuse would be given to those remaining. I conducted them all to their dormitories on Wednesday night—placed them opposite to beds two by two, with much difficulty, and finally accommodated all this description of persons alluded to, leaving the inoffensive to manage in the best way they could for that night. By so acting many of the worst characters quitted the house the next day—some from distaste of confinement, and others from hearing the rules of the house read to them, which I declared to them should be carried into effect to the letter.

In following up this determination I prepared for it instantly by directing the matron to cause clothing for children to be made forthwith for their removal from the most shocking den of filth and nuisance I have ever witnessed. That task I took in hands on Monday, and succeeded in accomplishing with much difficulty, not without curses and execrations, with threats of violence from the mothers of the children; but being determined on accomplishing my object I marked out a few of the most ferocious women. I questioned them if they would submit to the rules read to them in preference to quitting the house, and after discharging a few of the recusants I fully succeeded in displacing the remainder.

To classify the children I had all the infant male children under seven years of age removed to the girls' school under the care of the schoolmistress, who felt very much annoyed at my arrangements generally. In order to coerce her to assist in the reformation of the house, so far as regarded her portion of its management, I gave directions to her on the clothing, cleaning, and caring them, and told her not to permit one of them out of their apartments. I also told her that I would report to the Board what I had done, and that if she permitted the children to return to their mothers I would be punctual in reporting the circumstance.

I have to request the inspection of the female schools, as the arrangement made by me of the infant male children has been objected to on the score of morality by the Rev. Mr. Keegan.

I inspected the dormitories and consulted the officers regarding sleeping accommodation, &c.; it is considered there is now sufficient room for all persons remaining in the house, if the arrangements made for that purpose meet the approbation of the Board.

I have also to report many other circumstances which lead to disorder in the management of the house, but not wishing to trespass on your time I merely note the heads which I will explain if called on, viz:—

1. The frequent disuse of the pump.
2. The outward gates remaining unfinished.
3. The want of infirm dormitories.
4. The necessity of a medical person inspecting the whole house daily.
5. The too frequent giving of passes.
6. The want of select messengers.
7. Full clothing for all inmates; none to be permitted to be given to persons discharged, unless the Guardians, from their view of the persons on admission, note particularly the probability of such being requisite, as laxity in this respect has defrauded the Union of quantities of clothing.

8. Appointing of persons by the master to enforce cleanliness, order, and discipline, with a small premium for their services, and punishment of the parties if their orders are not adhered to.

9. The supply of water from the canal.

10. The completion of the distillery concerns.

11. The completion of fever sheds in the magazine.

In consequence of the classing of the paupers being still incomplete the new dietary has not yet been established.

THOMAS RYAN, Clerk of the Union.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 7, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 5th instant, forwarding minutes of proceedings of the late Board of Guardians of Tullamore Union on the 4th instant, together with a copy of a report made by you to them on the same day.

The Guardians appear not to have given any directions upon the subjects adverted to in your report in reference to the state of the workhouse; and I am to request that you will submit a copy of the report to the Vice-Guardians on their arrival at Tullamore.

Mr. LANGRISHE, Vice-Guardian, to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 11, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I have directed the several relieving officers in this Union to continue the distribution of relief during the ensuing week the same as last, excepting to those persons who they may think do not require the same; and as many able-bodied as there may be room for to get provisional admission into the workhouse by their tickets until next Board-day, this day-week, as it cannot be considered there was a meeting of the Board to-day, but one Vice-Guardian being present. The treasurer consented to honour the cheques, bearing my signature only, which I have issued to the several relieving officers to meet the demands upon them during the coming week. Mr. Flanagan was good enough to call on me yesterday, when we inspected the workhouse and other premises belonging thereto, which I am happy to inform you are not in as bad a state as I expected to find them from the tenor of Mr. Lamprey's report. I shall trouble you with a few remarks upon what struck me most, all of which defects I trust will be easily remedied when Mr. Butcher arrives.

The distillery which is at present occupied by about 140 men and 90 boys, will require immediate attention, inasmuch as there is not a proper master in charge of its inmates; consequently it is difficult to enforce regularity, and oblige the men and boys to return direct after their meals at the workhouse. They take advantage of this deficiency, and loiter about the town. It would be easy to erect a wooden partition in the distillery yard, and thereby afford accommodation for the male and female children; at present the yard is open to parties who occupy part of the premises not required by the workhouse. A convalescent fever-ward is also within the premises, and consequently open to the able-bodied inmates. This evil might be rectified by erecting a convalescent ward within the walls of the magazine hospital. A considerable supply of clothes will be required at once, as the greater number of the inmates are wearing their own dirty rags; a further supply of beds and bed-clothes will also be required for the fever hospital. The fever sheds are undergoing considerable repairs; the inside is being lined with brick, a brick floor laid, and a light covering of slates are being placed over the wooden roof, something similar to the patent slating, which will, I consider, make the building a durable as well as comfortable hospital, and that in a very short space of time.

At the last meeting of the late Board of Guardians a new master was elected. Should his appointment be approved of, I hope he may be at once sent down, as his services are much required. The late master might be placed in charge of the distillery.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 16, 1848.

THE Commissioners approve the course which you have taken in the several particulars reported; and with regard to the want of clothing for the inmates, the Commissioners request that all necessary steps may be taken to supply the defect; the state of the inmates, in this respect, appears to have been quite contrary to the regulations of the Commissioners, and they further specially directed the attention of the late Board of Guardians to the subject in the circular of 11th October last.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 19, 1848.

WE have the honour of laying the following report before your Board:—

It is a matter of considerable surprise to us, that the outstanding liabilities of this Union do not amount to a much larger sum, when we find no provision check accounts or abstracts have been kept, the late Guardians having allowed the master to order what he pleased, without ever requiring him to account for the consumption of the same; in fact, most of the master's books are perfectly useless in their present state, nor has it been the habit to send requisitions from the hospital. We were greatly struck with the enormous consumption of wine, which amounted to over three dozen per week.

Upon our inquiring from the master the actual number of inmates, he informed us he was not prepared to say, as he missed several from day to day, nor could he form any idea how long those missed were absent. We therefore resolved not to admit any paupers until the state of the house is ascertained.

It will be quite impossible to get the house into any kind of order until a new master is in charge of it, when the first step to be taken will be to classify its inmates, which has heretofore been a matter quite neglected.

Tullamore Union.

We consider it would be very desirable to appoint, say three wardmasters, at about 4s. per week and rations, also three wardmistresses at about 3s. per week and rations, as the paupers cannot be depended upon, and are in the habit of allowing the inmates to pass from one ward to another.

The are, at present, 53 women and 261 children receiving out-door relief, whose husbands and fathers respectively are inmates of the workhouse, such having been the system agreed upon by the late Board.

We have advertised for stewards to superintend the stone-breaking; also for contracts for clothing the inmates, besides other matters which are duly entered on the minutes.

The pump being out of order the supply of water has been very limited, the only means of procuring it being by raising it with buckets.

The ground attached to the workhouse has not been kept in any kind of order, but has been lying entirely waste.

A supply of implements will be required to rectify this defect, and to oblige the able-bodied to give some return for the relief afforded them in the workhouse.

It is our intention to remove the children to the distillery premises, as soon as the partition, &c., is erected, as well as a boiler for cooking.

We have placed the under-master in charge of these premises, until the able-bodied are removed.

We shall be obliged for an extension of the sealed order, bearing date 14th December, 1847, it having expired on the 14th instant; we have, notwithstanding, thought it expedient to continue out-door relief to this class, as an application for its extension could not have been made previous to this.

We have also found it necessary to extend out-door relief to the able-bodied, the sealed order having arrived a fortnight ago, all of which men will be put to work as soon as the stewards can be appointed.

We purpose placing the magazine hospital for the use of the workhouse patients, which will enable us to place the infirmary at the disposal of the females, who are at present crowded to excess; the women have been in the habit of keeping their children over two years of age in their wards, and preventing them going into the school-room; this, however, had our immediate attention.

We have requested Dr. Lamprey to form a dietary from Dr. Phelan's and another which we have procured, there having been no regular dietary in this workhouse.

But a small amount of rates having been collected during the week, and only three collectors having attended the Board-room during the week, we have considered it necessary to summons an attendance of all the collectors on Monday next, when it shall be our business to insist upon their using every means within their power, to collect the outstanding rates.

A new rate will be required to be struck at once.

The Tullamore electoral division being considerably in debt, a rate of 10s. in the pound would be required to raise a sufficient sum to pay the present debt to the house, the Relief Commissioners' loan (2300*l.*), and to meet its demands to September next. We are of opinion that it would be desirable to strike, say only half the poundage required at first, as it would be quite impossible to collect so large a poundage as 10s.

REPLY to the foregoing :—February 23, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 19th instant, relating to Tullamore Union; and with reference to the consumption of wine in the hospital the Commissioners have requested the medical officer, Dr. Moorhead, to furnish them with his observations on the statement in your report.

With respect to the appointment of wardmasters and wardmistresses, I am to state that the Commissioners sanction the appointment of those officers on the terms proposed.

As regards the administration of out-door relief to women and children, whose husbands and fathers respectively are inmates of the workhouse, I am to request you will inform the Commissioners of your intentions in reference to this practice, the propriety of which the Commissioners think somewhat questionable.

With regard to the implements required for the employment of the able-bodied receiving relief in the workhouse, I am to state that, on your furnishing an estimate of the number of each kind required, the Commissioners will request the Board of Works to furnish such implements.

Tullamore Union.

In reference to your request for a renewal of the order for out-door relief of 14th December last, I am to state, that under the more extended order, issued on the 1st February, out-door relief may be administered to the classes specified in the previous order of the 14th December last, as well as to any other class, without a fresh order, until the 1st April next, when that of the 1st February will expire, unless renewed.

As regards the dietary, I am to request you will furnish the Commissioners with a copy of that which you propose to obtain.

The Commissioners approve of measures being taken for enforcing the collection of the rates vigorously; and with regard to the striking of a new rate, I am to state, that the Commissioners will issue an order to modify the form of rate; and that the form of collector's warrant and bonds, adapted to the present crisis of the Union, can be had of the printer, Mr. Thom.

The Commissioners concur in the inexpediency of laying on so large a rate as 10s. in the pound in Tullamore electoral division.

Mr. J. H. WALSH to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 1, 1848.

As I had not the slightest intention of troubling the Poor Law Commissioners with any remonstrance on the subject of their dissolution of the Tullamore Board of Guardians, I did not, until Saturday last, even seek to know the specific grounds upon which they professed to rest its propriety, because the particular juncture selected for affixing such a stigma upon it rendered the measure so peculiarly unjustifiable, as to indicate the total abandonment by the Commissioners to the furtherance of some unworthy intrigue, of those attributes of deliberative impartiality and justice necessary to impart weight and importance to their opinions.

It is therefore only in deference to the wishes of members of the Board who will not silently submit to an unmerited stigma, that I now claim the re-consideration of your charges.

The dissolution of the Board professes to be grounded, first, on the report of the medical locum tenens; secondly, on the inconveniences occasioned by the delay in the appointment of a competent master by the Board's election, on the 17th of December, of a person who had formerly held that situation in the same Union, and from which he had been dismissed; thirdly, on the financial mismanagement of the Board.

In reference to the first and the main ground of their proceeding, I have to observe, that the report was apparently volunteered by a provisional officer; that it certainly manifests an excess of inculpatory zeal—for the medical reporter extends his critical reprehension beyond the limits of his sanitary province; and, upon a report emanating from such a source, and characterized by such a spirit, unquestioned and untested, the Poor Law Commissioners mainly rest the precipitate infliction of an aggravated burden upon an overtaxed people, and of the deepest insult upon individuals in their power to inflict. This, apart from the fact that I am assured it can be established—that the gravest charge conveyed in the report admits of an explanation creditable to the administrative sagacity of the Board—that the second in importance was founded in error and misconception—that others were chiefly referable to the extensive prevalence of disease—and the rest either exaggerated, trivial, or unfounded.

In the delinquency involved in the inconveniences resulting from the election of a discarded master, the Poor Law Commissioners and their medical inspector largely participate. His nomination was referred by one of his supporters to the opinion expressed by your medical inspector, and justly expressed by him, that the objections to his re-election were not insuperable; and when his election was reported to the Commissioners, so far from the immediate refusal of their sanction to his appointment, they invited further communication, and, consequently, further delay, by stating that the rule in such cases could not be departed from unless on special cause shown.

The charge of financial mismanagement is indeed a strange one. In September the debts of the Board were 3157*l.* On the 31st of January they had been reduced to 1056*l.* 8*s.* 3*d.*, and this effected with a weekly expenditure gradually and steadily increasing from 78*l.* 1*s.* 2*d.* to 260*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.*, and the number of paupers receiving relief from 679, in September, to 5066, in January, 1466 within and 3600 without the workhouse; and the weekly collections from 87*l.* 10*s.* to 405*l.* 18*s.* Are these the evidences of the inability of the Board to provide, or the disinclination to extend protection to the poor? If not, does their financial mismanagement rest on the fact of their dismissal of four collectors—on the measures in progress to bring the statutable penalties to bear upon others, and on their conspicuous exhibition in their Board-room of the names of the principal defaulters?

Tullamore Union.

But even were all the Commissioners' charges fully sustained, and had the Board previously exhibited great administrative neglect, the time selected for their abrupt dismissal rendered the measure perfectly inexcusable. Their warrant of dismissal reached the Board when assembled at an adjourned meeting on the 5th of February—their seventh meeting within 16 days, most of them prolonged to 7 o'clock at night, one of them embracing 12 successive hours. Much of the confusion occasioned by the pressure on the house in mid-winter had already yielded to those persevering exertions; and the foundations had been laid for the restoration of order, the correction of abuses, and the protection of the poor, by providing extended accommodation, by subjecting speculative applications to an efficient test, without imposing upon the families of distressed labourers the miseries of houseless destitution. While thus engaged in the anxious and unremitting discharge of their most painful and laborious duties, strenuously exerting themselves to apply the most effectual corrective to every existing abuse and irregularity, comes the insulting warrant of the Commissioners for their contumacious discharge. I claim at your hands the retraction of unfounded charges, as the only atonement now in your power for the wide-spread defamation to which your act has subjected the Tullamore Guardians. The second and third charges are perfectly unsustainable, and the first remains to be subjected to the test of a proper investigation.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 11, 1848.

THE Commissioners have received your letter of the 1st inst., expressing your disapproval of the course taken by them in dissolving the Board of Guardians of Tullamore Union, of which you were the chairman.

The Commissioners do not expect, in the discharge of the duty devolving on them under the 18th section of the Temporary Poor Relief Extension Act, always to meet with approval and satisfaction from the parties whose administrative default has been the occasion of the Commissioners being constrained to exercise their powers under that section, nor do they consider themselves bound to enter into explanation with individuals as to the manner in which they have exercised those powers.

In deference, however, to your late position as chairman of the dissolved Board, the Commissioners direct me to reply, that if any justification were wanting of the step they took, it would be found in a report received by them from the Vice-Guardians of the Union shortly after assuming the discharge of their duties.

In this report the Vice-Guardians state:—

"It is a matter of considerable surprise to us that the outstanding liabilities of the Union do not amount to a much larger sum, when we find no provision check accounts or abstracts have been kept, the late Guardians having allowed the master to order what he pleased, without ever requiring him to account for the consumption of the same.

"Upon our inquiring from the master the actual number of inmates, he was not prepared to say, as he missed several from day to day, nor could he form any idea how long those he missed were absent."

The Commissioners observe also that on the minutes of the Guardians of the 4th February, the day on which the order of dissolution was received by the Guardians, a long report appears from the clerk of the Union, stating that various abuses had crept into the management of the workhouse, and detailing the steps which he himself had taken at the desire of the Guardians for the purpose of endeavouring to restore order in the workhouse. The clerk in this report states:—

"My attention having been latterly directed to the management of the workhouse, I observed many abuses requiring reform. In order to call your attention to some of the most glaring of these abuses which have crept into the government of the establishment, I annex them in detail.

"In consequence of the over-crowding of the house and the almost total want of clothing, the persons admitted remain for a length of time in their filthy disgusting rags." Tullamore Union.

The clerk then proceeds to detail the measures which he took for the purpose of carrying out the views of the Guardians in order to lessen the number of inmates "supposed to be in the workhouse," (1569 according to the master's books), "and the stopping of relief in food to persons not remaining in the house."

By the prompt measures which he took in "insisting on whole families remaining in the house, and by putting a complete stop to the giving of food to any person not remaining in the house," the clerk considers that he reduced the number by 400; and on taking an account of the number in each dormitory at bed-time he ascertained there were actually only 1180 in the house.

He continues:—

"As I anticipated there would be a great outcry by disorderly individuals who had been much disappointed in not being permitted to go away after their meals or taking home food with them, such of that class of persons as had remained on Monday showed symptoms of great disorder."

Further he states:—

"I conducted all to their dormitories on Wednesday night, placed them opposite to beds two by two with much difficulty, and finally accommodated all this description of persons alluded to, leaving the inoffensive to manage the best way they could for that night. By so acting many of the worst characters quitted the house next day; some from distaste of confinement, and others from having the rules of the house read to them, which I declared to them should be carried into effect to the letter.

"In following up this determination I prepared for it instantly, by directing the matron to cause clothing for the children to be made forthwith for their removal from the most shocking den of filth and nuisance I have ever witnessed. That task I took in hand on Monday, and proceeded in accomplishing with much difficulty, not without curses and execrations, and threats of violence from the mothers of the children; but being determined on accomplishing my object, I marked out a few of the most ferocious women; I questioned them if they would submit to the rules read to them in preference to quitting the house, and after discharging a few of the recusants, I succeeded in displacing the remainder."

The scenes thus reported by the clerk on the 4th February appear by his report to have occurred from the Monday to the Wednesday inclusive of the previous week, at the close of which Dr. Lamprey's visit to the workhouse took place, when he found it in the condition described in his letter to the Commissioners of the 31st January.

With such a description recorded on the minutes of the Guardians in a report from their own officer, the Commissioners regard with surprise your endeavour as chairman of the Guardians to represent Dr. Lamprey's report as overcharged, and as characterized by a wrong spirit. You state that "the gravest charge conveyed in that report admits of an explanation creditable to the administrative sagacity of the Board; the second in importance was error and misconception; that others were chiefly referable to the extensive prevalence of disease, and the rest either exaggerated, trivial, or unfounded."

That the disorders described by the clerk had been remedied by the exertions of that officer to some extent before Dr. Lamprey's visit, the Commissioners see no reason to doubt, but on the other hand it is not within the range of probability that the utter confusion prevailing in that establishment on the 21st January could, without the presence of a responsible and competent master, have been brought in a few days into such a state of order and regularity as would justify your comments on Dr. Lamprey's report; and as you do not particularize the statements in that report to which your several observations apply, the Commissioners have no means of considering what weight is due to them. They feel, however, well satisfied that abuses like those which undoubtedly prevailed in Tullamore workhouse could not have arisen otherwise than through default of the Board of Guardians; and although they have not called in question either the activity or administrative sagacity of individual Guardians, they could not, on the information before them, accord that praise to the Board collectively, or doubt for a moment that the time had arrived for exercising their power under the 18th section of the Extension Act.

Tullamore Union.

You say the Commissioners participate in having caused the inconveniences resulting from the election by the Guardians of a master previously dismissed from the same office in the same Union. The appointment of that person was, as the Guardians must have been aware when they made it, invalid, without the previous consent of the Commissioners under the 33rd section of 1 and 2 Vict., cap. 56. The Commissioners on being informed of this untoward proceeding at once pointed out to the Guardians their error; the Guardians persisted in asking the consent of the Commissioners, which they at once peremptorily declined to give. You say that the intermediate letter of the Commissioners invited further communication, and consequently caused further delay.

The letter of the Commissioners (dated 30th December) was in the following terms, addressed to yourself as chairman:—

“ Mr. Prescott having been dismissed from that office by an order of the Poor Law Commissioners, under seal, could not legally under section 33 of the Irish Poor Relief Act (1 and 2 Vict., cap. 56) be again appointed to any Union office without the consent of the Commissioners, which has not yet been given and must be withheld unless some very special grounds to justify them in giving their assent be shown. The expectation that he would correct his defects, as expressed in your communication, is not sufficient to warrant his being placed in so important an office, and especially where improvement is so much required in the Union officers, as in Tullamore Union. The Commissioners must therefore request the Guardians to proceed to the appointment of some other person as master of the workhouse.”

It was not possible for the Commissioners to go further in repudiating this appointment, unless they could anticipate that the Guardians had no special reasons to offer for so remarkable a proceeding. It resulted, in fact, that the Guardians had no sufficient reasons, but to have absolutely precluded all further communication on the subject would have been an act of official discourtesy of which the Commissioners feel assured that you, as their chairman, would not have failed to complain.

You think that the Commissioners have done injustice to the late Board of Guardians by imputing to them financial mismanagement.

The Commissioners have therefore reviewed their expressions on this head, and the circumstances existing at the time when they dissolved the Board, and they are of opinion that their observations were by no means unjust to the Guardians.

You state that the debts of the Board were 3157*l.* in September last, and were reduced to 1056*l.* on the 31st January.

These several amounts, however, are irrespective of 7623*l.* due to the Relief Commissioners for advances made under the Temporary Relief Act.

With these liabilities before them, and with the prospect of being called on to administer out-door relief in a season of severe distress, the Guardians in August, September, and October last, placed warrants in the hands of their collectors to levy rates to the amount of 9991*l.*, which they had made in the month of June. Of this rate 3528*l.* remained uncollected on the 31st January last, and though the large debts to contractors (the occasion usually of disadvantageous contracts most injurious to the ratepayers) were reduced to 1056*l.* by means of the first proceeds of the rates on the 31st January, the financial position of the Union at that date must be regarded as most disastrous, with an expenditure (as you state) of 260*l.* weekly, to be provided for for some months to come, besides the large debt unliquidated, the best season for collecting rates having been allowed to pass by; and this quite irrespective of the sums due to Government, for which no provision at all had been made.

It is clear therefore that on the 31st January last the financial state of the Union required an exertion to be made which the past proceedings of the Guardians did not justify the Commissioners in anticipating from them.

The Commissioners have now reviewed at your desire the several grounds on which they based the order dissolving the Board of Guardians of Tullamore Union, and the appointment of paid officers. They are unable, however, to comply with your demand of a retraction of any charges they have put forward against the late Board. Notwithstanding the apprehension you express regarding the increased burthens falling on the ratepayers by the appointment of paid officers, the Commissioners do not doubt that a step calculated to restore confidence to contractors, order to the workhouse, and due accountability in regard to the expenses of that establishment, will prove to be a measure of the utmost prudence and economy, and conducive to the best interests of the ratepayers; and their sincere hope is, that the Vice-Guardians, after the expiration of the term of office prescribed by the statute, will render back their trust into the hands of an elective Board, in a manner creditable to themselves and to the Commissioners; and that at such a juncture the workhouse will be found in an orderly state, under the government of responsible officers competent to keep it in that state, and the funds of the Union free from the pressure of incumbrance and embarrassment, and applicable wholly and exclusively to the prospective relief of the destitute poor.

Tullamore Union.

Mr. J. H. WALSH to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 18, 1848.

YOUR letter of the 11th claims from me some observations which I should have immediately forwarded had not my attention been since engaged by matters of paramount interest.

Having charged the Poor Law Commissioners with participating in causing the inconveniences resulting from the appointment of a dismissed master, I beg to state that the concluding paragraphs of their letter of the 30th of December completely exonerate them from that imputation. Not having received or read that letter, the recorded grounds of the prolonged negotiations respecting the appointments which made no reference to these paragraphs were alone before me when I made that charge; I have therefore to regret having been thus led to advance it.

I should have been justified in much harsher comments on the report of the medical locum tenens, by the explanations and averments which were made to me respecting it; and if I did not particularize the statements to which my observations applied, it was for the obvious reason that the Poor Law Commissioners had not any authenticated facts before them to enable them to estimate the weight due to my observations, which could only be ascertained by applying to them the test of the investigation which I invited.

I think the Poor Law Commissioners would have exercised a sounder discretion in resisting the temptation of propping up their sentence of condemnation by a reference to statements, however graphic and piquant, with which at the time of the exercise of their judicial functions they were totally unacquainted. If constitutional writers hold in abhorrence the doctrine of constructive treason, how would they shudder at the practice of speculative sentences of condemnation. Nor does the posthumous discovery justify their sentence of dissolution. The clerk did but carry out the emphatic injunctions of the Board for the restoration of order; and to the master's admitted incompetency and recognized integrity the circumstances to which the Vice-Guardians advert are referable; he was as incapable of performing his various duties as he was of doing an act of dishonesty.

What, however, but the admitted existence of confusion and the fixed determination of terminating it, could have induced the extraordinary exertions of the Board; following up seven hours' labour on the 21st by twelve hours of harassing exertions on the 22nd; meeting again on the 25th; engaged upwards of seven hours on the 28th, and thus continuing prolonged sittings at short intervals until the 5th of February, when the Poor Law Commissioners' courteous appreciation of their extraordinary exertions reached them in the shape of a contumelious discharge.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 22, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your further communication of the 18th instant, relating to the dissolution of the late Board of Guardians of Tullamore Union, and am to state in reply that the Commissioners referred to the clerk's report upon the minutes of the 4th February, in reference only to the reflections cast by you on the accuracy of Dr. Lamprey's description of the state of the workhouse at the time of his visit.

The Commissioners again acknowledge the exertions made by individual members of the Board of Guardians to restore order in the workhouse, and to establish a proper administration of relief; their confidence, however, in the ability of the Board to contend with the present difficulties of their position, was not such as to justify the Commissioners in not exercising their power under the 18th section of the Temporary Poor Relief Extension Act.

Tullamore Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 26, 1848.

YOU will see by the minutes of this week that we have taken the necessary steps for immediately procuring a master for this workhouse.

We have deferred appointing the wardmasters and mistresses until the new master is in charge.

In consequence of Dr. Lamprey's being unsuccessful in an operation performed by him upon a child on Thursday last, and a general feeling of ill-will towards him on account of his having struck off a large number from bread diet, the whole house was in an uproar on Friday; the women succeeded in breaking open the gates, and would have torn him to pieces had he not escaped into the fever hospital. Dr. Lamprey has in consequence resigned, and Dr. Moorhead has resumed his duties. An inquest was held on the body to-day, which interrupted our business, and prevented our examining all the candidates for superintending the stone-breaking.

As there are immense quantities of broken stones throughout the Union, we think it would be advisable to provide for the able-bodied heads of families in the workhouse, and allow their wives and children to receive out-door relief. We shall be obliged for your opinion on this subject.

We propose authorizing relieving officers (should such be sanctioned by your Board) to issue orders signed by them for the amount of rations allowed to those able-bodied receiving out-door relief. The retailers will give the value of the orders, upon the security of the relieving officers, in meal, to those paupers whose names are on the orders, upon their presenting the same; if the pauper is not satisfied with the quality of meal offered by one retailer, he can go to the next, so there will be a competition among them. This system, if adopted, will prevent the loss on weighing small quantities, as well as the necessary expense of storage, &c.

Should such meet your approbation, we would suggest the propriety of calling a meeting of the rate-payers in each electoral division, on some one day in each fortnight, to examine the relieving officers' list, and forward to us (if any) a list of those persons receiving relief who they consider are not entitled to the same.

The collectors have by no means satisfied us with their collections during the past week; but we trust that a much more considerable sum will be paid into the hands of the treasurer before next Board-day.

The late Board of Guardians authorized the collector for the Cappincur electoral division to collect only half the poundage, which will account for the large amount uncollected in that division. We have, however, directed the collector to call in the outstanding half at once, as such a system cannot be recognized.

We understand that the Relief Committee intend again taking upon them the management of the Magazine Fever Hospital, under the Temporary Fever Act, which they gave up to the care of the late Guardians, when no funds could be procured to support it from that Board.

At a meeting of the late Guardians, held the 4th instant (the day of their dissolution), it was agreed that Mr. Quirk, apothecary to the workhouse, should be paid at the rate of 5s. a-day, amounting to 7*l.*, as a fair remuneration for his services during the time intervening between Dr. Moorhead's accident and Dr. Lamprey's appointment.

The copy of the matron's report transmitted to us has had our attention.

For particulars as to the new dietary we beg to refer you to the minutes of this week.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 2, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 26th ultimo, relating to Tullamore Union; and in reference to the inquest held on the body of a child who died in the workhouse, I am to request that you will inform the Commissioners of the proceedings at the inquest, and will furnish them with a copy of the verdict.

As regards the providing for able-bodied heads of families in the workhouse, while their families receive out-door relief, I am to state that it is a course which with your present powers you can legally take, and the question is one of expediency.

The Commissioners have no objection to leaving the matter in your hands to try the experiment, if you feel satisfied that in present circumstances it would be attended with good results: great care, however, must be taken to give due relief to the families not admitted into the workhouse, while the able-bodied men are relieved in that establishment, inasmuch as if they should be exposed to unnecessary privations, the Vice-Guardians will incur much blame.

As regards the issue of orders by the relieving officers to retail traders, for rations to persons receiving out-door relief, the Commissioners fear that the course proposed is liable to great abuses, and would cause great dissatisfaction. The Commissioners would prefer that the expense should be incurred of storage and of persons to assist the relieving officers in dispensing the meal; one such assistant might serve for more relieving officers than one.

With respect to the proposed meetings of rate-payers, it should be distinctly understood that the course proposed, if entered upon, must not interfere with the duties of the relieving officers, or the functions of the Vice-Guardians, whose duty it is to determine in each case whether and what relief shall be given; and the rate-payers should only furnish the Vice-Guardians with information for the purpose of assisting them in the discharge of their duty.

The Commissioners sanction the rate of remuneration proposed to be paid to Mr. Quirk, the temporary apothecary of the workhouse.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 4, 1848.

AN unpleasant business has again occurred to-day at the workhouse; the able-bodied (with but very few exceptions) refused to work, making as an excuse that they had not received clothes; upon being a second time called upon, when they were told if they persisted their milk should be stopped at dinner to-day, as well as breakfast to-morrow, they still held out, and would not work. We therefore ordered the punishment to be put in force. When called to dinner they insisted upon getting their milk, rushed out of the hall to make an attack upon us. We were obliged to make our escape, and called upon Major Snow, the resident magistrate, who advised us to give the milk to-day; but should they persist on Monday in refusing to work, he would give us the assistance of the police and military if necessary.

The revising valuator has not yet made a return of his revision of any of the divisions, although called upon at different times to do so.

There remains at present 2,442*l.* of rates uncollected, of which only 1600*l.*, as far as we can learn, will be available, and that with much difficulty, the greater part of it being in small sums. The balance in bank, after paying 189*l.* this day, is only 147*l.* We were unable to pay more than 50*l.* to-day, besides 139*l.* for out-door relief for the coming week.

We greatly fear, that in consequence of our not having received the returns from the revising valuator, before the new rate can be in course of collection we shall be out of funds, the present liabilities of the Union amounting to 1620*l.*, and this not including officers' salaries.

The Board of Works' storekeeper could not supply us with any spades or shovels; the other articles required are in our possession.

With respect to the inquest on the child, we are unable to furnish you with a copy of the verdict, as we have not yet been able to obtain it; however, we can, from our own recollection, give you the necessary particulars. All the witnesses proved that every attention was paid to the child by Dr. Lamprey, which was confirmed by Dr. Moorhead's post mortem examination. Verdict, "Died from natural causes."

In October, 1846, a letter was received from your Board, allowing the school-master's wife to live in the house, where she has been ever since, without giving any assistance in any of the departments.

REPLY to the foregoing;—March 10, 1848.

WITH regard to the refusal of the able-bodied paupers to work when called upon, I am directed by the Commissioners to point out that refusal to work is a gross act of misbehaviour in an inmate of a workhouse, and punishable as such, under the 58th section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, and the Commissioners

Tullamore Union. recommend immediate proceedings against several of the most refractory of the inmates in question.

As regards the schoolmaster's wife living in the workhouse, I am to state that you can, if you see fit, supersede the arrangement made in accordance with the wish of the late Board of Guardians on a former occasion.

In reference to your statement respecting the revising valuator, the Commissioners have called upon him for an explanation.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—March 14, 1848.

ADVERTING to recent communications relative to the consumption of wine in the hospitals of the Tullamore Union, I am directed by the Commissioners to transmit herewith, for your information, a copy of a letter which they have received on the subject from Dr. Moorhead, the medical officer of the workhouse of Tullamore Union, together with a copy of observations of their Inspector, Dr. Phelan, thereon, and I am to state that the Commissioners concur in Dr. Phelan's views on this subject.

ENCLOSURE.

Dr. MOORHEAD to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 25, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge your communication of the 23rd instant, which has been forwarded to me here. I contracted a cough while in Steevens' hospital, and by the advice of medical friends moved to the country for change of air.

In reference to the statement contained in the report of the Vice-Guardians, to the effect that the consumption of wine in the Union hospital amounted, before the dissolution of the late Board, to more than three dozen in the week, I apprehend an oversight has occurred. The weekly consumption of wine has not been restricted to the Union hospital, by which I mean Union fever hospital; but has taken place in it, the workhouse infirmary, and temporary fever hospital established here under the Central Board of Health. Thus three institutions, and not one, have contributed to the item referred to.

During the weeks immediately preceding the dissolution of the late Board I had been unavoidably absent; I cannot, therefore, speak from personal knowledge of what may have occurred, but I have consulted the master's Provision Check Account book, and according to it the consumption of wine does not appear to have "exceeded three dozen weekly."

There appears to have been 37 bottles used in the week ending February the 12th, which is rather above the consumption of any week in January.

The temporary hospital has required generally about one-half the whole quantity used. I have formed a small table, which I take leave to enclose, showing this, and the number of patients in that institution, weekly, from December 4th, to Saturday last, February 19th, both weeks inclusive. A reference to it will also show that the total quantity consumed has been absolutely greater in the three weeks of February than in the preceding ones, while that used in the temporary hospital, as compared with the number of patients, affords a higher average still.

Enclosure referred to.

TABLE showing the TOTAL QUANTITY of WINE consumed Weekly, the Portion required by Temporary Hospital, and the Number of Patients under Treatment in that Institution, in each Week, from Saturday, December 4, 1847, to Saturday, February 19, 1848, both weeks inclusive.

Week ending	Total Consumption of Wine—Bottles.	Of which used in Temporary Hospital.	Number of Patients treated weekly.
December 4 .	15	7	111
„ 11 .	17	10	122
„ 18 .	41	15	115
„ 25 .	4	14	121
January 1 .	14	6	108
„ 8 .	16	4	103
„ 15 .	25	9 & 20 oz.	102
„ 22 .	35	18 & 4 oz.	89
„ 29 .	36	18	97
February 5 .	35	16	78
„ 12 .	37	18	66
„ 19 .	30	12	61

M. J. MOORHEAD.

W. Stanley, Esq., Secretary,
Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

OBSERVATIONS of Dr. PHELAN, Inspector.

Tullamore Union.

I HAVE examined these papers, and although I feel that it is impossible to give a satisfactory opinion on the point without devoting some time to an examination of the cases under treatment, I would observe that the consumption of wine does appear considerable, and is particularly so when compared with that in many other workhouse infirmaries and fever hospitals, in which the mortality is not higher, in some not so high, as at Tullamore. Taking the five weeks ended the 19th of February, 82 bottles, or 2050 oz. of wine were consumed in the temporary fever hospital; the number of patients under treatment being 391, but of course all not under treatment daily during three weeks; as those that are admitted and discharged, and that die in each week, are included. Assuming that one-tenth of that number, or 40, required wine daily, 51 oz. would be given to each per week, more than 7 oz. per day; a high average.

In many fever hospitals, particularly of late since the epidemic has declined, wine is not ordered for one-tenth of the fever patients; in several there is scarcely any wine given, but whiskey as punch, or mixed with milk, as in the Belfast Hospital, or with the addition of good porter, as suggested by the Central Board of Health; and I find that under this treatment the mortality is as low as where wine is more freely used. The medical officer should not be restricted as to the giving of wine, but I am of opinion that in many cases whiskey and porter answer as well; and perhaps it may not be amiss to intimate to the medical officer that in such cases, as the cheaper article may be deemed sufficient, the dearer article should not be used.

D. PHELAN.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 11, 1848.

THERE has been no regular dietary used in the house to any class excepting the adults, consequently we have had no opportunity of testing that approved of by Dr. Phelan, with the exception of that for the first class. We have now adopted a dietary formed from Dr. Phelan's letter, and that suggested by him to the late Board.

There has been a very considerable reduction in the consumption of wine since our report of the 19th February, when it exceeded three dozen per week; the quantity required for the ensuing week is only six bottles, besides a reduction in that of porter from about 40 bottles to 4. The use of brandy has been almost entirely given up, whiskey being the substitute.

There still remains uncollected out of the last warrants 2200*l.*; the amount collected during the past week is 233*l.*, out of which 152*l.* was paid for out-door relief for next week, and 55*l.* 3*s.* sundry disbursements, leaving in bank about 100*l.* We are very apprehensive of being run short of money before any of the new rate can be collected; the demand for out-door relief being greatly on the increase. The only bank in this town is a branch of the Bank of Ireland, which bank will not advance in case of our being run short.

The collectors of the Tullamore, Durrow, and Rathfeston divisions, dismissed by the late Board, have not yet closed their warrants for a former rate.

We have selected the stewards to superintend the stone-breaking which will commence forthwith.

We propose relieving the heads of families whose dependents exceed four in number in the house, and those under, to break stones. This system we consider will keep down the number of applicants, when they find they must work eight hours a day for the rations of five and under.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 25, 1848.

WE have at length received all the rate-books from Mr. Fitzpatrick, his revision of the Union being completed. All the rate-books are copied except Tullamore division, which is in hands.

There being considerable balances still uncollected in some divisions, we have thought it expedient to give the collectors until Thursday week to close their warrants.

The collector of the Durrow division having resigned from ill health, and a considerable sum being still uncollected, we shall be glad to know whether we should appoint another, or carry the balance on as arrears.

The clerk will have his statement of the liabilities and probable sums required by each division completed on Tuesday next, when we shall examine the same and strike the new rates accordingly.

Tullamore Union.

There remains about 200*l.* in bank after paying the different accounts as recorded on our minutes of this week.

We have entered into a contract for supplies of American manufactured Indian meal for out-door relief for one month, at a reasonable rate, 16*s.* 2*d.* per barrel of 14 stone, delivered.

With regard to Dr. Ridley's account, we quoted the resolution of the late Board in error in our report of the 11th instant; the date was the 15th October, and not September, and to which we beg to refer you. We are informed by Dr. Ridley that there was a certificate issued by the Board of Health in respect to Tullamore dispensary. The late Board held themselves responsible for Dr. Ridley's remuneration.

We put the law in full force against some of the refractory male inmates of this workhouse, which has had the desired effect of subduing those remaining in the house.

The classifying of the house will require great attention, as the females are very troublesome, and will not allow their children to be removed without we fear extreme measures being adopted. The male portion of the schools we have removed to the distillery premises, where we have erected a boiler, &c., which will keep it quite separate from the house; the female portion of the children shall be removed early next week.

The stone-breaking is in operation; the lists will thereby be greatly reduced. The sealed order authorizing the extension of out-door relief to the able-bodied will expire on the 1st April; a continuance of the same will be required, as but little employment offers.

BANTRY UNION.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain GORDON :—January 29, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a communication which the Commissioners have received from the Under Secretary's Office, relating to the decease of a girl (named Bridget Downing), who it is stated died from destitution and cold; and I am to request that you will make such inquiry into the circumstances, as may enable you to report to the Commissioners as to the facts of the case.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. MORGAN, Sub-Inspector, to the INSPECTOR-GENERAL :—January 24, 1848.

A GIRL named Bridget Downing, of Kilcotherin, parish of Kilcotherin, barony of Bear, eight years of age, died from destitution and cold, on the 20th instant. I hear that the family were receiving rations from relieving officer, till it was ascertained that the father was in employment.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 4, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to state, in answer to your communication of the 29th January, respecting the decease of Bridget Downing, of Kilcathereen, that I had previously made inquiry into the circumstances of the case, and it appeared that the father was employed at the mines.

I now enclose the answers of the relieving officer, to the queries proposed by me.

ENCLOSURE.

QUERIES to be answered by the Relieving Officer of Kilcathereen, and this paper transmitted without delay to Captain Gordon.

ANSWERS.

Did Bridget Downing, who is reported to have died of destitution and cold on the 20th, or any of her family, apply to you for relief?

What was the date of application, and how did you dispose of the case?

It is stated you gave relief to the child until you ascertained that the father was employed, under what class did you return her, and was she sickly?

Do you know what wages the father was earning?

The mother of the girl did apply for relief, and represented herself as a widow.

Application was made on the 3rd January. I gave provisional relief for three weeks until I ascertained that the mother had imposed herself as a widow, and that the father was employed at the mines.

Under the class of children belonging to widows, in column 13, section 1. It is believed she was sickly.

Did not know until two days since, when I was informed that he had received but 7s. for a month, his contract as a miner having turned out badly.

I know of no others.

State any further particulars.

Bantry, January 31, 1848.

(Signed) H. W. GORDON,
Captain 59th Regiment.

(Signed) ANTHONY NICHOLSON,
Relieving Officer.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 2, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report that everything is going on favourably, and plenty of accommodation available; our numbers on Saturday amounting only to 850, and even most part of these can be turned out for employment close to Bantry, but the necessity for doing so does not at present exist.

Agreeably to the resolutions of the 25th, the master has performed the duty therein called upon to do, and discharged over 100 from his books whom he could not find, or who, I should say, did not answer their names.

I was at Castletown Berehaven on Thursday, Friday, and a part of Saturday, and found many attempts made in the northern parish to find cases of starvation, but without success, except in a case where a party held land, and a child whose father was employed at the mines, and about which I shall further report.

Bantry Union.

I found also that the parties who were discharged for work, refused to undertake it, considering the task too hard, and Mr. Payne was unable to procure labourers. The men could not give the work a fair trial, coming late to their work, and returning long before the day was over. The money allowed is $2\frac{1}{2}d.$ a perch for the opening of the drains from 2 feet 6 inches to 2 feet 10 inches deep; and I am assured they can even at this time of the year earn as high as $10d.$ or $11d.$ a-day.

The whole of the labouring classes are now running to and fro, trying to obtain medical certificates, stating their inability to work, in order to obtain provisional relief; and unless great firmness is shown by the relieving officers the able-bodied will all go to bed in order to obtain gratuitous relief.

I have arranged with Mr. Payne that each man is to have a task set to himself, and he may bring his wife and children to assist him in the work; and I am in hopes they will consider their present destitute condition, and go to work.

I am happy to say that applications are in for money under the Land Improvement Act, viz., from Timothy O'Donovan, Esq., J.P., from Richard O'Donovan, Esq., J.P., and Rev. Alleyn Evanson, J.P., in Kilcrohane, and from Richard Evanson, Esq., from West Durrus; and if these works could be reported upon, all would go on well, since there is at present no work in those divisions, and the principal part of our present workhouse inmates came from that part of the Union. If the Board of Works would authorize Mr. Hussey, the Drainage Inspector for this barony, to report upon these works, I would feel myself greatly obliged, although I am aware the two divisions in question belong to the barony of West Division, West Carbery, but in this Union.

A great deal of dysentery, small-pox, and fever, at present prevail. However, the vaccination contracts having been made, I am in hopes one scourge will soon be stopped.

Another relieving officer has been named by the Guardians for Kilmacomogue, and has received orders forthwith to take over the district from Mr. Eccles. An additional relieving officer has been added to this district (Bantry), and who divides it with Mr. Power, whose salary will be reduced, and the whole sum not exceed $70l.$ per annum.

I recommended the increased salary to the relieving officers of the Castletown district, since they are put to heavy travelling expenses; and I do not think their services could be secured unless an advance is made.

Mr. O'Sullivan, rate collector, has been again cautioned relative to the acknowledgment of sufficient moneys, and also the necessity of his lodging as fast as he collects, and I trust he will attend to the instructions given him.

I trust you will not consider that in the resolution with respect to the breaking of stones by female paupers, that the Vice-Guardians are actuated by any feelings of harshness; but I can assure the Commissioners that there is no other work to put the females to, and they must consequently be idle, except the numbers washing the house, since they neither sew, card, nor spin, and it could not be practicable to attempt anything of the kind.

The stone-breaking they have been accustomed to, and will continue to be employed on the drainage works in a similar manner; and indeed the out-door relief lists could not be effectually cleared of widows, except work can be found for them, as it is now in one division, Kilaskin.

P.S.—If the four applications before alluded to were sanctioned, every pauper might be discharged from the workhouse, and the three first classes again offered tickets, or at any rate those who have never yet been in the house might be made to enter.

REPLY to the foregoing :—February 12, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners have addressed the Vice-Guardians on the subject of the proposed increase of the salaries of the relieving officers of the Castletown district, and the employment of the female inmates of the workhouse in stone-breaking.

I am at the same time to state that the Commissioners cannot approve of the employment of females in a workhouse in breaking stones.

The Commissioners have communicated with the Board of Works with regard to the applications for loans under the Land Improvement Act, from proprietors in the Kilcrohane and West Durrus electoral divisions.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 8, 1848.

Bantry Union.

I HAVE the honour to report that the disinclination on the part of the labouring classes still continues; they maintain, without giving it a trial, that they cannot earn sufficient wages, in fact it had arrived so far that all the labourers struck work (although in extreme destitution), and the Board this day inquired minutely into the case, Mr. Payne, J. P., being present.

One relieving officer reported that the men in his district could not earn 4*d.* a-day, but he acknowledged that they came late to work, and went away early, and even when at the drains were very idle. It also appeared from what he said, and which was corroborated by others, that some labourers only opened a few yards of a drain, 2 feet 6 inches deep, and in consequence only earned 1*d.* and 2*d.* a-day.

In answer to this Mr. Payne, J.P., said that he had procured strangers from Dunmanway, and yesterday at half-past nine these men commenced the work which the others had declined, and that these parties earned 1*s.* each before night.

The Vice-Guardians and myself are placed in a very serious position, since I really believe that sooner than work, these parties will let their families starve, and starve themselves.

To-morrow four paupers are to be put to the same kind of work, and it will be seen what they can earn, and if it is proved they can earn at this time of the year from 9*d.* to 1*s.* a-day, I consider that the parties should be allowed to suffer if they do not work.

A request was made in the minutes of the 25th January, for permission to take legal proceedings against Robert White, Esq., for the non-payment of his rate, as reported to the Vice-Guardians by Arthur Hutchinson, Esq., rate collector; he has again reported this circumstance, and although Mr. White says he has not possession of the lands in question, yet the tenants say he has.

I am also very anxious to know if the Commissioners approve of the Vice-Guardians paying an instalment of 6*s.* 8*d.* in the pound, in order to meet the wishes of their creditors, many of whom are almost bankrupts in consequence.

I would propose to the Guardians the borrowing a sum of 3500*l.* to pay off all debts, if I had the sanction of the Commissioners, and I cannot too strongly recommend this course, since we might with our present rate, get on well for some time, and I do not think it would be advisable just at this present time to strike another rate upon any division.

If the Commissioners sanction this arrangement, I think there will be no difficulty in procuring the loan at 5 per cent.

The attempts to prove deaths by famine continue; but I can detect no case where the party has applied for relief, I am aware a report has been made by the Sub-Inspector here relative to the deaths of two children of Cornelius Lynch, of Shandrum. I enclose queries I put to the relieving officer, and his reply, and cannot say that I think they died of famine, but of small-pox.

The out-door relief in this electoral division has reached as high as 59*l.* a-week. However, the school lists are being revised; and I hope, as in the Skibbereen and Kenmare Unions, that we may make them assist the rates.

ENCLOSURE.

Bantry, February 6, 1848.

QUERIES FOR RELIEVING OFFICER.

Did Cornelius Lynch, of Shandrum, or any of his family apply to you for relief?

If so, state date of application and how you disposed of the case?

It is reported that two of his children died of starvation, state what you know of this matter?

Cornelius Lynch never applied to me for relief of any kind; and the clerk who I have employed tells me he never saw him at my place at any time I may have had occasion to be absent.

His children, who are said to have died of starvation, had a very severe attack of small-pox for some time before they died, which may have caused their deaths.

(Signed) H. W. GORDON,
Captain 59th Regiment.

(Signed) E. POWER, Relieving Officer.
February 7, 1848.

A true copy.

February 8, 1848.

H. W. GORDON, Captain 59th Regiment.

Bantry Union.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS :—February 9, 1848.

I HAVE the honour, in continuation of my report of yesterday's date, further to inform you that I left Bantry this morning at an early hour, and, with the relieving officer for Kilcaskin (to whom I made allusion yesterday), I visited the Earl of Bantry's drainage works in progress. At the first work I came to I found but few men actually at work, the others having gone a short distance for meal on credit of their work.

However, on the others coming up, I assembled them, and explained fully their conduct towards their families, who were now almost starving in consequence: that they would get nothing but work, and work they must.

They promised me they would come early, work like men, and go home late. I found some men had earned yesterday (a bad day) working leisurely, 6*d.* a man, and am sure they could earn a shilling (and more where their families assist them).

I next visited the work at Dromlloo (the most difficult ground), and although I found but few men, yet one had opened yesterday $3\frac{1}{2}$ perches of a drain $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet deep, and earned 10*d.* On fine days more will be earned, since the weather is much against the labourers.

In Kilcathreen, where they held out so long, they are again at work, and some men have earned over 10*d.* a-day, and will earn more, now they see they can obtain a hire, and which they would not believe before. To-morrow they will go to work here (in this parish).

Bantry in fact I think will hold out a little longer, and then go to work; and if we had the applications sanctioned in Kilcrohane and West Durrus, we might discharge every pauper (if we so wished it) from the house, and make it again available for the three classes under the first section of the Act.

On my arrival here I was waited upon by the three parish priests of Kilcathreen, Killaconenagh, and Kilnamanagh, and they demanded what was to be done for the able-bodied who were starving?

I answered work and nothing else; since I was quite satisfied they could earn a good hire, and that if they suffered, the crime was theirs.

REPLY to the above:—February 12, 1848.

WITH reference to the disinclination to work evinced by the labourers to whom employment has been offered by Mr. Payne, J.P., I am to state that the Vice-Guardians are undoubtedly not bound to give relief to able-bodied persons who refuse work at reasonable wages; at the same time, the wives and families of such able-bodied men must not be allowed to starve, and the proper course would be to afford the wives and families relief in the work-house (if it is necessary), and to proceed against the able-bodied men under the 2nd section of the Irish Vagrant Act, for wilfully neglecting to maintain their wives and children.

The Commissioners approve of the proposal of the Vice-Guardians to pay at present an instalment of 6*s.* 8*d.* in the pound to the Union creditors; but in reference to the proposal to borrow 3500*l.* at 5*l.* per cent. in anticipation of rates, they desire to observe that the payment of interest on such a loan would not be a legal expenditure; however, if the loan be indispensable, and can be obtained, they will be prepared again to consider the question as to the interest, when the Vice-Guardians may report definitely the terms on which the loan will be made.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 4, 1846.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that Mr. Marshall has taken over the Bantry Union from me until my return, which I hope will not be delayed beyond the end of this month.*

* Mr. Marshall, the Inspector for the Skibbereen Union, with the assistance of Mr. Clarke, one of the Vice-Guardians of the Bantry Union, managed Capt. Gordon's duties until his recovery. He resumed his duties in April.

I beg particularly to refer to the financial state of the Union, which, on a perusal of the minutes of the 28th March, may appear much worse than it really is. The rate struck on the 12th November, 1847, and arrears of rate due on the 29th September, 1847, amount to 6079*l.* 5*s.* 2½*d.*; of this sum upwards of 4300*l.* has now been collected, and I think in another fortnight or three weeks 700*l.* more will be lodged. The entire amounts would have been collected without difficulty if the rate books had been carefully made out: this is not the only drawback, since the clerk did not post the notice of the rate in the regular manner, and the consequence is that no distress can be made, or legal proceedings taken against defaulters, as all that have been tried have failed. Many rescues have taken place, and the assistant barrister at the sessions has been obliged to dismiss the cases in consequence of this negligence on the part of the clerk. Under the circumstances the Vice-Guardians propose to strike another rate upon each division, according to its relative position, on the 25th March, bringing in the arrears; and in order to render the recovery of such arrears legal, Mr. Crawford and myself agreed it would be better to post the notices of the old rate (12th November) at once, and I have communicated with the Vice-Guardians to that effect. The new rate books are now in course of being made out, as far as inserting the names of the townlands valuation fee; and the revisor will, with the assistance of the rate collectors, be enabled to insert the proper names of the occupiers; and all parties have been called upon to state their objections to the last rate. On the rate being struck, I would propose at once to appoint collectors, and to collect first from those who had not paid their last rates; but I do not think it would be advisable to put the entire rate in immediate course of collection, as I am greatly afraid it would stop all employment and impede the vast preparations the farmers are making to crop their lands. If employment was to cease, out-door relief to the able-bodied would ensue, and on its cessation, after a vast amount of expenditure (derived from other sources than the rates), the Union would be in as bad a position as it was in August last, without any available local resources to restore it. I would call the serious attention of the Commissioners to this fact; and, in order to avoid all these evils, a loan to the Union upon the security of the rate must in some way be effected to the amount of from 4000*l.* to 5000*l.* The security I consider very good; and if the Commissioners would give the Vice-Guardians their advice how to act at this trying period, I am quite sure all would proceed in a satisfactory manner.

I enclose an estimate made out to the 29th September next, based upon the expenditure of the half-year ending the 25th March. I have consulted with the Vice-Guardians upon it, and they agree with me, except they perhaps consider the out-door relief too much curtailed. Now, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Crawford, and myself think it might be even still more reduced; since, when the workhouse is emptied of the able-bodied, tickets of admission will be given to the three classes under the 1st section; and this course has proved successful in detecting every abuse, since very few avail themselves of entering the house, and are consequently struck off the lists. By a reference to the minutes, it will be seen how many have been struck off the foregoing lists since the 1st February, mostly owing to the schools; and with respect to in-door relief, Mr. Payne, J.P. (on the part of Lord Bantry and Lord Berehaven), has offered to employ every able-bodied man or woman the Guardians discharge or recommend. By a reference to the enclosed return it will be seen that a 3*s.* rate would have covered the expenditure of the last six months; and a less rate will meet it to the 29th September, even although the relief to the schools might cease previously. The debts on the 29th September, 1847, are a serious evil; and the creditors very justly complain of the conduct of the late Board of Guardians in not striking the rate before.

I consider that the estimate may be depended upon as accurate. It will be seen that the rate falls far heavier upon some divisions than others, and in one (Kilcrohane) it will amount to 10*s.* in the pound; a large part of this, however, will be arrears, since the Commissioners may recollect that the previous collector (Donovan) of the 10*d.* rate never went into that division.

I left with Mr. Marshall a list of those who had not paid their rates, and upon which he will report.

ENCLOSURE in foregoing.

ESTIMATE of EXPENDITURE for each Electoral Division of the Union, from 29th September, 1847, down to the close of September, 1848.

Dr.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Name of each Electoral Division.	Balance against Electoral Division on 29th September, 1847.	Actual Expenditure on Account of In-Maintenance and Out-door Relief, from 29th September, 1847, to the 25th March, 1848.	Estimated Expenditure on Account of In-Maintenance and Out-door Relief for 26 weeks, from 5th March, to the close of September, 1848.	Expenditure, Actual and Estimated, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of September, 1848, on Account of Temporary Fever Hospitals, chargeable to the Union at large.	Establishment and all other Expenses, actual and Estimated, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of September, 1848, including all Debts due on these Accounts to Contractors or other Parties, not charged in the Account of previous Half-year.	Total of Columns 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6.
	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
Bantry	961 17 8	1,207 19 4	1,083 6 8	. . .	493 7 7	3,746 11 3
Kilmocorneyge. . .	598 11 2	523 18 7½	408 8 4	. . .	173 10 4	1,706 8 5½
Durrus, East . . .	139 16 7	122 14 5½	135 8 4	. . .	89 4 3	487 3 7½
Durrus, West . . .	281 3 10	274 8 9½	371 11 8	. . .	141 13 5	1,068 17 8½
Kilcrohane	706 14 1	446 10 1½	533 0 0	. . .	225 7 8	1,912 0 10½
Kilcaskare	299 11 4	516 4 5½	270 16 8	. . .	153 17 8	1,240 10 1½
Kilcatherineen . .	50 8 3	373 3 2	379 12 0	. . .	485 5 7	1,291 9 11
Killaconenagh . .	132 17 8½	434 5 5½	435 10 0	. . .	158 2 0	1,160 15 2
Kilnamanagh . . .	51 12 4	436 12 2	312 13 0	. . .	217 10 10	1,018 8 4
Union	. . .	. . .	110 10 0	. . .	. . .	110 10 0
Total Union . . .	3,222 12 11½	4,340 5 6½	4,040 16 8	. . .	2,138 19 4	13,742 14 6½

Cr.
Column 1	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
Name of each Electoral Division.	Balance in favour of Electoral Division on 29th September, 1847.	Amount of Rate uncollected on 29th September, 1847.	Amount of any New Rate made since 29th September, 1847.	Total of Columns 8, 9, and 10.	Excess of Amount (if any) of Column 7 over the Amount of Column 11, being the Amount of additional Rate which would be required to supply the deficiency of the present Rate to the close of September, 1848.	Amount per Pound of such additional Rate on the Valuation.	Excess (if any) of Amount of Column 11 over the Amount of Column 7, being the Amount of Balance which the present Rate would leave to the Credit of the Division, over and above the Expenditure to the close of September, 1848.
	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	s. d.	£. s. d.
Bantry	. . .	117 4 0	1,523 7 6	1,640 11 6	2,105 19 9	4 2	. . .
Kilmocorneyge. . .	. . .	63 5 1½	543 2 6	606 7 7½	1,100 0 10	6 5½	. . .
Durrus, East . . .	. . .	27 9 11	356 17 1	384 7 0	102 15 7½	1 0½	. . .
Durrus, West . . .	. . .	34 3 5½	396 17 8	431 1 1½	637 16 6½	3 6½	. . .
Kilcrohane	. . .	116 11 8½	416 18 4	533 10 0½	1,378 10 10	10 0	. . .
Kilcaskare	. . .	35 5 9	345 8 10	380 14 7	859 15 6½	7 6	. . .
Kilcatherineen . .	. . .	24 1 5½	435 2 4	459 3 9½	832 5 2½	5 10	. . .
Killaconenagh . .	. . .	101 15 10	655 18 1	757 13 11	403 1 3	2 1	. . .
Kilnamanagh . . .	. . .	23 16 0½	861 19 7	885 15 7½	132 12 8½	0 7½	. . .
Union	. . .	. . .	. . .	. . .	110 10 0	0 1½	. . .
Total Union . . .	. . .	543 13 3½	5,535 11 11	6,079 5 2½	7,663 9 4	4 2	. . .

Numbers to be Relieved, and Cost of Relief on which the foregoing Estimate of Expenditure for Relief is based.
Column 1	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26
Name of each Electoral Division.	Actual Number of Paupers chargeable to the Division at the close of the first Week of February, 1848.		Estimated Number of Paupers who will be relieved Weekly on the average of the 34 Weeks, from the close of the first Week of February, to the close of September, 1848.		Actual Cost of Relief during the first Week of February, 1848.		Estimated Weekly Cost of Relief on the average of the 34 Weeks, down to the close of September, 1848.		Actual average Cost of Relief per head, during first Week of February, 1848.		Estimated average Cost of Relief per head Weekly, during 34 Weeks, down to the close of September, 1848.
	In Work-house.	On Out-door Relief Lists.	In Work-house.	On Out-door Relief Lists.	In Work-house.	In Out-door Relief.	In Work-house.	In Out-door Relief.	In Work-house.	In Out-door Relief.	In Work-house.	In Out-door Relief.
					£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
Bantry	277	2,266	206	1,200	22 1 4	59 12 2½	14 3 4	27 10 0	1 7	0 6½	1 5	0 5½
Kilmocorneyge. . .	75	1,160	60	500	4 15 9	29 8 10½	4 5 0	11 9 2	1 7	0 6	1 5	0 5½
Durrus, East . . .	37	339	25	150	2 16 0	6 2 6	1 15 5	3 8 9	1 7	0 4½	1 5	0 5½
Durrus, West . . .	191	308	150	160	14 13 8	6 8 2½	10 12 6	3 13 4	1 7	0 5½	1 5	0 5½
Kilcrohane	190	598	160	400	14 17 2	11 1 3½	11 6 8	9 3 4	1 7	0 4½	1 5	0 5½
Kilcaskare	40	630	50	300	4 5 0	17 5 3½	3 10 10	6 17 6	1 7	0 6½	1 5	0 5½
Kilcatherineen . .	12	978	12	600	1 16 2	24 16 3	0 17 0	13 15 0	1 7	0 6	1 5	0 5½
Killaconenagh . .	10	1,141	10	700	1 16 2	28 1 1½	0 14 2	16 10 0	1 7	0 6	1 5	0 5½
Kilnamanagh . . .	8	957	8	500	1 15 5	27 1 4	0 11 4	11 9 2	1 7	0 6½	1 5	0 5½
Union	67	..	60	..	4 15 9	..	4 5 0	..	1 7	..	1 5	..
Total Union . . .	906	8,377	735	4,510	73 12 5	209 17 1½	52 1 3	103 7 1	..	..	..	..

Note.—The expenditure on account of paupers chargeable to the Union at large is to be included in the several columns, duly apportioned on the several electoral divisions.

Estimate of Expenditure for each Electoral Division of the Union, &c.—continued.

Bantry Union.

BALANCE.*

Dr.								Cr.
	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.		£.	s.	d.
Total Col. 2	3,222	12	11½				Total Col. 8
" Col. 3	4,340	5	6½				" Col. 9	543	13	3½
" Col. 4	4,040	16	8				" Col. 10	5,535	11	11
" Col. 5							" Col. 11				6,079 5 2½
" Col. 6	2,138	19	4				" Col. 12				7,663 9 4
" Col. 7				13,742	14	6½
" Col. 14
				£13,742	14	6½					£13,742 14 6½

April 4, 1848.

H. N. GORDON.

* The clerk is requested to balance the several Columns in the above Form.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 19, 1848.

I AM to state that your suggestions with regard to the making and collection of a new rate shall receive the Commissioners' attention.

I am at the same time to state, that a loan of 1000*l.* has been recently advanced to the Vice-Guardians.

Captain GORDON to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 4, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your information two extracts from the Cork Examiner of the 27th March, relative to the decease of two children in the electoral division of Kilcathereen.

Mr. Clarke visited the district on the 31st March, and has further informed me that the father, Michael Downing, is an able-bodied man, and well able to work; that one of the children had an evil in the jaw, upon which an operation was performed a short time ago; that Downing has land, hay, &c. He was offered work at the drainage, which he only availed himself of for half a-day, and his children got rations every day in the schools. Downing is now employed by Dr. Lefebure on his farm.

I also enclose the answers of the relieving officer and superintendents of schools to certain queries put to them by me; and it may be seen that Michael Downing allowed his two children to starve before his face sooner than work for his daily hire.

I have thought fit to forward this statement, since the extract in the Examiner might have attracted the attention of the Commissioners.

ENCLOSURES.

I.

Destitution in Bearhaven.

ELSEWHERE will be found a communication describing the case of a man whose children died of starvation in the above part of the country. The records of distress contain nothing more affecting than the case of this poor family, endeavouring to struggle against their fate, and obliged to subsist upon the bread which the children received at school, until the younger and weaker members sank at length under the sacrifices of filial affection. We have been compelled to suppress part of the testimony given by the unhappy wife, which is too humbling to human nature to excite any other feeling than disgust. Unfortunately, the case of Michael Downing is the case of hundreds in the same district, who were once farmers like him, and have been reduced to experience the same disappointments under the Poor Law and the system of "reproductive employment," as carried out there. It reflects credit upon the authors of the communication referred to, that the daily encounter of such awful misery as prevails around them, has not disheartened them from exposing it to the notice and sympathy of the public.

II.

*How the Poor Law is administered.*To the Editor of the "Cork Examiner:"—March 13, 1848.

I BEG leave to transmit for insertion in your highly-prized journal, the accompanying communication just now handed me by Dr. Lefebure, the humane dispensary physician for Kilcathereen parish, regarding a post-mortem examination of a few cases, out of many deaths from destitution, which have this time back occurred, and are still occurring amongst my starving parishioners. Had I more timely notice of the communication, I would have added a long catalogue of the most heart-rending deaths which have taken place for the last two months in this wretched parish, in consequence of the most awful poverty which exists this year, with as little mitigation as it did last year.

Bantry Union.

I have, &c.

DANIEL HEALY, P.P.

Michael Downing's evidence.—I am the father of those children now dead—Catherine Downing, aged eight years, and Johanna Downing, aged six years; gave up possession of his land to Mr. James Downing, of Castletown, who gave him 6d. for taking care of the land and house two years; made no use of the land since.

What was the matter with those children; had they any sickness?—No.

What did they die of?—Starvation.

Did you apply for relief, and to whom did you apply?—I did, to the relieving officer, Mr. Anthony Nicholson.

What answer did you get?—To go to work.

Did you get work?—No; I got a ticket from Dan Glaney.

How long since you applied for relief?—After being with you in Castletown.

What did you ask for the second time you applied?—For some provisions for my children.

What answer did you get?—I got a ticket to go to work.

Did you go to work?—I did.

Did you get the work?—I worked part of the day, and was obliged to leave with others, who had been at work before me, and left it because they could not support themselves.

When did you again apply?—The day after you were up here.

What answer did you get on that day?—I could get nothing until you gave better accounts with some other sickness than starvation.

Did you go again?—I did, indeed, until I got tired of it.

How long were you going?—Three weeks.

Did your wife go?—She did.

Did any other person from you go?—No, I had no one else.

Did the relieving officer, Mr. Nicholson, ever visit your house?—No, he did not.

Did you ask him?—I did.

What answer did he give when you asked him to go to your house?—That he was in a hurry; it was too far off; he was going to Ardgroom to the school-house.

Were those children going to the school?—They were, Sir.

Did they get rations every day?—Sometimes they did, Sir.

How many children of yours went to the school?—Four, Sir.

Did the four get rations every day?—No, Sir.

Did they at any time?—They did get it part of the week.

How long were they in school when they got the four rations the part of the week?—I could not say truly at what time when the oldest was turned out.

What do you mean by being turned out; is it that she was sent out of the school?—No, Sir, but not to get rations.

Are the others getting rations now?—No, Sir.

When did they get them last?—They got one brick yesterday.

When were they last at school?—They were not at school this month; they could not go.

Why could not they go there?—Being weak; and they could not go through starvation in the want of provisions.

How many bricks used they to get each day?—Some days I used to get three; some days two, and some days nothing.

How can you say the children died of want or starvation, when they were getting rations at the school?—For there was six of us trusting to that bread at school; because I could not get rations; I did not use one stone of meal since, and was only but gathering sea-weeds and little crehanes out of the tillage.

Did you dig potatoes out of stubbles?—No, Sir.

Did you where oats were sown?—Yes, Sir.

Was it the year before this that potatoes were in that field?—No, Sir; two years ago, and I was often digging for mauchins (machins).

What are mauchins?—I could not English it; some kind of roots in the form of carrots.

What colour are they?—White colour, Sir.

When did these poor children eat anything?—I do not know, Sir; I had to go to work for my diet for another man.

What made you leave the work at the drains?—Because I could not support myself; I got but one pint of meal for the two days I was working.

Do you mean to say that you got but one pint of meal for two days?—Yes, Sir.

MICHAEL DOWNING.

Norry Downing's evidence interpreted by Mr. E. O'Sullivan.

Are you the mother of those children?—Yes, sir.

Were either of your children sick?—Yes, one since that time.

What time?—Five weeks ago.

What ailed the children then?—Hunger and distress; no sickness, only distress.

[The woman proceeded to give a shocking account of the way in which they were affected from eating sea-weed.]

Were any of them sick before this?—No, except when they had fever last year.

Had not one of them evil in her jaw?—Oh, yes, two years last August.

Was she ever sick with it since?—No, never, indeed.

How can you say they died of want, when they were at school getting rations?—Two used sometimes to get it, and then the father, myself, and four children depended on it.

Used they get the rations regularly?—They used not to get it only sometimes; one week three times, twice some weeks.

How many children of yours went to school?—There were four; one was scratched out after the first week.

Did the others get it regularly?—Weeks they used to get it but twice; weeks three times; the day they would get three, next day but two; and next never a one. She used to be sometimes on her way to make a complaint that she was not getting her right; that they would follow her, and tell her to come back; that when the master would come, she should get rations, though the night before she was told there was no bread for her.

Who called you back?—The man of the house.

Who told you there was no bread for your children?—The master.

Were you ever going but the once?—She was never going but the once.

HONORA DOWNING.

Witnessed by Eugene O'Sullivan and Mark O'Sullivan.

I certify that I made a post-mortem examination of the body of Johanna Downing, of Kilcathreen, aged six years; from the appearance of the viscera, and finding no traces of previous disease, I am fully of opinion her death was caused by extreme destitution.

M. M. LEFEBURE, M.R.C.S.L.

March 7, 1848.

Copy of Dan Glaney's ticket, when Michael Downing applied for work the first time.

I consider the bearers objects.

Copy of the Relieving Officer's ticket to get him work.

Please, Mr. Sullivan, employ bearer on Lord Bantry's property; he applied for a ticket to the workhouse.

A. NICHOLSON, Relieving Officer.

Doctor Lefebure's certificate handed to the Relieving Officer, in order to obtain relief.

I certify that Michael Downing's wife and two children are sinking fast from want and starvation.

M. B. LEFEBURE, M.R.C.S.L.

January 23, 1848.

III.

Queries for Anthony Nicholson, Relieving Officer, Kilcathreen.

In the Cork Examiner of the 27th March appears a statement from the Rev. D. Healy, P.P., and followed by an examination of Michael and Norry Downing (or Downey), whose children, Catherine and Johanna, aged eight years and six years respectively, are said to have died of famine.

Mr. Nicholson will be good enough to state, in detail, any further particulars; and also to say whether Michael Downing is an able-bodied labourer; since, if he was, Mr. Nicholson has acted quite correctly in offering him work.

Mr. Nicholson will also endeavour to detail further respecting the sixpence given Downing to take care of the house and land for two years; also who the immediate landlord is; and who ordered the sixpence to be given.

Answers.

For Captain Gordon's information, I beg to state that Catherine Downing, aged eight years, and Johanna Downing, six years, stated to have died of famine on the 6th of March, were for the last two months receiving their portion of the British Association relief.

On the 28th of January last, Michael Downing, an able-bodied man of 40 years, applied for out-door relief, which I refused; but gave a ticket to the overseer of the drainage, to give him work at Ardgroom, on Lord Bantry's estate.

Mary Downing, daughter to Michael, an intelligent girl about 15 years, stated to me that it was her opinion her father never gave up the possession of the land, and she never heard him say he got any money for taking care of the same; and from what Downing has stated to myself, I am sure he is still in possession of the land; on the 29th instant he sold to Doctor Lefebure a cock of hay, part of last year's crop, and acknowledges to have a share in a boat and seine.

Bantry Union.

Had Michael Downing given up his land?

Michael Downing held the land from Samuel Hutchins, Esq., of Ardnagashal.

ANTHONY NICHOLSON,
Relieving Officer, Kilcathereen.

Captain Gordon requires this paper, with answers on the opposite margin, to be returned as soon as possible; it must, in fact, reach him on Sunday at latest, since Captain Gordon is going to Cork.

H. W. GORDON,
Captain, 59th Regiment.

Bantry, March 29, 1848.

IV.

Queries for Parish Superintendent of Kilcathereen schools.

Answers.

A report appears in the Cork Examiner of the 27th March, stating that Catherine and Johanna Downing (or Downey), aged eight and six years respectively, had died of famine. The superintendent will state whether they were on the school roll; and if so, why they did not get bread daily. He will further state, if they were not receiving rations, why they were not on the list. In fact, he will state all particulars.

H. W. GORDON,
Captain, 59th Regiment.

Bantry, March 29, 1848.

This must be returned, so as to reach Captain Gordon on Sunday, since he goes away on Monday.

In visiting West Kilcathereen Roman Catholic school, I had been informed by John M'Carthy, teacher, that four of Michael Downing's children were receiving the bounty of the British Relief Association in his school daily, until its rules disqualified the elder, Mary Downing, age 16 years; the other three got their bread daily, in health and sickness, with the exception of one day that none of Downing's family called for it until late in the day, though they lived very convenient to the school; all the bread was issued out by the time that the member of Downing's family came for it; this had been the only excepted day that Downing's family were left without bread, which the above teacher is willing to prove. The above John M'Carthy went with me to Downing's house, where we met the said Mary Downing, who corroborated John M'Carthy's statement. She said that the whole family were six in number, and lived on what they got in school; and that her two sisters who died were only after recovering from the small-pox.

I certify that the above information is correct.

DANIEL SULLIVAN, Superintendent.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 7, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 4th instant, with respect to the inquest on the bodies of two children, named Catherine and Johanna Downing, who are stated to have died of starvation.

The Commissioners observe by the statements of the relieving officer and the superintendent of the school at which these children attended, that they and another child of Michael Downing's received rations, whether attending or at home sick, daily, except for one day upon which the rations were not sent for until all the bread had been distributed; also that these children died after small-pox; that their father was provided with work on Lord Bantry's estate, but refused to continue at the employment; that he is known to have occupied land, and is believed still to retain possession of it; also that he has a share in a fishing boat and seine net; notwithstanding which, and his possessing hay, sold on the 29th ultimo, he and his family appear to have used the school rations issued for the children.

The Commissioners recommend, with a view to the punishment of such men as Michael Downing, that the attention of the relieving officers be drawn in a particular manner to the 2nd section of the Act 10 and 11 Vic., c. 84, under which any man who wilfully neglects to maintain his wife or child may be sentenced by the magistrates to imprisonment and hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

TUAM UNION.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain LABALMONDIERE:—March 2, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under their consideration the subject of the duration of the out-door relief at present afforded to able-bodied poor persons in Unions in Ireland; more especially in reference to the labour wanted at this season of the year for the cultivation of the land, and the employment provided under the Land Improvement Act, 6 and 7 Vic., cap. 32; also the assistance afforded to the labouring classes in 24 Unions, which comprise the most distressed parts of Ireland, by the rations given, from funds supplied by the British Association, to all children attending the public schools.

The Commissioners deem it desirable to determine or to suspend, on the 18th of March instant, all orders under the 2nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men; and the Commissioners wish to know whether, in your opinion, there would be any decided objection to this course in the Union of which you are Inspector.

You will be good enough to report to the Commissioners on this subject, at your earliest convenience.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS in reply:—March 6, 1848.

REFERRING to your circular dated March 2nd, I have to state that in my opinion, the suspension of the order authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men in this Union, if carried into effect as proposed on the 18th instant, will be attended with most disastrous consequences; the in-door accommodation for paupers being wholly insufficient for the amount of destitution which exists.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain LABALMONDIERE:—March 10, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 6th instant, stating your opinion with reference to a suspension of the order authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men in the Tuam Union; and I am to convey to you the thanks of the Commissioners for your communication.

I am at the same time to state that, the Commissioners will not withdraw the order for out-door relief in the Tuam Union on the 18th instant, on the grounds stated in your report, that from the large amount of destitution existing in that Union, owing to the want of employment, such a course could not be pursued with safety.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 4, 1848.

WE have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 26th February, relative to the death of a man, named John Hynes, at Dunmore, in the Tuam Union, and in reference thereto we have to inform you that from inquiries we have made on the subject, we are led to believe that John Hynes died from exposure and want. It further appears that the deceased applied to the relieving officer on the 11th February, and received a ticket for admission to the workhouse on that day; but it does not appear that he ever applied for admission. The deceased was a strolling beggar and a dealer in rags. He had been in the workhouse in December last, and left it of his own accord immediately after his admission.

It does not appear that blame is attributable to the relieving officer in the matter, but that deceased died from his own neglect in not accepting workhouse relief.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—March 9, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a report which they have received from the Vice-Guardians of the Tuam Union, relative to the death of a man, named John Hynes, at Dunmore, in that Union.

Tuam Union.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 9, 1848.

MANY of the observations upon the state of this Union which I find should have formed a part of this report, were inserted by me in mistake in the diary which I forwarded on Saturday last. I have since visited two other of the electoral divisions, viz., Cloonbern and Lisgeevy. In the former, though many of the applicants appeared extremely miserable, they nearly in every instance refused to go to the workhouse when that test was offered them. In the latter, though apparently less distressed, many accepted the offer of admission, but as in a late instance only two families out of about 80 who accepted it appeared at the workhouse, it may reasonably be presumed that a very small portion of those to whom tickets were given had really any idea of acting upon them. Throughout the Union, I am convinced that when the Vice-Guardians shall have been able to revise the lists of those admitted to the out-door relief by the late Board of Guardians, many will be found to be in the receipt of it whose circumstances do not entitle them to it.

I beg to direct your attention to the circumstance that, from the refusal of the storekeeper in charge of the implements belonging to the Board of Public Works to deliver them up until his claims for arrears of salary are satisfied, stone-breaking has not yet begun. It is most requisite that steps should be taken to prevent its further postponement.

The Vice-Guardians have again applied to the Commissioners of Public Works on this subject. They propose to adopt the forms for work performed in each week, which are in use in the Kanturk Union, and which appear well calculated to check idleness and fraud.

The issue of relief in this Union appears to have been so procrastinated by the late Board of Guardians, that the time of the Vice-Guardians has been hitherto almost fully occupied in actually preventing the people from dying, and they have hardly had leisure to devote their attention to the internal affairs of the workhouse, in which a lamentable want of system appears to have prevailed. Improvement is however visible, and I have no doubt that a very short time under the able management of Mr. Lucas, will bring about a very different state of things.

The boys are still in the workhouse, but application has been made to the proprietor of a large building at Headford, with a view to its conversion into an auxiliary workhouse for them.

The girls' school in the town of Tuam appears well kept and in good order.

An extraordinary hysterical affection is prevalent in the workhouse among the younger of the female paupers. There are 17 or 18 of them subject to these attacks, which the medical officer has been unable to overcome, and which appears to be catching, as the officers report that when the paupers are assembled together, if one girl is seized a number of the others are immediately similarly affected, and drop without any premonitory symptom. One who was giving evidence yesterday had two of these attacks consecutively in the Board-room. The medical officer attributes them to a want of sufficient exercise.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 11, 1848.

THE Commissioners have forwarded to the Board of Works a copy of that part of your report which relates to the supply of implements, required for the employment of able-bodied poor persons receiving out-door relief.

The Commissioners have also forwarded to the Central Board of Health an extract relative to the prevalence of hysteria among the young female paupers in the workhouse.

Mr. LUCAS, Vice-Guardian, to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 11, 1848.

WITH reference to the enclosed application from the agent of Wm. Burke, Esq., for aid in the emigration of certain parties named therein, under the provisions of the 13th section of the 10th Vic., cap. 31, I have to request the Commissioners' directions in the matter.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. BROWNE to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—March 11, 1848.

As agent to Wm. Burke, Esq., I have just arranged for the emigration of two families on his estate of Kilcreevanty, in the electoral division of Killannon, viz.:—

Wm. Mongan, wife, and three children, rated under 5*l*.; contribution of landlord, 12*l*.

Wm. Clarke, wife, and six children, rated under 5*l*.; contribution of landlord, 12*l*.

The landlord besides gives a receipt for a heavy arrear of rent. Their passage can now be settled in Galway for America if you be pleased to give the assistance afforded by the Poor Law Act.

Tuam Union.

Ages of the Families.

William Mongan		40 years.
Wife		30 "
Girl		9 "
Ditto		5 "
Boy		2 "
William Clarke		40 "
Wife		30 "
Girl		17 "
Boy		15 "
Girl		13 "
Ditto		4 "
Ditto		3 "
Ditto		1½ "

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS, in reply :—March 15, 1848.

WITH reference to Mr. Lucas's letter of the 11th instant, enclosing an application for assistance to enable certain parties to emigrate under the provisions of the 13th section of the Act 10 Vic., cap. 31, and requesting the Commissioners' instructions relative thereto, I am directed by the Commissioners to request that you will be so good as to satisfy yourselves by personal examination of the parties as to their willingness to emigrate on the conditions specified in the statute, and also ascertain to what part of America it is intended they should go; and further, whether the sum contributed by the landlord, together with the sum limited by the statute as payable from the poor rates, will be sufficient to provide for the emigration of the families.

I am at the same time to inform you that the Commissioners are in communication with Earl Grey on the subject of the approval required by the 13th section of the Act referred to.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Right Hon. Earl GREY :—March 15, 1848.

THE Commissioners have the honour to forward herewith, for your Lordship's information, a copy of a communication which they have received from Mr. Lucas, Vice-Guardian of the Tuam Union, enclosing an application (a copy of which is also transmitted) for assistance to enable certain parties to emigrate, under the provisions of the Act 10 Vic., cap. 31.

I am at the same time to state, for your Lordship's information, that these are the first cases which have arisen under that section.

The Commissioners request that they may be informed of your Lordship's views as to the course which should be taken to ascertain whether the occupiers named by Mr. Browne be fit and proper persons to be admitted as emigrants.

The Commissioners have directed the Vice-Guardians to satisfy themselves, by personal examination of the parties, as to their willingness to emigrate on the conditions specified in the statute, and also to ascertain to what part of America they should go; and whether the sum contributed by the landlord, together with the sum limited by the statute as payable from the poor rates, will be sufficient to provide for the emigration of the families.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 18, 1848.

SINCE the date of my last report, I have received from the agent of the British Association, authority to extend their relief to the children attending the free-schools in the Union, and a remittance and provision order for the furtherance of this object. I have, in conjunction with the Vice-Guardians, hired a large bakery, in which we propose to bake not only for the schools but for the work-house consumption, until an oven is erected there, and by which we may anticipate,

Tuam Union.

I think, a considerable saving. The issue of food from the Association funds will naturally be a great assistance to the rates, but I have not been able yet to form any estimate to what extent it will operate as an aid.

Considerable pressure for relief still exists, but it is perceptibly diminishing; and I have hopes that when, from the subsidence of the floods, the drainage works can be recommenced, and when the stone-breaking test is in full operation, the lists of the able-bodied on the out-door relief will be very greatly reduced, even if they cannot with safety be altogether discontinued.

This would be more easy of accomplishment could a suitable house be obtained for the pauper boys, which I think we may shortly effect, though the Vice-Guardians' efforts to procure one for them have hitherto failed.

I cannot say much for the improvement of the interior of the workhouse in the last week—I see none.

I beg to call your particular attention to the circumstances as detailed in yesterday's "minutes of proceedings" in connexion with the master's report, by which it appears that for the present, at least, the Vice-Guardians are deprived of the power of punishing refractory paupers, by procuring their committal by the bench of magistrates, they having declined to convict in consequence of there being no room in Galway gaol. The inevitable result of this powerlessness to punish must be insubordination among the inmates of the workhouse.

A revisor for the Union was yesterday approved of by the Vice-Guardians; and it being understood that he is to furnish his valuation of each electoral division as completed, by striking the rates for each separately, they may place themselves in funds for carrying on the affairs of the Union at an earlier period than if they delayed striking a rate for the whole Union, until the entire valuation is finished.

It will not, however, be in their power to carry on even until the first instalments of the new collection are lodged, without a further advance on the credit of the rate about to be made.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 23, 1848.

WITH reference to your statement, that in consequence of the crowded state of the gaol of Galway the magistrates refuse to punish refractory paupers by committal to prison, I am to call your attention to the regulations of the Commissioners for the punishment of such paupers, as set forth in their General Order of the 5th of June, 1844.

With reference to your statement that it will not be in the power of the Vice-Guardians to provide relief for the destitute, until such time as a portion of the rate about to be made by them shall be lodged with the treasurer, without receiving a further advance of money on the credit of the rates, I am to state that the Commissioners will be prepared to entertain any further representation from yourself or the Vice-Guardians on the subject.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—March 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you the enclosed copy of a circular letter which they have addressed to the Temporary Inspectors of Unions, relative to the suspension, on the 18th instant, of all orders authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men under the 2nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act.

I am at the same time to state that, the Commissioners are desirous of being informed of your opinion with regard to the substitution in the Tuam Union, for the order above referred to, of a limited order authorizing the dispensation of out-door relief to destitute poor persons, being children, whose parents are both dead; or being widows with one child dependent on them, respectively; or being able-bodied men, one or more members of whose families, dependent on them for support, are affected by severe sickness or serious accident.

ENCLOSURE.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
March 2, 1848.*

THE Commissioners have had under their consideration the subject of the duration of the out-door relief, at present afforded to able-bodied poor persons in Unions in Ireland;

more especially in reference to the labour wanted at this season of the year for the cultivation of the land, and the employment provided under the Land Improvement Act, 6 and 7 Vict. c. 32; also the assistance afforded to the labouring classes in 24 Unions, which comprise the most distressed parts of Ireland, by the rations given from funds supplied by the British Association, to all children attending the public schools.

The Commissioners deem it desirable to determine or suspend, on the 18th of March instant, all orders under the 2nd section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men; and the Commissioners wish to know whether, in your opinion, there would be any decided objection to this course in the Union of which you are Inspector.

You will be good enough to report to the Commissioners on this subject at your earliest convenience.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To

Temporary Poor Law Inspector of the Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS in reply :—March 18, 1848.

WE have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 15th instant, relative to the suspension of the order authorizing out-door relief to able-bodied men in Tuam Union, and the substitution of a limited order. In reference thereto we have to state, that owing to the great destitution existing in the Union, and the want of general employment, we fear that disastrous consequences would result from the order issued under section 2 of the 10 Vict., c. 31, being suspended on the 18th instant.

We consider the proposed modified order authorizing the dispensation of out-door relief to able-bodied men, one or more members of whose families, dependent on them for support, are affected by severe sickness or serious accident, open to grave objections. The impositions that would be attempted to be practised would moreover, entail the necessity of appointing medical officers, under the 5th section of the 10th Vict. cap. 31.

Our arrangements for carrying out the order for out-door relief to the able-bodied will be in partial operation in the coming week, and we beg to assure the Commissioners that we have every reason to believe, that the system we have adopted will hold out no inducement to the people to forsake the legitimate labour of the country.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 22, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners will not interfere with the operation of the existing order, and they rely on your carrying out that order judiciously and with effect, both in the relief of destitution, and the protection of the rates from unnecessary expenditure.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 18, 1848.

WITH reference to your communication of the 15th instant, relative to the emigration of certain parties under the provisions of the 13th section of the Act 10 Vic., cap. 31, we have to inform you that we have satisfied ourselves by personal examination of the parties as to their willingness to emigrate on the conditions specified in the statute. Toronto, in Canada, is the place of their destination.

A second application for aid is herewith annexed, and we are desirous of complying with its request.

From inquiry, we are led to believe that the sum contributed by the landlord, together with the sum limited by the statute, will be sufficient to provide for the emigration of the families.

A list of the names and ages of the emigrants is herewith enclosed, together with the cost of the emigration of each family.

It is proposed that the persons should embark at Galway, and it is desirable that no delay should arise, as the vessel sails on the 1st April.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. BROWNE to Mr. LUCAS, Vice-Guardian :—March 19, 1848.

In addition to the two families I proposed to send to America from the electoral

6 H

Tuam Union.

Tuam Union.

division of Kilbannon, Mr. Burke, the landlord, contributing two-thirds of the cost, I have to add five other families, viz. :—

Pat Nicholson, wife and eight children.
 John Glyn, wife and one child.
 Michael Hughes, wife and three children.
 John Connelly, wife and eight children.
 Thady Boyle, and three children.

Name.	Age.	Cost of each Person.			Total.	Name.	Age.	Cost of each Person.			Total.
		£.	s.	d.	£. s. d.			£.	s.	d.	£. s. d.
William Mogan .	34	4	10	0	15 15 0	John Glyn . .	36	4	10	0	11 5 0
Wife . .	32	4	10	0		Wife . .	30	4	10	0
Kitty . .	8	2	5	0		Mary . .	1	2	5	0
Mary . .	4	2	5	0		William Clarke .	44	4	10	0	24 15 0
John . .	2	2	5	0		Wife . .	36	4	10	0
Pat Nicholson .	45	4	10	0	40 10 0	Peggy . .	14	4	10	0
Wife . .	40	4	10	0		Martin . .	12	4	10	0
John . .	21	4	10	0		James . .	4	2	5	0
Andy . .	18	4	10	0		Mary . .	2	2	5	0
Patsy . .	15	4	10	0		Baby . .	1	2	5	0
Mary . .	13	4	10	0		Thady Boyle .	40	4	10	0	15 15 0
Stephen . .	12	4	10	0		Thomas . .	13	4	10	0
Peter . .	10	4	10	0		Edmund . .	11	4	10	0
Mary . .	7	2	5	0		Michael . .	7	2	5	0
Peggy . .	3	2	5	0		Total cost . .	..	..	..	..	166 10 0
Michael Hughes	44	4	10	0	24 15 0						£. s. d.
Wife . .	42	4	10	0		Landlord's share					111 0 0
Bridget . .	17	4	10	0		Electoral Division Poor Rate .					55 10 0
Pat . .	14	4	10	0		Total					166 10 0
Thomas . .	10	4	10	0
Mick . .	4	2	5	0	33 15 0
John Connelly .	40	4	10	0
Wife . .	40	4	10	0
Thade . .	18	4	10	0
Mick . .	17	4	10	0
Mary . .	13	4	10	0
Kate . .	11	4	10	0
Thomas . .	7	2	5	0
Pat . .	4	2	5	0
William . .	2	2	5	0

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 22, 1848.

I AM to inform you that the Commissioners are in communication with Earl Grey upon the subject, and upon hearing from his Lordship, they will again address you.

Further LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS :—
March 29, 1848.

REFERRING to your letter of the 18th, and to Mr. Lucas's letter of the 11th instant, forwarding lists of persons desirous of emigrating from the Tuam Union to British North America, and to the letters of the Commissioners in reply, bearing date respectively the 15th and 22nd instant, I am directed by the Commissioners to inform you that they have not yet received any reply from Earl Grey, but that rather than disappoint the parties who, it appears, expected to sail from the port of Galway on the 1st proximo, and defeat the arrangements which have been made, they take on themselves the responsibility of saying, that if you deem it right to conclude the transaction at once, they will make a favourable representation on the subject to Earl Grey.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 16, 1848.

IN accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 1st instant, we beg leave to submit to your consideration the following observations relative to the general state of the Tuam Union, when the administration of its affairs first devolved on us, and also on the state of the Union at the present time.

It may be more convenient that we should first advert to the financial affairs of the Union, as these were necessarily our first care.

It appeared that the total amount of rate and arrears of rate put in collection in the months of August and September last, was 6,748*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.*; whilst the liabilities of the Union to the 31st August last, exclusive of the debt for temporary relief purposes and workhouse loans, amounted to 6,692*l.* 13*s.* 5*d.*, leaving only a balance of 55*l.* 7*s.* 3½*d.* available for carrying on the expenses of the Union, supposing the whole amount of rate and arrears of rate to be collected. Great neglect is here exhibited in not having made the poundage rates sufficiently high even to meet the ordinary expenses of the Union. The providing funds for the due administration of relief under the amended Irish Poor Relief Acts, seems altogether to have been lost sight of. The result of this neglect has been, that a debt of upwards of 5,000*l.* had accumulated. The Union had long since ceased to possess any credit with its treasurer. All the contracts for provisions and other supplies were enormously high, the parties tendering considering the chances of payment when preparing their estimates: for instance, the contract for Indian meal had been taken for 11*l.* 10*s.* per ton; whole meal 14*l.* per ton, and oaten meal 15*l.* per ton.

The necessary efforts had not been made even to collect this very insufficient rate, the Guardians themselves being in many instances defaulters, also persons of rank and station in the Union, and even the Chairman had refused to pay his rates, and it was only on being threatened with legal proceedings, that he paid the amount.

There remained the large arrear of 2,083*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.* uncollected on the 19th February. The following legal proceedings have at various times been instituted against the Board of Guardians since the opening of the workhouse:—On the 17th February, 1845, the Poor Law Commissioners procured a writ of mandamus to be served on the Guardians to compel them to issue to the rate collectors the warrants for the collection of the rate struck on the 24th October, 1842, and amounting to 1,796*l.* 10*s.*, but which were not issued until the 20th of October, 1845.

In January, 1844, Thomas Brennan, contractor for clothing to the Union, sued the Board for the sum of 113*l.*, including law costs, and obtained a sheriff's sale on the property in the workhouse, which realized only 103*l.* 19*s.* 8*d.* A part of the property was subsequently repurchased by the Board; the whole transaction producing a loss to the Union of 163*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*

A. Thom, printer, also served a writ upon the Board for 26*l.*, in January, 1844, but did not take any further proceedings.

Several other writs have been served on the Guardians, to which they have entered pleas of confession.

The financial prospects of the Union are further embarrassed by the defective state of the present valuation. On the 27th November last the Commissioners pressed on the Guardians the necessity of appointing a revisor without delay; this recommendation appears to have been totally disregarded at the time; and although the Guardians declared at their meeting on the 8th November, their opinion that a new rate could not be made on the present valuation, yet they took no steps in the matter until the 29th January.

As to the management of the workhouse, we beg to state that great neglect was visible in every department: the paupers squalid, listless, and idle; the yards and appurtenances neglected and dirty; the hospital was the only exception to the general inefficiency of the establishment. The bedding and clothing were shamefully neglected, more particularly the former, which was infested with vermin.

We found that a system of giving extra rations (meat) to paupers had existed to an extravagant extent, the plea being, that they were required to perform services of trust, although the usual number of paid officers for the workhouse had been appointed. The weekly cost of the officers' rations, including the extra allowances adverted to, amounted to the large sum of 8*l.*

With regard to the books required by your order to be kept by the master of the workhouse, it was found that neither the clothing account-books, the weekly relief lists and abstract, nor the inventory-book, had been kept; and the register of paupers was incorrect. The result of all this irregularity has been, that a great quantity of the stores and clothing have disappeared. The present master had only been appointed three weeks; and as no inventory appears to have been taken when he entered on his duties, it is difficult to say how far he is blameable in the matter.

Tuam Union.

We may here remark that neither the clerk, master, nor matron, had ever been called on to give security for the performance of their several duties.

The site of the workhouse, possessing many advantages from its position, had remained without cultivation (with the exception of a small portion which was cultivated by the officers on their own account) for five years, and had not even been enclosed on its boundary, notwithstanding that during the winter and summer of 1847 there were many able-bodied men in the house.

The relief afforded by the late Board of Guardians has undoubtedly been very inadequate to the distress; and deaths from destitution, if not from absolute want, have occurred. It would however appear, on examination of the relieving officers' books, that relief had been given to persons who ought to have subsisted on their own resources; for instance, in the relieving officer's Application and Report Book for the Lisgreavy Division, fictitious names appeared of persons receiving relief, and on inquiry of that officer as to the circumstances, we received for answer that the persons whose real names were omitted were highly and respectably connected, and that they were too proud to allow their names to appear as paupers; and that it was by direction of some of the Guardians that he had falsified the names. It further appeared that the real recipients were relations of several members of the late Board.

The line of action pursued by the Guardians in the administration of out-door relief, seems to have been at direct variance with the recommendations contained in the Commissioners' Circular letter of the 26th August last on the subject.

The number of persons receiving out-door relief when we took charge amounted to 4,193, with a weekly cost of 131*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* Such was the state of the Tuam Union when we first examined into its affairs.

Our first care was, to use all our best energies to the pressing forward of the collection of the outstanding arrears, but owing to the avowed resistance to the payment of the rates, the example of default set to the rate-payers by persons of rank and station in the Union, only a sum of 296*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* has been collected and lodged for the fortnight ended on the 4th instant. The collectors have moreover been assaulted and rescued, and otherwise ill treated. They have at our request obtained the assistance of the military and police in the collection of the rates; and we do not anticipate any insuperable difficulty in the collection of the remaining balance of outstanding arrears.

The present valuation of the Union is so very imperfect that we propose to have a revision of it previous to striking a new rate; some delay must therefore necessarily occur in getting the new rate in collection; in the mean time we propose to make application to the Commissioners to obtain from the British Association such funds as will enable us, with the assistance of the balance of the uncollected rates, to meet the demands arising from the present destitution in the Union. Our first care will be on procuring funds from the new rate, to repay the British Association such advances as we may have obtained from them.

With regard to the management of the workhouse, we have to state that a manifest improvement is visible in every department; the able-bodied have been employed to the utmost extent possible under the circumstances, and the clothing of the inmates and that in store has been put in order.

The matron (Mrs. Davis), whom we found to be physically incompetent, we required to resign her situation, and we have appointed the wife of the master to the office on trial for one month.

We have enforced a rigid fulfilment of all your rules and regulations relating to the management of the workhouse.

The expenditure of the workhouse has been considerably decreased, as we have discontinued the extra rations hitherto given to upwards of 20 paupers, with the exception of the pauper nurses who are required to sit up at night. We have also obtained the consent of the Commissioners to the annulling the exorbitant contracts in force for workhouse supplies. We have moreover hired, in conjunction with our Inspector, a bakery and store, at which we intend to bake all the bread for the workhouse, as well as that required for the children attending the free schools in the Union; this will effect a considerable saving, as the present contract price for bread is one penny eleven-sixteenths per pound. The arrangement to be in force until an oven is erected at the workhouse, which we have in contemplation.

We propose to grind all our corn by pauper labour, and have ordered a mill with hand gearing from Birmingham capable of employing gangs of 40 men at a time.

We are endeavouring to procure a piece of ground to be used as a burial-ground for the workhouse, as the present system of interring the dead close to the fever hospital is open to serious objections.

We have taken contracts for the supply of a sufficient stock of clothing and bedding, and we propose to make up every article required in the workhouse.

An accountant has been employed to prepare and balance the late master's accounts, the expense we propose deducting from the amount of salary due to him.

With respect to the out-door relief, we have to observe, that owing to the great distress in the Union, we were compelled to increase the relief considerably. We have made the workhouse available as far as possible as a test of the destitution of the able-bodied; and we may state, as a proof of the effectiveness of the test, that hundreds have refused this description of relief.

Our arrangements for carrying out your order for out-door relief to the able-bodied are in a forward state, and we hope to have the system, we have adopted, in partial operation in the coming week.

REPLY to the foregoing:—March 23, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 16th instant, relating to the affairs of the Tuam Union, and to report to you their thanks.

The Commissioners approve of your proceedings as reported, and the course which you express yourselves as intending to take with the view of remedying the great abuses heretofore existing in the administration of relief in the Tuam Union.

Those officers who have not yet given security should do so without delay.

The Commissioners will be prepared to attend to such representations as you may make of a further necessity for the supply of funds to administer relief until rates can be levied.

With reference to the statement contained in your report to the effect, that on your examination of the relieving officer's books, you discovered that fictitious names had been entered for persons receiving relief, those persons, who are highly and respectably connected, being too proud to allow their names to appear as paupers; and that the false entries had been made by direction of some members of the late Board of Guardians, many of whom had relations thus receiving relief; I am to request that you will furnish the Commissioners with further particulars of the cases adverted to, not omitting the names of the parties relieved, and the names of the Guardians who took part in these transactions.

I am also to inquire what course you propose to adopt as to the relieving officer of the Lisgreavy division, who was involved in those highly culpable proceedings.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—March 22, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward you, to be laid before His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the accompanying copy of a letter which the Commissioners have received from Mr. Lucas, one of the Vice-Guardians of Tuam Union, relative to the riotous conduct of some people towards him at Tuam on the 21st instant; and I am to request a favourable consideration of the course proposed.

Tuam Union.

LETTER referred to.

Mr. LUCAS, Vice-Guardian, to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 21, 1848.

I HAVE to report to you that, in consequence of the dissatisfaction among the people of this electoral division at the enforcement of the labour test by means of stone-breaking, which has just been established by us, a mob of people assembled this morning in front of our residence, and has remained there until now, using violent and threatening language; and upon my attempting to leave the house about an hour ago, I was surrounded and seized hold of, and struck in the back with a stone.

In consequence of the assizes in Galway there is no magistrate in the town; and the police force remaining is so small, that the officer is not disposed to risk a collision with the people without the aid of the military, who, however, cannot act without the requisition of a magistrate.

I would beg leave, therefore, to suggest that the commission of the peace be conferred upon Captain Douglas Labalmondiere, Poor Law Inspector, who is always on the spot, as these riotous assemblages may be repeated.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 25, 1848.

DURING the past week, stone-breaking for the able-bodied in receipt of out-door relief has been commenced in about half of this Union, but it can hardly be said yet to be fairly established.

The indisposition to submit to the labour imposed, was in Tuam so great, that on Tuesday last the stone-breakers in the neighbourhood of the town all left their work and assembled in large numbers round the residence of the Vice-Guardians in a very excited state; and one of these gentlemen was, on going out, mobbed and struck with a stone, and narrowly escaped severer treatment at their hands. I went out with this gentleman to the country and procured the attendance of a magistrate (the stipendiary magistrate and nearly all the police force being absent at the Galway assizes), and one of the ringleaders having been arrested was bound over to keep the peace, and in the absence of sureties was committed. The people have returned to their work, and I have no apprehension of any renewal of the disturbance, which I have little doubt was promoted by persons who did not appear in the matter, in whose hands the paupers were mere tools. About one-sixth of those detailed for stone-breaking in Tuam have not made their appearance at the work.

Fresh contracts have been made for Indian and other meal—both for in-door and out-door consumption—the former at a reduction of 2*l.* 10*s.* per ton.

The collection of the rates does not progress more rapidly than heretofore, opposition being generally offered, and rescues made of stock seized. Proceedings have been instituted against the parties rescuing; and the Vice-Guardians have also instructed their solicitor, with the assent of the Commissioners, to proceed immediately against the defaulting “immediate lessors.”

Our attempts to procure an auxiliary workhouse for the boys have again failed; and as destitution continues to increase rather than to abate, while hardly any field employment is to be obtained, I see no immediate prospect of the possibility of suspending out-door relief to the able-bodied.

I do not think that there are many inmates of the workhouse eligible for emigration to Australia; but for such as are, the Vice-Guardians would be most desirous of embracing the terms proposed in the letter of the “Commissioners of Colonial Land and Emigration,” to the under Secretary to the Colonial Department.

Would not the present be a favourable opportunity for promoting emigration from Ireland of paupers and their families to the West Indies, where labour is so much required; and would not those colonies gladly repay any advances made by Government in furtherance of such emigration, and which their present impoverished state would oblige them to look for? The transfer of a number of pauper labourers from this country would relieve it greatly, and possibly avert the ruin which threatens those colonies.

Referring to your letter, dated 23rd March, I beg now to represent that it is very desirable that an application for a further advance of 500*l.* on the credit of the rate about to be levied should be now made, to enable the Vice-Guardians to keep faith with their present contractors for supplies, and continue the relief now afforded to the destitute.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 25th instant, relating to the Tuam Union; and I am to express to you the satisfaction of the Commissioners at the restoration of tranquillity among the able-bodied paupers in receipt of out-door relief in that Union.

The Commissioners desire at the same time, to express their satisfaction that new and more advantageous contracts have been entered into by the Vice-Guardians for the supply of Indian and other meal.

I am further to inform you, that the Commissioners have made application to Count Strzelecki, the Secretary to the British Relief Association, for a further advance of 500*l.* for the use of the Tuam Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 25, 1848.

WE have to report that the collectors have lodged the sum of 197*l.* 3*s.* 3*d.* of the out-standing arrears for the fortnight ended the 18th instant. The police and military were employed assisting the collectors, avowed and tacit resistance to the payment of rates being general.

We have instructed our solicitor, with the Commissioners' consent, to commence immediate proceedings in the Superior Courts of Record in Dublin against the several defaulters. The valuator appointed by us has undertaken to complete the revision of the entire Union on or before the 31st of May next. The electoral division of Tuam to be the first completed, to enable the rate on that division to be put in collection forthwith.

The contract for supplying the workhouse with meal has been annulled with the Commissioners' consent, and fresh contracts have been taken at a great saving to the Union; the new contract for Indian meal effecting a saving of 2*l.* 10*s.* per ton—whole meal, 3*l.* 10*s.*—oatmeal, 4*l.*

Our arrangements for baking bread for the workhouse are completed, and we anticipate a great reduction in the cost of that article, the present contract price being 6½*d.* per four pound loaf.

Destitution in the Union is still on the increase, and little or no employment is afforded by the landed proprietors and farmers.

Our general arrangements for carrying out the out-door labour test are completed, and are as follows :—

Stone-breaking has been adopted as the employment, in accordance with the Commissioners' suggestion.

With the view of making the work ultimately available for the benefit of the Union, we have selected the quarries where practicable, near unfinished roads. Superintendents at 10*s.* per week salary have been appointed over each quarry, and an Inspector at a salary of 2*l.* per week, including travelling expenses.

To the able-bodied who apply for out-door relief, and who we have reason to believe are not actually destitute, we offer the workhouse as a test; the result has been that numbers have refused this description of relief, which tends to prove that those who are not really destitute will not accept relief in a well regulated workhouse.

The value of work obtained not to bear any direct proportion to the relief afforded.

Children of sufficient strength, section one and two, and hardy old men, section one, to perform a certain portion of work of a light description.

Every person must attend, and no substitute allowed.

Task-work as a general rule to be observed where practicable.

We enclose the forms directed to be used in carrying out our instructions to the Superintendents and Inspector.

Form No. I. The column, persons to be employed, to be filled by the relieving officer from the application and report book, entering those in section one in red ink. The application and report book to state the maximum amount of relief (meal) to be given. Under "day's work" is to be stated the amount of work to be done; say a child or hardy old man, half a day's work, a man not very strong, three-quarters of a day.

Tuam Union.

The particulars required in the heading of Form I., "a day's work," are to be filled by the Inspector, as quarries varying in hardness of stone, difficulty of quarrying, and removal of stones from quarry; the form to be signed by the relieving officer, and sent to the superintendent in charge of working party on the Saturday previous to the work commencing, and when filled by that officer under work performed and signed, to be returned to relieving officer on Monday after the week's work has been performed. By the total days, the relieving officer will know whether he is to give the relief allowed by the Guardians in the application and report book, or a lesser quantity, in proportion to the work done, placing under observations the quantity given, which must agree with the entry in the relief lists.

Very wet days, and days absent on account of sickness, and a very few old established holidays, not deducted.

Single persons allowed half a stone of meal for six days' work.

The cost of relief to the largest families to be less than the wages of the independent labourer; and every male member of a family more than 14 years of age, in addition to the head of the family, to be required to work.

Form No. II. The Inspector's weekly report.—The Inspector to visit the quarries weekly, measure the work, and see if it agree with the return of the Superintendents. The Vice-Guardians also to inspect the works.

The arrangements we have adopted will, we are inclined to think, prove as stringent a test as even that of the workhouse.

We have to represent the necessity of the Commissioners obtaining from the British Association, a further supply of funds to administer relief until rates can be levied, a sum of 500*l.* being required to pay the balance of contractors' claims for meal supplied for out-door relief and workhouse during the period we have had charge of the Union.

ENCLOSURES in foregoing.

TUAM UNION.

FORM I.

Electoral Division. } Quarry. Superintendent. Stones broken this week, cubic yards. Ditto from last account, do. Total, _____			A day's work is 8 hours, or cubic feet broken stones. cubic yards quarried stones. cubic yards of stones barrowed. yards.			Letters to describe Work. S.B. Stone-breaking. Q. Quarrying. B. Barrowing. C. Clearing. P. Piling. S. Sundries.
Persons Employed for Week commencing Monday, day of , 1848.			Work Performed for the Week ending Saturday, day of , 1848.
No. Report Book.	Day's Work.	Name.	M.	T.	W.	Th.	F.	S.	Total Days.	Observations.

By order of the Board,

*Relieving Officer.*_____
Superintendent.

FORM II.

INSPECTOR OF SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT of Work done in Week ending day of , 1848.

No.	Electoral Division.	Quarry.	Superintendent.	Section 1.		Section 2.		Description of Work.						Total.	Stones Broken.		Value of Stones.	Value of Relief.	Relief more than Work by	Work more than Relief by
				Men.	Under 15.	Men.	Under 15.	S.B.	Q.	D.	C.	P.	S.		Cubic Yards.	Value per Yard.
																	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 30, 1848.

I AM to express the Commissioners' approval of the steps taken for enforcement of the rates, and for the appointment of a revising valuator.

The Commissioners are much gratified by the improved terms of the existing contracts as compared with the preceding ones, not only as economizing the expenditure, but as showing a restoration of confidence in the solvency of the Union.

I am further to state, that the Commissioners approve of the arrangements made for baking the bread used for consumption in the workhouse, and also those for establishing a labour test similar to that adopted previously in the Kanturk Union.

Application has been already made to the British Association to advance the sum mentioned in your report, for the relief of the destitute in the Tuam Union.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 31, 1848.

I HAVE to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of your order authorizing the administration of out-door relief to the able-bodied in this Union, which expires on the 5th April next, and requesting my observations on the expediency of its renewal.

The number of able-bodied persons and their families in receipt of out-door relief, in the week ending March 25th, was 6761, being an increase as compared with the preceding week of 989. Allowing a proportionate increase for this week, it may be assumed, that the number of that class at present receiving out-door relief, is 7750.

In the workhouse and auxiliary workhouse, adapted for 1150 persons, there are now 1151 inmates, who are, as far as possible, able-bodied. Keeping in view that it is most essential to retain the means of offering the workhouse to applicants for relief, and actually receiving them into it on the presentation of their tickets, and no suitable building being procurable for the extension of this accommodation, it is evident that the indoor accommodation is insufficient to meet the amount even of able-bodied destitution, and that the immediate discontinuance of out-door relief to this class would, without fail, entail the deaths of many. The Vice-Guardians are most particular in granting out-door relief; they investigate each case personally and closely; and I should say that the abuses in the Union are comparatively few, and these would materially decrease were they enabled by an additional supply of tools (for which application has been made) to carry out their system of stone-breaking.

I have therefore to recommend a renewal of your order, and will not fail to represent to you as soon as the time arrives, when, by the resumption of the spring labour and drainage operations, it may, with safety, be suspended.

REPLY to the foregoing :—April 6, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 31st ultimo, relative to the expediency of renewing the Commissioners' order, authorizing the Vice-Guardians of the Tuam Union to afford relief out of the workhouse to the able-bodied paupers in that Union, and I am to inform you that the Commissioners have issued an order continuing out-door relief in the Tuam Union for one month, under the 2nd section of the 10th Vic. cap. 31.

Tuam Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—April 3, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a report which they have received from the Vice-Guardians of the Tuam Union, together with a copy of a report which the Commissioners have received from Captain Labalmondiere, Temporary Poor Law Inspector, relative to the deaths of Michael Walsh and John Lee, in that Union.

ENCLOSURES.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 29, 1848.

WE have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 22nd instant, relative to the deaths of Michael Walsh and John Lee, in the Tuam Union, and in reference thereto, we have to observe, that Michael Walsh, (a beggar,) was admitted to the workhouse on the 4th January last, and left it immediately afterwards. He was again admitted on the 27th of the same month and left on the 3rd February. He made a third application to the relieving officer in a few days, who gave him another provisional ticket of admission to the workhouse, but was not admitted in consequence of the workhouse being crowded. The master endorsed the fact of his refusing him admission on the back of the ticket; the relieving officer then gave him some provisional relief, but he died before the next day of distribution, and before his case was reported to us. The relieving officer appears to have acted properly in the matter.

John Lee, who died on the 3rd instant, was travelling from the county Mayo to Moycullen, in the Galway Union, to which place he belonged. He does not appear to have applied to the relieving officer. He was buried by our directions, and his wife refused to remain in the workhouse.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 29, 1848.

I HAVE made inquiries into the circumstances attending the deaths of two men named Michael Walsh and John Lee, referred to in your letter, dated March 22, which enclosed two reports from the Sub-Inspector of Police upon the subject, and subjoin the information which I have collected.

Michael Walsh was a beggar from the electoral division of Donaghpatrick, in this Union. He was admitted to the workhouse on a provisional ticket from the relieving officer, on the 4th of January, but left it almost immediately. He was again admitted on the 27th January, and again left it on the 3rd of February. A few days afterwards, the relieving officer gave him another provisional ticket of admission, but he was not taken in, the master having marked upon it that the house was full. The officer gave him some meal, but he died before the next day of distribution.

The officer appears to have acted properly and not to be deserving of blame.

John Lee was a native of Moycullen, six miles on the other side of Galway, to which place he was travelling accompanied by his wife, from some part of the county Mayo; he does not appear ever to have made application to the relieving officer here; he was buried by the Vice-Guardians' directions, and his wife refused to remain in the house, and went on to Galway.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 6, 1848.

THE Rev. Mr. Ryan having acquainted me that he waived his objections to making the deposition on oath required by you, in the hopes that by his doing so further proceedings in the matter of the arrears of poor-rate of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam may be rendered unnecessary, I appointed to day at 12 o'clock for taking such deposition, and I have the honour to annex the answers returned by him to the questions asked, which queries I had prepared before hand, as suggested in your letter of the — April.

Should you be satisfied with this statement on oath, Mr. Ryan would be glad to hear from you himself to that effect.

You will observe that in the accounts between the Archbishop and Mr. Ryan, he states that the item of the arrears does not appear, and I inquired particularly as to the nature of their accounts. He explained that that they consist of certain dues, a portion of which belongs to the Archbishop, and the remainder to himself and others. The portion belonging to the former he pays over to him, returning any sum which he may have advanced for the Archbishop, who then writes "settled" in the book.

Thus no regular debtor and creditor account appears to exist between them in which this item would properly be found.

Tuam Union.

ENCLOSURE.

Tuam, May 6, 1848.

Question.

1. Did you, as administrator of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam, ever pay to the late Rate Collector Lally a sum of 3*l.*, or thereabouts, being the amount due by the said Archbishop for poor-rates, for the rate levied in this Union in the year 1842?

2. On what day did you make this payment?

3. In what manner did you make it?

4. When did you make it?

5. Was any other person present on the occasion besides yourself and Lally?

6. The rate appears to have amounted to 2*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.*; did the collector return you any change?

7. If not, why not?

8. Did he give you any acknowledgment for this sum paid by you?

9. Did you ask him for any?

10. Is there any record in the accounts between the Archbishop and yourself of any such payment having been made by you and charged to him?

Does the item appear in any book of accounts between the Archbishop and yourself which you keep?

11. What was the account so allowed you, and the date of entry?

12. Will you produce the account in which this item appears charged?

13. Are you aware of any business transactions having taken place between Mr. Mangen and the late Mr. Lally?

14. Had you any business transactions with Mr. Mangen?

15. Were the accounts between yourself and Mr. Mangen, and between Mr. Mangen and the late Mr. Lally, squared the one against the other in any manner?

16. Had you any private business transactions with the late Mr. Lally?

Answer.

1. I did.

2. I do not recollect the exact date, but a very short time before Lally's decease.

3. In notes.

4. In my own room, he having called upon me.

5. None.

6 and 7. He did not; he stated to me at the time that he knew it was either a few shillings over or under the 3*l.*, and if it were more he would advance the few shillings himself, and if less that he would return me the difference.

8. No.

9. I have no distinct recollection that I did, but my firm conviction is that I must have done so, because I asked him subsequently if the sum appeared on his books as paid, and I do distinctly remember that he replied that it did.

10. The Archbishop himself took a note of the sum advanced by me for the rate in question at the settlement of the accounts between himself and me, which settlement took place before the question was at all mooted at the meeting at which it appeared from the collecting books that he was a defaulter, and at that settlement I received credit from him for this payment.

Not that I keep; but the fact of his taking a note of it would imply that he has probably registered it himself.

11. Three pounds. The settlement was a few days before Christmas, and I could tell it by referring to my books.

12. (Cancelled)

D. L.

13. I have no knowledge of such except by hearsay; I never was present at any such transactions.

14. Any transactions I have had with him have been of a private nature, and have nothing whatever to do with the rate.

15. Never. In any transactions I have had with Mr. Mangen the rate in question has been connected in no way whatever, either directly or indirectly.

16. I had never any transaction with him except the payment of the rate in question.

The Rev. Mr. Ryan wishes further to add that he paid Lally with the consent and knowledge of the Archbishop, and that he got credit in his pecuniary accounts with him for the same.

LUKE RYAN, R. C. C.,

Tuam.

Sworn before me, this 6th day of May, 1848,

D. LABALMONDIERE,

Temporary Poor Law Inspector.

Tuam Union.The COMMISSIONERS to the Rev. LUKE RYAN :—May 9, 1848.

THE Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have received from their Inspector, Captain Labalmondiere, a report accompanying the depositions made by you on the 6th instant, relative to the arrears of poor-rates charged to his Grace the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam.

I am directed by the Commissioners to state, that they will take such steps as are in their power to give the same publicity to your depositions, as was given to their previous correspondence with you on this subject.

The Commissioners are informed by their Inspector that previously to your consenting to make the depositions referred to, the Vice-Guardians had caused the arrears to be brought into the rate made by them on the Tuam electoral division on the 2nd instant. This circumstance will enable the Archbishop to appeal against the rate newly assessed on him, should he deem it right to do so, on the ground that the arrear has been paid, and to avail himself of your evidence on this point before the Court of Appeal.

MULLINGAR UNION.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 9, 1848.

I BEG leave to report that yesterday for the first time since my arrival in this Union, as temporary Poor Law Inspector, I met the Board of Guardians, and from all that came under my observation regret to say I cannot state anything favourable to their proceedings.

The relieving officers have been permitted, except in two instances, to dispense relief to the able-bodied paupers without any test in the way of stone-breaking as prescribed; and in the case of the populous district of Mullingar money instead of food has been given. I directed the attention of Mr. Inspector Flanagan to this circumstance, who pronounced the proceeding highly improper and illegal.

Stone-breaking is very unpopular with most of the Guardians; and Mr. Tuite of Sonna, by far the most influential gentleman in Westmeath, stated that no one would permit materials to be taken from a quarry or elsewhere, and that the Commissioners were not decided in enforcing such employment, at least so I understood him. An elected Guardian, Mr. Thomas Glennon said, were I to attend a divisional meeting and insist on stone-breaking, I should take care of myself travelling late at night, or words to that effect. Want of implements is an excuse with some for not employing the able-bodied as required; and others say that the scanty allowance of food provided is insufficient to enable a man to work; but that is entirely owing to the arrangement of the Guardians, who curtail it within what was permitted under the Temporary Relief Act. I should be provided with a special instruction to remove any doubts in the mind of Mr. Tuite as to the Commissioners' determination as to stone-breaking or cleaning roads, and how tools are to be provided from the several depôts belonging to the Board of Works.

I found yesterday that the collectors were behind in their collection better than 800%, from negligence or dishonesty; and that about 200% was in jeopardy from one cause or another, but principally from insufficiency in their sureties. This class of persons and the relieving officers I must overhaul with the utmost precision as fast as I can.

The Board of Guardians assembled yesterday about 11 or half-past 11 o'clock, and although, as far as I could collect, the Union would still be in debt about 800%, even if the whole of the last rate were available, a rate only was struck throughout the Union for sums varying from 2s. 4d. to 8d. in the pound, being one-third of the estimate provided by the clerk, which included 14,675%, amount of rates struck for expenses under the Temporary Relief Act, and 3000% for additional workhouse accommodation. As the out-door relief was estimated at 300%, and the in-door, with expense of establishment, at 150% per week, the inadequacy of the amount decided on by the Guardians is very manifest, and calls for the interference of the Commissioners. Perhaps the sum in the clerk's estimate, varying from 7s. to 2s., might be hard to get in, but less than half their amount would be absurd to think of.

From the embarrassed condition of the Union from debt accumulating, and the refusal of the Treasurer to make any further advances unless some decided step be taken, matters must come to a stand still.

The attendance of the Guardians only once a week, and the short time that is given to transact business, render what is done imperfect, I much fear, especially as regards the system of out-door relief, which I have not had time or sufficient experience to fully investigate, but which I shall attend to with the utmost vigilance, commencing to-morrow to go through the several divisions, and attend the meetings of the local committees.

All idea of additional workhouse accommodation has been abandoned for the present, either for permanent or temporary purposes, the impression being that the potato will soon be restored as the food of the people; or that some other means than poor's rate shall be adopted by the Legislature for the maintenance of them.

As regards the striking of a sufficient rate, the employment of the able-

Mullingar Union. bodied getting out-door relief, and the mode of providing tools, require immediate attention.

The interior economy of the Union house, which I carefully inspected, appears very good indeed.

This my first report is necessarily imperfect, from the short time I have been here; but any instructions I may get shall be duly attended to as to those to be rendered for the future.

REPLY to the foregoing:—February 14, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to request that you will furnish them with an estimate of the numbers required of the several implements necessary for the employment of able-bodied paupers in the Mullingar Union, when such estimate will be sent to the Board of Works with an application for them.

The Commissioners expect the Guardians will use every exertion to carry out the condition in the sealed order requiring every able-bodied man who receives relief to give his time and labour in return for it; and the Commissioners will on no consideration permit such labour to be applied to the cultivation of the land.

Relief given in money to persons relieved under the second section is illegal, and it will be the duty of the auditor to disallow it in the Union accounts. The auditor's attention has been called to the illegal expense which has taken place in this respect.

If the Guardians are unable or reluctant to carry into execution the existing laws in accordance with the intention of the statutes, and with the regulations of the Commissioners, the Commissioners will be under the necessity of considering their responsibility under the 18th section of the Extension Act, and they wish you so to inform the Guardians.

As regards the new rate the Commissioners have addressed the Guardians.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 16, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report that during the last three days of the week ended the 12th instant, I visited the offices of the relieving officers of the electoral divisions of Piercetown, Ballynacarrigy, and Multyfarnham.

In the first named, I found the relieving officer had only the assistance of one Guardian—that a very scanty allowance of food without any labour-test was administered to great numbers of the able-bodied, and said Guardian inserted the amount of relief and initialed the Application and Report Book for that and the adjoining electoral division of Rathconrath. I pointed out the illegality of such proceeding, and a promise of amendment was made.

At Ballynacarrigy a more liberal system was pursued to a very heavy list of persons under the superintendence of Mr. Tuite, of Sonna, a very large proprietor, and ex-officio Guardian, assisted by rate-payers. He resists most strenuously the test of breaking stones, and declared his determination not to permit what had been attended under the Labour Rate Act with so demoralizing a tendency, as the congregation of large numbers of persons at useless work; and that no materials should be supplied from off any of his estates for such a purpose; that it was far better to give a short supply of food, and leave the recipients at home. I stated that out-door relief to the able-bodied without employment was illegal, and that the whole amount so expended might be disallowed when an audit of the accounts of the Union should be made.

At Multyfarnham I found a far different state of things; the whole of the district of Leny, of which it forms a part, through the attention and vigilance of one of the Guardians especially, having few able-bodied on their lists, from insisting on employment as a test from the onset; and my visit was for the purpose of discountenancing the efforts made to resist it, and to induce the large rate-payers to take a few additional hands into their employment in preference to paying a heavy rate without any return or benefit.

On the 14th instant I attended at the workhouse to inspect the relieving officers' books, and see how far the clerk was complying with Article 8 in Nos.

1 and 2 of the General Order of the 25th October, 1847. With the exception of those of Rathconnell, Collinstown, and Leny districts I found the books very badly kept, which I must attribute in a great measure to the want of proper supervision on the part of the Guardians, who assemble but once a week, and after much discussion have little time for actual business, so much so that the first day I attended their meeting there was nothing whatever done regarding them. No. 1 of Article 8 in one district had never been complied with, and others only partially; but No. 2 regularly attended to by the clerk. So had a beginning has been made that much time will be requisite I fear to establish a better system.

Yesterday, the 15th instant, I met the Board of Guardians, who assembled numerously, and after, as usual, much loss of time in discussing and moving resolutions, the main point was come to, the making provision by the way of rate, when a Committee at the suggestion of the Marquess of Westmeath was named to meet on Thursday (to-morrow) to prepare an amended estimate of the amount required for the next six months, omitting any sum for additional workhouse accommodation, or the repayment of advances under the Temporary Relief Act, to be submitted for final decision the ensuing Board-day. The relieving officers' books were very partially gone through, and I could not succeed in having a second day named for the despatch of business, one only in the week being quite insufficient.

The Union is now better than 1200*l.* in debt, and only about 700*l.* to be collected of last rate, of which 200*l.* is thought to be difficult of realising. The delay of finally deciding on a rate for current expenses must be attended with embarrassment, as by the time a new rate can now be in the course of collection the haggards of the small rate-payers will have been emptied of their contents.

I told the Guardians that I was prepared to forward an estimate of tools, and requested to be supplied with returns of what each relief district required, and warned them of the danger of persisting in applying no labour-test in relieving the able-bodied out of doors, and I trust with some effect.

In a large Union like this without continuous exertion on the part of Guardians I do not see how business is to be carried on with any degree of system or economy, to say nothing of the demoralization the want of it must entail.

I have had all the collectors summoned to attend this day, and shall carefully go through their books.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—February 23, 1848.

I BEG leave to state, that in the course of last week I investigated the accounts of six collectors of districts, and the result has been that three of them were able to show they had performed their duty as far as practicable, and very nearly completed their collections, and two have subsequently come in and made a final settlement of their accounts. The Newtown collector, Hugh Cary, said, if he were permitted he would satisfactorily clear up the sum given him to get in, but being recommended for dismissal it precluded his making further progress. He showed by returns that 166*l.* had not yet come into his hands. Three collectors who were summoned by the clerk to come in have not done so, and therefore steps shall be taken to enforce their appearance.

I do not think sufficient care has been taken to appoint efficient collectors, and in consequence of the instructions contained in circular of 26th October, 1847, being only partially acted on, I could not detect whether any of the men who came before me had been retaining money in their hands longer than they should.

On Thursday the 17th I attended a Committee of Guardians appointed to frame an estimate for a six months' rate, to be submitted for adoption next Board-day. My doing so was at the request of the Marquess of Westmeath. The Committee was most painstaking in the performance of their undertaking, and took into account the repayment of the advances under the Temporary Relief Act, the amount of which I was enabled to give them from my former connexion with the Union. The Committee had reason to be dissatisfied with their clerk, Mr. Coffey, from his apparent reluctance to give the information required of him, and much of what he imparted having been found erroneous; I was obliged to interpose and express my disapprobation of a paid officer exhibiting caprice or apathy with those placed in authority over him. He is an intelligent man, and understands, I am convinced, the duties he has to perform; and why he should have forgotten himself I cannot tell except that he has been left too much to his own arrangements, and the consequence attending it, the creation of self-importance.

Mullingar Union.

I have been attending to the workhouse, and shall lose no time in carrying out the instructions contained in circulars of the 12th instant, and of 12th December, 1847.

On Monday the 21st the Board assembled, instead of their usual day, Tuesday, owing to assize business interfering. After the routine business had been disposed of, the report of the Committee appointed to frame an estimate of expenses of rate for six months was submitted, and a rate was accordingly struck varying from 4s. 3d. to 2d. in the pound, making better than 20,000%. Your letter to me in reply to my report of the 9th instant had a very beneficial influence in hastening this necessary step, although the progressive embarrassments of the Union ought to be a sufficient stimulus.

I attended an adjourned meeting of the Board yesterday, consisting of three members only, for the purpose of carrying out the duties prescribed in articles 8 and 9 of the General Order for out-door relief; and with the exception of the books of three relieving officers saw nothing I could approve of. The relieving officers' Application and Report Book for Killare district was so imperfect, that out of upwards of 1000 persons getting relief, only two cases came under the 1st section of the Act, and all the rest under the 2nd, from the want of sufficient information in each instance. There was hardly any date of admission to relief, and the initialing was done by a Guardian of the district, without any one registry having been made. Instead of the clerk registering himself, as required by No. 1 of Article 8, that part of his office is left to two pauper boys and the relieving officers, and, consequently, no accuracy can be expected. In the Application and Report Book referred to there was an extraordinary entry, being the name of a man as a pauper who had a claim for car-hire, which was paid by direction of a Guardian (Mr. Kelly) as provisional relief. In fact the whole of the books of six districts would require the most careful revision if the Guardians could be got to do so. I was in dismay on seeing how little attention was paid to the specimen folio of the Application and Relief Books, the accuracy of which I now perceive is so requisite for the adoption of the relieving officers and Guardians.

Of the nine relief districts there is no labour-test in six; and all I can say and do, has up to this, effected no amendment.

No. 2 of Article 8 is the only one perfectly attended to. As to entering into the particulars of the defects I perceived, they are far too numerous to detail, and without a careful revision of all the defective books, they are calculated to lead to the greatest abuses.

The districts more than six miles from the workhouse have never had Committees nominated to perform the duties required under section 6, and the Guardians of them take upon themselves the management, even in some instances to the initialing of the Application and Relief Books.

I have been at the Guardians to arrange so that meetings from day to day should take place until everything was put in proper working order, otherwise nothing short of a dissolution of their body might be expected. This has caused an anxiety on their part to alter their course, and to-morrow I am invited to attend a meeting, when arrangements that ought to have been made long ago are to be entered into to establish a uniform system of relief and labour-test throughout the Union, hasten the filling of the rate-books, and to attend in every respect strictly to law and orders providing for out-door relief.

I think the Guardians are now serious, otherwise the sooner some change be made the better, or the worst consequences may be expected. I was called on yesterday at the workhouse by Mr. Middleton Berry, one of the largest proprietors in the Union, and high sheriff of the county, who having been for some time away requested to know how the system of out-door relief was being carried on. I told him as yet nothing could be worse, and that I greatly feared a change should be made that would not be agreeable to the Board, as the law should be carried out by some means or other, and as yet I met with no support in the execution of the office I was appointed to. He told me he was favourable to a paid Board, conceiving that the Guardians would never give the time and attention required of them, and that I might, in communicating with the Commissioners, make use of his name; his agent was with him, a very intelligent man of business, and he perfectly concurred in opinion with him. I must say if to-morrow's intended meeting at the Court-house be not productive of good, anything I can do, circumstanced as at present, can avail nothing.

The out-door relief came last week to 315 $\frac{1}{2}$ l., and this to a great extent owing to want of a labour-test. As far as the workhouse can accommodate the test has proved most beneficial, for out of 40 persons offered admission on Wednesday the 16th instant, only 18 availed themselves of it.

If I find there is not a hearty disposition on the part of the Guardians to act legally for the future, I shall lose no time in making a communication to that effect.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 1, 1848.

I AM to state that the Commissioners have received from the clerk an explanation of his conduct towards the Committee of Guardians appointed to frame the estimate for a new rate, which the Commissioners have under their consideration.

The Commissioners await your further report as to the exertions of the Guardians, and their disposition to act in conformity with the order issued by the Commissioners for their guidance and control.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 2, 1848.

I BEG leave to report, that during the last four days of the week ended the 26th ultimo, besides directing my attention a good deal to the interior management of the workhouse, I had several interviews with some of the principal Guardians, almost all of whom were in attendance at the Court-house here, as magistrates or jurors during the assizes, for the purpose of stimulating them to attend to the instructions for carrying out the law in the administration of out-door relief under the Extension Act, and especially to what related to having a labour-test for the able-bodied; as out of twenty-six electoral divisions there were only six of them in which any attempt was made in the shape of employment as required, and consequently the expenditure far exceeded what otherwise should be. The apprehension that a dissolution of their body would take place, unless what I pointed out should be attended to, appeared to influence them a good deal; and a promise of amendment was given that, I regret to say, has not been followed up, and in fact I now see a radical change in the whole system of transacting business in the Union is quite indispensable.

Every Monday the relieving officers are in attendance on the clerk, who appears to have observed strictly enough the further duties required of him, so far as numbers 2 and 4 of Article 8, in the general order for out-door relief, go, but has left altogether the performance of number 1 to the relieving officers, and one or two pauper boys, who write for him; and last Board-day I discovered that the fresh cases of application for relief, in some instances were entered by anticipation in the out-door register, without his appearing to be aware of it, before the decision of the Guardians could be obtained and confirmed by the initials of the chairman. Number 3 is generally disposed of by the Committees in the districts more than six miles off, and in one case by the Guardian of a division within that distance, and initialed by him without stating the nature and duration of relief, or the date of order. I pointed out this to Mr. Flanagan, who highly disapproved of it, also, that the chairman of the Board had sometimes deputed Guardians to affix his initials for him, which Mr. Flanagan equally disapproved of.

In the further proceedings of the Guardians, under Article 9 of said general order, no examination of the books required by number 2 takes place, consequently the relieving officers have no check placed on them as to the amount charged in the relief lists, and it is too much to expect that some advantage has not been taken of it.

Mullingar Union.

The Guardians are not assembled for business until half-past 11 or 12 o'clock on Tuesdays, and then there is so much clatter and discussion that when the books of the relieving officers are produced the day is far spent, and those who have 8, 10, and 12 miles to return home are anxious to be off before night sets in; and the result is, that some of the books are partially disposed of, and the persons to whom they belong are obliged to attend the following day at some place for the distribution of food, without being duly authorized in every case. I find the columns for provisional relief are used for ordinary cases of affording aid, instead of extraordinary ones, and the books altogether so filled up as to render a due classification of paupers in the statistical portion of the out-door relief list quite out of the question. Without new books altogether, I do not see what can be done to remedy those at present in use. The books were not placed in the hands of the relieving officers in time, and when the pressure came all was hurry and confusion, and the headings of the columns quite unattended to.

I have over and over stated that the auditor would disallow all sums illegally disbursed, and that the parties signing the checks would be held accountable.

As a specimen of the slovenly mode in which business is transacted, on my reaching the workhouse on Saturday last, I found eight pauper boys occupying the clerk's office, the Board-room, and the relieving officer's apartment, copying rate-books without the superintendence of the revising valuator or the clerk; and had to direct the porter to keep the Board-room free of such intruders, as it was for the special use of the Guardians, and should not be in the littered filthy state I found it in.

Mr. Lyons, one of the Guardians, a most excellent man of business, undertook to place matters on a sound footing by attendance from day to day, in overhauling the books, and fixing the places in each division for the employment of the able-bodied, and last Board-day did so as to the latter, as far as he could obtain information from those present; but from the apathy displayed by some, I suppose he felt he could not proceed satisfactorily, from his disappearance early in the day, and my not having seen or heard of him since.

A muster of the paupers of these divisions of the Union was made by a Committee on Tuesday last, in consequence, I believe, of its having been stated that prior to the present master coming into office the register was neglected, inasmuch as upwards of a hundred persons who appeared on it, and were no longer inmates of the house, had no entry in the last column after their names, as to the date of death, or leaving the workhouse, recorded. Some names were found on the relief lists which could not be accounted for, two of whom the master admitted were not in the house. I followed up the inquiry yesterday, assisted by a few Guardians, and shall report the result when I have fully investigated the matter. It appears the master has not been in the habit of calling the roll as required by No. 5, of Article 62, prescribing his duties.

The collectors have not been looked after in the mode pointed out in the last order regarding them, and consequently the wholesome check provided by it has not been exercised.

To show the little interest that is taken by some of the Guardians as to what is passing in a matter that should so immediately interest them, there are six Guardians—three ex-officio and three elective—in the Mullingar division, four of whom I have never met at any meetings of the Board since I came here, one only twice, and but one who gives regular attendance.

I forwarded a requisition for implements on the 17th ultimo, as required by your letter to me in reply to my first report, and have had no reply, owing, I suppose, to the Board of Works not having authorized the supply; and not being able to meet the demands for them, a pretext is furnished in some places that the labour-test cannot be put, not having the means of providing them, the Union being involved in debt.

It will be some time before a rate can be in the course of collection, and in consequence of provision in that way not having been made early in the year, the difficulty of getting it in must be greatly increased. There is now due to the treasurer 351*l.*, and he will not advance beyond that amount. The Hibernian bank here has cheques for 264*l.*, and the National 156*l.*, for which there is no provision. The debts to contractors and officers of the establishment must amount to a good round sum. I asked the clerk for a statement of the liabilities of the Union up to this, but he said it would take him some time to make it out. In fact, his own business as shopkeeper absorbs too much of the time he should devote to his office.

I can effect but little good except to give my attention as much as possible to the workhouse as to its interior economy, and detect and report any abuses I may discover in the absence of co-operation on the part of Guardians.

The Guardians are highly respectable as a body; but unless they are willing and able to give the time required for the increased duties the Extension Act imposes on them, there can be no regularity or strict administration of the law. Two large proprietors and ex-officio Guardians expressed to me their viewing favourably having the business of the Union conducted by paid Guardians, and I cannot see myself how it can otherwise be effected; and in so large a one, experienced and efficient men would be needed.

My decided opinion is, that matters can no longer go on here without the greatest embarrassment resulting, if paid Guardians be not appointed forthwith; as neither sufficient time nor attention can be expected from the present Board, from my experience since my arrival here.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 8, 1848.

I BEG leave to report that during the last three days, in week ended the 4th instant, I was engaged in the muster of the paupers of the workhouse, and in comparing the relief list with the register, to ascertain to what extent the whole of the latter had been neglected by the former master and his successor, and on Monday last I was enabled to complete this most necessary step. I found the names of 13 persons on the relief list who were not forthcoming—three of whom it was generally admitted had not been in the house for upwards of a year; and that there were 220 cases on the register which had not been marked off as having died or left the workhouse, being no longer inmates. Some of the 13 persons on the relief list the master mentioned yesterday he would be able to account for, but did not do so. I found there has been great neglect as to keeping the register by the present master, observing several columns under the head of Religious Denomination without any entry, and in every case the townland omitted, the electoral division only being named.

From the difficulty of getting the paupers arranged by the divisions they belonged to, and to answer their names, with the great want of personal knowledge on the part of the master and his assistants, whether parties were in hospital or otherwise, it struck me that the roll call must be quite in disuse; and on making inquiry, I found that Article 14, No. 5 of Article 62, and No. 4 of Article 63, workhouse rules, had never been in the slightest degree attended to by the master and matron since their appointment to the establishment; hence the want of familiarity with names and the tediousness of bringing the inmates together by divisions, and to get them to answer when called.

This matter I submitted to the Board of Guardians yesterday, who said that calling the roll was so essential a part of the duties to be performed that they never for a moment could consider that it would be neglected, and consequently no inquiry had been made regarding it. On reference to the Visiting Committee's Report Book, I found that since the 26th January, 1847, the house has only been visited twice, and the queries then only partially answered; indeed from the short time devoted to business, and the confusion occasioned by each Guardian endeavouring to have what immediately interests himself brought forward, this important duty has been overlooked.

Your instructions contained in Circular No. 123, Miscellaneous, of February 12, 1848, to Temporary Inspectors, is very explicit; and in going over the workhouse rules in my inspections, the calling of the roll was part of them I never for a moment could suppose was neglected, until by the muster I made, assisted one day only by a few members of the Board, made it manifest there was gross neglect in that respect. The master and matron appear to have gone on as they learned their predecessors had done, instead of looking to the rules.

Mullingar Union.

I feel I am to blame myself in not looking to this before, but coming here without any previous knowledge of the management of a workhouse, all appeared to be going on well until I directed my attention to details.

In endeavouring to get the Guardians in the first instance to carry out the instructions contained in the General Order for out-door relief, together with Circulars, my attention was principally absorbed in that way. They commenced badly from suffering the pressure to come on them without due preparation, and, I may say, nothing has been righted yet. Places have been named in the several divisions for breaking stones, but no organized system of carrying it into effect adopted, such as the procuring materials and conveyance thereof, determining the amount of labour of the different classes of adult males, and a scale of rations throughout the Union in proportion to the number of dependents of each able-bodied pauper. There is a disinclination to appoint a more respectable class of persons as overseers of labour, at 10s. a-week—5s. and 6s., being generally the amount of remuneration, does not insure an efficient supervision. The excuse of want of implements no longer exists, as I obtained an order from the Board of Works on the 3rd instant, in compliance with my requisition of the 17th ultimo. I have only been called on yet for them by one division, but have named to-morrow specially, for all requiring them to come for what they want.

I must now particularly call your attention to the embarrassments this Union is fast getting into from a rate not having been struck in time, and that recently made not being in the course of collection yet. Bills to the amount of 1968*l.* 15*s.* were sent in yesterday, which, with 327*l.* due to the treasurer, and cheques for 156*l.* in his hands, and a further sum in cheques of 264*l.* on the Hibernian Branch Bank, together with salaries of officers amounting to 360*l.*, on the eve of becoming due, will leave in all, with current expenses of this week, a debt of nearly, or, I should say, better than 3500*l.*

Of rates still uncollected or unaccounted for there is 1000*l.*, but of this sum there are arrears of several rates, and the defalcations of two collectors who died, which must cause a considerable deduction in the amount that may immediately be realized. I have been obliged to issue summonses myself for the attendance of four collectors in the Board-room, on Saturday next, with their accounts—the clerk having disappointed me in getting in some of them before this, stating the assizes interfering on one occasion, and another having forgotten it or not deeming it necessary, the late General Order relating to collectors being unattended to.

The laxity of Guardians has naturally extended to all their officers, and the consequence is, business is not conducted with any degree of system, and how the evil can be remedied otherwise than by a paid Board I cannot imagine; and now that the Extension Act is in operation, the increased duties imposed by the General Order for out-door relief are very imperfectly attended to.

The number of persons getting out-door relief last week was 12,208, and the expense 315*l.* 14*s.* 9½*d.*

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 12, 1848.

IN reply to your circular of the 2nd instant, I beg leave to state that I have purposely delayed giving my opinion whether there would be any decided objection in determining or suspending out-door relief to the able-bodied in this Union on the 18th instant, waiting to see a termination of the very inclement weather which prevailed of late, which completely stopped farm operations, and also by my personal observations and inquiries as to the disposition of small landholders to give employment as heretofore. With this view I visited on Friday last one of the most destitute districts, and learned that farmers of late were so dispirited that they were endeavouring to do their business with the least possible outlay in the employment of labourers; and found the cultivation of land never so backward from the continued rains, the ground everywhere completely saturated.

As the weather up to this is unsettled, I think it might be very hazardous, in a variety of ways, to discontinue relief sooner than the 25th instant; but in the meantime the lists may be reduced, as the able-bodied can find employment.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 13, 1848.

I AM directed to state that the Commissioners will not, in opposition to your views, withdraw or revoke the existing order.

The Commissioners have your recent reports on the state of the Union under their serious consideration, and it is probable that by the next post an order dissolving the Board of Guardians will be issued.

The Commissioners deem it right to prepare you for this decision, in the event of their taking this step: but you must not consider it so definitely settled as to enable you to communicate it to the Board of Guardians, or to any other party.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain TELFORD :—March 14, 1848.

ADVERTING to their letter of yesterday's date, I am directed by the Commissioners to inform you that they have determined not to dissolve the Board of Guardians of the Mullingar Union at present, but purpose to address them at their next meeting.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 15, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report that since the 8th instant, I have been pressing the necessity of having the rate-books completed, for the insertion of the rate resolved upon by the Board of Guardians on the 21st ultimo. They are now ready for the clerk, when he receives instructions from the Board, who yesterday altered the amount of rate resolved upon, in consequence of your letter of the 9th instant, where the rating exceeded 2s. 11d. in the pound, in accordance with the last paragraph of said letter, by which in the aggregate about 1800*l.* was curtailed of the original amount.

I drew your attention in my last report to the circumstance, that the Union was in debt to the amount more than 3500*l.*; that of the last rate, old arrears, and defalcations of two collectors who died, there was 1000*l.* uncollected or unaccounted for—a large portion of which could not be realized for some time, if at all.

I was obliged to summon four collectors, for the examination of their accounts in the Board-room, on Saturday, the 11th instant. Mr. Hugh Carey, the Newtown collector, recommended for dismissal, and who had sent in his accounts, such as they were, as required by your letter to him, appeared. He is 192*l.* back, of which he received 22*l.*, which has not been lodged. He had not been obliged to keep his accounts agreeably to the last General Order, and had no receipt check-book for the division of Streamstown, having, he said, sent it in to the clerk, or given it to a pauper boy who assists in the office of the latter; however, it was nowhere to be found. This man should never have been appointed, from his incapacity to keep accounts.

Mr. James Brien, the Killare collector, appeared. He is 271*l.* back, and has been permitted to defer making his collection, which should have been completed last harvest, when he admitted he could have been paid without trouble. Several persons with whom he could have had no difficulty in getting payment, had not been applied to by him. The clerk had undertaken to have this man brought in on two occasions, and failed in doing so, in consequence of which I had to summon him myself. His accounts were in such a state that I gave him a week to prepare them for further examination, and in the mean time to collect what he could, or I should recommend him for dismissal. This man, in personal appearance and intelligence, is no better than an ordinary peasant; and his sureties are, I believe, persons of his own class—small farmers.

Mr. Peter Keeffe, the Rathconrath collector, appeared, who succeeded a man of the name of Hanlon, who died. He is 216*l.* back, of which he stated having seen receipts for 87*l.*, given by his predecessor for rates, returned to him as uncollected. His accounts were also such a jumble that I gave him a week to come properly prepared, and to get in as much as he could in the mean while.

Mr. John Ward, collector of the Leny district, did not appear, a certificate of a medical man having been produced to the effect that he was in typhus fever. He also succeeded Hanlon, who died, and is 200*l.* back, of which a large proportion, he stated to a Guardian, had been paid to his predecessor and not accounted for, Hanlon's receipts having been produced to him.

Mullingar Union.

The late Mr. Hanlon had the collection of six electoral divisions; and when he died they were formed into two districts; and until Mr. Ward is sufficiently recovered, it cannot be ascertained to what amount the sureties of deceased can be sued for; and then as to the recovery of it, there appears not the slightest chance, from their admitted insolvency—one of whom is relieving officer of the Mullingar district, and the other a farmer holding 12 acres of land.

The office of clerk has been very badly performed as regards the collectors; and his excuse is, the inferior class of persons appointed by the Guardians to collect, and when summoned to petty sessions for disobedience of orders, the small amount of fine inflicted being insufficient to prevent a repetition of the offence.

The disinclination on the part of the Board of Guardians to remunerate sufficiently to ensure the services of persons of integrity and intelligence, has been a great drawback to the welfare of the Union, now plunged into debt.

At the meeting of the Board yesterday, after the minutes of last day's proceedings were read over, and the letters and documents which had reached the clerk since then, applications for relief were proceeded with; but about five o'clock, before the relieving officers were half disposed of, the members were reduced to four; and soon after an adjournment took place to Monday next, the cases of refractory or disorderly paupers remaining over for future consideration, where prompt adjudication is so necessary in a crowded house to secure discipline. The Board resolved to assemble for the future on Monday as well as Tuesday.

This mode of doing business has had the most injurious tendency on all their officers; and that the workhouse should be in as good order as it is is quite surprising.

By the election of Guardians for the ensuing year, two of the most efficient members will cease to belong to the Board; and the changes on the eve of taking place in it are not calculated to insure improvement.

From the growing debt of the Union—no new rate in course of collection—rate-books not even signed, and the indisposition of persons, as I heard yesterday, to continue to supply the several articles of food by contract, with a distant prospect of payment, and apparent insecurity even then, I feel quite alarmed at the state of our affairs.

I believe there is not a more respectable body of men to be found than the Board here is generally composed of; but the want of business habits, and time to attend to the increased duties which have devolved upon them, have left the same difficulties to encounter as where a very different class of persons has existed.

I have issued implements to 16 electoral divisions for the employment of the able-bodied; but in consequence of the small amount of relief in some places assigned to them, being less than permitted by the Relief Commissioners, I do not see how the labour test can be enforced. I wanted a uniform scale to be adopted in the amount of food, according to dependents; but nothing like uniformity or system has been practised.

The books of the relieving officers are generally very badly kept, and in one case where, from the want of classification, the paupers of three divisions form a district, temporary and serious inconvenience must, when out-door relief to the able-bodied ceases, occur to cases which should have appeared under section 1.

When employed under the Relief Commission, a temporary measure was carried out in this Union, as to the books of Relief Committees, in a very superior manner to what the Extension Act, a permanent one, has been. They were placed in the hands of the clerks in time, and sent back from time to time, until the headings of the columns were properly attended to. I pointed out irregularities yesterday, but was told the books were so imperfect they could not be remedied. From the slovenly mode of doing business, the relieving officers are compelled to give provisional relief to a great extent on their own responsibility, and thus abuses to a frightful extent may be perpetrated.

I am in receipt of your letters of the 13th and 14th instant, and trust your intended communication to the Guardians may have a salutary effect, as bankruptcy is staring them in the face, out of which nothing short of a Union rate, of which many of them are naturally much afraid, is calculated to restore a solvent state of things, if matters be permitted to get worse.

The rate resolved upon as it stands at present, varies from 2s. 11d. to 2d. in the pound.

REPLY to the foregoing :—March 23, 1848.

Mullingar Union.

I AM to convey to you the thanks of the Commissioners.

I am at the same time to state that, the Commissioners propose to address the Guardians on the general state of the Union at the first meeting after the new Board.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 23, 1848.

THE accounts of collector James Brien, found so imperfect on the 11th instant, and who had been given until the 17th to complete returns of defaulting rate-payers, came in according to appointment, but of 271*l.* he had to account for, his lists only amounted to 166*l.*, and, under pretence of having forgotten some of his papers, he left the Board-room, and has not shown himself since. The impression is, that he has been paid generally, and converted the money to his own use. I have summoned him to appear on Saturday next.

Collector Peter Keefe was to have been in also with lists of defaulting rate-payers, on the 17th instant, but never appeared. He has to show how much of 212*l.* remains uncollected, or for which receipts have been produced to him for payments made to his predecessor, Hanlon, deceased. This man I have also summoned to appear on Saturday next.

Collector John Ward has not sufficiently recovered from the effects of typhus fever, to show how much of 200*l.* is uncollected, or for which receipts have been produced, given by his predecessor, Hanlon, deceased.

Of 1000*l.* of last rate, &c., owing to the want of proper persons to perform the office of collectors, and the absence of due precaution in selecting solvent sureties, very little of it can be calculated on as available within a reasonable time, if ever.

One good which has resulted from this is, that the Guardians see the necessity of pursuing a different course in the selection of their officers, as opportunities occur, and of rigidly scrutinizing the circumstances of the parties offered as sureties.

At the request of the Board of Guardians, I have prepared, by way of question and answer, the duties of the clerk, master, matron, schoolmaster, schoolmistress, and porter, with a view of having them printed, and receiving from each of the respective officers above named, on every Board-day, written replies signed by them, how the several duties required by them have been performed and discharged.

I have also done the same for relieving officers, and have only the collectors to dispose of, who shall have the queries applicable to their office to answer as well as others.

I thought this was very unnecessary at first, but I am quite convinced now that good will result from it, the duties required of each being so frequently within view ; good looking after, however, is quite indispensable.

In consequence of the Board having carried their resolution into effect, of meeting on Monday as well as Tuesday, for the first time since I came to Mullingar, the business was properly done this week, nothing left in arrear, although the examination of tenders for the supplies by contract for the ensuing year occupied a considerable time the second day. There is a disposition to keep the management of their affairs in their own hands, and, although I regret exceedingly the resignation of one of the elective Guardians, or rather his declining to be one any more, I trust there will be an infusion of vigour into the proceedings of the Board, by the changes about taking place notwithstanding, at first, I was rather dubious about it.

I hope the rate-books and collecting books will be all ready for the new rate against Tuesday next ; and with that view I had a resolution passed on Monday last, that the clerk and revising valuator should be in attendance at the work-house every day, from 10 o'clock until 4, or longer if necessary, till everything in the shape of arrear should be brought up. I see myself that this is strictly adhered to.

The Union is now fully 4000*l.* in debt, but a good deal can be got in within a short period from persons holding large tracts of land ; but, from the delay occasioned in making a new rate, the smaller holders have disposed of almost everything they had for market, and, of course, now, the next harvest is what must be principally looked to for payment of their rates.

Mullingar Union.

I am in hopes when the Board next meets for the despatch of business, commencing a new year, that everything regarding labour test, the formation of district Committees of their own body, will be duly carried out, and whatever else is requisite.

I hope, most sincerely, the weather may take up, as otherwise the stoppage of out-door relief to the able-bodied must be greatly felt, from the indisposition of almost every class of farmers to give employment, except where it is quite unavoidable. Yesterday's rain is calculated to retard farm operations a good deal, and the weather appears still quite unsettled.

I have supplied 16 electoral divisions with implements for the employment of the able-bodied, but 10 still hold back, one of which only can be considered in a very destitute state.

I am looking forward to a new era, as to the transaction of business in this Union, and therefore, for once, I make no complaints. The Board was strongly impressed with a belief that the Commissioners were bent on their dissolution, but I assured them there was no such thing contemplated, unless they persisted in setting the law and instructions at naught.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 24, 1848.

I AM requested by Colonel Caulfield, an ex-officio Guardian, to put the following query, and obtain an answer :—

Where the head of a family has more than a quarter of an acre of land, are the children of 15 years or upwards entitled to out-door relief?

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain TELFORD in reply :—March 28, 1848.

I AM directed to state that inasmuch as children above 15 years of age are relievable on their own account, and not on the account of their parents, the former are not, in the opinion of the Commissioners, disentitled to relief by the latter holding land to the extent of more than a quarter of an acre, statute measure.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain TELFORD :—March 24, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to inform you, that the order issued by the Commissioners on the 18th instant, authorizing the Board of Guardians of the Mullingar Union to afford relief out of the workhouse in food to the able-bodied will expire on the 27th instant, and I am to request that you will be so good as to report to the Commissioners your opinion as to the necessity for its renewal.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—March 25, 1848.

IN reply to your letter of the 24th instant, with reference to the order for out-door relief to the able-bodied expiring on the 27th instant, and wishing to know my opinion as to the necessity of renewing it, I beg leave to state, that I think there is the greatest necessity for so doing, as I am convinced from inquiries made on the subject of the employment that must be given when the weather permits, that there are nine or ten electoral divisions in this Union in which, from the cultivation of the potato being likely to be on a limited scale, from the expense of seed and the indisposition of farmers of all classes taking in more hands than can be dispensed with, that large numbers of mere labourers, able and willing to work, will not obtain employment.

ENCLOSURE.

Mullingar Union.

MULLINGAR UNION.

(Out-door Relief.)

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Mullingar Union; to the Clerk and other Officers of the said Union; and to all other persons whom it may concern:

WHEREAS it has been shown to our satisfaction, that, by reason of the want of room in the workhouse of the said Union, adequate relief cannot be afforded therein to destitute poor persons not being persons permanently disabled, or destitute poor persons disabled by sickness or accident, or destitute poor widows having two or more legitimate children dependent on them; and it is expedient to authorize and empower the Guardians of the said Union to administer relief out of the workhouse to such destitute poor persons, for a limited time as hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, we, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, do hereby authorize and empower the said Guardians to administer relief out of the workhouse, in food, to destitute poor persons not being persons permanently disabled from labour by reason of old age, infirmity, or bodily or mental defect, and not being persons disabled from labour by reason of severe sickness or serious accident, and thereby deprived of the means of earning a subsistence for themselves and their families, whom they are liable by law to maintain, and not being poor widows having two or more legitimate children dependent on them, for the period from the date of this order to the 28th day of May next, inclusive.

And we do hereby make the following rules and regulations as to the granting, ordering, and giving of relief to all persons who shall be relieved by the said Guardians, under the authority of this order, that is to say:—

1. Every person relieved under the authority of this order shall be relieved in food only, and such food shall, as far as is practicable, be cooked food.
2. Every able-bodied male person relieved under the authority of this order shall, so far as is practicable, be set to perform a task of work during eight hours at least of every day for which he receives such relief.
3. No able-bodied person who shall be in employment, nor any part of his or her family, shall receive relief as a destitute person under the authority of this order.

And for the more effectual administration of relief under this order, we do hereby authorize and direct the said Guardians to appoint so many relieving officers as shall be found sufficient from time to time, to superintend the labour of such persons as shall be set to work, in pursuance of the regulations in this order contained, and otherwise to assist in the administration of relief under this order, as the said Guardians, subject to our approval, shall direct.

Sealed with our seal, this twenty-eighth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight.

(Seal,)

(Signed)

E. T. B. TWISLETON.

(Countersigned,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 29, 1848.

I BEG leave to report that on Monday last, notwithstanding that the Guardians had determined to devote every Monday as well as Tuesday to the business of the Union, only one member appeared in the Board-room; however this was not of much consequence, as the clerk is fully occupied on that day in each week in examining the out-door relief lists, and Weekly Receipt and Expenditure Books of the relieving officers, and I intended proposing Wednesday instead, as being more convenient.

Yesterday the Board met and did nothing until 12 o'clock, and the attendance of members was very limited. A chairman, vice-chairman, and deputy vice-chairman, were elected for the current year; this the Guardians were disposed to postpone till a fuller meeting could be obtained, but I pointed out the necessity of complying with Article 3 of the General Regulations, by which it could not be deferred. Having disposed of routine business, the Rate and Collecting Books were produced for approval and signature, and although found to be very defective, they were signed—the Guardians thinking, that from the pecuniary difficulties of the Union, further time should not be lost in putting the new rate in course of collection. The revising valuator, Mr. David Harton, was severely admonished for neglect of duty in producing such slovenly documents, and directed to make good forthwith anything imperfect in them. The cases of fresh applicants for relief were then gone into and disposed of, and the Board was adjourned to this day, verbally, by the chairman, only one member promising to attend.

I attended in the Board-room at 11 o'clock to-day, and found but one member present, and examined the Mullingar electoral division rate-book, and found it very defective—the names of occupiers being omitted in some places—want of numbers against tenements generally—and totalling of valuation of townlands and rating neglected. Mr. Harton was absent from his post, though directed to be at the workhouse from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., or longer if necessary, every day, until the business of his office was fully accomplished. I caused the clerk to write to him expressive of my disapprobation of his conduct, and telling him how much worse I found the rate-books than supposed by the Guardians yesterday. I thought they were excessively wrong in signing what they deemed faulty, and could only attribute it to want of business-habits, and impatience to get through their work.

Mullingar Union.

I entertained strong hopes when last I reported, that from a disposition evinced by the Guardians to retain the management of their own affairs, that the time was at hand when steps would be taken, by following up their proposition of giving two days in the week to the business of the Union, and adopting every means of carrying out the instructions as to a rigid labour-test, which is so indispensable—appointing Committees of their own body in divisions more than six miles off, to examine and report on cases taken down in the Application and Report Books of relieving officers—the appointment of efficient and trustworthy persons, at a fair remuneration for their services, as assistant relieving officers, &c.; but for the present all hope has vanished, and I look with dismay at the difficulties arising at the commencement of a new half-year, with a debt of fully 5000*l.*, without any new rate in the course of collection, and little or nothing of the balance of 1000*l.* of last rate coming in, and a large portion of it irrecoverable—the collectors, with very few exceptions, miserable clerks, and not of a class who may be expected to act firmly, and comply with their instructions—besides, the time of the year for getting money from the small landholders has been suffered to pass away, and rates can only now be had generally from those possessing large holdings.

The hurried and imperfect manner in which business is conducted has been taken advantage of by all the officers of the Union, no serious apprehension as to responsibility arising amongst most of them. The books of the majority of relieving officers will present to the auditor anything but strict compliance with instructions, especially what was entered in them at the commencement of giving out-door relief.

Matters have arrived at such a crisis, unless an entirely new system be adopted, the greatest disorganization must prevail in this Union. Guardians coming but once a-week at a late hour for business have no time to scrutinize anything, hence in 13 or 14 months the Visiting Committee have only four times made an inspection of the house—the registers are merely signed, never examined or corrected—and the check provision account is only placed on the table in the Board-room as a matter of course.

I issued implements for the electoral divisions of Piercetown and Rathconrath, but they have never been used; and the Ballynacarrigy division has had none, no application having been made for them, nor any intention exists, I believe, on the part of the Guardians belonging to it, to adopt a labour-test, although their attention has been drawn to it over and over. Had the Board made arrangements that no relief should be given unless stone-breaking or something of the kind were adopted, requiring a certain portion of work to be performed, and appointed proper persons sufficiently paid to superintend, a great saving in expenditure must have resulted, without the demoralizing tendency of getting gratuitous relief.

In Leny, Multyfarnham, and Taghmon, owing to a system of employment from the beginning having been adopted at the suggestion of an intelligent Guardian, the amount of expenditure was greatly curtailed; and since then he induced rate-payers of a certain class to increase the number of their workmen by taking some of the able-bodied who were getting relief into their employment.

Last week the number of cases and persons in the Union getting out-door relief was 10,696, being a decrease on the preceding week of 304 cases and persons.

I am anxiously looking out for your intended communication to the Guardians on the state of the Union, as something decisive is absolutely necessary.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 3, 1848.

Mullingar Union.

THE Commissioners have to acknowledge your report of the 29th ultimo, representing the present unpromising state of the Mullingar Union, and the apathy and indifference which has been shown by the Board of Guardians in many respects to the regular and effective conduct of the business of the Union.

The Commissioners concur in the apprehension which you express that unless an entirely new system be adopted the greatest disorganization must prevail; inasmuch as the extensive details now involved in the administration of relief in the Union require the earnest and most assiduous attention on the part of the Board of Guardians and their officers; and the Commissioners are persuaded that if the former do not evince a determination to enter upon a more active course of proceeding in the discharge of their duties, laxity and inattention must inevitably gain ground among the officers; and these results occurring at a time when more than ordinary exertion is required cannot but be followed by disastrous consequences to the interests of the rate-payers.

The Commissioners enclose herewith your reports respectively dated the 8th and 29th ultimo, and they request that you will urge with all your personal influence upon the Board of Guardians the necessity of their meeting more frequently and of entering more fully than they appear to do at present into the details of the administrative business of the Board. You will at the same time state to the Guardians that if the several defects in their proceedings detailed in the above reports continue without remedy, and if in the course of a short time you are not enabled to report more satisfactorily of the progress of the Union, the Commissioners must necessarily consider their own responsibility under the 18th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, and avail themselves of the power intrusted to them for the purpose of ensuring a more efficient management of the affairs of the Union, by the appointment of paid officers.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—March 31, 1848.

OWING to the defectiveness of the rate-books signed by the Guardians on the 28th instant, which I mentioned in my report of the 29th, I have been all day yesterday and to-day in the Board-room for the purpose of having them speedily perfected.

In comparing the valuation in the present books with those previously in use, I find a variation in the value made by Mr. Harton, the valuator, which, it appears, he has been in the practice of closing without consulting the Guardians, or their being at all cognizant of it, which strikes me to be a most irregular mode of doing business, the 69th section of the 1 and 2 Vic. cap. 56, not having been complied with, nor the 7th section of the 6 and 7 Vic. cap. 92, the first requiring a notice of 21 days to be given after a revision, before a rate can be struck; and the last requiring that every valuation made and revised should be signed and sealed by the Commissioners and not departed from by the Guardians.

This practice of Mr. Harton has been carried on since his appointment, which is leaving too much to the discretion of any officer, to say nothing of the illegality of the proceeding.

My attention was directed to this matter by an elective Guardian, and whether advantage can be taken of it in enforcing the payment of rates I should like to know; but whether or not, I deem it my duty to report the circumstance.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 3, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 31st ultimo relative to the defective state of the rate-books in the Mullingar Union, and I am to inform you that the provision requiring a notice of 21 days to be given after a revision of the valuation of a Union previous to a rate being struck, has been repealed by the 9th section of the Act 6 and 7 Vic. cap. 92, which directs that all persons who may be affected by any rate shall have access to the rate-books on each day (Sundays excepted), between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock, and that when a revision only of a valuation is made by a person appointed by the Guardians, it is not the practice of the Commissioners to sign and seal the valuation, that step not being considered essential to the validity of the rates which may be made thereon.

Mullingar Union.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 5, 1848.

THE three last days of the week ended the 1st instant, I was constant in my attendance in the Board-room, principally for the purpose of expediting the completion of the rate-books and collecting books, found so imperfect when signed by the Guardians on the 28th ultimo, and up to this they are not in a condition to be brought into operation, nor will they until the 11th, the next Board-day. This duty has always been performed by Mr. Harton, the revising valuator, ever since his appointment, with the assistance of pauper boys in the workhouse, who do all the copying, the clerk not having been required to contribute any aid; indeed, with his increased duties under the Extension Act, his time is fully occupied otherwise; and whether the Guardians, to whom he applied for an assistant yesterday, will acquiesce in his demand remains to be seen. Mr. Harton is an efficient officer, when forced to work; but it has been by watching and bringing him before the Board that anything can be effected with him; and yesterday he tendered his resignation, which was not accepted, as the duties of his office were not fulfilled. I suggested that he should not get the cheque which had been signed for his half-year's salary until everything was accomplished by him, preparatory to the collectors entering upon their duties in levying the new rate, which was acceded to.

The result of the investigation into the accounts of Mr. Brien, collector, I forwarded by last night's post, which took a Guardian and myself two days to complete, so perfectly incapable was he to give any assistance, and being evidently apprehensive that it must affect his character for integrity.

Two men who were appointed collectors for Streamstown and Newtown divisions have been prevented giving the necessary security from threats having been held out to the persons they named as sureties; and the man who was appointed for Castletown resigned from not being able to get sufficiently solvent persons as sureties in the amount required. These three men were appointed in succession to the late collector Carey, who was removed, and had the district of Newtown, of which the three divisions above named consisted. The friends of Carey appear determined, by illegal combination, to prevent, as far as in them lies, any person of their own class succeeding him as collector; and until a far superior description of persons to those who are now in office, at a fair remuneration for their services, be appointed, I see no chance of the pecuniary condition of this Union being remedied. A late Guardian, who was a most efficient member of the Board, told me he declined continuing in office, foreseeing the difficulties that must arise from bad collectors, and the Guardians deferring striking a new rate until the collection of last rate should be perfected.

I attended the Board yesterday; and whilst witnessing their proceedings, I received your letter of the 3rd instant, and very unguardedly read it to them instead of conveying the substance and the particular points in my reports which accompanied it, which raised such a storm that I became quite disconcerted, and was unable to touch distinctly on the various matters in which they are wanting in the performance of their duties, which, if persevered in, must involve them in dissolution. I felt an awkwardness in reading my own correspondence, which was required at first, but not insisted on, and the matter terminated in an adjourned meeting to revise the books, and adopt a proper labour-test in the districts of Piercetown and Dysart, on Saturday the 8th instant.

A resolution was passed calling for the suspension of the order for out-door relief on the 15th instant, one or two of the Guardians having stated that in their districts it was impossible to get men to work; but that I told them arose from not adopting a proper labour-test, and whenever the able-bodied could get work they should be struck off the lists, the sealed order being meant for the divisions where employment could not be procured for all hands and want of room in the workhouse.

There are two relieving officers, Mr. Patrick Gavagan and Mr. John Higgins, whom I must report as inefficient, neither of them at the close of the half-year and the commencement of another, having their books in proper order. The latter says he would not retain his appointment for 100*l.* a-year, from being so much interfered with by the Guardians of his district, even to the taking his Application and Report Books and making entries in them. Ballynacarrigy is in this man's district, where every resistance has been offered to a proper labour test, and where I found, on the assistant relieving officer presenting himself for payment of his salary, that the able-bodied paupers were employed in trenching land for farm purposes.

The debt of this Union is of course on the increase from 300*l.* to 400*l.* weekly; and the difficulty of getting in money from this until harvest also on the increase, which, when coupled with, generally speaking, indifferent collectors, must tend greatly to the disadvantage of its future prospects.

My health being impaired just now, from having got into a low nervous temperament from great anxiety, that I feel myself unfitted for the appointment you were pleased to confer on me, which I gladly accepted, and should like much to retain if I feel I could give satisfaction. My indiscretion in reading your letter to the Board yesterday weighs heavily on me; and should you deem it necessary to name a successor to me, I shall render him every assistance in my power, relinquishing all claim to payment for the past.

I can form no opinion yet as to what amendment may take place in the exertions of the Board; but 5000*l.* debt, and current expenses accumulating, and nothing as yet coming in, is an alarming state of things.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 7, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 5th instant, relating to the Mullingar Union, for which I am to return you their thanks.

The Commissioners regret to hear of your indisposition, which they trust is only temporary; and they cannot think of accepting the resignation of an officer whose entire conduct they have had the greatest reason to approve, tendered to them under circumstances such as those referred to in your report.

The Commissioners authorize you to require the resignation of each of the two relieving officers whom you describe as inefficient; and they will, if you deem it necessary, issue an order prohibiting the employment of persons receiving relief in the cultivation of private farms, as they have already done in Thurles Union.

The Commissioners trust that you will continue to report to them, without reserve, your opinion of the manner in which the Guardians of the Union and their officers perform their duties in the administration of relief.

At the same time, the Commissioners desire to call your special attention to the number of aged and infirm persons who are still receiving relief in the workhouse; and on this head they deem it right to refer you to their instructions of the 26th of last October, and to their circular of the 26th of last August.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 12, 1848.

1. I BEG leave to report that I was principally engaged from the 5th to the 8th instant in looking after Mr. Harton, the revising valuator, for the purpose of getting him to complete the rate and collecting books, having had grounds to suspect he was actuated by some sinister motive, from all the delay that has occurred in getting them ready; and having a fortnight back obtained the necessary signatures of the Guardians to them, when so imperfect that they could not be acted on. They are now nearly completed, at least they will be ready as fast as the clerk can arrange with the collectors to put them in operation. Mr. Harton having tendered his resignation and shown a disposition to encourage appeals against the valuation, by saying he concurred in the views of those threatening to do so—as land was not now worth as much as when the general valuation was made, and he would be compelled to give evidence in their favour—led me and others to suspect his integrity, which will be soon tested when relieved of his appointment, which he expects will shortly take place. Mr. Harton has been left too much to himself, consequently the names of persons long since deceased, or having quitted the country, remain on the books, so as to render great difficulty to a collector who may not have local knowledge; and as the supervision of this class of officer in a great measure rested with him, as set forth in the sealed order conferring his appointment, he should have had all the changes in occupation made as they took place from the sources of information he had at his disposal.

Mullingar Union.

2. There will be great difficulty in ascertaining precisely how the accounts of the late Mr. Hanlon stand, who was collector of six electoral divisions, from receipts having been produced for sums returned uncollected to a large amount, some genuine, and others evidently fictitious.

3. Mr. Brien, late collector, returned persons in arrear, although the blocks of his receipt cheque books showed to the contrary; and it is evident he must have possessed himself of a receipt cheque book some way otherwise than through the clerk, from a large proprietor having a receipt for sums for which his blocks had no reference.

4. Mr. Cary, late collector, had no block to produce for Streamstown division, having, he said, left it with the clerk, who denies it; and the general belief is, that when all these matters can be investigated by Mr. Harton, whose duty it is, that payment has been made to a large amount where sums uncollected have been returned.

5. The indisposition of the Guardians to exceed $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. for collecting rates has prevented intelligent and respectable persons offering themselves as collectors, and the result has been the present state of embarrassment of the Union, too much delay having arisen in striking a new rate, waiting for the last to be fully got in by persons no way qualified to effect it, and especially when not looked after in time.

6. With a debt affecting the Union of between 5000 and 6000*l.*, and a new rate only on the eve of being collected at a most unfavourable time of the year, by frieze-coated collectors, I feel the chances of a speedy liquidation is not to be sanguinely entertained.

7. I had an interview with the Marquess of Westmeath on the 6th instant, and on acquainting him with the description of persons generally on whom the collection was about to be intrusted to restore a solvent state of affairs, he said, if paid Guardians were to be resorted to the sooner the better, before the books should get into such hands. I have said all I could to get a better class of persons for the office of collector, but in vain; $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. being the maximum allowed.

8. I attended an adjourned meeting of the Board assembled on the 8th instant, for the purpose of revising the Application and Report Books of two relieving officers—Messrs. Gavagan and Higgins, one of whom only appeared; and establishing a labour test for the Piercetown district; but after about three hours and a-half in partially going through one book, the chairman said he should be off, having workmen to pay; seeing plainly a paid Board only could perform the duties required by the Commissioners.

9. I attended the ordinary meeting of the Guardians yesterday, when, in consequence of the indiscretion I had been guilty of in reading your letter of the 3rd instant, on the 4th a draft of a letter addressed to you was submitted, calling on you to state in what they were deemed apathetic and indifferent, with a view of being made acquainted with the duties they had to perform. I referred the gentlemen who prepared and read the letter to the General Regulations and the General Order for out-door relief, when it was pretty generally admitted they had not done everything required of them, and the letter was accordingly withdrawn.

10. I directed the attention of the Board to the number of aged infirm persons still receiving relief in the workhouse, as brought to my notice in the last paragraph of your letter of the 7th instant; but this they said there was no help for, having no funds to make a suitable provision for them, and until money was available they could not be removed.

11. The clerk applied for an assistant to enable him to carry out the additional duties which have devolved upon him with accuracy and punctuality; and although I thought he could not get on without some aid, he was refused.

12. The master applied for an increase of salary, having only 40*l.* a-year, which was at first rejected; but on my representing the consequences of losing him and the matron, who were both good officers, and the difficulties that might ensue therefrom, on a reconsideration of the application, 20*l.* more was agreed to.

13. The assistant master was discharged yesterday, being a mere boy at 9*l.* a-year, and good for nothing; and although it is of the utmost consequence to have a steady and respectable man in that capacity, who would have influence in maintaining discipline, all the Guardians would give to a successor is 15*l.*

14. Towards the close of the day's proceedings the relieving officers were called in and the new cases for relief were gone into and decided upon. The workhouse as a test for the able-bodied works most beneficially, and when a little money comes in so that provision can be made for aged infirm persons, a great deal of room will be available. No examination of the books was made to see whether they were duly authenticated by the clerk, and the chairman was left quite alone at five o'clock.

15. I have called on relieving officers Gavagan and Higgins for their resignation, which I suppose will be forthcoming by next Monday; this I have done agreeably with your instructions; but should I find the defects remedied in their books against then, I shall report the result. They have both been sadly interfered with by the Guardians of their respective districts, and I have been impressing on them that they are no way to be influenced by any one in carrying out their instructions legally.

16. I had occasion to find fault with Mr. Pierce, relieving officer of Newtown district, for having placed a man's name on the Application and Report Book whom he had not seen for a month, or who, in fact, was not in the country, by his wife's admission, as having applied on the 7th instant; also for having commenced with fresh numbers instead of carrying them on consecutively. I told him I should report him for acting so improperly, and shall await your decision in the matter.

17. Mr. Godfrey Ryan, a broken-down shopkeeper, relieving officer of Mullingar district, has been deputing the performance of his duties to others, and keeps most slovenly books. Business is carried on in his mother's name; but on asking an assistant relieving officer how he was paid, as there was no money for any one, he said he was provided with articles out of Mr. Ryan's shop. This man I conceive is utterly unfit for his appointment, and therefore I recommend he should be removed forthwith. He will not attend to orders of any kind, and is too much mixed up with the town to perform his office with any degree of impartiality. My suspicion of his not being all right arose from the extraordinary number of cases placed under section 1 in his relief list, and the cause of infirmity being put down "old age," at 44 in one instance.

18. I spoke to Mr. Tuite, one of the Committee of Guardians of Ballynacarrigy division, about having the able-bodied getting out-door relief employed for agricultural purposes; he said they had been employed digging land that had been left waste, but that the work has been accomplished. He has a great objection to the lower classes being brought together in any great numbers, from the spirit that has been evinced latterly amongst them; and unless it be made imperative that stone-breaking should be carried on to entitle them to relief, they may have the advantage of occasional employment and relief at the same time. It is very hard to deal with an influential man like Mr. Tuite, who is so accustomed to have his own way.

19. I have to acknowledge my gratitude for the kind expressions used towards me in the second paragraph of your letter of the 7th instant; and shall be most happy to continue in my present position under you if my health will permit. I have been far from well; and on the day I displayed such utter want of judgment I felt mortified in the extreme, especially in having done anything that might bring discredit on those under whom I have been acting. I shall get on the best way I can, although I look for no amendment in the exertions of the Board of Guardians.

20. One great source of the evil affecting this Union is the tendency of the Guardians to pay every one connected with their establishment badly, and consequently have no one of efficiency that can avoid it belonging to it.

April 13.—Owing to indisposition this report was late for last night's post.

21. I had another interview with the Marquess of Westmeath to-day, who is quite alive to the difficulties that must inevitably result from placing collecting books in the hands of the miserable 2½ per cent. functionaries generally selected by the Board of Guardians to get the rates in; indeed my apprehensions are so strong on that point that I can entertain nothing but the most gloomy forebodings.

Mullingar Union.

22. You must have perceived by the state of the workhouse that there are only 24 able-bodied male paupers in it, and crowded in every other respect; and notwithstanding that 100 additional able-bodied males could be accommodated, advantage has not been taken of it. That anything more than a few hours once a week of hurried and imperfectly transacted business can be expected from the present Board of Guardians, I am most thoroughly convinced.

23. Until I hear from you I shall be slow in letting the collecting books into the hands of collectors I am more than doubtful of.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 17, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners with reference to your report of the 12th instant relating to Mullingar Union, to inform you that they are desirous of obtaining from you a special report on the qualification of each of the collectors of poor-rate in that Union for the due discharge of the duties of their office.

The Commissioners will reply to other parts of your report by a further letter.

THE COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the GUARDIANS:—April 17, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to request that the Board of Guardians of the Mullingar Union will suspend the giving of warrants to the collectors of poor rate in that Union until the Commissioners have had the opportunity of receiving a report from Captain Telford on the qualification of each of them.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 19, 1848.

IN reply to your letter of the 17th instant, I beg leave to submit the following observations respecting the collectors of this Union.

1. Michael Scally: electoral divisions of Mullingar and Rathconnell.—This man is a very indifferent clerk; but being heretofore a successful collector he has obtained his warrants for the new rate.

2. Vacant: Killare and Piercetown.—Patrick Philips was appointed by the Guardians for Killare only, but failing in getting the necessary sureties in the first instance, and coming forward a second time with an amended proposal, requiring a shilling in the pound instead of sixpence, he was rejected. I did not think this man was of the class who should be appointed to a difficult district to collect in, as the person required should be of quite a different stamp, and not to be had for 6*d.* in the pound, the maximum allowed by the Guardians.

Piercetown has had no one to come forward under 1*s.* in the pound.

3. Peter Keeffe: Rathconrath, Ballynacarrigy, and Templeoran.—This man is most slovenly and irregular as to his accounts, and is an old road contractor; the amount to be collected is too much to jeopardize in the hands of an inefficient collector, as I deem him.

4. John Ward: Leny, Multyfarnham, and Taghmon.—This man has been incapacitated by fever to take an active part for some time, but being restored to health I think he will answer.

5. William Woods: Collinstown, Castletowndelvin, and Killulagh.—This man completed last collection well, and may do, as he has not a heavy rate to collect.

6. Andrew Percell: Kinnegad and Heathstown.—This man I found more intelligent than I thought at first, and has had the warrants given him, as some persons were anxious to pay their rates before settling with their landlords.

7. John Roberts: Raheny and Killucan.—A most respectable efficient man, in whose hands an extensive collection would be most safe.

8. Richard Sheeran: Lynn, Enniscoffey, Castlelost, and Clenfad.—This man has been most successful as a collector, heretofore; and although an indifferent clerk, has had the warrants given him for new rate.

Mullingar Union.

9. Vacant: Newtown.—Richard Gray was approved of, but prevented getting security owing to intimidation. A smarter man of a class above him would be required for this division, but not to be had for 6*d.* in the pound.

10. Vacant: Castletown.—Michael Banon was approved of for this division, but declined the office afterwards, not being able to provide the necessary sureties; and the persons offering for it since were of too low a grade to be accepted of; and without a very determined efficient person, no good can be expected in getting the rate; 6*d.* in the pound will not secure the services of such a person.

11. Vacant: Streamstown.—John Grey was approved of for this division, but could not find security. I thought him very unfit for the office, and no one has come forward since, the inducement being small and there being some personal risk, owing to the friends of Hugh Carey, late collector, having held out threats that personal injury would be inflicted on any one who should be appointed his successor.

The Guardian of the last-named division, Mr. Mark Kelly, told me that until the Board of Guardians feel disposed to pay their collectors better the rates must remain unpaid, as no respectable men will undertake the arduous office when difficulties will have to be encountered for 6*d.* in the pound.

The collectors who have got their warrants, except Mr. Purcell, have an excellent local knowledge of their respective districts, which is very necessary from the defective state of the rate-books, the changes in occupancy not having been made as they occurred by the revising valuator, Mr. Harton, so that names appear that should have been changed long since.

Without quite a different class of persons to those usually appointed as collectors for

Killare,
Piercetown,
Rathconrath,
Ballynacarrigy,
Templeoran,
Newtown,
Castletown, and Streamstown,

where the rates are high, except in Templeoran, and land much subdivided, it will be absurd to expect that large sums, now so much required to get the Union out of debt, can be realised. The Guardians appear determined to adhere to 2½ per cent. for all collectors.

My fears related principally to those places in my last report, and I am not singular in entertaining them; as without a fair remuneration good and trustworthy persons will not come forward who really mean to do their duty.

REPLY to the foregoing:—April 24, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 19th instant, relating to the collectors of poor-rate in the Mullingar Union, and I am to convey to you the thanks of the Commissioners for the information afforded.

I am at the same time to state that the Commissioners will address the Board of Guardians on the necessity of appointing a better class of collectors in the divisions of Killare, Piercetown, Rathconrath, Ballynacarrigy, Templeoran, Newtown, Castletown, and Streamstown, than the persons who heretofore have held that office, and pointing out to the Guardians the advantage of allowing a liberal rate of poundage to these officers.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the GUARDIANS:—April 24, 1848.

THE Commissioners having received a report from Captain Telford, relative to the fitness of the several poor-rate collectors of the Mullingar Union for the discharge of the duties of their respective offices, I am directed to suggest to the Board of Guardians the necessity which exists for the appointment of a better class of officers to collect the rates in the electoral divisions of Killare, Piercetown, Rathcourath, Ballynacarrigy, Templeoran, Newtown, Castletown, and Streamstown, than the persons on whom that duty has heretofore devolved, as it appears from Captain Telford's observations on the subject, that those officers are but ill calculated for its due discharge.

6 M

Mullingar Union.

I am at the same time to point out to the Guardians the advantage of allowing a more liberal rate of poundage to the collectors of poor-rate, as the Commissioners conceive that it would have the effect of inducing a more efficient class of persons to offer themselves for that office.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 19, 1848.

I BEG leave to report, that during the latter part of the week ended the 15th instant, I exerted myself principally in getting Mr. Harton, the revising valuator, to complete the Rate and Collecting Books, so essential to steps being taken to restore the Union to something like a state of solvency, and they are now, without having undergone the changes that time must effect by death and removal of occupiers and immediate lessors, as perfect as they can be made. Five collectors only have obtained their warrants, one of whom, almost immediately after, lodged better than 70% with the treasurer.

Were it not for delaying too long in striking a rate on the part of the Guardians, and the indisposition evinced by them to appoint men of respectability and business habits as collectors, such as a fair remuneration would be sure to secure, this Union might long since be as much in credit as in debt, and even now, were there not so many vacancies to be filled up of that important office, the pecuniary resources would be speedily recruited, there are so many large proprietors occupying large tracts of their own estates; but unfortunately where destitution most prevails, and the rates consequently heavy, from non-residence of persons of good means, and the minute sub-division of land, the difficulty principally exists at a season of the year, what between the payment of rent and sowing the land, the small farmer has little, if anything, to dispose of. I trust, nevertheless, even with an imperfect machinery to put to work, that much may be accomplished in a short time.

I found yesterday morning that Mr. Lloyd, the Inspector, had arrived in town, and waited on him, in the hope that he would attend the Board, when I should point out to him whatever I might deem requisite he should take notice of as being defective; but unfortunately he received a peremptory order to proceed forthwith to Loughrea, whither he started almost immediately after.

There was a very full Board yesterday, notwithstanding the severity of the weather, and a large assemblage of persons were brought in to have the work-house test applied, many of whom indignantly rejected admission, and of 130 who agreed to come into the house, only 25 remained. A larger number of Guardians remained throughout the day's proceedings than I have witnessed heretofore, there being sufficient to constitute a Board up to 7 o'clock. Were a second day in the week given to business, all that could be required would be readily accomplished.

There is an assistant master much wanted; a steady man, such as a discharged constable of police, or a respectable old non-commissioned officer, at a salary of 20% or 25% a-year; but the Board having determined not to exceed 15%, no person eligible for the appointment is likely to look for it.

The porter having again been brought under the notice of the Board for misconduct, he was at first reprimanded and fined 1%, but another charge having been brought against him for losing, by neglect, the clothing belonging to a pauper on admission, which was not forthcoming when required again, and on my representing that this man's improper conduct had so recently drawn the attention of the authorities to the insubordination of the officers of the establishment, and that nothing short of dismissal could be expected, he was called on for his resignation.

The clerk again applied for an assistant to enable him to conduct the increased business which the Extension Act required of him, but no hope was held out that any help would be afforded him. He has a good deal to do, requiring great care and accuracy, and therefore I thought his demand was reasonable.

I produced a memorandum of Mr. Lloyd's, recommending all communication between the relieving officers and recipients of relief to be cut off, except ordering the contractor to give the quantity of meal to each as directed, and that the contract should be for supply, delivery, and weighing-out, and except to the infirm classes, that half a pint of water should be added to each pound of meal, and the issue to take place twice a-week instead of once; but the Guardians laughed at it as being perfectly absurd and impracticable, adding expense to expense, although preventing much of the relieving officers' time being taken up superintending the issue of meal once a-week, at each of the relief offices.

I called on Messrs. Higgins and Gavagan to resign, as authorized by your letter in reply to my report of the 5th instant, but the former declined doing so—the other at once expressing his readiness to do whatever might be required of him.

The districts of these relieving officers are too large to enable them to perform their duties accurately. Ballynacarrigy, in that of Mr. Higgins, and Killare, in Mr. Gavagan's, would almost require distinct relieving officers for each, owing to their extent and great destitution. These men have to be at the workhouse twice a week, one coming upwards of 12 miles, and the other nearly as far.

The district of Newtown is rather large for one relieving officer, but how to dispose of any one of the three electoral divisions which compose it afterwards, I cannot at present point out; that is, if one were taken off, to make the other two manageable.

I should like to know how far I could act independently of the Guardians in establishing anything like the system pursued by the Ballina Vice-Guardians and Mr. Hamilton: as, if it be necessary to have their concurrence, I should be only laughed at for folly, although were they to see the benefit which must arise from it, they might change their minds. The greatest difficulty is to get them to give sufficient salary to competent overseers; as yet 6s. a-week is all they allow, and that will only procure the services of a mere labourer who can take down names, but exercise no kind of wholesome influence.

The Guardians during the few hours they devote to business never have time to examine books of any kind, the applications for relief being merely gone through for each district. Latterly the workhouse test has been so well applied, that most of the cases of applicants for relief stand rejected.

The Ballynacarrigy, Castletown, Streamstown, and Newtown divisions have heavy lists getting out-door relief; but whenever the weather takes up, so that river-drainage can be carried on, they must be greatly diminished.

The Ballynacarrigy division has at length been supplied with implements on requisition for the able-bodied to break stones, having ceased to give further opposition to it as being useless and demoralizing; but the Guardians will not make any move towards organizing a proper system, and I cannot force them I believe to appoint the class of persons requisite to insure a sufficient quantity of work to be done by each pauper.

The objection of the Guardians to taking temporary buildings for the purpose of making room in the workhouse by the removal of the school children, is the necessity of increasing their staff consequent thereon; and the want of funds prevents the making due provision for aged and infirm persons out of the establishment, which I think they are disposed to do whenever means are at their disposal.

The ground belonging to the workhouse is appropriated for a potato crop this year, but from the few able-bodied men at present inmates, I have had the men taken from stone-breaking in the town and cleaning the streets, to assist in the cultivation of it; in fact, the Board passed a resolution to that effect.

I shall be most particular in seeing the general order relating to collectors rigidly carried out, as the accounts of the collectors heretofore have been shamefully neglected, and a large sum in consequence placed in the utmost jeopardy.

April 20.

Having been detained so long yesterday in the workhouse, trying to get the accounts of a collector in proper order, who succeeded another, at his death, who was a defaulter to a great extent before the collection was half effected, my report was late for yesterday's post, which shall not occur again, if possible.

Mullingar Union.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS :—April 26, 1848.

1. I BEG leave to state that during the latter part of the week ended the 22nd instant, I was principally engaged in getting the accounts of six electoral divisions, namely, Rathconrath, Ballynacarrigy, Templeoran, Leny, Multyfarnham, and Taghmon, so arranged as to ascertain precisely how they stood as affecting the sureties of the late Mr. Hanlon, collector, who died last summer, a defaulter, and his successors, Messrs. Keeffe and Ward, between whom the above-named divisions were formed into districts, and what appeared to remain uncollected, given to get in.
2. Mr. Keeffe having made his entries in the collecting books of his predecessor and been left to himself afterwards, it was impossible to ascertain how his accounts stood without completely sundering them, which took a good deal of time, all attempts otherwise having proved ineffectual. He alleges having seen receipts of Hanlon's to the amount of 75*l.*, for which no entries had been made, but had only four of them to produce. It is proposed returning the sums producing this amount, excepting the amount of the receipts forthcoming in arrear in the present rate books, and then sending a person specially to take the receipts up, by giving others in their place, if Keeffe's statement be found correct.
3. Mr. Ward, who had been a long time recovering from the effects of fever, came in on Saturday last, when his accounts had to undergo the same operation as Keeffe's, but are now satisfactorily arranged. He has taken up or seen receipts of Hanlon's for sums returned to him uncollected, for 30*l.* Altogether Hanlon died in debt to the Union, if all receipts be forthcoming as alleged, 208*l.*, which I greatly fear will be lost from the present circumstances of his sureties.
4. Until it can be ascertained whether the persons returned by Messrs. Carey and Brien, late collectors, as defaulting ratepayers have paid or not, no steps by the terms of their respective bonds can be taken in suing their sureties. These men were permitted to resign, having been reported for neglect of duty, and as yet, have not had successors appointed with your concurrence.
5. There was a good attendance of Guardians yesterday, notwithstanding the cattle show in Dublin, a fair in the neighbourhood, and the attractions of an exhibition of flowers in Mullingar. Your letter was read on the subject of collectors, recommending a better class of persons to be appointed than heretofore, at a more liberal rate of poundage, for the divisions of Killare, Piercetown, Rathconrath, Ballynacarrigy, Templeoran, Newtown, Castletown, and Streamstown, but without making the slightest impression; the Guardians deeming sixpence in the pound sufficient. Mr. Patrick Philips having found other sureties than those originally named, they were approved of for Killare collection. Mr. Richard Gray having obtained a second surety in which he had been deficient, was approved of as collector for Newtown; and Mr. William Manny and sureties were approved of for Piercetown collection. A candidate for Castletown collection was rejected from writing very badly and being incapable of keeping intelligible accounts. A Mr. Glenville offered himself for the collection of Castletown and Streamstown at one shilling in the pound, naming solvent sureties, but his proposal was not entertained for a moment.
6. The clerk's notice of motion for an assistant was withdrawn; first, on account of the probability of a thin attendance of Guardians, and ultimately, from finding he had no chance of succeeding. I stated from the pressure of business that had been upon him, the impossibility of his performing himself all the duties required under the Extension Act, and consequently the out-door register had been left to pauper boys, and sometimes to relieving officers, and the result was, although a most important document, it was in many instances very erroneous; cases that were rejected or admitted to the workhouse having been registered, and from the mode adopted by the Board at first of putting down a separate amount of relief for dependents they were registered as cases also; altogether from the clerk not being permitted or enabled to perform all the further duties required of him under article 8 of the General Order for out-door relief, the greatest inaccuracies have occurred, and difficulties must arise in auditing the accounts.
7. There was a good deal of discussion as to whether an assistant master should be appointed, or a wardman and wardmaid; when it was decided that the latter should take place, as the preference was given to such arrangement by the master, with which he is to rest satisfied. Mullingar Union.

8. After a notice of motion for the re-consideration of the chargeability of a pauper that could not be decided, a host of people were brought forward who had been getting out-door relief, to have the workhouse test applied to them, which soon wearied out the patience of the Guardians; most of whom disappeared about five o'clock, leaving the remainder of the business to be transacted by three elected Guardians, who with difficulty were persuaded to stop till poor people who had been brought in 10 and 12 Irish miles were finally disposed of, at a quarter past eight o'clock. The accounts of collectors who had closed their accounts could not then be gone into from want of a Board, one Guardian having withdrawn; consequently an adjournment to Thursday was determined on for that purpose, but whether a sufficient number of Guardians can be got together is problematical: 225 persons were admitted to the workhouse, but of that number perhaps a fourth will not remain.

9. The porter, who had been called on for his resignation last Board-day, presented a memorial, praying to be continued in office, which was acceded to, though twice before the Guardians for neglect of duty within a very short period. He is better, however, than perhaps a successor might be at so small a salary as 10*l.* a-year.

10. The business of this Union ever since I came to it has been conducted in so hurried and imperfect a manner as regards the Extension Act; one day only in the week being all the Guardians can devote to it; and the manifest disinclination to adhere to the instructions for carrying out the law, together with liabilities affecting it, now little short of 6000*l.*, and no disposition to provide such a class of collectors on whom confidence might be reposed in the due discharge of their duty, places me in a very embarrassing position; as I feel no confidence in any quarter, and look upon it that without a paid Board, the financial condition of an extensive and comparatively rich Union will be as bad in a little time as when the most unfavourable circumstances prevailed.

11. As to the employment of the able-bodied without an efficient machinery and regular system based thereon, it can answer no purpose; and whilst 6*s.* a-week is all that will be allowed an overseer, the services of a mere labourer are all that can be reckoned on. In Piercetown, Rathconrath, and Ballynacarrigy, although supplied with implements, no effort has been made to put the paupers to work.

12. Mr. Lloyd's memorandum, which he gave me on the 18th instant, has been made quite a subject of ridicule, as being preposterous in the extreme. It recommended cutting off all communication between relieving officers and recipients of relief, except ordering the contractor to give the quantity of meal to each as decided, and that the contract should be made for supply, delivery, and weighing, &c. He also suggested that the issue of food should be made twice instead of once a week, and with half a pint of water to one pound of meal.

13. The arrangement in this Union which the Guardians are determined to adhere to is the personal attendance of the relieving officer, who obtains an order for a week's supply of food at a time, in issuing it at his office, thereby occupying three entire days in some districts; a storekeeper, or the appointment of a person in that capacity not being permitted; consequently the time a relieving officer should be otherwise engaged is thus occupied.

14. The fact is that it is not merely that the Union will be plunged into great pecuniary difficulty by the system at present pursued, but the law and instructions for carrying it out are looked on as so complex, that it amounts to an impossibility; and an opinion expressed to that effect in the presence of the clerk and relieving officers, is not calculated to impress them with a belief that a rigid adherence to their several duties is indispensable.

15. The Application and Report Books rarely specify the duration of relief, and until latterly, the amount in meal was never inserted, merely the money value, which must undergo change with each alteration in price as fresh contracts are entered into.

16. The strong objection to paying anything like a staff necessary to carry out the mode of out-door relief as prescribed, is so strong, and any suggestion on the subject met with so much impatience, that I am quite in despair at effecting any good; besides, two whole days in the week, with competent officers in every capacity, would be the very least in which the business of so large a Union as this, containing 26 electoral divisions, could be transacted.

Mullingar Union.

17. I have already had occasion to bring to your notice the inefficiency of relieving officers Higgins, Gavagan, and Ryan, the two former of whom I called on to resign, with your authority, but they have not as yet complied. As to Mr. Ryan he is utterly unfit for his appointment; he is a miserable clerk, and so circumstanced from his connexion with his mother's shop, that he has not the inclination, nor is he in a position, to perform his duty as he should. It took me a whole day to compare his Application and Report Book with his relief list, when I found the greatest inaccuracies tending to make his integrity doubtful.

18. Five collectors are in operation with the new books; but as yet only 324*l.* 7*s.* has been paid to the treasurer. Every Saturday I mean to have them in to account: and were the other divisions provided with proper collectors a good deal might be effected in a short time.

19. My feelings are so strong as to the necessity of having a paid Board here, as the business can never be properly transacted by the present one, having neither the inclination to devote more time to it, nor to appoint competent officers, their rate of remuneration being too low to secure the services of such as might be depended on; and feeling under existing circumstances how little I can effect, I should most gladly vacate my present position, refunding to the uttermost farthing all sums remitted me on account of salary or otherwise; and should you deem it expedient to appoint Vice-Guardians, they should be men of experience to remedy the evils ensuing from debt and the unfavourable period of the year suffered to arrive before any step could be taken to collect a new rate, to say nothing of the total disregard to all instructions issued for the due administration of the Extension Act.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK to the GUARDIANS—Dissolution of the Board of Guardians:—May 1, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under their serious consideration the present state of the Mullingar Union, and the correspondence which has recently taken place regarding the conduct of the business of the Union by the Board of Guardians.

It appears that on the 15th April last, the workhouse, which is estimated to contain 1016 inmates, contained 974, a number little short of the full complement; and that there were 7947 persons on the out-door relief lists, including 3466 persons relieved under the 2nd section of the Extension Act; and that at least equal numbers were chargeable on the poor-rates for several weeks previously to that date, at a cost, averaging from the commencement of the month of March, of 250*l.* weekly. The nature and extent of the relief now prevailing in the Union are both such as to demand from the Board of Guardians the most assiduous attention to the discharge of their duties, especially the examination of the cases of the recipients of out-door relief; and the Commissioners deeply regret to find from the reports of their Inspector, Captain Telford, that the Guardians have not collectively shown a disposition to give the necessary attention to the business of the Board.

The Commissioners consider that the greatest allowance is to be made for gentlemen who have other avocations to attend to, and many of whom in an extensive Union like that of Mullingar reside at a considerable distance from the place of meeting; but under the present circumstances of difficulty, and with details of so much magnitude as those involved in the present system of relief, it is a matter of paramount importance that greater pains should be bestowed on the business of the Union and the control and superintendence of its paid officers, than can possibly be bestowed by gentlemen who meet only once in the week for the discharge of their onerous duties.

Captain Telford reports most unfavourably of the efficiency of several of the relieving officers in the Union, especially Messrs. Higgins, Gavagan, and Ryan; and the Commissioners greatly fear that proper control is not exercised over those officers by the Board, inasmuch as there is no record on the minutes of the Guardians of their views regarding the efficiency of any of these officers.

It appears that several of the collectors of the last made rates have failed as yet to close their accounts of the collection satisfactorily; and that the Guardians have nevertheless deemed it right to entrust to a similar class of persons, at a low rate of poundage, the collection of the rate which has recently been made, the recent remonstrance of the Commissioners having failed to produce any change in the course pursued by the Guardians on this important point.

The present financial position of the Union is such as, in connexion with the circumstance last adverted to, is calculated to create considerable alarm, the expenditure of the 12 months having so largely exceeded the collection during the same period that the liabilities of the Guardians approach to nearly 6000*l*. In a Union containing so much rateable property in proportion to its poverty as that of Mullingar, it was no difficult task for the Guardians to have avoided debt and embarrassment, than which nothing can be more prejudicial to the interests of the rate-payers. It appears, however, that at the close of March, 1847, a rate was made, amounting to 8502*l*., a sum equal to 10½*d*. in the pound, on the entire valuation; of which there was collected in the first six months, 5156*l*., or 6½*d*. in the pound on the valuation, leaving 3346*l*. uncollected, and 901*l*. in the treasurer's hands, a sum exceeding the then liabilities of the Union by 427*l*.

In the ensuing six months there was collected only 2374*l*., or 3*d*. in the pound on the valuation, a sum little exceeding in amount the expenses of the single month of February, and falling short of the total expenses of the six months by 5167*l*.

The rate recently made appeared to the Commissioners satisfactory in amount, but they consider that due exertion failed to be made by the Guardians in their not causing the collection of the rate made in March, 1847, to be sooner brought to a close, and a new rate brought into collection at a more favourable period of the year to meet the difficulties of the present emergency.

The Commissioners consider, therefore, that the Guardians of Mullingar Union have made great default in the discharge of this important portion of their duties as a Board; and their unwillingness or inability to give sufficient attention to the conduct of the affairs of the Union has been brought so frequently, and in so marked a manner, under the notice of the Commissioners, that they cannot do otherwise than exercise their powers under the 18th section of the Extension Act, by dissolving the Board of Guardians, and appointing paid officers to execute their duties. An order to that effect is therefore enclosed herewith, and will be followed shortly by the appointment of paid officers.

Captain TELFORD to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 2, 1848.

I BEG leave to report that this day I received a copy of your sealed order for the dissolution of the Board of Guardians of this Union.

This being the ordinary day of meeting, the deputy chairman presiding,—after the minutes of last day's proceedings were read and signed, your letter of the 1st inst., together with the sealed order which accompanied it, were read by the clerk, and immediately the Guardians, six in number, retired very much dissatisfied, one of whom since his election having only attended twice or thrice, hoping the Commissioners would not send fools to conduct their business, and blaming me as the cause of their being dissolved.

In consequence of there being several letters for Mr. Flanagan at the post-office this morning, I remained in the Board-room until past 5 o'clock, hoping he might arrive and give instructions how I was to proceed until the paid Board should come into operation, having no powers that I can conceive invested in me to act the part of one.

The relieving officers who had 90 cases to dispose of, but not thinking them of a very urgent nature, sent the parties away at my suggestion, until I or others should be empowered to decide with regard to them.

The contractors having agreed to supply the offices of the relieving officers as usual on their provisional orders, and there being nothing to do that I had authority to proceed with, I left the workhouse.

I shall look forward with anxiety to the arrival of Mr. Flanagan, or instructions under the peculiar circumstances I am placed in, as I do not feel myself in a position to perform the functions of the late Board.

Mullingar Union.REPLY to the foregoing:—May 3, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 2nd instant, relating to the dissolution of the Board of Guardians of the Mullingar Union, and in reply I am to inform you that Vice-Guardians have been selected and will be appointed immediately, and that on their acceptance of the office they will be directed to proceed at once to Mullingar, where the Commissioners trust they will arrive before the next weekly meeting.

In the meantime I am to request that you will take care that the provisional powers of the relieving officers to afford relief in cases of sudden and urgent necessity are exercised in any cases of that nature which may occur.

For better security, and in the event of both the Vice-Guardians not arriving, the Commissioners have directed you to be appointed a Vice-Guardian, pro tempore, at a nominal salary,—with no intention, however, of superseding your functions as Inspector of the Union.

FINANCIAL RETURNS:—

[In continuation of Similar Series in Fifth Series of Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session.]

STATEMENTS (pp. 1001–1005) showing—

- I. The Progress of the Collection of the Poor Rate in the several Unions in Ireland during the Month of February, 1848; also the Amount disbursed by the Treasurers during the Month; together with the Amount remaining uncollected, and the state of the Balances at the close of the Month.
 - II. The Total Amount of Poor Rate collected during the five Months from 1st October, 1847, to 29th February, 1848.
 - III. The Amount of the Liabilities of the several Unions to Contractors and others on 29th February, 1848, exclusive of any sum due to Her Majesty's Government for the Principal and Interest of the Workhouse Loan, or any Sum due on account of any other Loan obtained from other Parties simply for Building Purposes.
 - IV. Summary showing the Amount of Rate collected in each Month; also the Amount remaining uncollected, and the state of the Balances at the foot of the Treasurer's Accounts, at the close of each Month.
-

STATEMENT (pp. 1006–1014), showing for each Poor Law Union in Ireland—

- I. The Average Numbers of Destitute Persons relieved in the Workhouse and out of the Workhouse during March, 1848.
- II. The Expenses of the Month, distinguishing the Cost of In-Maintenance, of Out-Relief, and of all other Expenses.
- III. The Progress of the Collection of Poor Rate during the Month, compared with the Expenses of the Month.
- IV. The Financial Condition at the close of the Month, the state of the Balance on the Treasurer's Account, and the Amount of Liabilities to Contractors or others, exclusive of any Sum due to Her Majesty's Government, on Account of Building Loans, or other Advances.
- V. A Comparative Summary of the Collection and Expenses of the Six Months, from 29th September, 1847, to 31st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, FEBRUARY, 1848.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.
Names of Unions and Counties.	Total No. for which workhouse accommodation is provided in each Union.	Amount of Poor Rate collected during the Month of February.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer during the Month, including other Receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer during the Month.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.	Amount of Poor Rate collected from 1st October, 1847, to 29th Feb., 1848.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month.		Net Amount of Debts on 29th Feb., deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount remaining to credit of Unions on 29th Feb., deducting the Amount of Debts.	Current Expenses of the Month of February.	Excess of Expenses of the Month over Receipts during the Month.	Excess of Receipts during the Month over Expenses of the Month.	Net Annual Value of Property rated in the Union.
							In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Co. Antrim.		£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Antrim . . .	1,050	88	88	628	..	6,300	2,541	..	..	1,985	509	421	..	100,611
Ballycastle . .	340	258	258	241	2,538	716	165	..	144	..	*250	..	8	39,160
Ballymena . . .	1,140	107	107	598	46	3,429	41	..	769	..	820	713	..	97,492
Ballymoney . . .	752	703	754	336	3,211	3,773	823	..	..	581	*350	..	404	73,086
Belfast . . .	2,222	3,232	3,159	2,184	10,316	9,874	1,560	..	1,680	..	1,526	..	1,633	271,915
Larne . . .	652	15	15	162	1,151	2,411	904	..	..	445	471	456	..	72,437
Lisburn . . .	1,500	1,183	1,213	695	690	3,650	216	..	434	..	699	..	514	136,397
Co. Armagh.
Armagh . . .	1,300	1,777	1,763	1,678	17,866	5,528	191	..	709	..	845	..	918	174,572
Lurgan . . .	1,312	943	943	475	3,021	8,976	1,649	..	..	430	869	..	74	92,682
Co. Cavan.
Bailieborough .	1,114	1,743	1,871	2,036	5,065	5,723	262	..	1,330	..	973	..	898	52,156
Cavan . . .	1,420	3,578	3,568	2,620	2,574	15,408	6,892	..	..	3,065	2,694	..	874	127,282
Cootehill ^b . . .	840	1,116	1,175	857	5,834	3,142	320	..	2,623	..	906	..	269	73,490
Co. Donegal.
Ballyshannon .	800	1,843	1,839	896	2,442	5,174	2,299	..	..	1,681	670	..	1,169	51,435
Donegal . . .	550	150	69	271	4,394	1,621	170	..	471	..	261	192	..	31,639
Dunfanaghy . .	350	7	29	162	1,127	274	225	..	..	71	150	121	..	10,543
Glenties . . .	500	584	731	761	1,287	2,146	23	..	1,554	..	906	175	..	16,330
Inishowen . . .	600	362	329	210	4,587	806	105	..	493	..	293	..	36	36,607
Letterkenny . .	570	535	583	742	1,392	1,229	148	..	447	..	419	..	164	31,835
Millford . . .	490	1,353	1,364	1,009	1,236	1,970	598	..	12	..	409	..	955	31,377
Stranorlar . . .	400	698	774	454	2,017	1,312	402	..	..	147	240	..	534	29,402
Co. Down.
Banbridge . . .	1,168	1,099	1,112	1,045	2,765	4,936	350	..	318	..	657	..	455	123,970
Downpatrick . .	1,060	1,536	1,676	455	1,012	3,531	3,050	..	..	2,949	370	..	1,306	167,393
Kilkeel . . .	390	82	93	110	52	1,305	378	..	..	107	119	26	..	36,932
Newry . . .	1,000	671	672	819	2,826	3,537	1,342	..	..	277	845	173	..	129,651
Newtownards . .	1,165	78	78	393	263	3,191	..	302	1,026	..	464	386	..	116,469
Co. Fermanagh.
Enniskillen ^c . .	1,100	1,823	1,868	1,823	6,798	6,032	528	..	2,677	..	812	..	1,056	96,108
Lisnakea . . .	784	1,693	1,169	176	4,421	3,653	1,061	..	..	377	506	..	663	46,919
Lowtherstown ^d .	500	1,407	1,362	735	2,583	3,935	1,159	..	..	325	863	..	499	45,944
Co. Londonderry.
Coleraine . . .	960	248	188	559	2,780	2,455	536	..	..	59	370	182	..	76,410
Londonderry . .	960	1,473	1,576	768	1,990	3,248	992	..	120	..	906	..	670	111,859
Magherafelt . .	1,240	453	412	291	3,477	4,766	1,622	..	..	916	410	..	2	75,339
Newtownlimavady	640	394	394	210	4,453	1,647	149	..	324	..	238	..	156	65,630
Co. Monaghan.
Carrickmacross .	550	600	544	802	1,243	4,263	1,223	..	..	889	585	41	..	46,325
Castleblaney . .	860	962	947	376	2,470	6,548	741	..	841	..	855	..	92	65,473
Clones . . .	900	1,175	1,177	890	5,397	2,234	541	..	55	..	478	..	699	55,055
Monaghan . . .	976	1,528	1,581	614	3,055	7,965	4,537	..	..	3,777	497	..	1,084	94,431
Co. Tyrone.
Castlederg . . .	281	112	70	127	395	1,194	290	..	67	..	239	169	..	21,790
Clogher . . .	632	768	858	661	955	3,418	691	..	..	112	468	..	370	42,275
Cookstown . . .	600	317	321	306	1,030	1,773	390	..	136	..	287	..	34	56,550
Dungannon . . .	1,050	1,069	1,137	1,151	3,088	3,243	204	..	780	..	717	..	420	90,330
Gortin . . .	400	..	..	..	855	700	..	4	670	..	106	106	..	15,751
Omagh . . .	1,000	2,256	2,296	684	7,940	3,579	1,094	..	499	..	959	..	1,337	75,354
Strabane . . .	900	728	810	583	1,685	7,445	5,069	..	..	4,377	683	..	127	81,529
Total of Ulster	36,918	40,747	40,973	30,593	132,327	168,055	45,501	612	18,179	22,770	26,714	3,160	17,420	3,320,133

^a Cavan.—Vice-Guardians appointed 8th December, 1847. ^c Enniskillen.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.
^b Cootehill.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1843. ^d Lowtherstown.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th September, 1847.
* Estimated.

Financial Return, February, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Total No. for which workhouse accommodation is provided in each Union.	Amount of Poor Rate collected during the Month of February.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer during the Month, including other Receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer during the Month.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.	Amount of Poor Rate collected from 1st October 1847, to 29th Feb., 1848.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month.		Net Amount of Debts on 29th Feb., deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount remaining to credit of Unions on 29th Feb., deducting the Amount of Debts.	Current Expenses of the Month of February.	Excess of Expenses of the Month over Receipts during the Month.	Excess of Receipts during the Month over Expenses of the Month.	Net Annual Value of Property rated in the Union.
							In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Co. Clare.		£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Ennis . . .	808	3,385	3,386	3,027	4,666	11,582	3,908	..	..	1,932	3,572	186	..	101,222
Ennistymon ^a . .	650	915	915	1,112	8,652	6,047	72	..	880	..	1,270	355	..	67,456
Kilrush ^b . . .	1,050	1,025	1,025	1,169	8,730	6,439	5	..	2,170	..	1,995	970	..	59,449
Scariff ^c . . .	1,040	4,477	4,465	5,259	9,088	8,604	136	..	3,980	..	3,347	..	1,118	44,609
Co. Cork.
Bandon . . .	1,075	2,264	2,150	970	3,579	6,099	5,863	..	..	4,059	1,917	..	233	136,166
Bantry ^d . . .	736	952	1,425	1,843	3,352	3,627	497	..	4,208	..	1,741	316	..	41,829
Cork . . .	4,200	5,753	5,753	2,919	26,423	14,144	5,602	..	..	5,279	3,018	..	2,735	365,623
Dunmanway . .	615	1,039	1,039	563	1,901	4,907	3,050	..	..	2,742	578	..	461	44,084
Fermoy . . .	1,160	3,892	3,844	2,198	6,304	17,993	4,705	..	..	2,249	2,716	..	1,168	153,452
Kanturk ^e . . .	1,940	3,679	3,680	4,471	1,544	17,377	4,329	..	..	313	2,391	..	1,298	106,114
Kinsale . . .	800	551	551	499	1,711	4,225	2,231	..	..	1,900	676	125	..	73,948
Macroom . . .	840	481	481	834	1,413	4,821	1,391	..	..	1,000	919	433	..	93,875
Mallow . . .	860	1,098	1,098	900	2,469	12,352	6,989	..	..	6,669	908	..	190	122,708
Middleton . .	1,286	3,871	3,870	1,870	6,045	20,843	12,166	..	..	11,164	1,767	..	2,103	163,070
Skibbereen . .	1,520	3,354	3,354	1,556	7,647	9,297	3,073	..	..	2,139	2,172	..	1,182	98,255
Co. Kerry.
Cahiriveen ^f . .	400	738	663	557	1,663	2,164	808	..	577	..	*292	..	371	24,366
Kenmare ^g . . .	540	812	629	535	1,251	3,342	532	..	1,809	..	681	352	..	21,659
Killarney . . .	1,650	1,789	1,883	1,639	3,208	10,458	424	..	1,575	..	2,183	300	..	85,828
Listowel . . .	896	3,339	3,869	3,958	4,674	10,025	1,980	..	1,149	..	3,686	..	183	97,553
Tralee . . .	1,910	2,235	2,256	3,007	2,478	14,625	2,595	..	..	1,419	3,033	777	..	113,854
Co. Limerick.
Kilmallock . .	1,050	1,688	1,804	2,884	5,441	14,141	25	..	1,419	..	3,032	1,248	..	177,880
Limerick . . .	3,100	5,998	5,714	1,843	18,402	23,093	7,176	..	..	4,976	3,968	..	2,746	206,861
Newcastle ^h . .	710	1,332	1,614	1,543	5,074	12,819	221	..	7,326	..	3,954	2,340	..	109,499
Rathkeale . . .	974	3,767	3,044	2,752	3,038	13,408	4,723	..	..	2,273	2,862	..	182	138,337
Co. Tipperary.
Carrick-on-Suir .	960	991	992	584	2,212	7,628	1,390	..	436	..	1,029	37	..	89,871
Castel . . .	819	2,634	1,913	1,628	7,757	10,884	1,836	..	445	..	2,093	180	..	130,293
Clogheen . . .	600	556	556	972	2,109	6,078	1,984	..	..	1,365	1,031	475	..	62,760
Clounmel . . .	1,600	582	582	1,199	2,961	7,259	3,586	..	..	2,036	1,024	442	..	91,108
Neenagh . . .	1,250	1,437	1,437	2,469	11,704	12,113	770	..	251	..	2,647	1,210	..	119,902
Roscrea . . .	1,060	1,753	1,757	1,471	7,519	8,280	1,465	..	..	334	928	..	829	102,171
Thurles . . .	960	2,721	2,722	2,407	11,063	8,816	1,063	..	..	116	2,286	..	436	108,931
Tipperary . . .	1,100	2,033	2,034	1,672	7,816	11,198	4,452	..	..	2,221	2,274	240	..	148,326
Co. Waterford.
Dungarvon . . .	960	1,012	964	818	2,332	11,799	7,036	..	..	6,350	914	..	50	91,591
Lismore . . .	70	930	915	446	1,199	6,528	3,836	..	..	3,170	*742	..	173	64,583
Waterford ⁱ . .	1,670	956	956	1,995	3,782	7,412	445	..	777	..	1,389	433	..	193,771
Total of Munster	41,219	74,609	73,389	63,569	199,212	350,424	99,934	..	27,001	63,705	68,255	10,324	15,458	3,777,103

^a Ennistymon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 29th February, 1848.^b Kilrush.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.^c Scariff.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th October, 1847.^d Bantry.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th October, 1847.^e Kanturk.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th November, 1847.^f Cahirciveen.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th Dec., 1847.^g Kenmare.—Vice-Guardians appointed 20th January, 1848.^h Newcastle.—Vice-Guardians appointed 4th March, 1848.ⁱ Waterford.—Vice-Guardians appointed 25th March, 1848.

* Estimated.

Financial Return, February, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Total No. for which workhouse accommodation is provided in each Union.	Amount of Poor Rate collected during the Month of February.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer during the Month, including other Receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer during the Month.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.	Amount of Poor Rate collected from 1st October, 1847, to 29th February, 1848.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month.		Net Amount of Debts on 29th Feb. deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount remaining to credit of Unions on 29th Feb. deducting the Amount of Debts.	Current Expenses of the Month of February.	Excess of Expenses of the Month over Receipts during the Month.	Excess of Receipts during the Month over Expenses of the Month.	Net Annual Value of Property rated in the Union.
							In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Co. Carlow.		£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Carlow . . .	1,400	1,177	1,177	2,170	4,752	10,479	2,789	..	..	461	2,025	848	..	179,037
Co. Dublin.
Balrothery . .	584	295	333	494	569	2,866	246	..	184	..	524	191	..	94,521
Dublin, North .	3,600	5,454	5,941	4,996	26,901	19,785	2,510	..	..	324	3,632	..	2,309	369,745
Dublin, South .	2,300	1,363	1,491	1,155	9,374	10,667	2,655	..	1,027	..	2,694	1,203	..	569,940
Rathdown . .	646	326	409	832	2,171	4,250	453	..	906	..	881	472	..	152,314
Co. Kildare.
Athy . . .	970	895	1,264	1,512	6,179	5,367	341	..	582	..	1,045	..	219	102,881
Cellanage . .	519	919	919	381	4,441	2,533	892	..	..	406	193	..	726	130,776
Naas . . .	650	1,033	1,033	1,031	2,049	10,832	5,916	..	..	4,694	980	..	53	135,232
Co. Kilkenny.
Callan . . .	390	1,060	1,030	889	4,734	6,458	1,702	..	..	314	1,460	430	..	84,103
Kilkenny ^a . .	1,750	6,235	6,240	4,900	15,887	14,212	801	..	3,050	..	2,706	..	3,534	241,775
King's County.
Edenderry . .	612	503	503	400	1,099	3,819	2,045	..	..	1,465	491	..	12	98,634
Parsonstown .	800	2,265	2,265	642	6,762	8,485	3,282	..	..	1,167	644	..	1,621	109,286
Tullamore ^b . .	1,220	1,082	1,034	1,048	2,443	6,902	373	..	1,164	..	1,231	197	..	86,516
Co. Longford.
Granard ^c . .	700	1,881	1,881	583	11,122	3,995	1,518	..	982	..	774	..	1,107	87,209
Longford ^d . .	1,094	502	502	524	4,250	5,149	..	967	4,606	..	1,655	1,153	..	124,496
Co. Louth.
Ardee . . .	970	1,210	1,210	1,174	3,059	7,631	1,157	..	..	722	1,273	63	..	93,047
Drogheda . .	940	1,106	1,124	1,210	2,212	7,442	2,317	..	827	..	1,829	705	..	136,604
Dundalk . .	948	644	512	664	2,086	2,384	..	93	871	..	519	7	..	106,680
Co. Meath.
Dunshaughlin .	566	103	103	347	4,675	3,531	8	..	656	..	689	586	..	118,486
Keils . . .	980	848	848	831	2,491	6,153	243	..	1,964	..	1,237	389	..	123,339
Navan . . .	570	1,503	1,539	1,312	5,611	4,403	..	36	1,853	..	1,290	..	249	101,527
Oldcastle . .	644	513	574	1,271	1,246	7,944	1,720	..	336	..	1,722	1,148	..	79,721
Trim ^e . . .	520	79	115	863	156	2,946	1,701	..	..	677	874	759	..	100,634
Queen's County.
Abbeyleix . .	700	1,374	1,551	1,483	2,418	5,888	68	..	1,351	..	1,340	..	211	66,759
Mountmellick .	1,644	1,080	1,080	1,456	5,031	7,262	..	352	1,005	..	1,661	581	..	89,914
Co. Westmeath.
Athlone ^f . . .	1,048	279	279	495	16,364	1,677	..	1,304	4,695	..	740	461	..	103,078
Mullingar . .	1,016	455	508	572	1,029	2,315	..	312	2,943	..	2,283	1,775	..	190,944
Co. Wexford.
Enniscorthy . .	1,039	2,307	2,267	1,491	6,834	10,267	2,233	..	..	1,427	1,499	..	768	126,921
Gorey . . .	660	687	637	411	8,472	2,318	259	..	1,002	..	684	47	..	94,001
New Ross ^g . .	1,500	1,660	1,660	1,590	7,976	10,170	878	..	506	..	1,625	..	35	109,748
Wexford . . .	870	1,739	1,468	1,101	7,150	7,749	3,880	..	..	3,296	1,101	..	367	113,714
Co. Wicklow.
Baltinglass . .	600	625	782	731	1,323	3,494	807	..	..	175	706	..	76	90,888
Rathdrum . .	722	232	232	787	1,563	2,519	580	..	174	..	1,058	826	..	153,246
Shillelagh . .	487	328	328	466	1,379	3,092	550	..	392	..	467	139	..	64,485
Total of Leinster	34,159	41,772	42,839	39,817	183,808	215,014	41,919	3,054	31,376	15,122	43,532	11,980	11,287	4,624,542

^a Kilkenny.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th February, 1848.^b Tullamore.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th February, 1848.^c Granard.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th February, 1848.^d Longford.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.^e Trim.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th January, 1848.^f Athlone.—Vice-Guardians appointed 22nd January, 1848.^g New Ross.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

* Estimated.

Financial Return, February, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Total No. for which workhouse accommodation is provided in each Union.	Amount of Poor Rate collected during the Month of February.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer during the Month, including other Receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer during the Month.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.	Amount of Poor Rate collected from 1st October, 1847, to 29th February, 1848.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month.		Net Amount of Debts on 29th Feb., deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount remaining to credit of Unions on 29th Feb. deducting the Amount of Debts.	Current Expenses of the Month of February.	Excess of Expenses of the Month over Receipts during the Month.	Excess of Receipts during the Month over Expenses of the Month.	Net Annual Value of Property rated in the Union.
							In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Co. Galway.		£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Ballinasloe . . .	1,120	2,310	2,110	805	11,050	13,844	8,359	..	..	7,593	713	..	1,406	151,664
Clifden ^a . . .	360	641	641	913	1,393	1,881	..	62	523	..	*600	..	41	22,426
Galway ^b . . .	1,160	1,940	1,958	1,087	9,020	5,388	2,593	..	6,515	..	1,956	..	2	100,777
Gort ^c . . .	850	150	76	75	2,923	1,615	2	..	6,564	..	3,075	2,999	..	53,037
Loughrea ^d . . .	900	4,375	4,375	2,008	8,189	5,460	2,586	..	..	*1,896	*1,583	..	*2,792	91,007
Tuam ^e . . .	900	435	963	602	1,934	4,168	344	..	4,262	..	1,122	169	..	86,236
Co. Leitrim.
Carrick-on-Shannon ^f . . .	860	412	246	498	8,833	2,842	347	..	4,616	..	1,503	1,257	..	61,450
Manorhamilton . . .	790	1,018	1,178	1,153	3,670	2,842	93	..	717	..	440	..	739	47,284
Mohill ^g . . .	700	1,053	956	608	5,513	1,769	621	..	2,441	..	1,118	160	..	57,778
Co. Mayo.
Ballina ^h . . .	1,554	787	839	1,143	6,823	6,306	115	..	2,188	..	3,180	2,341	..	95,774
Ballinrobe ⁱ . . .	800	1,897	3,002	2,956	8,593	5,222	36	..	3,260	..	3,075	73	..	86,217
Castlebar ^j . . .	750	690	690	No Return	7,616	2,329	No Return	..	6,278	..	*1,800	1,110	..	50,981
Swineford . . .	1,000	6	13	14	9,110	1,152	1	..	1,744	..	493	480	..	46,016
Westport ^k . . .	750	658	1,867	1,975	3,684	2,752	28	..	4,716	..	2,592	725	..	38,876
Co. Roscommon.
Boyle . . .	744	2,330	2,330	1,200	11,596	4,008	474	..	1,793	..	490	..	1,840	81,408
Castlereau ^l . . .	1,050	1,576	1,576	1,222	9,826	7,495	56	..	2,263	..	473	..	1,103	14,349
Roscommon ^m . . .	1,040	7,107	7,162	1,999	6,187	7,557	5,449	..	*1,327	..	1,360	..	5,802	88,873
Co. Sligo.
Sligo . . .	1,800	2,549	2,553	2,493	20,244	12,482	87	..	3,211	..	2,369	..	184	142,030
Total of Connaught	17,128	29,934	32,544	20,761	138,509	89,412	21,191	62	52,363	9,489	27,940	9,304	13,908	1,465,643

^a Clifden.—Vice-Guardians appointed 7th February, 1848.^b Galway.—Vice-Guardians appointed 3rd January, 1848.^c Gort.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th February, 1848.^d Loughrea.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th February, 1848.^e Tuam.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th February, 1848.^f Carrick-on-Shannon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th January, 1848.^g Mohill.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th December, 1847.^h Ballina.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.ⁱ Ballinrobe.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.^j Castlebar.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.^k Westport.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th August, 1847.^l Castlereau.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.^m Roscommon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 31st December, 1847.

* Estimated.

SUMMARY OF RETURN FOR FEBRUARY, 1848.

	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
ULSTER . . .	36,918	40,747	40,973	30,593	132,327	168,055	45,301	612	18,179	22,770	26,714	3,160	17,420	3,320,133
MUNSTER . . .	41,219	74,609	73,389	63,569	199,212	350,424	99,934	..	27,001	63,705	68,255	10,324	15,458	3,777,103
LEINSTER . . .	34,159	41,772	42,839	39,817	183,808	215,014	41,919	3,054	31,376	15,122	43,532	11,959	11,287	4,624,542
CONNAUGHT . . .	17,128	29,934	32,544	20,761	138,509	89,412	21,191	62	52,363	9,489	27,940	9,304	13,908	1,465,643
Total of IRELAND	129,424	187,062	189,745	154,740	553,856	822,905	208,545	3,728	128,919	111,086	*166,441	34,768	58,073	13,197,421
Total for previous Month . . .	..	194,054	193,847	160,338	788,511	970,318	177,228	4,395	136,469	100,616	161,603	26,030	69,099	..

Amount of poor-rate collected during the month of February. £. 187,062
Amount lodged with the treasurers during the month, including other receipts than rate 189,745
Amount disbursed by the treasurers during the month 154,740
Amount of rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month 653,856
Balance at foot of the treasurer's accounts, at the close of the month, in favour of 120 Unions 208,545
Balance at foot of the treasurer's accounts, at the close of the month, against 9 Unions 3,728
One Union no balance.
Collected in five months from 1st October, 1847, to 29th February, 1848 822,905

The number of Unions in which the debts of the Guardians to contractors, treasurers, or others (exclusive of all loans obtained from Government, or from private parties, simply for building purposes), on the 29th February, exceeded the amount of money in the treasurer's hands, was 76; and the net amount of the debts of those Unions, deducting the money in their treasurers' hands, was 128,919
The number of Unions in which the debts of the Guardians to contractors, treasurers, or others (exclusive of all loans obtained from Government, or from private parties simply for building purposes), on the 31st January, exceeded the amount of money in the treasurer's hands, was 76; and the net amount of the debts of those Unions, deducting the money in their treasurer's hands, was 136,469
The number of Unions in which the money in the treasurers' hands on the 29th February exceeded the debts of the Guardians was 54; and the net amount remaining in the hands of the treasurers of those Unions, deducting the debts, was 111,086
The number of Unions in which the money in the treasurers' hands on the 31st January, exceeded the debts of the Guardians was 54; and the net amount remaining in the hands of the treasurers of those Unions, deducting the debts, was 100,616
The current expenses of the month of December were about £48,561 less than the amount of poor-rate collected during the month. 120,299
The current expenses of the month of January were about £42,451 less than the amount of poor-rate collected during the month. 151,603
The current expenses of the month of February were about £20,621 less than the amount of poor-rate collected during the month. 166,441
The current expenses of February consisted of the following items:—I. In-maintenance, £48,628; II. Out-relief, £70,634—Total for In-maintenance and Out-relief, £119,262; III. Establishment, including cost of furniture, clothing, or bedding purchased, or repairs or building done during the month, £37,067; IV. Salaries of officers for the month, £10,112; making the Total £166,441.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Workhouse accommodation is provided.	Numbers Relieved during March.				Expenses of Relief during March.					Collection during March.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Workhouse during the Month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the Month.	Total Average Number Relieved during the Month.	Proportion Relieved to each Hundred of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per Pound of the Expenses of March on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor-rate Collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other Receipts than Poor-rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining Uncollected at the close of the Month.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
							£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Co. Antrim.
Antrim . . .	49,168	1,050	878	..	878	1.7	331	..	255	550	0 1 1/2	..	30	376	..
Ballycastle . .	26,020	340	503	..	503	1.8	151	..	133	283	0 1 1/2	271	271	126	2,266
Ballymena . .	74,023	1,150	1,002	909	1,911	2.5	334	74	237	646	0 1 1/2	931	951	741	6,304
Ballymurray . .	48,812	752	757	987	1,744	3.6	269	99	136	504	0 1 1/2	476	423	783	2,735
Belfast . . .	100,992	2,022	2,966	..	2,966	2.9	1,020	..	1,044	2,064	0 1 1/2	1,970	2,041	3,571	8,346
Larne . . .	38,758	980	583	..	583	1.5	190	..	55	245	0 0 3/4	171	177	122	980
Lisburn . . .	75,444	1,500	890	..	890	1.2	303	..	120	424	0 0 3/4	387	399	864	153
Co. Armagh.
Armagh . . .	110,408	1,390	1,222	2,416	3,638	3.3	466	205	570	1,248	0 1 1/2	3,061	3,553	2,110	14,664
Lurgan . . .	71,128	1,512	1,218	..	1,218	1.6	628	..	296	924	0 2 1/2	364	365	2,014	4,391
Co. Cavan.
Bailieborough .	49,385	1,114	1,040	5,010	6,050	12.0	336	634	139	1,110	0 5	2,264	1,986	1,977	2,800
Cavana . . .	97,271	1,550	1,578	8,926	10,504	10.7	454	576	1,145	2,276	0 4 1/2	710	743	4,612	1,863
Cootehill . . .	67,178	1,100	1,025	4,179	5,204	8.0	395	517	410	1,324	0 4 1/2	2,371	2,381	1,448	7,903
Co. Donegal.
Ballyshannon .	43,403	870	813	948	1,761	4.0	333	134	281	749	0 3 1/2	1,174	1,072	1,128	1,263
Donegal . . .	41,371	560	541	845	1,386	3.3	167	69	181	418	0 3	931	593	155	3,462
Dunfahugh . .	18,571	300	327	..	327	1.5	109	..	46	156	0 3 1/2	..	3	157	1,127
Glenties . . .	43,571	600	501	4,644	5,145	11.8	150	540	126	817	1 0	266	246	345	1,020
Inishowen . .	43,569	600	655	380	1,035	2.3	117	40	68	225	0 1 1/2	764	674	468	3,823
Letterkenny . .	25,921	920	503	..	503	1.8	166	..	310	477	0 3 1/2	481	419	374	910
Milford . . .	38,108	430	387	1,810	2,197	5.7	130	94	72	298	0 2 1/2	585	576	369	648
Stranorlar . .	25,786	460	360	..	360	1.4	108	..	35	144	0 1 1/2	712	522	42	1,305
Co. Down.
Banbridge . . .	87,323	1,350	1,271	1,764	3,035	3.4	414	153	222	769	0 1 1/2	1,127	1,131	1,281	4,411
Dowpatrick . .	74,938	1,060	874	..	874	1.1	209	..	386	595	0 0 1/2	500	593	495	1,590
Kilkeel . . .	28,638	390	312	146	458	1.6	92	12	75	180	0 1	..	12	78	52
Newry . . .	95,541	1,350	1,158	3,352	4,510	4.7	391	223	208	823	0 1 1/2	535	579	707	3,149
Newtownards .	60,165	1,165	624	..	624	1.0	278	..	330	609	0 1 1/2	104	104	446	7,904
Co. Fermanagh.
Enniskillene .	81,534	1,000	1,076	3,630	4,906	6.0	452	401	186	1,040	0 2 1/2	2,052	2,122	1,708	4,735
Lisnaskea . . .	37,920	984	836	..	836	2.2	182	..	164	346	0 1 1/2	1,026	1,418	988	3,394
Loutherstown .	34,963	740	738	2,532	3,270	9.3	268	392	846	1,507	0 8 1/2	1,010	1,044	1,959	1,574
Co. Londonderry.
Coleraine . . .	52,704	960	716	..	716	1.3	351	..	170	522	0 1 1/2	454	488	832	2,327
Londonderry . .	64,740	1,100	841	2,924	2,865	4.4	336	185	424	946	0 2	1,105	1,115	874	3,235
Magherafelt . .	80,816	1,240	934	746	1,700	2.1	261	40	71	373	0 1	382	436	533	3,094
Newtownlimavady	39,938	890	564	..	564	1.4	269	..	74	343	0 1 1/2	993	297	641	3,460
Co. Monaghan.
Carrikmacross .	39,729	650	638	2,097	2,735	6.8	210	223	149	583	0 3	442	450	603	601
Castleblaney . .	58,945	1,320	1,025	2,361	3,386	5.7	399	320	871	1,592	0 5 1/2	461	634	544	2,009
Ciones . . .	42,320	900	811	2,094	2,905	6.8	290	217	435	943	0 4	882	582	680	4,515
Monaghan . . .	69,959	1,076	965	..	965	1.3	247	..	201	448	0 1	602	599	436	2,453
Co. Tyrone.
Castlederg . .	21,368	520	410	..	410	1.9	85	..	58	146	0 1 1/2	112	113	300	233
Clogher . . .	39,800	632	650	1,905	2,585	6.4	185	125	105	416	0 2 1/2	416	810	660	540
Cookstown . .	40,455	600	584	803	1,387	2.9	212	59	56	329	0 1 1/2	268	271	350	762
Dungannon . .	70,000	990	946	1,551	2,497	3.5	330	144	187	663	0 1 1/2	1,023	899	493	2,065
Gortin . . .	18,747	423	194	..	194	1.0	72	..	26	98	0 1 1/2	300	300	293	555
Omagh . . .	69,099	1,104	1,094	3,124	4,218	6.1	421	310	310	1,041	0 3 1/2	1,680	1,752	2,107	6,259
Stranade . . .	58,853	900	866	1,378	2,244	3.8	209	152	397	759	0 2 1/2	386	429	546	1,299
Total of Ulster Province	2,362,132	41,339	36,026	60,761	96,787	4.1	12,323	6,038	11,616	30,011	0 2 1/2	33,749	33,893	39,358	126,434

Cavan.—Vice-Guardians appointed 8th December, 1847.

Cootehill.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Difference between the Collection and Expenses of March.		Financial Condition at the close of March.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the Six Months from 29th September, 1847, to the close of March, 1848.						Valuation of Rated Property.	Names of Unions and Counties.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month		Net Amount of Debts, deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount of Money in hands of the Treasurer remaining to credit of Unions after deducting the Amount of Debts.	Rate Collected in the Six Months.	Expenses of the Six Months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the Six Months.	Amount per Pound of Collection during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per Pound of Expenses during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.
17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30
£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	£.
Co. Antrim.
..	586	2,195	..	..	1,428	6,300	3,419	2,881	..	1 3½	0 7 8½	100,611	Antrim.
285	14	417	..	..	479	987	1,865	..	878	0 11	0 11½	39,160	Ballycastle.
..	..	231	..	464	..	4,360	3,410	950	..	0 11	0 8½	97,492	Ballymena.
..	28	431	..	..	323	4,249	2,360	1,889	..	1 2	0 7½	73,086	Ballymoney.
..	94	31	..	1,703	..	11,844	13,637	..	1,793	0 10½	1 0	271,915	Belfast.
..	74	959	..	..	377	2,582	1,647	935	..	0 8½	0 5½	72,437	Larne.
..	37	..	249	453	..	4,037	3,093	944	..	1 7½	0 5½	135,397	Lisburn.
Co. Armagh.
1,813	..	1,394	..	..	1,295	8,589	5,287	3,302	..	0 11½	0 7½	174,572	Armagh.
..	560	..	1	129	..	9,340	6,440	2,900	..	2 0	1 4½	92,682	Lurgan.
Co. Cavan.
1,154	..	271	..	973	..	7,987	4,403	3,584	..	3 0½	1 8½	52,156	Ballyborough.
..	1,566	3,023	..	..	1,531	16,113	10,661	5,452	..	2 6½	1 8	127,282	Cavan.
1,047	..	1,253	..	1,566	..	5,513	4,887	626	..	1 6	1 3½	73,490	Cootehill.
Co. Donegal.
425	..	2,244	..	..	2,004	6,348	2,573	3,775	..	2 5½	1 0	51,435	Ballyshannon.
513	..	493	..	734	..	2,552	1,196	1,356	..	1 7½	0 9	31,639	Donegal.
..	156	71	..	82	..	274	700	..	426	0 6½	1 3½	10,543	Dunfahaghy.
..	551	24	..	2,125	..	2,412	3,069	..	657	3 0	3 9	16,330	Glenties.
539	..	321	..	44	..	1,570	1,107	463	..	0 10½	0 7½	36,607	Inishowen.
4	..	193	..	503	..	1,710	2,059	..	349	1 1	1 3½	31,835	Letterkenny.
267	..	796	..	..	271	2,555	1,571	984	..	1 7½	1 0	31,377	Milford.
568	..	882	..	..	524	2,024	841	1,183	..	1 4½	0 6½	29,402	Stranorlar.
Co. Down.
338	..	199	..	..	23	6,063	4,164	1,899	..	1 0	0 8	123,970	Banbridge.
..	95	3,148	..	..	2,947	4,031	2,363	1,668	..	0 5½	0 3½	107,393	Downpatrick.
..	180	313	..	60	..	1,305	962	343	..	0 8½	0 6	36,931	Kilkeel.
..	288	1,214	..	..	32	4,072	4,332	..	260	0 7½	0 8	129,651	Newry.
..	505	..	644	1,430	..	3,295	2,966	329	..	0 6½	0 6	118,469	Newtownards.
Co. Fermanagh.
1,012	..	942	..	1,595	..	8,084	4,126	3,959	..	1 8½	0 7½	96,108	Enniskillen.
680	..	1,492	..	..	1,447	4,679	1,874	2,805	..	2 0	0 9½	46,919	Lisnaskea.
..	497	244	..	..	60	4,945	3,874	1,071	..	2 3	1 9	43,944	Lowtherstown.
Co. Londonderry.
..	68	249	..	..	80	2,909	2,884	25	..	0 9	0 9	76,410	Coleraine.
169	..	1,218	..	..	31	4,353	4,352	101	..	0 9½	0 9	111,959	Londonderry.
9	..	1,546	..	..	1,019	5,148	2,363	2,785	..	1 4½	0 7½	75,339	Magherafelt.
650	..	502	..	..	325	2,640	2,030	610	..	0 9½	0 7½	65,630	Newtownlimavady.
Co. Monaghan.
..	141	1,067	..	..	756	4,705	2,584	1,851	..	2 0½	1 2½	46,325	Carrickmacross.
..	1,131	831	..	1,853	..	7,009	5,159	1,850	..	2 0	1 6½	65,473	Castleblaney.
..	61	743	..	116	..	3,116	2,799	317	..	1 1½	1 0	55,035	Cloghan.
154	..	4,721	..	..	3,928	8,567	2,901	5,666	..	1 9½	0 7½	94,431	Monaghan.
Co. Tyrone.
..	34	12	..	100	..	1,306	897	409	..	1 2½	0 9½	21,790	Castlederg.
Equal.	..	551	..	..	506	3,834	2,493	1,341	..	1 9½	1 2	42,275	Clogher.
..	61	310	..	194	..	2,041	1,749	292	..	0 8½	0 7½	56,550	Cookstown.
360	..	609	..	544	..	4,266	3,132	1,134	..	1 11½	0 8½	90,330	Gannan.
202	..	2	..	492	..	1,000	618	382	..	1 5½	0 9½	15,751	Gortin.
639	..	738	..	..	211	5,259	3,892	1,367	..	1 4½	1 0½	75,354	Omagh.
..	373	4,952	..	..	4,047	7,831	3,397	4,434	..	1 11½	0 10	81,529	Strabane.
10,838	7,100	41,092	894	15,267	23,644	201,804	140,305	65,862	4,363	1 2½	1 10	3,320,133	Total of Ulster Province.

* Enniskillen.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.

* Lowtherstown.—Vice Guardians appointed 18th September, 1847.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Workhouse accommodation is provided.	Numbers Relieved during March.				Expenses of Relief during March.					Collection during March.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Workhouse during the Month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the Month.	Total Average Number Relieved during the Month.	Proportion Relieved to each Hundred of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per Pound of the Expenses of March on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor-rate Collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other Receipts than Poor-rate.	Amount Disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining Uncollected at the close of the Month.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
							£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Co. Clare.
Ennis . . .	77,840	808	779	19,675	20,454	26.0	354	3,086	517	3,959	0 9 1	1,679	1,746	3,707	2,961
Ennistymon ^a . .	49,935	650	660	12,300	12,960	25.0	202	1,001	67	1,270	0 4 1	610	No return.	No return.	784
Kilrush ^b . . .	82,353	1,330	1,178	13,915	15,093	18.3	392	1,245	425	2,063	0 8 1	1,253	1,253	1,338	7,477
Scariff ^c . . .	53,563	2,300	2,005	13,604	15,609	29.1	639	1,823	655	3,118	1 4 1	2,255	2,899	2,387	6,832
Co. Cork.
Bandon . . .	81,772	1,875	2,093	..	2,093	2.5	790	..	951	1,741	0 3 1	898	1,772	395	2,681
Bantry ^d . . .	56,165	976	1,224	6,161	7,385	13.1	364	799	324	1,489	0 8 1	687	711	1,150	2,665
Cork . . .	156,637	4,550	3,931	..	3,931	2.5	1,133	..	1,027	2,160	0 1 1	8,013	8,187	8,720	18,410
Dunmanway . .	30,527	875	821	3,094	3,915	12.8	196	207	456	860	0 4 1	398	398	968	1,502
Fermoy . . .	92,353	1,160	1,329	15,649	16,978	18.3	396	1,406	776	2,579	0 4 1	2,352	2,371	1,324	3,952
Kanturk ^e . . .	65,561	1,940	1,758	17,216	18,974	22.1	586	1,877	224	2,688	0 6 1	722	725	3,442	22,317
Kinsale . . .	41,342	1,250	1,161	..	1,161	2.8	578	..	355	933	0 3 1	457	458	889	1,254
Macroom . . .	58,518	1,250	1,284	6,368	7,652	13.0	401	935	329	1,666	0 4 1	805	533	1,594	12,168
Mallow . . .	63,282	1,250	1,145	..	1,145	1.8	352	..	424	777	0 1 1	639	690	1,185	1,602
Midleton . . .	78,428	1,886	1,640	..	1,640	2.1	762	..	1,847	2,610	0 3 1	1,007	1,007	2,414	5,036
Skipbreen . . .	104,508	2,250	2,431	6,266	8,697	8.3	614	683	635	1,834	0 4 1	2,147	2,158	2,608	5,483
Co. Kerry.
Cahiriveen ^f . .	30,088	1,200	1,003	2,919	3,922	12.6	305	423	121	849	0 8 1	332	510	698	1,331
Kenmare ^g . . .	33,656	870	823	5,115	5,938	17.6	250	612	258	1,120	0 10 1	333	647	1,039	908
Killarney . . .	53,345	1,750	1,347	14,358	15,705	29.4	430	1,493	98	2,022	0 5 1	964	964	1,232	1,244
Listowel . . .	79,756	1,296	1,084	18,749	19,833	25.0	539	2,101	302	2,943	0 7 1	1,400	1,388	2,659	3,274
Tralee . . .	91,663	1,946	1,810	8,991	10,801	11.7	595	835	761	2,191	0 4 1	..	32	2,598	2,926
Co. Limerick.
Kilmallock . .	75,687	1,300	1,301	13,831	15,132	19.99	570	1,502	231	2,304	0 4 1	1,735	1,463	1,569	28,927
Limerick . . .	132,067	3,850	2,516	8,892	11,408	8.6	1,013	1,546	1,111	3,672	0 4 1	5,477	5,397	3,032	12,925
Newcastle ^h . .	60,067	775	663	21,321	21,984	36.6	313	2,009	163	2,486	0 5 1	412	284	411	20,602
Rathkeale . . .	68,174	1,574	1,194	11,662	12,856	18.1	457	1,744	785	2,987	0 5 1	1,286	2,060	2,190	20,302
Co. Tipperary.
Carrick-on-Suir .	45,333	1,146	974	782	1,756	3.8	321	88	477	887	0 2 1	363	287	1,116	1,849
Cashel . . .	69,640	1,319	1,202	13,152	14,354	20.6	404	1,398	473	2,276	0 4 1	1,365	1,884	2,576	6,617
Clogheen . . .	47,033	1,200	1,115	6,201	7,316	15.6	450	655	187	1,293	0 4 1	347	362	1,336	1,762
Cloamell . . .	39,993	1,900	1,834	3,602	5,436	13.6	678	444	251	1,374	0 3 1	352	380	1,522	2,609
Neenagh . . .	89,874	1,650	1,574	11,513	13,087	14.6	519	1,708	1,113	3,342	0 6 1	1,803	1,822	1,531	9,901
Roscrea . . .	63,016	1,230	1,040	7,357	8,397	13.3	485	952	280	1,718	0 4 1	2,059	2,139	1,010	5,460
Thurles . . .	71,976	960	1,068	17,723	18,811	26.1	340	1,575	546	2,461	0 5 1	2,220	2,220	1,728	8,849
Tipperary . . .	79,516	1,100	1,092	15,849	16,941	21.3	466	2,066	258	2,791	0 4 1	1,634	1,643	1,423	6,162
Co. Waterford.
Dungarvan . . .	68,642	1,550	1,232	4,100	5,332	7.7	305	406	400	1,112	0 2 1	616	629	1,037	1,718
Lismore . . .	38,617	690	841	1,870	2,711	7.0	220	246	72	538	0 2 1	485	491	879	635
Waterford ⁱ . . .	84,360	1,670	2,034	6,283	8,317	9.8	765	426	302	1,494	0 1 1	742	742	1,106	3,039
Total of Munster Province . . }	2,435,347	53,320	49,206	308,518	357,724	14.6	17,184	35,291	17,151	69,607	..	47,847	50,252	62,833	236,391

^a Ennistymon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 29th February, 1848.
^b Kilrush.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.
^c Scariff.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th October, 1847.
^d Bantry.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th October, 1847.
^e Kanturk.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th November, 1847.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Difference between the Collection and Expenses of March.		Financial Condition at the close of March.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the Six Months from 29th September, 1847, to the close of March, 1848.						Valuation of Rated Property.	Names of Unions and Counties.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month		Net Amount of Debts, deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount of Money in hands of the Treasurer remaining to credit of Unions after deducting the Amount of Debts.	Rate Collected in the Six Months.	Expenses of the Six Months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the Six Months.	Amount per Pound of Collection during the Six Months on the Valuation.	Amount per Pound of Expenses during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.
17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30
£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	£.
Co. Clare.
..	2,280	1,947	..	281	..	13,261	13,682	..	421	2 7½	2 8½	101,222	Eunis.
..	660	846	..	1,540	..	6,657	6,259	1,398	..	1 11½	1 6½	67,486	Ennistymon. ^a
..	810	..	90	2,980	..	7,692	7,330	362	..	2 7	2 5	59,449	Kilrush. ^b
..	863	650	..	4,199	..	10,859	9,290	1,569	..	4 10½	4 2	44,609	Scariff. ^c
Co. Cork.
..	843	6,740	..	..	4,146	6,997	6,548	449	..	1 0½	0 11½	136,166	Bandon.
..	802	68	..	4,986	..	4,314	6,031	..	1,717	2 0½	2 10½	41,829	Bantry. ^d
5,853	..	5,069	..	..	4,640	22,157	13,472	8,685	..	1 2½	0 8½	365,623	Cork.
..	462	2,481	..	..	2,280	5,305	2,605	2,700	..	2 4½	1 2	44,084	Dunmanway.
..	227	5,752	..	..	2,041	20,345	16,703	3,642	..	2 7½	2 2	153,452	Fermoy.
..	1,966	1,932	..	2,361	..	18,099	13,858	4,241	..	3 4½	2 7½	106,114	Kanturk. ^e
..	476	1,821	..	1,775	..	4,682	2,948	1,734	..	1 3	0 9½	73,928	Kinsale.
..	861	315	..	174	..	5,626	4,486	1,140	..	1 2½	0 11½	93,875	Macroon.
..	138	6,496	..	..	6,157	12,991	3,991	9,000	..	2 1½	0 7½	122,708	Malrow.
..	1,603	10,852	..	..	9,654	21,849	8,852	12,997	..	2 8	1 1	163,070	Middleton.
313	..	2,624	..	..	2,483	11,444	8,247	3,197	..	2 3½	1 8	98,255	Skibbereen.
Co. Kerry.
..	617	623	..	1,149	..	2,496	2,593	..	97	2 0½	2 1	24,366	Cahiriveen. ^f
..	787	140	..	1,982	..	3,675	3,899	..	224	2 11½	3 2	24,689	Kenmare. ^g
..	1,058	155	..	2,634	..	11,422	12,445	..	1,023	2 7½	2 10½	85,828	Killarney.
..	1,543	709	..	2,733	..	11,425	13,617	..	2,192	2 4	2 9½	97,558	Listowel.
..	2,191	28	..	1,650	..	14,625	13,279	1,346	..	2 6½	2 3½	113,854	Tralee.
Co. Limerick.
..	569	..	80	2,260	..	15,876	11,447	4,429	..	1 9½	1 3½	177,880	Kilmallock.
1,805	..	9,521	..	..	6,701	28,570	15,314	13,256	..	2 9	1 5½	206,861	Limerick.
..	2,074	95	..	9,528	..	13,231	19,401	..	6,170	2 5	3 7	109,499	Newcastle. ^h
..	1,701	4,593	..	..	1,309	14,691	13,174	1,520	..	2 1½	1 11	138,337	Rathkeale.
Co. Tipperary.
..	524	569	..	1,037	..	7,991	4,625	3,466	..	1 9½	1 0	89,871	Carrick-on-Suir.
..	911	1,145	..	837	..	12,249	9,240	3,009	..	1 10½	1 5	130,293	Cashel.
..	946	1,009	..	..	434	6,425	5,536	889	..	2 0½	1 9	62,760	Clogheen.
..	1,022	2,445	..	..	1,042	7,611	6,396	1,215	..	1 8½	1 4½	91,108	Cloombel.
..	1,539	1,112	..	1,771	..	13,916	11,586	2,330	..	2 6½	1 11	119,802	Nenagh.
341	..	2,986	..	..	946	10,339	6,308	4,031	..	2 0½	1 3	102,171	Roscrea.
..	241	1,556	..	125	..	11,036	9,923	1,113	..	2 0½	1 9½	108,931	Thurles.
..	1,157	4,672	..	..	1,072	12,832	12,925	..	93	1 8½	1 9	148,326	Tipperary.
Co. Waterford.
..	496	6,628	..	..	5,886	12,415	5,566	6,849	..	2 7½	1 2	94,591	Dungarvan.
..	53	3,497	..	..	3,189	7,013	2,760	4,233	..	2 2½	0 10½	64,583	Lismore.
..	752	81	..	1,755	..	8,154	6,758	1,396	..	0 9½	0 8½	193,771	Waterford. ⁱ
8,312	30,072	89,147	170	40,467	47,709	398,273	310,014	100,196	11,937	2 1½	1 7½	3,777,103	Total of Munster Province.

^f Cahiriveen.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.^g Kenmare.—Vice-Guardians appointed 20th January, 1848.^h Newcastle.—Vice-Guardians appointed 4th March, 1848.ⁱ Waterford.—Vice-Guardians appointed 25th March, 1848.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Name of Union and Counties.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Workhouse accommodation is provided.	Numbers Relieved during March.				Expenses of Relief during March.					Collection during March.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Workhouse during the Month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the Month.	Total Average Number Relieved during the Month.	Proportion Relieved to each Hundred of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per Pound of the Expenses of March on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor-rate Collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other Receipts than Poor-rate.	Amount Disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining Uncollected at the close of the Month.
Column 1.	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
Co. Carlow.							£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Carlow . . .	73,086	2,100	1,890	4,818	6,708	8.6	903	502	277	1,682	0 2½	756	876	3,181	3,906
Co. Dublin.
Balrothery . . .	28,116	544	551	837	1,388	4.9	202	83	101	385	0 1	86	102	337	494
Dublin, North . .	123,128	4,100	3,405	3,526	6,831	5.63	1,441	523	2,725	4,689	0 3	5,338	5,338	2,369	21,563
Dublin, South . .	178,745	2,300	2,472	5,813	8,285	4.66	964	864	672	2,501	0 1	636	636	3,467	8,738
Rathdown . . .	44,214	726	710	1,389	2,299	5.2	456	243	437	1,139	0 1½	636	647	741	1,536
Co. Kildare.
Athy . . .	47,912	1,120	1,100	2,425	3,533	7.4	502	322	243	1,066	0 2½	1,273	1,259	1,033	4,905
Celbridge . . .	25,242	519	331	..	381	1.5	139	..	145	284	0 0½	884	884	613	3,556
Nuas . . .	52,228	1,110	1,072	2,694	3,766	7.2	381	423	475	1,279	0 2½	348	353	968	1,701
Co. Kilkenny.
Callan . . .	38,524	1,130	782	8,337	9,119	2.38	250	816	137	1,203	0 3½	848	932	1,994	3,895
Kilkenny* . . .	120,082	2,000	1,783	10,313	12,096	10.1	913	1,293	929	3,136	0 3	4,920	4,944	3,664	10,956
Co. King's.
Edenderry . . .	34,679	840	599	814	1,413	4.5	204	102	94	400	0 1	420	420	754	679
Parsonstown . .	76,528	1,400	1,114	..	1,114	1.46	411	..	296	706	0 1½	1,170	1,170	2,180	5,592
Tullamore† . . .	53,905	1,220	1,249	5,027	6,276	11.6	587	777	316	1,680	0 3½	642	652	646	1,735
Co. Longford.
Granard‡ . . .	55,130	700	732	8,926	9,658	17.5	244	902	285	1,432	0 3½	3,287	3,224	1,573	7,895
Longford§ . . .	87,757	1,290	1,404	8,499	9,903	11.3	456	1,068	131	1,655	0 3½	1,072	1,094	509	18,934
Co. Louth.
Ardee . . .	43,348	770	813	2,862	3,705	8.6	312	324	387	1,023	0 2½	872	683	1,350	2,186
Drogheda . . .	52,251	940	838	3,676	4,514	8.6	327	288	132	748	0 1½	595	595	1,292	1,617
Dundalk . . .	65,509	948	755	2,341	3,096	4.7	279	180	58	518	0 1½	376	513	628	1,709
Co. Meath.
Dunsinghlin . .	20,935	566	438	2,763	3,201	15.	204	393	237	635	0 1½	770	721	605	3,905
Kells . . .	45,282	1,040	1,084	3,367	4,451	10.	363	391	380	1,133	0 2½	1,141	1,141	1,189	1,349
Navan . . .	35,831	900	757	3,332	4,089	11.4	360	498	236	1,094	0 2½	1,033	1,146	2,341	4,576
Oldcastle . . .	48,373	446	846	6,399	7,245	15	276	789	176	1,242	0 3½	233	233	1,495	6,471
Trim . . .	34,411	806	521	2,027	2,548	7.4	249	286	335	870	0 2	64	117	666	92
Co. Queen's.
Abbeylisle . . .	41,330	900	899	3,362	4,251	10.3	367	464	296	1,128	0 3½	881	881	957	1,537
Mountmellick . .	67,874	1,644	1,634	4,471	6,105	8.99	1,093	676	395	2,164	0 5½	960	960	1,913	4,071
Co. Westmeath.
Athlone¶ . . .	72,168	1,169	1,057	6,127	7,184	9.95	473	..	105	578	0 1½	1,330	1,415	569	15,051
Mullingar . . .	73,272	1,016	1,035	7,283	8,318	11.85	363	1,169	209	1,741	0 2½	51	51	62	972
Co. Wexford.
Enniscorthy . .	61,816	1,030	1,040	7,477	8,517	14.	429	937	748	2,114	0 4	1,288	1,323	2,015	5,531
Gorey . . .	39,054	850	878	2,104	2,932	7.6	326	295	141	760	0 1½	909	1,123	1,305	7,562
New Ross . . .	74,923	1,900	1,585	7,558	9,153	12.2	630	645	350	1,626	0 3½	1,171	1,171	1,702	6,805
Wexford . . .	53,401	1,000	949	..	749	1.8	342	..	529	871	0 1½	933	1,067	871	6,217
Co. Wicklow.
Ballinglass . .	40,687	730	736	1,733	2,409	6.06	222	195	191	609	0 1½	602	1,116	496	720
Rathdrum . . .	58,709	722	841	2,238	3,129	5.5	300	182	366	849	0 1½	718	718	666	6,265
Shillelagh . . .	34,800	627	634	561	1,195	3.43	142	84	131	357	0 1½	306	364	852	1,072
Total of Leinster Province . . .	2,066,036	39,310	36,622	133,349	169,971	8.6	15,112	15,714	12,666	43,496	0 2½	36,549	36,889	45,062	179,912

* Kilkenny.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th February, 1848.

† Tullamore.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th February, 1848.

‡ Granard.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th February, 1848.

§ Longford.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Difference between the Collection and Expenses of March.		Financial Condition at the close of March.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the Six Months from 29th September, 1847, to the close of March, 1848.						Valuation of Rated Property.	Names of Unions and Counties.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month		Net Amount of Debts, deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount of Money in hands of the Treasurer remaining to credit of Unions after deducting the Amount of Debts.	Rate Collected in the Six Months.	Expenses of the Six Months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the Six Months.	Amount per Pound of Collection during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per Pound of Expenses during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.
17	18	10	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30
£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	Co. Carlow.
..	926	483	..	345	..	11,235	9,834	1,401	..	1 3	1 1½	179,037	Carlow.
..	299	..	9	467	..	2,952	2,800	150	..	0 7½	0 7	94,521	Co. Dublin.
649	..	1,232	..	..	973	25,123	23,645	1,478	..	1 4½	1 3½	369,745	Balrothery.
..	1,865	..	165	3,263	..	11,303	20,235	..	8,932	0 4½	0 8½	569,940	Dublin, North.
..	502	358	..	1,303	..	4,916	4,691	225	..	0 7½	0 7½	152,314	Dublin, South.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rathdown.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Kildare.
207	..	566	..	390	..	6,640	5,366	1,274	..	1 3½	2 0½	102,881	Athy.
600	..	1,164	..	..	1,006	3,417	1,676	1,741	..	0 6½	0 3	130,776	Celbridge.
..	931	5,301	..	..	3,769	11,180	5,891	5,289	..	1 7½	0 10½	135,232	Nass.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Kilkenny.
..	355	649	..	..	43	7,306	6,352	954	..	1 8½	1 6	84,103	Callan.
1,784	..	2,081	..	1,242	..	19,132	11,450	7,682	..	1 6½	0 11½	241,775	Kilkenny.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. King's.
20	..	1,711	..	..	1,484	4,239	2,231	2,008	..	0 10½	0 5½	98,634	Edenderry.
464	..	2,272	..	..	1,630	9,655	3,427	6,228	..	1 9½	0 7½	109,286	Parsonstown.
..	1,038	379	..	2,054	..	7,544	6,343	1,201	..	1 8½	1 5½	86,516	Tullamore.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Longford.
1,355	..	3,169	..	..	799	7,282	4,442	2,840	..	1 8	1 0	87,209	Granard.
..	583	..	372	5,679	..	6,221	8,731	..	2,510	0 11½	1 4½	124,496	Longford.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Louth.
..	151	690	..	..	583	8,503	6,024	2,479	..	1 9½	1 3½	93,047	Ardee.
..	153	1,620	..	980	..	8,037	6,927	1,110	..	1 2	1 0	136,604	Drughda.
..	142	..	288	1,052	..	2,760	3,299	..	539	0 6½	0 7½	106,680	Dundalk.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Meath.
..	63	124	..	770	..	4,301	4,111	190	..	0 8½	0 8½	118,486	Dunshaughlin.
8	..	195	..	1,956	..	7,294	7,532	..	238	1 2½	1 2½	123,339	Kells.
..	61	..	1,270	1,875	..	5,436	5,850	..	514	1 0½	1 2	101,527	Navan.
..	1,009	433	..	1,849	..	8,177	8,171	6	..	2 0½	2 0½	79,721	Oldcastle.
..	806	1,152	..	76	..	3,010	3,795	..	785	0 7	0 9	100,634	Trim.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Queen's.
..	247	..	8	1,599	..	6,769	5,370	1,399	..	2 0½	1 7½	66,759	Abbeyleix.
..	1,204	..	1,306	2,210	..	8,222	9,450	..	1,228	1 9½	2 1	89,914	Mountmellick.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Westmeath.
752	..	..	456	3,858	..	3,007	3,269	..	262	0 7	0 7½	103,078	Athlone.
..	1,600	..	323	4,634	..	9,366	7,541	..	5,175	0 3	0 9½	190,944	Mullingar.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Wexford.
..	826	1,541	..	..	803	11,555	8,292	3,263	..	1 9½	1 3½	126,921	Finnisecorthy.
149	..	77	..	639	..	3,227	4,022	..	795	0 8½	0 10½	94,001	Gorey.
..	454	342	..	1,260	..	11,341	9,430	1,911	..	2 0½	1 8½	109,748	New Ross.
62	..	4,075	..	..	3,492	8,682	4,787	3,895	..	1 6½	0 10½	113,714	Wexford.
..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Co. Wicklow.
..	7	1,427	..	..	682	4,096	3,783	313	..	0 10½	0 10	90,888	Baltinglass.
..	131	545	..	305	..	3,237	4,358	..	1,121	0 5	0 7	153,246	Rathdrum.
..	51	52	..	385	..	3,398	2,228	1,170	..	1 0½	0 8½	64,485	Shillelagh.
6,550	13,496	31,659	4,197	37,691	15,263	251,663	225,453	48,207	22,099	1 1	0 11½	4,624,542	Total of Leinster Province.

* Trim.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th January, 1848.

* Athlone.—Vice-Guardians appointed 22nd January, 1848.

* New Ross.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.
Names of Unions and Counties.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Workhouse accommodation is provided.	Numbers Relieved during March.				Expenses of Relief during March.					Collection during March.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Workhouse during the Month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the Month.	Total Average Number Relieved during the Month.	Proportion Relieved to each Hundred of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per Pound of the Expenses of March on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor-rate Collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other Receipts than Poor-rate.	Amount Disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining Uncollected at the close of the Month.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
							£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.	£.	£.
Co. Galway.
Ballinasloe . . .	99,026	1,370	1,360	1,789	3,149	3·2	562	295	157	1,004	0 13	1,672	2,024	1,423	9,378
Clifden ^a . . .	33,465	470	290	8,000	8,290	23·8	120*	930*	50*	1,100*	0 11½	330	..	..	1,063
Galway ^b . . .	88,973	1,210	1,170	19,540	20,710	23·2	370	2,946	772	4,088	0 9½	965	960	3,284	8,055
Gort ^c . . .	43,543	1,050	1,126	9,728	10,853	24·84	547	1,489	178	2,213	0 10	695	690	..	7,818
Loughrea ^d . . .	71,774	1,900	1,568	4,868	6,456	9·	562	545	204	1,311	0 3½	2,428	2,429	1,762	5,761
Tuam ^e . . .	74,974	1,150	1,116	8,024	9,140	12·2	348	955	331	1,633	0 4½	495	531	740	1,463
Co. Leitrim.
Carrick-on-Shannon ^f . . .	67,677	860	779	12,151	12,930	19·27	320	1,188	415	1,924	0 7½	1,398	1,492	1,362	7,435
Maunorhamilton . . .	45,990	790	812	1,813	2,625	5·7	224	138	174	536	0 2½	916	916	309	2,764
Mohill ^g . . .	68,839	790	878	7,055	7,933	11·5	286	840	326	1,452	0 6	1,580	1,453	1,100	5,242
Co. Mayo.
Ballina ^h . . .	120,787	1,454	1,121	35,692	36,813	30·47	432*	3,140*	165*	3,740*	0 9½	1,043	2,925	1,913	5,779
Ballinrobe ⁱ . . .	85,031	800	849	28,907	29,856	35·1	252	3,396	146	3,795	0 10½	528	528	526	8,371
Castlebar ^j . . .	61,063	900	716	16,901	17,617	28·85	326*	2,067*	132*	2,526*	0 11½	154	724	680	7,463
Swineford . . .	73,529	900	1,000	6,782	7,782	10·6	188	983	128	1,299	0 6½	913	860	848	8,177
Westport ^k . . .	77,952	1,000	975	23,128	24,103	30·9	296	2,229	358	2,883	1 5½	790	1,294	1,315	4,894
Co. Roscommon.
Boyle . . .	71,355	744	618	3,877	4,495	6·3	223	168	281	671	0 2	2,183	1,976	1,583	9,414
Castlereagh ^l . . .	92,864	1,050	1,045	2,946	3,991	4·3	420	529	133	1,081	0 2½	1,592	1,613	1,480	8,233
Roscommon ^m . . .	83,437	1,290	1,533	10,404	11,937	14·3	560	1,652	176	2,388	0 6½	1,066	1,084	5,462	5,121
Co. Sligo.
Sligo . . .	111,054	2,002	1,707	7,529	9,236	8·31	832	816	744	2,392	0 4	1,536	1,536	1,570	18,697
Total of Connaught Province	1,370,753	19,670	18,682	201,134	219,816	16·03	6,868	24,296	4,870	36,037	0 5½	20,304	23,035	25,367	125,118
^a Clifden.—Vice-Guardians appointed 7th February, 1848. ^b Galway.—Vice-Guardians appointed 3rd January, 1848. ^c Gort.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th February, 1848. ^d Loughrea.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th February, 1848. ^e Tuam.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th February, 1848. ^f Carrick-on-Shannon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th January, 1848. ^g Mohill.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th December, 1847.

SUMMARY OF RETURN FOR MARCH, 1848.
ULSTER . . .	2,362,132	41,339	36,026	60,761	96,787	4·1	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.	£.	£.
							12,323	6,038	11,616	30,011	0 2½	33,749	33,893	39,358	126,434
MUNSTER . . .	2,435,347	53,320	49,206	308,518	337,724	14·68	17,164	35,291	17,151	69,607	0 4½	47,847	50,252	62,833	236,291
LEINSTER . . .	2,006,036	39,310	36,622	133,349	189,971	8·46	15,112	15,714	12,666	43,496	0 2½	36,549	36,889	45,062	173,912
CONNADGHT . . .	1,370,753	19,670	18,682	201,134	219,816	16·03	6,868	24,296	4,870	36,037	0 5½	20,304	23,035	25,367	125,118
Total of IRELAND	8,174,268	153,639	140,536	703,762	844,298	10·32	51,487	81,339	46,303	179,151	1 3½	138,449	144,069	172,610	661,855
Total for previous Month . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	48,628	72,039	47,179	167,846	..	187,062	189,745	164,740	653,856
Increase . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	2,859	9,300	..	11,305	..	..	..	..	..
Decrease . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	876	..	..	..	..	..	..

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Difference between the Collection and Expenses of March.		Financial Condition at the close of March.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the Six Months from 29th September, 1847, to the close of March, 1848.						Valuation of Rated Property.	Names of Unions and Counties.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account at the close of the Month.		Net Amount of Debts, deducting the Balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net Amount of Money in hands of the Treasurer remaining to Credit of Unions after deducting the Amount of Debts.	Rate Collected in the Six Months.	Expenses of the Six Months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the Six Months.	Amount per Pound of Collection during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per Pound of Expenses during the Six Months on the entire Valuation.
17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30
£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	£.
668	..	8,960	..	..	8,622	15,516	4,141	11,375	..	2 0	0 6½	151,664	Co. Galway.
..	770	94	..	1,293	..	2,211	1,759	452	..	1 11	1 6½	22,426	Ballinasloe.
..	3,123	269	..	9,644*	..	6,353	9,406	..	3,053	1 3	1 10½	100,777	Clifden. ^a
..	1,518	692	..	1,892	..	2,310	7,230	..	4,920	0 10½	2 8½	53,017	Galway. ^b
1,117	..	3,253	..	..	2,324	7,888	4,490	3,398	..	1 8½	1 0	91,007	Gort. ^c
..	1,138	134	..	6,119	..	4,663	4,523	140	..	1 1	1 0½	86,236	Loughrea. ^d
													Tuam. ^e
													Co. Leitrim.
..	528	274	..	5,165	..	4,240	4,879	..	639	1 4½	1 7	61,450	{ Carrick-on-Shan-
380	..	699	..	246	..	3,758	2,174	1,584	..	1 7	0 11½	47,284	non. ^f
128	..	976	..	2,440	..	3,349	3,964	..	615	1 2	1 9½	57,778	Manorhamilton.
													Mehill. ^g
													Co. Mayo.
..	2,697	943	..	2,443*	..	7,349	11,082	..	3,733	1 6½	2 3	95,774	Ballina. ^h
..	3,267	1	..	3,027	..	5,750	11,142	..	5,392	1 4½	2 7½	85,217	Ballinrobe. ⁱ
..	2,372	..	..	7,354*	..	2,433	7,364	..	4,881	0 11½	2 10½	50,981	Castlebar. ^j
..	366	13	..	2,185	..	2,085	2,581	..	496	0 11	1 1½	46,016	Swineford.
..	2,093	8	..	6,305	..	3,552	7,929	..	4,387	1 10	4 1	38,876	Westport. ^k
													Co. Roscommon.
1,512	..	867	..	433	..	6,191	3,175	4,016	..	1 6	0 6	81,408	Boyle.
511	..	183	..	1,865	..	9,037	3,846	5,241	..	1 7½	0 8½	114,349	Castlereagh. ^l
..	1,322	1,072	..	2,631	..	8,923	6,308	2,415	..	2 1	1 5½	85,873	Roscommon. ^m
													Co. Sligo.
..	856	68	..	3,914	..	14,018	10,433	3,585	..	1 11½	1 6	142,030	Sligo.
4,316	20,048	18,511	..	56,956	10,946	109,716	105,426	32,406	28,116	1 6	1 5	1,465,643	{ Total of Con-

^b Ballina.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.ⁱ Ballinrobe.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.^j Castlebar.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.^k Westport.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th August, 1847.^l Castlereagh.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1847.^m Roscommon.—Vice-Guardians appointed 31st December, 1847.

* Estimated.

SUMMARY OF RETURN FOR MARCH, 1848.

£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	£.
10,838	7,100	41,092	894	15,267	23,644	201,804	140,305	65,862	4,363	1 2½	0 10	3,320,139	ULSTER.
8,312	30,072	89,147	170	40,467	47,709	393,273	310,014	100,196	11,937	2 1½	1 7½	3,777,103	MUNSTER.
6,550	18,496	31,659	4,197	37,691	16,263	251,563	225,453	48,207	22,099	1 1	0 11½	4,624,542	LEINSTER.
4,316	20,048	18,511	..	56,956	10,946	109,716	105,426	32,406	28,116	1 6	1 5½	1,465,643	CONNAUGHT.
30,016	70,716	180,409	5,261	150,380	97,562	981,354	781,198	246,673	66,515	1 5½	1 2½	13,187,421	Total of IRELAND.
For 41 Unions.	For 89 Unions.
..	..	208,645	3,728	128,919	111,086	..	..	Net excess of Collec-	..	..	..	..	Total for previous
Net excess of expenses		..	..	..	..	..	..	tion over Expenses	..	..	..	..	Month.
on 130 Unions.		..	..	..	..	..	..	on the 130 Unions.	..	..	..	..	Increase.
£40,700		..	..	..	..	..	..	£180,158	..	..	..	..	Decrease.

1014 PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of COLLECTION and EXPENSES for the Six Months, from October 1, 1847, to March 31, 1848, inclusive.

	Expenses.	Collection.	Excess of Collection.	Excess of Expenses.
	£.	£.	£.	£.
1847—October .	70,808	121,255	50,447	..
„ November .	88,432	151,684	63,252	..
„ December .	123,697	168,850	45,153	..
1848—January .	151,264	194,054	42,790	..
„ February .	167,846	187,064	19,218	..
„ March .	179,151	138,449	..	40,702
Total . .	781,198	961,356	220,860	40,702
			or 180,158 net excess of collection over expenses.

COMPARISON of LIABILITIES of the UNIONS on September 29, 1847, and March 31, 1848.

Mar. 31, 1848. — I. The total debts of the 130 Unions to contractors, treasurers, or others (exclusive of all loans obtained from Government, or from private parties, simply for building purposes), amounted on March 31, to 233,228*l.*, from which amount, deducting the money in the treasurer's hands, viz., 180,409*l.*, the net amount of debts over and above the money in hands would be, 52,819*l.*

Sept. 29, 1847. — II. The total debts of the 130 Unions to contractors, treasurers, or others, (exclusive of all loans obtained from Government, or from private parties, simply for building purposes,) amounted on September 29, 1847, to 272,943*l.*, from which amount, deducting the money in the treasurer's hands, viz., 39,966*l.*, the net amount of debts over and above the money in hands would be, 232,977*l.*

Mar. 31, 1848. — III. The number of Unions in which the debts on March 31, 1848, exceeded the amount of the money in the treasurer's hands, was, 77*l.*; the debts of those Unions amounted to 185,540*l.*, and the money in their treasurer's hands amounted to 35,159*l.*, deducting which amount, the net amount of debts over and above the money in hands would be, 150,381*l.*

Sept. 29, 1847. — IV. The number of Unions in which the debts on September 29 exceeded the amount of money in the treasurer's hands, was 117*l.*; the debts of those Unions amounted to 266,963*l.*, and the money in the treasurer's hands amounted to 14,236*l.*, deducting which amount, the net amount of debts over and above the money in hands would be, 252,727*l.*

Mar. 31, 1848. — V. The number of Unions in which the money in the treasurer's hands on March 31, 1848, exceeded the debts, was 53*l.*; the money in the hands of the treasurer of those Unions amounted to 145,250*l.*, and the debts amounted to 47,688*l.*, deducting which, there would remain a net balance to their credit amounting to 97,562*l.*

Sept. 29, 1847. — VI. The number of Unions in which the money in the treasurer's hands on September 29, 1847, exceeded the debts, was 13*l.*; the money in the hands of the treasurer of those Unions amounted to 25,730*l.*, and the debts amounted to 5,980*l.*, deducting which, there would remain a net balance to their credit, amounting to 19,750*l.*

SUMMARY of FINANCIAL RETURNS :—Showing the Amount of Poor Rate Collected in 1846 and 1847, respectively; and specifying the Amount Collected, the Amount remaining Uncollected, and the state of the Balances at foot of the Treasurers' Accounts, at the close of each Month in 1846, 1847, and 1848.

Month.	Amount of Rate collected during the Month.			Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at close of the Month.			Amount in hands of Treasurers of certain Unions at close of the Month.			Amount due to the Treasurers of the remaining Unions at close of the Month.
	1846	1847	1848	1846	1847	1848	1846	1847	1848	1846	1847	1848
	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.
January . .	36,229	52,439	194,054	219,052	250,953	788,511	41,362	33,274	177,228	7,358	23,565	4,395
February . .	41,885	47,264	187,064	206,664	279,140	653,856	54,314	30,383	208,545	5,294	28,312	3,728
March . . .	38,909	52,561	138,449	174,734	265,149	661,855	57,129	26,493	180,409	5,014	31,112	5,261
April . . .	38,436	63,110	..	173,956	349,773	..	55,986	21,611	..	6,580	32,278	..
May	31,230	64,865	..	163,508	406,223	..	57,655	15,424	..	6,152	30,526	..
June	30,630	59,436	..	150,201	463,730	..	56,425	14,404	..	6,649	31,897	..
July	24,185	62,097	..	129,125	594,120	..	47,801	18,726	..	7,368	34,860	..
August . . .	17,173	53,389	..	135,233	690,103	..	44,350	25,210	..	8,165	35,507	..
September .	21,510	73,858	..	155,718	816,452	..	39,913	39,966	..	8,071	29,841	..
October . . .	26,805	121,255	..	225,815	864,049	..	32,114	64,444	..	11,089	28,782	..
November . .	36,639	151,684	..	244,050	859,718	..	34,393	105,893	..	14,746	16,879	..
December . .	46,440	168,850	..	243,384	890,639	..	35,358	145,706	..	19,452	8,788	..
Total Amount Collected .	In 1846, £390,071	In 1847, £970,308	In 1848, £381,116

PAUPERS IN WORKHOUSES.

[In continuation of Returns in Fifth Series of Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session.]

SUMMARIES of Weekly Returns of the Numbers of Paupers in the Workhouses in the several Provinces in Ireland, and Fever Hospitals connected therewith, in the Months of February, March, and April, 1848, and in the corresponding Weeks in the previous Years 1847, 1846, respectively; showing the Amount of Workhouse Accommodation, Numbers of the several Classes of Paupers in each Workhouse, the Increase or Decrease thereof in each Week as compared with the previous Week of the Year, and also with the corresponding Weeks of the previous Years, the Numbers of Fever Patients, and of Deaths . . . pp. 1016–1023

RETURN of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, and of the Expenditure thereon for a period of Ten Weeks, ending April 8, 1848 . . . pp. 1024–1037

STATEMENT of the Collection of Poor Rate and of the Expenses in each Union in Ireland during the Six Months from Michaelmas to Lady-day last . . . pp. 1038–1041

RETURNS.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

Workhouses in each Province.			Total Number in Workhouses.	Total Number in Workhouses in last preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in present Week compared with the preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Number of Paupers in Workhouses in present Year.		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per Head (exclusive of Clothing.)	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.			Number of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.						As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.		No. in the Week in present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Week of 1848.		No. in the Week in present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease	No. in the Week of present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,681	2,436	4,167	30,529	29,951	578	5,144	20,243	s. d.	42	21	35	1,951	2,047	D. 96	265	232	33
1,753	2,569	4,321	25,385	..	..	..	..	1 10	21	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,028	1,271	2,299	9,406	..	..	..	..	1 7	7	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,856	3,467	6,323	47,013	45,712	1,301	9,077	31,617	1 6	249	55	231	1,132	1,003	129	480	431	49
2,702	4,345	7,047	37,936	..	..	..	..	2 0	194	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,790	2,150	3,940	15,396	..	..	..	..	1 8	18	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,810	3,399	6,209	36,793	36,138	655	7,062	20,560	1 9	299	278	289	2,464	2,139	325	417	368	49
2,626	3,346	5,972	29,731	..	..	..	..	2 2	21	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,022	2,352	4,374	16,233	..	..	..	..	1 9	10	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
679	1,021	1,700	14,418	13,902	516	4,954	8,618	1 7	37	37	37	1,015	984	31	256	256	..
424	520	944	9,222	..	..	..	..	2 2	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
139	137	276	2,587	..	..	..	..	1 8	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
8,026	10,373	18,399	128,753	125,703*	3,050	26,237	81,038	1 7	627	391	592	6,562	6,173	389	1,418	1,297	131
7,504	10,780	18,284	102,274	..	..	..	..	2 0	236	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,979	5,910	10,889	44,122	..	..	..	..	1 8	35	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,631	2,528	4,179	33,647	33,624	23	4,775	22,300	1 5	35	4	33	2,239	2,207	32	256	287	D. 31
1,887	2,871	4,758	28,872	..	..	..	..	1 10	31	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,120	1,446	2,566	10,748	..	..	..	..	1 7	3	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,701	3,318	6,019	40,658	40,447	211	8,706	29,923	1 6	312	149	252	892	1,109	D. 217	428	451	D. 33
2,605	4,314	6,919	37,952	..	..	..	..	2 0	163	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,724	2,122	3,846	16,484	..	..	..	..	1 7	60	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,717	3,386	6,133	36,753	36,635	68	7,301	20,499	1 9	210	17	195	2,289	2,417	D. 128	352	410	D. 67
2,631	3,339	5,970	29,452	..	..	..	..	2 2	193	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,025	2,325	4,350	16,254	..	..	..	..	1 9	15	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
585	1,278	2,163	18,409	18,379	30	5,944	11,470	1 9	46	44	43	1,153	1,203	D. 48	278	305	D. 27
650	963	1,613	12,214	..	..	..	..	2 3	2	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
242	240	482	3,538	..	..	..	..	1 9	3	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,984	10,510	18,494	135,467	135,135†	332	26,726	84,192	1 7	603	214	522	6,575	6,936	D. 361	1,314	1,472	D. 158
7,753	11,487	19,240	108,490	..	..	..	..	2 1	359	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
5,111	6,133	11,244	46,024	..	..	..	..	1 8	81	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,619	2,418	4,067	33,901	32,935	D. 34	4,521	21,440	1 5	40	29	40	2,071	2,183	D. 112	281	255	26
1,742	2,732	4,474	28,360	..	..	..	..	1 10	11	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,030	1,357	2,387	10,511	..	..	..	..	1 7	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,548	3,154	5,702	43,277	42,638	439	5,778	26,072	1 5	335	203	282	902	892	10	389	381	8
2,279	4,526	6,805	31,149	..	..	..	..	2 0	132	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,561	2,120	3,681	13,725	..	..	..	..	1 8	53	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,616	3,226	5,842	30,536	30,753	D. 217	6,419	20,367	1 9	232	189	209	2,254	2,289	D. 35	354	352	2
2,452	3,665	6,117	30,117	..	..	..	..	2 2	43	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,993	2,182	4,085	16,169	..	..	..	..	1 9	23	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
843	1,238	2,101	17,306	17,509	D. 203	4,504	9,780	1 7	69	4	60	986	1,125	D. 139	270	278	D. 8
496	854	1,350	10,442	..	..	..	..	2 3	56	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
183	130	303	3,240	..	..	..	..	1 9	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,666	10,036	17,752	130,020	130,033†	D. 15	21,222	77,639	1 7	667	423	591	6,213	6,489	D. 276	1,294	1,266	28
6,969	11,777	18,746	104,128	..	..	..	..	2 1	242	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,677	5,839	10,516	43,643	..	..	..	..	1 8	76	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,670	2,408	4,078	33,657	33,414	243	5,153	21,910	1 5	24	D. 8	20	2,147	2,124	23	276	282	D. 6
1,852	2,819	4,671	28,504	..	..	..	..	1 11	32	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,092	1,438	2,530	10,778	..	..	..	..	1 8	4	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,615	3,271	5,886	43,251	43,277	D. 26	6,551	28,019	1 5	357	203	313	884	902	D. 18	403	389	14
2,249	4,016	6,265	36,700	..	..	..	..	2 0	149	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,477	1,815	3,292	14,209	..	..	..	..	1 8	44	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,490	3,155	5,645	35,717	35,883	D. 166	6,095	19,738	1 10	234	34	212	2,205	2,186	19	310	345	D. 33
2,609	3,383	5,992	29,622	..	..	..	..	2 3	200	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,016	2,263	4,279	15,979	..	..	..	..	2 3	22	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
761	1,213	1,974	15,305	15,301	4	4,394	9,331	1 7	35	35	35	767	751	16	253	224	29
492	779	1,271	10,636	..	..	..	..	2 2	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
216	215	431	2,816	..	..	..	..	1 8	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,536	10,047	17,583	127,930	127,875‡	55	22,195	78,998	1 7	650	969	550	6,093	5,963	40	1,242	1,240	2
7,202	10,997	18,199	105,462	..	..	..	..	2 1	381	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,801	5,731	10,532	43,822	..	..	..	..	1 10	70	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

† The numbers for Ballinrobe, Ballycastle, Cavan, Clones, Enniscorthy, Enniskillen, Lismore, Nenagh, Tralee, and Waterford, are not included in the foregoing.

‡ The numbers for Castlebar, Cavan, Clones, Enniscorthy, Enniskillen, Galway, Gort, Lismore, Nenagh, Shillelagh, Tralee, and Waterford, are not included in the foregoing.

Week ended Saturday, March 4, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population according to Census of 1841.	No. of Unions the Workhouse of which is situated in the Province.	Workhouse Accommodation.				Number of Paupers in the
			No. of Paupers the Work-houses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional Accommodation has been provided.	Total No. for which Accommodation is provided in each Province.	Able-bodied			Children under 15 Years of Age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
							Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER . . Sat. 4 Mar. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	2,977	10,022	41,199	1,846	5,379	7,225	15,764	2,141	3,105	5,246
" 5 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,076	3,929	5,005	13,676	1,291	3,118	4,409
" 6 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	380	1,320	1,700	5,045	100	1,352	1,452
MUNSTER . . " 4 Mar. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	2,733	22,637	51,580	4,539	8,793	13,332	18,676	945	5,655	6,600
" 5 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,644	4,902	6,546	14,454	2,852	5,623	8,475
" 6 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	835	1,745	2,580	5,561	314	2,291	2,605
LEINSTER . . " 4 Mar. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,397	10,856	39,103	2,573	5,929	8,502	11,859	1,889	5,033	6,942
" 5 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	987	3,896	4,883	11,641	1,639	3,876	5,515
" 6 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	633	1,086	2,319	6,269	190	2,160	2,350
CONNAUGHT . " 4 Mar. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,560	3,610	19,770	1,603	3,035	4,638	6,252	830	2,350	3,180
" 5 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	515	1,455	1,970	4,079	984	2,258	3,222
" 6 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	228	425	653	1,496	79	457	536
Total of IRELAND. { Sat. 4 Mar. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	10,667	47,125	151,652	10,561	23,135	33,697	50,551	5,805	16,163	21,968
" 5 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	4,222	14,182	18,404	43,850	6,746	14,875	21,621
" 6 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	2,076	5,176	7,252	18,371	683	6,260	6,943

Week ended Saturday, March 11, 1848,

ULSTER . . Sat. 11 Mar. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,129	9,870	41,199	1,792	5,160	6,952	15,318	1,999	3,050	5,049
" 12 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	997	3,781	4,778	13,280	1,287	3,050	4,337
" 13 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	383	1,288	1,671	4,899	110	1,308	1,418
MUNSTER . . " 11 Mar. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	2,723	23,287	52,220	4,011	8,311	12,322	15,635	844	5,214	6,058
" 12 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,418	4,372	5,790	13,454	3,195	5,177	8,372
" 13 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	690	1,515	2,205	5,231	344	2,044	2,388
LEINSTER . . " 11 Mar. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,378	10,881	39,309	2,584	6,004	8,588	11,739	1,855	5,199	7,054
" 12 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,099	3,845	4,944	11,775	1,656	4,164	5,820
" 13 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	602	1,750	2,352	6,483	172	2,183	2,355
CONNAUGHT . " 11 Mar. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,510	3,560	19,670	1,875	3,317	5,192	6,242	1,093	2,323	3,416
" 12 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	546	1,486	2,032	4,039	1,281	1,968	3,249
" 13 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	242	459	701	1,396	96	476	572
Total of IRELAND. { Sat. 11 Mar. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	10,940	47,598	152,398	10,262	22,792	33,054	48,934	5,791	15,786	21,577
" 12 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	4,060	13,484	17,544	42,548	7,419	14,359	21,778
" 13 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,917	4,012	5,929	18,009	722	6,011	6,733

Week ended Saturday, March 18, 1848,

ULSTER . . Sat. 18 Mar. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,248	9,890	41,339	2,207	6,181	8,388	17,353	2,558	3,556	6,114
" 19 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,191	4,342	5,533	14,978	2,190	3,759	5,949
" 20 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	467	1,569	2,036	5,860	130	1,525	1,655
MUNSTER . . " 18 Mar. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	2,733	24,377	53,320	4,261	8,792	13,053	16,099	1,022	6,230	7,252
" 19 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,569	5,262	6,831	14,333	3,606	5,356	8,962
" 20 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	832	1,803	2,635	6,031	318	2,384	2,702
LEINSTER . . " 18 Mar. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,688	10,772	39,310	3,081	6,599	9,680	13,101	2,097	5,164	7,261
" 19 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,096	4,196	5,292	12,908	2,045	4,254	6,299
" 20 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	651	1,884	2,535	7,160	206	2,407	2,613
CONNAUGHT . " 18 Mar. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,668	3,500	19,768	1,735	3,154	4,889	5,671	1,025	2,187	3,212
" 19 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	497	1,379	1,876	3,917	1,004	1,991	2,995
" 20 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	233	439	672	1,393	86	497	583
Total of IRELAND. { Sat. 18 Mar. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	11,338	48,539	153,737	11,284	24,725	36,010	52,224	6,702	17,137	23,839
" 19 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	4,353	15,179	19,532	46,136	8,815	15,360	24,205
" 20 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	2,183	5,695	7,878	20,444	740	6,813	7,553

Week ended Saturday, March 25, 1848,

ULSTER . . Sat. 25 Mar. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,579	10,070	41,849	2,131	5,959	8,090	16,401	2,522	3,515	6,037
" 26 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,274	4,051	5,325	14,211	2,284	3,608	5,892
" 27 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	451	1,566	2,017	5,717	145	1,503	1,648
MUNSTER . . " 25 Mar. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	2,733	24,477	53,420	4,404	8,996	13,400	16,798	1,105	5,964	7,069
" 26 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,634	4,937	6,571	13,885	3,639	5,765	9,404
" 27 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	884	1,674	2,558	6,207	299	2,423	2,722
LEINSTER . . " 25 Mar. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,534	10,928	39,312	2,486	5,954	8,440	12,420	1,725	4,860	6,585
" 26 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	823	3,780	4,603	12,121	1,256	4,006	5,262
" 27 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	558	1,756	2,314	6,968	173	2,256	2,429
CONNAUGHT . " 25 Mar. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,668	3,500	19,768	2,034	3,359	5,393	6,054	994	2,312	3,306
" 26 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	561	1,629	2,190	4,347	1,107	1,941	3,048
" 27 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	275	488	763	1,496	91	556	647
Total of IRELAND. { Sat. 25 Mar. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	11,514	48,975	154,349	11,055	24,268	35,323	51,673	6,346	16,851	23,197
" 26 Mar. 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	4,292	14,397	18,689	44,564	8,286	15,320	23,606
" 27 Mar. 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	2,168	5,684	7,852	20,388	707	6,738	7,445

* The numbers for Castlebar, Cavan, Clones, Ennis, Enniscorthy, Enniskillen, Gort, Granard, Lismore, Lowtherstown, Nenagh, Rathdown, Shillelagh, Tralee, Tullamore, Waterford, and Westport, are not included in the above.

† The numbers for Ballinrobe, Ballycastle, Boyle, Cashel, Castlebar, Cavan, Clones, Ennis, Enniscorthy, Enniskillen, Granard, Lismore, Londonderry, Macroom, Nenagh, Shillelagh, Tralee, Tullamore, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

Returns—continued.

and corresponding Periods in 1847 and 1846.

Workhouses in each Province.				Total Number in Workhouses in last preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in present Week, compared with the preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Number of Paupers in Workhouses in present Year,		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per Head (exclusive of Clothing.)	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.		Number of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.			Total Number in Workhouses.			As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.		No. in the Week in present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Week of 1846,		No. in the Week in present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the Week of present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,659	2,353	4,012	32,247	32,881	D. 634	4,557	20,607	1 54	38	12	35	2,141	2,139	2	283	272	11
1,830	2,770	4,600	27,690	..	..	..	..	1 101	26	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,093	1,432	2,525	10,722	..	..	..	..	1 8	3	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,602	3,294	5,896	42,504	42,453	51	7,043	27,534	1 54	328	196	273	945	879	66	436	402	34
2,193	3,793	5,986	35,461	..	..	..	..	2 1	132	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,425	1,810	3,235	13,981	..	..	..	..	1 84	55	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,301	2,954	5,255	32,558	31,483	D. 520	5,149	17,662	1 94	250	160	246	1,839	1,934	D. 45	297	287	10
2,279	3,091	5,370	27,409	..	..	..	..	2 3	90	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,843	2,115	3,958	14,896	..	..	..	..	1 94	4	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
699	1,204	1,903	15,973	15,408	565	4,327	8,596	1 34	30	D. 30	29	830	806	24	252	274	D. 22
533	726	1,259	10,530	..	..	..	..	2 3	60	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
198	184	382	3,067	..	..	..	..	1 8	1	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,261	9,605	17,066	123,232	122,225*	D. 533	21,076	74,399	1 74	646	368	583	5,605	5,758	47	1,268	1,235	33
6,835	10,350	17,215	101,090	..	..	..	..	2 14	308	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,559	5,541	10,100	42,666	..	..	..	..	1 84	63	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,571	2,256	3,827	31,146	31,644	D. 498	4,661	19,902	1 54	72	29	71	1,999	1,965	34	263	265	D. 2
1,549	2,541	4,090	26,485	..	..	..	..	1 114	43	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,038	1,342	2,380	10,368	..	..	..	..	1 8	1	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,404	3,286	5,780	39,795	40,067	D. 272	6,549	25,676	1 54	377	209	336	844	845	D. 1	422	411	11
1,992	2,638	5,630	33,246	..	..	..	..	1 54	168	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,442	1,851	3,293	13,117	..	..	..	..	1 84	41	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,408	3,100	5,508	32,889	33,271	D. 382	4,930	17,581	1 94	222	198	213	1,855	1,941	D. 86	283	306	D. 23
2,341	3,079	5,420	27,959	..	..	..	..	2 34	24	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,946	2,172	4,118	15,308	..	..	..	..	1 94	9	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
690	1,041	1,731	16,551	16,354	227	5,961	10,074	1 74	59	D. 1	59	1,093	1,035	58	222	230	D. 8
648	752	1,300	10,620	..	..	..	..	2 34	60	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
175	175	350	3,019	..	..	..	..	1 8	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,163	9,683	16,846	120,411	121,336†	D. 925	22,101	73,233	1 84	730	435	679	5,791	5,786	5	1,190	1,212	22
6,430	10,010	16,440	98,310	..	..	..	..	2 14	295	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,601	5,540	10,141	41,812	..	..	..	..	1 54	51	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,681	2,396	4,077	35,932	35,890	42	5,249	22,826	1 54	56	D. 3	48	2,558	2,574	D. 16	324	340	D. 16
1,655	2,568	4,223	30,653	..	..	..	..	1 114	59	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,155	1,490	2,654	12,205	..	..	..	..	1 8	8	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,620	3,351	5,971	42,375	42,375	D. 85	6,513	26,508	1 6	316	159	270	1,022	892	130	527	443	79
2,189	3,567	5,736	35,862	..	..	..	..	2 04	157	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,536	1,960	3,496	14,864	..	..	..	..	1 94	46	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,633	3,385	6,018	36,080	35,880	160	5,762	19,323	1 6	192	147	178	2,097	2,023	74	283	302	D. 19
2,560	3,239	5,799	30,298	..	..	..	..	2 34	45	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,068	2,361	4,429	16,737	..	..	..	..	1 94	14	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
616	1,075	1,691	15,463	15,539	D. 76	5,337	9,956	1 84	103	43	103	1,025	1,072	D. 47	262	246	16
574	764	1,339	10,126	..	..	..	..	2 34	60	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
196	206	402	3,050	..	..	..	..	1 74	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,550	10,207	17,757	129,830	129,769†	61	22,861	78,613	1 64	667	346	599	5,702	5,561	141	1,336	1,336	60
6,978	10,118	17,096	108,969	..	..	..	..	2 14	321	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,955	6,026	10,981	46,856	..	..	..	..	1 84	68	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,584	2,212	3,796	34,324	34,753	D. 429	4,841	21,527	1 54	40	31	40	2,522	2,558	D. 36	306	301	5
1,565	2,484	4,049	29,483	..	..	..	..	1 114	9	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,113	1,437	2,550	11,932	..	..	..	..	1 74	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,579	3,477	6,056	43,323	43,665	D. 342	7,550	27,081	1 6	309	141	275	1,105	1,081	24	630	540	90
2,213	3,700	5,913	33,773	..	..	..	..	2 14	168	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,569	1,981	3,550	15,237	..	..	..	..	1 84	34	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,469	3,207	5,676	33,121	33,294	D. 173	5,418	17,185	1 9	226	198	221	1,725	1,789	D. 64	298	250	48
2,497	3,225	5,722	27,708	..	..	..	..	2 3	28	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,919	2,277	4,226	15,996	..	..	..	..	1 94	5	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
553	971	1,524	16,477	16,248	229	5,784	10,687	1 64	72	4	69	994	1,029	D. 35	253	262	D. 4
439	669	1,108	10,693	..	..	..	..	2 3	68	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
200	206	406	3,312	..	..	..	..	2 04	3	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,185	9,867	17,052	127,245	127,960‡	D. 715	23,588	76,480	1 64	647	374	605	6,346	6,437	D. 111	1,492	1,353	139
6,714	10,078	16,792	103,657	..	..	..	..	2 14	273	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,831	5,901	10,732	46,417	..	..	..	..	1 94	42	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

† The numbers for Ballina, Ballinrobe, Boyle, Castlebar, Ennis, Lismore, Macroom, Shillelagh, Tralee, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

‡ The numbers for Boyle, Castlebar, Downpatrick, Dunfanaghy, Ennis, Kilkenny, Lismore, New Ross, Swineford, Tralee, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

Week ended Saturday, April 1, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.		Population according to Census of 1841.	No. of Unions the Workhouses of which is situate in the Province.	Workhouse Accommodation.				Number of Paupers in the
				No. of Paupers the Workhouses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional Accommodation has been provided.	Total No. for which Accommodation is provided in each Province.	Able-bodied.			Children under 15 Years of Age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
								Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER	Sat. 1 Apr. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,139	10,240	41,579	1,914	5,692	7,606	15,812	2,226	3,225	5,451
	" 2 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,125	3,837	4,962	13,244	2,226	3,194	5,420
	" 3 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	418	1,475	1,893	5,623	134	1,480	1,614
MUNSTER	" 1 Apr. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	2,783	24,434	53,427	4,400	9,284	13,684	16,681	994	5,554	6,548
	" 2 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,452	4,659	6,111	13,021	3,661	5,149	8,810
	" 3 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	922	2,012	2,934	6,476	313	2,331	2,644
LEINSTER.	" 1 Apr. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,356	11,791	39,997	2,531	6,007	8,538	12,071	1,658	4,439	6,137
	" 2 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	997	3,315	4,312	12,019	1,284	3,659	4,943
	" 3 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,642	1,790	2,432	6,756	165	2,009	2,174
CONNAUGHT	" 1 Apr. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,668	3,580	19,848	1,670	3,038	4,708	6,658	826	2,197	3,023
	" 2 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	467	1,257	1,724	3,059	991	2,170	3,161
	" 3 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	227	393	620	1,270	86	420	506
Total of IRELAND.	Sat. 1 Apr. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	10,946	50,015	154,851	10,515	24,021	34,536	50,225	5,744	15,415	21,159
	" 2 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	4,041	13,568	17,609	41,343	8,162	14,172	22,334
	" 3 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	2,209	5,670	7,879	20,125	698	6,240	6,938

Week ended Saturday, April 8, 1848,

ULSTER	Sat. 8 Apr. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,139	10,240	41,579	1,898	5,680	7,578	15,827	2,135	3,123	5,258
	" 9 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,106	3,833	4,939	13,324	2,688	3,009	5,697
	" 10 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	438	1,467	1,905	5,732	183	1,506	1,689
MUNSTER	" 8 Apr. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	3,188	24,849	54,247	4,420	9,168	13,588	16,414	1,032	5,722	6,754
	" 9 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,425	4,603	6,028	12,842	3,803	5,096	8,899
	" 10 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	864	1,924	2,788	6,371	279	2,292	2,571
LEINSTER	" 8 Apr. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,556	11,831	40,237	2,506	6,020	8,526	12,026	1,464	4,381	5,845
	" 9 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	948	3,748	4,696	11,768	1,396	3,570	4,966
	" 10 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	624	1,790	2,414	6,655	148	2,020	2,168
CONNAUGHT	" 8 Apr. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,768	3,580	19,948	1,878	3,289	5,167	6,110	836	2,619	3,455
	" 9 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	472	1,204	1,676	2,961	847	1,842	2,679
	" 10 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	240	330	620	1,301	79	446	525
Total of IRELAND.	Sat. 8 Apr. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	11,651	50,500	156,011	10,702	24,157	34,859	50,377	5,467	15,846	21,312
	" 9 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	3,951	13,388	17,339	40,895	8,724	13,517	22,241
	" 10 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	2,166	5,561	7,727	20,059	659	6,264	6,923

Week ended Saturday, April 15, 1848,

ULSTER	Sat. 15 Apr. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	3,079	10,320	41,599	1,852	5,807	7,759	16,097	2,213	3,325	5,538
	" 16 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,131	3,786	4,917	13,517	3,040	3,287	6,327
	" 17 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	446	1,482	1,928	5,814	130	1,541	1,671
MUNSTER	" 15 Apr. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	3,188	25,499	54,897	4,921	9,964	14,885	17,865	1,199	5,882	7,081
	" 16 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,561	4,863	6,424	13,541	3,808	5,319	9,127
	" 17 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	980	2,017	2,997	6,859	278	2,377	2,656
LEINSTER	" 15 Apr. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,501	12,389	40,740	2,442	5,884	8,326	11,515	1,348	4,109	5,457
	" 16 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,003	3,699	4,702	11,175	1,450	3,628	5,078
	" 17 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	606	1,777	2,383	6,526	152	1,991	2,143
CONNAUGHT	" 15 Apr. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,668	3,875	20,143	1,857	3,457	5,314	5,929	964	2,545	3,509
	" 16 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	449	1,165	1,614	2,844	693	1,743	2,436
	" 17 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	251	454	706	1,589	63	455	518
Total of IRELAND.	Sat. 15 Apr. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	11,436	52,083	157,879	11,172	25,112	36,284	51,406	5,724	15,861	21,585
	" 16 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	4,144	13,513	17,657	41,077	9,191	13,977	23,168
	" 17 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	2,283	5,731	8,014	20,788	644	6,364	7,008

Week ended Saturday, April 22, 1848,

ULSTER	Sat. 22 Apr. 1848	2,362,132	43	28,200	2,979	10,538	41,717	1,934	5,736	7,670	16,077	2,023	3,219	5,242
	" 24 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,209	3,830	5,039	13,397	3,181	3,575	6,756
	" 25 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	478	1,458	1,936	5,789	256	1,406	1,662
MUNSTER	" 22 Apr. 1848	2,435,347	35	26,210	4,538	24,365	55,113	5,264	9,831	15,095	18,294	1,144	5,891	7,035
	" 24 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,531	4,599	6,130	12,415	3,841	4,951	8,792
	" 25 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	973	2,144	3,117	7,167	253	2,497	2,750
LEINSTER	" 22 Apr. 1848	2,006,036	34	24,850	3,481	12,612	40,943	2,713	6,426	9,139	13,064	1,502	4,326	5,828
	" 24 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	1,011	3,855	4,866	11,511	1,830	4,170	6,000
	" 25 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	695	1,888	2,493	7,196	183	2,405	2,588
CONNAUGHT	" 22 Apr. 1848	1,370,753	18	14,600	1,684	3,835	20,119	1,918	3,558	5,338	6,117	891	2,718	3,609
	" 24 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	467	1,151	1,608	2,873	815	1,841	2,656
	" 25 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	219	363	582	1,219	52	344	396
Total of IRELAND.	Sat. 22 Apr. 1848	8,174,268	130	93,860	12,682	51,350	157,892	11,891	25,551	37,442	53,552	5,560	16,154	21,714
	" 24 Apr. 1847	"	"	"	"	"	"	4,208	13,435	17,643	40,196	9,667	14,337	24,204
	" 25 Apr. 1846	"	"	"	"	"	"	2,275	5,853	8,128	24,371	744	8,652	7,396

* The numbers for Ballinrobe, Boyle, Castlebar, Coleraine, Dunfanaghy, Rancorthy, Enniskillen, Kilrush, Lismore, Longford, New Ross, Stranorlar, Swineford, Tralee, Waterford, and Westport, are not included in the above.

† The numbers for Castlebar, Enniscorthy, Enniskillen, Ennistymon, Letterkenny, Lismore, Longford, New Ross, Swineford, Tralee, Waterford, and Westport, are not included in the above.

Returns—continued.

and corresponding Periods in 1847 and 1846.

Workhouses in each Province.				Total Number in Workhouses in last preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in present Week, compared with the preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Number of Paupers in Workhouses in present Year.		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per Head (exclusive of Clothing).	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.			Number of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.			Total Number in Workhouses.			As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.		No. in the Week in present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Week of 1847.		No. in the Week in present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the Week of present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,595	2,117	3,712	32,581	33,034	D. 453	5,254	20,176	s. d. 1 5½	32	4	29	2,226	2,384	D. 158	274	293	D. 19
1,435	2,266	3,701	27,327	..	..	..	..	1 11½	28	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,445	1,410	2,855	11,585	..	..	..	..	1 7½	3	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,726	3,526	6,252	43,165	42,898	267	8,404	26,412	1 5½	295	76	218	994	993	1	508	583	D. 75
2,129	3,640	5,769	33,711	..	..	..	..	2 1½	209	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,583	2,061	3,649	15,703	..	..	..	..	1 8½	67	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,365	3,066	5,431	32,180	32,348	D. 168	4,805	16,664	1 9	185	149	155	1,698	1,724	D. 26	227	293	D. 66
2,511	3,090	5,601	27,375	..	..	..	..	2 5½	36	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,890	2,264	4,154	15,516	..	..	..	..	1 10½	30	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
489	801	1,290	14,679	14,718	D. 39	5,113	8,570	1 6½	34	D. 21	33	826	929	D. 103	194	242	D. 48
293	444	737	8,681	..	..	..	..	2 3½	55	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
170	182	352	2,748	..	..	..	..	1 8½	1	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,175	9,510	16,685	122,605	122,998*	D. 393	23,576	71,822	1 6½	536	208	435	5,744	6,030	D. 286	1,203	1,411	D. 208
6,368	9,440	15,808	97,094	..	..	..	..	2 2½	328	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,693	5,917	10,610	45,552	..	..	..	..	1 9	101	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,663	2,287	3,950	32,613	33,462	D. 849	4,756	20,006	1 4½	48	12	43	2,135	2,243	D. 108	256	280	D. 24
1,541	2,356	3,897	27,857	..	..	..	..	1 11½	36	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,062	1,419	2,481	11,807	..	..	..	..	1 8	5	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,720	3,626	6,346	43,102	43,637	D. 555	9,626	26,581	1 5½	339	177	288	1,032	1,067	D. 35	486	547	D. 61
2,276	3,431	5,707	33,476	..	..	..	..	2 2	162	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,660	2,102	3,762	15,492	..	..	..	..	1 8½	51	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,240	2,895	5,137	31,534	32,180	D. 646	4,669	16,110	1 9	169	102	105	1,464	1,698	D. 234	214	227	D. 13
2,429	3,006	5,435	26,865	..	..	..	..	2 4½	67	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,915	2,272	4,187	15,424	..	..	..	..	2 0½	64	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
509	833	1,342	16,074	16,200	D. 126	4,509	7,566	1 6½	81	63	81	836	841	D. 5	235	189	46
403	600	1,003	8,319	..	..	..	..	2 2	18	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
153	170	323	2,769	..	..	..	..	1 9	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,134	9,641	16,775	123,323	125,499†	D. 2176	23,660	70,263	1 6½	637	354	517	5,467	5,849	D. 382	1,191	1,243	D. 52
6,649	9,393	16,042	96,517	..	..	..	..	2 2	283	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,790	5,963	10,753	45,492	..	..	..	..	1 9½	120	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,674	2,194	3,868	37,262	33,695	D. 433	4,522	20,392	1 5	42	42	27	2,213	2,216	D. 3	277	270	7
1,558	2,421	3,979	28,740	..	..	..	..	2 0½	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,138	1,491	2,629	12,062	..	..	..	..	1 8½	15	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,847	3,742	6,589	46,420	46,040	380	10,879	28,649	1 6	334	67	268	1,199	1,046	153	556	503	51
2,618	3,431	6,449	35,541	..	..	..	..	2 1½	267	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,839	2,373	4,212	16,724	..	..	..	..	1 10½	66	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,231	2,854	5,095	30,393	30,907	D. 514	4,094	15,262	1 9	150	101	124	1,348	1,413	D. 65	221	206	15
2,455	2,889	5,344	26,299	..	..	..	..	2 4½	49	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,848	2,231	4,079	15,131	..	..	..	..	1 11½	26	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
488	736	1,224	15,976	16,174	D. 198	4,496	7,918	1 6½	48	5	48	964	896	128	241	235	6
450	613	1,072	8,166	..	..	..	..	2 3½	43	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
180	187	367	3,180	..	..	..	..	1 8½	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,240	9,536	16,776	126,051	126,816†	D. 763	23,991	72,221	1 6½	574	215	467	5,724	5,511	213	1,295	1,216	79
7,090	9,754	16,844	98,746	..	..	..	..	2 2½	359	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
5,005	6,282	11,287	47,097	..	..	..	..	1 10	107	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

and corresponding periods in 1847 and 1846.

1,606	2,225	3,831	32,820	33,349	D. 525	3,777	20,365	1 8	80	34	73	2,023	2,191	D. 168	260	275	D. 15
1,523	2,328	3,851	29,043	..	..	..	..	1 11½	46	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,121	1,480	2,602	11,989	..	..	..	..	1 8½	7	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,896	4,204	7,100	47,524	48,126	D. 602	12,825	27,874	1 5	448	323	416	1,144	1,199	D. 55	476	554	D. 108
2,399	3,671	6,070	33,407	..	..	..	..	2 1½	125	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,897	2,360	4,247	17,281	..	..	..	..	1 8½	32	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,360	3,089	5,449	33,480	33,642	162	5,394	16,940	1 5	160	55	145	1,502	1,521	D. 19	196	252	D. 56
2,581	3,128	5,709	28,086	..	..	..	..	1 11½	105	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,902	2,361	4,263	16,540	..	..	..	..	1 8½	15	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
474	715	1,189	16,453	16,389	64	4,619	7,705	1 7	43	38	37	891	978	D. 87	225	247	D. 22
449	627	1,076	8,213	..	..	..	..	2 4½	5	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
181	189	370	2,567	..	..	..	..	1 9	6	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,336	10,233	17,569	130,277	131,506§	D. 1229	26,615	72,884	1 5	731	450	671	5,560	5,889	D. 329	1,157	1,358	D. 201
6,932	9,754	16,706	98,749	..	..	..	..	2 1½	281	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
5,032	6,390	11,482	48,377	..	..	..	..	1 8½	60	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

† The numbers for Castlebar, Enniscorthy, Ennistymon, Letterkenny, Longford, New Ross, Shilleagh, Swineford, Tralee, and Westport, are not included in the above.

§ The numbers for Castlebar, Ennistymon, Milford, New Ross, and Westport, are not included in the above

Week ended Saturday, April 29, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population according to Census of 1841.	No. of Unions the Workhouse of which is situate in the Province.	Workhouse Accommodation.				Number of Paupers in the
			No. of Paupers the Work-houses were origi-nally calcu-lated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are cal-culated to contain.	No. for which addi-tional Accom-moda-tion has been provided.	Total No. for which Accom-moda-tion is pro-vided in each Province.	Able-bodied.			Children under 15 Years of Age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
							Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER . . Sat. 29 Apr. 1848	2,362,132	..	28,200	2,979	10,538	41,717	2,026	5,781	7,807	16,201	1,982	3,216	5,198
.. 1 May, 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,280	3,928	5,208	13,637	3,191	3,573	6,764
.. 2 May, 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	477	1,464	1,941	5,907	178	1,521	1,699
MUNSTER . . 29 Apr. 1848	2,435,347	..	26,210	4,680	24,223	55,113	5,084	10,176	15,260	18,320	1,050	5,802	6,852
.. 1 May, 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,367	4,206	5,573	11,997	3,502	4,739	8,241
.. 2 May, 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	902	1,963	2,865	6,855	231	2,336	2,567
LEINSTER . . 29 Apr. 1848	2,006,036	..	24,850	3,531	12,663	41,044	2,787	6,363	9,150	13,324	1,452	4,376	5,828
.. 1 May, 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	1,054	3,757	4,811	11,460	1,955	4,133	6,088
.. 2 May, 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	679	1,828	2,407	6,910	189	2,488	2,677
CONNAUGHT . 29 Apr. 1848	1,370,753	..	14,660	1,798	3,705	20,103	1,864	3,168	5,032	5,386	820	2,589	3,409
.. 1 May, 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	408	912	1,320	2,383	607	1,031	1,638
.. 2 May, 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	286	460	746	1,532	42	385	427
Total of IRELAND. { Sat. 29 Apr. 1848	8,174,268	..	93,860	12,958	51,129	157,977	11,761	25,488	37,249	53,231	5,304	15,983	21,287
.. 1 May, 1847	..	..	..	..	..	..	4,109	12,083	16,912	39,477	9,255	13,481	22,736
.. 2 May, 1846	..	..	..	..	..	..	2,244	5,715	7,959	21,204	640	6,750	7,390

NOTE.—The Numbers for Cashel, Castlebar, Castleroa, Mohill,

Returns—continued.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

Workhouses in each Province.				Total Number in Workhouses.	Total Number in last preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in present Week, compared with the preceding Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease in Number of Paupers in Workhouses in present Year.		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per Head (exclusive of Clothing).	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.		Number of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.			As compared with 1847.				As compared with 1846.	No. in the Week in present Year.		Increase or Decrease in Week of 1849.		No. in the Week in present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the Week of present Year.	No. in the previous Week of present Year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,718	2,354	4,072	33,278	33,108	170	3,547	20,381	s. d.	42	D. 3	41	1,982	2,045	D. 63	257	269	D. 12
1,670	2,452	4,122	29,731	..	..	..	..	1 3	45	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,123	1,440	2,563	12,115	..	..	..	..	1 11½	1	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,914	3,787	6,701	47,133	46,936	197	13,199	27,409	1 7½	444	393	425	1,050	1,033	D. 3	445	473	D. 33
2,354	3,533	5,967	31,778	..	..	..	..	1 5	51	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,801	2,397	4,198	16,505	..	..	..	..	2 1½	19	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
2,424	3,030	5,454	33,756	33,480	276	5,823	17,706	1 8½	121	143	143	1,452	1,502	D. 50	226	196	30
2,532	3,037	5,569	27,933	..	..	..	..	1 5	22	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
1,829	2,227	4,056	16,050	..	..	..	..	2 4	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
202	468	760	14,587	14,432	155	4,163	8,580	1 10	40	34	40	820	825	D. 5	206	217	D. 11
309	397	706	6,047	..	..	..	..	1 6½	6	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
171	190	361	3,066	..	..	..	..	2 3½	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
7,348	9,639	16,987	128,754	127,956	798	26,732	74,076	1 9½	669	545	649	5,304	5,425	D. 121	1,134	1,180	D. 26
6,895	9,496	16,364	95,489	..	..	..	..	1 4½	124	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
4,029	6,254	11,183	47,736	..	..	..	..	2 2½	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
								1 9	20	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

New Ross, and Westport, are not included in the above.

RETURN of PERSONS receiving OUT-DOOR RELIEF, and of the Expenditure thereon, for a period of Ten Weeks, ending April 8, 1848.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
ARDEE . . .	5 Feb.	1,245	2,333	241	425	1,486	3,258	4 11 0	99 10 1	104 1 1	No out-relief.
	12 Feb.	1,154	2,706	231	396	1,385	3,102	2 14 9	97 13 6	100 8 3
	19 Feb.	1,161	2,719	240	414	1,401	3,133	3 6 7	99 3 1	102 9 8
	26 Feb.	1,170	2,055	184	320	1,354	3,375	1 19 10	100 5 5	102 5 5
	4 March	1,212	3,120	173	285	1,385	3,405	4 8 7	98 17 0	103 5 7
	11 March	1,202	2,973	155	253	1,357	3,226	13 16 2	95 12 3	109 8 5
	18 March	1,296	3,285	102	194	1,398	3,479	12 2 6	97 18 4	110 0 10
	25 March	1,298	2,977	95	178	1,393	3,155	13 17 11	93 17 1	107 5 0
	1 April	1,243	2,884	93	157	1,336	3,041	11 12 11	93 17 3	105 10 2
	8 April	1,201	2,839	81	113	1,282	2,952	9 6 4½	89 1 0½	98 7 5
ANTRIM . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
ARDEE . . .	5 Feb.	1,105	2,895	..	..	1,105	2,895	80 16 3	..	80 16 3
	12 Feb.	1,050	2,883	..	..	1,050	2,883	88 13 0	..	88 13 0
	19 Feb.	1,040	2,777	..	..	1,040	2,777	82 14 0	..	82 14 0
	26 Feb.	1,070	2,745	..	..	1,070	2,745	84 19 4	..	84 19 4
	4 March	1,085	2,886	..	..	1,085	2,886	83 17 8	..	83 17 8
	11 March	992	2,880	..	..	992	2,880	80 4 10	..	80 4 10
	18 March	1,053	2,845	..	..	1,053	2,845	80 3 5	..	80 3 5
	25 March	1,071	2,904	..	..	1,071	2,904	79 8 7	..	79 8 7
	1 April	797	1,599	..	..	797	1,599	43 13 11	..	43 13 11
	8 April	879	1,619	..	..	879	1,619	50 4 9	..	50 4 9
ARMACH . . .	5 Feb.	1,301	2,426	..	..	1,301	2,426	..	43 6 5½	43 6 5½	No out-relief as yet given.
	12 Feb.	1,295	2,517	..	..	1,295	2,517	..	43 19 5	43 19 5
	19 Feb.	1,335	2,592	..	..	1,335	2,592	..	44 0 9½	44 0 9½
	26 Feb.	1,334	2,537	..	..	1,334	2,537	..	45 0 11	45 0 11
	4 March	1,329	2,542	..	..	1,329	2,542	..	45 13 6½	45 13 6½
	11 March	1,286	2,491	..	..	1,286	2,491	..	44 0 11½	44 0 11½
	18 March	1,239	2,362	..	..	1,239	2,362	..	41 17 7½	41 17 7½
	25 March	1,208	2,276	..	..	1,208	2,276	..	38 15 7	38 15 7
	1 April	1,105	1,951	..	..	1,105	1,951	..	34 15 2	34 15 2
	8 April	1,032	1,836	..	..	1,032	1,836	..	30 5 0½	30 5 0½
ATHLONE . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief as yet given.
	12 Feb.	140	291	..	..	140	291	..	5 12 0½	5 12 0½
	19 Feb.	379	896	..	..	379	896	..	22 1 2	22 1 2
	26 Feb.	779	2,092	..	..	779	2,092	..	38 8 7½	38 8 7½
	4 March	1,173	2,718	284	1,025	1,437	3,743	..	79 11 2½	79 11 2½
	11 March	2,064	4,116	492	1,876	2,556	5,992	..	136 0 0½	136 0 0½
	18 March	1,705	3,746	652	2,516	2,357	6,262	..	134 19 3½	134 19 3½
	25 March	2,014	4,722	1,014	3,209	3,028	7,931	..	201 10 2½	201 10 2½
	1 April	2,308	5,353	891	3,365	3,199	8,718	..	216 17 3½	216 17 3½
	8 April	2,546	5,863	959	3,541	3,505	9,404	..	210 17 11½	210 17 11½
ATHY . . .	5 Feb.	735	1,552	..	..	735	1,552	39 13 2	5 13 10	45 7 0	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	886	1,816	..	..	886	1,816	50 4 7	5 0 4	55 4 11
	19 Feb.	985	2,111	..	..	985	2,111	57 6 4	6 0 6	63 6 10
	26 Feb.	1,069	2,303	..	..	1,069	2,303	62 11 2	6 1 8	68 12 10
	4 March	1,095	2,329	..	..	1,095	2,329	64 13 8	6 0 10	70 14 6
	11 March	1,119	2,390	..	..	1,119	2,390	70 0 7	8 8 4	78 8 11
	18 March	1,180	2,460	..	..	1,180	2,460	76 3 2	8 16 9	84 19 11
	25 March	1,204	2,371	..	..	1,204	2,371	78 12 6	8 16 7	87 8 1
	1 April	1,166	2,163	..	..	1,166	2,163	90 0 6	..	90 0 6
	8 April	1,225	2,261	..	..	1,225	2,261	93 2 0	..	93 2 0
BAILIEBOROUGH . . .	5 Feb.	1,823	4,104	68	85	1,886	4,189	..	124 11 6	124 11 6	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	1,680	3,399	93	112	1,673	3,511	..	126 6 10½	126 6 10½
	19 Feb.	1,842	4,123	117	142	1,959	4,265	..	127 10 11½	127 10 11½
	26 Feb.	1,851	3,818	142	137	1,993	3,955	..	128 18 10½	128 18 10½
	4 March	1,869	4,810	155	227	2,024	5,037	..	130 10 5½	130 10 5½
	11 March	1,864	4,740	166	244	2,030	4,984	..	129 14 7½	129 14 7½
	18 March	1,861	4,772	167	264	2,028	5,036	..	128 11 3	128 11 3
	25 March	1,608	4,048	104	175	1,712	4,223	..	126 5 11½	126 5 11½
	1 April	1,464	3,688	18	41	1,482	3,721	..	119 11 5½	119 11 5½
	8 April	1,559	4,002	..	..	1,559	4,002	..	117 16 9½	117 6 9½
BALLINA . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	3,515	9,341	11,129	26,351	14,644	35,692	..	1,132 4 4	1,132 4 4
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	18 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	25 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	1 April	4,641	11,083	12,792	27,687	17,433	38,770	..	..	..
	8 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
BALLINASLOE . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	141	323	..	..	141	323	..	3 13 4½	3 13 4½
	19 Feb.	307	703	..	..	307	703	..	11 16 7	11 16 7
	26 Feb.	439	1,087	..	..	439	1,087	0 0 2	24 11 4½	24 11 6½
	4 March	447	1,090	..	..	447	1,090	..	28 11 7½	28 11 7½
	11 March	573	1,507	..	..	573	1,507	0 2 6	41 16 7½	41 19 1½
	18 March	754	2,071	..	..	754	2,071	0 5 6	55 14 4½	55 19 10½
	25 March	891	2,332	29	97	920	2,429	0 9 2	67 14 3	68 3 5
	1 April	1,109	2,771	183	572	1,292	3,343	2 0 8	88 2 0½	90 2 8½
	8 April	2,054	4,589	304	795	2,358	5,384	13 7 6	123 2 5½	136 9 11½

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
BALLINGBOE .	5 Feb.	206	563	336	1,273	542	1,835	..	..	..	Cost not stated. Particulars not given
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	2,365	6,742	4,229	12,895	6,594	19,637	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	2,549	7,460	5,988	18,006	8,537	25,466	..	..	..
	4 March	2,512	7,871	6,304	17,137	8,816	25,008	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	11 March	2,773	8,847	7,735	20,560	10,508	28,907	..	..	..
	18 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	25 March	2,916	8,744	8,004	21,431	10,920	30,175	..	..	..
	1 April	2,991	8,907	8,276	22,139	11,267	31,046	..	..	..	No out-relief given.
	8 April	3,075	9,135	8,420	22,690	11,495	31,825	..	..	..
BALLYCASTLE .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
BALLYMENNA .	5 Feb.	87	170	7	17	79	187	..	1 14 6½	1 14 6½
	12 Feb.	157	322	7	21	163	343	..	5 7 6	5 7 6
	19 Feb.	204	384	5	8	209	392	..	6 19 6	6 19 6
	26 Feb.	301	595	4	6	305	601	..	9 8 9	9 8 9
	4 March	373	729	3	4	376	733	..	11 12 10	11 12 10
	11 March	438	841	3	3	441	844	..	14 6 8½	14 6 8½
	18 March	493	972	3	3	496	975	..	16 13 7½	16 13 7½
	25 March	518	1,016	1	2	519	1,018	..	17 15 8½	17 15 8½
	1 April	565	1,102	..	..	565	1,102	..	19 1 9½	19 1 9½
	8 April	592	1,176	..	..	592	1,176	..	19 10 3½	19 10 3½
BALLYMONEY .	5 Feb.	489	898	..	..	489	898	18 0 9	..	18 0 9
	12 Feb.	556	1,008	..	..	556	1,008	19 11 6	..	19 11 6
	19 Feb.	571	1,017	..	..	571	1,017	19 17 3	..	19 17 3
	26 Feb.	578	1,037	..	..	578	1,037	20 4 6	..	20 4 6
	4 March	585	1,035	..	..	585	1,035	20 0 3	..	20 0 3
	11 March	589	986	..	..	589	986	19 13 0	..	19 13 0
	18 March	570	989	..	..	570	989	19 14 6	..	19 14 6
	25 March	600	1,033	..	..	600	1,033	20 5 0	..	20 5 0
	1 April	568	934	..	..	568	934	19 6 6	..	19 6 6
	8 April	576	977	..	..	576	977	19 14 7	..	19 14 7
BALLYSHANNON .	5 Feb.	321	596	..	..	321	596	16 13 11	..	16 13 11
	12 Feb.	352	679	..	..	352	679	16 17 10	..	16 17 10
	19 Feb.	425	797	..	..	425	797	18 16 11	..	18 16 11
	26 Feb.	489	874	..	..	489	874	24 4 0	..	24 4 0
	4 March	499	884	..	..	499	884	24 12 4	..	24 12 4
	11 March	578	976	..	..	578	976	26 3 7	..	26 3 7
	18 March	541	920	..	..	541	920	28 15 7	..	28 15 7
	25 March	692	968	..	..	692	968	32 2 8	..	32 2 8
	1 April	747	1,227	..	..	747	1,227	32 12 10	..	32 12 10
	8 April	776	1,311	..	..	776	1,311	34 2 6	..	34 2 6
BALROBERTY .	5 Feb.	..	..	441	790	441	790	..	21 17 11½	21 17 11½
	12 Feb.	..	..	448	798	448	798	..	19 18 8	19 18 8
	19 Feb.	..	..	421	803	421	803	..	19 14 2½	19 14 2½
	26 Feb.	..	..	465	805	465	805	..	20 10 8½	20 10 8½
	4 March	..	..	478	838	478	838	..	20 8 9½	20 8 9½
	11 March	..	..	477	837	477	837	..	20 13 7½	20 13 7½
	18 March	..	..	476	838	476	838	..	20 4 10	20 4 10
	25 March	..	..	481	854	481	854	0 2 6	20 14 7½	20 17 1½
	1 April	503	872	..	..	503	872	..	20 5 7	20 5 7
	8 April	506	868	..	..	506	868	0 2 0	20 8 3½	20 10 3½
BALTINGLASS .	5 Feb.	753	1,638	..	..	753	1,638	43 13 2	..	43 13 2
	12 Feb.	789	1,662	..	..	789	1,662	45 11 6	..	45 11 6
	19 Feb.	785	1,717	..	..	785	1,717	48 4 6	..	48 4 6
	26 Feb.	796	1,728	..	..	796	1,728	48 2 3	..	48 2 3
	4 March	807	1,729	..	..	807	1,729	48 7 1	..	48 7 1
	11 March	801	1,733	..	..	801	1,733	48 9 2	..	48 9 2
	18 March	814	1,733	..	..	814	1,733	48 15 2	..	48 15 2
	25 March	824	1,762	..	..	824	1,762	49 7 6	..	49 7 6
	1 April	787	1,620	..	..	787	1,620	16 12 10	29 9 2½	46 8 0½
	8 April	810	1,691	..	..	810	1,691	4 10 5	41 18 7½	46 9 0½
BANBRIDGE .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief. Particulars not given
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	637	1,351	1	6	638	1,357	..	25 18 9½	25 18 9½
	26 Feb.	775	1,556	..	..	775	1,556	..	29 17 7½	29 17 7½
	4 March	858	1,731	..	..	858	1,731	..	33 7 1½	33 7 1½
	11 March	889	1,739	..	..	889	1,739	..	34 14 9½	34 14 9½
	18 March	921	1,790	..	..	921	1,790	..	36 5 6½	36 5 6½
	25 March	914	1,781	..	..	914	1,781	..	36 16 2	36 16 2
	1 April	930	1,793	1	1	931	1,794	..	34 14 11	34 14 11
	8 April	940	1,837	..	..	940	1,837	..	35 8 4½	35 8 4½
BANDON . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
BANTRY . . .	5 Feb.	3,471	8,632	..	3,471	8,632	..	..	210 6 2½	210 6 2½
	12 Feb.	3,436	9,146	..	3,436	9,146	..	..	230 7 9½	230 7 9½
	19 Feb.	3,439	8,913	..	3,439	8,913	..	..	258 8 6	258 8 6
	26 Feb.	3,411	9,688	..	3,411	9,688	..	..	254 19 7½	254 19 7½
	4 March	2,971	6,663	..	2,971	6,663	..	..	198 14 7½	198 14 7½
	11 March	3,130	6,096	..	3,130	6,096	..	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	18 March	3,743	6,227	..	3,743	6,227	..	..	168 1 9	168 1 9
	25 March	3,787	5,971	..	3,787	5,971	..	..	161 7 4	161 7 4
	1 April	3,699	6,368	..	3,699	6,368	..	..	159 3 11	159 3 11
	8 April	3,756	6,137	..	3,756	6,137	..	..	160 1 6½	160 1 6½

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
BELFAST . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
BOYLE . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	18 March	1,109	3,383	224	494	1,333	3,877	..	..	..
	25 March	1,373	4,337	308	651	1,681	4,988	..	..	..
	1 April	1,489	4,267	311	679	1,800	4,946	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	8 April	1,786	4,897	421	968	2,267	5,865	..	..	..
CARRICKREEN . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given
	12 Feb.	633	1,261	41	80	674	1,341	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	19 Feb.	921	1,959	54	84	975	2,043	..	..	..	Particulars not given
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	1,198	2,526	150	257	1,348	2,783	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given
	18 March	1,227	2,672	153	247	1,379	2,919	0 6 6	85 3 1½	85 9 7½
	25 March	1,243	2,746	158	257	1,401	3,003	0 3 4	87 17 6½	88 0 10½
	1 April	1,193	2,611	176	279	1,369	2,890	0 2 1	85 18 3½	86 0 4½
	8 April	1,238	2,764	188	293	1,426	3,057	..	85 15 5½	85 15 5½
CALLAN . . .	5 Feb.	1,576	3,450	1,799	4,893	3,375	8,343	51 13 4½	161 5 1½	212 18 5½
	12 Feb.	1,607	3,525	1,853	4,987	3,460	8,512	51 12 11½	166 19 8½	218 12 7½
	19 Feb.	1,570	3,525	1,968	5,292	3,538	8,817	39 3 11½	138 1 10½	177 5 10
	26 Feb.	1,588	3,580	1,972	5,312	3,560	8,892	38 19 9½	137 2 9	176 2 6½
	4 March	1,586	3,582	1,987	4,933	3,573	8,515	50 18 6½	153 17 10½	209 16 5
	11 March	1,599	3,571	1,838	4,849	3,437	8,420	49 18 3½	162 5 3½	212 3 7
	18 March	1,629	3,662	1,753	4,693	3,382	8,255	49 9 11½	153 2 6	202 12 5½
	25 March	1,630	3,537	1,654	4,540	3,284	8,077	37 10 5½	159 3 9½	196 14 3
	1 April	1,611	3,541	1,548	4,342	3,159	7,883	48 15 7½	138 7 11½	187 3 7
	8 April	1,620	3,369	1,365	3,905	2,985	7,274	47 1 3½	118 15 11½	165 17 2½
CARLOW . . .	5 Feb.	1,505	3,857	..	..	1,505	3,857	94 9 3	..	94 9 3
	12 Feb.	1,576	4,007	..	..	1,576	4,007	96 8 7	0 3 0	96 11 7
	19 Feb.	1,634	4,095	..	..	1,634	4,095	98 2 1	..	98 2 1
	26 Feb.	1,751	4,396	..	..	1,751	4,396	99 1 4	0 2 9	99 4 1
	4 March	1,812	4,563	..	..	1,812	4,563	104 7 8	1 3 3	105 10 11
	11 March	1,872	4,703	..	..	1,872	4,703	107 5 8	1 6 7	108 12 3
	18 March	1,956	4,934	..	..	1,956	4,934	111 17 6	0 15 1	112 12 7
	25 March	2,024	5,087	..	..	2,024	5,087	116 18 9	9 8	117 8 5
	1 April	2,116	5,307	..	..	2,116	5,307	119 5 11	0 12 1	119 18 0
	8 April	2,178	5,490	..	..	2,178	5,490	121 13 2	0 2 2	121 15 4
CARRICKMACROSS	5 Feb.	717	1,681	24	57	741	1,738	44 6 10	..	44 6 10
	12 Feb.	749	1,845	30	82	779	1,927	47 9 6	..	47 9 6
	19 Feb.	779	1,956	30	43	809	1,999	49 14 3	..	49 14 10
	26 Feb.	794	1,998	35	68	829	2,066	49 9 11	..	49 9 0
	4 March	803	2,017	34	63	837	2,080	51 5 6	..	51 5 6
	11 March	809	2,032	14	57	843	2,089	51 6 2	..	51 6 2
	18 March	822	2,022	64	103	886	2,105	57 17 6	..	51 17 6
	25 March	786	1,984	26	39	812	2,023	48 12 10	..	48 12 10
	1 April	808	1,874	57	100	865	1,974	50 5 0	..	50 5 0
	8 April	818	1,943	61	112	879	2,055	51 8 10	..	51 8 10
CARRICK-ON-SHAN- NON.	5 Feb.	887	2,063	1,197	2,459	2,084	4,462	..	99 0 7½	99 0 7½
	12 Feb.	1,333	3,185	2,070	4,365	3,403	7,450	..	210 11 7	210 11 7
	19 Feb.	1,675	4,048	3,352	7,159	5,027	11,207	..	718 10 3	718 10 3
	26 Feb.	1,911	4,524	4,239	8,811	6,150	13,335	..	353 12 10½	353 12 10½
	4 March	2,310	5,228	4,469	9,693	6,779	14,821	..	352 15 10½	352 15 10½
	11 March	2,099	4,865	3,735	7,851	5,834	12,716	..	328 5 5	328 5 5
	18 March	2,174	4,690	3,616	6,897	5,790	11,567	..	269 4 3½	259 4 3½
	25 March	2,164	5,165	3,457	6,898	5,621	12,063	..	247 14 5½	247 14 5½
	1 April	2,212	5,466	3,055	5,322	5,267	10,788	..	301 3 4½	301 3 4½
	8 April	2,223	5,503	2,850	5,277	5,073	10,788	..	276 8 5	275 8 5
CARRICK-ON-SUEA	5 Feb.	78	209	..	..	78	209	0 3 4	6 11 9½	6 15 1½
	12 Feb.	172	418	..	..	172	418	0 9 9	10 16 0½	11 5 9½
	19 Feb.	216	518	..	..	216	518	0 5 0	12 15 5½	13 0 5½
	26 Feb.	280	656	..	..	280	656	0 12 9	15 16 11	16 9 8
	4 March	294	717	..	..	294	717	0 9 9	16 16 3½	17 6 0½
	11 March	307	757	..	..	307	757	0 10 6	16 15 7½	17 6 1½
	18 March	334	807	..	..	334	807	0 5 9	17 8 6½	17 14 3½
	25 March	344	829	..	..	344	829	0 9 0	18 6 11½	18 15 11½
	1 April	341	799	..	..	341	799	0 7 1	17 16 3½	18 3 4½
	8 April	350	825	..	..	350	825	0 7 1	18 10 9½	18 17 10½
CASHEL . . .	5 Feb.	1,999	4,686	1,762	4,123	3,761	8,809	145 18 9	104 3 2½	250 1 11½
	12 Feb.	2,039	3,854	2,419	5,989	4,458	9,843	149 5 3	176 3 10½	325 9 1½
	19 Feb.	2,101	5,250	2,885	6,997	4,986	12,247	24 13 0	295 3 8½	319 16 8½
	26 Feb.	1,883	3,849	3,079	6,909	4,962	10,758	20 0 0	341 6 8½	361 6 8½
	4 March	1,866	3,993	3,256	7,233	5,122	11,226	22 7 6	362 3 4½	384 10 10½
	11 March	2,067	4,372	3,710	8,110	5,777	12,491	23 11 0	326 12 6½	350 3 6½
	18 March	2,228	4,683	4,062	9,131	6,310	13,814	22 7 6	316 4 11½	338 12 5½
	25 March	2,279	4,828	4,091	9,163	6,370	13,991	20 18 0	303 16 1½	324 14 1½
	1 April	2,133	4,331	2,745	6,415	4,878	10,746	19 12 0	272 6 6	291 18 6
	8 April	2,189	4,585	2,654	6,376	4,843	10,961	19 12 6	265 6 0	284 17 6

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
CASTLEBAR . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	..	..	..	..	..	17,727	..	..	..	Numbers for two Districts not given. Cost not stated.
	11 March	1,212	3,414	4,107	9,527	5,319	12,941	..	..	..
	18 March	802	1,984	3,535	8,661	4,337	10,645	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	25 March	1,799	3,825	4,211	12,088	5,610	15,913	..	..	..
	1 April	2,235	6,365	3,464	9,661	5,699	16,026	..	..	..
	8 April	2,336	6,583	3,196	9,492	5,532	16,076	..	..	..
CASTLEBLAYNEY.	5 Feb.	1,155	2,233	..	..	1,155	2,236	1 3 3	78 15 8	79 18 11	No out-relief.
	12 Feb.	1,154	2,242	..	..	1,154	2,242	1 3 3	77 15 5½	78 18 8½
	19 Feb.	1,131	2,298	..	..	1,131	2,298	1 8 2	68 13 1½	70 1 3½
	26 Feb.	1,144	2,327	..	..	1,144	2,327	1 10 3	72 8 9½	73 19 6½
	4 March	1,138	2,337	..	..	1,138	2,337	0 16 3	64 1 3½	64 17 6½
	11 March	1,156	2,371	..	..	1,156	2,371	0 19 4	70 3 6½	71 2 10½
	18 March	1,140	2,354	..	..	1,140	2,354	0 19 1	65 6 1	66 5 2
	25 March	1,146	2,331	..	..	1,146	2,331	1 12 3	68 2 7	69 14 10
	1 April	1,107	2,301	..	..	1,107	2,301	1 1 8	59 5 1½	60 6 9½
	8 April	1,105	2,318	..	..	1,105	2,318	0 15 8	53 0 9½	53 16 5½
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
CASTLEBROG . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
CASTLEREA . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	18 March	1,341	2,946	..	..	1,341	2,946	192 16 9	..	192 16 9
	25 March	2,035	4,037	..	..	2,035	4,037	158 16 9	..	158 16 9
CATAN . . .	1 April	2,620	5,774	..	..	2,620	5,774	171 10 4	3 14 9	175 5 1	No out-relief.
	8 April	3,303	6,754	..	..	3,303	6,754	139 1 8	75 14 1	214 15 9
	5 Feb.	2,383	5,559	..	..	2,383	5,559	2 12 11	227 9 2	230 2 1
	12 Feb.	2,940	7,181	..	..	2,940	7,181	1 1 9	205 4 9	206 6 6
	19 Feb.	3,175	7,338	162	409	3,337	7,747	0 18 4	229 6 8	230 5 0
	26 Feb.	3,404	8,079	208	510	3,612	8,589	1 3 6	244 3 4½	245 6 10½
	4 March	3,441	8,164	241	581	3,682	8,745	1 3 9	255 19 2½	257 2 11½
	11 March	3,484	8,533	166	372	3,650	8,905	0 17 9	253 17 2½	254 14 11½
CELEBRIDGE . .	18 March	3,481	8,538	179	410	3,660	8,948	0 19 10	246 4 2	247 4 0	No out-relief.
	25 March	3,495	8,539	264	444	3,759	9,083	1 0 10	244 8 1½	247 8 11½
	1 April	3,020	6,908	167	417	3,187	7,325	0 19 1	171 12 11½	172 12 0½
	8 April	3,018	6,807	264	507	3,282	7,314	0 15 9	161 13 10	162 9 7
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
CLIFDEN . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given
CLOGHEEN . .	5 Feb.	1,593	4,815	..	..	1,593	4,815	13 3 5	88 16 0½	101 19 5½	No out-relief.
	12 Feb.	1,655	5,052	..	..	1,655	5,052	14 4 8	91 13 6½	105 18 2½
	19 Feb.	1,720	5,324	..	..	1,720	5,324	15 7 1½	92 7 11	107 15 0½
	26 Feb.	1,789	5,592	..	..	1,789	5,592	16 13 11½	94 13 2½	111 7 2
	4 March	1,867	5,891	..	..	1,867	5,891	17 14 2½	99 17 4	117 11 6½
	11 March	1,906	6,082	..	..	1,906	6,082	15 17 5	101 1 8½	116 19 1½
	18 March	1,980	6,320	..	..	1,980	6,320	16 0 11	108 10 10½	124 11 9½
	25 March	2,073	6,499	8	10	2,076	6,509	0 2 6	122 15 7	122 18 1
	1 April	2,142	6,883	19	47	2,161	6,930	0 2 6	127 15 11½	127 18 5½
	8 April	2,276	7,300	34	94	2,310	7,394	0 3 6	132 9 11½	132 13 5½
CLOGHER . . .	5 Feb.	853	1,599	..	..	853	1,599	..	36 1 3½	36 1 3½	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	880	1,715	..	..	880	1,715	..	41 7 9½	41 7 9½
	19 Feb.	915	1,695	..	..	915	1,695	..	42 16 2½	42 16 2½
	26 Feb.	959	1,852	..	..	959	1,852	..	46 2 8½	46 2 8½
	4 March	966	1,877	..	..	966	1,877	..	45 10 5½	45 10 5½
	11 March	961	1,860	..	..	961	1,860	..	44 12 1	44 12 1
	18 March	1,007	1,951	..	..	1,007	1,951	..	43 13 9	43 13 9
	25 March	958	1,851	..	..	958	1,851	..	43 10 7	43 10 7
	1 April	948	1,798	..	..	948	1,798	..	43 0 2½	43 0 2½
	8 April	936	1,761	..	..	936	1,761	..	42 6 2½	42 6 2½
CLONES . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	1,166	2,200	..	..	1,166	2,200	..	46 10 5½	46 10 5½
	26 Feb.	1,063	2,209	..	..	1,063	2,209	..	32 5 11	32 5 11
	4 March	1,057	2,180	..	..	1,057	2,180	..	45 14 7½	45 14 7½
	11 March	1,039	2,065	..	..	1,039	2,065	0 2 0	48 2 0½	48 4 0½
	18 March	1,036	2,123	..	..	1,036	2,123	..	45 1 1½	45 1 1½
	25 March	1,027	2,131	..	..	1,027	2,131	..	46 11 7	46 11 7
	1 April	1,017	2,092	..	..	1,017	2,092	..	43 3 11	43 3 11
	8 April	1,027	2,127	..	..	1,027	2,127	..	43 14 4½	43 14 4½
CLONMEL . . .	5 Feb.	270	506	33	68	303	574	12 19 2½	1 11 2½	14 10 5	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	323	618	144	297	467	915	16 14 9½	6 17 2½	23 12 2½
	19 Feb.	437	883	362	810	799	1,693	19 11 11	22 5 11	41 16 11
	26 Feb.	491	983	492	1,088	983	2,071	21 1 8	33 16 6½	54 18 2½
	4 March	594	1,187	623	1,400	1,217	2,587	23 10 2	44 18 5½	68 8 7½

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
CLONMEL . . .	11 March	700	1,407	857	1,880	1,557	3,287	25 11 8½	59 1 10½	84 13 6½
	18 March	780	1,570	1,054	2,347	1,834	3,917	26 18 7	72 19 11	99 18 8
	25 March	888	1,805	1,195	2,751	2,083	4,556	27 1 6	87 11 10½	114 13 4½
	1 April	918	1,902	938	2,144	1,856	4,046	26 18 8	77 19 4½	104 18 0½
	8 April	948	1,972	835	1,658	1,783	3,630	27 3 1½	68 19 8	96 2 9½
COLERAINE . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
COOKSTOWN . . .	5 Feb.	251	562	..	..	251	562	..	10 4 6	10 4 6
	12 Feb.	268	619	..	..	268	619	..	11 6 1½	11 6 1½
	19 Feb.	293	714	..	..	293	714	..	12 12 5½	12 12 5½
	26 Feb.	308	718	..	..	308	718	..	13 5 11½	13 5 11½
	4 March	326	701	..	..	326	761	..	14 2 6½	14 2 6½
	11 March	329	783	..	..	329	783	..	14 10 2½	14 10 2½
	18 March	354	823	..	..	354	823	..	15 7 1½	15 7 1½
	25 March	359	834	..	..	359	834	..	15 18 4½	15 18 4½
	1 April	348	813	..	..	348	813	..	15 8 9½	15 8 9½
	8 April	346	805	..	..	346	805	..	15 8 2½	15 8 2½
COOTEHILL . . .	5 Feb.	1,737	3,662	..	..	1,737	3,662	91 9 0	..	91 9 0
	12 Feb.	1,667	3,438	..	..	1,667	3,438	90 1 0	..	90 1 0
	19 Feb.	1,728	3,676	..	..	1,728	3,676	95 8 7	..	95 8 7
	26 Feb.	1,030	2,234	4	17	1,034	2,251	48 6 4	..	48 6 4
	4 March	1,783	3,766	45	96	1,828	3,862	96 17 2	..	96 17 2
	11 March	1,811	3,755	150	362	1,961	4,117	0 15 6	96 15 10	97 11 4
	18 March	1,873	3,791	192	450	2,065	4,241	1 10 0	97 19 9	99 9 9
	25 March	1,873	3,791	192	450	2,065	4,241	1 10 0	97 19 9	99 9 9
	1 April	2,037	4,363	279	659	2,316	5,022	0 4 4	116 6 3	116 10 7
	8 April	2,066	4,475	287	757	2,353	5,232	0 1 0	118 8 6	118 9 6
CORK	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
DONEGAL . . .	5 Feb.	6	6	..	..	6	6	0 4 6	0 4 6	0 9 0
	12 Feb.	46	86	..	..	46	86	0 18 8	0 19 11	1 18 7
	19 Feb.	100	184	..	..	100	184	1 6 5	1 6 8½	3 3 1½
	26 Feb.	168	304	..	..	168	304	1 14 3	4 12 4½	6 6 7½
	4 March	313	595	..	..	313	595	1 3 7½	8 13 7½	9 17 3
	11 March	432	827	..	..	432	827	1 14 9	14 9 3	16 4 0
	18 March	506	963	..	..	506	963	1 13 3½	18 14 10½	20 8 2
	25 March	540	1,036	..	..	540	1,036	1 11 6	21 5 6½	22 17 0½
	1 April	576	1,110	..	..	576	1,110	1 8 8	22 13 10	24 2 6
	8 April	591	1,132	..	..	591	1,132	1 8 11	23 0 4½	24 9 3½
DOWNPATRICK . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.
DROGHEDA . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	1,253	3,001	129	533	1,382	3,539	3 4 8½	70 14 10	73 19 6½
	26 Feb.	1,294	3,137	142	568	1,436	3,705	3 5 1½	73 5 5½	76 10 7
	4 March	1,296	3,187	140	573	1,436	3,710	2 10 11½	76 11 2½	79 2 1½
	11 March	1,293	3,131	136	559	1,429	3,690	2 13 11	73 16 4½	76 10 3½
	18 March	1,287	3,137	131	525	1,418	3,662	3 13 10½	67 7 1	73 0 11½
	25 March	1,293	3,144	130	521	1,423	3,665	1 19 11½	65 14 5	67 14 4½
	1 April	1,236	2,956	145	565	1,381	3,521	2 6 10½	69 0 4½	71 7 3½
	8 April	1,259	2,972	147	410	1,406	3,382	1 10 11½	65 3 2	66 14 1½
DUBLIN, NORTH	5 Feb.	1,791	3,600	..	..	1,791	3,600	12 15 10	101 17 4½	114 13 2½
	12 Feb.	1,803	3,622	..	..	1,803	3,622	12 12 0	99 17 9	112 9 9
	19 Feb.	1,843	3,586	..	..	1,843	3,586	12 12 9	98 4 11½	110 17 8½
	26 Feb.	1,823	3,526	..	..	1,823	3,526	12 12 9	100 2 8	112 15 5
	4 March	1,792	3,525	..	..	1,792	3,525	12 9 8	102 1 6½	114 11 3½
	11 March	1,815	3,559	..	..	1,815	3,559	12 8 4	99 16 7	112 4 11
	18 March	1,778	3,493	..	..	1,778	3,493	12 2 4	98 13 9½	110 16 1½
	25 March	1,805	3,533	..	..	1,805	3,533	11 14 4½	98 14 2½	110 8 7
	1 April	1,819	3,370	..	..	1,819	3,370	11 7 8	93 4 2½	104 11 10½
	8 April	1,745	3,294	..	..	1,745	3,294	11 2 9	93 0 4	104 3 1
DUBLIN, SOUTH .	5 Feb.	2,900	5,595	..	..	2,900	5,595	13 11 7	201 7 9½	214 19 4½
	12 Feb.	2,944	5,622	..	..	2,944	5,622	13 11 10	206 9 5½	220 1 3½
	19 Feb.	2,999	5,785	..	..	2,999	5,785	13 4 8	211 9 7½	224 14 8½
	26 Feb.	3,080	5,936	..	..	3,080	5,936	13 3 2	217 2 9½	230 5 11½
	4 March	3,128	5,898	..	..	3,128	5,898	13 0 8	218 11 11½	231 12 7½
	11 March	3,070	5,882	..	..	3,070	5,882	13 5 2	196 18 10½	210 4 0½
	18 March	3,007	5,745	..	..	3,007	5,745	13 0 10	196 0 11½	209 1 9½
	25 March	3,111	5,951	..	..	3,111	5,951	13 3 4	199 1 2½	212 4 6½
	1 April	2,965	5,532	..	..	2,965	5,532	13 3 1	187 6 4½	200 9 5½
	8 April	3,055	5,819	..	..	3,055	5,819	13 0 4	195 15 9	208 16 1
DUNDALK . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	810	1,799	..	..	810	1,799	..	..	..
	4 March	896	2,089	..	..	896	2,089	..	..	..
	11 March	988	2,316	..	..	988	2,316	..	..	..
	18 March	1,021	2,367	..	..	1,021	2,367	..	..	..
	25 March	..	..	1,061	2,531	1,061	2,531	..	..	..
	1 April	1,072	2,334	..	..	1,072	2,334	..	..	..
	8 April	1,057	2,470	..	..	1,057	2,470	65 11 3½	..	65 11 3½
DUNFANAGHY . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-relief.

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
DUNGANNON .	5 Feb.	461	1,005	..	..	461	1,005	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
	12 Feb.	550	1,145	..	..	550	1,145	0 10 0	20 4 0½	20 14 0½
	19 Feb.	592	1,039	..	..	592	1,032	1 3 4	24 7 3	25 10 7
	26 Feb.	621	1,293	..	..	621	1,293	0 17 6	25 0 4	25 17 10
	4 March	673	1,409	..	..	673	1,409	0 17 4	27 5 9½	28 3 1½
	11 March	722	1,509	..	..	722	1,509	0 17 6	27 11 6½	28 9 0½
	18 March	749	1,598	..	..	749	1,598	1 2 6	30 9 0½	31 11 6½
	25 March	807	1,735	..	..	807	1,735	0 18 0	30 1 4½	31 19 4½
	1 April	811	1,716	..	..	811	1,716	1 7 8	32 11 4	33 19 0
	8 April	798	1,673	..	..	798	1,673	0 17 6	31 13 8½	32 11 2½
DUNGARVAN .	5 Feb.	1,395	2,713	216	557	1,611	3,270	0 8 4	30 5 10½	30 14 2½
	12 Feb.	1,596	3,706	..	..	1,596	3,706	24 9 1½	62 19 11½	87 9 1½
	19 Feb.	1,689	3,899	..	..	1,689	3,899	25 2 7½	64 7 0	89 9 7½
	26 Feb.	1,728	4,092	..	..	1,728	4,092	41 3 1	50 13 0½	91 16 1½
	4 March	1,689	4,063	..	..	1,689	4,063	60 19 10½	84 9 6½	95 9 4½
	11 March	1,519	3,549	..	..	1,519	3,549	70 0 6½	23 16 5½	93 17 0
	18 March	1,701	4,002	..	..	1,701	4,002	71 6 3	23 2 3½	94 8 6½
	25 March	1,873	4,199	..	..	1,873	4,199	70 4 10½	20 3 0½	90 7 11
	1 April	1,951	3,888	8	24	1,959	3,862	71 4 6	20 4 11	91 9 5
	8 April	2,106	4,098	9	34	2,115	4,132	69 6 4½	21 6 0	90 12 4½
DUNMANWAY .	5 Feb.	211	592	14	25	225	617	70 13 0	22 13 3	93 6 3
	12 Feb.	640	1,683	85	141	725	1,824	..	10 15 9½	10 15 9½
	19 Feb.	727	1,898	158	230	885	2,128	..	33 11 8½	33 11 8½
	26 Feb.	790	2,038	209	365	999	2,404	..	39 10 7½	39 10 7½
	4 March	859	2,267	224	388	1,083	2,655	..	45 5 4½	45 5 4½
	11 March	997	2,610	262	459	1,259	3,069	..	49 0 0½	49 0 0½
	18 March	992	2,626	277	494	1,269	3,120	..	55 16 4½	55 16 4½
	25 March	973	2,576	308	555	1,281	3,131	..	57 4 1½	57 4 1½
	1 April	1,002	2,608	344	575	1,346	3,183	..	59 0 5	59 0 5
	8 April	1,060	2,736	338	590	1,398	3,326	..	84 17 9½	84 17 9½
DUNSHAUGHLIN .	5 Feb.	448	947	929	2,150	1,377	3,097	..	79 16 0½	79 16 0½
	12 Feb.	449	912	952	2,086	1,401	2,998	..	113 4 5½	113 4 5½
	19 Feb.	431	915	881	1,910	1,312	2,825	..	99 19 6½	99 19 6½
	26 Feb.	418	808	797	1,661	1,215	2,469	..	88 5 3½	88 5 3½
	4 March	422	1,024	779	1,737	1,201	2,761	..	79 13 8½	79 13 8½
	11 March	432	1,024	794	1,748	1,226	2,772	..	83 2 11	83 2 11
	18 March	434	979	798	1,775	1,232	2,754	..	81 12 3	81 12 3
	25 March	422	949	768	1,652	1,190	2,601	..	83 3 7½	83 3 7½
	1 April	503	891	515	1,048	1,018	1,939	..	77 16 6½	77 16 6½
	8 April	392	816	239	581	631	1,347	..	67 10 5	67 10 5
EDENDERRY .	5 Feb.	349	802	..	..	349	802	..	43 0 6	44 5 8
	12 Feb.	293	675	..	..	293	675	..	1 5 2	1 6 0
	19 Feb.	312	741	..	..	312	741	..	23 0 0	24 6 0
	26 Feb.	310	728	..	..	310	728	..	25 6 10	26 6 10
	4 March	385	865	..	..	385	865	..	23 14 7	25 2 9
	11 March	373	833	..	..	373	833	..	25 14 2	25 18 2
	18 March	366	796	..	..	366	796	..	25 11 11	25 11 11
	25 March	374	827	..	..	374	827	..	25 18 8	25 18 8
	1 April	390	835	..	..	390	835	..	24 9 1	24 9 1
	8 April	402	884	..	..	402	884	..	24 14 6	27 4 9
ENNIS . . .	5 Feb.	4,438	10,572	3,932	10,051	8,355	20,623	..	23 13 1	24 13 5
	12 Feb.	4,452	10,704	4,243	10,989	8,695	21,693	..	43 0 6	44 5 8
	19 Feb.	4,230	10,217	4,064	9,999	8,294	20,216	..	23 0 0	24 6 0
	26 Feb.	4,246	10,263	3,931	9,779	8,177	20,042	..	25 6 10	26 6 10
	4 March	4,157	10,148	3,855	9,630	8,012	19,778	..	23 14 7	25 2 9
	11 March	4,131	9,864	3,594	9,266	7,725	19,130	..	25 14 2	25 18 2
	18 March	4,137	10,062	3,748	10,159	7,885	20,221	..	25 11 11	25 11 11
	25 March	4,142	10,115	3,541	9,261	7,693	19,376	..	25 18 8	25 18 8
	1 April	1,915	4,926	1,145	3,310	3,060	8,236	..	24 9 1	24 9 1
	8 April	4,089	9,603	2,981	8,582	7,070	18,185	..	24 14 6	27 4 9
ENNISCORTHY .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	23 13 1	24 13 5
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	43 0 6	44 5 8
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	23 0 0	24 6 0
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	25 6 10	26 6 10
	4 March	1,709	4,328	872	2,895	2,581	7,223	..	23 14 7	25 2 9
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	25 14 2	25 18 2
	18 March	2,643	7,477	..	..	2,643	7,477	..	25 11 11	25 11 11
	25 March	1,732	4,433	856	2,906	2,588	7,339	..	25 18 8	25 18 8
	1 April	1,687	4,626	862	2,722	2,549	7,348	..	24 9 1	24 9 1
	8 April	1,688	4,300	833	2,582	2,521	6,882	..	24 14 6	27 4 9
ENNISKILLEN .	5 Feb.	1,624	3,074	..	..	1,624	3,074	..	1 0 4	1 0 4
	12 Feb.	1,650	3,165	..	..	1,650	3,165	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	1,717	3,461	..	..	1,717	3,461	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	1,821	3,587	..	..	1,821	3,587	..	..	..
	4 March	1,909	3,727	69	174	1,978	3,901	..	..	..
	11 March	1,630	3,276	97	273	1,727	3,549	..	..	..
	18 March	1,900	3,718	160	393	2,060	4,111	..	..	..
	25 March	1,947	3,800	170	408	2,117	4,208	..	..	..
	1 April	1,979	3,922	177	419	2,156	4,341	..	..	..
	8 April	1,973	3,915	199	457	2,172	4,372	..	..	..

} Cost not stated.

} Particulars not given.

} Particulars not given

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
ENNISTYMON . . .	5 Feb.	5,396	13,235	..	..	5,396	13,235	287 3 10	..	287 3 10	Particulars not given
	12 Feb.	5,562	13,324	..	..	5,562	13,324	299 16 0	..	299 16 0
	19 Feb.	5,224	12,688	367	1,091	5,591	13,779	305 16 10	..	305 16 10
	26 Feb.	1,203	2,933	367	1,090	1,570	4,023	11 2 11	75 13 10	86 16 9
	4 March	2,236	4,554	2,979	7,954	5,215	12,508	0 19 0	151 17 1½	152 16 1½
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	18 March	2,197	3,640	2,981	6,466	5,178	10,106	..	286 19 7½	286 19 7½
	25 March	1,937	4,112	3,014	8,033	4,951	12,145	..	316 0 2½	316 0 2½
	1 April	2,241	4,731	3,306	8,750	5,547	13,431	0 19 6	315 0 8½	316 0 2½
	8 April	1,777	3,996	3,176	8,266	4,953	12,262	..	..	..
FERHOY . . .	5 Feb.	4,792	13,157	296	560	5,088	13,717	8 1 3	287 13 7	295 14 10	Cost not given.
	12 Feb.	5,255	14,424	1,256	3,469	6,511	17,893	9 14 4½	340 18 9½	350 13 2½
	19 Feb.	5,387	14,835	1,283	3,554	6,670	18,389	7 19 3½	349 3 4½	357 2 7½
	26 Feb.	5,235	14,452	983	2,107	6,218	16,559	10 6 8	369 11 0½	379 17 8½
	4 March	5,227	14,532	991	2,081	6,218	16,613	9 1 9½	371 14 3	380 14 0½
	11 March	5,194	14,444	748	1,783	5,942	16,227	9 19 5	358 16 7½	368 16 0½
	18 March	4,964	13,458	637	1,614	5,601	15,072	5 16 9	338 5 0½	344 1 9½
	25 March	4,701	12,521	408	970	5,109	13,491	7 5 11½	305 4 10½	312 10 9½
	1 April	4,585	12,045	192	350	4,777	12,395	7 13 6½	271 15 10	279 9 4½
	8 April	4,613	12,024	261	495	4,874	12,519	8 8 7	282 14 8½	291 3 3½
GALWAY . . .	5 Feb.	751	1,843	1,006	2,244	1,757	4,087	..	124 12 8½	124 12 8½
	12 Feb.	1,148	2,933	2,486	5,412	3,634	8,395	0 19 3	241 8 10½	242 8 1½
	19 Feb.	1,468	3,768	3,343	7,190	4,811	10,958	0 6 6	387 6 2½	387 12 8½
	26 Feb.	1,778	4,555	4,221	9,332	5,999	13,887	1 8 6	456 4 6½	457 13 0½
	4 March	2,036	5,169	4,703	10,927	6,739	16,696	..	578 19 5½	578 19 5½
	11 March	2,291	5,893	5,239	12,420	7,530	18,313	2 3 0	661 16 8	663 19 8
	18 March	2,616	6,686	6,008	14,082	8,624	20,768	2 2 6	741 13 3	743 15 9
	25 March	2,902	7,369	6,564	15,532	9,466	22,901	1 2 4	856 8 6	857 10 10
	1 April	3,187	7,960	6,982	16,497	10,169	24,457	3 10 6	817 16 2½	821 6 8½
	8 April	3,293	8,136	7,204	16,542	10,497	24,678	1 1 4	752 5 0	753 6 4
GLENTIES . . .	5 Feb.	1,226	2,560	301	520	1,527	3,080	..	94 13 6	94 13 6
	12 Feb.	1,236	2,592	316	561	1,552	3,153	..	97 0 4½	97 0 4½
	19 Feb.	1,306	2,955	317	627	1,623	3,582	..	101 0 9	101 0 9
	26 Feb.	1,375	3,135	358	769	1,733	3,904	..	109 10 0½	109 10 0½
	4 March	1,458	3,416	405	921	1,863	4,337	..	116 9 9	116 9 9
	11 March	1,542	3,708	427	1,003	1,969	4,711	..	123 10 10½	123 10 10½
	18 March	1,518	3,607	404	971	1,922	4,578	..	119 17 5½	119 17 5½
	25 March	1,350	3,243	341	844	1,691	4,087	..	121 9 3	121 9 3
	1 April	1,661	3,663	425	1,030	2,086	4,693	..	115 9 8½	115 9 8½
	8 April	1,694	3,695	477	1,075	2,171	4,770	..	118 5 9	118 5 9
GOREY . . .	5 Feb.	777	1,630	45	102	823	1,732	52 14 10	0 16 8½	53 11 6½
	12 Feb.	819	1,758	51	124	870	1,892	56 19 10	0 19 9½	57 19 3½
	19 Feb.	826	1,728	53	122	881	1,850	57 13 10	1 5 10½	58 19 8½
	26 Feb.	891	1,838	56	137	947	1,975	61 3 7	1 10 1	62 13 8
	4 March	930	1,915	60	155	990	2,073	63 18 0	1 10 1	65 8 1
	11 March	935	1,882	68	159	1,003	2,041	64 14 2½	1 12 9	66 6 11½
	18 March	948	2,034	64	133	1,012	2,167	65 0 5	1 15 8½	66 16 1½
	25 March	941	1,927	62	124	1,003	2,051	65 19 11	1 17 7½	67 17 6½
	1 April	927	2,061	50	91	977	2,152	65 9 9	1 16 10½	67 6 7½
	8 April	981	2,098	49	98	1,030	2,196	65 8 3	2 13 9	68 2 0
GORT . . .	5 Feb.	409	1,067	1,292	3,026	1,701	4,093	..	132 4 10	132 4 10
	12 Feb.	584	1,452	2,002	4,397	2,586	5,849	..	193 13 5½	193 13 5½
	19 Feb.	767	1,831	2,718	5,931	3,485	7,812	..	246 18 11½	246 18 11½
	26 Feb.	863	2,082	3,069	6,593	3,952	8,675	..	278 12 9	278 12 9
	4 March	961	2,232	3,404	7,165	4,365	9,397	2 6 0	300 3 3½	302 9 3½
	11 March	1,002	2,344	3,424	7,429	4,426	9,773	4 3 5	307 6 6½	311 9 11½
	18 March	1,054	2,319	3,526	7,363	4,580	9,692	6 3 6½	318 1 10	324 5 4½
	25 March	1,137	2,399	3,869	7,692	5,006	10,091	7 7 1½	328 3 3	335 10 4½
	1 April	991	2,431	4,284	8,013	5,275	10,454	9 17 8½	334 4 1½	344 1 9½
	8 April	1,037	2,599	4,448	7,970	5,485	10,569	11 7 0	338 1 1½	349 8 1½
GORTIN . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief.
GRANARD . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
GRANARD . . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	1,572	3,172	1,893	5,211	3,465	8,383	0 1 0	229 12 10½	229 12 10½
	11 March	1,731	4,158	2,020	5,849	3,751	10,007	..	273 3 3	273 3 3
	18 March	1,593	25	1,847	4,590	3,440	84	..	..	..
	25 March	1,596	3,576	937	3,186	2,533	6,762	..	182 9 2	182 9 2
	1 April	1,810	4,055	590	1,682	2,400	5,737	0 10 0	147 2 8½	147 2 8½
	8 April	2,006	4,449	633	1,766	2,639	6,215	0 13 6	152 12 8	153 6 2
INTSLOWEN . . .	5 Feb.	44	102	..	..	44	102	3 4 6	..	3 4 6	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	51	121	..	..	55	121	3 15 4	..	3 15 4
	19 Feb.	102	198	..	..	102	198	6 2 9	..	6 2 9
	26 Feb.	114	213	..	..	114	213	6 7 2	..	6 7 2
	4 March	139	287	..	..	139	287	7 15 2½	..	7 15 2½
	11 March	173	347	..	..	173	347	9 10 5	..	9 10 5
	18 March	207	413	..	..	207	413	11 7 7	..	11 7 7
	25 March	243	434	..	..	243	434	12 4 2½	..	12 4 2½
	1 April	239	464	..	..	239	464	12 11 1	..	12 11 1
	8 April	257	446	..	..	257	446	10 10 1	..	10 10 1

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
KANTURK . . .	5 Feb.	6,348	16,279	248	1,046	6,596	17,325	..	452 4 9	432 4 9
	12 Feb.	6,241	15,927	389	1,421	6,630	17,348	..	430 13 0½	430 13 0½
	19 Feb.	6,200	15,909	409	1,550	6,609	17,459	..	415 5 3½	415 5 3½
	26 Feb.	6,609	16,457	693	2,687	7,302	19,144	..	446 13 11½	446 13 11½
	4 March	6,163	16,070	721	2,733	6,884	18,803	..	425 19 5	425 19 5
	11 March	6,051	15,763	753	2,831	6,804	18,594	..	404 19 8½	404 19 8½
	18 March	5,237	13,347	677	2,492	5,914	15,839	..	337 16 8½	337 16 8½
	25 March	5,517	14,369	769	2,777	6,286	17,146	..	356 1 0½	356 1 0½
	1 April	4,846	12,179	1,048	3,436	5,894	15,615	..	317 18 3½	317 18 3½
KELLS	8 April	4,478	11,627	1,298	3,854	5,776	15,481	..	282 4 1	282 4 1
	5 Feb.	905	2,109	840	2,484	1,745	4,593	1 18 5½	121 3 9½	123 2 2½
	12 Feb.	877	2,065	702	1,998	1,579	4,063	2 6 1	113 9 2½	115 15 3½
	19 Feb.	931	2,082	701	1,804	1,632	3,886	1 13 2	117 16 11½	119 10 1½
	26 Feb.	905	2,058	604	1,598	1,509	3,654	1 1 1½	114 8 6	115 19 7½
	4 March	840	1,908	575	1,590	1,415	3,498	1 7 7½	119 5 1	120 12 8½
	11 March	821	1,820	632	1,700	1,453	3,520	0 13 8½	125 18 1½	126 11 10
	18 March	809	1,779	511	1,436	1,320	3,215	0 1 3	81 19 9½	82 1 0½
	25 March	791	1,751	6	8	797	1,759	0 3 8	61 18 2½	62 1 10½
KENMARE . . .	1 April	740	1,580	7	9	747	1,589	0 2 8	54 19 3½	55 1 11½
	8 April	764	1,600	8	14	772	1,614	0 10 6	54 1 11½	54 12 5½
	5 Feb.	1,872	5,453	434	640	2,306	6,093	0 19 2	177 18 7½	178 17 9½
	12 Feb.	1,903	5,453	436	640	2,339	6,093	1 3 5	200 15 1½	201 18 6½
	19 Feb.	3,052	4,923	426	677	3,478	5,605	2 18 4	179 7 0½	182 5 4½
	26 Feb.	3,020	4,835	368	597	3,388	5,432	2 15 7	166 14 4½	169 9 11½
	4 March	2,530	4,512	392	638	2,922	5,150	23 16 8½	129 7 11	153 4 7½
	11 March	2,464	4,531	351	573	2,815	5,104	7 13 1½	147 12 1½	155 5 2½
	18 March	2,477	4,564	355	562	2,832	5,126	3 11 0	142 17 6	146 8 6
KILKEEL . . .	25 March	2,565	4,670	396	611	2,961	5,281	3 12 6	151 18 9	155 11 3
	1 April	2,589	4,631	500	721	3,089	5,352	1 0 2	165 5 10	166 6 0
	8 April	3,227	3,989	407	521	3,634	4,510	6 11 10	148 4 3	154 16 1
	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	15	46	..	..	15	46	..	0 7 10½	0 7 10½
	26 Feb.	22	69	..	..	22	69	..	0 19 6½	0 19 6½
	4 March	31	81	..	..	31	81	..	1 8 2½	1 8 2½
	11 March	52	114	..	..	52	114	..	2 3 9	2 3 9
	18 March	87	178	..	..	87	178	0 4 0	3 8 7½	3 12 7½
	25 March	87	178	..	..	87	178	0 4 0	3 8 7½	3 12 7½
KILKENNY . . .	1 April	101	191	..	..	101	191	0 4 0	3 17 4½	4 1 4½
	8 April	103	197	..	..	103	197	0 5 0	3 17 1½	4 2 1½
	5 Feb.	3,802	10,241	301	1,023	4,103	11,264	289 9 1½	2 7 6	291 16 7½
	12 Feb.	4,091	11,085	375	1,192	4,466	12,277	306 15 4½	2 1 6	308 16 10½
	19 Feb.	4,290	11,501	411	1,335	4,701	12,836	314 5 2½	2 4 2	316 9 4½
	26 Feb.	4,194	11,157	356	1,087	4,550	12,264	306 4 1	2 2 10	308 6 11
	4 March	3,986	10,565	305	883	4,291	11,448	268 4 8	2 3 4	270 8 0
	11 March	3,780	10,068	275	748	4,055	10,816	278 8 9	2 4 2	280 12 11
	18 March	3,643	8,898	267	713	3,910	9,611	256 15 6	2 5 4	259 0 11
KILLARNEY . .	25 March	3,478	8,388	278	751	3,754	9,139	239 4 7½	2 4 2	241 8 9½
	1 April	3,327	7,666	141	245	3,468	7,911	218 3 1	1 15 8	219 18 9
	8 April	2,985	6,333	17	31	3,002	6,364	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	5 Feb.	4,014	11,707	225	591	4,239	12,298	..	308 8 9½	308 8 9½
	12 Feb.	4,321	12,516	211	454	4,532	12,970	..	350 7 10½	350 7 10½
	19 Feb.	4,368	12,952	266	648	4,634	13,600	..	376 12 5	376 12 5
	26 Feb.	4,494	13,402	299	758	4,793	14,160	..	392 14 10½	392 14 10½
	4 March	4,526	13,610	316	827	4,842	14,437	..	410 4 1	410 4 1
	11 March	4,346	13,426	347	874	4,693	14,300	..	355 11 8½	355 11 8½
KILMALLOCK . .	18 March	4,541	13,590	305	827	4,846	14,417	..	388 8 7½	388 8 7½
	25 March	4,244	12,446	358	968	4,602	13,414	..	342 2 10½	342 2 10½
	1 April	4,163	11,987	541	1,780	4,704	13,767	..	352 8 8½	352 8 8½
	8 April	4,279	12,229	485	1,582	4,764	13,811	..	363 8 0	363 8 0
	5 Feb.	5,757	15,149	1,012	2,939	6,769	18,088	437 11 2½	85 8 7	522 19 9½
	12 Feb.	5,679	15,041	940	2,716	6,619	17,757	412 12 9	80 1 7	492 14 4
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	7,411	18,304	..	..	480 17 3½
	26 Feb.	4,464	11,827	599	1,697	5,063	13,524	294 3 11½	73 11 0	367 14 11½
	4 March	4,120	10,279	591	1,583	4,711	11,862	224 7 10½	56 2 0	280 9 10½
KILRUSH	11 March	4,764	11,942	630	1,889	5,444	13,831	279 3 4½	70 0 0	349 3 4½
	18 March	4,764	11,942	680	1,889	5,444	13,831	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	25 March	4,764	11,942	680	1,889	5,444	13,831	..	..	..
	1 April	5,637	13,192	1,188	2,799	6,825	15,991	..	..	..
	8 April	5,629	13,491	587	1,579	6,216	15,070	..	328 18 5	328 18 5
	5 Feb.	4,207	13,208	..	..	4,207	13,208	..	348 8 1	348 8 1
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	4,361	13,135	..	..	4,361	13,135	314 3 7½	..	314 3 7½
	26 Feb.	4,368	13,207	..	..	4,368	13,207	..	279 4 10½	279 4 10½
KILSALE	4 March	4,383	13,533	..	..	4,383	13,533	..	285 4 3	285 4 3
	11 March	4,569	13,891	..	..	4,569	13,891	..	299 4 2½	299 4 2½
	18 March	4,508	12,603	..	..	4,508	12,603	..	279 3 11½	279 3 11½
	25 March	4,456	13,427	..	..	4,456	13,427	..	265 1 5½	255 1 5½
	1 April	4,329	13,636	..	..	4,329	13,636	..	249 8 5½	249 8 5½
	8 April	4,594	14,292	..	..	4,594	14,292	..	296 7 11½	296 7 11½
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
LARNE . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
LETTERKENNY .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
LIMERICK . .	5 Feb.	3,483	7,455	..	..	3,483	7,455	267 14 7	..	267 14 7
	12 Feb.	3,518	7,225	..	..	3,518	7,425	267 9 8	..	267 9 8
	19 Feb.	3,659	7,820	..	..	3,659	7,820	278 19 1	0 2 6	279 1 7
	26 Feb.	3,760	8,455	..	..	3,760	8,455	286 9 2	..	286 9 2
	4 March	3,907	8,481	..	..	3,907	8,481	299 2 7	..	299 2 7
	11 March	3,981	8,770	..	..	3,981	8,770	306 9 5	0 3 0	306 12 5
	18 March	4,090	9,015	..	..	4,090	9,015	315 17 5	0 4 6	316 1 11
	25 March	4,073	8,865	..	..	4,073	8,865	308 16 8	..	308 16 8
	1 April	4,092	8,621	..	..	4,092	8,621	316 1 9	..	316 1 9
	8 April	4,007	8,216	..	..	4,007	8,216	307 2 2	..	307 2 2
LISBURN . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
LISMORE . . .	5 Feb.	435	1,274	..	..	435	1,274	28 3 3	..	28 3 3
	12 Feb.	523	1,272	..	..	523	1,272	35 8 11	0 1 6	35 10 5
	19 Feb.	594	1,684	..	..	594	1,684	37 15 10	..	37 15 10
	26 Feb.	669	1,652	..	..	669	1,652	40 11 11	0 6 1	40 18 0
	4 March	683	1,846	..	..	688	1,846	41 9 0	..	41 9 0
	11 March	705	1,865	..	..	705	1,865	41 14 9	..	41 14 9
	18 March	711	1,874	..	..	711	1,874	40 18 2	..	40 18 2
	25 March	689	1,657	..	..	689	1,657	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	1 April	627	1,502	..	..	627	1,502	40 17 5	..	40 17 5
	8 April	675	1,640	..	..	675	1,640	43 12 7	..	43 12 7
LISNASKEA . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
LISTOWEL . .	5 Feb.	2,632	5,723	7,119	16,135	9,745	21,858	0 18 4	667 12 3	668 10 7
	12 Feb.	2,681	5,743	6,844	16,413	9,525	22,156	..	667 4 8½	667 4 8½
	19 Feb.	2,597	5,521	6,306	16,877	8,903	22,398	0 10 8	627 12 10½	628 3 6½
	26 Feb.	2,613	5,558	6,214	16,744	8,827	22,302	1 8 0	609 0 1½	610 8 1½
	4 March	2,808	6,014	5,719	16,017	8,527	22,031	0 4 0	435 17 4	436 1 4
	11 March	2,799	6,000	4,501	13,277	7,300	19,279	0 2 0	484 0 1	484 2 1
	18 March	2,748	6,124	4,126	12,097	6,074	18,221	0 9 0	433 2 8½	433 11 8½
	25 March	2,934	6,265	4,313	12,308	7,252	18,573	0 10 0	478 11 5½	479 1 5½
	1 April	3,015	6,711	2,850	8,266	5,865	14,977	..	281 16 4½	281 16 4½
	8 April	3,178	7,379	2,055	5,868	5,233	13,247	..	327 15 9½	327 15 7½
LONDONDERRY .	5 Feb.	779	1,710	..	..	779	1,710	..	42 11 1	42 11 1
	12 Feb.	799	1,753	..	..	799	1,753	..	44 0 8½	44 0 8½
	19 Feb.	869	1,880	..	..	869	1,880	..	47 15 3	47 15 3
	26 Feb.	1,027	1,966	..	..	1,027	1,966	..	50 16 0	50 16 0
	4 March	974	2,085	..	..	974	2,085	..	52 0 3	52 0 3
	11 March	975	2,069	..	..	975	2,069	..	52 5 4	52 5 4
	18 March	947	1,980	..	..	947	1,980	..	47 13 1	47 13 1
	25 March	947	1,980	..	..	947	1,980	..	47 13 1	47 13 1
	1 April	873	1,875	..	..	873	1,875	..	49 3 5	49 3 5
	8 April	851	1,724	..	..	851	1,724	..	43 11 1	43 11 1
LONGFORD . .	5 Feb.	3,507	8,159	385	989	3,892	9,148	0 2 0	244 19 7	245 1 7
	12 Feb.	3,523	7,038	550	1,308	4,073	8,346	..	248 17 8½	248 17 8½
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	3,308	7,701	1,279	2,993	4,677	10,694	..	309 3 5	309 3 5
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	18 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	25 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	8 April	2,000	5,380	583	924	3,183	6,304	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
LOUGHREA . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	11 March	860	2,044	330	655	1,190	2,699	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	18 March	1,839	4,075	378	893	2,217	4,968	..	..	..
	25 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	8 April	1,812	4,210	266	553	2,078	4,763	24 4 6	128 9 5½	152 13 11½
LOWTHERSTOWN	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	1,121	2,480	35	52	1,156	2,532	16 2 11	49 1 7	65 4 6
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	18 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	25 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	8 April	932	2,463	..	..	982	2,463	0 14 3	67 8 0	68 2 3
LURGAN . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
MACROOM . . .	5 Feb.	769	1,913	..	..	769	1,913	..	67 6 9	67 6 9	Particulars not stated. No out-door relief given.
	12 Feb.	933	2,401	..	..	933	2,401	..	64 1 10	64 1 10
	19 Feb.	1,505	3,382	..	..	1,505	3,382	..	84 13 8½	84 13 8½
	26 Feb.	1,661	3,628	65	227	1,726	3,855	57 5 2	30 13 0½	87 18 2½
	4 March	1,796	3,849	422	951	2,218	4,800	88 15 8	26 4 0	114 19 8
	11 March	2,009	4,308	1,728	3,628	3,737	7,936	98 17 7½	93 1 4½	192 1 0
	18 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	25 March	1,935	4,146	1,525	3,455	3,460	7,601	91 4 0	87 3 4½	178 7 4½
MAGHERAFELT .	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
	8 April	1,811	3,788	1,206	2,778	3,017	6,566	87 7 2	67 12 6½	154 19 8½
	5 Feb.	158	423	21	114	179	542	..	6 16 6½	6 16 6½
	12 Feb.	170	466	26	126	196	592	..	7 9 10½	7 9 10½
	19 Feb.	191	517	29	139	220	656	..	8 5 0	8 5 0
	26 Feb.	203	562	28	131	231	693	..	8 11 4½	8 11 4½
	4 March	209	589	29	136	238	725	..	8 18 2	8 18 2
	11 March	231	560	20	76	251	696	8 14 4	..	8 14 4
MALLOW . . .	18 March	224	591	19	75	243	666	..	9 3 4	9 3 4	No out-door relief given.
	25 March	233	620	22	93	255	713	..	30 13 2	30 13 2
	1 April	1,848	3,875	1,412	3,198	3,260	7,073	89 7 7½	82 1 0½	171 8 8
	8 April	262	692	14	76	276	768	..	11 1 5½	11 1 5½
	5 Feb.	555	1,616	18	43	573	1,659	1 19 4	36 1 5½	38 0 9½
	12 Feb.	585	1,693	19	51	604	1,744	1 8 0	38 2 3½	39 10 3½
	19 Feb.	638	1,554	49	126	687	1,680	0 6 2	38 3 7	39 9 9
	26 Feb.	634	1,571	50	128	684	1,699	0 3 5	38 13 0½	38 16 5½
MANORHAMILTON	4 March	653	1,597	57	144	710	1,741	0 3 1	39 13 2	39 16 3	No out-door relief given.
	11 March	731	1,811	..	..	731	1,811	0 6 5½	39 13 1	39 13 1
	18 March	731	1,816	..	..	731	1,816	0 3 1	37 5 11½	37 9 0½
	25 March	735	1,810	..	..	735	1,810	0 3 1	31 9 2½	31 12 3½
	1 April	579	1,580	..	..	579	1,580	0 2 10	29 0 5½	29 3 3½
	8 April	543	1,374	..	..	543	1,374	8 12 3	17 5 8½	25 17 11½
	5 Feb.	533	1,071	..	..	533	1,071	..	10 4 9½	10 4 9½
	12 Feb.	1,764	3,951	326	870	2,090	4,821	0 15 0	76 18 7	77 13 7
MIDLETON . . .	19 Feb.	678	1,506	..	..	678	1,506	..	14 9 1½	14 9 1½	No out-door relief given.
	26 Feb.	762	1,673	..	..	762	1,673	..	14 1 5½	14 1 5½
	4 March	803	1,759	..	..	803	1,759	..	15 3 3½	15 3 3½
	11 March	813	1,804	..	..	813	1,804	..	18 12 11½	18 12 11½
	18 March	850	1,810	..	..	850	1,810	..	23 19 11	23 19 11
	25 March	864	1,902	..	..	864	1,902	0 6 6	23 18 5	24 4 11
	1 April	854	1,828	..	..	854	1,828	..	24 9 2½	24 9 2½
	8 April	825	1,651	58	169	850	80	..	25 7 8½	25 7 8½
MILFORD . . .	5 Feb.	1,428	3,270	666	1,331	2,094	4,601	..	109 13 3	109 13 3	No out-door relief given.
	12 Feb.	1,568	3,429	786	1,687	2,364	5,116	..	158 2 0	158 2 0
	19 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	26 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	4 March	1,667	4,891	1,017	1,986	2,654	6,877	..	198 8 3	198 8 3
	11 March	1,653	4,865	1,016	1,947	2,669	6,812	0 9 8	204 7 11½	204 7 11½
	18 March	1,701	5,036	1,288	2,253	2,989	7,299	1 1 10	214 10 1½	215 11 11½
	25 March	1,739	5,149	1,386	2,321	3,125	7,470	0 16 8	220 19 9½	221 16 5½
MOHILL . . .	1 April	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6	No out-door relief given.
	8 April	1,831	5,473	1,400	2,379	3,231	7,853	17 2 2	225 10 0½	226 7 2½
	5 Feb.	1,568	3,429	786	1,687	2,364	5,116	..	158 2 0	158 2 0
	12 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	19 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	26 Feb.	1,667	4,891	1,017	1,986	2,654	6,877	..	198 8 3	198 8 3
	4 March	1,653	4,865	1,016	1,947	2,669	6,812	0 9 8	204 7 11½	204 7 11½
	11 March	1,701	5,036	1,288	2,253	2,989	7,299	1 1 10	214 10 1½	215 11 11½
MONAGHAN . . .	18 March	1,739	5,149	1,386	2,321	3,125	7,470	0 16 8	220 19 9½	221 16 5½	No out-door relief given.
	25 March	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	1 April	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	8 April	1,831	5,473	1,400	2,379	3,231	7,853	17 2 2	225 10 0½	226 7 2½
	5 Feb.	1,568	3,429	786	1,687	2,364	5,116	..	158 2 0	158 2 0
	12 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	19 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
	26 Feb.	1,667	4,891	1,017	1,986	2,654	6,877	..	198 8 3	198 8 3
MOUNTMELICK .	4 March	1,653	4,865	1,016	1,947	2,669	6,812	0 9 8	204 7 11½	204 7 11½	Particulars not stated.
	11 March	1,701	5,036	1,288	2,253	2,989	7,299	1 1 10	214 10 1½	215 11 11½
	18 March	1,739	5,149	1,386	2,321	3,125	7,470	0 16 8	220 19 9½	221 16 5½
	25 March	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	1 April	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	8 April	1,831	5,473	1,400	2,379	3,231	7,853	17 2 2	225 10 0½	226 7 2½
	5 Feb.	1,568	3,429	786	1,687	2,364	5,116	..	158 2 0	158 2 0
	12 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½
MULLINGAR . .	19 Feb.	1,602	4,716	938	1,868	2,540	6,584	..	188 13 9½	188 13 9½	No out-door relief given.
	26 Feb.	1,667	4,891	1,017	1,986	2,654	6,877	..	198 8 3	198 8 3
	4 March	1,653	4,865	1,016	1,947	2,669	6,812	0 9 8	204 7 11½	204 7 11½
	11 March	1,701	5,036	1,288	2,253	2,989	7,299	1 1 10	214 10 1½	215 11 11½
	18 March	1,739	5,149	1,386	2,321	3,125	7,470	0 16 8	220 19 9½	221 16 5½
	25 March	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	1 April	1,821	5,409	1,409	2,335	3,230	7,744	0 15 2	224 13 4	225 8 6
	8 April	1,831	5,473	1,400	2,379	3,231	7,853	17 2 2	225 10 0½	226 7 2½
NAAS	5 Feb.	1,698	2,047	2,760	4,958	4,483	7,008	55 10 3½	251 12 5½	307 2 9	No out-door relief given.
	12 Feb.	1,510	3,038	2,014	5,404	3,524	8,442	0 19 4	254 0 8	255 0 0
	19 Feb.	3,110	6,569	4,412	11,450	7,523	18,019	1 0 8	314 7 1½	315 7 9½
	26 Feb.	1,194	2,692	2,086	5,204	3,280	7,896	2 9 8	309 5 6	311 14 9
	4 March	1,792	2,201	3,041	5,174	4,833	7,375	1 5 0	314 9 9½	315 14 9½
	11 March	1,800	2,101	3,060	5,090	4,860	7,191	1 15 4	319 14 10½	321 10 2½
	18 March	1,772	2,162	2,719	4,447	4,491	6,609	3 5 3	299 10 3½	302 15 6½
	25 March	1,785	1,962	2,686	4,283	4,451	6,245	0 15 6	293 8 9	294 4 3
MOUNTMELICK .	1 April	1,935	3,388	2,228	4,487	4,163	7,875	0 2 0	270 14 0	270 16 0	No out-door relief given.
	8 April	2,128	4,251	1,743	4,138	3,871	8,389	0 3 0	261 18 3½	262 1 3½
	5 Feb.	1,161	2,370	..	..	1,161	2,370	92 14 4	..	92 14 4
	12 Feb.	1,195	2,517	..	..	1,195	2,517	96 19 2	..	96 19 2
	19 Feb.	1,221	2,496	..	..	1,221	2,496	99 1 6	..	99 1 6
	26 Feb.	1,264	2,709	..	..	1,264	2,709	102 1 4	..	102 1 4
	4 March	1,247	2,643	..	..	1,247	2,643	99 10 10	..	99 10 10
	11 March	1,200	2,540	..	..	1,200	2,540	102 2 2	..	102 2 2

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.
NAAS . . .	18 March	1,265	2,849	..	..	1,265	2,849	107	6	3	..	..	..	107	6	3
	25 March	1,302	2,849	..	..	1,302	2,849	106	2	0	..	..	..	106	2	0
	1 April	1,225	2,624	..	..	1,225	2,624	97	16	0	..	..	..	97	16	0
	8 April	1,250	2,684	..	..	1,250	2,684	96	8	5	..	..	..	98	8	5
NAVAN . . .	5 Feb.	1,662	2,335	..	..	1,662	2,335	..	106	8	11	..	..	106	8	11
	12 Feb.	1,669	3,309	..	..	1,669	3,309	..	106	11	5½	..	..	106	11	5½
	19 Feb.	1,663	3,308	..	..	1,663	3,308	..	13	7	1	..	..	106	13	7
	26 Feb.	1,665	3,281	..	..	1,665	3,281	..	107	16	6½	..	..	107	16	6½
	4 March	1,652	3,346	..	..	1,652	3,346	..	105	13	0½	..	..	105	13	0½
	11 March	1,637	3,445	..	..	1,637	3,445	..	104	3	6½	..	..	104	3	6½
	18 March	1,606	3,220	..	..	1,606	3,220	..	101	3	3½	..	..	101	3	3½
	25 March	1,542	3,089	..	..	1,542	3,089	..	96	7	3	..	..	96	7	3
	1 April	1,503	2,886	..	..	1,503	2,886	..	90	5	7	..	..	90	5	7
	8 April	1,506	2,890	..	..	1,506	2,890	..	92	12	7	..	..	92	12	7
NENAGH . . .	5 Feb.	4,065	7,538	25	43	4,090	7,581	339	12	6	..	..	..	339	12	6
	12 Feb.	5,178	10,754	15	23	5,193	10,777	361	3	6	..	..	..	361	3	6	Cost not stated.
	19 Feb.	4,461	8,598	11	23	4,472	8,621	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	3,762	8,408	3	9	3,765	8,417	430	12	0	..	..	..	430	12	0
	4 March	5,128	10,172	17	43	5,145	10,215	..	280	13	9	..	..	280	13	9
	11 March	5,161	10,204	135	495	5,296	10,699	..	293	18	7½	..	..	293	18	7½
	18 March	5,043	9,910	703	2,418	5,746	12,328	..	335	15	10	..	..	335	15	10
	25 March	4,218	8,939	811	3,233	5,029	12,172	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	1 April	3,800	7,793	726	2,572	4,526	10,545	..	361	19	10½	..	..	361	19	10½
	8 April	4,654	10,294	8	22	4,662	10,316	..	272	0	11½	..	..	272	0	11½
NEWCASTLE . .	5 Feb.	2,684	5,238	7,818	17,981	10,502	23,219	1	18	0	667	0	9	668	18	9
	12 Feb.	2,699	5,262	7,815	18,110	10,514	23,372	2	4	3	669	0	0½	671	4	3½
	19 Feb.	2,679	5,264	7,889	18,255	10,568	23,519	3	6	3	665	0	6	668	6	9
	26 Feb.	2,745	5,329	7,863	17,250	10,608	22,585	4	5	9	654	12	5½	658	18	2½
	4 March	2,842	5,302	7,578	17,215	10,420	22,517	4	5	3	641	18	3½	646	3	6½
	11 March	2,857	5,327	7,238	16,359	10,095	21,686	3	9	2	518	12	3½	522	1	5½
	18 March	2,875	5,323	7,101	15,634	9,976	20,937	0	9	6	494	19	11½	495	9	5½
	25 March	2,872	5,330	6,579	15,169	9,451	20,499	0	5	0	434	1	1	434	6	1
	1 April	2,928	5,537	6,078	13,954	9,006	19,491	0	4	0	421	9	6	421	13	6
	8 April	2,946	5,506	5,924	13,744	8,880	19,250	0	4	0	424	2	2	424	6	2
NEW ROSS . . .	5 Feb.	2,456	5,432	7	14	2,463	5,446	148	8	10	..	..	..	148	8	10
	12 Feb.	2,718	5,897	13	25	2,731	5,922	158	5	7	2	13	5	160	19	0
	19 Feb.	2,874	6,264	..	..	2,874	6,264	167	9	5	0	2	1	167	11	6
	26 Feb.	2,877	6,181	67	128	2,944	6,309	170	2	5	0	18	8	171	1	1
	4 March	2,891	6,264	284	47	3,175	6,311	167	15	3	1	1	0	168	16	3
	11 March	2,909	6,284	469	1,363	3,378	7,647	170	19	0	72	9	4	243	8	4
	18 March	2,913	6,134	467	1,355	3,380	7,489	171	4	4	105	2	9	276	7	1
	25 March	2,913	6,314	467	1,355	3,380	7,669	171	4	4	105	2	9	276	7	1
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Return not received.
	8 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
NEWRY . . .	5 Feb.	1,438	2,865	18	36	1,456	2,901	..	43	6	2	..	..	43	6	2
	12 Feb.	1,427	2,816	15	33	1,442	2,849	..	45	8	9	..	..	45	8	9
	19 Feb.	1,494	2,925	13	27	1,507	2,952	..	46	8	0	..	..	46	8	0
	26 Feb.	1,572	3,056	16	30	1,583	3,086	..	47	5	10½	..	..	47	5	10½
	4 March	1,630	3,156	11	23	1,641	3,179	..	48	4	4	..	..	48	4	4
	11 March	1,683	3,262	9	19	1,692	3,281	..	50	1	0	..	..	50	1	0
	18 March	1,698	3,423	..	..	1,698	3,423	..	52	2	4	..	..	52	2	4
	25 March	1,704	3,430	2	8	1,706	3,438	..	51	12	2½	..	..	51	12	2½
	1 April	1,700	3,269	2	8	1,702	3,277	..	48	19	11½	..	..	48	19	11½
	8 April	1,553	2,929	..	..	1,553	2,929	..	44	12	10½	..	..	44	12	10½
NEWTOWNARDS .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
NEWTOWN LIMA-VADY.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.
OLDCASTLE . .	5 Feb.	1,605	3,645	920	3,109	2,525	6,754	1	2	10	211	4	3½	212	7	1½
	12 Feb.	1,608	3,655	942	3,187	2,550	6,872	1	1	4	215	8	4	216	9	8
	19 Feb.	1,534	3,501	933	3,159	2,467	6,660	1	6	0	212	2	3½	213	8	3½
	26 Feb.	1,504	3,408	891	2,973	2,395	6,381	0	19	10	194	18	9½	195	18	7½
	4 March	1,483	3,318	881	2,879	2,364	6,197	0	18	6	186	11	8½	187	10	2½
	11 March	1,504	3,463	926	2,946	2,430	6,409	0	18	6	172	16	4½	173	14	10½
	18 March	1,506	3,473	914	2,915	2,420	6,388	1	1	2	180	10	11½	181	12	2
	25 March	1,518	3,529	923	2,956	2,441	6,485	1	5	2	180	12	5½	181	17	7½
	1 April	1,397	3,229	938	3,109	2,335	6,338	0	18	3	137	18	5½	138	16	8½
	8 April	1,393	3,226	941	3,100	2,324	6,326	0	17	7	139	15	0	140	12	7
OMAGH . . .	5 Feb.	1,451	2,505	23	47	1,474	2,552	0	1	6	51	18	2	51	19	8
	12 Feb.	1,541	2,787	59	125	1,600	2,912	0	4	11	58	4	5	58	17	3
	19 Feb.	1,611	2,964	75	163	1,680	3,127	0	6	3	61	13	8	61	19	7
	26 Feb.	1,641	2,846	85	182	1,726	3,028	0	5	8	62	8	2	62	13	10
	4 March	1,628	2,905	100	205	1,728	3,110	0	8	4	63	5	0	63	13	4
	11 March	1,654	2,852	103	215	1,757	3,067	0	7	4	63	15	10	64	3	2
	18 March	1,692	2,944	115	237	1,807	3,181	0	6	10	64	14	0	65	0	10
	25 March	1,715	3,000	115	245	1,830	3,245	0	2	2	65	13	8	65	15	10
	1 April	1,638	2,829	120	269	1,758	3,098	0	1	0	64	0	3	64	1	3
	8 April	1,631	2,796	124	272	1,745	3,068	0	0	6	63	12	3	63	12	9
PARSONSTOWN .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief.

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
RATHDOWNS . .	5 Feb.	557	1,065	170	430	727	1,495	1 17 7	51 13 11½	53 11 6½	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	607	1,164	152	395	759	1,559	1 19 10	52 0 7½	54 0 5½
	19 Feb.	639	1,350	127	394	766	1,744	9 18 5	46 5 10½	56 4 3½
	26 Feb.	702	1,452	59	159	716	1,611	11 19 4½	40 0 5½	51 19 10½
	4 March	706	1,400	19	131	755	1,531	1 15 2	49 0 5½	50 15 7½
	11 March	737	1,494	33	73	770	1,567	1 1 9	49 16 4½	50 18 1½
	18 March	797	1,521	40	92	837	1,612	0 11 9	51 13 11½	52 5 8½
	25 March	531	1,005	31	70	562	1,075	..	..	..
	1 April	722	1,377	39	90	761	1,467	1 4 0	47 12 9	48 16 9
	8 April	715	1,340	34	74	749	1,414	1 6 9	47 19 9½	49 6 6½
RATHDRUM . .	5 Feb.	637	1,447	..	..	637	1,447	..	35 9 2½	35 9 2½
	12 Feb.	641	1,456	..	..	641	1,456	..	34 14 3½	34 14 3½
	19 Feb.	651	1,492	..	..	651	1,492	..	33 18 11½	33 18 11½
	26 Feb.	1,027	2,259	..	..	1,027	2,289	..	36 15 4½	36 15 4½
	4 March	1,056	2,312	..	..	1,056	2,312	..	46 8 9	46 8 9
	11 March	1,063	2,328	..	..	1,063	2,328	..	49 11 10	49 11 10
	18 March	1,020	2,249	..	..	1,020	2,249	..	43 12 4½	43 12 4½
	25 March	1,030	2,198	..	..	1,030	2,198	..	43 1 11½	43 1 11½
	1 April	953	2,154	..	..	953	2,154	..	42 14 0½	42 14 0½
	8 April	1,056	2,336	..	..	1,056	2,336	..	42 1 2½	42 1 2½
RATHKEALE . .	5 Feb.	3,467	8,453	1,321	4,857	4,968	13,310	13 17 6	404 10 10	418 8 4
	12 Feb.	3,722	8,639	1,457	5,470	5,180	14,129	13 17 6	382 8 8	396 6 2
	19 Feb.	3,526	8,206	1,281	4,641	4,807	12,847	13 15 0	366 13 1	380 8 1
	26 Feb.	3,443	7,947	1,164	4,157	4,607	12,104	13 14 6	345 8 5	359 2 11
	4 March	3,376	7,831	1,119	3,958	4,495	11,789	13 13 6	338 9 7	352 3 1
	11 March	3,364	7,795	1,091	3,884	4,455	11,659	13 16 7	334 3 3	347 19 10
	18 March	3,351	7,785	1,089	3,679	4,440	11,665	13 13 0	334 6 5	347 19 5
	25 March	3,348	7,774	1,088	3,904	4,436	11,678	13 7 6	335 3 0	348 10 6
	1 April	3,477	7,935	1,047	3,907	4,524	11,842	13 5 6	335 10 10	347 16 4
	8 April	3,536	8,053	896	3,609	4,432	11,662	13 7 6	329 12 8	343 0 2
ROSCOMMON . .	5 Feb.	1,854	2,092	..	..	1,854	2,092	..	92 14 11½	92 14 11½
	12 Feb.	3,327	3,759	..	..	3,327	3,759	13 10 9	132 9 11½	146 0 8½
	19 Feb.	3,921	4,940	..	..	3,921	4,940	..	174 0 4	174 0 4
	26 Feb.	4,488	5,594	..	..	4,488	5,594	..	213 12 2½	213 12 2½
	4 March	5,153	7,029	..	..	5,153	7,029	..	242 3 6½	242 3 6½
	11 March	5,573	7,514	..	..	5,573	7,514	..	290 1 11	290 1 11
	18 March	6,132	9,424	..	..	6,132	9,424	..	322 17 1	322 17 1
	25 March	4,077	4,914	2,046	2,969	6,123	7,883	..	360 11 8½	360 11 8½
	1 April	3,418	4,666	3,880	6,218	7,298	10,884	..	436 0 5	436 0 5
	8 April	3,791	4,968	4,210	6,408	8,001	11,376	22 1 10½	480 2 2½	502 4 2
ROSCREA . . .	5 Feb.	1,880	4,266	42	113	1,922	4,879	99 19 7	51 8 2	151 7 9	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	2,267	5,603	115	393	2,382	5,901	4 10 5	138 4 4	142 14 9
	19 Feb.	1,720	4,293	442	1,479	2,162	5,772	1 0 6	154 5 4	155 5 10
	26 Feb.	1,582	4,163	445	1,592	2,067	5,755	..	153 4 1	153 4 1
	4 March	1,917	4,758	477	1,716	2,394	6,474	..	..	..
	11 March	2,046	5,168	536	1,922	2,582	7,090	..	184 0 10	184 0 10
	18 March	2,202	5,512	618	2,112	2,820	7,624	..	206 8 7½	206 8 7½
	25 March	2,251	5,617	555	1,944	2,806	7,561	201 17 0	..	201 17 0
	1 April	2,082	5,148	574	2,081	2,656	7,229	..	184 7 1½	184 7 1½
	8 April	2,113	5,250	575	2,213	2,688	7,463	..	189 0 1½	189 0 1½
SCARIFF . . .	5 Feb.	2,194	7,798	169	370	2,363	8,168	135 2 1	203 14 3½	338 16 4½	Particulars not stated.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	2,267	8,588	495	1,604	2,762	10,192	169 10 9	242 11 7	412 2 4
	26 Feb.	2,249	8,579	492	1,592	2,741	10,171	180 11 7	261 10 0½	442 1 7½
	4 March	2,574	9,674	880	2,716	3,454	12,390	177 1 2	261 12 11	438 14 1
	11 March	1,606	7,452	2,557	5,771	4,163	13,222	175 13 2	275 16 10	451 10 0
	18 March	1,617	7,683	2,613	6,302	4,230	13,985	180 6 0	285 7 10	465 13 10
	25 March	1,617	7,683	2,613	6,302	4,230	13,985	180 6 0	285 7 10	465 13 10
	1 April	1,506	6,728	2,405	6,243	3,911	12,971	173 9 7	266 13 7½	440 3 2½
	8 April	1,449	6,558	2,501	6,038	3,950	12,576	173 6 8	270 9 8½	443 16 4½
SKILLILLAGH . .	5 Feb.	54	147	..	..	54	147	5 5 0	..	5 5 0
	12 Feb.	88	244	..	..	58	244	8 13 11	..	8 13 11
	19 Feb.	134	349	..	..	134	349	10 12 5	..	10 12 5
	26 Feb.	183	449	..	..	183	449	13 16 8	..	13 16 8
	4 March	214	518	..	..	214	518	16 2 1	..	16 2 1
	11 March	227	553	..	..	227	553	17 1 3	..	17 1 3
	18 March	229	568	..	..	228	568	17 9 7	..	17 9 7
	25 March	230	565	..	..	230	565	17 8 9	..	17 8 9
	1 April	236	580	..	..	236	580	17 18 9	..	17 18 9
	8 April	335	575	..	..	235	575	17 16 8	..	17 16 8
SKIRREGREEN . .	5 Feb.	3,251	4,033	..	..	3,251	4,033	..	125 4 11	125 4 11
	12 Feb.	3,551	4,213	..	..	3,551	4,213	..	134 8 7	134 8 7
	19 Feb.	3,673	4,577	..	..	3,673	4,577	..	145 1 1½	145 1 1½
	26 Feb.	3,839	4,951	..	..	3,839	4,951	..	147 0 5	147 0 5
	4 March	4,264	5,583	..	..	4,264	5,583	..	152 19 9	152 19 9
	11 March	4,621	6,187	..	..	4,621	6,187	..	168 8 9½	168 8 9½
	18 March	4,775	6,346	..	..	4,775	6,346	..	178 17 7½	178 17 7½
	25 March	4,976	6,448	..	..	4,976	6,448	..	279 1 8½	279 1 8½
	1 April	4,948	6,604	..	..	4,948	6,604	..	185 16 10½	185 16 10½
	8 April	5,363	6,939	..	..	5,363	6,939	..	193 18 10½	193 18 10½

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
SLIGO . . .	5 Feb.	3,104	7,253	..	..	3,104	7,353	6 15 2	203 17 0 ³ / ₄	210 12 2 ³ / ₄	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	3,103	7,295	14	14	3,117	7,309	6 17 9	206 18 3 ¹ / ₄	215 16 0 ¹ / ₄
	19 Feb.	2,967	7,220	56	74	3,023	7,294	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	3,134	7,328	74	104	3,208	7,432	7 4 8	201 15 10 ³ / ₄	209 0 1 ¹ / ₄
	4 March	3,148	7,430	102	143	3,250	7,573	6 10 0	200 17 8	207 7 8
	11 March	3,138	7,468	129	173	3,267	7,641	6 13 5	209 6 6	215 19 11
	18 March	3,010	7,236	127	180	3,137	7,416	7 0 0	201 7 1	208 7 1
	25 March	2,862	6,664	110	155	2,972	6,819	7 1 6	189 18 9 ¹ / ₄	197 0 3 ¹ / ₄
	1 April	2,867	6,088	157	231	3,024	6,819	6 19 4 ¹ / ₂	170 2 8 ¹ / ₄	177 2 0 ³ / ₄
	8 April	2,888	6,433	184	270	3,072	6,703	6 16 2	149 13 0	156 9 2
STRABANE . .	5 Feb.	400	792	..	..	400	792	20 17 8	..	20 17 8	No out-door relief given.
	12 Feb.	544	1,071	..	..	544	1,071	26 0 5	..	26 0 5
	19 Feb.	661	1,261	..	..	661	1,261	29 8 4	..	29 8 4
	26 Feb.	708	1,392	..	..	708	1,392	30 18 0	..	30 18 0
	4 March	749	1,409	..	..	749	1,409	0 1 0	30 4 6 ¹ / ₂	30 5 6 ¹ / ₂
	11 March	745	1,363	..	..	745	1,363	0 0 6	29 13 6 ¹ / ₂	29 14 0 ¹ / ₂
	18 March	757	1,393	..	..	757	1,393	0 1 1	29 16 4 ¹ / ₂	29 17 5 ¹ / ₂
	25 March	786	1,466	..	..	786	1,466	0 4 5 ¹ / ₄	31 2 0 ³ / ₄	31 6 6
	1 April	802	1,459	..	..	802	1,459	0 4 0	31 18 2 ³ / ₄	32 2 2 ³ / ₄
	8 April	856	1,571	..	..	886	1,571	0 4 0	34 14 1	34 18 1
STRANORLAR . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
SWINEFORD . .	5 Feb.	167	288	60	101	167	389	..	8 14 5 ¹ / ₄	8 14 5 ¹ / ₄
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	392	901	433	835	825	1,736	..	42 5 6 ¹ / ₂	42 5 6 ¹ / ₂
	26 Feb.	507	1,107	715	1,425	1,222	2,532	..	72 10 0	72 10 0
	4 March	831	1,651	1,255	2,842	2,086	4,493	..	132 14 11 ¹ / ₄	132 14 11 ¹ / ₄
	11 March	1,129	2,208	1,631	3,817	2,760	6,025	..	178 14 3 ¹ / ₄	178 14 3 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	1,416	2,712	2,055	4,826	3,471	7,538	..	215 0 8 ¹ / ₄	215 0 8 ¹ / ₄
	25 March	1,722	3,282	2,568	5,882	4,290	9,164	..	263 0 4	263 0 4
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	8 April	1,805	3,597	2,351	5,447	4,156	9,044	..	286 10 0 ³ / ₄	286 10 0 ³ / ₄
THURLES . . .	5 Feb.	2,318	5,392	5,135	12,154	7,453	17,546	..	385 9 9 ¹ / ₄	385 9 9 ¹ / ₄	Particulars not stated.
	12 Feb.	2,329	5,402	5,234	12,331	7,563	17,733	..	388 8 8 ¹ / ₄	388 8 8 ¹ / ₄
	19 Feb.	2,339	5,413	5,298	12,390	7,637	17,803	0 1 0	391 3 6	391 4 6
	26 Feb.	2,355	5,446	5,371	12,494	7,726	17,940	..	395 13 9	395 13 9
	4 March	2,375	5,483	5,427	12,513	7,802	17,996	0 4 0	398 11 11 ¹ / ₄	398 10 11 ¹ / ₄
	11 March	2,331	5,410	5,423	12,476	7,754	17,886	..	389 13 2 ¹ / ₄	389 13 2 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	2,324	5,368	5,342	12,192	7,666	17,560	0 2 0	387 17 3 ¹ / ₄	387 19 3 ¹ / ₄
	25 March	2,310	5,353	5,197	11,661	7,507	17,014	..	398 16 11	398 16 11
	1 April	2,371	5,323	5,315	11,518	7,486	16,846	0 3 0	418 3 9	418 6 9
	8 April	2,221	4,735	4,706	10,132	6,927	14,867	0 2 0	382 4 6 ¹ / ₄	382 6 6 ¹ / ₄
TIPPERARY . .	5 Feb.	3,761	9,436	450	1,864	4,211	11,300	288 1 6	58 19 4	347 0 10	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	3,806	9,549	822	3,049	4,628	12,598	238 0 4	96 17 1 ¹ / ₄	384 17 5 ¹ / ₄
	19 Feb.	3,822	9,570	1,531	4,581	5,323	14,151	278 13 6	119 12 9	393 6 3
	26 Feb.	3,828	9,581	1,855	5,420	5,683	15,001	202 12 5	223 18 9 ¹ / ₄	426 11 2 ¹ / ₄
	4 March	3,836	9,598	2,050	5,852	5,886	15,450	157 16 11	252 4 3	410 1 2
	11 March	3,593	8,188	2,799	8,372	6,392	16,560	145 2 4	269 17 0 ¹ / ₄	414 19 4 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	3,450	8,409	2,235	6,730	5,685	15,139	137 1 4	284 4 1 ¹ / ₄	421 5 5 ¹ / ₄
	25 March	3,479	8,486	2,344	6,871	5,823	15,357	118 5 0	305 13 3	423 18 3
	1 April	3,222	7,490	2,777	7,952	5,999	15,442	140 10 1	269 11 5	410 1 6
	8 April	3,127	7,182	2,786	8,287	5,913	15,469	130 11 1	275 14 6	406 5 7
TRALEE . . .	5 Feb.	8,804	16,320	33	123	8,837	16,443	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	8,772	15,896	298	561	9,070	16,457	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	8,346	15,221	432	816	8,778	16,037	..	..	401 18 8
	26 Feb.	8,903	15,593	387	757	9,290	16,350	..	407 18 5 ¹ / ₄	407 18 6 ¹ / ₄
	4 March	5,112	9,047	729	1,379	5,841	10,426	..	243 7 9	243 7 9
	11 March	4,143	7,683	765	1,496	4,908	9,179	..	210 16 3 ¹ / ₄	210 16 3 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	4,029	7,266	794	1,538	4,823	8,804	..	207 7 10	207 7 10
	25 March	2,631	2,418	244	180	2,875	2,598	..	127 7 5 ¹ / ₄	127 7 5 ¹ / ₄
	1 April	2,787	5,057	113	206	2,900	5,263	..	125 3 1 ¹ / ₄	125 3 1 ¹ / ₄
	8 April	2,950	5,406	128	282	3,078	5,688	..	134 12 3	134 12 3
TRIM	5 Feb.	959	1,877	..	..	959	1,877	0 5 9	56 12 11 ¹ / ₄	56 17 10 ¹ / ₄	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	999	1,963	..	..	999	1,963	0 8 6	59 0 8 ¹ / ₄	59 9 2 ¹ / ₄
	19 Feb.	994	1,955	..	..	994	1,955	0 15 2	59 11 4 ¹ / ₄	60 6 3 ¹ / ₄
	26 Feb.	1,018	1,995	..	..	1,018	1,995	1 3 8	60 16 5 ¹ / ₄	62 0 1 ¹ / ₄
	4 March	1,017	1,998	..	..	1,017	1,998	1 6 10	60 14 9 ¹ / ₄	62 1 7 ¹ / ₄
	11 March	1,025	2,020	..	..	1,025	2,020	1 6 10	60 17 11 ¹ / ₄	62 4 9 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	1,034	2,033	..	..	1,034	2,033	1 7 4 ¹ / ₄	61 12 3 ¹ / ₄	62 19 8 ¹ / ₄
	25 March	1,060	2,100	..	..	1,060	2,100	2 14 1	63 6 2 ¹ / ₄	66 0 2 ¹ / ₄
	1 April	1,067	2,006	..	..	1,067	2,006	4 2 10	64 10 0	68 12 10
	8 April	1,049	2,055	..	..	1,049	2,055	2 16 4	62 3 9 ¹ / ₄	65 0 1 ¹ / ₄
TUAM	5 Feb.	460	1,104	453	851	913	1,955	0 7 0	69 2 1 ¹ / ₄	69 9 1 ¹ / ₄	Cost not stated.
	12 Feb.	694	1,745	1,169	2,443	1,863	4,188	0 12 8	133 12 7 ¹ / ₄	134 5 2 ¹ / ₄
	19 Feb.	754	1,732	1,345	2,461	2,099	4,193	0 1 0	131 10 4 ¹ / ₄	131 11 4 ¹ / ₄
	26 Feb.	854	1,931	1,243	2,762	2,097	4,693	0 2 0	112 15 4 ¹ / ₄	112 17 4 ¹ / ₄
	4 March	1,175	2,612	1,849	3,893	3,024	6,495	..	176 16 2 ¹ / ₄	176 16 2 ¹ / ₄
	11 March	1,303	3,055	2,163	4,879	3,484	7,934	..	200 15 0 ¹ / ₄	200 15 0 ¹ / ₄
	18 March	1,331	3,044	2,333	5,070	3,664	8,114	..	..	..
	25 March	1,619	3,787	2,686	6,767	4,505	10,554	..	..	..
	1 April	1,241	2,442	2,280	4,613	3,521	7,055	..	..	..
	8 April	1,311	2,714	2,513	5,404	3,824	8,118	..	..	..

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
TULLAMORE . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Particulars not given.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	1,781	3,520	583	1,507	2,364	5,207	108 11 4	33 18 7	142 9 11	Nature of relief not stated. Cost not stated.
	11 March	1,474	2,927	490	1,383	1,964	4,310	..	..	..
	18 March	243	631	192	482	435	1,113	..	..	..	Particulars not stated.
	25 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	1 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	8 April	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
WATERFORD . .	5 Feb.	180	381	..	..	180	381	81 10 0	..	81 10 0
	12 Feb.	177	400	12	24	189	424	89 10 0	..	89 10 0
	19 Feb.	1,671	4,983	23	46	1,694	5,029	100 15 9	..	100 15 9
	26 Feb.	1,808	5,243	33	66	1,841	5,309	119 9 2	0 5 0	119 14 2
	4 March	2,138	8,574	86	172	2,224	5,926	125 9 5	..	125 9 5
	11 March	2,263	5,880	96	192	2,359	6,072	137 13 8	..	137 13 8
	18 March	2,544	6,244	125	250	2,669	6,494	154 15 5	..	154 15 5
	25 March	2,816	6,428	151	302	2,967	6,730	168 16 8	..	168 16 8
	1 April	2,905	6,632	151	302	3,056	6,934	169 7 9	..	167 7 9
	8 April	2,980	6,814	151	302	3,131	7,116	181 9 9	..	181 9 9
WESTPORT . .	5 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	402 3 6	402 3 6	No out-door relief given. Cost not stated. Particulars not stated.
	12 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	19 Feb.	1,629	3,768	3,151	8,387	4,420	12,155	..	..	..
	26 Feb.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	4 March	2,136	6,330	6,528	15,998	8,664	22,328	..	526 11 8½	526 11 8½	Particulars not stated.
	11 March	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..
	18 March	2,188	6,791	6,810	17,137	8,998	23,928	..	..	..	Cost not stated.
	25 March	1,830	4,909	5,858	14,208	7,688	19,117	..	..	..
	1 April	2,218	6,250	6,090	15,345	8,308	21,595	..	..	..
	8 April	2,324	6,556	6,037	15,534	8,361	22,090	..	..	..
WEXFORD . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	No out-door relief given.

SUMMARY.

Week ending	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.
	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
							£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
5 Feb.	147,111	337,665	44,601	107,811	191,712	445,476	3,523 18 8½	9,264 10 3½	12,788 9 0½
12 Feb.	150,763	339,328	50,487	124,674	201,250	464,002	3,436 9 4½	9,501 19 5½	12,938 8 10½
19 Feb.	163,692	376,015	64,591	162,063	228,283	538,078	3,554 11 6½	10,926 6 0½	14,480 17 6½
26 Feb.	165,178	379,767	64,008	158,220	229,186	537,987	3,492 8 11½	11,527 0 11½	15,019 9 11½
4 March	185,590	425,949	94,189	228,763	279,779	654,712	3,352 0 10½	14,212 17 4½	17,564 18 2½
11 March	178,581	407,195	84,845	206,368	263,426	613,563	3,171 4 6½	12,932 0 7½	16,103 5 2½
18 March	171,153	402,873	69,147	165,961	240,300	568,834	3,165 0 1½	12,518 3 7½	15,683 3 9
25 March	181,322	408,616	94,308	231,097	275,630	639,713	3,692 18 5½	13,781 15 7½	17,474 14 1
1 April	180,994	408,923	97,979	235,076	278,973	643,999	3,535 17 3½	13,456 9 2½	17,092 6 6½
8 April	191,198	426,561	87,119	211,580	278,317	638,141	3,041 5 8½	13,858 2 2	16,899 7 10½
	1,715,582	3,912,892	751,274	1,831,613	2,466,856	5,744,505	34,115 15 5	121,979 5 6½	156,095 0 11½

Note.—Returns were not received from the Unions stated below :—

Week ending 5 Feb.	for Ballina, Ballinasloe, Cahirciveen, Castlebar, Clifden, Clones, Drogheda, Dundalk, Enniscorthy, Granard, Loughrea, Mountmelick, and Tullamore.
.. 12 Feb.	for Ballina, Ballinrobe, Banbridge, Castlebar, Clifden, Clones, Drogheda, Dundalk, Enniscorthy, Granard, Kilsrush, Loughrea, Mountmelick, Scariff, Swineford, Tullamore, and Westport.
.. 19 Feb.	for Ballina, Castlebar, Clifden, Dundalk, Enniscorthy, Granard, Longford, Loughrea, Lowtherstown, and Tullamore.
.. 26 Feb.	for Cahirciveen, Castlebar, Clifden, Enniscorthy, Granard, Longford, Loughrea, Lowtherstown, Tullamore, and Westport.
.. 4 March.	for Clifden and Loughrea.
.. 11 March.	for Ballina, Ballycastle, Cahirciveen, Castlederg, Clifden, Enniscorthy, Ennistymon, Kinsale, Longford, Lowtherstown, and Westport.
.. 18 March.	for Ballina, Ballinrobe, Clifden, Longford, Lowtherstown, and Macroom.
.. 25 March.	for Ballina, Clifden, Longford, Loughrea, Lowtherstown, and Tullamore.
.. 1 April.	for Clifden, Longford, Loughrea, Lowtherstown, New Ross, Swineford, and Tullamore.
.. 8 April.	for Ballina, Clifden, New Ross, and Tullamore.

STATEMENT of the COLLECTION of POOR RATE and of the EXPENSES in each UNION in IRELAND during the Six Months from Michaelmas to Lady Day last.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Collection from Michaelmas to Lady Day last.								Expenses.		Difference between Collection and Expenses.
	Amount of Rate struck between Michaelmas and Lady Day last.	Amount of Arrears of Rate, struck before Michaelmas last, remaining for Collection at Michaelmas last.	Total Amount of Rate in course of Collection within the Six Months, viz., the Old and the New Rate conjointly. (Col. 3 & 2)	Total Amount Collected of the Total Rate in course of Collection. (Col. 4.)	Amount Collected of the New Rate (Col. 2), exclusive of the Rate previously made. (Col. 3.)	Highest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Lowest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. Collected on the whole Union during the Six Months.	Expenses of the Union for the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. of the Expenses, of the Six Months on the whole Union.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.
Column 1.	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.
Co. Antrim.
Antrim	..	6,332	6,332	6,332	..	3 6	0 1½	1 3½	3,419	0 8½	2,681	..
Ballycastle	2,937	346	3,283	1,107	761	1 1	0 3	0 11	1,665	0 11½	..	878
Ballymena	7,207	3,503	10,710	4,406	903	1 6½	0 1½	0 11	3,410	0 8½	950	..
Ballymoney	1,060	6,001	7,061	4,338	..	2 0	0 5½	1 2	2,360	0 7½	1,889	..
Belfast	15,450	4,664	20,114	11,759	7,093	1 2½	0 10	0 10½	13,637	1 0	..	1,793
Larne	1,166	2,448	3,614	2,626	178	1 2	0 3½	0 8½	1,647	0 5½	835	..
Lisburn	4,302	19	4,321	4,170	4,151	1 4	0 2½	0 7½	3,093	0 5½	944	..
Co. Armagh.
Armagh	19,458	4,425	23,883	9,176	4,751	2 5	0 5½	0 11½	5,287	0 7½	3,302	..
Lurgan	13,224	301	13,525	9,281	8,988	4 10	0 0½	2 0	6,440	1 4½	2,900	..
Co. Cavan.
Bailieborough	6,631	3,725	10,356	7,760	4,035	..	..	3 0½	4,403	1 8½	3,584	..
Cavan	15,936	2,341	18,277	16,305	13,964	3 4	1 8	2 6½	10,661	1 8	5,452	..
Cootehill	11,009	2,274	13,283	5,848	3,574	2 2½	0 3½	1 6	4,887	1 3½	626	..
Co. Donegal.
Ballyshannon	7,111	507	7,618	6,335	5,828	2 9½	1 6	2 5½	2,573	1 0	3,775	..
Donegal	4,209	1,880	6,089	2,623	743	3 1½	0 10½	1 7½	1,196	0 9	1,356	..
Dunfanaghy	1,006	394	1,400	273	..	1 5½	0 1	0 6½	700	1 3½	..	426
Glenties	2,380	1,148	3,528	2,506	1,358	4 11½	0 8½	3 0	3,069	3 9	..	657
Inishowen	4,960	429	5,289	1,357	928	1 8	0 1	0 10½	1,107	0 7½	463	..
Letterkenny	..	2,787	2,787	1,865	..	2 6½	0 3½	1 1	2,059	1 3½	..	340
Milford	3,182	172	3,354	2,698	2,526	2 9	0 10	1 7½	1,571	1 0	984	..
Stranorlar	3,264	231	3,495	2,181	1,950	2 3	0 8½	1 4½	841	0 6½	1,153	..
Co. Down.
Banbridge	6,988	3,449	10,437	6,026	2,578	2 6	0 2½	1 0	4,164	0 8	1,899	..
Downpatrick	5,445	174	5,619	4,022	3,848	1 5½	0 0½	0 5½	2,363	0 3½	1,668	..
Kilkeel	..	1,357	1,357	1,305	..	1 9½	0 1½	0 8½	962	0 6	343	..
Newry	4,636	2,736	7,372	4,223	1,487	2 1½	0 1	0 7½	4,332	0 8	..	260
Newtownards	7,894	3,454	11,348	3,441	..	1 10½	0 1½	0 6½	2,966	0 6	329	..
Co. Fermanagh.
Enniskillen	12,153	696	12,851	8,108	7,412	2 8½	0 4½	1 8½	4,125	0 7½	3,959	..
Lisnaskea	7,356	886	8,272	4,835	3,999	3 0	0 10	2 0	1,874	0 9½	2,805	..
Lowtherstown	6,189	337	6,526	4,949	4,612	3 0	2 6	2 3	3,874	1 9	1,071	..
Co. Londonderry.
Coleraine	2,589	2,691	5,280	2,858	197	3 3	0 1	0 9	2,884	0 9	25	..
Londonderry	1,775	5,804	7,579	4,360	..	1 8	0 1	0 9½	4,252	0 9	101	..
Magherafelt	..	8,634	8,634	5,540	..	2 9	0 3½	1 4½	2,363	0 7½	2,785	..
N. T. Limavady	4,839	1,298	6,137	2,715	1,417	1 6½	0 4	0 9½	2,030	0 7½	610	..
Co. Monaghan.
Carriackmacross	..	5,506	5,506	4,705	..	3 1	0 6	2 0½	2,854	1 2½	1,851	..
Castleblayney	1,179	7,926	9,105	7,094	977	3 8	0 7	2 0	5,159	1 6½	1,850	..
Clones	6,881	758	7,639	3,125	2,307	1 7½	0 10½	1 1½	2,799	1 0	317	..
Monaghan	..	11,021	11,021	8,569	..	3 1	0 3½	1 9½	2,901	0 7½	5,666	..
Co. Tyrone.
Castlederg	..	1,589	1,589	1,306	..	2 1	0 6	1 2½	897	0 9½	409	..
Clogher	4,316	59	4,374	3,834	3,776	2 11½	0 11½	1 9½	2,493	1 2	341	..
Cookstown	..	2,791	2,791	2,083	..	1 11	0 2	0 8½	1,749	0 7½	292	..
Dungannon	5,960	448	6,408	4,403	3,955	1 11	0 4	0 11½	3,132	0 8½	1,134	..
Gortiu	..	1,430	1,430	883	..	1 9	0 7	1 5½	618	0 9½	382	..
Omagh	10,729	858	11,587	5,527	4,669	2 4	0 2½	1 4½	3,892	1 0½	1,367	..
Strabane	1,477	7,661	9,138	7,840	179	2 11	0 9	1 11½	3,397	0 10	4,434	..
Total of Ulster Province	214,930	115,489	330,419	201,804	..	..	..	..	140,216	..	..	..

Statement of the Collection of Poor Rate and of the Expenses in each Union in Ireland, &c.—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Collection from Michaelmas to Lady Day last.								Expenses.		Difference between Collection and Expenses.
	Amount of Rate struck between Michaelmas and Lady Day last.	Amount of Arrears of Rate, struck before Michaelmas last, remaining for Collection at Michaelmas last.	Total Amount of Rate in course of Collection within the Six Months viz., the Old and New Rate conjointly. (Col. 3&2)	Total Amount Collected of the Total Rate in course of Collection. (Col. 4.)	Amount Collected of the New Rate (Col. 2), exclusive of the Rate previously made. (Col. 3.)	Highest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Lowest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. Collected on the whole Union during the Six Months.	Expenses of the Union for the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. of the Expenses of the Six Months on the whole Union.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.
Co. Clare.
Ennis	14,773	1,468	16,241	16,211	14,743	4 0	1 11	2 7½	13,652	2 8½	..	412
Ennistymon . .	373	8,624	8,996	7,647	..	3 0½	0 3	1 11½	5,259	1 6½	1,398	..
Kilrush	..	15,153	15,153	7,673	..	3 3	1 10	2 7	7,330	2 5	362	..
Scariff	16,768	2,812	19,580	12,743	9,936	7 2	4 6	4 10½	9,296	4 2	1,569	..
Co. Cork.
Bandon	..	9,733	9,733	7,053	..	1 8½	0 1½	1 0½	6,543	0 11½	449	..
Bantry	6,285	543	6,828	4,165	3,622	2 11½	1 1½	2 3½	6,031	2 10½	..	1,717
Cork	31,345	11,425	42,770	24,361	12,926	7 5	0 8	1 2½	13,472	0 8½	8,685	..
Dunmanway . .	..	6,808	6,808	5,306	..	2 9	2 1	2 4½	3,605	1 2	2,700	..
Fermoy	..	24,303	24,303	20,353	..	2 11½	2 3	2 7½	16,703	2 2	3,642	..
Kanturk	37,940	..	37,940	37,145	37,145	4 0	3 0	3 2	13,858	2 7½	4,241	..
Kinsale	434	5,472	5,906	4,656	..	2 7	0 3½	1 3	2,948	0 9½	734	..
Macroom	11,409	6,544	17,953	6,155	..	5 0	0 6½	1 2½	4,456	0 11½	1,140	..
Mallow	..	13,969	13,969	12,167	..	3 3	1 4	2 1½	3,981	0 7½	9,900	..
Midleton	2,675	275	26,978	21,940	21,665	3 6½	0 4½	2 8	8,952	1 1	12,997	..
Skibbereen . .	14,703	2,348	17,051	11,555	9,207	3 1	1 2½	2 3½	8,247	1 8	3,197	..
Co. Kerry.
Caherciveen . .	3,517	285	3,802	2,471	2,186	3 2½	1 2½	2 0½	2,593	2 1	..	97
Kenmare	..	4,603	4,603	3,696	..	3 2½	0 8½	2 11½	3,899	3 2	..	224
Killarney . . .	12,703	230	12,933	11,485	11,455	3 5½	2 6½	2 7½	12,445	2 10½	..	1,023
Listowel	13,784	975	14,759	11,494	10,519	3 1½	0 6½	2 4	13,617	2 9½	..	2,192
Trillick	448	17,068	17,516	14,693	..	3 8½	1 7	2 6½	13,279	2 3½	1,246	..
Co. Limerick.
Kilmallock . . .	25,321	19,593	44,904	15,868	..	2 9½	1 10	1 9½	11,447	1 3½	4,429	..
Limerick	..	4,078	40,748	27,822	..	3 4½	1 2½	3 9	15,314	1 5½	13,256	..
Newcastle . . .	15,940	17,848	33,788	13,187	..	2 9	1 1½	2 5	19,401	3 7	..	6,170
Rathkale	18,603	16,448	35,056	14,651	..	2 11	1 2	2 1½	13,174	4 11	2,520	..
Co. Tipperary.
Carrick-on-Suir .	9,585	411	9,996	3,142	7,787	2 7	0 9½	1 9½	4,525	1 0	5,466	..
Cashel	..	18,622	18,622	12,005	..	2 11½	0 9	1 10½	9,240	1 5	3,009	..
Clogheen	764	7,424	8,188	6,426	..	2 8½	0 4	2 0½	5,536	1 9	889	..
Clonmel	..	10,220	10,220	7,615	..	2 10	0 10½	1 8½	6,396	1 4½	1,215	..
Nenagh	..	23,817	23,817	13,917	..	3 0	1 7	2 6½	10,586	1 11	2,330	..
Roscrea	..	15,838	15,838	10,378	..	2 11½	1 1½	2 0½	6,308	1 3	4,031	..
Thurles	166,55	3,218	19,873	11,152	7,934	3 2½	0 6½	2 0½	9,923	1 9½	1,113	..
Tipperary	..	19,015	19,015	12,832	..	2 5	0 9½	1 6½	12,925	1 9	907	..
Co. Waterford.
Dungarvan . . .	..	14,211	14,211	12,838	..	4 3	0 7½	2 7½	5,516	1 2	6,849	..
Lismore	7,779	75	7,854	7,096	7,021	3 0	1 3	2 2½	2,760	0 10½	4,233	..
Waterford	..	11,195	11,195	8,156	..	1 1	0 6	0 9½	6,758	0 8½	1,396	..
Total of Munster Province	285,836	351,313	637,149	637,149	..	..	..	..	310,014	..	..	..

Statement of the Collection of Poor Rate, and of the Expenses in each Union in Ireland, &c.—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.
Names of Unions and Counties.	Collection from Michaelmas to Lady-day last.								Expenses.		Difference between Collection and Expenses.
	Amount of Rate struck between Michaelmas and Lady-day last.	Amount of Arrears of Rate, struck before Michaelmas last, remaining for Collection at Michaelmas last.	Total Amount of Rate in course of Collection within the Six Months, viz., the Old and the New Rate conjointly. (Col. 3 & 2)	Total Amount Collected of the Total Rate in course of Collection. (Col. 4.)	Amount Collected of the New Rate (Col. 2), exclusive of the Rate previously made. (Col. 3.)	Highest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Lowest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. Collected on the whole Union during the Six Months.	Expenses of the Union for the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. of the Expenses of the Six Months on the whole Union.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.
Co. Carlow.
Carlow	..	15,232	15,232	11,236	..	2 6	0 1	1 3	9,834	1 1½	1,401	..
Co. Dublin.
Balrothery . . .	..	3,435	3,435	2,952	..	1 5½	0 0½	0 7½	2,800	0 7	150	..
Dublin, North . .	28,860	17,836	46,696	25,135	7,299	0 7½	0 3	1 4½	23,645	1 3½	1,478	..
Dublin, South . .	..	20,020	20,020	11,284	..	0 9½	0 2	0 4½	20,235	0 8½	..	8,932
Rathdown	..	6,754	6,754	5,219	..	1 6½	0 2½	0 7½	4,691	0 7½	225	..
Co. Kildare.
Athy	1,257	10,715	11,972	7,067	..	1 11½	0 1½	1 3½	5,366	2 0½	1,274	..
Celbridge	6,256	718	6,974	3,686	3,068	1 9	0 4½	0 6½	1,076	0 3	1,741	..
Nuas	..	12,922	12,922	11,221	..	4 6	0 4½	1 7½	5,891	0 10½	6,289	..
Co. Kilkenny.
Callan	..	11,192	11,192	7,304	..	2 7	0 2½	1 8½	6,352	1 6	954	..
Kilkenny	£8,261	2,284	30,545	19,590	17,306	2 6	0 7	1 6½	11,450	0 11½	7,682	..
King's County.
Kilbeggan	40,701	217	4,918	4,179	3,962	1 2½	0 2½	0 10½	2,231	0 5½	2,008	..
Parsonstown . . .	..	15,257	15,257	9,665	..	2 9½	0 6½	1 9½	3,427	0 7½	6,228	..
Tullamore	..	9,578	9,578	7,791	..	2 11	0 5½	1 8½	6,343	1 5½	1,201	..
Co. Longford.
Granard	12,140	3,026	15,166	7,271	4,245	2 10½	0 3½	1 8	4,442	1 0	2,840	..
Longford	15,738	9,400	25,138	6,204	..	1 4½	0 0½	0 11½	8,731	1 4½	..	2,510
Co. Louth.
Ardee	2,887	7,824	10,711	8,505	681	3 2	0 9½	1 9½	6,024	1 3½	2,479	..
Drogheda	2,234	7,103	9,337	7,730	627	4 1½	0 5½	1 2	6,927	1 0	1,110	..
Dundalk	..	4,535	4,535	2,826	..	1 3½	0 2½	0 6½	3,299	0 7½	..	530
Co. Meath.
Dunshaughlin . .	4,404	3,602	8,206	4,199	397	1 0	0 2	0 8½	4,111	0 8½	190	..
Kells	372	8,624	8,996	7,647	..	3 0½	0 3	1 2½	7,532	1 2½	..	238
Navan	8,526	1,524	10,050	5,654	4,130	2 0½	0 3	1 6½	5,950	1 2	..	514
Oldcastle	5,457	9,184	14,641	8,166	..	3 4½	0 5	2 0½	8,171	2 0½	6	..
Trim	..	3,491	3,491	3,396	..	2 8	0 1½	0 7	3,795	0 9	..	785
Queen's County.
Abbeyleix	..	8,307	8,307	6,770	..	3 4	0 2	2 0½	5,370	1 7½	1,399	..
Mountmellick . .	..	12,294	12,294	8,222	..	4 4	0 1½	1 9½	9,450	2 1	..	1,228
Co. Westmeath.
Athlone	14,896	3,518	18,444	3,354	598	1 0½	0 1½	0 7	3,269	0 7½	..	262
Mullingar	..	3,845	9,345	2,371	..	0 6½	0 0½	0 3	7,541	0 9½	..	5,175
Co. Wexford.
Enniscorthy . . .	16,728	272	17,000	11,553	11,281	2 4	1 1½	1 9½	8,292	1 3½	3,263	..
Gorey	8,647	2,708	11,355	3,796	1,088	1 4½	0 3½	0 8½	4,022	0 10½	..	795
New Ross	..	18,146	18,146	11,341	..	2 10	1 3	2 0½	9,430	1 8½	1,911	..
Wexford	13,802	1,170	14,972	8,752	7,582	2 2½	0 5½	1 6½	4,787	0 10½	3,895	..
Co. Wicklow.
Baltinglass . . .	..	4,286	4,286	3,887	..	1 11½	0 2	0 10½	3,783	0 10	313	..
Rathdrum	4,222	4,529	8,751	3,699	576	1 0½	0 0½	0 5	4,358	0 7	..	1,121
Shillelagh	4,447	91	4,538	3,465	3,374	2 0	0 2½	1 0½	2,228	0 8½	1,170	..
Total of Leinster Province . .	153,835	243,339	427,174	251,563	..	..	..	..	225,453	..	..	..

Statement of the Collection of Poor Rate, and of the Expenses in each Union in Ireland, &c.—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Names of Unions and Counties.	Collection from Michaelmas to Lady-day last.								Expenses.		Difference between Collection and Expenses.
	Amount of Rate struck between Michaelmas and Lady-day last.	Amount of Arrears of Rate, struck before Michaelmas last, remaining for Collection at Michaelmas last.	Total Amount of Rate in course of Collection within the Six Months, viz., the Old and the New Rate conjointly. (Col. 3 & 2)	Total Amount Collected of the Total Rate in course of Collection. (Col. 4.)	Amount Collected of the New Rate (Col. 3), exclusive of the Rate previously made. (Col. 3.)	Highest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Lowest Amount per £. Collected in any Electoral Division of the Union during the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. Collected on the whole Union during the Six Months.	Expenses of the Union for the Six Months.	Average Amount per £. of the Expenses of the Six Months on the whole Union.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.
Column 1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Co. Galway.	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.
Ballinasloe . . .	..	25,004	25,004	15,613	..	2 10½	1 6½	2 0	4,144	0 6½	11,375	..
Clifden . . .	3,244	364	3,608	2,441	2,077	2 9½	1 7½	1 11	859	9	1,332	..
Galway . . .	9,004	5,512	14,516	6,461	949	2 11	0 8	1 3	9,106	1 10½	..	3,033
Gort . . .	7,947	2,349	10,296	2,475	126	4 1	3 8	0 10½	7,230	2 8½	..	4,920
Loughrea . . .	12,532	1,135	13,667	7,801	6,666	2 5	0 9	1 8½	4,490	1 0	3,398	..
Tuam . . .	..	6,081	6,081	4,619	..	1 4	0 11	1 1	4,523	1 0½	140	..
Co. Leitrim.
Carriek-on-Shannon	8,918	3,209	12,127	3,852	643	1 8	0 7	1 4½	4,879	1 7	..	639
Manorhamilton . .	6,308	204	6,512	3,763	3,559	1 9½	1 1½	1 7	2,174	0 11½	1,584	..
Mohill . . .	7,309	1,711	9,020	3,776	2,065	3 2	0 1	1 2	3,964	1 3½	..	615
Co. Mayo.
Ballina . . .	..	13,128	13,128	7,349	..	2 10½	0 5½	1 6½	11,082	2 3	..	3,733
Ballinrobe . . .	12,740	1,386	14,126	5,756	4,370	2 4	0 7	1 4½	11,142	2 7½	..	5,392
Castlebar . . .	9,210	706	9,916	2,483	1,777	1 8½	0 1½	0 11½	7,364	2 10½	..	4,681
Swineford . . .	7,182	3,336	10,518	2,342	176	1 7½	0 1	0 11	2,581	1 1½	..	496
Westport . . .	7,335	1,443	8,778	3,886	2,443	4 6½	0 4	1 10	7,929	4 1	..	4,337
Co. Roscommon.
Boyle . . .	12,057	3,742	15,799	6,382	2,640	2 8½	0 5½	1 6	2,175	0 6	4,016	..
Castlerea . . .	..	17,249	17,249	9,046	..	2 6	0 7½	1 7½	3,846	0 8½	5,241	..
Roscommon . . .	2,033	13,585	15,618	9,244	8,545	3 4½	..	2 1	6,308	1 5½	2,615	..
Co. Sligo.
Sligo . . .	8,778	23,995	32,773	13,986	..	3 7½	0 8	1 11½	10,433	1 6	13,585	..
Total of Connaught Province . . .	114,627	124,139	238,766	109,716	..	..	..	..	104,526	..	..	..

SUMMARY.

	£.	£.	£.	£.	£.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	£.	s. d.	£.	£.
ULSTER . . .	214,930	115,489	330,419	201,804	..	..	..	..	140,216	..	..	..
MUNSTER . . .	285,836	351,313	637,149	398,271	..	..	..	..	310,014	..	..	..
LEINSTER . . .	183,835	243,339	427,174	251,563	..	..	..	..	225,453	..	..	..
CONNAUGHT . . .	114,627	124,139	238,766	109,716	..	..	..	..	104,526	..	..	..
Total of IRELAND .	799,228	834,280	1,633,508	961,354	..	..	..	..*	780,209	..	..	..
Total at close for previous Month . . .	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..

* The expenses of the six months were as follows:—

	£.
October	70,803
November	88,432
December	123,597
January	151,264
February	167,741
March	178,367

Total as above . . 780,209

P A P E R S

RELATING TO

PROCEEDINGS FOR THE RELIEF OF THE DISTRESS,

AND

STATE OF UNIONS AND WORKHOUSES,

IN IRELAND.

SEVENTH SERIES—1848.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.

DUBLIN:

PRINTED BY ALEXANDER THOM, 87, ABBEY-STREET,
FOR HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE.

1848.

CONTENTS.

	Page
Count Strzelecki to the Commissioners :—Statement showing the date at which the Poor Law Inspectors recommend that the Relief to Children should be closed : 31 July, 1848	1
Mr. Lloyd, Chairman of the British Association for the Relief of Distress in Ireland and Scotland, to Count Strzelecki : 21 July, 1848	2
Count Strzelecki to the Commissioners : 25 July, 1848	3
The Commissioners to Count Strzelecki, in reply to the foregoing : 27 July, 1848	3
The Commissioners to the Temporary Poor Law Inspectors of the Unions in which the Relief of the British Association was administered : 29 July, 1848	4
Sir Charles E. Trevelyan to the Commissioners : 31 May, 1848	4
CIRCULARS of INSTRUCTIONS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS and POOR LAW INSPECTORS, issued by the Commissioners :—
Circular to Boards of Guardians respecting the Expenditure of the Half-years, ended 25th March, and 29th September respectively : 16 June, 1848
Circular to Boards of Guardians respecting the levying of Rates :	6
Correspondence upon which the Commissioners of Poor Laws in Ireland took legal advice as to the Construction of the 10th Section of the Act 10 Vic. c. 31, and of the Case submitted by them to Counsel ; and of the Circular Letters of the Commissioners issued thereupon, ...	8
Circular Letter from the Commissioners to Boards of Guardians : 23 May, 1848	11
Further Circular Letter from the Commissioners to Boards of Guardians : 8 June, 1848	11
Circular to Clerks of Guardians respecting the persons relieved, whose husband or father occupies more than a quarter of an acre of land : 5 July, 1848	12
Circular as to the Quantity of Food to be allowed to Able-bodied Men receiving Out-door Relief : 5 May, 1848	13
Circular prescribing a Form of Workhouse Vaccination Register : 18 May, 1848	13
Circular as to the Preparatory Steps to be taken in Unions where Out-door Relief to Able-bodied Poor Persons shall be Discontinued : 31 July, 1848	14
Circular to Boards of Guardians as to Collectors' Bonds : 7 August, 1848	14
Circular to Boards of Guardians respecting the Crops : 14 August, 1848	15
Circular of Inquiry to Poor Law Inspectors, as to state of Crops in Ireland : 9 August, 1848	15
Permanent Inspectors' Reports on Districts of Unions, in reply	15-18
Temporary Inspectors' Reports on particular Unions, in reply	19-56
Circular to Vice-Guardians respecting the Potato Crop : 11 August, 1848	56
Vice-Guardians' Reports on particular Unions, in reply	57-74
Letters from Sir James Dombrain, Inspector-General of the Coast Guard, dated 13 and 17 August, respectively, as to the Potato Crop	74

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE UNDER-MENTIONED UNIONS :—

	Page		Page		Page		Page
BALLINASLOE	97	CASTLEBAR	192	LOUGHREA	86	SWINEFORD	140
BALLINROBE	145	CASTLEBAR AND WESTPORT	180	LOWTHERSTOWN	163	WEXFORD	130
BOYLE	75	GORT	109	SLIGO	143

BALLINASLOE UNION.

	Date. 1848.	SUBJECT.
The Commissioners to Mr. Flanagan	17 May	Alleged Fatal Effect to poor Persons who have attended at the Workhouse without having their Cases investigated	97
Mr. Flanagan to the Commissioners	22 May	Report, respecting the above	97
The Commissioners to the Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert	24 May	Respecting the above	97
The Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert to the Commissioners	28 May	Administration of Relief in the Union	97-99

	Date. 1848	SUBJECT.	Page
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	31 May	Enclosing a Copy of the above Communication	99
The Commissioners to Capt. Labalmondier, ...	31 May	Enclosing a Copy of the above Communication of 28 May, and instructing him to Report	99
The Commissioners to the Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert	31 May	Stating that an Inquiry has been directed	100
The Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert to the Commissioners	5 June	The same subject as above	100
The Commissioners to the Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert	7 June	In reference to the above	101
The Commissioners to Capt. Labalmondier, ...	7 June	Enclosing above letter of 5th June	101, 102
Capt. Labalmondier to the Commissioners, ...	9 June	Report in pursuance of direction of 31 May	102-105
The Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert to the Commissioners	9 June	Enclosing Copy of a Letter written to Captain Labalmondier on the same Subject as above	105-107
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	17 June	Letter on the Report of Captain Labalmondier, and announcing that Major Stuart will proceed to the Union as Temporary Poor Law Inspector	107, 108
The Commissioners to the Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert	17 June	Stating that Major Stuart has been instructed to proceed to the Union	108

BALLINROBE UNION.

1848.

The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	13 July	Alleged ill-treatment of a Lad in the Workhouse, owing to which he is said to have died	145, 146
Dr. Dempster to the Commissioners	14 July	Extract from newspaper respecting Riot at the Workhouse;—the Rev. Mr. Conway, Roman Catholic Curate	146, 147
The Commissioners to Dr. Dempster	15 July	Reply to the above	147
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	15 July	Instructions to inquire as to the facts	147
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	14 July	Stoppage of Rations of Rioters	147
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	15 July	Reply to Letters of 13 and 14 July	147
Dr. Dempster to the Commissioners	15 July	Informations sworn against Murphy the Master of the Workhouse;—the Rev. Mr. Conway	148, 149
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	18 July	Master of Workhouse committed to Trial on a charge of Murder	149
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	19 July	Reply to the foregoing	149
The Protestant and Roman Catholic Chaplains of the Workhouse to the Commissioners	18 July	Requesting that Protection may be afforded to Mr. Murphy, Workhouse Master	149, 150
The Commissioners to the Chaplains	19 July	Reply to the above	150
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	20 July	Forwarding copy of Chaplains' letter of 18 July, and reply	150
Dr. Dempster to the Commissioners	18 July	Statement that a man named Martin Casey had escaped from the Workhouse, where it was said the Officers had attempted to Murder him;—the Rev. Mr. Conway	150, 151
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	19 July	Detailed account as to the committal of the Master of the Workhouse on a charge of Murder;—the Rev. Mr. Conway	152
The Commissioners to Mr. Redington	20 July	Letter respecting the same	152, 153
The Rev. J. Anderson to the Commissioners	20 July	Testimonials of Character given to Mr. Murphy on retiring from the Carlow Workhouse	153
The Commissioners to the Rev. J. Anderson	22 July	Reply to the foregoing	153
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners	22 July	Report pursuant to Instructions of 15 and 20 July, ...	153, 154
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	25 July	Reply to the foregoing, approving of Mr. Bourke not holding the Inquiry under the circumstances	154
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	22 July	Conduct of Captain Bindon, Sub-Inspector of Police	155
The Commissioners to Colonel McGregor, Inspector-General of Constabulary	1 Aug.	Respecting the above	155
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners	25 July	Respecting the Charges against the Workhouse Master, ...	156
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	29 July	Reply to the foregoing	156
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	3 Aug.	Bills of Indictment against Workhouse Master ignored by Grand Jury	156
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	4 Aug.	Report of Original Investigation before the Magistrates requested	157
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	31 July	Reduction of Out-door Relief Lists;—want of co-operation from Local Persons in Administration of Out-Door Relief;—increased Workhouse Accommodation, ...	157, 158
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	8 Aug.	Reply to the foregoing	158
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners	5 Aug.	Report respecting Trial of Workhouse Master for Manslaughter	158
Captain Farren, ...	6 Aug.	The same Subject, and Acquittal of Master	159, 160

CONTENTS.

v

	Date. 1848.	SUBJECT.	Page
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners .	6 Aug.	The same Subject	160
Dr. Dempster to the Commissioners .	6 Aug.	The same Subject	160
The Commissioners to Dr. Dempster .	9 Aug.	Reply to the foregoing	161
The Rev. J. Anderson to the Commissioners	6 Aug.	Acquittal of Workhouse Master	161, 162
The Commissioners to the Rev. J. Anderson	9 Aug.	Reply to the foregoing	162

BOYLE UNION.

	1848.
The Commissioners to Captain Wynne .	6 April	Deaths from Starvation	75
Captain Wynne to the Commissioners .	13 April	Report and Evidence in reply to the foregoing	76-82
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	20 April	Requesting the Guardians' Explanation on the above Subject	82-84
		Extract from the Guardians' Minutes of the 27th April, in reply	84, 85
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	4 May	Announcing the Dissolution of the Board of Guardians	85

CASTLEBAR AND WESTPORT UNIONS.

	1848.
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians .	15 April	The Two Unions to be placed under Separate Boards of Vice-Guardians	180
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners .	16 April	Administration of Relief to Able-bodied ; Rules, &c., ...	180-184
The Same to the Same	8 May	Collection of the Rates; Administration of Relief; Proceedings Satisfactorily; Achill and Ballycroy; Cultivation of Land	184-187
		Appointment of Medical Officer, under 10 Vic. c. 31	187
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	16 May	Reply to the foregoing	187
		Resolutions of Roman Catholic Clergy, relative to the Poor Law and its Effects; 25 April	187, 188
The Commissioners to Mr. Redington .	9 May	Respecting the above Resolutions	188, 189
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners .	11 May	Operation of the Poor Law, and Condition of Inhabitants of Clare Island Boffin Island, &c.	189, 190
The Same to the Same	14 May	The same Subject; Report of Medical Officer on the Sanitary Condition of Electoral Division of Clare Island	190, 191
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	20 May	Commissioners will Appoint a Medical Officer for the above Division	191

CASTLEBAR UNION.

Continuation of Correspondence between the Earl of Lucan and the Vice-Guardians, or their Solicitor, on the subject of Poor Rates.

	1848.
The Earl of Lucan to Mr. O'Donel	15 Feb.		192
Mr. O'Donel to the Earl of Lucan	18 Feb.		193
The Clerk of the Union to the Earl of Lucan	15 Feb.		193
Mr. O'Donel to the Earl of Lucan	20 Mar.		193
The Same to the Same	6 April		193

GORT UNION.

	1848.
Viscount Gort to the Commissioners	4 June	As to Proceedings of the Vice-Guardians And Resolutions adopted at a meeting of the late Board of Guardians, dated 27 May.	109
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	8 June	Instructions to Inquire into the Expenditure of the Union, and the Manner in which the Out-door Relief is distributed by the Vice-Guardians	109, 110
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians .	6 June	Enclosing Resolutions of late Guardians above referred to	110
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners .	7 June	Reply to the foregoing	110-113
The Commissioners to Lord Gort	13 June	Reply to above Letter of 4 June	113-116
Viscount Gort to the Commissioners	16 June	Reply to Commissioners' Letter of 13 June	116
The Rev. Mr. Nagle to the Commissioners .	17 June	Minutes of Proceedings of Roman Catholic Clergymen at a Meeting on the 13th June, respecting the Administration of Relief in the Union	116, 117
The Commissioners to the Rev. Mr. Nagle .	20 June	Attention of Government will be called to Resolutions as to Waste Lands in the Union	117
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners .	24 June	Report for the Week; Rate; British Association; Loan; Destitution Increasing; Sanitary Condition of District	117, 118
Mr. Bourke to the Commissioners	21 July	Report, pursuant to Instructions of 8 June	119-129
The Commissioners to Mr. Bourke	4 Aug.	Reply to the foregoing	129

CONTENTS.

LOUGHREA UNION.

	Date. 1848.	SUBJECT.	Page
Sir Thomas Burke to the Commissioners	15 June	Respecting the administration of the affairs of the Union by the Vice-Guardians	86
The Same to the Same	15 June	The same Subject	86
The Commissioners to Sir Thomas Burke	24 June	Reply to the foregoing	86, 87
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	28 June	Reply to Sir Thomas Burke's letter	87-90
The Same to the Same	29 June	Report on the Union generally	90-92
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	7 July	Reply to the foregoing	92
The Vice-Guardians to the Commissioners	7 Aug.	Report on the State of the Union; Collection of Rate; Financial State of Union; Expense of Out-door Relief; Sanitary Condition of Workhouse; Want of additional Land in connexion with Workhouse; Harvest prospect, and state of Crops	92-95
The Commissioners to the Vice-Guardians	9 Aug.	Reply to the foregoing	95
The Same to the Same	18 Aug.	Respecting matter in the above Report	95, 96

LOWTHERSTOWN UNION.

1848.

The Clerk of the Guardians to the Commissioners	7 April	Enclosing a copy of a Report of the Visiting Committee, as to the Management of the Union affairs by the late Vice-Guardians	163, 164
		Extract from the Guardians' Minutes, April 12; Special Report of the Finance Committee	164
The Same to the Same	17 April	Expense of Out-door Relief	165
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	17 April	Amount of Establishment Account	165
The Clerk of the Guardians to the Commissioners	19 April	The same Subject	165
		Extract from Guardians' Minutes, April 19, as to Registry of Paupers,	166
		Extract from Guardians' Minutes, April 26, renting a House	166
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	5 May	The same Subject	166
		Extract from Guardians' Minutes, May 10, as to Accommodation for Relief,	166
		Extract from Report of Visiting Committee, May 10, respecting the Original Arrangement of part of the Workhouse	166
Messrs. M'Manus and Morton, late Vice-Guardians, to the Commissioners	29 May	Report on the affairs of the Union generally	167-176
Mr Morton to the Commissioners	18 May	Respecting the terms on which Montgomery's house was taken	177
Mr. M'Manus to the Commissioners	3 June	The same Subject	178
Mr. Wilkinson, Architect, to the Commissioners	8 May	Respecting the Workhouse Plans	178, 179
The Same to the Same	19 May	The same Subject	179

SLIGO UNION.

1848.

The Commissioners to Sir C. Trevelyan	15 July	Financial state of the Union	143, 144
Sir C. Trevelyan to the Commissioners	20 July	Such aid as may be indispensably necessary, granted till next Harvest	144
The Commissioners to Captain Gilbert, Temporary Inspector	22 July	Enclosing a copy of the above	144

SWINEFORD UNION.

1848.

		Extract from Guardians' Minutes, June 20, 1848, as to Union Finances	140
Captain Hanley to the Commissioners	28 June	Financial Affairs of the Union	140
Colonel V. Jackson to the Commissioners	28 June	Applying for a Loan of Money for the Union	141
The Commissioners to Sir Chas. Trevelyan	1 July	Statement of the Financial Embarrassment of the Union, and request that Aid may be afforded it	141, 142
Sir Chas. Trevelyan to the Commissioners	5 July	Granting Aid to be made in Grants to the extent of £2,000	142
The Commissioners to the Clerk of the Guardians	8 July	Announcing the decision of the Treasury	142

WEXFORD UNION.

	Date. 1848.	SUBJECT.	Page
Mr. Burke to the Commissioners	30 May	Cost of Patients in Wexford Temporary Fever Hospital	130, 131
The Commissioners to Mr. Phelan	1 June	Instructions to Inquire and Report on the above	131
The Commissioners to Mr. Burke	1 June	Informing him accordingly	131
Mr. Phelan to the Commissioners	13 June	Report pursuant to above Instructions	131-135
The Commissioners to the Board of Health	23 June	Letter enclosing Copy of foregoing Report, and adverting to Irregularity in the Management of the Hospital	135
The Board of Health to the Commissioners	14 July	On the same Subject	135-138
The Commissioners to the Board of Health	22 July	Letter in reply	138
The Commissioners to the Finance Committee	25 July	Forwarding the substance of Report from the Central Board of Health	138
The Board of Health to the Commissioners	25 July	As to Quantity of Stimulants used in Hospital, and Dietary	138
The Board of Health to the Commissioners	8 Aug.	Further Letter on the same Subject, enclosing Copy of Letter addressed to the Chairman of the Wexford Relief Committee, and Dr. Cardiff, Medical Officer of the Fever Hospital	138, 139

FINANCIAL RETURNS, in continuation of similar series in Sixth Series of Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session, for the Months of April, May, and June, respectively	195
Statement showing for each Poor Law Union in Ireland,—
I. The Average Numbers of Destitute Persons Relieved in the Workhouse, and out of the Workhouse, during the months of April, May, and June, respectively :—
II. The Expenses of each Month, distinguishing the Cost of In-Maintenance, of Out-Relief, and of all other Expenses :—
III. The Progress of the Collection of Poor Rate during each Month, compared with the Expenses of the Month :—
IV. The Financial Condition at the close of each Month, the State of the Balance on the Treasurer's Account, and the Amount of Liabilities to Contractors or others, exclusive of any sum due to Her Majesty's Government on account of Building Loans or other Advances :—
V. A Comparative Statement of the Collection and Expenses of the Seven Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th April, 1848	202
VI. A Comparative Statement of the Collection and Expenses of the Eight Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 31st May, 1848	210
VII. A Comparative Statement of the Collection and Expenses of the Nine Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th June, 1848	218
RETURN of PAUPERS in WORKHOUSES : in continuation of Returns in Sixth Series of Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session	220
Summaries of Weekly Returns of Inmates in the Workhouses in the several Provinces in Ireland, and Fever Hospitals connected therewith, in the months of April, May, June, and July, 1848, and in the corresponding Weeks in the Years 1847 and 1846, respectively ; showing the Amount of Workhouse Accommodation, Numbers of the several Classes in the Workhouses, the Increase or Decrease in each Week as compared with the previous Week of the Year, also with the corresponding Weeks of the previous Years, and the Number of Fever Patients and of Deaths	220
RETURN of PERSONS receiving OUT-DOOR RELIEF, and of the Expenditure thereon, for a period of Sixteen Weeks, ending July 29, 1848	228
RETURN showing the AVERAGE WEEKLY COST of MAINTENANCE per head (exclusive of Clothing), and the TOTAL NUMBER of PAUPERS RELIEVED in each Union in Ireland ; distinguishing the In-door and Out-door Poor, for the Weeks ended the 8th January, the 5th February, the 4th March, the 8th April, the 6th May, and 3rd June, 1848, respectively ; distinguishing the Unions under the Charge of Temporary Inspectors	248

PAPERS

RELATING TO

PROCEEDINGS FOR THE RELIEF OF THE DISTRESS,

AND

STATE OF UNIONS AND WORKHOUSES,

IN IRELAND.

SEVENTH SERIES.—1848.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Miscellaneous.

Count STRZELECKI to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 31, 1848.

I BEG to enclose, for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners, a statement showing the periods on which, according to the opinion of the Poor Law Inspectors, the relief to children should stop in their respective Unions.

ENCLOSURE.

STATEMENT showing the date at which the Poor Law Inspectors recommend that the Relief to Children should be closed:—

Unions in which the relief is to be closed on the 20th August.			Unions in which the relief is to be closed on the 31st August.
No.	Name of Unions.	Number of Children.	No.	Name of Unions.	Number of Children.
1	Ballina, ...	14,291	1	Boyle, ...	3,960
2	Belmullet, ...	3,683	2	Carrick-on-Shannon, ...	4,140
3	Ballinrobe, ...	7,023	3	Castlerea, ...	8,744
4	Ballyshannon, ...	8,185	4	Kilrush, ...	4,189
5	Bantry, ...	9,411	5	Listowel, ...	7,017
6	Cahiriveen, ...	2,614	6	Milford, ...	2,716
7	Castlebar, ...	4,858	7	Manorhamilton, ...	4,000
8	Clifden, ...	4,226	8	Roscommon, ...	2,117
9	Donegal, ...	5,955	9	Sligo, ...	8,000
10	Galway, ...	4,618	10	Dingle, ...	2,715
11	Glenties, ...	6,211
12	Kenmare, ...	4,213
13	Skibbereen, ...	19,141
14	Swineford, ...	19,064
15	Tuam, ...	4,640
16	Westport, ...	8,380
		126,513
		47,598
	Total number of children,	174,111

Dublin, 31st July, 1848.

P. E. DE STRZELECKI.
B

Miscellaneous.

Mr. LLOYD, Chairman of the British Association for the Relief of Distress in Ireland and Scotland, to Count STRZELECKI:—July 21, 1848.

I AM specially instructed by the Committee of the British Association for the relief of distress in Ireland and Scotland, to transmit to you the enclosed resolutions. In discharging this duty, I feel it difficult to confine myself to the cold and measured language of official form. Having devoted an almost uninterrupted attention to the business of the Committee, I have had the means of observing and appreciating the value of the assistance which you have rendered to us from the commencement to the final termination of our proceedings, and which I am sure even the warm language of the resolutions does but imperfectly express.

No great length of time has elapsed since I came forward to certify your fitness to be admitted to the privileges of a British subject; I gave this testimony as a private individual, upon the knowledge which I then possessed of your character—and I did it with unhesitating confidence. But little did I then anticipate that I should so soon be called upon, in a more public capacity, to recognise the abundant proof which you have since afforded, that you possess those high moral qualities which the British public always holds in the greatest esteem; and at the same time to thank you for the valuable co-operation which you have rendered in carrying out one of the noblest efforts, which, even British generosity, has ever made for the relief of distress arising out of a most appalling national calamity.

You have indeed established the strongest claim upon the gratitude of the country which you have adopted. Long may you live to adorn it by your virtues, and to benefit it by the further services which you are capable of rendering to it.

I cannot express to you too strongly the respect and esteem which your conduct has created in the breast of every member of the Committee.

The resolutions which I transmit to you are a candid and honest expression of our united feeling on this subject. To these, let me add the assurance of the personal regard and admiration of your faithful servant and friend.

ENCLOSURE.

At a meeting of the Committee of the British Relief Association, held on Thursday, the 20th July, 1848, it was resolved unanimously—

That this Committee, on the occasion of bringing to a close their official intercourse with the Count P. E. de Strzelecki, feel that the services which he has rendered to the British Association, in their efforts for the relief of distress in Ireland, demand a peculiar and marked acknowledgment.

That the Committee recognise, with the deepest respect and gratitude, the noble spirit which induced Count Strzelecki to place his gratuitous services at their disposal, in the commencement of their proceedings, and the steady perseverance and moral resolution with which, during eighteen months, he has discharged duties involving great labour and anxiety, and a considerable degree of personal risk in carrying out the purposes of the Association; first, in some of the most distressed and desolate districts of Ireland, and subsequently in Dublin.

That the successful result which has attended the labours of the Committee; the grateful acknowledgments which they have received, as well from the gentry and clergy of all denominations in Ireland, as from the recipients of the bounty of the Association; and the full approbation of the measures of the Association, expressed by the Lord Lieutenant and the Government in England, have afforded to the Committee the greatest satisfaction; for which they feel that they are largely indebted to the very able and zealous assistance which they have received from the Count de Strzelecki.

That this Committee, whilst, tendering to Count Strzelecki this testimony of respect and gratitude, for services equally remarkable for their efficiency as for their disinterested character, cannot refrain from expressing their hope that the persevering energy, the correct judgment, and the varied capacity of usefulness of which he has afforded such abundant proof during his connexion with the British Association, may still be rendered available in some other form to his adopted country.

That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to Count de Strzelecki, by the chairman, on behalf of the Committee.

By order of the Committee,

S. J. LLOYD, Chairman.

*Committee-room, South Sea House,
July 21, 1848.*

Count STRZELECKI to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 25, 1848.

THE Committee of the British Relief Association, in terminating their mission and labours in Ireland, could not separate without recording and passing unanimously a vote of thanks and acknowledgments to the Poor Law Inspectors, for the fine spirit with which they have volunteered their gratuitous services to superintend the relief afforded by the Association in the distressed districts; and for the ability and perseverance with which they have discharged that trust since October last, notwithstanding that, by the performance of this additional duty, they entailed upon themselves great personal labour and anxiety, and, from the peculiar nature of the charity dispensed, unavoidably exposed themselves in some instances to much personal hostility.

The Committee having directed me to express to the Poor Law Inspectors this grateful acknowledgment of theirs, I cannot do better than to lay the accompanying minute of resolutions before you, assured as I am that, as the head of the department which rendered such signal services to the subscribers to the fund, you will not only receive with satisfaction the testimony which the Committee offers to the efficiency and value of the officers whom you selected, but that by transmitting to them the vote of the Association, you will stamp that vote with authority, which will render it doubly valuable to them.

I gladly avail myself of this opportunity, afforded to me by the Committee's own acknowledgment, to offer in all sincerity mine to you and to your department, for the constant support and co-operation in the discharge of my duty as the executive officer of the Association, and to which I mainly attribute the successful operation of the measures adopted by them for the relief of distress in this country.

ENCLOSURE.

At a Meeting of the Committee of the British Relief Association, held on Thursday, the 20th July, 1848, it was resolved unanimously—

That this Committee is deeply sensible of its obligation to the Poor Law Inspectors, who volunteered their valuable services and assistance in administering the relief of the British Association in the more distressed Unions in the south and west of Ireland, and thus contributed by their local knowledge and personal superintendence to secure the judicious and efficient application of the funds of the Association.

That Count de Strzelecki be requested to express this feeling, on behalf of the Committee, to the Poor Law Inspectors; and at the same time to convey to them the grateful acknowledgments and thanks of the Committee.

By order of the Committee,

Committee-room, South Sea House,
July 21, 1848.

(Signed,) S. J. LLOYD, Chairman.

The COMMISSIONERS to Count STRZELECKI, in reply to the foregoing:—
July 27, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th instant, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed on the 20th instant, by the Committee of the British Relief Association, in which the Committee record their obligation to the Poor Law Inspectors for their valuable services and assistance in administering the relief of the British Association in the more distressed districts in the south and west of Ireland.

The Commissioners have given directions for transmitting a copy of your letter, and of the resolution of the Committee, to each of the Poor Law Inspectors to whom the resolution refers; and the Commissioners do not doubt that the Inspectors will feel highly gratified by the flattering manner in which the Committee and yourself have been pleased to acknowledge their services.

At the same time, the Commissioners deem it right to express to you the high sense which the Commissioners entertain of the advantages which the Inspectors and the Commissioners have derived from the method, punctuality, zeal, and discrimination with which you have superintended the operations for the relief of the school children in the distressed districts. And the Commissioners are convinced that it must be a source of true and refined pleasure to your benevolent mind, to know that your exertions in behalf of the poor children have been attended with even more than that measure of success which could have been anticipated, considering the unfortunate circumstances in which the population of the south and west of Ireland have been placed during the last two years, by the total or partial failure of their accustomed food.

Miscellaneous.

The COMMISSIONERS to the TEMPORARY POOR LAW INSPECTORS of the UNIONS in which the RELIEF of the BRITISH ASSOCIATION was administered.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
July 29, 1848.*

SIR,

I AM directed by the Commissioners to transmit to you herewith a copy of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Committee of the British Relief Association, held on Thursday, the 20th of July, 1848, in which the Committee record their obligation to you and the other Poor Law Inspectors who volunteered their valuable services and assistance in administering the relief of the British Association in the more distressed Unions in the south and west of Ireland; and in which they request Count Strzelecki to express this feeling to you on their behalf, and to convey to you their grateful acknowledgments and thanks.

The Commissioners likewise transmit to you herewith the copy of a letter of Count Strzelecki, dated the 25th instant, in which he expresses to you the feeling which the Committee entertain in reference to your valuable services, and conveys to you their acknowledgments and thanks in accordance with the resolution of the Committee.

The Commissioners feel much gratification in being the medium of communicating to you the Committee's resolution and Count Strzelecki's letter; and they have pleasure at the same time in signifying their concurrence with the opinion expressed in those documents, concerning the value of your services.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To Temporary Poor Law Inspector.

Sir CHARLES E. TREVELYAN to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 31, 1848.

THE Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury having had again under their consideration, the correspondence relative to the repayment of the advances made for the relief of distress in Ireland, under the authority of the 10th Vic. cap. 7, are pleased to give the following directions for your guidance:—

Their lordships will not insist upon any repayment being made which would entail the striking of a new rate before next harvest.

They however desire, that you will examine into the financial condition of such Unions as have balances in hand; and that you will direct the treasurers to pay to the Paymaster of Civil Services, such sums as are due from the several electoral divisions, or so much as can be paid without withdrawing funds which are indispensably required for the relief of the poor until next harvest.

With regard to the subsequent repayments I am to observe, that, under the arrangement of last autumn, by which repayment was to be made to the extent of the difference between the current poor-law expenditure, and the produce of a rate of not less than 3s. in the pound, in any electoral division, repayments have been made only to a small amount; and in many instances this has not been owing to the largeness of the amount required for the expenditure under the ordinary Poor Relief Acts, but has been caused either by no rates having been struck, or such only as, being under 3s. in the pound, left no room for the repayment of the advances.

My lords must require such rates to be struck in the ensuing season as will allow of repayment being duly made; and also, that the rates should be struck sufficiently early to admit of their being collected at the usual period after harvest, and of the repayment being at once made out of the produce of the rate.

It will be remembered that the advances were made under the Act 10 Vic. cap. 7, only upon the Board of Guardians having resolved to make a rate for the purposes of the Act, and the Inspector of the Union having certified to the Relief Commissioners that such resolution had been passed, and that to the best of his belief, the Guardians were proceeding with all possible despatch to make and levy such rate.

These terms were subsequently relaxed by permission being given, under the authority of the Act, to withdraw sums from the produce of the rate for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the poor law.

In order to determine the amount to be repaid after next harvest by each electoral division, some general rule must be laid down which will adapt itself to the various circumstances of those districts; and it has occurred to my lords, that the sum to be demanded from each electoral division, should in no case be less than the difference between the expense actually incurred in the maintenance of their poor from Michaelmas, 1847, to Lady Day, 1848, and the sum which would be raised by a rate of 3s. in the pound on such electoral division.

Their lordships, therefore, desire that you will report without delay, in reference to each electoral division, from which any repayments are due—

- 1st. The sum which a rate of 3s. in the pound will produce.
- 2nd. The expense which has been incurred in maintaining their poor from September, 1847, to March, 1848.
- 3rd. The difference between these two amounts.
- 4th. The sum remaining due.

CIRCULAR to BOARDS of GUARDIANS respecting the EXPENDITURE of the HALF-YEARS, ending 25th March, and 29th September, 1848, respectively.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 16, 1848.*

SIR,

THE Commissioners request that you will prepare with the least possible delay, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, a statement of the expense incurred by the several electoral divisions of the Union, in maintaining the poor from the 29th September, 1847, to the 25th March, 1848, showing the amount per pound of such expense on the valuation of the divisions; also a statement of the estimated expense which will be incurred by the several electoral divisions of the Union in maintaining the poor from the 25th March, 1848, to the 29th September, 1848, showing the balance, if any, which will remain to the credit of the divisions out of the present rates, after defraying the estimated expense to the 29th September, 1848.

The Commissioners consider that the estimate required to be prepared by you in accordance with their circular letter of the 9th March last, will be of assistance to you in preparing the statements now required, and the Commissioners enclose duplicate forms in which you will make up the statements.

As regards the manner of calculating the expenses of the half-year ended 25th March, 1848, the Commissioners have reason to believe that in the usual monthly statements of expenses, the clerks of some few Unions have made up the returns of expenses not according to the expenses incurred (whether paid for or not), but according to the Treasurers' payments; thus making a return of payments instead of a return of expenses.

It is to be observed therefore, that the amount to be entered in cols. 4 to 8, is the actual expense incurred in maintaining the poor and keeping up the establishment from the 29th September, 1847, to the 25th March, 1848; accordingly, you will give the actual cost of in-door maintenance according to the collective days of the half-year, and likewise the actual cost of out-relief, according to the actual relief afforded; and these two items should agree exactly, or as nearly as possible, with the corresponding items to be entered in the abstracts of accounts for the half-year in question.

As regards the establishment and other charges for the half-year, the Commissioners wish you to state as nearly as possible the expenses actually incurred under those heads during the half-year, on the same principle as you make up the monthly return of expenses incurred, including officers' salaries, &c., whether paid or not within the half-year.

The Commissioners direct me to state, that the speedy preparation of this return is of much importance, and they request that you will apply yourself to its completion with the least possible loss of time, so that it may be received by the Commissioners within a fortnight.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

STATEMENT of the actual Expenditure for each Electoral Division of the Union for the Half-year from 29th September, 1847, from the 25th March to

Dr.

Dr.
NAME OF EACH ELECTORAL DIVISION.	Actual Expenses incurred during the Half-year ended 25th March, 1948.			Estimated Amount of the Expenses which will probably be incurred during the Half-year ended 29th September, 1948.
1.	Balances against the Electoral Division on the 30th September, 1947, representing the balance of the accounts for the Half-year ended 29th Sept., 1947.			On Account of In-Maintenance.
2.	Net Amount of Establishment and other Debts (excluding Debts to Government not charged against the Divisions in the Accounts closing 29th September, 1947, and consequently not covered by the Government) in favour of the Electoral Division, as given in Columns 2 and 3.			On Account of Out-Relief.
3.	On Account of Temporary Fever Hospital, chargeable to the Union at large.			On account of Establishment, Salaries, and all other Expenses actually incurred.
4.	Total Expenses actually incurred during the Half-year, (Cols. 4 to 7.)			Amount per Pound on the Valuation, of the Total Expenses incurred during the Half-year, (Col. 8.)
5.	On Account of In-Maintenance.			On Account of Out-Relief.
6.	On Account of Temporary Fever Hospital, chargeable to the Union at large.			On Account of Temporary Fever Hospital, chargeable to the Union at large.
7.	On Account of Establishment, Salaries, and all other Expenses likely to be incurred during the Half-year.			Total Expenses likely to be incurred during the Half-year, (Cols. 10 to 12.)
8.	Amount per Pound on the Valuation, of the Total Expenses likely to be incurred during the Half-year, (Col. 13.)			Total Expenditure, actual and estimated, for the year ending 29th September, 1948, (Cols. 2 and 4.)
9.	Amount per Pound on the Valuation, of the Total Expenditure, of the year, (Col. 14.)			Total Amount of Cols. 2, 3, and 10, being the Amount of Rate which would be required to cover the Debts due at the beginning of the year, (Col. 2), and the Expenditure of the year, (Col. 10.)
10.	Amount per Pound on the Valuation, of the Amount of Rate required, (Col. 15.)
11.	Total Union

NOTE.—The Expenditure, actual and estimated, on account of Paupers chargeable to the Union at large is to be included in the several columns
NOTE ON COLUMN 8.—The Clerk is particularly requested to make out the Statement of the actual Expenses of the Half-year ended 25th March, with reference only to the actual cost of Maintenance and Relief, and the actual Establishment Expenses, Salaries, and other Expenses incurred during will be calculated in the same manner as for the Monthly Return of Expenses, viz.:—according to the cost of Clothing and Bedding, Medicine, Furniture, Repairs completed, including additional Buildings.

CIRCULAR to BOARDS of GUARDIANS respecting the LEVYING OF RATES.

Miscellaneous.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
1848.

SIR,

WITH reference to the rates next to be levied in Union, the Commissioners desire to acquaint the Guardians concerning the sums due on account of advances made by the Relief Commissioners in 1847, on the credit of the rates, that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury require that such rates should be made in the ensuing season as will allow of repayment being duly made, wholly or in part, and that the rates should be made sufficiently early to admit of their being collected at the usual period after harvest, and of the repayment being at once made out of the produce of the rates.

It will be remembered that the advances were made under the Act 10 Vic., cap. 7, only upon the Board of Guardians having resolved to make a rate for the purposes of the Act, and the Inspector of the Union having certified to the Relief Commissioners that such resolution had been passed, and that, to the best of his belief, the Guardians were proceeding with all possible despatch to make and levy such rate.

The sum to be demanded from each electoral division, in the rate after harvest, is to be regulated by the amount of expenses actually incurred in the maintenance of the poor from Michaelmas, 1847, to 25th March, 1848.

If the entire debt of any electoral division to the Relief Commissioners, added

Captain WYNNE'S REPORT:—May 8, 1848.

THIS poor woman was found dead in a ditch, into which it is supposed she fell from exhaustion on her return from the relief depot, where she had procured about a quarter stone of oatmeal from the paupers. She no doubt came by her death as stated in the verdict; and her husband and children, I fear, are likely to follow, as he will not give up the land he holds, twelve acres, and the run of the mountain. I find that no application was made by or on behalf of this family till after the inquest on deceased, and that then, in consideration of the extreme destitution of the parties, the relieving officer offered them a ticket for the house, although the father would not give up the land.

This case is certainly one of the worst I have met with. I do not think the family can hold out much longer; and yet the father will neither conform to the law, and entitle himself to relief, nor will he accept the workhouse, if we offered it. It is difficult to manage such cases, and they are by no means uncommon.

COPY POLICE REPORT received from the Under Secretary for Ireland, 29th April, 1848.

(Westport Union.)

County of Mayo, Westport, April 15, 1848.

AN inquest was held on the body of Michael Brady, who died in the Westport Union.

Copy of Verdict.—"Died from starvation."

Inspector-General.

DENIS WALSH, Q. S. I.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. LYNCH:—May 1, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a communication which they have received from the Under Secretary's office, relating to the decease of a poor man in the Westport Union, named Michael Brady; and I am to request that you will have the goodness to make such inquiry into the circumstances as may enable you to report to the Commissioners as to the facts of the case; and especially whether the deceased made application for relief either to the Vice-Guardians of the Westport Union, to the workhouse master, or to any of the relieving officers.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of WESTPORT UNION:—May 1, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a copy of a communication which they have received from the Under Secretary's office, relating to the decease of a poor man in the Westport Union, named Michael Brady; and I am to request that the Commissioners may be furnished with the observations of the Vice-Guardians of the Westport Union thereon.

Mr. LYNCH to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 9, 1848.

IN accordance with the directions contained in your letter of the 1st instant, I made inquiry into the circumstances connected with the death of a poor man, named Michael Bradley, not Brady, and I find that he died from want. He resided in the townland of Creganrue, in the electoral division of Louisburgh. He held two or three acres of land, and, therefore, never applied to the relieving officer for assistance; but left his home for the purpose of begging, and died on the side of the road, within two miles of the town of Westport. His wife, with one infant, have since abandoned the holding at Creganrue, and are gone to live at a place called Derrygorriff, in the same electoral division, and are now receiving out-door relief.

Mr. Carroll, the relieving officer of Louisburgh, reports that there are several families in the most urgent distress, who being holders of land are excluded from relief; that several of these persons have sold their beds and clothing to enable them to purchase seed for the land, and are now actually starving; but still are unwilling to abandon their little farms. I may add, that such cases are not peculiar to Louisburgh, but are to be found in almost every district in the Union.

Miscellaneous.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS of the VICE-GUARDIANS :—May 10, 1848.

THE Vice-Guardians have directed the relieving officers to be questioned on the subject; but such a person is not known by any of the relieving officers.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON :—May 13, 1848.

WITH reference to the communication referred to the Commissioners on the 29th ultimo, relating to the death of a poor man named Michael Bradley, in the Westport Union, I am directed by the Commissioners to transmit herewith, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a report which the Commissioners have received from Mr. Lynch, Poor Law Inspector for the Westport Union, on the subject.

OBSERVATIONS of Mr. BOURKE, on the Report of Mr. LYNCH :—May 17, 1848.

“THERE have been two cases of death in the neighbourhood of Westport “since my arrival, under circumstances such as those alluded to by Mr. Lynch.”

CASE for OPINION of The Right Honourable the ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

IT is provided by the 10th section of the 10 Vict. c. 31, “that no person “who shall be in the occupation of any land of greater extent than the quarter of “a statute acre, shall be deemed and taken to be a destitute poor person, under “the provisions of the first recited Act, 1 & 2 Vict. c. 56, or of the Acts amending “the same, or of this Act.” It is further provided by the same section that “if “any person so occupying more than the quarter of a statute acre shall apply for “relief, or if any person on his behalf shall apply for relief, it shall not be lawful “for any Board of Guardians to grant such relief within or out of the workhouse “to any such person.”

By the 54th section of the 1 & 2 Vict. c. 56, it is provided, “that all relief “given under this Act to a wife or child shall be considered as given to the person “declared by this Act to be liable to maintain such wife or child,” and a similar provision is contained in the 8th section of the 10 Vict. c. 31.

The 10 & 11 Vict. c. 84, repeals so much of the 1 & 2 Vict. c. 56 as provides for the punishment of persons deserting their wives and children, but enacts “that every person who shall desert or wilfully neglect to maintain his “wife or any child whom he may be liable to maintain, so that such wife or child “shall become destitute, and be relieved in or out of the workhouse of any Union “in Ireland, shall, on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace, be com- “mitted to the common gaol or house of correction, there to be kept to hard labour “for any time not exceeding three calendar months.”

On the 15th April last an inquest was held in the county of Leitrim on the body of a woman named Wabby M'Sweeney, and the jury returned a verdict to the effect, that “she came by her death from want of the common necessities of “life, and exposure to the inclemency of the weather.” It was stated at the same time, that “the deceased and her family were in great distress, but could not “obtain relief,” as her husband would not give up twelve acres of land.

Inquiry has been made by the Inspector of the Union in which the woman died, in order to ascertain the truth of this statement, and he has confirmed it; and stated at the same time “that the woman's husband and her children are “not likely long to survive her, as the man will not give up the land he holds.”

The Commissioners regard the conduct of the parent in this case as a neglect to maintain his children, and they would, if justified by the law in its present state, recommend the Guardians to relieve the children, and prosecute the father under the section cited from the Vagrant Act.

The Commissioners are desirous of receiving your opinion :

First. Whether the Board of Guardians could legally afford the children of this man relief, either in or out of the workhouse.

Secondly. Whether he can be prosecuted for neglecting to maintain them if they are received into the workhouse, or otherwise relieved from the poor rates.

The above QUERIES have already been submitted to Mr. Jonathan Henn, and the following is his opinion thereon :—

First. I think they can, in the workhouse if there be room for them, or out of it if there be not, if they are in a state of destitution as above described. I do not think the retention of the land by the father will make it illegal to relieve them; but Secondly. If the father, notwithstanding his possession of the land, is really unable to maintain the children, I do not think he could be properly convicted under the 10 and 11 Vict. c. 84, s. 2.

15th May, 1848,
16, Upper Merrion-street.

(Signed,)

J. HENN.

I concur with Mr. Henn in the above opinion. It would not be possible to convict the father for neglecting to maintain the children, considering his refusal to give up his land as such neglect.

But I think, notwithstanding the father's refusal to give up the land, that his children are proper objects for relief.

20th May, 1848.

(Signed,)

J. H. MONAHAN.

CIRCULAR LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
May 23, 1848.*

SIR,

THE Commissioners have been informed that the families of persons occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land suffer in some cases very great privation, in consequence of the head of the family refusing to give up the occupation of any part of such land, and being therefore not entitled to receive relief under the provisions of 10 Vict. c. 31, s. 10.

The Commissioners have resorted to legal advice on this subject, and I am directed to state, that such members of the family of a person holding more than a quarter of an acre of land as may be destitute, can legally be relieved in the workhouse of the Union, or if the workhouse be full, the Guardians may relieve them out of the workhouse, if an order of the Poor Law Commissioners, authorizing the relief of such persons out of the workhouse, under the 2nd section of the Act, be in operation in the Union in which they reside.

The Commissioners desire at the same time to point out, that the provisional power given to relieving officers, under sec. 7 of the Relief Extension Act, applies to every class of destitute persons in all cases of sudden and urgent necessity, whether the parties be or be not relievable out of the workhouse by the Board of Guardians, in virtue of any order of the Poor Law Commissioners issued under the 2nd section of the Extension Act.

It is not to be understood, however, from the above observations, that a person occupying more than a quarter of an acre is himself relievable either in or out of the workhouse.

I am to desire that you will call the immediate attention of the Board of Guardians to the contents of this circular, and to the necessity of their at once giving instruction to the relieving officers of the Union accordingly.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

FURTHER CIRCULAR LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
June 8, 1848.*

SIR,

ADVERTING to their circular of the 23rd ultimo, concerning the relief which may legally be afforded from the poor rates to the destitute wives and children of persons occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland direct me to state, that, having reason to believe that some misapprehension exists as to the precise nature of the modifications which the law, as explained in that circular may introduce into the administration of relief, they desire to make the following observations:—

The only practical difference which that circular need make in the administration of relief is, that Boards of Guardians and relieving officers should not permit the wife or child of a person occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land to die of starvation, or to suffer extreme privations, because the husband or father (as the case may be) refuses to qualify himself for relief, by ceasing to occupy more than such quarter of an acre. But it would be an entire perversion of the meaning of the law, and of the language and meaning of the circular, to give relief systematically and indiscriminately to the wives and children of persons occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land, when the legislature has expressly declared that such occupiers are not to be deemed destitute.

Miscellaneous.

If such occupiers are really able to maintain their wives and families, Boards of Guardians have exactly the same remedy under the Irish Vagrant Act, (10 & 11 Vict. c. 84), against them, as against a person in employment with high wages, who "deserts or wilfully neglects to maintain his wife or any child whom he may be liable to maintain, so that such wife or child shall become destitute, and be relieved in or out of the workhouse of any Union in Ireland." Under that Act any such occupier may be prosecuted for wilfully neglecting to maintain his wife or child, and he "shall, on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace, be committed to the common gaol, or house of correction, there to be kept to hard labour for any time not exceeding three calendar months."

It is true that Boards of Guardians have no adequate protection against a person who, although he persists in occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land, is so poor that he cannot be said, in the legal sense of the words, wilfully to neglect to maintain his wife or child, and who yet is practically the cause of the destitution of such wife or child, by his refusing to bring himself within the conditions through which he would be entitled by law to relief. The Guardians will be thus exposed to numerous attempts at imposition, which can only be successfully met by patient inquiry and discrimination on the part of themselves and of relieving officers. At the same time it is to be remembered that Boards of Guardians are now deemed to be in a position which will enable them to save an innocent wife or child from death by starvation, arising from the obstinacy of a husband or father; and means are thus afforded for the better securing an object, which must be regarded as the principal aim of every poor law, viz., the preservation of human life.

(Signed,) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

CIRCULAR to CLERKS of GUARDIANS respecting the persons relieved, whose husband or father occupies more than a quarter of an acre of land.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
July 5, 1848.*

SIR,

IN reference to the legal construction of the 10th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, adverted to in the circular letters of the 23rd May and 8th June respectively, the Commissioners desire to be furnished with precise information of the circumstances of every case in which the wife or child of a person occupying more than a quarter of an acre of land shall have received, or shall hereafter receive, relief in or out of the workhouse.

A form of return, on which such information is to be entered, is enclosed herewith; and the entries should be made in the order of date in which the several cases have occurred.

You will have the goodness to bring this subject before the Board of Guardians immediately, and apply for a direction of the board to each of the relieving officers to afford you such assistance in the preparation of the return as they may be enabled to give in reference to the cases which have arisen in their respective districts.

The Commissioners will cause such a supply of printed sheets in the form annexed to be sent for your use, as you may from time to time inform them are required for making and keeping up the return of the cases in question.

(Signed,) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of the Union.

FORM OF REPORT.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Date on which Relief was first afforded.	Name of Person relieved.	Name of the Husband or Parent.	Townland in which the Husband or Parent resides.	Electoral Division in which the Townland is situate.	Extent of Land in the occupation of the Husband or Parent.	Present state of the Land, how cropped, &c.	Other known property or means of livelihood of Husband or Parent.	Nature of the order made.	Weekly Cost of Relief ordered.	Other circumstances of the case, showing especially the grounds on which the Guardians or Paid Officers deemed it necessary to afford Relief.

Signed this day of 1848.

Clerk of the Union.

CIRCULAR as to the QUANTITY of FOOD to be allowed to ABLE-BODIED MEN RECEIVING OUT-DOOR RELIEF.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,May 5, 1848.

SIR,

THE Commissioners have had under consideration the subject of the quantity of food to be allowed to able-bodied men receiving out-door relief, on the condition of their being employed eight hours a-day, at least, in breaking stones, or other suitable employment.

The Central Board of Health having been consulted by the Commissioners on this important point, have stated their opinion that one pound of meal is not sufficient for an able-bodied man who is required to work.

The Commissioners of the Board of Health have further stated, in reply to the inquiries of the Commissioners, that the daily allowance to an able-bodied man, required to work for eight or ten hours each day, should be not less than $1\frac{3}{4}$ lbs. of raw meal, or $2\frac{1}{4}$ lbs. of baked bread—a scale which they state may be considered applicable to the daily ration of oat-meal, Indian corn-meal, or wheaten-meal.

The Commissioners have deemed it right to inform the Boards of Guardians of those Unions in which out-door relief is afforded to able-bodied men, of the opinion of the Board of Health on this point, with a view to assist them in the proper exercise of their important function of determining the amount of relief to be afforded in individual cases of destitution.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.To the Clerk of theUnion.

CIRCULAR prescribing a FORM of WORKHOUSE VACCINATION REGISTER.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,May 18, 1848.

SIR,

ADVERTING to their circular of 19th ultimo, relating to the supply of virus for the vaccination of inmates of workhouses who require vaccination, I am directed by the Commissioners to state, that the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution have expressed their desire to be furnished with an annual report of the numbers vaccinated in each workhouse, the periods adopted for the inspection of the several cases, and such other information concerning vaccination as the medical officers of the workhouses may be able to communicate, which it is considered would materially assist in affording important information as to the progress of vaccination.

The Commissioners accordingly transmit herewith a form of register in which the requisite particulars may be recorded; and the Commissioners request that the medical officer of the workhouse may be supplied with a book, in the accompanying form, and be instructed to register therein every case of vaccination by him in the workhouse, in any Union where the Guardians subscribe to the Cow-pock Institution for the supply of vaccine virus.

Miscellaneous.

The Commissioners also request that a return containing a summary of the cases thus registered may be furnished annually to this office, immediately after 25th March.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.To the Clerk of each Union.

REGISTER OF INOCULATIONS.

Workhouse. Year 18 .

No.	Date of Vaccination.	Name of Person Vaccinated.	Age.			Appearance of the Arm.			Remarks.
			Years.	Months.	Days.	8th day.	12th day.	Crust.

CIRCULAR as to the preparatory steps to be taken in Unions where OUT-DOOR RELIEF to ABLE-BODIED POOR PERSONS shall be DISCONTINUED.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
July 31, 1848.*

SIR,

As the period of harvest is approaching, when all orders of the Commissioners authorizing relief out of the workhouse under the 2nd section of the Irish Relief Extension Act will be discontinued, the Commissioners are desirous of calling the attention of all Guardians of Unions wherein any such order is now in force, to the preparatory steps which it is advisable to adopt at the present time.

It is to be observed, that the number of able-bodied persons and their families now in the workhouses of such Unions, are a very considerable proportion of the whole; and as in the period which will intervene between the issuing of the present circular and the harvest, a great diminution in the number of inmates may be expected to arise, by persons of this class leaving the workhouse, the course which the Commissioners recommend is, that so soon as inmates begin of their own accord to quit the workhouse, the vacant room should be made available, by offering admission to persons on the out-relief lists in cases where it appears doubtful whether such persons will longer require relief.

The Guardians will not hesitate, in cases where it is clear that persons may obtain employment, or that they will be otherwise in possession of resources, to discharge them absolutely from the relief lists, whether receiving relief in or out of the workhouse.

The Commissioners leave the period at which these reductions may be safely and properly effected to the discretion of the Guardians, requesting them, however, to bear in mind that the extensive relief afforded in rations at this season of the last year underwent a gradual reduction from the 4th July, and was brought to a close in the majority of Unions throughout Ireland, on the 15th August.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.To the Clerk to the Board of GuardiansUnion.

CIRCULAR to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS as to COLLECTORS' BONDS.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
August 7, 1848.*

SIR,

THE Commissioners have had under consideration the superior progress which has been made in the collection of poor rates in Unions in which the collectors were bound to collect the rates within a limited time; and being anxious to secure generally, a proper discharge of the duties of the office of collector of poor rate, they request the Guardians before issuing a warrant for the collection of any new rate in Union, to bind each collector to collect the amount within such a term (to be specified in the bond), as shall at the time appear to be sufficient for the performance of the duty; and in no case to receive a bond according to the more general form, allowing an unlimited time for the collection.

To effect this object, it will be necessary to have new bonds executed, in case of a present collector being appointed to collect a new rate.

There are several instances in which the greater part of a rate has been efficiently collected within three months.

A form of bond to be used is herewith enclosed. Additional forms may be obtained on application to Mr. Thom, 87, Abbey-street, Dublin.

(Signed,) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of Union.

CIRCULAR to BOARDS of GUARDIANS respecting the CROPS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
August 14, 1848.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state, that they will be much obliged to the Guardians of your Union, if they will be so good as to furnish answers to the questions herewith enclosed, concerning disease in the potato crops.

The Commissioners will be glad at the same time to receive information from the Guardians respecting the condition of the other crops in the Union.

(Signed,) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

The Clerk to the Guardians Union.

ENCLOSURE.

1. Has the potato disease re-appeared in your Union?
2. If yes, in how many electoral divisions, and in which has it appeared?
3. In what electoral divisions has it not appeared?
4. What proportion of the crop has been affected in each electoral division in which the disease has appeared?
5. For how many months' consumption would the healthy portion of the crop supply food?
6. What proportion of the potato crop on the workhouse land is found diseased?

AGRICULTURAL CROPS, IRELAND, 1848.

CIRCULAR OF INQUIRY, TO POOR LAW INSPECTORS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
August 9, 1848.

SIR,

THE Commissioners request that you will transmit to them at the close of the present week (by the post which will reach Dublin on Monday next), a concise statement of the present appearance of the potato crop in each electoral division, so far as you shall have had an opportunity of personal inspection; also of the appearance of the other crops of human food, stating whether the extent of the latter is considered to be as great, or greater, or less, than usual in the Union.

(Signed,) W. STANLEY, Secretary.

PERMANENT INSPECTORS' REPORTS ON DISTRICTS OF UNIONS.

Counties of Antrim, Down, parts of Armagh and Londonderry—Mr. Senior:—
August 12, 1848.

Almost the whole potato crop in the north has, during the past week, become affected with disease. With favourable weather, hope may be entertained that a considerable portion may yet be saved. The oat crop is a good one, and has not suffered from the late rains. The wheat crop, on the contrary, is a light one.

Miscellaneous.

Counties of Mayo and Galway—Mr. R. Bourke:—August 12, 1848.

I have not left the Ballina Union during the whole of this week; but in my progress through various parts of the Union, inspecting the arrangements for administering relief, I have examined attentively into the condition of the potato crop, and have been much concerned to see the progress made by the disease within the last six or seven days. Within this period, the general appearance of the crop has entirely altered, and fields which a week ago were healthy now show every sign of decay. I fear that more than one-half of the potato crop in this Union has already suffered, and I greatly fear the progress of the disease will not be soon arrested. It is difficult to say whether the tuber is so much affected that it cannot be expected to afford wholesome food, but it seems quite certain that even supposing the disease not to extend to the tuber, and that the potato should keep as well as it has done during the past year, yet that the effect produced of checking the growth of the plant before the tubers have come to maturity, will so diminish the quantity of food that the calculations framed at an earlier period will prove quite erroneous.

Farmers are generally digging fast, and potatoes in Ballina market are selling for between 3*d.* and 4*d.* a stone.

The weather has become favourable for the last week, and the corn crops are looking well.

Counties of Waterford, Wexford, Kilkenny, Carlow—Mr. J. Burke:—August 12, 1848.

I regret having to report that the disease in the potato crop has progressed very much during this week, the withered leaves and stalks emitting an unpleasant smell, caused by their advancing to a state of decomposition; at the same time I have remarked that in many instances although a field appears to be greatly damaged, the very next one to it, or even parts of the same field, may be affected in but a trifling degree.

The potatoes brought to market seem to be sound and healthy; and from all I can learn, but few of them exhibit any marks of the disease.

My observations this week apply to the country extending from Enniscorthy to Wexford, and from the latter to Shillelagh, county of Wicklow, by Gorey, Carnew, and Collatin.

Counties of Roscommon, Longford, and Leitrim—Mr. Flanagan:—August 13, 1848.

Having visited, during the past week, three different Unions in the county of Roscommon—Castlereagh, Boyle, and Roscommon—and traversed a considerable extent of country, I regret to state that I observed a very great appearance of the potato blight, and that in places where last week a trace of it was hardly observable.

In the neighbourhood of Longford the disease has likewise made considerable advance.

In the Unions of Mohill and Carrick-on-Shannon, both of which I likewise visited during the week, the disease has shown itself very generally.

Though the blight is, I now believe, general, and affects the entire crop in a greater or less degree, I see no reason for changing the opinion I expressed in my former reports on this subject, that the disease is of a modified type, and that by far the larger proportion of the "tubers" is still uninjured.

The reports I have uniformly received from the most experienced and practical farmers confirm this view.

Counties of Londonderry, Donegal, Sligo, parts of Tyrone and Leitrim—Mr. Otway:—August 15, 1848.

I regret to have to state, that the potato fields in the portions of my district I passed this last week almost universally presented appearances of disease in the stalks, especially about Castlederg; and the blight has rapidly extended during the last ten days; but its effect is much more apparent on the forward and early planted potatoes, than on the late planted potatoes; and as almost the entire crop was planted much earlier this year than usual, I still hope that the main crop has been so far advanced, and was in such a state of maturity when the stalks were blighted, that no material injury will take place; and I am strengthened in this hope by finding the potatoes dry in the fields where the stalks are completely blasted, well-formed, and healthy. Some intelligent farmers I have spoken to, however, fear that the potatoes will not keep. The potatoes in bog and moory land look much better than those in rich upland, or low loamy soils.

When I compare the state I saw the potatoes themselves in this time two years, and the state of those I now get dug, and see in the markets, I am led to believe that any failure this year will be comparatively very light.

*Counties of Cavan, Fermanagh, Monaghan, parts of Tyrone and Louth—
Mr. Barron:—August 16, 1848.*

I have to report progress with reference to the state of the crops in my district, and more particularly the potato crop, which is the food of the generality of the people of Ireland.

With regard to the potato crop, I am of opinion that up to this period the disease is still partial. In the county of Tyrone, where I was last week, I saw as fine fields of potatoes as I have seen for many years; and although the stalks in some fields were blighted and beginning to wither, still it was but partial. Not so, however, in the counties of Monaghan and Cavan, where the disease is evidently extending. It appears that the stalk begins to wither when it has attained a certain growth; but up to the time I write I understand that the potato itself is not injured. The potatoes having been sown this year earlier than usual, the impression is, that the greater part of the crop will be still available—and in all probability, available for human food until the 1st of February or March.

Potatoes are now selling in some parts of this district from 2d. to 4d. the stone, and these of good quality.

The wheat crop, as I have already stated in my previous reports, is light, and I fear, not of good quality. The barley and oat crops are good, and the latter more than an average one; and the flax and hay crops are very heavy.

Upon the whole, I do not despair of the prospects of the approaching harvest; and should the weather clear up, I have no doubt that—with the assistance of Divine Providence—it will be at least an average one.

*Counties of Meath, Westmeath, Kildare, Dublin, Wicklow—Captain Huband:—
August 17, 1848.*

The samples of potatoes herewith forwarded have been dug by myself from out of fields wherein no plant which I could see had escaped from blight and black spotted leaves. I selected the very worst-looking plants from which to remove the tubers; they are all perfectly sound, but have not yet arrived at their full period of ripeness.

The field from which I selected specimen A is in the Rathdown Union. The leaves and stems of the plants are so much blighted that they are being pulled up by order of the proprietor. These potatoes (cups) were planted upon the 5th of April after lea oats, from seed grown upon the same estate in 1847.

B C and D are from Celbridge Union. The leaves and stems of the plants from which these were taken are all blighted—I selected the worst specimens. A, cup potato, was planted upon the 15th of April, upon farm-yard manure, after lea oats, the seed was Scotch. B, Irish lump, planted upon lea, 20th April. C, French seed from Normandy, planted on the 1st of June, upon compost of garden refuse and stable dung, in old garden ground.

All these specimens are sound, and if there were a week or two of fine weather I am certain that these crops would be saved, but if the weather continues wet they will go.

These specimens have been dug this week. I have not seen any field free from blight.

Counties of Limerick, Clare, Tipperary, &c.—Mr. Hancock:—August 18, 1848.

I have the honour to report I last week attended the meeting of the Guardians at Kilmallock and Rathkeale, in the county of Limerick. Having observed the potato fields, the stalks appeared covered with withered leaves. One very large field of thirty acres belonging to John Croker, Esq., of Ballinagard, appeared a few weeks ago most luxuriant, and on passing last week appeared black, and the leaves all nearly gone.

Miscellaneous.

Mr. Croker assured me at that time the potatoes were not then diseased, as he had carefully examined many parts of the field.

This week I have been to Ennistymon, thus passing through a portion of the county Clare. The potato fields present the same appearance of withered leaves, and I was assured at Ennistymon that no doubts existed of the taint of the tubers.

I yesterday visited the potato market at Limerick; there was a very large supply in the market, selling at about 4*d.* per stone of 14 lbs. I examined a number of the cart-loads, and in every instance discovered the taint upon the skin of the tubers, in some instances extending about one-sixteenth of an inch deep, and extending over the surface about one-third of the tuber. The general impression with the Guardians of this Union at their meeting on Wednesday—and a very large number of Guardians attended—was, that no doubt existed as to the commencement of the blight; but as to the quantity likely to be attacked, or the amount of food likely to be available, no possible calculation could at present be formed; the weather has been so remarkably wet and unfavourable, and the disease of that nature as to be as little understood by the practical growers of the potatoes as on the first year of the attack of blight. The various opinions canvassed as to what is best to be done to preserve what may yet be untainted—many parties recommend pulling the stalks and earthing up the tubers, others suggest cutting off the tainted stalks only; but, in fact, none of the practical farmers have any decided opinion upon the question.

The wheat in many parts looks well, and is all standing, but there does not appear to be much ripening going forward from the want of sun and dry weather. The oats in some parts good, in others very thin, but all suffering from wet. The barley would be a very good crop if the weather was at all favourable.

Some fields of turnips and mangel look remarkably fine, and the grass lands everywhere good, and plenty of grass. Those fields intended for hay, however, are suffering sadly.

Dr. Phelan:—August 12, 1848.

I regret that my report on the potato crop this week must be more unfavourable than heretofore. From Cork to Mallow the crop looks pretty fair; but several fields exhibited signs of the disease, at least the stalks were becoming prematurely withered. From Mallow to Kanturk, all the early sown fields have become withered, and as I was informed the potato itself in several shows the disease; in several fields the seed did not grow. All around Kanturk the disease has made more progress than in any district that I have gone through. The land is high, generally, the soil retentive and moist, and the cultivation very inferior. Partly perhaps from these circumstances, the crop wherever sown looks badly; much of the seed has missed, and a considerable proportion of the fields shows but feeble stalks, and of course can afford but a small produce: beside, there is not only an appearance of the disease in every field early sown, but the potatoes are actually diseased in them; and although not in large proportion, it is certain that in many fields the root has ceased to grow, and a small produce may be expected.

In this district, and as far as Broadford, about ten miles towards Newcastle, even the late sown crop is becoming withered; and from this it is naturally apprehended that this important portion of the crop will be inconsiderable. It is to be feared that this district will suffer much from the loss of this crop.

I went into several fields along the foregoing line, saw the potatoes dug, and saw that the disease actually existed, although not to so great an extent in some fields as was represented to me.

A respectable-looking Roman Catholic clergyman stated in my presence in the board-room, that a Mr. M'Sweeny, residing about five miles from Kanturk, on the road to King-William's-town, had a large potato field the crop of which was entirely destroyed. Wishing to test this statement I went to the field, the stalks of which were withered; but I learned that the family had only dug a few on the previous day, and that there was not much disease in them, as was proved by having some dug, which I brought to Kanturk.

From Broadford to Newcastle the crop looks much better, the stalks more luxuriant and less free from withering. But even here it is stated that the disease exists, and the quantity sown is much less in proportion than in the other district. I saw none however on this line.

TEMPORARY INSPECTORS' REPORTS.

Ballina Union—Mr. W. J. Hamilton :—August 12, 1848.

I have the honour to acquaint you that the potato disease has made considerable progress in every electoral division in my district since the beginning of August. As yet it has chiefly shown itself in the tops; the potatoes, which are of a tolerable size, having escaped with very few exceptions. I trust, therefore, that a large amount of food will be available for consumption; but whether it will keep sound for any time is very questionable.

The appearance of the crop is precisely the same as I remember it this time two years. In Belmullet and Binghamstown electoral divisions the smell of decomposed vegetable matter is very offensive. I perceived the same smell slightly in three electoral divisions which I visited to-day. I have no doubt that it will be general throughout the district by the middle of next week.

I believe that I have always under-estimated the extent of this unfortunate crop. There are no means at my disposal for obtaining any thing like an accurate estimate; but from all accounts I think it cannot be far short of three-fourths of the quantity planted in prosperous years.

Wheat and oats have never been extensively grown in this district; I think there is considerably less than usual this year. What there is looks well; but, generally speaking, neither crop would bear comparison with that grown in other counties in Ireland. This may be attributed to the exhausted state of the land. The same may be said of barley, of which there is about the usual quantity.

The turnip crop is not nearly so extensive as last year. There have been some partial failures; but wherever any pains have been taken, the crop looks well.

The Society of Friends have 500 Irish acres cultivated; a considerable portion of which is under green crops. They have in addition fifty acres of flax. The former is very much scattered through the Union.

I think that if the potatoes will keep, the quantity of human food will be fully as great as in former years, as the turnip crop will more than make up for any deficiency in other crops.

P.S.—I annex the reports which I have received from the relieving officers for this week.

ENCLOSURES.

Mr. MONNELLY to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 9, 1848.

Kilfian.

I beg leave to inform you that since my last report the blight in the potato crop has increased very much in my district—so much, that scarcely a stalk has escaped. I am of opinion that before many days the stalks will be all gone. The grain and turnip crops are going on well, with the exception made in my last report—namely, Swedish turnips.

Mr. ROBINSON to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 10, 1848.

Kilgarven—Attymass.

I beg leave to report that the blight in the potato crop is extending to a fearful extent in my district; the disease has already appeared in the potato. The other crops continue to have a prosperous appearance, and will (if there be a good harvest) turn out abundant.

Mr. PUTNEY to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 9, 1848.

Lackan—Ballycastle.

I am sorry that in my report for this week I have nothing favourable to state of the potato crop. From what I have seen and heard I apprehend that there will be a total loss of the late crop and serious injury to the early one. I saw yesterday the new potatoes diseased; and the owner assured me that his whole garden was infected in the same way. I have, however, seen very fine new potatoes not at all infected. It appears the disease had not reached them. All the other crops look very promising.

Mr. M'DONNELL to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 10, 1848.

Castleconnor—Kilglass.

I beg leave to inform you about the present state of the crops in the above district. The white crops appear well up to the present date. The potatoes are failing very much for the last week; the blight is appearing in every part of the district; I do not know one field safe without symptoms of the disease. The turnips are much complained of by the farmers.

Mr. NOLAN to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 11, 1848.

Crossmolina (South).

I beg leave to inform you that I have delayed my report on the state of the crops one day, that I might fully satisfy myself as to whether the disease, which almost withered the stalk, had affected the potato.

I am sorry to say that my fears on the subject are now fully realized; the potato is unfortunately doomed; and if one-third the crop is spared in this district, it is as much as can be expected from the present appearance of the plants.

The grain crops are going on well. Wheat is most luxuriant, and promises an abundant return. The breadth of land under this crop is extremely small.

Barley is ripening, and will be ready for the stook in ten days; the produce will be a fair average; but regret the quantity sown is rather limited.

Oats are now improving fast; the stalk is stretching and appearing more healthy, and will be below an average crop, but the quantity put down is very small.

I think it my duty to inform you I have good reason to dread the result of cutting off very many persons now among the working party; and fear unless the Commissioners continue at least forty per cent. of the able-bodied men, neither life nor property will be safe for one week after.

Mr. REA to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 9, 1848.

Dromore (West)—Easky.

I beg leave to inform you that the blight has commenced on the potato crop in the Easky and Dromore (West) electoral divisions to a great extent for the last three or four days; the stalks have got quite black in many parts of my district. The only prospect that I see is, the potatoes that were planted early in the season; they have some chance, as the potatoes have grown to some size.

Mr. KIRKWOOD to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 9, 1848.

Killala—Ballysokeery.

I have the honour to inform you that the blight has made its appearance in the potato crop in my district, and appears to increase daily. The oats and barley look well, and promise to be an average crop, as also the green crops.

Mr. O'MALLEY to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 10, 1848.

Ardnaree.

I beg leave to state that since my last report of the state of the crops in my district the potato crop is much worse. This week the stalks are, in every part of the district that I could see, and also from information I have received, the greater part partially infected again with the blight; and in some places the potatoes appear infected with the disease, and some totally rotten. The green crops and corn appear tolerably well, and I have no change to mention concerning them since my last report.

Mr. KING to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 10, 1848.

Ballina (Town portion).

The barley and oat crops about this town look very well, and promise to be abundant. The potatoes in some places have been attacked by the blight, and have suffered from it.

Mr. TIGH to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 11, 1848.

Crossmolina (North).

I am sorry to inform you that the potato crop in Crossmolina electoral division is very much diseased; and I have good reason to state that my fears as to the safety of the potato crop are now realized; another week will destroy those not already gone; and if one-fourth those put down come to maturity we will be most fortunate.

The grain crop is doing well, except the oats, which are short in the stalk and by no means promising.

Mr. ANDERSON to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 10, 1848.

Ballina (Rural portion).

The blight of the potato crop continues to increase very much in my district; and I am of opinion that the crop will be totally lost, as the disease has got to the roots, and they are now exhibiting all the symptoms of the former rot. I have seen potatoes dug in many parts of the district within the past week; and wherever the stalks were struck early the potatoes are diseased. The other crops in and about this locality are looking remarkably healthy and good.

Mr. MACHALE to Mr. W. J. HAMILTON :—August 9, 1848.

Backs.

Having stated in my last report that the potato blight had been much increasing, I beg leave to inform you it is still becoming more general. The stalks are all blighted, and the potatoes infected and rotting in all parts of the Backs electoral division. All other crops appear well; barley and oats much better than last year.

Ballina Union—Mr. R. Hamilton :— August 12, 1848.

With reference to your letter of the 9th instant, requesting I would report on the appearance of the potato crop, &c., in this district, I regret having to acquaint you, for the information of the Commissioners, that within the last ten days the blight has spread over nearly every potato field in these two electoral divisions, few of which exhibit the slightest appearance of green; during the same period the disease has appeared to a considerable extent among the tubers, so much so, that I have serious apprehensions the crop will be an entire failure.

The corn crop looks well, but there is a very small extent of it as compared with former years.

The turnip crop has improved considerably during the last fortnight, and on the whole I think it looks well.

Ballinasloe Union—Major Stuart :—August 12, 1848.

I have to report, for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners, that in every electoral division of this Union the present appearance of the potato crop is bad; and having examined the potatoes in many different spots, I have nowhere found them free from disease, which has considerably increased since the date of my last report.

The other crops of human food bear a favourable appearance, but I am informed that their produce may be expected to be less than usual.

Ballinrobe Union—Dr. Dempster :—August 12, 1848.

I regret to inform you, that from personal inspection, as well as reports from the relieving officer of each electoral division, and likewise from the two supervisors of works, that the potato has again failed. The most promising and luxuriant fields have in one night become blighted; and on pulling up the stalks, the tubers, four out of every six, are diseased; so that no reliance can be placed for human food on this esculent for the ensuing winter.

The wheat crop, as far as I can ascertain, is only middling, and great doubts entertained as to its soundness.

The oats are an average crop, and good, generally speaking. The barley appears to be the best crop; but all these grains, in quantity, fall far short of the usual breadth of land sown in this Union.

The most experienced farmers, with whom I have been speaking on the subject, consider that all the corn growing, and should the weather prove favourable to get in the harvest, would not afford provisions for the population of the Union beyond six months.

I fear the distress will be greater the ensuing winter than even last year; for I find that the poor people, to procure seed potatoes last spring, sold and pledged all their bed-clothes; and to add to their sufferings, there is little turf cut in the country.

The Central Relief Committee of the Society of Friends has consigned to my care, for distribution in the Union, a quantity of turnip and cabbage seeds, which, on arrival, I shall dispose of to the best advantage amongst the poor cottagers whose potatoes are lost to them; and although late in the season, I trust will afford some relief in the winter.

Ballyshannon Union—Mr. D'Arcy :—August 13, 1848.

In reply to your letter, dated 9th of August, I have the honour to report the state of the crops generally, and potatoes particularly.

Ballyshannon division.—Potatoes not much diseased in the tuber; the tops diseased, but not considerably. Turnips have improved wonderfully the last ten days, and will be in this division a fair crop. Wheat and oats promise an abundant yield.

Bundoran division may be described as favourably as Ballyshannon.

Churchhill, Devenish, Boho, and Innismaesaint, are for the most part grazing divisions, but in them the potatoes look pretty well and the crops generally.

Kinlough, Glenade, Belleek, and Ballintra, present the potato crop in a much worse state than any other divisions, particularly that of Ballintra, in which the tops or haulm is not alone diseased, but the tuber is attacked.

The quantity of land under crops is, in my opinion, fully as great as former years, with the exception of a small part of Ballyshannon and Kinlough divisions.

Potatoes occupy about two-thirds of the extent they did previous to 1845, and the remaining third is sown with corn, turnips, peas, or beans, as the case may be; of the two last-named crops there is to be found a sprinkling in each division—the greatest quantity appears to be in Belleek.

I do not think there is such ground for alarm in regard to the potato as some persons apprehend. It is evident to the commonest observer the type of the disease is different from 1846. In that year when the top was diseased, so was the tuber; not so now. I have seen the haulm absolutely rotten and the potato sound; at all events, the crop is so much earlier and more forward this year, that it must, if even partially diseased, still produce a very considerable quantity of food; and should this favourable change in the weather continue, the corn crops will, in this part of the country, be more than an average.

Bantry Union—Captain Gordon :—August 12, 1848.

In reply to your communication of the 9th instant, I have the honour to annex a concise statement of the state of the potato crop in each electoral division of this Union, and which I give from my own personal observation. The stalks have long since become withered, and in some gardens are now quite gone. The tubers ceased growing, and were attacked by the disease, first in the skin, gradually causing the destruction of the potato itself, which became rotten. This rotting is increasing to an alarming extent, and in gardens where the tubers were safe a week ago, they are now one-half black. The late crop (but a small proportion of the whole) is quite gone. My opinion is, that an abundant and cheap supply will be found until the beginning or middle of December, from which time there will exist a vast amount of misery and trouble, which can only be met by measures similar to those which I had the honour to lay before you some time ago. It would not be fair upon the poor law to attempt the relief of distress this winter without something of the kind. It would be most desirable if each relieving officer were ordered to make out a correct census of his division, by townlands, showing the means of each individual. I cannot express to you how advantageous it would be. I have not alluded to other crops, since the whole country I may say is under potatoes. Not near so much grain sown as in former years. Turnips are said to have failed in some parts, but in my opinion from the ground not being drained.

ENCLOSURE.

Kilmaccommogue—Stalks quite withered, except about the pass of Kimaneigh, where they appear greener. Tubers diseased, and rotting to an alarming extent—about one-half of the crop already gone.

Bantry—Remarks the same as to Kilmaccommogue. The gardens in the eastern part not so much damaged as about Bantry; many gardens almost entirely useless as human food. I recommended Lord Berehaven to dig up a large portion of his garden, since the potatoes were quite rotten, and plant turnips, which he has done.

Durrus, East and West—This part of the country has been longer attacked than about Bantry, and is therefore worse—many gardens are quite gone.

Kilcrohane—This division has also been longer attacked than Bantry, and many fields are rotten, more especially on the northern side.

Kilcaskin—The crop has suffered much, but has not been so long attacked as the other parts of the Union.

Kilcatherine—The crop most seriously injured, and many gardens rotten, especially about Iries, and to the west of it.

Kilnamanagh—The gardens here were the first attacked in the Union; and the consequence is, not only was the growth checked, but the tubers, generally speaking, are rotten, more particularly along the southern part of it, and at Gornish.

Killaconenagh—The gardens in Bere Island have not suffered so much as on the mainland. I regret to say, that I am afraid from Castleton to the east, along the low ground, more than three-quarters of the crop are gone, and useless as food. It, as well as Kilnamanagh, was first attacked, and a heavy fog appeared to be the cause.

EXTRACT from a letter from the Rev. Thomas O'Grady, rector of the parishes of Killaconenagh, Kilnamanagh, and Kilcathereen, dated Castleton, Berehaven, August 11, 1848.

"Under the strong impression that a famine is again impending over this unfortunate country, I deem it my duty to lay before you the present state of the crops of this district, on my own observation and that of persons on whom I can place strong reliance. I have no hesitation in saying, that the late potato sowings are completely ruined by the blight, and even the early sowings are extensively and deeply injured; and I firmly believe, and have heard from trustworthy persons, that they will not afford food for three months longer. Within a very few days the progress of the disease has been quite alarming, and the poor people are obliged to dig a large extent of ground in order to obtain a meal for their families. I need not tell you that there is very little corn in this district, and utterly inadequate to the support of the people; and even that, I fear, is seriously injured by the late continued wet weather; on the whole, our prospects for the coming year are gloomy in the extreme, and I would therefore entreat of you to call the prompt attention of Government to this destitute locality."

Cahirircree Union—Colonel Clarke:—August 12, 1848.

With reference to your letter of the 9th instant, I have the honour to report to you, that after the most careful personal inspection and minute inquiries, I am compelled to believe that the potato crop throughout the Union is all but a total failure. The late crops, which until within the last week appeared healthy, are now as much affected as the others; and in several instances I have found the tubers not larger than marbles, perfectly black and rotten, and emitting a most offensive odour.

There is a greater extent of land sown with oats, barley, and turnips than usual; but the grain is becoming greatly injured by the continued wet weather; and unless there be an early change, I fear little of these crops will be saved.

I have received a liberal supply of late turnip and cabbage seed from the Society of Friends, but the ground is so saturated with wet as to be in a very bad state for sowing.

Carrick-on-Shannon and Boyle Unions—Captain Wynne:—August 13, 1848.

I have the honour to transmit for the information of the Commissioners the following report on the subject of your communication of the 9th instant, on the subject of the potato and other crops of human food in the Unions under my charge.

I have paid the closest attention to the subject for the last three weeks, and have made constant personal examination, both in the fields and in the markets of the different parts of my district through which I have passed.

The result has left rather a more favourable impression than on this day week, for the following reasons:—

Although the leaves in all cases, and the stalks generally, are affected, and have been so for some time, the disease has not as yet reached the tuber, except in a few instances, and in these no increase is apparent; on the contrary, several fields, which I have been watching closely, appear to improve. In one field near Carrick, which was thus first affected in this country, I was present on yesterday at the digging of a large quantity for market, and in my opinion the crop was improved; the per centage of diseased tubers being two less than on that day week.

No increase of disease is to be found in the potatoes brought to market; but as this might be caused by careful picking, I examined many of the fields while being dug, when the result was the same.

I am decidedly of opinion that the disease in this district, though as general as that of 1846, is by no means as malignant, at least the progress of destruction is not nearly so rapid.

I think it likely that a considerable portion of the early planting will be saved; but see but one chance for the late planting, viz., that, as was found to be the case last year, where the leaves only have been destroyed and the stalks still continue sound, the circulation may go on, and the tuber improve or grow; otherwise the late crop is undoubtedly lost, and comprises three-fourths of the entire.

The breadth under potatoes in Boyle Union is considerably greater than that under the same crop in Carrick-on-Shannon; the former may be estimated at one-third of that of 1845 and 1846, while the latter is not more than one-fifth.

Miscellaneous.

The breadth of land under white crops is greater in Carrick-on-Shannon than in Boyle Union; and may be estimated at one-half that of last year in the former Union, and one-third in the latter.

The white crop appears promising, with the exception of the wheat, which has generally suffered slightly from blight; it will be a short crop; oats good, and an average crop; barley good, also average; turnips scarcely any, and bad; other green crops, none.

From the general embarrassment amongst the small farmers, and the fears they entertained of their crops being distrained by landlords or collectors, or both, immediately on being severed, as well as from a natural preference for the potato, they sowed the latter crop to almost the full extent of their means; considering that they might, under the existing law, enjoy the entire produce while they continued to hold the land, raising the crop as they required it for use—hence a certain deficiency in the white crop.

BOYLE UNION.

Shancough, Kilmastranny, Keadew—Potato crop, black—no material injury to tubers as yet—late crop apparently lost. White crops promising well; wheat slightly injured by blight, and a short crop; oats and barley average; turnips few and bad; white crop one-third of last year's.

Ardcarn, Boyle, Rockingham—Early potato crop, very black; five per cent. in some cases diseased, not extending to the tubers; late crop apparently lost. White crops good, with the exception of wheat, slightly blighted, and a short crop; oats and barley average; turnips few and bad; white crop one-half of last year's.

Breedoge, Croghan, Ballinameen, Shankhill—Potato crop, black; tubers as yet tolerably safe; late planting very unpromising. White crops good, and average; turnips few and bad; white crop one-third of last year's.

Ballinacrad, Toomour, Kilshaley—Potato crop, black; tubers more affected than elsewhere; five per cent. diseased; late crop very bad. White crops average, and in breadth one-third of last year's; wheat slightly blighted; turnips few and bad. In this district the potato crop is more extensive than in any locality which I have seen this year, and is looking very badly; a large proportion was sown the end of May or beginning of June; the tubers as yet not much affected.

CARRICK-ON-SHANNON UNION.

Drumreilly, Drumshambo, Keshcarrigan—The potato crop generally affected in leaves and stalks, but not to any extent in the tubers. White crops looking well, and two-thirds the breadth of last year's. Turnips but few, and tolerably good.

Carrick-on-Shannon, Tunna, Leitrim, Killukin, Drumsna—Potato crop generally affected as above; the tuber safe as yet. White crop one-half of last year's, and generally promising well; wheat short; oats and barley average; turnips few and bad.

Kilmore, Creeve, Aughrim—Potato crop as above. White crop one-half of last year's extent, and good; wheat short; oats and barley average; turnips few and good.

Elphin, Kilglass, Gillstown—Potato crop, black in every field; tubers considerably affected; early crop lost. White crops looking well, and in extent one-half of last year's; wheat average; oats and barley broad crops; turnips few and tolerably good.

Cashel Union—Mr. Robinson:—August 12, 1848.

I regret that the report I have to make upon this subject is now most unfavourable. During the last week the disease has increased to a very great extent, and there is no part of the Union in which it has not appeared.

I require the relieving officers to furnish me with a weekly statement of the appearance of the potato crop in each district; and I have the honour to annex, for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners, an extract from the last reports I have received from them upon this subject.

With respect to the other crops. The oats and barley have a very promising appearance, and I am given to understand that the quantity sown exceeds that of other years; but I am sorry to say that the contrary is the case with respect to the wheat: it is exceedingly thin; and the farmers consider the crop bad. I believe also that, in extent, it is considerably less than is usually the case in this part of the country.

ENCLOSURE.

Miscellaneous.

EXTRACT of reports, respecting the state of the potato crop, received from the relieving officers of the Cashel Union upon August 10, 1848.

Ballysheehan—The disease in the potato crop has increased so much this week, that the part affected is about one-fourth of the whole.

Ardmayle and Gaile—The disease has appeared in the early potatoes in the leaf, and in some few instances in the root.

Magorban and Tullamaine—The disease in the potato has exceedingly increased during the week, so much so, that the proportion seems to be about one-half or two-thirds of the whole.

Kilpatrick—The potato disease has increased very much during the week, and the potato shows more of the black disease than before; the late crops are also affected.

Clonoulty and Clogher—The potato disease has appeared so much since last week, that about one-third of the whole crop seems affected.

Cloneen and Kiltinan—The potato disease has appeared in both leaf and root, but has not increased to any great extent, since last week; about one-eighth of the crop seems affected.

Fethard—The disease has appeared in the leaf, and in some few instances in the root; it has increased in the early potatoes since last week.

Killenaule and Graystown—The disease has increased so much during the week, that the part affected bears a proportion of about one-tenth of the whole crop.

Peppardstown and Drangan—The disease has increased very much during the last week in both the leaf and root of the potato.

Knockgraffon—The disease has spread wonderfully during the last week, so much so, that I would say fully three-fourths of the entire crop is now diseased. I have seen a quantity dug, and some were already turning sour.

Cashel—With regard to the state of the potato crop in my district, I have to report a general blight in the stalk, and a partial taint in the potato itself.

Castlebar Union—Captain Farren:—August 13, 1848.

I visited six electoral divisions of the Union during the week, viz., Turlough, Strade, Breafty, Drum, Castlebar, and part of Ballyhean, and regret to state that the potato disease is progressing steadily in all; the different stages of the disease are developing themselves in regular succession, and the effect is lamentably visible in every field.

Turlough electoral division was visited on the 8th instant.—Every potato field diseased; some slightly, others very much so. The effluvia from some of the fields was very offensive. The early potatoes, though in appearance, so far as the plant is concerned, the worst, have not yet suffered much in the root, a small portion only being found diseased, the disease not having yet had sufficient time to attack the bulb. The late potato crop is worthless—the plant has been checked in its growth, and will not come to maturity.

The grain crops are doing well; there is not the same quantity of grain grown as in ordinary years.

Strade electoral division visited 8th instant.—Not a field has escaped the potato disease—all over were affected more or less; and all accounts agree in the conclusion, that the late potato crop is lost. The early potatoes are not in all instances diseased, but the plants are, and the disease in the leaves and branches is gradually extending to the stem and root.

The grain crops are doing well; but in many instances the oat crop is thin, particularly amongst the small holders, whose land has been exhausted by a succession of grain crops. The breadth of land sown with grain is not equal to that of ordinary years; and that sown with potatoes is less by at least one-fourth.

Breafty electoral division.—The potato disease in this district has, if possible, progressed more rapidly than in the others. As an illustration I will give two instances out of many. The disease in field numbered 2 in my report of the 6th instant, which was not so advanced as in other plots inspected on the 2nd, has now reached the stalks of the plants, and apparently checked their growth. On the occasion alluded to I dug up three plants in the field, and found one only diseased at the root, and that slightly. On the 9th I dug in a straight line across all the ridges (twenty-three), taking up one plant selected at random on each ridge, and found only one free from disease at the root; and in that case the stem had been separated from the root by a worm or slug, which had eaten through the stem. In some cases all the potatoes were diseased; in others, one or two only. The produce was not considerable, and the potatoes generally small. All the early fields, however, are not so bad as this one. With regard to the late crop, I will take field numbered 14 in my report of the 6th instant: this field was sown on the 11th May. When I visited it on the 9th instant, I walked in a diagonal line across the ridges, and in each ridge selected the plant which appeared the least affected, one in every ridge, caused them to be dug up, and found as follows:—

E

Miscellaneous.

1st ridge—only 1	potato, size of a marble.
2nd do. „ 1	do. do.
3rd do. „ 2	do. do.
4th do. „ 1	do. do.
5th do. „ 1	do. do.
6th do. „ 2	do. do.
7th do. „ 3	do., one of which somewhat larger than the others.
8th do. „ 2	do., very small.
9th do. „ 2	do. do.
10th do. „ 2	do., size of a marble.
11th do.	nothing.
12th do.	only 1 do., a little larger than a marble.

This illustrates the state of the late or field potato crop, which amounts to at least one-half of the whole crop—it is worthless.

The grain crops in this district are doing well; but in some instances the oat crop is exceedingly poor and thin. There are cases, and those not few in number, in which the oat and wheat crop is growing on land from which two crops of grain in succession have been already taken. Where the land has not been exhausted by such a process as this, the crop is good.

In Drum electoral division, visited the 9th instant, the same remarks apply. The potato crop exceeds that of last year; but is scarcely more than one-half that of ordinary years. The greater portion of the crop was sown after the middle of May, the loss therefore will be very great.

Not so much oats sown as usual; rather more wheat than usual; about the same quantity of barley, and a greater quantity of rye.

Ballyhean electoral division.—About two-thirds the usual quantity of potatoes sown this year, as compared with ordinary years, and about one-half was sown early; the late crop is lost; and if the disease continues its ravages, a considerable portion of the early crop will be useless.

The grain crops generally are doing well. The total quantity of grain sown may be estimated at about one-third or one-fourth less than in ordinary years.

Castlebar electoral division.—The grain crops are doing well. It is estimated that rather more than one-half the usual quantity of oats has been sown; about as much barley; less wheat; a greater quantity of turnips—but a considerable portion of the latter have failed.

With regard to the potato crop, a considerable portion was sown late, upwards of one-half, for which there is no hope whatever. The disease has also reached the roots of some of the early potatoes, but at present not to a great extent; all the plants are however affected. The total quantity of potatoes planted is less than in ordinary years.

The foregoing are the only districts which I was enabled to visit during the week; but I find from inquiries that the other electoral divisions are similarly situated.

Looking at the prospects of the Union generally, the condition of the potato crop is a source of much alarm. All the hopes and efforts of the people were directed to the re-introduction of this plant: the most extraordinary exertions were made in the spring to put a crop in the ground; and it may be estimated that nearly three-fourths the usual breadth of land was sown with the potato. Although a great portion of the crop—indeed more than the usual portion—was planted early, the great bulk of it was set after the beginning of May. This (the late portion) is utterly lost—the growth of the plant has been checked, and the produce will not come to maturity. The early potatoes have not suffered much yet, but the disease is progressing steadily—the leaves and branches of the plant have fallen before its ravages, and it is now descending the stem; already some of the potatoes have been touched, and at every inspection the number so attacked is shown to have increased: a great portion of the early crop will, therefore, be also useless.

Generally, the grain crops are doing well ; but in many instances, particularly amongst small holders, the oat crop is light and thin, successive crops of grain having been taken from the same field. Wheat and barley are satisfactory, except where planted on the stubbles of the former season—not an unfrequent occurrence. The rye, of which a much greater quantity has been planted than usual, is the best in appearance : it, however, bears a very small proportion to the rest of the grain crop. The people are beginning to see the advantage of this description of crop, and its applicability to the land in the Union, few farms being without the sour swampy spots in which it will flourish. The whole breadth of land sown with grain, however, is not equal to that of ordinary years ; all the energies of the people were directed to the potato, and, moreover, they had not the soil for the oat crop—all who could, planted potatoes, and many sold their only cow to purchase seed : still there is land left waste, and many who have neither land nor sowing.

On a careful revision of all these circumstances, it cannot but be apparent that the produce of the harvest in the district will be utterly insufficient for the support of the people for the next twelve months ; and that, weighed down as they have been by want and destitution, there is now before them the prospect of a famine, even more dire and horrible than those which, during the last two years, called forth the utmost vigour of the government, and the charity of the less afflicted and more wealthy portions of the empire, in their behalf.

Castlereagh Union—Mr. Auchmuty:—August 12, 1848.

I beg to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that from my own observations and from every inquiry I have made the potatoes are diseased in every electoral division in this Union. The only grain crop sown here is oats, and there is not near the quantity grown this season there was last year. Turnips were the only green crop the poor sowed, and they were cut off by the fly. I beg to forward, for further information, a return from each relieving officer in the Union.

ENCLOSURES.

Mr. Courty to Mr. Auchmuty:—August 10, 1848.

In answer to the questions put by James Auchmuty, Esq., Government Inspector, relative to the growth or appearance of the crops, I have to state from the present appearance of the potato crop I consider it gone ; the leaves and stalks have got black and withered, and the potatoes are getting spotted.

I consider there is only half the quantity of oats that was sown last year, and is considered it will be short, and not as good as the last year's growth.

The turnips have failed in a great many instances.

Mr. Betagh to Mr. Auchmuty:—August 10, 1848.

In answer to the queries put by James Auchmuty, Esq., Poor Law Inspector, relative to the present appearance of the potato crop in each electoral division of the Castlereagh Union, and also of the appearance of the other crops of human food, I beg leave to state that in the electoral division of Castlereagh the potato crop has been attacked by the blight just similarly to that of the year 1846 ; it has made its appearance first in the leaf, from thence to the stalk, and am told by all of whom I inquire that it has made its way to the potato.

The other crops of human food in this electoral division are most commonly oats, rye, and field turnips. The oat crop is much less in extent than in the years 1846 and 1847, but not much inferior in appearance ; not being so much acquainted with the rye crop in this division as in other divisions of this Union it is rather limited in extent ; of the turnip I will say nothing, but that they are a complete failure. There is another species of human food, the parsnip, of which I am sorry to say is entirely forgotten in this as well as in every other division of the Castlereagh Union.

Mr. Thomas to Mr. Auchmuty:—August 10, 1848.

In answer to the inquiry of the Poor Law Inspector, James Auchmuty, Esq., I have to state that the potato crop from the present appearance is gone beyond what could be considered recovery, the stalk quite black, similar to former years, and the potato in many instances showing the former disease. The corn crop, the only grain crop (with very few exceptions) in the division, not quarter the extent of other years, owing to the anxiety of rearing a potato crop, by which the people lost all their time and manure ; and the green crop (although extensively attempted) has failed, whether from bad seed or other causes is not well known ; but with two or three exceptions with respectable farmers, the poor have none, no other green crop in this electoral division.

Miscellaneous.

Mr. COTTON to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In answer to your inquiries respecting the state of the crops in the electoral division of Glanamodda, I beg leave to inform you that from the present appearance of the potato crop, it is considered past any hope of recovering the effects of the late blight. The stalks are becoming daily quite withered and black, and in some instances the potatoes have been found diseased in the ground. As regards the late potato crop, it is quite gone, and of no value whatsoever.

The oat crop is in general very light, and will not, it is considered, average last year's return.

There is a small portion of rye and bere in the electoral division, which in many instances is very deficient.

On the whole, as far as I can learn, the grain crop will not be so productive as last season.

There has been a considerable quantity of turnips planted, but almost in every instance they have failed.

Mr. WALDRON to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In answer to your inquiry as to the state of the crops in the electoral division of Began I have to state, that there is an appearance of the greatest blight in the potato crop, the stalks quite black in most cases. The corn crop not near so abundant as it had been in the years 1846 and 1847, as the people in general depended on the potato crop, in the hope that there would be no failure in the present crop of potatoes.

The turnip crop has been destroyed by the fly, unless what was put down in the end of July.

Mr. BOURNS to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In answer to the inquiry of the Inspector of the Poor Law Commissioners, James Auchmuty, Esq., I have to state that the potato crop, from the present appearance, is gone beyond any hope of coming to any perfection, or being of any use; the tops quite black, and the potatoes in some plots gone past use.

The oat crop, the only corn crop in my divisions, not quarter the extent of last year, and that same in general very bad.

The turnip crop quite a failure among the poor, only one or two gentlemen having any in my electoral divisions.

Mr. O'BRIEN to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In reply to your inquiries respecting the present appearance of the crops in the electoral district of Ballintubber, I beg leave to inform you with regard to the potato crop that it is considered, from the present appearance of the blight on the stalks, that the potato will be lost. And with regard to the grain crops they are in general deficient, both in extent of tillage and growth, to what they were in the year 1847. There are no green crops in this district of any consequence.

Mr. ERINS to Mr. AUCHMUTY.

In answer to your inquiry as to the crops in the Ballyhaunis division, I have to state that the potato crop, from the present appearance, is gone beyond what may be considered recovery; the tops quite black, and the root becoming black. The only corn crop in this division is oats, with the exception of a few acres of wheat. The oat crop less than last year. The turnip crop quite a failure. No other green crops in this division.

Mr. HEYDON to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 11, 1848.

I am sorry to inform you that the appearance of the potato crop cannot be much worse than it presently shows in my neighbourhood, as also in all my travels through my walk in my electoral division; the stalk is quite withered, and a great portion of the potatoes black and faulty, and much an earlier appearance of continuing so than there had been last season. There is a great failure in the turnip crop; and as to oats and other crops, it is considered that there is a great portion of it blind and smutty, which I have remarked in different parts in my division. There is not such a quantity of oats or other green crops in the Union as had been last season.

Mr. KILBRIDE to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In answer to your inquiry as regards the state of the crops in the Castleplunket electoral division, I beg to state that the appearance of the potato crop is an entire failure, being at this moment all withered; the disease of last year making its appearance in many instances. The oat crop very much short of the last year's sowing. No other grain crop in that electoral division. No turnips at all grown by the poorer class—all a failure. No other green crop sown with us.

Mr. DILLON to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In reply to the queries put by the Inspector of the Poor Law Commissioners, James Auchmuty, Esq., I have to state, from the present appearance of the potato crop, that I consider it gone, as the leaves and stalks have got black and withered, and the potatoes are getting spotted.

I consider there is only half the quantity of oats that was sown last year, and it is considered that will be short, and not as good as last year's crop.

The turnips have in a great many instances failed.

Mr. DILLON to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 10, 1848.

In answer to your inquiry as to the state of the crops in the electoral divisions of Bal-laghaderreen and Castlemore, I have to state that there is an appearance of the greatest blight in the potato crop; the stalks quite black in most cases. The corn crop not near so abundant as it had been in the years 1846 or 1847, as the people in general depended on the potato crop, in the hope that there would be no failure in the present crop of potatoes. The turnip crop has been destroyed by the fly, unless what was put down in the end of July.

Mr. NANGLE to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 11, 1848.

In reply to your communication of this day, calling for a concise statement of the present appearance of the potato crop in the electoral divisions of Ballymac and Ballinakill, I beg to state that it is most unfavourable. I this day examined several fields of potatoes, and found them much affected with the former disease; and in one particular field, near Glusk, I pulled some stalks that last week had no appearance whatever of disease, and they were greatly injured; and it is to be regretted, that every day shows more symptoms of the general failure altogether of the crop.

The other crops of human food I believe, as far as could be ascertained, are not to be considered as great as last season; but, so far as I have seen, their appearance shows well.

It may not be amiss to state, that the turnip crop has considerably failed this season; and, under all the circumstances, the general opinion that prevails is, that this harvest indicates nothing but distress.

Mr. WYNN to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 11, 1848.

In reply to your communication of this day, calling for a concise statement of the present appearance of the potato crop in the electoral division of Kilkerrin, I beg to state that it is most unfavourable. I have examined several fields, and found them much affected with the former disease. I have seen stalks, that last week had no appearance whatever of disease, that are now withered.

The other crops, as far as I can ascertain, are not considered as great as last season, but their appearance shows well.

In conclusion I have to state, that the turnip crop has considerably failed this season.

Mr. GILFOYLE to Mr. AUCHMUTY :—August 11, 1848.

In reply to your inquiry relative to the potato crop I beg to state, that although few of the tubers have as yet suffered materially, yet the stalks show such symptoms as to make us dread the result; at all events, their future growth has been certainly so checked as to prevent their coming to perfection.

As to the other crops of human food, there are none but grain, with the exception of very few patches of turnips, which have succeeded; and of the grain itself, I think we are this year one-third short, in comparison to last year.

This is my opinion, so far as the Templetogher electoral division is at present circum-stanced.

Cavan and Cootchill Unions—Captain Hotham :—August 12, 1848.

In forwarding the return which was required of the state of the potato crop in the several electoral divisions, I may simply state, that I fear a large proportion of this crop will be entirely lost, most of the stalks being affected, and the disease extending to the root.

The oats however look remarkably well, and if fine weather continues will prove abundant.

Wheat and turnips are not generally green in this district.

ENCLOSURE.

Cavan—Almost all the fields are more or less affected.

Ballyhaise—Almost all the fields are more or less affected.

New Inn—No personal knowledge. Relieving officer states, stalks are black, but potatoes not much injured.

Stradone—Disease appears very general.

Butler's bridge, Belturbet, Drumlane, Kilconny—I have not been in these divisions for some days. The last time that I was there I did not remark that the disease was very prevalent. The relieving officer states the disease is very prevalent.

Miscellaneous.

- Redhills*—No personal knowledge. Relieving officer reports them bad.
Kildallan—No personal knowledge. Relieving officer reports stalks bad, and people pulling them to prevent the disease getting to the root.
Derrylane—The same as Butler's-bridge.
Arvagh—No personal knowledge. Relieving officer reports them very bad.
Killeshandra—The same as Butler's-bridge. Relieving officer reports them very bad.
Ballintemple, Kill, Crosskeys—Several fields affected some days since. I do not know their present state.
Kilnaleek—No personal knowledge. Fields affected, relieving officer states.
Ballymachugh—The same as Ballintemple. Stalks black, in some cases potato rather improving, relieving officer states.
Killycrane—No personal knowledge.
Denn—Several fields were affected the last time I was there, about eight days ago.
Crossdoney—Several fields were affected the last time I was there, about eight days ago.
Killykeen—Not much potato cultivation in the district.
Ballyconnell—No personal knowledge.
 COOTEHILL UNION.—Cooteshill, Ashfield, Rakenny—Almost all the fields in these divisions are affected, and some seem totally destroyed. I have no knowledge of the other divisions, but Mr. Wright, Vice-Guardian of the Union, states that the disease is very general.

Clifden Union—Mr. Deane:—August 11, 1848.

You have already had in my last reports full information as to the progress of the disease in the four electoral divisions; and I have now merely to state, that I have been over the greater part of the Union within the last ten days, and that every field of potatoes I saw was black. The disease is spreading rapidly to the potato itself, specimens of which are brought daily to my house from all parts of the Union. I consider the late crop to be entirely destroyed; the early crop will not suffer so seriously.

I have made particular inquiries in reference to the appearance and prospect of the corn crops, and have received encouraging reports as to their success; but I regret to state, that there is fully a fourth less of oats, barley, and rye, than in three previous years. With respect to green crops, the amount is so small, that it is scarcely worth noticing: the sowing of turnips has been almost entirely confined to land in occupation by the few gentlemen farmers in the district.

Dingle Union—Captain Sir Thomas Ross, R.N.:—August 12, 1848.

In compliance with the directions contained in your letter of the 9th instant, I beg to acquaint you that having visited the electoral divisions of Minard, Ballinacourty, and Ballinvoher on the 10th, Dingle and Ventry on the 11th, Ballyduff and Castlegregory on this day, I am enabled to state, and I do so with concern and regret, that the potatoes are diseased; the few fields (if indeed there is one) that have escaped, forming the exception to the rule; and I think it more than probable that ere the next week shall have passed over every potato-field in the Union, of both stalks and tubers, will have shown unmistakable symptoms of the blight. I have personally inspected within the last three days at least thirty fields, and although about two-thirds of the tubers attached to each stalk are so far free from disease, I have scarcely seen one stalk the tubers of which were not more or less affected; and certainly not one field, including those planted lately, that was not blighted.

The disease appears to bear every resemblance to that with which they were visited in 1845; and if unhappily the same means be resorted to for their preservation, by the advice of the savans of that period, instead of leaving the matter to the common understandings of the people themselves, I may venture to predict an unfavourable result. I followed the instructions of that learned body in their published reports, and to having done so do I attribute the loss of an entire field of about eleven statute acres; whereas my poor, but in this respect more fortunate neighbours, who left them in the ground until the usual digging time in November and December, merely strewing some fresh clay amongst them when housed and pitted, had the satisfaction of preserving at least two-thirds of their crops. I believe that if the stalks are either cut or pulled when the potato has arrived at maturity, as is the case in the present instance, and the tuber left in the ground until the latest possible period, when they should be removed for the succeeding crop, this simple process will do more to preserve them than all the remedies of the British Association put together.

The corn crop looks healthy; but unfortunately the great efforts made by almost all classes to cultivate the potato, completely exhausted their available funds, and with the exception of those persons who happened to retain some oats and barley for seed, corn-growing was looked upon as quite a secondary consideration; consequently there is not more than half the breadth of land under corn this, that there was last year. I fear, therefore, that although by not taking up too soon, as was the case in 1845, the produce may be sufficient for the present year: we shall not be in a better position with respect to the supply of human food than we have been for the past year.

Donegal Union—Captain Herbert, R.N.:—August 12, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 9th instant, requiring a statement to be made of the present appearance of the potato crop in each electoral division of this Union, as also the extent of other crops for human food, I do myself the honour to report as follows:—

Donegal—The potato crops are partially attacked with disease, and to a small extent with blight. In the former case, the potatoes are found to be unfit for food for either man or beast; but in the attack of blight the potatoes are sound, and deemed good for present use. As a whole, the early crops at this moment may be considered fit for present consumption, and are retailing at three pence per stone.

Clogher being more inland, the potato crops have not suffered much from blight. The incipient stages of disease are very manifest, but still very limited and partial.

Dunkineely—Disease and blight among the potato crops are very manifest; partial however in its locale, and limited in extent.

Gleneny—Potato crops slightly attacked with disease and blight; both very partial, and very limited.

Inver—In this division, particularly that part situated on the seaboard, blight among the potato crops is very apparent; disease is very apparent too, but still in a limited extent; it has extended more within the last week.

Laghy—The potato crops are here slightly indicating the early stages of disease; very partial and very limited. The blight is visible to a very small extent.

Loughesack—The potato crops are here more attacked with disease and blight than in any other electoral division; but still, neither in virulence nor extent is there any just cause of alarm as yet. Disease is, however, still extending itself.

Loughderg—The potato crops are here but slightly attacked with disease; partial and limited in extent. The blight is still more limited in extent.

Mount-Charles—Disease in all its stages, and gradually extending among the potato crops, is here very visible; it is still partial and limited. The blight is more strongly marked on the seaboard than elsewhere, and yet limited to a small extent.

Tawnhawully—Slight indications of disease and blight are manifest among the potato crops, very partial in their attacks, and to a very limited extent.

Templecarn—Disease is very partial here among the potatoes, and to a very limited extent. The blight is yet more partial and limited.

Large sowings of turnips, which as yet do not promise well; considerable cultivation of the cabbage tribe, with beans and peas to a small extent, and a large breadth of cereal crops, in a state of great luxuriance, justify the opinion I have formed, that, as a whole, the crops for human food are as great as usual throughout the Union, excepting the electoral division of Inver, where the small holders of land have not cultivated to the usual extent.

I cannot close this report without stating that disease is extending its ravages among the potato crops slowly, but gradually, during the last fortnight.

Ennis Union—Mr. Cronyn :—August 15, 1848.

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter relative to the state of the potato and other crops of human food in this Union; and in reply regret to say, that there are unhappily too good grounds for apprehending that a large amount of the capital invested in the potato cultivation in this Union will be lost.

The disease, which was first noticed three weeks ago, has, with the exception of a short and remarkable interval, continued to spread in those fields first attacked, and to visit others until recently free from it.

There is not in the Union one electoral division that has escaped; in some, however, it is both more intense and widely spread than in others.

Those most injured are—Ennis, Kilmaley, Feenagh, Clondagad, Inagh, and Ruauun.

I would beg to state, upon authentic information, that in some instances the tuber has been found to be tainted, though the stalk and leaves were green.

The unprecedentedly extensive appropriation of the ground to potato culture has occasioned an insufficient sowing of grain crops.

Very little wheat has been cultivated, and the oat and barley crops, though very luxuriant and promising, are below the average quantity.

The facility with which sea-weed is obtained in this Union, and its usefulness for potato growing (in this soil at least), has occasioned the peasant's labour being devoted so largely to that crop, to the exclusion in some degree of others.

The turnips early sown have been destroyed by the fly, but the second sowing bids fair to recompense the farmer for his first loss.

Beans are a very poor and casual crop in this Union; and parsnips, cultivated extensively as I have been informed last year, are rarely to be seen in any quarter.

The CLERK of the UNION :—August 15, 1848.

I beg to forward, by the directions of John Cronyn, Esq., Poor Law Inspector, the observations of the relieving officers on the state of the crops in this Union.

ENCLOSURES.

Mr. LYSAGHT to the CLERK of the UNION :—August 15, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 14th, requiring a report of the state of the crops in my district; the potato crop is almost an entire failure, the early potatoes are in general getting black, and the late ones will come to no perfection, in consequence of the blight setting in so early in the season.

There is also a general failure in the turnip crop; especially among the poorer classes, who tilled late.

The wheat crop is considered a light one; oats and barley promised to be very good; but if this wet weather continues corn of all description will be seriously injured.

Mr. HAYES to the CLERK of the UNION :—August 14, 1848.

I am in receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, wherein is stated that you have received a communication from Mr. Cronyn, directing that I would transmit you a true report of the potato and other crops in my district; in reply I beg to state that the potatoes sowed in my district in the month of March, and early in April, were doing very well until they were checked by the distemper, and is now blackening worse and worse every day; and, at least by every information, will be of no use in a short time. But as for the potatoes sowed in my district in the month of May—as it was in that month the greater part of them were sowed—they are now, nor will be, of no use whatsoever.

As to wheat: in my district it is not more than two-thirds in extent to what it was last season, and one-fourth of that same is lost by an empty side that is in the ear; and from the continuance of rain it is seen to be growing the second time through the stalk—and a very bad prospect of it.

The oats in my district is pretty good this season; but it is thought by every information it will not be so productive as it was other seasons; it is all lodged.

Barley is one-fourth more in extent this season in my district than it was last season; but from the continuance of rain it is lodged and injured very much, and will not be so productive.

The green crops are all very feeble and badly growing, except with a few exemptions, and them same are gentlemen's.

Turf, meadowing, and other necessitous crops in my district are in a very bad state; and a very weak opinion that the people will be able to save them, from the continuance of rain.

Miscellaneous.

Mr. SILVER to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

I received your circular relative to the prospect of the potato and the other crops in my district. I regret to say that the potato crop has failed in a great measure; I have not seen many of the tubers black, but I understand that a gentleman in my neighbourhood has three acres completely diseased. I have made every inquiry amongst the parishioners, and they are all of opinion that the late potatoes have little or no chance. With respect to the corn crops, I think they are equal, or nearly so, to the crops of former years; there are in the district a few fields which are blighted a little, which occurred almost every year, but which I do not attach any importance to.

Mr. CROWE to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

I am in receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, wherein is stated that you have received a communication from Mr. Cronyn, directing that I would transmit to you a true report of the prospect of the potato and other crops in my district.

In reply, I beg to state that the potato crop is nearly altogether failed: the oat crop is also blighted, I would say chiefly from the continued rain. The barley crop, which stood best—a small share of which is sowed in my district—is now beginning to give: as to wheat, there is none in my district; and where it is, its prospects are very bad by every information that I can come at.

Mr. D. LYSAGHT to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 14, 1848.

In compliance with your letter of this date, relative to the prospect of the state of the crops in my district, I beg to say that the potato crop has generally failed, particularly the late sowing. The oat crop is blighted—I should suppose from the excessive rain that we have had this time back. The barley is going on well, but very little of it tilled in my district. As to the wheat crop, there is scarcely any; and what there is is of a very inferior description.

In addition to the above report I would say, that from my knowledge of the country, the crops in general bear a worse aspect than they have done for these years back.

Mr. BREWE to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

Your circular of yesterday's date reached me this day at 11 o'clock, requiring me to furnish you with an accurate and correct account of the state of the crops in the Ruaua electoral division.

The potato crop is entirely diseased; and the opinion of the farmers is that there is a total loss.

As regards wheat, there is not more than one-fourth of the usual quantity sown, and that appears quite unhealthy from the effects of the constant rains.

As regards oats, there is very little sown in this district, and what is, promises to be abundant. The barley crop, so far as what was sown early, is promising well; but as regards the barley lately cultivated, it appears very indifferent.

The turnip crops are rather in a declining state, and are not expected by farmers to be more than half an average crop; there are no other green crops sown here.

Mr. SMITH to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

In reply to your circular of the 14th instant, relative to the quantity and state of the crops in the Clare electoral division, I take leave to inform you that the potato crop is entirely blighted; the farmers entertain no other prospect than that of a total loss.

With reference to the wheat crop: the number of acres sown is not more than half of the preceding year, in consequence of the soil not being prepared after 1847; the average crop is very light, and such is much damaged by the inclemency of the weather; an average crop cannot be calculated on.

The oats is under the usual average crop, and appears to suffer much from the constant rains.

The barley crop looks healthy though suffering from the above causes.

Farmers entertain an unfavourable opinion of the turnip crop. No other description of green crops are sown here.

The hay is suffering materially from not being cut down; it is rotting on the ground, the season is so constantly wet.

Miscellaneous.

Mr. MORRIS to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

In reply to your circular of the 14th, requiring a report of the state of the crops in my district: the potatoes are considered a general failure; the wheat is not considered as good as usual; the barley, oat, and turnip crops are in general good, and a good quantity cultivated.

Mr. O'BRIEN to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 14, 1848.

I have received your letter of this date requesting of me to give a report of the state of the crops in this division. I beg leave to state, for the Commissioners' information, that the potato crop, in every sense of the word, is completely gone. The wheat crop, which is not very abundant in this my neighbourhood, is very thin; but the barley and oat crop, which is rather abundant, appears rather luxuriant; but from the constant rain, which is incessant, the farmers are of opinion, and so am I, that it will retard the ripening of those crops in a great measure, and I fear we will not have an early harvest.

Mr. KELLY to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 14, 1848.

Your note, requiring an accurate and correct report of the state of the potato and other crops, has been handed me just now, eight o'clock. I regret that my report must be unfavourable. The potato crop, from every information that has reached me, and from my own experience and inspection, is so diseased at present as to convey the fact of their utter failure. With regard to the other crops, at least in the Kilchreest district, my anticipations of their prospects are very disheartening indeed. The wheaten crop is considered unusually light, and under an average yield. The opinions entertained of the oaten crops are also discouraging indeed, and now looked upon as very likely to turn out very inferior. The prospects of the barley crops are yet somewhat favourable. Turnips, in this locality, a complete failure. Hay in a very precarious state; and no turf for the winter fuel. Such, sir, are the melancholy accounts that you have imposed upon me to detail of the harvest crops of this season; nor do I think that this account is either incorrect or hastily incautious. You, sir, require this report by eleven o'clock to-morrow morning, a matter impossible to be accomplished in so short an interval, if my knowledge were not already acquired. I have no more to add, but do still hope that a better providence will yet improve the state of this country and the condition of its people.

Mr. SAMPLIN to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your communication requiring a knowledge of the crops, I have to state, that they are very unpromising. The potato crop is apparently blighted, and I can form but an indifferent opinion of its produce. I am also of opinion that the oaten crop is in a bad state. Barley is doing very well, and will be an average crop. Wheat, in general, is light, and, from the heavy rain, is considered by the farmers to be a very indifferent crop, and in some instances blighted. The turnip crop holds out no promise but that of a failure.

Mr. O'MARA to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 14, 1848.

I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst., wherein it is stated that you have received a communication from Mr. Cronyn, directing that I will transmit to you a true report of the potato and other crops in my district.

In reply thereto I beg to state, that the potato, particularly the late ones, appear to be attacked with the blight, and I believe there are but slight hopes of its preservation. Oats, from the inquiries I have made, is blighted. Barley, from its appearance, is doing well, and will be an average crop, but not much of it sowed. Wheat is a light crop this year, and some of it blighted. Turnips a complete failure.

Mr. CULLINAN to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

In compliance with Mr. Cronyn's desire to me, communicated on yesterday by you, I herewith send you my report of the crops in this district, and of the potato crop in particular.

Wheat is not much grown in the district; the breadth put in at any time was not extensive; and I think it is less by one-fourth this year than it has been hitherto; and in my opinion the yield will not produce more than three-fourths the ordinary crop. Oats and barley are a tolerably fair crop in the district; but owing to the continued wet weather I fear much they will, as well as wheat, suffer considerably in coming to maturity. Some beans have been put in for the first time in the district; but as far as I can judge they are a very inferior crop.

The turnip, I think, had been more extensively planted than before; but I am afraid it suffered much by failure in the months of May and June, and will turn out a short crop.

Potatoes, I am sorry to think, are seriously blighted. I think the planting made since April will turn out to be of very little use as human nourishment, though some might be turned to some advantage in feeding swine; but they are almost banished from the neighbourhood. I think the early crop of potatoes—I mean those planted before the middle of April—may turn out to be of some consequence, as they had nearly come to maturity before the blight set in; and it is my opinion that half that crop, or perhaps three-fourths of it, may turn out to be a crop made available as good food. I may here mention that, as far as I can see at present, there is not, in the crop planted before the middle of April, more than one-eighth at present showing symptoms of decay; but even that proportion is more than was observable seven or eight days since.

If a weekly examination and report, from personal inspection through the district, are desired, I shall use all due diligence in making such every week.

I have given a fair and true account of the crops at present, as far as can be seen or known.

Mr. MOLONY to the CLERK of the UNION:—August 15, 1848.

I am in receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, informing me that you had a communication from Mr. Cronyn, requiring that I would report and transmit to you my opinion of the general state of the crops in my district.

I beg to say, in reply, that I regret that I am not able to give as favourable an account of them as I would wish to do.

The early sowing of potatoes some are still holding good; but it is dreaded, from the withered appearance of the stalks, that scarcely a third of them, in a short time, will be fit for use. The late sowing is, I may say, all gone. With regard to wheat, barley, and oats, they are considerably defective from the expectations that were entertained. Barley is the best that is still holding out. Turnips are failing too; and as to turf, the weather is so wet that there is none scarcely to be expected.

Were it not from the knowledge I had of my district, from the short notice I got, I could not make this report; however, it is not made hastily or incautiously.

Mr. LYNCH to the CLERK of the UNION.

In reply to your letter of the 14th instant I beg leave to state, for the Commissioners' information, that the potato crop in my district is mostly a complete failure—the late tillage are completely gone, but those tilled early are doing better.

The wheaten crop, which is not abundantly tilled, is rather light; but the barley and oat crops are doing well up to this time, but the farmers in this neighbourhood are very much afraid will be injured more or less from the constant rain which is incessant, and which is quite sufficient to prevent their ripening in time. Turnips a complete failure with very few exceptions.

Fermoy Union—Major Bolton:—August 12, 1848.

In answer to your letter of the 9th instant, I beg to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that from personal inspection I am of opinion that the disease in the potato crops has decidedly set in, and is evidently progressing. The potatoes in each electoral division of the Fermoy Union appearing to be equally affected, and the prospect of another failure in this portion of the harvest, has caused great apprehension in the minds of the people, who are, in consequence, prematurely digging and selling their potatoes. From a large quantity having been sown much earlier than in former years, more time has been afforded to the crops to arrive at maturity previous to their being attacked by the disease; but the great fear is, that after their being thus attacked there is but little chance of their keeping for any length of time.

The wheaten crop is thin, the sowing having taken place during continued wet weather, and the head of some particular kinds has been more or less injured by the late heavy rains.

The oat crop is considered a fair average, and barley a full crop.

Turnips, and green crops in general, are in many places looking delicate, and the quantity sown is not equal to last year, the small holders of land having given a preference to potatoes.

The above report contains, I think, a fair estimate of the state of the crops generally in the several electoral divisions of this Union.

Galway Union—Major McKie:—August 13, 1848.

In compliance with the instructions conveyed in your letter of the 9th inst., I have to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that throughout the Union the potato crops have become infected with the disease of 1845 and 1846. The disease has made the most rapid progress; and the fears I expressed in a former report, that the crops in the eastern districts, which were then free, would not long remain so, have, I regret to say, been fully verified. With the exception of some potatoes cultivated by Mr. Skilling, on Lord Wallscourt's property, in Ballinacourty, I do not hear of any that have altogether escaped; and I beg to call attention to the fact, that these potatoes were planted by Mr. Skilling in the autumn—planted whole.

Miscellaneous.

I have observed that the farmers are digging the potatoes and bringing them to market, as the only chance of saving themselves from total loss; and I have also observed, that the diseased potatoes, set aside from the sound in the fields, appear to vary from one-half to one-third of the whole. As a winter store for food, the potato crop in this Union is lost.

On the 23rd of April I reported the extent to which the cultivation of the potato had at that time been carried; and in a subsequent report I stated, that so large a breadth had been planted, to the neglect of other crops, that the safety of the population in the ending winter, would entirely depend on the growth of the potato.

I will now state my observations in each electoral division.

Ballinacourty—Wheat: light in the ground, short in the head, and badly filled; there is probably more wheat in this division than in others. Oats: breadth sown small; crop, an average one. Barley: breadth small; average crop. Potatoes: nearly all blighted, and lost as a winter store. About one-fourth of the tillage uncultivated.

Stradbally—Wheat: small breadth; slight crop. Oats: very small breadth; average crop. Barley: fair breadth, average crop. Potatoes: above an average breadth; all blighted.

Athenry—Wheat: small breadth; very light crop. Oats: very little, but average crop. Barley: breadth small; crop average. Potatoes: an average breadth; all blighted. About one-third of the tillage is waste.

Oranmore—The remarks on Athenry applicable in all respects.

Galway—Wheat very small in breadth, and very light crop. Oats: small breadth; average crop. Barley the same. Potatoes much above an average breadth; totally lost for a winter store: the tubers rotting rapidly.

Moycullen—Wheat is only grown on the southern side; small quantity; very light crop. Oats: breadth short; average crop. Barley: very little; average crop. Potatoes: great breadth; totally gone.

Killanin—Not a wheat country; but to the north, same remark as Moycullen. Oats: small breadth; crop average. Barley: small breadth; crop average. Potatoes: considerable breadth; all blighted.

Oughticonel—The same as Killanin. I may assert that this division depended entirely on the potatoes.

Lackagh—Small breadth of wheat, and bad yield. Oats: small in breadth; average crop. Barley the same. Potatoes: great breadth; many of them late sown, and the potatoes not larger than marbles; all disordered.

Clare Galway—Wheat: small in breadth; crops light. Oats: small in breadth; average crop. Barley: small in breadth; average crop. Potatoes: considerable breadth; the disease has made rapid progress within the last week.

The turnip crops have generally failed, from the attacks of the fly. Some fields have been sown three times; but the green crops are of no extent in this Union. All the small holders, and indeed many of the large holders, had been impressed with the belief, that the potato disease would disappear, and speculating on that idea, they could not be persuaded to sow turnips. Another reason for rejecting this crop was, its liability to degradation, from which cause they suffered great loss last year.

The quantity of wheat and oats is far below an average; and the wheat will be a very poor crop: I think barley will give the best return. The constant rain has no doubt much injured the corn crops. In some places I hear barley is falling from the ear, and some fields are affected with smut.

There can be little doubt that the coming winter will be one of extreme suffering and privation for the poor, and that the extensive failure of the potato will be ruinous to the small farmers.

Glenties Union—Captain O'Neill:—August 12, 1848.

I beg leave to state for your information, and in reply to your letter of the 9th instant, that I have personally examined the potato crop within the electoral divisions of Glenties, Derryloaghan, Ardara, Killybegs, and Meenavally, and I find that the blight is rapidly increasing; scarcely a field has escaped, and the obnoxious smell from some of them can be easily felt from the public road. I have also examined the potato, and find that in many instances one or two on each stalk are affected in some localities; and in other parts of this Union the potatoes are sound, although the tops are withered; and from all the inquiries which I have made throughout the Union, I am of opinion that if the disease continues as it has done for the last ten days, the one half of the potato crop must go. With regard to the quantity of barley and oats sown in this Union, I think there will be a fair average crop. I travelled this week to Ballyshannon and Sligo Unions, accompanied by Mr. D'Arcy, the Poor Law Inspector at Ballyshannon, and we examined several fields of potatoes on our journey, when we found the blight making rapid progress, and in several instances from one to two potatoes at each stalk were affected with the disease. I shall make more minute inquiry in the course of next week, and shall communicate the result without loss of time.

Glenties Union—Extract from Captain O'Neill's Report of August 14, 1848.

I have the honour to state for your information, that I left this on Monday last, the 7th instant, for Ballyshannon, from which place Mr. D'Arcy, the Poor Law Inspector of that Union, and myself travelled to Sligo for the purpose of examining closely into the potato crop, and making every inquiry we could as to the progress of the blight.

I am sorry to be obliged to report that all the fields we passed on our journey are affected with the disease; and in many instances the potato itself completely gone.

Several of the country people to whom we spoke do not like to acknowledge the fact; but still cling to the hope of having a crop, although it is quite evident that, should the disease continue, more than one-half of them must go. On Wednesday and Thursday, on my return, I travelled through the country from Ballyshannon to Donegal, and the greater part of this Union, where I observed several fields that were apparently quite sound a few days before were all affected, and on my pulling up some of the stalks and examining the potato, I generally found one or two of them affected with the blight. The tops in every field throughout this and the adjoining Unions are all quite black, the leaves withered, and the stalks affected down to the seed.

Gort Union—Mr. Gibbons:—August 13, 1848.

I have the honour of reporting, regarding the state of the crops in the Gort Union, that there appears to have been more than an average crop of potatoes sown; but a great portion was sown late by the small holders, and, consequently, they are now the greatest sufferers, as the late sown potato crops have almost generally, in the Gort Union, failed; in fact, the late crop of potatoes appears destroyed—lost.

I have within the last few days pulled up several stalks of the late sown potatoes; there were no potatoes at the root, though the blight in some instances had not apparently extended through the stem to the root. Up to within the last three weeks the potato fields looked beautiful, but they now present a most dismal appearance; the blight has now extended over every potato field in the Union; the fields which looked so luxuriant a short time past are now quite black. The blight is also daily extending to the root. At the commencement the potato was but partially injured; since I have heard of spotted and black potatoes being more generally found, and more late. I am informed that almost every person holding potato crops finds, on digging, more or less black potatoes; the disease gradually and surely extending.

About a fortnight past I inquired of a party who was then digging his potatoes whether they were diseased—he replied, he found a few spotted; since then I again inquired of him, he was also at the time digging his potatoes—he stated, he found several spotted and some few black. I was at the same field yesterday, and made similar inquiry, and was informed that the greater portion were black, clearly showing, I should say, the progressive disease. I ought to remark that those were the early sown potatoes; but still I am not prepared to admit that the early sown potato is generally seriously diseased; though I must say that the best potatoes that I have seen in this Union, when boiled, are very indifferent, having more of the nature of a turnip than potato.

Miscellaneous.

Some few of the holders are pulling up the stems, others are cutting them close by the earth; but in general the holders do not appear to have taken any remedy.

Respecting the corn crops: the wheat is a very light crop, and has been, in some instances blighted at one side, so that the ear is quite empty on the blighted side—and this occurs more or less in every electoral division in the Union. I should say that the wheat cannot possibly prove an average crop in this Union.

The barley crop looks well—did look most luxuriant; I am inclined to believe it may prove the best corn crop in the Union. I must remark that, within the last few days, I have observed a kind of blight in some of the barley fields.

The oat crop promises well, and may prove a good crop; though, I must also observe, that within the last few days, I observed some appearance of black and blight; it appears extending, particularly in Killeeneen, Beagh, and Killeenavara; however, it is not general, and it is expected that the barley and oats may prove fair crops.

The green cropping is not extensive in this Union; what has been cared promises fairly.

It is strange the people do not at all appear affected by the loss of the potato crop; though the general belief is that the crop is lost, they appear quite reconciled, and evidently consider, as a matter of certainty, that they must get the meal; but I should say, that all possessing small holdings will, consequent on the loss of the potatoes, surrender the land the ensuing year. Many would emigrate had they the means, even from the youngest to the oldest; but all consider the meal as their right, the potatoes being lost.

I might state, that added to the loss of the potatoes, the destitute are likely to suffer in this Union the ensuing winter from the insufficiency of turf.

I have been honoured by a second communication from the benevolent Society of Friends, in which they kindly state, that they have directed 540 lbs. of turnip and cabbage seeds to be forwarded to my care, for the poor of the Gort Union.

Granard Union--Captain Lang :- August 12, 1848.

The reports from all quarters of the progress of disease and failure of the potato crop, and the consequent dismay and panic excited among the farmers of this district, directed my attention to the important subject of your letter of the 9th instant, previous to the receipt of it; and led me in a great measure to anticipate the instructions of the Commissioners, by an extended personal inspection of a considerable breadth of the growing crops of potatoes and other sorts of human food. The results of my observations in the several electoral divisions I have now the honour to submit, in compliance with your communication.

That the potato disease has made alarming and rapid progress in all parts of the country since the date of my last report is now beyond any question or doubt. Yesterday and this morning I examined several fields of potatoes, in different soils and aspects, of from three to four acres each, partly planted in drills, and partly in ridges, in the lazy-bed way; I got several stalks dug from both modes of culture, and in all of the tubers I found the unequivocal and distinctive type of the same disease which partially infected the crop of 1845, and totally destroyed that of 1846. In all of these fields I found the stalks blackened as if by a severe frost. They had all been planted early in March or April, in which months rain and cold weather prevailed to an extent beyond almost any season on record. I subsequently dug up and inspected several stalks in the workhouse ground, which were not planted until May—a month which presented the extraordinary meteorological fact, of cloudless weather, day and night, for the first fortnight, and in which the atmosphere was free from electric influence, which was extremely active in the months of April and June, and has frequently continued in an active state for the last six weeks. I found the tubers in the workhouse ground perfectly free of disease, though the leaves are partially blackened—from which they appear to be recovering, by the vigour and strength of the stalks; and which I attribute to the dry and warm season in which they were planted, the superior spade cultivation given to the ground, and being perfectly clean and free from weeds.

The heavy wheat and oat crops which were beaten down by the incessant rain and high winds so prevalent at the date of my last report, appear to be much improved within the last few days; and have in all open situations risen again under the genial influence of dry and warm weather.

COUNTY LONGFORD.

Granard Electoral Division—Pasture and meadow prevail more than tillage. The high prices of food during the last two seasons induced a greater breadth of land than usual to be broken up for corn and potato crops in the clay and retentive soils. From a general defect of drainage, much of the land that was ploughed was not sown, in consequence of the continued rains of February, March, and April; nevertheless the quantity of land under crop is greater than the average of the last five years. Throughout this division the complaints of a failure in the potato crop is general. The oat crop looks well; but the wheat, of which the proportion is not equal to other districts, is in many places infected with the rust or blight.

Clonbroney—The observations on Granard apply to a greater extent in this division. The farms are larger; it is a rich pasture district, and the tillage less in proportion. The potato crop is very generally infected.

Gelshagh—This is a poorer district than Clonbroney; the population greater in proportion to its extent and annual value; and the holdings smaller. Much of the land is waste and uncropped from the poverty of the occupiers. The system of tillage is wretchedly bad, and the corn crops I examined are very inferior; the breadth of land under them I should suppose was less than the average of former years. There is a total neglect of drainage or improvement of any sort.

Columbkil—This is the poorest of all the electoral divisions in the Union, and the observations on Gelshagh apply to a greater extent here; but the disease in the potato crop does not as yet appear so general as in other places.

Lough Gowna—The population is less in proportion to extent of area; and though in particular parts of it small holdings and their concomitant evils, poverty and bad farming, exist to a great extent, yet in a great proportion of this district the disease in the potato crop has not as yet appeared so general and widely spread as in other parts of the Union. The oat crops and the small proportion of wheat sown look well, and the quantity of land under these crops is greater than the average of former years.

Abbeylara—The circumstances of this division are in many respects similar to those of Granard. The want of drainage in the tenacious clay land is obvious, and the extent and quality of the oat and wheat crops are below the average of former years: the disease in the potato crop prevails to an alarming extent.

Castlenugent—This division has a less population in proportion to its area and valuation than any of the Union. It is generally divided into large farms, and the tillage much superior to most of the surrounding districts. The breadth of land under crops of human food is greater than the average of former years. The appearance of disease in the potato crop is general.

COUNTY CAVAN.

Scrabby—The tillage throughout this division is of the worst description, and the crops exhibit a corresponding state of inferiority. Wheat is not cultivated to any extent, but there is a greater breadth of land under oats than usual. The disease in the potato crop is prevalent, but some localities continue as yet free from it. The majority of the population are small occupiers; and as is usual with that description of tenantry, they are idle, improvident, and demoralized to an awful extent.

Mullaghoran—The observations on Scrabby apply to a large proportion of this division: that part of it adjoining Drumlumman is in rather a better state. The disease in the potato crop is widely spread and progressing daily.

Drumlumman—A considerable proportion of this division is in grass and meadow lands; but the high market prices of the last two years have here also induced a greater breadth of land to be broken up for human food crops, and the average area under wheat and oats is greater than usual. The tillage is of the worst description; the land generally foul with weeds, and no attempt at drainage. The disease in the potato crop is universal, and progressing rapidly to its total destruction. In the whole district I could not find a field free from it. The consequent dismay and alarm of the small farmers is beyond all precedent; they are digging out the crop, and glutting the market with the produce, which has produced a corresponding fall of prices, varying from $2\frac{1}{2}d.$ to $4d.$ per stone.

Miscellaneous.

COUNTY WESTMEATH.

Foyran, Lickbla, Coole, Street, Rathowen—The statistical circumstances of these five electoral divisions are very similar to each other. They contain a large area of bog, and of flat, alluvial grass and meadow lands, flooded in winter by the rivers Gloise, Inny, and their tributaries. A considerable portion of them are in large pasture farms, and in these the tillage has been greatly extended within the last two years. On the uplands the crops of oats and wheat have a good appearance. The potato disease has throughout these divisions exhibited itself very generally. Strange to say, the peat soils, where the potatoes were the least infected in the former seasons, are this year the worst. The destitute portion of the population in all these five divisions consist chiefly of the cottier tenantry on the large farms, who formerly used to rent con-acres for potatoes from the large farmers, and of those located along the margin of the great turf bogs, occupying patches of ground reclaimed from the bogs, who in summer used to cut and sell turf, and to steal from their neighbours in the winter. Nothing can exceed the wretched state of their habitations, or their barbarous ignorance and demoralization. They generally contrived to plant patches of potatoes on dry parts of the bog, and were in the habit, when this was done, of shutting shop and begging through the country during the summer. The whole of this population are now utterly destitute, and must be supported out of the rates either on out-door relief or as inmates of the workhouse.

I have extended this report beyond the limits which perhaps were required; but it will give the Commissioners a tolerable correct idea of the general state of this Union and of its prospects.

Kells Union—Captain Dent, R.N.:—August 12, 1848.

In compliance with the directions contained in your letter of the 9th instant, calling for a report on the present appearance of the potato and other crops in each electoral division of this Union, I beg to state, that from personal inspection, as well as from every information I could gain from the intelligent small farmers as well as the gentry and large landholders, there is every fear that the disease is gaining ground, and has in appearance much increased since my last report. Certain it is that in the several divisions (see margin,) I have been enabled to go through during the past week, very many fields that were looking healthy and flourishing, show now a black and blasted appearance in the stalks and leaves; and though, in the inspection of the roots, I have seen little beyond the spotted appearance, which on removing with the nail has been found not to have penetrated, from the offensive smell, however, issuing from some fields, there is too much reason to fear that symptoms similar to that of 1846 have manifested themselves. This is shown more particularly in the late sorts. In my communications with different persons, I have brought before them the fact of the late unpropitious weather, not only as respects the extreme wetness of the season but its being attended with cold and frost almost unknown before; and whether to this might not be attributable the present unhealthy and blighted appearance of the potato; and whether more genial weather may not tend, if not to restore, at all events to prevent a further spread. In the answers to those queries I have almost invariably found, that in proportion to the extent of the ground planted by the person, and consequent stake, they were of a desponding or more cheering character.

From an intelligent and large holder with whom I have been in communication this day, Mr. Pat Kearney, of Miltown, in the Kilskeer division, I learn his

Kells,
Burry,
Kilskeer,
Girley,
Rathmore,
Telltown;

opinion, that the disease in his part is not on the increase. He stated to me, that for the purpose of being able to form a more correct judgment of its progress he had refrained from visiting fields of his, which he found showing symptoms, for several days; and that his impression on again seeing them was, that the disease had not gained, and his consequent hope that dry, fine weather would stop the progress. This is the opinion of many: on all sides it is admitted that the present shows nothing of the virulent nature of the attack manifested in the year 1846.

With reference to the wheat and green crops: notwithstanding the dreadful heavy rains we have had they are standing well up under it and look healthy and promising. The extent of these—while the yield is not expected to come up to last, an extraordinary bearing, year—is above the average usual in this Union. In consequence of the great breadth of land occupied by the potato, the turnip will fall far short of last year, though what is planted have a healthy, promising appearance. The oats appear to me the most unpromising, having generally no growth in the stalk; and while the recent weather has done great damage to the hay on the ground, the after-grass, of which they had little or none last year, is most luxuriant this; and will supply in a great measure any deficiency which may be caused by not saving the hay.

I shall consider my next week's report on all will be more conclusive; as by that time, no doubt, I shall be enabled to speak positively as to the progress of the disease.

Kenmare Union—Captain Ommanney, R.N. :—August 12, 1848.

Agreeably with your request contained in letter of the 9th inst., I have the honour to transmit the following statement of the appearance of the crops in each electoral division of this Union:—

Kenmare—Potato crop has everywhere been blighted about the town of Kenmare; the gardens have suffered more severely than any part of the Union; a very large proportion of the tubers are diseased. The proportion of grain crops is inconsiderable; but I am informed a less extent has been sown this year than the last. The oats are looking well; wheat is in a backward state, in consequence of the wet weather; turnips have been sown—every farmer has a small quantity.

Bunawn—Potato crop has been extensively cultivated in this division; it has at present suffered but little damage from the disease, and promises well at present. Of any other crop there is a very small proportion cultivated; oats look well; most of the farmers have a small patch of turnips.

Kilgarvan—The potato crop partially blighted; within the last week there have been some complaints of the disease being in the tubers; previous to this the gardens have been most luxuriant; there is every reason to hope the produce will be considerable and good; turnips are generally sown in small quantities. Of grain there is more sown than in any other part of the Union; oats are looking well; wheat supposed to be damaged by the wet.

Templenoe—Potato crop extensive; everywhere the blight has attacked it—many complaints of the tubers being black; other crops are very inconsiderable; turnips in small quantities are cultivated, but not to any greater extent than last year.

Ballybog—Potato crop is extensive; the disease made its appearance here first, and has done great damage; several gardens are totally ruined, and every one more or less injured; the crop to all appearance suffered extensively. I have seen gardens where all the potatoes are diseased; in others checked before they had grown to a proper size. A few turnips are cultivated; the country and soil incapable of producing grain.

Bourdoneen—Potato crop very extensive; in several localities the disease has destroyed entire gardens, others have escaped as yet; generally they are partially attacked; a large quantity of the crop may yet be safe; oats and wheat are cultivated but partially on some farms, which are looking well; turnips have been planted generally in small quantities, to a greater extent than usual.

Tuosist—Potato crop very extensive; the disease has attacked it throughout the division; in many places the gardens are entirely destroyed, and scarcely any one has escaped. The disease has spread considerably during the last week;

Miscellaneous.

several complaints of the tubers being black. Of grain crops, the proportion is very limited; oats look well; turnips are generally planted in small quantities, but more extensively than any previous year. From all accounts, and from personal observation, it may be considered that at the present time about one-third of the potato crop is destroyed; but from the extent which it has been cultivated this year, should one-half be saved, there will be a considerable quantity of provisions, as the people have risked their "all" upon the fate of the crop; a total destruction will be ruinous to every body. The system of agriculture throughout is of a most indifferent character. The turnip has been brought more extensively into notice this year; I am now distributing seed to put in the ground where potatoes have been dug. Potatoes were selling in the market yesterday for four pence the weight of 21 lbs.

Kilrush Union—Captain Kennedy :—Kilkee, August 12, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 9th August, I have the honour to state that I have attentively observed the state of the crops of human food, so all important in this Union. The potato crop is almost universally blighted wherever it has reached a certain degree of maturity. I have seen whole ridges dug up, and fully one-half were unfit for human food. The remainder, though at present sound, will, I have no doubt, soon become tainted, as the disease is steadily progressing wherever it has made its appearance.

The late crops in many instances still look green and flourishing, and are by their hopeful owners thought to be safe. I am of a totally different opinion; their time is not yet come, and when they arrive at the degree of maturity at which the early crop was attacked I have no doubt that the failure will be still more calamitous. A most flourishing crop under my daily observation has been withered and blackened within three days, and the tubers spotted.

The following are my observations (personal) on particular electoral divisions:—

Kilballyowen—Blight very extensive, though not of so aggravated a character as elsewhere.

Moyarta—A very small quantity for immediate use may be saved; calculations of practical men vary from one-fifth to one-tenth: I fear the latter nearest the truth.

Kilkee—A considerable quantity of early potatoes for immediate use, but all are diseased more or less in every quality of ground.

Killard—Not much early crop, and all diseased.

Kilmurphy—Ditto.

Knock, Kilfidane, and Kildysart—All at a certain degree of maturity diseased.

Killimer and Kilrush—A less quantity planted, but all more or less infected; many fields a total loss.

Killofin—Much the same as Killard, Kilmacduane, and Kilmihil; a less breadth planted, but almost all infected.

Once infected the plant withers progressively and visibly from day to day, a single night making a marked difference in the appearance and colour. The disease resembles that of 1845. But few of the poor seem to realize the extent or consequences of this mysterious calamity.

As regards other crops of human food I have to observe, that a considerable breadth of beans has been planted in the western part of the Union, and look healthy. Taking the average of the Union, I am of opinion that the breadth of cereal crops is equal to former years, though I hear numerous and, from my own knowledge, well-founded complaints of the barley and wheat crops. The continued heavy rain, undrained land, and wretched tillage fully account for this.

Listowel Union—Captain Spark :—August 12, 1848.

In compliance with the request of the Commissioners in your letter of the 9th instant, I regret to have to make a report which may be comprised in five words used by the farmers and others to me in the course of my inquiries—"the potato crop is gone."

Yet I do not go the length of stating that none will be available for food. The common early potatoes, such as were put in the ground early, in March and

April, have in many fields sound tubers not yet affected by the blight, not however full grown; and as this sort preponderates, I consider that about one-third the crop may be saved if they are taken up in time. The later set potatoes will yield nothing, and are daily dying off, as are all others.

Of the corn crops, oats and barley look well—these prevail in preference to wheat; the latter appears thin and weak. The extent of corn crops is considered, as compared with last year's sowing, to be from one-half to one-third less.

The above remarks apply to the following electoral divisions, all I have been able to inspect personally this week. I have had but yesterday and to-day to look to the matter, having received the letter on Thursday, the day of the board's meeting:—

Listowel,	Kilfeighney,
Gunsborough,	Kilshinane,
Ballylongford,	Kilflyn,
Killihenny,	Rattoo,
Kiltomy,	Drumkeen;
Newtown Sandes,

but I know from former visits and inquiries that the same would perfectly apply to every division of the Union.

If the weather should continue to be wet, as at present, the general opinion is that the corn crop will be jeopardized. Of turnips and other green crops there is little sown in this Union, but they look well.

Longford Union—Mr. Downman:—August 13, 1848.

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, and in reply beg to make the following statement of the crops in this Union:—

Longford,	Potatoes, with very few exceptions, are all diseased; the bulb of about one-third of the crop is black, and the injury is increasing daily.
Newtown Forbes,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Edgeworthstown,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Ardagh,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Ballinamuck,	Potatoes are all diseased; the bulb of about one-half the crop is affected, and the disease is increasing daily.
Drumlisk,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Mohill,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Termonbarry,	Ditto, ditto, ditto.
Killashee—Moydow,	Potatoes are safer than in any other part of the Union; one-quarter are at present sound.
Cashel,	Potatoes appear from the stalk to be all gone.
Rathcline,	Ditto, ditto.
Ballymahon,	Ditto, ditto.
Kilcommack,	Ditto, ditto.
Taghshinny,	Ditto, ditto.

The remaining electoral divisions I have not visited for some time, but the reports are that the potatoes are all going. The disease is increasing so rapidly that potatoes that were sound in Killashee on Wednesday were all diseased on Friday. The crop in this Union must be considered nearly as great a failure as the year the disease first appeared.

The wheat is injured in many fields, but to no alarming extent. All other crops are looking remarkably well. There is a greater extent of wheat, and far greater extent of oats, bere, and barley than previous years. There are very few turnips in the Union.

Macroom Union—Mr. Brandling:—August 13, 1848.

In reply to your letter, I have the honour to state that the potato crop appears to be affected throughout the entire of the Macroom Union. In travelling through the country I cannot see a single field of potatoes without the appearance of disease; and this awful calamity is gradually gaining ground in every direction. I examined a cluster of potato gardens, consisting of ten acres, in the neighbourhood of Macroom, and found them completely destroyed. I see loads of damaged potatoes brought from all quarters to the Macroon market, to be sold at reduced prices for feeding cattle. The weather being so very unfavourable, and the potato disease increasing from day to day, an opinion on the future prospects of the country would be merely a matter of conjecture. At present I do not think that more than one-third of the potatoes are damaged; but this visitation is not equally distributed through the country. Some poor creatures have their gardens destroyed; and these people must depend on the poor rates for their support during the coming winter.

Miscellaneous.

The wheat crops are decidedly scanty. The farmers do not anticipate saving much more than half of an average crop.

A fortnight of fine weather would be of the greatest service to the oat crop, which promises a good return.

The Macroon Board of Guardians have appointed Saturday the 26th of August, for a special meeting, to take into consideration the state of the crops. A written exposition shall be sent from the meeting to the Poor Law Commissioners, to put them in possession of the general prospects of the Union.

Milford Union—Mr. Horsley :—August 12, 1848.

Herewith I have the honour to transmit the statement you called for by your letter of the 9th instant. In consequence of a mistake at the Rathmelton post-office, I received that letter only yesterday evening instead of on Thursday evening.

I had, however, walked and ridden over the greater part of the Union since Monday last; and am therefore able to report, from personal observation, upon the general appearance of the crops in the several electoral divisions of the Union.

ENCLOSURE.

STATEMENT of the present appearance of the Potato Crop, and of the other Crops for Human Food :—August 12, 1848.

Rathmelton—In this division disease has within the last few days manifested itself in almost every field of potatoes. The leaves are spotted and withered, and the haulms are partially discoloured or blackened. In some instances the disease has already descended into the tubers. The turnip crop, owing partly to the ravages of the fly, and partly to an insufficiency of manure, is not likely to yield much more than half the bulk and weight given by the same description of crop last year. Nearly one-fourth of the arable land in this division is under potatoes and other green crops.

Oats are strong, and very well corned; unless, however, there should be an immediate occurrence of dry and sunny weather, they will ripen badly and be light in weight. Very little wheat is grown in this division, or indeed in the Union; it is an average crop in appearance.

Carn—In this division also the presence of disease amongst the potatoes is too apparent and general. The turnip crop does not give promise of an abundant yield. About one-seventh of the arable land is under potatoes and other green crops.

Oats and other grain crops look remarkably well, and only want sun and genial weather to ensure their turning out well on the threshing-floor. The frosts which have prevailed for the last few nights are against them however.

Rathmullen—In this division rot among the potatoes is even more apparent than in the two former ones, owing to the crop being, in it, further advanced towards maturity. The turnip crop, from having had the benefit of superior tillage, wears a strong and healthy appearance. About one-seventh of the arable land is under potatoes and other green crops. Peas and beans are both tolerable crops.

Oats and other grain crops only require to ripen well to be above average crops.

Oughterlin—This is a very late division in point of climate, and in addition to this the soil is wretchedly cultivated, consequently all crops are backward in it; but even here the potato crop shows symptoms of disease. Turnips are very bad, having been sown in cold wet soil, and having been given but little manure; almost all the manure was applied to the potatoes. About one-tenth of the arable land is under potatoes and green crops.

I much fear, from the backwardness of the season and the cold nature of the soil in this division, oats will have ultimately to be included under the head of green crop. There is no wheat to any extent grown in this division.

Milford—Here also the first stage of the potato rot has manifested itself generally; and in some fields decomposition has set in amongst the tubers. Turnips do not give promise of an average yield. Peas are a good crop; about one-eighth of the soil under green crop.

Oats, wheat, and other grain crops look luxuriant at present, but are a long way from maturity.

Carrickart—The spotting of the leaves and discolouration of the stems of the potato plant has only just commenced in this division; but I have seen few fields altogether free from taint. The turnip crop, owing to bad farming and bad soil combined, is unpromising. About one-seventh of the arable land is under green crop.

Oats and barley, if well ripened, will both prove above average crops.

Meevagh—Disease among the potato crops in this division is clearly discernible in almost every field or garden; but, as the soil is of a light and dry nature, there is some reason to hope that the tubers, though small, may eventually prove tolerably sound. Turnips look very indifferent. About one-tenth of soil under green crop.

Oats and barley are thin, and but moderately well corned. They will be ready for the sickle sooner than in other places where the soil is stiffer.

Glinsk—The first stage of the rot is visible in every field of potatoes in this division; it is observable in small patches in each field, and will, I much fear, spread over the whole of them. Turnips scarcely promise an average yield. Peas are a good crop. About one-seventh of the arable soil is under green crop of one kind or another.

Oats and barley promise at present to be above average crops.

Carroukeel—There is every appearance of a failure in the potato crop in this division. Turnips suffered a good deal from the ravages of the fly, but they will still be a tolerable crop. About one-eighth of the arable soil is under green crop.

The grain crops generally look very well, but require a fortnight of fine and sunny weather to ripen them.

Greenfort—The potato rot in its first stage is also generally observable in some portion or other of the potato fields in this division. Turnips are not coming away particularly well. About one-eighth of the arable soil is under green crop.

Oats and barley show luxuriantly.

Kilmacrenan—There is less appearance as yet of the potato rot in this division than in any other in the Union; but still there is a distinct indication of it in numerous fields that I have minutely inspected. Turnips look tolerably well in this division.

All the grain crops give promise of a good return, if they get good ripening weather.

Doon—In this division the potato crop has begun to show symptoms of disease; and the small farmers, who in many instances parted with their last head of stock to purchase seed, are in a very desponding state. There is very little land under turnip culture, such as it is.

The grain crops promise well at present.

Observations—Since Saturday last, the 5th of August (the date of my last report on the state of the potato crop), the potato crop has quite changed its aspect in this Union. There is scarcely a field under that crop in the Union which has not been smitten more or less by blight; and I very much fear, that although the mischief is at present almost entirely confined to the leaves and stems of the potato plants, the tubers will, in a great measure, soon become unfit for human food. Even should they remain sound, they are so small, and their further increase in size so improbable when the stems which convey the sap to them are diseased, that much reliance cannot be placed upon them for furnishing any thing like a staple supply of food for the population. But from what I have seen, I cannot entertain any reasonable hope that they will remain sound; nor do the potato growers themselves entertain any such expectation. On the contrary, they are rushing into the markets with their potatoes, and the consequence is, that the price of them is falling daily. I could have purchased to-day any quantity at 2½d. per stone, and by the middle of next week I doubt not the price will fall to 1½d. per stone.

The general impression here is, that the crop will fail almost as signally as it did in 1846.

In corroboration of this I may mention, that a person in this neighbourhood, who is by no means given to rash speculation, has within the last three days ordered, at certain limits, 1,000 tons of Indian corn from America.

The disease in the crop has set in this season much earlier than it did last season, and consequently the tubers at the roots of the plants are still very small. The offensive smell, which is one mark of the disease, is now very observable, especially after sunset.

Should the potato crop fail generally and signally in this Union, as is feared, I have no hesitation in affirming, that the supply of food for human consumption will fall very far short of the produce of last year, or of any other year of recent occurrence, with the exception perhaps of 1846.

Mohill Union—Major Haliday:—August 13, 1848.

In accordance with your desire, conveyed to me in Mr. Stanley's letter of the 9th instant, I have the honour to transmit the following statement as to the appearance of the potato crop, and the state and relative extent (as compared with former years) of the other crops of human food, in the several electoral divisions of the Mohill Union. I have within the last week passed through portions of eight of these, and inquired particularly of the resident farmers. I may remark, that it is chiefly within the last ten days that the extensive and now rapidly spreading appearance of disease in the potato crop has occurred; and in many cases with a suddenness equal to that of the blight of 1845 and 1846.

STATEMENT of the appearance, &c., of the Potato Crop, and of the amount, &c., of other Crops of Human Food.

Mohill—Potatoes: plants almost universally discoloured within the last week; tubers in some cases affected, but as yet not deeply; existence of the disease unquestionable. Wheat crop (not large), injured by the rain and by smut; other crops, oats, rye, &c., fine, and promise abundant yield; most houses have plots with cabbage, &c. Great extent of waste land from ejectments and surrendered holdings; consequently average extent rather below usual.

Annaduff—Potatoes: nearly every field discoloured, and tubers in many cases affected more or less. Grain crops of every kind fine and luxuriant; wheat somewhat injured; every cottage has its garden, with turnips, cabbages, &c., but no large breadth of green crop. Much waste land as above; average nearly equal to former years.

Annaghweagh—Potatoes: great and general discolouration; tubers in many cases affected. Wheat crop somewhat injured; other green crops very ample and fine; plots of turnip, cabbage, &c., as above. Extent of grain nearly double that of former years.

Rinn—Potatoes: every field blackened, and tubers beginning to be much affected. Grain crops of all kinds good and promising; plots of turnips, &c., numerous and good. Extent, nearly double the usual amount.

Cloone—Potatoes: I have not seen this division for some time; crop reported to me as showing the blight generally, and some potatoes diseased. Grain crops abundant and fine, with the exception of wheat, which is laid by the continued rains; plots of turnips, cabbage, &c., at nearly every house. Great tracts of waste and untilled land—consequently extent of grain rather below usual average.

Eslin—Potatoes: fields generally blackened; tubers said to be in many instances quite destroyed; about one-sixth useless. Grain crops (except wheat), fine and promising; wheat injured by smut and rain. Great extent of waste and surrendered ground; average extent scarcely equal to the usual.

Fenagh—I have recently seen only a very small portion of this division: potato gardens all black; fields also beginning suddenly to be discoloured. Grain crops fine and abundant; numerous garden plots, with cabbage, &c. Extent, one-third larger than usual.

Aghavas—Potatoes: breadth planted very small; general discolouration and complaint of decay. Crops, especially oats, ample and promising well; plots of cabbage, &c., general. Extent, nearly twice as great as former average.

Carrigallen—I have not seen this division lately. Potatoes said to be everywhere diseased, and some quite gone. Crops good and ample; plots of cabbage, &c., but no large breadth of green crop. Extent, one-half larger than usual.

Newtowngore—I cannot speak from recent personal observation. Potatoes said to be much affected, and a large portion diseased. Grain crops good and promising; numerous plots of green crops; turnips, &c. Extent, probably one-half greater than usual.

Drumreilly—Great breadth of potatoes; said to be much affected, and tubers decaying. I have not seen this within a fortnight past. Crops good; most houses have their kitchen garden, with cabbage, &c.; no cultivation of green crops on the large scale. Extent, about one-third greater than usual.

* Ballinamore—Potatoes: very little appearance of the blight within a few days past, but the gardens showing discolouration; potatoes in market sound. Crops good and promising; plots of green crops generally attached to the cabins. Extent, fully one-half greater than usual.

* Oughteragh—I have not seen any part of this division recently. Same observations as for Ballinamore apply, as I am informed. Crops said to be large and fine. Extent, fully one-half greater than usual.

Newcastle Union—Captain Routh:—August 13, 1848.

On Friday I visited Monagay, Drumcallagher, Killagholehane, and Killeedy; on Saturday, Clouncagh, Ballingarry, Castletown, Kilmeedy, and Mahoonagh.

With the exception of one or two fields, every garden that I passed was blighted, and in several the people were digging the potatoes. In each of these I gathered some potatoes at haphazard, and found in all that a majority of the potatoes were affected.

I was informed that owing to the lateness of sowing the scallion, the potato would not arrive at maturity until 1st of September; yet many are at present taking them up half grown, to realize a little by their sale now. I made inquiries on the road of different farmers, and all gave me the worst possible accounts of them. I also called upon several of the resident gentry, and their opinion was the same. One farmer told me that he considered that the failure would be more extensive than in 1846, because in that year the disease made its appearance at a later period, and they were enabled to save more potatoes.

* These divisions comprise much mountain and upland ground; and therefore the crop is later. The non-appearance of disease as yet is therefore probably fallacious.

The disease spreads, and the anticipations are, that a very general failure will be the consequence. From my personal inspection, I cannot hold out any hopes, that in the electoral divisions I have mentioned their anticipations will not turn out correct. It is the disease of 1846, and very general.

I send specimens of potatoes gathered from different fields. To-morrow and Tuesday I will visit Abbeyfeale, Rathronan, and Ardagh.

The accounts I receive of the two former places are very bad; but I understand it is not general in Ardagh. I shall be able to write more positively on the subject after my inspection.

The wheat crop is by no means abundant, but what there is is promising; the worm has not affected it materially. Oats and barley are both thick and good. Turnips are middling.

There has not been much wheat or turnips sown. Oats and barley have been sown more extensively; but I am unable at present to give accurate information as to whether the crop sown is greater this year than in preceding years. I shall not fail to inform myself, and let you know the result.

New Ross Union—Mr. Bayly :—August 13, 1848.

I have to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that I have visited each electoral division in this Union within the three last days. I have carefully examined some hundred potato fields, and regret to be obliged to state that the crop has been seriously attacked by disease, with a very few exceptions, within the last eight days. Most of the farmers first perceived a change on the 6th instant, which they attribute to the heavy showers, accompanied by lightning, which fell on the previous day.

The quantity of potatoes planted is generally supposed to be five times more, turnips and other green crops considerably less, and corn about the same as last year, as in many places grass land was broken up for wheat and oats.

The farmers are much alarmed, and in a most desponding state at the prospect of another potato failure; even the poorest of them having made the most strenuous exertions to plant as much land as they could procure seed for, and neglected sowing turnips or other green crops, of which there was considerably more last year.

I enclose a summary of my observations in each electoral division.

ENCLOSURE.

Fethard,	Potato crop very little injured as yet; about five times more planted than last year; wheat crop thin; oats and barley good. The quantity of land under corn the same as last year, but the quality generally inferior.
Dunbrody,	Ditto, ditto.
Tintern,	Ditto, ditto.
Whitechurch,	Potato fields all black; in most of them the tubers already show symptoms of disease: wheat, oats, and barley good.
New Ross,	Ditto, ditto.
Dysertmoon,	Ditto, ditto; wheat, oats, and barley very thin.
Inistiogue,	Ditto, ditto.
Woodstock,	Ditto, ditto.
The Rower,	Potatoes very bad—the tubers very much affected; wheat, oats, and barley good.
Graigie,	Ditto, ditto; wheat thin; oats and barley good.
St. Mullins,	Ditto, ditto.
Templeudigan,	Ditto, ditto.
Old Ross,	Ditto, ditto.
Adamstown,	Ditto, ditto.
Carnagh,	Ditto, ditto.
Newbawn,	Ditto, ditto.
Horetown,	Ditto, ditto.
Clongeen,	Ditto, ditto.

Nenagh Union—Captain Darkey, R.N.:—August 12, 1848.

It gives me the greatest pain to be obliged to report to you, for the information of the Commissioners, that the potato crop throughout the entire of this Union is irreparably damaged. The very inclement weather which has prevailed during the last week has I greatly fear sealed the fate of this crop. There is not now an electoral division in the Union where the disease has not appeared, and is making rapid progress. I have lying before me reports from each electoral division, and they all agree in this lamentable statement. I have just returned from a ride of from thirty to forty miles through the southern part of the Union, including the electoral divisions of Kilmore, Killoscully, Kilnerath, and Newport, and my own observations confirm these sad reports. From many fields the most offensive smell arises, clearly proving that putrefaction is going forward. Unless a favourable change speedily takes place in the weather the late crop will be lost. The people are digging out the early crop for sale, and for their own present use. Potatoes were sold in the market of Nenagh this day at from four pence to five pence a stone weight.

The wheat crop is throughout the Union very thin, and far below the usual average, besides which it has received very serious damage from the severity of the weather. Bere is also a bad crop.

The crops of oats and barley as yet promise to be abundant and good, and an unusual breadth of land has been sown with oats this year. Turnips in general look well, but the quantity cultivated in the Union is insignificant.

Oldcastle Union—Captain Burmester:—August 12, 1848.

In compliance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 9th August, I have the honour to forward a report on the general state of the crops in this Union.

As regards the potatoes I have to state, that up to this date I believe that at least one-third of the crop is destroyed, taking the Union throughout. I find the blight more severe in the vicinity of Oldcastle, and rather lighter in the high land about Crossakeel. I have no doubt but that the destruction is still going on, and it is probable that it will be as extensive as in 1846. I observe that the people have given up keeping the fields clear of weeds, from the opinion that prevails of its being useless to take further trouble about them.

As regards the cereal crops, I believe that the wheat harvest will not be an average one; the grain is light and inferior to that of last year, and some smut is apparent, caused by the prolonged wet during the time the corn was in flower. There are also some instances of its being blighted. The oat crop promises to be abundant and good; some few fields of heavy oats have been slightly damaged by the late rains. As to the turnips, they appear to be good.

In the eight relief districts of this Union, I find from the best information I have been able to obtain, that with reference to the crops of last year there has this year been sown in the

ELECTORAL DIVISIONS OF	OF CORN,	AND OF TURNIPS,
Crossakeel and Killallon . . .	less, . . .	less by one-half than in 1847.
Moylagh and Killeagh . . .	about equal, . . .	less.
Oldcastle and Loughcrew . . .	less, . . .	less.
Castlepollard and Fore . . .	about equal, . . .	about equal.
Munterconnaught and Virginia . . .	rather less, . . .	much less.
Castlerahan	more, . . .	less.
Ballyjamesduff	more, . . .	less.
Kilbride	less, . . .	less.

It is to be observed that much more land was sown with potatoes throughout the Union in 1848 than in the preceding year.

Further Letter from Captain Burmester:—August 12, 1848.

I forward my weekly report on the potato crop.

The blight has increased in every direction, and the proportion of diseased potatoes is greater than it was last week.

I annex the weekly returns of relieving officers.

ENCLOSURES.

Miscellaneous.

Crossakeel—Has the blight increased in this division during the last week?—It has increased very considerably.

What portion of the crop is lost at the present time?—I think about one-ninth part of crop.

Killallon—Has the blight increased in this division during the last week?—It has considerably.

What portion of the crop is lost at present?—About one-tenth part of the crop.

My opinion is, that in the course of one month the entire crop will be gone.

Moylagh—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has greatly increased.

What portion of the crop is lost at the present time?—I think nearly one-third is lost.

Killeagh—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has greatly increased.

What portion of the crop is lost at present?—I think one-third of the crop is lost.

I am of opinion if the blight increases as it has for the last ten days, there will not be one-tenth of them safe in another three weeks.

Oldcastle—Has the blight increased during the last week?—The blight has increased during the last week.

What portion of the crop is destroyed at the present time?—Probably one-sixth.

Loughcrew—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has increased considerably.

What portion of the crop is destroyed at present?—About one-sixth.

In all probability the condition of the poor will be as bad next winter as last winter, if they do not get employment.

Castlepollard—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has very much.

What portion of the crop is at present destroyed?—Nearly two-thirds.

Fore—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has.

What portion of the crop is at present lost?—Same as Castlepollard.

The potato that is in the least touched with disease is unfit for use, and even not fit food for pigs; they smell quite strong. Such are the reports of the farmers of the above electoral divisions.

MICHAEL MEAGHER.

Virginia—Has the blight increased during the last week?—Very much.

What portion of the crop is at present lost?—Nearly two-thirds.

Munterconnaught—Has the blight increased during the last week?—Very much.

What portion of the crop is at present lost?—Nearly two-thirds.

There are little or no hopes of their recovery.

FRANCIS DURHAM.

Kilbride—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has increased considerably.

What portion of the crop is at present lost?—I think about two-thirds of the crop.

In my opinion there will not be a single potato at the 1st of October next.

WILLIAM REILLY.

Ballyjamesduff—Has the blight increased during the last week?—It has increased considerably.

What portion of the crop is at present destroyed?—I think about one-eighth of the crop is at present destroyed.

I think from the failure of the potato crop, which is now almost general, that a greater destitution will prevail in the above district than in any of the preceding years; as many of the small farmers, whose sole dependence was on the potato, are in the catalogue of paupers.

PETER MURPHY.

Castlerahan—Has the blight increased during the last week?—To a great extent.

What portion of the crop is at present destroyed?—The one-half at least.

It is considered, with few exceptions, that the entire of the potatoes will after a short time become unfit for human use.

JOHN FLOOD.

Roscommon Union—Mr. Musters:—August 12, 1848.

I have the honour to inform you, that owing to Mr. L. Mahon's continued illness (for whom I am acting as Vice-Guardian), I have not been able to make as minute an inquiry into the state of the potato and other crops in this Union as I could otherwise have done; but after I read your communication on last Wednesday, requesting a report on the state of each electoral division, separately, I made it my business to visit a large portion of the Union during the next three days, comprising the electoral divisions of Roscommon, Kiltewan, Kilbride, Killukin, Tulsk, Dunamon, Kilbegnet, a portion of Athleague and Clontuskert. In each of these divisions, and I think I may safely say in the Union generally, the potato crop is more or less affected—showing the disease chiefly in the leaves and stems, which are nearly everywhere blackened and withered; but the potatoes, though daily becoming worse, are not as yet as much injured as they are reported to be in other places. I very much fear, however, that they soon will become so; as I found the fields belonging to the better class of farmers and gentry, which had been somewhat earlier planted than the general crop, much more injured, and in some cases more than half destroyed. I also got several stalks dug in some of the later crops; and in every case I found diseased potatoes, though the owners of the fields had stated they were as yet quite sound.

H

Miscellaneous.

I think it is impossible to come to any decided opinion as to the probable loss of this crop at present; but in the course of ten days or a fortnight more, I have no doubt the extent of damage will be pretty well ascertained. The weather has improved very much during the past week; and should it continue favourable, I have no doubt that a considerable portion of the crop may still be saved. The wheat, oats, and bere crops do not appear to have had any damage by the late rains—are ripening fast—and look as well as I ever remember to have seen them at this season of the year.

During the ensuing week I will get returns from the relieving officers of the state of each electoral division; which, with any observations I am able to make myself in the meantime, I will forward to the Poor Law Commissioners on Saturday next.

Roscrea Union—Mr. Todd:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 9th instant I have to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that I have not observed, myself, nor have I heard of any thing in the appearance of the potato crop in this Union peculiar to any one electoral division. In each the same evidences of diseases are apparent: the leaves and stalks discoloured and shrivelled, and particularly so where much sheltered. As yet I believe the disease has not reached the tubers, or at least not to any great extent; and in some few instances people are pulling up the stalk, in the hope of arresting the progress of the disease. There is a potato of the “pink-eye” class much grown in this Union; it is known by many names, but most generally as “dexters.” From this potato much is expected, as it has remained as yet untouched by disease, and the tops are perfectly green.

The wheat crop in this Union will, I fear, prove a short one; there is much smut, the ear is generally light, and in some districts, in consequence of the alternate heat and rain, there are appearances of what I believe farmers call “shoot-ing.” Altogether I fear this crop cannot be calculated at more than three-fourths of that of last year in this Union.

The oat crop promises a fair yield; and in extent is little less than an average one. Barley is not grown to any great extent in this Union, and is rather backward; but I believe it may be also taken at an average crop.

The breadth of land under turnips is, I understand, fully one-third less this season than last year; and of this even a considerable proportion—chiefly early-sown Swedes, &c.—was much injured by the “fly.” I do not believe that the produce will come up to even two-thirds of last year’s turnip crop.

The crops of mangel wurzel, carrots, &c., are, in this Union, of considerable extent; and give every promise of quite an average yield.

Scariff Union—Captain Hart:—August 12, 1848.

In accordance with instructions conveyed in your letter of the 9th instant, I have the honour to report that, after a careful personal inspection of the potato crop in seven out of the ten electoral divisions of this Union, I am of opinion that nearly, if not the entire, of the early crop will be saved; as even in those fields in which the leaves are most blackened it is difficult to find a diseased potato. For the late crop, however, I entertain serious apprehensions, the disease having more or less shown itself on the leaves in every field; and, although in a great many fields the injury as yet inflicted is scarcely perceptible, still in others the plant has been too seriously smitten to justify an expectation of any further growth of the scarcely formed tuber. In any case, however, a large quantity will be saved for early consumption; but, whether they will or will not keep, time alone can prove.

Of the grain crops, fully one-third more has been sown than usual: the wheat, which is thin and occasionally blind, will be much under an average crop; bere is a good crop; barley most luxuriant, also oats; and with a little fine weather the harvest prospects would, on the whole, not be discouraging. A very small quantity of turnips are growing—the fly having been very destructive early in the season.

The most doleful forebodings of another year's famine—worse than any of the past—is in every one's mouth; and the most exaggerated and false accounts of the state of the potato and of the crops generally, reach me hourly. Unhappily there are but too many who are personally interested in propagating evil reports of famine: the labouring class hoping that out-door relief may be continued; and the ratepayers, in order that the poor may be supported by government grants instead of from a poor-rate.

Skibbereen Union—Mr. Marshall:—August 12, 1848.

I have the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that a serious change has taken place in the state of the potato crop within the last ten days. From every information I can collect, the disease has been increasing very generally. The tubers of those planted in March and April have been much diseased; and it is to be feared that those planted later in the season will not come to maturity; the stalks have been partially destroyed, and vegetation in many places stopped. The most unfavourable reports I receive are from the western part of the Union, near the sea-coast. There is a large supply brought to market at present; but this is owing to the alarm of the people, that they will not long be fit for food.

I have continued to distribute large quantities of turnip and cabbage seed, which I received from the Society of Friends, and which the people are sowing generally throughout the Union.

I expect a further supply, in order that the resources of the district may be increased as far as possible before the season advances too far for sowing.

ENCLOSURES.

Mr. ATTWIDGE to Mr. MARSHALL:—August 12, 1848.

I regret very much to inform you that the potato disease is daily on the increase in my district. The potatoes planted in March and April may yield half a crop; but those planted in May will produce nothing. I should say the latter comprise a third or more of the entire breadth sown this season.

Mr. BARRY to Mr. MARSHALL:—August 12, 1848.

According to your instructions on Thursday last, through Mr. C. Clebarrow, to me in the board-room, I beg leave to state, that I have examined personally, and minutely made inquiries as to the potato crop in my relieving districts of Myross and Castlehaven; and am extremely sorry to have to inform you, that in every instance the tuber is getting diseased, showing more and more every succeeding day as the potato is dug. I saw on yesterday, at Raheen Castle, eight weights dug for sale, and only three could be sent to market; these were among the earliest tilled and best manured in this parish. I may safely say that, in the parish, all the land sown since the first of May will not produce a weight even fit for seed; as there were no potatoes formed since the blight set in, and have not since shown any disposition to grow a morsel. Indeed I may say, all those sown since the first week of April will never be dug with the spade.

Mr. ADAMS to Mr. MARSHALL:—August 11, 1848.

Having heard a letter from you read at the workhouse yesterday, calling on the relieving officers of this Union to immediately report to you the state of the potato crop in their respective districts, I hasten to comply with your wishes. I regret to state that I cannot confirm my former report. In two or three days after writing that report, the disease first appeared in my district; it has been since progressing rapidly; it has attacked all descriptions, early and late.

Miscellaneous.

The early potatoes, although nearly full grown and unusually large, are now beginning to turn black. I have examined gardens in each electoral division with which I am connected, and I find that nearly one-third of the potatoes are diseased; the late sowing is totally gone, and will not produce as much as was sown in them. It is more to be regretted that the late potato should be lost than the early, for the poorer classes have none other set this year; consequently it will throw the burden of Union support upon the poor farmers, who are nearly as badly off as themselves. Indeed our situation at present is very alarming: the people's food again swept—the funds of all charitable committees totally exhausted—and no resource to turn on but the poor farmer. However, we must only leave it in the hands of Him who has the power to give or to take away.

I shall report on this subject every week.

Skibbereen Union—Mr. Marshall:—August 14, 1848.

I have the honour to report, for the information of the Commissioners, that since I forwarded my report upon the state of the potato crop on the 12th instant, I received your letter of the 9th instant, requesting I would transmit a statement of the present appearance of the potato crop in each electoral division; also, the appearance of the other crops of human food, stating whether the extent of the latter is considered to be as great, or greater, or less than usual in the Union.

Having directed the relieving officers and inspectors of schools throughout the Union to report to me weekly upon this head, I have to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that all accounts concur as to the spread of the disease in the potatoes, and that those not affected in the tubers a week ago are now becoming diseased.

In the western part of the Union, in Kilmore, East and West Skull, about one-half the usual average crop had been planted this season; and in the eastern part of the Union about three-fourths;—of these, taking into account the late crop, which forms about one-third, and which are totally destroyed, as far as I can form an opinion, one-half the entire crop at present is injured, and rendered unfit for food.

With reference to the corn crops: from the reasons stated in my report in April last, that from the small portions of land manured, or in a fit state for this crop, not more than one-third the usual quantity has been sown in the western part of the Union, particularly Kilmore, and about one-half the usual quantity in the eastern part of the Union.

The grain crops have suffered materially from the late severe weather, and, in general, the wheat crop is very inferior to what it has been in other seasons.

On the whole there is a very short supply of provisions in the Union; and should the disease in the potatoes continue to extend itself, there is great danger of the whole of that crop being destroyed. Large quantities of turnip and cabbage seeds have been sown; and I have been endeavouring to urge the people to attend to these, and also sow rye, this being the most favourable time for sowing that valuable crop, which would come in early in June next.

I have this day received a third supply of turnip seed from the Society of Friends for distribution.

Sligo and Manorhamilton Unions—Captain Gilbert:—August 15, 1848.

I beg to inform you that within the latter days of this week I have inspected the crops in the greater part of these Unions.

My personal observation of twelve electoral divisions in Sligo, and of six in Manorhamilton, and the testimony of the Guardians and magistrates of the other parts which I was unable to visit, enable me to make a decisive report on the state of the crops, and more particularly the potato.

In every electoral division the disease is very evident, but variable in its effect. In one field the leaves only are withered, in the next the stalks are black and decomposed, and in another the blight has progressed downwards to the tuber; but in all cases it is spreading and increasing at a rapid pace, and to an alarming extent.

The wheat crop is by no means an average one—short, thin, and degenerate; it was neglected for the planting of potatoes.

The oat crop is small and poor in most places.

There is not much barley sown in these Unions.

In Sligo Union there appears a preponderance of the turnip crop—thanks to the well-directed aid afforded by the Society of Friends. It looks favourably, though in some instances it has repeatedly failed.

Swineford Union—Captain Hanley :—August 12, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 9th instant, relative to the crops in this Union, I beg to state, that having within the last three days visited the several electoral divisions named in the margin, and having attentively inquired, observed, and examined the different crops, I find the result as follows, and applicable to each.

The potato fields, one and all, showing the blight in different stages; and from those fields in which the disease had made much progress, a most disagreeable smell was perceptible. The stalks of the late crop are quite burned off, same as after severe frost; the root, as yet, generally sound, but in numerous instances bearing the speck of disease; the rapidity of change, from a luxuriant, healthy appearance, has been extraordinary; and fields, two days ago most promising, are now prostrate.

The oat crop is good, but the breadth sown is fully a fourth less than last year. As to wheat and green cropping, there is not much in this Union, and considerably less than last season. The early turnips all failed; the late sowing is doing well; the cultivation of the potato had never been carried to a greater extent—unfortunately to the exclusion of other crops.

Swineford,
Toomore,
Killasser,
Killeaden,
Kilbeagh,
Kilmoree,
Aughamore,
Knock;

Thurles Union—Mr. La Barte :—August 12, 1848.

I have the honour to forward, for the information of the Commissioners, the accompanying statement, showing the results of my personal observations in seventeen of the electoral divisions through which I have travelled since Thursday last, and of the information acquired from competent persons in the four divisions of the Union (marked *), which I was unable to visit in the short period that has elapsed since the receipt of your letter.

ENCLOSURE.

STATE of the Potato and Corn Crops in the Thurles Union, on the 10th, 11th, and 12th of August, 1848.

Thurles—Potatoes: symptoms of the disease on leaves and stalks as in 1846. Wheat: crop very much injured in some places, and will be far below average. Barley: an average crop; looking well; a little injured in some places where it was heavy. Oats: more than an average crop; a little short in the straw.

Ballycahill—Potatoes: late crop apparently much affected. Wheat: a very light crop, and below average. Barley: hardly any grown in this division. Oats: an average crop, but short in the straw.

Holycross—Potatoes: every field more or less affected. Wheat: a light crop; much below average. Barley: an average crop, and looking very well. Oats: more than an average crop, and looking well.

Moycarkey—Potatoes: late crop much injured; some of the early crop also. Wheat: a bad crop; in many places very much injured; very poor land. Barley: an average crop; looking well. Oats: a fair average crop.

Ballymoreen—Potatoes: stalks and leaves appearing much affected. Wheat: not an average crop. Barley: an average crop, and looking very well. Oats: an average crop.

Burris—Potatoes: symptoms of disease in every field; stalks black and brittle. Wheat: a very light crop; about two-thirds of the usual extent of land under it. Barley: an average crop; looking well. Oats: a good crop, and looking well.

Moyné—Potatoes: late crop apparently affected. Wheat: a light crop; much below average; injured by late rains. Barley: a fair crop, but very little of it. Oats: an average crop, and looking very well.

Rahealty—Potatoes: symptoms of the disease in the leaves and stalks. Wheat: a poor crop; in many places a partial blight. Barley: an average crop, and tolerably good. Oats: a fair average crop, but will be short in straw.

Templetoohy—Potatoes: late crop much affected; early potatoes showing symptoms; heavy smell in the fields. Wheat: a very poor crop, and far below average, particularly where sown upon stubbles. Barley: a very good crop, but not much of it in this division. Oats: an average crop, and looking very well.

Templeree—Potatoes: symptoms of disease, but less than in other divisions. Wheat:

Miscellaneous.

not an average crop; some good crops in ground previously well prepared. Barley: an average crop, both in the quantity and quality. Oats: a very good crop; more than an average one; looking very well.

Loughmore, East—Potatoes: leaves and stalks more or less affected; edible part sound. Wheat: below average, and partially injured. Barley looking well, but not much ground under it. Oats: a fair average crop in both quantity and quality.

Loughmore, West—Potatoes: disease apparent on leaves and stalks; growth of the root arrested, particularly in sheltered ground. Wheat: a thin crop, and far below average; injured by late rains. Barley: an average crop; looking well; a little injured by bad weather. Oats: an average crop; looking well.

Drom—Potatoes: late crop very generally injured since the 5th instant. Wheat: a very poor crop, and greatly injured; this is the best soil in the Union. Barley: a fair average crop. Oats: a fair average crop.

Inch—Potatoes: stalks and leaves with every symptom of the disease; late crop very bad. Wheat crop below average, and much injured by the weather. Barley looking well, but not much ground under it. Oats: a good crop.

Burrisoleigh—Potatoes: late crops much affected; in the hill country very bad. Wheat: a very poor crop; chiefly sown upon stubbles; far below average. Barley: looking well in the low ground but not much of it. Oats: an average crop; looking well, but will be short in the straw.

Templebeg—Potatoes: symptoms more or less apparent; but much worse in the hills. Wheat: below average; but looking well in the lower part of the division. Barley: an average crop, and looking very well. Oats: a fair average crop; not so good in the hill country.

Moyaliffe—Potatoes: symptoms of the disease in almost every field. Wheat: below average, but looking well; some complaints of blight. Barley: a very good average crop in the lower part of the division. Oats: an average crop; looking well.

* Templemore—Potatoes: late crop very much affected in leaves and stalks. Wheat: a light poor crop, and far below average. Barley: an average crop, and looking well. Oats: an average crop; looking very well.

* Booleick—Potatoes: symptoms of the disease everywhere; late crop very bad. Wheat: a very light crop, and much injured by bad weather. Barley: an average crop, but not much ground under it. Oats: an average crop.

* Kilcooly—Potatoes: late crop much injured. Wheat: below the average; partially injured. Barley: a fair average crop. Oats: a good crop; looking very well.

* Fennor—Potatoes: late crop partially affected. Wheat: below average; a light crop. Barley: a good crop, and looking well. Oats: a very fair average crop.

General Observations—The leaves and stems of the potato crop are more or less affected by disease in every part of the Union; and the symptoms are the same as they appeared in the last week of July, 1846. The people in general despair of the late crop. There is a great extent of country under potatoes; and many persons actually sold their last cow to purchase the seed. The early crop is still sound, although I have heard of some instances of their having become black within the last few days. I have no doubt the disease is progressing rapidly. The wheat crop has been much injured by the heavy rains of the last fortnight, and by frosts at night; it will be far from an average crop, either in acreable produce or extent of country under it: the greater proportion was sown upon the stubbles of last year. Barley appears to me to be the best crop—but not having succeeded well in former years, it has not been very generally sown in this Union. The oat crop looks very healthy, and promises to be more than an average crop; in some places it will prove short in the straw. Turnips suffered very much from the fly, and did not succeed well this year.

Tipperary Union—Mr. Haymes:—August 13, 1848.

Since the receipt of your letter of the 9th inst., transmitting a request from the Commissioners that I would report from personal inspection on the state of the crops in this Union, I have traversed the several electoral divisions in all directions, and beg to forward the annexed paper as the result of my observations.

It is but fair to state, that some few of the farmers and proprietors still continue to flatter themselves, that because the disease has not yet attacked the potato itself in certain localities they have escaped the contagion altogether; but I have verified so many instances to the contrary that I must conclude their hopes and opinions will prove fallacious. In very many instances they are now being dug quite black, and in not a few perfectly rotten. As to those planted in May and June, I do not believe they will produce a potato. In many instances they have not appeared at all above ground; and those I have examined have two or three potatoes, not larger than a good-sized pea, whilst the haulm is black, and the root covered with the disease.

From what I have seen these last three weeks of the rapid spread of the disease, I am decidedly of opinion there will not be a sound potato in this Union on the 1st of January, 1849.

ENCLOSURE.

REPORT on the state of the Crops in the Tipperary Union, made from personal observation by the Poor Law Inspector, August 13, 1848.

Curdangan—Wheat poor, and thin, and partially blighted. Barley an indifferent crop. Potatoes going fast.

Bansha—Wheat much blighted. Barley poor. Oats promising. Potatoes going fast.

Kilaldriff—Wheat partially blighted, poor, and thin. Barley pretty fair. Oats fine and promising. Potatoes going fast.

Golden—Wheat blighted. Barley poor. Oats promising. Potatoes going fast.

Kilfeacle—Wheat partially blighted. Barley fair average crop. Oats very promising. Potatoes going fast.

Rathliney—Wheat poor and thin, partially blighted. Barley indifferent. Oats very promising. Potatoes going fast.

Bruis—Wheat much damaged. Barley, average crop. Oats very promising. Potatoes going fast.

Grean—Wheat thin, but still healthy. Barley, average crop. Oats looking very well. Potatoes going fast.

Lattin, Emly, Killeely, Shronehill—Chiefly grass lands. Hay crop heavy, some part saved. No wheat. Little barley. Oats looking very well. Potatoes going rapidly.

Ulla—Wheat much damaged. Barley poor. Oats fine. Potatoes going fast.

Cullen—Wheat blighted. Barley poor. Oats promising. Potatoes going fast.

Tipperary—Wheat very thin and blighted. Barley indifferent. Oats fine, but laid in several places. Potatoes digging black.

Sollohed—Wheat very little. Barley short crop. Oats fine. Potatoes digging black.

Doon—Wheat poor, and mostly blighted. Barley very short crop. Oats promising. Potatoes going fast.

Toem—Wheat poor and blighted. Barley very short crop. Oats looking well. Potatoes going rapidly in the low grounds.

Donohill—Wheat mostly blighted. Barley short crop. Oats laid in some places, but fine. Potatoes very bad.

Clonbeg—Wheat very poor and blighted. Oats laid in many places. Barley average crop. Potatoes bad in low places, better on mountain sides, all diseased.

SUMMARY.

Wheat—Very thin, and mostly blighted.

Barley—Much under average crop.

Oats—Very promising, requires sun to give a return.

Potatoes—All in different stages of the disease; not one will keep.

Tralee Union—Mr. Lloyd:—August 12, 1848.

I have the honour to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that in the electoral division of Tralee the potato crop, that a week since appeared healthy, is now rapidly decaying. The disease has struck the stalks, which are withering fast; and the tubers, several of which I have had dug out, are already spotted, and though of a good size, few in number.

In the electoral divisions of Ballincuslane, Ballymacelligot, Brosna, and Castle Island, the potato crop about ten days since appeared to luxuriate. I examined several gardens, the owners of which cheerfully dug several stalks for my inspection; the tubers were sound, but few in number. I yesterday learned from good authority, that since Tuesday the potato fields present a blighted appearance, and the potatoes that have been dug out are spotted.

I cannot, from personal inspection, report upon the state of the crops in either of the electoral divisions of Castlemaine, Kilgarrylander, or Kilgobbin; but I hear from persons competent to form a correct view, that the disease is fast spreading within the last few days.

As regards the corn crops, I have to state that wheat is not generally sown in the Union; its cultivation is confined to the electoral divisions of Ballymacelligot and Tralee, in each of which a greater extent of ground has been sown, but the crop is injured by smut.

Oats in the electoral divisions of Ballymacelligot, Castle Island and Ballincuslane, an average crop. In Kilgarrylander, the quantity of ground sown is equal to former years—the crop light. In the other electoral divisions, from a third to a fourth less ground sown, and the crop light.

Miscellaneous.

Barley is not a general crop, and what has been sown is light. I cannot learn that any rye has been sown.

A much greater quantity of turnip has been sown this year, say three times, than hitherto; the crop does not promise well.

I would I could present a less gloomy prospect for the coming year.

Tuam Union—Captain Labalmondiere :—August 12, 1848.

In reply to your letter, dated 9th August, I have to report that I have, in the past week, visited every electoral division in the Union with one exception, (Cloonbern,) and made particular inquiry and inspection into the state of the potato crop throughout. I regret that the same observations now apply to all portions of the district. Everywhere the fields are blackened and shrivelled; and everywhere the blight, identical in character with, though less severe than, that of 1846, is advancing and affecting the tuber in a greater or less degree. No part of the Union is safe.

The yield in the early planted fields is fair, but the potatoes watery. A considerable portion of these may escape; but there is little or no produce from the late sowing, which may be looked upon as entirely lost.

The other crops of human food appear promising, with the exception of turnips, which have failed very generally. Barley, rye, and oats are particularly good; but wheat rather light. Some fields of the latter will be ready for the sickle next week.

I am led to believe that the breadth of land under crops, other than potato, is, if any thing, a little greater than in ordinary years; but much smaller than in last year: though there is more potato than ever, there is less land fallow.

Westport Union—Mr. Lynch :—August 12, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 9th instant I have to report, that since my last communication the potato disease has made considerable progress in all the electoral divisions of the Union of Westport.

In Newport and Kilmeena the disease has been clearly perceptible for more than a fortnight. In Kilmaclasser, Islandeady, and Aughagower it has only appeared within the last week or ten days, but has now become universal. As we proceed more to the west the disease is less general, still it is extending from field to field throughout Westport and Louisburgh; and the accounts received from the more distant districts of Achill, Ballycroy, and Clare Island, give but little hope that any portion of the crop will be safe. Up to the present time, however, but little damage is done to the bulb. I have observed that the root is seldom affected for two or three weeks after the leaves and stalks are attacked.

The farmers and poor people are much alarmed, and they appear most anxious to sell as quickly as possible; the consequence is, that the prices in the market of Westport have been reduced to 2d. and 3d. per stone of 14 lbs.

The breadth of land under corn this year in this Union is considerably less than in any former year, while the crops are more than usually backward, and considered very light.

CIRCULAR TO VICE-GUARDIANS RESPECTING THE POTATO CROP.

GENTLEMEN,

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
August, 11, 1848.*

I AM directed by the Commissioners to request that you will by Monday evening's post make a joint report to the Commissioners on the state of the potato crop in your Union as far as you are able to give the Commissioners information on the subject, either from personal observation or on the authority of individuals in whose accuracy you place reliance.

The Commissioners wish you at the same time to report to them on the condition of the potato crop in the workhouse grounds, and to state what proportion of it is likely to be available for human food.

(Signed,)

W. STANLEY, Secretary.

Athlone Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We are in receipt of yours of the 11th instant, and in reply beg to state, that from our own personal knowledge, as well as from what we can learn from good authority, the tubers of the potato crop in this Union, up to the present time, are not showing much symptoms of disease, though the tops generally are decaying fast.

In our humble opinion the tops of the early potatoes are decaying, as much from having arrived at maturity as any other cause, as the tubers are very large and a productive crop. Moreover, any disease shows just as much in the late sowing as the early one; there has been hail showers and slight frost at night during the past week, and many fields of potatoes that were green up to then are now withered.

The potato crop in the workhouse grounds is (as far as disease is concerned,) as safe as the general crop, but we fear the produce will not be as great as we expected, as the ground was very rich and they threw up great tops without growing under. However, we are in hopes two-thirds or (at least) a half, may be available for human food.

Ballina Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 13, 1848.

In reply to your letter received this day, bearing date the 11th instant, requiring us to furnish the "Poor Law Commissioners with a joint report on "the state of the potato crop in this Union," we have the honour to state that, judging from our personal observation, which we have had much opportunity of exercising lately, in visiting the different districts for the purpose of revising the lists of those receiving out-door relief, as also from the information of those on whose accuracy we can rely, we are of opinion that a most extensive failure of the potato crop has taken place within the last fortnight, and one which appears to be daily on the increase. The districts of Killala, Lacken, and Ballycastle seem to be particularly affected. The crops in these places present a blackened appearance, and emit a most unpleasant odour. At the relieving officers' depot, in the Killala division, we saw several potatoes which were so diseased as to render it unpleasant to remain in the room in which they were. The people who are not destitute in these divisions appear quite disheartened, as hitherto they had manifested the greatest hopes of having an abundant crop, to realize which they certainly have endured extreme privation. It is most melancholy to observe their daily receiving confirmation of their worst fears being realized.

We this day examined a field of potatoes near Inuiscroaul, which promised well even on yesterday; this day the greater portion of the stalks are black, and the fruit itself in most cases quite diseased. The person whom we employ as general overseer of working parties, is a practical man, and one entirely uninterested. He has till this last fortnight reported to us regularly, and in most favourable terms, of the state of the potato crop in this Union; but he has lately stated in the most decided manner that the potatoes are all gone. From the great experience he has, and from the many opportunities of judging which he possesses, we are inclined to believe that he has formed a correct opinion: he attributes this sudden failure to the extreme sultry heat of a few days and nights.

We yesterday visited the grounds of Mr. Armstrong, a magistrate of this county. He has six or eight acres of potatoes, which until the last week appeared most flourishing; they are now almost entirely blackened; and he is so confident that they are diseased, that he has drawn the stalks from two acres on yesterday, and purposed doing the same to the remainder on to-morrow in hopes of saving them. He dug up about four stone of those that appeared blackened, and found over one-fourth entirely unfit for use.

We are informed that a most disagreeable odour is emitted from many fields of potatoes in the Erris district, which is quite perceptible to those travelling on the road.

Miscellaneous.

The people seem now to despair of preserving them, and in many instances are making use of those which show symptoms of disease, which causes us to be of opinion, that if the failure of the potato crop is ascertained beyond doubt to have taken place in this Union, much of the out-door relief might for a time be safely dispensed with, as the fruit being much larger than it was when the blight commenced last year, and a much greater breadth of land being sown with potato, the anxiety to prevent a total loss would cause a large supply on most moderate terms.

With regard to the state of the potato crop in the workhouse grounds, which is but a very small one, occupying perhaps about an acre, we have to state that one portion, situated in the eastern side of the house, was blighted about four or five weeks past; the other portion, on the western side, presented a most luxuriant appearance until lately; but within this last fortnight the stalks have become quite black, though the fruit does not yet appear much affected; these might be made available for human food if used at once, but it is impossible to state how soon they may rot if suffered to remain till they attain their full growth.

We examined on last Friday the portion in the eastern side, which appeared entirely blighted four or five weeks since, and, on pulling up some of the roots, were astonished to find in some instances a well-grown potato, quite free from disease; that those potatoes must have become formed since the stocks first became blackened, is manifest, which would lead one to suppose that the blackening of the stalks and the apparent cessation of growth are not always to be considered as fatal to the crop.

In conclusion we can state, that till lately there appeared to be every promise of a most abundant crop; that now all hope of such is vanished; but still, from the large quantity that was sown, and from the late period at which the blight commenced, we may reckon upon having a much larger quantity of food than either last year or the preceding one.

Ballinrobe Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 14, 1848.

By yesterday's post we received your communication, under date 11th August, requiring information respecting the potato crop in this Union.

We regret to have to state, from our own personal observation and from the report of those on whose accuracy we can place reliance, that the potato crop in this Union is very generally diseased, and we should say that one-half at least is unfit for human food now, and the disease is every day getting worse. With respect to the crop in the workhouse ground, we have to report that they are much diseased; indeed, to judge from what we have seen dug, they are even worse than the general crop of the country. This subject has engaged our most anxious attention for some time, but we delayed to make a specific report until we could speak with some certainty, as we did entertain a hope that the disease was not so widely spread; and although a blight had exhibited itself on the leaf long since, the stalk appeared healthy and not infected; but we regret to say that the experience of the past week has shown us that the blight has spread from the leaf to the stalk, and from the stalk to the tuber. This is a melancholy state of things, and we shall have to found a report on it, having relation to the making of the new rate to provide for the exigencies of the year ending 29th September, 1849.

Bantry Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 15, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 11th instant requesting us to report to you on the condition of the potato crop, we beg leave to state, that from personal observation we are of opinion that the entire crop of this Union is in the most extreme danger. We are strengthened in this opinion by the weekly reports of the relieving officers of each of the electoral divisions, and confirmed by the undoubted testimony of individuals from every portion of the Union, on whose accuracy and judgment the utmost reliance may be placed.

In reference to the crop on the workhouse grounds we have to state, that there are about five acres under tillage; these were planted with much care, well manured, and the healthiest seed used. Three of these acres were planted in the middle of April, and two acres were set the second week in May. Those planted in April thrived well, were beautifully green, and most exuberantly luxurious until the morning of the 12th ultimo, the leaves of some patches then appeared spotted, as if freely sprinkled with some corrosive acid, and gave all the well-known symptoms of blight; this lasted but for two days, the plants seemed to have had strength sufficient to shake off the disease, new and apparent healthy shoots were formed, and the whole crop re-assumed its former appearance. This continued until the night of the 1st instant, when the leaves over the entire field appeared struck with the most virulent form of the disease. From this period the plant has been daily becoming more decayed, and now not a leaf remains. The stalks are all blackened and prostrate. On examining the tubers, about two-thirds appear healthy; but these, on being exposed to the weather for one or two days become diseased, proving beyond doubt that the only safety for the preservation of such portions of the crop as remain healthy is to allow them to continue in the ground.

The two acres planted the second week in May showed no symptom of the blight of the 12th July, but suffered severely by that of the 1st instant; there is not now a green leaf visible, the stalks are all blackened, and are assuming a rotten appearance; the tubers are not larger than marbles, and are not worth digging out. All future growth in these two acres is at an end.

We are thus particular in reporting the condition of the potato around the workhouse, as we consider it to be a fair specimen of the state of the crop throughout the entire Union. We also deem it necessary to state, that a much greater quantity of land is under potato tillage than for many years past; but from all the information we can glean from parties well acquainted with the subject, we do fear that even that portion of the crop which now appears healthy, will not long continue to be fitting for human food.

We are unwilling to enter into the general food prospects of the Union; but we must confess our gloomy fears for the wants of the wretched people during the approaching winter and spring. How destitution, with all its melancholy train of evils will then be met, is one of those awful problems that may prove difficult to solve.

Boyle Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 13, 1848.

Immediately on receipt of your letter yesterday we proceeded to avail ourselves of every means by which we could obtain the most accurate and full information concerning the subject on which we were directed to report.

We have then the honour to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that the mysterious agency which has caused the existing disease in the potato crops of this Union, is neither so violent nor so sudden in its effects as it was in the year 1845. The character of the disease is not so malignant; but in all other respects it is identical with the disease of 1845.

If the mysterious cause by which the disease is produced ceased to operate now, and not to interfere with the ordinary course of nature, we believe that the loss sustained by this Union in consequence of the visitation would not be so grievous as is generally apprehended. Much recuperative power remains still in the crops; and the disorganization of the tubers not being so general or complete as by the disease of 1845, they would be available as food to a much later period of this and the following year. But if the assaults of the enemy be continued, the vital principle in the plant will be entirely overcome, and a rapid decay will ensue.

During the late brief interval of dry weather the disease has developed itself in this Union most generally, and in a degree much more severe than it appeared during the rainy weather, which imparted to the stalks a greater abundance of sap; this becoming vitiated, the virus has been absorbed by the tuber, in which the rot is now more general and injurious.

The great progress made by the disease is indicated by the increased quantity of diseased potatoes brought into the market of Boyle, and to be seen in different parts of the Union. But if the crops were to be subjected no longer to the influence of the cause, whatever it be, which originates this disease, the mischief done, we think, would not involve the loss of a fourth part of the crops in this Union.

Miscellaneous.

We called on Lord Lorton's agriculturist, Mr. Rickaby, who gave us the result of his observations, which have been more close and general than those most probably of any other individual in this county. His statements have confirmed us in the opinions here expressed; so have the remarks of Mr. Fairley, his lordship's gardener—an individual remarkable for his intelligence, and well acquainted with the subject of our report.

It appears, that as far as can be ascertained in this Union, fully one-half is the proportion of the extent of land sown with potatoes this year, when compared with the extent sown last year—that three-fourths of the stalks exhibit more or less the symptoms of disease, but a much less proportion of the tubers, of which not a fourth part can be said to be severely affected or rendered unfit for human food. Without of course accurate means of calculation, this seems to be about the general estimate made by observing persons, or deducible from their statements.

It would appear that the potatoes are at a certain stage of their growth most predisposed to the disease, the plant having then acquired the condition most favourable for the development of the symptoms. It is also remarkable that "lumpers," a species of white potato well known and most generally in use among the poorer classes in this Union, are much more free from the disease than any other kind of potato known in this country.

We are also requested to report on the condition of the potato crop on the workhouse grounds, and to state what proportion of it is likely to be available for human food.

Almost all the stalks are there affected with the disease, the injured stalks showing the symptoms very visibly; but even under those which indicate the disease in an advanced state, the tubers for the most part only manifest it in a very incipient stage—great numbers of them being only marked with little light brown spots, like those on a turkey's egg; and these do not seem deeper than the very thin external skin or rind of the potato. All these potatoes, which are mostly "lumpers," are, with the exception of very few, available for human food; and as the whole crop is far advanced towards maturity, we are disposed to think that it would be well to pull up the stalks, and heap up some additional earth on the ridges and drills, by which, according to a very generally received opinion, the potatoes will remain more secure from the ravages of the rot than by any other mode of keeping them.

Cahirircree Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have had the honour to receive your letter of the 11th instant, requesting our joint report on the state of the potato crop at the present date in this Union.

In our weekly reports of the 5th and 12th instant, respectively, we felt it necessary to offer some observations on this subject, and we regret that we are now obliged to reiterate the very unfavourable accounts we then submitted.

We have recently visited nearly all the electoral divisions in the Union; and so far as we could extend our observations on these occasions, the result was fully corroborative of the representations that had been previously made to us, from sources to which we could attach the most implicit credit.

It was long since feared here, that for the early crop little hope could be indulged; the later gardens however gave better promise, and till recently continued to exhibit generally a healthy and vigorous appearance; but we are sorry to add, that within a few weeks past those appearances have altered most materially, and we are most unwillingly obliged to share the now universal feeling of dread, that before Christmas comes round the entire produce of the crop must be exhausted.

Heretofore the tillage in this Union was almost exclusively confined to potatoes; but this year we are happy to state, some tendency has been manifested towards a change, and an unprecedentedly large breadth of land is now under grain crops, especially barley; not sufficient, however, to exercise any very important influence on the prospects of the Union, in the supposed event of the potatoes being lost.

With reference to the workhouse grounds we have to observe, that part of the land has been suffered to lie waste, owing to the building, &c., now going forward there; and that in the portion it was found possible to cultivate, the potatoes (planted towards the end of May and the early part of June,) now exhibit unequivocal marks of disease, and we do not estimate that any of them are likely to prove available for human use.

Carrick-on-Shannon Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In compliance with instructions contained in your letter of the 11th instant, we beg herewith to furnish, for the information of the Commissioners, a report on the state of the potato and other crops in this Union, so far as, from the limited time given us, we have been able to observe.

Reports on the state of the potato have reached us from all sides for some time past, but from their conflicting nature, we did not wish to come to any conclusion, and determined on visiting each locality, and, by personal inspection, satisfying ourselves as to the correctness of the rumour previous to making any report on the subject. In order more clearly to show the state of the crop in the different electoral divisions, we send herewith a tabular statement which we have drawn up from notes taken during the past week on our visiting the relieving officers' stations.

It will be seen by the document above referred to, that, for the most part, the potato, as an article of food, cannot be relied on. Over the whole country the leaves and stalks of the plant present a decayed appearance, and the offensive effluvia emitted from them is indicative of the presence of decay; as yet, however, the tuber is not so extensively affected as one might expect from the appearance of the stalk. But this may be accounted for by the backward state of the crop, as it is a remarkable fact, that as the plant approaches maturity the disease is then more apparent. Yet there are exceptions to this; as we have seen the larger tubers on diseased stalks entirely free from disease, whilst those immediately connected with the stalk, and of a smaller size, are quite gone.

The disease this year seems not to be affected by the situation of the ground, as it was last season; for in the same locality there will be found as many diseased potatoes in moory as in upland fields, whilst the blight of 1847 was chiefly confined to the upland.

As to the probable amount of food which the present crop is capable of producing, it would be impossible, at the present juncture, to form even an approximate idea. If the disease ceases, as some think will be the case, the potato has not suffered, as food, to any considerable amount. But on the contrary, if the blight, which has undoubtedly attacked the stalk, and also in very many cases the tuber, increases to any extent—and from the experience of the last two years, there is no reason to suppose that such will not be the case—then we should say there will not be a potato fit for human food in six weeks' time within this Union.

We have not planted any potatoes in the workhouse grounds, as we considered we could employ more persons at turnips, which is the crop we are now growing.

The oat crop over the entire country looks well. In a very few fields we have observed smut, particularly in the neighbourhood of Keshcarrigan and Leitrim, where it is sown extensively, but late. In Kilglass and Gillstown there is scarcely any sowing of any kind, but whatever there is is much earlier than in any part of the Union we have seen.

This is not an extensive wheat-growing country; but wherever that crop is seen it looks well, although many complain of smut to a great amount. We are not however of opinion, that it exists to any extent that will be detrimental to the produce, either in quantity (on the average) or in quality. On the whole, the cereal crop looks well, and is very abundant; and, if the ensuing three weeks prove fine, will exceed in quantity any year many remembered in this country. Should, however, the weather continue as it has done for the last three weeks, constantly wet and stormy, the result will be the destruction of the grain, which as yet has received no material damage.

ENCLOSURE.

Miscellaneous.

A TABLE showing the state of the Potato Crop in the Carrick-on-Shannon Union.

Names of Electoral Divisions.	Oat Crop.	Potato Crop.
Leitrim, . . .	Abundant, but slightly affected by smut.	Every field we could see affected, and the tuber gone in the low lands.
Keshcarrigan, . .	Same.	One field, the largest in division, about five acres, gone entirely both stalk and tuber; every other field affected.
Kiltubride, . . .	A great quantity, but backward and badly sown.	Looking tolerably well, the leaves only being touched.
Drumshambo, . . .	Same.	Same, but not so generally planted.
Drumreilly, . . .	Very small sowing.	The crop here looking better and more abundant than many other parts of the Union; the leaves slightly affected, but not at tubers.
Carrick-on-Shannon,	Good and plentiful.	The crop plentiful, but all affected in the stalk, and several fields gone in both tuber and stalk.
Drumsna, . . .	Oats and wheat better and more plentiful than in any other division of the Union.	Several fields of a great extent gone entirely. Two farmers in this division will lose (at least) one hundred pounds' worth each.
Kilglass, . . .	Very forward, reaped in some places, but exceedingly small amount of sowing.	Sowing small and slightly affected.
Gillstown, . . .	Same remark.	Same.
Aughrin, . . .	More than in former years.	Every field touched in the stalk; many of the tubers gone, particularly in the low grounds; one field of nine acres completely destroyed.
Elphin, . . .	Not much oats, chiefly grazing.	All along the road the fields touched.
Tunna, . . .	Cultivation bad, many holdings deserted, and little oats or crops of any kind sown.	Slightly affected on upland; the moor safe as yet.
Killukin, . . .	Good and abundant.	The stalks and leaves withered, but the tuber (except in one instance, close to the town of Carrick) safe.
Creeve, . . .	Not much oats, chiefly grazing and meadow.	The leaves and stalks only touched, except one field belonging to Mr. Church of Carrick, of about seven acres, which is quite gone.
Kilmore, . . .	Crops good but scarce, shockingly poor country.	Slightly touched, less than anywhere we observed.

Castlebar Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 15, 1848.

In reply to your letter, we have the honour to inform you that we have been anxiously watching the progress of the potato blight for the last three weeks through the Castlebar Union; and our opinion is, that a great part of the early crop is at present fit for food, but the late crop, which was extensively sown, appears a decided failure. From the inquiries we have been enabled to make from persons of intelligence we have been obliged to arrive at the same conclusion. No part of the workhouse grounds was cropped this year, as the paupers were employed levelling the land and making general improvements.

Castlerea Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your communication of the 11th instant, requiring to be informed on the state of the potato crop in this Union, we regret to say, that from our own personal observation, and from every information that we have been able to procure, disease is general in that esculent throughout the Union. As yet it has principally appeared in the stalks, and but few of the bulbs are affected. We are informed that the disease appears more generally in the bulbs of those planted early, which induces us to conclude, that as the crop advances to maturity the disease will become more developed.

We further beg to inform you, that we have examined the potatoes growing in the ground attached to the workhouse, which were planted late in the season

(end of May), and find that the stalks are generally diseased, but as yet few of the potatoes are affected. Though the land was highly manured the crop is thin and small. Under those circumstances it is difficult to estimate what proportion of this crop will be available for human food when ripe.

Cavan Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, requesting us by this day's post to report on the state of the "potato crop;" and in answer beg leave to state, that considering the failure of the potato to be one of great importance, we anticipated your wishes to a certain extent at our last board meeting on Thursday, and made a minute of the information we obtained from the several relieving officers of the Union, which we now transcribe for the information of the Commissioners, viz. :—

In the Cavan electoral division the relieving officer states, that one-half the potato crop is gone.

In the Ballyhaise, Butlersbridge, and Redhills relief district, the relieving officer states, the potato crop is partially gone.

In the Belturbet, Drumlane, and Kilconny relief district, the relieving officer reports—the crop appears bad, saw several potatoes injured.

In the Killashandra, Arvagh, and Derrylane relief district, the relieving officer reports—the potato crop very bad in Killashandra and Arvagh electoral divisions, not bad in Derrylane division.

In the Kilnaleek, Crosskeys, and New Inn relief district, the relieving officer reports—that the stalks are black, but the potatoes not much injured.

In the Stradone and Killycrone district, the relieving officer reports—the potatoes not much injured, but the stalks are getting black; in some places considers the potatoes improving.

In the Ballymachugh and Kill district, the relieving officer reports, that about three-fourths of the crop is damaged.

In the Denn and Ballintemple district, the relieving officer reports, that the stalks are nearly all withered, but the potatoes only partially injured.

In the Crossdoney and Killykeen district, the relieving officer states—the stalks look badly, and the people are pulling the stalks to prevent disease getting to the root.

In the Ballyconnell and Kildallan district, the relieving officer states—the stalks are withering, but the potatoes are generally good.

We regret now to state that, short a period as it is since we made that minute, the distemper in the potato crop is making rapid progress in this immediate neighbourhood. In a few fields contiguous to the workhouse there are very few potatoes that are not affected by the disease. The potatoes in the workhouse ground are nearly all gone: we had three yards of a ridge dug, and it only produced about a quarter of a stone, and the potatoes exhibit all the marks of disease. Fortunately, the greatest part of our ground was sown with mangel wurzel and carrots, which are doing well.

Clifden Union—Mr. O'Leary, Vice-Guardian:—August 15, 1848.

I have been most sedulous in obtaining all the available information I could on this vital question; and for several weeks past I have made it my constant aim to arrive at facts, deduced from the concurring opinions and personal knowledge of credible parties qualified to offer practical opinions as to the extent and results of the blight, as well as from my own personal examination of potato fields in each of the electoral divisions, which I have in hundreds of cases entered with the hope of finding them safe, but in which I lament to state the healthy exceptions are so few as not to be taken into consideration when an average of the available crop is to be calculated.

The result of my inquiry and my own observation is a firm conviction that the potato blight is not only general in its appearance, but universal throughout the Union; and that all the hopes which the extent of sowing and the early prospects of a healthy crop created, must be disappointed. For several weeks I was confident that the rumour of the spread of the disease was a groundless alarm; but I was first undeceived by the strong exhalation from the fields—a very disagreeable smell of decomposed vegetable matter—and by observing that the leaves and stalks had been maculated with the fatal stain, which, whether it be the consequence of the disease in the tuber, or the disease itself in the stalk, is obviously indicative of the blight. The numbers who dissented from the prevalence of the calamity have now diminished to a few. The universal belief is, that the crop is or will be all tainted; and the opinion is also general, that of all kinds of human food in Connemara there is not more than will suffice for four months. Some of the districts which in 1846 and 1847 were exempt from the blight, particularly those planted with potatoes on a sandy soil, have this year pre-eminently suffered.

Miscellaneous.

I cannot undertake to offer an opinion as to the results which may ensue from leaving the potatoes in the ground. Some allege that they may be thus best preserved; others think (once decayed in the stalk,) that the sooner they are dug the better. It would be most useful to have some knowledge on this disputed point promptly circulated.

In some places the poor people are digging them in despair, and bringing them to market at any price they can obtain for them. I regard this anxiety of the people to get rid of the crop they suffered every privation to secure, as conclusive of the general despair of their being able to preserve them either for food or for seed.

The quantity of potatoes which may be calculated upon as available for human sustenance it is impossible to obtain an estimate of on rational grounds: some allege that one-third of the crop is lost; others say half; whilst persons of considerable practical knowledge in agriculture assert, that one-third will not be saved of the whole breadth sown.

I can offer no opinion of my own, further than judging from the samples that I daily see, that the disease is daily advancing; and that though fitful in its visits—now blighting one townland and again another—it is traversing through all.

The potatoes on the workhouse lands are also considerably affected. With the consent of our medical officer, Doctor Suffield, we propose having them at once used (such as are sound) as food in the workhouse.

It may be desirable to state that one of the worst effects of the potato failure is, that the people having relied upon it the quantity of oats and barley sown was very small. Mr. Deane is actively engaged in making inquiries as to the positive supplies of all food now growing in the Union—a more useful work could not engage his zeal and energy.

I have read the above report, and agree most fully and entirely with the statements and opinions therein contained.

JOHN C. DEANE,
T. P. L. Inspector, Acting Vice-Guardian.

Cootchill Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 15, 1848

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, requiring our joint report of the state of the potato crop in this Union.

We beg to state, that we have made general inquiry from intelligent persons resident in the Union, and also from our own personal observation, we regret to state that the disease appears to be rapidly increasing, both on the stalks of the plant and the tuber, particularly in the rich, heavy soils. Potatoes are selling for two pence and two pence farthing per stone in the Cootchill market, as the farmers appear anxious to dispose of them as soon as possible. We consider that about one-third of the crop will be available for human food.

Enniskillen Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In obedience to your order of the 11th instant, that we should send by this night's post a report signed by the Vice-Guardians, expressive of their opinion of the state of the potato crop in this Union, they have no hesitation in reiterating the melancholy account given in their report of Saturday last. The blight in all parts of this county, as well as the parts of the county of Cavan they have visited, is proceeding with a degree of rapidity that gives but little hope that any portion of the crop will be available for human food by the first of November next. In no season since the blight first showed itself has it, at this early period, exhibited more deadly effects.

We beg leave to call the attention of the Commissioners to the report of Saturday, the 12th instant, in which this subject is particularly referred to.

That they regret that they have further to report that great doubt and apprehension exist with regard to the wheat crop; it is generally pronounced to be affected with smut, and that the ear does not exhibit the full or healthy appearance of other years.

We beg leave to state that this report is the result of our own personal inspection, as well as the opinion of the most experienced agriculturists with whom we have had an opportunity of consulting.

We propose to embody in our weekly report to the Commissioners all the information we can obtain on this most important subject.

Ennistymon Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

With reference to your letter of the 11th instant, in which you state that the Commissioners desire that we should make a report on the state of the potato crop in this Union, we have now the honour to state, that within the last fortnight the crop all through the Union has assumed a completely withered appearance, such as occurs in ordinary seasons in the month of October, when at maturity; and that the tubers are decidedly affected, to the extent of one-half the crop, by rot, similar to the disease of 1846.

On receipt of your letter we had a portion of the different kinds of potatoes on the workhouse grounds washed, when we found that certainly one-half of the crop was tainted; and on this day we procured a sample, dug fresh for our inspection contiguous to Ennistymon, which we found in a very bad state indeed.

As the weather is so very bad at present (raining constantly), it is impossible to form any idea as to what proportion of the potato crop on the workhouse grounds may be fit for human food, as we are of opinion that much rain conduces to the spread of the disease, and that dry weather checks it. Should the Commissioners require it, we shall make a special weekly report upon this matter.

Galway Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, requesting our report on the state of the potato crop in this Union. We beg leave to inform you, in reply, that we regret extremely to say that the crop is now completely diseased in every district in the Union. We have been closely observing the progress of the disease for the last few weeks, going through the country, and found, that in general the crop looked green and healthy until it arrived at a certain stage of maturity, after throwing off the blossom, when it was sure to exhibit the first symptoms of disease in the spotted appearance of the leaves; by degrees the whole stalk became affected. We were for some time in hope that the disease would be only partial, as in every part of the country might be found several fields of potatoes looking quite healthy, whilst others close by them showed manifest appearance of the disease. In a week or ten days after, we found that the fields before healthy had become diseased, and that the former difference of appearance in the several fields in the same townland was caused by the order of time in which the planting took place. The crop now presents precisely the same appearance as in 1846, and we may safely assert that it is diseased almost without exception. Taking into account that the disease set in before the esculent has arrived at maturity, we fear there will be a loss on this account alone to the extent of about one-third of the crop, even supposing the other two-thirds to be free from the disease. The potatoes on the workhouse grounds are all affected. The disease set in, as we observed through the country, according to the maturity of the crop. We had some dug in different places, and

K

Miscellaneous.

we regret to say that they are diseased. If the quantity of potatoes now full grown could be preserved, great as is the loss already sustained, we would hope that a considerable amount of food would remain. But what we have most to dread is, that we cannot calculate how long the potatoes now only partially injured may remain fit for use. Some of those dug on the land attached to the workhouse on Friday, and only partially injured, were found on the following day to be much more affected. At present we consider that two-thirds of those potatoes are fit for human food. We abstained from reporting on this all-important subject, in the hope that we might be enabled to have more decided and more cheering results to communicate.

Gort Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 14th instant we beg to state, that the result of our personal observation, and the information we have obtained is, that the potato crop in this Union is lost. The stalks and leaves are completely blasted and withered, and the disease is fast extending to the roots. The growth being entirely stopped, the poor people are now using the unripe potatoes; but it is to be feared that the progress of the disease will soon render them unfit for human food.

As regards the potatoes on the workhouse site we have to observe, that being planted late, and the first attack of the disease having put a stop to their growth, the quantity available for food, even if the tubers were not infected, would be scarcely sufficient for three days' consumption; but inasmuch as the disease has extended to the latter, it will be a matter for the consideration of the medical officer as to whether it will be advisable to use them in the workhouse dietary.

Granard Union—Vice-Guardian :—August 14, 1848.

On receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, I devoted yesterday and part of this day in making inquiries of the gentry of this neighbourhood as to the state of the potato crop. Having some interest myself in agricultural affairs, I have been making my own observations previous to your letter. I now have the honour to report the opinions of persons who can be relied on.

This Union comprises a part of three counties, viz. :—Longford, Westmeath, and Cavan.

Longford—The blight upon the potato is more general this year than in 1846 or 1847. Some lands, particularly the moor and peat lands, suffered least the past years, but no description of land has escaped this year.

A greater quantity of potatoes have been set this year than the previous years. Every garden that I have seen presents an awful appearance of disease; they are now getting offensive to the smell; the tubers are generally affected; but how far they can be calculated upon for human food I cannot presume to say.

Cavan and Westmeath—Same report as above.

The potatoes in the workhouse grounds, that a short time back looked so healthy, now present a deplorable appearance of disease; not a stalk that is not completely blasted, though, curious to relate, on trial the tubers have no appearance of disease as yet; but the crop being a late one, I fear the disease will very soon show itself upon the potato.

The crop at present is too young to make use of for the workhouse; and until we begin to use it, and see the state of it then, it will be impossible to calculate what quantity will be likely to be available for human food. The Swede turnip, which is almost a failure, will be very much felt by the poorer class, as they used a great deal of them last year for food. In the absence of my colleague (on leave), I have the honour to lay before you my individual report.

Kanturk Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 11th instant, requesting us to report on the state of the potato crop in Kanturk Union, we have the honour to state, from personal observation, and from the reports yesterday of our collectors, that the stalks of the early crop are blackening fast, and that the root is diseased, in proportion of 20 per cent. of those dug. In the late crop, planted in April and May, which averages two-thirds of the whole quantity set, the leaf shows symptoms of the disease gradually extending to the stalk.

With reference to the workhouse grounds we have to state, that the whole of the land is under flax.

Kenmare Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In compliance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 11th inst., we have the honour to submit the following report on the present condition of the potato crop in this Union.

From personal inspection of the division of Bourdoneen, made on the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd instant, we are of opinion that the blight attacked every field in it. The tubers were then in many places affected. We have the authority of the relieving officer and the medical attendant of the local dispensary there for stating that the disease in the tuber is rapidly increasing.

Our own examination of the crop in the Ballybog division, the week before last, gave a similar result. Mr. Bland, the proprietor of more than half the division, has since informed us that the disease is spreading in a very alarming manner.

The Templenoe and Kenmare divisions we inspected in the last week—the highland and lowland districts of both. The blighted stalk is universal, and the tubers generally affected.

The division of Tuosist we did not visit since the last week in July; the crop was then supposed to be recovering. We have now the authority of the parish priest, the Rev. C. M'Carthy, and the relieving officer, for stating that the tubers are generally and materially damaged.

The Kilgarvan and Bunawn divisions we visited yesterday; in the former nearly every field is attacked, and the latter, hitherto considered the safest in the Union, the disease has appeared but only partially as yet—some of the late crops being still safe.

It is impossible in the present state of the Union to make even an approximate estimate of the loss, but at least it must be considerable.

With reference to your instructions to report the condition of the potato crop in the workhouse grounds, we have to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that we did not grow any there, having reserved the land for carrots, parsnips, turnips, cabbages, celery, and leeks, all of which are growing there most luxuriantly.

Kilkenny Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to state to the Commissioners, in reply to your communication of the 11th instant, that our personal observations, and such information as has reached us tend to the same opinion, that generally throughout this Union the virulence with which the potato disease has lately attacked the crop almost equals that of 1846. The injuries are serious and extensive. The potatoes in the workhouse grounds exhibit appearances of disease on the tops of the stalks; they are, however, in better condition than most of the fields in the neighbourhood.

To ascertain the actual present state of them we directed the master to have a statute perch (five and a-half yards) of drill dug out, selecting that which seemed worst, of each kind. It was found that the whole produce was, of English reds, fourteen pounds, of which twelve pounds were sound, and two pounds infected; the same extent produced eleven and a-half pounds of lumpers, of which but a quarter of a pound were infected.

The appearance of the potatoes which were dug leads us to believe the crop is deficient; an expression of opinion may, however, be premature as yet.

Kilrush Union—Extract from Vice-Guardians' Report of August 14, 1848.

With sorrow and regret we must state, that the state of the potato crop in this district is most alarming and the spread of the disease rapid. If the disease extends much further that crop cannot be calculated on as an article for human food, except on a very limited scale. The leaves of the plant in the workhouse lands present the same appearance of blast as exhibited in every part of the Union. The stems or stalks do not in general appear much affected; but we apprehend the disease will soon extend to them. We have examined the state of each field; in one, containing about one and a quarter acre, which was planted early, the potatoes approach maturity; but as there is no possibility of calculating on their remaining sound, we are of opinion that the best course to adopt would be to dig them out, and dispose of them in the markets; the remainder, near three acres, were planted later, and consequently small; taking them now out of the land would be of little use. We consider it, therefore, better to risk their remaining some time longer; the roots we dug up present different stages of disease in very many cases.

Miscellaneous.

We cannot on the whole attempt to disguise the fact, that from all we can learn by inquiry and observation there will be almost a total failure in this Union.

We have to regret to be obliged to inform the Commissioners that in some parts of the Union a partial blight has taken place of the oat and barley crop, attributable to the almost incessant rains and want of warmth to ripen the grain.

Longford Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your favour of the 11th instant we beg to say, that we have all through the season kept a close look-out on the potato crop. Until Friday week the injury was partial, and we flattered ourselves it would not be important; but since then it has spread to a very great extent, and we grieve to say, that we fear it will be most serious.

Every person we speak to dreads the worst; and should we have a general failure, the result to this country will be awful in the extreme. For so far the potato itself is not much injured, but the disease is showing and spreading rapidly.

Our relieving officers from the different parts of this Union state, to-day, that the potatoes are gone.

Loughrea Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th instant, directing us to forward a report of the state of the potato crop in our Union; and also to inform you as to the condition of the potatoes grown in the workhouse grounds.

In reply we have to state, that since our report of the 7th instant, in which we briefly alluded to this subject, we have attentively watched the progress of the disease, and eagerly endeavoured to collect information from individuals that we consider could have no object in misleading us; and from all that we have been able to learn, we grieve to state, that our report must necessarily be unfavourable in the extreme.

There is not a district in our entire Union that is not more or less injured by the disease. Fields of potatoes that ten days since appeared comparatively healthy are now rapidly withering under the influence of the blight. The leaves first exhibit symptoms of decay, which quickly extend to the stem; and the tuber is sure to imbibe the fatal plague in an incredibly short period.

The disease as yet is more severe in its effects in some districts than in others; high lands and light limestone soil are as yet most free. The divisions of Craughwell and Kilconeeran, and the northern parts of the Union, although the crop is almost in every instance attacked, are nevertheless more lightly so, than in the divisions of Ballynakill, Killeenadema, and Dooniry: in the former divisions the disease has not generally reached the tuber; in the latter, about Woodford and Ballynakill particularly, there is scarcely a field in which not only the stems but the tubers also are decayed.

We have had interviews with several gentlemen holding large farms, Mr. Tully, Mr. Pilkington, Mr. P. Skerrett, and others, who all concur in opinion, that at present at least one-half the crop is lost in this Union.

The only chance of any portion of the crop being preserved, is in the case of very early sowing. The tubers have here attained a degree of maturity. But where the planting was deferred until the end of April and May, as was very generally the case, we fear there is little chance of any return; the leaves and stalks are all under the influence of the blight, and the further growth of the tuber in consequence completely checked.

The unfavourable change which has taken place in the weather within the last twenty-four hours, is calculated to add to the alarm which is, we regret to state, so generally experienced in reference to this all-important subject. With reference to the crop on the workhouse grounds, we cannot report more favourable; we have been mortified to see the daily rapid destruction of what was a most luxuriant and promising crop. We had this day a ridge, measuring twenty-five yards long and five feet wide, dug out for an experiment, the produce when washed weighed but three stone seven pounds, and after a careful examination fully two-thirds of these were badly diseased, and unfit for human food.

The miserable produce in itself would have been sufficient to excite alarm, as every care and attention were bestowed upon this crop, which up to ten days ago was as fine as could be, when the leaves suddenly became tainted, the further progress of the plant to maturity checked, and the result, the melancholy one we have detailed.

We shall continue from week to week to submit a statement of our observations specially on this subject.

Mohill Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 14, 1848.

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, directing us to make a report on the state of the potato crop in the Mohill Union; and in reply have to state, from personal observation, having travelled through a great portion of the Union during last week, and from inquiry we have made amongst persons likely to be well informed on the subject, we find that in nearly every field the leaves and stalks have been attacked, and are withered and blackened; the bulbs, in most instances, remain untouched, and in others but partially affected; however, the general opinion of the farmers is, that the disease will progress, and the crop will fail.

Wherever the potatoes were planted early they are now available for food; but the late crop will scarcely come to any perfection. A few farmers have stated that nearly one-half of their potatoes are unfit for use; but the greater number assert that as yet the attack has committed no injury to the tuber. The potatoes planted in boggy land, we are disposed to think may to a great extent escape the blight; and fortunately a considerable part of the crop of the Union is in land of that description.

Mullingar Union—The Vice-Guardians :—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, inquiring the state of the potato crop in this Union; and we beg to observe with regard to the reports of individuals with whom we have conversed on the subject, that they are generally most unfavourable; and from personal observation for the last three weeks, we fear their reports are not exaggerated.

We have this day minutely examined the potato crop in the workhouse grounds, and find the disease is making considerable progress; so much so, that we could not venture to say what proportion of it is likely to be available for human food by the time the potato should arrive at maturity. They were planted late in the season, and are not of an early description.

Some of the farmers, finding their potatoes slightly diseased, had them brought to market, and sold at a very reduced price; and which we fear will ultimately be nearly as injurious to the country as the disease itself.

Newcastle Union—Mr. Brehon, Vice-Guardian :—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 11th instant, received by yesterday's post, requiring information as to the state of the potato crop; I beg to inform you, that from the present appearance of it in all that portion of the Union through which

Miscellaneous.

I have recently travelled, I am decidedly of opinion that it will turn out almost an entire failure. I went to Abbeyfeale on Saturday, and the potato tops all along that line of road were as withered as they would be in ordinary years in October. I also examined the tubers in many districts, and found them in an advanced stage of decomposition. I had the potatoes in the workhouse ground this day examined; they have also got the disease, and it would be at present impossible to calculate what proportion of them may be available for human food. The prospects in regard to the potato crop, at least as far as this Union is concerned, are gloomy in the extreme. I have had private information on which I can place reliance, on this subject, from the counties of Kilkenny and Wexford, which don't represent the disease, particularly in the latter county, as assuming so bad a character as it does here; but this may be accounted for from many concurrent circumstances, the principal of which are, that there has not been any considerable effort made here to drain the land and adopt improved modes of agriculture; and consequently at least nineteen out of every twenty acres of potatoes sown in this Union, were sown in undrained land. The period of their being sown was necessarily retarded to a month or six weeks beyond the proper time in consequence of the wetness of the land in which they were sown; and when attacked by the disease the tubers were only beginning to form: whereas, in the great majority of instances in the county of Wexford, the potatoes are sown in well-drained land, or land which required no manuring; and put into the ground about six weeks earlier than they are here—by which course the tuber has had time to come to a state of perfection before the disease set in.

Newcastle Union—Mr. Devitt, Vice-Guardian:—August 15, 1848.

Mr. Brehon has informed me that during my absence on Union business he replied to your letter calling for our joint report respecting the potato crop in this Union; and having been made acquainted with his opinions on the subject, I beg to say I entirely concur in his views.

Having traversed a great portion of the country in my drive from hence to Limerick and back, and endeavoured by viewing carefully as I passed along the actual state of the growing crop, I have to observe that in every instance the potato seems blighted. I have learned from parties professing to have great experience in the matter, that by having the stalk pulled up by the roots much mischief may be prevented, and a check given to the rapid decay now observable in the tuber. With respect to the oats and barley; both in this district have been late, and therefore have not suffered much notwithstanding the heavy fall of rain for the last few days, and particularly that of yesterday, which continued almost without intermission from seven o'clock A.M. on yesterday until six o'clock A.M. this morning. The wheat is all standing, and the only way for accounting for this is, that the crop is so light and thin the rain did not take that effect on it which would have been the case had the ear been heavy. I am happy to say that as I write (half-past twelve o'clock P.M.) there is a promise of a fine day; and I learn with much pleasure that even now a few weeks of fine weather would give us a large and abundant return of all descriptions of cereal food.

New Ross Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 12th instant, received yesterday, requiring our joint report on the state of the potato crop on the workhouse grounds, also as to its condition in other parts of the Union, we beg leave to inform you that the stalk is universally affected—the root however only partially as yet, and we entertain a hope that it may be available, if used at once for food. From all we have seen and heard it is our opinion that the root is so far affected as to cause great apprehension, that if attempted to be kept over, much of it may be lost.

We regret from the short time permitted us to reply we are prevented giving a more extended report on the subject, but the above information we have learned not only by personal inspection, but from persons on whom we can rely.

Roscommon Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

Miscellaneous.

In reply to your communication of the 11th instant we have the honour to state, that as far as we have been able to ascertain, both from personal observation and information derived from respectable parties, the potato crop in this Union is very considerably damaged, and we fear getting worse daily. The appearance of the leaves and stalks is very generally the same now—blackened and withered more or less; but the accounts of the tubers vary—some persons stating that they are comparatively safe as yet, and others that more than half their crops are gone.

From our own observation, we fear there is too much reason to believe that a very large proportion of the crop is already diseased; and that that portion which is apparently sound at this moment will be so damaged also as to render it quite impossible to calculate on it as food beyond a short period. We have just examined about a stone of potatoes grown in the workhouse grounds; these were planted in March and April, and are principally lumpers. Until the last few days the leaves and stems of these were very little blighted, but are getting worse, we might say hourly. Out of the quantity just dug we find the disease in several; and they are all much smaller than the usual size of this kind.

We consider it would be better to at once make use of them, or sell them; the latter method of disposing of them we think would be the best, and give us some chance of securing some profit from the crop. If used as food in the workhouse they would not, even if they remained sound, supply the inmates for more than three weeks or so, and totally disarrange the present dietary, which has been found both cheap and wholesome, and be likely to produce dysentery, in which opinion the medical officer concurs. We should feel obliged if the Poor Law Commissioners would give us their opinion on this subject.

Scariff Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 16, 1848.

The state of the potato crop in this Union is very uncertain, so far as relates to that part of it which is under ground.

Within the last fortnight the fields generally which we have seen present a blackened appearance, from the leaves being quite withered on some plants; while at the same time in most of the fields there is still a considerable number of plants whose leaves remain green and apparently healthy. As yet there is not any considerable quantity of diseased potatoes in what have been dug out; on the contrary, many fields which we have personally examined appear to have the tubers perfectly sound, although the leaves are quite withered. A very small portion however of those potatoes which have been already dug in this Union can be said to be ripe, or such as can to any extent be used as wholesome food.

Although we have no evidence we can rely upon of any extensive disease at present existing in the potato itself in any part of this Union, yet, as there can be no doubt of the blight which has fallen on the leaves, and which must in any case prevent the proper maturity of the plants, as there is every probability of the disease descending as in former years from the leaf to the tuber; and as we hear of considerable disease in the tuber in the neighbourhood of Limerick, we cannot indulge in the hope that we shall escape the impending calamity—the extent of which cannot now by any means be estimated.

The continued rain which we have experienced for the last three days, must we think have an unfavourable effect, and tend to promote rather than check the tendency to disease.

Not having any potato crop on the workhouse grounds, that part of your inquiry does not relate to this Union. We have however a very fine crop of mangel-wurzel, which we expect will prove much more profitable than potatoes.

We do not think it would be at all expedient to make use of potatoes as an article of diet in the workhouse.

In addition to the above we have to state, that the quantity of potatoes planted in this Union has been unusually great; and even if a large proportion were to be rendered unfit for human food, there would still be a considerable quantity available for that purpose; and unless the disease be more fatal and extensive than in any previous year, we should think it likely no scarcity will be felt until after Christmas.

Trim Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We yesterday had the honour of receiving your communication of the 11th instant requesting our joint report on the state of the potato crop in this Union.

In answer thereto we beg leave to state, that for several weeks back we have had our attention particularly directed to the progress of blight on this important crop; and the result of our observation is, that the general appearance of the potato crop in the Union is far from favourable: the stalks almost universally presenting a blackened and scorched appearance—varying however considerably according to the kind of potato and its approach to maturity—the earlier sown crops being in general the most affected. The disease or blight does not appear as yet to have extended in any great degree to the potatoes themselves, as they are in general but partially affected.

As to the state of the crop on the workhouse ground (about two plantation acres), we have to report a like appearance; and upon examination, but partially extending to the root. We yesterday had a portion of the crop dug for the use of the inmates, and found but a small portion affected with the disease—to the amount of about two stone out of fifty.

As to hazarding an opinion on the proportion of the crop likely to be available for human food we feel very great difficulty; but at present there is not a doubt but that only a very small portion is unfit for food: at the same time we cannot conceal from ourselves, that the disease appears to be progressing from day to day. From the best information we can collect among persons well acquainted with the neighbourhood, we are of opinion that not so much ground is under potatoes as formerly, previous to 1846.

We have further to add that the crop where dug appears to be very productive. We shall continue carefully to watch the progress of the disease, and from time to time report on the matter as we see any change take place.

Tuam Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

Previous to the receipt of your communication of the 11th instant, we had personally examined into the condition of the potato crops in all the electoral divisions of the Tuam Union; and we regret to have to report that in every instance the stalks of the potato are blackened and shrivelled, and the tuber is diseased in a great degree. The late sowed crop is almost a total failure; the tubers not exceeding the size of marbles. The yield from the early sowed crop is fair, but the quality of the potato is very inferior to that of last year.

The crop on the workhouse grounds, although planted early, is nearly all lost; three-sevenths only of the crop being at the present time fit for human food, and the remaining four-sevenths totally destroyed. This result we have obtained by digging 14 lbs. of potatoes to-day from the crop on the workhouse grounds.

There are few green crops in the Union, the great majority of the small holdings being under potatoes.

The wheat, oat, rye, and barley crops are promising; but the late and continued heavy rains will we fear materially damage them.

We cannot conclude without expressing our fears that not three-sevenths of the potato crop is at the present period available for human food; and that a total destruction of the crop by the disease, similar to that of 1846, is almost inevitable in the Tuam Union.

Tullamore Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

In reply to your letter of the 11th instant, inquiring into the state of the potato crop in this Union, we beg to apprise you that a very marked change has taken place in the appearance of the potato crop during the last fortnight or three weeks; the leaf is quite gone, but the disease has not as yet generally descended to the stalk, and in but few instances to the bulb. The potatoes, generally speaking, larger than is usual at this time of year; at the same time they are damp, probably on account of the continued rains during the last month. The last week has been very favourable; and should the weather continue fine we consider the potatoes would recover—inasmuch as they would become dry, and probably not be much affected with the disease. The growth, however, must be at an end, in consequence of the blight on the leaf.

As regards the potato crop in the workhouse grounds, we regret to say, that in consequence of the state we found the grounds in we were unable to plant any thing in them; but have had the able-bodied constantly employed filling in the sand-pits and quarry holes around the workhouse. The extent of the grounds belonging to this workhouse are unusually small, being only four acres in extent.

Waterford Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

I have the honour to inform you that a premature decay of the leaves, which in many instances extends to the stalks, has very generally set in.

The cause is attributed to the very cold and ungenial weather we have had for the last fortnight.

I am fully of opinion that although the early sown potatoes are more or less affected by blight on the leaves, yet they were so far matured in ripeness that they may be considered safe, and will in all probability keep well. Coupling this with the fact that a much wider breadth (nearly four and a-half times) has been sown this, beyond the two last years, I do not feel apprehensive at present of any great scarcity this season. The late crops were not sufficiently advanced to maturity to resist the blight so well as the early sown; consequently the more danger as regards this portion of the potato crop is to be apprehended.

As yet instances of affected tubers are rare; and it will require another week or ten days to decide on the extent to which it is likely to affect the late crop.

Our markets are well supplied with wholesome, dry potatoes, with as yet no appearance in them of disease, at a cheap rate.

I have had communications from several gentlemen connected with different electoral divisions of the Union, whose reports can be relied on. They all generally agree as to the correctness of the statement I have the honour to lay before you.

The foregoing is also the opinion of Captain Newport, D.L., a gentleman well acquainted with this district; and who on many occasions has afforded us very valuable assistance and information.

The potato crop on the workhouse grounds appears to have suffered considerably from the blight; but I have not been able to detect many diseased tubers amongst them. As they are at present, I should say that nineteen-twentieths of them are available for human food; but the crop is a late one; about $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres in all.

Mr. O'Connor, my colleague, agrees with me in the opinions I have here advanced.

Westport Union—The Vice-Guardians:—August 14, 1848.

We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, requesting from us a joint report on the state of the potato crop in our Union.

Having travelled through a considerable part of the country, north and south, during the last week, and had much conversation with many judicious persons relative thereto, we are enabled to speak somewhat decisively as to its general condition. The blight which made its appearance in the beginning of the month of August, 1846, has invaded the crop at about the same time this year, commencing by black spots on the leaves, and spreading to canker blotches on the stalks, from the effects of which the entire haulm has become withered in a few days—the decaying vegetable matter loading the atmosphere with a heavy smell as if from fermenting lowland hay. This infliction has become very general throughout the country, and has caused much dismay among the people; but it is to be observed that as yet the tubers have not been affected except in partial instances; and as much of the crop was sown unusually early, and had attained an approximation to maturity when the blight appeared, it may be hoped that such will afford a considerable amount of food; but the same expectation cannot be indulged in with respect to the later sown fields. Should the blight spread over these, of which we fear there is little doubt, no produce need be expected from them; as in all instances where decay precedes the blossoming of the plant no tuber is formed.

It is difficult to form a correct calculation as to the relative extent of the early and later sown crops; but from our own observations during the spring we should conjecture that about two-thirds were put in at an early season, and up to the appearance of the blight they had grown most promisingly. With respect to the amount of food which may be calculated on as available from the early sown crop, it must entirely depend on the tuber continuing in a sound state, and the disease making no further progress than on the haulm.

Miscellaneous.

There was but a very small portion of the workhouse grounds sown with potatoes, in consequence of the greater part being occupied with the building of the fever hospital and laying down the materials necessary, also with the quarrying for stones and sand for same. The produce of what was sown cannot be considered as any value.

*Letter from Sir James Dombrain, Inspector-General of the Coast Guard:—
Kilrush-House, August 13, 1848.*

I commenced my inspection at the latter end of May, at Westport; from thence I travelled round the north-west coast, and up to Dublin; I again left Dublin, four weeks since, and up to Cork. I never saw finer crops, and I wrote to the Lord Lieutenant congratulating him on the prospects, and observing that, so far as human calculation went, he would not have distress to contend with. It is very remarkable, that upon leaving Cork (now about eighteen days ago), the first field I saw had strong evidence of the disease; from that day to this I have not seen one field free from it, and the late crop is totally and irretrievably gone. The stalks are blackened down to the ground; the tubers not bigger than marbles; it is impossible they can recover.

The early planting was very extensive—greater in proportion to the late than in any former year; the potatoes generally large and good; for some few days after stems had blackened, but these soon began to show the disease.

I have not seen a man digging potatoes that I have not got out of my carriage and gone to examine them. In no instance have I seen less than one-fourth affected; in some cases three-fourths, and they are daily getting worse. This year it is the disease of 1846, viz., the wet rot; and the weather unfortunately makes it advance with fearful rapidity. Every post brings me letters as to its progress in all these places where I have seen the plants in such a flourishing state. On the consequences of this renewed visitation it is vain to speculate. The scourge is sent by Him who rules all for the best; to Him alone we should all commit ourselves—for it is too evident, in this impoverished country, no human aid can save the people from dying by thousands! I am told that fully half of the potatoes brought in here yesterday to the market were spotted.

If at any time I can give you any information command me.

My journey from Dublin was by Wicklow, Wexford, Waterford, Cork, Kerry, Limerick, and on to this. I visited every coast-guard station in all the promontories and bays to this place—I suppose about 1,500 miles.

Some speak sanguinely of the slight appearance of the disease. My own opinion is, it is a mere question of time, and that it will be quite as bad as in 1846. The stench from the fields is in most cases quite sickening.

*Further Letter from Sir James Dombrain to the Chief Commissioner:—
Galway, August 17, 1848.*

Since I wrote to you I have been down the north side of Galway Bay as far as Castleboy; from thence I crossed over to Arran; and as one fact is worth ten thousand assertions or opinions, I shall mention one for your information.

On going up from the beach to the coast-guard watch-house, I saw a woman washing two basketfuls of potatoes; I should say there was from a bushel and a half to two bushels. We went and examined them; not one could we find sound. I saw another woman with baskets full. She said the man had been all the morning digging what was there before us—and they were what had been separated from the rotten ones—and not one of those, so far as we could see, were quite sound. I have just been in the market here; even among the potatoes picked out as sound several show the disease.

I am of opinion the disease is much worse than in 1846. The constant rain has actually made them turn quite rotten in the ground; and certainly the people are less able to bear it, for I believe they parted with the beds from under them to procure seed.

My accounts from all parts are daily worse.

NOTE.—The reports since received by the Commissioners on Monday, the 21st inst., are of the same general character as the above reports, and show that the potato disease is progressing; but still, in several reports it is stated not to have yet reached the tubers.

BOYLE UNION.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain WYNNE, April 6, 1848:—Dissolution of the Board of Guardians.

THE Commissioners request you to proceed with the least possible delay to Boyle Union, and to take evidence on oath respecting the cases of death from starvation specified in the accompanying letter, which was addressed on the 5th instant by the Rev. J. Henery to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

The Commissioners deem it advisable that you should put yourself in communication with Mr. Henery, in order that he may furnish you with the names of the witnesses who will be able to depose to the facts stated in his letter. The Commissioners further recommend that both Mr. Henery and members of the Boyle Board of Guardians should be invited to be present at your examination of the witnesses.

It is the wish of the Commissioners that the inquiry should be thoroughly searching and minute.

ENCLOSURES.

I.

Killoshalway, Ballymote, April 5, 1848.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—I regret to be again obliged to direct your Excellency's attention to the appalling state of destitution in the electoral divisions of Kilturra and Killoshalway, in the poor law Union of Boyle.

I had some hope, from the nature of your Excellency's late reply to me on the subject of the distress of these districts, that your Excellency would not in future be horrified at hearing of any more deaths from starvation in the above localities. The following details will convince your Excellency that I hoped in vain. I wish your Excellency to understand, that I do not at present wish to urge any complaint against the Commissioners or the Guardians of the poor, much less do I wish to offer any opinion whether the poor law, no matter how rigidly enforced, can meet the painful and intense destitution of those districts. Those are subjects for your Excellency's grave consideration. But although I cannot take it on myself to say whether the law itself, or the mode of administering it, is to blame, I think yourself would deem me reprehensible if I did not submit to your notice, that, notwithstanding having a poor law, deaths are of daily occurrence from actual starvation in this portion of the poor law Union of Boyle.

Here are the names and townlands where the deaths took place:—

Killoshalway.

Mrs. Kilkenny and child, after several applications in vain for relief,
Mary Connel, found dead by a rick of turf,
Philip M'Gowen's wife and daughter,
Bryan Flanagan, found dead by the road-side,
Widow Davey's daughter,
Andy Davey.

Kilturra electoral division.

John May and son,
Pat Marren,
Widow Carbery,
John O'Hara,
John Healy's two children.

Other deaths from starvation took place previous to my first communication to your Excellency, not included in this list.

I have the honour to remain

Your Excellency's most obedient and humble servant,

JAMES HENERY, P.P.,

Bunaden, Ballymote, county Sligo.

To his Excellency
the Earl of Clarendon,
&c., &c,

No. 426.

II.

Admit provisionally, James Gallagher, wife and son.

Dated 7th March, 1848.

JOHN M'MANAMY,

Relieving Officer.

James Gallagher will be admitted, provided his wife and son accompany him.
This man refused admittance, died on his way home on the road-side.

JAMES HENERY,

March 7, 1848.

Boyle Union.

Captain WYNNE to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 13, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to state for the information of the Commissioners, that in compliance with their request, contained in your letter of the 6th instant, I proceeded on Tuesday the 11th inst., to Gorteen, being the most convenient place, to hold the investigation into the cases of death from starvation specified in the letter of the Rev. J. Henery to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

On receipt of your letter I put myself in communication with Mr. Henery, as also with the Board of Guardians of the Boyle Union, requesting of the former that he would furnish me with the names of such parties as were able to depose to the facts stated in his letter, as also that he would be present on the occasion, and of the Board of Guardians to depute some member or members to attend to give such explanation as their books and knowledge of the facts might enable them to afford.

I received the names required from the Rev. Mr. Henery, and summoned the parties, who were accordingly in attendance on Tuesday, the earliest day on which it was possible to complete my arrangements. The Rev. Mr. Henery, Joseph M'Donnell, Esq. of Doo Castle, Rev. Mr. Brennan, P.P., Rev. Mr. Brown, P.P., Mr. Stanley, late Guardian, &c., &c.; and on the part of the Board of Guardians, Mr. Holmes of Clogher.

I forward you the evidence of each witness as I took it down, and shall make such remarks in explanation thereof as the character and station of the witnesses will render necessary, to lead the Commissioners to a true conclusion.

I shall take the cases seriatim, and would premise that the greatest possible exertion was made, not only to get up a case against the Board of Guardians, but also to prove that the poor law was inadequate to meet the distress that at present exists in the Union, and thereby to establish a claim to part of a sum of £3,000,000 which they stated had been promised by Lord John Russell last year.

It is a fact, more curious than uncommon, that those persons most clamorous, and apparently most zealous in the cause of the suffering poor, were, without exception, defaulters in their rates; no individual present, with the exception of Mr. Holmes, having paid up the last rate, and some owing the two last.

All expressed themselves most anxious for an extension of relief, but not at the expense of the Union.

Case of Anne Kilkenny.—John Kilkenny showed a remarkably strong animus, and contradicted himself several times; was a disappointed applicant for out-door relief, being able-bodied.

Mr. Stanley exhibited very strong feeling against the board, of which he was a member until the 25th ultimo.

The other witnesses in this case appeared to give their evidence fairly and impartially.

I am of opinion that this is one of those cases where aversion to enter the workhouse has proved fatal; the deceased may have died from want of medical or other assistance in her confinement, or from exhaustion or want of strength; I could not elicit the fact of the child being born dead; I am of opinion it was; it appeared strange, when considerable anxiety was evinced to prove the case, that none of the children who were in the house at the time were present to depose to this and other facts; it is to be regretted that out-door relief was not given in this case, as it appears to have been one peculiarly suitable.

The relieving officer does not appear to have acted with that promptitude so indispensable where so great an amount of destitution of the most urgent description exists as in the electoral divisions of Kilshalvy and Kilturra in the Boyle Union; he however throws the blame on the Guardians, as will be seen by his evidence.

I do not see any reason to doubt the fact that Honora Kilkenny, the daughter, died of want, and that the remaining children are also likely not to recover; I have strongly recommended a far higher standard of relief in the quantity of food given, and an extension on a considerable scale of the number of recipients. It should however be remembered, that by leaving the workhouse this unhappy family brought upon themselves their sufferings.

I do not think in the case of Mary Connelly death can be said to have been caused by starvation; exposure to the inclemency of the weather while in a state of disease and exhaustion, induced probably by want of food or bad food, was sufficient to produce death, and I have no doubt did; nobody appears to blame but the poor creature herself for having left the workhouse.

In the cases of Philip M'Gowen's wife and child, the details of the husband's evidence were most heart-rending; here again we find pestilence and famine so mixed up that it is almost impossible to say which was the cause of death.

I think it probable that in this case fever, induced by bad or insufficient food, was the immediate cause of death; the workhouse appears to have been offered more than once and refused.

In the case of Bryan Flanagan I cannot see that blame is fairly attributable to anybody, nor does it appear that he died of starvation.

Widow Davey's daughter.—From the mother's evidence there appears too much reason to believe that her daughter died of want of food, indeed the mother is more than half dead, and can scarcely recover with the greatest care; as in the other cases aversion to enter the workhouse appears again to have been fatal; it was certainly a case for out-door relief, but none was given in the Union until after the 25th of February.

Andy Davey.—This is a strange case: there is no doubt but that this man died from want of food; at the same time there is no doubt he possessed the means of relief, from the fact of his having two head of cattle, one of which was sold for his burial; he also refused the workhouse.

James Gallagher.—I am of opinion this poor man's case should have been an exception, and that he should have been admitted provisionally if his state of health rendered him unfit to return home without risk of his life; such is the practice I invariably recommend.

John May and son.—I am of opinion that the application stated to have been made during the illness of the parents, was made by the eldest girl, and should have been promptly attended to by the relieving officer, which appears not to have been the case; it was a case for immediate provisional relief. The relieving officer in excuse pleads the restrictions placed upon him by the Guardians in confining him to relief in the house in cases requiring out-door relief, and gives as proof the cases of the Widow Lang, represented on the 11th of March, as destitute and in fever, yet received no out-door relief till the 25th, when she was ruled by the Guardians for five pounds of meal per week for self and five children. Mr. Holmes, the representative of the Board of Guardians present, stated that this rule was a mistake as entered in the book, that the five pounds of meal were intended as provisional relief till such time as the parties could come into the house; but then it was a case for out-door relief, and out-door relief was being given at the time in the Union; I am of opinion that there are some reasons to doubt these parties having died of starvation. It is difficult to suppose that John May's father, who is represented in evidence as being a humane and kind-hearted man, should have allowed his son and grandchild to die of starvation, at a time when he had a quantity of meal stored in his house, and was in other respects in wealthy circumstances. It appears also that deceased received aid from his priest from a fund which has been furnished by Rome for the relief of the Irish poor; it appears however that the aid was on a small scale. It is clear that deceased and his wife laboured under dysentery for five or six weeks, almost in the same house with his father, a comfortable man with meal stored in his house; and from all the circumstances of the case, I do not think that the deaths can be attributed to want of food, but rather to dysentery, brought on perhaps originally from insufficient or bad food. With regard to the evidence of Mr. Stanley in this case, I shall only observe, that it appeared he had only attended the board in Boyle once in three months, 17th of March; he ruled in favour of out-door relief to all the parties in the relieving officer's book for his (Kilshalvy*) electoral division, many of which the chairman overruled, which has led no doubt to the bad feeling which appears to exist at present between the parties.

Case of Pat Marren.—The relieving officer, from his own evidence, which in point of fact was the only evidence in this case, did his duty. I think on the 25th February deceased's case was one for out-door relief. It is difficult to form an opinion as to the immediate cause of death, as the evidence was not at all conclusive.

Widow Carbery's case.—The relieving officer appears to have neglected this case: I have no doubt but that application was made to him as stated by Honora M'Gowen, and should have been promptly attended to. Deceased was old and declining for some time previous to her death. I do not think the facts elicited in evidence would warrant the conclusion that she died of starvation.

* This will appear from inspection of application and report book of relieving officer for Kilshalvy.

Boyle Union.

Case of John Healy's two children.—The relieving officer appears to have neglected this case also. It appears to have been a particularly urgent one, and should have been promptly relieved the moment the surrender of the land rendered the claimant eligible, or before, if as was the case, that the relieving officer was ignorant of the fact of his holding land. There is too much reason to believe that these poor children died of absolute want.

It may not be out of place to state here, for the information of the Commissioners, the state in which I found the district, particularly the electoral divisions of Kilshalvy and Kilturra, as also the prospects of the increase or diminution of the destitution which exists there at present.

I regret to say I found matters much worse than I expected, or than they were when I last visited the district. An alarming amount of the most urgent destitution appears to exist in the electoral divisions of Kilshalvy and Kilturra, I think mainly attributable to the non-attendance at the board, of Guardians of those divisions, to whom by the rules of the board the care of that district was intrusted. Relief has not been given to the extent which the circumstances of those very poor divisions require, and consequently they have lost ground and will now require a large increase. The population appears to have run down rapidly.

Very little employment has been given in these divisions, at the same time extraordinary exertions are being made in these and other divisions in the Boyle Union to put down the potato crop; a large quantity has been already sown, and preparations are being made for at least an average crop; seed is very plentiful and cheap, being in abundance at from 3s. 6d. to 3s. 10d. per cwt. in the Ballyhadereen market. Scarcely any white crops sown as yet.

No employment under the Land Improvement Act has yet been undertaken, or rather commenced, except in the electoral division of Kilfree, where it has been suspended in consequence of the terms on which it was given, and under which the employed found they could not get on.

The first condition of employment was having paid the last May rent; the second, that the employed should leave one-half his wages in liquidation of the November rent, receiving the other half in meal. This was not found to answer, and the work is suspended.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I was unable sooner to forward this report, consistent with the care and circumspection which were necessary in an investigation which has excited deep interest in the Union; the examination of witnesses taking up two whole days.

ENCLOSURES.

EVIDENCE taken on oath at an investigation held at Gorteen, in the Boyle Union, on the 11th and 12th days of April, 1848, into the cause or causes of the death of the persons named in the letter of the Rev. Mr. Henery, P.P., to his Excellency, the Lord Lieutenant, dated April 5, instant.

CASE I.

Mrs. Kilkenny and child, who died after several applications for relief.

John Kilkenny, being duly sworn.—Knew the deceased; was brother-in-law to her; remembers her death, it was on or about the 20th March last; believes she had no bodily disease, and stated that she left her death on the relieving officer; was confined the morning of her death, or the day before; was anointed on Sunday, and died on Tuesday following; witness applied to the relieving officer the day his sister-in-law was anointed for relief for her; was told by that officer that he was so controlled by the chairman of the board of Guardians, Mr. Phibbs, that he could not give her any relief. Stated at the time that if the woman was not relieved at once, she would die. Deceased told witness when last he saw her, that she was sick and weak from hunger; deceased had no medical attendant or midwife at her confinement, nobody in the house with her but her children.

Mr. Stanley, poor law guardian up to the 25th ultimo, duly sworn.—Knew deceased; applied on her behalf at the board on the 17th March last, when attending at Boyle; represented the case as extremely urgent and requiring prompt attention; the chairman refused on the grounds that she had previously left the workhouse at her own request; does not think the deceased laboured under any organic disease; was greatly exhausted from want of food; stated that if not promptly relieved the woman would certainly die, as she was unable to come into the workhouse; the chairman stated that he could not help it. Many other cases ruled by me, in my division, were overruled by the chairman; of these the greater proportion were widows and orphans.

Witness's attention directed by Mr. Holmes to the cases in the relieving officer's book as ruled by him, witness, and overruled by chairman.

Bryan Davey, an infirm man, unable to work.

Thomas Taaft.—Witness cannot speak as to this man; at the time he ruled in favour of out-door relief for Taaft, did not perceive that relieving officer reported him as able-bodied.

N.B.—Taaft was placed by relieving officer under the head of able-bodied.

John M'Kew.—Sick these five years to his knowledge.

Bernard Cunningham, porter of the Boyle workhouse, duly sworn.—Remembers Anne Kilkenny, deceased; entered the workhouse on the 22nd of February, and left of her own accord on the 26th of same month.

James M'Manamy, relieving officer of Kilshalvy and Kilturra electoral divisions, Boyle Union, duly sworn.—Recollects Anne Kilkenny, deceased; received her application on Mr. Stanley's recommendation on the 14th of February last; gave her a ticket for the workhouse, as there was no out-door relief at the time. Deceased appeared at this period in good health, but her child appeared to suffer from want; deceased went to the workhouse on the 22nd, and left in a few days after. Another application was made on behalf of deceased on the 17th of March by Mr. Stanley and somebody else, who witness forgets; but does not recollect the first witness, Kilkenny, making any application except for himself; represented the case again on the 17th of March to the board, but was refused on the grounds that she had left the house on her own accord; was ordered to offer her the workhouse again; did not do so, but intended to do so the earliest opportunity. Deceased died on or about the 20th.

Examined in reference to Bryan Davey's case, reported as able-bodied, on the 19th of January, in the relieving officer's book. Reported, Bryan Davey, "able-bodied, and destitute from want of employment."

Applied on the 25th of February, on a report made the 19th of January; cannot say I made any explanation to the Guardians in reference to the change that had taken place in him during the interval between the 19th of January and the 25th of February; saw him repeatedly during that time.

My orders are to supply means of conveyance to such persons as are unable to travel to the workhouse, from illness or other cause; have always, when possible, done so; in some instances I was unable to procure carts.

Philip O'Beirne, duly sworn.—Knew deceased; in January she was in a low state from want of food; in February worse; and in March still worse; died about the 20th of March.

Case of Honora Kilkenny, aged eight years, stated to have died of starvation.

John Kilkenny, duly sworn.—Knew Honora Kilkenny; she was eight years of age; had no complaint but want of food; died in the same house with her mother, four days after; is positive she died from starvation; witness was an applicant for relief; received a ticket of admission, and attended on the 31st of March, and was sent home, as the house was full; would not go into the house if he was starving.

Mr. Stanley.—Knew Honora Kilkenny; is positive she died of want; thinks the five other children of Anne Kilkenny will also die on the allowance given them at present by the Guardians, viz., twelve pounds of meal per week.

Philip O'Beirn.—Knew Honora Kilkenny; thinks she died of starvation; the children were in a bad state in January, scarcely able to walk. Five of them are now living on twelve pounds per week, Indian meal, given them by order of the Guardians; their ages are four, ten, eleven, twelve, fourteen; knows four children who get but eight pounds per week.

Case of Mary Connelly, deceased.

.NB.—Name erroneously given by Mr. Henery, in his letter to the Lord Lieutenant.

Philip M'Gowen, duly sworn.—Never knew deceased; knows her father; does not know any thing of her circumstances previous to her death, nor of her death; knows nothing of the matter.

Biddy M'Keon.—Knew the deceased; her name was Winny, not Mary, as stated; supposed her to be a sound girl till the hardship came on the country; was some time in the workhouse; three or four days after she left the workhouse she died; was all swelled, and in a very bad state when she came home from the workhouse; her aunt refused to let her into the house as she heard she had the sickness (fever) in the workhouse; lay by a clump of turf, and was found there dead; the neighbours said she had fever; saw deceased after her return from the workhouse; she lay by a clump of turf; sent her meal, but she was unable to use it; Mr. Taylor, the nailer, that sent her the meal.

Bernard Cunningham, porter of the Boyle workhouse, sworn.—Recollects the family of deceased—it consisted of father, mother, and four children; entered the house on the 3rd of March, and left it on the 6th of same month; the family were all at the time in a delicate state; witness remonstrated with them on the imprudence of leaving the house under the circumstances; there was room in the house at the time.

Case of Philip M'Gowen's wife and child.

Philip M'Gowen, duly sworn.—Was husband to Winny M'Gowen, deceased; deceased died on the 1st of March last; was sick for six weeks previous to her death with bowel complaint; lived on turnip tops and the roots of small turnips, which were not worth taking out of the ground; witness was unable to work, or earn any thing for his family since May last, in consequence of sickness; witness applied to relieving officer four weeks previous to his wife's death; was refused relief unless he brought a certificate signed by three rate-payers; witness found some difficulty in procuring the signatures required; was unable to do so till the 1st of March, on which day his wife died; witness then went to the relieving officer, who told him he could do nothing for him then—but directed him to follow him to the meal depot and he would see what he could do for him; witness went at once to the depot, but was told by the relieving officer that nothing could be done for him; relieving officer did not offer him the workhouse on this occasion; witness afterwards received an admission ticket from relieving officer, and went to the workhouse on the 31st of March; was not admitted on that day, and was told by the relieving officer to return home, that the house was full; got nine pounds of meal on the Monday following (April 3rd), for self and five children; lost five children previous to his wife's death; one three days before (his daughter), who he, witness, positively swears died of starvation; would not go into the workhouse if he was dying.

Boyle Union.

John M. Manamy, relieving officer.—Philip M'Gowen applied on the 5th of February for the first time; was offered the workhouse, which he refused; applied again on the 8th of March, stating that his wife had died of fever, and that his children were then lying ill with same complaint; sent applicant to the depot, as stated by him in evidence; proceeded to the house of applicant, and found three of the children, who did not appear in fever; was told the others were out begging; witness offered a ticket to the workhouse, by the directions of the Guardians, to whom witness stated the foregoing circumstances; gave applicant nine pounds of meal as provisional relief till room in the house could be obtained.

Case of Bryan Flanagan, deceased.

John Andrews, duly sworn.—Knew Bryan Flanagan; he was a neighbour; was an idiot, but strong in constitution; heard of his death, which took place in Tubbercurry, not within the Boyle Union; deceased was a native of the Union, but was a wanderer; Peter Flanagan applied for relief to the relieving officer on the 1st of February, on behalf of his brother; cannot say that the idiot ever applied in person; relieving officer offered him the workhouse; believes there was no out-door relief in the Union at the time.

Relieving Officer.—Bryan Flanagan was not in the Union when his brother Peter applied on his behalf; deceased never made a personal application; witness inquired after deceased, but could not discover where he was.

Case of the Widow Davey's daughter.

Widow Davey, duly sworn.—Remembers the death of her daughter, Mary Davey; she died about Christmas; she was twenty-three years of age; had no complaint but hunger; witness applied for relief to the relieving officer; applied so often cannot recollect how often; held half an acre of land, which she gave up on or about Christmas last; got relief last night for the first time.

John Andrews, sworn.—Knew deceased; the family were in extremely destitute circumstances; on my oath, I believe deceased died of starvation; I have not paid my rates.

John M. Manamy, relieving officer.—Received the Widow Davey's application on the 3rd of February; offered her the workhouse; she held three roods of land; from her extreme destitution overlooked this obstacle; she would not go to the workhouse; she applied again ten days ago, and on producing evidence of having given up the land, witness gave her relief, five pounds of meal.

Case of Andy Davey, deceased.

Nanny Davey.—Was wife to deceased; her husband died on the 22nd of March; was a healthy man till the bad times; had no complaint but want till shortly before his death; thinks her husband applied for relief to relieving officer about a fortnight before his death; was ill herself at the time from hunger; gets at present fourteen pounds of meal in the week, for self and five children; positive her husband died of starvation; the children will soon die.

John M. Manamy, relieving officer.—The first application made by the deceased's family was on the 21st of February; cannot say I visited on said application, but to the best of my belief I did; found on inquiry deceased had two heifers; did not see the heifers, but was told so; when deceased's case was brought before the Guardians this remark was in my report for their guidance; was directed to offer the workhouse; am certain he had the heifers, as one was sold to bury him.

Case of James Gallagher, deceased.

John M. Manamy, relieving officer, stated to the Guardians that James Gallagher could not find his family, who were begging about for themselves, and that he feared the man would be lost if not relieved. Note appended by the Guardians:—"Cannot be admitted without his family." Died, as stated, on his way home, on the road-side.

Case of John May and son, deceased.

Margaret Kilcony, duly sworn.—Was wife to John May, deceased; deceased died on the 7th of March last; had dysentery for five weeks before his death; witness laboured under the same complaint for the same period and at the same time; is sure it was caused by want of food; their only support during this time was what her child was able to procure by begging; she lost a daughter, not a son, as stated; she was eight years old, and had no complaint but hunger; had four children, aged thirteen, ten, eight, four; applied, by the eldest girl, about a week or fortnight before her husband's death; was unable to go herself, but sent five times to the relieving officer, who did not visit her house till the 3rd of March; never received any relief; was promised it here last night; our little girl was told by the relieving officer that he could not give her any thing, but wrote down something in his book; never received any assistance from her father-in-law, who lived at the end of her house, and had meal stored there; he was a kind man, but the other sons would not allow him to give any thing.

Honora M'Gowen, duly sworn.—Recollects the death of John May; heard he had a sketch of fever, but not a taking one; means not any fever, but the effects of hunger; he was in the workhouse, and only returned a few days, when he took to his bed, and the neighbours shunned him for fear of the disorder; had nothing to support him but the produce of the children's begging; witness went with the little girl to the relieving officer, when she applied for relief; relieving officer told her he had none for her; this was on Thursday, and deceased died on Sunday following; relieving officer gave Widow Beirn, of Kiltarra, meal on the day he refused the little girl; John May's father died a week after the son, and the daughter three days after her father; the neighbours said it was of fever they died; the father of John May was in good circumstances; bore a good character; was kind and humane.

The Rev. Mr. Henery, duly sworn.—Believes the deceased, John May, died of starvation; that starvation may not have been the immediate cause of his death; that he had been long delicate and confined, by reason of want of food; is of opinion that he had not fever; was angry with him for leaving the workhouse; witness gave him some assistance, but for which he believes he would have died long before he did; this assistance was not sufficient for the support of his family.

Mark M'Donagh, duly sworn.—Visited the house of John May, deceased, in company with the relieving officer; deceased complained of a bad cold, and had a very bad colour; cannot say the exact time, but thinks it was in February; heard deceased died of fever; heard that the father also died of fever; heard that the father was not kind to the son, in giving him any assistance.

John M'Manamy, relieving officer.—The deceased applied for relief to witness on the 7th of January; at that time witness reported him "able-bodied, but destitute for want of employment;" did not see his family, who were out begging; witness offered deceased the workhouse; did not know deceased and family had been there before; the daughter of deceased may have made subsequent applications, but he, witness, cannot recollect any such; cannot recollect receiving a note from the Rev. Mr. Henery on the subject, but might have done so; witness is in the habit of visiting any parties whom he believes to be in distress, without an application; has orders to that effect from the Guardians; does not recollect any application being made to him on behalf of deceased on or about the 2nd of March last; cannot say of what deceased died, or of what his daughter died; never heard that the grandfather did not assist his son; attributes blame to the Guardians in placing restrictions on him in the administration of relief; never made any remonstrance to them on the subject; never represented the probable consequences of this restriction, except indirectly; can instance the case of the Widow Lang, on the 27th of March, at which time represented her destitute and in fever; ruled to get five pounds of meal per week, which is not sufficient to keep her and five children alive; Paddy M'Kew represented as a fit object for out-door relief, and unable to go to the workhouse, was overruled by the chairman of the Board of Guardians.

Mr. Stanley, poor law guardian, up to the 25th ultimo.—Visited the board at Boyle on the 17th of March last; proceeded to rule the books of his electoral division, Kilshalvy, but was told by the chairman and Mr. Holmes that he was setting a very bad example in putting so many persons' names on the list; there were present also Mr. Fry, Mr. Frazer, and himself; declared he would not attend again while business was so carried on.

Question by Mr. Holmes, guardian.—Have not paid the last poor rate; am not now a guardian; never heard that a defaulter was ineligible; was a candidate, but has not as yet heard from the clerk on the subject of the election; at the meeting of the 17th, witness disapproved of raising the salary of three of the officers, on the same day that relief was refused to many parties.

Case of Pat Marren, deceased.

James Grumem, duly sworn.—Knew deceased; knew him many years; he was a cripple and a wandering beggar, but a native of the Union; died on the 27th of March last; to the best of witness's belief deceased died of starvation; never knew him to apply for relief.

John M'Manamy, relieving officer.—Deceased applied on the 27th of January for relief, through his son, who applied at the same time on his own account; offered him the workhouse, which he refused; the father was not to be found at the time; met the father afterwards and offered him a ticket, as also the means of bringing him to Boyle, as he could not walk; deceased made no subsequent application; on the 25th of February witness applied to the Guardians for out-door relief for the deceased, stating at the time the circumstances of his case; application refused, and directed to offer him the workhouse; cannot say that it was in consequence of this refusal that deceased died, but believes he died of starvation.

Boyle Union.

Case of the Widow Carbery, deceased.

Honora M'Gowen, duly sworn.—Was acquainted with the Widow Carbery for ten years previous to her death, which occurred about a fortnight ago; deceased was about sixty years old, and had no support but what her daughter, who was a beggar, was able to give her; saw deceased a few days before her death; heard deceased say she was in a low state for want of food, and would not live long; she had no food but what her daughter could bring her, and the daughter was often unable to reach home at night, when the deceased had nothing; was with the daughter when she applied to the relieving officer for relief for herself and mother; was told that her name was not in his book, but that he would call; relieving officer never did call; deceased never received any relief; relieving officer promised to visit four other families in the same townland, but never did from that day to this; never visited the locality since January last.

John M'Manamy, relieving officer.—Never heard of this case till now; never received an application on behalf of deceased; do not recollect being asked to visit the locality referred to (Rathbane); have gone through the townland, but did not visit the houses.

Case of John O'Hara, deceased.

No witnesses.

Case of John Healy's two children.

John Milmoë, duly sworn.—Knows Healy, his name is James; he deserted his wife in the hardship with her two children, two years and a-half and four years old; both children died, one about a week ago, the other about a fortnight; Mrs. Healy had nothing but a few turnips which grew on her own land to support herself and children; had an acre of land which she surrendered to her landlord, Mr. M'Donnell, of Doo Castle, on the 23rd of March; witness has not the slightest doubt but that both the children died of starvation; the mother would have died also if not relieved by the Rev. Mr. Henery; the mother is unable to come here or leave her bed; some of the neighbours say she has fever: was a healthy woman till within the last six or seven weeks; heard her say she applied to the relieving officer about eight weeks ago; was unable to do so since from sickness; did not send any other person; never received any relief up to the present time.

Joseph M'Donnell, of Doo Castle, Esq., J.P., duly sworn.—Knows James Healy; he deserted his wife several times; held land from him—about an acre; his wife surrendered it about a month or three weeks since; made application to the relieving officer by letter on her behalf; saw relieving officer in an hour afterwards in his office; cannot say if the woman received relief as yet.

John M'Manamy, relieving officer.—Knows Bridget Healy; her husband has deserted her; received but one application from her—viz., on the 21st of February; might have received Mr. M'Donnell's application, but cannot say positively; offered her the workhouse on the 21st of February; was not aware that she held land; does not think he visited her house; never gave her relief.

EDMUND WYNNE, Temporary Poor Law Inspector.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK to the GUARDIANS:—April 20, 1848.

THE Commissioners have received Captain Wynne's report of the inquiry which he was instructed to make into certain alleged cases of death from starvation, specified in a letter addressed by the Rev. J. Henery to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

The Commissioners derive from that report, and from the evidence accompanying it, a strong impression that in certain districts of the Boyle Union many persons in an extreme and urgent state of destitution have not been efficiently relieved by the Board of Guardians and their officers; and that in some cases death has been accelerated, if not occasioned altogether, by the absence of due relief.

The Commissioners transmit herewith a copy of the evidence taken in the inquiry, and they proceed to point out those parts of it which peculiarly affect the conduct of the Board of Guardians themselves, and of their relieving officer, John M'Manamy.

The evidence given in the case of Anne Kilkenny, and her daughter, Honora Kilkenny, aged eight years, shows that the mother and her six children came into the Boyle workhouse on the 22nd February, and left it on the 26th of the same month. On the 17th March the relieving officer states that he again brought her case before the board, but that relief was refused on the ground that she had left the house of her own accord, and that he was ordered to offer her the house again; that he did not do so, but intended to do so the earliest opportunity, and that she died on or about the 20th of March.

It appears further that this poor woman was confined in her own cabin the morning of her death or the day before; that she received no relief or medical assistance whatever, and that nobody was with her in the house but her children.

A few days after her death it appears that her daughter, Honora Kilkenny, died in the same house, without any bodily disease or complaint, and from no other cause than want of food. After this event it appears that the Board of Guardians relieved the remaining five children with twelve pounds of meal weekly, and that the children were receiving this and no other relief at the time of the inquiry by Captain Wynne, and that these poor children were at that time likely to die in consequence of more efficient relief not having been afforded them—their respective ages being four, ten, eleven, twelve, and fourteen.

In the case of Philip M'Gowen and his family, it appears on the evidence that he first applied to the relieving officer for relief on the 5th February, and, as Philip M'Gowen states, was refused relief until he brought a certificate signed by three ratepayers. The relieving officer says that he offered him admission to the workhouse, which he refused. On the 1st March his wife died—one child having died three days previously, as Philip M'Gowen himself swore, of starvation. On the 8th March he again applied for relief, and the relieving officer brought the application before the Guardians, who directed him again to offer the workhouse; and an admission ticket was furnished to Philip M'Gowen accordingly, with which he went to the workhouse on the 31st March, and was told by the relieving officer to return home, as the workhouse was full. On the 3rd April following, this applicant received nine pounds of meal for himself and five children; and the relieving officer describes this as provisional relief until room in the workhouse could be obtained.

In the case of Mary Davey, the daughter of Widow Davey, it appears that she died about Christmas, at the age of twenty-three years, and as her mother states, without any complaint but hunger. The mother appears to have been disqualified from receiving relief, as an occupier of half an acre or three roods of land, until Christmas last, when she says she gave it up. She says she made many applications to the relieving officer for relief, and the relieving officer states that he offered her the workhouse; he adds that ten days ago she applied again, and on producing evidence of having given up the land he gave her five pounds of meal, which, so far as the Commissioners are informed, is all the relief Widow Davey received up to the time of the inquiry. Of this poor person Captain Wynne reports, "the mother is more than half dead, and can scarcely recover with the greatest care."

In the case of Andy Davey (deceased), although it appears that he possessed two heifers at the time of his death, his widow swears that he died of starvation, and that she was herself ill at the time from hunger. That part of this case which deserves special attention is, that the widow and five children now receive only fourteen pounds of meal per week, and she swears that in her belief her children will soon die.

In the case of James Gallagher (deceased), it appears that the relieving officer stated to the Guardians that James Gallagher could not find his family, who were begging about for themselves, and that he feared the man would be lost if not relieved. A note appears to have been placed in the relieving officer's book, by the Guardians, to the effect, "cannot be admitted without his family;" and the man having thus been refused all relief, died on the way home by the road-side.

In the case of John May and his child (both deceased), it appears that he died on the 7th March last, having had dysentery for five weeks previously, and that one of four children, a girl, aged eight years, died within a few days of the same time.

The Widow May states that she applied, by her eldest girl, to the relieving officer about a week or fortnight before her husband's death, and sent five times, but that he did not visit the house until the 3rd March. The relieving officer states that he recollects none of these applications; and in the course of his evidence on this case attributes blame to the Guardians in placing restrictions on him in the administration of relief; he then instances the case of the Widow Lang, on the 27th March, at which time he represented her destitute and in fever, when it was decided that he should give her five pounds of meal per week, which he states was not sufficient to keep her and her five children alive. In explanation of this case, Mr. Holmes, a Guardian, who was present at the inquiry, explained that the order as entered on the relieving officer's book was a mistake, and that the five pounds of meal was intended as provisional relief until such time as the parties could come into the house. This widow's case being relievable out of the workhouse, and the workhouse being full, as the Commissioners infer, at the date of the order of the Guardians, they are of opinion that proper provision should have been made for relief out of the workhouse in this case, and the explanation therefore of Widow Lang's case, given by Mr. Holmes to Captain Wynne, does not appear to the Commissioners to be satisfactory.

Boyle Union.

In the case of Widow Carbery (deceased), there appears to be no reason to doubt the evidence given by Honora M'Gowen, that application was made to the relieving officer by the daughter of Widow Carbery previously to her death, for relief for her mother and herself. The relieving officer states that he recollects no such application, and admits that he never visited any of the houses in the townland in which the Widow Carbery lived.

In the case of John Healy's two children (both deceased), it appears that the father deserted them and their mother, and that both the children died within about a fortnight before the inquiry; and the evidence gives every reason to fear that they died from want. John Healy, it appears, held land to the extent of about an acre, from Mr. M'Donnell, of Doo Castle, which the wife surrendered on the 23rd March; and Mr. M'Donnell swears that he made application to the relieving officer by letter on her behalf, and saw him an hour afterwards in his office. The poor woman appears to have been unable to apply for relief herself from sickness.

The relieving officer admits he had an application from her on the 21st February, and that he then offered the workhouse; and that he might have received Mr. M'Donnell's application, but cannot say positively; he was not aware, he states, that she held land; yet he does not think that he ever visited her house, and he states that he never gave her any relief.

The Guardians will perceive that in going through the evidence on these several cases, the Commissioners have dwelt on those parts alone which are unfavourable to the conduct of the Guardians and their relieving officer. Their object in so doing is to apprise the Guardians clearly of the strong necessity which exists for immediate explanation of their conduct as a board in reference to several of these deplorable cases; and also to give the relieving officer due warning of those parts of the evidence which chiefly impugn his character as a paid officer, subject to removal by the Commissioners.

On the receipt of such observations as the Board of Guardians may deem it proper to make on their own behalf, and of any explanation which the relieving officer may desire to submit on his own part, the Commissioners will be in a position to acquit themselves of the responsibility which rests upon them in regard to the future administration of relief to the destitute poor in Boyle Union.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of BOARD of GUARDIANS:—April 27, 1848.

THE board greatly regret and deeply deplore the melancholy occurrences detailed in Captain Wynne's report, and trust there may never be a recurrence of them; but before the Commissioners form an opinion of the conduct of the Guardians, the board earnestly request that they will take into consideration that these painful occurrences took place at the moment when the herculean labour of commencing the out-door relief came upon them, and at the period when the usual assizes business called away many of the board; also from the acknowledged fact that M'Manamy, the relieving officer, had not had sufficient time to visit in person all the applicants; and when all the relieving officers were inexperienced, and most of them new to their districts, it was a difficult matter, seeing how necessary it is to guard against imposition, to select out of a whole population seeking for relief, such classes as were entitled to receive it, under the Commissioners' order.

The electoral divisions of Kilshalvy and Kilturra sent but few inmates to the workhouse. Mr. Stanley, the guardian of the former division, rarely attended; in fact only four times during the last three years; the guardian for Kilturra has also absented himself, and the only ex-officio guardian resident in the district never appeared at the board, consequently the information which the board possessed did not warrant them in giving indiscriminate out-door relief. Caution was absolutely necessary in the first working of the system; and the board distinently affirm that no complaints were made to them of an insufficiency of food; and the relieving officers, whenever questioned, admitted that the persons relieved were satisfied; however, since the last visit of the Inspector, the allowance has been increased to seven pounds to adults, and three pounds to children.

Though extreme and urgent destitution existed in several parts of the Union, yet there has always been great reluctance to the workhouse test; several applicants for relief have refused to accept admission since the out-door relief commenced; and the board should not be charged with want of humanity, or censured for deaths occurring outside the workhouse, where many individuals have voluntarily taken their discharge, with nothing but starvation before them; if paupers thus leaving, are immediately entitled to relief, the workhouse test so much relied on, ceases to avail, and the whole property of the Union would be inadequate to defray the cost that an indiscriminate system of relief would call for.

The board, after an honest and diligent discharge of their duties for years past, feel assured that the Commissioners will not pass any censure upon them; but if blame is to fall on any one, let it be attached to those individual Guardians who, by their non-attendance, have deprived the board of the necessary information concerning their districts, which would have enabled the board to lessen the calamities that they now so much lament.

The board, feeling that they have diligently and impartially fulfilled their arduous duties, and several members thereof having sacrificed their time at great personal loss, in order to give the working of the law a fair trial, now request, if the Commissioners are dissatisfied with the manner in which their duties have been discharged, to be forthwith relieved, and another board appointed, more humane, more efficient, and more painstaking than the present are.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION :—May 4, 1848.

THE Commissioners have to acknowledge the resolution of the Guardians of Boyle Union, of the 27th April last, passed in reply to the letter of the Commissioners of the 20th April.

The Commissioners feel assured of the sincerity of those expressions of regret in which the Guardians have alluded to the melancholy occurrences detailed in Captain Wynne's report; and they have observed with satisfaction some steps which have since been taken by the board, for the purpose of more effectually relieving the severe destitution which has been shown to prevail in some districts of the Boyle Union, and which has heretofore been met by most inadequate measures of relief. The Commissioners do not doubt also that some individual members of the board have been active and attentive in the discharge of their duties as Guardians; but they are compelled by the evidence before them to conclude, that the Guardians, as a collective body, have made great default in this respect, and that by reason thereof, the duties of the Board of Guardians have not been effectually performed, according to the intention of the acts in force for the relief of the destitute poor in Ireland.

The chief grounds on which this opinion rests are detailed in the letter of the Commissioners of the 20th April, in which they pointed out to the Guardians those portions of the evidence forwarded by Captain Wynne, which raised the most unfavourable impression of their conduct as a board; but the Commissioners cannot avoid adverting to the remarkable fact, that although on the minutes of the 22nd April, directions are recorded to summon the Guardians specially for the following Thursday, to take into consideration a matter reflecting too strongly on their character as a board, only seven Guardians of a body consisting of thirty-three appear by the minutes to have assembled on that day.

The Commissioners are much surprised by this apparent indifference on the part of the great majority of the Guardians to the vindication of their character as a public body; and they feel bound at the same time to state, that the explanation of the conduct of the board, placed on the minutes by the gentlemen assembled at that meeting, are not in their opinion satisfactory.

An Order dissolving the Board of Guardians of Boyle Union is enclosed herewith; and the appointment of paid officers, to act in execution of their duties, will take place in due course.

Loughrea Union.

LOUGHREA UNION.

Sir THOMAS BURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 15, 1848.

I BEG to forward to you my answer to the letter of the Commissioners for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland, hoping that the whole of the evidence taken before Mr. Lloyd, at Loughrea, together with the Commissioners' letter, and my answer, may be printed in the next Blue Book.

Sir THOMAS BURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 15, 1848.

I BEG to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 5th of June, the contents of which do not surprise me. The late Board of Guardians, of which I had the honour to be chairman, did not expect from the Commissioners that they would acknowledge themselves or their officers to have acted wrong; nor should I now make any observations on the contents of your communication, only for the extraordinary and unwarrantable conclusions arrived at by the Commissioners, contrary both to the evidence and the facts: I cannot refrain from alluding to one or two of them. In the first place, the allegations the late board made were not intended to be so much charges against the paid Guardians, as to show that much of what was complained of in their conduct, and for which we had been so unjustly dismissed, was tolerated in our successors.

The Commissioners deny that the charge as to the numbers in the house, under the paid Guardians, has been proved. Now their own officer, Mr. Lloyd, publicly admitted that he was satisfied this had been fully proved by the evidence of O'Brien, the numbers signed regularly by the paid Guardians, and the number of rations issued by them; and stated it was unnecessary to give further proof of that fact.

The Commissioners make no mention of the fact of paupers having been sent to sleep on straw by the paid Guardians, though that was one of the reasons given for the late board's dismissal, and was proved to have frequently happened; nor do they take any notice of the fact, that none of the provision checks or other important accounts had been made up for several weeks previous to the inquiry, or that paupers had been drunk in the house, and had been absent at night, although all these facts were proved.

As to the abuses in the distribution of out-door relief, the Commissioners' assertions are quite incorrect, as no effectual inquiry could have taken place, the printed lists not having been furnished in time, notwithstanding the late board constantly demanded them; but still in the partial examination that did take place many more than the number stated were struck off, and it was notorious that pending the inquiry large numbers were taken off the lists in every electoral division.

With regard to Mr. Lloyd's report, or those portions of the evidence he may have taken down, I know nothing, nor did the late board ever expect either justice or redress from the Commissioners of these officers.

As to the last paragraph in your communication, the late board will be always glad that the really destitute should be relieved, but judging from the recent expenditure they have little hope that the interests of the ratepayers will receive much consideration from the Poor Law Commissioners.

The COMMISSIONERS to Sir THOMAS BURKE:—June 24, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant.

The Commissioners regret that their decision on the charges brought by you against the Vice-Guardians of Loughrea Union is not satisfactory; but they are bound to add, that they see nothing in your letter to lead them to doubt that their decision was correct. It seems evident to the Commissioners that the charges were founded in a great measure on untrustworthy information derived from a tainted source; and they think that you have unintentionally rendered a service to the Vice-Guardians, by causing the Commissioners to institute a minute investigation into their conduct, which has been the means of placing on record clear proofs of their assiduity and efficiency.

The request contained in your letter concerning the publication of the documents therein referred to, will be complied with as a matter of course.*

Loughrea Union.

* See the Sixth Series of Correspondence which had been presented to Parliament at the date of the receipt of Sir Thomas Burke's letter.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS on Sir THOMAS BURKE's letter:—
June 28, 1848.

With respect to the first charge to which Sir Thomas Burke refers, that of a greater number of persons being accommodated in the workhouse by us, than the late board were dismissed for (supposing that to be the cause), we beg distinctly to deny that such is the fact. It is true that O'Brien, the dismissed master, swore that on several occasions after we took charge, it appeared from the books that a greater number slept in the house than ever had been suffered under the old board; but he also admitted on his cross-examination, that he could not say the Vice-Guardians were cognizant of his allowing these excessive numbers to occupy the house; and he further admitted, that by permitting any excess over 900, he knew he was violating an order of the Poor Law Commissioners. It is also true, that Mr. Patrick Skerret swore deliberately, that he had ascertained from the books of the workhouse the gross numbers in the several houses; that he had then deducted the numbers sleeping in the two auxiliary houses from the gross numbers on the books, and found the remainder to have slept in the workhouse. But this gentleman on his cross-examination, when called upon to state from what books he had ascertained the numbers which were accommodated in the auxiliary houses at night, could give no satisfactory reply; and admitted that he had derived his information from O'Brien, the then master, although on his direct examination he stated, that he had procured it himself from books, which at that period were not in existence.

Sir Thomas Burke seems to place much weight on the assertion of Mr. Lloyd, that he had admitted he was satisfied with the evidence of O'Brien on the point of the numbers allowed to occupy the workhouse being greater under us, than during the time of the late board; that as those numbers had been regularly signed by us, and rations issued for them, it was unnecessary to give further evidence on that point; and it is quite true that the first evening of the inquiry, whilst the first witness (O'Brien) was under his direct examination, and before Mr. Lloyd was at all aware of the means of accommodation at our disposal, and which was afforded by the two auxiliary houses situate in the town, and seeing the numbers returned on the minutes, and sworn to by O'Brien as sleeping in the original workhouse, nearly to correspond with the numbers on the provision check; he did inadvertently say, "that he did not see how we could get over that part of the charge, for that the numbers appeared on the minutes and on the provision check, and should have been in the house." But this observation was made the first evening of the inquiry, when the case had been but just opened, before Mr. Lloyd had been made acquainted with the facts, before any rebutting case had been even attempted. But it will hardly be asserted, that Mr. Lloyd repeated such an opinion, that the impression was not clearly and satisfactorily removed from off his mind as well as off the mind of every unprejudiced person in the room, long before the inquiry terminated.

The numbers appearing on the minutes and signed by us each week, or the numbers written up in the provision check account, is no proof or evidence in support of the charge which Sir Thomas Burke labours to establish. The provision check contains only the gross number for which rations are daily issued, or the collective number for the week. And Sir Thomas Burke does not seem correctly to comprehend the true state of the case as regards this point. It is evident he has been imposed upon by untrustworthy persons, and led to suppose that all those appearing on this provision check must have been accommodated in the workhouse; and forgets that the two auxiliary houses taken by the late board were represented by them as capable of accommodating 1,200 persons, which, with the 900 that is allowed by the Commissioners' order to be taken into the workhouse, gives accommodation for 2,100, whilst the numbers appearing on the minutes and provision check, never, at that period, much exceeded 1,600, and embraced the entire number in the whole establishment for which rations were issued, without particularizing the house or houses in which the paupers were located at night; and at that period there was no book or record kept by which it could be ascertained what complement of persons occupied the brewery and Bride-street houses, the aggregate only being kept; and in the evidence taken before Mr. Lloyd, not even the witness, O'Brien, ventured to swear to the numbers which went each night to these places.

Loughrea Union.

We also take the liberty of calling the Commissioners' particular attention to the fact, that a very considerable number of paupers, amounting to upwards of 158, appeared upon the workhouse books—more than the numbers actually in the house, and for which rations were charged on the provision checks; and that where O'Brien cautiously confined himself to swear that these numbers appeared on the books, and that "if the books were correct" the numbers he stated were in the house, and as it is an incontrovertible fact that the books were not correct, Sir Thomas Burke should fairly make a reduction of the 158 paupers which we have ascertained were on the books, though not in the house, from any gross number which he had been led to suppose had slept there on any one occasion.

Referring to the charge of paupers being sent to sleep on straw, we submit that, in his better judgment, Sir Thomas Burke would not expect us to be accountable for such a flagrant breach of order and discipline on the part of the workhouse officers, as was proved to have taken place in this respect. It was satisfactorily shown that we had procured a sufficient supply of beds and bedding; and if the officers (who had been appointed by the late board, and who in this respect seem to have supposed they were acting in their interest,) had treacherously taken the straw out of the sacking and strewn it about the room—as the evidence of Mrs. Murphy, the matron, proved had been done—the blame and ignominy of such an act should not be visited on us, but should recoil on those who could lend themselves to countenance, or avail themselves of the subsequent advantage of so unwarrantable and disingenuous a proceeding.

As to the provision check and other important accounts not being made up for several weeks previous to the inquiry, the answer is plain, that in consequence of the irregularities and obstinate opposition given to us and to our officers by the medical officer of the workhouse, in refusing to furnish proper accounts, or to keep the books of his department in such a manner as that any information could be gleaned from them, the provision check could not have been written up at that time, unless it had been done on false returns. The appointment of this officer, and the responsibility of his acts, does not rest on us; and his want of system and peculiar disposition was admitted on more than one occasion during the inquiry by Sir Thomas Burke himself. The other books which were in arrear were so left by Mr. O'Brien, the master, appointed by the late board, not by any officer of our appointment. The relief lists of several of the electoral divisions were six, eight, and ten weeks in arrear; most of what had been written in was incorrect, and all the lists were incomplete; so that we have had to employ other officers to bring up what should have been left clear by the officers of the late board. We have been unremitting in our exertions to rectify the mistakes and irregularities of the ignorant and inefficient staff appointed and confided in by our predecessors. And we have further to state that our provision check is regularly kept, and written up to Saturday the 24th instant.

Sir Thomas Burke must surely mistake the evidence as to paupers being drunk in the house and absent at night—no evidence of the latter being adduced; and the only cases in which it came under our observation that paupers were drunk about the concerns (not in the house) we had promptly punished by the civil power; and no recurrence of such conduct has taken place to our knowledge since. But even suppose Sir Thomas Burke's information to be correct, and that an isolated case of irregularity and breach of workhouse discipline did occur, or even if numerous such cases were notoriously on record, it would not be a matter of surprise; as it would have been impossible for us to have subdued at once, the turbulence and total disorganization which a long continuance of mismanagement and want of system had rendered almost inherent to the nature of the wretched inmates; or that we could, by any human exertions, have reduced to order or subordination, during the short period that we were in charge previous to the inquiry, the indescribable chaos of filth and confusion into which the establishment had lapsed under the management of our predecessors; but which state, we are proud to assert, no longer exists.

We approach the subject of our administration of out-door relief with even more confidence than any of the preceding matter to which we have referred, because we feel persuaded that if the really destitute poor are to be permitted to derive any support at all from the rates, there is not a Union in Ireland so free from abuse as the Union of Loughrea; and it is much to be regretted that a gentleman of Sir Thomas Burke's high character and elevated position in the country should have been so much imposed upon, as to have been led to advance charges which are not tenable—the conclusions which he has arrived at, and on which he grounds his attack, being manifestly unfounded. For instance, when we come to contrast the numbers receiving relief under our administration of the law in this Union, with the numbers relieved last year under the Temporary Relief Act by the local board and local committees sitting in each electoral division, and find that the maximum number as yet relieved by us, on last Saturday, amounted to 7,541 souls; whilst the numbers relieved by the local committees under the Temporary Relief Act last year, at one period, exceeded 30,000 per diem, we can arrive at no other conclusion than, that either we are miserably deficient in the amount of relief which we ought to dispense effectually to meet the destitution, or otherwise, that the local committees of last year are clearly liable to the charge which Sir Thomas Burke has made against us, and “that they must have been wholly ignorant of the parties to whom they gave relief, and that the most flagrant abuses were the consequence:” they must have been either incompetent to discharge such an arduous and important trust, or otherwise they must have acted a highly culpable and dishonest part, by recklessly squandering the relief funds, provided not out of their own pockets, or from their own resources, but obtained from the generous contributions of the British people, and the liberality of the Imperial Parliament.

One thing is certain, that distress to an alarming extent prevails amongst the labouring classes, and has prevailed for some time; and although last year relief to an enormous extent was dispensed out of the treasury funds, yet this year, where the relief had to be procured from another source, namely the rates of the Union, so much liberality was not displayed. Up to the week previous to our taking charge no out-door relief had been administered in the Union, though several deaths from starvation had occurred; and although the house was day after day besieged by hundreds of famine-stricken creatures craving relief, yet no relief was afforded, although it appeared the house was crowded much beyond its number, and although it was boasted that the late board had the funds of the Union in such a prosperous condition.

As to the printed lists not having been furnished the members of the late board, to enable them to go on with their objections, we should suppose that where gentlemen preferred a specific charge as to the existence of abuses in the administration of relief, that they must have been provided with sufficient testimony to warrant them in the first instance in preferring the charge, and subsequently to sustain that charge. But the admission now made by Sir Thomas Burke, clearly shows that the complaint was made against us without any foundation, and that it was sought to derive from amongst our own papers some ground to sustain the complaint. But even in respect to the non-production of the printed lists, the allegations of Sir Thomas are not borne out. Early in the month of March we gave positive directions to have those lists immediately prepared; provided funds for their preparation and publication; frequently endeavoured to expedite the work by urging the clerk to increased exertion, and are in no respect answerable for the delay; yet the very day the inquiry commenced the lists for one of the electoral divisions came out; the day following the list for Ballinakill, Sir Thomas Burke's own division, appeared; and we undertook to have the lists for the entire Union ready before the other charges were disposed of, or before the names on one of the lists already issued could be investigated; and we beg very respectfully to state, that the lists were all published before Mr. Lloyd left this town, that they had been forwarded by post to the members of the late board; had been posted extensively through the Union; and that we were no party to the proposal, often repeated, to withdraw further inquiry; that we offered no opposition to the most searching scrutiny; we applied for no adjournment, and were prepared to go into, and defend every case in which we had ordered relief

Loughrea Union. in the several divisions; and we regret that the promoters of the inquiry did not give us an opportunity of doing so, by having withdrawn from further prosecuting their charges.

The conclusion arrived at by Sir Thomas Burke, that during the inquiry large numbers were taken off the lists in every electoral division, is also erroneous; for no such wholesale revision took place, nor were any persons taken off these lists by us, during that period, or for a very considerable time after, and then only a few, some of whom had been only ordered relief for a limited period in consequence of sickness. It is true that one of the relieving officers (who had been appointed by the late board) did, at the instigation of the driver or under-agent of an extensive landed proprietor, and without any reference to us, remove some widows and destitute persons from off the list for the division of Portumna. But he immediately saw he had done wrong, and represented the cases to us, adding that he feared some of them would perish, and we consequently replaced those cases on the lists again; and the only other division in which we are aware of any names having been struck off by the relieving officer, is in the case of Mr. Hardy, a most efficient officer of our own appointment, who had but just at that period commenced his duty, and had corrected the list of his predecessor, (who had been appointed by the late board, and had been called upon by us to resign in consequence of his inefficiency,) by removing some double entries, and a few cases of mendicants from other Unions, that had got on the lists of his division.

In conclusion, the Commissioners may rest satisfied, that whilst, on the one hand, the interests of the ratepayers and landed proprietors shall ever be considered by us with anxious care, and managed with a due regard to economy, we shall not, on the other hand, be deterred from a faithful discharge of our duty, as well to the Commissioners as answerable for the due administration of the poor law, as to the claims of the destitute poor, by the ungenerous attacks which have been so unremittingly made upon us by those who were certainly not fortunate enough to manage their own affairs advantageously.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 29, 1848.

HAVING now been for upwards of five months in discharge of the duties of Vice-Guardians of this Union, we take the liberty, with great respect, to submit the following report of our proceedings for the information of the Commissioners; and we trust we may flatter ourselves that as far as we have already gone, we have been fortunate enough to merit the approbation of the Commissioners.

The hitherto-neglected state of the workhouse grounds cannot fail to have attracted the notice of the Poor Law Inspectors, and to have been brought through them under the notice of the Commissioners. We have, since we came here, directed much of our attention to these improvements: the plot in front of the workhouse we have had neatly laid out, and planted with shrubs procured at a very trifling expense; and it now presents a pleasing and improved aspect to what we found it in; whilst the land at either side of the house we have had systematically trenched by spade labour, well manured, and laid down under potatoes, which are as luxuriant and flourishing as any we have ever seen.

We mentioned in a former report, that, under the management of our predecessors, two large manure heaps had been suffered to accumulate at the very entrance gates of either yards, and that the unfinished cesspools at each side the building had been permitted to become choked—the manure obstructing the regular discharge from the sewers, and disseminating a deadly effluvia throughout the entire concerns; whilst the noxious vapours arising from the manure heaps, rendered it highly dangerous to approach the building, or indeed in many cases to pass the high road leading to the town. To remedy these evils we have had the cesspools cleansed and sunk to a proper depth, and will then have them vaulted in. We have constructed two proper dung pots at the entrance re-re of the building, formed of lime and stone, by which the manure will be kept compact; and with a judicious application of clay over each layer of manure the noxious gases will be subdued, and consequently the atmosphere will not be impregnated with unhealthy exhalations.

The ventilation of the house has frequently called for remarks from the Inspectors; and we found it in a very defective state, and immediately applied ourselves to endeavour to improve it, and we trust we have succeeded. We have had apertures opened in range throughout the entire building, by which a current of fresh air is conveyed into every apartment. We have had the doors of the several dormitories perforated, the centre sashes made to slide, six zinc panes put in every window, and ventilators placed in the rere of the roof of the garrets; by which means we have, at a trifling expense, accomplished the perfect ventilation of the workhouse, which, with having been thoroughly whitewashed, and the cleansing of the floors properly attended to, now exhibits something of the appearance which a public establishment ought to have.

The industrial training of the female paupers has not failed to engage our most serious attention. We found on taking charge of the house crowds of idle women—in fact, all idle, for there was no work done by paupers: we have now upwards of one hundred every day employed at sewing, and nearly the same number busy in spinning and carding wool; nearly fifty knitting. We have a large quantity of yarn ready, and will commence with two looms to weave our own clothing next week.

The female school, at first and so long neglected, now presents a cheerful and busy scene, well furnished, and properly supplied with school requisites. During the hours of elementary instruction the various classes, numbering above 130, are to be found in circles, busily engaged; whilst after the hours set apart for such instruction, several classes are employed at working on samplers and making bonnets for the use of the school, and have made a considerable proficiency under the care of the schoolmistress, whom we consider a very efficient and useful officer.

On the important question of out-door relief, we trust our general principles and course of action have met with the approval of the Commissioners; and that, notwithstanding the charges and unsustained assertions of interested parties to the contrary, they will not consider that we have been acting with a wanton indifference to the rights of property, and have been distributing relief to an enormous extent to persons not really destitute or entitled to partake of the provisions which the law allows.

The population of our Union is estimated at 71,774; its area, 152,308 statute acres. The locality, such as we need not particularly refer to, being well known for its poverty, and (a great portion for its sterility) with little private employment, and an inconsiderable amount of public work in drainage—with a superabundant pauper population without food or any resources; the necessity for relief on an extensive scale can hardly be denied. We have however proceeded cautiously, though perfectly regardless of clamour on the one hand or the other; and have visited the rural districts; have made occasional observations on the state of the country and the condition of the people; have forced our relieving officers to a diligent discharge of their visiting duty; and have always kept a sufficiency of accommodation in the auxiliary workhouse to apply the test to the able-bodied; and have relieved such cases out as we considered came legitimately under the provisions of the law.

On Saturday, the 24th instant, the number of persons on our relief lists for the entire Union was 7,541; the total expenditure in money and kind for their support amounted to £208 1s. 2d., a sum which we trust will not be considered extravagant, being at the rate of 6½d. per head per week, and shows a considerable reduction on our previous report; but having discontinued the issue of money except in extreme cases, and having made a very favourable contract for meal, and giving relief where practicable in a cooked state, we are enabled to present this moderate scale. We have at the same time to state, that the people appear quite satisfied with their allowance; and we trust we shall have no real deaths from starvation proved to have taken place under our management. Though from the miserable and exhausted condition of the people, the prevalence of disease, and the continuance of misfortunes, it is not improbable that the lives of some human beings may be terminated under the appearance of want and destitution; but we shall not withhold the means of provisionally relieving distress from our officers, or spare ourselves either trouble or inconvenience in ministering to the wants of the poor.

We have at the same time to observe, that a considerable pressure is now being made upon us for relief, more than at any period since we were invested with the management of the affairs of the Union. The auxiliary houses taken by the old board, and represented as capable of containing 1,200 persons, are now much more crowded than with propriety they should be. They never were capable of accommodating with safety more than 800; and a lavish waste of money, in fitting up and rent, has been contracted for them by our predecessors. We shall have to procure additional accommodation immediately, and await a report from Mr. Wilkinson, on a proposal we submitted for constructing a shed in the work-house yard, which will meet the present pressure at a trifling cost.

Loughrea Union.

In conclusion, we shall briefly allude to the collection of the rates, which we are happy to say has proceeded under our direction in a peculiarly satisfactory manner. There has been collected, and lodged to the credit of the Union since we took charge, no less a sum than £8,447; and although some trifling opposition was on some few occasions manifested, by temperance and firmness we subdued that feeling, and have succeeded so far as we have gone in collecting this large amount without having recourse to the aid of military or police. One district in the Union, which was always considered lawless and dangerous to approach, and where the greater portion of the previous rate had been left uncollected and returned in arrear, has been, by kindness but unflinching firmness, brought to a sense of duty; we effected service of civil bills where a bailiff would not previously have liked to venture, and many of the parties paid both their arrear and rate without further trouble; and of the total arrear remaining on the Union on the 24th instant, we hope to be able to collect a considerable sum during the next month, without any extraordinary proceedings; and the entire will be got in by harvest.

REPLY to the foregoing:—July 7, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 29th ultimo, relating to the Loughrea Union; and I am to express the Commissioners' satisfaction at the statements contained in your report.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 7, 1848.

WE have the honour to submit to the consideration of the Commissioners the following report of the state of the Union under our charge for the month of July, and trust that, on the whole, the statements we are enabled to lay before the Commissioners may be deemed satisfactory.

The collection of the rate during the past month has proceeded but slowly, and little money has been got in; nevertheless, we are not disposed to consider it as discouraging. There has not been any disposition on the part of the people to resist payment, and the want of present means alone has been the cause of our not having the entire collection of the present rate closed by the end of the month.

The sums collected each week for the month of July are—

Week ending 8th July,	.	.	.	£100	5	1
Week ending 15th July,	.	.	.	91	19	2½
Week ending 22nd July,	.	.	.	13	9	4
Week ending 29th July,	.	.	.	35	11	5

Making a total collected within the month of £241 5s. 0½d., and leaving a balance in arrear of the rate struck on the 1st January of £1757 1s. 11¾d.; of this arrear we hope to have collected by the end of harvest at least £1,700, as from every information we have been able to collect, we do not calculate that more than £57 will be irrecoverable.

There are a few immediate lessors now resident, from whom the collectors have not been able to obtain either the rate or any satisfactory reply; we have selected a list of these, which we shall have the honour of submitting to the Commissioners for their approval, previous to instituting proceedings in the superior courts for the recovery of their several liabilities.

The very imperfect state of the old valuation books has rendered it difficult, in many instances, to ascertain accurately the parties legally responsible under the head of "immediate lessors;" but, from the unremitting assiduity of the newly-appointed revising valuator, and the ready assistance given by the several collectors, we are confident all existing errors will be expunged, and that there will be no room left for cavil at a future period.

We think that perhaps a larger amount of money might have been got in during the month, if we had suffered the furniture and bedding of the poorer classes to be seized to satisfy the rate; but in all cases in which we ascertained that there was a prospect of having the rate met by other means, we have preferred to give a little time, than to deprive the people of such articles of household necessities; and only in a few extreme cases have we resorted to the seizure of furniture and beds, and for which there was a difficulty in procuring purchasers.

The amount of liabilities discharged within the month amounted to £1,294 7s. 2d.: this includes the payment in full of an old building contract entered into by the late board with Mr. Samuel O'Brien, and on foot of which a balance of £129 7s. 4d. remained due. The balance remaining in hands of the treasurer at the close of the month has been reduced to £243 18s. 1d. But we hope to be able, under the sanction of the Commissioners, to make such satisfactory arrangements with the treasurer for an advance of £500 on the credit of the existing rate, as will enable us to meet the most pressing demands; and as the contractors will hold over their accounts for the present, we shall get through to the end of harvest without any serious pecuniary pressure, when we anticipate no difficulty in collecting the arrear, and in having it in our power to make a favourable report of the financial affairs of the Union.

The expenses of the out-door relief during the month have been gradually on the increase; the necessity for this will be admitted from the fact, of the month of July being (even in the most plentiful years) the period in which the greatest amount of destitution prevails in this Union—employment is at this season always difficult to be procured, and food most scarce. But when we consider the superabundant population, with its frightful amount of pauperism, we trust the Commissioners will not have occasion to condemn our acts, or to declare us lavish of the Union funds; and we feel persuaded that the leading members of the late board, and ratepayers generally, must admit that we have acted with as much economy, and consulted their best interests, as much as a due regard for the lives of the starving peasantry would permit.

The numbers relieved out during each week of the month of July are as follow:—

Week ending 8th July,	8,279	at a cost of	£218	16	5
Week ending 15th July,	8,557	at a cost of	228	4	4
Week ending 22nd July,	8,608	at a cost of	232	4	10
Week ending 29th July,	8,685	at a cost of	231	14	7

Making an aggregate number relieved during the month of 34,129, at a cost for food of £911 0s. 2d.

The number relieved in-doors during the month have been exceedingly fluctuating, and appear to be for—

Week ending 8th July,	1,948
Week ending 15th July,	1,854
Week ending 22nd July,	1,760
Week ending 29th July,	1,603

Giving a collective number relieved within the workhouses of 7,165 during the month, at a cost for provisions of £522 17s.; and the average cost of a pauper (including wine and spirits and all necessities required for the fever hospital and workhouse infirmary) is 1s. 5d.

It may be urged, that we did not make a corresponding reduction in the out-door lists as the workhouse accommodation became available, and viewing it in the abstract, we may be considered liable to the charge. But, as we before observed, the discharges from the workhouse have been so fluctuating, and it repeatedly occurring that those who, contrary to our remonstrances, have demanded and obtained their discharge in the morning, have been forced back at night to crave re-admission; and knowing the impossibility of their obtaining employment, the uncertainty of their movements, and the absolute necessity of reserving a sufficiency of room for their reception should a sudden pressure be made—a circumstance neither unusual nor unlikely—we hope it will not be imputed to inattention to the importance of the matter; but that we did not consider it would have been advisable, on the first indication of a desire to quit the house, to have filled up the places of those leaving with others from the out-door lists, without knowing how soon they might have to be discharged again, to make room for those destitute classes who could not legally be relieved out of the workhouse. However, as these discharges have continued, and as there is now workhouse accommodation for nearly 300 persons, we have given orders to reduce the out-door lists to the amount of 10 per cent. during the week, and we purpose to follow up that reduction in each succeeding week during the month of August.

Loughrea Union.

The sanitary condition of the workhouse and its inmates furnishes a pleasing matter for observation; and our exertions to place the hospital department in a satisfactory state, to provide the necessaries for the poor patients treated there, and to endeavour to stem the torrent of disease and mortality which was for such a lengthened period making such fearful havoc amongst the paupers, have been successful. Our newly-appointed medical officer has not failed to answer our fullest expectations: cleanliness, system, and perfect regularity now preside throughout every department of the hospital; and the mortality is each week becoming less.

The diseases latterly most prevalent amongst the poor here are dysentery and measles—dysentery of a very bad character, and measles extremely severe. Most of the deaths last week, eighteen in number, were caused by these two prevailing maladies; but the epidemic is becoming milder, and we trust not likely to spread.

The convalescents when discharged from off the medical officer's books, regain their strength steadily, not being discharged until their health is quite restored; they do not, as was formerly almost invariably the case, return in a few days, attacked with their former ailments in a more deadly and concentrated form.

The temporary fever hospital is conducted to our entire satisfaction; the expenditure moderate, and the number of cases under treatment reduced to fifty-three. The number of deaths since the first opening of the establishment, exceedingly moderate, and the epidemic in the town and northern districts of the Union not on the increase; but in Ballinakill and Derrybrien districts much disease is felt. The distance is too far for removal of patients to the temporary hospital; and we have accordingly deemed it advisable to appoint a medical attendant for this district, under the fifth section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, subject to the Commissioners' approval.

The extreme filth of the dwellings of the poor in the lanes and passages of this town and of the many villages throughout the Union is most disgraceful, and calls loudly for improvement. The establishment of a board of health, or of any committee who would see the cabins cleansed and ventilated, the stagnant pools of water and putrid heaps of matter removed from the entrance doors and confined yards, and to point out the ordinary precautions for preserving health, would be a matter of much importance; and we would gladly render any assistance in our power to aid in so desirable and necessary a work. We have lately erected a limekiln on the workhouse ground, where we burn all the lime required for the establishment; and we would willingly supply lime for whitewashing the cabins of the poor free of cost, if any encouragement was given to the work by the more respectable residents of the town.

The industrial occupation of the female paupers and boys at trades has been progressing satisfactorily. The apprentices to both tailors and shoemakers have improved beyond our expectations—each week sending in a fair return of work from their respective shops, finished in a very creditable manner. The female paupers have produced a considerable quantity of fine woollen and linen yarn, which is daily being woven in the house; and we expect by the approach of winter to have such a stock of linen, flannel, and linsey-woolsey, shoes, stockings, &c., on hands, as not alone to be amply sufficient to supply the probable wants of the Union, but to enable us to contract with some neighbouring Unions, who may not have been equally provident, for a supply of several articles of clothing at cost price, should the Commissioners sanction our doing so.

We regret to observe that the prospects of the coming harvest have within the last few days become rather lowering, and much apprehension appears to be entertained respecting the potato crop. We are daily in the habit of visiting some distant part of our Union, and of making our own observations as we go along; and up to this week we flattered ourselves, that we should have had it in our power to make a favourable report of the harvest prospects generally. But we are bound to state that our opinions are somewhat changed, and that appearances are not so cheering as we had anticipated. The corn crops were all most luxuriant, and as fine as we have witnessed them on any year in our respective counties; but the continued rains and high wind, it is feared, have materially injured the wheat. The bere is a fine crop, very generally sown in small patches, and is fast coming to maturity; and the oats is extensively sown, and promises to be an abundant crop; and we doubt not that, if a bounteous Providence is pleased to send a few weeks of sunshine, many of the gloomy anticipations now indulged in will be dispelled, and the labours of the husbandman crowned with an abundant harvest; and as by that time we shall have forced all the able and destitute poor relieved within the Union on their own resources, we trust the farmers will have no difficulty in procuring a sufficiency of hands to save their crops at reasonable terms.

The appearance of the potato blight in this Union is beyond a doubt; and we have seen fields in which not only the leaves and stems, but the tubers also, were severely damaged. The disease however is not as yet general, as many districts have as yet escaped. A very large quantity of land has been planted with this esculent; and we cannot conceal the fact, that should the blight become general the most serious consequences will be the result; as the turnip crop has been almost neglected, and, as well from bad culture as from the ravages of the fly, is in most places a failure. The experience of the last few years and the undeniable value of the plant, does not seem to have aroused the farmers and cottiers in this part of the country, to the necessity of devoting more of their attention to the cultivation of so valuable a vegetable.

We fear we have trespassed too long upon the Commissioners' attention by the length of this report, for which we beg to be excused.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS in reply:—August 9, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your report of the 7th instant, relating to the management of the affairs of Loughrea Union; and I am to express the satisfaction of the Commissioners at the course adopted by you in the administration of out-door relief in the Union.

The Commissioners are convinced that you use all due exertions to prevent parties who are not destitute from receiving relief from the poor rates; and considering all the circumstances of the Union, as proved by unexceptionable witnesses at the investigation conducted by Mr. Lloyd in April last, the Commissioners think that the number of 8,685 persons on the relief lists cannot be deemed excessive. The Commissioners observe that last year there were at one time as many as 33,758 persons receiving relief in Loughrea Union, and that 6,966 persons were on the relief lists when the supply of rations ceased.

The Commissioners trust that you will be able to make an arrangement with your treasurer for an advance of £500, to be repaid from the new rate, and in that case they will make application for permission to guarantee payment of the interest on that sum for a limited period.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—August 18, 1848.

REFERRING to your report of the 7th inst., relating to Loughrea Union, I am directed by the Commissioners to state, that the proposed appointment of a medical officer for the Ballinakill and Derrybrien districts, under the fifth section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, is still under consideration.

I am at the same time to request your attention to the enclosed forms of orders, by which it will be observed that medical relief, under the Act 10 Vict., cap. 31, sec. 5, can only be afforded to destitute persons to whom out-door relief can be given. The Commissioners are desirous of being informed whether there is a dispensary in the electoral division of Ballinakill.

Loughrea Union.

With regard to the state of filth of the town and villages throughout the Union the Relief Committees appointed in 1847, under the Act 10 Vict., cap. 7, were empowered and enjoined to have the towns and the abodes of the poorer classes cleansed, as now recommended; but at present there is not authority to constitute local boards for the purpose, except when it may be necessary to revive the operation of the Sanitary Act of 1819.

Where out-door relief is given, there would be no objection to your directing the employment of some of the recipients in cleansing or repairing the streets and passages of towns in the divisions to which the relief of such persons may be charged.

The able-bodied widows, especially, receiving out-door relief, might be employed for some of the purposes to which you have adverted.

BALLINASLOE UNION.

Ballinasloe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. FLANAGAN :—May 17, 1848.

It is stated that on Wednesday the 10th instant, there were several hundred persons waiting outside the workhouse from all parts of the Union, and that the sufferings of the poor are thus increased, with fatal effect in some cases, by their having to attend at the workhouse without having their cases investigated and relief ordered.

It is also stated that the master of the workhouse has admitted that it has not been his practice to superintend the weighing of supplies sent into the workhouse.

To Mr. Flanagan, who is requested to consider whether an arrangement can be made by the Guardians for meeting on several days of the week, to receive applications from divisions wholly within six miles, appointing days solely for the applicants of certain divisions to be named.

Mr. FLANAGAN to the COMMISSIONERS :—May 22, 1848.

THE Guardians have appointed Committees under the 6th section of the Act, for all districts within the Union which come within the provision of that section.

I was present on Wednesday the 10th, and I can state that every single case was duly and properly investigated; i. e., every case which had been noticed upon the relieving officers' books.

So far as I can judge I do not see the necessity for appointing several days of meeting. The only applicants who are required to attend, are those from the divisions which are within six miles of Ballinasloe.

The master denies altogether the statement as to his not weighing the supplies.

Very little reliance is to be placed upon statements made to clergymen; they are liable to be, and are, imposed upon by everybody.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, R.C. Bishop of Clonfert :—May 24, 1848.

THE Commissioners beg to state, in reference to the number of persons observed waiting outside the workhouse of Ballinasloe Union, on Wednesday the 10th instant, that on inquiry of Mr. S. Wolfe Flanagan, Poor Law Inspector, who attended the meeting of the Board of Guardians on that day, it appears that all the persons then in attendance, and on the relieving officers' books, were brought before the board; and that for the electoral divisions which are in every part more than six miles from the workhouse, there are Committees to examine the cases, so that the applicants there, who may be ordered out-door relief, have not to attend at the workhouse.

The Commissioners beg further to state, that Mr. Flanagan reports, in reference to the information communicated to your lordship, with respect to the master of the workhouse, that this officer does not appear to have neglected superintending the weighing of supplies sent into the workhouse.

The Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, R.C. Bishop of Clonfert, to the COMMISSIONERS :—May 28, 1848.

THE abuses in the administration of the poor law in the Union of Ballinasloe, to which I lately called your attention, still continue. I mentioned to you on the 18th instant, that certainly not less than a thousand applicants for relief were, on Wednesday the 10th, collected about the workhouse; that many of them came from very distant divisions; and that all bore the aspect which long-endured hunger does not fail to give. Several were lying on the open green, shrieking for food. It is to be apprehended, too, that disease is thus effectively communicated through the mass of predisposed starvelings who are Ballinasloe Union. thus each week collected. It is manifest that the Guardians cannot at their session subject these applicants to a bona fide examination; and thus it appears that the exaction of their attendance can only be for the purpose of deterring the unfortunate paupers from pushing their claim to relief. I am informed, since I returned to the country, that during the last week the poor were several nights outside the workhouse, and that in several instances they were refused admission, although provided with tickets from relieving officers. The answer to their demands for admission frequently was, that the officer whose duty it was to receive them was otherwise engaged. The famished creatures had no other alternative but to beg the materials of fire, and sit beside it during the night. One instance has occurred of actual death from starvation in this electoral division of Ballymacward, under such circumstances as I refer to. A parent and his child went to Ballinasloe, provided with a relieving officer's ticket; was unable to procure admission; after some days' fruitless waiting returned home, and had to witness the famine-death of his exhausted child. I refer to this particular case, not as if it were the only death from starvation in the electoral division—no, I could count of my own knowledge several—but because it is connected with the mismanagement of the workhouse. At home, those who are called able-bodied labourers, but who are in reality the decrepit, infirm memorials of inhumanity, under the name of law, are told to go to a workhouse: if they go during the days the board is not sitting, they are left to die, or live as best they may outside its gates; if they go on board-day, they have such a chance of examination and admission as the presence of some thousand competitors will allow them; if they succeed late in the evening in procuring admission, it is notorious that they are huddled together—no provision being previously made, or probably the state of the house permitting no provision for their reception—a mass of poverty, filth, and disease; if they be not frightened out of the house by this first experience of it, they are perhaps invested in the clothes of some pauper who lately died of dysentery or fever, and in the course of a few days swell the number of the hospital inmates—a number which, as I learn, averages nearly one-fourth of all the inmates of the workhouse.

Nor is the out-door relief administered with any greater regard for the poor. The Ballinasloe Guardians do not hesitate to contravene the instructions of the Commissioners—instructions perfectly consonant with the letter and spirit of the law, and founded on the best motives. In pursuance of these instructions and of the law, it is fit that widows, with two or more legitimate children under fifteen years of age, should get out-door relief. Here, in the Ballinasloe Union, that has been refused, in order to enable landlords to get possession of the houses of such applicants. I am aware, personally, of one case, that of a Widow Scarry, of the electoral division of Kilconnell (Monaveen), who at my instance went to the bailiff of her landlord—he personally taking possession of holdings when surrendered—offered to him all the land beyond an English rood, or rather beyond what the poor law fixes as a maximum, and then sought relief, but was refused. I further directed her to make a solemn declaration to that effect before a magistrate; she did so, and the Guardians being unable to dispute her right to some sort of relief, would give her only the option of going into the workhouse. I know that woman's husband died some months ago of starvation, and that the alms of others only enabled her to bury his remains, or to sustain her family since. She is a woman of correct habits; she has a growing daughter, and she properly preferred risking life outside, rather than risk life and character in a workhouse, where the prostitute and the virtuous matron, the ill-conducted and the innocent girls are promiscuously associated. This, however, is not the only case in which the Ballinasloe Guardians have withheld out-door relief from persons to whom they might otherwise give it, in order to extort for the advantage of landlords a surrender of the houses which are now alone left to shelter the poor that lately cultivated the land. Again, by an arrangement which appears to have been adopted lest the board might be dissolved, the investigation of the claims of paupers to relief is referred to committees of Guardians connected with the relief district. That this arrangement does not obviate the disadvantages of a vast assemblage of paupers in Ballinasloe on board-days, is too well known. Its operation here during the last week was to exclude several of the poorest and most infirm from relief. The duty of this (supposed) committee was done by one gentleman. He was absent on his necessary business on the day the relieving officer expected him to initial his book; and thus they, whose month of appointed relief had expired, were on last Saturday obliged to go home and wait a week before they can get relief. I may observe, too, that this disappointment came with the greater severity, as the usual day of distributing rations was Thursday. The irregularity of the meal contractor is assigned as the apology for leaving the poor to starve from Thursday to Saturday; and the absence of a committee must be accepted by those whose month of relief had expired as a sufficient excuse for leaving them to live on nettles or dock-leaves until after next board-day. I have also to state that the quality of the meal is infamous. The relieving officer has, he tells me, already reported that it is unfit for human food. If I can procure a sample of it I shall forward it by post to your office.

Ballinasloe Union.

I profit of this occasion to remind you, sir, that you held out to me a hope, that Inspectors of Unions would be appointed for the Union of Ballinasloe and for that of Loughrea. As the obtainment of aid in the latter Union from the British Association for schools, is, I may say, promised as soon as an Inspector is appointed, I beg leave, through you, respectfully, to urge the propriety of an immediate appointment. I have very little confidence in any such measure for the cure of the evils of which the poor in the Ballinasloe Union have to complain; however, the presence of an Inspector at the meetings of the board might have a beneficial effect; and, if really efficient, he might prevent the negligence of officers and the iniquity of giving unsound meal at the relief depots.

I must remark that I do not write this letter with a view of calling for an investigation; before an investigation could be made and a report furnished—as witness the protracted affairs in Loughrea—the most dangerous part of our famine season would be entered on. If the Commissioners think my statements unimportant or dubious, I leave the responsibility on themselves of taking whatever steps, if any, they deem necessary.

P.S.—This letter was not in time for transmission by yesterday's post. The delay enables me to add that the evils of which I complain in the administration of the poor law, by the Ballinasloe board, are felt, not only in the neighbourhood in which I reside, and where I have personal cognizance of their existence in two electoral divisions, but that through the whole of Kilconnell division, and without, in which the town of Aughrim is situate, the same capricious and unjust withholding of relief has, in several instances, taken place. A clergyman of my diocese, who has the care of the parishes to which I refer, assures me that many old persons, whose infirmity and destitution procured for them a place on the out-door relief lists, were refused relief on the last day of distribution, forsooth because their month had expired.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—May 31, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to request the immediate attention of the Board of Guardians of Ballinasloe Union to the enclosed copy of a communication which the Commissioners have received from the Right Rev. Dr. Derry, Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert, relating to the administration of relief in Ballinasloe Union. I am at the same time to request that the Commissioners may be furnished with the observations of the Board of Guardians on the subject.

The Commissioners have directed their Inspector, Captain Labalmondiere, to proceed to Ballinasloe and report to the Commissioners on the administration of relief in Ballinasloe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain LABALMONDIERE:—May 31, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith a communication which they have received from the Right Rev. Dr. Derry, Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert, relating to the administration of relief in Ballinasloe Union.

The Commissioners request that you will be good enough to proceed to Ballinasloe Union as soon as possible, and furnish them with a report on the administration of relief in the Union as soon as you have made inquiry on the subject.

Ballinasloe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, Bishop of Clonfert:—
May 31, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 28th instant, relating to the administration of relief in Ballinasloe Union, and I am to acquaint you that the Commissioners do not feel that they would be justified in refraining from instituting an inquiry into the important statements contained in your lordship's letter, concerning the administration of the relief in the Ballinasloe Union.

The Commissioners have accordingly deemed it right to communicate a copy of your lordship's letter to the Board of Guardians of Ballinasloe Union; and have directed their Inspector, Captain Labalmondier, to institute an inquiry into the administration of relief in the Union.

REPLY to the foregoing :—June 5, 1848.

I HAVE to acknowledge the receipt on yesterday of your letter of the 31st ultimo, in reply to mine of the 28th of the same, in which you inform me that "the Commissioners do not feel they would be justified in refraining from instituting an inquiry into the important statements contained in my letter, concerning the administration of relief in the Ballinasloe Union;" and "that they have communicated a copy of my letter to the Board of Guardians of Ballinasloe Union, and have directed their Inspector to institute the inquiry."

I have been also favoured to-day with a letter from Captain Labalmondier, the Inspector named, in which he requests me to attend on next Wednesday, and on Thursday, if necessary, at Ballinasloe, with the necessary evidence to "support the charges contained in that communication of mine, of which he has received a copy."

I did not keep a copy of my letter to you, as I wrote for the purpose, not of demanding an investigation but of stating facts which either came under my own notice, or of which I was well assured—facts which, when so communicated by a person in my position, should, I thought, afford sufficient grounds to the Commissioners to appoint an Inspector to watch the administration of relief in the Ballinasloe Union, and guard against a continuance or recurrence of the abuses to which I called attention. I disclaimed the idea of seeking for such an investigation, as I knew in Loughrea considerably interfered with the relief of the poor during its tedious progress; and I have neither inclination nor time for such proceedings. Yet cognizant personally of many of the facts I stated, and fully relying on the testimony of those from whom I learned the others, I did not hesitate to bring them under the notice of the Commissioners. I am glad that they regard them as important.

Without my presence at all at the investigation, Captain Labalmondier can readily ascertain the principal facts on which I relied :—

1st. The delay of two days, from the 25th to the 27th ultimo, in the distribution of the relief meal to those whose destitution left them dependent on out-door relief. This fact can be proved by the relieving officer.

2nd. The bad quality of the meal. The relieving officer again can prove that. It was, in fact, afterwards admitted by the contractor to a Guardian, Mr. Joyce, that the meal was not good. The relieving officer had reported it as bad.

3rd. The exclusion, on the 27th, of several recipients of out-door relief in this division, on the ground that their month of authorized out-door relief had expired. This fact too the relieving officer can prove, as well as the sad apology for it, that those persons excluded (although known to be in continued distress) had not their claim revived after the expiration of a month. I may now add, that the gentleman who did the business of the supposed committee for this division on his return home did sanction anew their claim for a month, but that at Ballinasloe the sanction was reduced to a week, and that a special committee is said to be in contemplation to revive these affairs here to-morrow.

4th. That persons recommended by the relieving officer to the workhouse are not always admitted; that the child of one man, who with his family was so recommended from this division, died after a fruitless stay of some days in Ballinasloe, seeking admission.

The man's name is Cokely; he lives at Cregane, near Castleblakeney, in the electoral division of Ballymacward; and if the Inspector get the poor famished man brought in to Ballinasloe, or if he visit his hovel, he will find that this statement is sustained, and that the poor man is still unrelieved. Ballinasloe Union.

5th. That crowds assemble around the workhouse on all board-days, notwithstanding the supposed efficiency of local committees. The crowds I have seen myself, to the number I mentioned, on one day. The fact is notorious to every one in Ballinasloe. Captain Labalmondier can have no difficulty in verifying it by inquiring from any person.

The inferences from this fact of accumulated pauperism, sickness, &c., &c., collecting once a-week at Ballinasloe, are such as I suppose will suggest themselves to any one.

It is clear that in the present state of the workhouse there cannot be effective preparation made for the cleanly and orderly reception of any large number on one day within a week; and it is not unlikely the prevalence of disease to such an extent, as that three hundred or more of the inmates are regarded as patients, may be caused by the irregularity consequent upon these arrangements.

6th. That Mrs. Scarry was offered workhouse relief and refused out-door relief: the relieving officer, Mr. Cleary, can prove that she has been offered in-door relief. To establish her claim to relief she had to make a solemn declaration that she tendered to her landlord's bailiff possession of all land that could disqualify her. I also vouched, as of my own knowledge, that her husband (whose death might be justly ascribed to want of food) was buried in a coffin bought by the charity of his neighbours. Notwithstanding this documentary evidence, she would get no out-door relief, although other widows were allowed such relief. Hence it was manifest that the Guardians sought to apply to her the more stringent rule, in order to assist the landlord in forcing from her a surrender of her house and small cabbage-garden. All these facts are within the cognizance of the relieving officer and, I presume, of the clerk of the Union. The woman lives at Monaveen, in the electoral division of Kilconnell, and will attend if sent for by the Inspector. If she take my advice, at any risk she will not bring her growing daughter into such a nursery of vice as a workhouse, where she may witness and be familiar with such infamous occurrences as took place publicly in that of Ballinasloe last March.

7th. The Inspector should inquire whether and at what time your circular of the 23rd ultimo was communicated to the relieving officers of this Union. The officer of the Ballymacward relief district had not up to last Saturday received any instructions founded thereon, nor a copy of the letter.

I shall write to Captain Labalmondier, and explain to him the position in which I wish to stand in this case—not as a prosecutor of the Guardians, but as an informant of the Commissioners of facts which they can either accept on my testimony, or verify by their own inquiry.

Further Letter of the COMMISSIONERS to the Right Reverend Dr. DERRY, Roman Catholic Bishop of Clonfert:—June 7, 1848.

THE Commissioners beg to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 5th instant, specifying several complaints against the administration of relief by the Board of Guardians of Ballinasloe Union, which can be substantiated by the officers of the board or by the poor persons referred to; and stating, that it is your lordship's wish to be considered only as communicating to the Commissioners facts which they may either accept on such communication, or verify by their own inquiry.

The Commissioners, having already directed Captain Labalmondier to make inquiry, beg to state that they will forward the communication now received for his guidance.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain LABALMONDIER:—June 7, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to forward for your guidance, in reference to the inquiry which they have requested you to make in Ballinasloe Union, a letter from the Right Reverend Dr. Derry, stating that it is his wish to be con-

Ballinasloe Union, sidered only as communicating to the Commissioners facts which he specifies in this letter, and which they may either accept on his communication of them, or verify by their own inquiry.

The Commissioners therefore request that you will call on the Union officers and other persons named as cognizant of the facts to give evidence on oath before you.

Captain LABALMONDIERE to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 9, 1848.

IN accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 31st May, I wrote to Dr. Derry and to the clerk of the Ballinasloe Union, acquainting them that I proposed inquiring into the statements contained in his lordship's letter to you, upon Wednesday the 7th instant, and requesting them to have in attendance all the evidence in support of the charges made, as well as the officers and others who might throw light on the subjects adverted to, and requesting also the attendance of his lordship.

I did not receive your letter of the 7th instant, enclosing that of the Bishop of Clonfert of the 5th, until the 8th, and I had already, on the previous day, taken the course pointed out in that letter, viz., taking the depositions on oath of the persons who were cognizant of the facts of each case, as far as their attendance permitted.

I also made inquiries of the medical officer and others connected with the house, relative to the interior management of the workhouse.

I enclose copies of the depositions which I took, and now proceed to report, seriatim, on each of the statements contained in the bishop's letter.

There was a full meeting of the Guardians, and the Bishop of Clonfert was present but declined making his statement on oath. He repeated that he saw about 1,000 paupers waiting on the green outside the workhouse on the 10th of May, several of whom were shrieking for food. He said that the statement contained in his sentence, commencing "It is manifest," was an inference of his own founded on the presumption that those persons would not come without necessity to the workhouse, and that their cases could not all be adjudicated on by the Guardians, but not from personal knowledge, that cases which should have been, were not investigated by the board.

Mr. Flanagan has already reported, that all cases entered on the relieving officers' books on that day were duly gone into, and it does not appear that any neglect is attributable to the board in this instance. The numbers in attendance outside the house on the 7th instant, were very small; in fact, there are only six electoral divisions whose paupers' cases are disposed of at the house.

With regard to the statement, that paupers had been refused admission, though in possession of tickets from relieving officers, it was admitted that this was the case when the house was full. It was stated that it was the late master's custom to endorse the tickets with the words, "no room," and that the persons so rejected became entitled to out-door relief, as a matter of course. I could not ascertain that any distinct order to this effect had been issued by the Guardians, nor was there a minute to that effect in the books, and the master having been removed to New Ross, I could not examine him on the subject. The bishop declined pressing this statement in consequence of this absence of the late master; but there can be no doubt that applicants have in fact been refused for want of room, and that some specific order should be given to both the master and the relieving officers on this head.

The instance adduced by the bishop, of death by starvation, in consequence of such rejection, in the case of the child of Michael Colclough, is found to be entirely without foundation, by the sworn depositions of the mother. This woman was not in attendance on Wednesday, but I visited her in her cabin on the following day, on my way back to Tuam. Her husband was away from home. She at first stated she had given the names of three children to the relieving officer at the time of her first application to him, and that she would swear to that fact; but when I produced the Testament and required her to do so, she immediately altered her story; and the Commissioners will perceive by her depositions, that none but themselves are blamable for the misery of this family, which is, however, undeniably great.

The statement, that there was an insufficiency of clothing for paupers on their admission was clearly sustained, and the deficiency is so great that some of the inmates, particularly the children, remain without a change of linen for a fortnight, and even in some instances for three weeks. I also saw a number of children in their own clothes, and this must certainly be very prejudicial to the health of the establishment. Clothing, &c., is being made up in the house, but I would suggest that the Guardians be recommended to employ extra hands to complete the necessary supply with as little delay as possible. By the statement to me of the medical officer it was admitted that for the last month the clothes of paupers who had had dysentery or fever had not been purified by being boiled, as had formerly been the invariable rule, before being re-issued to the paupers, in consequence of the boiler being out of repair, and also that in some instances recovered paupers are allowed out of hospital in clothing which has not been purified, but not unless the doctor is convinced that the clothing is not liable to produce contagion. The disrepair of the boiler is hardly a sufficient excuse for the permitted continuance of the custom, which must be most injurious in its effects, of handing over to fresh comers clothing which had been used by infected persons without its being subjected to a process of purification.

As to the case of the Widow Scarry, the Guardians appear only to have exercised the discretion which they have as to the species of relief to be afforded, and are not fairly subject to the imputation of such motives as are attributed to them by the bishop.

The non-assembly of the local committee in Ballymacward was proved. The paupers already on the list do not appear to have suffered much; as a quantity of meal, within one cwt. of that issued in the previous week, was issued provisionally by the relieving officer. Still no new cases could be entertained, and these applicants therefore felt the consequences of the non-attendance of the members of the committee.

The bad quality of a part of the meal was also proved, and the delay of two days in its issue. If an order for meal in Galway be (as in this case) only issued on Wednesday, it is impossible that the meal can arrive in time for distribution on the following day, Thursday. The relieving officer appears to have done what he could by writing to the contractors on the previous Monday to send the meal. I understand measures have been taken to prevent the recurrence of similar delays. It was elicited on the examination of this relieving officer that his issue of meal was always four days in arrear. To cases passed at the board on Wednesday, he on the following day issues four days' meal, which is to and for the Saturday following; but he does not issue again till the next Thursday, so that the paupers are without food for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. I called the attention of the board to this circumstance, and I afterwards inquired of another relieving officer, who however had previously corrected the system by giving seven days' meal on his first day of issue.

The paupers in Kilconnell electoral division, whose case is mentioned in the postscript to the bishop's letter, do not appear actually to have been refused relief by the Guardians, but they do appear to have been without relief for one week, from the sanction for it having been suffered to lapse without renewal in proper time, on the renewal of the sealed order.

In conclusion, I would observe that the workhouse is cleanly and orderly, and the Board of Guardians appear disposed to exert themselves to do the duties which devolve on them. The pressure on them from so large an Union has been very great, and I believe they have not spared themselves in their endeavours to meet it. At the same time many of the statements in the Bishop of Clonfert's letter have been duly substantiated, and it is to be hoped that, the attention of the board having now been called to these points, they will take immediate steps to remedy the evils complained of, and prevent their recurrence.

ENCLOSURE.

Martin Roe, being duly sworn, states.—I belong to the townland of Clymore, in the electoral division of Ballinasloe, and I saw people by a fire outside the workhouse in Ballinasloe; I don't know the names of any of them; they remained for four days outside, and stated to me that they were seeking admission. One woman, who had three children with her, told me on Thursday week, the 25th May, that she came from Gurtmore, in the electoral division of Killaan; I don't know what became of her.

(Signed,) MARTIN ROE.

Sworn before me, on this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

Ballinasloe Union.

Ballinasloe Union.

Martin Forde, being duly sworn, states.—I am relieving officer for the electoral divisions of Eyrecourt and Clonfert, and was so for Kilquain. I remember the application of a woman named Ellen Fahy, and produce my book, by which it appears that she applied on the 1st of March, on which date I gave her relief in money and kind to the value of 11d.; on the same day that I gave her a part of the relief, I gave her a ticket to the workhouse; she brought it back to me, and asked for out-door relief; to the best of my recollection, she stated that she would not go into the workhouse, but would go back to Mr. O'Kelly.

(Signed,) MARTIN FORDE.

Sworn before me, this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

John Ryder, being duly sworn, states.—I am relieving officer for the electoral division of Ballymacward. A man of the name of Michael Cogavan, of Cregane, applied to me on the 7th April last for relief for himself, his wife, and two children; this application appears in my book; his case was decided on by the Guardians on the 12th, and a ticket was given to him on the 14th; I never saw him again until Saturday last, when he called to my recollection that I had myself brought him to the porter of the house; but of this I have no remembrance whatever; he told me on that day that one of his children was dead; but in my application and report book I find that I have again taken down his case on the 7th June, and he has given me the same number of children and the same ages as appear entered in the book on the 7th April; his name was called over yesterday for adjudication by the local committee, but he did not appear.

There was a delay of two days in the delivery of the meal, from the 25th to the 27th of May. I received the order from the Guardians on Wednesday the 24th, and sent it off by the post that day to Messrs. Rush and Palmer, the contractors, in Galway; the meal did not arrive till late on Friday, the 26th, and could not be issued till the 27th; this meal, which was issued on the 27th, was for the week ending the 27th; this meal was of an inferior quality; it was very bad; I told the people it was bad, and that I did not think it was fit for food, and that if they would wait till I could communicate with the Guardians, I had no doubt that they would immediately order it to be replaced by good meal; the people said that they would take what was there; I reported the same day to the Guardians that it was bad; there was about thirty-five cwt. bad; the meal since sent has been very good; the day for the meeting of the local committee at Ballymacward was the 23rd May, but they did not meet on that day; and the Board of Guardians did not; therefore, sanction the extension of relief to those persons whose month already sanctioned had expired on the 25th May; I gave provisional relief to all those cases which I considered urgent, but I had previously refused it in one or two instances, until applied to on the subject by the Bishop of Clonfert, on which I gave it to them; I had issued, the previous week, to Ballymacward electoral division, twenty-six cwt., and for that week I issued twenty-five cwt.; I gave provisional relief in meal (Indian) only; I have not yet received instructions relative to the Poor Law Commissioners' circular of the 23rd ultimo.

(Signed,) JOHN RYDER.

Sworn before me, this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

John Ryder, on his former oath, adds, that he had written on Monday, the 21st, to Messrs. Rush and Palmer to send the meal on receipt of the letter, but the meal did not come.

Thomas Gill, being duly sworn, states.—I am clerk to the Union of Ballinasloe. With regard to provision for paupers on admission, there is always plenty of food, but with regard to clothing, the supply is not equal to the demand; I think there is bedding sufficient.

(Signed,) THOMAS GILL,

Sworn before me, this 7th June, 1848.

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

Martin Croughwell, being duly sworn, states.—I am porter at the Ballinasloe workhouse; all the paupers, on admission, are put into the probationary ward, where they are provided with every material for washing and cleansing; they are made to clean themselves and put on the Union clothes, but if there are no Union clothes for them, they only wash their faces, and hands, and feet; as soon as clothes are provided, I superintend the clothing them in the Union dress, and their own clothes are taken from them and labelled; there may be instances of their retaining some of their own clothes in their possession on their persons.

(Signed,) MARTIN CROUGHWELL.

Sworn before me, this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

Ellen Owen, being duly sworn, states.—I am assistant-matron in the Ballinasloe workhouse; on the admission of female paupers to the house, they are stripped, and washed and cleaned before they are allowed into the body of the house, and clothed in the Union clothing as far as it will go; convalescent patients, on returning from the fever hospital to the body of the house always receive a clean suit of clothes; I believe a fortnight to be the longest time that any female pauper has remained in the house in her own clothes.

(Signed,) ELLEN OWEN.

Sworn before me, this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

James Cleary, being duly sworn, states.—I am relieving officer for the electoral division of Kilconnell; I am aware that eight cases in that district lost their relief for one week in consequence of their month, allowed by the Board of Guardians, having expired, and application not having been made until the ensuing week.

(Signed,) JAMES CLEARY.

Sworn before me, this 7th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

Sally Colclough (or Cogavan) being duly sworn, states.—I applied to Mr. Ryder, relieving officer, to place on the relief list my name, that of my husband, Michael Colclough, and those of my two children, Pat and Margaret, about five or six weeks ago; I think he gave me a ticket to the workhouse, and we all went in to Ballinasloe in the course of the following week; I gave the ticket to Croughwell (who is the porter at the workhouse), and said that I wanted to go out of the house the following morning to lock up the things in the cabin; he then gave me the ticket back, and told me to come back with my family the next; we all came back to the cabin, and have been living on the charity of the neighbours since; we did not return again to the workhouse, as I expected that when a month had elapsed from the time of our receiving the ticket, we should get the out-door meal; my child, Martin, who died, died two or three days previous to my applying the first time to the relieving officer; my husband went again to Mr. Ryder on last Friday, and got our names put down again.

(Signed,) ^{her} SALLY + COLCLOUGH.
_{mark.}

Witness, JAMES O'DOWD.

Sworn before me, this 8th day of June, 1848,

(Signed,) D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

True Copies. D. LABALMONDIERE, Poor Law Inspector.

Tuam, June 9, 1848.

The Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, R.C. Bishop of Clonfert, to the COMMISSIONERS:—
June 11, 1848.

I SEND herewith a copy of a letter which, on yesterday, I wrote and forwarded to Tuam, to Captain Labalmondiere. I trouble you with this copy, lest the original did not reach Captain Labalmondiere before he had prepared and forwarded his report on the subject-matter of his inquiry at Ballinasloe.

In this letter to Captain Labalmondiere I state, that even on last Wednesday night there was not suitable bed accommodation for those that day admitted. I have this fact from the officers of the house, that although there may have been bed-sacks made, there was not time to fill them. I do not at all blame the officers of the house, for I think the present master is one every way disposed to discharge his duty efficiently; but the admissions were so numerous, and the session of the board so prolonged, that due preparation could not be made. I understand eighty were that day received. It is plain so many could not stop in the probationaries—and I should add, my fear is, that they could not be cleansed. I believe the inspecting officer himself is satisfied that there is not a supply of linen clothes, at least.

In reference to the case of the Widow Scarry, my complaint is—not that the Guardians acted illegally in offering her in-door instead of out-door relief—but that, whilst giving out-door relief to all other widows qualified to receive it, they refused it to her, without any other assignable motive than that she and her husband once held land; and that, whilst willing to part with as much as disqualified for relief, she wished to retain her house and a few perches about it. In fact the Guardians, by offering her workhouse relief, admit that she is qualified and in need; and by refusing out-door relief to her and giving it to other widows, they show a disposition to convert a relief act into an ejectment act. She is still excluded.

Ballinasloe Union.

I beg to add that the relieving officer swore he knew no reason to keep her from out-door relief.

In conclusion, I have to direct your attention to the hardship of persons deemed worthy of out-door relief being left at the end of a month, without any fault of their own, a week without relief, as has been proved in regard to several in Kilconnell and in Ballymacward. It is almost unnecessary for me to state that distress is now very great, and that the most humane interpretation of the Poor Relief Act should be adopted. Even yet your letter of the 23rd ult. has not been communicated to the relieving officers of this Union.

ENCLOSURE.

The Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, R.C. Bishop of Clonfert, to Captain LABALMONDIERE :—
June 10, 1848.

On my return to this place I learn that on your way to Tuam you kindly took the trouble of visiting the house of Cogavan (or Cokely), of Cregane, in this electoral division of Ballymacward; and (Cogavan not being at home) that you examined his wife, as to the facts which, on his representation, I had reported to Mr. Stanley. The variance between her testimony and the statements made by her husband to the clergyman whom you met at Castleblakeney, and to myself, obliges me to trouble you with a few observations.

I first heard of the alleged death of Cokely's child, and of the circumstances under which it was said to have occurred, from the parish clergyman. So assured was the clergyman of the death of the child that he gave the parent the price of a coffin. A statement to the same effect was again made to myself by Cokely, and I gave him some relief.

I have known his extreme poverty during the last few years, and I had no misgivings whatever about the statement that his child died of hunger. In fact, only for some assistance received from me, he himself would have been long since dead. Nor had I any reason to doubt his assertion, that the death had occurred after his application for admission to the workhouse. I have had such ample reason to know the difficulties attending admission, that, without throwing blame in this case on any particular officer, I regarded the assurance of Cokely, that he sought admission, was refused, and had to go home again, as perfectly natural and true. During the progress of your inquiry on Wednesday, I think sufficient admissions were made by the Guardians to warrant you, sir, and me in believing the likelihood of occasional disappointment, even to persons furnished with tickets and seeking admission to the workhouse. I had not, of course, authority to examine Cokely on oath, nor indeed any reasonable ground for distrusting his statement. It now appears, from the evidence of his wife, that the death of the child occurred before the family sought admission to the workhouse, and that the porter acted in accordance with the rule, in refusing to admit her husband, who sought to enter, unless the wife enter also, which she declined, as she would not be allowed out next morning, to go back and secure (better than she had done) her hovel and its contents.

I believe, however, your own observation, sir, has satisfied you of the extremely destitute condition of the family, and especially of the condition of the two surviving children. I shall not be surprised to learn in a few days the death of another, or of both, and to be applied to for the means of procuring their coffins.

As I have an occasion to write to you in reference to Cokely's case, I profit of it to add a few words regarding the due provision for the reception of paupers into the workhouse, especially on board-days. In the course of your inquiry on Wednesday, it appeared (from the evidence of Croughwell) that there was no security whatever that any of the male paupers were cleansed on the day of their admission, and that, in point of fact, no ablution of their persons, generally, was required, when workhouse linen and other dress could not be supplied. During your personal inspection you noticed the scanty supply of linen, even for the actual inmates of the house, and their consequent uncleanness; and you may therefore conceive how frequently it must have happened that, on days of large admissions, such as board-days, many paupers must have escaped the prescribed cleansing, as they could not be provided with workhouse clothes. The assistant-matron acknowledged that paupers may have remained a fortnight after admission without workhouse dress. Of these paupers so circumstanced there is no security whatever that several were not convalescent after fever, or perhaps in its incipient stages; still less was there security that several were not labouring under dysentery—a disease regarded by eminent medical authorities as most dangerously contagious. These paupers, then, who had perhaps never seen each other before, and were necessarily unacquainted with the respective conditions of each other as to health and cleanliness have had to sleep together. An attempt was made to impress you, sir, with the belief that bed accommodation was always provided for them. On this point I shall only remark, that so far from this having been uniformly the case, on the very night after your investigation the paupers admitted on Wednesday could not be so accommodated.

I have heard that before leaving Ballinasloe, you took a note of the number in the house and its auxiliary; and as the amount is said to exceed very considerably what they are regarded as capable of accommodating, I hope you have, sir, ascertained the number of the inmates and the capacity of the houses.

I regret that I have been obliged to trouble you with this letter, but I deemed it due to you, sir, and to others, to explain the grounds on which my statement of Cokely's case rested. Ballinasloe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—June 17, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under their consideration a report which they have received from Captain Labalmondiere, with minutes of the evidence taken by him on the occasion of the inquiry which he has recently made into the administration of relief to the destitute poor of the Ballinasloe Union, as adverted to in communications from the Right Rev. Dr. Derry, Bishop of Clonfert.

With regard to the statement to the effect, that destitute poor persons had been refused admission into the workhouse, although in possession of tickets of admission from relieving officers, it appears to have been admitted that this was the case at a time when the workhouse was full, and that although it was stated to be the custom of the master of the workhouse to endorse the tickets in such cases with the words, "no room," in order that the parties might obtain out-door relief, yet it does not appear that any distinct rule to this effect has been adopted; and the Commissioners consider it to be desirable that some clear course should be prescribed by the Board of Guardians in this respect, for the guidance of the Union officers. The allegation that death from starvation had ensued in consequence of such rejection, in one instance does not appear to have been established by proof.

The statement, that sufficient clothing had not been provided for the persons admitted into the workhouse, appears to have been fully sustained. It appears that some of the workhouse inmates, especially the children, have been kept without change of linen for a fortnight, and in some instances for three weeks, and that many children wear their own clothing. Captain Labalmondiere reports, that a supply of clothing is now being made up; but the matter is one of such great importance, that the Commissioners are desirous of bringing it prominently under the notice of the Board of Guardians, with a view to the evil being remedied with the least possible delay, and they strongly recommend that an increased number of persons should be employed forthwith in making up the clothes.

The Commissioners have also to call the particular attention of the Board of Guardians to the circumstance of clothing used by inmates of the workhouse, in fever and dysentery, having been given to other inmates newly admitted, without having been previously washed or purified.

The alleged non-attendance of the committee of Guardians for the Ballymacward district, appears to have been fully proved; and although it appears that the parties already on the out-door relief list did not suffer in any material degree from that circumstance, yet no new applications could be entertained in the usual manner, and the applicants may have suffered much from the omission of the committee to meet and investigate their claims.

It further appears that the statement as to the bad quality of meal issued to the recipients of out-door relief was proved, as well as a delay of two days on one occasion in the issue of the meal. The Commissioners understand that measures have been taken to prevent the recurrence of similar delays; and if the contractors for the supplies are made fully to understand, that if inferior meal be supplied, the Guardians will return it and obtain meal from other quarters, making the contractors accountable for any loss by reason of difference in price, it will probably have the effect of rendering the supply sufficient in quantity and of good quality in future.

Captain Labalmondiere reports that it was shown that the issue of meal in the district of the relieving officer for Ballymacward division was always four days in arrear. It also appears that the destitute poor ordered out-door relief in the Kilconnell electoral division were without relief for one week, from a neglect of the Union officers to make due arrangements for affording it to them; and the Commissioners deem it right to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to these defects, with a view to similar irregularities being guarded against in future.

The Commissioners are gratified, by Captain Labalmondiere's report, that the workhouse is in a cleanly and orderly state, and that the Board of Guardians

Ballinasloe Union. appear disposed to exert themselves to discharge the important duties which devolve upon them. He states, as the Commissioners are aware, that the pressure upon the Board of Guardians from so large a Union has been very great, and his belief that the Guardians have not spared themselves in their endeavours to meet it.

The Commissioners desire me to state, for the information of the Board of Guardians, that they have instructed Major Donald Stuart, Temporary Poor Law Inspector, at present engaged in the Dunmanway Union, to proceed to the Ballinasloe Union to assist the board, and to co-operate with it in the administration of relief to the destitute poor.

Major Stuart will probably reach Ballinasloe in the course of the ensuing week.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Right Rev. Dr. DERRY, R.C. Bishop of Clonfert :—
June 17, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state, for your lordship's information, that they have received and considered the report of their Inspector, Captain Labalmondiere, with reference to the administration of relief to the destitute poor of the Ballinasloe Union ; and the Commissioners have communicated with the Board of Guardians on the subject of the defects which were shown to have existed therein.

I am at the same time to state, that the Commissioners have instructed Major Donald Stuart, Temporary Poor Law Inspector, to proceed to the Ballinasloe Union to assist the Board of Guardians in meeting the increased pressure for relief at the present time, and in more effectually affording relief to the destitute poor in the Union.

GORT UNION.

Gort Union.

Viscount GORT to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 4, 1848.

I HAVE the honour of forwarding a series of resolutions adopted at a meeting of the late Board of Guardians of the Gort Union; and as I am going to Dublin in a day or two I shall have the honour of waiting upon the Poor Law Commissioners upon my arrival, to explain to them, should they require it, more fully the object of the meeting.

ENCLOSURE.

Gort, May 27, 1848.

At a meeting of the Poor Law Guardians of the late board, held at the Court-house this day—Lord Viscount Gort in the chair—

It was determined that a deputation from this meeting do forthwith wait upon the Vice-Guardians to ask them respectfully for some explanation as to the buildings and alterations now carrying on in the workhouse.

The deputation, consisting of the chairman, Lord Viscount Gort; J. Lambert, Esq., J.P.; the Baron de Basterot; J. Martyn, Esq., J.P.; James Daly, Esq., J.P.; and J. Lahiff, Esq., having accordingly waited upon the Vice-Guardians at the workhouse did through their chairman ask such explanation, and were told by Mr. Hall, in a very uncourteous manner, that he would give no explanation except required to do so by the Poor Law Commissioners.

The deputation having consequently withdrawn and reported progress to the meeting, it was unanimously resolved—

Proposed by J. Lambert, Esq., and seconded by J. Lahiff, Esq.—That the expenditure of the money levied to support the poor in useless wooden buildings upon ground of which there is only a lease of one life, is a profligate waste of the funds of the Union, and if persevered in must not only destroy the large proprietors, but reduce many of the present ratepayers to the condition of paupers, and oblige them to seek relief in the house towards the maintenance of which they have hitherto contributed.

Proposed by J. Martyn, Esq., and seconded by G. Bell, Esq.—That it appears by documents laid before the meeting that much of the work now going on is not by advertised contracts, as required by law; it consequently is done in a most expensive manner—one wall costing 15s. a perch, the usual price of which is about 6s.; and another, costing 9s. 11d. per perch, although the price in the neighbourhood is from 1s. to 1s. 3d.

Proposed by Baron de Basterot, and seconded by A. Alexander, Esq.—That our chairman be requested to lay our case before the Poor Law Commissioners in Dublin, to request of them to order a strict and searching investigation as to the moneys laid out in buildings, the necessity for the same, and also into the expenditure of the Union, and the manner in which the out-door relief is distributed.

Proposed by James Daly, Esq., J.P., and seconded by P. Burke, Esq.—That if our complaint is not investigated by the Poor Law Commissioners, we shall be obliged, in self-defence, to lay our grievances before parliament.

*GORT, Chairman.*The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. BOURKE:—June 8, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith minutes of the proceedings of the Vice-Guardians of Gort Union on the 26th ultimo; and I am to request that on your return to your district you will be good enough to proceed to Gort and make a searching inquiry into the expenditure of the Union, and into the manner in which the out-door relief is distributed by the Vice-Guardians.

ENCLOSURE.

EXTRACT from Minutes of Proceedings of Vice-Guardians.

LORD GORT, with several other gentlemen, members of the late board, came before the board, and Lord Gort stated they were a deputation from a meeting of the late board and ratepayers, at the Court-house, for the purpose of signing a petition to parliament regarding the administration of the poor law by the Vice-Guardians; and that they had thought it right to call on the Vice-Guardians for an explanation regarding certain items of expenditure—such as making the wall at the cemetery at 15s. a perch, when the price of the plan was 7s.—that 9s. 11d. per perch was paid for masons' work—and that the Vice-Guardians were erecting sheds on the ground of Mr. O'Shaughnessy, who had only a lease for a short period, and if he died the place and all that was in it would fall to Lord Gort, and that he might then take off the sheds if he thought proper, while there was plenty of room on the workhouse land for the sheds—also, the rate of masons at Gort was 2s. per day.

The Vice-Guardians stated that under all the circumstances it would be much better that their explanations, as to the mode in which the business of the Union was managed, should be made through the Poor Law Commissioners, who appointed them, and to whom they were responsible. Whereupon some of the deputation departed—Lord Gort and one or two other gentlemen remaining. Lord Gort made some observations regarding the demands which had been made upon him for the poor rate due of him as immediate lessor and occupier, and which had not yet been paid.

Gort Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS :—June 6, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith for your information, copies of resolutions of a meeting of the late Board of Guardians of Gort Union, on the 27th ultimo; and I am to request that the Commissioners may be furnished with your detailed observations with reference to the resolutions marked I. and II., relative to the expenditure on account of the temporary fever hospital buildings, and of the boundary wall at present in course of erection at the workhouse.

The Commissioners will be obliged by your answer by return of post, if possible.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS :—June 7, 1848.

WE have the honour to acknowledge your letter of yesterday's date, with a copy of resolutions passed at a meeting of the late Board of Guardians of Gort Union held on the 27th ultimo, relative to the expenditure for the erection of temporary sheds for the sick, and for the erection of a boundary wall, requesting our observations thereon.

We consider it right in the first instance to assert that our reply to the deputation, that "we consider it better, under all the circumstances, that our explanation should be made through the Poor Law Commissioners, by whom we were appointed, and to whom we were responsible," was made in the most respectful manner possible; and we utterly disclaim the intention or desire of offering any discourtesy to the deputation. In fact, we feared that unpleasant language might be made use of in the event of entering into a discussion with the deputation, involving the necessity of a reference to matters on which strong feelings are entertained by many persons; and we therefore considered it better that our reply should be made in writing through the Commissioners.

In regard to the sheds now in course of erection on land adjoining the site of the workhouse, we have to observe, that on our arrival at Gort we found nearly 300 sick persons in the house, many of them both fever and dysentery cases, two and three in a bed; and in the idiot wards we found persons in dysentery lying five or six in a bed—there being 57 or 58 cases of this disease placed in that portion of the building which was only intended for twelve inmates. There was no separate cooking or washing arrangements provided, and the communication from the hospital to the other parts of the house was constant and unobstructed; under such circumstances, as might be expected, the spread of disease was most alarming, and the mortality excessive. The workhouse appeared to us to be overcrowded; and therefore, in order to enable us to place the institution in a sanitary condition, and to give those who remained a fair chance of recovery from sickness or escape from the contagion, we were under the necessity of discharging a considerable number of aged, infirm, and impotent persons, with widows and other women having children, retaining only in the house able-bodied men and their families, single able-bodied women, with the sick and such cases of chronic disease, together with orphans, as could not be properly provided for outside. Applications for relief continued to increase, both from the able-bodied, and from persons labouring under sickness; the appearance of both classes indicated very great distress and privation. The introduction into the workhouse of any greater number of inmates, either healthy or diseased, would have been attended with increased sickness and mortality; and we were therefore under the necessity of giving out-relief to a considerable extent—to the able-bodied in food, and in cash and food to the sick, for several of whom we had also to pay for lodgings. The number of the latter class was constantly increasing from the spread of contagion consequent on their being located over the country—from the nature of the food of the lower classes, which was principally turnips—and from the hardships which many of them endured by having to leave their cabins, many of which were in process of demolition, and by being exposed to the inclemency of the weather without sufficient shelter or covering. Under such circumstances out-relief to the sick was only a choice of evils, independently of the opportunity which this course of proceeding afforded for imposition; medical treatment, even if available to any extent, would be of very little use—and in fact the mortality was reported to us to be very considerable.

Moreover cases occurred almost daily where persons labouring under fever or dysentery were discovered lying on the streets or on the sides of the public roads; and in some instances persons in this state were left at the gate of the workhouse. These we were obliged to admit, as otherwise they would have died where they lay, as no person would give them lodgings even for a high amount of payment, and no one would attend them unless at a most exorbitant rate. We were also under the necessity of admitting cases where the entire family, or the principal members, were labouring under disease, and where there was no person to attend the sick parties unless young children.

We had thus always a large number of sick in the house, much more than the extent of accommodation was sufficient for, yet none of them could be properly or safely provided for outside. We were besides for want of room giving out-relief to many of the same class whose chance of recovery would be much increased by being regularly treated in an hospital; and we had also to give out-relief to several able-bodied persons, in order to induce them to attend on the sick relieved out of the house.

Another great evil consequent on the extent of disease in the workhouse, and the want of proper and sufficient accommodation for the sick was, that it rendered it impossible for us to apply the workhouse test to any considerable extent. We could not require the able-bodied to come into a house in which disease was so prevalent and the mortality so excessive. In fact, instances occurred where families, whose houses had been thrown down and who had no place of shelter, entreated for admission, yet we could not take them in; and although we gave them relief out of the house, and in some cases provided them temporarily with lodgings, we much fear that disease and perhaps death may have resulted.

In this state of things we had the choice of two courses—either to extend the administration of out-relief to all applicants who appeared to be destitute, both the healthy and the sick, whereby it would rapidly increase till the amount became enormous, without any adequate means of preventing fraud and irrespective of any benefit to the diseased, or to provide proper and sufficient accommodation for the sick, and to render the workhouse available as a test of the destitution of the able-bodied. We adopted the latter alternative, and determined on a decided course, as being requisite both to stay the progress of disease and mortality, and to enable us to apply the workhouse test where necessary, as well as to avert the ruinous consequences of giving indiscriminate out-relief to all applicants without sufficient proof of destitution. We proposed to remove all the sick, with the hospital staff, from the workhouse; and as we could not obtain any existing building for the purpose we determined to erect sheds for 300 persons, which would not only be sufficient for the sick in the house, but also for diseased persons outside, to whom we should otherwise be under the necessity of giving relief in cash or food, and at the same time have no means of detecting simulated cases of sickness. By this course the entire accommodation of the workhouse would be available for healthy inmates, the danger of the spread of disease in the house would be avoided, the necessity for giving cash payments to the sick, and allowances of food to their attendants would be obviated; and we should thereby be enabled to give admission to many families who, having surrendered their lands and houses, are either wandering about the Union or located in temporary huts which afford neither shelter nor security.

One of the sheds for fifty persons is already completed and occupied. By this proceeding, and by the arrangements we have made for providing proper and sufficient ventilation in the workhouse, we have been enabled to apply the workhouse test to many of those who were previously receiving out-relief. Although we have increased the daily quantity of food for the able-bodied recipients who are employed at stone-breaking, &c., in conformity with the suggestion of the Central Board of Health, and also the weekly rations of several families to whom an insufficient quantity was heretofore allowed, a very considerable reduction has been effected in the total weekly amount of out-relief. Between the reduction in the price of Indian meal and the reduction of the number of recipients the account for the eight weeks ended on the 27th ultimo stands as follows:—

Gort Union.

Week ended the 8th April, . . .	£349	8	13 $\frac{1}{4}$
Do. 15th " . . .	346	5	10 $\frac{1}{2}$
Do. 22nd " . . .	297	0	1 $\frac{3}{4}$
Do. 29th " . . .	282	11	3
Do. 6th May, . . .	275	6	11 $\frac{1}{2}$
Do. 13th " . . .	259	18	11
Do. 20th " . . .	273	10	6
Do. 27th " . . .	225	0	11

When the remaining sheds shall be completed, and the additional rooms erected over the idiot wards at the workhouse, we shall be able to effect a further considerable reduction; and we believe that in two months after all the arrangements are completed, it can be shown that their entire cost will have been saved to the Union, in the difference between the then amount of out-relief and what would otherwise have been necessary, independently of the vast saving of human life which will be effected by the proper treatment of the sick in the sheds, in which desirable result we feel at least as deep an interest as in economizing the funds of the Union.

The effect of the late circular regarding the families of destitute persons holding more than a quarter of an acre of land, has fully proved to us the propriety of the course we have adopted. The number of applicants of this class is already becoming so great, that we have little doubt were a means of testing their destitution not available the amount of out-relief would be very soon nearly doubled.

We have now 1,445 persons in the workhouse and its auxiliary establishments, of whom 257 are sick, who cannot be properly relieved outside, and the remaining 1,188 are almost entirely healthy young persons. Were we to refuse admission to any able-bodied applicant, an enormously increased demand would be immediately made on us for out-relief, which, with the applications from the families of persons holding land, would very soon amount to more than could be regularly paid for by the poor rate. Our inability to meet the claims of the contractors would be followed by their ceasing to afford the supply—new contracts should be made at a vastly increased rate—and the debts of the Union, instead of being diminished, would be rapidly augmented to an amount fearful to contemplate.

We have to observe that the statement in the resolution, to the effect that there is only a lease for one life of the land on which the sheds are erected, is erroneous. We have seen the lease, which is for twenty-one years and one life, from the 25th of March, 1831; so that, besides the life, which is still in existence, there are four years to run from the 25th of March last; and it is a part of our agreement that we may remove the sheds at any time we think proper.

The necessity of the sheds at Kinvarra is proved by there being now fifty-three patients in the existing building, which can properly accommodate but forty-six; while fever is increasing, and the number of applicants waiting for an opportunity of being admitted, becoming daily greater.

In reference to the resolution respecting the payment of 15s. per perch for walling—which we believe refers to a portion of the wall of the cemetery, for the erection of which at that rate we have made a contract—we have to observe that we twice caused notices to be posted in the town of Gort for tenders for executing the work. On both occasions we received several proposals which we considered too high, being from 17s. to 21s. the perch. We then, being most anxious to have the ground fenced in in order that we might be able to discontinue the very objectionable practice of burying on the workhouse site, had the parties before us, and, after a great deal of difficulty, made an agreement with one of them to build the wall adjoining the road, and for a short distance at either end, for 15s. the perch of twenty-one feet; the contractor providing all materials and workmanship. The remainder of the wall was erected by persons receiving out-relief, without any expense to the Union except for the powder which was used in blasting. Our anxiety regarding the wall adjoining the road was caused by the Hon. Major Vereker having required, on behalf of Lord Gort, that a proper boundary similar to that on the next farm should be made thereon, and we considered it better to have it properly executed according to his lordship's desire, than to run the risk of the carelessness and delay of the persons getting out-relief. We apprehend that the gentlemen who attended the meeting were under some mistake with respect to this item of expenditure; as when we posted notices for tenders for supplying stones for the wall, 10s. the perch for this portion of the materials alone was required; and although we offered 15s. a perch for building the wall to a person who brought us a very high character from Major Vereker, he refused to do it for less than 16s. The wall is from seven to eight feet high from the foundation to the horizontal coping course, is about two feet thick on the average, built dry, and rough plastered on the outside, with rough projecting stones at top. It does not appear that 15s. for twenty-one feet in length of a wall of this description is unreasonable, when it is considered that the contractor provides all materials, workmanship, and attendance, and that the work must be properly executed.

We are not paying for any work at the rate of 9s. 11d. the perch. The men employed at raising the yard walls, making openings for and executing ventilators in the workhouse and hospital, erecting a bake-house and setting hot plates, making openings for lights and placing windows, and covering in the sewers, are paid by the day, from 1s. 8d. up to 3s. This latter sum, however, is only paid to masons of the best description, for whom we had to send a considerable distance, there being only two regular masons in Gort, both of whom are employed by the contractor for raising the story over the idiot wards. In fact, it was almost impossible at the commencement to induce any person to work at the building; the extent to which disease had spread in the institution making almost every one fearful of coming into it. And even now, we find some difficulty in prevailing on tradesmen to go into the hospital department for the purpose of carrying out our arrangements for ventilation.

The clerk of works, on whose judgment in these matters we place great reliance, states that the rate of payment is only reasonable, and that a very fair amount of work is performed.

We have now, in conclusion, only to express our hope that the explanations we have given will be satisfactory to the Commissioners. As a proof that our proceedings are approved of by some at least of the late board, we beg leave to refer to the entry made on the visitors' book at the workhouse, by Captain Shaw Taylor, late chairman, and Mr. Hunt, deputy vice-chairman, a copy of which we furnished with our last weekly report of the 3rd instant, and to the following entry which has been made in the visitors' book, by Mr. A. Alexander, who appears to have seconded the third resolution at the meeting of the late Guardians:—

"I find, on examining, the state of the house does great credit to the Vice-Guardians; and what money they have laid out towards building will be a great saving to the Union.

"2nd June, 1848.

"(Signed,)

A. ALEXANDER, late Guardian."

The COMMISSIONERS to Lord GORT:—June 13, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under their consideration the resolutions received from your lordship on the 6th instant, which were passed on the 27th ultimo at a meeting of some of the members of the late Board of Guardians of the Gort Union.

On receiving these resolutions the Commissioners requested the Vice-Guardians of the Gort Union to furnish them with their observations thereon, especially with reference to the resolutions regarding the expenditure of the Union funds in the erection of temporary buildings for the accommodation of destitute poor persons, and the cost of a boundary wall constructed by the Vice-Guardians.

The Commissioners have been furnished with the explanation of the Vice-Guardians, which they now proceed to give in detail for the information of your lordship and the gentlemen who attended the meeting referred to.

First—As regards the alleged want of courtesy on the part of the Vice-Guardians when a deputation from the meeting waited upon them, the Vice-Guardians affirm that their reply to the deputation to the effect, that they "considered, under all the circumstances, that their explanation should be made through the Poor Law Commissioners, by whom they were appointed, and to whom they were responsible," was made in the most respectful manner possible; and they utterly disclaim the intention or desire of offering any discourtesy to the deputation. They state further, that they feared that unpleasant language might be made use of, in the event of their entering into a discussion with the deputation, involving the necessity of a reference to matters on which strong feelings are stated to be entertained by many persons; and that they considered it better that their reply should be made in writing, through the Commissioners.

Q

Gort Union.

With regard to the resolution, "that the expenditure of the money levied to support the poor in useless wooden buildings, upon ground of which there is only a lease of one life, is a profligate waste of the funds of the Union, and if persevered in, must not only destroy the large proprietors, but reduce many of the present ratepayers to the condition of paupers, and oblige them to seek relief in the house towards the maintenance of which they have hitherto contributed." The Vice-Guardians state, that on their arrival at Gort, they found nearly 300 sick persons in the house, many of them both fever and dysentery cases; that two and three were in a bed, and that in the idiot wards they found persons in dysentery lying five or six in a bed—there being 57 or 58 cases of this disease placed in that portion of the building which was only intended for 12 inmates. They further observe that there was no separate arrangement for cooking or washing, and that the communication from the hospital to the other parts of the house was constant and unobstructed.

Under these circumstances the Vice-Guardians remark that the spread of disease was most alarming, and the mortality in the workhouse was excessive. In order to enable the Vice-Guardians to place the institution in a sanitary condition, and to give those who remained a fair chance of recovery from sickness or escape from the contagion, they were under the necessity of discharging a considerable number of aged, infirm, and impotent persons, with widows and other women having children; retaining only in the house, able-bodied men and their families, single able-bodied women with the sick, and such cases of chronic disease, together with orphans, as could not be properly provided for outside. They state that applications for relief continued to increase, both from the able-bodied and from persons labouring under sickness; and that the appearance of both classes indicated very great distress and privation. And as the introduction into the workhouse of any greater number of inmates, either healthy or diseased, would have been attended with increased sickness and mortality, the Vice-Guardians were under the necessity of giving out-door relief to a considerable extent to the able-bodied in food, and in cash and food to the sick. They state that the number of the latter class was constantly increasing from the spread of contagion consequent on their being located over the country—from the nature of the food of the lower classes, principally turnips—and from the hardships which many of them endured by having to leave their cabins, many of which were in process of demolition.

The Vice-Guardians state further, that cases occurred almost daily where persons labouring under fever or dysentery were discovered lying on the streets, or on the sides of the public roads, and that in some instances persons in this state were left at the gate of the workhouse: these cases they were obliged to admit into the workhouse; and they were also under the necessity of admitting cases where the entire family or the principal members were labouring under disease, and where there was no person to attend the sick parties.

The Vice-Guardians state that they had thus always a large number of sick in the house, more in fact than the extent of accommodation was sufficient for, yet that none of them could be properly or safely provided for outside.

In this state of things the Vice-Guardians had the choice of two courses—either to extend the administration of out-door relief to all applicants who appeared to be destitute, both the healthy and the sick, or to provide proper and sufficient accommodation for the sick, and to render the workhouse available as a test for the destitution of the able-bodied. They adopted the latter alternative; and as a decided course was requisite both to stay the progress of disease and mortality, and to enable the Vice-Guardians to offer admission into the workhouse as a condition of receiving relief, where this test of destitution was necessary, they proposed to remove all the sick, with the hospital staff, from the workhouse, and, as they could not obtain any existing building for the purpose, they determined to erect temporary sheds for 300 persons, which would not only be sufficient for the sick in the house, but also for diseased persons outside, to whom they would otherwise have been under the necessity of giving relief in cash or food. They observe that, by this course, the entire accommodation of the workhouse would be available for healthy inmates, the danger of the spread of disease in the house would be avoided, the necessity for giving cash payments to the sick and allowances of food to their attendants would be obviated, and that they would thereby be enabled to give admission to many families who, having surrendered their lands and houses, are either wandering about the Union or located in temporary huts, which afford neither shelter nor security. It appears that one of the sheds for fifty persons is already completed and occupied; and that, by the arrangements made for providing further ventilation in the workhouse, the Vice-Guardians have been enabled to apply the workhouse test to many of those who were previously receiving out-relief. And they state that, although they have increased the daily quantity of food for the able-bodied employed at stone-breaking, &c., in conformity with the suggestion of the Central Board of Health, and also the weekly rations of several families to whom an insufficient quantity had been heretofore allowed, yet very considerable reduction has been effected in the total weekly amount of out-relief. Between the reduction in the price of Indian meal and the reduction of the number of recipients the account for the eight weeks ended on the 27th ultimo stands as follows:—

Week ended the 8th April	.	.	.	£349	8	1 $\frac{3}{4}$
do. 15th "	.	.	.	346	5	10 $\frac{1}{2}$
do. 22nd "	.	.	.	297	0	1 $\frac{3}{4}$
do. 29th "	.	.	.	282	11	3
do. 6th May	.	.	.	275	6	11 $\frac{1}{2}$
do. 13th "	.	.	.	259	18	11
do. 20th "	.	.	.	237	10	6
do. 27th "	.	.	.	225	0	11

When the remaining sheds shall have been completed and the additional rooms erected over the idiot wards at the workhouse, the Vice-Guardians expect to be able to effect a further considerable reduction; and they state, that they believe that, in two months after all the arrangements are completed, it will be shown that their entire cost will have been saved to the Union in the difference between the then amount of out-relief and what would otherwise have been necessary, independently of the vast saving of human life which will be effected by the proper treatment of the sick in the sheds.

It appears that there are 1,445 persons in the workhouse and its auxiliary establishments, of whom 257 are sick, who cannot be properly relieved outside, and that the remaining 1,188 are almost entirely healthy young persons; and the Vice-Guardians state, that were they to refuse admission to any able-bodied applicant, an enormously increased demand would be immediately made on them for out-relief, which, with the applications from the families of persons holding land, would soon amount to more than could be regularly met by the poor rates.

With regard to the statement in the resolution to the effect that there is only a lease for one life of the land on which the sheds are erected, the Vice-Guardians state that they have seen the lease which is for 21 years and one life from the 25th of March, 1831, so that besides the life which is still in existence there are four years to run from the 25th of March last; and it is a part of their agreement that they may remove the sheds at any time they think proper to do so.

They state further, that the necessity for the sheds at Kinvarra is proved by there being now 53 patients in the existing building, which can properly accommodate but 46—while fever is increasing and the number of applicants waiting for an opportunity of being admitted is becoming daily greater.

With respect to the resolution, "That it appears by documents laid before the meeting that much of the work now going on is not by advertised contracts as required by law, it consequently is done in a most expensive manner—one wall costing fifteen shillings a perch, the usual price of which is about six shillings, and another costing nine shillings and eleven pence per perch, although the price in the neighbourhood is from one shilling to one shilling and three pence;" the Vice-Guardians state that they believe this resolution refers to a portion of the wall of the cemetery, for the erection of which at the rate stated they have made a contract. They state that they twice caused notices to be posted in the town of Gort for tenders for executing the work; that on both occasions they received several proposals which they considered too high, being from 17s. to 21s.

Gort Union.
—

the perch; and that then, being anxious to have the ground fenced in in order that they might be able to discontinue the objectionable practice of burying on the workhouse site, they had the parties before them and, after a great deal of difficulty, made an agreement with one of them to build the wall adjoining the road, and for a short distance at either end, for 15s. the perch of twenty-one feet—the contractor providing all materials and workmanship. It appears that the remainder of the wall was erected by persons receiving out-door relief, without any expense to the Union except for the powder which was used in blasting. They observe that their anxiety regarding the wall adjoining the road was caused by the Hon. Major Vereker having required that a proper boundary similar to that on the next farm should be made, and they considered it better to have the work properly executed by a contractor than to run the risk which would have been incurred by the employment of the persons getting out-relief on this part of the works. They state further that when they posted notices for tenders for supplying stones for the wall, 10s. the perch for this portion of the materials alone was required; and that although they offered 15s. a perch for building the wall to a person who brought them a very high character from Major Vereker, he refused to do it for less than 16s. It appears that the wall is from seven to eight feet high from the foundation to the horizontal coping course—that it is about two feet thick on the average, built dry, and rough plastered on the outside, with rough projecting stones at top. The contractor provides all materials, workmanship, and attendance, and is bound to see that the work be properly executed.

The Vice-Guardians state that they are not paying for any work at the rate of 9s. 11d. the perch; and that the men employed at raising the yard walls, making openings, and executing ventilators in the workhouse and hospital, erecting a bakehouse and setting hot plates, making openings for lights and placing windows, and covering in the sewers, are paid by the day from 1s. 8d. up to 3s.; the latter sum being paid only to masons of the best description, for whom they had to send a considerable distance, there being only two regular masons in Gort, both of whom are employed by the contractor for raising the story over the idiot wards.

In conclusion, the Commissioners desire me to assure your lordship that the general course of management pursued by the Vice-Guardians of Gort Union, as detailed in this letter, is in accordance with the Commissioners' instructions, and appears to the Commissioners to be founded on the soundest principles of poor law administration. The Commissioners much regret that any misunderstanding should have arisen between the Vice-Guardians and any of the ratepayers; and the Commissioners are convinced that the Vice-Guardians had no intention to give offence to any one. At the same time the Commissioners feel confident that your lordship and the other members of the late Board of Guardians will afford that support to the Vice-Guardians in the discharge of their onerous duties which is so particularly called for in the difficult circumstances wherein they are placed, with great destitution existing in parts of Gort Union, and with the finances of the Union in a state of considerable embarrassment.

Viscount GORT to the COMMISSIONERS, in reply:—June 16, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the report which you sent me containing the explanation of the Vice-Guardians of the Gort Union, relative to some resolutions passed at a meeting of some members of the late board. When I return early next week to the country, I shall lose no time in submitting the report for their consideration; in the meantime I think I may say that the object of the meeting, in the first instance, was not in any way to embarrass the Vice-Guardians, but merely to protect their own properties and the property of the ratepayers in general.

The Rev. Mr. NAGLE to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 17, 1848.

By desire of the meeting I hereby forward the accompanying resolutions, and request you will take the earliest opportunity of laying them before the Poor Law Commissioners.

ENCLOSURE in foregoing.

At a meeting of the Roman Catholic clergymen of the Gort Union, held on the 13th instant, at Kinvarra, to take into consideration the working of the Act for the Relief of the destitute poor within this Union—the Right Rev. Dr. Ffrench in the chair; the following clergymen being present:—

Gort Union.

Very Rev. Mr. Nagle, P.P., and V.G.,
Michael O'Shaughnessy, P.P.,
Michael Nelly, P.P.,
John Ford, P.P.,
Thomas Kelly, P.P.,
Francis Arthur, P.P.,

Timothy Shannon, P.P.,
Martin Kelly, C.C.,
Daniel Garrahy, C.C.,
Patrick Tully, C.C.,
Patrick Byrne, Administrator;

after minutely considering the various operations of the Poor Law Act for the last four months, as administered by the Vice-Guardians, Messrs. Dunne and Hall, we unanimously agree to the following resolutions:—

Resolved—That the greatest satisfaction has been given in the different parishes of this Union, and a due regard to proper economy observed in the administration of out-door relief.

Resolved—That we highly approve of the manner the workhouse is conducted under most trying and difficult circumstances, from its crowded state; that order, cleanliness, and a proper dietary, are strictly attended to; the management of the schools also merits our approval.

Resolved—That our best thanks are justly due, and are hereby given, to the Poor Law Commissioners, for their sanctioning the erection of fever sheds within the Union, which has not alone afforded increase of accommodation, so much required at this period, but also the removal of contagious disease to a proper distance from the workhouse.

Resolved—That we feel grateful to the Commissioners for their selection of the Vice-Guardians of this Union, as nothing can exceed their unceasing exertions for the due and legitimate administration of the law; and we hereby pledge ourselves to render them every assistance in our power to carry out, in its integrity, the provisions of the Act.

Resolved—That feeling as we do the greatest satisfaction at the past, we cannot but look forward with well-grounded apprehension to the future resources available in this Union for the maintenance of so dense a pauper population, seeing within our several parishes vast tracts of waste and uncultivated lands, and the occupying tenant (generally speaking), unprepared until harvest, to meet a further rate.

Resolved—That our secretary, the Very Rev. Mr. Nagle be requested to forward the above resolutions to the Commissioners for administering the law for the relief of the destitute poor in Ireland.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

✕ EDMOND FFRENCH, D.D., Chairman
MICHAEL NAGLE, V.G., Secretary.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Rev. Mr. NAGLE, in reply:—June 20, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th instant, forwarding a copy of minutes of proceedings of the Roman Catholic clergymen of the Gort Union, at a meeting held by them on the 13th instant; and I am to state that the attention of Government will be drawn to the resolution respecting waste lands in the Union—having reference to the Land Improvement Act.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 24, 1848.

WE have to report for the present week as follows:—The amount of rate lodged with the treasurer, by the collectors, is about £240. The difficulty in enforcing the payment of the rate by distress is becoming daily greater, as scarcely in any instance are cattle of any description allowed to remain on lands, of which the rate is due, in the day-time. We have issued a large number of civil bill processes against defaulters, which we consider a better course in some instances than proceeding by summons. We can have the decree either against the body or goods of the defendant as from the circumstances of the respective cases may appear most expedient.

On the 23rd inst., Mr. F. Gibbons, Poor Law Inspector of this Union, handed us bank post bills for £1,000, advanced by the British Relief Association as a loan, for providing additional hospital accommodation and for properly ventilating the workhouse, which sum we have on this day paid to the treasurer at Loughrea to the credit of the Gort Union. Were it not for this seasonable relief we much fear we should not only have had to suspend our proceedings for completing the temporary hospitals at Gort and at Kinvarra, but also that we should have been reluctantly compelled to give up our Indian meal contract from inability to make payments at the periods agreed on.

Gort Union.

We regret to have to observe that destitution is increasing, and the number of persons who must depend on poor law relief for support during the next two months is daily becoming greater. This is caused in many instances by the poor people having exhausted every possible means at their disposal to enable them to set a few potatoes; and also by the recent cessation of drainage operations in certain parts of this Union, by which a large number of labourers and small farmers have been thrown out of employment, many of whom must be relieved by us.

Although we have, by the completion of additional portions of the temporary sheds at Gort, been enabled to remove 150 sick persons thereto from the workhouse, and thereby provided increased accommodation in the workhouse itself for the able-bodied, of whom we have admitted several during the week, and have thus increased the number of paupers in the workhouse and its auxiliaries to 1,763; yet we have been obliged to order out-relief for many applicants, as we are fearful of the consequence of adding to the above number of inmates until greater space is available.

The shed at Kinvarra is not yet ready; but now, as we shall be in a position to make advances to the contractor, we expect it will soon be completed, and be available for the numerous cases of fever and dysentery which exist in that district.

The sanitary condition of the house is progressing favourably considering the great number of inmates, and that several of the recent admissions are attacked with disease very soon after they come into the house; besides which, we now admit all cases of fever and dysentery which cannot be properly treated and attended to outside. The number of sick now on the books is 258, and of deaths during the week, 16. Measles is beginning to show itself among the children and young persons.

The improvement in the sanitary state of the district surrounding Gort, generally, is proved by the following gratifying fact, announced to us by the Rev. Mr. Nagle, treasurer to the Relief Committee, that the number of applications for coffins for poor persons dying of fever or other contagious disease in his district, in the month ended the 20th instant, was less by more than one-half than in the previous month ended the 20th May. This favourable result may very probably be attributed to our having been enabled, in the course of the revision of the relieving officers' books, to order a sufficient quantity of food for those who were previously endeavouring to exist on what was called half-rations, and to the extended accommodation which has been provided by means of the additional temporary sheds for the proper treatment of persons suffering from contagious disease; into which, although as yet only in part completed, we have been enabled to admit many who would otherwise have to remain in their own cabins, deprived of medical relief and of the care and attention essential in cases of this nature, and the mortality would in consequence be much greater than it has been.

Adverting to your letter of the 6th instant, accompanying a copy of resolutions passed at a meeting of the late Board of Guardians of the Gort Union on the 27th ultimo, we beg to annex a note handed to us by Mr. Alexander, who is stated to have seconded the third resolution on the occasion referred to. We have also to observe that we cannot learn that Mr. G. Bell, who is reported to have seconded the second resolution, was at any time a guardian of the Gort Union.

ENCLOSURE.

MR. ALEXANDER to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—June 23, 1848.

HAVING heard with much surprise that a memorial or petition had been sent to the Commissioners stating that I proposed a resolution, I strongly deny having put my name to any document that might have been forwarded to the Commissioners either for or against the Gort Guardians. I was called on to attend a meeting held at the Gort court-house, and no resolution proposed there. My Lord Gort had stated that £2,500 had been expended in building fever sheds—I replied, the country could not afford to pay it. After that I had a conversation with Mr. Dunne, the Vice-Guardian, who told me it only cost about £600. I then went to look at the house, and stated my opinion in the visitors' book; as I was perfectly satisfied with the order and regularity of the house, and consider the fever sheds will be great saving to the country.

Mr. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 21, 1848.

Gort Union.

I BEG to inform you that in pursuance of the instructions contained in your letter dated the 8th June, I proceeded to Gort, as soon after my return to my district as circumstances permitted, and have made a searching inquiry into the expenditure of the Union, and into the manner in which the out-door relief is administered by the Vice-Guardians.

The course which I adopted in this inquiry as the most complete, was to classify the total amount of expenditure contracted by the Vice-Guardians, into several distinct heads, and to consider each separately, both with reference to the sums disbursed and the system adopted for detecting fraud or abuse in their application.

I shall now proceed to communicate the result of my inquiry:—

The total expenditure incurred by the Vice-Guardians of the Gort Union since their arrival on the 29th February, up to the 1st July, amounting to £10,186 5s. 4d., is shown in the accompanying return (A), and may be classified under the following heads:—

	£	s.	d.
Provisions for in-door relief, ...	1,921	17	6½
Bedding and Clothing, ...	416	15	2
Establishment charges, ...	366	13	0½
Provisions for out-door relief, ...	5,094	12	6
Fever hospital Committees, ...	249	3	3
Collectors' poundage, ...	420	15	0
Officers' salaries, including Vice-Guardians, ...	594	4	9
Rent, ...	42	0	0
Enlargement of Workhouse (incurred), Ventilation, } Fever sheds, &c., ...	985	4	1½
Fever shed at Kinvarra, ...	140	0	0
	£10,186	5	4½

to which may be added about £641 required to complete the buildings commenced.

In order to judge how far the first of these sums was economically administered for the support of the inmates of the workhouse, it becomes necessary to refer to the numbers relieved in the workhouse and hospital respectively, and the description of dietary in use. By reference to the workhouse books, it appears that the number of inmates has gradually increased from 1,073, on the first week of the Vice-Guardians' arrival, to 1,817, on the 1st July; whilst the number in hospital has seldom been less than 200, and sometimes over 280. In consequence also of the reduced condition of many of the poor applying for relief, it was found necessary to vary the dietary from Indian meal stirabout to the more expensive article of wheaten bread, and to introduce a new and more costly scale of diet in the hospital. Notwithstanding the increased expense thus created, it will be seen by the enclosed returns (B), of the expenses incurred on this head during the last nine weeks of the administration of the late board; and a similar return from their dissolution, down to the 1st July, that whilst on the week ending the 26th February, the cost of maintaining 1,013 persons, amounted to £116 9s., a number nearly equal was maintained during the week ended 20th May, for £78 19s. 1d., and that the average weekly cost during the first period for each inmate, varied from 2s. 7d., to 1s. 6½d., being on an average, 2s. 1½d., whilst the corresponding charge under the management of the Vice-Guardians, varied from 2s. 1¼d., to 1s. 6d., being an average of 1s. 9¾d., showing a diminution of 3¾d., on the weekly cost of each inmate. This saving I believe to have been caused by a greater degree of vigilance exercised on the part of the Vice-Guardians in the distribution of food, and by the reduction they were enabled to effect in the price of two of the most important articles of consumption—bread and milk. Upon this head, therefore, there can be no question that the funds of the Union has been economically disbursed.

The second and third heads consist of necessary clothing for the increased number of persons admitted to the workhouse, and for sundry expenses, as well for the use of the workhouse as for the due arrangement of out-door relief. I have carefully examined into the several items contained in these two heads, and have satisfied myself that the expenses thus incurred were both necessary for the comfort of the inmates and the decent support of the establishment, and that the articles were obtained at fair and reasonable prices.

Gort Union.

The fourth item of expenditure consists of the cost of provisions for the support of the poor receiving out-door relief. Upon this branch a considerable saving has been effected by the favourable contracts for Indian meal obtained by the Vice-Guardians. The constant price at the date of their appointment was £11 10s. per ton; the price now paid is only £8 17s. 6d.; and the weekly saving in this article alone, calculated upon the numbers receiving relief for the week ending 7th July, amounts to £65 5s. In the administration of this relief, it appears to me that the Vice-Guardians have used every means for restricting it to the case of persons whose circumstances entitle them to assistance from the rates. The whole of the out-door relief lists have been carefully revised by the relieving officers, under the direction of the Vice-Guardians themselves. The workhouse test has been applied as extensively as was possible, and the Vice-Guardians are now engaged in a personal scrutiny of every recipient of relief. Considering the extent of destitution prevailing in this Union, the number of families receiving out-door relief appears to me by no means large; and whether viewed with reference to the expense incurred in procuring provisions, to the scale of rations allowed, or to the checks imposed upon those seeking relief, I am of opinion that the administration of the rates has been conducted by the Vice-Guardians with great care and economy.

The two next heads of expenditure do not appear to call for observation. The only fever hospital, (except that at the workhouse), was established by the late Committee under the Temporary Relief Act, and has been conducted upon the ordinary scale of expenses sanctioned in other Unions, and existing at the time of the dissolution of the late board.

In the article of officers' salaries I do not find that any considerable addition has been made by the Vice-Guardians to the charge authorized by the late board. No increase has been made to the salaries of existing officers, and but few new appointments have been made. The annexed returns (C) exhibit the present staff of officers engaged in the administration of relief in and out of the workhouse, distinguishing any new appointments made by the Vice-Guardians. It will be seen that these are limited to an assistant master, two wardsmen, two wardswomen for the workhouse, and nine storekeepers for issuing out-door relief. The first appointments were rendered necessary by the increased number of inmates, and the latter by the introduction of a daily issue of rations which the relieving officers themselves were unable to superintend. The salaries allowed by the Vice-Guardians have in each case been moderate; and in this instance also I consider that they have judiciously administered the funds of the Union.

The two last items of expenditure are those upon which the only difference of opinion can possibly exist. They consist of certain alterations and enlargements made to the workhouse, by introducing improved ventilation, by raising a story over the wings of the infirmary, and by the erection of large sheds for the reception of the sick on a piece of ground adjoining the workhouse. In considering this subject it is necessary to refer to the state of the workhouse and its auxiliary building when the Vice-Guardians entered upon their duties. The number of inmates amounted to about 1,020. Fever and dysentery prevailed extensively, the number of deaths was alarmingly great, and the hospital accommodation was confessedly insufficient. It appeared absolutely necessary to take prompt measures for rendering the house more healthy, and increasing the space devoted to the sick; and the Vice-Guardians at once resolved to erect temporary buildings for the reception of the inmates whilst ventilation was carried on, and the required enlargement made to the hospital. A piece of land adjoining the workhouse containing rather more than two statute acres, was taken from the Rev. Mr. O'Shaughnessy for a term of three years certain, at £8 per acre; and an agreement was entered into for enabling the Vice-Guardians, at the expiration of their term, to remove any buildings they might erect thereon. During the progress of this work the pressure upon the Vice-Guardians for relief continued very severe; and as the power of applying the workhouse test was limited by the size of the building, it was determined to erect a large temporary hospital, and to devote the whole of the workhouse to the reception of healthy cases. With this view the sheds were enlarged so as to accommodate 400 or 500 persons, and a contract was entered into for the purpose at a cost of about £750; and the contract for raising the wings of the infirmary, agreed upon by the late board, was confirmed at a cost of £405; whilst the ventilating and other necessary alterations in and about the workhouse were conducted by the clerk of works. The total cost of additional buildings in and about the workhouse is as follows:—

Raising wings of infirmary, ...	£405	0	0
Temporary hospital, £750, }	867	10	0
Additional shed, £117 10s., }	284	10	0
Building bakehouse, &c., ...	210	0	0
Fever sheds at Kinvarra, ...
Total, ...	£1,767	0	0

Gort Union.

I have closely looked into the contracts for these buildings and compared them with the prices allowed in other Unions, and fixed by your architect for similar buildings, and am of opinion that they are of the most favourable kind. The estimated cost of such sheds as are here built is stated by your architect at £1 10s. per foot, whilst the price here paid has not exceeded £1 3s. 6d. I have also strictly examined the clerk of the works both as to the contract prices and as to the expense of the works executed without contract under his superintendence, and in each case he has stated his opinion to be that the prices are fair and moderate. I subjoin a memorandum of his answers as taken down by me and the papers and accounts to which he refers. I think there may be some question whether the Vice-Guardians have acted altogether judiciously in incurring so large an expense as £860 in wooden buildings, temporary in their nature, and requiring additional cost to make them suitable in winter; but I have no sort of doubt that the buildings have been erected at a fair cost, that the land on which they stand has been taken upon favourable terms for the Union, and that the advantage arising from their rapid erection has been very great, by the opportunity thus afforded of putting the workhouse test into extensive operation, and thereby limiting the extent of relief.

Taking the whole amount of expenditure as made by the Vice-Guardians, I have no hesitation in stating my opinion that they have acted with prudence and economy in the administration of the funds of the Union; and that whilst they have afforded relief to all whose cases appeared to deserve it, they have used every exertion to arrive at the real condition of all parties, and have administered relief with a due regard to the interest of the ratepayers.

In conclusion, I may state that Lord Gort, who attended in the board-room during my examination of the clerk of works, expressed himself perfectly satisfied with the explanations he heard, and stated that the "documents" referred to in the resolutions of the meeting over which he presided on the 27th May, consisted of a memorandum handed in by a builder of Gort, whose tender it appears had been rejected by the Vice-Guardians as excessive.

ENCLOSURES.

(A.)

FINANCIAL RETURN during the management of the Vice-Guardians, from the 29th February, 1848, to the 1st July, 1848, inclusive.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Amount of the liabilities of the Union, 29th Feb. 1848,	.	.	.				6,566	14	11½
SUBSEQUENT LIABILITIES.
Provisions, &c. obtained for in-door relief, viz.:—
Bread, ...	758	1	3½
Meal, ...	58	12	3½
Rice, ...	82	18	2
Oatmeal, ...	52	6	4
Indian Meal, ...	180	3	6
New Milk, ...	528	16	2½
Sour Milk, ...	25	10	9
Skimmed Milk, ...	28	12	5½
Tea, for officers and sick, ...	7	12	8
Sugar, raw and loaf, ...	40	7	0
Wine, for hospital, ...	10	7	0
Pepper, ...	6	11	1
Coffee, ...	32	19	9½
Salt, ...	4	2	7½
Turf, ...	58	7	6½
Candles, dips and moulds, ...	14	9	3½
Soap, ...	2	1	4½
Starch, ...	1	17	8
Flour and suet for hospital, ...	4	13	6½
Soda, onions, whiskey, chickens, ...	1	15	11
Carry forward, ...				1,921	17	6½	6,566	14	11½

R

Gort Union.

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Brought forward, ...				1,921	17	6½	6,566	14	11½
Provisions, &c., cash supplied for out-relief, ...	5,094	12	6	5,094	12	6
Bedding, clothing, and materials, viz. :—
Twilled calico, ... 787 yards, ...	22	19	1
Canvas, ... 296 "	7	7	0
Men and boys' caps, ... 500 "	17	4	2
Drogheda linen, ... 4,000 "	133	6	8
Check, ... 500 "	12	10	3
Linsey-woolsey, ... 500 "	21	15	5
Sacking for bed-ticks, ... 500 "	14	11	8
Corduroy, ... 300 "	15	0	0
Flannel, ... 569 "	24	13	6
Thread, tape, canvas, calico, &c., ...	13	5	4
Leather, 184½ lbs. and findings, ...	12	2	10
Straw, ... 18 tons, ...	17	14	9
Wages, making materials in house, ...	6	7	11½
Blankets, ... 70 pair, ...	35	18	6
Coverlets, ... 297 "	25	11	5
Handkerchiefs, ... 257 "	7	7	0
Shoes, men and women's, ... 136 pair, ...	23	15	5
Wool, ... 11 stones, ...	5	4	6
				416	15	2
Of the materials got in by the Vice-Guardians, there have been manufactured :—
380 linen sheets, ...	41 girls' linsey petticoats, ...
178 men's shirts, ...	71 pair men's shoes, ...
242 boys' do., ...	9 pair women's "
464 women's shifts, ...	145 pair men's socks, ...
216 girls' do., ...	144 pair women's "
300 women's caps, ...	142 twilled calico bed-gowns, ...
323 women's check aprons, ...	96 " " petticoats, ...
150 girls' " covers, ...	81 bed-ticks, ...
161 women's flannel petticoats, ...	7 pair blankets, ...
140 " linsey "
Materials got by Vice-Guardians, not yet made up :—
300 yards corduroy, ...	80 yards canvas, ...
25 " Drogheda linen, ...	27 " ticken, ...
210 " twilled calico, ...	10 lb. of wool, ...
The following materials were in the workhouse on the 29th February, and were made up as follows :—
439 yards Bengal stripe, made 134 girls' frocks, ...
96 " flannel, made 34 women's petticoats, ...
295 " check, made 218 aprons, ...
400 " twilled calico, made 133 bed-gowns, ...
328 " Drogheda linen, made 103 men's shirts, ...
328 " " " 47 boy's "
435 " corduroy, made 105 boys' suits, ...
435 " " made 9 pairs men's trowsers, ...
340 " linsey-woolsey, made 113 women's petticoats, ...
One piece Bengal stripe still in store.
Establishment charges, viz. :—
School books and requisites, ...	9	15	0
Lasts, aprons, seals, and implements for tradesmen, ...	4	0	4
Earthenware, glass, &c., ...	1	18	1
Beams, weights, and scales, ...	3	16	0
Wool-cards, 12s. 10d. ; spoons, £3, ...	3	12	10
Saucepans, 14s. 2d. ; brushes, £1 5s. 2d., ...	1	19	4
Bell to board-room, 10s. ; bedstead, 15s., ...	1	5	0
Ropes and lines, 18s. ; brooms, £1 13s. 6d., ...	2	11	6
Lime, £5 11s. 4d. ; books provided, £1 17s., ...	7	8	4
Rent, meal store, 19s. 2d. ; posting rate, 5s., ...	1	4	2
Wages, shoemaker, £5 4s. 7d. ; tailor, £4 19s., ...	10	3	7
" sempstress, £1 2s. ; wardmaster, £1 7s. 4d., ...	2	9	4
Paying 558 square yards in probationary yards, kitchen yard, washhouse yard, passages and channels ; finding materials, and attendance, at 5d. per yard, ...	11	12	6
Hire for drawing water, £3 2s. ; deceased paupers, 14s., ...	3	16	0
Carriage, sundries, £1 13s. 9d. ; straw, 16s. 8d., ...	2	10	5
Repairs, waterworks, £4 8s. ; ironworks, £1 17s. 6d., ...	6	5	6
" roof slating, £4 10s. ; car, 6s. 6d., ...	4	16	6
" sundries, £1 2s. 9d., ...	1	2	9
Carry forward, ...	80	7	2	7,433	5	2½	6,566	14	11½

	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.	Gort Union.
Brought forward, ...	80	7	2	7,433	5	2½	6,566	14	11½
Establishment :— continued .
14 Spinning-wheels, £2 9s. ; 60 spades, £7 3s. 10d., 9	12	10
36 Shovels, £3 ; 24 buckets, £2 14s., ...	5	14	0
216 Zinc chamber utensils, ...	18	0	0
Paid on account of cemetery wall, ...	13	12	0
Carriage of meal to depots, ...	5	1	9
„ of paupers to workhouse, ...	2	13	3
Charge on account of law expenses, ...	20	0	0
„ on account of bedsteads, tables, forms, ...	6	0	0
				161	1	0
Charge on sundry necessities, implements, utensils, furniture, towels, repairs, oil, whiting, blacking, brick, &c., ...				15	9	11
Tin-work—platters, tins, measures, scoops for out-relief, sconces, candlesticks, tea-pots, kettles, &c., ...	17	17	10
Medicine and appliances, ...	27	8	9
Printing and stationery—Kelly, Loughrea, ...	20	0	0
„ —Thom, Dublin, ...	48	11	6
Advertisements, ...	15	0	0
Beams and weights, for out-relief depots, ...	8	12	0½
				137	10	1½
Expenses on account Kinvarra Fever Hospital, ...	207	13	3
„ for coffins, Kinvarra district, ...	18	6	0
„ „ Gort district, ...	23	4	0
				249	3	3
Expenses for coffins for in-door paupers, ...				2	12	0
Collectors' poundage, ...				420	15	0
Salaries, including all officers, in and out, valuator, Vice-Guardians, &c., ...	549	4	9
Rent, up to 1st July, ...	42	0	0
				591	4	9
Sheds at Kinvarra, amount executed, ...	140	0	0
„ at Gort, „	344	10	0
Story over idiot wards, „	200	0	0
				684	10	0
Building materials, tradesmen's wages, and hire paid previous to arrival of clerk of works, for putting up eleven grates, lining long shed with timber, placing two stoves therein, erecting chimneys thereto, tarring same, and dividing interior; making a shed for old clothing in men's yard; putting up a boiler in kitchen, and verging same; repairing washhouse boiler; closing door from board-room to probationary ward; with several minor matters of detail, immediately required on arrival of Vice-Guardians, including brick, £7 7s. ; timber, £9 9s. ; chalk, tar, £1 16s. ; nails, £1 8s. 2d. ; carriage, £1 7s. 6d. ; masons' wages, £2 18s. 9d. ; carpenters' wages, £5 4s. ; sawyers' wages, £2 3s. 8d. ; smiths' wages, 16s. ; cost of eleven grates £6., ...				38	4	11
Amount of work and materials under superintendence of clerk of works,*				402	9	2½
Amount of loan obtained from British Association, ...				1,500	0	0
							11,686	5	4½
							18,253	0	3½
Receipts :—
Balance in treasurer's hands 29th February, ...	1	14	6
Poor rate collected since, and paid treasurer, ...	5,610	7	10
Advanced by the British Association, ...	1,500	0	0
Total receipts, ...	7,112	2	4
Payments :—
On invoice account for provisions, &c., ...	4,556	19	2
„ clothing and bedding account, ...	89	4	4
„ establishment account, ...	255	5	11
„ Kinvarra hospital account, ...	153	13	3
„ out-relief account, cash to relieving officers, ...	178	10	0
For coffins for poor persons dying out of house, ...	41	10	0
„ coffins for paupers dying in house, ...	52	12	0
„ checks drawn by late board, but not paid, ...	63	0	10
„ debts due of former board, ...	748	0	0
To clerk of works for shed, ventilation, wall, &c., ...	269	0	11
„ Nolan, on account of sheds at Gort, ...	344	10	0
„ Sinane, „ „ at Kinvarra, ...	140	0	0
„ Gill, „ „ story over idiot wards, ...	200	0	0
				7,092	6	10
Total liabilities, ...							£11,160	13	5½

* For detailed return of works see statement annexed (D).

C.

Gort Union.

RETURN of Officers employed in the administration of Out-door Relief, and the Yearly and Weekly Salaries of each :—

Officers' Names.	Office.	Salary.	—
		£ s. d.
James Forrest, . . .	Relieving Officer, . . .	50 0 0	Yearly.
Andrew Forde, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
Richard Kelly, . . .	ditto, . . .	50 0 0	do.
Hubert Glynn, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
John Smith, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
George Morton, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
Thomas Hardiman, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
Richard Burke, . . .	ditto, . . .	40 0 0	do.
James O'Brien, . . .	ditto, . . .	30 0 0	do.
Patrick O'Donohue, . . .	Overseer, . . .	0 10 0	Weekly.
Patrick Halleran, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
Patrick Stephenson, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
Redmond Sheehan, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
James Silk, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
Thomas Kelly, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
James Jordan, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
Broughton Collier, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
John Leech, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
Michael Power, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
*Patrick Glynn, . . .	Storekeeper, . . .	0 10 0	do.
*Richard Burke, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
*John Butler, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
*Patrick Kinneen, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 10 0	do.
*Michael Connolly, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 7 0	do.
*Peter Birmingham, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 8 0	do.
*Thomas Fallon, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 7 0	do.
*Patrick Regan, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 7 0	do.
*Michael Power, . . .	ditto, . . .	0 7 0	do.

Marked thus (*) are new appointments created by Vice-Guardians.

July 10, 1848.

JAMES SLATOR, Clerk of the Union.

C.

RETURN of Officers of Workhouse, and the Yearly Salary of each :—

Officers' Names.	Office.	Yearly Salary.
		£ s. d.
James Slator, . . .	Clerk, . . .	100 0 0
Charles Nugent, . . .	Master, . . .	50 0 0
Thomas Stephenson, . . .	Porter, . . .	16 0 0
M. D. Nolan, . . .	Medical Officer, . . .	75 0 0
Rev. M. O'Shaughnessy, . . .	Roman Catholic Chaplain, . . .	50 0 0
Cornelius O'Loughlin, . . .	Schoolmaster, . . .	15 0 0
Anne Harte, . . .	Schoolmistress, . . .	16 0 0
Terence Gill, . . .	Apothecary, . . .	40 0 0
Anne Robinson, . . .	Matron, . . .	30 0 0
*James M'Namara, . . .	Assistant Master, . . .	20 0 0
*John Robinson, . . .	Wardsman, . . .	10 0 0
*Stephen O'Donnell, . . .	ditto, . . .	10 0 0
*Mrs. Whelan, . . .	Wardswoman, . . .	8 0 0
*Mrs. Fahey, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0
M. E. Burke, . . .	Head Nurse, . . .	20 0 0
Bridget O'Loughlin, . . .	Assistant Hospital Nurse, . . .	8 0 0
Margaret Harrahil, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0
Anne Crawford, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0
Mary Gibbons, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0
Mary Divany, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0
Mary O'Donnell, . . .	ditto, . . .	8 0 0

Marked thus (*) are new appointments created by Vice-Guardians.

July 10, 1848.

JAMES SLATOR, Clerk of the Union.

D.

Denis Cosgrove, Clerk of Works.—Am clerk of the works, selected by the Architect of the Poor Law Commissioners; have been employed for a considerable part of my life in conducting buildings and work; early in April I arrived at Gort to inspect and direct the works carrying on here and in Loughrea Union. The works now in progress here have been conducted under my superintendence; they are as follows:—

Gort Union.

- 1.—Temporary fever sheds erected on the ground adjoining the workhouse.
- 2.—Raising walls of the idiot cells.
- 3.—Ventilating the house, erecting a bakehouse, repairing and adding to drains, and raising yard walls.
- 4.—Building an additional shed for 100 patients at Kinvarra.

With respect to the first of these works, I was employed soon after my arrival to erect a temporary shed for fifty patients on the ground now occupied by the hospital. This was erected for the purpose of relieving the pressure on the idiot cells. This shed was erected under my superintendence, without a contract. The timber was procured from a merchant on orders of the Vice-Guardians, and I employed the men. I furnished the Guardians weekly with a pay-sheet, and was supplied with a check in payment of the labourers. In the annexed paper I have enumerated all the works executed under my superintendence in the Gort workhouse, and annexed to each the fair price which, to the best of my judgment, should be given. In the account current, also hereunto annexed, I have stated the amount received and the amounts expended. By a comparison of these documents it will be seen that the amount which the works have actually cost has not come up to the estimate I made of them.

The wages paid to the workmen employed on these works were, according to my judgment, fair and reasonable. Much difficulty was found in procuring masons to work on the improvements in the infirmary in consequence of the indisposition manifested by all persons of this class to approach the building from fear of infection. The masons received from 2s. 6d. to 3s. per diem. They were procured from the county of Limerick, as there were none in Gort competent to execute the work.

Masons were sent for from the adjoining Union of Loughrea, but on seeing the place where they were to work, they declined entering upon it. The wages paid to the Limerick masons were the same as that received by them when employed in their own districts.

Sawyers were employed by task at the following prices:—

For a deep cut, 12 ft. by 9 in. . . .	0s. 2½d.
For flat cut, 12 ft. by 3 in. . . .	0s. 0½d.
And for sawing, per 100, ...	3s. 0d.

The carpenters were paid daily wages, varying in amount from 2s. to 2s. 10d., and one who acted as working foreman received 3s. a day. There were a few labourers employed at a time when pauper-labour was not available, and they received 10d. per day.

With respect to the fever sheds at Kinvarra, the contract price is rather lower than my estimate for the same description of shed; this is caused by a difference in the cost of carriage. The contract for the large sheds on the workhouse grounds was taken at the rate at which I have estimated for those executed under my superintendence.

If it were required, at the expiration of a few years, to remove the present sheds and re-erect them on any other part of the workhouse grounds, I would undertake to do it for 3s. 6d. a foot. I consider that by proper care and management these sheds might be expected to last for twelve or fifteen years, and at the expiration of that period much of the timber would be available for other purposes.

I am acquainted with the terms of the contract entered into by the late Board of Guardians for raising the walls of the idiot cells; I consider it a fair contract, leaving a moderate profit to the contractor.

I consider that the contract price agreed upon for the walls surrounding the cemetery is a fair and reasonable price; I think it is less by 2s. 6d. a perch than the wall would have cost if done by the Vice-Guardians themselves without a contract.

I have estimated the cost of raising the walls round the men and women's yards at 6s. per cubic yard, exclusive of coping: the cubic yard contains 27 feet; reducing this to measurement by statute perch, would give the price for a perch 16 feet long by 1 foot high, and 18 inches width (containing 24½ cubic feet), at 5s. per perch; if this was a ground wall it might have been done for 5s. per perch; but having to be executed from a scaffolding, I consider the price to be reasonable.

(Signed,)

D. COSGROVE.

Dr.		Denis Cosgrove in account with the Vice-Guardians of the Gort Union.		Cr.
To amount of checks for payment of men,		257	0 11	By amount of work executed per estimate,	359 2 10
To amount paid for use of quarry,		8	0 0	By value of materials on hands,	52 5 7
To amount paid for boiler,		4	0 0	By Denis Cosgrove's salary, ending July 29,	30 15 0
To amount paid for felt,		18	19 4
To amount paid for hot-plate,		8	12 0
To amount of timber merchant's acct.,		105	16 11
					£442 3 5
		£402	9 2
		£442	3 5
					£39 14 3

July, 1848.

DENIS COSGROVE.

Estimate of Cost for Erecting Temporary Sheds, and sundry Alterations at Workhouse and Auxiliary Buildings.

Gort Union.

SHEDS.		Rate.		Amount.
		s.	d.	£	s. d.
98	Lineal feet of shed, according to plan, (including sketches at per foot)	23	6	115	3 0
45	Lineal feet of half shed, six feet clear breath, and six feet six inches to plate, for clothes' stores in probationary yards, allowing for old timber used, per foot,	6	0	13	10 0
129	Superficial yards of felt on sheds at rear of infirmary, first cost price, carriage, and nails, per yard,	1	0	6	9 0
55	Superficial yards of felt on shed in women's yard, (including labour and nails, per yard,	1	1	2	19 7
BAKEHOUSE.
15½	Cubic yards of hammered masonry in walls, per yard,	7	0	5	7 4
194	Superficial feet of punched jambs, lintels, arches, and quoins, per foot,	0	3	2	8 6
46	Superficial feet of hammered jambs to doors and windows (internal), per foot,	0	1½	0	5 9
3	Window sills, each four feet ten inches long, each,	4	10	0	14 6
1	Door sill, four feet long, ...	—	—	0	4 0
1	Pair of door blocks, ...	—	—	0	2 6
2	Nine-inch brick arches over door and window, (inside) per	2	6	0	5 0
4½	Squares of roofing and queen ton slating, ... per square,	60	0	14	5 0
36	Superficial feet of wrought scantling frames and sashes, ... per foot,	2	0	3	12 0
320	Superficial feet of rough flagging, ... per foot,	0	1½	2	0 0
3	Sets of lintels for opes, ... per	1	10	0	5 6
VENTILATORS.
8	Ventilators with shutters, rim plates, window boards and fastenings, including breaking out for and plastering about opes, ... per	35	0	14	0 0
12	Louvre frame ventilators in wings of main building, with cut-stone sills, painted, &c., ... per	30	0	18	0 0
6	Wrought scantling rebated and chamfered frames for quadrant lights in inner flanks of wings, with cut-stone sills, jambs, &c., ... per	25	0	7	10 0
	To cost of boring risers of platforms in boys' and girls' dormitories, and men's and women's dormitories over day-rooms, and all doors throughout main building and wings, except those over infirm wards and dormitories, ...	—	—	1	14 6
270	Perforated zinc plates in casements of windows, in wings and main building, ... per	0	3½	3	18 9
82	Brackets to fix down upper lights of windows in day-rooms and dormitories of main building, wings, &c., ... per	0	2	0	13 8
DRAINS.
255	Lineal feet of drains from cesspools—fifteen inches by fourteen inches square, side walls fifteen inches thick—flagged top and bottom, the flagging of bottom set on rubble masonry, ... per foot,	1	6	19	2 6
71	Lineal feet of drain, two feet wide by one foot three inches high, bottom flags set on rubble, ... per	2	0	7	2 0
66	Lineal feet of drain leading to and from cesspool in wash-house yard, altered and rebuilt, ... per	0	6	1	13 0
	Building cesspool with cut-stone curb and drop-stone, ...	—	—	1	15 3
	Repairing drains from baths in probationary wards, and mason assisting plumber, ...	—	—	0	8 6
	Taking up and repairing drains to tanks in women's yard, ...	—	—	0	11 0
SUNDRIES.
19.6	Superficial feet of steps to yard doors of infirmary, ... per	0	8	0	13 0
10.6	Superficial feet of flagging set in kitchen, ... per	0	4	0	3 6
	To mason's time and materials for stopping breaches made by paupers in walls of refractory ward, (twice)	—	—	0	6 0
	To carpenter's time and materials repairing door of ditto, ...	—	—	0	2 0
	To taking down partitions in boys' and girls' dormitories, ...	—	—	0	6 0
	To taking out windows in rear wall of wash-house, and breaking out for and setting same in end wall, with cut-stone lintels and jambs, and brick arches inside, ...	—	—	3	1 6
	To building piers of new cemetery, two feet four inches square, and seven feet from ground to caps, hammered work, including materials, ...	—	—	2	1 3
	To breaking out wall of workroom, and forming window ope, six feet by six feet in same, with cut-stone sill, jambs, and arches, ...	—	—	2	1 2
38	Lineal feet of rebated and chamfered scantling frame in ditto, painted, &c.	1	0	1	18 0
1½	Squares of joists, and grooved and tongued flooring in workroom, including dwarf walls eighteen inches high, ... per	50	0	3	15 0
75	Brackets for fever sheds—for labour, timber, nails, and fixing, ... per	0	3	0	18 9
	To a carpenter fourteen days assisting plumber at pump, &c., and casing pipes, (including material), ...	—	—	2	11 8
	To mason's time and materials building about well and pipes, (twice)	—	—	0	8 6
1½	Cubic yards of rubble masonry in building up door ope in probationary yard wall, ... per yard,	6	0	0	9 0
1½	Cubic yards of rubble masonry, and coping course on walling of open well, ... per yard,	6	0	0	9 0
	To carpenter's time and materials, repairing infirmary yard doors, ...	—	—	0	4 4
65	Lineal feet in three large ladders, made of Norway spars, including iron work and painting, ... per	1	6	4	17 6

Gort Union.

		SUNDRIES.		Rate.		Amount.
				s.	d.	£	s.	d.
3	Ladders made of domestic timber, average length each, twelve feet, ...			0	4	0	12	0
	To carpenter's time and timber, for five tressels for mason's scaffolds, ...			—	—	0	12	6
3	Mortar boards, for labour and nails, ...			0	0	0	2	3
	To carpenter's time and materials, repairing stairs and furniture of board-room, easing and repairing doors, locks, hinges, &c., ...			—	—	0	17	0
	To making a fumigating box with tongued lid, and strong wrought-iron strap hinges, painted in three coats, ...			—	—	2	18	0
6	Turf boxes with strong iron handles and angle clasps, ...	per		8	2	2	9	0
6	Trays for dining hall, dovetailed at angles, ...	per		5	6	1	13	0
14	Cross-laid bottoms, with vergers for weighing scales, ...	per		1	6	1	1	0
6	Tables for dining hall, ...	per		11	6	3	9	0
6	Forms for ditto, ...	per		4	0	1	4	0
	To a carpenter, one day, repairing shed in women's yard, (timber and nails), ...			—	—	0	4	6
3	Sets of catches for windows, ...	per		2	0	0	6	0
6	Models for men building wall of new cemetery, ...	per		1	2	0	7	0
	To cost of enclosing tillage ground with rustic paling, including labour, timber, and nails, ...			—	—	4	19	4
	To carpenter's time, timber, nails, sawing, &c., repairing hand and wheel-barrows, handles to sledge-hammers, &c., for men employed at work-house and new cemetery, ...			—	—	5	7	6
	To carpenter's time, and nails, erecting temporary accommodation for clergymen officiating at the consecration of the new cemetery, ...			—	—	0	10	0
24	Superficial feet of frame and louvre boarding to window of bread store, ...			0	4	0	8	0
4	Superficial feet of inch mainseat in tube for cleaning out cesspools (including labour, timber and nails), ...			2	0	0	8	0
50	Brackets for new sheds, ...			0	2	0	8	4

YARD WALLS.

114	Cubic yards of rubble masonry in raising walls of men's, boys', and girls', and probationary yard walls, ...	per		6	0	34	4	0
419.6	Lineal feet of saddle-back paned coping, labour, and materials, ...	per		4	0	6	19	10
318	Lineal feet of splaying coping, ...	per		0	2	2	13	0

BRIDGE HOUSE.

12	Windows hung on centres for ventilation, with out-side and in-side stops, ...	per		2	2	1	6	0
7	Opes formed in walls over door-ways for ventilating dormitories, ...	per		1	6	0	10	6
	To fixing cross-bars to side-lights of dormitory and lobby windows			—	—	0	7	0
2	Louvre frames six feet six inches by two feet six inches, in staircase windows, ...			4	6	0	9	0
1	Louvre frame, four feet by three feet in open of roof, ...			—	—	0	5	0
	To forming and carrying up an air tube from ceiling of second floor to louvre in roof, ...			—	—	0	10	6
	To forming opes in kitchen wall over boiler, for ventilation, ...			—	—	0	2	6
5	Perforated zinc plates in schoolroom window, and side-lights of hall, ...			—	—	0	6	0
	To a carpenter, half day (and materials), repairing stairs, ...			—	—	0	2	6
4½	Cubic yards of dry walling, and mortar penning in cesspool to privy, ...			3	6	0	15	9
8	Superficial yards of rough boarding and bearers covering do., for labour, nails, and bearers, only, ...			1	6	0	12	6
9	Tablets for schoolroom, ...			0	6	0	4	6

LAWN HOUSE.

2	Frames and louvre boarding in opes in gables, ...	per		4	6	0	9	0
2	Ventilators formed in ceilings of dormitories, ...	per		2	6	0	5	0
10	Windows hung on centres, with stops, fastenings, &c., ...	per		2	2	1	1	8
2	Ventilators in roof of dormitory over schoolrooms, repairing, slating, &c., ...			15	0	1	10	0
43	Superficial feet sash and glass in school-room and dormitories, ...			1	0	2	3	0
2	Ledged doors and frames (¾) to kitchen and schoolroom, ...			10	0	1	0	0
	Fitting up master's room, including step-ladder, ...			—	—	0	12	6
	To covering privy with rafters (only), and felt, ...			—	—	0	9	0
	To cost of an eighty gallon boiler, including setting, &c., ...			—	—	6	0	0

MATERIALS ON HANDS.

	Hot plate for bakehouse, ...			—	—	8	12	0
157.6	Lineal feet of wrought scantling, six inches square, for posts of drying frames, ...	per		0	8	5	5	0
440	Lineal feet of rails, four and a half inches by two inches, for ditto, ...			0	3	5	10	0
233	Superficial feet of 1½-inch pine, for tube ventilators under platforms, ...			0	3	2	18	3
13	16-feet 11-inch plank, ...	per		5	4	3	9	4
9	20-feet 11-inch ditto, ...	per		6	8	3	0	0
12	12-feet 9-inch ditto, ...	per		3	0	1	16	0
50	Cubic feet of red pine, ...	per ton		65	0	3	11	6
100	Of fire bricks, ...			—	—	0	14	0
1	Piece of ash for barrows, &c., ...			—	—	0	15	0
115	Tons of rubble stone (including walling of well), ...	per		0	11	5	5	5
120	Barrels of lime, ...	per		0	9	4	10	0

MATERIALS ON HANDS— continued.						Rate.		Amount.			Gort Union.
						s.	d.	£	s.	d.
328	Lineal feet of plank in scaffolds,	.	.	.	per	0	3	4	2	0
29	Superficial yards of felt,	.	.	.	"	0	9	1	1	9
20	Superficial feet of zinc,	.	.	.	"	0	6	0	10	0
76	Superficial feet of punched jamb and arch stones,	.	.	.	"	0	4	1	5	4
								£52 5 7

ABSTRACT.

Amount of work executed,	.	.	.	.	£359	2	10
Amount of materials on hands,	.	.	.	.	52	5	7
					£411 8 5

D. COSGROVE, C.W.

July 1, 1848.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. BOURKE, in reply:—August 4, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 21st ultimo, of your inquiry relative to the Gort Union; and I am to express the thanks of the Commissioners for your report, which is very satisfactory; at the same time I am to observe, that the Vice-Guardians, in providing temporary buildings, did so to meet a pressure, which would otherwise have required an extension of out-door relief.

Mr. BURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 30, 1848.

CONSIDERING that the average cost of a patient in the Wexford fever hospital is much higher than the average given in the estimate of any other hospital which comes before me, I declined signing the estimate for April until some explanation was afforded by the Finance Committee, and I herewith forward their observations (marked A). Fearing that the hospital might be inconvenienced for want of funds, I signed the estimate for April, intending when I came here to make further inquiries on the matter. The estimate for May (marked B) was presented to me on Saturday for signature at a meeting of the Guardians which I attended: several members of the Relief Committee, and Mr. Allen, a member of the Finance Committee, being present, they afforded me every information on the subject, and expressed their anxiety, if they could, to lessen the expenditure of the hospital, now about three thousand pounds a year; they stated that it was the charge for stimulants which the medical officer deemed necessary that swelled the average to the large amount it is, and that they felt they could not interfere with the course followed in this respect by the medical officer; they also informed me that Doctor Courtenay had been sent down at one time by the Board of Health, and made a report on the expensive management of this hospital. The Relief Committee on my suggestion furnished the return (marked C), which shows the cost of stimulants for the last seven months to be more than one-third of the entire expenditure for that period.

I would suggest that this matter be referred either to the Board of Health, or to your inspector, Mr. Phelan, to report specially on it, as, being one purely of medical practice, it is not for me to offer an opinion.

ENCLOSURES.

A.

The CLERK of the UNION to Mr. BURKE:—May 6, 1848.

THE Board of Guardians of the Wexford Poor Law Union have communicated to the Finance Committee your remarks on the fever estimate for April.

The estimate for that month is at the same rate as those preceding, and the Finance Committee do not think they should ask the Fever Committee to estimate lower. The Finance Committee are aware that the expense per patient is higher than in any hospital they are acquainted with—but the extra expense is in stimulants, viz., wine, spirits, and porter. Those in February cost for 160 patients £108 18s. 8d., equal to 5½d. per patient per day; in March, £68 13s. for 170 patients, 3d. per day. It has been ascertained that the quantity consumed is not greater than what was prescribed by the physicians; and as they state that from some peculiarity in the fever prevalent here, they cannot safely prescribe less, the Finance Committee do not think that either they or the Fever Committee could insist on the physicians altering their prescriptions. All the other articles of food and nourishment do not exceed 4½d. to 5d. each patient per day, but a large outlay has been made for sheeting and other necessaries consequent on the great increase of patients.

If the quantity of stimulants now required is equal to what was necessary in February 1s. per day will be all wanted; if only as in March, a large balance will remain to be deducted from the next estimate, as in the estimate now sent up.

B.

FEVER ESTIMATE.—Wexford Union for month of May, 1848.

The united electoral divisions of Wexford, Lady's Island, Tacumshane, Ross Lane, Moyglass, Kilmore, Kilpatrick, Ardcohen, Rathaspeck, Muhrankin, Barmoud, Taghmon, Killurin.

Hospital Expenses.

	£	s.	d.
Cost of 150 patients at 1s. a day each, exclusive of attendance,	232	10	0
Two head nurses at 25s. each; wages and diet at 25s. each,	5	0	0
Three nurses at 1s. 4d. a day each including diet,	6	4	0
Twenty ward maids at 10d. a day do. do.,	25	16	8
Three washerwomen at 1s. a day do. do.,	4	13	0
Apothecary at 2s. 9d. a day,	4	5	3
Porter at 6s. per week,	1	4	0
Barber at 5s. per week,	1	0	0
Two matrons at 1s. 6d. a day each,	4	13	0
Rent of hospital at £5 per month,	5	0	0

	£	s.	d.
Eighteen coffins at 5s. each, ...	4	10	0
A man superintending burials at 1s. a day, ...	1	11	0
	£296	6	11
Balance of the estimate for April, ...	85	6	3
Required for May, ...	£211	0	8

Wexford Union.

FRANCIS LE HUNT,

Chairman of Committee of the Temporary Fever Hospital.

We approve of this estimate as corrected, amount £211 0s. 8d.

RICHARD ALLEN, Chairman.Finance Committee-room, May 27, 1848.

C.

A RETURN showing the collective number of days, and the average number of Patients each day in the Wexford Fever Hospital, the total Expenditure of each month, and the Expenditure for Wine and Spirits, for the use of the Patients, from the 1st October to the 30th April, both inclusive :—

Collective number of days.	Average number of Patients each day.	Average number of days for each Patient.	Total Expenditure.	Monthly expenditure for Wine, Spirits, &c.
1847.			£ s. d.	£ s. d.
October, . 3,245	105	18	234 13 11	77 12 6
November, 2,492	83	20	166 19 9	65 16 0
December, 2,325	75	22	168 0 11	47 18 6
1848.
January, . 3,191	103	25	225 10 7½	84 15 0
February, 4,711	162½	28	307 0 0½	108 18 8
March, . 5,118	165	23	289 6 5	68 13 0
April, . 4,719	153½	18	246 0 2½	87 7 9
			£1617 11 10½	£541 1 5

I certify that the above is a correct statement made out from the fever hospital books.

*Wexford, May 27, 1848.*JOHN FURLONG, *Clerk to the Committee.*The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. PHELAN :—June 1, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith a report which they have received from Mr. J. Burke, Poor Law Inspector, relating to the alleged excess of charges for stimulants provided for the patients in the Wexford fever hospital; and I am to request that you will be good enough to inquire, and furnish the Commissioners with a report on the subject.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. BURKE :—June 1, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 30th ultimo, relating to the alleged excess of charges for stimulants provided for the patients in the Wexford fever hospital; and I am to inform you that Mr. Phelan has been requested to inquire and furnish the Commissioners with a report on the subject.

The enclosure to your report (marked B) is returned herewith.

Mr. PHELAN to the COMMISSIONERS :—June 13, 1848.

IN pursuance of your instructions of the 1st instant, I proceeded to Wexford, and on the 5th and 6th I inspected the temporary fever hospital there, on which I have the honour of making the following report :—

I was accompanied through the hospital by Dr. Law, one of the physicians, all whose patients I examined, when I had an opportunity of observing the greater or less intensity of the disease in each case, and the nature and amount of stimuli given to each; I also examined all the patients of Dr. Cardiffe, the other physician, but was not accompanied by him, as he left the hospital before I had completed the examination of his colleague's patients. The hospital was clean, and, so far as a defective construction of the windows admitted, was fairly ventilated, but it was not sufficiently or satisfactorily ventilated.

Wexford Union.

From the 1st of October, 1847, to the 6th of June, 1,265 patients were admitted into this hospital, and on the first-mentioned day 117 had remained in it from the previous month; in all, 1,376 had been treated in it during that period, and 201 died, making a mortality of $14\frac{3}{4}$ per cent., which is a very high one. This mortality has been nearly equal, in proportion to the admissions and the number under treatment, in each successive month.

When I made the inspection there were 117 patients in the hospital and sheds; 49 of these were males, under Dr. Cardiffe, 68 females, under Dr. Law. About the proportion usually found in other hospitals was in the several stages of fever, or was convalescing, or convalescent; some were marked cases of typhus fever, others were affected with the disease in a milder form, some with it but slightly. I remarked that the severe cases appeared to be more dangerously ill, than a similar number in other hospitals; but whether this was the effect of the gradual progress of fever of a more than usually bad type, or was, to some extent, the result of the early and high stimulation adopted in the treatment, I am unable to state; in fact, it would be a very difficult point to decide, and one upon which I consider that it would be improper for me to give an opinion; although I feel it my duty to advert to the comparatively high stimulation adopted here, as I know that many medical men of eminence are of opinion that, when commenced early and carried far, it becomes a doubtful if not a dangerous practice. As to its effects here, however, I give no opinion, merely contenting myself by stating such circumstances and giving such data as may assist higher authority, if called upon, to give theirs.

I annex a table (A) which shows the number of patients on wine and also whiskey, and that on whiskey only, and the quantity of each given in the last week. It will be perceived that these averages range from 7 oz. of wine in the males to $11\frac{1}{2}$ oz., and from 1 oz. of whiskey, to those who get wine and whiskey, to $3\frac{3}{4}$ oz., whilst, with patients in whiskey only, the range is from $3\frac{3}{4}$ oz. to $4\frac{1}{2}$ oz.; some also get porter. At the female side, the range of wine is from 7 oz. to 9 oz., and of whiskey to this class 2 oz. to 4 oz., whilst to those who only get whiskey, it ranges from 2 oz. to 4 oz.; some also get porter.

I beg to observe, that some of Dr. Cardiffe's patients are ordered as high as 30 oz. of wine and 12 oz. of whiskey daily, and that there were six on 24 oz. of wine each, two of which had also 12 oz. of whiskey each, and the other four 6 oz. each. Some have as low as 2 oz. of wine, but those on a low quantity were generally convalescents, to whom, in most other hospitals, wine is not given, porter, when not contramedicated, and mild nutritious food being then relied on. With Dr. Law, the amount of wine is not quite so considerable; one of his patients had, on the same day, 20 oz. of wine, two, 15 oz. each, and several 10 oz. and 12 oz., ranging down to 2 oz. In his practice less whiskey is ordered, as will be perceived by the table alluded to.

I find that since the 4th of February to the 4th instant, 1,698 bottles of wine have been supplied to the hospital; the supply being daily, or every other day, ordered by the medical officers, generally by Dr. Cardiffe; 42 gallons of whiskey, 1,402 bottles of porter, and 40 gallons of beer were also supplied. During that period the collective number of days spent by patients in hospital were about 20,000. In most fever hospitals the proportion of the patients on wine rarely exceeds one in six, including the convalescents; in many it is not one in ten; but even if it were one in four in this hospital during that period, there would be an average of $8\frac{1}{4}$ oz. for each patient daily, which is, I believe, far higher than the quantity given in most hospitals, and it is to be observed that this is independent of the whiskey and porter supplied.

At a meeting of the Relief Committee, at which the two medical officers attended, I stated that, after having carefully examined all the patients, and seen the quantity of stimulants ordered, I conceived that the quantity was unusually high; and I also observed, that I felt it my duty to remark that, whilst so much greater expense is there incurred for stimulants, the mortality is also very high compared with that in most hospitals. I stated, that although I made these remarks for the information of the committee and for the consideration of the medical officers, I was not prepared to make any suggestion to them on the subject, having, in fact, no authority to interfere in the practice they considered it necessary to adopt. But I expressed a suspicion, that some of the patients which I saw, do or could use the quantity of wine and whiskey ordered for them, of which, however, the medical officers appeared to have no doubt. I further observed that, whilst the patients, with few exceptions, were affected similarly to those I usually see in other hospitals, in which far less expense is incurred for stimulants, the mortality in the latter is considerably less; and although I knew that, in a dense population like that of Wexford, cases of fever of a bad type will often occur, a large proportion of the patients are from the rural part of the Union, and therefore, that the mortality most probably did not so much depend on the town cases.

From the foregoing it will be perceived that I incline to the opinion, that the amount of stimuli used in this hospital is very high, and that perhaps it could be reduced without injury to the sick; but I do not think that any instructions to that effect can safely be given to the medical officers, who are of long standing and in respectable practice. I have, however, reason to believe, that they, Dr. Cardiffe especially, are considered to be in the habit of ordering more stimulants than the other practitioners in the district.

But, independent of the cost of stimuli, it appears to me that the expense of this hospital may perhaps be considerably reduced. Its staff is larger than necessary, I think—a point on which I gave the Relief Committee my opinion; besides, the supply of food and the supervision in respect to it are so defective that, possibly, waste takes place to no small extent. On endeavouring to ascertain what diets were given to certain patients, I found to my great surprise that for several months there is no fixed dietary for the hospital. The medical officers, since December last, have directed no particular diets, so understood, for the patients; in a word, there is neither a dietary nor a dietary book in existence. At this the committee was surprised, when I informed them of it; and to show them that such was the case, I had the matrons and head nurses called up, when, on my interrogating them, the following was admitted to be the routine pursued:—

The matrons receive bread, milk, &c., from those who supply them, but they make no entry of the quantities received. They issue them daily to the head nurses, but they make no entry of the quantities they issue. The head nurses call upon the matrons for the several articles of diet, but they give them no written or printed return of the number for which the diets, or the amount of diets, is required. The nurses have no written document from the medical officers, nor from any other person, respecting the diet to be given to the patients, nor to any patient, but these officers give verbal directions on the subject. Those directions however are, as was admitted by both gentlemen, to give the patients such food as they (the nurses) should deem to be fit for them; leaving it optional to the nurse to give more or less of bread, suppose, as she might consider the patient would be able to use; and in this the nurses stated that they would be, and are, much guided by the wishes of the patients themselves. As an instance of this system I beg leave to state, that I found a man on what the nurse called “low” diet, and that, as he was sitting up (as were many others on what was said to be low diet), I asked how much bread he had daily, when I found, after much inquiry, that he had about twenty-four ounces of bread and one quart of milk—not too much, perhaps, but far from being low diet.

I beg to observe that the matrons and those head nurses appear to be persons of integrity; but a system like this cannot be satisfactory—probably not one of sufficient economy, certainly not one by which an hospital should be conducted.

When the committee perceived this want of a fixed dietary, and the irregular and defective mode in which this important portion of the business of the institution was conducted, they inquired of the medical officers why they permitted it, and why they did not, as was understood, act on a fixed dietary, and make the proper entries daily in a dietary book. On this a scene of the most painful nature occurred. The medical officers inculpating each other, not only as to the want of attention to the dietary, but on other points. Dr. Cardiffe stated that having been sent a form of the dietary by the Board of Health, and having modified it, he was informed by that board that he was at liberty to do so, and he stated that under these circumstances he considered that he was doing all that was required of him. As this gentleman has much influence, I have reason to believe, with the committee, and is the person under whose control the hospital is chiefly conducted, I endeavoured to impress upon him that it was incumbent on him and on his colleague to adopt some dietary, and then to have it acted on, but that they were not at liberty to omit a dietary altogether, as they had done. Dr. Law expressed himself anxious that I would then suggest a form of dietary, and on the committee also appearing to desire it, I was about to do so, when Dr. Cardiffe said he would not adopt one suggested by me—that that which he had got printed was sufficient and might be acted on. I then merely advised that the present system should not be permitted any longer to continue, and that Dr. Cardiffe's dietary, or some other satisfactory one, should be carried out.

Wexford Union.

As my instructions were only to inquire into the expense of the stimuli ordered in the hospital, with a view to be able to offer an opinion if they were quite necessary, or apparently excessive, I did not deem it proper to go into any inquiry respecting those rumoured abuses; but were the hospital to be permanently under the same system, and under the same medical officers, I should deem it advisable that an inquiry into the past would take place, or a change of medical officers be made—without one or both of which I greatly doubt that the hospital will be managed with that economy and system which are essential to its being satisfactorily conducted.

I feel it but due to Sir Francis Le Hunt, the Chairman of the Committee, to state, that his attention to this institution deserves the greatest praise. He goes through each ward, and exposes himself as if he were one of the officers of the hospital. Other members of the committee are also very attentive; but I have seen no other in the hospital.

I suggested some improvement in the ventilation, which the committee promised to act on; and, as I found some of the wards rather crowded, I advised that a smaller number should be kept in them: also that all chronic cases, whether workhouse paupers, or extern rural patients, be discharged—some of both were then several weeks in the hospital, cases for which the workhouse would be the fitter place.

I should not omit to observe that this is the only fever institution in the Union, some parts of which are at an inconvenient distance from Wexford, to admit of the removal of fever patients from them to it. In one district, that of Taghmon, it was considered desirable to establish a temporary hospital—but some influential parties opposed it, stating it to be unnecessary, and that that at Wexford is sufficiently contiguous and available. I have however good authority for believing that those parties did not speak the sense of the middle, and of several of the respectable classes of the district; in fact, unless I am misinformed, a medical man in Wexford canvassed for the situation of medical officer to it, to be given to his nephew, but, on finding that he would not succeed, he used his influence (which is very considerable) to prevent the establishment of the hospital. I mention this circumstance to show the irregular proceedings which take place, respecting relief of this nature, under the Temporary Fever Act.

P.S.—I herewith return the papers sent.

ENCLOSURE.

TABLE (A.)—MALE PATIENTS.

Day.	Number of Patients on Wine and on Whiskey.	Number on Whiskey only.	Total Number of ounces of Wine ordered.	Total number of ounces of Whiskey ordered.	Average number of ounces of Wine for each.	Average number of ounces of Whiskey for each.	Average number of ounces of Whiskey for those not on Wine.
Wednesday, . . .	14	—	128	26	9 $\frac{1}{2}$	1 $\frac{1}{2}$	—
" . . .	—	7	—	30	—	—	4 $\frac{2}{3}$
Thursday, . . .	20	—	151	19	7 $\frac{1}{10}$	1	—
" . . .	—	6	—	24	—	—	4
Friday, . . .	23	—	180	26	8	1 $\frac{3}{5}$	—
" . . .	—	6	—	28	—	—	4 $\frac{1}{3}$
Saturday, . . .	24	—	219	29	9	1 $\frac{1}{2}$	—
" . . .	—	7	—	34	—	—	4 $\frac{1}{2}$
Sunday, . . .	25	—	232	52	9 $\frac{1}{2}$	2 $\frac{1}{12}$	—
" . . .	—	10	—	44	—	—	4 $\frac{2}{3}$
Monday, . . .	21	—	224	56	10 $\frac{2}{3}$	2 $\frac{1}{2}$	—
" . . .	—	11	—	42	—	—	3 $\frac{2}{11}$
Tuesday, . . .	20	—	238	68	11 $\frac{4}{10}$	3 $\frac{2}{3}$	—
" . . .	—	10	—	36	—	—	3 $\frac{2}{3}$

FEMALES.

Wexford Union.

Day.	Number of Patients on Wine and on Whiskey.	Number on Whiskey only.	Total Number of ounces of Wine ordered.	Total number of ounces of Whiskey ordered.	Average number of ounces of Wine for each.	Average number of ounces of Whiskey for each.	Average number of ounces of Whiskey for those not on Wine.
Wednesday, . . .	36	4	261	15	7 $\frac{1}{4}$	3 $\frac{3}{4}$	—
" . . .	—	1	—	2	—	—	2
Thursday, . . .	28	3	252	12	9	4	—
" . . .	—	1	—	4	—	—	4
Friday, . . .	36	7	265	25	8 $\frac{1}{2}$	3 $\frac{7}{8}$	—
" . . .	—	0	—	—	—	—	—
Saturday, . . .	37	5	273	12	7 $\frac{1}{2}$	2 $\frac{3}{4}$	—
" . . .	—	0	—	—	—	—	—
Sunday, . . .	34	4	246	8	7 $\frac{1}{4}$	2	—
" . . .	—	2	—	6	—	—	3
Monday, . . .	32	2	227	6	7	3	—
" . . .	1	—	—	2	—	—	2
Tuesday, . . .	37	4	254	11	7	2 $\frac{3}{4}$	—
" . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

The COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD OF HEALTH:—June 23, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state, for the information of the Board of Health, that Mr. Burke, Poor Law Inspector, having felt some hesitation in countersigning the estimates for the supply of funds for the temporary fever hospital at Wexford, in consequence of the large amount of the items for spiritous liquors, the Commissioners deemed it right to instruct Mr. Phelan to make inquiry on that point, and they have now received a report from him on the subject, of which a copy is enclosed herewith for the information of the Board of Health.

It will be perceived from Mr. Phelan's report, that matters incidentally arose during his inquiry which appear to show that much irregularity exists in the management of the temporary fever hospital; and the Commissioners deem it to be expedient to draw the attention of the Board of Health to the subject.

A copy of the report from Mr. Burke, upon which Mr. Phelan was instructed to make inquiry, is enclosed herewith.

The BOARD OF HEALTH to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 14, 1848.

ADVERTING to your communication of the 23rd ultimo I am directed by the Central Board of Health to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that the board have fully considered those parts of Mr. Phelan's report, of 13th ultimo, which have reference to the administration of wine and other stimulants to the patients in the temporary fever hospital at Wexford.

They have before them the report of their own Inspector, Dr. Freke, of the 22nd June, from which the following is an extract:—

"The enormous sum of £807 19s. 2d. has been expended on wine, spirits, and porter in this hospital since July, 1847, at which time it came under the control of the Central Board of Health. The order book for these articles has been so carelessly and irregularly kept till within the last few months, that it affords no information, which can be relied on, as to the amount ordered for patients during the earlier months. I send herewith an account of the amount furnished, as also of the amount consumed by the patients during the last four months.

"I think it right to observe that Mr. Hughes, the merchant who furnished these articles, is an active member of the hospital committee."

The Board of Health, in order to make the conclusion they have arrived at satisfactory, have obtained returns from other fever hospitals for a period of four months, being the period for which the expenditure is given in Mr. Phelan's and Dr. Freke's reports. From Dr. Freke's report it appears that in the four months of March, April, May, and June there were consumed—1,980 bottles of wine, 58 gallons of whiskey, 1,524 bottles of porter.

Mr. Phelan states in his report that, in addition to the other stimulants, 40 gallons of beer were consumed in four months.

Wexford Union.

During the above period of four months, ending the 30th June, the average number of patients in the temporary fever hospital at Wexford was 132.

In Cork-street fever hospital the average number of patients in hospital for the same period, viz., four months, has been 162, and the consumption of stimulants has been—333 bottles of wine; 785 pint bottles of porter; whiskey, none; beer, none.

In Hardwicke fever hospital the average number of patients has been 124, and the consumption of stimulants has been—754 bottles of wine; 1,662 pint bottles of porter; 39 gallons of whiskey; beer, none.

In the Meath hospital (fever wards) the average number of patients has been 29, and the consumption has been—233 bottles of wine; 894 pint bottles of porter; whiskey, none; beer, none.

In the Dublin South Union (Kilmainham) temporary fever hospital the average number of patients has been 229, and the consumption of stimulants has been—1,220 bottles of wine; 2,425 pint bottles of porter; 16 gallons of whiskey; $7\frac{1}{2}$ gallons of brandy.

Reducing the numbers of the patients in these hospitals to equal terms, the relative consumption of wine and other stimulants will be as follows for four months :—

	Wine, Bottles.	Porter, Pint Bottles.	Whiskey, &c., Gallons.
In Cork-street fever hospital, for 100 patients for four months,	205	484	—
* In Hardwicke fever hospital, for 100 patients for four months,	608	1,340	$31\frac{1}{2}$
In Meath hospital, for 100 patients for four months,	803	3,082	—
In South Dublin Union temporary fever hospital, for 100 patients for four months,	532	1,058	10
In Wexford temporary fever hospital, for 100 patients for four months,	1,500	1,154	44

The exhibition of wine and other stimulants is now to be examined in another point of view. It appears from Mr. Phelan's report (vide table A) that there were in the temporary fever hospital in the week ending 13th June 117 patients, of whom sixty-eight were on wine and whiskey; returns have been obtained from the other hospitals referred to for the same week, from which it appears that there were in the same week on stimulants, viz. :—

	Wine and Spirits.
In Cork-street fever hospital of 156 patients,	24
In Hardwicke fever hospital of 124 „	19
In Meath hospital of 26 „	9
In South Union hospital of 139 „	52

On reducing the numbers as before to equal terms, the relative proportions will be—

	Per cent.
Of patients on stimulants in Cork-street fever hospital,	16
„ „ Hardwicke fever hospital,	15
„ „ Meath hospital,	34
„ „ South Union, Dublin,	37
„ „ Temporary fever hospital,
„ „ Wexford temporary fever hospital,	58

To make this comparison fair, it is necessary to give the average consumption as well as the numbers; it is as follows :—

	Wine. ozs.	Whiskey. ozs.
In Cork-street fever hospital the daily average consumption during the above week for every 100 patients is,	45	—
In Hardwicke fever hospital,	96	19
In Meath hospital (fever wards),	174	—
In South Union, Dublin, temporary fever hospital,	119	4
In Wexford fever hospital,	384	75

* In Hardwicke fever hospital, porter mixed with whiskey, generally in the proportion of one glass of whiskey to a pint of porter, is occasionally administered as a substitute for wine.

It is seen from the above comparisons that both the quantity of wine and spirits consumed, and the proportion of cases in which such stimulants were exhibited, have been excessive in the Wexford fever hospital.

The above observations it is seen refer to the general average expenditure of wine and spirits. The Board of Health would willingly terminate their observations here, but the documents laid before them compel them, reluctantly, to make some observations on the practice pursued in the Wexford fever hospital in reference to individual cases. The Board of Health are well aware how difficult and how obnoxious may be the expression of their opinion on points of practice; and in expressing their dissent from the lavish and injudicious exhibition of wine and spirits at the Wexford fever hospital, they will avail themselves, as already, of a comparison with other hospitals. In Mr. Phelan's report the following passage occurs:—"I beg to observe that some of Dr. Cardiffe's patients are ordered as high as thirty ounces of wine and twelve ounces of whiskey daily, and that there were six on twenty-four ounces of wine each, two of which had also twelve ounces of whiskey each, and the other four six ounces each."

The Board of Health are quite ready to admit that a solitary case of fever may occur, although indeed rarely, in which it is requisite to give stimulants in very considerable quantity for a short period to sustain life, but such cases always form a very small proportion indeed of cases in hospital, and it is impossible to admit that the daily administration to a patient of one bottle and a quarter of wine and three-quarters of a pint of whiskey, could be either requisite or could be even justified. It appears moreover that of forty-nine patients there were six on twenty-four ounces of wine, two of which had also twelve ounces or three-quarters of a pint of whiskey each, and the other four one and a half naggin each. It is impossible to believe that there could be such a proportion as this requiring such an extravagant administration of stimulants. That the Board of Health have sufficient grounds for expressing their decided opinion on a point of practice will be admitted when it appears by the weekly return now before the Board of Health for the month of June, from the four hospitals already referred to for comparison, viz., Cork-street fever hospital, Hardwicke fever hospital, the Meath hospital, and the South Union temporary fever hospital, that of 544 patients under treatment in the month, there was only one case in which twenty-eight ounces, or very little more than one bottle of wine was given within twenty-four hours, and only three cases in which as much as sixteen ounces, or two-thirds of a bottle of wine was allowed in the day; on contrasting this with the disproportionate expenditure in the Wexford temporary fever hospital, the Board of Health cannot hesitate to express their disapprobation of the practice pursued in that hospital.

The following are the tables of mortality for the period of four months from the several hospitals, including the Wexford temporary fever hospital, referred to in this report.

RETURN of Patients admitted in the under-mentioned Hospitals during the Months of March, April, May, and June.

Name of Hospital.	Number admitted.	Discharged.	Died.	Number remaining.	Rate per cent of Mortality.
Cork-street fever hospital, ...	971	757	70	144	7 $\frac{1}{2}$
Kilmainham temporary hospital, ...	1,244	1,064	104	76	8 $\frac{1}{2}$
Hardwicke fever hospital, ...	961	750	86	125	8 $\frac{1}{2}$
Meath hospital, ...	177	134	17	26	9 $\frac{1}{2}$
Wexford temporary fever hospital, ...	855	646	118	91	13 $\frac{1}{2}$

The Board of Health are fully aware that, from the many contingencies* necessary to be taken into the calculation, it is often most difficult to deduce, from tables of comparative mortality, a satisfactory conclusion as to varied mode

* For example, at Cork-street fever hospital it is a rule of the institution, that no patient shall be admitted who has not been previously visited by the extern physician, and certified for as a proper subject for the hospital.*

This rule necessarily excludes the admission of patients whose cases are hopeless; on the other hand, such cases are frequently left by their friends at the gates of other hospitals, and are, as a matter of course, admitted.

* Report on Charitable Institutions of Dublin, ordered by House of Commons to be printed, 1842.

Wexford Union.

of practice; but it will, however, be evident from the above tables, that the result of the disproportionately large administration of stimulants in Wexford hospital has not been favourable.

The Board of Health feel themselves also called upon to state, that, from the want of a dietary and from other matters, the whole internal management of the hospital is very defective.

REPLY to the foregoing:—July 22, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had under consideration your clear and convincing statement respecting the excessive use of wine and spiritous liquors in the Wexford temporary fever hospital.

In regard to the best mode of checking such abuses for the future, the Commissioners are disposed to think that a proper remedy could be provided most effectually by the Board of Health themselves in one of the two following ways, viz., either by their moving his Excellency to determine the appointment of the present medical officer of the Union in charge of the hospital, and to appoint another medical officer for the discharge of the said duties; or by your communicating with the present medical officer, and issuing to him such instructions for his guidance as will lead to an alteration in his present mode of practice in the treatment of fever patients.

Some benefit might also arise by the adoption of another course. If you would be so good as to suggest a dietary for the use of the hospital, with a scale of stimulants in reference to the number of inmates, the Commissioners, acting as Relief Commissioners, might request the Finance Committee and the Relief Committee to accept such dietary and scale of stimulants as the basis of their estimates.

This last expedient would not, however, be so effective or direct as either of the two other alternatives suggested.

THE COMMISSIONERS to the FINANCE COMMITTEE:—July 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Relief Commissioners to forward herewith, for the information of the Finance Committee of Wexford Union, the substance of a report which the Commissioners have received from the Central Board of Health, relative to the excessive use of wine and spiritous liquors in the Wexford temporary fever hospital; and I am to request that the Finance Committee will be good enough to communicate with the Relief Committee in charge of the hospital on the subject.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Central Board of Health to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd instant, relative to the quantity of stimulants used at the Wexford temporary fever hospital; and in reference to the suggestions offered by the Commissioners I am to state, that the Board of Health have instructed the medical officer in charge of that hospital to send up with each weekly report a list of the patients receiving wine or other stimulants, &c., and they have forwarded to the Guardians forms of dietary for the use of patients in the hospital. Should any additional proceedings be necessary, the board will be prepared to attend to the other suggestion contained in your letter; and meantime they will co-operate with the Guardians in enforcing economy in the management of the hospital.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 8, 1848.

ADVERTING to the letter addressed to you on the 14th ultimo, relative to the use of stimulants in the Wexford temporary fever hospital, I am directed by the Central Board of Health to forward to you, for the information of the Commissioners, a copy of a letter which the board have addressed to the chairman of the Wexford Relief Committee, and to Dr. Cardiff, the medical officer of the Wexford temporary fever hospital, on that subject. Wexford Union.

ENCLOSURE.

THE Board of Health have before them the reports of the temporary fever hospital at Wexford for the two weeks ending, respectively, 29th July and 5th August. They feel themselves bound to reiterate their opinion, already communicated to the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland in a report (a copy of which is herewith enclosed), that the consumption of stimulants in that hospital is extravagant.

By the return now before them, it appears that the average number of patients in the hospital for the week ended 29th July, was 62
 And the average number of patients receiving wine and whiskey, or both, was 26
 The highest number in hospital on any one day was on Tuesday, 25th ult., when there were 65

Of this number it appears that 27 were taking wine or whiskey, or both, and that on Sunday, the 23rd ultimo, of 63 patients, more than one-half, or 34, were in like manner on wine or whiskey, or both.

In the second week, ending the 5th August, the average number of patients in hospital was 56, and the average number of patients on wine or whiskey, or on both, was 20.

The highest number of patients in hospital, on any one day, was on Tuesday, 1st instant, when 62 patients were in hospital, of whom 22 were on stimulants as above; it also appears, that during the two weeks referred to, one-third of the whole number of patients in hospital were taking wine or whiskey, or both, which is very much beyond the usual proportion of patients in a fever hospital for whom stimulants are found to be necessary. The Board of Health have examined the return from a fever hospital in Dublin, containing for the past week an average number of 110 patients daily, and the number on wine is only 7, or about one-fifteenth of the whole number; whereas in Wexford fever hospital, for the same time, the average number being 56, the average number on wine or whiskey, or both, was 20, or more than one-third of the whole number in hospital.

The Board of Health have now to observe on the quantity of wine administered individually to the patients. They observe that many of the patients, even females, have been ordered daily, for several days in succession, quantities, varying from sixteen ounces of wine and four ounces of whiskey to twenty-eight ounces of wine and six ounces of whiskey.

Giving all the consideration in their power to the matter, and referring to their former report, from which it appears that the mortality in the Wexford temporary fever hospital has been considerably above the ordinary mortality of other fever hospitals, the Board of Health have to express their disapprobation of the practice of administering such quantities of stimulants, and to express their expectation of seeing henceforth a very considerable reduction in their administration.

Swineford Union.

SWINEFORD UNION.

EXTRACT FROM GUARDIANS' MINUTES:—June 20, 1848.

Resolved—That we earnestly request the Commissioners will kindly obtain for us a loan to lessen our debt to our contractor for meal, as the pressure on us at present is so serious, and likely to continue so for five weeks. We feel confident that we shall be able to repay this loan by Christmas, with any interest charged upon it, as all over the Union the crops are most flourishing; and we feel satisfied the severe pressure will cease in five weeks from this time; and we request Captain Hanley will lay this case before the Commissioners for us.

Captain HANLEY to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 28, 1848.

I YESTERDAY attended the usual meeting of the Board of Guardians; and with regard to the financial affairs of the Union, I suggested the necessity of calling for a statement by advertisement of all outstanding claims, with a view to arranging some mode of adjustment. I was assured of the great anxiety which prevailed on the subject; and that the board was prepared to lay before me a full statement of their liabilities, which I beg to annex.

The contractor for supplying meal having intimated "that with every disposition to afford accommodation to the Union, he would be unable to proceed without a considerable payment on account, the board requested I would lay their case before the Commissioners, trusting for aid, by way of loan, in this great emergency; that a revisor having been appointed, the most expeditious steps would be adopted for arranging the books and striking a rate, sufficient to cover the liabilities of the Union, which would come into operation in harvest, when money is best procurable in this district." I must say, the board evinces the best disposition to do every thing practicable, but without the required aid, I fear we cannot get on. I therefore under all the circumstances beg leave to recommend it to the favourable consideration of the Commissioners.

ENCLOSURE.

LIABILITIES of the Board of Guardians exclusive of any sums due to Government:—

June 27, 1848.

No.	Names of Creditors.	Items.	Amount.
			£ s. d.
1	Messrs. Gallagher, Ballina,	Meal Contractor,	3,763 18 4
2	Do.,	Cheques unpaid,	450 0 0
3	George Horkan,	Milk,	81 4 10½
4	Michael Durkan,	Bread,	45 16 8
5	Do.,	Cheque unpaid,	20 0 0
6	John Kyle,	Groceries, Soap, Candles,	52 7 9
7	Pat Stanton,	Turf,	18 3 10
8	Charles Carroll,	Meat,	11 2 4
9	Michael Cawley,	Groceries,	14 3 10
10	John Mulligan,	Clothing,	37 15 4
11	Anderson, Sligo,	Beer,	14 3 0
12	Messrs. Bryan, Dublin,	Stoves,	17 11 6½
13	Alexander Thom, Dublin,	Books, &c.,	59 12 6
14	Returning Officer,	Election Expenses,	19 3 1
15	Michael Cawley,	Coffins,	13 0 0
16	Rate Collectors,	Poundage,	354 12 0
17	Officers,	Salaries,	187 8 4
18	Sundry small Accounts, (say about)		30 0 0
Total,			5,190 3 5
Cr.—Amount in Treasurer's hands,			£16 18 4 }
Amount sent to the Bank yesterday,			90 12 1 }
Net Amount of Liabilities,			£5,082 13 0

RICHARD KYLE, Clerk of Union.

Colonel VAUGHAN JACKSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 28, 1848.

Swineford Union.

I HAVE been requested by the Swineford Board of Guardians to ask the favour of the Poor Law Commissioners obtaining a loan of £4,000 for the Union, on the security of the rate; and I have been further requested by the Guardians to ask the favour of the Commissioners' attention to the proceedings of the board yesterday, the 27th instant, in reference to this matter.

The Guardians also desire that the Commissioners shall refer to Captain Hanley, Government Inspector, on this subject.

The object of the loan is, to pay Messrs. Gallagher and Co. a debt due them by the Union for meal supplied the poor in the Union.

Messrs. Gallagher and Co. have acted most liberally in their dealings with the Guardians, but the position of the money market makes it most inconvenient to them to have so large a sum owed them in one channel.

The COMMISSIONERS to Sir CHARLES TREVELYAN:—July 1, 1848.

THE Commissioners beg leave to bring under the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, an application which has been made by the Board of Guardians of the Swineford Union, to obtain for them a loan to enable them to lessen the debt due to their contractor for meal, who has intimated to the Guardians that he will be unable to continue the supply of meal without a considerable payment on account.

Captain Hanley, the Temporary Inspector of the Union, in a recent communication to the Commissioners states, that he is constantly bringing before the Guardians the state of their finances, and that he is urging the collectors in every possible way to collect the outstanding rates. He further states, that he fears without some assistance much embarrassment to the Union will arise; that the weekly expenditure of the Union is considerable, and must continue so for a short time; that there is a considerable debt owing to the contractors for supplies, and great difficulty experienced in collecting the rate at the present time; but that a new rate has been made, which will come into collection early in the harvest; and that, as no indisposition to pay the rates has appeared in the Swineford Union, he is satisfied, from the prosperous appearance of the crops, the Board of Guardians will be in a position, before Christmas next, to repay the required advance, and meet its other engagements.

The arrears of rate uncollected on the 31st of May last were £6,406, of a rate of £9,319 made in January, 1848, and put in collection at the close of February. The rate was 3s. 1½d. in the pound.

The collection and expenses were as follow:—

	Collections.	Expenses.
March, . . .	£933 . . .	£1,299 . . .
April, . . .	1,042 . . .	1,561 . . .
May, . . .	728 . . .	1,664 . . .
June, . . .	859 . . .	1,664 (about.) . . .
Now making . . .	3,562 . . .	6,188 . . .
Excess of the Expenses for the four months, £2,626
Debts to the 30th June, . . .		4,453 . . .

The out-door relief in the Union for the week ended the 17th June last cost £467, being about £200 more than the rates collected; and the Commissioners are informed by their Inspector, Mr. R. Bourke, that the destitution in this Union is greatly increased, as evidenced by the numbers on the relief lists.

The Commissioners have now received a communication from the Chairman of the Board of Guardians, in which he states, that the amount which the Guardians are desirous of borrowing is £4,000; and under the circumstances, and looking to the fact that Swineford Union has not participated in the benefits of the British Relief Association, otherwise than in the relief afforded through the public schools, the Commissioners are desirous of placing the application before their lordships, and of recommending it to favourable consideration; at the same time, having regard to the minute of their lordships of the 27th June, the Commissioners consider it probable that if £2,000 be granted to this Union by Swineford Union. — their lordships, the Guardians may be enabled to borrow the remainder from their treasurer, or some other private source; but unless some aid be given to this Union, the Commissioners would entertain serious apprehension that the destitute poor would not have sufficient means provided for their relief.

Sir CHARLES E. TREVELYAN to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 5, 1848

IN answer to your letter of the 1st instant I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to inform you, that their lordships cannot comply with the application of the Board of Guardians of the Swineford Union for a loan of £1,000; it being their intention, as stated in their minute dated 27th ultimo, that any assistance which it may be absolutely necessary to give to distressed Unions previously to next harvest should be given in the shape of grants; and it is also to be observed, that the sum of £6,620 is owing to the public by the Swineford Union, on account of advances made under the 10th Vict., c. 7, for which the rates levied after next harvest will be liable.

Their lordships will not, however, refuse their sanction to grants being made to this Union from time to time until next harvest, to the aggregate amount of £2,000, provided it be fully understood that the further sum required for the support of the destitute poor will be raised by the Union.

These and all other grants to distressed Unions will, as directed in the minute of this board, dated the 28th ultimo, be made in meal or other supplies, in every case in which supplies can be furnished from the government depots.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—July 8, 1848.

ADVERTING to the resolution of the Board of Guardians of the Swineford Union on the 20th ultimo, in which they request the Commissioners to obtain for them a loan to lessen the liabilities of the Union, the Commissioners desire to state, that having regard to the circumstances of the Union they made a representation to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, with a view to obtain some assistance to meet the pressing wants of the Union; and the Commissioners have now received a communication from the Lords of the Treasury, in which their lordships advert to the debt of £6,620 owing to the public by the Union, and state that their lordships will sanction grants being now made to the Union from time to time until next harvest, to the aggregate amount of £2,000, provided that it be fully understood that the further sum required for the support of the destitute poor will be raised by the Union; these advances will be raised in meal or other supplies from the Commissariat Depots: it will, therefore, be necessary that an estimate of the quantity of provision required (to the extent of the £2,000) should be furnished each week to the Temporary Inspector in charge of the Union, through whom all such advances will be made to the Union.

SLIGO UNION.

Sligo Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Sir CHARLES E. TREVELYAN:—July 15, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to forward to you herewith an extract from a report received from their Temporary Inspector, Captain Gilbert, on the 14th ult., together with a copy of resolutions of the Board of Guardians of the Sligo Union, on the 13th June and 11th instant, respectively, relative to the present financial state of the Union; and they request that you will be good enough to bring the subject under the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, with a view to this Union being allowed some pecuniary aid under their lordships' minute of the 27th ultimo.

In making this application in behalf of the Sligo Union, the Commissioners desire to state, that they have not resolved to do so without first urging upon the Guardians, through the Temporary Inspector, to procure assistance by loan from the Union treasurer; in which, however, as the Commissioners learn by a letter from Captain Gilbert, dated the 13th ultimo, the Guardians have been unsuccessful.

The rate collected in the present year in this Union has been about three shillings in the pound in nearly all divisions. Other high rates are being prepared, but are considered by the Inspector as available only to a very small extent before harvest.

Looking therefore to the fact, that this Union did not participate in the bounty of the British Relief Association, except in relief to children attending the schools, and the pecuniary difficulties under which the Union is labouring, the Commissioners recommend to the favourable consideration of the Lords of the Treasury, the application now made by the Board of Guardians; and the Commissioners request that their lordships will authorize the Commissioners to assist the electoral divisions referred to in the Guardians' resolution of the 11th instant, to such an extent as the circumstances of those divisions may seem to the Guardians to require.

ENCLOSURES.

I.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT FROM CAPTAIN GILBERT TO THE COMMISSIONERS.

THE financial state of the Union requires special notice in this report; and I beg to draw the attention of the Commissioners to it, and request their advice and assistance under the circumstances.

The annexed copy of a resolution was passed at the meeting of the board yesterday. In reference thereto it behoves me to add, that the Guardians are most attentive and zealous in their endeavours to economize in every department, and every exertion has been and is still made to collect every shilling that now remains in the collectors' rate-books; but it is totally impossible to calculate in collecting more than £1,500, from the present outstanding rates; part of this will be obtained with difficulty, as the agents of several of the landlords have refused payment, and others are absent. I have ordered a list of absent landlords and their agents to be made out, which I will forward to you so soon as I receive it.

The Guardians do not make an application for assistance because the Unions in the immediate neighbourhood are obtaining it; but they request the Commissioners to consider the enormous expense they have been put to, in enlarging the accommodation of the house and hiring other auxiliary houses in the town, with the additional salaries of officers attached to these houses—all of which have materially added to the expenses of the Union, and diminished the funds. These steps, though expensive, have been adopted in preference to having recourse to general out-door relief.

The estimates for the year commencing 25th March last have already been made out; and the rates necessary for raising the amount have been struck and forwarded for the approval of the Commissioners.

In the electoral divisions where an instalment of the old rate is only necessary, the collectors might receive orders to commence the collection of such instalment at once; but I do not think it possible, unless from some of the highest ratepayers, that any material sum can be calculated on before harvest; and in electoral divisions where a new rate is struck, it will take at least two months to prepare the books.

Under all these circumstances, I have, at the request of the Guardians specified in their resolution, to submit to the Commissioners the necessity of their affording to the Guardians some pecuniary assistance, to enable them to pay off their liabilities and to meet their weekly expenses, till the rate collectors are able to collect sufficient, on the strength of a new rate, to render such assistance no longer necessary, and to repay any loan the Commissioners may be pleased to appropriate to the service of this Union.

Sligo Union.

RESOLUTION of the GUARDIANS referred to in foregoing extract.

Resolved—That the outstanding debt previous to the 25th March, 1848, amounts to £2,000, and the unpaid cheques posterior to that date to the sum of £4,000 up to the 1st day of June, making the liabilities of the Union to amount to £6,000, to meet which there is only £1,500 of the uncollected rate likely to be collected; and that in fact the Union will require the sum of £7,000, exclusive of the £1,500 to be collected, to carry on the in and out-door relief for the six months, from the 25th March, 1848, to 25th September of the same year. Under these circumstances we request Captain Gilbert to make application to the Commissioners to recommend a loan or grant of that sum, or otherwise a supply of provisions as given to other Unions similarly situated.

(Signed,)

JAMES WOOD, Chairman.Board-room, Sligo, June 13, 1848.

II.

RESOLUTION of the BOARD of GUARDIANS on the 11th July, 1848.

Resolved—That this board think it but right to represent to the Poor Law Commissioners, that they have since the passing of the poor law used their best endeavours to carry out its provisions; but that from the almost total absence of employment for the able-bodied labourers, the pressure upon the house for relief still continues unabated; that a three-shilling rate is now nearly exhausted, and that they have no hopes of being able to collect any considerable sum until after harvest; that a sum of £3,000 is due their contractor for meal, who is pressing for payment, as well as other liabilities to the amount of £4,000, making a total of £7,000; that in the adjoining Unions in the county of Mayo, large grants have been made in aid of the rates, while in the Sligo Union nothing has been received either in the way of loan or grant; that although there are in this Union several electoral divisions in which the rates collected are adequate to maintain the poor of the division, nevertheless that there are others in which the case is quite different. Under these circumstances the Board of Guardians consider that they have a fair claim for assistance, such as has been afforded to the neighbouring Unions for electoral divisions circumstanced as are the following:—

Ballintogher, balance against, £777,	rate struck, 3s. 4d.,	new rate struck, 7s. 6d
Ballinakill, do. 609,	do. 3s. 4d.,	do. 5s. 0d.
Riverstown, do. 417,	do. 3s. 0d.,	do. 4s. 4d.
Lissadill, do. 318,	do. 3s. 0d.,	do. 4s. 0d.
Ballymote, do. 178,	do. 3s. 2d.,	do. 3s. 2d.
Cliffony, do. 162,	do. 3s. 0d.,	do. 4s. 2d.
Collooney, do. 124,	do. 3s. 0d.,	do. 2s. 6d.
Ballisadare, —	do. 3s. 0d.,	do. 3s. 0d.

The Board of Guardians are desirous of using their best endeavours to carry out the provisions of the poor law; but if it is overburdened with the support of the poor beyond what it is fairly entitled to bear, the rates will become so oppressive that it will be impossible to collect them.

The COMMISSIONERS to Captain GILBERT:—July 22, 1848.

WITH reference to your recent report on the subject of the financial condition of the Sligo Union, I am directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith for your information a copy of a communication which the Commissioners have received from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury; and I am to request that you will be so good as to report each week the amount in money which you are able to certify will be requisite to enable the Board of Guardians to provide for affording relief to the destitute poor.

Sir CHARLES TREVELYAN to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 20, 1848.

WITH reference to your letter dated 15th instant, enclosing an extract from a report of Captain Gilbert respecting the financial state of Sligo Union, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to convey to you their lordships' authority to give such pecuniary aid to the Board of Guardians of the Sligo Union, as may in your opinion be indispensably necessary for the purpose of defraying until harvest the current weekly expense of the maintenance of the poor in the eight electoral divisions referred to in the Guardians' resolution of the 11th instant; but it must be fully understood, that no portion of the grants made to distressed Unions through the medium of the Poor Law Commissioners will, either in this or in any other instance, be employed in discharging the debts of the Union.

BALLINROBE UNION.

Ballinrobe Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 13, 1848.

WE have the honour to state, that we heard by common report that on Sunday the 2nd instant, the Rev. Peter Conway, Roman Catholic curate of this parish, made a statement in the chapel of Ballinrobe to the effect that a lad was ill-treated in the workhouse of this Union, and that in consequence thereof the boy died; with other statements which we were unable to ascertain in such a distinct manner as to warrant our taking notice of it. But on Sunday last, the Rev. John Morris, the respected parish priest of the parish, contradicted from the altar whatever statement Mr. Conway made, and this day brought the matter more immediately under notice by means of a verbal report. We beg therefore to submit the case to you for your especial consideration, and also beg that you will be pleased to direct that Mr. Bourke, Poor Law Inspector of this district, shall make a full and searching inquiry into this very extraordinary matter with the least possible delay, as we feel that any investigation we could institute would not satisfy the parties who have made the allegation. We have also the honour to transmit with this letter a number of the "Mayo Telegraph" of the 12th July, containing some allusions to the case in question, headed "Poor Laws in Mayo;" which, independent of the report Mr. Morris had made, would have caused us to make this application to you. We shall not now allude to this subject in the shape of a denial. We leave the matter open to a full and searching inquiry, and the master of the workhouse is prepared to stand or fall by its result.

We have also to report, that in consequence of the unseemly conduct of the Rev. Mr. Conway, and the violence of the mob which attended him to the workhouse this day, a serious riot occurred; and Mr. Cuffe, of Creagh, a magistrate of this county, who happened accidentally to be sitting in the board-room was obliged to issue a requisition for the military to attend. We had a large force of the 13th light dragoons and of the 40th infantry on the spot in a few minutes; and were it not for their appearance and decision we could not answer for the consequences.

We cannot conclude our report without some notice of the attention and assistance we received from Mr. Cuffe, who remained until order was restored, and until we left the workhouse. Mr. Kenny, J.P., also came to our assistance, and tendered his support at once when he received an intimation of the riot.

ENCLOSURE.

NEWSPAPER EXTRACT above referred to.

POOR LAWS IN MAYO.

CARLOW-ISING PAUPERS.—The master of the Ballinrobe workhouse is a man named "Murphy," and from "CARLOW!" Will this Murphy be kind enough to enlighten the public as to the cause of the death of the workhouse-boy from the parish of Mayo? He owes it to his own character to do so; as report says, "the boy was beaten to death, and buried shortly after." We ask the Guardians, was there such a person in the establishment? Is he there now? If he is not, where is he? Was he beaten, and by whom? Did he die of that beating, and was he shortly after privately interred? From what we have heard of this dark deed, we must say the community owes much gratitude to the respected parish priest of the Neale, for his exertions in bringing this circumstance to light. The Guardians, if they would not have themselves considered parties in the transaction, must publicly scrutinize the affair; and if, as the report says, Murphy has beaten the boy, and that he died shortly after, they are bound in justice to the laws of this country, to hand him over to the constituted authorities, who will see that justice shall be done to him. If he be innocent, none will rejoice more than ourselves; but his innocence must be proved by a jury of his countrymen. The life of a Mayo pauper is as valuable in the eye of the law as is that of any Carlow adventurer who comes among us to grow fat and rich on the poverty and leanness of the ratepayers of this county.

LANDLORDISM AND GUARDIANISM.—The abuses in the Union of Ballinrobe are, we understand, awful; and the ratepayers, believing (and justly) that there is no use in expecting redress from the Poor Law Commissioners, have determined on removing the grievance when the new rate is struck, by defending with their lives their property against being mismanaged by a staff of cormorant aliens, who strut about with all the pomp and authority of men of consequence, insulting gentlemen who would not be honoured by having the whole staff employed by them as land-stewards and herds. The independent men of Kilmaine, unlike those of Carra and Murrisk, have sufficient manly spirit in them to resist insolence, and that too with effect. In confirmation of this our opinion of the men of Kil-

Ballinrobe Union. maine, we have reason to know that the ratepayers, Protestants and Catholics, have signed an address to that excellent and persevering advocate of the rights of the poor, the Rev. Mr. Conway, R.C.C., thanking him for his exposure of the conduct of the Earl of Lucan, as also of the abuses of the poor law officials in the Ballinrobe Union. They have also determined on informing the Government and the Commissioners of their disapprobation of the mode of administering the relief in the Ballinrobe Union, and their firm resolve to cure the evil by manly resistance. We hope to be able to publish the address of the ratepayers, with Mr. Conway's reply, next week.

INSOLENCE.—We have been told that the inspecting officer of the Ballinrobe Union has had the presumption to ask a highly respectable parish priest to take his oath on a certain subject which that clergyman, in discharge of his duty, had mentioned to him. This is certainly carrying insolence too far. How can the poor starving wretches in Mayo expect credence for their word from this well paid relief inspector when he audaciously asks their parish priest to confirm his statement by swearing on the holy evangelists? What confidence can the public have in the acts of a Government who thrusts such persons into offices to maltreat and starve the poor and insult their only friends, their exemplary pastors? Every act of those fellows tends more and more to widen the already expansive breach which divides the hearts of Irishmen from the British Government.

Dr. DEMPSTER to the COMMISSIONERS :—July 14, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to report for the information of the Commissioners, that a more disgraceful scene I never witnessed than what occurred yesterday at the workhouse, and I trust the authors of it will be brought to justice.

It is necessary to premise, that since the grounds about the workhouse have been laid out in parterres and plots with flowers, &c., as well as a most excellent kitchen-garden in full crop, it has been the practice to place at the outer gate some of the paupers to prevent idle persons coming in and destroying the walks, &c., and more especially on board-days, when numbers of people come from the country looking to be placed on the relief lists. Yesterday there were very few persons at the gate; up to three o'clock P.M. every thing was quiet and in order, when suddenly all matters were reversed. The Rev. Peter Conway, Roman Catholic curate of Ballinrobe, with the Rev. Edward Waldron, parish priest of Kilmolara, came into the board-room in a most excited manner, and without any previous intimation demanded an investigation by the Vice-Guardians. Upon Mr. Fishbourne asking Mr. Conway as to what he wanted said investigation about, Mr. Conway replied, that it had been announced from the altar of the chapel last Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Morris that an investigation would be held at the workhouse this day into the circumstances of a death that occurred in the workhouse some time previously, and to which death and the burial of the boy in the night by the master of the workhouse he, Mr. Conway, had adverted on the Sunday before, and to which death and burial Mr. Morris had given the most unqualified denial that none had taken place.

The Vice-Guardians and myself heard of Mr. Conway's observations from the altar, and we likewise heard that Mr. Morris, the following Sunday, had contradicted Mr. Conway's statement; but there being no foundation for Mr. Conway's report, we gave no heed to the matter. Yesterday a newspaper, published in Castlebar on the 12th inst., was handed to me in the board-room, which the Vice-Guardians have forwarded to the Commissioners, containing a paragraph headed "Poor Laws in Mayo, and Carlow-ising Paupers," and to which I respectfully call the attention of the Commissioners. It is altogether void of truth; no such beating, or death, or burial took place, nor did we—the Vice-Guardians and myself—hear that an investigation was to be held at the workhouse at three o'clock, P.M., on yesterday. Certainly the Rev. Mr. Morris, with Mr. Cuffe, a magistrate of this county, came to the board-room about two o'clock; but they stated the object of their visit to be relative to matters connected with the temporary fever shed of Ballinrobe, having been members of the late committee; and it was not until the arrival of Mr. Conway that the other circumstance was spoken of.

Mr. Conway was accompanied by a large mob of people from the town, who, wishing to force into the gateway, were prevented by the paupers; and it turned out that the master of the workhouse happened to be at the gate when the reverend gentlemen, Messrs. Conway and Waldron, wanted to bring in some persons along with them, and which the master objected to, seeing the riotous state of those attending Mr. Conway. It is reported that the two clergymen assaulted the master, when immediately the riot commenced in earnest: a general attack upon the house by the mob, stones flying in every direction, and in fact had it not been for the timely aid of the cavalry and infantry, with police, many lives would have been lost—Mr. Cuffe having sent for the force, and was obliged to read the riot act.

Mr. Fishbourne told Mr. Conway that an investigation should be called for by the Vice-Guardians themselves, and that they would request the Commissioners to direct a gentleman to be sent here for that purpose; for although the Vice-Guardians and I might enter into the case, yet we were certain that the result of our inquiries would not answer the purpose of Mr. Conway, who had already stated to the public, as facts, what never existed. Mr. Conway left the board-room in a very excited manner, and we heard nearly paid the penalty of his indiscretion by getting into the midst of the stone-throwing before the military arrived. The excitement continued all the evening in the town, and we were under the necessity of having a police force left at the workhouse for the protection of the property, from the threats held out by the towns-people against the paupers in the house, and every one connected with the establishment. I think it would be a just punishment to stop out-door relief to the able-bodied of Ballinrobe electoral division, for a time at all events; and I have stopped the issued of bread to the school here, as the boys were amongst the most active in stone-throwing.

Ballinrobe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to Dr. DEMPSTER, in reply:—July 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 14th instant, reporting the occurrence of a riot at the Ballinrobe Union workhouse on the 13th instant; and I am to state, that the Commissioners approve of the course adopted by the Vice-Guardians in reference to the parties who have joined in the riot, as it cannot be supposed that such parties were really destitute.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. R. BOURKE:—July 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward to you herewith reports which they have received from the Temporary Poor Law Inspector and Vice-Guardians of the Ballinrobe Union, respectively; and I am to request that you will be so good as to inquire into the facts of the cases therein reported.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 14, 1848.

WE have the honour to state, that we have received a written communication from Doctor Dempster, Temporary Poor Law Inspector of this Union, calling on us to stop the rations from the paupers receiving relief in the townland and vicinity of Ballinrobe in consequence of the riot which occurred at the workhouse yesterday, and which we had the honour to report to you last night; but we do not feel called upon to take such a rigorous step under the circumstances. However, as many of the rioters can be identified, we intend, with your consent, to stop the rations from any of them who we find are receiving out-door relief. Your early attention to this matter is requested.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—July 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your reports of the 13th and 14th inst., respectively; and I am to inform you that the Commissioners have instructed their Inspector, Mr. R. Bourke, to inquire into the circumstances respecting the case of the boy in the Ballinrobe workhouse, who is alleged to have died from the effects of ill treatment.

With reference to your communication respecting the riot at the workhouse, I am to state that the Commissioners approve of the course adopted by you in reference to the parties who have joined in the riot, as it cannot be supposed that such parties were really destitute.

Ballinrobe Union. EXTRACT from a REPORT from Dr. DEMPSTER, to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 15, 1848.

REFERRING to my report of occurrences at the workhouse on Thursday last, I beg now to state that on this day the Rev. Mr. Conway had informations sworn before a magistrate against Mr. Murphy, the master of the workhouse, for the murder, as he alleges, of a pauper named Magovern, a child aged seven years. This child was seized suddenly on the 31st of May last, with bronchitis; was taken to hospital, and died same night. Mr. Conway, finding he could make nothing of the first case, reported in the Telegraph newspaper—a boy from electoral division of Mayo, aged fourteen years, who enjoys rude health at this moment in the workhouse—now attempts to follow up his original charge of murder by the present. As this will be the subject of judicial inquiry, I shall not further comment on this extraordinary case; however, I cannot refrain from observing, that the Rev. Mr. Conway, by his acts and speeches, is keeping this town in a state of very great excitement. I forward two depositions, the one by David Kelly, the relieving officer of the Ballinrobe electoral division, the other by a person employed in assisting at the distribution of the rations in same division, by which the Commissioners will perceive how the reverend gentleman is conducting himself. I request these two documents may be returned, as they will be required; and I have no copies of them.

ENCLOSURES referred to in foregoing.

GENTLEMEN,

Ballinrobe, June 30, 1848.

HAVING reported to you on last board-day my inability, in consequence of certain parties applying for relief on the days set apart for distribution; I have to say that the person to whom I alluded to in that letter was the Rev. Peter Conway, who wants me to give relief to all who apply to him indiscriminately; and on my refusing, threatened to go at the head of the parish and break open the meal store to get it for them. On his saying this I replied, that I would wish to see him do so, and that I would leave the case before the Vice-Guardians. This threat was used to me twice.

(Signed,) D. KELLY, Relieving Officer.

To the Vice-Guardians, Ballinrobe.

County of Mayo, } The deposition of David Kelly, relieving officer of the Ballinrobe to wit. } electoral division, and Union of Ballinrobe, being duly sworn on the holy evangelists, states that the within statement as to the threats held out by the Rev. Peter Conway, is true.

DAVID KELLY.

Sworn before me, this 30th day of June, 1848,

JAMES DEMPSTER, M.D., Temporary Poor Law Inspector.

County of Mayo, } The deposition of Thomas Thompson, of Ballinrobe, in said county, to wit. } yeoman, who being duly sworn on the holy evangelists, and examined, saith, that he assisted Mr. David Kelly, the relieving officer of the electoral division of Ballinrobe, in the Union of Ballinrobe; and that on many occasions of so assisting said David Kelly, in giving out the meal to the people on the relief lists of said electoral division, he has been interrupted by the Rev. Peter Conway, Roman Catholic curate of the parish of Ballinrobe, who, at the head of a mob of people, came to the stores, and with threats and menaces attempted to prevent him, deponent and his assistants, in giving out the said rations to the people, inasmuch that persons not upon the relief lists or those passed by the Vice-Guardians were brought to the store by the said Conway, who then and there threatened deponent, with those assisting him, if he, said deponent, did not give meal or rations to such persons as he, the said Conway, ordered, he, said Conway, would by force compel deponent to do so. And deponent states, that several times said Conway threatened to break into the stores if the meal was not so given as he ordered.

Deponent further swears, that he attended mass at the chapel of Ballinrobe, on Sunday the 2nd day of July, inst., when the said Rev. Peter Conway spoke from the altar of said chapel, when addressing the congregation—that the Vice-Guardians of the Union of Ballinrobe and the Inspector of said Union should be transported for fourteen years, the thing they were best acquainted with, or words to that effect; and said, that the government of the country was sending down money for the support of the poor of the country, but that the said officials, meaning the aforesaid Guardians and the Inspector, out of every shilling so sent down for the support of the poor as aforesaid, pocketed ten pence, and only gave two pence to the poor; which observations of the said Rev. Peter Conway, as deponent believes, were calculated to bring the aforesaid officials, meaning the Vice-Guardians and the Inspector, into collision with the mob, over which said Mr. Conway, to deponent, seemed to have complete command. Ballinrobe Union.

THOMAS THOMPSON.

Duly read by deponent before being sworn,

JAMES DEMPSTER, M.D.

Witnessed the above,

Dated, Ballinrobe, July 15, 1848.

DAVID KELLY.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 18, 1848.

WE have the honour to report for your information, that the master of the workhouse was yesterday committed to the county gaol to stand his trial on a charge of murder. We will place the schoolmaster in temporary charge of the house until we hear further from you; and we beg to repeat our anxiety to have the assistance of Mr. Bourke as soon as possible.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS, in reply:—July 19, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th inst., reporting that the master of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union has been committed to gaol to stand his trial on a charge of murder; and I am to express the Commissioners' thanks for your communication.

I am at the same time to state, that Mr. Richard Bourke's address, by the post which leaves Dublin on Friday next, is Ballinrobe; and the Commissioners presume that he may be expected to arrive in Ballinrobe on Friday or Saturday.

The PROTESTANT and ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS of the WORKHOUSE to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 18, 1848.

A SOLEMN sense of the most imperative duty devolves upon us, the chaplains of the Ballinrobe workhouse, to call upon you, the Poor Law Commissioners, in this critical juncture as regards Mr. Murphy, to throw the entire shield of your protection around this injured man.

You will of course be informed by the Vice-Guardians of the circumstances to which we refer, and therefore it is needless for us to enter into particulars; but we desire to record for your further information, that we believe him to be the intended victim, if possible, of as awful a conspiracy as was ever concocted. And most conscientiously believing this, we would be wanting to our sacred calling did we not unequivocally declare it, in our respective official capacities, to you his highest accredited superiors, possessing as you do full power in his behalf.

We write not at the dictation or suggestion of any; and the very fact of our difference in creed may tend to evince our greater unity in making this communication.

But what is the case? A man of unblemished integrity, serving you faithfully, and above all suspicion as to his moral character in the sight of those who are daily observing him, is foully charged with the dreadful crime of murder—is actually incarcerated on that charge, through the most manifest corruption of evidence.

We know that it is scarcely possible, or within the range of possibility, that he could be found guilty; but we respectfully tell you that as no efforts of any kind will be left untried to accomplish this horrid purpose, it is your bounden duty in the sight of God and man, not alone to vindicate the righteous cause of your aggrieved servant, but for the public weal never to rest until you are successfully instrumental in bringing to justice the instigators and abettors of such daring iniquity.

Bear in mind, gentlemen, that the aversion to the whole poor law system has taken such hold of the people of all classes (in this district at all events), that almost every man's judgment is valueless except for opposition; and that this feeling has been so excited as to have been already made to bear with unjustifiable severity upon this poor man, and may eventuate in very frightful consequences indeed.

Ballinrobe Union.

What then may not be said, if you do not boldly and unhesitatingly come forward in Mr. Murphy's defence, and place at his disposal the most ample means thereto?

Is it to be expected that so humble an individual, with his pittance of salary, in a strange country, away from friends, can be able (except it be indeed on the platform of his own innocence), to take his stand against a combined array of envenomed accusers, all contributing unsparingly to his persecution and to his prosecution too?

God forbid that we should seek to screen him if guilty; but being so thoroughly persuaded of the contrary, nay of the malice of his enemies, we cannot too strongly express this our conviction of his innocence, nor yet find language at all adequate to set forth our abhorrence of their conduct.

Hence we appeal to you gentlemen, and through you to the Government of the country, for Mr. Murphy's full protection.

We again respectfully demand for him at your hands, at any cost, the most prompt and able advocacy that can be had; and that you will not fail to follow up most strenuously the vindication of his innocence, as he does and will undoubtedly deserve.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CHAPLAINS of the WORKHOUSE, in reply:—July 19, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th instant, relating to the committal of the master of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union on a charge of murder.

In reply I am to state, that the Commissioners have instructed their Inspector, Mr. Bourke, to make a searching inquiry on oath into the circumstances of the death of the children of the workhouse, who, as it is alleged, were murdered by the master.

When the Commissioners receive a copy of the evidence, they will be in a position to take such steps in reference to the master as the laws of the land will permit, and the circumstances of the case will seem to require.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. R. BOURKE:—July 20, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith a communication which they have received from the chaplains of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union, relating to a charge of wilful murder preferred against the master of the workhouse. I am also to forward a copy of the Commissioners' reply.

Dr. DEMPSTER to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 18, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to state for the information of the Commissioners, that on Monday night very great excitement existed in this town in consequence of a report that a man had escaped from the workhouse, where the officers were attempting to murder him.

I was in my office about half-past eight o'clock, when a terrible uproar was in the street, and instantly a thundering knock was made at my hall-door, which being answered by the servant, it was announced that the Rev. Mr. Conway was at the head of a mob, and wanted to see me. I went to the door and found Mr. Conway, accompanied by Mr. Martyn, the magistrate, who took the informations against Mr. Murphy, the master of the workhouse. Mr. Conway was leaning upon a pauper, whose face was covered with blood. Mr. Conway called to me to look at the man, whom he stated had been rescued from the murderers in the workhouse. This he said as if to me, although addressed to the mob which followed him. I requested Mr. Martyn and Mr. Conway to walk in, and to bring the man along with them, so that we might examine into the matter. I asked Mr. Martyn to investigate the case, but he wished that I should do so. I did so, and so villanous a case of conspiracy never was exposed.

The man, named Martin Casey, had entered the workhouse on Saturday last; that he attempted to leave it on Monday afternoon by scaling the walls; he had got a new shirt belonging to the Union with which he was making off; he was detected by some of the paupers and brought back before he got over the boundary wall, and was put into the refractory cell by order of the schoolmistress—no other person in authority being at the time in the house, all others being ordered to the court-house to give evidence before the bench of magistrates. Ballinrobe Union.

Whilst in the refractory cell, which he called the black-hole, he stated that a man from outside threw a stone at him through the window of the black-hole, which, striking him on the head, severely injured him and cut and blooded him; this I made Casey repeat circumstantially several times—Mr. Martyn, J.P., acting as interpreter. When I got this matter out I saw at once it was altogether a made up case of subornation, for, as the Commissioners, by referring to the plans of the workhouses, will see that there is no window in these refractory cells, only a slit for air and light, but so made that no one from outside can see into the cell, nor by any possibility throw a stone into it.

On the arrival of the assistant master and porter, &c., from the court-house in Ballinrobe, Casey was liberated, and again made an attempt to get away, in which he succeeded, and came to Mr. Conway, who made out the case and brought the man before Mr. Martyn, as a magistrate. I saw that there was no blood on the shirt collar of Casey, nor any on his coat when he was brought into my office; and being suspicious of the case altogether I thought he was not injured at all, and having heard him say it was in the black-hole he got the blow from the stone confirmed me that I was correct. I had his head examined in presence of Mr. Martyn, by a medical officer of the army who came into my office, who washed off the blood; and there was not even an abrasion of the skin—no wound—no cut or mark even—the man's face had been smeared with blood for effect before the mob.

It was arranged that Mr. Martyn should attend at the workhouse this day at ten o'clock, there more fully to examine into this case; and I said I would get Mr. Arabin, the resident magistrate also, and the Vice-Guardians to be there. I was punctual to time. Mr. Arabin was there; examined the black-hole; saw the impossibility of any stone being thrown through the slit: the Guardians also came. At twelve o'clock I received the accompanying letter from Mr. Martyn, from which the Commissioners will draw their own conclusion. Neither Mr. Conway nor Casey made their appearance, nor has that reverend gentleman made any further stir in this matter; he sees he has gone too far in it, as he was told in my office by Mr. Martyn last night.

Mr. Murphy has been removed to Castlebar gaol for trial at the ensuing assizes. It is not for me to comment on his case, but I must say, that the magistrates would not have retarded the cause of justice in the least if they had waited for the investigation called for by the Vice-Guardians; from which no doubt whatever exists by those who are unprejudiced, that the master must be triumphantly acquitted of those foul charges advanced against him.

I have now been nine months in constant, I may say daily contact with him, and a better public officer I do not know. When it is borne in mind of what materials the congregated paupers in a workhouse are composed, it requires a man of decision and firmness to deal with such a body; and Mr. Murphy had these qualifications. I never saw more sorrow and regret than was exhibited by every inmate in the establishment at the committal of the master; that he was a humane man the punishment-book of the house plainly points out. He will be a great loss to this Union. However, I trust he soon will be liberated, and that those who thus endeavour to injure him, will receive the just punishment of their misconduct.

ENCLOSURE.

Mr. MARTYN to Dr. DEMPSTER :—July 18, 1848.

THE case of Martin Casey, who you examined in my presence on last evening, seems to me so very unimportant that I believe it useless for me to repair to the poorhouse at 10 o'clock this morning as you requested.

His confinement in the black-hole, of which he complained, was justified; as by his own admission he got over the wall of the yard of the poorhouse and was found in a field of potatoes on the other side.

As to the assault which he stated was made upon him during his confinement in the black-hole, he declared that he could not see or did not know the person who committed it.

Ballinrobe Union.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 19, 1848.

WE had the honour yesterday to report that the master of the poor-house had been committed on a charge of murder, but we were then prevented giving you a detailed account of the extraordinary circumstances that have occurred subsequent to the riot reported in our letter of the 14th instant, having been called upon to attend at the poorhouse at ten o'clock to meet the Rev. Mr. Conway, to investigate a charge of violent assault said to have been committed on an inmate of the house. Accompanied by Doctor Dempster and Mr. Arabin, R.M., we attended accordingly, and waited two hours without seeing any thing of the reverend gentleman, or hearing any thing further of the matter. The circumstances of the case, as stated to us by Doctor Dempster, are as follows:—"At a late hour on Monday evening, Mr. Conway, accompanied by Geoffrey Martyn, Esq., a magistrate for this county, called at Doctor Dempster's house, leading a man whose head and face were covered with blood, as if from the effect of a wound; Mr. Conway saying, in presence of a large concourse of persons who had followed him—'here is another instance of the murderous system of the poorhouse!' Doctor Dempster brought the two gentlemen and the man into his office, where the latter deposed to his having been in the poorhouse and to his having been placed in the refractory cell; and whilst confined there that he had been cut in the head by a stone thrown through the window. There not being a window to the cell naturally excited suspicion, when Doctor Dempster, jun. assistant-surgeon, 33rd regiment, being present, washed the man's head and face, which he and Mr. Martyn immediately examined, without being able to find even a scratch or any other mark of violence upon him. The case was one evidently got up to still further excite the populace of this town, who, since Thursday last, have been kept in a very agitated state. Mr. Martyn has since written to say he considers the case so unimportant, he does not intend to make any further investigation; but we trust, that under the present circumstances, you and the Government will think it highly important to have it thoroughly sifted, and the guilty punished."

During the riot on Thursday last, a person named M'Cue, a recipient of outdoor relief, attempted to force his way to the poorhouse, and resisted the master, who endeavoured to prevent him. M'Cue summoned the master before the petty sessions on Monday last, where a number of magistrates attended—some from distant parts of the county (one, for instance, from Westport). The assault was sworn to, and the majority of the bench agreed to fine the master £1 and £1 costs, to be paid to the prosecutor. It was urged on the defence, that by the general orders of the Commissioners, no person except those therein authorized could enter the poorhouse premises without permission of the master, or by order of the board; but we understand it was announced by some magistrates, they did not consider your orders of any force, with many other expressions of hostility to the poor laws; and said by the law of the land they would decide. If this decision is allowed to stand, it will be quite impossible that the poorhouse can be properly conducted, or that we can hold our boards free from the interruption of all who may choose to come there. We would therefore respectfully urge upon you the necessity of having your own authority vindicated in this matter, and the verdict of an improper one set aside.

We shall not further remark upon the charge of murder against the master. Mr. Burke, on his arrival can fully investigate that matter; but we feel ourselves imperatively called upon, from the hostility to the poor laws, and all concerned in their administration—which is not even attempted to be disguised by any class in this county—to state our conviction, that every effort is being made, by subscription and otherwise, if possible, to prosecute the master to conviction; and that his previous conduct fully entitles him to your protection and support.

We have thought it necessary to go fully into detail of the circumstances of those cases in order to lay the matter fully before you; and trust that you will consider them of such importance as to warrant our writing at such length.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—July 20, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, copies of reports which the Commissioners have this day received from the workhouse and the Vice-Guardians of the Ballinrobe Union, relating to the alleged ill treatment of an inmate of the workhouse of that Union; and I am to state that the Commissioners are desirous that the particular attention of His Excellency should be requested to these reports.

Ballinrobe Union.

The Rev. JAMES ANDERSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 20, 1848.

I SEND herewith copies of testimonials of character given to Mr. Murphy on his retirement from the Carlow workhouse, and on his appointment here, by the Roman Catholic chaplain of the Carlow workhouse, and the Roman Catholic bishop in that country.

I send these testimonials (which I got almost accidentally yesterday lying at the workhouse here mixed up with other papers of no great consequence) as a corroboration of the testimony in his favour signed by the Rev. John Morris, P.P., Roman Catholic chaplain here, and myself, the Protestant chaplain.

As Mr. Morris has been from home these two days, and has not yet returned, I cannot obtain his signature to this communication, but you may consider it as virtually signed by him, for both he and I entertain the highest opinion of Mr. Murphy, and the utmost abhorrence of the malignant conduct now being pursued towards him.

It is to be hoped that you will be true to your aggrieved and faithful servant, and indeed by doing so, you will be but upholding your own respectability.

ENCLOSURE.

MR. MURPHY, now master of the Ballinrobe workhouse, I know intimately; he had been teacher in the Carlow workhouse school, from the opening of that institution up to the day of his appointment to Ballinrobe. To Mr. Murphy is due the highest credit for the manner in which he discharged his duties as teacher in our workhouse school. His intense anxiety for the improvement of the poor children under his care, formed the subject of conversation and the theme of praise with every one connected with the workhouse; and surely the progress made by the children in acquiring a fair English education, affords to all evidence the most conclusive, that he possesses knowledge, good sense, and a practical love of habits of industry and perseverance so requisite to give efficiency to his wishes. I regret the services of such a man are now lost to our house. As to Mr. Murphy's moral character I speak the sentiments of all here, when stating it is excellent; and though Mr. Murphy is a Protestant, it is my duty and delight to declare he was ever equally kind to Catholics, as to those who profess his own religious creed. He is possessed of too much good sense to make odious distinctions on the mere score of religion. In a word, Mr. Murphy is a man in whom may be placed confidence unlimited for kindness of heart, good sense, impartiality, and probity. What I have expressed in the above few lines, convey to the mind of the reader only a faint idea of what I believe to be Mr. Murphy's real worth and deserts.

W. JOYCE, R.C. Chaplain of Carlow Workhouse.

September 19, 1847.

MEMORANDUM.—The above was sent to Mr. Murphy by post to Ballinrobe by Mr. Joyce from Carlow, Mr. Murphy having been at Ballinrobe from the 26th August, 1847.

Mr. Murphy has been teacher in the Carlow Union workhouse since that institution has been put in operation; and I feel it is due to him to state, that he has conducted himself very much to my satisfaction.

I have never in a single instance found that he made any attempt to interfere with the religious principles of the Catholic children, and an attempt of that kind could not be made without coming to my knowledge.

✠ F. HALY, R.C. Bishop of Kildare and Leighlin.

Dated at Carlow this 24th day of August, 1847.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Rev. J. ANDERSON in reply:—July 22, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, relating to Mr. Murphy, master of the workhouse of the Ballinrobe Union; and I am to state in reply, that the documents forwarded by you are satisfactory, as showing the estimation in which Mr. Murphy was held, previously to his appointment as master of the Ballinrobe workhouse.

Mr. R. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 22, 1848.

WITH reference to your letters of the 15th and 20th instant, directing me to inquire into the facts of the cases reported in certain communications addressed to you by the Temporary Poor Law Inspector and the Vice-Guardians of the Ballinrobe Union, and enclosing a letter from the two chaplains of the workhouse on the same subject, together with a copy of your reply, wherein you state that I have been instructed to make a searching inquiry upon oath into the circumstances of the death of the children, who it is alleged were murdered by the master; I have now the honour to inform you, that on my arrival here this day I had an interview with the chairman of the Vice-Guardians, the Temporary Poor Law Inspector, and the resident magistrate, and that in consequence of the information obtained from them, I have determined to postpone holding any formal inquiry until I shall receive your further instructions.

Ballinrobe Union.

It appears that on Thursday the 13th instant a large concourse of people, led or accompanied by a Roman Catholic curate named Conway, and a parish priest named Waldron, appeared at the workhouse gate demanding admission. This was refused in consequence of their numbers and the violence they displayed; and after several efforts had been made by the people to force an entrance, and by the clergymen to procure it for them, the master opposed force to force, and a riot ensued, the particulars of which have already been made known to you.

It appears that the assemblage of people at the workhouse originated in a belief, that an investigation would be held there on that day into certain accusations against the master of the workhouse for violence towards the inmates, resulting in murder, which were made by Mr. Conway to his congregation on Sunday the 2nd instant, and contradicted on the following Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Morris, the parish priest. It further appears that Mr. Conway and Mr. Waldron entertained this opinion, for they stated it in the board-room.

The riot was with difficulty quelled at the workhouse, and the rioters were pursued by the troops into the town; but no further proceedings appear to have been taken by Mr. Conway or Mr. Waldron until Saturday the 15th, when informations having been sworn against the master of the workhouse for the wilful murder of a boy at the time an inmate, he was apprehended and (after considerable opposition on the part of the magistrate who received the information) allowed to give bail for his appearance at the ensuing petty sessions. On the Monday following the case was heard, and terminated by the committal of the master to take his trial at the approaching assizes of Castlebar; and he is now a prisoner in the county gaol.

In this posture of affairs it appears to me impossible that I could effectively conduct any inquiry into the charges against the master, or into the circumstances of the riot; and as the truth will probably be made known when the judicial inquiry shall take place, it appears to me to be right to postpone any proceedings until after the trial, which must come on within a fortnight; besides, any interference upon my part at present might be open to misconstruction. If you should not agree with me in this opinion, I shall be ready to proceed in any manner you may direct.

I purposely abstain from comments upon the conduct of the Rev. Mr. Conway during the whole of these transactions, or upon the decision of the justices, as to admitting Mr. Murphy to bail. The latter has been brought specially under the notice of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, by a report from the resident magistrate, Mr. Arabin; and I trust that after the trial is over means may be taken to prevent the repetition of such violence and outrage, as that enacted here on the 13th, through the instrumentality of Mr. Conway. But I may be allowed to state, that it is clear beyond all doubt that Mr. Murphy is the object of a very foul conspiracy; and I hope that you will not deem it improper to assist him in procuring such advice and evidence in his defence as may place his conduct and character in its true light before a jury, to which perhaps his case may be brought. I return the enclosures to your letters.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. R. BOURKE in reply:—July 25, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 22nd instant, relative to the proposed inquiry into the conduct of the master of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union; and I am to state, that under all the circumstances of the case the Commissioners approve of your not holding the inquiry adverted to in the Commissioners' instructions of the 18th and 20th instant.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 22, 1848.

Ballinrobe Union,

It occurs to us that it may have been reported to his department by Captain Bindon, R.N., sub-inspector of police in this town, that the Vice-Guardians refused to give him an account of how the riot commenced at the workhouse on the 13th instant; and as reference may be made to you on the subject, we think it necessary that you shall be informed of what passed between Captain Bindon and us on that occasion. When the requisition for the attendance of the police and military was given by James Cuffe, Esq., J.P., Captain Bindon was absent from the town attending the inquest on the body of the child, John Philbin, who died in the electoral division of Ballinrobe, on which case we have had the honour to report. Upon his arrival at the workhouse after the rioters had been dispersed, he entered the board-room and required to be informed what had taken place, why the military and police had been called on, and how the riot began? We told him that we did not see the commencement, and could not therefore inform him, but that he could hear it from others, and that the military and police were there by the orders of Mr. Cuffe. Whilst in the board-room he said he spoke officially, and that if we did not give him a report in writing he would report us. We told him it was out of our power to do so as we were at the time engaged at the board-room table examining the application books, and did not see how it began. He repeated that he would report us, to which we replied he might do so if he thought proper; that we would not presume to dictate to him as to what course he thought proper to pursue, and that he must allow us to judge and act for ourselves. Next morning he wrote the note, a copy of which we forward together with the answer thereto.

ENCLOSURE in the foregoing.

Captain BINDON to Mr. FISHBOURNE:—July 14, 1848.

As I cannot get a correct account which caused the tumultuous meeting yesterday at the poorhouse, permit me to beg you will oblige me with the particulars, and state if there was any threatening language made use of at the board-room against any of the members.

REPLY to the foregoing:—July 14, 1848.

In reply to your note I have to state that all matters were as usual proceeding with regularity at the workhouse yesterday, until the arrival of the Rev. Messrs. Conway and Waldron, accompanied by a number of persons, who after a little time commenced an attack on the master and inmates of the house, with the intention it is supposed of forcing their way to the board-room, and committing other violence. Being, as I told you yesterday, engaged in the board-room I cannot state how the riot commenced; of its serious character in the intention of those concerned there can be no doubt. I am not aware that any threat was made in the board-room against any person.

The COMMISSIONERS to Colonel M'GREGOR, Inspector-General of the Constabulary in Ireland:—August 1, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to forward herewith for your information a copy of correspondence which has taken place between the Vice-Guardians of the Ballinrobe Union and Captain Bindon, sub-inspector of police, together with a copy of some observations made by Mr. R. Bourke, Poor Law Inspector, thereon.

OBSERVATIONS referred to in the foregoing Letter.

The Sub-Inspector of Police appears to have acted very improperly on this occasion. He is reported to have said to the master, on his first arrival, "What have you and your pampered paupers been doing now?" and to have conducted himself throughout the affair in a very disagreeable manner towards the Vice-Guardians. He was absent at an inquest when the riot commenced. He attends upon all such occasions, and almost invariably sends up a report to the effect that the party died of starvation. I do not know whether it is the duty of Sub-Inspectors to attend at all inquests, but I think that, being Government officers, they should give their assistance zealously and in earnest to a system like the poor laws, instead of offering it direct opposition.

Ballinrobe Union.

Mr. R. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 25, 1848.

As I have received no further instructions from you by this day's post in reply to my report of the 22nd, I conclude that you approve of my intention of deferring any inquiry into the charges against the master of the Ballinrobe workhouse, until his approaching trial shall have taken place, and I therefore propose to visit Tuam to-morrow, as announced in my weekly report.

The parties concerned in this conspiracy have not been idle since the committal of Mr. Murphy. I informed you in my letter of the 22nd that they had procured a second set of informations, charging him with the murder of a girl named Peggy Thornton; and since then I have learned that a third set have been prepared and transmitted to the Crown Office, charging him with certain aggravated assaults. I have not as yet seen copies of these latter informations; but it is manifest that they have been prepared to obtain a conviction for an assault in the event of the murder or homicide charges falling to the ground, as no count for an assault could have been added to the first indictment for murder or homicide; and if acquitted on the capital charge, he could not have been tried under the same informations for the minor one. Besides this, summonses were taken out against four or five inmates of the workhouse for assault in refusing admission to the mob on the 13th instant, and they have been committed to take their trial at the assizes.

In this last proceeding the parties who are carrying on this conspiracy have quite overshot their mark. They could have obtained any conviction before the magistrates at petty sessions; but by returning the case to the assizes, they have given the Vice-Guardians an opportunity of examining the ringleaders of the riot, and the principal actors in the proceedings—the Rev. Mr. Conway and Rev. Mr. Waldron; and I have no doubt they will thus be enabled to bring out the whole truth. Subscriptions have been collected through the town for defraying the expenses of their numerous prosecutions.

The ill feeling among the townspeople towards Mr. Murphy is, as I really believe, attributable altogether to his being an honest man, who has refused to connive at their frauds in giving bad supplies to the workhouse. It has been also, in some measure, caused by the Vice-Guardians having taken contracts for clothing from Dublin houses, where they procured better articles for fifty per cent. less money than here. But chiefly this disturbance has been caused by Mr. Conway, who is irritated at the complete failure of his charges against Mr. Arabin, relieving officer for Partry, and has expressed himself in the most open and violent manner in reference to the present proceedings.

I have seen and consulted with the attorney who is conducting Mr. Murphy's defence. There appears abundant evidence to contradict all the graver charges against him, even if the grand jury should find bills, which I doubt. And I think that enough has already come out to warrant an indictment for conspiracy against the Rev. Mr. Conway, and an action against the magistrates for false imprisonment. Their conduct throughout has been marked by strong feeling against the administrators of the poor laws; and their language and manner have reflected great discredit on the whole bench.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. R. BOURKE in reply:—July 29, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 25th inst.; and as regards the charges against the master of the workhouse I am to state, that the Commissioners addressed to you a letter on the 25th inst., which will have made you aware of the course which the Commissioners suggest in reference thereto.

As regards the indictment of any parties for a conspiracy against the master, the Commissioners are of opinion that the point is well worthy of consideration; but it will perhaps be found advisable to await the result of the indictment of the master for murder at the approaching assizes, before any definite steps are taken in reference to the Rev. Mr. Conway and the Rev. Mr. Waldron.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 3, 1848.

WE have the honour to state that we attended yesterday at the assizes at Castlebar to be present at the trial of the master of the workhouse, and we have the satisfaction to be able to state, for your information, that the two bills of indictment against him for murder were ignored by the grand jury; and further that the foreman, Sir Robert L. Blosse, stated in open court "that he was directed by the grand jury to say that they thought it was a foul conspiracy, and that it was their opinion that the witnesses for the prosecution were all perjured."

Ballinrobe Union.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS in reply:—August 4, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3rd instant, reporting that the bills of indictment against the master of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union had been ignored by the grand jury; and in reference thereto I am to state, that the Commissioners felt no apprehension for the result of the case; but regret that the master of the workhouse should have suffered imprisonment on charges now proved to be entirely false, and which were made under circumstances that, viewed dispassionately, might at least be considered to warrant his being admitted to bail at the time.

I am at the same time to request that you will be good enough to furnish the Commissioners with a specific report of the original investigation before the magistrates, giving the names of those who attended, and if they were not unanimous, distinguishing those who were for the committal of the master; also (in any case) the names of those who signed the informations and the committal.

It is also desirable to have copies of the informations, and to know the names, rank, or avocation of the persons who took a leading part in requiring the informations to be taken.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—July 31, 1848.

WE have to report for your information that the only lodgment made during the past week was £30, per Mr. Brannick. Mr. Walsh, we believe, is really exerting himself to get rates, and we have served Mr. Fair with notice, as you may have perceived from our minutes.

Our numbers on the out-door relief lists have increased, but we intend to strike many of the able-bodied single men and women off the lists, so that we hope our next report will show a considerable decrease in the number of destitute relieved under section two. We anticipate much difficulty, and not a little obloquy, in carrying this into effect; but with the assistance of the relieving officers, and the local knowledge they will be able to bring to bear on the subject, we hope to do so safely and without hazard, exercising due caution at first.

Here we take leave to say, that we have not received that co-operation and assistance, in our administration of the out-door relief, from the landowners and ratepayers of this Union which we confess we did expect we should have received, and which it was manifestly so much to their advantage to afford; this we must attribute in a great measure to the belief, that repayment of the advances made so liberally, and with such an unsparing hand, by the British Association and her Majesty's Government, would not be required; consequently they (the landowners) had no direct interest in keeping down taxation; but, on the contrary, had a direct interest in putting money in the shape of food into the pockets of their tenantry, who would otherwise be obliged to pledge the crops the landlords had in view for the rent, to obtain a subsistence; hence arose the anxiety to evade the law, and to place the numbers which appear so overwhelming on the relief lists. We are anxious to place this before you, at the turn of the tide, as some justification for the expenditure of the enormous sums of public money through our instrumentality.

Mr. Bourke has directed our attention to the subject of increased workhouse accommodation—a subject which, independent of his remarks, had been under our consideration, and we intended to have recommended you to authorize some such measure. We shall now, fortified by his concurrence, endeavour to carry out the scheme, convinced as we are that in an Union professedly so destitute sufficient workhouse accommodation was not provided. Mr. Bourke also alluded to the erection of an oven in the workhouse as a measure of economy; and we intend to communicate with Mr. Wilkinson on the subject, who, no doubt, will be able to point out from the plan of the workhouse, we suppose within his reach, where we can erect it with the least possible inconvenience and expense.

Ballinrobe Union.

We have the honour to send herewith a letter received from Lieutenant Stokes, which accounts for the seeming extravagance of our outlay for the past week; and we have to report, that independent of the order for £63, which we returned on Sunday morning, a balance remained due to us at the Commissariat Office here, on closing the accounts, of £32 9s. 10d., which, as a matter of course, he has reported to the head of his department.

We beg to add that our views as to the continuance of out-door relief in this Union to the able-bodied, shall be made the subject of a distinct report.

ENCLOSURES.

I.

Lieutenant STOKES to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—July 27, 1848.

I BEG to inform you that as it is intended to exhaust the stores of this depot by the orders for provisions signed by Sir R. I. Routh, my future issues must include a proportionable quantity of each of the following articles as far as their extent will admit, viz., Indian meal, biscuit, and rice; and that I shall be unable to deviate from this course, in order to fulfil the instructions I have received.

The provisions and their value available to meet your demands for the present week will be as follow:—

	£	s.	d.	tons.	cwts.	qrs.	£	£	s.	d.
Biscuit, . . .	239	6	0	19	19	0	at 12	238	18	0
Indian meal, . .	184	16	8	20	10	0	at 9	184	9	8
Rice, . . .	118	0	0	7	2	2	at 17	124	2	6
	£542 2 8							£547 10 2

A balance of thirty pounds remains to your credit from the provision order of last week.

II.

Relieving Officer's return of Destitute Persons relieved out of the Workhouse, week ending July 29, 1848.

Electoral Divisions.	Destitute Persons relieved out of Workhouse 10th Vic. Section 1.		Destitute Persons relieved out of Workhouse, not comprised in Section 1.		Total relieved out of Workhouse.		Cost of Relief for July 22, 1848.		Number of Persons ordered Relief up to last week.	Number of Persons put on this week.	Total of Columns 6 and 10.	Number of Persons for whom Relief was not ordered.	Number of Persons sent to Workhouse by order of Vice-Guardians.	Total No. of Applicants on Relieving Officer's books for this week.	Number of Cases of Provisional Relief.	Meal issued for next week, ending 5th Aug.
	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.
Ballinrobe,	253	827	1,473	4,291	1,726	5,118	—	136 0 0	5,118	144	5,262	142	18	304	19	280 0
Partry, . .	180	410	924	1,984	1,104	2,394	—	—	2,394	163	2,557	7	—	170	3	130 0
Ballaholla,	71	191	243	657	314	848	—	21 2 73	848	—	848	—	—	—	—	50 0
Ross, . . .	283	661	879	2,612	1,162	3,273	—	81 3 44	3,273	24	3,297	71	—	95	10	170 0
Cong, . . .	341	1,008	1,068	3,508	1,409	4,516	1 0	139 14 14	4,516	68	4,584	52	5	125	7	245 0
Hollymount	283	665	1,358	3,582	1,641	4,247	—	134 11 5	4,247	53	4,300	34	15	102	15	230 0
Robceen, . .	303	845	1,185	3,456	1,488	4,301	—	—	4,301	40	4,341	40	1	81	16	220 0
Barriscarra,	111	276	624	1,357	735	1,633	—	—	1,633	16	1,649	17	—	33	6	85 0
Mayo, . . .	157	423	1,019	2,256	1,176	2,679	—	—	2,679	31	2,710	19	—	50	35	140 0
Kilmaine, . .	284	786	2,140	3,974	2,424	4,760	—	—	4,760	31	4,791	13	5	49	5	210 0
Shrule, . . .	302	482	1,152	3,022	1,454	3,504	—	85 4 3	3,504	42	3,546	40	4	86	4	190 0
Kilmohara,	128	292	701	1,448	829	1,740	—	53 19 103	1,740	17	1,757	11	—	28	10	195 0
Ballindine,	655	1,901	1,209	3,864	1,864	5,765	—	185 5 93	5,765	44	5,809	20	—	64	—	295 0
Claremorris,	850	3,410	1,388	3,358	2,238	6,768	—	—	6,768	16	6,784	32	—	48	16	352 2
Union at Large.	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Total, . .	4201	12177	15363	39369	19564	51546	1 0	837 1 54	51,546	689	52235	498	48	1,235	146	2692 2

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS in reply:—August 8, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had before them your report of the 31st ult., relating to the Ballinrobe Union; and with reference to your observations respecting a reduction in the out-door relief list, I am directed to state that the Commissioners approve of the course proposed, and they recommend its adoption throughout the Union, by your visiting the several districts in succession for the purpose.

Mr. R. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 5, 1848.

IN the last communication which I had occasion to address to you on the subject of the charges brought against the master of the Ballinrobe workhouse, I stated, that all the bills sent up to the grand jury having been ignored, it was to be presumed that the accused would be forthwith liberated. Some hours after this letter was despatched, one of the members of the grand jury (Mr. Geoffry Browne) communicated to me, officially, the views of his fellow-jurors. He stated that it had become clear, on the hearing of the complaints, that the majority of them had been concocted, through the instrumentality of the Rev. Mr. Conway, and that almost every witness had declared that without this gentleman's interference they should not have thought of accusing the master; but Mr. Browne further stated, that in one of the cases—that of Peggy Thornton—the grand jury had found considerable difficulty in coming to any conclusion, in consequence of the defective state of the hospital books; no record whatever having been made of the admission of Peggy Thornton into hospital, or her death there, although it was sworn that she had been an inmate for upwards of twelve hours.

With respect to the first part of his communication I informed him, that the attention of the Vice-Guardians was directed to the adoption of the most efficacious measures for vindicating the character of the master, and establishing the truth; and that it might perhaps become necessary to require the testimony of some of the grand jury, which he assured me could readily be afforded. As to the irregularity in the medical officers' books, I further stated that strict inquiry should be made into it.

I was surprised a short time afterwards by hearing, when in the Record Court, that upon a representation of certain magistrates, and the assertion that additional evidence had been procured, the judge had, on application of the crown, sent up again to the grand jury the bills for the manslaughter of Peggy Thornton and for the riot. Being engaged in the Record Court till a late hour of the day, I had no opportunity of watching these criminal proceedings further; but before I left Castlebar for Ballina (where I was obliged to proceed), I heard that the bills for riot had been again ignored, and that the bill for manslaughter would probably share the same fate. I therefore left Castlebar requesting Doctor Dempster carefully to watch the proceedings.

This morning I have received a special letter from Captain Farren informing me that the bills for manslaughter had been found, and that the master is to be put on his trial, and requesting me to return to Castlebar; he also states that two counsel have been retained for the master, and that the case will probably come on to-day.

As I cannot hope to reach Castlebar in time to be present at the trial, and as all that was possible appears to have been done, I have not adopted Captain Farren's suggestion.

I have a strong hope that the master will be acquitted altogether. I have had no opportunity of reading the additional evidence laid before the grand jury; but the first informations were certainly most loose and contradictory, and nothing but the alleged irregularity of the medical officer's books, which prevented any complete record of the deceased's life from being laid before the grand jury, would have created even a doubt on their minds as to the nature of the charge. And it is on this ground alone that I have now any fear of the issue. The weakness of proof as to the actual cause of the girl's death may add something of confirmation to the testimony of the witnesses who charge it to the master.

I shall communicate further as soon as I am in a position to do so; but I may now observe with reference to your late letter to the Vice-Guardians, that although this bill for manslaughter has now been found, yet this fact by no means relieves the magistrates from blame in not admitting the accused to bail, as upon the informations returned by them the grand jury ignored the bills, and were only induced by additional evidence to let the case go to trial.

A letter from Captain FARREN:—August 6, 1848.

I HAVE the pleasure to inform you that Murphy, the master of the Ballinrobe workhouse, has been triumphantly acquitted. Mr. Keogh's speech was magnificent, and his cross-examination of the crown witnesses most able. Only one witness for the defence was called, the venerable and respected Roman Catholic priest of Ballinrobe. He gave poor Murphy a splendid character; and in clear, simple, earnest language stated how the affair against him originated. The judge in his address alluded to the manner in which he had given his evidence, and commended him highly. His lordship was about to charge the jury, when one of them stated that there was no necessity as they had already made up their minds. The judge, however, said that he wished to make a few observations on this extraordinary case; he spoke of the necessity of investigation in a matter of such vital interest as the well-being of establishments such as these (the poor-houses); that at the risk of much personal inconvenience he had determined to remain, and sift the case to the uttermost; that the trial had been long, but not more so than necessary; alluded to the painful ordeal which one of the witnesses (the Rev. Mr. Conway) had undergone, but added that it was most essential in order to arrive at the facts; rebuked in becoming terms those who presumed to arraign their fellow-creatures at the altar, and by denunciation therefrom to expose them to the anger of an excited people. In fine, he made a most impressive address, which was listened to with breathless attention. At its conclusion a verdict of "not guilty" was handed in; and no other charges having been brought against poor Murphy, he was discharged to the great delight of judge, jury, counsel, and court, and was escorted across the green by the people who cheered him lustily.

Ballinrobe Union.

Mr. Keogh's cross-examination was most able, words are inadequate to describe the manner in which he dealt with Mr. Conway, it was perfectly crushing; and such a speech, it stirred the hearts of all; and when he concluded, a burst of applause broke forth in the court which could not be suppressed for some time.

Dr. Dempster wishes me to mention that his report will be made on Monday. The trial lasted until between eight and nine o'clock last night.

The VICE-GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 6, 1848.

We had the honour to report that the bills against the master of the poorhouse, upon two charges of murder, had been ignored by the grand jury on Wednesday last. We have now to inform you that on Thursday application was made to the court to have the bills returned to the grand jury to be re-considered, additional evidence having been procured. This application was supported by the Rev. Mr. Conway and four of the magistrates who took part in the proceedings at the petty sessions the day the master was committed for trial. These gentlemen stated that the ends of justice would otherwise be defeated, and had some of their own names entered on the bills as witnesses. On these grounds the bills were sent up to the grand jury on Friday, when the bill in the case of M^rGovern, on which the master was committed for trial, was again ignored; but the bill in Thornton's case, which had been got up after his imprisonment, was found, and the trial fixed for Saturday morning. At the sitting of the court yesterday application was made on the part of the prosecutors, and several affidavits put in, to postpone the trial to the next March assizes, evidently with a view of keeping the master in prison. After much time was taken up in that way the trial proceeded, and resulted in the triumphant acquittal of the master, and the complete exposure of one of the most atrocious conspiracies against the life of an innocent man that was ever brought to light.

We will forward a detailed account according to the desire expressed in your letter; but as it must be prepared with care and accuracy it will occupy two or three days. In the meantime we cannot refrain from expressing our conviction, that the future administration of the poor law free from embarrassing interruptions, perhaps its very existence, in this county, depends on the steps now taken to punish the instigators and abettors of such an atrocious crime. There can be no security for life or liberty if persons intrusted with magisterial power, sworn to do equal justice without fear or favour, are not free from prejudice, and possessed of sufficient moral courage to decide justly, in defiance of either popular clamour and excitement, or any other more sinister influence.

Dr. DEMPSTER to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 6, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that I attended at the assizes of Castlebar in pursuance of a subpoena, in the matter of the committee of the fever hospital of Kilmain, in which I had to produce all papers and documents in my possession, and that there was a verdict in favour of the defendants.

I remained in Castlebar to assist at the trial of Mr. Murphy, the master of the workhouse here, which terminated in an honourable acquittal at 9 P.M. last night. The only witness examined for the defence was the Rev. John Morris, parish priest of Ballinrobe and chaplain to the workhouse. The jury without leaving the box, and before his lordship had spoken on the subject, said, they would save him the trouble and time, as they had agreed to their verdict unanimously. However, his lordship said, that this was a case of such importance to the peace of the country, and from the disclosures which had taken place that day, and from what had occurred in the grand jury-room during the week, and the observations from that body of gentlemen, that he must likewise make some observations on this most extraordinary case, such as, from the time he had the honour of presiding as a judge, or from the time he had practised as a barrister, never came within the scope of his experience; in fact, such a case of wicked conspiracy against the life of an innocent man in particular, and against the officials of the workhouse in general, and every one connected with the poor law in this Union, never was laid before the public. Full notes of the trial were taken for the press, which, when published, I shall transmit for the information of the Commissioners.

I furnished full explanation of the riot at the workhouse on the 13th ultimo, as also of the case of Martin Casey, who was brought to my office on the 18th July, with his head and face smeared with blood, by the Rev. Mr. Conway; as also notes of his several denunciations of us from the altar; so that, I think, for the future the officials of Ballinrobe will be allowed to perform their duty without further interference from that reverend gentleman, to all of which he was examined, and remained for two hours under the most searching inquiry by Mr. Keogh, our counsel, and was clearly shown to the judge and jury to have been the prime mover of this most vile conspiracy.

The COMMISSIONERS to Dr. DEMPSTER in reply:—August 9, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 6th instant, relating to Ballinrobe Union; and I am to express the satisfaction of the Commissioners at the result of the recent trial of the master of the workhouse.

The Commissioners themselves never entertained any doubt of the result; but it is a great satisfaction to the Commissioners that, owing to the ability of Mr. Keogh, the innocence of the workhouse master was established in such a convincing manner, as appears to have left no doubt on the subject in the mind of the jury or of the learned judge.

The Commissioners request you to communicate this letter to the master of the workhouse, and to assure him that the Commissioners place undiminished confidence in his efficiency, and that he may rely on the unvarying support of the Commissioners as long as he discharges his duty in the manner which has been so favourably brought under their notice.

The Rev. JAMES ANDERSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—August 6, 1848.

I RETURNED very late last night from the assizes of Castlebar, and am happy to inform you, without delay, that Mr. Murphy, the master of the Ballinrobe workhouse, was most triumphantly acquitted. The jury was a mixed one—Romanists and Protestants; and so overwhelmed were they all, that even the former rose up and requested of the judge (Jackson) to depart from the usual course, and not waste the public time any further by addressing them. I write, because I united with the Rev. John Morris, P.P., before in informing you, that this case was an awful conspiracy; and now you may see, and you will see still more, that we were justified to the fullest extent in our observations. The thanks of the Government and of yourselves should be given to Mr. Keogh, the counsel, and to Mr. Morris; the former has been the means of uncommon service to the country by exposing the diabolical agents in this vile affair, and the latter has raised himself beyond all praise.

It was the feeling, that Mr. Keogh has made his fortune for ever by his speech

Y

Ballinrobe Union. and cross-examination of the Rev. Peter Conway; and the burst of applause when he sat down was inconceivable for enthusiasm and admiration.

I trust that he and Mr. Morris will be substantially rewarded for the eminent services they have rendered to this country; for if matters were suffered to proceed as they were, I do believe that rebellion would be the dreadful consequence; and such is the exasperated feeling against Mr. Morris, that even (one would suppose respectable) persons in this town of the Roman Catholic persuasion were heard to say, that Mr. Morris might now live on his £50 salary from the workhouse. You will hear, of course, from others all particulars; but I do say, that as the officials, &c., have been themselves accused of conspiracy, &c., by the Rev. Mr. Conway, that steps should be taken to defend us.

The COMMISSIONERS to the Rev. J. ANDERSON in reply :—August 9, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th instant, relating to the recent trial of the master of the workhouse of Ballinrobe Union; and I am to express the Commissioners' thanks for your communication.

The Commissioners have felt the greatest satisfaction at the result of the trial of the master; and it must be gratifying both to you and to Mr. Morris to know, that the opinion which you long since pronounced on the subject, has been confirmed and approved by the competent authorities at the last assizes.

The Commissioners are convinced that the recollection of having borne convincing testimony to the merits of an innocent and persecuted man, will be a proud consolation to Mr. Morris, under any obloquy which he may be subject to for having so nobly discharged his duty.

LOWTHERSTOWN UNION.

Lowtherstown
Union;

The CLERK of the GUARDIANS to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 7, 1848.

I BEG to enclose herewith a copy of a report of the Visiting Committee of the Board of Guardians of this Union, adopted by a resolution of the Board, at their meeting of the 5th instant, and contained in the minutes of their proceedings forwarded by me this day.

ENCLOSURE.

SPECIAL REPORT of the Visiting and Superintending Committee:—April 5, 1848.

GENTLEMEN—Having been requested to examine into the present state of the workhouse, the management of the affairs of the Union under the late Vice-Guardians, and the cases of persons at present receiving out-door relief, have to report:—

That having examined the buildings, we find them insufficient, in regard to size, to afford a test to the numbers at present seeking relief, and take the opportunity to remark, that the architect who planned the present buildings must have had but one object in view, namely, to enclose the least possible quantity of space in the greatest quantity of wall.

The sewerage we find most defective, and consider that immediate steps should be taken to remedy the defect. A plan and specification thereof, approved of by the late Vice-Guardians, is under our consideration. The yards still remain in an unfinished state, in formation, drainage, stoning, and gravelling. We are taking active steps to remedy this neglect.

We find the house as clean as possible, considering the present sewerage and supply of water; but certainly not better, with the exception of the bedding, which has been very recently supplied, than when Mr. Welsh was dismissed from his situation as master, under Dr. Phelan's report.

The fever hospital, which was then in progress of building, has been finished and occupied, which removes many of the difficulties masters heretofore laboured under.

With respect to the management of the affairs of the Union under the late board: having to approve of some steps taken by them in remedying the deficiencies in clothing, furniture, and necessaries, we have also to disapprove of the manner in which the interior economy and arrangements of the house have been carried out by them.

We find the children of the female school are almost entirely from under the charge of the regularly appointed schoolmistress, who was allowed to remain in the workhouse, acting as under matron, (an office objected to by the Commissioners,) while another person was appointed to perform her duties in a detached building, at a salary of £10 per annum and officer's rations; and a pauper on extra rations, in charge of the much smaller portion, who remained in the house.

We find the boys' school-room unoccupied, with the exception of a male pauper (on additional rations) and ten boys; the dormitories used by them in general unoccupied. No regularly appointed schoolmaster in charge of any of the boys; the person appointed to that situation by Messrs. Lucas and Hopper, being, as we find recorded on the minutes of the 26th January last, dismissed for "habits of liquor, irregularity, and insubordination." A person was also appointed to discharge the duties of schoolmaster, as assistant, at the rate of £10 a year, and officer's rations, (without, as far as we can ascertain, the sanction of the Commissioners,) who is not even qualified to teach the rudiments of arithmetic. A great part of the boys, (to the number of thirty-eight,) though actually under thirteen years of age, down to ten, as registered, having been irregularly put on men's rations, as being above fifteen, have been thereby deprived of even the scanty education afforded. The same remark, as regards the additional rations, applies to twenty-five of the female children; but these have not been deprived of the benefit of some education.

Our attention having been drawn by the complaints of Mr. Somerville, late master, to irregularities in the house, over which he had no control, find that it was the practice of the late Vice-Guardians, on board-days and adjourned meetings, to distribute large quantities of bread to applicants, also to give suppers of stirabout in the dining-hall to a very late hour at night, to many; and that no separate account of the amount thus expended could be kept, showing the proportion chargeable to each division. The above irregularities might be excused for once, on the plea of the number of applicants; but it appears that no expedient was adopted to prevent their recurrence, but on the contrary continued many weeks.

A system of giving passes to the paupers was also adopted to a large extent. This practice caused both great loss to the Union, and great irregularity in the house; many who thus left the workhouse dressed in the Union clothes never returned; some of them leaving their wives and families a charge to the Union. Of the passes given, no return that we can find was ever made to the master. Visiting was likewise permitted; and it was sworn before some of your committee, in their capacity of justices of the peace, that on these occasions it was a habit to sell the workhouse stirabout for halfpence and herrings.

We find in the workhouse twenty-eight married women and their families, whose husbands are living in the Union, earning their livelihood as able-bodied labourers; some of these men left the house on pass, some deserted from it, and one is an inmate of Ennis-killen workhouse, to which Union the family properly belongs. One woman being questioned as to where her husband was, stated she had not heard of him for a fortnight; but then she understood he was about running away with another woman, for the purpose of marrying her. A few months since a few informations were sworn against paupers of this class, but no further steps seem to have been taken.

Lowtherstown
Union.

In compliance with your request, we visited the different stations where meal is distributed to the out-door paupers, and examined into each of their cases—the entire amounting to 2,820 individuals. We found much irregularity in all the districts, with the exception of Mr. Carson's; but principally in the district of Lowtherstown and Moorfield. Out-door relief appears to have been given without any regard to act of parliament; the cases of women with illegitimate children receiving, being very numerous—likewise women, and their families, whose husbands are working in the country.

In Lowtherstown district, one woman was receiving who had been turned out of the infirmary, without the medical officer's knowledge or consent. This person should never have been received into the house without her husband, as he was known to the relieving officer to be residing in Lowtherstown, and even in the habit of visiting his wife and children in the workhouse. Another pauper, a young able-bodied woman, who had given birth to an illegitimate child in the workhouse three weeks before, is also receiving relief; another labourer, in the receipt of ten pence a day, wages, has two of his children in the workhouse, while he, his wife, and another child, receive out-door relief. The relieving officers, when questioned as to these and such cases, replied, that these and such other paupers were turned out of the workhouse by the Vice-Guardians, and that they (the relieving officers) were not accountable for such cases.

We have recommended a considerable number to be struck off the out-door list, and the workhouse test to be applied to them.

We have no reason to suppose that many of these will seek admittance; as many of them, when told they would receive out-relief no longer than for the present week, impudently said, "they could do without it." Why the workhouse test was not more strictly applied, does not appear to us; as we found the house not full, and one detached building (said in the late Vice-Guardians' reports to be capable of containing 130, but in which we would not recommend more than 70 to be put) containing only 36. We would recommend the second section of the Extension Act, 10 Vic. c. 31, to be still opened, so as to admit of widows with one child, and orphans receiving out-door relief.

In conclusion we beg to state, that we find the Union much demoralized; the poorer classes being impressed with the doctrine, "that instead of finding employment, it must be found for them; and that the decree of the Almighty, 'that man must live by the sweat of his brow,' is changed to the effect that man is to live by act of parliament."

One very painful and melancholy fact has come under our knowledge—the larger proportion of the widows receiving relief, we have found to be the relicts of labourers who died last winter on the Government works.

(Signed for Visiting Committee,)

HENRY D'ARCY, Chairman.

EXTRACT FROM GUARDIANS' MINUTES:—April 12, 1848.

Special Report of the Finance Committee.

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with your request we have examined the accounts of the last half-year.

We find the clerk's books regularly and remarkably well kept.

The expenditure has been very great, amounting to £3,799 15s.; while we find that the entire expense of provisions and necessities supplied to the workhouse was £1,005 14s. 10d., and the expenditure in out-door relief, since the 25th of November last, in money, £395, and in kind, since the 23rd of February, £376 3s. 9d., total, £771 3s. 9d.; amounting to, for in-door supplies and out-door expense, £1,776 18s. 7d. We find that the establishment account amounts to £1,250 16s. 4d. We have examined the items, and find several of them ridiculously extravagant: so many of this nature are there that it would be useless to enter into the matter further than to call attention to it.

The clothing and bedding account amounts to the large sum of £682 12s. 9d. The turf account is also large—it amounts to £136 16s., which is included in the above amount for supplies. We would recommend coal to be burned for a short time, in order to find out the relative cost.

The expense of in-door relief having, for the last week, been reduced above £5, and for out-door relief £10 0s. 5d., caused by the decrease in the number of recipients both in and out of the house, affords a hope that the Union will be ultimately saved from the financial ruin threatened by the expenditure of the last six months.

(Signed,)

HENRY D'ARCY, Chairman of the Committee.

The CLERK of the UNION to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 17, 1848.

Lowtherstown
Union.

I BEG to state, with reference to the special report of the Finance Committee which accompanied the minutes of the proceedings of the Board of Guardians of this Union on the 12th instant, I find that the reduced expense of out-door relief for last week is £20 0s. 5d., instead of £10, as reported by committee.

The COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—April 17, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had before them the special report of the Finance Committee of Lowtherstown Union of the 12th instant, transmitted with minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the same date; and with reference to the amount of the establishment account, I am to request that you will state the items of which the amount of £1,250 16s. 4d. is made up.

The CLERK of the UNION to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 19, 1848.

I BEG to transmit herewith an abstract of the establishment account of this Union for the half-year ended 25th March last, showing the items of which the amount of £1,250 16s. 4d. is made up, as directed by your letter of the 17th instant.

ENCLOSURES.

ABSTRACT of the establishment account for the half-year ended 25th March, 1848.

Salaries, ...	£482	2	7
Repairs, ...	292	16	7
Insurance, ...	4	2	6
Drugs, &c.	24	15	4
Printing, stationery, advertising, books, postage, ...	77	18	5
Furniture and culinary utensils, &c., for workhouse, fever hospital, and detached buildings, ...	216	4	11
Rent paid for detached buildings, ...	4	0	0
Interest on treasurer's account to 29th February, ...	5	14	7
Loan from Commissioners repaid, and included in estimate, ...	100	0	0
Other small charges—(including subscription to Cow-pock Institution, county cess, necessaries for relieving officers, stores, beams, weights, &c., &c.,)	43	1	5

Amount, £1,250 16 4

Further explanation of certain items in the abstract of the establishment account, hereunto annexed, viz.:—

SALARIES—

To Workhouse officers, ...	£76	14	3
„ Chaplains, £30; medical officer, £17 10s.	47	10	0
„ Assistant schoolmaster and mistress, nurses, &c.	6	19	8
„ Master tailor, master shoemaker, and assistants, ...	43	17	0
„ Relieving officers, ...	47	16	9
„ Vice-Guardians, ...	253	4	0
„ Audit fund account, ...	3	5	0
„ Porter, a suit of clothes as salary, ...	2	15	11
	£482	2	7

ADVERTISING, &c.—

Books from National Board for schools, ...	9	13	4
Bibles, and testaments, and prayer-books, ...	5	17	8
	£15	11	0

Advertising, printing, and postage; also books for workhouse and relieving officers, ... 62 7 5

The items of repairs include repairs of workhouse, and £20 for repairs at Anderson's house, given gratis by Mr. D'Arcy, and also repairs to Graham's and Montgomery's. There is also putting up oven, raising yard walls, and repairs in yards, with glazing, smith and carpenter work, including several small items.

April 19, 1848.

Lowtherstown
Union.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF GUARDIANS' proceedings:—April 19, 1848.

THE following report of the Visiting Committee was read, viz.:—

GENTLEMEN,—Our attention having been called at the last meeting of the board to the state of the registry of the paupers in the workhouse, we have examined it and found it entirely incorrect. We were obliged to bring all the paupers of the house into the dining-hall, and having called over the roll found eighty paupers registered, as being in the house, who had not been in it for two months, and some for three or four; forty-two paupers were in the house and not entered on the registry, or charged to any division; one family of eight we found to two electoral divisions, and also to the Union at large. The master, since his appointment, has found eighty paupers charged on the books who were not in it, and corrected the registry in those cases; you will of course perceive that no correct account can be made of the proportion of expense chargeable to each division during the period that the affairs of the Union were managed by Vice-Guardians.

The registry is now correct, with the exception of some cases in which paupers seem to us to be charged to wrong divisions.

(Signed,)

HENRY D'ARCY, Chairman.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF BOARD OF GUARDIANS:—April 26, 1848.

Resolved—That Montgomery's house be given up unless he lets it to the board at a lower rent than £15 a year.

THE COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of the UNION:—May 5, 1848.

IN reference to the resolution of the Board of Guardians of Lowtherstown Union of the 26th ultimo, that the house taken from Mr. Montgomery, as an additional workhouse, be given up unless he lets it to them at a lower rent than £15 per annum, I am directed by the Commissioners to request that the Guardians will consider whether it would not be advisable for them to retain the additional workhouse to meet any increased pressure for relief that may arise; and to enable them, in revising the out-door relief lists, to offer workhouse relief in any doubtful cases of application rather than out-door relief.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES of the BOARD of GUARDIANS:—May 10, 1848.

Resolved—That in reference to the Commissioners' letter of 5th May, the clerk be directed to state that the Guardians do not intend to decrease the accommodation for affording in-door relief, and that the resolution referred to was merely made with the view of getting the house at a less price than the extravagant sum given when the affairs of the Union were under the immediate superintendence of the Commissioners, and that the effect of the resolution has been, that the owner offers the house for one-half the sum heretofore given.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF VISITING COMMITTEE, in GUARDIANS' MINUTES:—May 10, 1848.

THE bungling manner in which the workhouse was originally planned is still, and ever must be, the cause of much irregularity. The only way of bringing meal, milk, turf, &c., into the stores and body of the house, is through the kitchen—a fault which the veriest tyro in architecture should be ashamed of. Through this defect, the men employed as porters, and the women as cooks and maids, have frequent opportunity of meeting; and a porter and cook have this week absconded to Scotland, both leaving families chargeable to the Union.

Messrs. M'MANUS and MORTON to the COMMISSIONERS :—May 29, 1848.

IN compliance with your letters, addressed to us on the 5th instant, having arranged a meeting for the purpose, we have the honour of forwarding to you our explanation of the several statements occurring in the reports of the 5th, 12th, and 19th ultimo, made to the Board of Guardians of Lowtherstown Union by the Visiting and Finance Committees, with copies of which you favoured us.

For the convenience of reference, and with the desire also of being as succinct as possible, we annex in the margin the successive paragraphs of the reports, the repetition of which may be thus spared in the commentary.

See preceding pages.

We commence with the special report of the 5th ultimo

Of the defective sewerage, you are already aware that it had our most anxious attention from the first. We had entered into a contract for the masonry of the new sewers, and the works were in rapid progress on our vacating office. The formation and drainage of the yards, which had been delayed by the unfavourable weather, were likewise actively proceeding.

The house, it was stated, was found "as clean as possible." This would demand no observation from us, but for the conflicting representation to be found upon the minutes of the first meeting of the new board (29th March); and which was made the ground of the Guardians rescinding at that meeting the increase of the master's salary, then recently made by us in conformity with the understanding upon which he was engaged, and induced to relinquish his previous situation as assistant master of Lurgan workhouse. We learn that his salary has been further reduced since to £35, being that of previous masters in this Union. We feel called upon to notice the discrepancy, with the view, should you deem it sufficiently important, of the matter being again brought before the board. Mr. Bullick was engaged by us at £40 per annum, to be increased to £45, upon his completing his first month in office, should he give satisfaction.

There were several pressing reasons for the schoolmistress Miss Welsh, remaining in the workhouse, rather than leaving it with the detachment of a portion of the female school. We were unable to procure (or to repair in time for the emergency) a building large enough to accommodate more than sixty out of the entire complement of about one hundred in the female school; and while the forty children thus left in the house required the care of the schoolmistress not less than those detached from it, her assistance in the house was, in other respects, also, at this period, absolutely indispensable. The matron was new in office; and in addition to those ordinary duties, for the discharge of which the matron has constant occasion to lean upon the assistance of the schoolmistress—duties at this time become unusually onerous, from the vast increase in the number of female inmates—there was besides the superintending of the making-up of an entire supply of bedding and clothing. For the services thus critically required Miss Welsh was especially qualified, by her having been schoolmistress for so long a period, and while her father also was master. Should the occasion for these services have become less pressing, we should have been at liberty to place Miss Welsh in the immediate charge of the detachment. Under the circumstances, another person, Mrs. Kane, and who, we are happy to say, every way fulfilled our expectations, was appointed to that charge, with the Commissioners' approval, on the terms mentioned in the report, Miss Welsh still superintending the detachment. Reports from both school detachments, comprising all essential particulars, were laid before us at each board meeting.

The various services which we have mentioned, requiring Miss Welsh's occasional absence from the children still continuing in the workhouse, it was found desirable to place some respectable female pauper in charge of them. This person, who had formerly taught a small school of her own, but was now aged and in an infirm state of health, which rendered the house diet less suitable to her, was indulged with bread at her breakfast, and latterly with a small allowance of tea, which Miss Welsh had previously been at the expense of, as almost indispensable to her.

With respect to the boys' school-room—the number remaining in it, after

Lowtherstown
Union.

detaching the greater number to an out-building, was generally from ten to twenty. The pressure upon the male side of the house was at all times less than upon the female side; and but for the increased number in the entire establishment, which the possession of this out-building warranted us in accommodating, under sanction of the Commissioners, it might (as we found, after the experience of some weeks) have been discontinued without inconvenience in respect of room for the boys. We were induced however, when considering the propriety of bringing in the detachment, to determine against it for awhile, both by the advantage already mentioned; by the additional room it afforded us for putting the workhouse test to able-bodied men, until the extreme pressure should be passed; and by the statement of the medical officer, that the circumstance of their being detached from the workhouse was operating a marked improvement in the health of boys, whose delicacy whilst in the house had made him despair of their retrieving any degree of strength. Over the few remaining boys, whom the detached building could not conveniently accommodate, a male pauper was placed in charge, with the extra allowance of a quarter of a pound of house bread daily.

We are not aware that any of the dormitories was unoccupied. There was an adaptation of the arrangements to circumstances, the best we could devise consistently with classification; and the master's account of these peculiar arrangements, may probably have been misapprehended by the committee.

Due steps were taken to procure a regular workhouse schoolmaster; but the qualifications of the candidates who presented themselves were unsatisfactory. Meanwhile, Mr. Gallagher whose appointment to the charge of the boys' detachment was merely temporary, performed that duty to our perfect satisfaction, and he continues, we understand, to hold that charge under the present board. In this appointment, equally with that of the female over the detachment from the girls' school, we felt ourselves to be fully borne out by the exigency of the occasion, and understood it to be equally approved of by the Commissioners. It is true that Mr. Gallagher's acquirements, and particularly in respect of ciphering, were not such as would have satisfied us had the question been of the office of workhouse schoolmaster. We had, however, the best reason to congratulate ourselves upon his selection for the detachment; which, besides his uniform attention to the health, cleanliness, and conduct of the boys, and the steady order and discipline which he maintained among them, received from him an unusual amount of instruction in spelling, reading, writing, and the more elementary parts of arithmetic.

The dismissal, we may observe, of the previous schoolmaster, in consequence of habits mentioned in the report, can in no respect be regarded as reflecting upon the judgment of those who appointed him. His qualifications in writing, &c., were adequate. He had been in the army; his testimonials creditable; and without allusion to such habits, which could only therefore be discovered upon his trial in office, his dismissal had been for some time in contemplation with us, when the detachment left the workhouse.

The statement of boys registered as under fifteen years having been irregularly put on men's rations will be found, we have reason to believe, entirely at variance with the register. The age of a child bordering on fifteen, and applying for admission into a workhouse, cannot, it is well known, be at all times accurately ascertained from the child's own statement, or that of the parent's. The temptation to untruth—the larger allowance—proves irresistible. It was our unavoidable practice to exercise our own judgment, consulting with the clerk and relieving officers, on all occasions that it was evident the truth was not adhered to; and where absolutely doubtful, the parties had the benefit of the doubt. But most assuredly not a single boy, while we were in office, was, or could be, admitted into the men's class, who had not been registered as above fifteen years of age.

The number 381 is a clerical error, for thirty-eight perhaps, which was, we believe, the number of adult lads who occupied the middle ward as their day-room on our vacating office.

As regards the additional rations to twenty-five of the female children, we used our reasonable discretion, with the assistance of the medical officer in the majority of the cases, and extending the privilege to children of like stature. The necessity of such a distinction between the allowances of food to children scarcely above five years, and others closely bordering on fifteen, cannot we conceive be questioned. It was at one period brought most strikingly under our notice in the boys' school, in the case of six boys who from their robust appearance when admitted had become painfully emaciated, and were upon that occasion placed on larger allowance by desire of the medical officer.

We lament that there should have been occasion for the irregularities mentioned, in connexion with Mr. Somerville's complaints. With a pressure upon the Union for relief, admittedly without precedent, in the rigours of an unusually severe winter, irregularities of this description were inseparable from the course (a personal scrutiny for some weeks of almost every claim) which, in a Union of limited extent, we conceived it our duty to adopt. And they were unquestionably of light account in comparison of such as were to have been apprehended, had we, as the only other alternative, acted upon the representations of our relieving officers, strangers to us at the outset, and who had moreover all their duty yet to learn.

From the moment that we became satisfied of the safety of changing this course, which was about two months before we vacated office, (and it was the only expedient by which the irregularities in question could be prevented,) they at once and altogether ceased. It was no longer a requisite practice to distribute bread to the famished family before us, a sustenance without which many had not the strength to reply even to the questions we were bound to put, or to give suppers in the dining hall to others to a very late hour of night. The complaint, that no separate account could be kept of the amount thus expended, showing the proportion chargeable to each division, may not perhaps be deemed of very serious import. Looking upon the task of the master as sufficiently onerous without it, and being for that reason, and from the circumstance of his being new in office, from week to week without the master's books duly made up, as stated in our reports to you at the time, we did not feel ourselves called upon to require it of him. It was obvious that a subsequent reference to the relief list would furnish all the accuracy desirable in this respect; and agreeably to these when ultimately reduced from the registers, with the assistance of the clerk, the expense has accordingly been apportioned.

We were far from encouraging passes. No such system existed so far as we were aware. A restriction was placed upon the master's discretion in this particular, and he was forbidden to give a pass without the concurrence of one or other of the Vice-Guardians. Neither was any pauper ever permitted to take with him or her the house clothes; two cases only of paupers so leaving the house, and these without passes, came under our notice. For ourselves, when applied to—the motive for the indulgence being first carefully ascertained, which, by the way, was generally found to be either to look out among the friends or former employers for work, or to fetch a child or parent to the workhouse, previously too unwell to be removed, or to look after some little remnant of furniture that would otherwise have been lost or stolen—we invariably referred to the master for the character of the applicant. The master also was the officer from whom the pass proceeded, with rare exceptions only, when a pauper of good character was employed as messenger. The supposed practice, besides the irregularity and absconding, would, in fact, have been in direct contravention of the spirit and object of workhouse discipline. We had no reason, and we were daily on the spot, to suppose any loss or irregularity incurred from this source, excepting only in the two cases we have mentioned.

No visiting was allowed beyond the customary visiting upon a Tuesday, and this only in the entrance hall, and in the presence of the porter.

We apprehend that stirabout was sold in one instance only, being then, as stated, for halfpence and herrings, and we may add by two female paupers, upon the one occasion, who had the distribution of the meals in the probationary wards. The delinquents were sent before a magistrate, and were sentenced, as we learn, to the extreme penalty of one month's imprisonment; we should mention that other articles of property were abstracted on more than one occasion, and the parties brought to justice. We need hardly observe that the utmost precaution was taken to prevent the repetition of such practices.

With respect to the admission of married women and their families, without the husband, or of the child without the responsible parent, the prosecution of the husband or parent at the next ensuing petty sessions was always required by us in such cases as an indispensable condition. The husband being in the neighbourhood, employed or otherwise, we as invariably held to be a sufficient ground for refusing the desired admission; and in cases of this kind, where the husband has subsequently come forward, if found at hire for his meal only and a small half-yearly sum, we have admitted the family. The prosecutions in all other cases, constituting an important check on the dispensing of relief to such, and also on the general disposition to give inadequate wages, were strictly enforced. Latterly the clerk took occasion to represent to us the expense of these proceedings, and at the same time in every instance their utter nullity, from the warrants having been left unexecuted. He had our continued orders notwithstanding, to see that the law, so far as it lay with ourselves to carry it out, was duly put in force. The particular cases referred to were never brought before us, with the circumstances mentioned in the report. We should otherwise have communicated with the authorities of the Enniskillen Union, in the one case, and taken due steps in the other, that the husband might have been proceeded against.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Of out-door relief in the first place, with respect to women whose husbands were working in the country, not a single family of this description was to our knowledge admitted to such relief, nor, as from our experience of their integrity and good faith we have reason to believe, to the knowledge of our relieving officers, against whose representations no such relief was in any instance directed by us. Latterly, one disputed and very doubtful case of the kind, which may perhaps have given occasion to the statement in the report, was represented to us by certain ratepayers, relatives of the husband, in the Moorfield district. The representation made to us by those parties was so distinctly characterized by enmity towards the wife and children, and the man's being in the country, or having been heard of for an entire twelvemonth, was so stoutly denied by others not less respectable, that we were unable to come to an opinion upon the truth of the matter. The relief however was suspended, and the woman, whose children were not at the time in a state to be removed, while there was no question as to her destitution, was assisted by a small contribution from ourselves during further inquiries by the relieving officer, and though we failed to elicit any additional information, we preferred subsequently the course of admitting her into the workhouse.

With respect to women with illegitimate children, there were doubtless some such (and we regret to state, from the number of such unfortunate females in the Union, so many as from twenty to thirty of this description,) receiving out-door relief upon the ground of sickness or infirmity. And however preferable, indeed imperative on us, we might otherwise have considered it to relieve such cases in the workhouse, that alternative was no longer open to us, when the house was full, or so nearly so (the case always with us from the commencement of out-door relief), as to leave barely a vacancy for test of the able-bodied.

Of the woman stated to have been turned out of the infirmary without the medical officer's consent, we have only to observe that, in the performance of that part of our duty which demanded the discharge of parties eligible to out-door relief, with the view of making room for the fresh application of the test, such a case may have more than once occurred; at the same time it was our practice with very rare exceptions (and had they been more frequent, lives, we are of opinion, might have been preserved by an earlier departure from this course, which appeared however the more expedient as a general rule), to desire the assistance of the medical officer upon these occasions, and to go round the house with him for the purpose. Nor did that gentleman ever intimate to us his being adverse to any particular discharge. The like remark applies to the case next mentioned in the report; the sickness of the mother, and unsuitableness of the workhouse at the time for her recovery, warranting in our estimation her being placed on out-door relief for a time. But the circumstances of the other case, which are imperfectly and incorrectly stated in the report, require that we should revert to it somewhat more in detail. Andrew Gilligan, with his wife Rose, and three children, one of whom was at the breast, had been previously an inmate of the workhouse, and was discharged by us at an early period upon the out-door relief as infirm, from a fracture of ribs and an asthmatic affection. It was afterwards represented to us that the man had been a rag-gatherer, and though unable to work in any other way, could still earn something in that capacity. The relieving officer having been directed to make inquiry, did not consider that he could thereby support his family, but his allowance was reduced in consequence; and the urgent protest of a gentleman, whose extensive interest in the electoral division entitled his opinion to a corresponding degree of deference (Mr. Henry D'Arcy), led subsequently, but not without some hesitation upon our part, to his being struck off. The wife within a short time made her appearance at the workhouse in a very deplorable condition. She had her children with her, and stated that her husband had left her some days before. Upon the usual condition of her declaring herself willing to prosecute him, she was admitted; and almost immediately both the woman and the child at her breast had to be removed to the fever hospital. It was reported to us that the husband was seen at this time about the workhouse, and was staying in the immediate neighbourhood; it was also represented to us (we believe by Mr. H. D'Arcy) that he had even visited her; but the porter upon our questioning him, denied this, stating that it was his belief only that he had seen the man hanging about the workhouse. Eventually, however, Andrew Gilligan presented himself to be admitted; and the wife having become convalescent with the infant, the family was once more, upon that occasion, placed upon out-door relief with a diminished allowance.

Of the case of the labourer at wages we can only say, that the relieving officer must have grossly neglected his duty in not reporting him. It would appear by the passage which immediately follows, that this man had been discharged upon out-door relief. Several there were whom we so discharged, being at the time of their discharge under severe sickness; and such sickness of a party within the house, having as we have already intimated, in more than one instance had a fatal termination, when there would have been a prospect of recovery had the party been in due time placed upon out-door relief. We must here observe, that in addition to the ordinary application and report book it had been our care to furnish each relieving officer with a special weekly report book for all cases of out-door relief within his district; and he was instructed to note therein all particulars coming to his knowledge, or ascertained in the course of his duty, respecting the recipients. The examination of these books, with a view to the revision or discontinuance of the allowances, formed a part of our proceedings at every board meeting. The answer therefore of the relieving officers, as represented in the report, where a party discharged upon out-door relief had so far recovered as to be employed at wages, namely, that they were not accountable for such cases, was manifestly in the highest degree discreditable, and could be regarded as reflecting upon themselves only.

Of the four relief districts (three until very recently, when it was found advisable to divide the Lowtherstown district), three were managed to our perfect satisfaction, and we believe we may add, to the satisfaction of the ratepayers in general.

A list of all cases receiving out-door relief was uniformly posted in each division from week to week; and it was the practice of the ratepayers to hold meetings at which such list was discussed, the relieving officer being in attendance, and availing himself of the observations made upon particular cases. Of the general satisfaction thus given, and the estimation in which the officers of these three districts appeared to be universally held, we had frequent testimony.

To Mr. Carson's efficiency we are happy to have the testimony of the present board. Of Mr. Campbell, whose task was a more arduous one, we are only stating what we believe all will admit, when we say, that his character for humanity and efficiency stands so deservedly high in the Union, that his name was never mentioned in it otherwise than with deference and respect. Mr. Aiken, who was placed by us in charge of the part taken from Lowtherstown district, was for only a short time in connexion with us. We found him watchful and diligent, and most attentive to the representations of the ratepayers as well as to our instructions and orders. Lowtherstown district was we regret to say, an exception, for which, until recently divided at our suggestion, the greater mass of destitution and consequent demand upon the energies of the officer, afforded large excuse.

Without needlessly enlarging upon other grounds which arose for our animadversion (originating doubtless in the same cause, the oppressiveness of the duty, but of which we were eventually constrained to take severe notice), it is sufficient for our present purpose to mention, that for the better management of this district in particular, we found it advisable to require in support of the recommendations of the relieving officer, the certificate of three respectable ratepayers as to destitution and other essential particulars in each case.

Having offered these remarks upon the three instances adduced, and as to our general management of this important division of relief, we might perhaps be permitted to dismiss the comprehensive allegation of "disregard to Act of Parliament," by merely adding, that we are not only without the consciousness of having in any instance departed from the act, but that the duty of carrying it out to the letter, and in strict accordance with the rules of the Commissioners, was never absent from our minds. But from the necessity, if there should still appear any, of our further enlarging upon this head, we are happily relieved by the minute inquiry into charges which had been preferred against us, in connexion amongst other matters with the out-door relief, held pursuant to your directions by your Commissioner Mr. Otway, for the purpose. It will be found, as we have reason to believe, by his report to you upon that occasion, that the charges in question were entirely unsustained, or rather, we may be permitted to state, the contrary of each was most elaborately and satisfactorily shown. To the same inquiry we may confidently appeal, also, as respects the imputation of extravagance which appears at a later stage in these reports.

Lowtherstown
Union.

To the few objections yet remaining for us to notice, the answers are obvious. The workhouse test, it will be admitted, was applied to the extent of the numbers authorized (viz., 740 in the house and three out-buildings), when, though stated in the report not to have been found full (and on the male side this impression might readily suggest itself), it appears by a paragraph which is added to the report, that "when the Vice-Guardians left there were in the house 740." The detached building, said in our report to be capable of containing 120 (not 130), and found by the committee with only thirty-six inmates in it, was, as we stated also to you in the same report, originally contemplated by us as an accommodation for the school-children; and, if we remember rightly, it was the opinion given us by Mr. Henry D'Arcy, as it was certainly our own at the time, that it would accommodate that number of children with three floors; and equally divided, upon each floor by the passages and staircase, it presents greatly more than twice the accommodation furnished by the building, where, without prejudice to their health, the number of sixty of the female children was constantly maintained, and with a greatly superior ventilation. Our judgment may notwithstanding have been in some degree influenced by the urgency of the pressure and the difficulty we experienced in procuring out-accommodation. Mr. Barron who afterwards visited it when containing sixty female adults, was of opinion that that number was sufficient; and Mr. Otway, at a later period, expressed himself to the same effect. We therefore restricted it to sixty, giving increased accommodation to that extent to the females in the workhouse itself. That it should have been short of this complement by twenty-four when visited by the committee was an accident of the moment, from discharges, removals to hospital and infirmary (which were singularly frequent from this building), and the master's failing to send down as usual the permitted number in their place. We must not take leave of this building with an unfavourable opinion of it in other respects. Creditable to the managers and cheering to visitors as was at all times the appearance of the three detachments, none of them was more conspicuously so than this, under the direction of Mrs. John Irvine. It presented, uniformly, an aspect of quiet, orderly, and effective industry; and disease no sooner made its appearance than it was removed to the appropriate quarter in the main building of the workhouse.

We might allow ourselves, perhaps, after all that has been explained, to pass over the remark of the Union having been found much demoralized. It is deeply painful to have to attest on behalf of the unhappy destitute in this Union, that so far as the opportunity of observation was afforded us, the poorer classes did seek and were anxious for employment (and some, at a trifling sacrifice to ourselves, we sent abroad from the workhouse to seek it), but, with the rarest exceptions, they found it not, nor was it found for them. We are reluctantly compelled to bear them this testimony, by the point which we lament to observe is attempted to be made against them to the opposite effect. We have, at the same time, no interest of our own in rendering it; for the out-door relief, so far as it was authorized to be administered in this Union to the infirm, through age or accident, to those under severe sickness, to the widow with one or more children, to the orphan (a class too numerous in this Union, nor owing to the public works merely, but more largely, as we have reason to know, from the devastations of fever in the workhouse, to enter which was regarded as certain sacrifice of some of the members of each family, and how many we have witnessed during our administration so reduced, we would too willingly forget), nor to such, unless clearly destitute, has no demoralizing tendency. Considering the number of orphans, and the nature of the calamity by which they have become for a certain period a burden upon the Union, it is not without deep regret, we may here observe, that we have found the industrial training which we introduced chiefly with a view to their benefit (we would hope for the present only), discontinued.

With respect to the seeking and providing of labour, where the necessity is imposed and the duty enjoined to seek upon the one hand, it might be expected that the duty thence arising to assist the seeker, would at the least be admitted and attempted upon the other. But, in the more than absence of such assistance, where the labourer is positively discountenanced, and the very shelter he was heretofore possessed of refused him, compelling in such instances, upon this very account alone, himself and his family to become a useless burden upon the Union—when the first law of nature, that man should eat his bread in the sweat of his brow is denied to him, it can be no reproach to him at least, that he is reduced to live by what after all, is the common title by which every man exists in society—by Act of Parliament.

But why should he have to seek employment in a field, on all sides abundant of promise? This is a question which will be found of serious import to the financial resources of the Union, and to the demand which it is to be apprehended must with a continuance of the present system in this respect continue to be made upon them. The answer to it points at once to the obvious and only remedy for this anomalous and denaturalized condition of things—an interest to the farmer in the land he cultivates. It is not we should hope too sanguine a prediction, that if reasonable scope were afforded to the now pining and straitened energies of the farmer—if he had an assured interest in the fruit of his exertions, the scene would at once change from the listlessness and despondency now witnessed upon all sides, to one of animation and prosperity; and this hitherto half-cultivated soil, now encumbered with its perishing and doubtless it may be added from this source, demoralizing labourers, would present throughout its extent an aspect of contented industry and independence.

With reference to the Financial Report of the 12th April, contenting ourselves as respects the expenditure for provisions and necessaries, with referring to the result of Mr. Otway's inquiry under this head, and with the observation, that the average cost of an in-door pauper under ourselves was for the most part 1s. 3d. weekly or lower, while that of an out-door recipient of relief was according to the age, very nearly 8d., 6d., and 4d.; we have to reply only to the observation upon the items of the establishment account, several of which it is stated, were found by the committee to be "ridiculously extravagant."

The deep responsibility with which we have been invariably impressed when sanctioning any outlay of this kind, warrants the confidence with which we now vindicate ourselves, and assert that not a single item of that account will be found open to the imputation. We annex a summary of it under general heads, with which we have been furnished by the clerk. The particulars are in every instance recorded upon the minutes. In consequence of the extremely deficient supply of clothing and bedding found in the house, an entire new supply of both had to be procured by us, and with the supposition of 740 inmates requiring it. Due steps were taken for proposals, and the price of every article was of the lowest.

To the consumption of turf, necessarily large from the protracted severity of the winter, as well as from the addition of three detached establishments and a fever hospital, the attention of each successive master was repeatedly desired, that the allowance for which there appeared so ample an excuse, might be the more carefully moderated; nor are we satisfied that it has been excessive.

The expenditure of the last six months can require at our hands no further explanation than we have thus given it. There was cause for it in the necessities of the Union, and in its destitution actually developed during that period.

With regard to the decrease in the number of recipients under the present board, we feel called upon to state that it was our belief when we left office (and with the single exception of one gentleman, Mr. Henry D'Arcy, Vice-Chairman of the present board, and whose name we observe is attested to these reports as chairman of committee, we heard the same from all who spoke with us on the subject), that the proportion of cases which might be found upon the minutest inquiry to admit of being struck off without hazard to life (we were aware of none), would prove to be very inconsiderable. In cases of severe sickness, the out-door relief would of course be discontinued upon recovery. We observe by the report that numbers had been diminished even at its date beyond our anticipation, and they have been still further diminished in the interval which has since elapsed. There is, we conceive, no part of the duty of a Board of Guardians which demands a more unfettered discretion than this. A proportionate forbearance will require to be observed by us in our notice of the reductions which have been made.

We shall only mention a circumstance which will assuredly render this propriety, as respects some at least of the parties, and we have reason to fear not a few of them, questionable in the estimation of the present board itself. Of those who have been struck off, several as we have ourselves seen them, not once or in a solitary instance, but in several instances, and repeatedly, are to be found gleaning nettles by the way-side for the sustenance of themselves and children. And at the present season, when untasked nature may be considered to require less for its support, nothing can be more cadaverous than the appearance of those forlorn creatures. Unquestionably, as we find it stated in the report of the 19th ult., they were supplied with provisional tickets for the workhouse, and had therefore the option of being admitted to in-door relief, which they must as it appears have refused at their own peril, preferring such a support as we have mentioned. But the diminution also of the numbers receiving in-door relief through their own free demand to be discharged, has a bearing upon this point, many of the latter having been for a considerable time inmates, and were without resource of either dwelling or friend.

These circumstances appear to give countenance to a prevailing report, that since the absence of our own daily inspection over them, the power of the workhouse superiors is somewhat arbitrarily exercised, and there is room to apprehend from them that the report has a certain degree of foundation. We shall be pardoned for adverting to such a possibility, as accounting (and we know of no other reason that could be given,) for a state of inoperativeness in the test, so far as these cases are concerned, which every one must lament.

The ratepayer, while complaining of the pressure of the demand upon him, an assured relief from which would be welcomed by him as a rescue from impending ruin, is heard to murmur at the number of wretched outcasts still unrelieved. Every ratepayer can name a number of these familiar to him, whose claims upon him he at the same time freely admits, and to whose effectual rescue from perishing it would be some compensation to him to know that he had contributed.

Of the financial prospects of the Union we regret to be compelled to admit, that they are far from being of a character that can be satisfactory to the ratepayer. These prospects for the coming half-year were fully represented to you in our report upon the subject dated 25th March last.

We may be permitted to add a brief survey of them upon the present occasion, in connexion with the imputation of our having involved the Union in an expenditure threatening its "financial ruin," from which it is stated that through the reductions just referred to, there is a hope of its being saved under the management of the new board. We have already adverted to the heavy pressure of the poor rates, to its chief cause, and to what in our opinion, would be the most effectual remedy. We have been at all times most sensible of this pressure. In considering, notwithstanding, the prospect for the coming half-year, we could not forget that by the enactment for the relief of the destitute poor, they are as fully entitled to be relieved under its provisions as the labourer is entitled to his earnings, or the heir to his wealth. Upon this the only legitimate principle of relief, with the particulars of the actual destitution before us, out of a population of about 33,000, according to the Census of 1841, we were of opinion that the expense of maintenance for the four weeks ending the 5th February last, might be reasonably assumed as the average for the coming half-year. This it of course would not have been, had out-door relief been administered to the able-bodied under the second section of the Extension Act. We see no reason to depart from this opinion. Our estimate for the half-year, including establishment charges, together with the cost of the new sewerage and supply of water, was thus brought to £3,027 12s. 10d. The building instalments, falling due in April, £1,066—the advances under the Temporary Relief Act, £3,138 4s. 9d.—and our liabilities for ordinary expenses, up to the 25th March, £750 10s. 3d., made with the above a total amount of, £7,982 7s. 10d. On the other side, there was an amount of £2,122 7s. 3d.; consisting of £622 7s. 3d. in the treasurer's hands, and £1,500 of uncollected rate, after allowing for the irrecoverable part; leaving consequently a balance of £5,860 to be raised by the striking of a new rate. Of the immediate necessity of this, which we represented to you accordingly, we recorded also our strong opinion upon the minutes of our last meeting on the eve of our vacating office.

We beg to state that we continue to be of the same opinion; nor do we see how the immediate striking of such new rate, and putting it in course of collection, is to be dispensed with. Under the actual vigilant administration of the poor law over Ireland, it is to be hoped for the sake of the poor in these parts, that what was enacted for their relief will never again prove what all acquainted with its sad history since formed must with grief acknowledge that it has heretofore proved in this Union. Yet to numbers of them it must inevitably be found such if adequate means become wanting. By the effect which this law has operated upon the formerly indulgent spirit of this country towards the destitute poor, not to speak of the Vagrant Act and its provisions, they are absolutely shut out from any other resource.

With respect to the errors in the registry, exclusively forming the subject of the report of the 19th April, the master we must observe had no excuse for any such. It was a part of our weekly duty to authenticate the register, by comparing it with the books of the relieving officers. Mr. Bullick's attention upon his taking office, was specially called to the entries to be made in it, and he was enjoined to observe the strictest regularity in this respect. As a preliminary step, he was required to prepare a roll of the in-door paupers; the practice of keeping a similar roll to be altered from time to time, as occasion should require, being at the same time strictly enjoined. This roll was, after considerable delay, presented to us; but the register and relief lists, which should have been duly made up and laid before us at our weekly meetings, were found to be continually in arrear, notwithstanding our repeated remonstrances. They were eventually produced in a form purporting to be complete up to the date in the course of our final meeting. The examination of the register, with the preparation of indexes to the books of the relieving officers and to the register itself, which had at that time become necessary to enable us to authenticate the latter, occupied at that meeting, when there was a pressure upon us of matters so much more important, a share of our attention, which sufficiently attested our sense of the imperativeness of this part of our duty.

We found reason, as we conceived, upon that occasion, from the nature of some of the errors which we had to correct, to put faith in Mr. Bullick's assurance, that he had at length duly executed his part, so far at least as to have entered every inmate whose name appeared upon his roll, or to be found in the workhouse. It would appear by the statement in the report, that this was still far from being the case. We examined the book moreover, such as it was laid before us, and authenticated the entries found in it by comparison with the books of the relieving officers. We are not aware that more could be done on our part. Of the relief lists we perceived that they exhibited, after all our remonstrances, numerous errors of the description mentioned in the report, and which is to be understood at this part, as applying itself to those lists; and these errors, as we subsequently discovered, were transferred, with a singular disregard of accuracy (as where the same family was twice entered in a single page), into the lists for the new half-year. We directed the clerk's attention to this circumstance, pointing out to him at the same time, and to Mr. Bullick himself, several of these errors in detail; and the latter was once more instructed to correct them, a list of all prepared with infinite pains by ourselves, being furnished to him for the purpose. It was at the same time arranged, that the correction which no longer presented the slightest difficulty, should be duly observed in making out the past half-year's accounts in the several divisions; so far was it from being the case, "that no correct account could be made of the proportion of expenses chargeable to each division, during the period of our managing the affairs of the Union." And lest there should be any remaining possibility of this matter passing unattended to, the particulars were mentioned by us to certain members of the new board, whose attention to it we requested.

Of the importance of the task which we have now brought to a close, irksome

Lowtherstown
Union.

to us in no ordinary degree, but which may not be without its fruits to the cause of the poor law in this Union, we have been most deeply sensible. The last-mentioned consideration, which may not have presented itself to those whose unmerited censure in such a variety of particulars has been the occasion of imposing upon us so unpleasing a duty, has led us to trespass upon your attention at a greater length than we should otherwise have considered necessary. Knowing how little foundation existed for this censure, which we lament only as it is of no favourable indication for the cause which we have served with a devotedness known to all—a devotedness eminently successful in the accomplishment of its great object, and it will be admitted under circumstances of no ordinary difficulty, but for which we claim no praise beyond your simple approval—we have been relieved of all occasion for personal excitement; and what we have had to submit to you in explanation, will, we trust, by its uniform tenor throughout bear testimony to the absence of any such on our part. The same freedom from impulse or motive of any kind but what proceeds from a sense of public duty, which we may justly claim to have exhibited during our period of office, will be found, we confidently hope, to characterize our present observations. We shall esteem ourselves fortunate, if they shall be found in consequence deserving of the more weight, and especially such of them as bears upon the actual and prospective conditions of this Union.

STATEMENT annexed to the foregoing Report.

Abstract of the Establishment Account, for the half-year ended 25th March, 1848.

Salaries	£482	2	7
Repairs	292	16	7
Insurance	4	2	6
Drugs, &c.	24	15	4
Printing, stationery, advertising, books, and postage	77	18	5
Furniture, and culinary utensils for workhouse, fever hospital, and detached buildings	216	4	11
Rent	4	0	0
Interest on treasurer's account current	5	14	7
Loan from Commissioners repaid	100	0	0
Other small charges (including subscription to Cow-pock Institution, county cess, requisites for relieving officers, beams, weights, buckets, scales, &c., &c.	43	1	5

Total amount, £1,250 16 4

Lowtherstown, April 19, 1848.

JOHN IRVINE, Clerk of the Union.

ESTABLISHMENT ACCOUNT, further explanation of.

SALARIES—

Workhouse officers and clerk	£76	14	3
Two chaplains and medical officer	47	10	0
Schoolmaster and assistant schoolmistress, and nurses	6	19	8
Master tailor and master shoemaker and assistants*	43	17	0
Relieving officers	47	16	9
Vice-Guardians	253	4	0
Audit fund account	3	5	0
Porter's clothes, hat, &c. £1 16s. 11d., Wardmaster's ditto, 19s. 0d.	2	15	11

£482 2 7

*Furniture Account includes—*For fever hospital bedsteads, £27 14s.; drying rails, woman's yard, £18 12s. 6d.; school desks and forms, pump shed, tables, forms, &c., for dining-hall; altar, £7; iron fire-screen in day wards and school-rooms, bakehouse furniture, &c., &c., &c.

*Repairs' Account includes—*Raising yard walls, putting up oven, enlarging schoolmaster and schoolmistress' rooms, glazing workhouse and detached buildings, repairs to auxiliary workhouse in town, £20; Mr. Tickle's contract for supply of water, paid £40, &c.

Printing, &c. Account—

Printing, advertising, postage, and stationery	£62	7	5
National school-books, maps, slates, stationery, &c.	9	13	4
Bibles, testaments, and prayer-books for use of paupers	5	17	8

£77 18 5

J. IRVINE, Clerk of the Union.

* These were tradesmen to whom, during the great pressure for relief and the consequent necessity for clothing, work was given out of doors.

Mr. MORTON to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 18, 1848.

Lowtherstown
Union.

I AM this morning in receipt of your letter dated the 16th instant, transmitting an extract from minutes of the Board of Guardians of Lowtherstown Union of the 10th instant, respecting the terms on which the building therein referred to was taken from Mr. Montgomery as an additional workhouse, with a copy also of the Guardians' previous minute of the 26th April, and the Commissioners' letter thereon of 5th instant, and desiring my observations upon the subject.

The Guardians, it appears, have succeeded in engaging the house in question at half the rate heretofore agreed for by ourselves; and to enable them to accomplish this they have availed themselves of circumstances which must be considered as making a very material difference in their favour, while at the original agreement we had to contend with circumstances entirely adverse.

These circumstances in the Guardians' favour are—

1. The out-door relief being on the decrease, so as to enable them to come to the resolution to dispense with the accommodation altogether, if not to be had on lower terms; to which resolution, they ascribe, as I observe, the advantage they have obtained.

2. The greater facility at their command to engage other premises, and probably even to make a selection from among several, both from their local influence and the altered time of year, in the event of such accommodation being still desirable, which I perceive it is admitted to be.

3. Mr. Montgomery's disappointment as to the disposal of his interest in the house and farm which he represented to us that he had then an immediate prospect of—and we had reason to know that he was actually at the time negotiating for the purpose with Mr. D'Arcy, the landlord of the premises in question. The farm is now cropped, and will remain in Mr. Montgomery's hands for the present.

On the other hand, the necessity we were driven to of procuring extra accommodation in the depth of winter, and I may add, when every tenement that could be had in or about the town was crowded with families whose houses had been levelled in the country parts around, was urgent and well-known. We had been seeking such accommodation in every direction, and so great was the difficulty we experienced, at the same time that the pressure brooked no delay, that it had become a question with us whether we should not have to apply to you to put in force the second section of the Act. At this so eminently critical moment, and most fortunately, as we conceived for the Union, Mr. Montgomery's house became vacant, by his removing to another upon a farm at some distance. It was especially suited to our purpose from its immediate proximity to the workhouse upon the country side. We visited it, and authorized the clerk to confer with him as to terms for a single month; but he was not certain that he could conveniently let us have it even for that period, having the prospect, as he conceived, of immediately disposing of both house and farm to Mr. D'Arcy. He at length stated himself willing to give it for 5s. more than we eventually agreed at, which last was, if I rightly remember, 25s. for the month, nor then otherwise than with the condition (mentioned, I think, in the particulars of the agreement upon our minutes,) of our surrendering it up even before the expiration of the month if desired.

The clerk, as I believe, did his best to make as good a bargain as possible for the Union on this as on every other occasion; and under the circumstances, being moreover for a temporary object, and not at all contemplating a yearly tenure at £15, we considered the terms far from exceptionable.

In a word, when we dealt with Mr. Montgomery, he had no occasion to be solicitous for the engagement, but rather the reverse—the Union the most urgent occasion possible; at the recent dealing with him, he had every occasion—the Union none, at least of an urgent character; a difference, it will be admitted, quite adequate to account for the difference of payment, without censuring us as for a piece of needless extravagance.

I take the opportunity to mention that my late colleague having done me the kindness of passing this way from Dublin, to consider together the various particulars referred to in the reports of the Visiting and Finance Committees which you transmitted to us in connexion with our administration of the affairs of the Union, with a view to our joint explanation of them; such explanation will be now forthwith forwarded to you.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Mr. M'MANUS to the COMMISSIONERS:—June 3, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th ultimo, which, from having been detained in Gardiner-street, only reached me here on the 24th; also, of copies of a minute of the Board of Guardians of the Lowtherstown Union, dated 26th April, and of the Commissioners' letter thereon, and an extract from a later minute of the same board, dated 10th May.

On the subject alluded to in those documents I beg to offer the required observations.

When Montgomery's house was first suggested to my late colleague and myself, and afterwards taken by us, as the only fit place then to be had, to detach about sixty of the schoolboys from the workhouse, circumstances were very different in many respects from what they were on the late occasion of the re-taking of the same premises, at a considerably reduced rent, by the present Board of Guardians. At that time we were placed in such circumstances as fully justified us in giving the rent we did, viz. 25s. per month, as I shall presently explain; whereas, on the late occasion, the exigencies that affected us did not exist, at least not to any thing like the same extent; and the other circumstances of the case were so altered, as certainly not to entitle the elected board to take much credit to themselves for having reduced to half the amount what they were pleased to term "the extravagant sum given by the Vice-Guardians."

At the time we were in treaty for the house, the pressure of the numerous and urgent demands for relief throughout the Union was such as to cause strong apprehensions that we should be obliged to have recourse to the second section of the Extension Poor Relief Act, if additional workhouse accommodation were not at once provided so as to enable us to put the test to all able-bodied applicants for relief, and until the extreme pressure should have subsided. We were in the position that we should either apply for your sealed order to open the second section of the act—an alternative which would have entailed much expense, and might have really led to the demoralization assumed in a former minute of the same board, to have already existed in the Union, but an alternative which, happily for the interests of the Union, we were saved the necessity of having recourse to by the measures we then adopted—or else, lose not a moment in procuring, even on much higher terms, if necessary, than those we gave, such accommodation, in the way of auxiliary workhouses, as might be required.

In such a position we, without hesitation, chose the latter course, as being obviously most for the benefit of the Union.

Montgomery and his family, moreover, were at the moment residing in the house, and it was quite optional with them to leave it or not as they might choose; they were, of course, the less inclined to submit to lower terms than they would otherwise have been willing to take had the house been vacant, or our necessities for it the less urgent. Nor had we the influence over him that a landlord has over a tenant, whose lease is about to expire or has actually ceased to exist. I might also add, as almost a sufficient justification in itself for Mr. Montgomery's asking, and for our giving, a higher rent for the premises, that they were taken by us only by the month, either party having the power of breaking the contract at a very short notice; he not wishing to lose a tenant for the whole by dividing the house from the land, and we for the reason that we then hoped the occasion for holding on the house would be only temporary.

In conclusion, I may be allowed to express my surprise that the circumstance above alluded to should have been put forward as an instance of the "extravagance practised whilst the Union was under the immediate superintendence of the Commissioners," with such unsubstantial grounds and inconclusive evidence to rest so serious a charge upon.

Mr. WILKINSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 8, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 5th instant, on the subject of the Lowtherstown poorhouse, with an extract from the Visiting Committee's report.

I have to state that the house was intended only for a certain number of paupers, and that it will well contain the number it was built for. Plans for its enlargement were sent to the Vice-Guardians, and steps were taken by them but not carried out, I believe, for putting the drains, yards, site, and other matters in a satisfactory state, and it appears that the present Guardians are about to do the same. The drains were out of order, and I intended to recommend when the new fever hospital at Enniskillen was in progress, that the clerk of works, who would be employed there, should give occasional inspection and assistance to the Vice-Guardians; this may not be necessary now, perhaps, if the Guardians get these matters done as proposed.

With regard to the walling being excessive for the space enclosed, I quite differ from the committee, and believe I can prove to the contrary. Barracks, gaols, and asylums are almost all buildings of narrow widths. The wings of the poorhouses are double buildings, with three walls instead of four side walls, and the main body of the buildings with only two side walls for a double width.

Lowtherstown
Union.

Mr. WILKINSON to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 19, 1848.

IN reply to your communication of the 10th instant respecting the Lowtherstown Union workhouse, and the statement as extracted from the Guardians' minutes, viz., that the only way of bringing meal, milk, turf, &c., into the house is through the kitchen, and that much inconvenience results therefrom, I have to state that I do not consider it necessary to make the kitchen the passage for the stores in question. A reference to the plans will, I think, show that the inconvenience complained of is capable of being avoided.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

CASTLEBAR AND WESTPORT UNIONS.

The COMMISSIONERS to the VICE-GUARDIANS:—April 15, 1848.

THE Commissioners have directed me to acquaint you that it is their intention to place Westport and Castlebar Unions, respectively, under separate Boards of Guardians on the 25th instant; and they would propose to appoint you at that time as Vice-Guardians for Westport Union alone, if you are willing still to give the Commissioners the benefit of your services.

In announcing to you their intention of separating two Unions, both of which you have hitherto had under your superintendence, the Commissioners desire to assure you that the reasons which have led them to this determination do not in any degree involve diminished confidence in you. On the contrary, the Commissioners are fully sensible of the value of your exertions, and they have to thank you for the energy and ability with which you have discharged the onerous duties which have been imposed upon you.

Still the Commissioners are convinced that in the present condition of Castlebar and Westport Unions, it is for the interests of the public service that each of these Unions should occupy the undivided official attention of two Vice-Guardians; and the Commissioners feel, moreover, that it is their duty to regard their interests as paramount to all personal considerations.

The rate of salary for the Vice-Guardianship of Westport Union will be the same as the salary fixed by the Commissioners for your late colleague, Mr. Fishbourne, in the adjoining Union of Ballinrobe.

Mr. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—April 16, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to enclose a copy of the rules and of the forms to be adopted in the management of working parties and the administration of relief to the able-bodied, which have been approved by the Vice-Guardians of the Westport and Castlebar Unions. They are similar in all essential points to those adopted in Ballina and other Unions; and as these have already been approved by you, I have authorized the Vice-Guardians to have the present forms printed, they having ascertained by a previous estimate from Messrs. Chambers, in Abbey-street, that the cost would be moderate. I hope in a few days we shall receive some copies, and may introduce the system.

I intend to forward, by to-morrow's post, a further report on the progress making in these Unions, in arrangements for the better management of working parties.

ENCLOSURES.

INSTRUCTIONS to RELIEVING OFFICERS with reference to the Employment of Able-bodied Paupers.

THE relieving officer will prepare on each board-day a list (according to Form A), for every overseer in his division, of the able-bodied paupers who are there ordered relief in return for labour, and shall forward the same, with the least possible delay, to such overseers respectively. Also lists of such persons as by order of the board are struck off the relief lists.

Lists to the same effect, but according to Form B, shall also be furnished to the contractors.

Whenever an application is made to the relieving officer by or on behalf of any able-bodied man, ordered by the Board of Guardians to be set to work, alleging that such person is unable through sickness to perform it, the relieving officer shall proceed to his residence, and having satisfied himself of the truth of the statement, shall order provisional relief for food to be afforded to him until the next board-day, when he shall report all the circumstances to the board. Such relief to be in cooked food, supplied by daily orders on the contractor—Form C.

The relieving officer will obtain from the contractors, on every Monday in each week, an account of the bread issued for the preceding week, supported by vouchers, which he will compare, and if correct, certify the account; and having entered the particulars in his relief list, will transmit the account and vouchers to the board-room before ten o'clock on the morning of the board-day, to be examined by the clerk and laid before the board.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SUPERVISORS.

1. The supervisor shall visit each working party in his district at least twice in every week. He shall keep a full and exact diary of his proceedings each day, stating the precise hours of his visits to the working parties, the number of men present, amount of work performed since last weekly return, and containing such general remarks upon the state of the party, together with such suggestions concerning them as circumstances may require; and shall on the morning of each board-day lay a copy of such diary before the Board of Guardians, accompanied by a return of the number of implements, and their condition, according to a form to be provided for the purpose.

2. At each visit he shall call the roll of the working party from the overseer's book, and ascertain that the overseer has correctly entered each person's attendance. His signature to this portion of the overseer's book shall be considered as a voucher, for the correctness of which he shall be considered strictly responsible.

He shall examine into the nature of the work in progress, and give all necessary directions for securing its due execution, and advancing order and regularity.

He shall count and examine the tools in use, and give directions for all such as are out of repair to be forwarded to the house of the relieving officer.

He shall measure the work done since last visit, and ascertain if the amount executed agrees with the entry in the overseer's book, according to task assigned to each person.

He shall enter on the overseer's book the amount of stone broken, and make arrangements for securing against any of the work thus measured being brought forward for re-measurement on his next visit.

He shall attend at the board-room at ten o'clock on the board-day, and closely examine the overseer's books, and compare them with the weekly return up to the previous Saturday, in order to their being submitted to the chairman.

He shall also compare and check the issue of bread, as returned by the contractors in their accounts, with the numbers returned present in the overseer's books for the corresponding period, and certify the accuracy of the same on the face of the contractor's bill.

After the board have decided upon the applications for relief, the supervisor shall copy, from lists prepared for the overseer, the names of all parties ordered to work, according to Form A; and on his next visit to each working party he shall, by an inspection of the individual, enter in the appropriate columns the class to which he belongs, and the task of work he has to perform, having reference to his ability and the work on which he is to be engaged.

The labourers shall be divided into three classes—the first shall break two boxes daily, the second a box and a half, and the third one box daily. The stones to be broken of a size to pass through a ring not exceeding an inch and a half in diameter. It is calculated that one quarryman can raise stones enough for three breakers.

INSTRUCTIONS TO OVERSEERS OF WORKING PARTIES.

The overseers will be furnished by the relieving officers from time to time with a list containing the names and number in application book of each able-bodied pauper who is to render a task of work—Form A: this list will also contain the age of each individual and the quantity of provision he will be entitled to receive, and columns for "class" and "task to be executed." The two latter will be filled up by the supervisor.

Hours of work shall be from eight o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon—one hour, viz., from twelve to one, to be allowed for dinner.

Roll to be called at eight, one, and five o'clock each day.

Each person answering to have a mark put against his name in the column for the day, in books to be furnished for the purpose—Form D.

At five o'clock the work of each man is to be measured, and if complete according to the allotted task, a ticket is to be issued (Form E), which will entitle him to the number of rations appointed by the Vice-Guardians.

In inclement weather when work cannot be done, it will be sufficient that the men shall have answered the roll calls at eight, one, and four o'clock.

In case a representation is made on behalf of any labourer, that he is unable from sickness to work, the overseer shall forthwith refer him to the relieving officer, but shall on no account whatever give him the food ticket.

On of each week the overseer shall send in to the clerk of the Union a weekly return of labour and of implements, according to Form F, and shall likewise send in his labour-book in the morning of each board-day.

The overseer shall on no account absent himself from his working party under pain of fine or dismissal, and every irregularity or misconduct in the issue of tickets or otherwise, will be severely punished, and the loss to the Union thereby occasioned deducted from his salary. He will receive his pay through the hands of the supervisor alone.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CONTRACTORS for supplying Relief to the able-bodied Paupers.

The contractors will be furnished by the relieving officers after each board-day with a list of persons for whom bread is to be supplied, specifying the quantity for each person respectively. He will supply bread upon tickets addressed to him by the overseers, in the Form E. He will also supply bread upon the tickets of the relieving officers—Form C. Tickets marked for a double quantity will be issued each Saturday.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

He will be required to close his accounts on each Saturday evening, and prepare a return according to Form G, for each electoral division, which, with the tickets to support each item, must be handed over to the relieving officer on Monday.

Separate returns to be made of the bread issued on the tickets of the relieving officers, which, with the vouchers, are to be handed over in like manner every Monday.

Any item in the accounts not duly supported by voucher will be deducted from the payment.

Form A.

UNION.

Electoral Division of _____

RETURN of able-bodied persons to render a task of work.

Working party, No. _____

Dated at _____ the _____ of _____ 1848.

No. in Application book.	Quantity of food authorized if task be executed.	Name.	Age.	Class.	Task to be executed.

Signature, _____

Form B.

UNION.

Electoral Division of _____

RETURN of able-bodied destitute persons to receive daily rations of rye-bread, provided the daily task of work be performed by them.

Week ending _____ of _____ 1848.

No. in Application book.	Name.	No. of pounds of rye-bread allowed daily.

Signature of Relieving Officer _____

Form C.

CASUAL RELIEF—ABLE-BODIED.

Electoral Division.

No. _____

day of _____ 1848.

Name _____

No. in Application book _____

lbs. of _____

No. of working party _____

UNION. _____ Electoral Division.

No. _____

Give bearer for _____ No. in application book _____ he being sick, _____ lbs of bread.

To _____

Contractor.

Signature of Relieving Officer.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

FORM F.

Return of Implements in charge _____ of _____ 1848.

In hands, ...
Received on _____ of _____
Total, ...
Returned into store, — of —, ...
In hands, ...

I certify the foregoing to be correct, and that the Implements returned in hands were counted by me and found in good condition; this _____ of _____ 1848.

Signature of overseer.

Countersigned, _____ Supervisor.

FORM G.—CONTRACTOR'S BILL.

Union, _____ electoral division of _____

The Vice-Guardians Dr. to _____ for rye-bread supplied during week ended _____ lbs. at _____ per lb.

(Per annexed return.)

FORM G— _____ UNION.

Electoral Division of _____

Return of quantity of rye-bread supplied by _____ contractor, during the week ended _____ 1848, upon tickets signed by overseers of work; the said tickets being hereunto annexed.

Number in Application and Report Book.	Lbs. of bread supplied on the following days.						Total.
	Monday. Lbs.	Tuesday. Lbs.	Wednesday. Lbs.	Thursday. Lbs.	Friday. Lbs.	Saturday. Lbs.
Total,

Dated at _____ this _____ day of _____ 1848.

Signature.

Mr. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS :—May 8, 1848.

WITH reference to my former communications on the state of the collection in these Unions, I beg to inform you that since my last report I have had frequent communications with the two collectors by whom the bulk of the rate remains still to be collected, and have endeavoured, by examination of their books, to make myself thoroughly acquainted with the present position and future prospects of the revenue of these Unions. Much time has undoubtedly been lost; and without entering into the causes of this delay, it is evident that if the collectors had sooner made themselves master of their duties, and acted energetically upon them, the results would have been different. Considering the importance of the duties which these collectors have discharged so unsatisfactorily, I have been more than once inclined to recommend their instant dismissal; but on reflection, I have satisfied myself that this course might be prejudicial to the important law proceedings now pending, and would actually produce the greatest embarrassment by the necessary cessation of funds during the interval between the appointment of a new collector and the time when his first lodgments could be made. Upon the whole, therefore, I am of opinion that the best course to adopt is, to retain these two collectors; and I have drawn up a memorandum to guide the Vice-Guardians in the course they should adopt with respect to them. The principle upon which it is based is, that on a certain day in each week, one or more of the collector's books should be examined in turn; that careful and distinct orders should be written down upon any case requiring interference on the part of the Vice-Guardians; and that such instructions should be conveyed in a formal notice to the collector (who should attend the meeting), and unless found to have been acted upon on the next day of meeting, should be followed by punishment, under the 100th section of the Poor Law Act. This course to be continued until each electoral division has been gone through, when the first should be again taken up. I think, by regularly acting up to this line, a systematic course may be pursued which will succeed in getting in as much of the rate as is collected; but I must add, that in both Unions I have no doubt whatever that a considerable amount must be considered irrecoverable. In the case of Mr. Loudon, of Westport, you will perceive that, by means of a large contribution from Lord Sligo, he has been enabled to pay in more than the sum required of him during the past week, and this saved the penalties attached to his disobedience. But it is quite hopeless to expect a continuance of lodgments at this rate.

I have visited a very large portion of these Unions during the past week, and am able to state that the administration of relief is proceeding satisfactorily. On Wednesday I went over the greater part of Castlebar Union, and visited eight or ten working parties. In every one (with a single exception) the attendance was large, amounting generally to three-fourths of the persons returned, which, considering the prevalence of sickness, is a large average. And in every single instance the amount of stone-breaking performed was very large. I have no hesitation in saying, that in that Union the labour test has been well carried out as far as the amount of work is concerned.

On Friday and Saturday I visited Newport and Achill and intended to have seen Clare Island, but the violence of the weather prevented me. However, the Vice-Guardians, at my suggestion, had visited it on the previous week (when illness prevented my accompanying them), and I now transmit a letter which the chairman addressed to me on the subject. I should have forwarded it sooner, but wished to wait until I had an opportunity of confirming its views by personal observation. I am however quite satisfied by this information and that afforded by a trustworthy relieving officer, appointed at my suggestion, that the present powers for relief in the hands of the Vice-Guardians are sufficient to meet the destitution.

My own observation as to Achill enables me to say the same for that division; and I hope that the more uninterrupted presence of the relieving officer, who is now only to leave his district once a fortnight, and the attendance on every alternate week of the Guardians themselves, will secure to this remote locality due attention. I transmit a statement made to me by a very respectable and benevolent gentleman as to the want of medical assistance. It shows in a lamentable manner the imperfection and insufficiency of the established system of medical charities in this country; and the evil appears to me so pressing that I propose that the Vice-Guardians shall appoint a medical officer under the 5th section of the Extension Act, and when the arrangements for this purpose are completed, your sanction will be requested. The labour test is certainly by no means so well worked in this Union as in Castlebar; but much improvement has been effected by means of the new overseers lately appointed, and I have no doubt that in a short time the working parties will be as efficient as can reasonably be expected.

The books and forms being now all ready and on their way from Dublin, daily distribution will now be universally carried out in both Unions. In Castlebar the contracts are ready; and the system having been commenced in two electoral divisions, will easily be extended. Greater difficulty exists here, but some tenders have been sent in which I hope may be accepted on next board-day, and but little delay may then be expected to intervene. I am disappointed at the loss of time already incurred, but I found it impossible sooner to overcome the obstacles in my way.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

In Achill it is proposed to give cooked food to all classes, but in the other electoral divisions to the able-bodied only, at least for the present.

In addition to the fortnightly visits to be paid by the Vice-Guardians to Achill and Ballycroy, I am arranging for regular attendances at each of the other districts, where boards can in turn be held, and where applicants and their families may be assembled in the manner recommended by you, together with any other persons on the relief lists whom it may be necessary to inspect, and where the assistance of neighbouring proprietors may be secured for the detection of fraud. The printed lists of persons receiving relief in two electoral divisions of this Union are already in the hands of the Vice-Guardians, and I expect the remainder of them, both for this Union and Castlebar, in a few days; they will, I am sure, be found of much use.

I can bear strong testimony to the activity at present displayed in the cultivation of the land between Westport and Newport, a distance of about nine miles; I observed at least 300 or 400 men at agricultural work, many employed by Sir R. O'Donnell under the Land Improvement Act, but at least an equal number by the farmers and small holders preparing land for potatoes and turnips. As I advanced further to the west, where the country becomes mountainous and less thickly inhabited, bodies of labourers were no longer seen; but in the vicinity of almost every farmer's house two or three persons might be observed in active employment, and the shores of the small bays, with which the country is intersected, were covered with women and children collecting and carrying sea-weed for manure. I conversed with many persons of intelligence and trustworthiness and found all agreeing in their testimony to the activity and anxiety of the farmers and people to raise crops for their support during the ensuing year. The value of the turnip as human food has been proved to them by this year's experience; and, with more than ordinary forethought, the people seem now anxious to possess a crop of it in order to save the potatoes for seed for the following year.

Many different reasons may be assigned for the improvements in industry and activity observable in this season over the last; but whatever be its true cause, it is satisfactory to observe, that it has arisen and been developed during the administration of an extended poor law.

ENCLOSURES.

STATEMENT of Dr. ADAMS, as to the condition of the people in Achill Island.

I AM a physician, and have resided in the missionary settlement at Achill for twelve years. There is no other medical practitioner on the island. I have been in the constant habit during the whole period of attending to the poor of this district—have done so gratuitously. The medicines for the sick poor were originally provided by voluntary subscriptions, solely; but some years ago the dispensary was taken up by the county, and for five years an amount equal to the private subscriptions was presented for, and expended upon, this object; for the last two years this sum has been withheld, and the dispensary has been, and continues to be, dependent for support on private contributions alone. I have constant opportunities of judging of the sanitary condition of the people. During the past winter low fever, dysentery, and anasarca were exceedingly prevalent. The deaths in consequence have been very numerous, and frequent relapses have taken place amongst the sick from want of a proper description of nourishment. At the present moment I believe the violence of these diseases has abated; and the returning hope which the prospect of support from their own industry has called up, appears to act as a stimulant, and to assist in throwing off the tendency to sickness. Still the amount of disease is considerable, and at least 500 or 600 persons are supplied with medicines, monthly, from the dispensary. The Indian meal, which is distributed under the poor law to the poor, is not well suited to meet the evils under which the people suffer. I think much benefit would result from the administering of rice or oatmeal to the sick; I also think that food distributed in a cooked form would be of much more advantage than the distribution of meal.

NEASON ADAMS, M.D.

Mr. LECKY to Mr. BOURKE:—April 30, 1848.

I think it right to inform you that on Thursday last I made a visit to Clare Island, for the purpose of inspecting the condition of the people there, and ascertaining whether the steward and relieving officer were fulfilling their duties, and the meal distributor dealing fairly by the poor people. I found the island itself much above what a distant inspection had led me to suppose, and some of the land really promising, and here and there good and comfortable houses; the people on the stone-breaking gangs, about seventy, were looking strong, healthy, and well fed, but the amount of work executed, compared with the numbers on the lists, was insignificant. The steward had evidently and wilfully neglected the duty intrusted to him, and must be dismissed as soon as a person can be found to fill his place. There is also every reason to suppose that the time which the people ought to have spent on the stone-breaking has been occupied on their lands, as the greater part of that ever tilled is turned up now; and I think the land round every village is well prepared, much of it sown, and the remainder ready for turnip seed. It is in vain to inquire who the cultivated land belongs to—no one will tell; but the secrecy is evidence that it belongs to persons receiving out-door relief, and that the parties certified for by Sir Samuel O'Malley's bailiff never were out of possession or occupation of their holdings; and this will account for Sir Samuel declining to answer my letter, inquiring whether his bailiff, Mr. Malley, had authority to take surrenders from his tenantry. I walked the whole length of the island, and across the southern end, and in all the distance had but six applications for relief. These shall be attended to on next board-day; and I left word for Vanston to give them provisional relief.

I do not think there is such an amount of destitution among the classes lately cut off as could not be met by relief in the workhouse; however, to set the question at rest, I propose that we should go there again on next Thursday and hold a board, that then every case can be investigated. It would be most satisfactory if we could have the advantage of your presence on that occasion. Captain Broad, of the Dolphin revenue cutter, who kindly gave me a passage to the island, and brought me away again at night, will, I have no doubt, afford us the same accommodation if he is in the bay.

I think it is worthy of remark, that just before my arrival, Sir William O'Malley, Sir Samuel's eldest son, and agent, left the island, after a week's residence, with two vessels freighted with cattle distrained for rent, and yet not one penny of rate will this gentleman pay to enable us to feed his starving tenantry; and Sir William has latterly been sending certificates to the board stating the destitution of parties on the island, who on inquiry were found to be possessed of land, and even tilling and sowing it.

REPLY to the foregoing:—May 16, 1848.

THE Commissioners desire to express their thanks for your report of the 8th instant, on the collection of the rates and administration of out-door relief, as well as the progress of cultivation and industry in the Castlebar and Westport Unions.

With regard to the proposal to appoint a medical officer in Westport Union, under the 5th section of 10 Vic., cap. 31, the Commissioners forward herewith a copy of an order issued in Killarney Union for your information, as to the nature of the arrangement which the Commissioners contemplate adopting generally in such cases.

DEANERY OF WESTPORT.

At a meeting of the Catholic Clergy of the Deanery of Westport, held on the 25th of April, Very Rev. Dean Burke, P.P., in the chair, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved—That we contemplate with feelings of the deepest anguish the present condition of our respective flocks, reduced as they are to the last extremity of destitution, and almost annihilated before our eyes by the ravages of hunger and disease, chiefly owing to the mismanagement and heartless indifference of the well-paid officers who pretend to administer the Poor Law Act in this Union.

Resolved—That from all we have seen and heard of the manner of acting of those who are paid for carrying out the provisions of the poor law, it is our firm conviction, that if it were intended to starve the people to death, and entail everlasting ruin on the district, it would be impossible to discover a more effective plan, or one better calculated to accomplish such infernal policy than that which has been adopted from the beginning, and is still, in spite of all remonstrance, recklessly persevered in by all parties connected with the administration of that law.

Resolved—That we particularly deplore the cruel policy which has permitted a statute purporting to be enacted for the relief of the poor to be shamelessly converted into an ejectment law, whilst the poor are robbed of even the miserable privilege conferred upon them by the ruthless "Gregory clause," to indulge the levelling propensities of some exterminating landlords who, to all appearance, care not what becomes of their unfortunate tenants, provided they can banish them by any means from off their estates.

Resolved—That the utter recklessness about the lives of the poor on the part of the Vice-Guardians and their staff has been perfectly evinced by their recent conduct, in striking off the relief list vast numbers of the most destitute, even those who had been actually obliged to throw down their houses to qualify themselves for relief. That it is worse than mockery to tell those famishing creatures, as the Guardians so unfeelingly have done, "to go seek for employment from the farmers!" well aware at the same time that there are no farmers in this district, where persons have been known to offer themselves to work for a penny a day rather than starve, but could get no one to employ them.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

Resolved—That a gleam of hope is kindled within us at witnessing the extraordinary efforts being made at present by the inhabitants of our respective parishes to till so very extensively, notwithstanding their heart-broken and bankrupt state, and the shameless absence of all encouragement, nay, the positive discouragement of many of the landlords, that those who have made such noble efforts are now almost universally at the point of starvation, having exhausted all their scanty means in seeding the land; that therefore we respectfully and most earnestly call on the Government to come forward at once with a liberal grant for feeding the people and carrying them through the crisis from this till harvest, when we hope, with the blessings of Providence, our patient and long-suffering people will have abundance of food to support themselves, and will be no longer depending on such precarious sustenance.

Resolved—That the foregoing resolutions be published, and that a copy of same be forwarded immediately to the Prime Minister, and another to Mr. John O'Connell, with a request that he will lose no time in pressing the subject on the attention of the House of Commons, as it is one at this moment of the most vital importance.

(Signed,)

BERNARD BURKE, Chairman.

The COMMISSIONERS to Mr. REDINGTON:—May 9, 1848.

THE Commissioners have had their attention drawn to a series of resolutions, published in the "Dublin Freeman's Journal" of the 5th instant, as having been adopted at a meeting of the Roman Catholic Clergy of the Deanery of Westport, held on the 25th ultimo.

In the first and second of these resolutions it is represented that the poorer classes are reduced to the last extremity of destitution, and almost annihilated by the ravages of hunger and disease, chiefly owing to the mismanagement and heartless indifference of the officials administering the poor law in the Union; and that if it were intended to starve the people to death, and entail everlasting ruin on the district, it would be impossible to discover a more effective plan "to accomplish such infernal policy," than that which has been adopted from the beginning, and still recklessly persevered in, by all parties connected with the administration of that law.

No reference is given, however, to any measures, contrary to the law, which were adopted in administering the enactments to which such results are ascribed; and no instances are afforded of the denial of relief in any cases in which it could have been legally given by the local administrators of the law.

Up to the 21st of March, relief out of the workhouse was afforded to all classes of destitute persons to whom it could be given, under the provisions of the Relief Extension Act, 10 Vic. cap. 31; from that date out-door relief has been restricted so as to exclude able-bodied men who are unmarried, or who being married have only a wife and one child, and the total number so relieved daily throughout the last month, under such restricted order of the Commissioners, exceeded twenty-one thousand.

Much stress is laid in the third resolution on the effect of the enactment requiring that persons occupying more than quarter of an acre of land should not receive relief; but in administering the law subject to this clause, relief was directed to be given to such persons as had ceased to occupy land of greater extent than the law allowed in such cases.

In the fourth resolution "utter recklessness about the lives of the poor" is imputed to the Vice-Guardians and their staff, "as evinced by their recent conduct in striking off the relief list vast numbers of the most destitute, even those who had been obliged to throw down their houses to qualify themselves for relief," and who were told to seek employment from the farmers. The Commissioners beg to observe, that the Vice-Guardians have not required houses to be thrown down as the condition on which relief would be given, as the law allows relief to householders, and portion of this resolution must therefore have been intended to refer to other parties than the administrators of the poor law. The Commissioners also beg to state, that before the issue of their order of the 21st March, by which unmarried men, and those having but a wife with one child, were excluded from relief except in the workhouse, the number of persons who received out-door relief, under the 2nd section of the Act, 10 Vic. cap. 31, in this Union extended to 17,137, and was in the following week reduced to 14,208; therefore 2,929 persons would appear to have been the number excluded by the order referred to; and the population of the Union in 1841 amounted to 77,952.

However, in the fifth resolution, there is evidence of the good result of this order, as it detached from the relief lists the labourers who enabled the landholders to crop their farms, which might otherwise have remained to a great extent uncultivated.

There is not in any of the resolutions an acknowledgment of the relief administered from the funds of the British Relief Association, to the children who attend at the public schools of the Union, in which there are 8,250 children daily supplied with food.

Mr. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 11, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that during the last three days I have visited the largest of the islands comprising the Clare Island electoral division of this Union, and examined attentively into the operation of the poor law there. I was accompanied in this visit by the chairman of the board of Vice-Guardians, and the medical officer of the workhouse. The first of the islands we visited was Boffin, where I regret to say a robbery had been committed a few nights before on the store where the relief meal was placed. We took some police with us to the island and made every inquiry likely to lead to a discovery of the offenders, but without much success. A strong case of suspicion has however been made out, which may eventually lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties; and we have left the constables on the island to make further investigation, and to assist Mr. Hildebrand (the principal inhabitant) in bringing the parties to justice.

The island of Boffin has a considerable population, which supports itself by agriculture and fishing; but in consequence of their present poverty they have been up to this time unable to avail themselves of this latter occupation, and have trusted entirely for support to out-door relief. A short time ago I applied to Count Strzelecki for a grant of biscuit for the use of these fishermen—a request with which he most promptly complied; and I feel great pleasure in being able to state, that this benevolence has been attended with the best effects. Already upwards of thirty crews (most of whom had been previously receiving out-door relief) are partaking of its benefits; and being themselves supported by the biscuit whilst engaged in their business, are enabled, from the produce of their fishing, to maintain their families without public assistance. At present, indeed, their profits are small, for the season has been unfavourable; but I think before long their industry and self-reliance may meet with greater success. The agricultural portion of the population are suffering severely from poverty, and many who, up to this time, have remained in occupation of their land, are now forced to resign it, in order to obtain food. I feel no doubt that the distress in this island can, and will, be sufficiently met by means of the poor law; and I also believe that its administration is secured from abuses by the co-operation of Mr. Hildebrand, agent to the proprietor, Lord Sligo, who resides on the island and knows every resident.

From Boffin we proceeded to Clare Island, where we spent a day. My own observation has confirmed the report already made by the Vice-Guardians, as to the condition of this island, and forwarded in my letter of the 8th. The island appears to me to be in course of cultivation to an extent equal to that of former years; but I am disposed to think that though much land has been tilled and manured, but little has been sown with corn or planted with potatoes. The poverty of the inhabitants has prevented their procuring seed; but their desire to provide for the wants of next year, and the repeated advice of their clergymen, have induced them to prepare the land in hopes of obtaining a gratuitous supply of seed. There can be no doubt, from the appearance of the island, that many of them in receipt of relief from the rates have continued in occupation of some of their land, and have employed themselves in its cultivation instead of being engaged in breaking stones. These two abuses I have applied myself to correct, since I have been here, and I have no doubt, with success. An intelligent, and

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

I believe upright person, named Vanston, has been appointed relieving officer; and arrangements have been made for enabling him to remain on the island as much as possible. A more strict attention has also been paid to the working parties, and a larger amount of work has been performed during the last month than for any previous part of the year. And in order more efficiently to conduct this branch, I intend that a person shall be sent to the island as overseer and assistant relieving officer, in whom more confidence can be placed than in the person now employed. By these means, I believe the orders under which relief should be administered may be carried out; but it is right to add, that the difficulties already experienced will still continue to be felt. These result in some measure from the circumstances of the island. It is the property of a single proprietor, Sir Samuel O'Malley, a gentleman in very embarrassed circumstances. Very little rent has been paid on it for some years; and I believe almost all the defaulting tenants have surrendered their holdings, but been permitted to re-occupy their houses. Finding themselves undisturbed, and likely to continue so, (for the proprietor is not in a position to take the land into his own hands, and can get no tenant to rent it as long as the present tenantry remain,) they have exerted themselves to dig and manure as much of their land as possible, trusting to the chance of getting seed gratuitously, and being supported until harvest by the rates. The inquiries of the relieving officer as to occupation, are met by an allegation of surrender, supported in many cases by a certificate to the same effect from Sir William O'Malley (eldest son of Sir Samuel); whilst the rundale system of holding land, which prevails in a most complicated manner in the island, renders personal observation as to the fact of occupancy almost impossible. There is scarcely one man whose land adjoins his house, and most of the arable land is held in small lots of a quarter or half an acre, and so intermixed, that it is very easy to mislead on the question of ownership. I think, therefore, that in the case of this island, the Vice-Guardians can never feel confident that the provisions of the tenth section of the Extension Act are duly enforced. These causes are now producing great suffering among the people. It is impossible for Vice-Guardians to afford relief against a strong conviction that the parties are in occupation of land; and yet, in so limited a district, it is difficult for the poor (who have no other house than their own to go to, and have already dug and manured some of their land) to establish the fact that they have ceased to occupy. In cases where there appears a doubt, I have advised the Vice-Guardians to offer the workhouse. I feel very much for these poor people; they have shown the strongest wish to help themselves. They have done all in their power to secure their own support; but every effort they have made appears likely to be lost for want of assistance they might naturally expect from their landlord. I shall endeavour to interest the Society of Friends on their behalf, and to procure a renewal of the relief to the school children, which has, unfortunately, been for the last fortnight withdrawn. The medical officer who accompanied me will send in a report of the sanitary state of the island, which, on receipt, I will transmit to you. I fear there is much sickness, and am sorry to say there is no medical man in any part of the electoral division. If you think it right to adopt my recommendation on the last minutes, and direct the Vice-Guardians to appoint a medical officer under the fifth section of the Extension Act, I think the benefits will be materially felt in these islands; and the expense of travelling will not be much, as the revenue cutters have been offered by their commanders for this service.

The calm state of the weather detained me longer in these islands than I had intended, and has produced some arrears in my correspondence.

Mr. BOURKE to the COMMISSIONERS:—May 14, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to forward the report from the medical officer of Westport Union to which I alluded in my last letter of the 11th, upon the condition of the inhabitants of the islands comprising the electoral division of Clare Island.

I stated in my letter the steps I should recommend for meeting the evils stated by the medical officer as existing in Clare Island itself; and have only to add, that the Vice-Guardians will immediately take measures for securing a supply of salt for the use of the poor.

ENCLOSURE.

Castlebar and
Westport Unions.

REPORT on the Sanitary Condition of the Islands of Boffin, Shark, and Clare.

Westport, May 12, 1848.Boffin and Shark.

FEVER, which I learned had recently prevailed to a great extent, has considerably abated in those islands, both in the number of cases and frequency of relapse; there are, however, a good many cases in Shark of a mild character, which, particularly among the destitute, are followed frequently by diarrhoea, dysentery, and subsequent dropsical effusion of the lower extremities. I have found several cases of each of these diseases. Scrofulous disease, manifested by ulcers and glandular enlargements, are of frequent occurrence.

But notwithstanding the prevalence of those affections, I feel warranted in stating that the present sanitary condition of those islands is not unusually bad—the extreme destitution under which many of their inhabitants are suffering being duly considered.

To the vigilant attention bestowed by Mr. Hildebrand (Lord Sligo's agent at Boffin) on the people, I believe is mainly attributable the absence of diseases in worse forms than at present prevail.

Clare Island.

This island having been represented as being in a state of extreme destitution, and consequent suffering from disease, I made minute inquiries and personal examination into the sanitary condition of its people.

The result of my investigation has painfully confirmed the truthfulness of the representations which had reached me. Of fever there are not, indeed, many cases, but cutaneous diseases, diarrhoea, dysentery, and dropsy, prevail to a very great extent; the latter disease (particularly amongst the young) in some of its worst forms.

The mortality of this island has been, and must be for some time to come, very great; the appearance of some, especially the children, is wretchedly miserable and squalid.

I deem it proper to mention a fact communicated to me by Mr. Hamill, the district inspector of national schools, viz., the want of salt—a privation which must be productive of many evils.

I have prescribed for a vast number, and intend forwarding the necessary medicines (compounded) to the relieving officer, with the necessary directions for their proper distribution.

T. HAMILTON BURKE, *Fellow R. C. Surgeons, &c.*REPLY to the foregoing:—May 20, 1848.

I AM directed by the Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, transmitting a report from the medical officer of Westport Union, relative to the condition of the inhabitants of the islands comprising the Clare Island electoral division; and I am to inform you that the Commissioners will direct the appointment of a medical officer for Boffin and Clare Islands, under the 5th section of the Temporary Poor Relief Extension Act.

Continuation of CORRESPONDENCE between the Earl of LUCAN and the VICE-GUARDIANS, or their SOLICITOR, on the subject of POOR RATES.

The Earl of LUCAN to Mr. O'DONEL :—February 15, 1848.

See 6th Series,
page 544.

IN my letter of the 29th ultimo I expressed my intention of immediately repairing to Ireland, at whatever inconvenience, to endeavour to arrange amicably and speedily the poor rate claims you have been instructed to enforce against me; having realized that intention, your reply of the 7th instant only reached me last evening. You observe that you believe the language used by me respecting the acts and intentions of the officers connected with the administration of the law for the relief of the poor in this Union to be undeserved. I confined my remarks, as much as possible, to facts in refutation of the observations made by you; and I can assure you, that to me it was a source of regret to find myself compelled to make charges so severe, and in language so strong; but I thought then, as I think now, that the unjustifiable attack upon my property and my character, which it is attempted to assail, did not permit me to express myself differently. You state that the law does not sanction an arbitration, or rather reference, such as I proposed. Now, so long as you do not contradict my assertion, that with Mr. Lynch, of Partrey, that course was adopted, and sanctioned by the Poor Law Commissioners—and I can name other cases where compromises have been allowed—I must doubt your authority.

See however page
46, 6th Series—
Ballinrobe Union.

As you declare that you knew nothing of the injustice of the demands you are endeavouring to enforce against me, I am sorry to have used the expression I did. I must however in my own justification state, that the notoriety of the fact, and the circumstance of the Clerk of the Union being your own clerk, would not allow me to suppose that what was known to everybody else was unknown to you, the law adviser of the paid Guardians. And you say, that opposed to my statements of the injustice is the fact, that I did not deem it proper to have recourse to the quarter sessions for protection and redress. To no one better than myself can it be known, that no protection or redress of that or any other sort has been open to me. At the time of the quarter sessions, £228 2s. 2d. only had been demanded. I had paid £150 13s. 3d., a sum exceeding by £12 2s. my just liabilities; and I had had furnished to Mr. Lecky, by his desire the particulars of every objected item. Subsequent to the commencement of the sessions, a further demand, without particulars, was made for £262 10s. 2d.; and you, only six days later, on the 12th January called upon me to pay £692 4s. 2d., adding that the particulars had been furnished to my agent, a statement quite contrary to fact; and when only £339 19s. 1d. of the gross sum demanded remained unpaid, my agents at first assisted by myself, have by search, with much labour made out the particulars of the first two demands, and there appear to be upwards of 1,100 cases of objection in this Union alone. In the different Unions where my estates are situate, they cannot fall short of 2,000. Could any solicitor prepare 2,000 appeals in the time? and mine, as you know, was confined to his bed, and his life despaired of. The law requires recognizances being entered into by the appellant himself, not his agent, and in Ireland. I was at the time attending Parliament in England;—how could I enter into 2,000 recognizances? The law does not make it sufficient to discharge myself, by showing that I was not liable. I must discover, in each of the 2,000 cases, where the rated property lay, to whom it legally belonged, and by whom and by what term it was occupied, and all the parties interested should be served with a fourteen days' notice. Such is the law which, you say, offered me protection and redress against demands, without particulars, of which the greater part was only made during and subsequent to the sessions, where these 2,000 appeals were to be fought; besides which, what sane man would embark in such endless and fruitless litigation? What! fight 2,000 cases with parties of whose liabilities I must be most imperfectly acquainted, and perhaps with paupers, at a cost that the profits of my Irish property could not meet. If to you it shall appear differently, to the public it will be manifest that in my case at least an appeal to the quarter sessions is a mockery, and that the law offered to me no protection or redress whatever against the extraordinary demands insisted upon by the paid Guardians, who themselves created the difficulty and injustice by positively preferring a valuation condemned and discarded, and notoriously fallacious and false, to one revised, and it is to be supposed correct. Sincere in my wish to effect the object of my long journey, I have repeated to the paid Guardians my desire to refer. I cannot allow myself to believe that those gentlemen will refuse to settle amicably these claims, and that in the discharge of a public duty they will persist in the harassing litigation with which you continue to threaten me—a course so oppressive to me, and so costly to the Union, whose affairs they are appointed to administer, and whose funds they are bound to economize.

Castlebar Union.

Mr. O'DONEL to the Earl of LUCAN:—February 18, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 15th instant. I have, by this post, submitted it to the consideration of the Guardians of the Castlebar Union.

The CLERK of the UNION to the Earl of LUCAN:—February 15, 1848.

I AM directed by the Guardians to forward to your lordship the following copy minute from their proceedings on the 14th instant:—

MINUTE.

The Vice-Guardians have received the following letter from the Earl of Lucan, viz.:—

Castlebar, February 14, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,

Though only arrived on Saturday evening last I have already investigated the claims against me for rates to this Union. I find that the payments are short £8 5s. 10½d.; and I have directed that the amount shall be paid to the rate collector this day.

Being most anxious to arrange all demands on the part of the Union amicably and speedily, I beg to propose, that you should depute some competent person to examine closely with me every item, when I shall explain each and every cause of objection, and where the objections are ill-founded (if any) be prepared to concede them, and discharge the amount.

I am, Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

To the Vice-Guardians, Castlebar Union.

LUCAN.

Resolved—That having entrusted to the hands of their solicitor the recovery of the poor's rate alluded to in the above letter, the Vice-Guardians do not feel themselves in a position to interfere in the manner suggested by his lordship.

The clerk is directed to forward to the Earl of Lucan a copy of the above minute.

Mr. O'DONEL to the Earl of LUCAN:—March 20, 1848.

I HAVE been instructed by the Vice-Guardians of the Westport Union to apply to your lordship for payment of the rates apportioned upon you in that Union; and to state, that unless the amount due be paid, I shall be obliged to institute legal proceedings.

Your lordship will, I am sure, admit that hitherto I have not acted with any degree of precipitation; and that if expense of a serious amount be now incurred, I at least cannot be considered to blame, except, perhaps, in so far as I omitted to obey my instructions more promptly.

Mr. O'DONEL to the Earl of LUCAN:—April 6, 1848.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 31st* ultimo, in reply to my application on the part of the Westport Guardians, to whom I have forwarded your lordship's letter.

* This letter has not been received by the Commissioners.

FINANCIAL RETURNS:—

[In continuation of similar Series in Sixth Series of Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session.]

STATEMENT (pp. 195–219) showing for each POOR LAW UNION IN IRELAND,—

- I.—The Average Numbers of Destitute Persons Relieved in the Workhouse, and out of the Workhouse, during the Months of April, May, and June respectively.
- II.—The Expenses of each Month, distinguishing the Cost of In-Maintenance, of Out-Relief, and of all other Expenses.
- III.—The Progress of the Collection of Poor Rate during each Month, compared with the Expenses of the Month.
- IV.—The Financial Condition at the close of each Month, the State of the Balance on the Treasurer's Account, and the Amount of Liabilities to Contractors or others, exclusive of any sum due to Her Majesty's Government, on account of Building Loans or other Advances.
- V.—A Comparative Summary of the Collection and Expenses of the Seven Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th April, 1848.
- VI.—A Comparative Summary of the Collection and Expenses of the Eight Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 31st May, 1848.
- VII.—A Comparative Summary of the Collection and Expenses of the Nine Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th June, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during April, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during April, 1848.					State of Collection during April, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of April on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount relaid with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY ANTRIM:
Antrim	49,168	1,050	633	—	633	1.69	253	—	227	480	0 11	—	3	743	—
Ballycastle	26,920	340	429	—	429	1.64	150	—	146	296	0 11	1,002	1,002	228	1,172
Ballymena	74,023	1,150	931	1,220	2,151	2.9	400	101	316	717	0 2	1,854	1,811	705	4,449
Ballymoney	48,812	752	731	987	1,718	3.52	196	79	119	394	0 11	468	611	321	2,267
Belfast	100,992	2,922	2,850	—	2,850	2.82	1,000	—	936	1,936	0 11	1,985	1,984	1,045	6,361
Larne	38,758	980	559	—	559	1.44	152	—	145	297	0 1	309	459	578	671
Lisburn	75,444	1,450	822	—	822	1.08	287	—	181	468	0 1	90	90	268	63
COUNTY ARMAUGH:
Armagh	110,408	1,800	1,148	1,889	2,537	2.29	294	107	387	788	0 1	2,823	2,819	22	11,841
Lurgan	71,128	1,512	1,017	—	1,017	1.43	374	—	233	607	0 11	688	691	20	4,226
COUNTY CAVAN:
Bailieborough	49,395	1,114	1,028	4,457	5,485	11.11	366	626	112	1,104	0 5	998	1,175	944	6,136
Cavan	97,371	1,950	1,625	7,632	9,257	9.51	681	620	568	1,869	0 31	200	234	413	1,663
Cootehill	67,170	1,000	881	5,583	6,464	9.62	249	495	489	1,233	0 4	2,145	2,132	1,499	5,768
COUNTY DONEGAL:
Ballyshannon	49,403	870	707	1,259	1,966	4.52	188	113	701	1,002	0 41	291	424	422	1,061
Donegal	41,371	550	541	1,217	1,758	4.24	208	129	333	668	0 5	1,103	1,008	352	2,359
Dunfurnaghy	18,571	300	268	—	268	1.44	86	—	105	191	0 41	336	293	151	791
Glenties	49,571	600	466	4,069	4,535	10.10	179	393	39	611	0 81	501	592	266	519
Inishowen	43,560	600	411	550	961	2.20	169	47	150	357	0 21	1,072	1,223	335	2,804
Letterkenny	25,921	920	402	—	402	1.55	123	—	87	210	0 11	119	150	289	791
Milford	38,108	430	208	1,899	2,107	5.73	107	125	335	567	0 41	314	342	498	332
Stranorlar	25,786	460	332	—	332	1.28	145	—	75	220	0 11	279	414	400	1,626
COUNTY DOWN:
Banbridge	87,323	1,350	1,202	1,370	3,072	3.51	347	151	172	670	0 11	731	739	231	4,138
Downpatrick	74,938	1,060	704	—	704	.93	287	—	97	384	0 01	304	304	371	1,651
Kilkeel	28,638	300	257	192	449	1.56	116	14	46	176	0 11	—	—	246	82
Newry	95,541	1,350	1,155	2,653	3,808	3.98	307	190	314	781	0 11	641	641	992	4,045
Newtownards	60,165	1,165	582	—	582	0.96	216	—	131	347	0 01	942	943	905	6,961
CO. FERMANAGH:
Enniskillen	81,534	1,270	1,171	4,155	5,326	6.53	427	433	388	1,248	0 31	1,273	1,137	1,746	3,472
Lisnakea	37,920	904	818	—	818	2.15	236	—	80	316	0 11	826	571	47	2,568
Lowtherstown	34,063	740	587	2,047	2,634	7.53	198	219	61	478	0 21	237	290	459	1,336
CO. LONDONDERRY:
Coleraine	52,704	960	630	—	630	1.19	214	—	151	365	0 1	550	819	101	1,776
Londonderry	64,740	1,100	897	1,747	2,644	4.08	407	334	490	1,311	0 21	987	987	1,417	2,246
Magherafelt	80,818	1,140	882	773	1,655	2.04	253	45	98	396	0 11	230	391	711	2,861
Newtownlimavady	39,058	890	488	—	488	1.24	122	—	73	194	0 01	365	365	83	3,095
CO. MONAGHAN:
Carrickmacross	39,729	650	643	2,140	2,783	7.00	188	226	133	549	0 31	167	122	544	6,329
Castleblaney	58,945	1,220	765	2,276	3,041	5.15	241	187	466	894	0 31	864	422	1,244	1,645
Clones	42,320	850	820	2,060	2,880	6.80	325	207	244	776	0 81	1,298	1,298	1,638	3,217
Monaghan	69,959	1,076	878	—	878	1.25	292	—	250	542	0 11	369	378	875	2,083
COUNTY TYRONE:
Castlederg	21,368	570	375	—	375	1.75	96	—	150	246	0 21	50	51	1	284
Clogher	39,800	700	620	1,695	2,315	5.81	300	148	144	492	0 21	219	237	385	320
Cookstown	46,455	600	573	781	1,354	2.91	214	72	90	376	0 11	185	104	321	576
Dungannon	70,000	990	928	1,618	2,546	3.62	248	118	190	556	0 11	343	503	857	1,722
Gortin	18,747	428	141	—	141	0.75	55	—	20	75	0 1	63	63	65	492
Omagh	69,099	1,104	934	2,660	3,594	5.20	346	244	188	728	0 21	1,877	1,463	366	4,382
Strabane	58,883	960	788	1,627	2,413	4.09	307	179	133	709	0 2	200	202	842	1,099
TOTAL ULSTER	2,362,132	41,717	33,115	58,556	91,671	3.88	11,483	5,594	9,542	26,619	0 11	28,888	29,642	23,946	110,432
Total for March	2,362,132	41,339	36,026	60,761	96,787	4.10	12,323	6,038	11,616	30,011	0 21	33,749	33,893	39,358	126,434

* CAVAN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 8th December, 1847.

* COOTEHILL.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of April, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of April, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the seven months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of April, 1848.								Valuation of Rated Property.	NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the seven months.	Expenses of the seven months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the seven months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the seven months on the entire Valuation.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
COUNTY ANTRIM:
—	480	1,455	—	—	951	6,800	3,699	2,401	—	1 3	0 9½	100,611	Antrim.
796	—	1,380	—	—	1,143	2,079	2,161	—	02	1 0½	1 1	39,160	Ballycastle.
1,137	—	1,357	—	—	629	6,214	4,127	2,087	—	1 3½	0 10½	97,462	Ballymena.
7½	—	621	—	—	499	4,717	2,754	1,063	—	1 3½	0 9	73,086	Ballymoney.
49	—	970	—	1,655	—	13,829	15,573	—	1,744	1 0½	1 1½	271,915	Belfast.
12	—	840	—	—	539	2,891	1,944	947	—	0 9½	0 6½	72,437	Larne.
—	378	—	527	836	—	4,127	3,561	566	—	0 7½	0 6½	136,397	Lisburn.
COUNTY ARMAGH:
2,035	—	4,131	—	—	3,326	11,412	6,075	5,337	—	1 3½	0 8½	174,372	Armagh.
81	—	671	—	45	—	10,028	7,047	2,981	—	2 2	1 6	52,682	Lurgan.
COUNTY CAVAN:
—	106	502	—	982	—	8,983	5,567	3,478	—	3 5½	2 1½	52,156	Bailieborough.
—	1,669	3,844	—	103	—	16,313	12,530	3,783	—	2 6½	1 11½	127,302	Cavan.
912	—	1,886	—	667	—	7,658	6,120	1,538	—	2 1	1 7½	78,490	Cootehill.
COUNTY DONEGAL:
—	711	2,246	—	—	1,426	6,639	3,575	3,064	—	2 6½	1 4½	51,435	Ballyshannon.
435	—	1,333	—	189	—	3,655	1,864	1,791	—	2 3½	1 2	31,639	Donegal.
145	—	213	—	18	—	610	891	—	281	1 1½	1 8	10,543	Dunfanaghy.
—	110	350	—	2,143	—	2,913	3,680	—	767	3 6½	4 5½	16,330	Glenties.
715	—	1,209	—	—	820	2,642	1,464	1,178	—	1 5½	0 9½	36,607	Inishowen.
—	91	53	—	565	—	1,829	2,269	—	440	1 1½	1 5	31,635	Letterkenney.
—	253	448	—	—	1	2,860	2,138	731	—	1 9½	1 4½	31,377	Milford.
59	—	806	—	—	718	2,303	1,061	1,242	—	1 6½	0 8½	29,402	Stranorlar.
COUNTY DOWN:
61	—	707	—	—	92	6,794	4,834	1,960	—	1 1	0 9½	123,970	Banbridge.
—	80	3,081	—	—	2,807	4,335	2,747	1,588	—	0 6½	0 3½	167,893	Downpatrick.
—	176	69	—	236	—	1,305	1,130	167	—	0 8½	0 7½	36,931	Kilkeel.
—	140	863	—	107	—	4,713	5,113	—	400	0 8½	0 9½	129,651	Newry.
595	—	—	506	934	—	4,237	3,313	924	—	0 8½	0 6½	118,469	Newtownards.
COUNTY FERMANAGH:
25	—	332	—	1,707	—	9,357	5,373	3,984	—	1 11½	0 10½	96,103	Enniskillen.
510	—	2,015	—	—	1,092	5,505	2,190	3,315	—	2 4	0 11	46,919	Lisnaskea.
—	236	74	—	122	—	5,182	4,847	835	—	2 4½	1 11½	43,944	Lowtherstown.
Co. LONDONDERRY:
165	—	960	—	—	534	8,459	3,249	210	—	0 10½	0 10	76,410	Coleraine.
—	324	787	—	202	—	5,340	5,568	—	223	0 11½	0 11½	111,959	Londonderry.
—	166	1,226	—	—	991	5,378	2,769	2,619	—	1 5	0 8½	73,339	Magherafelt.
171	—	785	—	—	560	3,005	2,224	781	—	0 10	0 8	65,630	Newtownlimavady.
COUNTY MONAGHAN:
—	382	645	—	—	328	4,872	3,133	1,739	—	2 1½	1 5½	46,325	Carrickmacross.
—	530	9	—	2,348	—	7,373	6,053	1,320	—	2 3	1 10	65,473	Castleblanney.
522	—	403	—	—	355	4,414	3,575	839	—	1 7½	1 3½	55,055	Clonea.
—	173	4,220	—	—	3,760	8,936	3,443	5,493	—	1 10½	0 8½	94,431	Monaghan.
COUNTY TYRONE:
—	196	63	—	305	—	1,356	1,143	213	—	1 2½	1 0½	21,790	Castlederg.
—	273	702	—	117	—	4,053	2,985	1,068	—	1 11	0 4½	42,275	Clogher.
—	191	178	—	386	—	2,226	2,125	101	—	0 8½	0 8½	58,550	Cookstown.
—	213	255	—	748	—	4,609	3,688	921	—	1 0½	0 9½	90,330	Dungannon.
—	12	—	—	504	—	1,063	693	370	—	1 4½	0 10½	15,751	Gortin.
1,149	—	1,835	—	—	947	7,136	4,620	2,516	—	1 10½	1 2½	75,354	Omagh.
—	509	4,812	—	—	3,539	8,031	4,106	3,925	—	1 11½	1 0	81,529	Strabane.
9,668	7,399	46,849	1,033	14,874	25,852	230,692	166,654	67,975	3,937	1 4½	1 0	3,320,133	TOTAL ULSTER.
10,838	7,100	41,092	894	15,267	23,644	—	—	—	—	—	—	3,320,133	Total for March.

* ENNISKILLEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.

* LOWTHERSTOWN.—Elected Guardians at the close of March succeeded the Vice-Guardians, who were appointed 18th September, 1847.

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.
PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during April, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during April, 1848.					State of Collection during April, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of April on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CLARE:
Ennis	77,840	1,200	1,118	18,738	19,856	25.50	£ 343	£ 2,145	£ 681	£ 3,169	s. d. 0 7½	£ 691	£ 696	£ 2,623	£ 2,296
Ennistymon ^a . .	49,035	700	787	14,424	15,211	30.46	257	1,660	162	2,079	0 7½	140	550	452	14,674
Kilrush ^b	82,353	1,330	1,255	13,523	14,778	17.94	376	1,443	196	2,015	0 8	689	689	565	6,788
Scariff ^c	53,563	2,300	1,095	17,205	19,100	35.65	665	1,783	718	3,166	1 5	952	1,452	2,060	5,881
COUNTY CORK:
Bandon	81,772	2,075	1,924	—	1,924	2.35	485	—	270	755	0 1½	504	442	3,023	2,177
Bantry ^d	56,165	976	866	6,765	7,651	13.62	270	660	239	1,169	0 6½	584	1,467	781	1,109
Cork	156,657	4,550	3,599	—	3,599	2.20	982	—	1,291	2,273	0 1½	5,132	5,132	2,061	13,277
Dunmanway . . .	30,527	875	612	3,114	3,926	12.86	200	296	276	772	0 4½	237	237	715	1,264
Fermoy	92,353	1,160	1,300	12,850	14,158	15.33	277	902	468	1,647	0 2½	1,262	1,255	1,086	2,690
Kanturk ^e	85,561	1,705	1,644	13,702	15,346	17.93	404	993	646	2,043	0 4½	1,793	1,793	1,723	20,546
Kinsale	41,342	1,250	1,088	—	1,088	2.63	339	—	209	548	0 1½	222	222	283	1,031
Macroom	50,818	1,250	1,292	6,105	7,397	12.57	317	588	170	1,075	0 2½	2,054	1,721	1,188	10,567
Mallow	63,292	1,450	1,071	—	1,071	1.69	292	—	456	748	0 1½	481	525	653	1,322
Midleton	78,420	2,686	2,316	—	2,316	2.95	738	—	694	1,432	0 2½	664	664	1,632	4,373
Skibbereen . . .	104,508	2,250	2,053	6,246	8,299	7.94	601	922	466	1,989	0 4½	1,815	1,750	1,802	3,692
COUNTY KERRY:
Cahiriveen ^f . . .	38,838	1,240	1,077	3,169	4,246	13.74	304	351	97	752	0 7½	208	208	445	1,123
Dingle ^g	35,512	—	—	10,063	10,063	28.33	—	1,144	+100	1,244	0 10½	—	1,300	—	—
Kenmare ^h	33,656	1,060	1,058	4,106	5,164	15.34	305	572	133	1,010	0 9½	115	144	251	1,325
Killarney	53,345	1,750	1,231	10,756	11,907	22.47	346	1,207	92	1,645	0 4½	201	201	407	1,042
Listowel	78,756	1,096	1,132	12,552	13,684	17.37	431	1,762	367	2,610	0 6½	1,280	1,295	1,445	1,993
Tralee	56,151	1,946	1,532	4,851	6,383	11.36	541	505	296	1,342	0 3½	57	343	357	2,868
COUNTY LIMERICK:
Kilmallock . . .	75,687	1,300	1,225	15,937	17,162	22.78	419	1,431	250	2,100	0 2½	213	421	346	20,713
Limerick	132,067	3,450	2,503	8,614	11,117	8.41	675	1,243	1,213	3,131	0 3½	1,924	2,431	4,660	11,005
Newcastle ⁱ . . .	60,007	775	787	18,569	19,336	32.22	257	1,620	700	2,577	0 5½	4,483	3,861	2,838	16,118
Rathkeale	68,174	1,574	1,100	8,728	9,826	14.41	342	1,112	172	1,626	0 3½	548	514	3,175	19,753
Co. TIPPERARY:
Carriek-on-Suir . .	45,333	1,140	828	860	1,688	3.72	265	77	357	699	0 2	133	292	970	1,716
Cashel	69,640	1,475	1,416	10,400	11,816	16.96	732	1,358	459	2,549	0 4½	948	745	1,754	5,668
Glogheen	47,023	1,200	914	7,512	8,426	17.91	379	550	376	1,205	0 4½	191	191	895	1,571
Clonmel	39,993	1,900	1,495	3,286	4,781	11.95	501	358	422	1,281	0 5½	138	138	1,575	2,471
Nenagh	39,874	1,700	1,537	11,396	12,933	14.36	494	1,062	298	1,854	0 3½	919	950	1,799	8,982
Roscrea	63,016	1,230	1,033	7,367	8,405	13.32	380	700	350	1,510	0 3½	730	738	2,213	4,781
Thurles	71,976	960	1,125	14,719	15,844	22.01	429	1,737	285	2,451	0 5½	1,945	1,953	2,929	6,904
Tipperary	79,516	1,050	1,066	15,683	16,749	21.06	363	1,674	305	2,422	0 4	823	828	3,835	5,358
Co. WATERFORD:
Dungarvan	68,642	1,550	1,184	4,353	5,537	8.06	308	418	190	916	0 2½	499	498	1,011	1,217
Lismore	38,617	1,290	1,167	1,868	3,035	7.85	274	218	325	817	—	246	246	909	889
Waterford ^j . . .	84,360	1,670	1,796	7,406	9,202	10.90	600	757	143	1,500	—	204	204	906	2,886
TOTAL MUNSTER	2,435,347	55,113	48,211	294,895	343,106	14.08	14,941	31,328	13,852	60,121	0 3½	33,025	36,066	54,947	217,470
Total for March	2,435,347	53,320	49,206	308,518	357,724	14.60	17,184	35,291	17,151	69,607	0 4½	47,847	50,252	62,833	236,391

^a ENNISTYMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 29th Feb., 1848.
^b KILRUSH.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.
^c SCARIFF.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th October, 1847.
^d BANTRY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th October, 1847.
^e KANTURK.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th Nov., 1847.
* The Union of Dingle was declared on the 22nd February, 1848, being formed of Ten Electoral Divisions, previously belonging to Tralee Union. No Workhouse Expenses above given in

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of April, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of April, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the seven months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of April, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the seven months.	Expenses of the seven months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the seven months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rate Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£	COUNTY CLARE:
—	2,478	—	10	2,783	—	13,952	16,851	—	2,899	2 9	3 3½	101,222	Ennis.
—	1,939	473	—	3,913	—	6,797	7,338	—	541	2 0	2 2½	67,486	Ennistymon.
—	1,326	34	—	4,306	—	8,361	9,345	—	964	2 9½	3 1	59,449	Kilrush.
—	2,214	40	—	5,913	—	11,811	12,456	—	645	5 3½	5 7	44,609	Scariff.
COUNTY CORK:
—	251	4,160	—	—	3,334	7,501	7,303	198	—	1 1½	1 1	136,166	Bandon.
—	585	754	—	4,689	—	4,898	7,200	—	2,302	2 4	3 5½	41,629	Bantry.
2,859	—	8,141	—	—	7,499	27,269	15,745	11,544	—	1 5½	0 10½	365,623	Cork.
—	535	2,003	—	—	1,745	5,542	3,277	2,165	—	2 6½	1 6½	44,084	Dunmanway.
—	395	5,921	—	—	3,149	21,607	10,850	3,257	—	2 9½	2 4½	153,452	Fermoy.
—	250	1,681	—	2,278	—	19,892	15,901	3,991	—	3 9	3 0	106,114	Kanturk.
—	326	1,659	—	—	1,449	4,904	3,496	1,408	—	1 3½	0 11½	73,928	Kinsale.
979	—	847	—	—	58	7,690	5,561	2,119	—	1 7½	1 2	93,875	Macroon.
—	267	6,384	—	—	5,950	13,472	4,739	8,733	—	2 2½	0 9½	122,703	Mallow.
—	768	9,884	—	—	8,886	22,513	10,284	12,229	—	2 9	1 3½	163,070	Midleton.
—	174	1,773	—	—	1,106	13,259	10,236	3,023	—	2 8½	2 0½	98,255	Skibbereen.
COUNTY KERRY:
—	544	386	—	1,738	—	2,704	3,345	—	641	2 2½	2 8½	24,866	Cahirciveen.
—	1,244	—	—	—	—	—	*1,244	—	*1,244	—	—	29,230	Dingle.
—	895	33	—	2,398	—	3,790	4,900	—	1,119	3 0½	3 11½	24,689	Kenmare.
—	1,444	—	131	3,978	—	11,623	14,090	—	2,467	2 8½	3 3½	85,828	Killarney.
—	1,330	560	—	4,047	—	12,705	16,227	—	3,522	2 7½	3 3½	97,558	Listowel.
—	1,285	15	—	2,650	—	14,682	14,621	61	—	2 6½	2 0½	84,625	Tralee.
COUNTY LIMERICK:
—	1,887	—	5	3,939	—	16,089	13,547	2,542	—	1 9½	1 6	177,880	Kilmallock.
—	1,207	7,291	—	—	4,264	30,494	18,445	12,049	—	2 11½	1 9	206,861	Limerick.
1,906	—	1,118	—	3,244	—	17,714	21,978	—	4,264	3 2½	4 0½	109,499	Newcastle.
—	1,078	1,931	—	—	197	15,242	14,800	442	—	2 2½	2 2½	138,337	Rathkenile.
COUNTY TIPPERARY:
—	566	—	109	1,444	—	8,124	5,224	2,900	—	1 9½	1 2	89,871	Carrick-on-Suir.
—	1,601	136	—	2,642	—	13,197	11,789	1,408	—	2 0½	1 9½	130,293	Cashel.
—	1,014	306	—	579	—	6,616	6,741	—	125	2 1½	2 1½	62,760	Clogheen.
—	1,143	1,008	—	101	—	7,749	7,677	72	—	1 8½	1 8½	91,108	Clonmel.
—	935	263	—	2,675	—	14,835	13,440	1,395	—	2 5½	2 2½	119,802	Nenagh.
—	780	1,511	—	—	1	11,069	7,818	3,251	—	2 2	1 6½	102,171	Roscrea.
—	506	580	—	624	—	12,981	12,874	607	—	2 4½	2 3½	108,931	Thurles.
—	1,599	2,164	—	558	—	13,655	15,347	—	1,692	1 10	2 1	148,526	Tipperary.
COUNTY WATERFORD:
—	417	6,115	—	—	5,448	12,914	6,482	6,432	—	2 8½	1 4½	94,591	Dungarvan.
—	571	2,834	—	—	2,430	7,259	3,597	3,662	—	2 3	1 1½	54,583	Lismore.
—	1,296	—	454	2,313	—	8,358	8,258	100	—	0 10½	0 10½	193,771	Waterford.
5,744	32,840	70,005	709	61,812	47,802	431,298	370,135	33,588	22,425	2 3½	1 11½	3,777,103	TOTAL MUNSTER.
8,312	30,072	89,147	170	40,467	47,709	—	—	—	—	—	—	3,777,103	Total for March.

* CARRIGIVEEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.
 † KENMARE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 20th January, 1848.

‡ NEWCASTLE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 4th March, 1848.
 § WATERFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 25th March, 1848.

accommodation had been provided, and no rate had been made in Dingle Union down to the close of April; but on the 29th April a rate was agreed upon. The Return of confined to the month of April.
 † Estimated.

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during April, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during April, 1848.					State of Collection during April, 1848.
			Average Number of inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of April on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CARLOW:
Carlow . . .	77,922	2,100	1,698	5,768	7,466	9.70	£ 763	£ 500	£ 542	£ 1,805	s. d. 0 2½	£ 665	£ 877	£ 1,023	£ 3,330
COUNTY DUBLIN:
Balrothery . . .	20,116	544	454	886	1,340	4.76	208	100	96	309	0 1	30	30	40	454
Dublin, North . . .	123,128	4,100	3,277	3,280	6,557	5.33	1,451	527	1,196	3,174	0 2	3,695	3,691	2,133	17,867
Dublin, South . . .	178,745	2,535	2,451	5,775	8,226	4.60	1,228	1,033	846	3,107	0 1½	411	417	2,905	8,327
Rathdown . . .	44,214	726	632	1,652	2,204	5.16	350	232	197	779	0 1½	296	386	637	1,240
COUNTY KILDARE:
Athy . . .	47,912	1,120	941	2,469	3,410	7.13	450	472	97	1,019	0 2½	760	830	1,180	4,144
Colbride . . .	25,342	519	332	—	332	1.31	121	—	249	370	0 0½	512	512	184	3,044
Nuas . . .	52,226	1,110	999	2,763	3,764	7.20	484	485	465	1,434	0 2½	447	447	1,912	1,251
COUNTY KILKENNY:
Callan . . .	38,524	1,130	795	7,195	7,990	20.74	265	641	515	1,421	0 4	877	1,118	1,627	3,006
Kilkenny ^a . . .	130,062	2,600	1,532	7,339	8,671	7.38	527	863	480	1,870	0 2	3,271	3,281	3,907	7,685
KING'S COUNTY:
Edenderry . . .	34,679	840	543	869	1,412	4.07	186	110	244	540	0 1½	268	268	606	410
Parsonstown . . .	76,528	1,500	1,159	—	1,159	1.52	441	—	298	739	0 1½	993	1,128	243	4,599
Tullamore ^b . . .	53,905	1,200	1,062	6,237	7,329	13.41	458	620	198	1,266	0 3½	403	405	682	1,377
COUNTY LONGFORD:
Granard ^c . . .	55,180	700	854	5,942	6,796	12.33	306	1,010	522	1,838	0 5	2,641	2,641	1,848	5,194
Longford ^d . . .	87,757	1,450	1,729	5,633	7,367	8.39	400	600	190	1,190	0 2½	2,238	2,238	1,878	16,410
COUNTY LOUTH:
Ardee . . .	43,348	770	698	1,919	2,617	6.03	262	210	217	689	0 1½	818	818	715	1,369
Drogheda . . .	52,251	940	679	3,222	4,011	7.67	287	279	129	695	0 1½	239	239	1,210	1,378
Dundalk . . .	65,509	948	670	2,575	3,245	4.95	230	263	251	744	0 1½	205	291	642	1,208
COUNTY MEATH:
Danshaughlin . . .	20,985	596	460	1,026	1,486	7.08	189	212	134	535	0 1	731	770	489	3,174
Kells . . .	45,282	1,280	1,172	1,543	2,720	6.00	325	208	464	997	0 2	371	371	504	979
Navan . . .	35,831	900	650	2,864	3,514	9.80	252	308	242	862	0 2	762	706	149	3,817
Oldcastle . . .	48,373	644	821	6,290	7,051	14.57	249	606	320	1,175	0 3½	1,061	1,020	871	5,409
Trim ^e . . .	34,411	898	444	2,097	2,541	7.39	222	283	283	790	0 1½	310	206	1,341	7,625
QUEEN'S COUNTY:
Abberley . . .	41,230	900	910	2,820	3,730	9.04	383	415	225	1,023	0 3½	451	357	365	1,096
Mountmelick . . .	67,674	1,944	1,409	3,596	5,095	7.50	763	672	475	1,910	0 5	652	652	1,801	3,419
COUNTY WESTMEATH:
Athlone ^f . . .	72,168	1,178	1,162	8,736	9,898	13.71	512	1,042	363	1,917	0 4½	4,409	4,409	3,667	10,642
Mullingar . . .	73,272	1,016	965	7,797	8,752	11.94	323	969	64	1,356	0 1½	848	837	607	18,566
COUNTY WEXFORD:
Enniscorthy . . .	61,816	1,039	925	5,096	6,021	9.74	429	700	306	1,435	0 2½	940	993	1,395	4,606
Gorey . . .	39,654	850	883	2,179	3,063	7.84	295	274	491	1,060	0 2½	1,722	1,012	1,988	7,195
New Ross . . .	74,293	1,800	1,783	3,377	5,160	7.08	566	458	476	1,500	0 3½	1,355	1,492	1,181	4,987
Wexford . . .	53,401	1,000	893	—	893	1.65	328	—	932	1,260	0 2½	581	545	1,260	5,635
COUNTY WICKLOW:
Baltinglass . . .	40,687	900	763	1,710	2,473	6.07	219	186	570	977	0 2½	308	298	942	6,006
Rathdrum . . .	56,709	1,140	792	2,250	3,042	5.36	266	164	169	599	0 1	785	761	756	5,744
Shillelagh . . .	34,800	627	606	697	1,203	3.45	190	61	107	358	0 1½	259	259	180	813
TOTAL LEINSTER .	2,006,036	41,044	35,263	115,544	150,807	7.51	13,923	14,595	12,855	40,873	0 2½	34,819	34,814	39,898	171,989
Total for March .	2,006,036	39,310	36,622	133,349	169,971	8.46	15,112	15,714	12,666	43,496	0 2½	36,549	36,889	45,062	173,912

^a KILKENNY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th February, 1848.
^b TULLAMORE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th February, 1848.

^c GRANARD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th February, 1848.
^d LONGFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of April, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of April, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the seven months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of April, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the seven months.	Expenses of the seven months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the seven months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
-	1,140	337	-	1,273	-	11,900	11,639	261	-	1 4	1 3½	179,037	COUNTY CARLOW : Carlow.
-	369	-	19	886	-	2,982	3,199	-	217	0 7½	0 8	94,521	COUNTY DUBLIN : Balrothery.
521	-	2,791	-	-	1,490	26,813	26,819	1,999	-	1 6½	1 5½	369,745	Dublin, North.
-	2,696	-	2,733	7,133	-	11,714	23,342	-	11,620	0 5	0 9½	569,940	Dublin, South.
-	493	108	-	1,695	-	5,212	5,470	-	258	0 8½	0 8½	152,314	Rathdown.
-	259	216	-	578	-	7,400	6,385	1,015	-	1 5½	2 3	102,881	COUNTY KILDARE : Athy.
142	-	1,492	-	-	1,147	3,929	2,046	1,883	-	0 7½	0 3½	130,776	Celbridge.
-	987	3,836	-	-	2,192	11,627	7,325	4,302	-	1 8½	1 1	135,232	Naas.
-	544	141	-	259	-	8,183	7,773	410	-	1 11½	1 10	34,103	COUNTY KILKENNY : Callan.
1,401	-	1,455	-	-	169	22,403	13,320	9,083	-	1 10½	1 1½	241,775	Kilkenny.
-	272	1,873	-	-	1,173	4,507	2,771	1,736	-	0 11	0 6½	98,634	KING'S COUNTY : Edenderry.
254	-	3,156	-	-	2,417	10,648	4,166	6,482	-	1 11½	0 9	109,286	Parsonstown.
-	878	101	-	2,935	-	7,952	7,629	323	-	1 10	1 9	86,516	Tullamore.
803	-	3,962	-	-	1,601	9,923	6,280	3,643	-	2 3½	1 5	87,209	COUNTY LONGFORD : Granard.
1,048	-	1,471	-	5,227	-	8,459	9,921	-	1,462	1 4½	1 6½	124,496	Longford.
129	-	793	-	-	711	9,331	6,713	2,608	-	2 0	1 5½	93,047	COUNTY LOUTH : Ardee.
-	456	648	-	1,436	-	8,276	7,622	654	-	1 2½	1 1½	136,604	Drogheda.
-	539	-	710	1,789	-	2,965	4,043	-	1,078	0 6½	0 8½	106,680	Dundalk.
196	-	405	-	535	-	5,032	4,646	386	-	0 10	0 9½	118,486	COUNTY MEATH : Dunshaughlin.
-	628	61	-	2,570	-	7,665	8,529	-	864	1 2½	1 4½	123,339	Kells.
-	120	-	713	2,102	-	6,198	6,832	-	634	1 2½	1 4	101,527	Navan.
-	114	602	-	1,504	-	9,238	9,346	-	108	2 3½	2 4	79,721	Oldcastle.
-	480	17	-	660	-	3,320	4,585	-	1,265	0 7½	0 10½	100,634	Trim.
-	572	-	7	2,264	-	7,220	6,393	827	-	2 13	1 11	66,759	QUEEN'S COUNTY : Abbeyleix.
-	1,258	-	2,455	3,468	-	8,874	11,360	-	2,486	1 11½	2 6	89,914	Mountmelick.
2,492	-	285	-	1,651	-	7,416	5,762	1,654	-	1 5½	1 13	103,078	COUNTY WESTMEATH : Athlone.
-	508	-	74	5,133	-	3,214	8,897	-	5,683	0 4	0 11	190,944	Mullingar.
-	495	1,130	-	-	360	12,495	9,727	2,768	-	1 11½	1 6½	126,921	COUNTY WEXFORD : Enniscorthy.
662	-	100	-	829	-	4,949	5,082	-	133	1 0½	1 1	94,001	Gorey.
-	145	652	-	350	-	12,696	10,930	1,766	-	2 3½	1 11½	109,748	New Ross.
-	679	3,360	-	-	2,776	9,263	6,047	3,216	-	1 7½	1 1	113,714	Wexford.
-	669	784	-	-	3	4,404	4,760	-	356	0 10½	1 0½	90,888	COUNTY WICKLOW : Balinglass.
186	-	550	-	120	-	4,022	4,957	-	935	0 6½	0 8	153,246	Rathdrum.
-	99	82	-	497	-	3,657	2,585	1,071	-	1 1½	0 9½	64,485	Shillelagh.
7,834	14,388	29,908	6,711	44,834	14,039	285,882	266,902	46,087	27,107	1 3	1 13	4,624,542	TOTAL LEINSTER.
6,550	13,496	31,659	4,197	37,691	15,263	-	-	-	-	-	-	4,624,542	Total for March.

* TRIM.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th January, 1848.

* ATHLONE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 22nd January, 1848.

* NEW ROSS.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.
PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during April, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during April, 1848.					State of Collection during April, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief List during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of April on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY GALWAY:
Ballinasloe	99,026	1,450	1,467	6,783	8,250	8.33	£ 612	£ 709	£ 415	£ 1,736	s. 0 d. 23	£ 994	£ 1,011	£ 2,171	£ 8,383
Clifden ^a	33,465	360	310	10,360	10,670	31.88	224	1,590*	200	2,014	1 9 1	103	103	193	960
Galway ^b	88,973	1,210	1,245	25,530	26,795	30.11	490	2,821	780	4,091	0 9 0	502	693	706	7,553
Gort ^c	43,543	1,050	792	10,416	11,208	25.74	429	1,619	336	2,384	0 10 3	2,093	1,672	2,000	5,725
Loughrea ^d	71,774	1,900	1,584	6,495	8,079	11.15	507	930	342	1,779	0 4 1	1,925	1,925	2,050	8,836
Tuam ^e	74,974	1,150	1,051	14,634	15,735	21.0	404	1,890	589	2,863	0 8 8	195	1,696	703	1,267
COUNTY LEITRIM:
Carrick-on-Shannon ^f	67,077	860	941	10,774	11,715	17.46	338	1,063	431	1,862	0 7 1	973	895	1,250	6,462
Manorhamilton . . .	45,990	1,015	874	1,377	2,251	5.0	167	101	192	460	0 2 1	984	1,159	922	1,769
Mohills	68,859	790	950	7,992	8,950	13.0	214	916	250	1,388	0 5 1	1,009	982	1,068	5,823
COUNTY MAYO:
Ballina ^h	120,787	1,550	12,607	36,782	38,049	31.50	444	3,793	1,067	5,304	1 1 1	713	1,772	2,443	5,066
Ballinrobe ⁱ	85,031	800	786	34,700	35,486	41.75	248	3,209	237	3,695	0 10 1	1,025	1,025	1,016	7,346
Castlebar ^j	61,063	900	806	17,197	18,003	29.0	267	2,050	173	2,490	0 11 1	576	1,569	1,078	6,887
Swineford	73,529	900	446	9,833	10,299	14.0	139	1,444	278	1,561	0 8 8	1,042	1,048	929	7,135
Westport ^k	77,952	1,100	1,001	22,247	23,248	29.82	276	2,000	150	2,435	1 3 3	347	1,666	905	4,547
Co. ROSCOMMON:
Boyle	71,355	744	737	7,738	8,465	11.86	383	356	104	795	0 2 1	830	767	1,095	8,689
Castlereagh ^l	92,861	1,850	1,863	10,741	11,804	12.7	316	1,089	452	1,857	0 3 1	995	1,195	918	7,298
Roscommon ^m	63,487	1,290	1,234	11,888	13,122	15.75	479	1,985	250	2,714	0 7 1	838	965	1,932	4,283
COUNTY SLIGO:
Sligo	111,054	2,000	1,708	7,707	9,415	8.45	524	734	1,057	2,315	0 3 1	605	605	639	17,737
TOTAL CONNAUGHT.
Total for March . . .	1,370,753	20,119	16,200	253,204	271,544	19.80	6,411	28,001	7,361	41,773	0 7 7	15,749	20,768	23,718	110,208
	1,370,753	19,670	16,682	201,134	219,616	16.03	6,668	24,296	4,870	36,037	0 5 1	20,304	23,035	25,357	125,118
SUMMARY.
ULSTER	2,362,132	41,717	33,115	58,556	91,671	3.98	11,483	5,594	9,542	26,619	0 2 2	28,068	29,642	29,346	110,432
MUNSTER	2,435,347	55,113	48,211	294,895	343,106	14.08	14,941	31,328	13,352	60,121	0 3 1	33,025	36,066	54,947	217,470
LEINSTER	2,006,036	41,044	35,263	115,544	150,807	7.51	13,923	14,595	12,355	40,873	0 2 1	34,319	34,314	39,898	171,989
CONNAUGHT	1,370,753	20,119	18,260	253,284	271,544	19.80	6,411	28,001	7,361	41,773	0 7 7	15,749	20,768	23,718	110,206
TOTAL APRIL
Total March	8,174,203	157,993	134,849	722,279	857,123	10.48	46,758	79,518	43,110	169,886	0 8 3	111,931	120,790	142,509	610,095
	8,174,203	153,639	140,536	703,762	814,298	10.32	51,487	81,389	46,303	179,151	0 3 1	138,449	144,069	172,610	661,855

^a CLIFDEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 7th February, 1848.

^b GALWAY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 3rd January, 1848.

^c GORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th February, 1848.

* Estimated.

^d LOUGHREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th February, 1848.

^e TUAM.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th February, 1848.

^f CARRICK-ON-SHANNON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th January, 1848.

† £6,307 is included in the 10th column headed "Establishment, &c.," being the expenses of Temporary Fever Hospitals, making the total for

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of the LIABILITIES of the

- I.—The total Debts of all Unions to Contractors, Treasurers, or others (exclusive of all Loans obtained from Government, or from Private Parties simply for Building purposes), amounted, on the { 30 April, 1848, to £265,441, } which the Debts on the { 29 Sept., 1847, } in the Treasurers' hands, was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 117; } Unions amounted, on
- II.—The number of Unions in { 30 April, 1848, } exceeded the amount of the money { 30 April, 1848, 79; } the Debts of those
- III.—The number of Unions in which the money in the { 30 April, 1848, 51; } the money in the hands of the Treasurers' hands exceeded the Debts was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 13; } surer of those Unions, amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to
- NOTE.—The Debts due to Government or the British Association

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of Collection and Expenses for the Seven Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th April, 1848, inclusive; showing also the Amount advanced by the British Association in aid of the Poor Rates on the recommendation of the Poor Law Commissioners, but exclusive of the Expenditure of the Association in providing Food and Clothing for Children in the Public Schools.

	Expenses.	Collection.	Excess of Collection.	Excess of Expenses.	Amount advanced by the British Association.
	£	£	£	£	£
1847—October, . . .	70,808	121,255	50,447	—	300
" November, . . .	88,432	151,684	63,252	—	450
" December, . . .	123,697	168,850	45,153	—	1,300
1848—January, . . .	151,364	194,054	42,790	—	2,600
" February, . . .	167,046	187,064	19,218	—	10,751
" March, . . .	179,151	138,449	—	40,702	17,230
" April, . . .	169,386	111,981	—	57,405	25,898
Total, 7 Months, . .	950,584	1,073,837	220,860	98,107	+56,529
or 122,753 net excess of Collection.

† The Unions to which the Advances were made to the close of April

ULSTER PROVINCE.

Cavan, . . .	£300
Glenties, . . .	400
Total, . . .	£700

MUNSTER PROVINCE.

Bantry, . . .	£1,400
Cahiriveen, . . .	400
Dingle, . . .	1,300
Ennistymon, . . .	500
Kenmare, . . .	1,910
Total, . . .	£8,206

LEINSTER PROVINCE.

Athlone, . . .	£500
New Ross, . . .	500
Total, . . .	£1,000

FINANCIAL RETURN, APRIL, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of April, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of April, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the seven months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of April, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the seven months.	Expenses of the seven months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the seven months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the seven months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rateable Property.
17.	18.	In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
—	742	7,800	—	—	7,117	16,510	5,877	10,633	—	2 2	0 9½	151,664	COUNTY GALWAY:
—	1,911	4	—	3,304	—	2,314	3,773	—	1,459	2 0½	4 ½	22,426	Ballinasloe.
—	3,589	56	—	13,241	—	6,055	13,497	—	6,642	1 4½	2 8	100,777	Clifden.
—	291	282	—	8,476	—	4,403	9,614	—	5,211	1 8	3 7½	58,037	Galway.
146	—	3,128	—	—	2,708	9,813	6,269	3,544	—	2 2	1 4½	91,007	Gort.
—	2,688	1,127	—	7,306	—	4,858	7,406	—	2,540	1 1½	1 8½	86,236	Loughrea.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Tuam.
—	909	174	—	5,397	—	5,213	6,761	—	1,543	1 8½	2 2½	61,450	COUNTY LITTIM:
524	—	936	—	—	278	4,742	2,634	2,109	—	2 0½	1 1½	47,284	Carrick-on-Shannon.
—	379	—	10	2,844	—	4,358	5,352	—	904	1 6½	1 9½	57,778	Manorhamilton.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Mohill.
—	4,591	405	—	6,523	—	8,062	10,306	—	8,324	1 8½	3 4½	95,774	COUNTY MAYO:
—	2,660	9	—	3,133	—	6,775	14,827	—	8,052	1 7½	3 5½	85,217	Ballina.
—	1,914	29	—	5,955	—	8,050	9,854	—	6,795	1 2½	3 10½	50,981	Ballinrobe.
—	519	132	—	2,698	—	3,127	4,142	—	1,015	1 4½	1 9½	46,016	Castlebar.
—	2,088	769	—	7,074	—	3,879	10,364	—	6,485	1 11½	5 4	38,876	Swineford.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Westport.
35	—	540	—	461	—	7,021	2,970	4,051	—	1 8½	0 8½	81,408	COUNTY ROSCOMMON:
—	862	465	—	2,514	—	10,082	5,703	4,379	—	1 9	1 0	114,349	Boyle.
—	1,876	105	—	4,379	—	9,761	9,022	739	—	2 3½	2 1	85,837	Castlereagh.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Roscommon.
—	1,710	20	—	5,269	—	14,623	12,748	1,875	—	2 0½	1 9½	142,030	COUNTY SLIGO:
705	26,729	16,061	10	78,974	10,188	125,455	147,199	27,329	49,073	1 8½	2 0	1,465,643	Sligo.
4,816	20,048	18,511	—	56,956	10,946	—	—	—	—	—	—	1,465,643	TOTAL CONNAUGHT.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Total for March.
9,668	7,399	46,849	1,033	14,874	25,852	230,692	166,654	67,975	3,937	1 4½	1 0	3,320,133	ULSTER.
5,744	32,840	70,005	700	61,812	47,802	431,298	370,135	63,508	22,425	2 3½	1 11½	3,777,103	MUNSTER.
7,834	14,368	29,908	6,711	44,634	14,039	285,662	266,902	46,087	27,167	1 8	1 1½	4,624,542	LEINSTER.
705	26,729	16,061	10	78,974	10,188	125,455	147,199	27,329	49,073	1 8½	2 0	1,465,643	CONNAUGHT.
23,951	81,356	162,823	8,463	200,494	97,876	1,073,327	950,690	224,979	102,542	1 7½	1 5½	13,187,421	TOTAL, April.
30,016	70,716	180,409	5,261	150,381	97,562	—	—	—	—	—	—	13,187,421	TOTAL, March.

* MOHILL.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th December, 1847.

† BALLINA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.

‡ BALLINROBE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

§ CASTLEBAR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

¶ WESTPORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th August, 1847.

‡ CASTLEREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1847.

• ROSCOMMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 31st December, 1847.

* Estimated.

In-Maintenance, Out-Relief, and Temporary Fever Hospitals, £133,083, leaving £36,305 for "Establishment and all other Expenses."

Unions on 29th September, 1847, and 30th April, 1848.

from which amount, deducting the { 30 April, 1848, £162,823, } the net amount of Debts, over and { 30 April, 1848, £102,610, } money in the Treasurers' hands, viz. { 29 Sept., 1847, £39,966, } above the money in hands, would be, { 29 Sept., 1847, £232,977.

{ 30 April, 1848, to £231,272, } and the money in their Treasurers' hands amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £14,236, } deducting which amount, the net { 30 April, 1848, £200,494, } amount of Debts, over and above { 29 Sept., 1847, £252,727, } the money in hands, would be, on { 29 Sept., 1847, £252,727, }

£132,045, } and the Debts { 30 April, 1848, to £34,169, } deducting which there would remain a { 30 April, 1848, to £97,876, }

£25,730, } amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £5,980, } net balance to their credit, amounting, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £19,750, }

on account of Loans, are excluded from this Statement.

STATEMENT showing the amount of Poor Rate collected during each month since the commencement of the year 1846; also the Amount uncollected, and the state of the Balances at foot of the Treasurers' accounts at the close of each month.

MONTH.	Amount of Rate collected during the Month.			Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.			Amount in hands of Treasurers of certain Unions at close of the Month.			Amount due to Treasurers of certain Unions at the close of the Month.
	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.
January.	£ 36,229	£ 52,480	£ 194,054	£ 219,052	£ 250,953	£ 708,511	£ 41,362	£ 33,274	£ 177,228	£ 7,358	£ 23,565	£ 4,395
February.	41,885	47,264	187,064	206,664	279,140	653,856	54,314	30,363	208,545	5,294	20,312	3,728
March.	38,909	52,561	138,449	174,734	265,149	661,855	57,129	26,493	180,409	5,014	31,112	5,261
April.	38,436	63,110	111,981	173,956	349,773	610,095	55,906	21,611	162,623	6,590	32,278	8,463
May.	31,230	64,865	—	163,508	406,223	—	57,655	15,424	—	6,152	30,526	—
June.	30,630	59,436	—	130,201	463,730	—	56,425	14,404	—	6,649	31,897	—
July.	24,185	62,097	—	129,125	594,120	—	47,801	18,726	—	7,808	34,860	—
August.	17,173	53,369	—	133,233	690,103	—	44,350	25,210	—	8,165	35,567	—
September.	21,510	73,358	—	155,718	816,452	—	39,913	89,966	—	8,071	29,841	—
October.	26,805	121,255	—	225,815	864,049	—	32,114	64,144	—	11,089	28,782	—
November.	38,639	151,664	—	244,050	859,718	—	34,393	105,893	—	14,746	16,879	—
December.	46,440	168,850	—	243,334	890,629	—	35,358	143,706	—	19,452	8,786	—
Total.	390,071	970,308	631,548	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

By the British Association, and the Amounts, are subjoined.

CONNAUGHT PROVINCE.

Ballina.	£10,850	Clifden.	£3,059	Sligo.	£500
Ballinrobe.	8,400	Galway.	3,100	Tuam.	2,000
Carrick-on-Shannon.	1,520	Gort.	500	Westport.	6,810
Castlebar.	6,185	Mohill.	1,500
Castlereagh.	1,000	Roscommon.	1,200	Total.	£46,624

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during May, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during May, 1848.					State of Collection during May, 1848.
			Average Number of In-mates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenditure of May on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY ANTRIM:
Antrim	49,168	1,050	793	—	793	1.61	243	—	249	492	0 1 1/2	—	—	393	—
Ballycastle	26,020	840	433	—	433	1.66	161	—	326	489	0 3	314	352	542	858
Ballymena	74,022	1,150	899	632	1,731	2.33	809	63	697	1,069	0 2 1/2	1,826	1,870	1,032	2,623
Ballymoney	48,812	752	696	1,026	1,722	3.5	174	101	198	473	0 1 1/2	354	313	152	1,913
Belfast	100,992	2,922	2,668	—	2,668	2.6	996	—	1,426	2,434	0 2 1/2	1,937	1,979	2,293	4,424
Larne	38,758	980	553	—	553	1.4	137	—	298	435	0 1 1/2	158	163	231	512
Lisburn	75,444	1,450	729	—	729	0.9	222	—	258	480	0 0 1/2	25	25	268	31
COUNTY ARMAGH:
Armagh	110,408	1,300	1,082	622	1,704	1.5	205	64	433	782	0 1	1,277	1,300	938	10,554
Lurgan	71,128	1,512	947	—	947	1.3	320	—	618	938	0 2 1/2	1,825	1,826	735	5,202
COUNTY CAVAN:
Bailieborough	40,383	1,114	1,103	4,177	5,280	10.7	378	415	110	903	0 4 1/2	540	517	791	5,596
Cavan*	97,271	1,950	1,645	7,932	9,577	9.8	469	858	432	1,759	0 3 1/2	185	176	1,771	1,477
Cooteshill†	67,178	1,350	1,108	5,239	6,347	9.4	244	451	595	1,290	0 4 1/2	2,046	1,791	2,529	3,711
COUNTY DONEGAL:
Ballyshannon	43,403	870	683	1,329	2,012	4.6	184	125	87	396	0 1 1/2	207	210	901	794
Donegal	41,371	550	580	1,317	1,897	4.5	168	112	116	396	0 3	953	1,163	848	1,406
Dunfanaghy	18,371	300	243	—	243	1.3	83	—	72	155	0 3 1/2	155	175	181	636
Glenties	43,371	600	581	2,795	3,376	7.7	95	265	46	406	0 6	96	5	590	422
Inishowen	43,569	600	419	720	1,139	2.6	112	81	145	338	0 2 1/2	635	490	427	2,314
Letterkenny	25,921	920	414	—	414	1.6	106	—	52	158	0 1 1/2	79	62	143	712
Milford	38,103	430	254	1,764	2,018	5.2	120	102	75	297	0 2 1/2	152	129	250	170
Stranorlar	25,786	460	369	—	369	1.4	68	—	42	110	0 1	207	226	120	618
COUNTY DOWN:
Banbridge	87,323	1,350	1,158	1,803	2,961	3.4	380	140	240	760	0 1 1/2	568	568	595	3,569
Downpatrick	74,938	1,060	729	—	729	0.9	212	—	128	340	0 0 1/2	281	281	555	1,370
Kilkeel	28,630	390	254	163	417	1.4	47	18	59	124	0 0 1/2	—	—	61	1,541
Newry	95,541	1,350	1,276	1,862	3,138	3.2	360	149	257	786	0 1 1/2	524	525	1,062	3,320
Newtownards	60,165	1,165	566	—	566	0.9	215	—	604	879	0 1 1/2	1,369	1,363	296	5,591
CO. FERMANAGH:
Enniskillen*	81,534	1,270	1,187	3,483	4,670	5.7	425	332	267	1,024	0 2 1/2	1,498	1,601	1,018	1,974
Lisnaskea	57,920	899	734	—	734	1.9	168	—	95	263	0 1 1/2	732	1,018	430	1,836
Lowtherstown†	34,963	740	636	1,302	1,938	5.5	168	156	104	426	0 2 1/2	254	325	281	1,082
CO. LONDONDERRY:
Coleraine	52,704	960	629	—	629	1.1	158	—	162	320	0 1	297	228	417	1,479
Londonderry	64,740	1,100	834	1,550	2,384	3.7	250	90	206	546	0 1	566	566	1,048	1,680
Magherafelt	80,816	1,140	828	869	1,697	2.1	217	53	79	349	0 1 1/2	161	215	411	2,701
Newtownlimavady	39,058	890	423	—	423	1.1	90	—	80	170	0 0 1/2	362	362	170	2,733
CO. MONAGHAN:
Carrickmacross	39,729	650	657	2,317	2,974	7.4	228	255	215	698	0 3 1/2	—	96	558	6,230
Castledaney	58,945	1,220	838	2,261	3,099	5.2	278	240	85	553	0 2	198	147	248	1,497
Clones	42,820	850	900	2,004	2,904	6.8	363	197	311	871	0 3 1/2	687	687	508	2,530
Monaghan	69,559	1,076	912	—	912	1.3	317	—	258	575	0 1 1/2	846	347	403	1,737
COUNTY TYRONE:
Castlederg	21,368	570	381	—	381	1.7	72	—	28	100	0 1	18	29	63	215
Cloghar	39,000	700	615	1,505	2,120	5.3	167	164	105	436	0 2 1/2	176	184	531	138
Cookstown	46,455	600	592	685	1,277	2.7	190	53	76	319	0 1 1/2	218	898	546	358
Dungannon	70,000	990	930	1,546	2,476	3.5	265	113	93	471	0 1 1/2	373	430	411	1,348
Gortin	18,747	428	142	—	142	0.7	45	—	20	65	0 1	100	100	98	—
Omagh	69,099	1,104	862	2,461	3,323	4.8	231	170	182	583	0 1 1/2	1,514	1,887	686	2,868
Strabane	58,883	960	806	1,591	2,397	4.0	309	154	249	712	0 2	253	253	728	845
TOTAL ULSTER	2,362,132	42,002	33,088	53,155	86,243	3.06	10,029	4,921	10,202	25,152	0 2	23,406	24,883	26,276	91,075
Total for April	2,362,132	41,717	33,115	58,556	91,671	3.88	11,483	5,594	9,542	26,619	0 1 1/2	28,888	29,642	23,946	110,432

* CAVAN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 6th December, 1847.

* COOTESHILL.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of May, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of May, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the eight months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of May, 1848.								Valuation of Rented Property.	NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the eight months.	Expenses of the eight months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the eight months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the eight months on the entire Valuation.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s.	d.	s.	d.	£
—	492	1,062	—	—	459	6,300	4,391	1,909	—	1	3	0	10 ³ / ₄	100,611	COUNTY ANTRIM :
—	175	1,091	—	—	1,007	2,393	2,650	—	257	1	2 ¹ / ₄	1	4	39,160	Antrim.
757	—	2,195	—	—	1,431	8,040	5,196	2,844	—	1	7 ³ / ₄	1	1	97,492	Ballycastle.
—	119	782	—	—	563	5,071	3,227	1,844	—	1	4 ³ / ₄	0	10 ³ / ₄	73,086	Ballymena.
—	497	656	—	2,111	—	15,766	18,007	—	2,241	1	1 ³ / ₄	1	4	271,915	Ballymoney.
—	277	772	—	—	267	3,049	2,379	670	—	0	10	0	7 ³ / ₄	72,437	Belfast.
—	453	—	770	1,292	—	4,152	4,041	111	—	0	7 ¹ / ₄	0	7	136,397	Larne.
															Lisburn.
															COUNTY ARMAGH :
405	—	4,492	—	—	3,644	12,689	6,857	5,832	—	1	5 ³ / ₄	0	9 ³ / ₄	174,572	Armagh.
887	—	1,763	—	—	841	11,853	7,983	3,868	—	2	6 ³ / ₄	1	8 ³ / ₄	92,662	Lurgan.
															COUNTY CAVAN :
—	363	229	—	1,369	—	9,525	6,410	3,115	—	3	7 ³ / ₄	2	5 ³ / ₄	52,156	Bailieborough.
—	1,674	1,248	—	1,637	—	16,498	14,249	2,209	—	2	7	2	2 ³ / ₄	127,282	Cavan.
756	—	1,148	—	312	—	9,704	7,410	2,294	—	2	7 ³ / ₄	2	0	73,420	Cootehill.
															COUNTY DONEGAL :
—	189	1,555	—	—	1,240	6,846	3,971	2,875	—	2	7 ³ / ₄	1	6 ³ / ₄	51,435	Ballyshannon.
557	—	1,671	—	—	579	4,608	2,260	2,343	—	2	10 ³ / ₄	1	5	31,639	Donegal.
—	—	207	—	—	38	765	1,046	—	281	1	5 ³ / ₄	1	11 ³ / ₄	10,543	Dunferry.
—	310	—	243	2,546	—	3,009	4,086	—	1,077	3	8 ³ / ₄	4	11 ³ / ₄	16,330	Glenties.
297	—	1,273	—	972	—	3,277	1,802	1,475	—	1	9 ³ / ₄	0	11 ³ / ₄	36,607	Inishowen.
—	79	—	27	662	—	1,908	2,427	—	519	1	2 ³ / ₄	1	6 ³ / ₄	31,435	Letterkenny.
—	145	327	—	166	—	3,021	2,435	586	—	1	11	1	6 ³ / ₄	31,377	Milford.
97	—	994	—	—	834	2,610	1,171	1,339	—	1	8 ³ / ₄	0	9 ³ / ₄	29,492	Stranlar.
															COUNTY DOWN :
—	192	681	—	44	—	7,362	5,594	1,768	—	1	2 ¹ / ₄	0	10 ³ / ₄	123,970	Banbridge.
—	59	2,807	—	2,868	—	4,616	3,007	1,529	—	0	6 ³ / ₄	0	4 ³ / ₄	167,393	Downpatrick.
—	124	7	—	361	—	1,305	1,262	43	—	0	8 ³ / ₄	0	8	36,931	Kilkeel.
—	242	327	—	348	—	5,237	5,879	—	642	0	9 ³ / ₄	0	10 ³ / ₄	129,651	Newry.
490	—	561	—	451	—	5,606	4,192	1,414	—	0	11 ³ / ₄	0	8 ³ / ₄	118,469	Newtownards.
															COUNTY FERMANAGH :
474	—	915	—	1,131	—	10,855	6,897	4,458	—	2	3	1	1	96,108	Enniskillen.
469	—	2,603	—	2,447	—	6,237	2,453	3,784	—	2	8	1	0 ³ / ₄	46,919	Lisnakea.
—	174	118	—	243	—	5,438	4,775	661	—	2	5 ³ / ₄	2	1 ³ / ₄	43,944	Lowtherstown.
															Co. LONDONDERRY :
—	23	779	—	—	443	3,756	3,569	187	—	0	11 ³ / ₄	0	11	76,410	Coleraine.
20	—	305	—	272	—	5,906	6,109	—	203	1	0 ³ / ₄	1	0 ³ / ₄	111,959	Londonderry.
—	188	1,029	—	856	—	5,539	3,108	2,431	—	1	5 ³ / ₄	0	10	75,339	Magherafelt.
192	—	977	—	732	—	3,367	2,394	973	—	1	0 ³ / ₄	0	8 ³ / ₄	65,630	Newtownlimavady.
															COUNTY MONAGHAN :
—	698	182	—	274	—	4,872	3,831	1,041	—	2	1 ³ / ₄	1	9	46,325	Carrickmacross.
—	415	91	—	2,731	—	7,511	6,606	905	—	2	8 ³ / ₄	2	0	65,473	Castleblaney.
—	184	583	—	—	171	5,101	4,446	655	—	1	10 ³ / ₄	1	7	55,055	Clones.
—	229	4,164	—	—	3,532	9,282	4,018	5,264	—	1	11 ³ / ₄	0	10 ³ / ₄	94,431	Monaghan.
															COUNTY TYRONE :
—	32	29	—	—	377	1,374	1,243	131	—	1	3	1	1 ³ / ₄	21,790	Castlederg.
—	260	356	—	133	—	4,229	3,421	808	—	2	0	1	7 ³ / ₄	42,275	Clogher.
—	101	524	—	192	—	2,444	2,444	—	—	0	10 ³ / ₄	0	10 ³ / ₄	55,550	Cookstown.
—	98	275	—	789	—	4,982	4,159	823	—	1	1	0	10 ³ / ₄	90,330	Dungannon.
35	—	2	—	470	—	1,163	758	405	—	1	5 ³ / ₄	0	11 ³ / ₄	15,731	Gortin.
981	—	3,036	—	—	2,251	8,650	5,293	3,447	—	2	3 ³ / ₄	1	4 ³ / ₄	75,354	Omagh.
—	459	3,838	—	—	3,080	8,284	4,018	3,466	—	2	0 ³ / ₄	1	2	81,529	Strabane.
6,457	8,203	45,652	1,040	17,392	26,984	245,098	191,806	67,512	5,220	1	6 ³ / ₄	1	2	3,320,133	TOTAL ULSTER.
9,668	7,399	46,849	1,003	14,874	25,852	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	3,320,133	Total for April.

* ENNISKILLEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.

* LOWTHERSTOWN.—Elected Guardians at the close of March succeeded the Vice-Guardians, who were appointed 16th September, 1847.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during May, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during May, 1848.					State of Collection during May, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of May on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount paid with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CLARE:
Ennis . . .	77,840	1,500	1,420	18,123	19,543	25.1	£ 420	£ 2,325	£ 666	£ 3,411	s. 0 d. 8	£ 1,920	£ 1,920	£ 1,020	£ 15,087
Ennistymon ^a . . .	49,933	760	780	10,708	19,546	39.1	*256	2,150	162	2,568	0 9½	1,819	1,821	635	12,784
Kilrush ^b . . .	82,353	1,330	1,308	16,358	17,666	21.4	377	1,863	225	2,465	0 9½	962	1,062	3,037	5,826
Scariff ^c . . .	53,563	2,800	1,866	15,514	17,380	32.4	558	1,715	807	3,080	1 4½	726	2,726	2,365	5,154
COUNTY CORK:
Bandon . . .	81,772	2,075	1,955	—	1,955	2.4	478	—	171	649	0 1	596	1,032	51	1,581
Bantry ^d . . .	56,165	926	837	5,050	6,837	12.2	251	662	262	1,175	0 6½	827	380	1,137	1,003
Cork . . .	156,657	4,550	3,623	—	3,623	2.3	759	—	1,210	1,969	0 1½	3,640	3,640	1,770	9,637
Dunmanway . . .	30,537	875	921	2,349	3,270	10.7	213	210	253	675	0 3½	129	129	656	1,136
Fermoy . . .	92,353	1,750	1,413	11,994	13,407	14.5	346	937	287	1,670	0 2½	234	234	910	1,764
Kanturk ^e . . .	85,561	1,700	1,590	12,733	14,323	16.7	409	870	770	2,049	0 4½	3,237	3,387	2,730	17,159
Kinsale . . .	41,342	1,250	1,058	—	1,058	2.5	248	—	329	577	0 1½	86	91	497	945
Macroom . . .	50,818	1,230	1,311	5,773	7,114	12.1	315	565	213	1,093	0 2½	1,787	1,531	1,109	8,831
Mallow . . .	63,232	1,450	1,016	—	1,016	1.5	302	—	219	521	0 1	123	115	449	1,200
Midleton . . .	78,426	2,686	2,511	—	2,511	3.2	713	—	650	1,363	0 2	278	306	813	4,095
Skibbereen . . .	104,508	2,250	1,910	6,642	8,553	8.1	427	640	645	1,712	0 4½	832	928	1,221	2,940
COUNTY KERRY:
Cahiriveen ^f . . .	30,688	1,240	1,042	2,071	4,013	13.9	348	415	96	859	0 8½	392	392	489	731
Dingle [†] . . .	35,512	—	—*	10,116*	10,118	3.4	—	1,100*	300	1,400	0 11½	—*	500	—	—
Kenmare ^g . . .	33,656	1,000	1,060	4,618	5,678	16.8	298	641	153	1,092	0 10½	159	488	376	3,207
Killarney . . .	53,345	1,750	1,427	10,459	11,866	22.2	349	1,119	171	1,639	0 4½	2,466	2,466	2,149	14,022
Listowel . . .	78,756	1,096	1,216	11,600	12,816	16.2	408	787	422	1,617	0 3½	916	777	923	1,077
Tralee . . .	56,151	1,946	1,721	5,983	7,704	13.7	487	602	301	1,390	0 2½	356	624	610	4,162
COUNTY LIMERICK:
Kilmallock . . .	75,687	1,300	1,303	16,044	17,347	22.9	442	1,710	266	2,418	0 3½	1,678	1,665	1,187	27,035
Limerick . . .	182,067	3,450	2,380	8,472	10,352	5.2	607	1,282	702	2,541	0 2½	1,423	1,494	2,090	9,582
Newcastle ^h . . .	60,007	775	876	18,041	18,917	31.5	314	2,078	199	2,591	0 5½	5,270	4,893	4,322	10,848
Rathkenile . . .	68,174	1,574	1,303	3,775	10,076	14.7	348	1,023	248	1,619	0 2½	1,084	1,149	985	18,670
CO. TIPPERARY:
Carrick-on-Suir . . .	45,333	1,140	769	902	1,671	3.6	272	120	336	728	0 1½	312	233	305	1,404
Cashel . . .	69,640	1,475	1,474	9,868	11,342	16.2	518	1,023	687	2,228	0 4	895	986	1,043	4,773
Clogheen . . .	47,033	1,200	852	7,491	8,343	17.7	355	669	243	1,267	0 4½	215	215	327	1,355
Clonmel . . .	89,993	1,900	1,502	2,359	3,861	9.6	508	237	170	915	0 2½	54	54	904	8,028
Nenagh . . .	89,874	1,700	1,651	11,182	12,833	14.2	494	1,178	249	1,921	0 3½	1,493	1,494	1,449	7,488
Roscrea . . .	63,016	1,230	1,034	6,323	7,357	11.6	407	736	396	1,539	0 3½	1,013	869	1,744	3,717
Thurles . . .	71,976	996	932	14,311	15,243	21.1	316	1,129	322	1,767	0 3½	913	917	1,315	5,991
Tipperary . . .	79,516	1,050	1,077	15,894	16,971	21.3	438	2,130	458	3,026	0 5	561	563	2,704	4,797
CO. WATERFORD:
Dungarvan . . .	68,642	1,550	1,236	4,725	5,963	8.6	314	453	349	1,116	0 2½	223	210	1,025	994
Lismore . . .	38,617	1,290	1,359	2,631	3,990	10.07	363	331	454	1,148	0 4½	122	344	647	267
Waterford ⁱ . . .	84,360	1,670	1,504	7,815	9,319	11.04	610	646	515	1,771	0 2	1,124	1,124	1,206	25,749
TOTAL MUNSTER	2,435,347	56,064	49,319	294,787	344,106	14.1	14,267	31,296	14,006	59,569	0 3½	37,464	41,679	44,202	243,039
Total for April	2,435,347	55,113	48,211	294,895	343,106	14.08	14,941	31,328	13,852	60,121	0 3½	38,025	36,066	54,947	217,470

^a ENNISTYMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 29th Feb., 1848.^b KILRUSH.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.^c SCARIFF.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th October, 1847.^d BANTRY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th October, 1847.^e KANTURK.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th Nov., 1847.^f The Union of Dingle was declared on the 22nd February, 1848, being formed of Ten Electoral Divisions, previously belonging to Tralee Union. No Workhouse Expenses above given in^g Estimated.^h Estimated.ⁱ Estimated.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued:

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of May, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of May, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the eight months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of May, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expense over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the eight months.	Expenses of the eight months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the eight months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expense during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£	COUNTY CLARE:
-	1,491	890	-	4,109	-	15,872	20,262	-	4,390	3 1½	3 11½	101,222	Ennis.
-	749	1,662	-	*4,660	-	8,616	9,906	-	1,290	2 6½	2 11½	67,486	Ennistymon.
-	1,503	-	1,040	4,809	-	9,343	11,810	-	2,467	3 1½	3 10½	59,449	Kilrush.
-	2,354	401	-	6,267	-	12,537	15,536	-	2,999	5 7½	6 11½	44,609	Scariff.
COUNTY CORK:
-	53	5,188	-	-	4,441	8,097	7,952	145	-	1 2½	1 2	136,166	Bandon.
-	818	2	-	5,553	-	5,225	8,875	-	3,150	2 3	4 0	41,829	Bantry.
1,671	-	10,011	-	-	9,171	30,929	17,714	13,215	-	1 8½	0 11½	365,623	Cork.
-	546	1,476	-	-	1,200	5,671	4,052	1,619	-	2 6½	1 9½	44,084	Dunmanway.
-	1,436	5,245	-	-	1,713	21,841	20,020	1,821	-	2 10	2 6½	153,452	Fermoy.
1,338	-	2,338	-	491	-	23,279	17,950	5,329	-	4 4½	3 4½	106,114	Kanturk.
-	491	1,253	-	-	962	4,990	2,020	917	-	1 4½	1 1	73,928	Kinsale.
644	-	1,315	-	-	543	9,417	6,654	2,763	-	2 0	1 4½	93,875	Macroon.
-	399	6,049	-	-	5,544	13,594	5,260	8,334	-	2 2½	0 10½	122,706	Mallow.
-	1,085	9,377	-	-	7,823	22,791	11,647	11,144	-	2 9½	1 5½	163,070	Middleton.
-	890	1,517	-	-	523	14,091	11,948	2,143	-	2 10½	2 5½	90,255	Skibbereen.
COUNTY KERRY:
-	467	209	-	2,161	-	3,096	4,204	-	1,108	2 6½	3 5½	24,366	Cahirciveen.
-	1,400	-	-	*1,200	-	-	2,644	-	2,644	-	-	29,230	Dingle.
-	933	145	-	3,002	-	3,040	6,001	-	2,052	3 3½	4 10½	24,689	Kemmare.
827	-	186	-	3,150	-	14,089	15,720	-	1,640	3 3½	3 8½	85,023	Killarney.
-	701	411	-	4,869	-	13,621	17,844	-	4,223	2 9½	3 7½	97,558	Listowel.
-	1,034	29	-	3,416	-	15,038	16,011	-	973	2 7½	2 11½	84,625	Tralee.
COUNTY LIMERICK:
-	740	473	-	4,692	-	17,767	15,965	1,802	-	2 0	1 9½	177,800	Kilmallock.
-	1,118	6,695	-	-	4,954	31,917	20,986	10,931	-	3 1	1 11½	206,861	Limerick.
2,679	-	1,691	-	5,941	-	22,984	24,669	-	1,585	4 2½	4 6½	109,499	Newcastle.
-	535	2,093	-	273	-	16,326	16,419	-	93	2 4½	2 5½	139,337	Rathkeale.
COUNTY TIPPERARY:
-	416	-	181	1,917	-	8,436	5,952	2,484	-	1 10½	1 3½	89,871	Carrick-on-Suir.
-	1,333	79	-	3,883	-	14,092	14,017	75	-	2 2	2 1½	130,293	Cashel.
-	1,052	194	-	1,630	-	6,831	3,008	-	1,177	2 2	2 6½	62,760	Clogheen.
-	861	158	-	963	-	7,803	8,592	-	789	1 8½	1 10½	91,108	Clonmel.
-	428	308	-	3,103	-	16,328	15,361	967	-	2 8½	2 6½	119,802	Nenagh.
-	526	656	-	919	-	12,082	9,357	2,725	-	2 4½	1 10	102,171	Roscrea.
-	854	181	-	1,474	-	13,894	14,141	-	247	2 6½	■ 7	108,931	Thurles.
-	2,465	23	-	3,921	-	14,216	18,373	-	4,157	1 11	2 6	148,326	Tipperary.
COUNTY WATERFORD:
-	893	5,300	-	-	4,541	13,137	7,598	5,539	-	2 9½	1 7½	94,591	Dungarvan.
-	1,028	2,531	-	-	1,763	7,381	4,745	2,636	-	2 3½	1 5½	64,583	Lismore.
-	647	-	713	3,874	-	9,482	10,029	-	547	0 11½	1 0½	193,771	Waterford.
7,159	29,264	68,166	1,934	75,897	43,183	468,762	429,704	74,589	35,531	■ 5½	2 3½	3,777,103	TOTAL MUNSTER.
5,744	82,840	70,005	709	61,812	47,802	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,777,103	Total for April.

* CAHIRCIVEEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.

* KEMMARE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 20th January, 1848.

b NEWCASTLE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 4th March, 1848.

c WATERFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 23th March, 1848.

accommodation had been provided, and no rate had been made in Dingle Union down to the close of May; but on the 29th April a rate was agreed upon. The Return of confined to the months of April and May.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during May, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during May, 1848.					State of Collection during May, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of May on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor-Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor-Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CARLOW:
Carlow . . .	77,922	2,100	1,623	6,212	7,835	10·0	£ 006	£ 502	£ 747	£ 1,855	s. d. 0 2½	£ 233	£ 1,303	£ 600	£ 3,097
COUNTY DUBLIN:
Balrothery . . .	28,116	544	476	937	1,413	5·0	162	86	96	344	0 1	286	272	301	3,932
Dublin, North . . .	123,128	4,100	3,114	3,078	6,192	5·0	1,214	333	766	2,333	0 1½	3,113	3,147	2,300	14,754
Dublin, South . . .	178,745	2,535	2,147	5,748	7,895	4·4	811	815	607	2,233	0 1	8,165	8,165	4,067	46,134
Rathdown . . .	44,214	726	569	905	1,474	3·3	371	143	217	731	0 1	146	151	251	5,774
COUNTY KILDARE:
Athy . . .	47,912	1,120	915	2,579	3,494	7·3	349	382	204	935	0 2	394	397	499	3,750
Dubridge . . .	25,242	519	295	—	295	1·1	107	—	145	252	0 0½	533	533	344	2,511
Naas . . .	52,228	1,110	1,005	2,727	3,732	7·1	367	403	204	974	0 1½	158	158	622	1,064
COUNTY KILKENNY:
Callan . . .	33,524	1,130	869	7,318	8,187	21·2	206	636	417	1,351	0 3½	550	667	721	2,458
Kilkenny* . . .	120,062	1,900	1,439	6,664	8,103	6·7	447	786	566	1,799	0 1½	1,849	1,869	1,688	5,836
KING'S COUNTY:
Edenderry . . .	34,679	840	504	826	1,330	3·8	170	111	509	790	0 2	89	89	648	821
Parsonstown . . .	76,528	1,500	1,229	—	1,229	1·6	368	—	231	649	0 1½	505	509	69	4,094
Tullamore ^b . . .	53,905	1,200	1,014	6,128	7,142	13·2	365	533	161	1,059	0 3	1,815	1,846	1,512	10,371
COUNTY LONGFORD:
Granard ^c . . .	55,130	700	788	7,016	7,804	14·1	250	1,080	435	1,765	0 4½	1,706	1,706	2,204	3,488
Longford ^d . . .	87,757	1,450	1,729	6,277	18,206	9·1	355	582	398	1,325	0 2½	2,238	2,238	1,878	14,172
COUNTY LOUTH:
Ardee . . .	43,348	770	653	2,055	2,708	6·2	238	219	297	754	0 2	463	463	683	905
Drogheda . . .	52,251	940	594	3,058	3,652	3·9	197	181	71	449	0 0½	276	276	881	1,102
Dundalk . . .	65,509	948	602	2,281	2,883	4·4	215	245	163	622	0 1½	591	621	589	5,821
COUNTY MEATH:
Dunshaughlin . . .	20,985	596	429	969	1,398	6·6	141	134	277	552	0 1	826	807	914	2,347
Kells . . .	45,282	1,260	1,256	1,505	2,761	6·1	325	162	473	960	0 1½	281	282	236	5,801
Navan . . .	35,831	900	604	2,717	3,321	9·2	208	354	241	803	0 2	903	715	424	2,914
Oldcastle . . .	48,373	644	927	5,836	6,763	14·0	307	779	555	1,641	0 5	1,698	1,379	1,492	3,702
Trim ^e . . .	84,411	898	417	2,166	2,583	7·5	214	288	252	754	0 1½	1,219	1,210	706	6,405
QUEEN'S COUNTY:
Abbeyleix . . .	41,230	900	887	3,057	3,944	9·5	347	387	163	897	0 3½	99	146	151	7,845
Mountmelick . . .	67,874	1,944	1,547	4,648	6,195	9·1	620	442	261	1,323	0 3½	547	547	1,209	2,792
COUNTY WESTMEATH:
Athlone ^f . . .	72,168	1,168	1,268	8,278	9,546	13·2	441	769	478	1,687	0 4	1,899	1,899	1,877	8,737
Mullingarb . . .	73,272	1,016	989	7,054	8,043	10·9	318	864	140	1,322	0 1½	3,415	3,391	3,894	15,151
COUNTY WEXFORD:
Eaniscorthy . . .	61,816	1,039	1,251	4,873	6,124	9·9	328	584	807	1,719	0 3½	1,003	1,005	1,726	3,602
Gorey . . .	39,054	830	692	2,397	3,289	8·3	296	291	208	795	0 2	1,131	1,137	1,045	9,276
New Ross ^h . . .	74,293	1,900	1,689	4,837	6,526	8·7	610	453	422	1,485	0 3½	453	453	955	4,534
Wexford . . .	53,401	1,000	844	—	844	1·5	369	—	551	920	0 2	638	666	920	5,002
COUNTY WICKLOW:
Baltinglass . . .	40,687	900	836	1,665	2,501	6·1	238	185	293	716	0 1½	607	480	689	5,318
Rathdrum . . .	56,709	1,140	798	2,331	3,129	5·5	256	187	297	740	0 1½	1,090	1,090	619	6,612
Shillelagh . . .	34,800	627	626	684	1,260	3·6	149	89	119	857	0 1½	152	152	269	661
TOTAL LEINSTER .	2,006,036	40,914	34,825	116,776	151,601	7·55	12,055	13,027	11,809	36,891	0 2	89,146	89,771	36,963	220,283
Total for April .	2,006,036	41,044	35,263	115,544	150,807	7·51	13,923	14,595	12,355	40,873	0 2½	84,819	84,814	39,898	171,989

^a KILKENNY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th February, 1848.
^b TULLAMORE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th February, 1848.

^c GRANARD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th February, 1848.
^d LONGFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of May, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of May, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the eight months, from 22nd September, 1847, to the close of May, 1848.							NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of deficit, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of deficit.	Rate collected in the eight months.	Expenses of the eight months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the eight months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
—	1,622	1,042	—	1,812	—	12,183	13,494	—	1,361	1 4½	1 6½	179,037	COUNTY CARLOW:
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Carlow.
—	58	—	48	908	—	3,268	3,543	—	275	0 8½	0 9	94,521	COUNTY DUBLIN:
780	—	3,637	—	—	2,804	31,931	29,152	2,779	—	1 8½	1 6½	369,745	Balrothery.
5,932	—	1,865	—	—	255	19,879	25,575	—	5,696	0 8½	0 10½	569,940	Dublin, North.
—	585	6	—	2,276	—	5,358	6,201	—	843	0 8½	0 9½	152,314	Dublin, South.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Rathdown.
—	541	114	—	1,150	—	7,794	7,320	474	—	1 6½	1 5	102,831	COUNTY KILDARE:
291	—	1,680	—	—	1,420	4,462	2,298	2,164	—	0 8½	0 4½	130,776	Athy.
—	816	3,372	—	—	1,964	11,785	8,219	3,486	—	1 9	1 2½	135,232	Celbridge.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Nans.
—	801	87	—	943	—	8,733	9,124	—	391	2 1	2 1½	54,103	COUNTY KILKENNY:
50	—	1,562	—	—	189	24,352	15,119	9,133	—	2 0	1 3	241,775	Callan.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Kilkenny.
—	701	814	—	—	427	4,596	8,661	1,035	—	0 11½	0 8½	98,634	KING'S COUNTY:
—	144	3,597	—	—	2,276	11,153	4,815	6,338	—	2 0½	0 10½	109,286	Edenderry.
756	—	435	—	2,020	—	9,767	8,688	1,079	—	2 3	2 0	86,516	Parsonstown.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Tullamore.
—	59	3,464	—	—	1,541	11,629	8,045	3,584	—	2 8	1 9½	87,209	COUNTY LONGFORD:
913	—	1,471	—	4,144	—	10,697	11,246	—	549	1 8½	1 9½	124,496	Granard.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Longford.
—	291	573	—	—	420	9,784	7,467	2,317	—	2 1½	1 7½	93,047	COUNTY LOUTH:
—	173	43	—	1,609	—	8,552	8,071	481	—	1 3	1 2	136,601	Ardee.
—	31	—	677	1,328	—	3,556	4,665	—	1,109	0 8	0 10½	106,680	Droghda.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Dundalk.
274	—	298	—	260	—	5,858	5,198	660	—	1 0	0 10½	118,486	COUNTY MEATH:
—	679	108	—	3,246	—	7,946	9,489	—	1,543	1 3½	1 6½	123,339	Dunshaughlin.
100	—	—	422	2,229	—	7,101	7,635	—	534	1 4½	1 6	101,527	Kells.
57	—	489	—	1,766	—	10,936	10,987	—	51	2 9	2 9	79,721	Navan.
465	—	521	—	203	—	4,539	5,339	—	800	0 11	1 0	100,634	Oldcastle.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Trim.
—	798	—	5	3,015	—	7,319	7,290	29	—	2 2½	2 2½	66,759	QUEEN'S COUNTY:
—	776	—	3,117	4,244	—	9,421	12,633	—	3,262	2 1½	2 9½	89,914	Abbeyleix.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Mountmelick.
212	—	306	—	1,439	—	9,315	7,449	1,866	—	1 9½	1 5½	103,078	COUNTY WESTMEATH:
2,093	—	—	577	3,063	—	6,629	10,219	—	3,590	0 8½	1 0½	190,944	Athlone.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Mullingar.
—	716	418	—	97	—	13,498	11,446	2,052	—	2 1½	1 9½	126,921	COUNTY WEXFORD:
336	—	192	—	486	—	6,080	5,877	203	—	1 3½	1 3	94,001	Enniscorthy.
—	1,092	150	—	1,404	—	13,149	12,415	734	—	2 4½	2 3	109,748	Gorey.
—	287	3,105	—	—	2,521	9,896	6,967	2,929	—	1 9	1 3	113,714	New Ross.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Wexford.
—	29	757	—	232	—	5,091	5,476	—	385	1 1½	1 2½	90,888	COUNTY WICKLOW:
350	—	—	—	—	470	5,112	5,697	—	585	0 8	0 9½	153,246	Baitinglass.
—	205	35	—	692	—	3,809	2,943	866	—	1 2½	0 11	64,485	Rathdrum.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Shillelagh.
12,599	10,344	29,459	4,046	38,586	13,840	325,038	303,793	42,209	20,974	1 4½	1 3½	4,624,542	TOTAL LEINSTER.
7,834	14,388	29,908	6,711	44,334	14,039	—	—	—	—	—	—	4,624,542	Total for April.

* THIR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th January, 1848.
 † ATHLONE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 22nd January, 1848.

* MULLINGAR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 6th May, 1848.
 † NEW ROSS.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.
PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during May, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during May, 1848.					State of Collection during May, 1848.
			Average Number of inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Int-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of May on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
COUNTY GALWAY:							£	£	£	£	s. d.	£	£	£	£
Ballinasloe	99,026	1,450	1,482	9,413	10,845	10.9	652	948	423	2,018	0 3	932	953	1,646	7,451
Clifden ^a	83,465	360	258	17,100	17,358	51.8	177	2,407	272	2,936	2 7½	30	1,930	1,925	930
Galway ^b	88,973	1,210	1,466	26,960	28,426	32.0	402	2,489	396	3,297	0 7½	374	2,757	2,789	7,179
Gort ^c	43,543	1,050	1,044	9,032	10,076	23.1	309	1,055	619	1,983	0 8½	1,780	1,645	1,723	3,945
Loughrea ^d	71,774	1,900	1,489	6,064	7,553	10.5	561	774	446	1,781	0 4½	970	970	979	2,866
Tuam ^e	74,974	1,150	1,094	13,167	14,261	19.0	276	1,304	229	1,809	0 5	594	2,129	3,097	5,859
COUNTY LEITRIM:
Carrick-on-Shannon ^f	67,077	960	904	11,763	12,667	18.8	301	1,392	260	1,953	0 7½	906	2,918	2,834	5,555
Manorhamilton	45,990	1,015	692	1,275	1,967	4.2	151	99	150	400	0 2	472	472	985	1,297
Mohills	68,869	790	888	8,024	8,912	12.9	248	951	826	1,525	0 6½	793	2,063	1,496	5,034
COUNTY MAYO:
Ballina ^g	120,787	1,604	1,478	34,284	35,762	29.6	491	3,601	837	4,929	1 0½	556	2,037	2,263	4,510
Ballinrobe ^h	85,031	800	817	38,252	39,069	45.9	248	3,545	481	4,274	1 0	590	590	768	6,756
Castlebar ⁱ	61,063	900	750	20,318	21,077	34.5	221	2,160	154	2,555	1 0	278	2,235	2,000	6,809
Swineford	73,529	850	612	10,354	10,966	14.9	186	1,229	249	1,664	0 8½	718	714	816	6,406
Westport ^k	77,962	1,900	1,025	26,051	27,076	34.6	288	2,401	433	3,122	1 7½	1,196	4,064	3,573	3,560
Co. ROSCOMMON:
Boyle ^l	71,355	774	772	11,830	12,102	16.9	340	897	775	2,012	0 6	1,500	1,515	1,131	7,189
Castleroa ^m	92,861	1,050	1,066	15,864	16,930	18.2	284	1,764	341	2,369	0 5	457	1,497	1,812	6,781
Roscommon ⁿ	83,437	1,490	1,559	17,618	19,117	22.9	530	1,819	310	2,659	0 7½	761	2,163	2,849	3,521
COUNTY SLEIGO:
Sligo	111,054	2,000	1,800	8,250	10,050	9.0	456	716	486	1,658	0 2½	1,585	1,516	1,507	16,092
TOTAL CONNAUGHT.	1,370,753	20,353	19,155	285,119	304,274	22.12	6,121	29,656	7,187	42,964	0 7	14,502	32,168	34,193	101,529
Total for April	1,370,753	20,353	18,260	253,294	271,544	19.80	6,411	28,001	7,361	41,773	0 7	13,749	29,768	28,716	110,206
SUMMARY.
ULSTER	2,362,132	42,003	33,088	53,155	86,243	3.00	10,029	4,921	10,202	25,152	0 2	23,416	24,683	26,276	91,075
MUNSTER	2,435,347	56,064	49,319	294,767	344,106	14.1	14,267	31,296	14,006	59,569	0 3½	37,464	41,679	44,202	243,039
LEINSTER	2,006,036	40,914	34,825	116,778	151,601	7.55	12,055	13,027	11,809	36,891	0 2	30,146	39,771	36,983	220,283
CONNAUGHT	1,370,753	20,353	19,155	285,119	304,274	22.12	6,121	29,656	7,187	42,964	0 7	14,502	32,168	34,193	101,529
TOTAL MAY	8,174,268	159,333	136,387	749,837	886,224	10.84	42,472	78,900	43,204	164,576	0 3	114,518	138,501	141,654	655,926
TOTAL APRIL	8,174,268	157,993	134,849	722,279	857,128	10.43	46,758	79,518	43,110	169,356	0 3	111,981	129,790	142,509	610,095

^a CLIFDEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 7th February, 1848.
^b GALWAY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 3rd January, 1848.
^c GORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th February, 1848.
^d LOUGHREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th February, 1848.
^e TUAM.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th February, 1848.
^f CARRICK-ON-SHANNON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 30th January, 1848.
^g MOHILLS.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th December, 1847.
† £7,279 is included in the 10th column headed "Establishment, &c.," being the expenses of Temporary Fever Hospitals, making the total for

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of the LIABILITIES of the

- I.—The total Debts of all Unions to Contractors, Treasurers, or others (exclusive of all Loans obtained from Government, or from Private Parties simply for Building purposes), amounted, on the { 29 Sept., 1847, to £272,943, }
II.—The number of Unions in { 31 May, 1848, } exceeded the amount of the money { 31 May, 1848, 83; } the Debts of those which the Debts on the { 29 Sept., 1847, } in the Treasurers' hands, was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 117; } Unions amounted, on
III.—The number of Unions in which the money in the { 31 May, 1848, 48; } the money in the hands of the Treasurers' hands exceeded the Debts was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 13; } surer of those Unions, amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to
- NOTE.—The Debts due to Government or the British Association

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of Collection and Expenses for the Eight Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 31st May, 1848, inclusive; showing also the Amount advanced by the British Association in aid of the Poor Rates on the recommendation of the Poor Law Commissioners, but exclusive of the Expenditure of the Association in providing Food and Clothing for Children in the Public Schools.

	Expenses.	Collection.	Excess of Collection.	Excess of Expenses.	Amount advanced by the British Association.
	£	£	£	£	£
1847—October, . . .	70,808	121,253	50,447	—	900
„ November, . . .	88,432	151,684	63,252	—	450
„ December, . . .	123,697	168,850	45,153	—	1,300
1848—January, . . .	151,264	194,054	42,790	—	2,600
„ February, . . .	167,846	187,064	19,218	—	10,751
„ March, . . .	179,151	128,449	—	40,702	17,230
„ April, . . .	169,466	111,981	—	57,485	23,898
„ May, . . .	164,576	114,518	—	50,058	34,044
Total, 8 Months, . .	1,115,160	1,187,855	220,860	148,165	†90,578
or £72,695 net excess of Collection.

ULSTER PROVINCE.		MUNSTER PROVINCE.		LEINSTER PROVINCE.
Cavan, . . .	£300	Bantry, . . .	£2,400	Athlone, . . .	£500
Glenties, . . .	540	Cahiriveen, . . .	600	New Ross, . . .	500
Total, . . .	£840	Dingle, . . .	1,800
		Ennistymon, . . .	1,000
		Kenmare, . . .	2,980
		Total, . . .	£15,005	Total, . . .	£1,000

† The Unions to which the Advances were made to the close of May,

FINANCIAL RETURN, MAY, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of May, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of May, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the eight months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of May, 1848.								Names of Unions.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the eight months.	Expenses of the eight months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the eight months.	Amount per pound of Collect on during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the eight months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
—	1,086	7,108	—	—	6,058	17,442	7,895	9,547	—	2 3½	1 0½	151,664	COUNTY GALWAY:
—	2,906	5	—	3,806	—	2,344	6,709	—	4,365	2 1	5 11½	23,426	Ballinasloe.
—	2,923	24	—	13,781	—	7,229	16,794	—	9,565	1 5½	3 3½	100,777	Clifden.
—	203	204	—	8,814	—	6,103	11,597	—	5,414	2 4½	4 4	53,037	Galway.
—	811	2,148	—	—	1,521	10,783	8,050	2,733	—	2 4½	1 9	91,907	Gort.
—	1,215	159	—	7,222	—	5,452	9,215	—	3,763	1 3	2 1½	86,236	Loughrea.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Tuam.
—	1,047	258	—	4,932	—	6,119	8,714	—	2,595	1 11½	2 9½	61,450	COUNTY LEITRIM:
72	—	423	—	73	—	5,214	3,034	2,180	—	2 2½	1 3½	47,284	Carrick-on-Shannon.
—	732	556	—	2,319	—	3,151	6,877	—	1,726	1 9½	2 3½	57,778	Manorhamilton.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Mobill.
—	4,373	259	—	6,165	—	8,618	21,315	—	12,697	1 9½	4 4½	95,774	COUNTY MAYO:
—	3,684	57	—	2,982	—	7,265	19,101	—	11,736	1 3½	4 5½	85,217	Ballina.
—	2,277	263	—	6,276	—	3,337	12,409	—	9,073	1 3½	4 10½	50,961	Ballinrobe.
—	926	30	—	3,649	—	3,855	5,806	—	7,951	1 8	2 6	46,016	Castlebar.
—	1,926	1,260	—	3,618	—	5,075	13,446	—	8,411	2 6	6 11½	38,876	Swineford.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Westport.
—	512	928	—	959	—	8,521	4,062	3,539	—	2 1	1 2½	81,408	COUNTY ROSCOMMON:
—	1,952	160	—	3,113	—	10,539	8,092	2,447	—	1 10	1 5	114,349	Boyle.
—	1,898	—	978	4,874	—	10,522	11,691	—	1,169	2 5½	2 8½	65,837	Castlereagh.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Roscommon.
—	73	26	—	5,411	—	16,203	14,406	1,802	—	2 3½	3 0½	142,030	COUNTY SLIGO:
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Sligo.
72	23,534	13,870	978	77,994	7,574	130,957	160,163	22,246	73,454	1 11	2 7	1,465,643	TOTAL CONNAUGHT.
705	26,729	16,061	10	78,974	10,183	—	—	—	—	—	—	1,465,643	Total for April.
6,457	8,203	45,052	1,040	17,392	28,984	254,058	191,806	67,512	5,220	1 6½	1 2	3,320,183	ULSTER.
7,159	29,264	63,106	1,994	75,397	43,183	468,762	429,704	74,569	35,531	2 5½	2 3½	3,777,103	MUNSTER.
12,599	10,344	29,459	4,846	38,586	13,840	325,938	302,798	42,209	20,974	1 4½	1 2½	4,624,542	LEINSTER.
73	28,534	13,070	978	77,994	7,574	139,957	190,163	22,248	73,454	1 11	2 7	1,465,643	CONNAUGHT.
26,387	76,345	157,147	8,798	209,369	93,581	1,187,045	1,115,466	206,558	134,179	1 9½	1 8½	13,187,421	TOTAL, MAY.
23,951	81,356	162,323	8,463	200,494	97,076	—	—	—	—	—	—	13,187,421	TOTAL, APRIL.

¹ BALLINA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.

² BALLINROBE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

³ CASTLEBAR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

⁴ WESTPORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th August, 1847.

⁵ BOYLE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th May, 1848.

⁶ CASTLEREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

⁷ ROSCOMMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 31st December, 1847.

In-Maintenance, Out-Relief, and Temporary Fever Hospitals, £128,651, leaving £35,925 for "Establishment and all other Expenses."

Unions on 29th September, 1847, and 31st May, 1848.

from which amount, deducting the { 31 May, 1848, £157,147, } the net amount of Debts, over and { 31 May, 1848, £115,783, } money in the Treasurers' hands, viz. { 29 Sept., 1847, £39,966, } above the money in hands, would be, { 29 Sept., 1847, £232,977, }

{ 31 May, 1848, to £239,910, } and the money in their Treasurers' hands amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £14,236, } deducting which amount, the net { 31 May, 1848, £269,369, } amount of Debts, over and above { 29 Sept., 1847, £252,727, }

£126,606, } and the Debts { 31 May, 1848, to £33,025, } deducting which there would remain a { 31 May, 1848, to £93,591, }

£25,730, } amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £5,980, } net balance to their credit, amounting, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £19,750, }

on account of Loans, are excluded from this Statement.

STATEMENT showing the amount of Poor Rate collected during each month since the commencement of the year 1846; also the Amount uncollected, and the state of the Balances at foot of the Treasurers' accounts at the close of each month.

Month.	Amount of Rate collected during the Month.			Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.			Amount in hands of Treasurers of certain Unions at close of the Month.			Amount due to Treasurers of remaining Unions at the close of the Month.
	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.
	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£
January . . .	36,229	52,439	194,054	219,052	250,953	788,511	41,362	33,274	177,228	7,258	23,565	4,395
February . . .	41,885	47,264	187,064	206,664	279,140	653,856	54,314	30,283	208,545	5,204	28,312	3,728
March . . .	38,909	52,561	138,449	174,734	265,149	661,855	57,129	26,493	100,409	5,014	31,112	5,261
April . . .	38,436	63,110	111,981	173,956	349,773	610,095	55,986	21,611	162,623	6,580	32,278	8,463
May . . .	31,230	64,865	114,518	163,500	406,223	655,926	57,655	15,424	157,147	6,152	30,526	8,798
June . . .	30,530	59,436	—	150,201	463,730	—	56,425	14,404	—	6,649	31,897	—
July . . .	24,185	62,097	—	129,125	594,120	—	47,801	18,726	—	7,368	34,860	—
August . . .	17,173	53,329	—	135,233	690,103	—	44,350	25,210	—	8,165	35,507	—
September . . .	21,510	73,353	—	155,718	816,452	—	39,913	29,966	—	8,071	29,841	—
October . . .	26,805	121,255	—	225,015	864,049	—	32,114	64,444	—	11,089	28,782	—
November . . .	36,639	151,684	—	244,050	859,718	—	34,393	105,893	—	14,746	16,879	—
December . . .	46,440	168,850	—	243,394	890,639	—	35,358	145,706	—	19,452	8,788	—
Total . . .	390,071	970,308	746,066	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

by the British Association, and the Amounts, are subjoined.

CONNAUGHT PROVINCE.

Ballina, . . .	£16,050	Clifden, . . .	£5,359	Sligo, . . .	£500
Ballinrobe, . . .	12,850	Galway, . . .	6,680	Tuam, . . .	3,500
Carrick-on-Shannon, . . .	8,314	Gort, . . .	500	Westport, . . .	9,910
Castlebar, . . .	8,815	Mobill, . . .	2,500
Castlereagh, . . .	1,750	Roscommon, . . .	2,000	Total, . . .	£73,728

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS, FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during June, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during June, 1848.					State of Collection during June, 1848.
			Average Number of inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of In-Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expense of June on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY ANTRIM:
Antrim	49,168	1,050	757	—	757	1.6	218	—	231	440	0 1	—	—	406	—
Ballycastle . . .	26,020	340	429	—	429	1.6	146	—	220	366	0 2	213	213	300	—
Ballymena	74,022	1,150	876	223	1,099	1.4	256	25	425	707	0 13	1,403	1,405	878	644
Ballymoney	48,012	752	704	944	1,648	3.3	172	82	131	335	0 13	387	479	403	1,536
Belfast	100,992	2,922	2,607	—	2,607	2.5	899	—	917	1,816	0 13	1,165	1,128	1,566	3,259
Larne	38,758	980	544	—	544	1.4	143	—	58	201	0 03	260	263	333	253
Lisburn	75,444	1,450	685	—	685	0.9	199	—	85	284	0 03	31	31	468	—
COUNTY ARMAGH:
Armagh	110,400	1,300	1,121	334	1,455	1.3	240	29	276	545	0 02	702	640	509	9,832
Lurgan	71,128	1,512	866	—	866	1.2	280	—	308	588	0 14	1,628	2,196	933	3,634
COUNTY CAVAN:
Bailieborough . . .	49,305	1,250	1,213	3,983	5,196	10.5	299	437	272	1,008	0 43	569	542	569	6,907
Cavan ^a	97,271	1,950	1,547	8,093	9,640	9.9	490	764	476	1,738	0 34	645	261	393	6,931
Cootehill ^b	67,178	1,350	1,291	5,227	6,518	9.7	325	479	344	1,148	0 34	756	1,017	264	2,955
COUNTY DONEGAL:
Ballyshannon . . .	43,403	870	677	1,430	2,107	4.8	156	121	188	465	0 23	130	128	695	656
Donegal	41,371	550	574	1,545	2,119	5.1	175	141	229	545	0 4	308	334	653	1,099
Dunfannonghy . . .	18,571	300	259	—	259	1.4	75	—	146	221	0 5	109	86	186	527
Glenties	43,571	600	578	5,495	6,068	13.9	132	569	45	746	0 103	77	565	219	345
Inishowen	43,569	640	408	503	1,031	2.5	124	55	54	233	0 13	274	274	233	2,040
Letterkenney	25,921	870	445	—	445	1.7	117	—	47	164	0 13	215	275	95	3,078
Millford	38,103	430	282	1,461	1,743	4.5	83	63	49	195	0 13	55	55	261	115
Stranorlar	25,786	460	407	—	407	1.5	91	—	87	173	0 13	63	108	90	755
COUNTY DOWN:
Banbridge	87,323	1,410	1,125	1,423	2,548	2.9	355	117	238	705	0 13	518	518	969	3,051
Downpatrick	74,938	1,060	696	—	696	0.9	220	—	106	326	0 03	428	428	103	1,042
Kilkeel	28,638	380	246	173	419	1.4	58	13	94	165	0 1	368	336	186	1,180
Newry	95,541	1,350	1,306	1,953	3,259	3.4	345	166	235	746	0 13	895	895	582	4,050
Newtownards	60,165	1,165	557	—	557	0.9	205	—	260	465	0 03	1,281	1,280	1,244	4,310
CO. FERMANAGH:
Enniskillen ^c	81,534	1,370	1,258	4,207	5,465	6.7	458	389	302	1,149	0 23	998	1,073	1,830	981
Lisnaskea	37,920	840	787	—	787	1.9	180	—	116	296	0 13	344	438	144	1,491
Lowtherstown ^d . . .	34,963	740	629	1,201	1,830	5.2	161	131	86	378	0 2	166	119	258	914
CO. LONDONDERRY:
Coleraine	52,704	960	647	—	647	1.2	213	—	152	365	0 1	238	235	230	1,243
Londonderry	64,740	1,100	816	1,599	2,415	3.7	234	—	201	539	0 13	414	414	363	1,266
Magherafelt	60,816	1,140	805	526	1,811	2.2	226	124	112	397	0 13	133	155	243	2,567
Newtownlimavady . .	39,058	890	427	—	427	1.1	98	59	79	172	0 03	721	721	56	2,011
CO. MONAGHAN:
Carriemacross	39,729	750	724	2,315	3,039	7.6	208	243	410	861	0 43	745	752	698	5,484
Castleblaney	58,945	1,270	905	2,150	3,055	5.1	274	213	117	604	0 24	220	225	149	7,793
Clones	42,320	850	911	2,214	3,126	7.4	284	210	274	764	0 34	445	448	852	2,086
Monaghan	69,959	1,176	994	—	994	1.4	307	—	258	565	0 13	280	292	507	1,446
COUNTY TYRONE:
Castlederg	21,368	570	332	—	332	1.5	76	—	52	128	0 13	51	163	63	164
Clogher	39,800	700	651	1,428	2,079	5.2	173	113	69	355	0 2	66	80	430	3,527
Cookstown	46,455	600	601	691	1,292	2.8	179	58	120	357	0 13	190	314	255	168
Dungannon	70,000	990	928	1,498	2,421	3.4	246	105	75	426	0 1	458	460	363	890
Gortin	18,747	428	555	—	555	3.0	47	—	28	75	0 1	—	—	—	—
Omagh	69,099	1,104	961	1,957	2,918	4.2	365	144	283	692	0 21	1,031	1,073	672	1,897
Strabane	58,883	960	846	1,379	2,125	3.6	282	108	88	478	0 13	127	127	546	718
TOTAL ULSTER . .	2,362,132	42,539	34,092	54,327	88,419	3.77	9,718	5,058	8,234	23,010	0 13	19,122	20,656	20,838	87,828
Total for May . .	2,362,132	42,002	33,088	53,155	86,243	3.06	10,029	4,921	10,202	25,152	0 2	23,406	24,863	26,276	91,075

^a CAVAN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 6th December, 1847.

^b COOTEHILL.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF ULSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of June, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of June, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the nine months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of June, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the nine months.	Expenses of the nine months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the nine months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
COUNTY ANTRIM:
-	449	655	-	-	11	6,300	4,840	1,460	-	1 3	0 11½	100,611	Antrim.
-	153	938	-	-	854	2,006	3,016	-	410	1 3½	1 6	39,160	Ballycastle.
698	-	2,722	-	-	2,127	9,445	5,803	3,532	-	1 11	1 2½	97,492	Ballymena.
2	-	777	-	-	517	5,458	3,612	1,846	-	1 6	0 11½	73,086	Ballymoney.
-	651	218	-	2,799	-	16,931	19,023	-	2,892	1 3	1 5½	271,915	Belfast.
59	-	701	-	-	329	3,809	2,680	729	-	0 11	0 8½	72,437	Larne.
-	253	1,207	-	1,346	-	4,183	4,825	-	142	0 7½	0 7½	136,397	Lisburn.
COUNTY ARMAGH:
157	2	4,562	-	-	3,939	13,391	7,402	5,989	-	1 6½	0 10	174,572	Armagh.
1,040	-	3,025	-	-	1,949	13,481	8,573	4,908	-	2 10½	1 10	52,683	Lurgan.
COUNTY CAVAN:
-	439	202	-	2,142	-	10,094	7,418	2,676	-	3 10½	2 10½	52,156	Bailieborough.
-	1,093	717	-	3,063	-	17,053	16,037	1,016	-	2 8	2 6	127,282	Cavan.
-	392	1,901	-	448	-	10,460	8,550	1,902	-	2 10	2 3½	73,490	Cootehill.
COUNTY DONEGAL:
-	327	997	-	-	912	6,684	4,436	2,248	-	2 8½	1 0½	51,435	Ballyshannon.
-	237	1,353	-	-	369	4,916	2,805	2,112	-	3 11	1 9	31,639	Donegal.
-	112	104	-	96	-	874	1,267	-	393	1 7½	2 4½	10,543	Dunfanaghy.
-	669	346	-	2,034	-	3,086	4,032	-	1,746	3 9½	5 10½	16,330	Glenties.
41	-	1,313	-	-	1,013	3,551	2,035	1,516	-	1 11½	1 11	36,607	Inishowen.
51	-	153	-	552	-	2,123	2,591	-	468	1 4	1 7½	31,835	Letterkenny.
-	140	121	-	303	-	3,076	2,630	466	-	1 11½	1 8	31,377	Milford.
-	115	1,012	-	-	764	2,673	1,349	1,324	-	1 9½	0 11	29,402	Stranorlar.
COUNTY DOWN:
-	187	230	-	636	-	7,680	6,299	1,381	-	1 3½	1 0	123,970	Bachbridge.
102	-	3,132	-	-	2,009	5,044	3,413	1,631	-	0 7½	0 4½	167,393	Downpatrick.
203	-	156	-	190	-	1,673	1,427	246	-	0 10½	0 9	36,921	Kilkeel.
149	-	640	-	200	-	6,132	6,625	-	493	0 11½	1 0½	129,651	Newry.
816	-	597	-	23	-	6,887	4,057	2,230	-	1 2	0 9½	118,469	Newtownards.
COUNTY FERMANAGH:
-	156	129	-	1,242	-	11,848	7,546	4,202	-	2 5½	1 3½	96,108	Enniskillen.
48	-	2,897	-	-	2,566	6,281	2,749	3,532	-	2 9½	1 2	46,910	Lisnaskea.
-	212	-	20	517	-	5,602	5,153	449	-	2 6½	2 3½	43,914	Lowtherstown.
CO. LONDONDERRY:
-	127	775	-	-	312	3,904	3,934	60	-	1 0½	1 0	76,410	Coleraine.
-	145	356	-	420	-	6,320	6,669	-	348	1 1½	1 2	111,959	Londonderry.
-	264	941	-	-	614	5,672	3,305	2,167	-	1 6	0 11½	75,339	Magherafelt.
549	-	1,643	-	-	1,291	4,088	2,566	1,522	-	1 3	0 9½	65,630	Newtownlimavady.
COUNTY MONAGHAN:
-	116	286	-	382	-	5,617	4,692	925	-	2 5	2 1½	46,325	Carrikmacross.
-	384	-	13	3,085	-	7,731	7,210	521	-	2 4½	2 2½	65,473	Castleblanoy.
-	319	178	-	145	-	5,546	5,210	336	-	2 0	1 10½	55,035	Clones.
-	275	3,948	-	-	3,257	9,572	4,583	4,989	-	2 0½	0 11½	94,431	Monaghan.
COUNTY TYRONE:
-	77	130	-	342	-	1,425	1,371	54	-	1 3½	1 2½	21,790	Castlederg.
-	289	6	-	409	-	4,295	3,776	519	-	2 0½	1 9	42,275	Clogher.
-	167	583	-	-	149	2,634	2,891	-	167	0 11½	0 11½	56,550	Cookstown.
32	-	372	-	756	-	5,440	4,585	855	-	1 2½	0 11½	90,330	Dungannon.
-	75	2	-	545	-	1,163	833	330	-	1 5½	1 0½	15,751	Gortin.
339	-	3,437	-	-	2,631	9,681	5,895	3,786	-	2 6½	1 6½	75,354	Omagh.
-	331	3,419	-	-	2,729	8,411	5,296	3,115	-	2 0½	1 3½	81,529	Strabane.
4,286	8,174	46,831	35	21,872	29,242	273,230	214,816	65,474	7,059	1 7½	1 3½	3,320,133	TOTAL ULSTER.
6,457	8,203	45,652	1,040	17,392	28,984	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,320,133	Total for May.

* ENNISKILLEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.

* LOWTHERSTOWN.—Elected Guardians at the close of March succeeded the Vice-Guardians, who were appointed 18th September, 1847.

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during June, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during June, 1848.					State of Collection during June, 1848.
			Average Number of inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of June on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CLARE:
Ennis . . .	77,840	1,800	1,630	17,465	19,095	24.5	£ 492	£ 2,034	£ 639	£ 3,165	s. d. 0 7½	£ 6,206	£ 6,200	£ 6,107	£ 8,881
Ennistymon ^a . . .	49,935	760	889	21,671	22,560	45.2	254	2,108	267	2,629	0 6½	3,550	4,033	4,722	9,230
Kilrush ^b . . .	82,353	1,330	1,289	18,154	19,448	22.4	358	1,835	358	2,601	0 10½	1,317	1,317	1,203	4,508
Scariff ^c . . .	53,563	2,300	2,042	16,459	18,501	34.5	641	2,192	496	3,329	1 5½	731	3,331	3,118	4,423
COUNTY CORK:
Bandon . . .	81,772	2,075	1,734	—	1,734	2.1	513	—	193	706	0 1½	752	887	1,045	834
Bantry ^d . . .	53,165	936	963	3,323	4,291	7.6	259	651	136	1,046	0 6	113	143	1,086	911
Cork . . .	156,657	4,550	3,663	—	3,663	2.3	772	—	1,647	2,419	0 1½	1,041	1,055	2,463	8,598
Duninaway . . .	30,327	825	950	2,359	3,309	10.3	215	312	273	800	0 6	40	249	740	1,025
Fermoy . . .	92,353	1,750	1,573	12,762	14,335	15.5	441	1,257	551	2,249	0 3½	186	229	3,132	1,577
Kanturk ^e . . .	85,561	1,700	1,817	12,674	14,691	17.1	458	1,153	857	2,468	0 5½	6,559	6,619	2,672	10,602
Kinsale . . .	41,342	1,350	1,115	—	1,115	2.4	322	—	188	510	0 1½	230	235	520	706
Maerroom . . .	50,818	1,200	1,437	5,722	7,159	12.1	329	556	137	1,022	0 2½	1,196	1,418	871	7,634
Mallow . . .	63,282	1,450	1,110	—	1,110	1.7	257	—	186	443	0 0½	105	110	304	1,094
Midleton . . .	70,420	2,686	2,911	—	2,911	3.7	905	—	499	1,404	0 2	188	264	827	3,507
Skibbereen . . .	104,508	2,090	1,988	5,645	7,633	7.3	514	999	342	1,855	0 4½	584	568	1,065	2,419
COUNTY KERRY:
Oahirciveen ^f . . .	30,080	1,240	1,015	2,670	3,685	12.0	293	316	50	699	0 6½	143	1,242	411	588
Dingle [†] . . .	35,512	—	146	9,968	10,114	28.5	30	1,216	48	1,294	0 10½	753	753	—	3,861
Kenmare ^g . . .	33,656	1,090	939	5,550	6,489	19.2	314	752	103	1,169	0 11½	132	690	468	3,074
Killarney . . .	53,345	1,750	1,601	9,431	11,032	20.6	401	1,267	219	1,887	0 5½	2,874	2,874	2,089	11,149
Listowel . . .	78,756	1,246	1,175	19,243	20,418	25.9	413	2,519	280	3,312	0 7½	66	206	600	1,011
Tralee . . .	56,151	1,946	1,753	8,167	9,920	10.8	501	992	368	1,851	0 3½	518	549	515	3,643
COUNTY LIMERICK:
Kilmallock . . .	75,687	1,550	1,483	15,649	17,132	22.6	467	1,682	529	2,698	0 3½	2,735	2,954	3,359	24,308
Limerick . . .	132,067	3,450	2,748	8,706	11,454	8.6	798	1,814	2,316	4,428	0 5½	1,193	1,140	3,644	8,389
Newcastle ^h . . .	60,007	775	850	13,762	19,612	32.6	222	2,014	217	2,453	0 5½	4,446	5,387	6,665	6,402
Rathkeale . . .	68,174	1,574	1,443	10,409	11,942	17.5	426	1,329	1,015	2,770	0 4½	2,350	2,389	1,956	16,319
CO. TIPPERARY:
Carriek-on-Suir . . .	45,333	1,440	779	965	1,744	3.8	234	109	266	609	0 1½	377	395	473	3,492
Cashel . . .	60,640	1,475	1,410	12,615	14,025	20.1	474	1,037	348	2,640	0 4½	709	791	556	4,065
Clogheen . . .	47,033	1,200	906	7,122	8,028	17.0	311	713	201	1,225	0 4½	331	331	314	1,021
Clonmel . . .	39,993	1,900	1,565	2,454	4,019	10.0	511	261	202	974	0 2½	1,282	1,275	975	6,746
Nenagh . . .	89,874	1,670	1,675	13,853	15,528	17.2	547	1,671	501	2,719	0 5½	1,805	2,315	2,124	5,683
Roscrea . . .	63,016	1,230	1,069	5,879	6,948	11.0	331	690	642	1,663	0 3½	744	780	1,247	2,971
Thurles . . .	71,976	966	874	14,580	15,454	21.4	323	1,531	445	2,299	0 5	514	522	700	5,476
Tipperary . . .	79,518	1,050	1,038	16,165	17,203	21.6	337	2,186	377	2,900	0 4½	1,004	1,004	739	18,127
CO. WATERFORD:
Dungarvan . . .	68,642	1,600	1,535	4,043	5,578	8.8	372	393	612	1,377	0 3½	155	221	1,463	838
Lismore . . .	38,617	1,690	1,520	2,864	4,384	11.3	350	303	299	952	0 3½	68	95	900	199
Waterford ⁱ . . .	84,360	2,372	1,466	8,216	9,682	11.4	488	668	323	1,479	0 1½	2,838	2,838	2,777	22,911
TOTAL MUNSTER	2,435,347	58,231	52,131	313,840	365,971	14.9	14,893	36,090	16,170	67,953	0 4½	47,858	55,458	62,535	216,610
Total for May	2,435,347	56,064	49,319	294,787	344,106	14.1	14,267	31,286	14,006	59,569	0 3½	37,464	41,679	44,202	243,039

^a ENNISTYMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 29th Feb., 1848.^b KILRUSH.—Vice-Guardians appointed 11th March, 1848.^c SCARIFF.—Vice-Guardians appointed 28th Oct., 1847.^d BANTRY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th October, 1847.^e KANTURK.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th Nov., 1847.^f Estimated.[†] The Union of Dingle was declared on the 22nd February, 1848, being formed of Ten Electoral Divisions, previously belonging to Tralee Union. No Workhouse Expenses above given in

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF MUNSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of June, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of June, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the nine months, from 23rd September, 1847, to the close of June, 1848.								Valuation of Rated Property.	NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the nine months.	Expenses of the nine months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the nine months.	Amount per pound of collection during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the nine months on the entire Valuation.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
27.	28.	29.	30.	31.	32.	33.	34.	35.	36.	37.	38.	39.	40.	41.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£		COUNTY CLARE :
3,041	—	989	—	1,067	—	22,078	23,427	—	1,349	4 0	4 7½	101,222		Ennis.
921	—	1,662	—	2,957	—	12,166	12,585	—	369	3 7½	3 8½	67,486		Ennistymon.
—	1,284	—	1,006	5,093	—	10,660	14,411	—	3,751	3 0½	4 9½	59,449		Kilrush.
—	2,598	519	—	6,364	—	13,268	18,865	—	5,597	5 11½	8 5½	44,609		Scariff.
														COUNTY CORK :
46	—	5,028	—	—	4,395	8,849	8,658	191	—	1 3½	1 3½	136,166		Bandon.
—	926	670	—	4,353	—	5,343	9,421	—	4,078	2 6½	4 6	41,629		Bantry.
—	1,376	8,503	—	—	7,207	31,970	20,133	11,837	—	1 8½	1 1	365,623		Cork.
—	751	984	—	—	647	5,720	4,052	668	—	2 7	2 3½	44,684		Dunmanway.
—	2,063	2,353	—	807	—	22,027	22,269	—	242	2 10½	2 10	153,452		Ferm y.
4,091	—	6,235	—	—	1,693	29,833	20,419	9,420	—	5 7½	3 10	106,114		Kanturk.
—	271	968	—	—	691	5,229	4,503	646	—	1 4½	1 2½	73,928		Kinsale.
174	—	1,863	—	—	936	10,613	7,676	2,937	—	2 1½	1 7½	93,875		Macroon.
—	339	5,856	—	—	5,212	13,699	5,703	7,996	—	2 2½	0 11	122,709		Mallow.
—	1,216	3,834	—	—	6,612	22,979	13,051	9,928	—	2 9½	1 7½	163,070		Midleton.
—	1,271	414	—	962	—	14,675	13,803	872	—	2 11½	2 10	98,255		Skibbereen.
														COUNTY KERRY :
—	556	1,221	—	978	—	3,239	4,503	—	1,664	2 7½	4 0½	24,366		Cahiriveen.
—	541	42	—	2,101	—	753	3,936	—	3,185	0 6	2 8½	29,230		Dingle.
—	1,037	358	—	3,377	—	4,051	7,170	—	3,039	3 3½	5 9½	24,639		Kenmare.
987	—	971	—	2,164	—	16,963	17,616	—	653	3 11½	4 1½	85,828		Killarney.
—	3,146	17	—	7,895	—	13,687	21,056	—	7,369	2 9½	4 3½	97,558		Listowel.
—	1,383	62	—	4,719	—	15,556	17,862	—	2,306	2 9½	3 3½	84,625		Tralee.
														COUNTY LIMERICK :
87	—	68	—	4,436	—	20,562	18,663	1,829	—	2 3½	2 0½	177,860		Kilmallock.
—	3,235	4,191	—	—	1,665	33,110	25,414	7,696	—	3 2	2 5	286,661		Limerick.
1,993	—	414	—	3,007	—	27,430	27,022	408	—	5 0	4 11½	109,499		Newcastle.
—	420	2,527	—	655	—	18,676	19,189	—	513	2 10½	2 10	130,337		Rathkeale.
														COUNTY TIPPERARY :
—	232	—	260	2,132	—	8,813	6,561	2,252	—	1 11½	1 5½	89,871		Carrick-on-Suir.
—	1,940	313	—	5,742	—	14,801	16,666	—	1,865	2 3½	2 6½	130,293		Castel.
—	894	211	—	2,541	—	7,162	9,233	—	2,071	2 3½	2 11	62,760		Clogheen.
308	—	458	—	661	—	9,085	9,566	—	481	1 11½	2 1½	91,108		Clonmel.
—	914	499	—	3,508	—	18,133	18,030	53	—	3 0½	3 0	119,802		Nenagh.
—	919	195	—	1,803	—	12,826	11,020	1,806	—	2 6	2 1½	102,171		Roscrea.
—	1,785	4	—	3,252	—	14,408	16,440	—	2,032	2 7½	3 0	108,931		Thurles.
—	1,896	288	—	4,456	—	15,220	21,273	—	6,053	2 0½	2 10½	148,326		Tipperary.
														COUNTY WATERFORD :
—	1,222	4,058	—	—	3,335	13,292	8,975	4,317	—	3 2½	1 10½	94,591		Dungarvan.
—	884	1,726	—	—	624	7,449	5,697	1,752	—	2 3½	1 9½	64,583		Lismore.
1,859	—	—	652	3,099	—	12,820	11,508	812	—	1 3½	1 2½	193,771		Waterford.
12,957	33,052	62,631	1,918	77,624	33,667	516,620	497,657	65,630	46,667	2 8½	2 7½	3,777,103		TOTAL MUNSTER.
7,159	29,264	68,166	1,934	75,397	43,183	—	—	—	—	—	—	3,777,103		Total for May.

* CARRIVEEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.
 * KENMARE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 20th January, 1848.

* NEWCASTLE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 4th March, 1848.
 * WATERFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 25th March, 1848.

accommodation had been provided, and no rate has been made in Dingle Union down to the close of May; but on the 29th April a rate was agreed upon. The Return of confined to the months of May and June.

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during June, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during June, 1848.					State of Collection during June, 1848.
			Average Number of Inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each (18) of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of June on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY CARLOW:
Carlow	77,922	2,100	1,599	4,163	5,762	7.4	£ 610	£ 529	£ 1,006	£ 2,144	s. d. 0 23	£ 910	£ 914	£ 1,650	£ 11,062
COUNTY DUBLIN:
Balrothery . . .	28,116	544	418	917	1,335	4.7	163	102	123	283	0 1	594	563	726	3,388
Dublin, North . .	123,123	4,100	3,024	3,006	6,030	4.9	1,233	340	924	2,535	0 13	2,446	2,372	2,502	12,309
Dublin, South . .	178,745	2,535	2,097	4,868	6,965	3.9	765	772	614	2,051	0 1	9,731	9,757	8,028	36,403
Rathdown	44,214	726	543	739	1,302	2.9	371	125	165	*661	0 1	913	790	566	7,574
COUNTY KILDARE:
Athy	47,912	1,120	910	1,262	2,171	4.5	352	407	173	932	0 21	336	480	625	3,441
Celbridge	25,242	519	270	—	270	1.0	110	—	69	179	0 02	319	319	260	2,195
Naas	52,228	1,110	934	2,757	3,691	6.1	340	411	314	1,065	0 2	151	151	1,265	852
COUNTY KILKENNY:
Callan	38,524	1,130	859	7,935	8,793	22.8	305	949	540	1,794	0 5	334	355	370	2,073
Kilkenny ^a	120,082	1,000	1,562	6,425	7,987	6.6	736	620	591	1,967	0 2	1,323	1,323	1,723	4,513
KING'S COUNTY:
Edenderry	34,679	840	513	870	1,391	4.0	175	132	184	491	0 14	180	180	371	141
Parsonstown . . .	76,623	1,700	1,373	—	1,373	1.8	433	—	435	868	0 2	795	795	57	3,299
Tullamore ^b	53,903	1,200	1,069	5,770	6,839	12.6	395	548	160	1,073	0 3	2,913	2,954	2,437	7,459
COUNTY LONGFORD:
Granard ^c	55,130	700	847	7,422	8,269	15.0	258	858	595	1,711	0 43	964	1,004	1,731	2,584
Longford ^d	87,757	1,480	1,400	12,875	14,355	16.3	324	902	493	1,731	0 34	2,190	2,190	2,656	12,269
COUNTY LOUTH:
Ardee	43,348	770	678	2,084	2,762	6.4	242	240	105	587	0 11	201	201	617	714
Drogheda	52,251	940	627	1,197	1,824	3.5	211	215	57	483	0 1	138	139	233	904
Dundalk	65,509	948	617	2,217	2,834	4.3	217	244	154	615	0 12	878	814	822	4,943
COUNTY MEATH:
Dunshaughlin . . .	20,985	596	403	930	1,333	6.3	146	154	107	407	0 1	1,005	984	532	1,342
Kells	45,282	1,433	1,330	1,417	2,777	6.1	337	149	531	1,037	0 2	1,073	1,095	1,167	4,727
Navan	35,831	900	617	2,539	3,156	8.8	221	342	294	857	0 2	912	1,010	975	2,007
Oldcastle	40,373	844	1,114	5,380	6,494	13.4	314	666	501	1,481	0 41	1,517	1,495	1,217	7,527
Trim ^e	34,411	893	417	2,090	2,507	7.2	160	271	303	734	0 13	1,475	1,439	531	4,930
QUEEN'S COUNTY:
Abbeyleix	41,230	900	895	1,457	2,352	5.7	320	474	190	1,000	0 34	1,930	1,993	1,992	8,056
Monastmelick . . .	67,874	1,944	1,378	3,470	4,856	7.1	699	532	203	1,434	0 4	733	733	1,001	9,176
COUNTY WESTMEATH:
Athlone ^f	72,168	1,178	1,408	9,597	11,005	15.2	567	1,123	183	1,873	0 43	1,926	1,926	1,627	6,810
Mullingarb	73,272	1,560	1,027	6,404	7,431	10.1	352	938	499	1,789	0 24	4,016	4,003	2,986	11,135
COUNTY WEXFORD:
Enniscorthy	61,816	1,220	1,123	3,831	4,954	8.0	364	530	447	1,341	0 23	708	750	1,167	2,894
Gorey	39,054	890	839	2,543	3,378	8.6	305	390	323	1,023	0 23	1,237	1,333	1,031	7,988
New Ross ^h	74,293	1,900	1,635	4,561	6,196	8.3	534	568	345	1,467	0 31	92	92	390	4,442
Wexford	53,401	1,000	719	—	719	1.3	296	—	451	747	0 13	315	318	747	4,686
COUNTY WICKLOW:
Baltinglass	40,667	900	881	1,795	2,676	6.5	278	204	516	998	0 23	652	751	813	4,667
Rathdrum	56,769	1,140	776	2,356	3,132	5.5	256	227	293	776	0 11	945	945	973	5,666
Shillelagh	34,800	607	579	624	1,203	3.4	170	86	87	343	0 14	144	144	143	517
TOTAL LEINSTER .	2,006,036	42,737	34,560	113,572	148,132	7.3	12,432	14,255	11,893	38,580	0 2	44,105	44,831	44,009	202,703
Total for May . .	2,006,036	40,044	34,825	116,776	151,601	7.51	12,055	13,027	11,809	36,891	0 2	39,146	39,771	36,983	220,383

^a KILKENNY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th February, 1848.
^b TULLAMORE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th February, 1848.

^c GRANARD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 19th February, 1848.
^d LONGFORD.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

^e Estimated.

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF LEINSTER.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of June, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of June, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the nine months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of June, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Rate collected in the nine months.	Expenses of the nine months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the nine months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£
-	1,234	307	-	3,043	-	13,043	15,630	-	2,595	1 5½	1 9	179,037	COUNTY CARLOW: Carlow.
211	-	-	192	709	-	3,862	3,926	-	64	0 9½	0 10	94,521	COUNTY DUBLIN: Balrothery.
-	89	3,507	-	-	1,595	34,377	31,687	2,690	-	1 10½	1 8½	369,745	Dublin, North.
7,680	-	3,094	-	-	2,347	29,610	27,626	1,984	-	1 0½	0 11½	569,940	Dublin, South.
252	-	231	-	*2,147	-	6,271	6,862	-	591	0 10	0 10½	152,314	Rathdown.
-	596	-	20	1,603	-	8,130	8,252	-	122	1 7	1 7½	102,831	COUNTY KILDARE: Athy.
140	-	1,730	-	1,523	-	4,781	2,477	2,304	-	0 8½	0 4½	130,776	Culbridge.
-	914	2,258	-	-	1,063	11,936	9,364	2,572	-	1 9½	1 4½	135,232	Naas.
-	1,410	72	-	2,382	-	9,117	10,916	-	1,801	2 2	2 6½	84,103	COUNTY KILKENNY: Callan.
-	644	1,236	-	633	-	25,575	17,086	8,489	-	2 1½	1 3	241,775	Kilkenny.
1,840	311	623	-	-	161	4,776	4,052	724	-	0 11½	0 10	96,634	KING'S COUNTY: Edenderry.
-	73	4,335	-	-	2,204	11,948	5,683	6,265	-	2 2½	1 0½	109,286	Parsonstown.
-	-	953	-	*130	-	12,680	9,761	2,919	-	2 11½	2 3	86,516	Tullamore.
-	747	2,753	-	-	834	12,593	9,756	2,837	-	2 10½	2 2½	87,309	COUNTY LONGFORD: Granard.
-	-	807	-	3,886	-	12,887	12,930	-	93	2 0½	2 0½	124,496	Longford.
-	386	157	-	-	34	9,985	8,054	1,931	-	3 1½	1 8½	93,047	COUNTY LOUTH: Ardee.
-	345	-	51	1,954	-	8,690	8,554	136	-	1 3½	1 3	136,604	Drogheda.
263	-	-	686	1,129	-	4,434	5,280	-	846	0 10	0 11½	106,680	Dundalk.
598	-	751	-	-	296	6,863	5,605	1,258	-	1 2	0 11½	118,486	COUNTY MEATH: Dunshaughlin.
36	-	36	-	3,187	-	9,019	10,526	-	1,507	1 5½	1 8½	123,339	Kells.
55	-	-	388	2,170	-	8,013	8,492	-	479	1 7	1 8	101,527	Navan.
36	-	768	-	1,875	-	12,453	12,468	-	15	3 1½	3 1½	79,721	Oldcastle.
741	-	1,409	-	-	501	6,014	6,073	-	59	1 2½	1 1½	100,634	Trim.
939	-	2	-	2,022	-	9,268	8,290	968	-	2 9½	2 5½	66,750	QUEEN'S COUNTY: Abbeyleix.
-	701	-	8,636	4,945	-	10,154	14,117	-	3,963	2 3	3 1½	89,914	Mountmelick.
53	-	605	-	1,387	-	11,241	9,323	1,919	-	2 2½	1 10½	103,078	COUNTY WESTMEATH: Athlone.
2,227	-	440	-	1,692	-	10,645	12,008	-	1,363	1 1½	1 3	190,944	Mullingar.
-	633	2	-	688	-	14,206	12,787	1,419	-	2 3	2 0	126,921	COUNTY WEXFORD: Enniscorthy.
264	-	995	-	-	144	7,367	6,900	467	-	1 6½	1 5½	94,001	Gorey.
-	1,875	-	148	2,909	-	13,241	13,882	-	641	2 5	2 6½	109,748	New Ross.
-	432	2,677	-	-	2,093	10,211	7,714	2,497	-	1 9½	1 4½	113,714	Wexford.
-	346	513	-	480	-	5,743	6,474	-	731	1 3½	1 5	90,888	COUNTY WICKLOW: Baltinglass.
169	-	993	-	-	530	6,057	6,473	-	416	0 9½	0 10½	153,246	Rathdrum.
-	199	-	35	892	-	3,953	3,286	667	-	1 2½	1 0½	64,485	Shillelagh.
15,960	10,435	31,254	5,166	41,395	11,802	369,133	342,573	42,046	15,286	1 7½	1 5½	4,624,542	TOTAL LEINSTER.
12,599	10,344	29,459	4,846	38,586	13,840	826,028	303,798	42,209	20,974	1 4½	1 3½	4,624,542	Total for May.

* TRIM.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th January, 1848.
 * ATHLONE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 22nd January, 1848.

* MULLINGAR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 6th May, 1848.
 * NEW ROSS.—Vice-Guardians appointed 21st March, 1848.

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Population according to the Census of 1841.	Total Number for which Work-house accommodation is provided.	Numbers relieved during June, 1848.				Expenses of Relief during June, 1848.					State of Collection during June, 1848.
			Average Number of inmates in the Work-house during the month.	Average Number on the Out-relief Lists during the month.	Total Average Number relieved during the month.	Proportion relieved to each 100 of the Census Population of 1841.	Cost of Maintenance.	Cost of Out-Relief.	Cost of Establishment and other Expenses.	Total Expenses.	Amount per pound of the Expenses of June on the entire Valuation.	Amount of Poor Rate collected.	Amount lodged with the Treasurer, including other receipts than Poor Rate.	Amount disbursed by the Treasurer.	Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the month.
1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
COUNTY GALWAY:
Ballinasloe	99,926	1,650	1,625	9,968	11,593	11.7	£ 667	£ 1,094	£ 304	£ 2,145	s. d. 0 3½	£ 640	£ 641	£ 1,809	£ 6,811
Clifden ^a	33,465	246	272	18,325	18,597	55.3	147	2,518	302	2,967	2 7½	158	2,548	2,307	772
Galway ^b	88,973	1,600	1,477	30,493	31,970	25.9	463	3,446	1,162	5,073	1 0	69	69	27	7,110
Gort ^c	43,543	1,500	1,622	8,665	10,287	83.6	532	1,001	1,785	3,318	1 3	963	2,549	2,271	2,982
Loughrea ^d	71,774	1,900	1,673	7,433	9,106	12.7	568	1,001	385	1,954	0 5½	732	732	1,469	2,133
Tuam ^e	74,974	1,228	1,284	13,412	14,696	19.6	255	1,508	462	2,325	0 6½	1,225	3,025	2,679	12,142
COUNTY LEITRIM:
Carrick-on-Shannon ^f	67,077	960	898	18,536	14,454	21.5	330	1,668	581	2,537	0 9½	538	565	2,950	5,018
Manorhamilton	45,990	940	569	1,499	2,088	4.5	133	114	227	474	0 2½	560	560	775	737
Mohills	68,859	740	1,040	7,758	9,798	12.8	304	1,130	476	1,910	0 7½	765	2,412	2,281	4,268
COUNTY MAYO:
Ballina ^h	120,787	2,094	1,634	38,168	39,802	32.9	607	5,145	893	6,645	1 4½	490	1,174	1,230	4,011
Ballinrobe ⁱ	85,031	800	810	43,767	44,577	52.4	274	4,556	718	5,543	1 3½	451	1,139	916	6,304
Castlebar ^j	61,063	900	830	24,229	25,059	41.0	283	3,116	207	3,606	1 5	131	3,445	3,590	6,478
Swinsford	73,529	850	912	17,013	17,925	24.3	272	1,948	294	2,514	1 1	938	925	928	5,469
Westport ^k	77,952	1,030	1,019	20,892	29,911	38.4	301	2,928	596	3,822	1 1½	426	2,763	4,052	2,925
Co. ROSCOMMON:
Boyle ^l	71,355	800	789	15,258	16,047	22.4	300	1,604	236	2,140	0 6½	985	1,031	1,357	6,204
Castlerea ^m	92,861	1,150	1,253	17,075	18,328	19.7	284	2,108	335	2,727	0 5½	108	388	277	6,593
Roscommon ⁿ	85,437	1,780	1,767	19,139	20,906	25.0	643	2,204	314	3,061	0 8½	259	373	1,869	3,262
COUNTY SLIGO:
Sligo	111,054	2,070	1,975	9,264	11,239	10.1	522	794	765	2,081	0 9½	859	844	636	15,193
TOTAL CONNAUGHT.	1,370,753	22,338	21,469	223,914	345,383	25.2	6,995	37,880	9,967	54,942	0 9	10,486	25,183	31,773	98,412
Total for May,	1,370,753	20,353	19,155	285,119	304,274	22.12	6,121	29,656	7,187	42,964	0 7	14,502	32,163	34,193	101,529
SUMMARY.
ULSTER	2,362,132	42,539	34,092	54,327	88,419	3.8	9,718	5,058	8,234	23,010	0 13	19,122	20,656	20,830	87,823
MUNSTER	2,435,347	58,231	52,131	312,840	365,971	14.8	14,893	36,890	16,170	67,953	0 4½	47,858	55,150	62,535	216,610
LEINSTER	2,006,636	42,737	34,560	113,472	148,132	7.3	12,432	14,255	11,893	38,580	0 2	44,103	44,831	44,009	202,703
CONNAUGHT	1,370,753	22,338	21,469	223,914	345,383	25.2	6,995	37,880	9,967	54,942	0 9	10,486	25,183	31,373	98,412
TOTAL JUNE	8,174,268	165,845	142,252	805,653	947,905	11.6	44,038	94,063	46,264	184,395	0 3½	121,571	146,128	158,755	605,548
TOTAL MAY	8,174,260	159,333	136,367	749,837	886,224	10.84	42,472	78,900	43,204	164,576	0 3	114,518	138,501	141,654	655,926

^a CLIFDEN.—Vice-Guardians appointed 7th February, 1849.^b GALWAY.—Vice-Guardians appointed 3rd January, 1848.^c GORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th February, 1848.^d LOUGHREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th February, 1848.^e TUAM.—Vice-Guardians appointed 18th February, 1848.^f CARRICK-ON-SHANNON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 26th January, 1848.^g MOHILLS.—Vice-Guardians appointed 10th December, 1847.

† £7,908 is included in the 10th column headed "Establishment," &c., being the expenses of Temporary Fever Hospitals, making the total for

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of the LIABILITIES of the

- I.—The total Debts of all Unions to Contractors, Treasurers, or others (exclusive of all Loans obtained from Government, or from Private Parties simply for Building purposes), amounted, on the { 30 June, 1848, to £302,088, } { 29 Sept., 1847, to £372,943, }
- II.—The number of Unions in { 30 June, 1848, } exceeded the amount of the money { 30 June, 1848, 85; } the Debts of those which the Debts on the { 29 Sept., 1847, } in the Treasurers' hands, was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 117; } Unions amounted, on
- III.—The number of Unions in which the money in the { 30 June, 1848, 46; } the money in the hands of the Treasurers' hands exceeded the Debts was, on { 29 Sept., 1847, 13; } surer of those Unions, amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to
- NOTE.—The Debts due to Government or the British Association

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of Collection and Expenses for the Nine Months, from 1st October, 1847, to 30th June, 1848, inclusive; showing also the Amount advanced by the British Association in aid of the Poor Rates on the recommendation of the Poor Law Commissioners, but exclusive of the Expenditure of the Association in providing Food and Clothing for Children in the Public Schools.

	Expenses.	Collection.	Excess of Collection.	Excess of Expenses.	Amount advanced by the British Association.
	£	£	£	£	£
1847—October, ...	70,808	121,255	50,447	—	300
„ November, ...	88,738	151,684	62,946	—	450
„ December, ...	123,697	168,850	45,153	—	1,300
1848—January, ...	151,264	194,054	42,790	—	2,600
„ February, ...	167,846	187,064	19,218	—	10,751
„ March, ...	179,151	198,449	—	40,702	17,230
„ April, ...	169,886	111,981	—	57,405	23,898
„ May, ...	164,576	114,518	—	50,058	34,044
„ June, ...	184,385	121,571	—	62,214	39,155
Total, 9 Months, ...	1,299,851	1,809,426	220,554 or £9,575 net excess of Collection.	210,979	+129,728

ULSTER PROVINCE.

Cavan, ...	£300
Glenties, ...	1,312
Total, ...	£1,612

† The Unions to which the Advances were made to the close of June,

MUNSTER PROVINCE.

Bantry, ...	£3,400
Cahirvreen, ...	2,040
Dingle, ...	1,800
Ennistymon, ...	1,000
Kenmare, ...	3,869
Kilrush, ...	2,030
Total, ...	£21,125

LEINSTER PROVINCE.

Athlone, ...	£500
New Ross, ...	500
Total, ...	£1,000

FINANCIAL RETURN, JUNE, 1848—continued.

PROVINCE OF CONNAUGHT.

Difference between the Collection & Expenses of June, 1848.		Financial condition at the close of June, 1848.				Summary of Collection and Expenses during the nine months, from 29th September, 1847, to the close of June, 1848.								NAMES OF UNIONS.
Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection.	Balance at foot of the Treasurer's Account, at the close of the month.		Net amount of debts, deducting the balance in Treasurer's hands, if any.	Net amount of money in hands of Treasurer, remaining to credit of Unions, after deducting the amount of debts.	Date collected in the nine months.	Expenses of the nine months.	Excess of Collection over Expenses.	Excess of Expenses over Collection for the nine months.	Amount per pound of Collection during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Amount per pound of Expenses during the nine months on the entire Valuation.	Valuation of Rated Property.
		In favour of the Guardians.	Against the Guardians.										29.
17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	s. d.	s. d.	£	COUNTY GALWAY:
—	1,505	5,940	—	—	4,549	16,092	10,040	8,042	—	2 4½	1 3½	151,664	Ballinasloe.
—	2,809	250	—	8,826	—	2,503	9,076	—	7,174	2 2½	8 7½	22,426	Clifden.
—	5,004	07	—	13,702	—	7,293	21,807	—	14,569	1 5½	4 3½	100,777	Galway.
—	2,355	481	—	9,584	—	7,146	14,915	—	7,769	2 8½	5 7	53,037	Gort.
—	1,223	1,173	—	—	469	11,515	10,004	1,511	—	2 6	2 2	91,007	Loughrea.
—	1,100	505	—	6,398	—	6,677	11,540	—	4,863	1 6½	2 8	86,236	Tuam.
—	1,999	44	—	4,749	—	6,657	11,251	—	4,594	2 2½	3 7½	61,450	COUNTY LEITRIM:
86	—	209	—	—	13	5,774	3,508	2,266	—	2 5½	1 6	47,284	Carrick-on-Shannon.
—	1,145	737	—	1,817	—	5,916	8,787	—	2,871	2 0½	2 11½	57,778	Manorhamilton.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Mohill.
—	6,146	203	—	6,866	—	9,117	27,960	—	18,843	1 10½	5 9½	95,774	COUNTY MAYO:
—	5,092	280	—	2,795	—	7,816	24,644	—	16,820	1 10	5 9½	85,217	Ballina.
—	3,475	148	—	5,532	—	3,468	16,015	—	12,547	1 4½	6 3½	50,981	Ballinrobe.
—	1,576	27	—	5,495	—	4,793	8,320	—	3,527	2 1	3 7½	46,016	Castlebar.
—	3,396	—	28	4,211	—	5,501	17,300	—	11,807	2 9½	8 10½	36,876	Swineford.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Westport.
—	1,155	602	—	2,068	—	9,506	7,122	2,384	—	2 4	1 9	81,408	COUNTY ROSCOMMON:
—	2,539	271	—	5,451	—	10,727	10,819	—	92	1 10½	1 1½	114,349	Boyle.
—	2,802	—	1,974	7,846	—	10,781	14,742	—	3,961	2 6	3 4½	85,837	Castlerena.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Roscommon.
—	1,122	236	—	6,643	—	17,167	16,487	680	—	2 5	2 4	142,030	COUNTY SLIGO:
86	44,442	11,173	2,002	89,048	5,031	150,443	245,005	14,883	109,445	2 0½	3 1	1,465,643	Sligo.
72	28,534	13,070	978	77,994	7,574	—	—	—	—	—	—	1,465,643	TOTAL CONNAUGHT.
—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Total for May.
4,286	8,174	46,831	35	21,872	29,242	273,230	214,816	65,474	7,059	1 7½	1 3½	3,320,133	ULSTER.
12,957	33,052	62,631	1,918	77,624	33,067	516,620	497,657	65,630	46,667	2 8½	2 7½	3,777,103	MUNSTER.
15,960	10,435	31,254	5,166	41,395	11,802	369,133	342,373	42,046	15,266	1 7½	1 5½	4,624,542	LEINSTER.
86	44,442	11,173	2,002	89,048	5,031	150,443	245,005	14,883	109,445	2 0½	3 1	1,465,643	CONNAUGHT.
33,289	96,103	151,080	9,121	229,939	79,742	1309,426	1299,851	188,933	178,458	2 0	1 11½	13,187,421	TOTAL, JUNE.
26,267	76,345	157,147	8,798	209,369	93,581	—	—	—	—	—	—	13,187,421	TOTAL, MAY.

¹ BALLINA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 24th December, 1847.

² BALLINROBE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

³ CASTLEBAR.—Vice-Guardians appointed 13th July, 1847.

⁴ WESTPORT.—Vice-Guardians appointed 16th August, 1847.

¹ BOYLE.—Vice-Guardians appointed 9th May, 1848.

² CASTLEREA.—Vice-Guardians appointed 17th February, 1848.

³ ROSCOMMON.—Vice-Guardians appointed 31st December, 1847.

In-Maintenance, Out-Relief, and Temporary Fever Hospitals, £146,029, leaving £38,356 for "Establishment and all other Expenses."

Unions on 29th September, 1847, and 30th June, 1848.

from which amount, deducting the £30 June, 1848, £151,889, the net amount of Debts, over and £30 June, 1848, £150,199. money in the Treasurers' hands, viz. { 29 Sept., 1847, £29,966, } above the money in hands, would be, { 29 Sept., 1847, £232,977.
 { 30 June, 1848, to £263,750, } and the money in their Treasurers' hands amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £14,236, } deducting which amount, the net { 30 June, 1848, £220,939.
 { 29 Sept., 1847, to £266,963, } amount of Debts, over and above { the money in hands, would be, on { 29 Sept., 1847, £253,727.
 £118,080, } and the Debts { 30 June, 1848, to £38,338, } deducting which there would remain a { 30 June, 1848, to £79,742.
 £25,730, } amounted, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £5,990, } net balance to their credit, amounting, on { 29 Sept., 1847, to £19,750.
 on account of Loans, are excluded from this Statement.

STATEMENT showing the amount of Poor Rate collected during each month since the commencement of the year 1846; also the Amount uncollected, and the state of the Balances at foot of the Treasurers' accounts at the close of each month.

Months.	Amount of Rate collected during the Month.			Amount of Rate remaining uncollected at the close of the Month.			Amount in hands of Treasurers of certain Unions at close of the Month.			Amount due to Treasurers of remaining Unions at the close of the Month.
	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.	1846.	1847.	1848.
	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£
January . . .	36,229	52,439	194,054	219,052	250,953	788,511	41,362	83,274	177,228	7,358	23,565	4,305
February . . .	41,885	47,264	187,064	206,664	279,140	653,856	54,314	30,383	208,545	5,294	28,312	3,728
March . . .	38,909	52,561	138,449	174,734	265,149	661,855	57,129	26,493	180,409	5,014	31,112	5,261
April . . .	38,436	63,110	111,981	173,956	349,773	610,095	55,986	21,611	162,823	6,580	32,278	8,463
May . . .	31,230	64,865	114,513	163,508	400,223	655,926	57,655	15,424	157,147	6,152	30,526	8,798
June . . .	30,620	59,436	121,571	150,201	463,730	605,548	56,425	14,404	151,889	6,649	31,897	9,121
July . . .	24,185	62,097	—	129,125	594,120	—	47,801	18,726	—	7,368	34,860	—
August . . .	17,173	53,389	—	135,293	690,103	—	44,350	25,210	—	8,165	35,507	—
September . . .	21,510	73,358	—	155,718	816,452	—	39,913	39,966	—	8,071	29,841	—
October . . .	26,805	121,255	—	225,815	864,049	—	32,114	64,444	—	11,089	28,762	—
November . . .	36,639	151,684	—	244,050	859,718	—	34,393	105,893	—	14,746	16,879	—
December . . .	46,440	168,950	—	243,304	890,639	—	35,358	145,706	—	19,452	8,788	—
Total . . .	390,071	970,308	867,637	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

by the British Association, and the Amounts, are subjoined.

CONNAUGHT PROVINCE.

Ballina, . . .	£20,530	Clifden, . . .	£8,349	Sligo, . . .	£1,000
Ballinrobe, . . .	17,615	Galway, . . .	12,250	Tuam, . . .	5,300
Carrick-on-Shannon, . . .	5,784	Gort, . . .	1,500	Westport, . . .	12,670
Castlebar, . . .	12,293	Mohill, . . .	3,500
Castlerena, . . .	2,700	Roscommon, . . .	2,500	Total, . . .	£105,991

PAUPERS IN

[In continuation of Returns in Sixth Series of

SUMMARIES of Weekly Returns of Inmates in the Workhouses in the several Provinces in Ireland, and corresponding Weeks in the Years 1847 and 1846, respectively, showing the Amount of Workhouse as compared with the previous Week of the Year, also with the corresponding Weeks of the previous

Week ended Saturday, May 6, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population of Province according to Census of 1841.	WORKHOUSE ACCOMMODATION.				NUMBER OF PAUPERS IN THE WORKHOUSES IN
		No. of Paupers the Workhouses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional accommodation has been provided.	Total No. for which accommodation is provided in each Province.	Able-bodied.			Children under 15 years of age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
						Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER, . . Sat. 6 May, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	2,979	10,538	41,717	1,973	5,814	7,787	16,349	1,852	3,156	5,008
" 8 May, 1847						1,320	4,140	5,460	14,036	3,210	3,400	6,610
" 9 May, 1846						473	1,465	1,938	5,830	175	1,493	1,668
MUNSTER, . Sat. 6 May, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	4,700	24,793	55,703	4,734	9,723	14,459	17,781	1,211	5,535	6,746
" 8 May, 1847						1,543	4,222	5,764	11,918	3,377	4,509	7,966
" 9 May, 1846						888	1,974	2,862	7,015	290	2,385	2,675
LEINSTER, . Sat. 6 May, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,427	12,763	41,040	2,536	5,687	8,223	11,952	1,272	4,072	5,344
" 8 May, 1847						1,043	3,653	4,696	10,981	1,753	3,404	5,237
" 9 May, 1846						576	1,731	2,307	6,443	164	2,142	2,306
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 6 May, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,438	4,015	20,053	2,180	3,782	5,962	6,325	836	2,694	3,530
" 8 May, 1847						519	1,196	1,715	2,672	740	1,462	2,202
" 9 May, 1846						197	362	559	1,448	56	409	465
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 6 May, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	12,544	52,109	157,513	11,423	25,008	36,431	52,307	5,171	15,457	20,628
" 8 May, 1847						4,433	13,211	17,644	39,607	9,080	12,935	22,015
" 9 May, 1846						2,134	5,532	7,666	20,736	685	6,429	7,114

Week ended Saturday, May 13, 1848,

ULSTER, . . Sat. 13 May, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	2,979	10,823	42,003	1,992	5,795	7,787	16,434	1,765	3,014	4,779
" 15 May, 1847						1,380	4,363	5,743	14,397	3,186	3,164	6,350
" 16 May, 1846						481	1,506	1,987	5,856	289	1,409	1,698
MUNSTER, . Sat. 13 May, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	3,935	25,919	56,064	4,939	9,770	14,709	17,689	1,006	5,123	6,129
" 15 May, 1847						1,396	3,973	5,369	11,767	3,095	4,590	7,685
" 16 May, 1846						1,087	2,093	3,180	7,166	310	2,454	2,764
LEINSTER, . Sat. 13 May, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,881	12,733	40,914	2,924	6,610	9,534	13,032	1,374	4,120	5,494
" 15 May, 1847						1,203	3,929	5,132	11,719	2,074	3,611	5,685
" 16 May, 1846						635	1,814	2,449	6,889	221	2,320	2,541
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 13 May, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,438	4,315	20,353	2,129	3,783	5,912	6,157	760	2,573	3,333
" 15 May, 1847						568	1,240	1,816	3,323	676	1,089	2,565
" 16 May, 1846						291	505	796	1,830	69	489	550
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 13 May, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	11,683	53,790	159,333	11,984	25,958	37,942	53,302	4,905	14,830	19,735
" 15 May, 1847						4,547	13,513	18,060	41,206	9,031	13,254	22,285
" 16 May, 1846						2,494	5,918	8,412	21,741	889	6,672	7,561

Week ended Saturday, May 20, 1848,

ULSTER, . . Sat. 20 May, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,549	10,504	42,253	1,997	5,796	7,793	16,501	1,614	2,926	4,540
" 22 May, 1847						1,470	4,380	5,850	14,643	3,321	3,233	6,554
" 23 May, 1846						491	1,508	1,999	5,927	239	1,472	1,711
MUNSTER, . Sat. 20 May, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	3,935	25,933	56,078	5,211	10,201	15,412	18,182	1,010	5,010	6,020
" 22 May, 1847						1,646	4,563	6,209	12,532	2,767	4,347	7,114
" 23 May, 1846						1,151	2,164	3,315	7,437	261	2,446	2,707
LEINSTER, . Sat. 20 May, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,247	12,793	40,890	2,760	6,292	9,052	12,961	1,332	4,185	5,517
" 22 May, 1847						1,258	4,085	5,343	12,004	2,187	3,490	5,677
" 23 May, 1846						617	1,823	2,439	6,922	230	2,277	2,507
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 20 May, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,418	4,285	20,303	2,325	4,258	6,583	6,393	791	2,526	3,317
" 22 May, 1847						597	1,293	1,830	3,436	739	1,490	2,229
" 23 May, 1846						288	471	759	1,800	75	448	523
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 20 May, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	12,149	53,515	159,524	12,293	26,547	38,840	54,037	4,747	14,047	19,394
" 22 May, 1847						4,971	14,261	19,232	42,605	9,014	12,560	21,574
" 23 May, 1846						2,547	5,965	8,512	22,086	805	6,643	7,448

* The Numbers for Castlebar, Enniscorthy, Longford, Mohill, New Ross, Tralee, and Waterford, are not included in the above.
† The Numbers for Cahirciveen, Castleross, Clifden, Glenties, Longford, Tralee, and Westport, are not included in the above.

WORKHOUSES.

Poor Law Correspondence of the present Session.]

Fever Hospitals connected therewith, in the Months of April, May, June, and July, 1848, and in the Accommodation; Numbers of the several Classes in the Workhouses; the Increase or Decrease in each Week Years; and the Number of Fever Patients, and of Deaths.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

EACH PROVINCE.			Total No. in Workhouses	Total No. in Workhouses in last preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in present week compared with the preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in No. of Paupers in the Workhouses in present year.		Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance per head (exclusive of Clothing.)	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.			No. of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.						No. in the week in present year.	Increase or Decrease in week of 1848.		No. in the week in present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the present week of present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.					As compared with 1847.								As compared with 1846.	As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1848.
1,715	2,379	4,094	33,238	33,278	D. 40	2,020	20,431	s. d. 1 4½	31	27	11	1,852	1,982	D. 130	227	257	D. 30
1,734	2,561	4,295	30,410					1 11½	4
1,128	1,470	2,606	12,042					1 8	20
2,604	3,373	5,977	44,963	45,206	D. 243	12,457	27,515	1 4½	416	160	385	1,211	1,184	27	403	404	D. 1
2,225	3,308	5,533	31,181					2 13½	256
1,649	2,293	3,942	16,494					1 8½	31
2,296	2,845	5,141	30,660	31,011	D. 351	4,363	15,665	1 4½	100	13	92	1,272	1,333	D. 61	161	201	D. 40
2,511	2,872	5,383	26,297					2 4½	95
1,743	2,196	3,939	14,995					1 10½	16
316	461	777	15,494	10,360	154	7,083	9,394	1 5½	45	-	45	836	887	D. 51	208	216	D. 8
431	637	1,068	7,657					2 3½	45
190	181	371	2,843					1 9½	-
6,931	9,058	15,989	125,355	125,855*	D. 500	26,731	73,005	1 4½	600	200	533	5,171	5,386	D. 215	999	1,078	D. 79
6,901	9,378	16,279	95,545					2 2½	400
4,710	6,148	10,858	46,374					1 9	67

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,741	2,886	4,127	33,127	33,238	D. 111	2,246	20,152	1 4	36	D. 7	14	1,765	1,852	D. 87	217	227	D. 10
1,735	2,656	4,391	30,881					1 11	43
1,090	1,493	2,583	12,124					1 8	22
2,656	3,425	6,081	44,608	44,181	477	12,461	27,559	1 4	357	D. 8	327	1,006	1,180	D. 174	376	400	D. 24
2,423	3,570	5,993	30,814					2 1	365
1,655	2,284	3,939	17,049					1 8	30
2,390	2,981	5,371	33,421	33,455	D. 34	4,997	17,468	1 4	140	79	120	1,374	1,480	D. 106	176	182	D. 6
2,675	3,318	5,993	28,424					2 4	61
1,840	2,234	4,074	15,953					1 10	20
465	590	1,055	16,457	16,325	232	6,955	11,724	1 4	33	33	33	760	804	D. 44	191	193	D. 2
419	570	989	8,701					2 3	-
233	246	481	3,665					1 9	-
7,252	9,302	16,554	127,613	127,049†	564	26,659	76,903	1 4	566	97	494	4,905	5,316	D. 411	960	1,002	D. 42
7,252	10,017	17,269	98,820					2 2	469
4,818	6,259	11,077	48,791					1 9	72

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,704	2,395	4,099	32,933	32,859	74	1,400	20,127	1 4	26	D. 76	9	1,614	1,753	D. 139	165	214	D. 49
1,865	2,621	4,486	31,533					1 11	103
1,129	1,460	2,589	12,326					1 8	17
2,536	3,208	5,744	45,358	45,200	158	12,449	27,858	1 4	347	D. 83	315	1,010	963	47	316	369	D. 53
2,276	3,458	5,734	31,579					2 1	490
1,669	2,372	4,041	17,600					1 8	82
2,408	3,053	5,461	32,991	33,421	D. 430	4,098	16,965	1 7	88	31	80	1,332	1,374	D. 42	135	176	D. 41
2,699	3,170	5,869	28,893					2 4	57
1,840	2,318	4,158	16,026					1 10	8
460	573	1,033	17,326	17,071	255	6,947	12,376	1 5	47	46	47	791	815	D. 24	179	197	D. 18
479	668	1,147	8,642					2 4	1
250	268	518	3,600					1 9	-
7,108	9,229	16,337	128,608	128,551†	57	24,894	77,326	1 5	508	D. 82	451	4,747	4,903	D. 158	795	956	D. 161
7,319	9,917	17,236	100,647					2 2	590
4,888	6,418	11,306	49,352					1 9	57

† The Numbers for Boyle, Cahirciveen, Castleroe, Ennistymon, Longford, Milford, and Skibbereen, are not included in the above.

Week ended Saturday, May 27, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population of Provinces according to Census of 1841.	WORKHOUSE ACCOMMODATION.				NUMBER OF PAUPERS IN THE WORKHOUSES IN
		No. of Paupers the Workhouses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional accommodation has been provided.	Total No. for which accommodation is provided in each Province.	Able-bodied.			Children under 15 years of age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
						Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER, . Sat. 27 May, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,549	10,550	42,299	1,631	5,223	7,054	15,868	1,423	2,683	4,106
" 29 May, 1847						1,507	4,314	5,821	14,601	2,889	2,903	5,852
" 30 May, 1846						498	1,470	1,968	5,823	253	1,392	1,645
MUNSTER, . Sat. 27 May, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	3,824	25,037	55,971	5,312	10,491	15,803	18,450	816	4,950	5,766
" 29 May, 1847						1,546	4,207	5,753	12,323	2,545	4,358	6,903
" 30 May, 1846						1,072	2,037	3,109	7,101	180	2,423	2,602
LEINSTER, . Sat. 27 May, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,201	12,574	40,715	2,666	5,810	8,476	12,587	1,241	3,904	5,145
" 29 May, 1847						1,335	3,986	5,321	11,924	2,186	3,353	5,539
" 30 May, 1846						642	1,766	2,408	6,833	219	2,130	2,349
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 27 May, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,488	4,565	20,653	2,129	4,185	6,294	6,551	755	2,425	3,180
" 29 May, 1847						424	1,028	1,452	2,850	833	2,123	2,955
" 30 May, 1846						224	391	615	1,658	69	430	508
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 27 May, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	12,152	53,626	159,638	11,938	25,689	37,627	53,456	4,235	13,962	18,197
" { " 29 May, 1847						4,812	13,535	18,347	41,597	8,453	12,696	21,149
" { " 30 May, 1846						2,496	5,664	8,160	21,415	721	6,383	7,104

Week ended Saturday, June 3, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 3 June, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,179	11,130	42,509	1,959	5,423	7,387	16,261	1,312	2,601	3,913
" 5 June, 1847						1,496	4,283	5,779	14,682	2,943	2,859	5,802
" 6 June, 1846						503	1,445	1,948	5,778	245	1,372	1,617
MUNSTER, . Sat. 3 June, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	3,930	26,129	56,269	5,838	10,331	16,669	19,130	914	5,084	5,998
" 5 June, 1847						1,734	4,509	6,243	12,789	2,149	4,304	6,453
" 6 June, 1846						1,155	2,180	3,335	7,413	351	2,432	2,783
LEINSTER, . Sat. 3 June, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,291	12,821	40,962	2,939	5,482	8,421	12,191	1,099	3,718	4,817
" 5 June, 1847						1,322	3,076	4,398	11,181	2,101	3,257	5,358
" 6 June, 1846						613	1,804	2,417	6,688	260	1,993	2,253
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 3 June, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,624	4,570	20,794	2,914	5,089	8,013	7,640	863	2,785	3,598
" 5 June, 1847						583	1,285	1,868	3,714	980	2,066	3,046
" 6 June, 1846						327	510	837	1,965	59	481	540
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 3 June, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	12,024	54,650	160,534	13,650	26,840	40,490	55,242	4,108	14,188	18,326
" { " 5 June, 1847						5,135	13,953	19,088	42,316	8,173	12,436	20,659
" { " 6 June, 1846						2,598	5,939	8,537	21,844	915	6,278	7,193

Week ended Saturday, June 10, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 10 June, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,179	11,160	42,539	2,083	5,531	7,614	16,663	1,204	2,798	4,082
" 12 June, 1847						1,566	4,529	6,095	15,127	3,163	3,183	6,341
" 13 June, 1846						516	1,487	2,003	5,903	233	1,355	1,588
MUNSTER, . Sat. 10 June, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	4,135	26,351	56,696	5,436	10,873	16,309	18,553	901	4,611	5,512
" 12 June, 1847						1,560	4,258	5,818	11,949	2,106	3,936	6,042
" 13 June, 1846						1,084	2,135	3,219	7,261	355	2,391	2,746
LEINSTER, . Sat. 10 June, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,291	13,018	41,159	3,134	6,167	9,301	13,330	1,296	3,917	5,213
" 12 June, 1847						1,400	3,983	5,383	11,747	2,557	3,893	6,450
" 13 June, 1846						667	1,798	2,465	7,321	241	2,186	2,427
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 10 June, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,400	4,910	20,910	2,935	5,203	8,138	7,876	814	2,500	3,314
" 12 June, 1847						567	1,224	1,791	3,554	1,048	1,751	2,799
" 13 June, 1846						280	410	690	1,502	39	874	413
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 10 June, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	12,005	55,439	161,304	13,638	28,074	41,713	56,422	4,295	13,826	18,121
" { " 12 June, 1847						5,093	13,994	19,087	42,377	8,869	12,763	21,632
" { " 13 June, 1846						2,547	5,330	7,877	21,987	868	6,306	7,174

Week ended Saturday, June 17, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 17 June, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,179	11,156	42,535	2,153	5,638	7,790	16,943	1,305	2,828	4,133
" 19 June, 1847						1,620	4,560	6,180	15,355	5,103	3,181	6,294
" 20 June, 1846						517	1,487	2,004	5,776	215	1,410	1,625
MUNSTER, . Sat. 17 June, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	5,510	25,886	57,606	5,681	11,411	17,092	19,405	887	4,755	5,642
" 19 June, 1847						1,483	4,093	5,576	11,872	2,133	4,004	6,137
" 20 June, 1846						1,066	2,093	3,159	7,568	369	2,412	2,781
LEINSTER, . Sat. 17 June, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,367	13,358	41,575	3,339	6,874	10,263	14,077	1,324	3,767	4,991
" 19 June, 1847						1,376	4,071	5,447	12,026	2,090	3,934	6,024
" 20 June, 1846						682	1,818	2,495	7,631	261	2,152	2,413
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 17 June, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,714	5,784	22,098	3,322	5,667	8,989	8,562	731	2,716	3,447
" 19 June, 1847						650	1,351	2,001	3,991	1,327	1,906	3,233
" 20 June, 1846						315	499	814	1,974	51	468	519
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 17 June, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	13,770	56,184	163,814	14,544	29,580	44,134	58,987	4,147	14,066	18,213
" { " 19 June, 1847						5,129	14,075	19,204	43,244	9,453	12,975	22,428
" { " 20 June, 1846						2,580	5,892	8,472	22,949	896	6,442	7,338

* The Numbers for Cabel, Ennisecorby, Enniskillen, Ennistymon, Galway, Glenties, Longford, Skibbereen, and Westport, are not included in the above.
† The Numbers for Dunamaghy, Ennisecorby, Enniskillen, Ennistymon, Longford, Skibbereen, and Tullamore, are not included in the above.

RETURNS.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

EACH PROVINCE.			Total No. in Workhouses	Increase or Decrease in present week compared with the preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in No. of Paupers in the Workhouses in present year.		Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance per head (exclusive of Clothing.)	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals un- connected with Workhouses.			No. of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.					No. in the week in present year.	Increase or Decrease in week of 1846.		No. in the week in present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the present week of present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.				As compared with 1847.								As compared with 1846.	As com- pared with 1847.	As com- pared with 1846.
1,750	2,410	4,160	31,133	31,440	D. 232	105	19,035	s. d. 1 4	12	D. 56	D. 3	1,423	1,545	D. 122	157	163	D. 6
1,935	2,794	4,729	31,003					1 11 3	60
1,072	1,405	2,477	11,913					1 8	15
2,584	3,199	5,783	45,802	44,843	959	13,801	23,030	1 33	336	D. 166	274	816	933	D. 17	310	320	D. 10
2,357	3,507	5,864	30,642					2 13	502
1,616	2,320	3,936	16,748					1 38	62
2,360	3,081	5,441	31,649	32,003	D. 350	3,193	16,138	1 7 4	70	D. 19	59	1,241	1,332	D. 191	150	181	27
2,596	3,076	5,672	23,456					2 4 4	89
1,792	2,129	3,921	15,511					1 10 4	11
431	561	992	17,017	16,649	368	5,033	11,341	1 6 8	53	53	52	755	728	27	146	152	D. 6
391	574	965	8,222					2 4
213	230	443	3,224					1 9 3	1
7,125	9,251	16,376	125,656	124,940*	716	23,112	74,544	1 5 1	471	D. 180	382	4,235	4,536	D. 303	771	766	5
7,279	9,951	17,230	98,323					2 2 3	659
4,003	6,084	10,777	47,396					1 9 4	89

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,787	2,486	4,223	31,784	31,534	250	228	19,094	1 3 3	17	D. 128	8	1,312	1,433	D. 121	128	149	D. 21
1,919	2,907	4,726	30,989					1 11 3	145
1,092	1,430	2,522	11,865					1 8	9
2,668	3,585	6,223	49,040	47,250	790	16,504	29,424	1 4	349	D. 49	309	914	809	25	320	312	8
2,433	3,588	6,021	31,456					2 2	399
1,669	2,352	4,021	17,552					1 8 3	40
2,330	2,964	5,294	30,723	30,650	73	3,315	15,579	1 7	57	D. 50	44	1,099	1,131	D. 32	131	155	D. 24
2,564	3,107	5,671	27,408					2 4 4	107
1,716	2,070	3,786	15,144					1 10 3	13
396	504	900	20,151	19,430	721	7,300	14,600	1 7	30	25	30	863	831	12	208	158	50
544	710	1,254	9,882					2 4	5
232	276	508	3,850					1 9 4	-
7,201	9,439	16,640	130,698	120,964	1,834	27,435	78,997	1 5 3	453	D. 202	391	4,183	4,304	D. 116	787	774	13
7,460	10,212	17,672	99,735					2 2 3	655
4,709	6,128	10,837	48,411					1 9	62

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,793	2,528	4,321	32,680	32,419	261	307	20,322	1 3 3	13	D. 91	D. 2	1,284	1,367	D. 83	153	131	22
1,873	2,847	4,720	32,288					1 11 3	104
1,122	1,470	2,592	12,086					1 8	15
2,518	3,242	5,760	46,134	45,008	1,066	16,720	20,914	1 4	333	D. 136	325	901	899	2	275	308	D. 31
2,249	3,356	5,605	29,414					2 2	519
1,613	2,381	3,994	17,220					1 8 3	58
2,421	3,007	5,428	33,572	33,150	422	4,110	17,333	1 7	64	D. 16	61	1,296	1,435	D. 139	179	147	32
2,642	3,240	5,882	29,462					2 4 1	80
1,834	2,192	4,026	16,239					1 10 3	3
421	524	945	20,323	19,396	937	8,097	14,055	1 6 3	70	58	70	814	863	D. 49	153	194	D. 41
491	673	1,164	9,308					2 6 3	12
224	263	487	3,092					1 11 3	-
7,153	9,301	16,454	132,709	130,023	2,686	29,324	80,624	1 5 1	530	D. 185	454	4,295	4,564	D. 269	760	778	D. 18
7,255	10,116	17,371	100,467					2 5	715
4,793	6,306	11,099	48,637					1 9 3	76

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,817	2,534	4,351	33,217	32,941	276	807	20,927	1 3 3	13	D. 44	2	1,305	1,284	21	137	159	D. 22
1,850	2,791	4,641	32,410					1 11 3	57
1,134	1,470	2,604	12,009					1 8	11
2,890	3,625	6,515	48,654	48,218	436	18,706	30,854	1 4	389	D. 13	334	887	901	D. 14	247	235	D. 38
2,599	3,764	6,363	29,948					2 2	402
1,713	2,579	4,292	17,800					1 8 3	55
2,468	3,059	5,527	34,858	34,696	162	4,758	18,211	1 6 3	63	D. 101	50	1,224	1,296	D. 72	129	188	D. 54
2,628	3,175	5,803	30,100					2 4	164
1,884	2,224	4,108	16,647					1 10 3	13
464	565	1,029	22,027	21,126	901	9,369	15,755	1 6 4	38	D. 29	38	731	814	D. 83	167	167	=
522	700	1,222	10,447					2 4	67
248	285	533	8,840					1 9 3	-
7,639	9,783	17,422	138,756	136,981	1,775	33,640	85,747	1 5	503	D. 187	424	4,147	4,295	D. 148	680	794	D. 114
7,599	10,430	18,029	102,905					2 2 3	690
4,979	6,658	11,537	50,296					1 9	79

† The Numbers for Boyle, Cahirciveen, Dunfanaghy, Enniscorthy, Ennistymon, Glenties, and Tralee, are not included in the above.
 § The Numbers for Cahirciveen, Ennistymon, Glenties, and Tralee, are not included in the above.

Week ended Saturday, June 24, 1848,

NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population of Provinces according to Census of 1841.	WORKHOUSE ACCOMMODATION.				NUMBER OF PAUPERS IN THE WORKHOUSES IN
		No. of Paupers the Workhouses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional accommoda- tion has been provided.	Total No. for which accommoda- tion is provided in each Province.	Able Bodied.			Children under 15 years of age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
						Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER, . Sat. 24 June, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,279	11,060	42,539	2,264	5,421	8,105	17,161	1,256	2,677	4,133
" " 26 June, 1847						1,699	4,588	6,287	15,437	3,247	3,129	6,376
" " 27 June, 1846						518	1,426	1,944	5,738	200	1,395	1,595
MUNSTER, . Sat. 24 June, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	5,635	26,386	58,231	5,892	11,544	17,436	19,732	799	4,895	5,694
" " 26 June, 1847						1,612	3,989	5,601	11,525	1,932	3,670	5,602
" " 27 June, 1846						1,101	2,152	3,253	7,396	369	1,824	2,193
LEINSTER, . Sat. 24 June, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,271	14,616	42,737	3,303	6,809	10,112	13,987	1,308	3,701	5,009
" " 26 June, 1847						1,297	3,994	5,291	12,006	2,952	3,976	6,928
" " 27 June, 1846						630	1,018	2,448	7,470	251	2,197	2,448
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 24 June, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,784	3,954	22,338	3,521	5,820	9,341	8,540	768	2,581	3,349
" " 26 June, 1847						647	1,305	1,952	3,942	1,056	1,947	3,003
" " 27 June, 1846						347	537	884	1,979	52	470	522
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 24 June, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	13,969	58,016	165,845	15,000	29,994	44,994	59,426	4,131	14,054	18,185
" " 26 June, 1847						5,255	13,876	19,131	42,910	9,187	12,722	21,909
" " 27 June, 1846						2,596	5,933	8,529	22,583	872	5,886	6,758

Week ended Saturday, July 1, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 1 July, 1848	2,362,132	26,200	3,279	11,130	42,609	2,228	5,661	7,889	17,040	1,257	2,786	4,043
" " 3 July, 1847						1,650	4,544	6,194	14,980	3,022	3,086	6,108
" " 4 July, 1846						507	1,423	1,930	5,841	173	1,312	1,485
MUNSTER, . Sat. 1 July, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	5,510	26,546	58,266	6,046	11,830	17,866	20,237	825	4,859	5,684
" " 3 July, 1847						1,730	4,025	5,755	11,509	1,764	3,836	5,600
" " 4 July, 1846						1,074	2,067	3,171	7,395	354	2,309	2,753
LEINSTER, . Sat. 1 July, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,271	14,246	42,367	3,446	6,767	10,213	13,996	1,117	3,755	4,872
" " 3 July, 1847						1,320	3,820	5,040	11,861	2,943	3,581	6,524
" " 4 July, 1846						597	1,794	2,391	7,234	252	2,194	2,446
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 1 July, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	2,036	5,754	22,390	3,493	5,704	9,197	8,316	745	2,086	2,831
" " 3 July, 1847						782	1,334	2,066	3,849	1,181	1,451	2,632
" " 4 July, 1846						332	505	837	1,851	64	487	551
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 1 July, 1848	8,174,268	93,060	14,096	57,676	165,632	15,213	29,952	45,165	59,579	3,944	13,486	17,430
" " 3 July, 1847						5,332	13,723	19,055	42,199	8,910	11,954	20,864
" " 4 July, 1846						2,510	5,819	8,329	22,321	843	6,342	7,185

Week ended Saturday, July 8, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 8 July, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,289	11,149	42,638	2,144	5,588	7,732	16,895	1,154	2,713	3,867
" " 10 July, 1847						1,756	4,249	6,005	14,931	2,938	2,928	5,866
" " 11 July, 1846						521	1,412	1,933	5,859	175	1,268	1,443
MUNSTER, . Sat. 8 July, 1848	2,435,347	26,610	6,104	26,006	58,720	6,228	12,038	18,261	20,364	895	4,682	5,547
" " 10 July, 1847						1,729	3,899	5,628	11,580	1,607	3,766	5,373
" " 11 July, 1846						1,072	2,044	3,116	7,113	343	2,400	2,743
LEINSTER, . Sat. 8 July, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,355	14,145	42,350	3,401	6,804	10,205	13,951	1,116	3,836	4,952
" " 10 July, 1847						1,251	3,785	4,086	11,888	2,754	3,364	6,118
" " 11 July, 1846						578	1,739	2,317	7,189	259	2,169	2,428
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 8 July, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	2,046	6,004	22,650	3,266	5,351	8,617	8,375	612	2,139	2,751
" " 10 July, 1847						792	1,407	2,199	4,010	1,164	1,716	2,880
" " 11 July, 1846						271	425	696	1,774	63	461	524
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 8 July, 1848	8,174,268	94,260	14,794	57,304	166,358	15,039	29,776	44,815	59,585	3,777	13,340	17,117
" " 10 July, 1847						5,528	13,290	18,818	42,409	8,463	11,774	20,237
" " 11 July, 1846						2,442	5,620	8,062	21,935	840	6,298	7,138

Week ended Saturday, July 15, 1848,

ULSTER, . Sat. 15 July, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,479	10,955	42,634	2,182	5,497	7,679	17,066	1,028	2,582	3,610
" " 17 July, 1847						1,606	4,212	5,818	14,890	2,788	2,814	5,602
" " 18 July, 1846						530	1,420	1,950	5,743	139	1,311	1,450
MUNSTER, . Sat. 15 July, 1848	2,435,347	26,210	5,974	26,536	58,720	6,450	12,241	18,691	20,966	916	4,583	5,499
" " 17 July, 1847						1,488	3,649	5,137	11,077	1,490	3,590	5,080
" " 18 July, 1846						1,037	2,101	3,138	7,510	422	2,276	2,698
LEINSTER, . Sat. 15 July, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,981	12,266	41,047	3,223	6,667	9,890	13,994	1,140	3,649	4,789
" " 17 July, 1847						1,154	3,690	4,844	11,636	2,713	3,337	6,050
" " 18 July, 1846						558	1,735	2,293	7,151	264	2,134	2,398
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 15 July, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	1,910	6,328	22,938	3,537	5,565	9,102	8,644	644	2,080	2,733
" " 17 July, 1847						748	1,340	2,088	3,955	1,325	1,795	3,120
" " 18 July, 1846						348	545	893	1,944	72	448	520
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 15 July, 1848	8,174,268	93,860	15,294	56,085	165,239	13,392	29,970	45,362	60,670	3,729	12,903	16,631
" " 17 July, 1847						4,996	13,891	17,887	42,298	8,316	11,536	19,852
" " 18 July, 1846						2,473	5,801	8,274	22,348	897	6,169	7,066

* The Numbers for Bantry, Ennistymon, and Tralee, are not included in the above.

† The Numbers for Bantry, Boyle, Ennistymon, Glenties, Shillelagh, and Tralee, are not included in the above.

RETURNS.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

EACH PROVINCE.				Total No. in Workhouses in last preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in present week compared with the preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in No. of Paupers in the Workhouses in present year.		Average Weekly Cost of maintenance per head (exclusive of Clothing).	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.		Number of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.			Total No. in Workhouses			As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.		No. in the week in present year.	Increase or Decrease in week of 1845.		No. in the week in present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the present week of present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,907	2,608	4,515	33,914	33,793	121	1,227	21,177	s. d. 1 33	16	D. 39	6	1,256	1,315	D. 59	124	140	D. 16
1,922	2,765	4,587	32,687					1 11 1/2	55
1,143	1,440	2,583	11,860					1 8	10
2,840	3,715	6,555	49,417	48,593	824	20,319	31,018	1 3 1/2	341	D. 149	307	799	826	D. 27	246	242	4
2,465	3,905	6,370	29,098					2 2	490
1,905	2,692	4,597	17,439					1 8 1/2	34
2,466	3,076	5,542	34,650	34,850	D. 208	4,714	18,175	1 7	81	D. 15	73	1,308	1,224	84	137	129	8
2,589	3,122	5,711	20,936					2 4	96
1,899	2,210	4,109	16,475					1 10 1/2	8
441	575	1,016	22,248	22,027	219	9,758	16,756	1 7 1/2	41	41	39	768	731	37	157	167	D. 10
470	696	1,166	10,663					2 4	-
243	298	541	3,936					1 9 1/2	2
7,654	9,974	17,628	140,227	130,271*	956	36,018	87,126	1 5 1/2	479	D. 162	425	4,131	4,096	35	664	678	D. 14
7,346	10,488	17,834	101,784					2 2 1/2	641
5,190	6,640	11,830	49,700					1 9	54

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,910	2,648	4,558	33,530	33,336	194	1,637	21,470	1 34	39	D. 49	29	1,257	1,247	10	106	125	D. 19
1,852	2,759	4,611	31,893					1 11 1/2	88
1,120	1,385	2,505	11,761					1 8	10
2,837	3,470	6,307	50,084	49,417	667	21,539	31,664	1 34	355	D. 9	354	825	799	26	230	246	D. 16
2,246	3,435	5,681	28,545					2 14	364
1,709	2,429	4,138	17,457					1 8 1/2	1
2,351	2,956	5,307	34,388	34,075	313	5,460	18,371	1 7	60	34	50	1,117	1,276	D. 159	147	136	11
2,422	3,061	5,503	28,928					2 4	26
1,824	2,122	3,946	16,017					1 10 1/2	2
414	637	1,051	21,395	21,470	D. 75	9,516	16,100	1 6	42	32	38	745	768	D. 23	137	152	D. 15
459	635	1,094	9,641					2 3 1/2	10
281	275	506	3,695					1 9 1/2	4
7,512	9,711	17,223	139,397	138,298†	1,099	38,152	87,005	1 5	496	8	479	3,944	4,090	D. 146	620	659	D. 39
6,979	9,910	16,889	99,007					2 2 1/2	488
4,084	6,211	11,095	48,930					1 9	17

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,886	2,658	4,544	33,038	33,530	D. 492	1,755	21,019	1 34	2	D. 101	D. 1	1,154	1,257	D. 103	108	106	2
1,743	2,788	4,531	31,283					1 10 1/2	103
1,079	1,394	2,473	11,708					1 7 1/2	3
2,871	3,558	6,429	50,601	50,412	189	22,953	33,020	1 4	468	304	431	895	903	D. 8	213	233	D. 20
2,067	3,000	5,067	27,648					1 11 1/2	164
1,566	2,166	3,732	16,704					1 8	37
2,834	2,997	5,831	34,439	34,415	24	5,836	10,574	1 6 1/2	63	D. 42	60	1,116	1,135	D. 19	126	145	D. 19
2,475	3,136	5,611	28,603					2 2 1/2	105
1,806	2,125	3,931	15,865					1 9 1/2	3
374	574	948	20,691	20,535	156	9,295	15,584	1 5 1/2	28	20	27	612	712	D. 100	128	132	D. 4
425	578	1,003	10,092					2 3 1/2	8
240	281	521	3,515					2 0 1/2	1
7,465	9,787	17,252	138,709	138,892†	D. 123	39,839	88,197	1 4 1/2	561	181	517	3,777	4,007	D. 230	575	616	D. 41
6,710	9,452	16,162	97,626					2 2	389
4,691	5,966	10,657	47,792					1 9 1/2	44

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,862	2,589	4,451	32,806	33,038	D. 232	2,142	20,830	1 34	58	D. 31	52	1,028	1,154	D. 126	120	108	12
1,779	2,635	4,414	30,664					1 10 1/2	89
1,132	1,387	2,519	11,562					1 7	6
2,759	3,340	6,099	51,255	51,679	D. 424	23,618	33,937	1 34	376	218	330	916	909	7	225	205	20
2,274	3,269	5,543	27,637					1 10 1/2	158
1,652	2,520	3,972	17,318					1 8	46
2,293	2,965	5,258	33,931	34,439	D. 508	5,749	18,089	1 6 1/2	69	D. 12	62	1,140	1,116	24	130	126	4
2,504	3,148	5,652	28,182					2 2	81
1,843	2,157	4,000	15,842					2 0 1/2	7
824	429	753	21,232	21,611	D. 379	11,015	15,828	1 5 1/2	20	20	19	644	596	48	125	130	D. 5
433	621	1,054	10,217					2 1 1/2
222	253	475	3,832					2 0	1
7,238	9,323	16,561	139,224	140,767§	D. 1,543	42,524	88,684	1 4 1/2	523	195	463	3,723	3,775	D. 47	600	569	31
6,990	9,673	16,663	96,700					2 0	828
4,849	6,117	10,966	48,654					1 10	60

† The Numbers for Dingle, Ennistymon, Galway, Glenties, Newcastle, Rathdown, and Waterford, are not included in the above.
 § The Numbers for Cahirciveen, Glenties, Mohill, Rathdown, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

Week ended Saturday, July 22, 1848,
NAMES OF PROVINCES.	Population of Provinces according to Census of 1841.	WORKHOUSE ACCOMMODATION.				NUMBER OF PAUPERS IN THE WORKHOUSES IN
		No. of Paupers the Workhouses were originally calculated to contain.	No. the Fever Hospitals are calculated to contain.	No. for which additional accommodation has been provided.	Total No. for which accommodation is provided in each Province.	Able-bodied.			Children under 15 years of age.	Sick in the Workhouse Hospitals.
						Males.	Females.	Total.		Fever Patients.	Other Cases.	Total.
ULSTER, . Sat. 22 July, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,479	10,755	42,434	2,152	5,470	7,622	17,021	921	2,644	3,565
" 24 July, 1847						1,546	4,085	5,581	14,778	2,671	2,759	5,430
" 25 July, 1846						529	1,359	1,888	5,756	131	1,308	1,439
MUNSTER, . Sat. 22 July, 1848	2,435,347	26,610	6,088	26,586	59,284	6,309	11,683	17,992	20,353	904	4,421	5,325
" 24 July, 1847						1,624	3,559	5,183	11,429	1,372	3,776	5,148
" 25 July, 1846						1,073	2,101	3,174	7,512	341	2,417	2,758
LEINSTER, . Sat. 22 July, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	4,131	13,201	42,182	2,925	6,217	9,142	13,718	992	3,433	4,425
" 24 July, 1847						1,147	2,394	3,541	11,279	2,371	3,233	5,604
" 25 July, 1846						554	1,607	2,161	6,876	253	1,962	2,215
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 22 July, 1848	13,70,753	14,600	2,046	6,320	22,874	3,620	5,672	9,292	8,819	617	2,152	2,769
" 24 July, 1847						752	1,459	2,211	4,137	1,363	1,669	3,032
" 25 July, 1846						340	518	858	2,025	62	478	540
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 22 July, 1848	8,174,268	94,260	15,744	56,770	166,774	15,006	29,042	44,048	59,906	3,434	12,650	16,084
" 24 July, 1847						5,069	12,447	17,516	41,623	7,777	11,437	19,214
" 25 July, 1846						2,496	5,585	8,081	22,169	787	6,165	6,952

Week ended Saturday, July 29, 1848,
ULSTER, . Sat. 29 July, 1848	2,362,132	28,200	3,279	11,055	42,534	2,021	5,065	7,086	16,102	858	2,523	3,381
" 31 July, 1847						1,403	3,759	5,162	14,071	2,678	2,498	5,176
" 1 Aug. 1846						515	1,328	1,843	5,523	132	1,201	1,333
MUNSTER, . Sat. 29 July, 1848	2,435,347	26,610	6,088	26,306	59,084	5,902	11,072	16,974	19,972	943	4,383	5,326
" 31 July, 1847						1,262	2,332	3,594	11,040	1,405	3,660	5,065
" 1 Aug. 1846						958	1,989	2,947	7,300	394	2,382	2,776
LEINSTER, . Sat. 29 July, 1848	2,006,036	24,850	3,571	15,681	44,102	2,710	5,991	8,701	13,584	949	3,322	4,271
" 31 July, 1847						1,066	3,154	4,220	11,058	2,214	3,007	5,221
" 1 Aug. 1846						565	1,555	2,120	6,788	234	1,964	2,198
CONNAUGHT, Sat. 29 July, 1848	1,370,753	14,600	2,046	6,138	22,784	2,565	4,353	6,918	7,171	546	1,606	2,152
" 31 July, 1847						549	981	1,530	3,245	1,145	1,393	2,538
" 1 Aug. 1846						231	351	582	1,442	59	354	413
Total of IRELAND, { Sat. 29 July, 1848	8,174,268	94,260	14,984	59,260	168,504	13,198	26,481	39,679	56,829	3,196	11,834	15,030
" 31 July, 1847						4,280	11,126	15,406	39,414	7,442	10,558	18,000
" 1 Aug. 1846						2,269	5,223	7,492	21,053	819	5,901	6,720

* The Numbers for Cahirciveen, Dingle, Enniscorthy, Glenties, Tullamore, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

RETURNS.

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

EACH PROVINCE.			Total No. in Workhouses.	Total No. in Workhouses in last preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in present week compared with the preceding week of present year.	Increase or Decrease in No. of Paupers in the Workhouses in present year.		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per head (exclusive of Clothing.)	Fever Patients removed to Fever Hospitals unconnected with Workhouses.			No. of Fever Patients.			Deaths.
All other Classes.						As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.		No. in the week in present year.	Increase or Decrease in week of 1848.		No. in the week in present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.	No. in the present week of present year.	No. in the previous week of present year.	Increase or Decrease.
Males aged 15 and upwards.	Females aged 15 and upwards.	Total.								As compared with 1847.	As compared with 1846.
1,032	2,564	4,396	32,604	32,806	D. 202	2,409	20,735	1 31	5	D. 53	D. 2	921	1,028	D. 107	109	120	D. 11
1,774	2,632	4,406	30,195					1 104	57
1,043	1,440	2,483	11,566					1 77	7
2,769	3,390	6,159	49,929	51,255	D. 1,426	22,924	83,570	1 83	370	177	312	904	916	D. 12	190	225	D. 35
1,909	3,176	5,145	26,905					1 102	193
1,577	2,238	3,815	17,259					1 8	50
2,167	2,860	5,027	32,307	32,209	18	5,822	17,296	1 64	59	D. 79	57	992	1,034	D. 42	122	128	D. 6
2,157	2,904	5,061	26,483					2 21	133
1,708	2,051	3,759	15,911					1 93	2
384	583	917	21,797	22,154	D. 357	11,350	16,329	1 44	18	D. 76	18	617	703	D. 86	127	123	2
426	641	1,067	10,447					2 14	94
252	310	562	3,985					1 101	-
7,132	9,347	16,499	136,537	138,504*	D. 1,967	42,505	86,930	1 41	452	D. 30	385	3,434	3,661	D. 247	548	598	D. 50
6,326	9,353	15,679	94,032					2 0	482
4,560	6,039	10,619	47,821					1 9	67

and corresponding Periods of 1847 and 1846.

1,783	2,498	4,281	30,850	31,604	D. 754	2,281	19,452	1 31	9	D. 43	D. 5	858	906	D. 48	97	108	D. 11
1,653	2,507	4,160	28,569					1 11	52
1,036	1,360	2,396	11,095					1 72	14
2,616	3,214	5,830	48,002	49,829	D. 1827	22,176	31,057	1 91	384	218	339	843	904	D. 61	177	190	D. 13
2,078	3,149	5,227	25,826					1 101	166
1,613	2,309	3,922	16,945					1 81	45
2,158	2,774	4,912	31,468	32,307	D. 839	5,755	16,615	1 61	55	D. 33	54	949	992	D. 43	118	122	D. 4
2,245	2,969	5,214	25,713					2 14	88
1,681	2,066	3,747	14,853					1 9	1
261	442	703	16,944	17,679	D. 735	3,785	12,503	1 6	13	D. 27	12	546	535	11	89	105	D. 16
314	502	846	8,159					2 1	40
206	272	478	2,915					1 10	1
6,798	8,928	15,726	127,264	131,419†	D. 4155	38,997	79,707	1 5	461	115	400	3,196	3,387	D. 141	481	525	D. 44
6,320	9,127	15,447	88,267					2 0	346
4,536	6,007	10,543	45,808					1 9	61

† The Numbers for Ballinrobe, Boyle, Cahirciveen, Castleblaney, Dingle, Ennisceorthy, Galway, Glenties, Mohill, Tullamore, and Waterford, are not included in the above.

RETURN of PERSONS receiving OUT-DOOR RELIEF, and of the Expenditure thereon, for a period of Sixteen Weeks, ending July 29, 1848.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
ARDEYLEIX .	15 April	1,174	2,714	85	121	1,259	2,835	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	22 April	1,185	2,722	87	126	1,272	2,848	5 8 11	86 17 0	93 5 6
	29 April	1,141	2,667	92	121	1,233	2,788	3 14 7	87 18 1	92 2 4
	6 May	1,133	2,663	76	104	1,209	2,767	1 3 6	87 12 3	91 12 8
	13 May	1,185	2,859	98	132	1,283	2,991	2 1 4	93 18 7	88 15 9
	20 May	1,215	2,926	83	113	1,297	3,039	2 8 2	96 11 3	95 19 11
	27 May	1,246	3,011	95	130	1,341	3,141	3 12 11½	97 6 8	98 19 5
	3 June	1,310	3,137	96	131	1,406	3,268	3 10 9	100 7 4	100 19 7½
	10 June	1,321	3,239	95	139	1,416	3,378	3 11 1	105 2 10	103 17 7
	17 June	1,339	3,282	107	148	1,446	3,430	10 7 4	99 16 0	108 13 11
	24 June	1,387	3,386	114	154	1,501	3,540	17 7 8	95 4 9	110 3 4
	1 July	1,414	3,493	102	146	1,516	3,639	32 15 5	81 15 1	112 12 5
	8 July	1,431	3,522	119	164	1,550	3,686	7 19 4	110 14 11	103 17 7
	15 July	1,505	3,620	123	169	1,628	3,789	6 15 4	114 1 3	118 14 3
	22 July	1,477	3,633	124	175	1,601	3,808	6 16 3	113 6 1	120 16 7
	29 July	1,473	3,611	120	167	1,593	3,778	7 7 3	112 15 3	120 2 4
ANTRIM . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
ARDER . . .	15 April	915	1,779	—	—	915	1,779	51 9 5	—	51 9 5
	22 April	967	1,979	—	—	967	1,979	54 1 6	—	54 1 6
	29 April	980	2,006	—	—	980	2,006	54 9 11	—	54 9 11
	6 May	1,030	2,018	—	—	1,030	2,018	54 14 7	—	54 14 7
	13 May	993	2,064	—	—	993	2,064	55 4 7	—	55 4 7
	20 May	1,035	2,055	—	—	1,035	2,055	55 13 3	—	55 13 3
	27 May	1,009	2,047	—	—	1,009	2,047	54 19 1	—	54 19 1
	3 June	1,012	2,072	—	—	1,012	2,072	55 10 3	—	55 10 3
	10 June	1,016	2,089	—	—	1,016	2,089	55 17 5	—	55 17 5
	17 June	995	2,037	—	—	995	2,037	55 10 1½	—	55 18 1½
	24 June	1,005	2,080	—	—	1,005	2,080	56 13 4	—	56 13 4
	1 July	1,012	2,124	—	—	1,019	2,124	56 8 6	—	56 8 6
	8 July	995	2,130	—	—	995	2,130	—	—	—
	15 July	1,001	2,105	—	—	1,001	2,105	55 14 1	—	55 14 1
	22 July	991	2,082	—	—	991	2,082	53 9 5	—	53 9 5
	29 July	825	1,651	—	—	825	1,651	42 12 9	—	42 12 9
ARMAGH . . .	15 April	917	1,499	—	—	917	1,499	—	27 0 3	27 0 3
	22 April	860	1,376	—	—	860	1,376	—	25 18 10½	25 18 10½
	29 April	881	1,292	—	—	881	1,292	—	24 5 6½	24 5 6½
	6 May	658	986	—	—	658	986	—	19 8 2½	19 8 2½
	13 May	615	742	—	—	615	742	—	14 16 1½	14 16 1½
	20 May	458	658	—	—	458	658	—	13 3 2½	13 3 2½
	27 May	320	467	—	—	320	467	—	8 5 8½	8 5 8½
	3 June	269	390	—	—	269	390	—	8 3 6	8 3 6
	10 June	238	350	—	—	238	350	—	7 4 7½	7 4 7½
	17 June	204	289	—	—	204	289	—	6 4 0½	6 4 0½
	24 June	226	318	—	—	226	318	—	6 11 2	6 11 2
	1 July	234	322	—	—	234	322	—	6 15 8½	6 15 8½
	8 July	213	303	—	—	213	303	—	6 4 8½	6 4 8½
	15 July	213	303	—	—	213	305	—	6 5 3½	6 5 3½
	22 July	213	305	—	—	213	305	—	6 5 5½	6 5 5½
	29 July	212	299	—	—	212	299	—	6 3 9½	6 3 9½
ATHLONE . . .	15 April	2,610	5,817	824	2,988	3,434	8,805	—	206 11 7	206 11 7
	22 April	2,861	5,964	825	3,010	3,686	8,874	—	210 12 12	210 12 12
	29 April	2,615	5,839	696	2,591	3,311	8,430	5 13 9	193 4 7	198 18 4
	6 May	2,608	5,859	560	2,109	3,168	7,968	6 16 9	184 5 9	191 2 6
	13 May	2,564	6,076	610	2,187	3,174	8,263	5 15 4	183 3 10	188 19 2
	20 May	2,564	5,979	600	2,140	3,164	8,119	5 19 7	187 7 3	193 6 10
	27 May	2,692	6,248	597	2,206	3,289	8,454	4 17 3	180 3 2	195 0 5
	3 June	2,897	6,693	642	2,206	3,530	8,699	5 6 10	203 3 8	208 10 6
	10 June	2,917	6,967	625	2,230	3,543	9,197	5 8 3	212 3 4	217 11 7
	17 June	3,041	7,228	652	2,413	3,693	9,641	5 15 3	220 16 11	226 12 2
	24 June	3,036	7,547	694	2,556	3,730	10,103	6 17 10	225 8 3	232 6 1
	1 July	3,087	7,371	735	2,775	3,822	10,146	5 1 1	232 7 2	237 8 3
	8 July	3,094	7,361	746	2,824	3,840	10,185	4 18 7	234 10 3	238 8 10
	15 July	2,995	7,309	732	2,697	3,727	10,006	3 15 9	222 12 0	226 7 9
	22 July	2,916	7,175	700	2,830	3,616	10,005	3 7 7	213 13 9½	217 1 4½
	29 July	2,945	7,011	664	2,666	3,609	9,677	3 3 1	202 12 9	205 15 10
ATHY . . .	15 April	1,282	2,391	—	—	1,282	2,391	97 5 10	—	97 5 10
	22 April	1,274	2,411	—	—	1,274	2,411	96 5 4	—	96 5 4
	29 April	1,258	2,607	—	—	1,258	2,607	95 9 3	—	95 9 3
	6 May	1,253	2,643	—	—	1,253	2,643	95 12 1	—	95 12 1
	13 May	1,263	2,610	—	—	1,263	2,610	95 12 2	—	95 12 2
	20 May	1,263	2,530	—	—	1,263	2,530	95 2 9	—	95 2 9
	27 May	1,256	2,596	—	—	1,256	2,596	96 3 7	—	96 3 7
	3 June	1,250	2,582	—	—	1,250	2,582	95 14 2	—	95 14 2
	10 June	1,266	2,711	—	—	1,266	2,711	95 13 1	—	95 13 1
	17 June	1,274	2,695	—	—	1,274	2,695	96 7 3	0 5 9	96 13 0
	24 June	1,261	2,764	—	—	1,261	2,764	93 17 11	0 7 3	94 5 2
	1 July	1,257	2,717	—	—	1,257	2,717	93 0 1	0 4 6	93 4 7
	8 July	1,234	2,644	—	—	1,234	2,644	91 6 9	0 7 8	91 14 5
	15 July	1,240	2,664	—	—	1,240	2,664	92 6 4	0 7 2	92 18 6
	22 July	1,236	2,694	—	—	1,236	2,694	92 13 5	0 14 1	93 7 6
	29 July	1,217	2,775	—	—	1,217	2,775	92 19 10	0 3 4	98 3 2
BAILIEBOROUGH .	15 April	1,835	4,503	—	—	1,835	4,503	—	113 19 0½	113 19 0½
	22 April	1,801	4,535	—	—	1,801	4,535	—	115 1 10½	115 1 10½
	29 April	1,731	4,334	—	—	1,731	4,394	—	110 9 7½	110 9 7½
	6 May	1,664	4,120	—	—	1,664	4,120	—	113 11 5½	113 11 5½
	13 May	1,666	4,186	—	—	1,666	4,186	—	104 11 7½	104 11 7½
	20 May	1,681	4,219	—	—	1,681	4,219	—	104 16 2½	104 16 2½
	27 May	1,675	4,126	—	—	1,675	4,126	—	102 11 1	102 11 1
	3 June	1,631	4,030	—	—	1,631	4,030	—	103 18 5½	103 18 5½

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
BAILIEBOROUGH (continued)	10 June	1,589	3,942	—	—	1,589	3,942	—	100 3 7 ¹ / ₂	100 3 7 ¹ / ₂
	17 June	1,601	3,954	—	—	1,601	3,954	—	100 17 0 ¹ / ₂	100 17 0 ¹ / ₂
	24 June	1,604	3,990	—	—	1,604	3,990	—	102 9 5 ¹ / ₂	102 9 5 ¹ / ₂
	1 July	1,602	4,000	—	—	1,602	4,000	—	102 0 0	102 0 0
	8 July	1,581	4,006	—	—	1,581	4,006	—	91 8 11 ¹ / ₂	91 8 11 ¹ / ₂
	15 July	1,621	4,060	—	—	1,621	4,060	—	91 18 1 ¹ / ₂	91 18 1 ¹ / ₂
	22 July	1,627	4,069	—	—	1,627	4,069	—	91 8 5 ¹ / ₂	91 8 5 ¹ / ₂
	29 July	1,575	3,876	—	—	1,575	3,876	—	88 11 6 ¹ / ₂	88 11 6 ¹ / ₂
BALLINA	15 April	4,580	11,329	11,224	25,937	15,804	37,260	0 18 2	918 14 0 ¹ / ₂	919 12 2 ¹ / ₂
	22 April	4,590	11,163	11,457	25,585	16,047	36,740	1 12 3	1,236 7 3 ¹ / ₂	1,237 19 6 ¹ / ₂
	29 April	4,587	11,295	10,955	25,038	15,542	36,333	1 18 9	1,196 5 8 ¹ / ₂	1,198 4 5 ¹ / ₂
	6 May	4,592	11,844	10,836	24,745	15,428	36,089	1 16 2	1,166 10 3 ¹ / ₂	1,168 6 5 ¹ / ₂
	13 May	4,999	11,967	10,832	22,972	15,831	34,939	1 16 2	1,146 8 4 ¹ / ₂	1,148 4 6 ¹ / ₂
	20 May	4,573	11,332	10,558	22,053	15,131	33,385	1 16 6	1,032 1 6 ¹ / ₂	1,033 18 0 ¹ / ₂
	27 May	4,849	11,261	10,421	23,269	15,270	34,530	2 0 9	986 18 2 ¹ / ₂	988 18 11 ¹ / ₂
	3 June	4,535	11,196	11,803	23,435	16,339	34,631	2 1 9	1,022 8 9 ¹ / ₂	1,024 10 6 ¹ / ₂
	10 June	4,729	12,098	11,508	24,135	16,237	36,203	2 2 9	1,199 0 4 ¹ / ₂	1,201 3 1 ¹ / ₂
	17 June	4,808	12,040	12,741	26,672	17,549	38,712	2 5 3	1,189 10 4 ¹ / ₂	1,191 15 7 ¹ / ₂
	24 June	4,498	11,494	12,815	26,851	17,313	40,345	2 8 0	1,226 17 1 ¹ / ₂	1,229 5 1 ¹ / ₂
	1 July	4,848	11,504	13,387	29,367	18,235	40,871	2 14 6	1,260 15 6 ¹ / ₂	1,263 10 0
	8 July	4,947	11,769	13,562	30,059	18,509	41,028	2 13 6	1,308 11 4 ¹ / ₂	1,310 13 10
	15 July	4,984	11,917	13,948	30,801	18,932	42,718	2 9 9	1,346 17 10 ¹ / ₂	1,349 7 7 ¹ / ₂
	22 July	4,806	12,172	13,997	31,157	18,993	43,329	2 12 3	1,289 1 4 ¹ / ₂	1,291 13 7 ¹ / ₂
	29 July	4,801	11,449	14,187	31,788	18,908	43,237	2 15 0	1,345 4 7 ¹ / ₂	1,347 19 7 ¹ / ₂
BALLINASLOE	15 April	2,443	4,886	351	845	2,794	5,731	0 16 6	157 13 2 ¹ / ₂	158 9 8 ¹ / ₂
	22 April	2,717	6,169	374	892	3,091	7,001	0 18 10	194 16 2 ¹ / ₂	195 15 0 ¹ / ₂
	29 April	2,817	6,370	499	1,247	3,316	7,617	1 0 6	217 10 1 ¹ / ₂	218 10 7 ¹ / ₂
	6 May	3,040	6,970	644	1,692	3,684	8,663	0 16 0	241 3 6 ¹ / ₂	241 19 6 ¹ / ₂
	13 May	3,113	7,207	735	1,873	3,848	9,060	0 15 6	230 12 6 ¹ / ₂	231 8 0 ¹ / ₂
	20 May	3,306	7,497	835	1,992	4,141	9,489	0 17 0	240 14 7 ¹ / ₂	241 11 7 ¹ / ₂
	27 May	2,985	7,327	897	2,244	3,972	9,071	0 17 8	227 9 4 ¹ / ₂	228 7 0
	3 June	2,953	7,252	716	1,971	3,669	9,223	0 11 0	233 7 5 ¹ / ₂	233 18 5 ¹ / ₂
	10 June	3,179	7,249	972	2,232	4,151	9,481	0 11 0	241 11 9 ¹ / ₂	242 2 9 ¹ / ₂
	17 June	3,307	7,511	1,139	2,664	4,446	10,175	0 17 0	253 18 0	256 15 0
	24 June	3,331	7,568	1,280	2,957	4,611	10,465	1 1 6	265 15 1	266 16 7
	1 July	3,319	7,533	1,163	2,965	4,482	10,498	3 11 2	262 8 8	265 19 10
	8 July	3,479	7,903	1,463	3,376	4,942	11,279	0 15 0	281 15 7	282 10 7
	15 July	3,393	7,768	1,527	3,486	4,920	11,254	0 15 6	282 19 5	283 14 11
	22 July	3,362	7,641	1,553	3,527	4,935	11,168	0 11 6	265 2 5 ¹ / ₂	265 13 11 ¹ / ₂
	29 July	3,320	7,403	1,640	3,829	4,960	11,232	0 9 2	288 2 11 ¹ / ₂	288 12 1 ¹ / ₂
BALLINROBE	15 April	3,192	9,497	9,822	23,953	12,914	33,450	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	22 April	3,349	9,843	9,310	25,095	12,559	34,933	—	—	—
	29 April	3,456	10,118	9,535	25,595	12,991	35,713	—	—	—
	6 May	3,430	10,230	10,389	26,362	13,818	36,600	—	—	—
	13 May	3,490	10,404	10,246	26,092	13,736	37,396	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	20 May	3,560	10,580	10,407	27,678	14,055	38,250	0 11 9	506 1 5 ¹ / ₂	506 13 2 ¹ / ₂
	27 May	3,653	10,775	10,897	28,327	14,550	39,102	—	—	—
	3 June	3,776	10,992	11,085	29,128	14,861	40,120	2 11 3	999 17 2	1,002 8 5
	10 June	3,840	11,243	11,596	30,320	15,444	41,629	0 11 9	1,047 11 1	1,048 2 10
	17 June	3,965	11,516	12,272	32,008	16,237	43,524	0 3 6	960 3 0 ¹ / ₂	960 6 0 ¹ / ₂
	24 June	4,072	11,786	13,117	34,202	17,189	45,988	0 4 7	915 17 11 ¹ / ₂	916 2 6 ¹ / ₂
	1 July	4,110	11,884	13,592	35,591	17,702	47,475	0 14 2	934 0 0	934 14 2
	8 July	4,114	11,852	14,080	36,642	18,194	48,494	0 3 0	1,151 0 0	1,151 3 0
	15 July	4,152	12,030	14,994	38,437	19,146	50,476	0 16 0	1,128 13 10	1,129 9 10
	22 July	4,201	12,177	15,363	39,369	19,564	51,546	0 1 0	1,487 15 5 ¹ / ₂	1,487 16 5 ¹ / ₂
	29 July	4,203	12,190	15,654	39,983	19,957	52,173	0 1 1	1,412 6 9	1,412 7 10
BALLYCASTLE	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
BALLYMENA	15 April	622	1,233	—	—	622	1,233	—	21 11 9 ¹ / ₂	21 11 9 ¹ / ₂	{ Out-door relief discontinued.
	22 April	624	1,228	—	—	624	1,228	—	22 2 10	22 2 10
	29 April	621	1,198	—	—	621	1,198	—	19 18 6	19 18 6
	6 May	575	1,079	—	—	575	1,079	—	16 10 6 ¹ / ₂	16 10 6 ¹ / ₂
	13 May	518	933	—	—	518	933	—	15 11 2	15 11 2
	20 May	499	886	—	—	499	886	—	14 3 5	14 3 5
	27 May	399	679	—	—	399	679	—	10 14 6	10 14 6
	3 June	282	422	—	—	282	422	—	7 11 7 ¹ / ₂	7 11 7 ¹ / ₂
	10 June	237	350	—	—	237	350	—	6 17 5 ¹ / ₂	6 17 5 ¹ / ₂
	17 June	230	349	—	—	230	349	—	5 15 3	5 15 3
	24 June	188	291	—	—	188	291	—	5 13 0	5 13 0
	1 July	178	264	—	—	178	264	—	4 9 8	4 9 8
	8 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	15 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
BALLYMONEY	15 April	585	981	—	—	585	981	20 1 3	—	20 1 3
	22 April	588	986	—	—	588	986	19 19 2 ¹ / ₂	—	19 19 2 ¹ / ₂
	29 April	587	996	—	—	587	996	19 10 6	—	19 10 6
	6 May	583	1,013	—	—	583	1,013	19 15 0	—	19 15 0
	13 May	579	1,009	—	—	579	1,009	20 1 0	—	20 1 0
	20 May	588	1,036	—	—	588	1,036	20 9 0	—	20 9 0
	27 May	587	1,034	—	—	587	1,034	20 8 0	—	20 8 0
	3 June	584	938	—	—	584	938	20 1 6	—	20 1 6
	10 June	582	989	—	—	582	989	19 13 9	—	19 13 9
	17 June	565	932	—	—	565	932	19 0 0	—	19 0 0
	24 June	551	949	—	—	551	949	18 13 0	—	18 13 0
	1 July	537	911	—	—	537	911	18 4 6	—	18 4 6
	8 July	536	913	—	—	536	913	18 5 3	—	18 5 3
	15 July	527	903	—	—	527	903	17 13 0	—	17 13 0
	22 July	521	897	—	—	521	897	17 12 3	—	17 12 3
	29 July	505	916	—	—	505	916	16 18 3	—	16 18 3
BALLYSHANNON	15 April	768	1,284	—	—	768	1,284	—	25 9 9 ¹ / ₂	25 9 9 ¹ / ₂
	22 April	781	1,226	—	—	781	1,226	0 3 4	26 5 3 ¹ / ₂	26 8 7 ¹ / ₂

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
BALLYSHANNON (continued)	20 April	799	1,268	—	—	799	1,268	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	6 May	820	1,315	—	—	820	1,315	0 3 0	27 8 0	27 8 0
	13 May	826	1,330	—	—	826	1,330	0 3 3	27 9 5	27 12 5
	20 May	817	1,337	—	—	817	1,337	—	27 15 6	27 17 9
	27 May	806	1,322	—	—	806	1,322	0 6 0	27 7 2	27 7 2
	3 June	799	1,381	—	—	799	1,381	0 6 6	26 9 11	26 16 5
	10 June	814	1,397	—	—	814	1,397	0 3 6	26 11 4	26 14 10
	17 June	858	1,423	—	—	858	1,423	0 1 6	26 19 4	27 0 10
	24 June	904	1,462	1	1	905	1,463	0 4 6	28 2 3	28 6 9
	1 July	895	1,455	1	1	896	1,456	0 6 0	28 9 6	28 15 6
	8 July	1,004	1,448	1	1	1,005	1,449	0 6 4	28 15 6	29 1 9
	15 July	1,009	1,455	1	1	1,010	1,456	0 7 6	28 17 1	29 4 7
	22 July	885	1,493	1	1	886	1,494	0 7 6	29 12 8	30 0 2
	29 July	869	1,482	1	1	870	1,483	0 12 0	29 8 6	30 0 6
BALROTHERY	15 April	496	851	—	—	496	851	0 7 2	28 17 10	29 5 0
	22 April	505	858	—	—	505	858	—	19 0 5	19 5 5
	29 April	555	948	—	—	555	948	—	18 18 5	18 18 5
	6 May	556	962	—	—	556	962	0 5 10	20 19 0	20 19 0
	13 May	560	950	—	—	560	950	0 5 10	21 1 7	21 7 5
	20 May	552	932	—	—	552	932	0 11 6	20 19 6	21 11 0
	27 May	548	920	—	—	548	920	0 0 7	20 12 4	20 12 11
	3 June	552	942	—	—	552	942	0 3 0	22 9 10	22 12 10
	10 June	552	936	—	—	552	936	0 7 4	23 16 7	24 3 11
	17 June	540	911	—	—	540	911	0 4 0	23 17 11	24 1 11
	24 June	538	906	—	—	538	906	0 4 10	23 5 8	23 10 6
	1 July	533	893	—	—	533	893	0 2 11	23 6 11	23 9 10
	8 July	509	854	—	—	509	854	0 6 0	23 2 0	23 8 0
	15 July	502	845	—	—	502	845	0 6 2	22 6 9	22 12 11
BALTINGLASS	22 July	504	834	—	—	504	834	0 0 3	21 18 2	21 18 5
	29 July	502	835	—	—	502	835	0 2 6	21 14 7	21 17 1
	15 April	817	1,697	—	—	817	1,697	—	21 12 4	21 12 4
	22 April	822	1,731	—	—	822	1,731	1 0 2	45 12 8	46 12 10
	29 April	811	1,701	—	—	811	1,701	1 3 9	47 1 5	48 5 2
	6 May	800	1,684	—	—	800	1,684	0 19 5	45 19 7	46 19 0
	13 May	793	1,653	—	—	793	1,653	1 11 5	45 10 1	47 1 6
	20 May	786	1,660	—	—	786	1,660	0 19 5	45 6 5	46 5 10
	27 May	781	1,683	—	—	781	1,683	1 7 8	44 6 4	45 14 0
	3 June	792	1,742	—	—	792	1,742	1 3 6	44 8 1	45 11 7
	10 June	788	1,696	—	—	788	1,696	1 0 9	44 19 6	46 0 4
	17 June	812	1,826	—	—	812	1,826	1 4 6	44 14 1	45 18 7
	24 June	822	1,878	—	—	822	1,878	1 5 6	46 19 9	48 5 4
	1 July	814	1,835	—	—	814	1,835	1 7 7	47 6 9	48 14 4
BANBRIDGE	8 July	802	1,774	—	—	802	1,774	1 2 5	47 2 6	48 4 11
	15 July	796	1,748	—	—	796	1,748	1 5 6	51 15 7	53 1 1
	22 July	784	1,718	—	—	784	1,718	1 7 1	53 12 3	53 19 9
	29 July	780	1,676	—	—	780	1,676	1 2 4	52 8 8	53 11 0
	15 April	940	1,848	—	—	940	1,848	1 2 5	53 10 8	53 13 12
	22 April	960	1,899	—	—	960	1,899	—	—	—
	29 April	945	1,863	—	—	945	1,863	—	35 1 7	35 1 7
	6 May	916	1,786	—	—	916	1,786	—	36 7 1	36 7 1
	13 May	919	1,798	—	—	919	1,798	—	34 17 3	34 17 3
	20 May	923	1,778	—	—	923	1,778	—	31 15 2	31 15 2
	27 May	947	1,844	—	—	947	1,844	—	30 11 2	30 11 2
	3 June	780	1,458	—	—	780	1,458	—	30 13 0	30 13 0
	10 June	738	1,368	—	—	738	1,368	—	34 8 0	34 8 0
	17 June	750	1,421	—	—	750	1,421	—	30 17 7	30 17 7
BANDON	24 June	744	1,421	—	—	744	1,421	—	27 18 5	27 18 5
	1 July	749	1,447	—	—	749	1,447	—	26 16 8	26 16 8
	8 July	730	1,422	—	—	730	1,422	—	26 11 9	26 11 9
	15 July	750	1,450	—	—	750	1,450	—	26 1 7	26 1 7
	22 July	756	1,443	—	—	756	1,443	—	25 10 6	25 10 6
	29 July	763	1,465	—	—	763	1,465	—	25 8 8	25 8 8
	15 April	3,775	6,593	—	—	3,775	6,593	—	25 15 10	25 15 10
	22 April	3,515	6,761	—	—	3,515	6,761	—	27 7 7	27 7 7
	29 April	3,921	7,003	—	—	3,921	7,003	—	—	—
	6 May	3,665	6,520	—	—	3,665	6,520	—	159 6 3	159 6 3
	13 May	3,589	6,601	—	—	3,589	6,601	—	158 7 8	158 7 8
	20 May	3,476	5,625	—	—	3,476	5,625	—	159 14 9	159 14 9
	27 May	3,476	5,625	—	—	3,476	5,625	—	156 5 2	156 5 2
	3 June	3,339	6,927	—	—	3,339	6,927	—	148 19 12	148 19 12
BANTRY	10 June	3,339	6,927	—	—	3,339	6,927	—	145 4 9	145 4 9
	17 June	3,319	7,049	—	—	3,319	7,049	—	141 6 3	141 6 3
	24 June	3,182	5,962	—	—	3,182	5,962	—	142 12 11	142 12 11
	1 July	3,461	6,022	—	—	3,461	6,022	—	153 15 3	153 15 3
	8 July	3,228	5,907	—	—	3,228	5,907	—	154 19 6	154 19 6
	15 July	3,139	5,603	—	—	3,139	5,603	0 2 0	153 6 11	153 8 11
	22 July	3,097	5,500	—	—	3,097	5,500	—	149 16 2	149 16 2
	29 July	2,998	5,260	—	—	2,998	5,260	—	82 2 10	82 2 10
	15 April	2,047	5,408	648	1,609	2,695	7,017	54 7 3	73 14 2	125 8 6
	22 April	1,963	5,304	658	1,788	2,620	7,092	51 9 4	73 10 0	124 2 0
	29 April	2,340	6,184	1,120	2,920	3,460	9,104	50 11 11	73 10 0	124 2 0
	6 May	2,506	6,756	1,371	3,617	3,877	10,373	68 16 3	46 14 1	115 10 4
	13 May	2,574	6,874	1,432	3,838	4,006	10,712	—	—	—
	20 May	2,761	7,242	1,771	4,866	4,532	12,108	—	—	—
27 May	2,529	6,183	1,861	4,987	4,390	11,170	—	—	—
3 June	2,839	7,939	2,212	6,031	5,051	13,970	—	—	—
10 June	2,946	7,877	2,359	6,602	5,305	14,479	—	—	—
17 June	3,024	8,342	2,477	6,846	5,501	15,188	—	—	—
BELFAST	15 April	2,047	5,408	648	1,609	2,695	7,017	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	22 April	1,963	5,304	658	1,788	2,620	7,092	—	—	—
	29 April	2,340	6,184	1,120	2,920	3,460	9,104	—	—	—
	6 May	2,506	6,756	1,371	3,617	3,877	10,373	—	—	—
	13 May	2,574	6,874	1,432	3,838	4,006	10,712	—	—	—
	20 May	2,761	7,242	1,771	4,866	4,532	12,108	—	—	—
	27 May	2,529	6,183	1,861	4,987	4,390	11,170	—	—	—
	3 June	2,839	7,939	2,212	6,031	5,051	13,970	—	—	—
	10 June	2,946	7,877	2,359	6,602	5,305	14,479	—	—	—
	17 June	3,024	8,342	2,477	6,846	5,501	15,188	—	—	—
	15 April	2,047	5,408	648	1,609	2,695	7,017	—	—	—
	22 April	1,963	5,304	658	1,788	2,620	7,092	—	—	—
	29 April	2,340	6,184	1,120	2,920	3,460	9,104	—	—	—
	6 May	2,506	6,756	1,371	3,617	3,877	10,373	—	—	—
BOYLE	13 May	2,574	6,874	1,432	3,838	4,006	10,712	—	—	—
	20 May	2,761	7,242	1,771	4,866

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
BOYLE--(continued)	24 June	3,152	8,610	2,701	7,392	5,853	16,002	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	Cost not stated.
	1 July	3,220	8,800	2,875	7,800	6,095	16,600	—	—	—
	8 July	2,904	8,116	2,871	7,880	5,775	15,996	—	379 13 11½	379 13 11½
	15 July	2,848	7,888	2,738	7,519	5,586	15,507	—	402 13 7	402 13 7
	22 July	2,826	7,894	2,652	7,342	5,478	15,236	—	377 6 11	377 6 11
	29 July	2,730	7,461	2,650	6,658	5,380	14,119	—	360 7 0	360 7 0
CAHIRCIVEEN	15 April	1,270	2,847	188	391	1,458	3,138	0 5 0	96 11 10½	90 16 10½
	22 April	1,291	2,898	185	389	1,466	3,187	0 3 0	88 14 4½	88 17 4½
	29 April	1,283	2,901	176	391	1,458	3,182	0 3 0	88 11 6½	88 14 6½
	6 May	1,278	2,793	177	257	1,455	3,045	1 15 0	85 7 8½	87 2 8½
	13 May	1,274	2,762	181	203	1,455	3,045	1 15 6	82 2 8	83 18 2
	20 May	1,234	2,840	167	244	1,401	3,084	1 4 6	81 16 8½	83 1 2½
	27 May	1,203	2,781	2	2	1,205	2,783	1 0 6	73 4 6	74 5 0½
	3 June	1,179	2,696	1	1	1,180	2,697	0 14 6	70 8 4½	71 2 10½
	10 June	1,179	2,641	2	6	1,181	2,647	0 11 3	70 9 1½	71 0 4½
	17 June	1,199	2,669	2	2	1,201	2,671	0 2 6	71 3 10½	71 6 4½
	24 June	1,211	2,701	—	—	1,211	2,701	—	72 1 0½	72 1 0½
	1 July	1,172	2,636	—	—	1,172	2,636	—	70 19 5½	70 19 5½
	8 July	1,170	2,628	—	—	1,170	2,628	0 0 6	69 18 0	69 19 3
	15 July	1,123	2,515	—	—	1,123	2,515	—	73 9 1	73 9 1
	22 July	963	2,019	—	—	963	2,019	—	65 17 10½	65 17 10½
	29 July	930	2,032	—	—	930	2,032	0 7 6	63 16 1	64 3 7
CALLAN	15 April	1,536	3,321	1,361	3,945	2,897	7,266	47 6 10½	114 17 10½	162 4 9½
	22 April	1,607	3,322	1,273	3,860	2,880	7,163	47 2 4	112 7 7½	159 9 11½
	29 April	1,605	3,473	1,184	3,665	2,789	7,130	42 7 5½	111 2 2	153 9 7½
	6 May	1,610	3,461	1,150	3,625	2,760	7,086	38 15 10	111 14 11½	150 10 9½
	13 May	1,619	3,500	1,176	3,770	2,795	7,270	35 15 4	111 8 1½	147 3 5½
	20 May	1,630	3,533	1,181	3,738	2,811	7,271	31 9 5	122 13 7½	154 3 0½
	27 May	1,662	3,592	1,205	3,822	2,867	7,414	37 8 11	149 2 2½	186 11 1½
	3 June	1,678	3,633	1,230	3,930	2,908	7,569	35 3 2	178 16 1½	213 19 3½
	10 June	1,672	3,639	1,271	4,051	2,943	7,690	13 0 0	192 3 1½	205 3 1½
	17 June	1,694	3,670	1,353	4,263	3,047	7,933	2 7 6	218 6 10½	220 14 4½
	24 June	1,712	3,730	1,411	4,416	3,123	8,146	2 0 10	214 11 1½	216 11 11½
	1 July	1,708	3,716	1,456	4,562	3,164	8,278	2 5 10	215 13 5	217 19 3
	8 July	1,846	4,020	1,543	5,003	3,894	9,023	2 4 7	214 7 0	216 11 7
	15 July	1,955	4,006	1,543	4,823	3,498	8,029	2 4 10	214 7 0	216 11 10
	22 July	1,946	3,963	1,526	4,781	3,372	8,764	2 1 3	203 15 7½	205 16 10½
	29 July	1,721	3,707	1,491	4,601	3,212	8,308	2 2 0	215 8 6½	217 10 6½
CARLOW	15 April	2,241	5,648	—	—	2,241	5,648	123 0 6½	0 7 2	123 7 8½
	22 April	2,282	5,788	—	—	2,282	5,788	127 10 6½	0 11 5½	128 2 0
	29 April	2,322	5,869	—	—	2,322	5,869	127 3 4	0 9 3½	127 12 7½
	6 May	2,373	6,012	—	—	2,373	6,012	125 11 11	0 10 8½	126 2 7½
	13 May	2,414	6,119	—	—	2,414	6,119	125 2 5	0 13 9½	125 16 2½
	20 May	2,446	6,201	—	—	2,446	6,201	124 9 6	1 0 9½	125 10 3½
	27 May	2,493	6,318	—	—	2,493	6,318	124 3 2	0 14 9	124 17 11
	3 June	2,551	6,497	—	—	2,551	6,497	123 16 10	0 14 0	124 10 10
	10 June	2,574	6,563	—	—	2,574	6,563	121 14 0	0 2 0	121 16 0
	17 June	2,607	6,643	—	—	2,607	6,643	120 19 6	0 3 2	121 2 8
	24 June	1,797	4,213	—	—	1,797	4,213	122 14 2½	0 4 11	122 19 1½
	1 July	1,838	4,237	—	—	1,838	4,237	126 4 2	0 5 6	126 9 8
	8 July	1,834	4,239	—	—	1,834	4,220	126 14 7	0 9 8	127 4 3
	15 July	1,854	4,253	—	—	1,854	4,253	125 7 11	0 5 8	125 13 7
	22 July	1,840	4,205	—	—	1,840	4,205	122 12 0	0 12 9½	123 4 9½
	29 July	1,807	4,037	—	—	1,807	4,037	121 2 2	0 8 1	121 10 3
CARRICKMACROSS.	15 April	836	2,002	66	116	902	2,118	53 2 8	—	53 2 8
	22 April	846	2,015	68	120	914	2,135	52 14 2	0 18 4	53 12 6
	29 April	831	2,027	76	140	907	2,167	51 18 6	3 3 4	55 1 10
	6 May	855	2,086	88	174	943	2,260	53 5 2	3 19 10	57 5 0
	13 May	883	2,145	90	181	973	2,326	54 15 8	3 7 10	58 3 6
	20 May	897	2,168	94	159	991	2,327	54 15 2	3 9 2	58 4 4
	27 May	884	2,141	96	159	980	2,300	54 6 4	3 10 6	57 16 10
	3 June	891	2,131	99	180	990	2,311	53 7 10	3 13 0	57 0 10
	10 June	918	2,118	98	183	1,016	2,301	53 3 4	3 19 0	57 2 4
	17 June	902	2,131	103	184	1,005	2,315	0 16 10	55 12 6	56 9 4
	24 June	909	2,138	94	168	1,003	2,306	0 5 6	56 2 4	56 7 10
	1 July	868	2,168	95	175	963	2,343	0 6 0	56 8 10	56 14 10
	8 July	856	2,142	92	159	948	2,301	0 15 0	54 18 4	55 13 4
	15 July	866	2,184	94	176	960	2,360	0 5 8	56 4 10	56 10 6
	22 July	881	2,200	105	212	986	2,412	0 13 8	56 11 8	57 5 4
	29 July	872	2,156	101	191	973	2,347	0 2 9	56 6 0	56 8 9
CARON-SHANNON.	15 April	2,242	5,590	3,090	5,222	5,332	10,812	—	274 5 7	274 5 7
	22 April	2,314	5,821	3,085	5,280	5,379	11,101	—	243 1 6½	243 1 6½
	29 April	2,325	5,965	3,126	5,443	5,451	11,408	—	270 9 0½	270 9 0½
	6 May	2,334	5,972	3,148	5,472	5,482	11,444	—	274 17 6½	274 17 6½
	13 May	2,332	5,986	3,121	5,375	5,453	11,261	—	356 17 4	356 17 4
	20 May	2,395	6,189	3,208	5,548	5,603	11,737	—	370 7 9	370 7 9
	27 May	2,454	6,280	3,314	6,011	5,768	12,291	—	389 13 7½	389 13 7½
	3 June	2,532	6,654	3,502	6,210	6,034	12,864	—	377 18 10½	377 18 10½
	10 June	2,618	6,921	3,685	6,841	6,803	13,762	—	384 16 3½	394 16 3½
	17 June	2,632	6,971	3,750	6,956	6,382	13,927	—	383 2 3½	383 2 3½
	24 June	2,607	6,900	3,699	6,838	6,306	13,738	—	375 9 10½	375 9 10½
	1 July	2,640	6,885	3,662	6,604	6,302	13,489	—	415 3 11½	415 3 11½
	8 July	2,595	6,857	3,583	6,483	6,180	13,340	—	434 5 2½	434 5 2½
	15 July	2,568	6,827	3,493	6,284	6,061	13,111	—	426 17 3½	426 17 3½
	22 July	2,512	6,633	3,435	6,131	5,947	12,764	—	411 15 10½	411 15 10½
	29 July	2,449	6,346	3,240	5,798	5,689	12,144	—	383 17 8	383 17 8
CARRICK-ON-SUEB	15 April	358	848	—	—	358	848	0 2 0	18 13 6½	18 15 6½
	22 April	368	878	—	—	368	878	0 6 3	19 2 7	19 8 10
	29 April	358	854	—	—	358	854	0 0 10	18 16 2½	18 17 0½
	6 May	357	854	—	—	357	854	0 5 0	18 18 11	19 3 11
	13 May	367	871	—	—	367	871	0 7 0	19 6 7	19 13 7

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
CARRICK-ON-SWIR (continued)	20 May	374	905	—	—	374	905	£ 5 6	19 17 13	20 2 73
	27 May	385	929	—	—	385	929	0 4 8	20 8 6	20 13 2
	3 June	392	940	—	—	392	940	0 6 0	20 9 73	20 15 73
	10 June	388	915	—	—	388	915	0 3 0	22 12 113	22 15 113
	17 June	404	960	—	—	404	960	0 2 0	25 19 11	26 1 11
	24 June	421	1,005	—	—	421	1,005	0 2 0	27 15 9	27 17 9
	1 July	421	1,017	—	—	421	1,017	0 5 0	27 9 4	27 14 4
	8 July	431	1,036	—	—	431	1,036	0 4 0	26 0 43	26 4 43
	15 July	424	1,022	—	—	424	1,022	0 4 0	24 14 5	24 18 5
	22 July	425	1,006	—	—	425	1,006	0 0 6	24 6 73	24 7 13
	29 July	424	1,009	—	—	414	1,009	0 1 6	24 11 03	24 12 63
CASHEL	15 April	2,221	4,668	2,677	6,364	4,898	11,032	0 6 0	279 6 23	279 12 23
	22 April	2,255	4,769	2,465	5,506	4,720	10,365	0 1 6	260 8 4	260 9 10
	29 April	2,280	4,885	2,270	4,919	4,559	9,804	0 7 0	240 14 83	241 1 83
	6 May	2,335	5,097	2,227	4,534	4,563	9,631	0 9 3	246 19 33	247 8 63
	13 May	2,418	5,048	2,245	4,588	4,663	9,636	1 3 9	253 14 5	254 18 2
	20 May	2,440	5,368	2,218	4,432	4,658	9,800	1 14 3	253 16 2	255 10 5
	27 May	2,548	5,706	2,236	4,461	4,784	10,167	1 18 3	263 7 53	265 5 83
	3 June	2,602	5,843	2,306	4,817	4,908	10,660	2 5 0	273 5 0	275 10 0
	10 June	2,021	4,425	1,733	4,250	3,754	8,675	0 17 0	317 16 53	318 13 53
	17 June	2,721	6,208	2,956	6,985	5,677	13,193	1 16 6	457 4 1	459 0 7
	24 June	2,775	6,263	3,081	7,384	5,856	13,607	1 12 6	471 13 13	473 5 73
	1 July	2,791	6,319	2,509	6,800	5,300	13,119	2 0 9	450 8 10	452 9 7
	8 July	2,753	6,387	2,187	6,561	4,940	12,948	1 10 6	367 6 53	368 16 113
	15 July	2,752	6,362	1,656	6,179	4,408	12,541	1 11 6	346 16 103	348 8 43
	22 July	2,750	6,417	1,457	5,405	4,207	11,822	1 7 6	326 6 6	327 14 0
	29 July	2,759	6,395	1,344	5,045	4,103	11,440	0 4 0	322 9 63	323 13 63
CASTLEBAR	15 April	2,250	6,770	3,197	9,465	5,456	16,235	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	22 April	1,846	5,689	2,678	7,248	4,524	12,937	—	—	—
	29 April	2,568	7,657	3,738	14,762	6,306	22,419	—	—	—
	6 May	2,630	7,503	3,862	11,054	6,492	18,557	—	—	—
	13 May	2,705	8,092	3,934	12,071	6,639	20,163	—	—	—
	20 May	2,734	8,571	4,083	11,838	6,817	20,409	552 16 8	37 14 8	590 11 4
	27 May	2,798	8,398	4,057	11,987	6,855	20,385	0 5 9	487 11 03	487 16 93
	3 June	2,901	8,738	4,170	12,966	7,071	21,699	0 5 9	336 13 103	336 19 73
	10 June	3,078	9,515	4,441	13,805	7,519	23,320	—	538 9 53	538 9 53
	17 June	3,175	9,915	3,744	14,399	7,919	24,314	0 12 0	591 7 113	591 19 113
	24 June	3,285	10,310	5,163	14,740	8,448	25,050	0 1 6	737 11 3	737 12 9
	1 July	3,509	10,648	5,669	16,116	9,178	26,764	0 15 0	776 19 23	777 14 23
	8 July	2,909	7,854	5,774	15,777	8,633	23,631	—	687 10 11	687 10 11
	15 July	3,065	8,577	5,679	17,184	8,744	25,761	0 1 0	684 8 63	684 9 63
	22 July	3,085	8,690	5,536	17,103	8,921	25,793	—	676 4 53	676 4 53
	29 July	3,151	8,928	5,600	17,230	8,751	26,058	—	676 14 43	676 14 43
CASTLEBLANEY	15 April	1,114	2,326	—	—	1,114	2,326	1 0 6	52 11 63	53 12 03
	22 April	1,101	2,256	—	—	1,101	2,256	0 11 43	52 17 53	53 8 93
	29 April	1,009	2,247	—	—	1,080	2,247	0 16 13	53 17 113	53 14 1
	6 May	1,108	2,373	—	—	1,108	2,273	1 5 8	49 18 13	51 3 93
	13 May	1,106	2,257	—	—	1,106	2,257	0 19 93	49 16 93	50 16 73
	20 May	1,105	2,269	—	—	1,105	2,269	0 12 113	50 1 2	50 14 13
	27 May	1,103	2,258	—	—	1,103	2,258	1 2 7	49 6 73	50 9 23
	3 June	1,112	2,257	—	—	1,112	2,257	0 17 8	49 2 3	49 19 11
	10 June	1,110	2,153	—	—	1,110	2,153	1 3 8	49 18 11	51 2 7
	17 June	1,111	2,160	—	—	1,111	2,160	1 5 3	49 10 23	50 15 53
	24 June	1,108	2,134	—	—	1,108	2,134	0 17 4	48 18 53	49 15 93
	1 July	1,072	2,044	—	—	1,072	2,044	0 14 103	46 9 73	47 4 53
	8 July	1,045	2,107	—	—	1,045	2,107	0 3 8	46 0 113	46 4 73
	15 July	1,031	2,076	—	—	1,031	2,076	0 10 3	45 2 93	45 13 03
CASTLEBERG	22 July	914	1,808	—	—	914	1,808	0 2 6	39 18 83	40 1 23
	29 July	839	1,625	—	—	839	1,625	0 10 53	36 3 43	36 13 10
	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
CASTLEREA	15 April	2,987	6,249	74	212	3,061	6,461	7 5 9	146 11 33	153 17 03
	22 April	5,110	10,523	652	1,338	5,762	11,861	10 11 2	280 19 103	291 11 03
	29 April	4,121	9,346	2,427	4,555	6,548	13,901	5 3 2	323 5 13	327 8 33
	6 May	3,732	8,925	3,346	6,383	7,078	15,308	5 6 4	382 8 113	387 15 33
	13 May	3,612	8,333	3,816	7,457	7,420	15,790	2 13 5	427 9 93	430 3 23
	20 May	3,414	7,823	4,125	8,133	7,539	15,455	2 5 11	414 4 7	416 10 6
	27 May	3,544	7,811	4,084	8,535	7,628	16,346	1 18 8	415 18 8	417 17 4
	3 June	3,424	7,553	4,240	8,650	7,664	16,203	2 0 0	438 10 5	440 10 5
	10 June	3,327	7,483	4,332	8,922	7,659	16,405	2 3 9	444 8 9	446 12 0
	17 June	3,628	7,630	4,793	9,609	8,421	17,299	2 12 8	471 7 9	474 0 5
	24 June	3,568	7,892	5,163	10,499	8,731	18,391	3 2 3	495 6 2	498 8 5
	1 July	3,602	7,940	5,310	10,743	8,912	18,688	2 2 2	493 10 63	495 12 83
	8 July	3,641	7,972	5,461	10,979	9,102	18,951	2 3 10	580 7 6	582 11 4
	15 July	3,645	8,090	5,524	11,323	9,169	19,413	3 3 8	543 12 4	546 16 0
	22 July	3,563	8,055	5,990	11,759	9,553	19,314	2 4 10	554 4 6	556 9 4
CAVAN	29 July	3,638	7,691	6,378	11,909	10,016	19,600	1 15 0	562 19 2	564 14 2
	15 April	3,068	6,898	271	513	3,339	7,411	0 16 11	159 16 3	160 13 2
	22 April	3,236	7,189	264	513	3,500	7,703	1 8 3	163 16 93	165 5 03
	29 April	3,279	7,263	267	509	3,546	7,782	0 17 83	166 12 03	167 9 83
	6 May	3,223	7,163	291	560	3,514	7,723	0 18 1	163 14 83	164 12 93
	13 May	3,232	7,226	312	623	3,544	7,849	0 17 2	166 19 93	167 16 113
	20 May	3,382	7,370	222	662	3,504	8,032	0 18 8	171 3 93	172 2 53
	27 May	3,245	7,210	345	705	3,590	7,915	1 1 5	169 1 83	170 3 13
	3 June	3,205	6,952	371	812	3,576	7,764	1 2 8	163 13 11	164 16 7
	10 June	3,191	6,912	417	938	3,608	7,850	1 7 1	167 3 9	168 10 10
	17 June	3,225	7,011	446	1,030	3,671	8,041	1 0 5	173 4 103	174 5 33
	24 June	3,254	7,051	437	1,030	3,691	8,081	1 3 10	179 19 103	181 3 83
	1 July	3,356	7,193	506	1,178	3,842	8,371	1 3 2	197 14 63	198 17 83
	8 July	3,381	7,371	507	1,177	3,888	8,548	0 19 10	205 3 9	206 3 7
	15 July	3,380	7,580	445	1,065	3,825	8,645	0 19 11	202 13 63	203 13 53
	22 July	3,358	7,523	452	1,089	3,810	8,612	0 11 3	195 10 113	196 2 23
	29 July	3,358	7,540	484	1,043	3,798	8,583	0 11 1	185 1 10	186 12 11

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
CELBRIDGE .	15 April							£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	No out-door relief.
	22 April
	29 April
	6 May
	13 May
	20 May
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June
	10 June
	17 June
	24 June
	1 July
	8 July	—	—	5	12	5	12	0 17 0	—	0 17 0
	15 July	8	7	—	—	3	7	0 6 6	—	0 6 6
	22 July	3	10	—	—	3	10	0 6 0	—	0 6 0
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
CLIFDEN .	15 April										Returns not recd.
	22 April
	29 April
	6 May	3,852	9,833	5,712	4,402	9,564	14,235	—	467 4 3½	467 4 3½
	13 May
	20 May
	27 May
	3 June	4,764	12,306	1,983	4,907	6,747	17,213	—	562 9 11½	562 9 11½
	10 June
	17 June
	24 June
	1 July
	8 July	5,246	12,933	2,034	5,212	7,280	18,145	—	—	—
	15 July
	22 July
	29 July
CLOGHER .	15 April	2,306	7,374	42	113	2,348	7,487	0 2 6	138 3 0½	138 10 6½
	22 April	2,314	7,434	2	6	2,316	7,440	0 2 6	138 7 0½	138 9 6½
	29 April	2,347	7,534	15	47	2,362	7,531	0 2 6	135 18 1½	136 0 7½
	6 May	2,316	7,387	24	61	2,340	7,428	0 2 6	130 16 2½	130 18 8½
	13 May	2,312	7,291	23	59	2,335	7,350	0 2 6	129 17 8	130 0 2
	20 May	2,346	7,467	33	84	2,379	7,531	0 2 6	133 0 10½	133 3 4½
	27 May	2,349	7,481	35	93	2,384	7,574	0 2 6	133 10 9½	133 13 3½
	3 June	2,361	7,526	36	96	2,397	7,622	0 3 6	134 10 3½	134 13 9½
	10 June	2,282	7,112	31	79	2,313	7,191	0 2 6	172 17 6½	173 0 0½
	17 June	2,238	6,927	29	73	2,267	7,000	0 2 0	172 12 5½	172 14 5½
	24 June	2,238	6,841	27	68	2,265	6,901	0 3 6	171 11 6	171 15 0
	1 July	2,179	6,811	32	77	2,211	6,888	0 2 0	167 13 11	167 15 11
	8 July	2,128	6,580	30	78	2,158	6,658	0 5 6	134 15 7½	135 1 14½
	15 July	2,096	6,532	28	73	2,124	6,605	0 1 6	129 3 5½	129 4 11½
	22 July	2,074	6,463	27	71	2,101	6,534	0 2 0	128 14 1½	128 16 1½
	29 July	2,054	6,397	11	27	2,065	6,424	0 1 6	127 6 7	127 8 1
CLOGHER .	15 April	928	1,721	—	—	928	1,721	—	40 12 8	40 12 8
	22 April	910	1,719	—	—	910	1,719	—	39 8 7½	39 6 7½
	29 April	892	1,645	—	—	892	1,645	—	37 19 8½	37 19 8½
	6 May	845	1,567	—	—	845	1,567	—	33 5 2½	33 5 2½
	13 May	814	1,520	—	—	814	1,520	—	31 18 7	31 18 7
	20 May	797	1,491	—	—	797	1,491	—	31 2 1½	31 2 1½
	27 May	797	1,506	—	—	797	1,506	—	31 2 7½	31 2 7½
	3 June	799	1,548	—	—	799	1,548	—	31 12 11½	31 12 11½
	10 June	802	1,535	—	—	802	1,535	—	28 3 7½	28 3 7½
	17 June	798	1,510	—	—	798	1,510	—	26 16 4½	26 16 4½
	24 June	795	1,497	—	—	795	1,497	—	26 14 10	26 14 10
	1 July	571	1,050	—	—	571	1,050	—	19 7 10½	19 7 10½
	8 July	372	599	—	—	372	599	—	12 19 4	12 19 4
	15 July	401	724	—	—	401	724	—	12 16 7	12 16 7
	22 July	250	420	—	—	250	420	—	8 8 9½	8 8 9½
	29 July	235	510	—	—	235	510	—	8 18 6	8 18 6
CLONES .	15 April	1,021	2,077	—	—	1,021	2,077	—	42 4 2½	42 4 2½
	22 April	1,025	2,054	—	—	1,025	2,054	—	40 15 1	40 15 1
	29 April	1,025	2,048	—	—	1,025	2,048	0 1 6	40 7 10	40 9 4
	6 May	1,000	1,990	—	—	1,000	1,990	0 2 0	39 17 10½	39 19 10½
	13 May	999	2,012	—	—	999	2,012	0 2 6	39 4 11½	39 7 5½
	20 May	1,009	2,030	—	—	1,009	2,030	0 4 10	39 3 0	39 7 10
	27 May	991	1,969	—	—	991	1,969	0 3 3	39 1 0½	39 4 3½
	3 June	1,009	2,064	—	—	1,009	2,064	—	39 7 7	39 7 7
	10 June	1,044	2,165	—	—	1,044	2,165	—	45 10 8	45 10 8
	17 June	1,051	2,163	34	75	1,085	2,240	0 4 6	51 8 11½	51 13 5½
	24 June	1,058	2,182	48	99	1,101	2,281	—	53 10 4	53 10 4
	1 July	1,061	2,164	63	155	1,126	2,319	0 1 6	53 11½	53 2 5½
	8 July	1,078	2,168	59	132	1,137	2,300	—	51 15 9½	51 15 9½
	15 July	1,078	2,170	71	163	1,149	2,333	0 5 0	51 12 4½	51 17 4½
	22 July	1,071	2,376	69	157	1,140	2,533	0 5 4	49 18 6	50 3 10
	29 July	1,068	2,144	97	204	1,165	2,348	0 2 10	47 16 7½	47 19 5½
CLOXMEEL .	15 April	967	2,030	830	1,673	1,797	3,703	27 4 11	70 1 1	97 6 0
	22 April	1,005	2,132	826	1,691	1,831	3,823	27 1 9	67 13 5	94 14 2
	29 April	1,050	2,114	59	219	1,109	2,333	27 5 11	42 1 4	69 7 3
	6 May	1,070	2,288	—	—	1,078	2,288	25 5 8	35 4 8	60 10 4
	13 May	1,117	2,341	—	—	1,117	2,341	24 7 5	36 13 7	61 1 0
	20 May	1,125	2,371	—	—	1,123	2,371	23 18 11	37 3 8	61 2 7
	27 May	1,115	2,366	—	—	1,115	2,366	5 1 3	49 2 9	54 4 0
	3 June	1,123	2,395	—	—	1,123	2,395	5 10 1	49 13 11	55 4 0
	10 June	1,138	2,431	—	—	1,138	2,431	5 15 11	50 1 6	55 17 5
	17 June	1,152	2,469	—	—	1,152	2,469	5 15 1	58 2 6	63 17 7
	24 June	1,162	2,504	—	—	1,162	2,504	5 17 1	58 19 10	64 16 11
	1 July	1,162	2,474	—	—	1,162	2,474	5 17 11	58 17 3½	64 15 2½

PAPERS RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS,

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
CLONMEL (continued)	8 July	1,169	2,492	—	—	1,169	2,492	£ 7 10 3	58 18 33	65 6 24
	15 July	1,180	2,496	10	21	1,190	2,517	6 13 11	59 11 24	66 5 13
	22 July	1,193	2,547	41	105	1,234	2,652	6 13 1	62 7 2	69 0 3
	29 July	1,200	2,561	54	150	1,254	2,711	6 14 9	63 12 11 1/2	70 7 8 1/2
COLERAINE ..	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	22 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	6 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	20 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	10 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	17 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	24 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	1 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	8 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	15 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	22 July	4	19	—	—	4	19	—	0 14 9 1/2	0 14 9 1/2
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
COOKSTOWN ..	15 April	344	813	—	—	344	813	—	15 2 2 1/2	15 2 2 1/2	No out-door relief.
	22 April	331	768	—	—	331	768	—	15 11 0 1/2	15 11 0 1/2
	29 April	330	763	—	—	330	763	—	14 11 9 1/2	14 11 9 1/2
	6 May	352	747	—	—	352	747	—	13 14 6 1/2	13 14 6 1/2
	13 May	316	717	—	—	316	717	—	13 0 3 1/2	13 0 3 1/2
	20 May	303	680	—	—	303	680	—	12 6 9 1/2	12 6 9 1/2
	27 May	300	658	—	—	300	658	—	12 2 4 1/2	12 2 4 1/2
	3 June	302	686	—	—	302	686	0 14 0	12 2 5 1/2	12 16 5 1/2
	10 June	298	683	—	—	298	683	—	12 1 6 1/2	12 1 6 1/2
	17 June	302	687	—	—	302	687	0 15 0	12 6 2 1/2	13 1 2 1/2
	24 June	310	711	—	—	310	711	4 8 8	12 11 9 1/2	17 0 5 1/2
	1 July	305	687	—	—	305	687	—	12 4 0 1/2	12 4 0 1/2
	8 July	307	684	—	—	307	684	1 2 0	12 5 7 1/2	13 7 7 1/2
	15 July	312	685	—	—	312	685	—	12 2 1 1/2	12 2 1 1/2
	22 July	311	686	—	—	311	686	1 0 0	11 18 1 1/2	12 18 1 1/2
	29 July	311	686	—	—	311	686	1 0 0	11 18 1 1/2	12 18 1 1/2
COOTEHILL ..	15 April	2,162	4,615	306	816	2,468	5,431	0 2 9	123 6 10	122 9 7
	22 April	2,411	4,807	319	836	2,730	5,643	0 5 8	126 19 8	127 5 4
	29 April	2,216	4,857	319	818	2,535	5,675	0 11 2	126 7 3	126 18 5
	6 May	2,144	4,597	303	781	2,447	5,378	0 2 0	116 5 4	116 7 4
	13 May	2,107	4,503	301	774	2,408	5,277	1 6 8	113 1 10	114 8 6
	20 May	2,079	4,520	274	756	2,353	5,276	0 3 4	111 3 4	111 6 8
	27 May	2,034	4,413	272	751	2,306	5,164	0 10 9	108 3 2	108 13 11
	3 June	2,055	4,396	271	737	2,326	5,133	—	107 16 7	107 16 7
	10 June	2,051	3,938	280	685	2,331	4,623	0 3 0	108 1 8	108 4 8
	17 June	2,052	4,349	271	721	2,323	5,070	0 2 6	94 11 8	94 14 2
	24 June	2,144	4,553	334	912	2,478	5,465	0 6 0	113 7 5	113 13 5
	1 July	2,223	4,677	363	969	2,586	5,646	0 6 7	117 0 3	117 6 10
	8 July	2,232	4,984	386	1,065	2,618	6,049	0 1 6	140 12 1	140 13 7
	15 July	2,318	5,153	397	1,066	2,715	6,219	0 2 6	146 19 5	147 1 11
	22 July	2,297	5,112	357	949	2,654	6,061	0 2 6	140 16 7	140 19 1
	29 July	2,310	5,111	350	987	2,660	6,078	0 0 6	141 11 2	141 11 8
CORK ..	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out door relief.
DINGLE ..	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	22 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	6 May	2,941	5,001	2,645	4,206	5,586	9,207	—	203 3 3 1/2	203 3 3 1/2
	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	20 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June	3,111	5,269	2,769	4,570	5,880	9,839	—	287 4 5	287 4 5
	10 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	17 June	2,964	5,459	2,853	5,184	5,817	10,643	—	284 14 10	284 14 10
	24 June	2,709	5,029	2,838	5,089	5,547	10,118	—	—	—
	1 July	2,812	5,072	2,871	5,030	5,683	10,102	—	292 8 3 1/2	292 8 3 1/2
	8 July	2,767	5,077	2,823	5,296	5,590	10,373	—	294 18 5 1/2	294 18 5 1/2
	15 July	2,589	4,595	2,631	5,281	5,220	9,876	—	282 3 5	282 3 5
	22 July	2,298	4,363	1,823	3,280	4,121	7,643	—	254 4 0	254 4 0
	29 July	2,373	4,020	1,932	3,090	4,305	7,110	—	239 0 6 1/2	239 0 6 1/2
DONEGAL ..	15 April	623	1,189	—	—	623	1,189	1 15 5	24 1 2	25 16 7
	22 April	627	1,205	—	—	627	1,205	2 8 7	24 11 10 1/2	27 0 5 1/2
	29 April	650	1,257	—	—	650	1,257	1 10 10	25 14 5	27 5 3
	6 May	649	1,259	—	—	649	1,259	1 9 2 1/2	25 14 0 1/2	27 3 3
	13 May	661	1,287	—	—	661	1,207	1 9 1	26 7 5 1/2	27 16 6 1/2
	20 May	668	1,307	—	—	668	1,307	1 11 5	24 13 5	26 4 10
	27 May	684	1,358	—	—	684	1,358	2 0 0	27 0 8 1/2	29 11 8 1/2
	3 June	687	1,376	—	—	687	1,376	1 14 0 1/2	27 11 9	29 5 9 1/2
	10 June	730	1,518	—	—	730	1,618	1 13 6 1/2	30 9 11 1/2	32 3 6
	17 June	754	1,570	—	—	754	1,570	1 15 5	31 6 11	33 2 4
	24 June	758	1,616	—	—	758	1,616	1 14 10	31 17 6	33 12 4
	1 July	771	1,638	—	—	771	1,638	1 11 2	32 5 1 1/2	33 16 3 1/2
	8 July	788	1,664	—	—	788	1,664	1 14 4	32 17 10	34 12 2
	15 July	813	1,719	—	—	813	1,719	2 5 2	34 5 8	36 10 10
	22 July	823	1,737	—	—	823	1,737	2 0 2	34 10 8	36 10 10
	29 July	831	1,717	—	—	831	1,717	2 2 6	34 16 10	36 19 4
DOWNPATRICK ..	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
DROGHEDA ..	15 April	1,246	2,982	144	401	1,390	3,383	1 11 8 1/2	63 2 1 1/2	64 13 5
	22 April	1,254	2,877	150	414	1,404	3,291	0 7 0	65 8 10	65 10 10
	29 April	1,254	2,886	150	407	1,404	3,293	0 7 6	64 7 11 1/2	64 15 5 1/2
	6 May	1,243	2,894	150	403	1,393	3,297	0 8 0	63 0 3 1/2	63 8 3 1/2
	13 May	1,232	2,940	1 4	391	1,376	3,331	0 5 10	63 1 2 1/2	63 7 0 1/2

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
DROGHEDA (continued)	20 May	1,207	2,909	21	53	1,228	2,962	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	27 May	1,196	2,881	—	—	1,196	2,881	—	56 4 43	56 4 43
	3 June	1,183	2,840	—	—	1,183	2,840	0 3 6	52 12 8	52 12 8
	10 June	1,207	2,711	8	12	1,215	2,723	—	64 2 13	64 2 13
	17 June	1,215	2,669	4	10	1,219	2,679	—	62 13 8	62 13 8
	24 June	1,190	2,642	4	9	1,194	2,651	—	60 15 3	60 15 3
	1 July	1,178	2,597	2	2	1,175	2,599	—	56 1 7	56 1 7
	8 July	1,160	2,579	5	20	1,165	2,599	—	58 2 3	58 2 3
	15 July	1,143	2,525	—	—	1,143	2,525	0 4 6	56 2 4	56 2 4
	22 July	1,094	2,352	—	—	1,094	2,352	—	53 12 7	53 12 7
	29 July	1,014	2,207	—	—	1,014	2,207	—	50 10 8	50 10 8
								—	52 0 1	52 0 1
DUBLIN, NORTH	15 April	1,745	3,248	—	—	1,745	3,248	10 19 11	93 6 10	104 6 7
	22 April	1,737	3,310	—	—	1,737	3,310	10 19 9	93 4 6	104 4 3
	29 April	1,704	3,283	—	—	1,704	3,283	—	97 3 0	97 3 0
	6 May	1,692	3,177	—	—	1,692	3,177	—	97 3 0	97 3 0
	13 May	1,661	3,109	—	—	1,661	3,109	—	91 7 33	91 7 33
	20 May	1,640	3,089	—	—	1,640	3,089	—	89 3 10	89 3 10
	27 May	1,625	3,037	—	—	1,625	3,037	—	86 12 12	86 12 12
	3 June	1,621	3,028	—	—	1,621	3,028	—	85 11 10	85 11 10
	10 June	1,652	3,070	—	—	1,652	3,070	—	85 1 7	85 1 7
	17 June	1,602	3,008	—	—	1,602	3,008	—	85 0 0	85 0 0
	24 June	1,593	3,004	—	—	1,593	3,004	—	83 16 8	83 16 8
	1 July	1,559	2,922	—	—	1,559	2,922	—	81 16 0	81 16 0
	8 July	1,540	2,913	—	—	1,540	2,913	—	80 11 6	80 11 6
	15 July	1,510	2,791	—	—	1,510	2,791	—	85 16 11	85 16 11
	22 July	1,497	2,785	—	—	1,497	2,785	—	83 13 11	83 13 11
	29 July	1,492	2,751	—	—	1,492	2,751	—	82 5 2	82 5 2
								—	83 4 5	83 4 5
DUBLIN, SOUTH	15 April	3,052	5,817	—	—	3,052	5,817	13 0 4	197 5 9	210 6 1
	22 April	3,022	5,764	—	—	3,022	5,764	13 1 10	195 12 7	208 14 5
	29 April	3,004	5,743	—	—	3,004	5,743	12 19 7	192 10 0	205 9 7
	6 May	3,003	5,736	—	—	3,003	5,736	12 19 8	193 2 6	206 2 2
	13 May	3,018	5,730	—	—	3,018	5,730	12 17 1	192 18 10	205 15 11
	20 May	3,045	5,767	—	—	3,045	5,767	12 17 7	192 4 7	205 2 2
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd.
	3 June	2,101	4,067	—	—	2,101	4,067	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	10 June	2,036	3,814	—	—	2,036	3,814	—	—	—
	17 June	2,627	4,797	—	—	2,627	4,797	12 9 9	161 7 10	173 17 7
	24 June	2,611	4,664	—	—	2,611	4,664	12 13 4	159 5 3	171 18 7
	1 July	2,641	4,688	—	—	2,641	4,688	12 17 8	161 12 7	174 10 9
	8 July	2,680	4,810	—	—	2,680	4,810	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	15 July	2,336	4,307	—	—	2,336	4,307	—	—	—
	22 July	2,782	5,101	—	—	2,782	5,101	12 4 0	146 3 3	158 7 3
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd.
DUNDALK	15 April	1,058	2,480	—	—	1,058	2,480	66 8 13	—	66 8 11
	22 April	1,038	2,467	—	—	1,038	2,467	65 1 1	—	65 1 1
	29 April	1,070	2,480	—	—	1,070	2,480	65 16 4	—	65 16 4
	6 May	1,040	2,402	—	—	1,040	2,402	63 13 7	—	63 13 7
	13 May	1,019	2,340	—	—	1,019	2,340	62 3 5	—	62 3 5
	20 May	985	2,245	—	—	985	2,245	59 6 7	—	59 6 7
	27 May	922	2,257	—	—	922	2,257	59 9 1	—	59 9 1
	3 June	956	2,209	—	—	956	2,209	57 18 11	—	57 18 11
	10 June	1,039	2,207	—	—	1,039	2,207	56 19 9	—	56 19 9
	17 June	969	2,230	—	—	969	2,230	57 2 1	—	57 2 1
	24 June	975	2,228	—	—	975	2,228	56 8 10	—	56 8 10
	1 July	974	2,212	—	—	974	2,212	56 6 7	—	56 6 7
	8 July	989	2,223	—	—	989	2,223	57 1 10	—	57 1 10
	15 July	955	2,171	—	—	955	2,171	55 15 0	—	55 15 0
	22 July	928	2,109	—	—	928	2,109	54 6 11	—	54 6 11
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd.
DUNFANAGHY	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
DUNGANNON	15 April	818	1,681	—	—	818	1,681	0 17 3	27 3 8	28 0 11
	22 April	783	1,591	—	—	783	1,591	0 14 2	26 3 7	26 17 9
	29 April	776	1,584	—	—	776	1,584	0 15 2	24 13 4	25 8 6
	6 May	775	1,574	—	—	775	1,574	0 14 8	25 1 3	25 15 11
	13 May	783	1,595	—	—	783	1,595	0 19 10	25 10 3	26 10 1
	20 May	776	1,572	—	—	776	1,572	0 16 2	23 0 10	23 17 0
	27 May	734	1,472	—	—	734	1,472	0 8 2	23 9 9	23 17 11
	3 June	735	1,504	—	—	735	1,504	0 8 2	23 10 4	23 18 6
	10 June	734	1,489	—	—	734	1,489	0 11 2	23 3 2	23 14 4
	17 June	741	1,488	—	—	741	1,488	0 11 2	24 9 7	25 0 9
	24 June	758	1,503	—	—	758	1,503	0 5 10	24 13 7	24 19 5
	1 July	746	1,484	—	—	746	1,484	0 1 6	23 16 0	23 17 6
	8 July	719	1,490	—	—	719	1,490	0 3 0	23 18 5	24 1 5
	15 July	741	1,461	—	—	741	1,461	—	22 17 3	22 17 3
	22 July	715	1,420	—	—	715	1,420	—	22 3 4	22 3 4
	29 July	710	1,396	—	—	710	1,396	0 1 6	22 2 0	22 3 6
DUNGARVAN	15 April	2,240	4,414	14	43	2,254	4,462	74 13 6	24 11 6	99 5 0
	22 April	2,401	4,747	24	73	2,425	4,820	77 11 2	28 4 9	105 15 11
	29 April	2,470	4,859	27	79	2,497	4,938	77 6 6	28 8 1	105 14 7
	6 May	2,461	4,836	34	96	2,495	4,932	75 5 4	27 12 7	102 17 11
	13 May	2,424	4,768	42	109	2,466	4,877	73 8 4	23 19 1	102 7 5
	20 May	2,346	4,735	34	90	2,380	4,825	75 15 8	27 17 2	103 12 10
	27 May	2,177	4,420	17	53	2,194	4,473	69 18 10	24 6 8	104 5 6
	3 June	2,243	4,584	14	47	2,257	4,631	74 1 0	35 7 6	109 8 6
	10 June	1,992	3,902	12	41	2,004	3,943	59 18 11	24 16 10	84 10 10
	17 June	1,978	3,859	12	41	1,990	3,900	62 6 4	26 4 11	88 11 3
	24 June	2,023	4,008	3	12	2,026	4,020	63 14 2	23 0 2	91 14 4
	1 July	1,903	3,713	3	11	1,906	3,724	64 11 2	23 9 10	94 1 0
	8 July	2,008	3,940	3	11	2,011	3,951	60 12 8	21 2 0	91 14 8
	15 July	2,021	3,926	3	11	2,024	3,937	61 4 11	33 9 9	94 14 8
	22 July	2,029	3,970	3	11	2,032	3,981	60 0 6	32 19 1	92 19 7
	29 July	1,903	3,700	3	11	1,906	3,711	55 7 7	32 5 1	87 12 8

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
DUNMANWAY.	15 April	1,065	2,755	342	587	1,407	8,342	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	22 April	959	2,717	127	265	1,086	2,982	—	79 8 3	79 8 3
	29 April	1,051	2,709	169	308	1,220	3,017	—	68 11 2	68 11 2
	6 May	1,041	2,662	159	289	1,200	2,951	—	68 2 2	68 2 2
	13 May	1,041	2,662	159	289	1,200	2,951	—	66 4 10	66 4 10
	20 May	746	1,866	93	166	839	2,032	—	66 4 10	66 4 10
	27 May	771	1,896	96	167	867	2,063	—	46 12 3	46 12 3
	3 June	687	1,985	90	162	777	2,147	—	46 11 9	46 11 9
	10 June	811	2,070	—	—	811	2,070	—	67 7 7	67 7 7
	17 June	860	2,238	—	—	860	2,238	—	65 7 0	65 7 0
	24 June	946	2,483	—	—	946	2,483	—	69 16 6	69 16 6
	1 July	1,080	2,859	—	—	1,080	2,859	—	76 15 10	76 15 10
	8 July	1,096	2,904	—	—	1,096	2,904	—	83 13 7	83 13 7
	15 July	1,091	2,826	—	—	1,091	2,826	—	88 9 2	88 9 2
	22 July	1,039	2,644	—	—	1,039	2,644	—	85 9 1	85 9 1
	29 July	737	1,798	—	—	737	1,798	—	81 14 9	81 14 9
								—	54 4 11	54 4 11
DUNSHABOHLIN.	15 April	447	869	142	330	589	1,199	—	37 7 10	37 7 10
	22 April	430	780	68	136	498	916	—	33 3 8	33 3 8
	29 April	426	820	70	144	496	964	—	32 0 0	32 0 0
	6 May	423	809	73	154	496	963	—	33 0 2	33 0 2
	13 May	418	812	71	154	489	966	—	33 0 2	33 0 2
	20 May	393	768	87	209	480	977	—	34 0 6	34 0 6
	27 May	392	781	77	182	469	963	—	32 19 0	32 19 0
	3 June	397	770	77	183	474	953	—	33 11 11	33 11 11
	10 June	410	748	79	189	489	937	—	35 1 7	35 1 7
	17 June	422	772	78	189	500	961	—	36 2 2	36 2 2
	24 June	428	789	79	192	507	981	—	36 3 3	36 3 3
	1 July	391	727	36	91	427	818	—	38 15 3	38 15 3
	8 July	410	812	—	—	410	812	—	33 19 6	33 19 6
	15 July	357	686	—	—	357	686	—	31 16 6	31 16 6
	22 July	370	725	—	—	370	725	—	29 7 8	29 7 8
	29 July	366	722	—	—	366	722	—	30 3 3	30 3 3
								—	29 6 3	29 6 3
EDENDERRY.	15 April	413	872	—	—	413	872	27 19 8	0 4 2	28 3 10
	22 April	418	808	—	—	418	808	28 17 4	—	28 17 4
	29 April	431	928	—	—	431	928	28 13 11	—	28 12 11
	6 May	412	852	—	—	412	852	27 17 2	—	27 17 2
	13 May	412	852	—	—	412	852	27 17 2	—	27 17 2
	20 May	414	810	—	—	414	810	26 19 11	—	26 19 11
	27 May	404	817	—	—	404	817	27 9 5	—	27 9 5
	3 June	415	836	—	—	415	836	26 17 1	0 3 6	27 0 7
	10 June	436	883	—	—	436	883	33 15 8	—	33 15 8
	17 June	428	872	—	—	428	872	33 10 6	—	33 10 6
	24 June	428	872	—	—	428	872	33 10 6	—	33 10 6
	1 July	443	929	—	—	443	929	33 4 2	0 9 0	33 13 2
	8 July	436	896	—	—	436	896	31 18 8	0 5 0	32 3 8
	15 July	419	839	—	—	419	839	31 19 0	0 8 8	32 7 8
	22 July	412	833	—	—	412	833	31 12 0	0 2 6	31 14 6
	29 July	414	831	—	—	414	831	31 16 10	—	31 16 10
ENNIS.	15 April	4,131	9,524	3,127	9,086	7,258	18,610	4 4 7	513 11 3	517 15 10
	22 April	3,900	8,968	3,328	9,779	7,228	18,747	4 10 2	496 17 4	501 7 6
	29 April	3,937	9,095	3,402	9,761	7,339	18,856	3 19 9	514 7 9	518 7 6
	6 May	3,941	8,773	3,510	10,124	7,451	18,897	4 9 0	531 6 10	535 15 10
	13 May	3,905	8,725	3,417	9,900	7,322	18,625	6 4 8	525 14 8	531 19 4
	20 May	3,906	8,841	2,970	9,377	6,876	18,118	4 1 9	498 11 3	502 13 0
	27 May	3,927	9,081	2,818	8,545	6,745	17,628	6 6 1	483 15 1	490 1 2
	3 June	3,871	9,002	2,713	8,227	6,584	17,229	7 17 10	470 8 6	478 6 4
	10 June	3,907	9,068	2,665	8,184	6,572	17,252	8 13 9	468 2 5	476 16 2
	17 June	3,958	9,187	2,944	8,039	6,902	17,226	9 0 10	468 7 4	477 8 2
	24 June	4,071	9,585	2,948	7,948	7,019	17,533	9 0 10	475 9 4	484 10 2
	1 July	3,873	9,323	2,506	7,605	6,379	16,928	8 17 2	461 3 0	470 0 2
	8 July	4,140	10,051	2,560	7,842	6,700	17,893	9 14 6	454 0 11	463 15 5
	15 July	4,114	9,979	2,487	7,650	6,601	17,629	9 9 3	440 16 1	450 5 4
	22 July	4,055	9,827	2,402	7,386	6,457	17,213	8 13 10	433 7 3	442 1 1
	29 July	3,985	9,566	2,352	6,999	6,337	16,565	9 1 2	406 17 2	415 10 4
ENNISCORTHY.	15 April	1,054	2,535	524	1,483	1,578	4,018	78 9 1	84 16 1	163 5 2
	22 April	1,677	3,994	565	1,681	2,242	5,675	85 15 8	77 2 3	162 17 11
	29 April	1,669	3,737	579	1,857	2,248	5,594	73 18 8	88 13 0	157 11 8
	6 May	1,677	4,109	608	1,993	2,285	6,107	76 14 1	86 0 1	162 14 2
	13 May	1,351	3,187	389	1,119	1,740	4,306	59 5 9	63 2 9	122 8 6
	20 May	1,674	4,083	606	1,943	2,283	6,026	80 16 6	79 0 10	159 17 4
	27 May	1,445	3,297	368	990	1,813	4,287	73 18 9	50 9 5	124 3 2
	3 June	1,455	2,906	343	887	7,098	3,798	57 10 0	65 3 4	122 13 4
	10 June	1,463	2,982	341	878	1,804	3,860	69 7 5	56 3 3	125 10 8
	17 June	1,469	3,005	340	874	1,809	3,879	67 7 1	58 8 4	125 15 5
	24 June	1,473	3,025	332	850	1,804	3,875	48 8 6	81 2 1	129 10 7
	1 July	1,304	2,597	285	736	1,589	3,333	33 7 2	86 15 6	120 2 8
	8 July	1,306	2,716	284	731	1,590	3,447	17 13 7	95 11 10	118 10 5
	15 July	1,325	2,765	292	748	1,617	3,513	19 16 10	94 0 6	113 17 4
	22 July	1,324	2,817	271	456	1,595	3,273	44 16 6	62 17 3	107 13 9
	29 July	1,263	2,653	286	703	1,549	3,555	20 18 9	74 5 6	95 4 3
ENNISKILLEN.	15 April	1,923	3,828	193	426	2,116	4,254	96 4 4	—	96 4 4
	22 April	1,873	3,757	169	367	2,042	4,124	4 6 10	90 12 6	94 19 4
	29 April	1,873	3,728	163	359	2,041	4,087	—	92 13 7	92 13 7
	6 May	1,857	3,688	170	370	2,037	4,058	—	91 7 5	91 7 5
	13 May	1,560	3,129	143	308	1,703	3,437	—	69 3 11	69 3 11
	20 May	1,599	3,342	156	338	1,855	3,680	—	80 12 1	80 12 1
	27 May	1,495	3,010	146	323	1,641	3,333	—	90 13 6	90 13 6
	3 June	1,824	3,685	153	357	1,982	4,042	—	90 7 5	90 7 5
	10 June	1,848	3,822	170	416	2,013	4,238	—	92 2 3	92 2 3
	17 June	1,850	3,815	159	389	2,009	4,204	—	93 13 7	93 13 7
	24 June	1,871	3,878	158	381	2,029	4,254	—	90 13 0	90 13 0
	1 July	1,839	3,824	173	473	2,012	4,297	—	85 12 10	85 12 10

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
ENNISKILLEN (continued)	8 July	1,828	3,840	181	498	2,009	4,338	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	15 July	1,807	3,763	177	490	1,984	4,253	—	89 18 11	89 18 11
	22 July	1,789	3,742	177	490	1,966	4,232	—	94 3 6	94 3 6
	29 July	1,759	3,578	163	474	1,922	4,052	—	85 1 0	85 1 0
ENNISTYMON	15 April	2,083	4,408	3,606	9,277	5,689	13,685	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	22 April	2,159	4,639	3,859	9,834	6,058	14,523	—	—	—
	29 April	2,305	4,926	4,085	10,137	6,390	15,063	—	—	—
	6 May	2,971	6,919	5,691	13,476	8,662	20,395	7 0 4	444 3 1	451 3 5	Cost not stated.
	13 May	3,428	7,159	6,267	8,531	9,695	15,690	11 0 9	457 16 13	468 16 10
	20 May	1,815	3,772	4,038	8,902	5,853	12,674	—	—	—
	27 May	2,979	6,088	5,898	11,051	8,787	17,939	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	3 June	2,968	7,078	6,047	13,839	9,015	20,917	13 5 0	456 13 9	469 18 9
	10 June	2,982	6,573	5,597	12,633	8,459	19,206	—	—	—
	17 June	3,062	7,328	6,403	14,718	9,465	22,046	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	24 June	3,101	7,362	6,307	14,363	9,528	21,725	—	—	—
	1 July	3,192	7,406	6,351	14,370	9,543	21,776	16 10 1	474 4 10	490 14 11
	8 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not rec'd. Cost not stated.
	15 July	2,553	5,696	4,767	11,213	7,320	16,909	—	—	—
	22 July	3,265	7,686	6,101	13,699	9,396	21,385	17 13 1	471 18 10	489 11 11
	29 July	3,229	7,678	5,992	13,419	9,221	21,097	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
FERMOY	15 April	4,623	12,153	281	553	4,904	12,708	9 12 10	286 17 10	296 10 8
	22 April	4,666	12,309	292	558	4,958	12,867	7 12 0	290 17 2	298 9 2
	29 April	4,709	12,482	283	516	4,997	12,998	6 19 4	292 0 8	299 0 1
	6 May	3,992	10,584	275	507	4,267	11,091	4 8 2	258 14 9	263 2 11
	13 May	4,690	12,386	287	502	4,977	12,888	3 12 11	235 16 0	239 8 11
	20 May	4,611	12,106	289	487	4,900	12,673	3 2 9	231 6 3	234 9 0
	27 May	3,754	9,935	278	480	4,032	10,423	3 7 2	223 16 8	227 3 10
	3 June	4,364	11,502	278	512	4,637	12,014	3 12 1	249 9 0	253 1 1
	10 June	4,472	11,958	308	600	4,780	12,558	2 16 8	269 11 0	272 8 3
	17 June	4,521	12,112	321	638	4,842	12,750	3 7 4	284 6 0	287 13 5
	24 June	4,609	12,500	316	614	4,925	13,114	2 19 10	309 4 8	312 4 6
	1 July	4,697	12,831	307	544	5,004	13,375	3 13 6	309 4 3	312 17 9
	8 July	4,765	12,982	334	654	5,099	13,646	3 5 1	300 4 9	303 9 10
	15 July	4,743	12,866	320	590	5,063	13,576	4 18 7	291 19 7	296 18 2
	22 July	4,788	13,090	317	587	5,055	13,677	3 6 11	289 8 7	292 15 6
	29 July	4,707	13,036	322	584	5,029	13,620	3 9 7	298 4 0	301 13 7
GALWAY	15 April	3,303	8,289	7,411	16,294	10,714	24,533	0 10 6	576 2 6	576 13 0
	22 April	3,482	8,660	7,673	17,429	11,155	26,089	0 7 0	607 15 4	608 2 4
	29 April	3,581	9,007	7,765	17,405	11,346	26,412	0 6 6	605 11 1	605 17 7
	6 May	3,774	9,439	7,601	16,469	11,375	25,906	0 0 6	614 3 2	614 3 8
	13 May	3,823	9,442	7,830	17,301	11,652	26,743	0 0 6	605 0 1	605 0 7
	20 May	3,920	9,704	7,973	17,523	11,893	27,227	0 1 8	634 0 3	634 1 11
	27 May	3,962	9,709	7,920	17,201	11,822	26,910	0 0 6	637 10 6	637 11 0
	3 June	3,997	10,239	8,290	17,985	12,257	28,244	0 1 6	755 6 6	755 8 0
	10 June	3,980	10,533	8,596	19,050	12,576	29,503	—	815 0 5	815 0 5
	17 June	4,094	10,837	9,050	20,260	13,144	31,097	—	796 6 3	796 6 3
	24 June	4,128	10,939	8,921	20,414	13,049	31,353	—	805 14 3	805 14 3
	1 July	4,178	11,122	9,155	21,069	13,333	32,191	—	822 8 8	822 8 8
	8 July	4,204	11,095	9,046	20,623	13,250	31,718	—	841 9 6	841 9 6
	15 July	4,208	11,147	9,060	20,549	13,268	31,696	0 15 0	839 14 5	840 9 5
	22 July	4,157	11,382	8,715	20,326	12,872	31,708	—	844 2 10	844 2 10
	29 July	4,198	11,609	8,364	20,057	12,562	31,066	—	940 2 6	940 2 6
GLENIES	15 April	2,132	3,064	406	1,033	2,628	4,097	—	116 14 3	116 14 3
	22 April	1,585	3,568	416	1,031	2,001	4,599	114 7 6	—	114 7 6
	29 April	1,317	2,737	301	775	1,618	3,512	—	90 13 1	90 13 1
	6 May	1,290	2,670	278	679	1,568	3,349	—	85 1 3	85 1 3
	13 May	841	1,589	168	369	1,069	1,928	—	48 11 0	48 11 8
	20 May	1,054	2,102	231	538	1,285	2,640	—	66 5 11	66 5 11
	27 May	1,306	2,891	319	927	1,625	3,818	—	89 17 10	89 17 10
	3 June	1,388	3,061	328	923	1,716	3,989	—	94 7 5	94 7 5
	10 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not received.
	17 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	24 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	1 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not received.
	8 July	1,559	3,646	1,406	2,883	2,965	6,528	—	223 18 1	223 18 1
	15 July	2,031	4,082	1,886	3,331	3,917	7,413	—	245 0 10	245 0 10
	22 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not received.
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
GOREY	15 April	993	2,105	43	85	1,036	2,190	66 8 2	2 6 5	68 9 7
	22 April	985	2,083	32	82	1,017	2,145	66 9 9	1 9 0	67 18 9
	29 April	995	2,125	41	76	1,036	2,201	66 16 3	2 7 4	69 3 7
	6 May	1,023	2,224	48	96	1,071	2,320	67 8 11	3 6 0	70 14 11
	13 May	1,062	2,290	44	86	1,106	2,376	69 12 7	2 17 5	72 10 0
	20 May	1,082	2,333	55	100	1,137	2,433	69 19 11	3 19 9	73 19 8
	27 May	1,072	2,286	48	95	1,120	2,331	69 17 11	3 16 11	73 14 7
	3 June	1,127	2,472	50	96	1,177	2,568	72 1 3	5 9 0	77 10 3
	10 June	1,186	2,607	82	247	1,268	2,914	73 5 4	16 18 1	90 3 5
	17 June	1,168	2,470	64	141	1,232	2,611	76 13 3	12 13 11	89 7 2
	24 June	1,194	2,614	78	179	1,373	2,793	75 16 9	12 8 10	15 15 7
	1 July	1,216	2,682	77	174	1,393	2,856	78 4 11	12 1 2	90 6 1
	8 July	1,189	2,567	70	175	1,259	2,742	76 7 4	9 14 4	86 1 8
	15 July	1,184	2,549	71	174	1,255	2,723	74 16 10	9 2 3	83 19 1
	22 July	1,174	2,458	68	172	1,242	2,630	74 2 7	9 7 3	83 9 10
	29 July	1,157	2,461	63	184	1,220	2,595	73 8 5	8 11 9	82 0 2
GORT	15 April	1,043	2,641	4,319	8,087	5,362	10,728	13 4 6	333 1 4	346 5 10
	22 April	1,055	2,716	4,345	8,148	5,400	10,864	16 0 2	280 19 11	297 0 1
	29 April	1,062	2,724	4,289	8,187	5,351	10,911	16 9 10	266 1 5	282 11 3
	6 May	1,041	2,648	4,163	7,959	5,204	10,607	12 18 7	262 2 6	275 1 1
	13 May	1,032	2,689	4,074	7,709	5,106	10,398	9 16 6	250 4 9	260 1 3
	20 May	1,011	2,552	3,487	6,962	4,498	9,514	6 7 0	231 3 6	237 10 6
	27 May	968	2,409	3,329	6,040	4,297	8,449	5 16 10	219 4 1	225 0 11

Return of Persons receiving Out-Door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
GORT (continued).	3 June	937	2,424	3,214	5,984	4,151	8,408	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	10 June	955	2,471	3,128	6,020	4,083	8,491	4 2 11	221 15 11	225 18 10
	17 June	980	2,598	3,082	5,941	4,062	8,539	5 0 1	222 14 11	227 14 21
	24 June	1,004	2,738	3,332	6,183	4,336	8,921	4 5 0	228 12 21	232 17 21
	1 July	1,019	2,764	3,311	6,201	4,330	8,965	3 7 6	235 19 11	239 7 5
	8 July	1,034	2,709	3,370	6,305	4,404	9,014	2 7 6	236 0 31	238 7 91
	15 July	1,054	2,730	3,352	6,233	4,406	8,963	1 17 6	238 17 41	240 14 101
	22 July	980	2,556	3,199	5,940	4,179	8,496	0 19 0	240 15 21	241 14 21
	29 July	941	2,394	2,953	5,671	3,893	8,065	0 12 0	227 17 01	258 9 01
								0 9 0	214 1 111	214 10 111
GORTIN	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
GRANARD	15 April	1,730	3,777	247	484	1,977	4,261	0 15 0	155 10 5	156 5 5
	22 April	2,163	5,144	399	1,186	2,562	6,330	0 14 6	168 0 01	168 14 61
	29 April	2,078	4,594	587	1,643	2,645	6,237	0 12 6	162 13 71	163 6 11
	6 May	2,012	4,497	684	2,025	2,696	6,522	0 8 0	166 13 71	167 1 71
	13 May	2,089	4,594	743	2,177	2,832	6,771	0 13 0	171 5 01	171 18 01
	20 May	2,125	4,703	878	2,436	2,998	7,139	0 13 0	182 17 21	183 10 21
	27 May	2,125	4,725	862	2,414	2,987	7,139	0 8 0	187 9 21	187 17 21
	3 June	2,041	4,642	1,029	2,800	3,070	7,442	0 7 0	189 7 11	189 14 11
	10 June	2,044	4,562	1,076	2,812	3,120	7,374	0 8 6	191 17 01	192 5 61
	17 June	2,042	4,558	1,111	2,889	3,153	7,447	0 15 8	191 19 11	192 14 91
	24 June	2,041	4,571	1,070	2,849	3,114	7,420	0 15 10	190 18 8	191 14 6
	1 July	2,015	4,556	1,042	2,861	3,057	7,417	0 12 10	189 1 41	189 14 21
	8 July	2,005	4,428	1,070	2,912	3,075	7,340	0 12 0	187 9 31	188 1 31
	15 July	1,965	4,309	936	2,499	2,901	6,808	0 7 0	175 13 81	176 0 81
	22 July	1,849	3,895	282	564	2,131	4,449	0 13 6	121 13 61	122 9 01
	29 July	1,824	3,876	519	1,036	2,343	4,912	0 12 0	184 17 51	185 9 51
INISHOWEN	15 April	290	498	—	—	290	498	0 8 1	10 19 2	11 7 3
	22 April	289	550	—	—	289	550	0 8 4	12 1 4	12 9 8
	29 April	308	602	—	—	308	602	0 2 6	13 10 6	13 13 0
	6 May	333	656	—	—	333	656	0 6 9	14 7 2	14 13 11
	13 May	361	731	—	—	361	731	0 3 9	15 17 7	16 1 4
	20 May	387	734	—	—	387	734	0 2 6	17 10 2	17 13 8
	27 May	356	696	—	—	356	696	0 1 6	15 2 10	15 4 4
	3 June	328	618	—	—	328	618	0 1 6	13 12 1	13 13 7
	10 June	348	633	—	—	348	633	0 3 1	13 19 0	14 2 1
	17 June	306	532	—	—	306	532	0 1 0	11 14 5	11 15 5
	24 June	320	597	—	—	320	597	—	12 12 0	12 12 0
	1 July	314	547	—	—	314	547	0 2 6	12 5 4	12 7 10
	8 July	369	711	—	—	369	711	0 3 4	15 11 7	15 14 11
	15 July	337	591	—	—	337	591	0 0 6	13 5 11	13 6 5
	22 July	347	616	—	—	347	616	—	13 17 11	13 17 11
	29 July	363	649	—	—	363	649	0 1 0	14 11 9	14 12 9
KANTURK	15 April	4,377	11,346	1,261	3,644	5,638	14,990	—	260 2 3	260 2 3
	22 April	3,748	9,843	1,132	3,398	4,880	13,231	—	230 12 111	230 12 111
	29 April	3,564	9,474	1,139	3,311	4,703	12,785	—	219 13 0	219 13 0
	6 May	3,504	9,685	1,194	3,408	4,758	13,088	—	217 10 01	217 10 01
	13 May	3,498	9,530	1,141	3,329	4,639	12,859	—	220 9 61	220 9 61
	20 May	3,379	9,185	1,122	3,283	4,501	12,468	—	213 18 2	213 18 2
	27 May	3,417	9,493	1,164	3,579	4,581	12,872	—	218 6 101	218 6 101
	3 June	3,438	9,424	1,143	3,440	4,581	12,864	—	226 10 51	226 10 51
	10 June	3,453	9,588	1,249	3,760	4,702	13,148	—	269 19 7	269 19 7
	17 June	3,447	9,259	1,180	3,496	4,577	12,755	—	274 7 61	274 7 61
	24 June	3,444	9,228	1,152	3,546	4,596	12,774	—	277 16 31	277 16 31
	1 July	3,382	9,219	1,184	3,609	4,566	12,828	—	281 10 41	281 10 41
	8 July	3,357	9,167	1,154	3,571	4,511	12,738	—	277 19 61	277 19 61
	15 July	3,228	8,571	1,933	4,547	5,160	13,118	—	275 19 31	275 19 31
	22 July	3,197	8,499	1,907	4,448	5,104	12,947	—	281 17 5	281 17 5
	29 July	3,110	8,963	1,089	3,489	4,199	12,452	—	273 5 41	273 5 41
KELLS	15 April	721	1,512	8	16	729	1,528	0 8 0	50 2 31	50 10 31
	22 April	718	1,531	16	26	734	1,557	0 5 10	48 4 91	48 10 71
	29 April	735	1,531	17	27	752	1,558	0 7 8	46 6 01	46 13 81
	6 May	729	1,485	17	31	746	1,516	0 9 0	41 19 51	42 8 51
	13 May	711	1,482	16	25	727	1,507	0 17 10	36 11 51	37 9 31
	20 May	743	1,544	16	26	759	1,570	0 7 6	35 18 11	36 4 51
	27 May	689	1,414	15	25	704	1,439	0 0 2	34 18 51	34 18 71
	3 June	687	1,414	17	27	704	1,441	—	34 13 31	34 13 31
	10 June	689	1,397	20	36	709	1,433	0 7 0	34 3 31	34 10 31
	17 June	690	1,392	16	26	706	1,418	0 4 0	34 2 9	34 6 9
	24 June	708	1,452	22	44	730	1,496	0 6 0	34 16 21	35 2 21
	1 July	694	1,429	22	44	716	1,473	0 1 6	34 14 51	34 15 111
	8 July	699	1,402	23	48	722	1,450	0 6 6	35 5 41	35 11 101
	15 July	702	1,449	23	49	725	1,498	0 5 6	35 7 101	35 13 41
	22 July	684	1,406	35	78	719	1,484	0 5 6	35 2 101	35 8 41
	29 July	686	1,407	34	77	720	1,484	0 3 0	35 2 2	35 5 2
KENMARE	15 April	3,166	8,644	293	318	3,459	3,962	5 0 0	133 17 11	133 17 11
	22 April	3,145	3,767	296	341	3,441	4,108	4 17 0	134 2 71	138 19 71
	29 April	3,151	3,774	386	474	3,537	4,248	3 14 2	136 4 4	139 18 6
	6 May	3,181	3,774	478	660	3,659	4,434	2 16 3	149 8 5	152 5 1
	13 May	3,259	3,943	556	644	3,815	4,587	2 8 6	161 7 9	163 16 3
	20 May	3,321	3,893	637	702	3,958	4,595	4 9 6	154 6 7	158 16 1
	27 May	3,321	3,893	693	782	4,014	4,675	4 6 6	154 8 4	158 14 10
	3 June	4,181	5,701	596	951	4,777	6,652	4 5 0	171 4 9	175 9 9
	10 June	4,225	5,416	1,045	1,340	5,370	6,756	4 5 91	188 16 21	193 2 0
	17 June	4,301	5,629	1,090	1,425	5,391	7,054	2 9 0	190 12 0	193 1 0
	24 June	4,386	5,754	1,131	1,546	5,517	7,300	2 16 0	179 6 51	182 2 51
	1 July	4,386	5,744	1,131	1,546	5,517	7,290	3 4 1	191 17 41	195 1 51
	8 July	4,386	5,744	1,048	1,409	5,434	7,153	2 18 6	182 6 10	185 5 4
	15 July	4,386	5,745	1,108	1,409	5,494	7,154	2 17 3	178 18 7	181 11 3
	22 July	4,568	5,752	1,133	1,420	5,701	7,172	6 1 7	178 8 1	184 9 8
	29 July	4,334	5,604	993	1,244	5,927	6,848	3 10 3	169 6 71	162 16 101

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
KILKEEL . . .	15 April	106	203	—	—	106	203	£ 0 2 6	4 1 1½	4 3 7½
	22 April	107	207	—	—	107	207	0 2 6	3 15 1	3 17 7
	29 April	98	166	—	—	93	166	0 2 6	3 9 5½	3 11 11½
	6 May	91	162	—	—	91	162	0 2 6	3 8 10½	3 11 4½
	13 May	95	164	—	—	95	164	0 2 6	3 9 11½	3 12 5½
	20 May	93	164	—	—	93	164	0 2 6	3 9 2½	3 11 8½
	27 May	94	163	—	—	94	162	0 2 3	3 8 8	3 11 4
	3 June	98	187	—	—	98	187	—	3 15 3½	3 15 3½
	10 June	97	177	—	—	97	177	0 0 4	3 12 8½	3 13 0½
	17 June	92	165	—	—	92	165	0 1 1½	3 9 3	3 10 3
	24 June	93	161	—	—	93	161	0 0 1½	3 9 7½	3 9 9½
	1 July	98	174	—	—	98	174	0 3 10	3 14 9½	3 18 7½
	8 July	94	170	—	—	94	170	—	3 14 0	3 14 0
	15 July	92	165	—	—	92	165	0 2 6	3 12 5½	3 14 11½
	22 July	93	170	—	—	93	170	0 0 2	3 12 8	3 13 10
	29 July	92	167	—	—	92	167	0 0 6	3 12 0	3 12 6
KILKENNY . . .	15 April	3,349	7,135	198	295	3,547	7,430	207 6 0	9 8 6½	216 14 6½
	22 April	3,310	7,082	142	237	3,452	7,319	202 19 8	15 4 0	218 3 8
	29 April	3,273	7,041	142	229	3,415	7,270	196 8 5½	15 12 8½	212 1 1½
	6 May	3,215	6,923	85	68	3,250	6,991	189 14 1½	12 11 4	202 5 5½
	13 May	3,143	6,704	37	77	3,180	6,781	184 2 8	13 9 6½	197 12 2½
	20 May	3,100	6,603	35	74	3,135	6,677	175 9 7½	17 4 7	192 14 2½
	27 May	3,105	6,456	36	78	3,141	6,534	171 19 3	21 12 9½	193 12 0½
	3 June	3,088	6,439	30	47	3,118	6,486	170 7 2½	25 1 4½	195 8 7
	10 June	3,041	6,347	34	45	3,075	6,392	168 3 7	22 0 2½	190 3 9½
	17 June	3,027	6,327	31	39	3,058	6,366	167 12 1	21 14 7½	189 6 8½
	24 June	3,054	6,392	31	39	3,085	6,431	169 11 9	21 13 4	191 5 1
	1 July	3,116	6,412	32	40	3,148	6,452	168 18 9	23 16 7½	192 15 4½
	8 July	3,068	6,379	32	39	3,100	6,410	167 6 4	23 17 11½	191 4 3½
	15 July	3,069	6,418	31	40	3,100	6,458	168 1 7	24 18 5½	192 15 0½
	22 July	3,056	6,371	31	45	3,087	6,416	168 7 3	24 6 8½	192 13 11½
	29 July	3,064	6,390	27	33	3,091	6,423	168 10 0½	25 13 5½	194 3 6
KILLARNEY . . .	15 April	4,017	11,423	423	1,319	4,440	12,742	—	333 5 5½	339 5 5½
	22 April	3,330	8,501	343	1,119	3,673	9,620	—	244 12 4½	244 12 4½
	29 April	3,429	8,758	358	1,146	3,787	9,904	—	259 7 0	259 7 0
	6 May	3,482	8,988	419	1,420	3,901	10,408	—	268 14 9	268 14 9
	13 May	3,513	9,085	376	1,152	3,889	10,237	—	283 2 9	283 2 9
	20 May	3,572	9,341	364	1,088	3,936	10,429	—	279 16 7½	279 16 7½
	27 May	3,615	9,552	382	1,158	3,997	10,710	—	287 14 2½	287 14 2½
	3 June	3,649	9,440	361	993	4,010	10,433	—	316 14 10½	316 14 10½
	10 June	3,384	8,387	344	972	3,724	9,359	—	320 9 9½	320 9 9½
	17 June	3,358	8,092	335	912	3,693	9,004	—	292 9 8½	292 9 8½
	24 June	3,399	8,143	334	892	3,733	9,035	—	274 10 6½	274 10 6½
	1 July	3,478	8,404	346	931	3,924	9,335	—	284 14 7½	284 14 7½
	8 July	3,508	8,499	355	174	3,863	9,478	—	278 14 4	278 14 4
	15 July	3,420	8,235	348	964	3,769	9,199	—	276 6 11½	276 6 11½
	22 July	3,468	7,917	328	912	3,796	8,829	—	266 9 5½	266 9 5½
	29 July	3,435	8,072	353	948	3,788	9,020	—	274 10 6½	274 10 6½
KILMALLOCK . . .	15 April	5,680	13,984	598	1,810	6,278	15,294	0 4 7	319 9 4½	319 13 11½
	22 April	5,826	14,515	690	1,667	6,516	16,182	0 7 7	357 17 3	358 4 10
	29 April	5,876	14,647	691	1,688	6,567	16,335	0 8 0	370 2 7	370 10 7
	6 May	6,074	14,724	700	1,519	6,774	16,243	0 6 9	370 16 2½	371 2 11½
	13 May	6,084	14,221	669	1,490	6,753	15,711	0 14 11	380 2 1½	380 17 0½
	20 May	6,026	14,616	794	1,756	6,820	16,372	0 8 3	384 18 5½	385 1 8½
	27 May	5,880	14,226	791	1,822	6,671	16,048	0 11 11	396 16 1	397 7 0
	3 June	6,006	14,064	797	1,852	6,803	15,916	1 9 9	407 19 10½	409 9 7½
	10 June	5,801	13,953	769	1,717	6,570	15,670	3 6 0	389 13 7½	392 19 7½
	17 June	5,605	13,383	750	1,725	6,355	15,108	0 9 3	387 9 5	387 13 8
	24 June	5,598	13,711	746	1,752	6,344	15,463	0 9 8	394 5 10	394 15 1
	1 July	5,523	14,304	769	1,784	6,291	16,038	0 9 3	391 8 11½	391 18 2½
	8 July	5,496	14,217	733	1,637	6,229	15,854	1 7 2	388 6 7	389 13 9
	15 July	5,377	14,066	720	1,577	6,097	15,643	0 15 0	337 13 11	338 8 11
	22 July	5,235	13,712	668	1,448	5,903	15,160	1 17 10	317 14 9½	318 12 7½
	29 July	4,920	12,723	612	1,303	5,532	14,026	1 2 8	293 9 4½	294 12 0½
KILRUSH . . .	15 April	2,099	5,021	404	952	2,503	5,973	7 3 3	175 7 6½	182 10 9½
	22 April	5,348	15,981	—	—	5,348	1,6981	—	345 10 0	345 10 0
	29 April	6,021	17,614	—	—	6,021	1,7814	—	418 5 5½	418 5 5½
	6 May	6,136	18,606	—	—	6,136	18,606	—	489 11 10	489 11 10
	13 May	3,831	10,461	1,517	6,107	5,348	16,568	—	423 1 3½	423 1 3½
	20 May	4,163	11,223	1,713	6,501	5,876	17,804	—	398 19 9	398 19 9
	27 May	4,241	8,972	1,710	5,732	5,951	14,704	—	388 4 3½	388 4 3½
	3 June	4,265	9,792	1,762	5,664	6,027	15,456	—	430 12 9	430 12 9
	10 June	4,305	11,522	1,807	6,429	6,112	17,951	—	409 16 8½	409 16 8½
	17 June	4,394	12,098	1,957	7,074	6,351	19,172	—	446 10 9½	446 10 9½
	24 June	3,994	10,915	1,642	6,082	5,636	16,997	—	—	—
	1 July	4,441	12,394	1,919	6,675	6,360	19,069	—	423 3 8½	422 3 8½	Cost not stated.
	8 July	4,714	13,314	1,938	7,487	6,652	20,801	—	430 13 4½	430 13 4½
	15 July	4,825	11,532	1,945	6,796	6,770	18,268	—	484 11 5½	484 11 5½
	22 July	4,843	12,277	1,991	7,279	6,834	19,556	—	481 10 6	481 10 6
	29 July	4,766	12,290	1,827	7,073	6,598	19,363	—	465 19 6½	465 19 6½
KINSALE . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
LARNE . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
LETTERKENNY . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
LIMERICK . . .	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd.
	22 April	4,109	8,526	—	—	4,109	8,526	312 5 10	—	312 5 10
	29 April	4,166	8,702	—	—	4,166	8,702	315 19 5	—	315 19 5
	6 May	4,241	8,801	—	—	4,241	8,801	319 10 1	—	319 10 1
	13 May	3,904	8,438	—	—	3,904	8,438	304 8 3	—	304 8 3

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
LIMERICK (continued)	20 May	3,881	8,425	—	—	3,881	8,425	£ s. d. 306 7 9	—	£ s. d. 306 7 9	No out-door relief.
	27 May	3,865	8,542	—	—	3,865	8,542	301 12 7	—	301 12 7
	3 June	3,850	8,499	—	—	3,850	8,499	302 3 7	—	302 3 7
	10 June	3,825	8,467	—	—	3,825	8,467	298 18 4	—	298 18 4
	17 June	3,787	8,533	—	—	3,787	8,533	301 5 11	—	301 5 11
	24 June	3,913	8,858	—	—	3,913	8,858	308 5 4	—	308 5 4
	1 July	4,029	9,174	—	—	4,029	9,174	321 7 2	—	321 7 2
	8 July	4,134	9,516	—	—	4,134	9,516	331 16 0	—	331 16 0
	15 July	4,336	9,781	—	—	4,336	9,781	339 10 6	—	339 10 6
	22 July	4,256	9,976	—	—	4,256	9,976	344 10 3	—	344 10 3
	29 July	4,274	10,000	—	—	4,274	10,000	343 15 6	—	343 15 6
LISBURN	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
LISMORE	15 April	724	1,694	—	—	724	1,694	46 5 9	—	46 5 9
	22 April	769	1,924	—	—	769	1,924	49 1 9	—	49 1 9
	29 April	811	1,906	—	—	811	1,986	51 18 2	—	51 18 2
	6 May	845	2,250	—	—	845	2,350	56 19 5	—	56 19 5
	13 May	987	2,462	—	—	987	2,452	62 17 1½	—	62 17 1½
	20 May	1,045	2,575	—	—	1,045	2,575	67 1 5	—	67 1 5
	27 May	1,140	2,865	—	—	1,140	2,865	71 17 1	—	71 17 1
	3 June	1,182	3,096	—	—	1,182	3,096	73 10 8	—	73 10 8
	10 June	1,195	2,929	—	—	1,195	2,929	—	73 7 2	73 7 2
	17 June	1,213	2,915	—	—	1,213	2,915	71 18 7	—	71 18 7
	24 June	1,174	2,746	—	—	1,174	2,746	69 10 10	—	69 10 10
	1 July	1,140	2,633	—	—	1,140	2,633	66 0 4½	—	66 0 4½
LISNASKEL	8 July	1,054	2,389	—	—	1,054	2,389	61 18 11½	—	61 18 11½	No out-door relief.
	15 July	932	2,115	—	—	932	2,115	38 17 0	15 5 10½	54 2 10½
	22 July	840	1,948	—	—	840	1,948	38 11 4	8 14 11	47 6 3
	29 July	746	1,779	—	—	746	1,779	36 19 5	8 14 5½	45 13 10½
LISNASKEL	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
LISTOWE	15 April	3,151	7,349	1,881	5,936	5,032	13,285	—	335 8 5½	335 8 5½
	22 April	3,186	7,522	1,826	5,733	5,012	13,255	—	352 10 4½	352 10 4½
	29 April	3,204	7,242	1,361	3,874	4,565	11,116	—	289 14 10	289 14 10
	6 May	3,255	7,674	1,262	3,580	4,517	11,254	—	290 10 9	290 10 9
	13 May	3,300	7,832	1,240	3,498	4,540	11,330	—	294 8 10	294 8 10
	20 May	3,337	7,957	1,242	3,511	4,579	11,468	0 5 8	329 17 10½	330 3 6½
	27 May	3,474	8,153	1,248	3,551	4,722	12,004	0 1 8	354 17 5½	354 19 1½
	3 June	3,494	8,097	2,131	7,192	5,625	15,289	0 4 0	467 6 9	467 10 9
	10 June	3,679	8,478	3,259	10,498	6,938	18,971	—	559 14 3½	559 14 3½
	17 June	3,753	8,632	3,692	11,103	7,445	19,735	—	606 3 8½	606 3 8½
	24 June	3,791	8,747	4,142	12,118	7,933	20,865	0 2 0	633 19 7	634 1 7
	1 July	3,823	9,059	4,180	12,298	8,003	21,357	—	604 14 0	604 14 0
LONDONDERRY	8 July	3,788	8,992	4,243	12,505	8,031	21,497	0 2 0	307 13 3½	307 15 3½	Cost not stated. Returns not recd.
	15 July	3,830	9,045	4,157	12,624	7,907	21,669	—	555 7 4½	555 7 4½
	22 July	3,913	9,219	4,073	12,545	7,986	21,764	0 2 6	571 18 1½	572 0 7½
	29 July	3,667	8,602	3,862	11,944	7,549	20,546	—	556 8 1	556 8 1
	15 April	827	1,747	—	—	827	1,747	—	42 16 5	42 16 5
	22 April	815	1,773	—	—	815	1,773	—	42 1 0	42 1 0
	29 April	785	1,723	—	—	785	1,723	—	39 19 8	39 19 8
	6 May	742	1,564	—	—	742	1,564	—	37 16 8	37 16 8
	13 May	746	1,595	—	—	746	1,595	—	38 7 7	38 7 7
	20 May	740	1,521	—	—	740	1,521	—	27 18 2	27 18 2
	27 May	750	1,536	—	—	750	1,526	—	27 4 1	27 4 1
	3 June	754	1,525	—	—	754	1,525	—	27 6 2	27 6 2
LONGFORD	10 June	770	1,545	—	—	770	1,555	—	28 9 5	28 9 5	Returns not recd. Cost not stated.
	17 June	776	1,585	—	—	776	1,585	—	29 0 8	29 0 8
	24 June	795	1,665	—	—	795	1,665	—	29 16 3	29 16 3
	1 July	805	1,674	—	—	805	1,674	—	30 2 10	30 2 10
	8 July	814	1,652	—	—	814	1,652	—	30 14 9	30 14 9
	15 July	844	1,692	—	—	844	1,692	—	30 10 3	30 10 3
	22 July	827	1,626	—	—	827	1,626	—	29 11 0	29 11 0
	29 July	781	1,525	—	—	781	1,525	—	28 9 9	28 9 9
	15 April	2,029	5,638	—	—	2,029	5,638	—	—	—
	22 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	6 May	3,315	6,836	—	—	3,315	6,836	—	124 14 1½	124 14 1½
LOUGHREA	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd. Cost not stated.
	20 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June	3,950	8,038	406	728	4,364	9,566	0 15 7½	168 19 8	169 15 3½
	10 June	4,423	12,807	700	936	4,929	13,743	0 18 7	185 6 9	186 5 4
	17 June	4,577	13,114	631	1,122	5,208	14,236	1 8 3	104 0 2½	195 8 5½
	24 June	4,293	9,679	854	1,520	5,147	11,199	2 7 10½	208 3 1½	205 11 ½
	1 July	4,394	9,857	966	1,698	5,360	11,555	1 3 3½	246 5 3½	247 8 7
	8 July	4,274	9,554	975	1,706	5,249	11,280	1 3 3½	259 12 0½	260 15 4
	15 July	4,280	9,692	1,001	1,772	5,291	11,374	1 8 5	262 8 1½	263 16 6½
	22 July	4,248	9,437	1,019	1,763	5,261	11,200	1 8 11	256 10 5½	267 19 4½
	29 July	4,304	9,181	1,011	1,719	5,315	10,900	1 5 5	245 18 9	247 4 2
LOUGHREA	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd. Cost not stated.
	22 April	2,480	5,990	496	1,304	2,976	7,294	—	—	—
	29 April	1,883	4,574	450	1,123	2,933	5,697	—	—	—
	6 May	2,376	4,700	395	839	2,771	5,529	3 2 9	155 9 1	158 11 10
	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	20 May	2,740	5,130	450	943	3,190	6,073	—	—	—
	27 May	2,128	4,950	432	1,106	2,560	6,056	8 4 0½	160 9 11	177 13 2
	3 June	2,483	5,823	497	1,233	2,980	7,056	7 12 9	185 1 11½	192 14 8½
	10 June	2,552	5,928	488	1,167	3,040	7,095	10 11 5	186 17 0½	197 8 5½
	17 June	2,631	6,126	525	1,292	3,156	7,418	11 9 7	192 17 6	204 7 1
	24 June	2,686	6,285	552	1,270	3,238	7,555	11 17 2	196 4 0½	208 1 2½
	1 July	2,741	6,578	592	1,480	3,333	8,058	11 6 6½	204 17 0½	216 8 7½
	8 July	2,809	6,745	610	1,534	3,419	8,279	10 5 8½	108 10 8	218 16 5½

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
LOUGHREA (continued.)	15 July	2,897	6,932	657	1,625	3,554	8,557	£ s. d. 9 17 11	£ s. d. 218 6 53	£ s. d. 238 4 43
	22 July	2,924	6,983	665	1,615	3,589	8,598	8 16 5	223 8 5	232 4 10
	29 July	2,944	7,027	630	1,658	3,624	8,685	9 8 8	222 5 11	231 14 7
LOWTHERSTOWN.	15 April	897	2,314	—	—	897	2,314	0 2 6	55 18 0	56 0 6
	22 April	919	1,965	42	95	961	2,060	—	52 9 1	52 9 1
	29 April	821	1,767	—	—	821	1,767	—	46 7 9	46 7 9
	6 May	696	1,365	72	134	768	1,499	—	40 13 73	40 13 73
	13 May	689	1,235	71	136	760	1,371	0 1 6	36 14 53	36 15 113
	20 May	630	1,136	69	110	737	1,246	—	32 6 1	32 6 1
	27 May	714	1,193	66	96	780	1,289	—	32 7 5	32 7 5
	3 June	706	1,163	66	97	772	1,260	—	31 0 0	31 0 0
	10 June	690	1,129	67	110	757	1,239	—	30 13 2	30 13 2
	17 June	634	1,090	64	101	748	1,191	—	31 12 11	31 12 11
	24 June	677	1,073	62	98	739	1,171	—	30 7 6	30 7 6
	1 July	662	1,050	61	97	723	1,147	—	29 12 4	29 12 4
	8 July	644	1,016	61	96	705	1,114	—	28 9 10	28 9 10
	15 July	633	991	58	93	69	1,044	—	27 15 7	27 15 7
	22 July	627	968	58	91	685	1,059	—	26 13 7	26 13 7
	29 July	604	911	56	64	660	995	—	25 5 8	25 5 8
LURGAN	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
MACROOM	15 April	1,763	3,691	1,152	2,680	2,915	6,380	89 7 10	69 15 03	150 2 103
	22 April	1,761	3,605	1,002	2,377	2,763	5,982	87 19 54	57 7 101	145 7 31
	29 April	1,718	3,611	1,013	2,341	2,731	5,952	87 2 3	53 7 8	140 9 11
	6 May	1,728	3,540	987	2,333	2,715	5,873	80 3 34	57 15 53	137 18 09
	13 May	1,754	3,533	971	2,272	2,725	5,805	72 2 7	56 3 63	128 6 13
	20 May	1,704	3,511	955	2,272	2,659	5,763	81 2 11	53 16 103	134 19 93
	27 May	1,672	3,454	975	2,278	2,647	5,732	79 7 6	54 9 43	133 16 103
	3 June	1,653	3,415	1,007	2,368	2,660	5,783	76 2 7	58 2 53	134 5 03
	10 June	1,631	3,316	1,050	2,522	2,681	5,836	75 0 3	59 2 63	134 10 23
	17 June	1,586	3,256	1,044	2,501	2,630	5,757	74 10 3	59 9 4	133 19 7
	24 June	1,495	3,061	970	2,500	2,465	5,561	70 2 9	59 5 43	129 8 12
	1 July	1,504	3,061	972	2,608	2,476	5,669	70 7 6	70 6 83	140 14 23
	8 July	1,470	3,031	1,061	2,651	2,531	5,682	69 3 6	80 5 113	149 9 53
	15 July	1,464	2,995	1,076	2,714	2,540	5,709	67 17 6	81 19 83	149 17 23
	22 July	1,410	2,854	1,016	2,621	2,426	5,475	65 13 0	77 16 0	143 9 0
	29 July	1,204	2,449	931	2,464	2,135	4,013	56 2 6	74 9 0	130 11 6
MAGHERAFELT	15 April	264	733	15	72	279	805	—	11 4 23	11 4 23
	22 April	273	725	8	33	281	758	—	11 11 34	11 11 34
	29 April	274	739	4	18	278	757	—	11 13 73	11 13 73
	6 May	281	747	10	46	291	793	—	12 3 83	12 3 33
	13 May	296	790	12	53	308	843	—	13 0 6	13 0 6
	20 May	306	835	8	35	314	870	—	13 12 83	13 12 83
	27 May	320	841	13	55	333	896	—	14 4 0	14 4 0
	3 June	327	879	15	64	342	943	—	14 11 11	14 11 11
	10 June	331	976	13	61	344	1,037	—	14 12 10	14 12 10
	17 June	301	909	10	46	311	955	—	13 1 62	13 1 62
	24 June	294	852	5	22	299	874	—	12 8 73	12 8 73
	1 July	281	797	5	22	286	819	—	12 2 03	12 2 03
	8 July	262	767	7	32	269	799	—	11 18 4	11 18 4
	15 July	279	761	7	32	286	793	—	11 17 2	11 17 2
	22 July	236	611	2	7	238	618	—	9 6 33	9 6 33
	29 July	229	585	5	23	234	600	—	9 3 1	9 3 1
MALLOW	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
MANORHAMILTON.	15 April	552	1,403	—	—	552	1,403	0 1 10	25 13 0	25 14 10
	22 April	518	1,339	—	—	518	1,339	0 1 10	25 3 53	25 5 33
	29 April	524	1,390	—	—	524	1,390	—	24 8 13	24 8 13
	6 May	499	1,319	—	—	499	1,319	—	25 5 8	25 5 8
	13 May	434	1,228	—	—	434	1,228	—	25 3 53	25 3 53
	20 May	462	1,086	51	112	513	1,198	—	25 13 2	25 13 2
	27 May	550	1,399	—	—	550	1,399	—	26 9 13	26 9 13
	3 June	609	1,477	—	—	609	1,477	—	30 16 6	30 16 6
	10 June	584	1,602	—	—	584	1,602	—	28 0 1	28 0 1
	17 June	488	1,323	50	135	538	1,458	—	25 2 13	25 2 13
	24 June	407	1,307	50	135	537	1,442	—	25 0 7	25 0 7
	1 July	504	1,366	56	144	560	1,510	—	25 16 6	25 16 6
	8 July	499	1,315	54	117	553	1,432	—	25 19 63	25 19 63
	15 July	512	1,348	54	116	566	1,464	—	26 10 93	26 10 93
	22 July	513	1,349	56	118	569	1,467	—	26 11 83	26 11 83
	29 July	510	1,321	53	113	563	1,334	—	25 9 13	25 9 13
MIDLETON	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
MILFORD	15 April	839	1,741	46	127	885	1,868	—	25 6 9	25 6 9
	22 April	855	1,705	68	201	923	1,906	—	25 18 103	25 18 103
	29 April	863	1,726	66	197	929	1,923	—	24 3 1	24 3 1
	6 May	775	1,564	43	149	818	1,704	—	24 0 13	24 0 13
	13 May	673	1,623	44	137	717	1,760	—	20 11 10	20 11 10
	20 May	802	1,669	33	111	835	1,780	—	20 15 103	20 15 103
	27 May	788	1,616	40	137	828	1,753	—	20 16 03	20 16 03
	3 June	746	1,516	44	134	790	1,650	—	20 0 63	20 0 63
	10 June	697	1,426	25	87	722	1,513	0 2 8	18 1 1	18 3 9
	17 June	569	1,369	14	41	583	1,410	0 7 6	17 8 10	17 16 4
	24 June	674	1,406	—	—	674	1,406	0 6 8	18 0 9	18 7 5
	1 July	660	1,342	9	28	669	1,370	0 5 4	16 13 7	17 5 11
	8 July	661	1,312	9	28	670	1,340	0 5 4	16 14 93	17 0 13
	15 July	543	1,123	8	23	551	1,146	—	13 5 11	13 5 11
	22 July	656	1,327	8	23	664	1,350	0 3 6	16 10 13	16 13 73
	29 July	537	1,124	9	25	546	1,149	—	13 9 03	13 9 03
MOHILL	15 April	1,842	5,531	1,492	2,559	3,334	8,090	0 11 0	228 12 13	229 3 13
	22 April	1,844	5,564	1,360	2,330	3,204	7,894	0 5 0	230 18 63	231 3 63

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
MOHILL (continued)	29 April	1,819	5,455	1,356	2,250	3,175	7,705	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	6 May	1,860	5,561	1,392	2,441	3,252	8,002	0 0 6	229 11 6	229 12 0
	13 May	1,902	5,680	1,419	2,511	3,321	8,191	0 9 0	230 11 0	230 11 0
	20 May	1,911	5,460	1,418	2,604	3,329	8,064	0 2 6	240 2 5	240 11 5
	27 May	1,764	5,232	1,205	2,505	2,969	7,817	0 2 6	238 7 2	238 9 8
	3 June	1,700	5,195	1,251	2,624	2,951	7,819	0 7 0	241 13 5	241 13 5
	10 June	1,667	5,131	1,201	2,451	2,968	7,582	0 6 0	238 10 11	239 5 11
	17 June	1,652	5,085	1,248	2,610	2,900	7,695	0 6 0	232 12 7	233 18 7
	24 June	1,671	5,182	1,367	2,555	3,038	7,687	1 7 9	236 4 2	237 11 11
	1 July	1,732	5,310	1,303	2,699	3,040	8,069	0 9 9	241 13 9	242 3 6
	8 July	1,758	5,353	1,436	2,812	3,104	8,165	4 13 6	246 8 11	251 2 7
	15 July	1,930	5,478	1,411	3,031	3,341	8,509	2 0 11	249 11 4	251 12 3
	22 July	1,896	5,313	1,510	2,855	3,396	8,168	0 9 11	264 5 0	264 14 11
	29 July	1,861	5,214	1,485	2,828	3,346	8,042	0 7 6	262 14 5	263 1 11
								6 7 9	250 6 5	256 14 2
MONAGHAN .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
MOUNTMELICK	15 April	1,571	3,264	—	—	1,571	3,264	114 4 4	1 15 8	116 0 0
	22 April	1,933	4,030	—	—	1,933	4,030	137 16 1	1 16 3	139 12 4
	29 April	1,556	3,495	—	—	1,556	3,495	111 19 11	0 14 2	112 14 1
	6 May	1,298	2,872	—	—	1,298	2,872	86 18 8	1 5 1	88 8 9
	13 May	1,651	3,527	—	—	1,651	3,527	95 6 5	18 6 8	113 13 1
	20 May	1,749	3,766	—	—	1,748	3,766	116 3 2	2 10 8	118 13 10
	27 May	2,091	4,381	875	2,271	2,966	6,652	0 2 0	202 2 7	202 4 7
	3 June	1,009	4,002	—	—	1,009	4,002	119 8 10	3 6 11	122 15 9
	10 June	1,918	4,041	—	—	1,918	4,041	122 8 4	2 9 2	124 17 6
	17 June	1,916	4,026	—	—	1,916	4,026	122 15 7	2 5 2	125 0 9
	24 June	1,926	4,025	—	—	1,926	4,025	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	1 July	1,944	4,164	—	—	1,944	4,164	122 0 5	1 10 2	123 10 7
	8 July	1,983	4,224	—	—	1,983	4,224	128 13 2	2 5 3	133 18 10
	15 July	1,920	4,060	—	—	1,920	4,060	127 16 3	1 0 0	129 4 3
	22 July	2,011	4,216	—	—	2,011	4,216	133 5 0	2 4 4	135 9 4
	29 July	2,006	4,213	—	—	2,006	4,213	133 17 9	1 16 4	135 14 1
MULLINGAR .	15 April	2,052	4,221	1,460	3,607	3,512	7,823	—	244 16 7	244 16 7
	22 April	2,093	4,461	1,426	3,466	3,521	7,947	0 3 0	233 0 1	233 3 1
	29 April	2,126	4,405	1,360	3,091	3,426	7,586	0 2 0	196 8 3	196 10 3
	6 May	2,133	4,512	1,277	3,014	3,410	7,526	0 2 0	238 8 5	238 10 5
	13 May	2,129	4,563	1,244	2,883	3,378	7,386	0 2 0	221 18 5	222 0 5
	20 May	2,115	4,486	1,028	2,564	3,143	6,990	0 2 0	200 18 0	210 0 9
	27 May	2,097	4,415	920	2,341	3,017	6,786	—	226 16 9	226 16 9
	3 June	2,080	4,405	812	2,177	2,993	6,582	—	243 12 9	243 12 9
	10 June	2,077	4,599	793	2,118	2,875	6,517	—	201 15 6	201 15 6
	17 June	2,080	4,399	786	2,090	2,866	6,489	—	243 12 5	243 12 5
	24 June	2,076	4,408	714	1,925	2,790	6,323	—	190 18 11	190 18 11
	1 July	2,052	4,455	629	1,747	2,681	6,102	—	229 18 2	229 18 2
	8 July	1,938	4,186	402	808	2,340	4,994	—	147 8 3	147 8 3
	15 July	2,022	4,159	320	636	2,342	4,795	—	171 10 5	171 10 5
	22 July	1,974	4,015	254	503	2,226	4,518	—	133 3 2	133 8 2
	29 July	2,012	4,079	5	18	2,017	4,097	—	146 15 7	146 15 7
NAAS .	15 April	1,263	2,730	—	—	1,263	2,730	100 0 8	—	100 0 8
	22 April	1,297	2,801	—	—	1,297	2,801	100 11 2	—	100 11 2
	29 April	1,280	2,763	—	—	1,280	2,763	99 16 0	—	99 16 0
	6 May	1,285	2,793	—	—	1,285	2,793	100 0 6	—	100 0 6
	13 May	1,248	2,697	—	—	1,248	2,697	97 2 6	—	97 2 6
	20 May	1,240	2,716	—	—	1,240	2,716	96 10 8	—	96 10 8
	27 May	1,268	2,777	—	—	1,268	2,777	98 14 11	—	98 14 11
	3 June	1,275	2,778	—	—	1,275	2,778	97 19 7	—	97 19 7
	10 June	1,308	2,848	—	—	1,308	2,848	100 6 6	—	100 6 6
	17 June	1,319	2,913	—	—	1,319	2,913	101 5 0	—	101 5 0
	24 June	1,308	2,879	—	—	1,308	2,879	94 4 6	—	94 4 6
	1 July	1,058	2,370	—	—	1,058	2,370	79 18 10	—	79 18 10
	8 July	1,082	2,256	—	—	1,082	2,256	77 19 10	—	77 19 10
	15 July	997	2,162	—	—	997	2,162	74 12 2	—	74 12 2
	22 July	874	1,885	—	—	874	1,885	61 6 10	—	61 6 10
	29 July	624	1,289	—	—	624	1,289	44 16 2	—	44 16 2
NAVAN .	15 April	1,502	2,668	—	—	1,502	2,668	—	92 0 4	92 0 4
	22 April	1,492	2,669	—	—	1,492	2,669	—	92 1 8	92 1 8
	29 April	1,486	2,857	—	—	1,486	2,857	—	91 15 3	91 15 3
	6 May	1,458	2,806	—	—	1,458	2,806	—	89 18 4	89 18 4
	13 May	1,444	2,777	—	—	1,444	2,777	—	88 15 7	88 15 7
	20 May	1,422	2,713	—	—	1,422	2,713	—	87 2 6	87 2 6
	27 May	1,398	2,663	—	—	1,398	2,663	—	85 4 3	85 4 3
	3 June	1,369	2,644	—	—	1,369	2,644	—	83 17 1	83 17 1
	10 June	1,339	2,610	—	—	1,339	2,610	—	82 10 2	82 10 2
	17 June	1,285	2,526	—	—	1,285	2,526	—	79 19 10	79 19 10
	24 June	1,255	2,490	—	—	1,255	2,490	—	78 2 7	78 2 7
	1 July	1,233	2,429	—	—	1,233	2,429	—	76 7 5	76 7 5
	8 July	1,242	2,466	—	—	1,242	2,466	—	77 7 9	77 7 9
	15 July	1,233	2,444	—	—	1,233	2,444	—	76 9 11	76 9 11
	22 July	1,217	2,394	—	—	1,217	2,394	—	75 3 1	75 3 1
	29 July	1,207	2,375	—	—	1,207	2,375	—	75 2 8	75 2 8
NENAGH .	15 April	4,810	11,433	—	—	4,810	11,433	—	283 19 11	283 19 11
	22 April	4,847	11,697	—	—	4,847	11,697	—	292 3 0	292 3 0
	29 April	4,809	11,059	—	—	4,809	11,059	—	288 13 10	288 13 10
	6 May	4,810	11,628	—	—	4,810	11,628	—	289 8 17	289 8 17
	13 May	4,660	11,231	—	—	4,660	11,231	—	280 5 8	280 5 8
	20 May	4,604	11,148	—	—	4,604	11,148	—	278 11 8	278 11 8
	27 May	4,567	11,168	—	—	4,567	11,168	—	275 13 3	275 13 3
	3 June	4,696	11,486	—	—	4,696	11,486	—	283 8 4	283 8 4
	10 June	4,860	12,240	—	—	4,860	12,240	—	305 8 8	305 8 8
	17 June	5,092	12,892	—	—	5,092	12,892	—	326 10 11	326 10 11
	24 June	5,178	13,038	1,048	3,120	6,226	16,167	—	404 8 8	404 8 8
	1 July	5,158	12,929	1,178	3,559	6,936	16,480	—	410 6 0	410 6 0

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
								£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
NENAGH (continued)	8 July	5,214	13,040	1,217	3,730	6,431	16,770	—	409 2 9½	409 2 9½
	15 July	5,201	12,963	1,304	3,961	6,505	16,924	—	408 10 9½	408 10 9½
	22 July	5,258	13,035	1,334	4,021	6,592	17,106	0 1 6	413 5 7½	413 7 1½
	29 July	5,269	13,122	1,338	3,986	6,627	17,108	0 3 0	414 17 7½	415 0 7½
NEWCASTLE .	15 April	3,010	6,230	5,303	12,340	8,313	19,070	0 3 0	411 13 3½	411 16 3½
	22 April	2,680	5,977	5,182	12,436	8,013	18,463	0 3 0	406 5 11½	406 8 11½
	29 April	2,777	6,226	5,086	11,948	7,863	18,174	0 3 0	391 3 7	391 6 7
	6 May	2,881	6,269	5,035	11,920	7,906	18,189	—	399 15 1	399 15 1
	13 May	2,819	6,279	5,041	12,018	7,860	18,297	2 15 7	411 13 0	414 13 7
	20 May	2,827	6,299	5,029	12,319	7,856	18,618	1 0 6	430 1 1	431 1 7
	27 May	2,706	6,061	4,214	11,349	6,920	17,210	0 8 6	438 2 3	436 10 9
	3 June	2,708	6,036	4,342	11,584	7,050	17,620	1 12 10	445 5 10½	450 18 8½
	10 June	2,807	6,300	4,024	12,563	7,731	18,883	1 18 10	467 15 6½	469 14 4½
	17 June	2,841	6,358	4,974	12,689	7,815	19,167	2 7 6	470 16 12	473 3 7½
	24 June	3,037	6,361	5,006	12,947	8,043	19,306	2 9 4	475 4 9½	477 14 1½
	1 July	2,879	6,058	4,884	12,774	7,763	18,832	4 4 6	468 0 5½	472 12 11½
	8 July	2,736	5,708	4,947	11,932	7,683	17,640	4 16 0	501 8 10½	506 4 10½
	15 July	2,725	5,702	4,795	11,711	7,520	17,413	5 1 2	493 0 0	498 1 2
	22 July	2,636	5,670	4,690	11,359	7,335	17,029	4 13 5	467 2 7½	471 16 0½
	29 July	2,653	5,667	4,660	11,365	7,295	17,022	4 19 3	470 5 8	475 4 11
NEW ROSS .	15 April	1,239	2,438	—	—	1,239	2,438	124 14 6½	7 1 0½	131 15 7
	22 April	2,393	4,616	—	—	2,393	4,616	42 9 10	65 4 4½	107 14 2½
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	Returns not recd.
	6 May	2,414	4,983	—	—	2,414	4,983	44 2 11½	70 7 9	114 10 8½
	13 May	2,370	4,723	—	—	2,370	4,723	26 18 4	84 11 7	111 9 11
	20 May	2,420	4,864	—	—	2,420	4,864	—	115 11 10	115 11 10
	27 May	2,449	4,923	—	—	2,449	4,923	—	114 9 10½	114 9 10½
	3 June	2,330	4,579	—	—	2,330	4,579	0 5 0	115 11 0½	115 16 0½
	10 June	2,322	4,557	—	—	2,322	4,557	0 2 4	115 16 11	115 19 8
	17 June	2,336	4,635	—	—	2,336	4,635	—	148 0 3½	148 0 3½
	24 June	2,317	4,567	—	—	2,317	4,567	—	144 11 8½	144 11 8½
	1 July	2,281	4,468	—	—	2,281	4,468	—	137 18 0	137 18 0
	8 July	2,191	4,268	—	—	2,191	4,268	—	131 16 5	131 16 5
	15 July	2,132	4,141	—	—	2,132	4,141	—	127 1 5½	127 1 5½
	22 July	2,009	3,861	—	—	2,009	3,861	—	117 10 3½	117 10 3½
	29 July	1,923	3,749	—	—	1,923	3,749	—	113 8 10½	113 8 10½
NEWRY .	15 April	1,495	2,798	—	—	1,495	2,798	0 6 0	41 6 4½	41 12 4½
	22 April	1,378	2,644	—	—	1,378	2,644	—	40 18 5½	40 18 5½
	29 April	1,301	2,519	—	—	1,301	2,519	0 7 6	40 15 11½	41 3 5½
	6 May	1,111	2,179	—	—	1,111	2,179	—	35 13 2	35 13 2
	13 May	982	1,932	—	—	982	1,932	—	30 13 9½	30 18 9½
	20 May	936	1,830	—	—	936	1,830	1 15 0	29 10 9	31 5 9
	27 May	930	1,824	—	—	930	1,824	—	34 4 8	34 4 8
	3 June	948	1,851	—	—	948	1,851	—	36 14 8½	36 14 8½
	10 June	961	1,891	—	—	961	1,891	—	38 9 8½	38 9 8½
	17 June	992	1,975	—	—	992	1,975	—	38 6 11	38 6 11
	24 June	1,034	2,015	—	—	1,034	2,015	—	39 9 1	39 9 1
	1 July	1,047	2,035	—	—	1,047	2,035	—	40 1 6	40 1 6
	8 July	1,043	2,081	—	—	1,043	2,081	—	39 0 3	39 0 3
	15 July	1,077	2,059	—	—	1,077	2,059	—	38 1 0½	38 1 0½
	22 July	1,081	2,063	2	10	1,083	2,073	0 10 6	33 16 7½	36 7 1½
	29 July	1,072	2,026	—	—	1,072	2,026	—	36 19 6	36 19 6
NEWTOWNARDS .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
N. T. LIMAVADY .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
OLDCASTLE .	15 April	1,421	3,159	950	3,139	2,371	6,298	0 18 11	139 3 11	140 2 10
	22 April	1,423	3,143	955	3,075	2,378	6,218	1 0 4	142 1 11½	143 2 3½
	29 April	1,328	3,171	946	3,014	2,274	6,105	0 18 6	142 16 1½	143 14 7½
	6 May	1,508	3,294	834	2,644	2,342	5,938	0 14 9	135 11 7	136 6 4
	13 May	1,439	3,220	898	2,765	2,337	5,985	0 11 0	134 14 5½	135 5 5½
	20 May	1,432	3,163	870	2,645	2,302	5,808	0 10 6	133 5 2	133 15 8½
	27 May	1,435	3,148	858	2,567	2,293	5,715	2 2 6	149 4 9½	150 7 3½
	3 June	1,399	3,133	799	2,452	2,190	5,567	1 11 9	153 13 1½	155 4 10½
	10 June	1,485	3,185	779	2,364	2,264	5,499	1 1 9	150 6 1½	151 1 10½
	17 June	1,457	3,076	765	2,310	2,222	5,366	0 19 7	152 17 7½	153 17 2½
	24 June	1,488	3,162	723	2,181	2,211	5,343	1 2 2½	156 19 0½	158 1 2½
	1 July	1,479	3,127	698	1,987	2,177	5,114	0 19 2	158 2 0½	159 1 0½
	8 July	1,366	3,110	629	1,993	1,995	5,103	0 19 6	142 3 4	143 2 10
	15 July	1,373	3,127	578	1,766	1,951	4,893	0 19 0	137 4 5	138 3 5
	22 July	1,338	2,954	596	1,822	1,934	4,770	—	135 18 6½	135 13 0½
	29 July	1,277	2,653	625	1,669	1,902	4,321	—	128 4 1	128 4 1
OMAGH .	15 April	1,592	2,740	126	281	1,718	3,021	0 0 6	62 18 3	62 18 9
	22 April	1,559	2,793	126	280	1,685	2,988	0 0 6	61 13 3	61 13 9
	29 April	1,357	2,704	121	269	1,678	2,973	0 0 6	60 16 7	60 17 1
	6 May	1,528	2,662	118	259	1,646	2,921	0 0 6	53 9 2	53 9 8
	13 May	1,479	2,558	112	252	1,591	2,810	0 0 6	49 8 2	49 8 8
	20 May	1,280	2,190	97	225	1,377	2,415	0 0 6	42 9 1	42 9 7
	27 May	1,263	2,148	9	14	1,272	2,157	0 0 6	38 11 4	38 11 10
	3 June	1,098	1,833	—	—	1,098	1,833	0 0 6	32 8 5	32 8 11
	10 June	1,140	1,945	—	—	1,140	1,945	0 0 6	33 13 3	33 13 9
	17 June	1,159	1,935	—	—	1,159	1,935	0 0 6	34 2 7	34 3 1
	24 June	1,154	1,985	—	—	1,154	1,985	0 0 6	33 16 10	33 17 4
	1 July	1,160	1,989	—	—	1,160	1,989	0 1 0	33 15 6	33 16 6
	8 July	1,174	2,018	—	—	1,174	2,018	0 1 0	34 10 4	34 11 4
	15 July	1,181	2,019	—	—	1,181	2,019	0 1 0	34 10 3	34 11 3
	22 July	1,173	2,005	—	—	1,173	2,005	0 1 0	34 6 11	34 7 11
	29 July	1,178	2,012	—	—	1,178	2,012	0 1 0	34 11 8	34 12 8
PARSONSTOWN .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
RATHDOWN .	15 April	698	1,299	33	67	731	1,366	1 6 9	44 4 5½	45 11 2½

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
RATHDOWN (continued)	22 April	681	1,276	33	54	714	1,330	£ s. d. 1 7 9	£ s. d. 44 4 9	£ s. d. 45 12 6	Cost not stated.
	29 April	646	1,212	30	50	676	1,262	1 5 3	41 17 8	43 2 6
	6 May	606	1,118	26	42	632	1,160	0 17 0	37 15 11	38 12 11
	13 May	506	937	17	27	523	964	0 18 7	29 7 2	30 5 9
	20 May	478	839	15	25	493	914	0 17 7	26 12 3	27 9 10
	27 May	437	814	12	25	449	839	0 17 7	23 6 4	26 3 11
	3 June	436	796	11	21	447	817	0 18 1	25 1 7	25 19 3
	10 June	433	785	9	19	441	804	0 16 6	25 1 5	25 17 11
	17 June	389	705	2	6	391	711	0 15 11	22 7 7	23 3 6
	24 June	335	701	2	6	337	707	0 16 4	22 1 10	22 18 2
	1 July	279	487	—	—	279	487	—	—	—
	8 July	345	596	—	—	345	596	0 9 0	19 4 9	19 13 9
	15 July	337	585	—	—	337	585	0 7 9	19 0 4	19 8 13
	22 July	330	570	1	1	331	571	0 7 9	18 1 1	18 8 10
	29 July	315	546	1	1	316	547	0 7 9	17 7 4	17 15 1
RATHDRUM.	15 April	1,039	2,197	—	—	1,039	2,197	—	41 8 6	41 8 6
	22 April	1,046	2,332	—	—	1,046	2,332	—	40 15 1	40 15 1
	29 April	1,001	2,223	—	—	1,001	2,223	—	40 6 5	40 6 5
	6 May	1,032	2,315	—	—	1,032	2,315	—	42 15 11	42 15 11
	13 May	1,044	2,334	—	—	1,044	2,334	—	45 8 1	45 8 1
	20 May	1,061	2,239	—	—	1,061	2,239	—	45 18 7	45 18 7
	27 May	1,055	2,421	—	—	1,055	2,421	—	53 4 3	53 4 3
	3 June	1,058	2,319	—	—	1,058	2,319	—	53 18 11	53 18 11
	10 June	1,068	2,364	—	—	1,068	2,364	—	54 14 7	54 14 7
	17 June	1,067	2,385	—	—	1,067	2,385	—	53 15 9	53 15 9
	24 June	1,059	2,380	—	—	1,059	2,380	—	51 6 5	51 6 5
	1 July	1,052	2,331	—	—	1,052	2,331	—	51 7 10	51 7 10
	8 July	1,033	2,299	—	—	1,033	2,299	—	50 11 10	50 11 10
	15 July	1,031	2,229	—	—	1,031	2,229	—	49 17 5	49 17 5
	22 July	1,022	2,243	—	—	1,022	2,243	—	50 15 2	50 15 2
	29 July	1,022	2,221	—	—	1,022	2,221	—	51 8 5	51 8 5
RATHKRALE.	15 April	3,378	7,636	870	1,229	3,748	8,865	13 2 6	238 12 2	251 14 8
	22 April	3,382	7,660	870	1,036	3,752	8,698	13 0 0	252 13 10	265 13 10
	29 April	3,440	7,667	336	956	3,796	8,623	—	251 3 1	251 3 1
	6 May	3,477	7,816	351	930	3,828	8,746	—	254 11 4	254 11 4
	13 May	3,506	8,005	319	732	3,827	8,737	—	254 13 8	254 13 8
	20 May	3,506	8,063	323	732	3,829	8,795	—	256 9 10	256 9 10
	27 May	3,506	8,063	322	732	3,828	8,795	—	256 9 10	256 9 10
	3 June	3,534	8,167	318	675	3,852	8,842	0 4 6	257 19 5	258 3 11
	10 June	3,549	8,213	315	664	3,864	8,877	0 1 6	258 19 5	259 0 11
	17 June	3,634	8,532	372	924	4,006	9,456	—	276 2 5	276 2 5
	24 June	3,824	9,058	827	3,007	4,651	12,065	0 2 4	351 13 3	351 13 7
	1 July	3,860	9,462	1,013	3,794	4,973	13,256	—	386 19 8	386 19 8
	8 July	4,073	9,776	1,163	4,417	5,236	14,193	1 0 0	414 6 10	415 6 10
	15 July	4,114	9,811	1,240	4,708	5,354	14,519	—	424 1 1	424 1 1
	22 July	4,146	9,846	1,267	4,707	5,413	14,653	—	429 3 2	429 3 2
	29 July	4,097	9,770	1,229	4,704	5,326	14,474	0 5 0	422 2 7	422 7 7
ROSCOMMON.	15 April	3,707	8,846	4,248	11,470	7,955	20,316	4 10 4	487 10 5	492 0 9
	22 April	3,703	8,891	4,172	10,985	7,875	19,876	5 3 8	509 9 4	514 13 1
	29 April	3,623	8,583	3,938	10,280	7,561	18,863	2 7 8	474 8 6	476 16 3
	6 May	3,860	8,183	3,904	10,086	7,272	18,269	8 10 0	472 1 2	480 11 2
	13 May	3,572	8,421	3,645	9,658	7,217	18,079	1 13 9	456 16 10	458 10 7
	20 May	3,601	8,558	3,867	6,814	6,960	17,372	3 0 11	434 10 9	437 11 8
	27 May	3,536	8,447	3,296	8,957	6,832	17,404	4 2 11	438 15 6	442 18 5
	3 June	3,563	8,200	3,357	8,653	6,920	16,853	2 18 10	455 8 7	458 7 5
	10 June	3,574	8,945	3,460	9,557	7,034	18,502	3 10 7	469 13 7	473 4 3
	17 June	3,880	9,257	3,679	10,009	7,759	19,266	7 0 8	511 15 0	518 15 9
	24 June	3,923	9,340	4,308	10,607	8,236	19,947	3 5 3	526 16 5	530 1 8
	1 July	4,023	9,540	4,625	10,827	8,548	20,367	4 13 0	585 16 10	590 9 11
	8 July	4,044	9,661	4,765	11,316	8,809	20,577	3 0 5	610 2 10	613 3 3
	15 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	22 July	4,108	9,767	4,983	11,554	9,091	21,321	8 4 2	588 5 5	596 9 7
	29 July	4,123	9,716	4,923	11,580	9,056	21,296	6 17 7	586 13 8	593 11 3
ROSCREA.	15 April	2,168	5,318	567	2,176	2,735	7,494	—	190 6 4	190 6 4
	22 April	2,089	5,204	566	2,238	2,655	7,442	—	188 14 1	188 14 1
	29 April	2,059	5,047	541	2,118	2,600	7,165	—	183 0 11	183 0 11
	6 May	2,025	4,969	460	1,836	2,485	6,805	—	173 14 2	173 14 2
	13 May	1,987	4,812	407	1,563	2,394	6,375	—	167 3 3	167 3 3
	20 May	2,031	4,934	380	1,521	2,411	6,455	2 3 6	164 0 8	166 4 2
	27 May	1,981	4,828	320	1,311	2,301	6,130	0 19 5	156 3 6	157 2 11
	3 June	1,974	4,794	252	1,077	2,226	5,871	1 2 0	151 2 7	152 4 8
	10 June	1,967	4,785	252	1,079	2,219	5,864	1 1 1	150 3 3	151 4 4
	17 June	1,969	4,786	246	1,067	2,215	5,853	0 17 0	150 18 5	151 15 6
	24 June	1,960	4,741	244	1,056	2,204	5,797	1 1 7	149 8 8	150 10 3
	1 July	2,021	4,927	252	1,052	2,273	6,009	1 4 6	174 8 2	175 7 8
	8 July	1,981	4,800	258	1,093	2,239	5,893	0 14 11	175 15 0	176 10 0
	15 July	2,025	4,949	265	1,128	2,290	6,077	0 10 5	181 9 6	181 19 11
	22 July	2,027	4,935	277	1,183	2,304	6,118	0 14 3	183 8 10	184 3 1
	29 July	2,041	4,965	276	1,174	2,317	6,139	0 12 6	184 17 10	185 10 4
SCARIFF.	15 April	2,253	6,294	2,435	7,456	4,688	13,750	141 15 0	812 2 0	459 17 0
	22 April	2,126	5,449	2,104	8,443	4,290	13,892	63 11 4	374 5 6	437 16 10
	29 April	2,065	5,384	2,927	8,590	4,992	13,974	100 15 0	346 19 1	447 14 1
	6 May	2,276	5,842	3,437	9,592	5,713	15,434	102 19 0	354 0 5	456 19 5
	13 May	2,277	5,841	3,544	9,719	5,821	15,560	103 14 0	360 7 4	464 1 4
	20 May	2,287	5,824	3,534	9,469	5,821	15,293	96 2 0	378 14 5	474 16 5
	27 May	2,354	5,982	3,624	9,707	5,978	15,689	106 5 0	371 15 9	478 0 9
	3 June	2,351	5,970	3,712	10,029	6,063	15,999	111 17 6	385 16 11	497 14 5
	10 June	2,387	6,025	3,811	10,261	5,698	16,286	117 2 0	389 5 8	506 7 8
	17 June	2,416	6,104	3,424	10,466	5,840	16,570	118 0 0	393 5 9	511 5 9
	24 June	2,482	6,216	3,446	10,475	5,928	16,691	133 3 6	400 19 11	534 3 5
	1 July	2,505	6,218	3,640	10,830	6,145	17,048	133 9 6	442 16 1	576 5 7
	8 July	2,470	6,180	3,801	11,343	6,351	17,473	138 16 6	453 14 5	592 10 11

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
SCARIFF (continued)	15 July	2,475	6,009	3,934	11,426	6,409	17,435	£ 142 7 3	£ 461 10 5	£ 603 18 11
	22 July	2,446	6,038	3,919	11,354	6,365	17,442	£ 139 15 6	£ 419 12 11	£ 559 8 5
	29 July	2,264	5,565	3,609	11,276	6,073	16,841	£ 139 15 4	£ 377 2 6	£ 516 17 10
SHILLELAGH	15 April	235	575	—	—	235	575	£ 17 16 8	—	£ 17 16 8
	22 April	242	597	—	—	242	597	£ 18 9 7	—	£ 18 9 7
	29 April	245	621	—	—	245	621	£ 19 0 5	—	£ 19 0 5
	6 May	250	624	—	—	250	624	£ 19 4 7	—	£ 19 4 7
	13 May	260	634	—	—	260	634	£ 19 7 6	—	£ 19 7 6
	20 May	266	636	—	—	266	636	£ 19 10 10	—	£ 19 10 10
	27 May	260	634	—	—	260	634	£ 19 7 6	—	£ 19 7 6
	3 June	286	672	—	—	286	672	£ 20 12 6	—	£ 20 12 6
	10 June	283	567	—	—	283	567	£ 20 11 8	—	£ 20 11 8
	17 June	285	659	—	—	285	659	£ 20 12 11	—	£ 20 12 11
	24 June	290	663	—	—	290	663	£ 20 16 3	—	£ 20 16 3
	1 July	266	602	—	—	266	602	£ 18 17 11	—	£ 18 17 11
	8 July	266	602	—	—	266	602	£ 18 17 11	—	£ 18 17 11
	15 July	249	536	—	—	249	536	£ 17 2 1	—	£ 17 2 1
	22 July	249	534	—	—	249	534	£ 17 0 5	—	£ 17 0 5
	29 July	250	530	—	—	250	530	£ 16 18 4	—	£ 16 18 4
SKIBBEREEN	15 April	5,493	6,873	—	—	5,493	6,873	—	£ 191 15 10	£ 191 15 10	Cost not stated. Returns incomplete.
	22 April	5,493	6,876	—	—	5,493	6,876	—	—	—
	29 April	3,796	4,990	—	—	3,796	4,990	—	£ 168 13 11	£ 168 13 11
	6 May	5,311	6,713	—	—	5,311	6,713	—	£ 174 10 7	£ 174 10 7
	13 May	5,181	6,691	—	—	5,181	6,691	—	£ 179 10 10	£ 179 10 10
	20 May	5,319	6,729	—	—	5,319	6,729	—	£ 177 10 2	£ 177 10 2
	27 May	5,126	6,518	—	—	5,126	6,518	—	£ 177 2 4	£ 177 2 4
	3 June	5,097	6,528	—	—	5,097	6,528	—	£ 191 3 3	£ 191 3 3
	10 June	5,122	6,592	—	—	5,122	6,592	—	£ 200 5 11	£ 200 5 11
	17 June	5,042	6,489	—	—	5,042	6,489	—	£ 203 17 10	£ 203 17 10
	24 June	5,008	6,462	—	—	5,008	6,462	—	£ 204 3 4	£ 204 3 4
	1 July	4,868	6,354	—	—	4,868	6,354	—	£ 199 5 10	£ 199 5 10
	8 July	4,780	6,077	—	—	4,780	6,077	—	£ 189 16 1	£ 189 16 1
	15 July	4,711	5,941	—	—	4,711	5,941	—	£ 162 0 9	£ 162 0 9
	22 July	4,498	5,645	—	—	4,498	5,645	—	£ 173 13 1	£ 173 13 1
	29 July	4,180	5,198	—	—	4,180	5,198	—	£ 159 12 3	£ 159 12 3
SLIGO	15 April	3,207	7,281	193	291	3,403	7,572	£ 7 15 6	£ 150 8 4	£ 158 3 10
	22 April	3,257	7,329	188	265	3,445	7,614	£ 7 17 6	£ 150 3 0	£ 158 0 7
	29 April	3,212	7,569	237	367	3,449	7,936	£ 7 13 11	£ 151 6 7	£ 159 0 6
	6 May	3,210	7,610	265	367	3,475	7,997	£ 6 13 6	£ 145 18 2	£ 152 11 8
	13 May	3,222	7,623	272	409	3,494	8,042	£ 5 6 8	£ 155 9 2	£ 160 15 10
	20 May	3,223	7,628	279	421	3,502	8,249	£ 4 19 9	£ 161 12 10	£ 166 12 7
	27 May	3,306	8,031	286	426	3,673	8,459	£ 5 1 10	£ 164 5 6	£ 169 7 4
	3 June	3,398	8,113	318	453	3,716	8,571	£ 5 1 2	£ 164 10 8	£ 169 11 10
	10 June	3,570	8,569	236	484	3,906	9,064	£ 5 8 1	£ 174 10 7	£ 179 18 8
	17 June	3,579	8,897	353	509	3,932	9,406	£ 5 2 7	£ 181 17 6	£ 187 0 1
	24 June	3,721	9,653	375	521	4,096	9,574	£ 5 1 8	£ 184 13 7	£ 189 15 3
	1 July	3,770	9,164	363	540	4,133	9,704	£ 5 3 7	£ 187 11 1	£ 192 14 6
	8 July	3,852	9,271	387	547	4,239	9,818	£ 5 3 9	£ 192 2 4	£ 197 6 1
	15 July	3,905	9,470	387	562	4,292	10,032	£ 5 0 3	£ 195 1 2	£ 200 1 6
	22 July	3,916	9,526	403	595	4,319	10,121	£ 4 19 2	£ 194 3 7	£ 199 2 9
	29 July	4,001	9,448	415	610	4,316	10,053	£ 4 19 2	£ 193 15 4	£ 196 16 6
STRADANE	15 April	914	1,611	—	—	914	1,611	£ 0 1 0	£ 35 6 8	£ 35 7 6
	22 April	909	1,614	—	—	909	1,614	£ 0 5 0	£ 35 4 6	£ 35 9 6
	29 April	913	1,655	—	—	913	1,655	£ 0 3 0	£ 35 5 8	£ 35 8 8
	6 May	912	1,637	—	—	912	1,637	£ 0 2 6	£ 34 12 5	£ 34 14 11
	13 May	909	1,674	—	—	909	1,674	£ 0 3 6	£ 33 13 10	£ 33 17 4
	20 May	892	1,601	—	—	892	1,601	£ 0 2 6	£ 33 1 2	£ 33 3 8
	27 May	854	1,497	—	—	854	1,497	£ 0 10 0	£ 31 5 10	£ 31 15 10
	3 June	779	1,398	—	—	779	1,398	£ 0 7 0	£ 27 17 6	£ 28 4 6
	10 June	758	1,357	—	—	758	1,357	£ 0 3 0	£ 27 8 5	£ 27 11 5
	17 June	692	1,235	—	—	692	1,235	£ 0 7 6	£ 24 13 4	£ 25 0 10
	24 June	683	1,217	—	—	683	1,217	£ 0 1 0	£ 23 19 8	£ 24 0 8
	1 July	660	1,190	—	—	660	1,190	£ 0 0 10	£ 23 2 11	£ 23 3 9
	8 July	634	1,192	—	—	634	1,192	—	£ 23 0 9	£ 23 0 9
	15 July	628	1,144	—	—	628	1,144	—	£ 21 15 11	£ 21 15 11
	22 July	469	811	—	—	469	811	£ 0 0 6	£ 16 2 4	£ 16 2 10
	29 July	427	762	—	—	427	762	£ 0 14 6	£ 14 11 0	£ 15 3 6
STRANGLAR	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	22 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	6 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	20 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	10 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	17 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	24 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	1 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	8 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
SWINEFORD	15 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	22 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
		1	4	—	—	1	4	£ 0 3 4	—	£ 0 3 4
SWINEFORD	15 April	1,912	3,775	2,505	5,783	4,417	9,557	£ 1 5 6	£ 284 9 10	£ 285 15 4
	22 April	1,948	4,094	2,473	5,720	4,431	9,814	£ 0 9 6	£ 274 10 10	£ 175 0 4
	29 April	2,011	4,069	2,721	6,120	4,732	10,189	£ 0 1 8	£ 291 15 11	£ 291 17 7
	6 May	2,050	4,109	2,738	6,222	4,788	10,331	£ 0 0 7	£ 308 11 0	£ 308 11 7
	13 May	2,152	4,329	2,845	6,463	4,997	10,792	£ 0 1 1	£ 307 9 8	£ 307 10 9
	20 May	2,006	4,170	2,563	5,907	4,569	10,977	£ 0 8 2	£ 303 7 3	£ 303 15 5
	27 May	2,055	4,237	2,605	5,956	4,660	10,193	£ 0 3 4	£ 303 16 1	£ 303 19 6
	3 June	2,335	4,527	2,637	6,292	5,032	10,819	£ 0 3 7	£ 308 18 9	£ 309 2 4

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
SWINEFORD (continued)	10 June	2,588	5,260	3,285	8,386	5,873	13,655	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	17 June	2,854	5,876	3,998	10,664	6,852	16,540	0 3 0	272 18 94	273 1 94
	24 June	2,968	6,272	4,999	14,271	7,967	20,543	0 3 2	466 17 5	467 0 7
	1 July	3,133	6,636	5,015	16,871	8,940	23,507	0 2 84	517 11 94	517 14 53
	8 July	3,294	6,851	5,810	17,667	9,404	24,518	0 18 10	520 6 114	521 5 94
	15 July	3,386	7,071	6,254	18,662	9,640	25,733	0 6 9	539 15 9	540 2 6
	22 July	3,173	6,726	5,431	17,337	8,604	24,063	0 3 0	557 13 94	557 16 94
	29 July	3,048	6,264	5,134	15,873	8,182	21,837	—	527 1 54	527 1 54
								0 14 0	478 12 14	479 6 14
THURLES	15 April	2,252	4,885	4,063	10,179	6,315	15,064	0 2 0	329 11 24	329 13 24
	22 April	2,283	5,077	3,917	9,510	6,200	14,587	0 2 0	320 19 44	321 1 44
	29 April	2,293	5,102	3,878	9,406	6,171	14,508	0 2 0	335 12 0	335 14 0
	6 May	2,294	5,110	3,892	9,398	6,176	14,508	0 2 0	283 11 04	283 13 04
	13 May	2,297	5,123	3,862	9,313	6,159	14,436	0 1 0	281 6 4	281 7 4
	20 May	2,317	5,175	3,830	9,155	6,147	14,330	1 2 0	280 17 34	281 19 34
	27 May	2,320	5,189	3,765	8,980	6,083	14,169	2 0 6	200 11 34	282 11 94
	3 June	2,351	5,243	3,768	9,040	6,139	14,293	1 14 8	283 11 14	285 5 94
	10 June	2,372	5,297	3,856	9,157	6,280	14,454	1 12 6	289 6 114	290 19 54
	17 June	2,384	5,348	3,905	9,290	6,289	14,638	1 14 2	326 8 44	329 2 64
	24 June	2,401	5,369	3,917	9,283	6,318	14,672	1 15 6	328 5 64	330 1 64
	1 July	2,396	5,363	3,969	9,491	6,365	14,854	1 14 6	338 12 44	340 6 104
	8 July	2,397	5,381	3,975	9,479	6,372	14,800	1 12 6	340 2 54	341 14 114
	15 July	2,403	5,393	4,009	9,626	6,413	15,019	1 11 0	344 13 4	346 4 4
	22 July	2,395	5,385	3,943	9,414	6,338	14,799	1 9 0	336 15 14	338 4 14
	29 July	2,362	5,291	3,978	9,230	6,340	14,521	1 12 0	356 5 4	357 17 4
TIPPERARY	15 April	2,910	7,227	2,680	8,169	5,599	15,396	127 3 4	283 19 9	411 3 1
	22 April	2,923	7,215	2,830	8,596	5,753	15,811	123 16 8	302 15 7	426 14 3
	29 April	3,092	7,113	3,049	8,729	6,141	15,842	121 5 4	308 2 64	429 7 104
	6 May	3,104	7,184	3,080	8,774	6,194	15,958	123 3 2	303 0 44	426 8 64
	13 May	3,089	7,156	3,102	8,775	6,191	15,981	119 8 7	309 8 84	428 17 84
	20 May	3,033	7,063	3,092	8,587	6,125	15,650	87 6 5	328 9 1	415 15 6
	27 May	3,050	7,141	3,154	8,961	6,212	16,102	82 11 10	343 0 5	425 12 3
	3 June	3,074	7,102	3,287	9,206	6,361	16,308	58 17 5	374 11 0	433 9 1
	10 June	3,124	7,320	3,276	9,047	6,400	16,867	44 11 9	470 14 1	515 5 10
	17 June	3,039	6,923	3,471	9,435	6,510	16,356	39 12 1	487 16 4	527 8 5
	24 June	3,021	6,991	3,436	9,235	6,457	16,126	39 3 3	480 13 2	519 16 5
	1 July	2,925	6,513	3,252	9,155	6,277	15,668	38 4 2	474 8 2	512 7 4
	8 July	2,889	6,486	3,263	9,008	6,152	15,494	37 1 0	468 10 2	505 11 2
	15 July	2,868	6,562	3,218	8,955	6,086	15,507	36 14 10	461 19 8	490 14 6
	22 July	2,923	6,500	3,107	8,561	6,030	15,061	32 9 6	445 8 1	477 17 6
	29 July	2,825	6,320	3,103	8,618	6,028	14,933	32 8 2	457 14 4	490 2 6
TRALEE	15 April	2,495	4,910	90	218	2,585	5,128	—	112 9 24	112 9 24
	22 April	2,909	5,634	101	260	3,090	5,904	—	124 17 24	124 17 24
	29 April	2,950	5,773	210	458	3,160	6,281	—	132 18 0	132 18 0
	6 May	2,921	5,676	206	439	3,127	6,115	—	131 9 114	131 9 114
	13 May	2,886	5,623	211	436	3,097	6,050	—	130 2 74	130 2 74
	20 May	2,981	5,625	184	341	3,165	5,966	—	131 16 54	131 16 54
	27 May	2,920	5,503	215	423	3,135	5,926	—	137 19 74	137 19 74
	3 June	2,926	5,487	221	460	3,147	5,947	—	140 16 14	140 16 14
	10 June	2,982	5,617	237	506	3,219	6,123	—	139 17 64	139 17 64
	17 June	3,154	6,013	340	702	3,494	6,715	—	152 6 64	152 6 64
	24 June	2,854	6,315	2,113	2,521	4,467	8,836	—	263 19 4	263 19 4
	1 July	3,661	6,936	2,739	6,279	6,406	13,215	—	403 14 9	403 14 9
	8 July	3,698	6,817	3,227	8,265	6,925	15,092	—	466 9 04	466 9 04
	15 July	3,679	6,882	3,275	8,638	6,954	15,520	—	507 5 11	507 5 11
	22 July	3,234	6,546	3,712	9,781	6,946	16,827	—	528 14 1	528 14 1
	29 July	3,301	6,583	3,477	9,241	6,778	15,824	—	509 0 7	509 0 7
TRIM	15 April	1,161	2,071	—	—	1,161	2,071	2 16 4	62 16 6	65 12 10
	22 April	1,061	2,086	—	—	1,061	2,086	2 16 4	62 17 7	65 13 11
	29 April	1,074	2,155	—	—	1,074	2,155	2 16 4	64 9 04	67 5 44
	6 May	1,070	2,154	—	—	1,070	2,154	2 14 10	61 9 2	64 4 0
	13 May	1,077	2,160	—	—	1,077	2,160	4 0 9	61 8 114	65 9 84
	20 May	1,085	2,165	—	—	1,085	2,165	3 2 9	61 17 104	65 0 74
	27 May	1,083	2,172	—	—	1,083	2,172	3 7 2	61 19 4	65 6 6
	3 June	1,069	2,108	—	—	1,069	2,108	3 9 8	60 8 04	63 17 84
	10 June	1,074	2,119	—	—	1,074	2,119	3 14 2	60 17 84	64 11 104
	17 June	1,053	2,111	—	—	1,053	2,111	3 13 2	59 13 74	63 7 94
	24 June	1,035	2,093	—	—	1,035	2,093	3 14 8	59 4 0	62 18 8
	1 July	1,004	2,030	—	—	1,004	2,030	3 12 10	57 14 2	61 7 0
	8 July	994	1,980	—	—	994	1,980	3 11 4	56 10 3	60 1 7
	15 July	991	1,991	—	—	991	1,991	3 10 8	56 10 8	60 1 4
	22 July	986	1,977	—	—	986	1,977	3 11 4	56 4 34	59 15 74
	29 July	994	1,986	—	—	994	1,986	3 13 24	56 16 0	60 9 24
TEAM	15 April	2,125	4,867	3,950	9,002	6,075	13,069	0 1 0	347 6 84	347 7 84
	22 April	2,305	5,519	4,487	9,741	6,792	14,960	0 2 3	364 5 64	364 7 94
	29 April	2,436	5,489	4,154	9,736	6,590	15,226	0 2 3	378 10 104	378 13 14
	6 May	2,402	5,638	3,981	9,262	6,363	14,900	0 5 9	368 1 04	368 6 04
	13 May	2,374	5,207	3,610	8,032	5,984	13,419	0 5 9	342 9 84	342 15 84
	20 May	2,398	5,426	3,453	7,437	5,851	12,865	0 1 9	384 16 11	384 18 8
	27 May	2,422	5,563	3,565	7,637	5,967	13,219	0 1 9	343 0 11	343 2 8
	3 June	2,482	5,605	3,215	7,327	5,697	12,922	0 1 9	333 5 10	333 7 7
	10 June	2,566	5,948	3,249	7,073	5,815	13,021	0 1 9	336 17 24	336 18 114
	17 June	2,676	6,144	3,219	6,577	5,895	12,721	0 5 3	327 8 74	327 13 104
	24 June	2,750	6,284	3,367	7,448	6,117	13,732	0 8 4	348 18 44	349 6 84
	1 July	2,820	6,467	3,434	7,479	6,254	13,946	0 3 6	351 11 114	351 15 54
	8 July	2,902	6,437	3,436	7,345	6,338	13,782	0 3 6	360 4 54	360 7 114
	15 July	3,028	6,504	3,402	7,325	6,430	13,829	0 4 7	363 9 114	363 14 64
	22 July	2,958	6,697	3,343	7,725	6,301	14,422	0 5 6	380 13 104	380 19 44
	29 July	2,912	6,559	3,332	7,532	6,244	14,091	0 8 6	376 6 5	376 14 11
TULLAGHMORE	15 April	1,699	3,468	1,056	2,638	2,755	6,106	—	155 6 14	155 6 14
	22 April	1,718	3,507	1,095	2,740	2,813	6,247	—	154 2 64	154 2 64
	29 April	1,740	3,552	1,143	2,835	2,882	6,387	—	162 2 64	162 2 64

Return of Persons receiving Out-door Relief, &c.—continued.

Names of Unions.	Week ended	Persons relieved under Sec. 1.		Persons relieved under Sec. 2.		Total relieved out of the Workhouse.		Expenditure.			Observations.
		Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.	In Money.	In Kind.	Total.
TULLAMORE. (continued)	6 May	1,654	3,133	1,104	3,025	2,838	6,158	£ s. d.	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
	13 May	1,675	3,226	1,143	2,979	2,818	6,205	—	124 7 6	124 7 6
	20 May	1,673	3,209	1,127	2,997	2,805	6,206	—	128 7 10	128 7 10
	27 May	1,639	3,169	1,016	2,804	2,675	5,973	—	128 4 5	128 4 5
	3 June	1,669	3,176	980	2,704	2,649	5,800	—	125 17 5	125 17 5
	10 June	1,677	3,185	920	2,711	2,507	5,696	0 3 6	124 2 11	124 6 5
	17 June	1,715	3,274	846	2,365	2,561	5,639	0 1 0	114 10 7	114 11 7
	24 June	1,724	3,264	848	2,380	2,572	5,664	0 3 6	122 17 6	123 1 0
	1 July	1,743	3,328	856	2,360	2,539	5,606	0 5 2	117 14 7	117 19 9
	8 July	1,729	3,334	810	2,185	2,539	5,519	0 3 0	113 11 1	118 14 1
	15 July	1,719	3,320	778	2,071	2,497	5,291	0 1 9	115 0 10	115 2 7
	22 July	1,715	3,316	720	2,043	2,435	5,359	0 2 6	111 4 10	111 7 4
	29 July	1,699	3,273	723	2,020	2,422	5,293	0 6 2	110 1 3	110 7 6
WATERFORD	15 April	3,048	6,946	156	312	3,204	7,258	176 3 0	—	176 3 0
	22 April	3,121	7,092	156	312	3,277	7,404	171 8 1	—	171 8 1
	29 April	3,183	7,244	156	312	3,339	7,576	171 2 1	—	171 2 1
	6 May	3,224	7,298	161	322	3,385	7,616	162 5 1	—	162 5 1
	13 May	3,290	7,365	171	342	3,461	7,727	163 19 11	—	163 19 11
	20 May	3,335	7,442	179	358	3,514	7,800	165 9 6	—	165 9 6
	27 May	3,379	7,539	179	358	3,558	7,917	164 0 3	—	164 0 3
	3 June	3,405	7,607	179	358	3,584	8,065	156 17 7	5 8 4	162 5 11
	10 June	3,444	7,689	179	358	3,623	8,047	157 10 10	5 19 0	163 9 10
	17 June	3,493	7,570	179	358	3,672	8,228	71 9 0	63 1 9	154 10 9
	24 June	3,543	7,907	186	372	3,734	8,279	30 8 10	109 15 7	148 4 5
	1 July	3,621	8,092	190	390	3,811	8,462	14 4 5	129 15 5	153 19 11
	8 July	3,714	8,345	195	390	3,909	8,735	3 11 5	144 13 3	148 4 8
	15 July	3,749	8,440	195	390	3,944	8,820	3 13 4	154 4 4	157 17 9
	22 July	3,779	8,509	197	394	3,976	8,903	4 3 0	155 5 8	159 8 9
	29 July	3,810	8,597	199	398	4,009	8,995	3 17 2	160 8 2	164 5 5
WESTPORT	15 April	2,390	6,538	6,083	14,349	8,473	21,307	—	—	—	Cost not stated.
	22 April	2,731	7,616	6,206	14,378	8,937	21,294	3 11 12	823 17 6	532 8 7
	29 April	2,930	7,844	6,293	16,216	9,253	24,060	—	531 10 6	551 10 6
	6 May	3,015	8,046	6,345	16,386	9,560	24,932	—	597 13 0	597 18 0
	13 May	3,106	8,193	6,092	17,117	9,793	25,310	—	597 13 0	597 18 0
	20 May	3,145	8,260	6,800	17,645	10,005	25,905	—	354 17 7	354 17 7
	27 May	3,226	8,491	6,962	18,446	10,203	26,937	—	315 14 10	315 14 10
	3 June	3,298	8,610	7,166	19,079	10,266	27,639	—	547 6 6	547 6 6
	10 June	3,099	8,621	7,811	20,092	10,329	28,713	—	554 12 4	554 12 4
	17 June	3,067	8,643	7,624	20,355	10,601	29,503	—	620 8 6	620 8 6
	24 June	3,094	9,413	8,291	22,003	11,305	31,416	—	537 0 0	537 0 0
	1 July	3,178	9,641	8,649	22,938	11,827	32,579	—	732 10 0	732 10 0
	8 July	2,617	8,212	6,916	17,931	9,533	26,193	—	659 5 5	659 5 5
	15 July	2,929	8,294	7,176	18,493	10,005	26,777	—	734 5 8	734 5 8
WEXFORD	22 July	2,938	8,535	7,142	18,403	10,030	26,943	—	704 16 6	704 16 6	No out-door relief.
	29 July	2,684	8,376	7,006	17,287	9,690	25,663	—	687 0 3	687 0 3
	15 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	700 7 6	700 7 6
	22 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	29 April	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	6 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	13 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	20 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	27 May	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	3 June	1	1	—	—	1	1	0 2 0	—	0 2 0
	10 June	1	1	—	—	1	1	0 2 0	—	0 2 0
	17 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	No out-door relief.
	24 June	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	1 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
	8 July	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—

SUMMARY.

Week ended	15 April	22 April	29 April	6 May	13 May	20 May	27 May	3 June	10 June	17 June	24 June	1 July	8 July	15 July	22 July	29 July
	193,181	429,813	90,939	245,301	292,120	675,114	2437 18 11	14763 1 6	17221 0 5
	204,339	461,069	96,845	246,894	304,184	707,754	2379 17 9	14823 5 3	17415 3 0
	201,903	455,934	102,323	255,097	304,426	711,631	2352 12 3	15617 19 2	17970 11 5
	214,454	465,364	114,599	266,430	321,944	731,794	2271 2 10	16515 13 7	18746 18 5
	209,035	450,069	108,134	256,934	308,169	707,803	2259 16 11	15329 9 11	17789 6 11
	201,861	453,876	108,967	257,069	310,829	711,545	2674 11 9	14631 11 9	17306 3 6
	198,253	445,860	107,477	263,133	305,730	708,996	2025 18 4	15369 2 10	17855 1 2
	214,378	487,517	115,707	281,626	330,295	769,213	1965 11 5	17587 8 0	19562 19 6
	206,700	473,329	114,432	285,185	321,183	759,024	1937 13 0	17732 7 0	19670 0 0
	213,329	483,697	125,260	308,505	338,589	797,112	1878 13 13	18755 17 0	20634 10 2
	212,765	486,735	133,535	320,793	346,690	815,571	1793 1 0	19619 16 7	21412 17 8
	215,438	490,902	137,499	342,987	352,937	823,889	1780 15 3	20019 19 7	21890 14 10
	212,700	484,315	132,648	332,463	345,318	816,763	1676 9 1	19859 3 5	21535 6 6
	216,843	490,305	136,605	342,948	353,528	838,253	1772 0 3	20259 7 9	22031 8 0
	211,700	482,020	136,507	343,214	348,297	825,234	1726 6 9	20144 6 9	21670 13 6
	204,620	464,056	134,254	335,735	839,074	800,391	1690 11 6	19771 6 9	21461 18 3

NOTE.—Returns not received from the Unions stated below.

Week ended	April 15.	Clifden and Loughrea.
"	April 22.	Clifden and Longford.
"	April 29.	Clifden, Longford, and New Ross.
"	May 13.	Clifden, Longford, and Loughrea.
"	May 20.	Clifden and Longford.
"	May 27.	Clifden and Dublin, South.
"	June 10.	Clifden.

Week ended	June 17.	Clifden and Glenties.
"	June 24.	Clifden and Glenties.
"	July 1.	Clifden and Glenties.
"	July 8.	Clifden and Ennistymon.
"	July 15.	Roscommon.
"	July 22.	Clifden.
"	July 29.	Clifden, Dublin South, and Dundalk.

RETURN showing the Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per head (exclusive of Clothing), and the Total Weeks ended the 8th January, the 5th February, the 4th March, the 8th April, the 6th May, and

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Week ended the 8th January, 1848.							Week ended the 5th February, 1848.							Week ended the 4th March, 1848.
	In-door.		Out-door.				Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	In-door.		Out-door.				Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	In-door.		Out-door.				Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)
	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.			Number of Persons relieved in each Union.		Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.			Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)		Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.
			Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.
s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
Abbeyleix, . . .	847	1 11	2,073	114	2,187	0 8½	913	1 11½	2,833	425	3,258	0 7½	877	1 10½	3,120	285	3,405	0 7½
Antrim, . . .	841	1 9	—	—	—	—	891	1 8½	—	—	—	—	920	1 8	—	—	—	—	—	—
Ardee, . . .	960	1 8½	2,642	—	2,642	0 6½	946	1 8	2,895	—	2,895	0 6½	888	1 8	2,886	—	2,886	—	0 7
Armagh, . . .	1,297	1 7½	1,827	—	1,827	0 4½	1,276	1 7½	2,426	—	2,426	0 4½	1,223	1 7½	2,542	—	2,542	—	0 4½
Athlone, . . .	874	1 11	—	—	—	—	998	1 9½	—	—	—	—	1,075	1 10	2,718	1,025	3,743	0 5
Athy, . . .	1,058	1 8½	548	—	548	0 7½	1,180	1 10½	1,553	—	1,553	0 7	1,179	1 10½	2,329	—	2,329	—	0 7½
Bailieborough, . . .	980	1 4½	4,171	13	4,184	0 6½	1,108	1 3½	4,104	85	4,189	0 7½	1,074	1 4	4,810	227	5,037	0 6½
Ballina, . . .	1,350	1 5	2,821	6,508	9,329	0 3½	1,446	1 5½	7,381	16,239	23,620	0 5	1,267	1 5½	9,341	26,351	35,692	0 7½
Ballinasloe, . . .	923	1 10½	—	—	—	—	1,398	1 10½	—	—	—	—	1,386	1 9	1,090	—	1,090	—	0 6½
Ballinrobe, . . .	800	1 5½	3,158	10,000	13,158	0 7	908	1 6½	562	1,273	1,835	0 8½	842	1 6	7,871	17,137	25,008	0 6½
Ballycastle, . . .	436	1 8	—	—	—	—	496	1 7	—	—	—	—	514	1 5½	—	—	—	—	—	—
Ballymena, . . .	1,035	1 4½	—	—	—	—	1,069	1 4½	170	17	187	0 2½	1,002	1 4½	720	4	733	—	0 3½
Ballymoney, . . .	729	1 3½	492	—	492	0 4½	778	1 3½	898	—	898	0 5	755	1 3½	1,035	—	1,035	—	0 4½
Ballyshannon, . . .	697	1 9½	—	—	—	—	870	1 10½	596	—	596	0 6½	826	1 10½	884	—	884	—	0 6
Balrothery, . . .	539	1 7½	—	661	661	0 7	556	1 9	790	—	790	0 6½	570	1 7½	—	838	838	—	0 6
Baltinglass, . . .	628	1 5	1,294	—	1,294	0 6½	690	1 5	1,639	—	1,639	0 6½	703	1 5	1,729	—	1,729	—	0 6½
Banbridge, . . .	1,330	1 7	212	—	212	0 5½	464	1 6	457	—	457	0 4	1,274	1 6½	1,731	—	1,731	—	0 4½
Bandon, . . .	1,415	1 4½	—	—	—	—	2,069	1 3	—	—	—	—	2,177	1 3	—	—	—	—	—	—
Bantry, . . .	874	1 5	4,496	—	4,496	0 6	914	1 7	8,602	—	8,602	0 6	1,276	1 4	6,663	—	6,663	—	0 7½
Belfast, . . .	2,440	1 10½	—	—	—	—	2,863	1 9	—	—	—	—	2,924	1 9	—	—	—	—	—	—
Boyle, . . .	694	1 5½	—	—	—	—	744	1 7	—	—	—	—	751	1 7	—	—	—	—	—	—
Cahiriveen, . . .	548	1 4½	Return	not received.	—	—	1,248	1 3½	1,113	—	1,113	0 8½	989	1 5½	2,526	257	2,783	0 7½
Caillan, . . .	840	2 0½	2,669	2,562	5,231	0 4½	812	1 11	3,450	4,893	8,343	0 6	817	1 8½	3,582	4,933	8,515	0 6
Carlow, . . .	1,568	1 9½	2,724	—	2,724	0 5½	2,014	2 3½	3,857	—	3,857	0 6	1,903	2 1½	4,563	—	4,563	—	0 5½
Carrickmacross, . . .	555	1 2½	1,383	3	1,286	0 6½	642	1 2½	1,681	57	1,738	0 6	623	1 1½	2,017	63	2,080	—	0 6
Carrick-on-Shannon, . . .	786	1 9	49	53	102	0 3	803	1 11	2,003	2,459	4,462	0 5½	696	2 1	5,238	9,593	14,831	0 5½
Carrick-on-Suir, . . .	923	1 6	27	—	27	0 6½	1,043	1 8	209	—	209	0 7½	1,073	1 7½	717	—	717	—	0 5½
Cashel, . . .	1,680	1 6½	2,982	—	2,982	0 9	1,504	1 6½	4,606	4,123	8,809	0 7	1,153	1 10½	3,993	7,233	11,226	0 8
Castlebar, . . .	782	1 8	Return	not received.	—	—	804	1 6	Return	not received.	—	—	780	1 10½	7,281	10,446	17,727	0 5½
Castleblaney, . . .	856	1 8½	1,923	—	1,923	0 7½	1,037	1 7	2,236	—	2,236	0 8½	1,104	1 11½	2,337	—	2,337	—	0 6½
Castlederg, . . .	363	1 1	—	—	—	—	427	1 1½	—	—	—	—	408	1 1½	—	—	—	—	—	—
Castlerea, . . .	1,126	1 8½	—	—	—	—	1,034	1 10½	—	—	—	—	1,063	1 10½	—	—	—	—	—	—
Cavan, . . .	1,323	1 8	3,374	—	3,374	0 6½	1,573	1 9½	5,559	—	5,559	0 10	1,533	1 9½	8,164	581	8,745	0 7
Celbridge, . . .	381	1 9	—	—	—	—	458	1 9½	—	—	—	—	411	1 9½	—	—	—	—	—	—
Clifden, . . .	504	1 6	1,281	—	1,281	0 5½	242	1 5	3,304	2,393	5,697	0 6½	274	1 6	5,709	3,443	9,152	0 6½
Clogheen, . . .	593	1 7½	3,655	—	3,655	0 5½	969	1 6½	4,815	—	4,815	0 5	1,159	1 6	5,891	—	5,891	—	0 4½
Clogher, . . .	643	1 4	1,027	—	1,027	0 5½	646	1 6	1,599	—	1,599	0 5½	671	1 5½	1,877	—	1,877	—	0 5½
Clones, . . .	820	1 5	2,302	—	2,302	0 4½	840	1 3½	2,216	—	2,216	0 5½	800	1 4½	2,180	—	2,180	—	0 5
Clonmel, . . .	1,739	1 9	78	—	78	0 1½	1,915	1 9	506	68	574	0 6	1,846	1 7½	1,187	1,400	2,587	0 6½
Coleraine, . . .	743	1 7	—	—	—	—	755	1 7½	—	—	—	—	730	1 7	—	—	—	—	—	—
Cookstown, . . .	594	1 4½	389	—	389	0 4½	596	1 4½	562	—	562	0 4½	598	1 4½	761	—	761	—	0 4½
Cootchill, . . .	1,063	1 4½	452	—	452	0 5½	1,121	1 4	3,662	—	3,662	0 6	1,099	1 5	3,766	96	3,862	0 6
Cork, . . .	3,272	1 5½	—	—	—	—	3,805	1 5½	—	—	—	—	3,905	1 5	—	—	—	—	—	—
Dingle, . . .	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Donegal, . . .	388	1 4½	—	—	—	—	540	1 4½	—	—	—	—	531	1 4½	—	—	—	—	—	—
Downpatrick, . . .	791	1 6½	—	—	—	—	842	1 6½	—	—	—	—	830	1 5	—	—	—	—	—	—
Drogheda, . . .	965	1 9½	2,809	—	2,809	0 4½	928	1 9½	3,161	469	3,630	0 5	865	1 9½	3,137	573	3,710	0 5
Dublin, North, . . .	3,104	2 2½	3,179	—	3,179	0 7½	3,435	2 1	3,600	—	3,600	0 7½	3,447	2 1½	3,525	—	3,525	—	0 7½
Dublin, South, . . .	2,319	1 11½	4,532	—	4,532	0 9½	2,362	1 10½	5,595	—	5,595	0 9½	2,483	1 10½	5,898	—	5,898	—	0 9½
Dundalk, . . .	884	1 7½	1,419	—	1,419	0 6½	848	1 7	1,733	—	1,733	0 6½	788	1 7	2,086	—	2,086	—	0 6½
Dunfarnaghy, . . .	235	1 8	—	—	—	—	319	1 3	—	—	—	—	380	1 2	—	—	—	—	—	—
Dungannon, . . .	883	1 8½	401	—	401	0 4½	917	1 8	1,005	—	1,005	0 5	974	1 6	1,409	—	1,409	—	0 4½
Dungarvan, . . .	995	1 2	3,020	20	3,040	0 7½	1,482	1 1½	2,713	537	3,250	0 6½	1,215	1 2½	4,063	—	4,063	—	0 5½
Dunmanway, . . .	560	1 3	—	—	—	—	780	1 1	592	25	617	0 4½	815	1 1	2,267	388	2,655	0 4½
Dunshaughlin, . . .	484	1 11	857	1,525	2,382	0 9	495	1 10½	947	2,150	3,097	0 8½	440	1 10	1,024	1,737	2,761	0 77

Number of Paupers relieved in each Union in Ireland; distinguishing the In-door and Out-door Poor, for the 3rd June, 1848, respectively; distinguishing also the Unions under the Charge of Temporary Inspectors.

Week ended the 8th April, 1848.										Week ended the 6th May, 1848.										Week ended the 3rd June, 1848.										Names of Unions in charge of Temporary Inspectors.
In-door.		Out-door.						In-door.		Out-door.						In-door.		Out-door.
Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance, (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing).	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic. Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. •	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance, (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing).	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic. Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. •	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance, (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing).	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic. Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. •
		Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.
s. d.	s. d.				s. d.	s. d.	s. d.			s. d.	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.				s. d.
886	2 0	2,639	113	2,952	0 8	957	1 10	2,663	104	2,767	0 7	899	1 7	3,137	181	3,268	0 7	Ballina.
841	1 4	-	-	-	-	809	1 3	-	-	-	-	766	1 3	-	-	-	-
780	1 7	1,619	-	1,619	0 7	653	1 6	2,018	-	2,018	0 6	653	1 6	2,072	-	2,072	0 6
1,152	1 6	1,836	-	1,836	0 4	1,142	1 1	986	-	986	0 4	1,045	1 1	390	-	390	0 5	Ballinasloe.
1,150	1 9	5,863	3,541	9,404	0 5	1,069	1 8	5,359	2,109	7,969	0 5	1,274	1 9	6,693	2,206	8,899	0 5
986	1 9	2,261	-	2,261	0 10	950	1 7	2,643	-	2,643	0 8	905	1 8	2,582	-	2,582	0 9
1,064	1 11	4,002	-	4,002	0 7	1,112	1 2	4,120	-	4,120	0 6	1,116	1 1	4,030	-	4,030	0 6	Ballinrobe.
1,394	1 5	11,106	26,849	37,955	0 7	1,339	1 6	11,344	24,745	36,089	0 7	1,305	1 6	11,196	23,435	34,631	0 7
1,374	1 10	4,589	795	5,384	0 6	1,392	1 10	6,970	1,692	8,662	0 6	1,471	1 9	7,252	1,971	9,223	0 6
782	1 6	9,135	22,690	31,825	0 6	818	1 5	10,238	26,362	36,600	0 6	826	1 6	10,992	29,128	40,120	0 6	Ballyshannon.
447	1 6	-	-	-	-	429	1 7	-	-	-	-	420	1 5	-	-	-	-
998	1 5	1,176	-	1,176	0 4	946	1 6	1,079	-	1,079	0 3	965	1 4	422	-	422	0 4
729	1 3	977	-	977	0 5	714	1 3	1,013	-	1,013	0 4	681	1 2	938	-	938	0 5	Bantry.
717	1 5	1,311	-	1,311	0 6	683	1 2	1,315	-	1,315	0 5	677	1 2	1,381	-	1,381	0 4
462	1 7	868	-	868	0 5	487	1 7	962	-	962	0 5	440	1 7	942	-	942	0 6
746	1 5	1,691	-	1,691	0 6	813	1 5	1,684	-	1,684	0 6	861	1 5	1,742	-	1,742	0 6	Boyle.
1,227	1 3	1,837	-	1,837	0 4	1,178	1 4	1,796	-	1,796	0 4	1,150	1 4	1,450	-	1,450	0 5
1,900	1 2	-	-	-	-	1,967	1 2	-	-	-	-	1,957	1 2	-	-	-	-
902	1 3	6,137	-	6,137	0 6	789	1 3	6,520	-	6,520	0 5	916	1 2	6,927	-	6,927	0 5	Cahiriveen.
2,883	2 1	-	-	-	-	2,795	1 8	-	-	-	-	2,609	1 5	-	-	-	-
739	1 7	4,897	908	5,265	0 3	742	1 9	6,756	3,617	10,373	0 4	765	1 9	7,939	6,031	13,970	0 5
1,029	1 3	2,764	293	3,057	0 6	954	1 2	2,793	232	3,045	0 6	1,064	1 3	2,696	1	2,697	0 6	Callan.
808	1 5	3,369	3,905	7,274	0 5	855	1 6	3,461	3,625	7,086	0 5	866	1 7	3,639	3,930	7,569	0 6
1,728	2 1	5,490	-	5,490	0 5	1,691	1 9	6,012	-	6,012	0 5	1,536	1 8	6,497	-	6,497	0 4
635	1 1	1,943	112	2,055	0 6	612	1 2	2,086	174	2,260	0 6	701	1 2	2,131	160	2,311	0 6	Carrick-on-Shannon.
907	1 7	5,503	5,277	10,780	0 6	936	1 4	5,972	5,472	11,444	0 5	899	1 7	6,554	6,210	12,764	0 7
824	1 5	825	-	825	0 5	803	1 9	854	-	854	0 5	755	1 4	940	-	940	0 5
1,402	1 9	4,535	6,376	10,961	0 6	1,502	1 9	5,097	4,334	9,631	0 6	1,528	1 5	5,843	4,817	10,660	0 6	Cashel.
817	1 8	6,588	9,492	16,075	0 6	830	1 3	7,503	11,024	18,557	0 6	826	1 2	8,733	12,966	21,699	0 3
783	1 6	2,318	-	2,318	0 5	865	1 6	2,273	-	2,273	0 5	838	1 5	2,257	-	2,257	0 5
386	1 1	-	-	-	-	383	1 0	-	-	-	-	366	1 0	-	-	-	-	Castlereagh.
1,107	1 8	6,754	-	6,754	0 7	1,041	1 1	8,925	6,333	15,303	0 6	1,214	1 8	7,553	3,650	16,203	0 6
1,081	1 4	6,807	507	7,314	0 5	1,644	1 5	7,163	560	7,723	0 5	1,620	1 4	6,952	812	7,764	0 5
320	1 9	-	-	-	-	311	1 9	-	-	-	-	287	1 9	-	-	-	-	Cavan.
280	1 5	9,112	3,986	13,098	0 8	357	1 7	9,833	4,402	14,235	0 7	265	3 0	12,206	4,907	17,213	0 7
943	1 7	7,800	94	7,894	0 4	879	1 7	7,867	61	7,928	0 4	839	1 6	7,526	96	7,622	0 4
626	1 4	1,761	-	1,761	0 5	625	1 4	1,567	-	1,567	0 5	621	1 6	1,548	-	1,548	0 5	Clifden.
801	1 4	2,127	-	2,127	0 5	873	1 5	1,990	-	1,990	0 4	871	1 5	2,064	-	2,064	0 4
1,567	1 7	1,972	1,638	3,630	0 6	1,545	1 7	2,288	-	2,288	0 6	1,505	1 6	2,395	-	2,395	0 5
674	1 6	-	-	-	-	616	1 6	-	-	-	-	640	1 6	-	-	-	-	Clonmel.
583	1 4	805	-	805	0 4	583	1 4	747	-	747	0 4	599	1 4	686	-	686	0 4
922	1 3	4,475	757	5,232	0 5	930	1 4	4,597	781	5,378	0 5	1,270	1 1	4,396	787	5,133	0 5
3,760	1 4	-	-	-	-	3,656	1 2	-	-	-	-	3,590	1 2	-	-	-	-	Dingle.
-	-	722	-	722	0 7	78	-	5,001	4,206	9,207	0 5	50	-	5,269	4,570	9,839	0 7
550	1 5	1,132	-	1,132	0 5	350	1 4	1,259	-	1,259	0 5	621	1 5	1,376	-	1,376	0 5
766	1 5	-	-	-	-	731	1 5	-	-	-	-	712	1 5	-	-	-	-	Donegal.
723	1 9	2,972	410	3,382	0 4	619	1 9	2,894	403	3,297	0 4	590	1 6	2,840	-	2,840	0 5
3,333	2 0	3,294	-	3,294	0 7	3,209	1 11	3,177	-	3,177	0 7	3,092	1 10	3,028	-	3,028	0 6
2,479	1 9	5,819	-	5,819	0 8	2,323	1 9	5,736	-	5,736	0 8	2,005	1 8	4,067	-	4,067	0 7	Ennis.
666	1 6	2,470	-	2,470	0 6	640	1 7	2,402	-	2,402	0 6	617	1 7	2,209	-	2,209	0 6
285	1 3	-	-	-	-	253	1 4	-	-	-	-	241	1 2	-	-	-	-
940	1 3	1,673	-	1,673	0 4	918	1 3	1,574	-	1,574	0 4	922	1 2	1,504	-	1,504	0 3	Fermoy.
1,311	1 1	4,098	34	4,132	0 5	1,195	1 0	4,856	96	4,952	0 5	1,364	1 0	4,584	47	4,631	0 5
828	1 3	2,736	590	3,326	0 5	806	1 2	2,662	230	2,892	0 5	927	1 0	1,985	162	2,147	0 7
449	1 9	816	531	1,347	0 7	444	1 8	909	154	963	0 8	415	1 9	770	183	953	0 9	Galway.
539	1 8	884	-	884	0 6	525	1 7	852	-	852	0 8	509	1 6	836	-	836	0 7
1,081	1 3	9,603	8,582	18,185	0 6	1,219	1 3	8,773	10,124	18,897	0 6	1,494	1 3	9,002	8,227	17,229	0 6
921	1 8	4,300	2,562	6,862	0 6	962	1 6	4,109	1,998	6,107	0 6	1,215	1 6	2,906	887	3,793	0 7	Glenties.
1,082	1 10	3,915	457	4,372	0 5	1,207	1 9	3,688	370	4,058	0 5	1,202	1 8	3,685	357	4,042	0 5
869	1 6	6,257	10,927	17,184	0 5	787	1 5	6,919	13,476	20,395	0 5	789	1 5	7,078	13,839	20,917	0 5
1,314	1 3	12,024	495	12,519	0 5	1,338	1 4	10,584	507	11,091	0 5	1,559	1 2	11,502	512	12,014	0 5	Gort.
1,156	1 6	8,136	16,542	24,678	0 7	1,365	1 2	9,439	16,409	25,908	0 5	1,333	1 2	10,2

RETURN showing the Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per head (exclusive of Clothing)—continued.

NAMES OF UNIONS.	Week ended the 8th January, 1848.						Week ended the 5th February, 1848.						Week ended the 4th March, 1848.
	In-door.		Out-door.				In-door.		Out-door.				In-door.		Out-door.
	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Chap. 21.			Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance.	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Chap. 21.			Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance.	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance (exclusive of Clothing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Chap. 21.			Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance.
			Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.
	s.	d.				s.	d.				s.	d.				s.	d.				s.	d.
Kilkeel, ...	311	1 23	—	—	—	—	352	1 2	—	—	—	—	318	1 33	81	—	81	0 4	—	—	—	—	—
Kilkenny, ...	1,974	1 11	4,299	—	4,299	0 7	2,035	1 9	10,241	1,023	11,264	0 6	1,792	2 0	10,565	803	11,448	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Killarney, ...	1,407	1 53	10,614	371	10,985	0 6	1,514	1 6	11,707	591	12,298	0 6	1,463	1 5	13,610	827	14,437	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Kilmallock, ...	1,283	1 7	12,777	1,624	14,401	0 6	1,300	1 10	15,149	2,939	18,088	0 7	1,303	1 10	10,279	1,503	11,862	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Kilrush, ...	1,122	—	9,764	—	9,764	0 7	1,105	1 4	13,200	—	13,200	0 6	1,080	1 4	13,538	—	13,538	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Kinsale, ...	820	1 4	—	—	—	—	1,037	1 4	—	—	—	—	1,140	1 4	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Larne, ...	636	1 1	—	—	—	—	660	1 13	—	—	—	—	602	1 21	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Letterkenny, ...	602	1 6	—	—	—	—	547	1 6	—	—	—	—	530	1 6	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Limerick, ...	2,469	1 5	6,292	—	6,292	0 8	2,892	1 8	7,455	—	7,455	0 8	2,504	1 6	8,481	—	8,481	0 8	—	—	—	—	—
Lisburn, ...	807	1 4	—	—	—	—	835	1 10	—	—	—	—	855	1 3	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Lismore, ...	674	1 1	355	—	355	0 5	759	1 2	1,274	—	1,274	0 5	1,085	1 0	1,846	—	1,846	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Lisnakea, ...	790	1 3	—	—	—	—	874	1 3	—	—	—	—	852	1 1	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Listowel, ...	754	2 4	4,156	11,770	15,926	0 7	959	1 10	5,723	16,135	21,858	0 7	1,129	1 10	6,014	16,017	22,031	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Londonderry, ...	907	1 8	1,027	—	1,027	0 6	1,012	1 6	1,710	—	1,710	0 6	873	1 7	2,085	—	2,085	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Longford, ...	1,283	1 7	6,557	520	7,077	0 5	1,442	1 8	8,159	989	9,148	0 6	1,397	1 8	7,701	2,993	10,694	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Loughrea, ...	811	1 6	—	—	—	—	1,190	1 5	—	—	—	—	1,539	1 5	1,919	548	2,467	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Lowtherstown, ...	583	—	622	—	622	0 7	726	1 3	1,720	—	1,720	0 8	784	1 2	2,502	127	2,629	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Lurgan, ...	1,279	1 10	—	—	—	—	1,346	1 10	—	—	—	—	1,312	1 10	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Macroom, ...	1,049	1 7	—	—	—	—	1,220	1 6	1,913	—	1,913	0 8	1,284	1 4	3,849	951	4,800	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Magherafelt, ...	912	1 9	294	60	294	0 2	940	1 9	428	114	542	0 8	969	1 4	589	186	725	0 3	—	—	—	—	—
Mallow, ...	944	1 7	—	—	—	—	1,400	1 3	—	—	—	—	1,172	1 3	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Manorhamilton, ...	633	1 6	613	4	617	0 6	657	1 0	1,616	43	1,659	0 5	780	1 0	1,597	144	1,741	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Midleton, ...	1,643	1 6	—	—	—	—	1,567	1 4	—	—	—	—	1,733	1 4	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Milford, ...	409	1 9	183	50	233	0 3	380	1 9	1,071	—	1,071	0 2	389	1 0	1,759	—	1,759	0 2	—	—	—	—	—
Mohill, ...	699	1 1	411	107	518	0 6	985	1 3	3,270	1,331	4,601	0 5	895	1 3	4,891	1,986	6,877	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Monaghan, ...	802	1 7	—	—	—	—	917	1 6	—	—	—	—	930	1 5	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Mountmellick, ...	1,491	1 6	3,376	—	3,376	0 8	1,596	1 7	3,755	—	3,755	0 8	1,645	1 9	4,226	—	4,226	0 8	—	—	—	—	—
Mullingar, ...	1,051	2 0	1,463	2,845	4,308	0 11	1,136	1 9	2,047	4,958	7,005	0 10	1,060	1 7	2,201	5,174	7,375	0 10	—	—	—	—	—
Naas, ...	788	1 7	1,833	—	1,833	0 9	973	1 8	2,370	—	2,370	0 9	1,039	1 8	2,643	—	2,643	0 9	—	—	—	—	—
Navan, ...	676	1 10	3,133	—	3,133	0 7	729	1 11	2,335	—	2,335	0 7	749	1 10	3,346	—	3,346	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Nenagh, ...	1,217	1 8	7,084	14	7,098	0 10	1,539	1 7	9,095	5	9,100	0 10	1,303	1 7	10,172	42	10,215	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Newcastle, ...	757	2 1	5,579	16,195	21,774	0 7	772	2 1	5,238	17,981	23,219	0 7	757	2 1	5,302	17,215	22,517	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
New Ross, ...	1,496	1 3	3,866	—	3,866	0 6	1,741	1 10	5,432	14	5,446	0 6	1,595	1 9	6,264	47	6,311	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Newry, ...	1,000	1 8	1,269	27	1,296	0 3	1,045	1 6	2,865	36	2,901	0 3	1,139	1 6	3,156	23	3,179	0 3	—	—	—	—	—
Newtownards, ...	736	1 10	—	—	—	—	746	1 9	—	—	—	—	647	1 9	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Newtownlimavady, ...	519	1 5	—	—	—	—	551	1 6	—	—	—	—	585	1 4	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Oldcastle, ...	808	1 9	3,465	2,657	6,122	0 7	840	1 7	3,645	3,109	6,754	0 7	868	1 7	3,318	2,879	6,197	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Omagh, ...	985	1 8	111	—	111	0 3	999	1 8	2,503	47	2,550	0 5	1,094	1 8	2,905	305	3,110	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Parsonstown, ...	1,016	1 10	—	—	—	—	1,160	1 9	—	—	—	—	1,085	1 10	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Rathdown, ...	762	2 3	877	58	935	0 7	756	2 2	1,065	430	1,495	0 8	713	2 0	1,400	131	1,531	0 8	—	—	—	—	—
Rathfriland, ...	796	1 5	1,433	—	1,433	0 5	908	1 6	1,447	—	1,447	0 6	874	1 8	2,312	—	2,312	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Rathkeale, ...	943	1 6	8,397	4,827	13,224	0 10	1,066	1 6	8,453	4,857	13,310	0 7	1,195	1 6	7,831	3,958	11,789	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Rosecommon, ...	1,069	2 0	—	—	—	—	1,233	1 9	2,092	—	2,092	0 10	1,488	1 9	7,029	—	7,029	0 8	—	—	—	—	—
Roscrea, ...	1,083	2 1	1,484	21	1,505	0 8	1,023	1 9	4,266	113	4,379	0 8	1,018	1 9	4,609	1,967	6,576	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Scariff, ...	1,654	1 7	2,582	—	2,582	0 9	1,855	1 7	7,798	370	8,168	0 10	1,944	1 5	9,674	2,716	12,390	0 8	—	—	—	—	—
Shillelagh, ...	690	1 6	—	—	—	—	630	1 7	147	—	147	0 8	646	1 8	518	—	518	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Skibbereen, ...	1,503	1 3	4,683	—	4,683	0 8	1,896	1 3	4,033	—	4,033	0 7	2,496	1 2	5,583	—	5,583	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Sligo, ...	1,607	1 11	7,359	—	7,359	0 6	1,705	2 1	7,353	—	7,353	0 7	1,693	2 1	7,430	148	7,578	0 6	—	—	—	—	—
Strabane, ...	906	1 6	20	—	20	0 10	992	1 6	792	—	792	0 6	846	1 7	1,409	—	1,409	0 5	—	—	—	—	—
Stranorlar, ...	395	1 2	—	—	—	—	307	1 2	—	—	—	—	367	1 3	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Swineford, ...	760	1 1	43	—	43	0 5	901	1 2	288	101	389	0 5	1,067	1 1	1,651	2,842	4,493	0 7	—	—	—	—	—
Thurles, ...	1,035	1 8	4,591	8,727	13,318	0 5	1,007	1 8	5

* In some few Unions there is a small allowance given for Lodging and Clothing.

RETURN showing the Average Weekly Cost of Maintenance per head (exclusive of Clothing)—continued.

Week ended the 8th April, 1848.										Week ended the 6th May, 1848.										Week ended the 3rd June, 1848.										Names of Unions in charge of Temporary Inspectors.
In-door.		Out-door.								In-door.		Out-door.								In-door.		Out-door.
Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. *	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. *	Number of Persons relieved in each Union.	Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance (exclu- sive of Cloth- ing.)	Number of Persons relieved under 10 Vic., Cap. 31.			Average Weekly Cost of Main- tenance. *
		Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.				Under Sec. 1.	Under Sec. 2.	Total.
s. d.	s. d.				s. d.	s. d.				s. d.	s. d.				s. d.	s. d.				s. d.
267	1 13	197	-	197	0 54	256	1 2	162	-	162	0 54	237	1 13	187	-	187	0 43
1,679	1 64	7,558	264	7,822	0 63	1,434	1 23	6,923	68	6,991	0 7	1,441	1 64	6,439	47	6,486	0 74
1,259	1 34	12,229	1,562	13,811	0 63	1,291	1 2	8,980	1,420	10,400	0 6	1,518	1 1	9,440	993	10,433	0 74
1,269	1 74	13,491	1,579	15,070	0 54	1,278	1 6	14,724	1,519	16,243	0 54	1,373	1 54	14,064	1,352	15,416	0 63
1,330	1 4	14,292	-	14,292	0 5	1,322	1 7	18,606	-	18,606	0 63	1,229	1 24	9,792	3,664	15,456	0 63
1,069	1 43	-	-	-	-	1,066	1 24	-	-	-	-	1,061	1 3	-	-	-	-				Kilrush.
578	1 2	-	-	-	-	567	1 2	-	-	-	-	551	1 13	-	-	-	-
409	1 43	-	-	-	-	416	1 5	-	-	-	-	433	1 24	-	-	-	-
2,403	1 74	8,216	-	8,216	0 9	2,359	1 3	8,801	-	8,801	0 83	2,500	1 3	8,499	-	8,499	0 84
832	1 3	-	-	-	-	759	1 3	-	-	-	-	692	1 24	-	-	-	-
1,135	1 04	1,640	-	1,640	0 63	1,243	1 01	2,250	-	2,250	0 6	1,460	1 23	3,096	-	3,096	0 53
821	1 14	-	-	-	-	752	1 13	-	-	-	-	725	1 13	-	-	-	-
1,139	1 10	7,379	5,868	13,247	0 6	1,189	1 74	7,674	3,590	11,254	0 61	1,161	1 64	8,097	7,192	15,289	0 74				Listowel.
853	1 74	1,724	-	1,724	0 6	846	1 63	1,564	-	1,564	0 54	827	1 43	1,525	-	1,525	0 44
1,627	1 6	6,800	929	7,380	0 6	1,350	1 6	6,836	-	6,836	0 43	1,394	1 1	8,828	730	9,566	0 43				Longford.
1,557	1 7	4,210	553	4,763	0 73	1,568	1 63	4,700	830	5,539	0 7	1,523	1 63	5,823	1,233	7,056	0 63
639	1 33	2,463	-	2,463	0 63	625	1 2	1,365	134	1,499	0 63	630	1 13	1,163	97	1,260	0 6
1,104	1 93	-	-	-	-	1,000	1 7	-	-	-	-	894	1 63	-	-	-	-
1,277	1 3	3,786	2,778	6,566	0 53	1,325	1 2	3,540	2,333	5,873	0 53	1,398	1 1	3,415	2,368	5,783	0 53				Macroom.
959	1 3	702	76	778	0 34	838	1 2	747	46	793	0 33	842	1 2	879	64	943	0 33
1,111	1 13	-	-	-	-	951	1 1	-	-	-	-	1,037	-	-	-	-	-
892	1 04	1,374	-	1,374	0 43	803	0 11	1,319	-	1,319	0 43	582	1 03	1,477	-	1,477	0 5				Manorhamilton.
2,312	1 33	-	-	-	-	2,297	1 3	-	-	-	-	2,706	1 23	-	-	-	-
328	1 9	1,611	169	1,780	0 33	272	1 9	1,564	140	1,704	0 33	258	1 9	1,516	134	1,650	0 3				Milford.
897	1 34	5,473	2,379	7,852	0 7	819	1 21	5,561	2,441	8,002	0 7	969	1 53	5,193	2,624	7,819	0 74				Mohill.
897	1 5	-	-	-	-	965	1 63	-	-	-	-	930	1 43	-	-	-	-
1,524	1 9	3,641	-	3,641	0 84	1,556	1 9	2,072	-	2,072	0 73	1,543	1 9	4,002	-	4,002	0 74
1,005	1 74	4,251	4,138	8,389	0 75	946	1 7	4,512	3,014	7,526	0 75	1,010	1 74	4,405	2,177	6,582	0 9				Mullingar.
1,032	1 84	2,634	-	2,634	0 83	994	1 8	2,793	-	2,793	0 83	942	1 8	2,778	-	2,778	0 84
694	1 63	2,090	-	2,090	0 73	623	1 74	2,006	-	2,006	0 73	606	1 63	2,644	-	2,644	0 73
1,462	1 53	10,294	22	10,316	0 6	1,537	1 7	11,628	-	11,628	0 6	1,603	1 11	11,486	-	11,486	0 6				Nenagh.
680	2 0	5,506	13,744	19,250	0 53	733	1 63	6,269	11,920	18,189	0 54	827	1 1	6,036	11,584	17,620	0 63				Newcastle.
1,625	1 83	5,923	-	5,923	0 53	1,833	1 73	4,983	-	4,983	0 53	1,678	1 63	4,579	-	4,579	0 6				New Ross.
1,160	1 53	2,929	-	2,929	0 33	1,225	1 64	2,179	-	2,179	0 4	1,276	1 33	1,851	-	1,851	0 43
606	1 6	-	-	-	-	584	1 53	-	-	-	-	562	1 53	-	-	-	-
513	1 43	-	-	-	-	479	1 33	-	-	-	-	413	1 3	-	-	-	-
839	1 6	3,226	3,100	6,326	0 53	896	1 43	3,204	2,644	5,833	0 53	1,028	1 43	3,135	2,452	5,587	0 63				Oldcastle.
998	1 3	2,796	272	3,068	0 5	881	1 4	2,662	259	2,921	0 43	897	1 4	1,883	-	1,883	0 43
1,130	1 6	-	-	-	-	1,225	1 53	-	-	-	-	1,314	1 54	-	-	-	-
638	2 0	1,340	74	1,414	0 83	608	2 0	1,118	42	1,160	0 8	546	2 04	796	21	817	0 73
801	1 74	2,336	-	2,336	0 43	798	1 7	2,315	-	2,315	0 43	787	1 53	2,319	-	2,319	0 53
1,005	1 6	8,033	3,609	11,682	0 7	1,168	1 53	7,816	930	8,746	0 7	1,475	1 4	8,167	675	8,842	0 7
1,401	1 9	8,759	10,618	19,377	0 63	1,370	1 103	8,183	10,086	18,269	0 63	1,730	1 3	8,206	8,653	16,853	0 63				Roscommon.
1,028	1 8	5,250	2,213	7,463	0 6	1,075	1 7	4,969	1,336	6,805	0 63	1,036	1 23	4,794	1,077	5,871	0 63				Roscrea.
1,938	1 6	6,538	6,038	12,576	0 83	1,854	1 6	5,842	9,592	15,434	0 7	1,918	1 43	5,070	10,029	15,099	0 73				Scariff.
627	1 63	575	-	575	0 73	628	1 53	624	-	624	0 74	590	1 5	672	-	672	0 73
2,148	1 23	6,939	-	6,939	0 63	1,902	1 13	6,713	-	6,713	0 63	2,036	0 113	6,528	-	6,528	0 7				Skibbereen.
1,662	1 83	6,433	270	6,703	0 53	1,702	1 4	7,616	387	7,997	0 43	1,961	1 3	8,118	453	8,571	0 43				Sligo.
852	1 63	1,571	-	1,571	0 53	818	1 7	1,657	-	1,657	0 5	807	1 63	1,398	-	1,398	0 43
356	1 23	-	-	-	-	359	1 23	-	-	-	-	394	1 1	-	-	-	-
412	1 13	3,597	5,447	9,044	0 73	513	1 63	4,109	6,222	10,331	0 73	699	1 53	4,527	6,292	10,819	0 7				Swineford.
1,098	1 6	4,735	10,132	14,867	0 63	1,052	1 6	5,110	9,398	14,508	0 43	869	1 6	5,243	9,040	14,283	0 43				Thurles.
1,053	1 74	7,182	8,287	15,469	0 63	1,100	1 8	7,184	8,774	15,958	0 63	1,095	1 63	7,102	9,206	16,308	0 63				Tipperary.
1,767	1 6	5,406	282	5,688	0 53	1,706	1 34	5,676	439	6,115	0 5	1,908	1 3	5,487	460	5,947	0 53				Trillick.
439	2 13	2,055	-	2,055	0 73	439	1 103	2,154	-	2,154	0 73	409	1 which cannot be distinguished in the "Average Weekly Cost" for Out-door Relief.